SAYS PARTY WILL FAVOR RASKOB PLAN

Raskob Calls On Democrats to Adopt Definite Program for 1932 Campaign

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—The prediction that a majority of the Democratic National Committee would favor Chairman Raskob's prohibition proposal was made today by Representative Ayes, Democrat, Kansas.

Commenting on Raskob's letter requesting an expression of sentiment on the prohibition issue Ayes said:

"There is little doubt in my mind but that the majority of the present committee will favor Mr. Raskob's prohibition ideas.

"They were selected to conduct the 1928 campaign when Governor Smith was a candidate. When they were selected as national committeemen there was no thought that such a question as this would be coming up to be settled by the committee.

"I know that there are some national committeemen that do not represent the sentiment of the people in their states on this issue."

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—Another suggestion that Democrats avoid straddling and adopt a definite 1932 platform on controversial subjects—including prohibition—was before that party today in a letter from Chairman Raskob of the National Committee.

He asks the committee members to give attention to prohibition.

Once more he advanced his home rule plan as what he believes to be a solution of liquor questions. Answering accusations that he was attempting to dictate to the party, he recalled that he last Democratic convention charged the committee of which he is chairman with making "recommendations of policies or procedure for the consideration of the convention."

"Whether we like it or not," he wrote, "prohibition is a critical question in many of our states."

The voters, he asserted, will support the party "whose policies and conduct appeal to them as being sincere, honest, courageous, best guaranteeing and preservation of our democracy and promoting freedom and happiness as against a life of tyranny and strife.

"If the Democratic party is interested only in winning one election, it might be argued with a great deal of force that we should avoid or straddle all controversial issues."

Admitting a difference between the "dry attitude of the party in the south" and the "liberal attitude of the party in the north," he said, "prohibition is, perhaps, a dangerous complication."

"How silly it must be for the Democratic party to disregard the prohibition issue because of its proposed peril."

His home rule plan—which would call for the retention of the eighteenth amendment but adoption of another constitutional change giving states control of liquor—is, to his mind, probably the best solution, he said, but added: "Perhaps some of you may have a better solution."

Chicago to Vote On Mayor Tuesday

Chicago, April 6.—(AP)—Who is going to be Chicago's World's Fair Mayor?

The voters will decide the question tomorrow, choosing between William Hale Thompson, Republican, and Anton J. Cermak, Democrat, Immigrant Czechoslovakian who came up from coal mining to a position of power in politics.

The rival candidates pushed their campaigns without pausing for Easter Sunday. Cermak told his audience that he felt he would win by the largest vote ever given a mayorally candidate in Chicago.

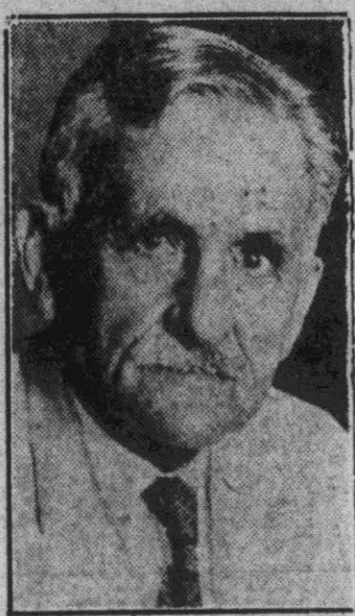

Thompson headquarters issued a statement in which Mrs. Bertha Blair, Republican National Committeewoman was quoted as saying he would be re-elected by from 100,000 to 125,000.

Whatever the results, it is bound to be unusual in Chicago politics. If Thompson wins it will give him a longer term than any of his predecessors as he already served 12 years. If Cermak is victorious it will put into the Mayor's chair for the first time a man who was not born on American shores.

GEN. BUTLER TO SPEAK AT EXPOSITION

Stormy Petrel of the Marines to Be Headliner of the Opening Day Here

General Smedley Butler, "stormy petrel" of the United States Marine Corps, will be the principal speaker at the opening of the Eastern Carolina Exposition in this city Monday, April 27th, it was announced over the week-end by the program committee of the exposition.

