HARD BATTLE AHEAD OF THE LEGISLATURE

Rumors Afloat That Almost Anything May Happen to the Revenue Bill

Raleigh, March 30.—(AP)—All was not quiet in the capital city today as North Carolina's lawmakers returned for the 13th week of the General Assembly.

Although Speaker Willis Smith expressed hope the House tonight would pass the revenue bill on third reading, thus sending it to the Senate, rumors were afloat almost anything may happen to put the bill back on first reading in the House.

That an effort will be made tonight to again substitute the Hindsdale luxury tax plan for the Day General sales tax provision incorporated in the House revenue bill appeared almost a certainty.

If the House should reverse itself and substitute the Hindsdale plan, he measure automatically goes back for three more roll calls. The bill, including the general sales tax, already has passed two House readings—although the Day plan won over the committee of the House by a 58 to 54 vote.

There was talk, too, that an effort would be made to incorporate the "best features" of the two sales tax plans in the House bill before sending the measure across the hall.

Representative Young, of Durham, said he had heard such a move was afoot. Young, however, reiterated his opposition to any form of sales tax. He said the best way out of the sales tax tie-up, which was brought about by passage of the MacLean bill committing the Assembly to support the six months school from sources other than ad valorem taxes, was to scrap that measure and levy a state-wide ad valorem tax for schools.

"If we don't do that," he said, "every General Assembly from now on will be looking for ways to support the schools from other sources of revenue than a sales tax. A state-wide ad valorem tax appears to be the best way."

Representative Ewing, of Cumberland, will offer an amendment to the revenue bill tonight to levy a two mill per kilowatt hour tax on power companies operating in the state. He estimates the amendment would raise $6,000,000 annually.

Both houses were to meet tonight, the Senate at 8 o'clock to resume work on its public calendar and the House at 8:30 o'clock to consider the revenue measure on third reading.

The revenue bill is estimated to raise $28,202,000 annually, of which more than $18,000,000 is to be used by the State to support the six months school which the Assembly is committed to do by the much discussed MacLean law, passed early in the session.

Should the Senate turn thumbs down on a sales tax—from which $20,000,000 annually for the school is expected—it has recourse to passing the bill of Senator Folger, of Surry, increasing the school equalizing fund $6,500,000 to $10,000,000.

However this proposal does not have much backing in the House and it appears that if the Senate does not accept some form of a sales tax the session may reach 100 days some estimators have estimated.

Today is the 83rd legislative day and there is no possibility for adjournment until after Easter—unless the Assembly forgets the revenue measure and the appropriations bill which is expected to be reported in the House by the middle of this week.

The session already is the longest in the history of the state. The MacLean school law and the sales tax fight along with sharply reduced appropriations recommended by the budget bureau are the things that have kept the session moving actively since the gavels were first pounded.

President Hoover Defends Policies Position Of General Farm Board

Confesses Slaying

Ollie Greenhaw, Batesville, Ark., farm laborer, served on a coroner's jury investigating the killing of O. G. Wright, a rector farmer, helped dig his grave, attended the funeral as a mourner and then confessed he robbed and killed the aged man.

Washington, March 30.—(AP)—President Hoover feels that the Farm Board is amply able to define and defend its own policies and position.

The decision of the board to discontinue stabilization of wheat prices was one of the first questions brought to the attention of the President upon his return from his Caribbean trip.

It was said at the White House that the Farm Board makes its own policies just as the Shipping Board and the Interstate Commerce Commission. The board, it was said, was given full power and responsibility by Congress.

It has been the view of many high officials in the Hoover administration that the stabilization work inaugurated over a year ago by the Farm Board had in view the saving of a great many banks in the wheat belt which would have failed if wheat prices continued to decline as rapidly as they had started.

Many of these banks held loans secured by wheat at prices ranging around those set by the Farm Board for buying the surplus. These banks now have been able to clear these loans and re-adjust themselves to prices on the world wheat market.

Chairman Stone of the Farm Board coming back to his desk after a trip into Kansas and Oklahoma, said grain co-operatives generally had expressed approval of the board's decision not to stabilize 1931 wheat.

The chairman said they agreed the announcement had been made at the proper time to insure gradual readjustment among wheat growers who have indicated they will harvest 3 per cent less acreage this year.

He interpreted farmers' intentions to make smaller plantings as a sign of success of the board's campaign to reduce production.

Savannah, Ga., March 30.—(AP)—The Federal Farm Board and agricultural marketing act were criticized here today by Dameron Williams of Gastonia, N. C., president of the Atlantic Cotton Association, in a speech before the association's eighth annual convention.

"Despite the flood of political oratory expended to date on the subject, we know that national legislation in the form of the present agricultural marketing act has utterly failed to aid the farmers," Williams said.

"We know now," he continued, "as we always have known, that the farm problem is going to remain unsolved until we approach the proposition as a business matter and treat it as such. The further injection of politics into the question will delay recovery just as recovery is being delayed now."

He called the marketing act "unsound and uneconomic" in its makeup and declared that under its provisions the United States government "has been eternally and badly placed in business."

"Chaos," he continued, "always results when business is called upon to compete with the treasury of its own country. Mills and merchants and stores must simply shut up shop and wait for the storm to subside. The menace of the government in business and that unfortunate tendency to pass a new law every time a new condition arises—both are serving as a dead weight to slow up business."

Williams criticized the Farm Board's expenditures and said "undoubtedly an emergency exists somewhere when we view the recently disclosed figures showing that 45 millions of dollars have been lost by the government in cotton alone with indications that the total loss in this unfortunate experiment in handling farm commodities will approximate one hundred million dollars."

