Senate Passes Revenue Bill Without Including Hinsdale "Luxury" Tax

Body Also Defeats the Baggett Bill to Tax Foreign Corporations; Senator Johnson Serves Notice That When Revenue Bill Comes Up for Third Reading He Will Send Forward the House Bill Containing Day Sales Tax Plan As a Substitute

Raleigh, April 14.—(AP)—The Senate today passed its biennial revenue bill 77 to 22 on second reading after refusing to amend it to include the Hinsdale selected commodities or "luxury" tax.

Senator Johnson of Duplin served notice that when the measure comes up for third reading tomorrow he will send forward the House revenue bill, containing the Day sales tax plan of one per cent on the gross receipts of retail merchants, as a substitute. In committee of the whole the Senate defeated the Day plan overwhelmingly. It is conceded either the Day or Hinsdale plans must be adopted to carry out the MacLean school law. The Senate bill provides a substitute for full state school support by the Grier-Folger finance plan to increase the equalizing fund to $10,000,000.

The Senate also defeated the Baggett bill to tax foreign stocks. The vote was 26 to 20.

The measure ran into lengthy debate before it was killed and an effort to apply the "legislative clincher" failed 24 to 23.

The vote today was the same as that in committee of the whole last week, 26 voting against amending the revenue bill to include the tax on candies, theater admissions, tobacco, ammunition, playing cards and other articles and 24 voting for it.

The action followed several hours of debate on the amendment last night, when the Senate held the most unruly session either house of the 1931 General Assembly has had.

Before the vote was taken on the Hinsdale amendment its author, Senator Hinsdale of Wake, asked the Senate to pass it as a means of shifting $9,000,000 in taxes from farm lands "to many who now pay no taxes."

"If we must depend on a 30-cent ad valorem tax the schools in my county and many like will not open next fall," Senator Pritchett of Bertie warned the Senate as he asked passage of the Hinsdale proposal in order to place the MacLean law for full support of the six months school without a land tax in effect.

By a vote of 24 to 22 the Senate killed an amendment by Senator Blount of Pitt to eliminate the mercantile tax.

William Stokes Buried Sunday

William G. Stokes, 64, died at his home 207 East Twelfth street, at 12:10 o'clock Saturday P. M., after several months suffering. He was the son of Gilford Stokes and Lucretia Sutton and lived in and near Greenville all his life.

He leaves surviving him his widow, Annie Forbes Stokes; five sons Raymond A., Wm. ADMITTS HE KILLED MAN

Youth Also Charges Another With Murder in Double Killing in This State

Waynesville, N. C., April 14.—(AP)—Frank McGaha, 29, today confessed that he shot Joel C. ("Scott") Brown, and told Haywood officers that Vornelle Gates killed Mims White. McGaha had denied taking part in the double slaying which occurred last August in the Big Ben section and was unsolved until yesterday when the bodies of the two victims were brought to light.

McGaha, Gates and Vornelle Brown were all sent to Buncombe jail in Asheville today to await trial on murder charges. Meantime, Haywood authorities arrested Mrs. Oma Hicks Brown, widow of one of the victims, and locked her in the Waynesville jail as a material witness. Carl Miller is also held in jail as a witness.

The mystery was solved yesterday when McGaha led officers to a remote spot in the Big Ben section where he said the bodies had been buried. McGaha pointed to a "stink hole" left after a chestnut tree had been blown over, and told the investigators to dig. Immediately a foot was uncovered, and the men went for aid. The bodies were taken out of the crude grave.

Today, hundreds of persons were viewing the body at Massey's Undertaking establishment. Though they had been in the ground for more than eight months, the clothing was still in a good state of preservation and friends were able to identify the two men.

U. S. Sends Gunboat To Nicaragua

Additional Force of Marines to Attempt to Cope With Activities of Rebels

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—The commander of the gunboat Asheville reported to the Navy Department today that four Americans have been killed and three were missing within the last 48 hours.

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—Insurgent activity in troubled Nicaragua was the lodestone today for additional American forces.