General Butler is a lecturer of recognized ability. He has forged to the limelight several times in past years because of his scathing denunciation of public officials. His most recent episode was in connection with an address in which he dealt with Premier Mussolini.

President Guy Smith stated today they were lining up one of the best balanced programs in the history of the exposition. He said several attractions would be featured from day to day.

The announcement that arrangements have been made with the Cotton Textile Institute, Inc., of New York and the Durene Association of America, to have an exhibit of cotton made goods, will be well received by the people of the eastern part of the state. The Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce for the past seven years has been intensely interested in promoting greater uses of cotton and this is just another project to further this cause.

Several years ago a meeting was held with the fertilizer dealers of the section with a view of getting the companies to put the fertilizer up in cotton bags. This did not prove satisfactory, because a cotton bag heavy enough to hold the 200 pounds of fertilizer would be higher than the burlap bag. Quite a few of the fertilizer dealers did make an effort to use these cotton bags. The Cotton Textile Institute and the Durene Association of America have taken the lead in the promotion of this "Greater Use for Cotton Goods" and have assembled a very complete exhibit showing how attractive cotton is now being made. This is the exhibit that the Eastern Carolina Exposition will have at Greenville. The annual Fashion Show on Wednesday will feature cotton made dresses as far as consistent with making the show up to the standard of the previous shows. Local merchants in Greenville and throughout the eastern part of the state will co-operate in this movement.

BERLIN'S FOREIGN COLONY COUNTS 3,000 AMERICANS

The east of Europe is most heavily represented in Berlin. There are 30,000 Poles, 23,000 Austrians and almost as many Czechs and Russians living here.

Numerous too are the men who have emigrated from Russia. Almost 13,000 of them have found a second home in Berlin.

House Met for Two Minute Session This Morning, Establishing a Precedent in History of the Assembly; Senate Will Take Up the House Revenue Bill This Evening

Raleigh, April 6.—(AP)—In session 13 weeks—through Easter for the first time in memory of legislative historians—the North Carolina Legislature this week will again fight over the sales tax.

The House, still under agreement to consider nothing but controverted local bills, held a two-minute session this morning with six members present. The body has been in virtual Easter recess since Thursday but at its noon meeting tomorrow will go back to work in earnest.

The Senate, meeting tonight, will continue considering the House revenue bill section by section, and may get to the sales tax day.

The speed with which the other sections are considered will determine when the Day plan, levying a tax of one per cent on the gross receipts of retail merchants, will receive its supreme test.

The House insisted that a gross receipts or general sales tax be written into its bill. The Senate is divided into three camps.

One favors the Day plan—but it is said to be the smallest of the three groups. Another, with somewhere between 20 and 28 votes, its members say, favors substitution of the Hindsdale selected commodities or "luxury" tax for the Day plan.

The third, and its members claim it has a majority, opposes any and every form of sales tax beyond the few already imposed—such as the gasoline tax.

The Senate is expected to spend the entire week on the revenue bill. The House will probably get an appropriations bill tomorrow or Wednesday. What it will contain is uncertain. A majority of the House members are in disagreement with the joint appropriations measure and are working on a substitute.

During the week the House is also expected to consider its new short-ballot bill. Forty-one members signed the new measure to make the commissioners of insurance, labor and printing, and agriculture as well as the corporation commission appointive. It is though the measure will pass the House—the Senate is most uncertain.

Court Affirms Decision In Cases Against Fall And Harry M. Blackmer

RUM MAKER FIRES UPON PITT OFFICER

Deputy Sheriff Harris Escapes Uninjured and Gets Distiller and Still

Deputy Sheriff Herbert Harris was fired upon by a whiskey distiller during a raid by county officers in the Winterville community Saturday afternoon, it became known today. The officer escaped without a scratch and the rum-maker was captured after a sprinting contest of several hundred yards.

The distiller, Skilton, Dennis, was brought to Greenville and lodged in jail on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and manufacturing whiskey. He was released yesterday under bond of $1,000. He will be given preliminary hearing in the regular weekly session of County court here tomorrow.