SEND ABRAMS' VISCERA OFF FOR ANALYSIS

Portion of Man's Body Sent to Raleigh to Determine Cause of Death

Mystery surrounding the death of Henry Abrams, used construction company employee, whose body was found on the side of the road in the Monkey Den section of Pitt county two weeks ago, proved a greater puzzle to Pitt county officers today as they delved away for a solution to the crime.

The viscera of the man's body was taken to Raleigh for examination this morning by Sheriff Sam Whitehurst in an attempt to determine if he did not meet death as result of poison.

The sheriff left Greenville on his gruesome mission this morning at 9 o'clock. He was expected to return late this afternoon, or as soon as possible.

CITY SCHOOLS GIVE CANTATA

Hundred Children From Sixth and Seventh Grades Sing at High School

The progress which Greenville school children are making in the field of music was set forth in an interesting way in the rendition of an Easter Cantata, "The Thorn-Crowned King," at the High School auditorium yesterday afternoon at 8:30 o'clock.

One hundred children from the sixth and seventh grades of West Greenville, Third Street and Intermediate schools took part in the program and literally sang their way into the hearts of their hearers.

The spacious auditorium was well filled with parents and patrons of the school, who listened enraptured as the youngsters sang of that most important epoch in Biblical history, the betrayal, crucifixion, burial and resurrection of Christ.

The passages from the Scriptures were read by Howard H. McGinnis, member of the faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, and the musical interpretation was rendered both in group and mass form.

The youthful singers were arranged on the stage in five different elevations, twenty to the tier, and formed a splendid spectacle as a lighting effect was flashed from slides at the other end of the building.

The pageant was given under the direction of Miss Ona Shindler, music supervisor of public schools, assisted by Miss Mosele Jones, director, and others teachers of the sixth and seventh grades. Miss Shindler acted as accompanist.

J. H. Rose, superintendent of schools, opened the exercises with a few remarks concerning the program, and the opening prayer was made by E. L. Hillman, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. The final prayer was pronounced by Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Eighth Street Church of Christ.

TWO MEN HELD IN THE DEATH OF BETHEL MAN

Arrests Follow Joint Investigation of Pitt and Edgecombe Officers

Two men were being held for investigation in the Edgecombe county jail at Tarboro today in connection with the death of Luman Whitehurst, Bethel man, who was killed by a hit and run driver on the Bethel-Rocky Mount highway Friday night.

The arrests followed a joint inquiry conducted by Pitt and Edgecombe officers and was expected to be complete during the early part of the week. The men arrested were Jesse Reddick and Frank Rollins.

Whitehurst's body was picked up by autoists Friday night some time after he had been run down by an automobile. Both of his legs were broken and officers expressed the opinion that he had also suffered internal injuries.

Whitehurst, in company with several other young men, left Bethel Friday afternoon ostensibly for Rocky Mount. Nothing was heard from them until the finding of Whitehurst's body on the highway between Bethel and Mildred that night about 10 o'clock. Motorists rushed the young man to a Tarboro hospital, but he succumbed to his injuries early Saturday morning.

Bandit Shot Down After Robbing Bank In South Carolina

Travelers Rest, S. C., March 30.—(AP)—Thirty minutes after a lone bandit had held up the Farmers Bank here today and escaped with $8,000, he was shot down by a posse and captured.

The bandit, who said his name was James Gray, was bleeding freely when the posse returned him here, but apparently was not fatally wounded.

The money was turned over to the bank and officers left with the prisoner for Greenville, the county seat.

More than 50 men took part in the chase after the bandit who sped from the scene of the robbery in an automobile. He was overtaken and shot eight miles from here.

C. W. Nicholls, the cashier, and two negroes were in the bank when the bandit came in. Nicholls said the man came in walking with a sisk and bent over, then suddenly straightened up, drew a pistol and demanded "all the money you got."

Blizzard Claims Sixteen Lives In The Middle-West

Kansas City, March 30.—(AP)—The middle-west, dizzen out from a snowstorm which took a heavy toll of 16 lives last week, found its efforts mocked by a fresh fall today.

Snow began falling in the Rocky mountain states of Colorado, Wyoming and Montana yesterday and late last night was falling in Nebraska, Kansas and western Missouri. Temperatures were moderate, however, and there was no wind. Forecasts were for precipitation in Oklahoma and northern Texas today.

Mer: while the sections which felt the fury of last week's blizzard, accompanied by zero temperatures, took stock of the loss in lives and damage to early crops and fruit.

The known death list reached 16 yesterday when the body of Boyd Edwards, seven-year-old Max, Neb., school boy was recovered in a snow-filled canyon, mid-way between his farm home and the schoolhouse which he left Thursday. (Continued on page three)

C. M. GODLEY BURIED HERE

Funeral for Grimesland Young Man Held At Christian Church Sunday

Clifton M. Godley, 23, young business man of Grimesland, who committed suicide Friday night, was buried in Greenwood cemetery in this city yesterday afternoon.

Funeral services were conducted from the Grimesland Christian Church at 2 o'clock by Rev. Warren Davis, pastor of the church, and the body was brought here for burial.

A large crowd of friends from both Greenville and Grimesland attended the final rites, and a wealth of flowers attested the high esteem in which the young man was held in both communities.

The young man's body was found in the Hudson Supply Company building at Grimesland when the store was opened for business early Saturday morning. He had shot himself through the heart with a 23 rifle. The gun lay on the floor near the body.