The gunboat Asheville with 75 marines aboard was under orders to proceed to Puerto Cabezas on the Isthmus country's eastern coast after reports of rebel activity in that vicinity were received.

The vessel's forces were not to be landed, however, unless the situation became more serious. Somewhat conflicting dispatches emanated from the country. Information from one source said Lieutenant Clyde Roy Darrah of the marine corps had lost his life in a hand to hand fight with rebels who smashed a national guard detachment.

To the Associated Press at New Orleans, however, C. A. Davis, of the marine corps, sent a message that Lieutenant Darrah and his detachment had fought their way to safety after a 12-hour conflict.

Marine bombing planes helped Darrah gain the open. Davis said. Available records listed Davis as a spy clerk with the marine corps.

Other reports to corps headquarters said that Darrah and his group had been surrounded but were getting supplies by airplane from Managua, on the west coast.

Darrah's detachment went to the aid of the men headed by Captain Harlan Peffley of the marine corps. Peffley was reported killed and one member of his command wounded at Logtown, 120 kilometers from Puerto Cabezas.

The navy yesterday ordered the cruiser Memphis to go from Guantanamo, Cuba, to the troubled zone, but these instructions were countermanded shortly after she weighed anchor. Secretary Adams said the cruiser would not proceed to Nicaragua unless further trouble developed.

ROTES HEAR MUSIC GALORE

Rotarians who have an ear for music received an earful in this respect last night when they were treated to a program dealing exclusively with musical numbers.

In addition, they also had an opportunity to meet the two queens of the club is to sponsor during the Eastern Carolina Exposition to be held in this city the latter part of the month. The queens were Miss Catherine Utley and Miss Betty Fleischmann. The young women were promised the hearty support of the organization in their attempt to capture the honor of becoming the leaders in the parade of eastern Carolina pulchitude.

Lewis ReBarker delighted his hearers with flute and piccolo solo. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Herbert ReBarker.

Mrs. A. W. Fleischmann gave a reading which proved to be one of the highlights of the program. Mrs. Herbert Waldrop, sweetheart of the Pitt County Post of American Legion, was given a great ovation in the rendition of a popular song number. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Sam White.

Four members of the club covered themselves with glory in a quartet number as the concluding feature. They were Claude Gaskins, Phil Goodson, Burney Warren, L. A. Stroud. They sang with such complete abandon that the audience sat completely spellbound until the final note had died away in the nocturnal gloom.

TUCKER TALKS ON NEGLECT

Stresses Importance of Christian Influence in Sermon This Morning

Emphasizing the danger of neglect, Dr. J. Powell Tucker, of Raleigh, delivered probably one of the most forceful and convincing sermons of the revival services at Memorial Baptist church in this city last night.

The revival began Monday last week. Hundreds of people have packed the building to overflowing at each service to hear the great exponent of the Bible describe the love and omnipotence of God.

Speaking on the subject, "If We Neglect," Dr. Tucker discussed the evangelical doctrines of predestination, election and free will. He presented his hearers with a satisfactory explanation of these matters.

Simple neglect, he declared, is all that is necessary to send our lives into eternity with God and Christ. In view of the results incident upon such neglect the counter proposal is presented in the further suggestion, "How Shall we escape if we neglect?"

At the morning services today, Dr. Tucker told of the importance of using all our faculties for good. He described the decadent influences to be found on all sides during the present day and impressed upon the congregation the necessity of keeping the eye forever on the good things and to see that they predominate all of our activities.

The singing under the direction of Earl L. Wolskel was of an inspirational nature at both services.

Aged Man Buried Sunday Afternoon

Owen Gurganus, aged 81 years, died Saturday night at 10:00 o'clock at his home near Greenville. He leaves surviving him his widow, and a large number of children and other relatives.

Funeral services were conducted from the home at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, by Rev. Lafayette Riggs and interment followed in the family cemetery near Grimesland.

Besten to Death

Fish Fry Fight

Chicago, April 14.—(AP)—Sixteen men groping in exhaustion, emerged today from a sanitary district sewage disposal tunnel in which seven workers and three firemen, sent to their rescue, had died after flames, smoke and poison gas filled the bore last night.