In addition to the capture of the operator, the officers also destroyed a steam distilling plant, several hundred gallons of beer and about two gallons of whiskey.

The plant was in full operation when the officers arrived. Dennis was said to have been devoting his attention to pouring of the beverage when Officer Harris ordered "hands up." Instead of obeying the command, the distiller was said to have reached around for his rifle, fired upon the officer and fled in the direction of home.

Although rather short-legged, Deputy Harris distinguished himself as a sprinter and captured his prey before he could make a getaway.

This was the first time county officers have been fired on by members of the illicit whiskey traffic in some time, and the subject was a matter of considerable discussion and speculation along the streets today.

Commits Suicide.

GIVE CANTATA HERE EASTER

Choir of Immanuel Baptist Church Observes Occasion With Musical Program

The trial—crucifixion—triumph over death—of Jesus Christ—was told in song and music last night, at the Immanuel Baptist church, when the choir, assisted by Miss Bessie Brown, Mrs. H. H. Settle, and Moran Thomas, rendered the Easter Cantata, "The Crucifixion," by Stainer.

In the beginning, Rev. Mr. Covert told how Jesus and the disciples came to the garden, where Jesus wanted to pray, and asked the disciples to sit and watch while he prayed. S. L. Parkinson, using the words of Jesus, after he had prayed, asking the disciples, why was it not possible for them to remain awake with him for a short space of an hour. With the words, if ye sleep while the tempests lower, surely, my friends, I am alone, in deed.

Then the chorus telling the professional, to calvary—the lonely road traveled by the Saviour to the place where he was to be crucified.

C. E. Taylor, told in a solo, how Christ was to bear the sins of man, since the world began.

"Then, On to the End," was sung by the chorus.

Eric Tucker told in a solo, how Jesus was willing to go to the cross that the world through Him might be saved; that He made of himself no reputation; but came in the likeness of man. And suffered and finally went to the cross.

"Thou, Art The King, Ever Glorious," was sung by Moran Thomas.

The sayings on the cross by Jesus and the malefactor, one on the right and the other on the left, were told by Eric Tucker, Herman Mattox and W. E. Smith, and the men's chorus.

"As Moses Lifted Up the Serpent, So must the Son of Man be lifted up," was sung by Herman Mattox.

Former Interior Secretary Must Spend Year in Jail and Pay Fine of $100,000 for Accepting Bribe From Edward L. Doheny; Blackmer Must Pay $60,000 in Contempt Case; Ruling Handed Down By Court of Appeals This Morning

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—A sentence of one year in jail and $100,000 against Albert B. Fall, former interior secretary, was today affirmed by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

At the same time the court upheld the decision of a lower court under which Harry M. Blackmer was fined $60,000 for contempt of court in refusing to return from France, to appear at a witness in the oil trials of Harry F. Sinclair and Fall.

Fall was convicted of accepting a bribe from Edward L. Doheny for a lease granted the California oil man in naval oil reserves while Fall was secretary of the interior.

At the conclusion of a lengthy decision in which he quoted liberally from arguments in the lower court case, Associate Justice Josiah A. Van Orsdel, of the Court of Appeals said simply:

"The judgment is affirmed."

The decision against Blackmer was handed down by Associate Justice Charles H. Robb and upheld the judgments of the lower court with the addition of costs.

Blackmer was found guilty of contempt on two charges of failing to heed a subpoena and fined $50,000 on each of the charges. The action was taken under the Walsh act permitting the government to seize property of any citizen who refused to return from abroad to testify for the government in a criminal case.

The law was attacked as unconstitutional by Blackmer's attorneys. Blackmer went abroad two years before he was summoned to appear as a government witness in the oil scandal cases and maintained that he had given up residence in the United States and had established residence in Paris.

Upholding of the constitutionality of the Walsh act permits the government to compel witnesses needed in cases to return from abroad even though the witness is outside of the jurisdiction of the court.