Two letters, one to his father, W. S. Godley, and the other to his employer, failed to reveal any motive for the act.

Godley attended school in Greenville and Grimesland and had a wide circle of friends in both places. He completed his education at Charlotte and came back home sometime ago and accepted a position with the store in which he was employed at the time of his death.

He was described as a quiet, industrious young man and very popular with the younger set in both towns. He was in the best of health and spirits and his death came as a profound shock to the section.

Circulation Established This Morning, But Fan Belt Breaks, Driving the Rescuers Back to Surface of the Mine; Ten Hours Required for Fixing Belt and Forcing New Air Into Depths of Mine

Coal Glen, N. C., March 30.—(AP)—Although no hope was held for the lives of two men, father and son, believed overcome by gas 3,500 feet down in the Cunnock Coal mine, efforts of rescue crews to reach the victims were unsuccessful this afternoon.

Shortly after air circulation was re-established in the gas-filled shaft, a crew of men penetrated 950 feet into the depths only to be driven out when the belt driving a fan forcing fresh air into the mine broke.

It was expected to take from two to ten hours to fix the fan belt and pump enough air into the mine so the rescuers can reach its bottom where the two men are believed to be trapped.

L. A. Huneycutt and his son, Elbert, entered the mine, which has been idle three weeks, at 8 P. M. Saturday to start pumps and clear the shafts of water during a heavy rainstorm. B. H. Garner with them, but thought nothing amiss when the pumps did not start and came out alone, saying he thought the doomed pair had already left. At 6 A. M. yesterday an investigation was started. Heavy rain was found 1,100 feet below the mine shaft, and soon a cave in was discovered in the air shaft.

Crews worked all yesterday and last night to sink a hole straight down to the air shaft in order that it might be cleared. Under last night's brilliant moon the work continued, workers filling huge buckets with dirt and automobile wheels pulling them up by means of pulleys.

Early today the air shaft was reached, and work of clearing it begun. The new hole must be sealed and giant fans used to force air into the deep recesses of the mine. This was expected to take several hours.

It was estimated rescue crews would be able to descend the main shaft by 2 P. M.

Elbert Huneycutt had premonitions of disaster when he entered the shaft, his step-sister, Mary Agnes Thomas, said today. Ed Hicks was supposed to air the elder Huneycutt at the pumps, but persuaded the youth to substitute, she said.

Telephone communication being destroyed by the week-end storm, the mine owned by the Carolina Coal company, is 40 minutes away from communication with the outside world.

The mine is located on Deep River, 10 miles from Sanford. It was believed the two men had been trapped behind a cave-in several thousand feet below the surface, but as 40 men, working within an improvised derrick, proceeded to clear away the dirt and coal that obstructed the air channel, this theory was discontinued.

Fifty-three men perished in the mine in May, 1925, when an explosion rocked it from one corner to the other. Four years later, two prisoners, being worked in the mine, were killed when a cable used to lower their car into the workings broke.

Gangsters Shoot Up Negro Cafe Chicago, March 30.—(AP)—Six gangsters poured bullets into the Panama Inn, negro cafe on the negro cafe on the south side, slaying one negro, wounding another and drove away early today before a fleet of cops' squads had arrived in response to a riot call.

A few moments later, after the police had left, the same car drove past the building again and another volley of shots was fired into the windows. At in the men, captured before the squads returned.

A negro laborer standing on the corner was struck in the neck by a stray bullet. The other negro was knocked down and beaten as he stepped from the building, whose second story is occupied by the Panama Inn.

JUNIOR ROOM PROGRAM FOR THE PRESENT WEEK

This being Holy Week, boys are urged to attend the services in the various churches of the city. The Jarvis Memorial Methodist church is holding a prayer service every morning from 8 to 8:30 o'clock. Plutarch says: "I have seen people without cities and organized government or laws, but people without shrines and deities I have not seen." Meditation is becoming a lost art. We moderns build churches to adorn the town and look at, but not to go to.

FORMER SHOW GIRL SUICIDES

Mrs. David Townsend Drives Car Off 200-Foot Precipice to Death Near Nice

Nice, March 30—(AP)—Her Nervepower bolstered by four stiff brandies, Mrs. David Townsend, former Broadway "Follies" girl drove her car off a 200 foot precipice near here and found in death the rest that life denied her.

While she drank she scribbled a note to her husband, reputedly a wealthy Wall Street broker, which read:

"Please take care of my mother. Pay 4,000 francs to Wally." Another paragraph which referred to the possibility of her going back to the stage was undecipherable.

When she did not appear Saturday evening for an opera party which she had planned for friends they sought her, but their search was unavailing until the cold grey dawn of Sunday morning police saw her car crushed on the rocks below one of the sharpest precipices on the Riviera, playhouse of Europe.

Her husband identifying the body as that of his wife, was prostrated. He could think of no reason, he said, why she should have ended her life other than that she had suffered a sudden neurasthenic attack, such as had bothered her intermittently.

"She had no domestic or financial worries," he said at their hand some villa, Les Embruns, at Jean Cap Ferrat, near here.

Police, investigating the suicide, identified her as the former Mary Margaret Laird, of Birmingham, Ala., born in 1899. She and Townsend were married six years ago. She was known to the New York Stage as Peggy Davis.

The tragedy, occurring within a fortnight of the shooting of Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger by his wife, former Atlantic City beauty contest runner-up, shocked and startled the Riviera, where both were popular. Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger is still in jail, awaiting trial of homicide charges.