As the survivors crawled to safety, after huddling 14 hours in a narrow air chamber, all but one man, Fire Captain James F. O'Neill, remained unaccounted for. He had not returned to the surface after leading the first rescue squad into the tunnel last night.

A policeman also was killed near the scene by an ambulance. The list of injured was estimated at 46.

One theory of the cause of the fire was that a workman, inspecting the tunnel with a lighted candle, had lighted a pile of sawdust. Led by Division Fire Marshal Patrick Pierce, the survivors crawled unaided to the surface through the shaft that had been an avenue to death for the ten firemen and tunnel workers trapped in lethal gas and unbearable heat.

They had saved their lives during twelve hours imprisonment by sealing themselves in safety air chambers at one end of the new sewage disposal tunnel.

Heat that melted the rubber suit of a diver and fumes that choked and blinded the daring rescue squads had forestalled thorough search of the bore until a new smoke-ejecting device rushed here from Kenosha, Wis., was applied to the air shaft.

Its double-barreled pipes sucked the smoke from the chamber 50 feet underground and forced compressed air down, clearing a path to safety for the entombed men.

It was a dramatic moment as the little group of workmen rose to the street.

Firemen were pumping away, watching the shaft opening tensely, ready to attack any flames that (Continued on page three)

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—President Hoover today envisioned western hemisphere nations in the near future as settling every major difference by the "orderly process of conciliation and arbitration."

Leading official Washington in its celebration of the first Pan-American day, which simultaneously was observed throughout the 21 Latin-American republics, the chief executive described the common purpose of the Americas to eliminate war as a major contribution to modern civilization.

He spoke before the governing board of the Pan-American Union, and was followed by Secretary Stimson, speaking as chairman of the board; Ambassador Tellez of Mexico, dean of the Washington diplomatic corps; and Ambassador Ferrara, of Cuba.

By proclamation of President Hoover, flags were displayed in the capital as on national holidays and exercises were arranged throughout the day at the Pan-American Union building.

At the opening of the American League baseball season the President was one of those to arise and salute the raising of the flags of each western hemisphere nation while the United States Army band was called upon to play the various national anthems.

President Hoover recalled that during his 1929 visit to eleven Latin-American countries, it became increasingly evident to him that the various nations had everything to gain by keeping in close contact with each other and by developing a spirit of co-operation having as its roots in reciprocal understanding of national aims and aspirations.

"A peculiarly heavy responsibility rests upon the nations of the western hemisphere," the chief executive said, "a responsibility which, at the same time, is a high privilege. Richly endowed by nature, we enjoy the great advantage of inhabiting a hemisphere free from the jealousies and antagonisms which have proved such obstacles to progress and prosperity in other sections of the world.

Madrid, April 14.—(AP)—King Alfonso, the last of the Bourbons, abdicated at 6 o'clock this evening (1 p. m., E. S. T.).

The monarch, who was born a king and had reigned in the ancient Spanish capital more than a quarter of a century, this afternoon bowed to the sweeping demands for a republic that his subjects voiced last Sunday, and stepped out.

Niceto Alcalá Zamora, Republican leader, who for some weeks ago was in jail for his activities, is provisional president.

Although the king's abdication has been an unquestioned outcome of the political crises for the past few days, it was not until the last moment that he stepped from power.

At 4:45 p. m., Alcalá Zamora had found it necessary to send an ultimatum to the king's ministers saying that unless a republic were formally accepted within an hour, the republicans would not be responsible for the consequences.

The hour went by and then just fifteen minutes after the ultimatum had expired the abdication of the king became a reality.

The announcement was made exactly at six o'clock after a final session with the cabinet in the royal palace.

With the proclamation of a republic at Barcelona this morning and similar proclamations at Saragosa, San Sebastian and other cities, it became a certainty that the king would have to go.

All afternoon rumors that the king actually had abdicated flew thick and fast, but it was until six o'clock tonight that Alfonso's reign came to an end which for many years he had successfully avoided in the face of frequent crises.