Blackmer was summoned as a government witness after it was found that he as well as Sinclair had received Lieberly bonds in a deal through which the Continental Trading Company of Canada had bought oil and re-sold it to companies which the group represented.

The government wanted to know where Sinclair got the bonds which later went to Fall.

Fall, after Sinclair was found not guilty of conspiring with him, was convicted and sentenced to one year in jail and to pay $100,000 for accepting a bribe from Edward L. Doheny.

Doheny, a wealthy oil promoter, was charged with bribing Fall to induce the secretary to give Doheny's company a lease to the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil reserve but he was acquitted by a jury in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

Justice Van Orsdel devoted a large part of his decision to the contention by Fall's counsel that it was improper to admit in the Fall-Doheny bribe case any evidence of transactions with Sinclair in making a lease of the Teapot Dome oil land in Wyoming.

"Transfer to the defendant by Sinclair of a large amount of government bonds and the alleged loan of $100,000 by Doheny to Fall to purchase the Harris ranch," the court said, "were prompted by initial suggestions from Fall of difficulties that he was having in relation to his ranch holdings in New Mexico."

The court said that although the record discloses no connection between Doheny and Sinclair, it does disclose that Fall was considering the two leases on behalf of the government at the same time and considering each with reference to the other, and with a common motive in mind."

In the absence in "Europe of Frank J. Hogan, Fall's attorney, no word came from defense counsel as to whether an appeal would be taken to the Supreme Court.

The Court of Appeals has fifteen days in which to invoke the mandate which might send Fall to the penitentiary. However, Fall could be paroled by the court, should counsel for Fall seek a writ of certiorari from the Supreme Court.

The former secretary of the Interior.

In the dining room Easter lilies were used for the center-piece. During supper each guest was presented with a jonquil to which was attached a miniature wedding bell with a card reading, "Kathryn-Mac June 1931," announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Kathryn Warlick to H. G. McEntire of Chicago.

Miss Warlick is the daughter of Mrs. Lella Teague Warlick and the late David Henry Darlick. She was graduated from Duke University in 1928 and pursued graduate studies at the University of New York.

For the past two years she has had charge of the Commercial Department of the Greenville High School.

Mr. McEntire is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. McEntire of Bessemer City. He attended the University of North Carolina and for the past several years has been connected with the Trust Department of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company of Chicago.

The above announcement will be received with interest by Miss Warlick's host of friends here. Miss Warlick is the sister of Mrs. E. L. Hillman.

Eight Actresses Making Comeback in the Talks

Hollywood, Calif., April 6.—(AP)—Since producers have decided the star, rather than the play, is the thing, at least eight actresses featured in the silent days are making come-backs in the talks.

Perhaps the most noted of these is Pola Negri, who recently divorced Prince Serge Mdivani in Paris. She is now on her way back to Hollywood, with a contract for a motion picture speaking part. The Polish actress is said to have eliminated most of her accent.

Louise Wilson, remembered as the heroine of "The Covered Wagon," had not worked for ten months and was preparing to appear on the London stage when Universal asked her to take a test for "Speed." Her performance in the film was said to be largely responsible for its being booked for a premiere at one of Los Angeles' higher priced theatres. It won her a contract for other pictures.

Doris Kenyon also was preparing to go to Europe when Warner Bros. offered her a part in "Lou and I." This led to a long term contract. Dolores Costello is making her first picture since her marriage to John Barrymore. Enid Bennett is playing the "mamma" role in "Skippy."

Eleanor Boardman, in private life Mrs. King Vidor and the mother of two daughters, returned to the screen in a talkie, "She Goes to War," which was followed by three others, including "The Great Meadow." She is now under contract to Paramount.

Louise Brooks did go to Europe, doing several silent pictures in Berlin and Paris, but now she is back in the talks. Greta Nissen, who had been in the silents three years, took a part in "Hell's Angels," which was two years in the making. She has a contract with Fox, after several months of stage appearances in Rochester, N. Y.

Producers say fans have not taken kindly to the wholesale introduction of stage players which came with the talkies and are clamoring for the faces they used to see in the silents. And producers keep a keen ear turned to box office demands.