Nice, France, March 30—(AP)—David Townsend, made wealthy in Wall Street, today would not accept the police explanation of suicide in the death of his wife, former Follies beauty, but insisted that it must have been an accident.

"Margaret was happy," he said, "she had my entire fortune at her disposal. I cannot explain this tragedy. Anyway I won't accept suicide theory. It is too horrible."

"She loved our home which I bought expressly for her. She was devoted to our baby Peggy. She was subject to fits of depression, but never grave enough to produce suicidal intent. I believe it was an accident due to the excitement caused by four brandies."

Townsend is one of the most prominent members of Anglo-American circles on the Riviera. He was known for his generosity and kindness to his wife and he was said to have granted her every wish regardless of cost. He paid $50,000 for their villa Les Embruns, at St. Jean Cape Ferrat, because it struck her fancy and he gave her an especially built ultra-expensive motor car for her last birthday.

Virgin Islands and Porto Rico Diversify Crops

Washington.—(AP)—President Hoover's visit to Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, closely following the request of the department of interior for aid to improve native agriculture, centers attention on the chief industry of insular possessions in the Caribbean.

Farming there, still primitive to a degree, is moving swiftly toward methods of the mainland.

Farmers who once produced little more than sugar cane and bay oil not only are learning to meet their own requirements in food crops but also to produce winter vegetables for New York and eastern markets.

Sugar can still be the chief product of both Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, but production is not expanding. Through influence of federal agricultural experiment stations, Porto Rico is turning attention to dairying and livestock and the Virgin Islands to vegetables and fruits.

Prof. J. R. Ricks, former director of the station at St. Kitts, Miss., has been appointed to the station on St. Thomas island and the Mayaguez station in Porto Rico is in charge of T. B. McClelland.

The Porto Rican station has an annual appropriation from Congress of $50,000 and the Virgin Islands station $29,000.

With the transfer of insular possessions from navy to interior control, the department of agriculture sent a chemist and a forester to the Virgin Islands at request of Secretary Wilbur.

Extreme prevalence of the fever tick in Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands is given as one of the chief drawbacks to the production of dairy and beef cattle, but eradication has been started.

In addition to the introduction of poultry, the stations are emphasizing sweet potato culture and of tropical fruits and vegetables.

"I've ridden the logs in white wate"
—says Chesterfield

Yet you'll find me swapping stories at the club"

It's no easy matter to pilot a bucking log through white-tipped rapids. It's even harder to pry a Chesterfield smoker loose from his choice. A man wants taste in his cigarette and in Chesterfield he gets it... The better taste of milder and better tobaccos—nothing else! Nothing else is needed... thanks to the "cross-blend," which brings out the aroma and flavor of the tobaccos themselves!

Greater mildness
... better taste

FOR NINETEEN years, our Research Department has kept intimate touch with every new development of Science that could be applied to the manufacture of cigarettes. During this period there has been no development of tested value or importance—so the smoker which we have not incorporated into the making of Chesterfield cigarettes.

PRES. HOOVER RETURNS FROM HIS VACATION

Desk Piled High With Work As Chief Executive Goes to Office Today. Washington, March 29.—(AP)—President Hoover today returned to his desk piled high with accumulated work as he returned from eleven days of rest and recreation.

The executive reached Washington early last night from Old Point Comfort, Va., where he disembarked from the battleship Arizona which had been the floating White House for a trip to Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

In addition to a natural accumulation of mail the president had before him the troublesome fact that government income threatened to be $700,000,000 less than government expenses.

He will have to consult with Secretary Mellon regarding either additional government borrowing or an increase in taxation.

Both the president and Secretary Hurley scouted reports concerning the latter's selection as national chairman.

Hurley's name also has been mentioned as a possible vice-presidential candidate.

SNOWSTORMS CLAIM 12 LIVES IN THE MIDDLEWEST

(Continued from page one) The death of the boy's body culminated a three-day hunt. Fifteen of the 20 school children who survived the coal in a stalled school bus near Towner, Col., were in a Lamar hospital.

Other deaths attributed to the storm included those of three sheep herders, one in Wyoming and two in New Mexico.

The following Pitt County towns will be permitted to send one queen each: Farmville, Ayden, Bethel, Grimesland and Grifton.

DR. G. T. ROWE OPENS REVIVAL AT M. E. CHURCH. (Continued from page one) The Aims of Present Day Christianity yesterday morning. He brought to the attention of his congregation the progress which religion has made the last nineteen hundred years and showed that at the present time it is playing an important part in the lives of the people in many parts of the world.

He stressed the fact that every business having as its purpose the improvement of humanity is a part of the Christian movement.

Young Untried, who insisted on being the last to be taken from the bus and then collapsed, apologized after he revived for "slapping the little children."

"I'm sorry I had to hit them," the boy told his father, "but I couldn't make them keep moving any other way. I slapped some of them pretty hard and it made them mad, so I slapped them again and they tried to fight me. When they got back I didn't mind because I knew they were moving when I hit them. They wouldn't fight very long and I had to slap them again."

Every town in the 46 other counties comprising the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce territory will be represented, and the queens' contest, always one of the biggest features of the exposition, is expected to attract even more enthusiasm this year.

Abrams had come to his home during the afternoon and sat down in a chair in the living room. Later he fell out of the chair and died instantly.

Wishing to avoid complicity, Stancill is said to have told the sheriff, that he and other members of the party placed Abrams' body in his automobile, hauled it a short distance down the road and dumped it at the side of the highway.

The defendants expressed opinion that Abrams came to death from either apoplexy or heart trouble, and not by the blow on the side of the head, as officers contended.