The Bourbon dynasty, dating from the reign of Philip V in 1700, was restored to the Spanish throne in 1875 with the ascension of Alfonso XIII.

In the intervening period the country had grown restless under a succession of monarchies and republics.

His first act was a royal decree proclaiming Canovas Del Castillo prime minister and setting up a strong administration which adopted a Catholic and Conservative policy.

After 15 months of warfare against the Carlist forces, supporters of the former regime, opposition to the government was quelled and a short period of peace obtained.

However, the Cuban insurrection broke out anew and the government was forced to dispatch an expedition abroad, eventually inflicting peace by the sword. Internal troubles, meanwhile, beset the ruler and they resulted in the constitution of 1876, a compromise between the constitution of 1845 and that of the revolution of 1808.

Alfonso XII died in 1885, apparently leaving no male issue, and Queen Christina became the acting monarch. Six months later, his posthumous son, Alfonso XIII, was born and a regency was established. Senor Sagasta became the premier.

Last of Bourbons Yields to Insistent Demand of Republicans; Warned by Zamora That Further Delay in Abdication Would Be Filled With Awful Consequences; Proclamation of a Republic Issued From Many of the Larger Cities Before King Actually Abdicated

NATIONAL READY FOR BIG FIGHT

By HERBERT W. BARKER (Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, April 14.—(AP)—Eight clubs, all hoping for the best, faced the barrier for the opening of the national league season today and some 100,000 baseball-hungry fans prepared to give them a hearty welcome.

Expert opinion already has forecast a fire-storm struggle in the National League pennant race with the St. Louis Cardinals favored to beat out the Chicago Cubs, Brooklyn Robins, New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates for their second championship in as many years.

Neglected in this forecast, the three other clubs, Boston Braves, the Phillies and Cincinnati Reds, all hoped to better their positions of a year ago and give the experts something to think about.

The first day's schedule sent the Cards against the Reds at Cincinnati; the Cubs against the Pirates at Chicago; the Robins against the Braves at Boston; and the Giants against the Phillies at Philadelphia.

A maximum aggregate attendance of 113,000 was predicted for these four games with some 40,000 expected at Chicago; 30,000 at Cincinnati; 25,000 at Boston and 18,000 in Philadelphia.

CONNIE MACK SET TO WIN NEW PENNANT

By WILLIAM WEEKS
Chicago, April 14.—(AP)—If the reports were correct in their recent vote on the likely outcome of the 1931 American League championship battle, Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics today were headed toward their third consecutive title.

Mack has declared his faith in the old machine's ability to take at least one more successful journey, but Walter Johnson, manager of the Senators, who are counted as the A's most formidably competition, believes his club has a better than even chance of upsetting the race.

The New York Yankees, who under the late Miller Huggins required just eight afternoons during which to win two world championships, opted against the Boston Red Sox. The Yankees were starting their first campaign under Joseph Vinge McCarthy who pulled the Chicago Cubs out of the National League doldrums. The Red Sox also faced the campaign under a new leader, John "Shano" Collins, with hopes of breaking their long-time lease on the lower end of the second division.

At Cleveland, the Indians and the Chicago White Sox claimed attention. The Indians because they have been rated as first division material and had their act, Wes Ferrell, out to do the pitching.

The White Sox, with much new blood and apparently immensely improved over last season, hoped they were starting a trip toward a first division berth for the first time in years.

Detroit, also fortified with new material and looking better to Manager Buckle Harris than anything he has operated since he left Washington, was at St. Louis, also improved according to Manager Bill Killifer.

Fair weather was promised on all fronts and a total attendance around 100,000 was indicated. The Yankee Stadium at New York expected to attract 45,000, while the Athletics at Washington expected to draw 28,000. The indicated figure at Cleveland was 22,000, with Detroit and St. Louis entertaining about 13,000.

SPORTS SLANTS

The implication that the golf professional have been teaching the game all wrong, based on revelations of the form of Bobby Jones and Joyce Wethered in the ultra-slow movies taken under the auspices of the P. G. A., is somewhat sharply resented by the crop of younger teachers, such as Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell.