Shooting of Marine Sergeant and Other Incidents Under Investigation

Managua, Nicaragua, April 6.—(AP)—A searching inquiry was under way today into events of Saturday night which culminated in the shooting of a Marine Corps sergeant and a subsequent dramatic contact between a naval surgeon's officer and the President of Nicaragua.

Marine Corps Sergeant W. H. Pigg, who was also a second lieutenant in the Nicaraguan national guard in the course of a reprisal by members of the Guardia Nacional, was shot and killed, and was taken to a house nearby where President Moncado and members of his staff had established their residence.

Lieut.-Com. William Hatfield heard of the shooting, and understanding that a Marine was wounded, rushed to the house.

He was stopped at the door by two Nicaraguan officials, supposed to be Anastasio Somoza, acting foreign minister, and Antonio Flores Vega, minister of public works.

Lieut.-Com. Hatfield, worn almost to the breaking point by the tremendous strain of hundreds of operations and other relief work which he has been associated since last Tuesday, demanded entrance, and when it was refused forced his way into the house.

President Moncado appeared and in the excitement of the moment reminded the American naval officer that he was President of Nicaragua, a reminder to which Hatfield made what was understood to be an undiplomatic answer.

Lieut.-Com. Hatfield left for the Pacific coast by a special United States Marine Corps airplane at noon Sunday.

Managua spent a sad Easter Sunday. The city's churches all were destroyed in the quake which leveled the city and took 2,000 lives last Tuesday but masses were said at several improvised chapels.

Private Expedition May Retrace Trail of Greely Explorers

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—The icy trail over which ill luck dogged the Greely Arctic explorers of nearly half a century ago may be retraced next year by a private American expedition.

John A. Fleming, acting director, said today plans for American participation in the second Polar year program, international scientific investigation, include reconnoitering of Fort Conger (Lady Franklin Bay) on frozen Ellesmere Island.

"We are hopeful an expedition may be arranged through private assistance, to supplement the government's part in the program," Fleming said. "If plans fall through, Fort Conger might be occupied for two years."

"It will be expensive, and will involve more risk than the other part of the program, because the expedition would be dependent entirely on itself in this absolute isolation. But it would be particularly desirable because of the location with respect to strategic geographic and magnetic points."

Twenty-six nations have promised to cooperate in the second Polar year program. The Greely expedition was one of two the United States sent in connection with the first such program.

"Far greater results will be achieved this time, with the same expenditure of money and effort," said Fleming. "Practically, we may expect to learn more of atmospheric electric storms, and of magnetic storms. The latter directly affect radio transmission and reception."

Two Girls Die In Fire Caused By N. Y. Racketeers

New York, April 6.—(AP)—Racketeers who planted a bomb in the grocery store of Sebastian Giarusso were responsible for a tenement fire in which two small girls were burned to death last night. Six other persons were injured.

The bombing brought to an end warfare which the grocer had been waging with racketeers over a period of weeks. They badgered him with demands for "protection money" and refused to accept his explanation that he was unable to raise it.

Tenants in the dingy rooms above the store suffered most. They were thrown from their beds and ran, panic-stricken, into the halls.

Charles De Prena, a laborer, herded his wife and three daughters into the corridor only to find that the escape which he had planned was cut off. In the confusion and smoke, Mary 11, and Lillian, 9, were lost and their bodies were found on the landing.

Announcement Of Prize Winners

THE FOLLOWING WERE PRIZE WINNERS IN OUR RECENTLY-CONDUCTED FORD GAS MILEAGE CONTEST:

- 1st. PRIZE—Goodyear Tire, won by Mr. L. C. Garris of Ayden for an average of 29 1-2 miles per gallon.
- 2nd. PRIZE—Goodyear Pathfinder Tire, won by Mr. C. C. Quinn of Greenville for an average of 29 miles per gallon.
- 3rd. PRIZE—Chassis Lubrication and Change of Oil, won by Mr. B. D. Moore of Stokes for an average of 28 1-2 miles per gallon.
- 4th. PRIZE—Choice of Chassis Lubrication or Change of Oil, won by J. W. Bunch of Greenville for an average of 28 1-4 miles per gallon.
- 5th. PRIZE—Choice of Chassis Lubrication or Change of Oil, won by E. F. Arnold of Greenville and H. R. Crawford of Bell Arthur for an average of 28 miles per gallon. Due to a tie for this prize, it was necessary to give to both contestants.