Although no definite information was given out concerning the operation, it was said the doctors discounted the idea that Abrams had come to his death either from apoplexy or the blow on the head.

The case has attracted widespread interest in the Belvoir community and the county generally and the results of the analysis of the viscera was awaited expectantly in all sections.

Again it is not amiss to warn the farmers against the danger of a large tobacco crop this year. Figures for the past several years show a gradual increase in production and a corresponding lowering of prices and it is safe to say that a large crop this year will result in the lowest price for tobacco for many years. Certainly it is to the interest of the tobacco farmers to cut their acreage this year 25 to 35 per cent, otherwise they may expect even more critical times financially than they have already experienced. Likewise the prosperity of the entire tobacco growing area is dependent upon the farmer and the business men of every line should lend their aid and co-operation to the farmers this year in seeing to it that a large tobacco crop is not raised.

The real powers behind the throne came into visibility again early Saturday morning when the House of Representatives eliminated the "recapture clause" from the revenue bill, thereby relieving the power companies and railroads and other large industries of more than $600,000 taxes. It is to be hoped that ere the revenue measure passes its final reading in the House tonight that feature will be replaced in the bill. There should be no adjournment of this session of the legislature until it has given relief to the landowners of our state and this can be done only by placing a just share of the tax burdens upon the moneyed interests of our state that are now escaping the major part of the taxes they should be paying.

ABOUT TOWN

The movement to bring about a reduction of cotton and tobacco acreage is gaining momentum through the south at this time and before planting season is over every grower will no doubt be impressed with the advisability of reducing acreage.

The producers have been told that the market for both cotton and tobacco is more hopefully gusted than it has been in years and that another big crop would mean disaster. Prices have been undergoing a constant decline with increased surplus the last several years and another big crop added to that already on hand would mean a continual of impossible prices. Much of the surplus is the result of lack of demand from foreign countries where tariff rates have been raised so high that it makes it unprofitable for dealers to buy American tobacco as they did in past years. Then, too, consumption has fallen off for certain grades in our own country, making the demand much less than production. Farmers should give mature consideration to the movement looking to curtailment of acreage, for in this way alone will they be able to save themselves from one of the most serious economic situations the country has experienced in years. By growing food crops, raising poultry, hogs and cattle, growers should be able to improve their condition to no little extent.

The grim spectre of death is stalking the highways of North Carolina today as never before, bringing the public to the realization of the menace which high powered automobiles are proving to public life and property.

Several deaths occur in this section of the country almost daily, and the property damage will easily go into thousands of dollars. Yet people continue to operate their cars carelessly, apparently thinking like the cat that they have nine lives to protect them from being trampled forcibly into eternity.

Statistics recently compiled show the careless driver is not as dangerous as the over-confident driver. The man with too much confidence in his ability to operate his car without mishaps is the one who takes long chances. His skull usually carries him through to safety, but eventually he finds his way to the cemetery.

Too much care cannot be brought to play in the operation of an automobile on the public highways, especially when traffic is heavy and everybody is rushing to get somewhere. We may not like the idea of giving the other fellow plenty of room, but we will wish we had after an accident in which somebody is either killed or seriously injured.

Drivers should ever be on the alert and not permit themselves to take unnecessary risks, remembering that death comes but one time and we have no alternative when the fatal blow is landed.

The raising of hogs and chickens is going to play an important part in the recovery of the farmers of this section from the period of depression which they have been passing through the last year. Sales of chickens have already retted the growers several thousand dollars, and two shipments of hogs so far this season, have been instrumental in strengthening the community purse.

Farm leaders have been stressing the need of extra money crops for years, but not until the last three or four years have farmers awakened to the good results to eventuate from hogs and chickens.

It is impossible to estimate the total amount which the growers will receive from co-operative shipments of chickens and hogs this season but it will go into thousands of dollars. It will help fill up the holes in the economic fabric of the county resulting from low prices for tobacco and cotton.

It will take the farmers some years probably to become accustomed to the new demands made on the farm, but after they have found their bearings it is certain they will be able to accomplish more financially than they have been able to do under the old cash crop plan.

Members of the State Legislature hope to be able to complete their work by next Saturday, but those who have been watching the deliberations believe it will be a week longer.

Which is right remains to be seen, but it is difficult to believe that it will be possible for the solons to finish all details of the revenue bill, and then settle odds and ends in one week.

While many of the most controversial features of the revenue bill have been settled, the fight is not over by a long way, and this week is expected to see a revival of some of the opposition which opponents of the sales tax have been bringing to bear from time to time.

The legislators went to Raleigh with a promise to the people to reduce taxes, yet they have not done so. They passed the school bill right off the bat, but when the time came to raise the money to support the schools, things began to happen, and they are still happening with the source of the needed revenue yet to be definitely decided upon.

The House has gone a long way toward reaching a solution to the problem, however, and before the week comes to a close, the people of the state will have been presented with more concrete suggestions as to what the new revenue bill will look like when finally completed.