"Where," demanded Gene, "do they get that stuff about us teaching that the wrists should be broken early in the back-swing?"

"Some old-timers may have been teaching that but it's a generally discarded idea so far as my experience goes."

"Neither do we 'snap the wrists' at the impact with the ball. That's old stuff, too."

"Sure," interrupted Johnny. "We may be young, but we never have had anything but the idea of a smooth back-swing, cocking the wrists at the top and then following all the way through."

"That follow-through is the thing that gets the extra distance. It is what makes Babe Ruth for example, such a terrific hitter in baseball as well as golf."

The professionals, it seems, are not over enthusiastic about holding up Jones and Wethered as the last word in mechanical perfection, to the exclusion of any member of their own clan. Not that they take anything away from Bobby or Joe—so far as their styles go, but on this round that several of the professionals also have styles worth holding up as examples.

"Take Willie MacFarlan's as an example," said Sarazen. "He has the nearest thing to a perfect swing I know of. Willie is so consistently straight that if he reduced the width of all fairways to twenty yards, he would walk away with all the tournaments in the country."

The things about the Jones brand of golf that the pictures cannot show, in Farrell's opinion, are the competitive temperament, stamina and resourcefulness that contribute so much to the famous Georgian's success. Johnny feels that in some respects, these factors overshadowed the mechanical skill of Jones.

"Don't forget said Johnny, "that Jones could be in trouble often without it proving a handicap."

From the way they have been performing on the road (the pennant campaign, Cleveland's pitchers are in shape to send Roger Peckinpaugh's club away to a flying start.

The Indians demonstrated that they had the punch last year, with the big sticks of Hodapp, Averill, Porter, Morgan and others swinging lustily.

Shaffer, Brown and Hudlin, if their spring pace is a sample of what may be expected, should give Wesley Ferrell enough hurling assistance to make Cleveland a real pennant factor from the outset.

Peckinpaugh and Billy Evans, Cleveland's general manager, say they expect to do as well as third in the coming race. They concede the favored positions to the Athletics and Senators, but it is likely that higher hips' burn in the savage breast of the Indians.

Add Warren Wins Charlotte Fight

Charlotte, April 14.—(AP)—Addison Ekum Warren, from whom Dewey Kimrey, Norwood lumberjack, a few weeks ago lifted the heavyweight crown of the Carolinas, today had made a gallant start on his heralded comeback.

Fighting furiously, the former University of North Carolina pugilist, here last night bettered Big John Parker, of Huntington, W. Va., for a technical knockout in the eighth round of a scheduled ten-round bout. Add weighed 187, or 13 pounds less than his opponent.

Big John put up a game fight for seven rounds, but the pounding of the former champion was too much for him. He failed to answer the bell in the eighth and Add was declared the winner. The official score card gave Warren six rounds with the other a draw.

While Add won, John, his brother, a student at the University of North Carolina, making his professional bow, was knocked out in the second round of a scheduled eight round bout by Russ Rowsey, of Huntington.

Warren, who weighed 183 pounds eight more than his opponent, went to the mat after a smashing blow to the stomach.

COWBOYS ARE REAL ENTERTAINERS—RADIO FAVORITES COMING HERE

Ken Hackley and his Oklahoma Cowboys, nationally known radio artists, who are coming to the State Theatre to appear in person Wednesday and Thursday—are real novelty entertainers, as well as real cowboys, each and all of the cowboys play any and all string instruments—just try that happens to be handy.

They feature many old time tunes and songs in their stage show and many novelties. The funny cowboy, the red-headed one, will keep an audience laughing. The Oklahoma Cowboys will offer a complete change of program each day that they are at the State and there will also be a change in the screen attractions. Warner Grand in "Charlie Chan Carries On" will be featured Wednesday, and "Three Girls Lost" will be the Thursday feature.

reached the surface and threatened the sheds at the mouth. Suddenly the elevator bell rang, the cage ran up and the grimy faces of the first handful appeared.

A tremendous shout went up, and firemen and rescuers surged to the entrance of the pit. Again the cage dropped, brought up another gang, then a third time to hoist a load.