The method of determining the winners was by averaging the mileage obtained over a single route both going out and coming in. In this way we obtained the true mileage not affected by wind resistance. Of a total of one hundred seventeen cars tested the average mileage for them was 24.8 miles per gallon.

Of the one hundred seventeen cars tested, there was only one, that owned by Mr. S. W. Erwin of Parmele which did not obtain 22 miles to the gallon or better. Mr. Erwin's average was 21 miles. There were three or four cars which came to our garage for the service but with motor valves burned or some other mechanical defects which prompted us to advise repairs before they could expect first class performance.

Such results as the above show the advantages which may be obtained by periodical inspections and minor adjustments.

THE BIG IMPERATIVE THING FOR THIS LEGISLATURE

"I do sincerely trust the MacLean law will go into effect and the counties of the State will be relieved of thirteen million dollars tax on property. I hope we will not see a general sales tax law passed, but the luxury tax is the proper one, in my opinion. If this Legislature goes home and fails to relieve property of thirteen million dollars tax, there is going to be trouble, more trouble than any of us ever saw in North Carolina."

These quotations written by one of the most distinguished bankers North Carolina has produced in half a century. He was writing to a friend expressing an opinion that he did not expect to see printed. It contains so much wisdom that the gentleman to whom it was written felt that it would do good to be brought to the attention of every thoughtful citizen of North Carolina, in and out of the legislature. The banker has eschewed politics, has no interest in legislation except his interest in the prosperity of the people. He knows, perhaps, better than any legislator the serious situation affecting land values in North Carolina. Except in a few localities he knows that land has ceased to be an asset and has come to be a liability. No longer are farms desired. People in towns and cities prefer to rent than to own homes. He knows that the chief reason, or the only reason that this Legislature can affect for the better, is the mounting high taxes. Until land taxes are reduced, and reduced in some real way and not the little shift as provided in the road act, he sees no early change in a situation in which banks dare not lend money on land, and in which many land owners do not derive enough from their lands to pay their taxes and the interest on their debts, and that many lenders are unable to collect interest on the money they loaned when lands were valuable and sought after.

Every man who has studied the situation in North Carolina—in the West and Center and the East—knows that this banker is right, and that the supreme duty of this Legislature is to "relieve the counties of the State of the thirteen million dollars tax on property" promised in the MacLean law.

More than that: Every open-minded man who knows the deep feeling among the mass of the people—the "little men" on the farms and in the towns and cities—knows they are so aroused that the failure of the MacLean law would, as this wise banker says, insure "trouble, more trouble than any of us ever saw in North Carolina."

Providing the thirteen million dollars is "the big imperative thing." If that fails, all fails, and this General Assembly, in a crisis greater than this generation has known, fails and fails utterly. All else, even the good measures, will not atone for failure to bring the needed and promised tax relief.—(News and Observer).

MANY ATTEND EGG ROLLING

Annual White House Event Marked By Normal Attendance Today

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—Despite a thin cold drizzle, hundreds of children came to the White House today to frolic in the traditional Easter Monday egg roll. It began with normal attendance, the only result of the rain being to add vari-colored umbrellas to the scene. Several hundred children, from babies in go-carts to ten-year-olds, were waiting when the iron gates swung open at 9 o'clock. Massed in the east room, about 200 children of government officials crowded to the windows overlooking the broad south grounds. They had been invited by Mrs. Hoover to join her three grandchildren, Peggy Ann, Herbert Hoover III, and Joan. At ten o'clock the program which Mrs. Hoover planned began. The blue and red uniformed Marine band swung into the south grounds, marched up to a raised platform in the center, removed rain protectors from their instruments, and struck up a folk song. A group of about 30 girls moved into a roped off rectangle and began a folk dance.