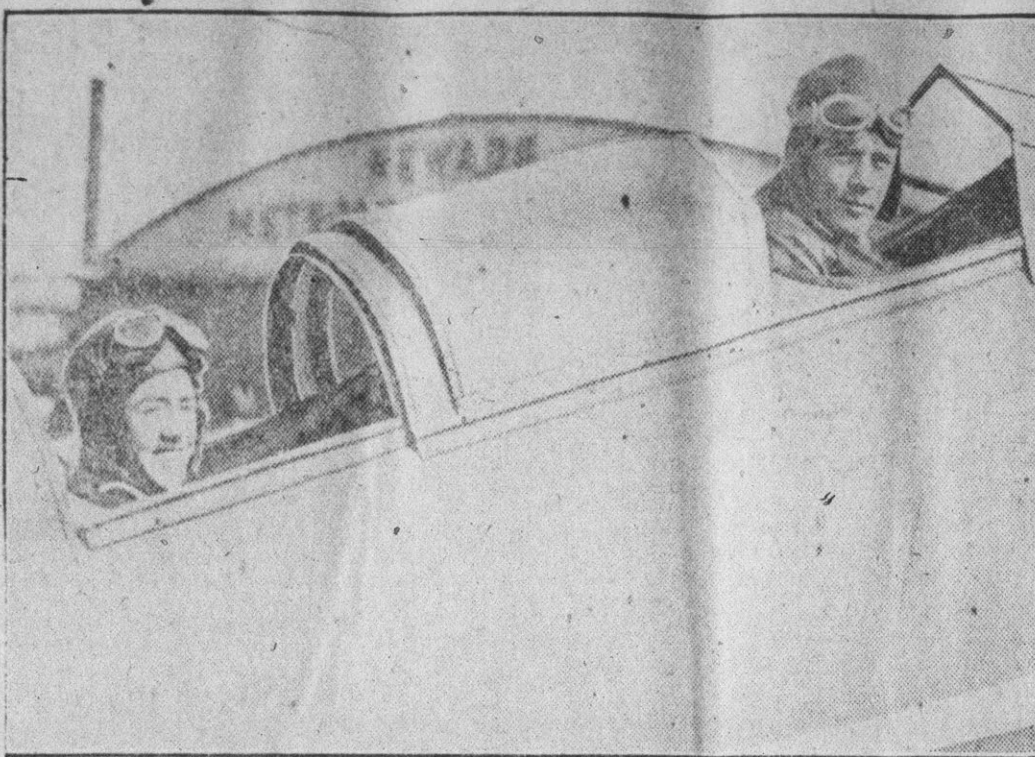

The public is watching the Legislature probably as it never watched the body before, and dissatisfaction among the property owners will continue to be very pronounced until they have been assured that some of the tax burden is to be lifted from their shoulders and placed on those sources which have been reaping financial harvests without bearing their part of the tax load.

Negro Lynched By Mob for Attacking Vicksburg Woman

Vicksburg, Miss., March 30.—(AP)—Ell Johnson, 25-year-old negro, was lynched by a mob near here late yesterday following an attempt to attack a white woman, it became known today.

A coroner's jury, which conducted an inquiry into Johnson's death, returned a verdict that he had met death "by violence at the hands of unknown parties."

The body was found on the outskirts of Redwood, north of Vicksburg, with a bullet wound in the head and buckshot in the body.

Officers said they have learned Johnson attempted to attack a white woman Sunday afternoon as she was going to church with her two children. He was alleged to have struck her on the head, inflicting severe injuries to the skull before dragging her into a thicket.

The children's cries attracted men from nearby homes and the negro fled.

About fifty armed men took up the pursuit through the woods. Johnson appeared to have been shot while climbing a barbed wire fence.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY ORDERED TO PAY $10,000

High Point, March 30.—(AP)—The Southern Railway today stood under court order to pay Paul Tart, $10,000 because his young son, Vernon, lost a leg when he stumbled while walking across a grade crossing and was run over by a train.

The Southern contended the boy was trying to hop a freight, but the youth insisted he was only walking across, stumbled and was run over because the train crossed the street without a warning signal.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, March 30.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 3 to 8 points lower in response to lower Egyptian cables and declines in Egyptian cotton at Alexandria. May sold off to 10.72 and October to 11.27 under the initial pressure which appeared to be coming chiefly from brokers with Wall street, New Orleans and commission house connections.

Trade interests were buyers at the decline, while Liverpool was credited with buying some of the later offerings and while the early months had been taken, the volume of business tapered off with the market showing rallies of a few points from the lowest at the end of the first half hour. May was selling around 10.78 and October 11.30 or 2 to 3 points net lower.

Liverpool cables reported continued and Bombay selling in that market and said Manchester cloth manufacturers were losing ground. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 30 to 34 points lower for Achmoud and 67 to 81 points lower for Sakel. The Indian spot quotation in Liverpool showed a decline of 6 points.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 30.—(AP)—The decline in share prices showed signs of flattening out in today's stock market, but bears were in no rush to take their profits.

With reports of slackening steel mill activity in the Youngstown area and an inclination in automobile circles to revise downward the 300,000-car estimate of April production, speculative sentiment had turned sour.

The list developed moderate rallying tendencies occasionally, but was unable to make notable progress on the upside. Allied chemical was again a weak spot, falling about 7 points. Shares declining 2 or 3 points included American Telephone, American and Foreign power, Aetna, DuPont, Byers, American Water Works and Eastman. Utilities were conspicuously heavy, but losses of a point or so were well distributed throughout the list. In the rails Pennsylvania and Nickel Plate penetrated new low territory. Trading was in substantial volume in the morning, but slackened as the day wore on.

Most observers felt that the markets substantial decline had of sufficient proportions to entitle it to a technical rebound. Its recent dip, however, left speculative sentiment confused and gloomy. Whether the market's February upturn will prove to have been nothing but another false start evidently will depend upon how well business holds up during the spring months.

The day's news included Sears Roebuck's sales for the third period of its 13-month calendar and the comparison with the like period of last year was much the best of the current year, showing a decline of 64.5 per cent, bringing the aggregate drop for the 13-week period to 12 per cent. In view of the drastic cuts in prices, the dollar volume showing was regarded as about as good as could be expected.