John Yurgan, one of the tunnel workers, told of the horrible night in the underground prison. They had sought refuge in the eastern air chamber when the fire drove them back from the shaft last night, some praying, singing at times, some even sleeping despite the stress.

Through the long hours of waiting for rescue they had been supplied constantly with fresh air being pumped from the surface, and the smoke that had seeped in at first was forced out. But toward 10 a. m. the air supply failed, and the prisoners knew they must make a break for the shaft or die of suffocation behind the bulkhead.

Making ready, holding their breaths as long as they could, they pushed open the door and dashed for the shaft, now clearing of gas. They rang for the elevator cage and shot up to daylight and safety.

These survivors were certain all in their bulkhead had escaped and that none had taken refuge in the western safety chamber.

JACK DEMPSEY FACES BATTLE

Wife Declares She Will Fight His Attempt to Obtain Divorce at Reno

Los Angeles, April 14.—(AP)—The prospects of seeing Jack Dempsey in another "battle of the century" this time with his wife as opponent and the divorce court as the arena—were dimmed slightly today by an exchange of statements in which they almost called off the fight.

To Jack's statement that he had gone to Reno, Nev., to get a divorce because his wife, Estelle Taylor of the movies, had proclaimed a desire to follow her career and had told him to "get out," the actress replied yesterday that she had not known of any plans for a divorce and that she would fight the case if it materialized.

Asserting the former heavyweight boxing champion had "no grounds for divorce," Miss Taylor denied they had lived apart for nearly two years and said she had been maintaining the Dempsey home in Los Angeles. Dempsey's original statement said Miss Taylor had forsaken domestic life for her career.

"I have been in who kept this home," she said. "I am the one who furnished it and kept it for him to leave and return whenever he chose. I am the one who stayed at home."

However, Miss Taylor conferred with her lawyer regarding the possibility of instituting divorce proceedings in her behalf in Los Angeles. She announced the filing of any action here would be held in abeyance pending receipt of "definite word" as to Jack's intentions.

Miss Taylor's statement led Dempsey to comment in Reno that if she had changed her mind and is willing to give up her career as an actress and become a real home maker a divorce might be avoided.

Shown dispatches saying the actress would fight any divorce action he should file there, the former pugilist said his wife "must have changed her mind." He reiterated that she had "forced the present situation" upon him.—That drew a longer statement from the actress in Los Angeles. She said: "I don't like to battle Jack Dempsey, because I have been battling with him for so long. My whole instinct right now is to fight for him. I feel like saying, 'get out of Reno, Jack Dempsey—you are doing something foolish. The public does not like an ungentlemanly man.'"

"There was no talk of a separation or divorce when he left and we shook hands and said good-bye. I feel that if Jack was contemplating such a move he should have told me. I have never made accusations against him, but at some time or the other the public will

Man Killed By Dynamite Blast

Marion, April 14.—(AP)—Robert H. Hennrich was dead today as the result of a premature explosion of a charge of dynamite he was fornicating into a fire den near here to blast the animal out.

What caused the dynamite to explode was not determined. Dr. J. F. Jonas, McDowell county coroner, decided no inquest was necessary.

TO NAME DENTIST ON HEALTH BOARD

Raleigh, April 14.—(AP)—Governor O. Max Gardner announced today that he expected to appoint a dentist to membership on the State Board of Health.

The State Dental association, at its state meeting May 5 at Winston-Salem, will be asked to designate the man it prefers to have on the board, the governor said. He will then appoint him.

GAS-STEALERS PERIL LIVES OF AVIATORS

Owensboro, Ky.—(AP)—Thefts of gasoline and oil from airplanes here have caused pilots great concern. One pilot barely escaped with his life and those of his passengers when after soaring into the air he found the gasoline connection of his cabin plane had become loosened and nearly all his gas taken out.

The thefts occurred while planes were in the hangar at Sheehan field.