Spain Takes Steps to Put Down Revolt

Lisbon, Portugal, April 6.—(AP)—Two batteries of light artillery and 800 men from the Lisbon garrison, were dispatched today to Funchal, Madeira, to put down the revolt which Saturday night succeeded in wresting power from the military governor there. The cabinet, after a two-hour session, ending at two a. m., decided to take stern methods, employing all means at its command to regain control of the island. Funchal advises here said the movement began with the munitiy of two army officers. Aided by the rank and file they raided the military barracks and arrested the high commissioner sent there to take charge after the February bread riots and other officers who refused to join in the revolt. The rebels then issued a proclamation explaining what they had done, and a radio was sent to the government at Lisbon notifying it that they had overthrown the authorities and would take orders only from a legally constituted national government at the capital.

points. There scores tossed their eggs into mid-air, and rolled them down to shrieking playmates. Gaily colored baskets swung from the children's arms. Grown-ups, admitted only if accompanied by a child, spread blankets on the grass and assisted in games. To meet any emergency, an ambulance drew up within the grounds and hovered nearby. A "Lost and Found" white tent stood at the extreme south edge, with Boy Scouts ready to return lost articles, or, if necessary, lost children. It was expected that the President's grandchildren and their guests would join in the frolic later. The first casualty was Sam Jackson, 10, Muskegon, Mich., he broke his arm when he fell from the portico overlooking the grounds.

Thousands Attend Moravian Services

Winston-Salem, April 6.—(AP)—Ten thousand of the faithful braved a drenching rain to reassert through the 159th Moravian sunrise service here on Easter day their faith in the risen Christ. Other thousands heard the service. While the rain cut to one-fourth the number that had been expected to attend the historic service, it detracted not at all from its beauty. The notes of the 300 musicians who at 2 a. m. sounded the approach of Easter morn wafted as sweetly through the mist and rain as they would have under a clear sky. The slow solemnity of the march from the Moravian church to the burying ground, "God's Acre," was unhurried by the rain. From the lips of the Rev. Dr. J. Kenneth Phol, "The Lord Is Risen," rang forth with its full measure of hope to the world. It was the first service to be conducted by Dr. Phol. He succeeded the late Bishop Edward Rondthaler as officiating minister at the service. Bishop Rondthaler, who conducted his 51st service Easter of last year, died last January.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, April 6.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today and showed a generally steady tone during the early trading with May working up to 10.52 and October to 11.08 or about 3 to 4 points net high.

There was some buying here for Wall street and western account as well as covering and moderate trade demand which was supplied by southern and local selling on the bulge. Owing to the continuation of the Easter holidays there were no Liverpool cables to influence sentiment here but there may have been some buying on a report of cold rains in the eastern belt over the holidays, and continued reports of a sharp reduction in fertilizer tag sales. The Liverpool market will reopen for business tomorrow.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 6.—(AP)—Notwithstanding decreases shown in United States visible supplies both of wheat and corn, bears had the advantage in all grain pits today. The action of wheat was in striking contrast with Saturday's lively advance, when the Winnipeg market was closed. Much of today's selling of wheat here was attributed to Winnipeg traders.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 6.—(AP)—Uncertainly over the outlook of the steel industry cast a shadow across the path of advancing stock prices today.

Saturday's rebound was continued into the new week for a time in the morning, but the courage of the bear faction was restored as U. S. Steel failed to follow the advance. Selling of shares in which adverse dividend news is expected turned the trend downward by midday. Trading, however, was in meagre volume.

Pullman and Columbian Carbon each dropped about 4 points. U. S. Steel fell more than 2 points to a new low for 1931, reflecting disappointing estimates of ingot output in the Youngstown area. Early advances of about 2 to 4 points in American Can, Case and Allied Chemical were lost.

With the early spring shopping season ending on the passing of Easter, and steel mill activity showing signs of having reached a seasonal peak, Wall street has entered a period of watchful waiting.