Call money held at 11-2 percent, and was somewhat firm at that level. The month-end settlements may bring 2 percent money before the end of the week.

COLLEGIATE NINES TO OPEN UP THIS WEEK

Charlotte, March 30.—(AP)—Collegiate nines of the old North State hammer the lid off their 1931 baseball season this week with a vengeance.

Seventeen games, featuring such worthy opponents as Cornell University of Pennsylvania, Penn State, Maryland and Washington and Lee, face the state teams on the maiden week of the new season.

These invaders will tackle two or more North State teams each on their incursions into the state. Several twin bills are booked.

To the University Tar Heels go the honor of setting the ball rolling. The hook up with Cornell at Chapel Hill for a game today and another tomorrow. The Duke Blue Devils swing into action at Durham Wednesday and Thursday with Cornell as their opponent.

The Davidson Wildcats also open up Thursday, playing a home game with the Guilford Quakers.

Frida, N. C. State meets Maryland at Raleigh, and Wake Forest, Wake Forest, the Pennsylvanians play a couple games with North Carolina Wednesday and Thursday.

"Bobby" Still Up On His Golf

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
 Anna Caliente, Mexico, March 30.—(AP)—For those who have been a bit dubious, Bobby Jones is still up on his golf game despite a busy session of picture making in Hollywood, to which he returned today.

Teamed with Leo Diegel, local pro and twice professional golf champion of the United States, Jones went to defeat at the hands of George Von Elm and Morrig Dutra yesterday, one down, over the tricky Agus Caliente $25,000 championship course. To assist charitably in Mexico and the United States by approximately $5,000.

Some 2,500 persons, by far the largest crowd ever attracted to a golf match here, witnessed the contest, which saw the tall dark California Spaniard, Dutra, Lone Beach, Cal., professional, walk off with individual honors.

Dutra set sub-par pace for the 19 holes getting a 35 on the hazard strewn home nine for a 70, one under. Jones had a 37 on the last nine, for a 72 total, while Von Elm came home in 36 for a 75. Diegel took a 38, giving him 77 for 18 holes.

Many of Hollywood's movie stars came out to see their coast since he gave up amateur golf. The gallery included Harold Lloyd, who was referee of the match; George Bancroft and Jack Mulhall.

News From The Training Camp

Auburn, Ala.—(AP)—Patsy O'Rourke, scout for the Phillies, says the club is better defensively than last year. Some of the traveling experts say something else, but O'Rourke doesn't yield to argument.

Atlanta, Ga.—(AP)—Captain Eddie Collins, in charge of the Philadelphia Athletics on their homeward trip, said today that the veteran keystone pair, Boley and Bishop, never looked better.

Miami, Fla.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Bobins have completed the Florida end of their spring training program and Manager Wilbert Robinson seems pretty well satisfied with their record. Of 14 exhibition games the Bobins won 11.

San Antonio, Texas.—(AP)—Clarence Mitchell, ancient left-hander for the New York Giants, has been exceptionally effective in spring training.

West Palm Beach, Fla.—(AP)—Manager Bill Killefer and his St. Louis Browns have seen the last of West Palm Beach until next spring. The entire squad left here last night on its homeward journey, which will be broken by numerous stops for exhibition games.

Bradenton, Fla.—(AP)—Tory Kauffmann, once a star pitcher with the Chicago Cubs, who took up outfielding when his arm went bad several years ago, is showing so much stuff with the St. Louis Cardinals that he is considered as a likely member of the Cards' throwing corps.

Los Angeles.—(AP)—Having given an excellent demonstration of how baseball should not be played, the Pittsburgh Pirates tackle the Chicago Cubs today with their ears burning. Manager Walter Egan did not think much of the Bucc's exhibition with the Detroit Tigers last week and he has told them so.

New Orleans.—(AP)—Today inaugurated the Cleveland Indians' final and toughest week in their spring training camp. Manager Roger Peckinpaugh will work the Tribe at top speed and send them against exhibition foes every day.

Tampa, Fla.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds were breaking camp here today, preparatory to their trip north which will require two weeks, with exhibitions scheduled en route.

San Francisco.—(AP)—The Cubs fired no salvo today in a 12 to 3 victory over the San Francisco Missions. They had the memory of a beating earlier in the day, administered 5 to 3 by the Seals of the Coast league.

San Antonio, Tex.—(AP)—Some sort of a revision hung over the Chicago White Sox today, determined by the 15-8 trouncing that the Giants administered yesterday. Smead Jolley, the big give-and-take man did the usual by presenting the Giants with runs and then taking them back with two homers.

Chatanooga, Tenn.—(AP)—Gene Rye, diminutive Red Sox fielder, is glad to get his hand on a bat again. The bandage is off his broken hand.

Tampa, Fla.—(AP)—Manager Bill McKechnie of the Braves is anxious to win his game with the St. Louis Cards at Bradenton because of a spring series superstition. Bill says: "It's just too bad to be cleaned up in a spring series by a team in the National league."

Biloxi, Miss.—(AP)—Walter Johnson is basing his hopes for Fred Marberry's future on that pitcher's showing in a pre-season game with the Baltimore Orioles. Manager Johnson said: "Freddie showed me one thing that pleased me greatly, and that is that he likely will have that fast ball of his this season."

Two Ring Bouts Set for Tonight

New York, March 30.—(AP)—The week's fistie entertainment opens in double-barreled fashion tonight at New York and Philadelphia.