IN DISTRESS AFTER EATING

"My work is such that I did not get my meals regularly as I should, and then sometimes I eat hurriedly, and this makes me have indigestion, headache, dizziness and constipation," says Mr. Fred Stricklin, of Savannah, Tenn. Mr. Stricklin continues:

"A few doses of Black-Draught relieve me and make me feel like working, and my head clears up. Black-Draught is very easy to take and I don't know of anything that will relieve the heavy, tight feeling after meals as quickly as Black-Draught. I have been using it, at intervals, when needed, for years."

Another Tennessean, Mr. Jesse Smithson, of Bluff City, tells of taking Black-Draught for the relief of headache and indigestion. "It has helped me so much," he writes, "I don't know how I could do without it. I find Black-Draught such a fine medicine. I highly recommend it to my friends and neighbors."

ABOUT TOWN

Nature is beginning to put forth her bright dress for the spring and summer months, and all of her ornaments will be at the disposal of mankind for the next several months.

This is the season of the year that enables the business man to relax from the strain of industry, and to get out into the open spaces and enjoy the countless pleasures which the season of the year holds forth to everybody.

Thousands of fishermen will be found perched on the banks of the various streams winding lazily across plains and mountains, tinging to the magic of the red and reel and completely enthralled by the myriad sounds of nature.

President Hoover has seen fit to laud the work of the Red Cross in providing relief for the thousands of unemployed people during the last several months.

Speaking before the national organization yesterday, the chief executive declared they had been instrumental in aiding in one of the most critical situations in history, and had eliminated the idea of a government dole system.

Regardless of where misfortune strikes, the organization is always on hand to carry out its program of mercy, and it is impossible to say what would have been the outcome of some of the catastrophes had it not been for the organized activities of the Red Cross.

No one realizes better than the President the incalculable benefits derived from the operation of this great hand of mercy and it was nothing but right that he should have taken occasion to commend the workers for what they have been able to do in behalf of unemployment.

Farmers desiring to obtain government loans should make their application before the 30th of the month. E. F. Arnold director of the Pitt County Farm Department, made known yesterday.

The department has been assisting growers in the preparation of their applications for the last several weeks, and numbers have taken advantage of the service.

The loans are being made as a means of enabling the growers in the planting of this season's crops, and should be instrumental in making it much easier for many of the hard-pressed farmers to finance their activities during the summer months, one of the most difficult seasons of the year for every branch of industry in this part of the country.

This is the season of life and color—that part of the year when people begin turning their attention to the important business of putting seeds into the ground for a rich harvest during the latter part of the summer and the fall.

Persons who realize the splendid atmosphere created by abundance of flowers about the home, have either planted or are making preparations to do so at once. Many kinds of flowers have already made their appearance in hundreds of places and they present a riot of color and life.

Two More Weeks for Federal Aid

Raleigh, April 14.—(AP)—North Carolina growers have two weeks more to sign up enough tobacco to obtain federal aid for the organization of a cooperative marketing association this season.

Just back from a conference in Washington with James C. Stone, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, J. R. Page, chairman of the North Carolina tobacco organization committee, said the time limit for securing government aid would expire May 1.

Stone, he said, has given "his full backing and encouragement" to the movement to launch a co-op in the state.

George R. Ross, personal representative of Gov. O. Max Gardner, Dr. Clarence Poe, L. V. Morrill and C. G. Armfield, all active in the organization work, accompanied Page to Washington.

"If the farmers will back up vigorously and whole-heartedly between now and May," Page said, "North Carolina will have a tobacco cooperative at work by the time the markets open."

"With the continued help of the business men, bankers and merchants of Eastern North Carolina, I am sure the job can be made a success here and that a large unit can be established in Western North Carolina with Winston-Salem as the center."

"With the prospect of a tremendous production of tobacco this fall, and the possibility that the market will open with an even greater degree of demoralization than last year, farmers will be in even sorer need of the stabilizing help that our national government stands ready to offer through the agency of the Farm Board."

Making Up Your List

PERHAPS you do your staple shopping by the week. Larger items you renew each month. Household furnishings, automobiles, radios, and similar things are in the nature of investments, whether for months, for years, or for life. You buy these things at long intervals.