The bond market was dull and sluggish. Call money rose to 2 and then to 2 1/2 per cent, the highest since January 2, after renewals at 2 1/2, probably reflecting withdrawals in connection with the government offering of treasury certificates expected tomorrow.

PROBE KILLING DROP DOUBLE OF EVANGELIST MURDER CASE

Kansas City Minister Shot to Death By Pastor of Church in Missouri

Nevada, Mo., April 6.—(AP)—The mounted congregation of a little log church at Halley's Bluffs mourned today as a corner's jury took up the shooting of the Rev. George R. Brown, Kansas City evangelist, at the home of his former pastor, the Rev. J. A. Brown.

The evangelist, 43, mortally wounded on a mission of peace, died here Easter Day praying for forgiveness for Mr. Brown, a 67-year-old veteran of the ministry who was held in the Vernon county jail.

"I wish I was dead, too," he prisoner said.

Webster Hallett, prosecuting attorney, said the motive of the shooting hinged on the success of services Mr. Rider had conducted the last three weeks in the non-denominational pulpit Mr. Brown resigned last December.

Mr. Rider, called to attend a funeral in Kansas City, said he sought to pay Mr. Brown a compliment in asking him to conduct Easter services. The former pastor refused.

The evangelist was shot in the back and left side as he returned with Mrs. Rider to his motor car.

"I would rather go back to Kansas City in a box," he said, "than to leave this community while there is so much bad feeling in it."

Authorities said Brown told several versions of events leading up to the shooting.

He was quoted as saying insistence of the evangelist on a reconciliation had angered him and led to blows. Again he said the evangelist had attempted to force entrance to his house. He said dissension had caused him to resign.

OPPOSE MOVE TO RAISE TAX

Statement of Senator Bingham in Favor of Increase Meets With Opposition

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—Factional leaders of Congress looked with little favor today on the proposal by Senator Bingham that income taxes be increased and extended to curb governmental extravagance.

The Connecticut Republican no sooner had made his statement favoring a blanket increase in levies and an extension to smaller incomes than responsible members of both the Senate and House objected.

Senator Watson of Indiana—the Republican floor leader—said: "I am opposed to any further taxation because I don't think it is necessary under existing conditions."

Senator Norris of Nebraska, an independent Republican leader, asserted that while he would not object to a hike in the expected $700,000,000 deficit materialized, "the increase should be applied to inheritance taxes and on the higher brackets, or larger incomes."

Senator Harris of Georgia, ranking Democrat on the Senate appropriations committee, said: "I am opposed to Senator Bingham's plan in toto."

Representative LaGuardia of New York, a House independent leader, predicted there would be an increase, but added: "There will be no lowering of the present tax exemption and that is just as certain as day follows night. The tax increases in the next Congress will be such that Senator Bingham and his half-dozen in the Senate surely will vote against."

Bingham's proposal was the first in discussions of the approaching $700,000,000 deficit to suggest tax demands be made on smaller incomes.

Others have admitted that any agitation for a tax increase at the next session would be embarrassing to both parties because of the economic situation and the approaching presidential election.

President Hoover believes an increase will not be necessary if Congress restricts appropriations.

terior would have three months in which to make the application. During that time, it would be the normal step for counsel to take action to prevent his going to prison until the Supreme Court decision.

However such petitions must show a constitutional question is involved before a review is granted.

Fall was reported at Three Rivers, New Mexico.

A duet, "Though They Slay Me," was sung by Rev. Mr. Cover and Vick Forrest.

After the resurrection, the words of Mary, the mother of Jesus, were sung by Mrs. Ola Tucker.

The final chorus—"Arise, Arise, Awake, Awake, and Christ Shall Give Thee Light."

Several hymns were sung in connection with the cantata.

Miss Lela Thomas, presided at the organ and Mrs. C. E. Taylor at the piano. Mrs. Carl Adams rendered a flute solo, during the offertory.

Although inclement weather prevailed throughout the day and night, a capacity house was on hand to hear the cantata, the Christian Church having joined with the Immanuel congregation, after a short service in their own church.