At New York, Jersey City's belting heavyweight, Young Stanley Pereda, gets his first test against "big league" opposition, meeting Rubbery Johnny Risko of Cleveland, in the ten round feature at Madison Square Garden.

A heavy hitter, Pereda nevertheless will be on the short end of the betting at ring time tonight. Risko, called the "Spiller" because he has ruined the title hopes of so many first-class heavyweights, and knows all the tricks of the trade and the betting fraternity feels that old John's experience will be too much of a handicap for Pereda to Hurdle.

Philadelphia's show is topped by a ten round bout between Benny Bass, junior lightweight champion and young Pippo of Pennsboro, N. J. Bass's title will not be at stake.

SPORTS SLANTS

Now that the noisy chatter about over-embellish in colt sports has died down, it becomes apparent that most of our principal institutions of learning and culture are going ahead with same, sensible programs designed to keep affairs on an even keel.

Take the case of Georgia Tech. Down there, they haven't been bellyaching the subject but, under the direction of Bill Alexander, Tech for several years has been reorganizing its athletic structure with the idea of eliminating abuses, such a they may have cropped up from time to time.

Athletes who may have been around the premises for no other vital purpose than to perform on the ball field or gridiron have gone away from Atlanta. It isn't necessary to be a Phi Beta Kappa man to make the Tornado eleven this season, but at least the situation is that a sports letter is not the sole object of a college career.

Fling Students
 Georgia Tech, as well as a number of other institutions, including Pennsylvania, this year may be in the same position as Gil Dobie found himself a few years ago at Cornell.

Gil's football boys, after three unbeaten seasons, experienced a slump and a young coach, finding the veteran in a hotel lobby, was seeking an explanation.

"Mr. Dobie, you must have had a pretty tough season," ventured the young man.

"Yup," responded Gil.

DROUGHT AREA FARMERS BACK NEAR NORMAL

Montgomery, Ala., March 30.—(AP)—With limited credits available and gardens progressing rapidly, Alabama's farmers in the drought stricken areas are again self-sustaining and are looking forward to the fall harvest to bring them back to normal again.

Through federal farm loans, loans on veterans' adjusted service certificates and limited private credits the farmers have been able to stand on their feet.

The mild winter and ample rainfall have contributed toward aiding in speeding preparation of soil for the new crops, with indications that more acreage will be given to feed-stuffs and gardens will be more industriously cultivated this year.

Through the fall and winter campaigns to "live at home" and for a reduction in cotton acreage was carried to every section of the state, and farm leaders say both have borne fruit.

F. W. Gist, state agricultural statistician, said reports he has compiled show an increase in intentions to plant feedstuffs and some other crops.

F. W. Gist, state agricultural statistician, said reports he has compiled show an increase in intentions to plant feedstuffs and some other crops.

Reduction in cotton production seems certain, the Department of Agriculture said, taking the purchase of fertilizer as a criterion. On March 28, sales this year showed a decrease of 46.7 per cent under the same date a year ago.

The Red Cross has practically withdrawn from Alabama, due to farmers being able to obtain credit to carry on this year.

Alabama, unlike some of the other states, suffered local droughts except through the fertile Tennessee valley and a large area in the west central section.

Through the Tennessee valley, however, conditions were severe and

"Why, Mr. Dobie, even Williams beat Cornell—that certainly was a surprise. You can't be losing your grip, can you?"

"Nope."

"But, Mr. Dobie, what is the explanation? How can such a thing have happened?"

"Well," drawled Gil, "we're playing our students now."

$250,000 Ball Field
 Georgia Tech has a fine athletic plant, although it is not yet completed to Alexander's satisfaction. Grant Field furnishes an excellent gridiron, with capacity for upwards of 100,000 spectators.

Not far away is the best college ball field this correspondent has ever examined—a $250,000 plant that would do credit to an AA professional outfit, flanked by enough ground to furnish soccer and football practice fields. The 1929 Rose Bowl game helped finance this.

"We will feel well fixed when we're able to build a gymnasium, providing adequate indoor equipment," said Alexander. "With what we have, however, we are able to give the boys most of the activity they desire."

With an early spring, Tech finished its football practice before the end of March in time to open his baseball season.

New Grid Aides
 Alexander has acquired two well-known gridiron aides in Bobby Dodd, Tennessee's quarterback for the last three years, and Jack Cannon, Notre Dame's All-American guard of 1929. They have worked industriously with the boys this spring and taken a lot of the burden from Alex's shoulders.

Wheat Forges to Front Again On Chicago Market

Chicago, March 30.—(AP)—King Corn is dead! Long live King Wheat!

Deposed by the native maize nearly three months ago, wheat was shoved back into the cereal today in the Chicago Board of Trade.

The Federal Farm Board's decision to keep "hands off" after the 1930 crop is marketed ended corn's brief dynasty and once more placed wheat trading in the big pit.

Early last Monday, before the Farm Board's week-end decision had re-choiced over the vast trading hall, the fingers that signal offers and acceptances flew faster. The trade, lying dormant during many farmers were nearly destitute as food crops were burned up by the blistering sun, and cotton produced brought much lower prices than customary.

the government's stabilization of the 1930 crop, eagerly bounced into the wheat pit again.

The futures sales of that day gave graphic evidence of wheat's resurging tide, viz:
 Monday—30,718,000 bushels; A week ago—11,876,000 bushels; a year ago—37,609,000.

Overnight, the trade had boomed sales to the leadership of old. For the first time since the grain stabilization corporation set stabilizing prices wheat sales passed corn.