But no matter what you buy, you serve yourself best if you plan your purchases in advance. Every list you make is a budget in itself. Careful study of the advertisements will always help you in picking and choosing . . . in comparing prices . . . in weighing your needs and desires.

Making up your list is really a fascinating game when you play it against your allowance. The more careful you are in the preliminary study of the advertisements, the better will be your chance not only to get the best selection for your purpose . . . but also to find out in advance how much money you can save for unplanned extras!

SUPPORT HOOVER ON PROHIBITION

A pledge of support and a report on prohibition drawn by an "official" women's national commission for law enforcement" was delivered to President Hoover at the White House by a delegation of women, described as representing an estimated membership of 12,000,000. The pledge and report was given the chief executive by Mrs. William Tilton, Mrs. Henry W. Peabody and Mrs. Ella Boole (left to right).

N. Y. COTTON

New York, April 14.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 1 to 4 points higher in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables which seemed to bring in further covering and some trade buying.

July sold up to 10.73, making a recovery of a little over half a cent from the low price of last Friday, but the market seemed to be attracting a little more selling at these figures and there were setbacks of a few points. At the end of the first half hour, July was off to 10.64 with active months generally ruling about 4 to 6 points below yesterday's closing quotations.

The report of the Census Bureau showing domestic consumption of 490,886 bales compared with 433,510 for February and 507,646 for March last year, was about in line with expectations. Liverpool cables said that continental and Bombay buying had absorbed local liquidation in that market, but that sales of cloth and yarns were below production.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 14.—(AP)—Fickleness of a market dominated by the weather was illustrated by sudden breaks in wheat prices late today on news of sprinkles of rain in Canada. Falling off in trans-Atlantic demand for wheat was an additional bearish factor. There was comment, too, that price setbacks were natural owing to about four cents a bushel advance in wheat compared with last week's bottom level.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 14.—(AP)—The stock market lost courage and yielded to fresh selling in the electrical equipment and motion picture issues today, after a display of strength in the initial transactions.

The vulnerability of the list after its best rally in nearly a month, was discouraging to bullishly inclined traders. Its inability to carry yesterday's upturn beyond the early trading today was accepted in brokerage circles as an indication that there had been no fundamental change in the wobbly character of the market.

The quarterly report of American Telephone helped the early advance, carrying that issue temporarily up more than 2 points, but the general tenor of news of corporate profits remained uninspiring. Net losses of a point or two were numerous by early afternoon, embracing such issues as General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Paramount, Fox Film Warner Bros. North American Radio, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, and consolidated Gas and Standard gas.

The selling of electrical equipment was coincident with the appearance of an unofficial report that General Electric's first quarter statement expected to appear next week, will show that its 40-cent quarterly dividend was not fully covered by earnings for the first time in several years. It was rumored that Westinghouse ran in red during the first quarter. The motion pictures were selected by bear traders as a likely group, because theatre attendance is inclined to fall off when warm weather arrives.

Credit conditions remained unchanged, with call money at 11-12 per cent.

All boys of Greenville (9 to 16 years of age) are invited to attend the pow wow of the Friendly Indians on Friday night at 7:30. Five men of the North Carolina University will have charge of the program.

This is "Father and Son" week. Fathers and sons will do well to attend the services at the Baptist church this week.

The costliest thing in the world is to be a real father to one's boy. It costs money, energy, time, patience, convenience and comfort. But it is all infinitesimal in cost as compared to that greater price one pays when he realizes too late that he has failed to make a real investment in his son's life.

Youth for old age rooms the gift of Karpen Related Groups

Some rooms are so starved for color that they never look young. Others never grow old. You can keep your living room just as young as you like with the help of one of our new Karpen Related Groups, leaders in the fashionable vogue of color.

Unlike the old matched suites, all one color and one fabric, they glow with harmoniously related shades. Fabrics and designs are varied, to add interest. There's no room so old that one of these groups can't rejuvenate it with cheer and charm and personality.

Visit our Karpen exhibit for young ideas for your home. Ask about our Free Karpen Room Plan Service.
