WOMEN SEEK REPEAL OF PROHIBITION

National Reform Organization Sends Resolution to President Hoover

Washington, April 15.—(AP)—The women's organization for national prohibition reform today drafted for personal presentation to President Hoover a resolution asking him to take action looking toward outright repeal of the 18th amendment.

Pledged to outright repeal of the organization's resolution concluded with a resolved "that we petition the President and the Congress of the United States to take such action as will give to the people of the states an opportunity to put into effect the principles to which we adhere."

"Insofar as the outstanding proposals for reform made during this year," the resolution to the president said, "are predicated upon this necessity of repeal, the women's organization for national prohibition reform is heartily in sympathy with them; that insofar as their substitute plans may leave the matter still in the hands of Congress and therefore liable to a football in successive political campaigns. It questions the finality of the reliefs they offer from intolerable conditions born of the attempt at national prohibition."

Immediately following the organization declared its belief that only upon repeal of the amendment and a return to the states of the power to regulate liquor "can a lasting solution of this great problem be founded."

Washington, April 15.—(AP)—Reports of a swiftly increasing enrollment of feminine anti-prohibitionists in 32 states were presented today to the second annual conference of the women's organization for national prohibition reform.

More than 1,100 women in an executive session restricted to those favoring repeal, heard chairmen of their organization in six states report that in two years their groups had exceeded the membership of the 50 year old Women's Christian Temperance Union.

All six used the corresponding district memberships of the W. C. T. U. as a yardstick. The states reported this growth were New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri and Connecticut.

It was reported for the District of Columbia also that its membership was 2,051 or about 100 more than that of the temperance group.

Hopes for the future were bolstered by word from Matthew Woll, a vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, that working men were organizing to "thwart the persistent and fanatic attempt to force prohibition on a free and unwilling people."

He described prohibition as the "greatest experiment in hypocrisy known to history."

"What we have today is nullification," he said. "What we have is moonshining, home breweries and distilleries, beer and liquor running, hijacking, bootlegging, racketeering, immorality and the development and extension of every known form of vice and crime. I speak for a return to sanity in the enactment and the enforcement of law."

"What we shall have, if we cannot have modification, is a continuance and a growth of nullification. If the word is 'odious' as the Wickersham commission has said it is, the people will do what is odious rather than abandon that which an overwhelming majority believe to be their right."

"Nullification, as we all know, is nothing new to our people. Nullification may be a more honorable method than hypocrisy without nullification."

Well asked even if the available federal enforcement group were quailed, "does any sensible person believe there would or could be enforcement?"

He explained that partisans had attempted to use religion in a "maudlin . . . manner" to bolster "the crowning infamy of the whole fabric of hypocrisy."

By CLARENCE DOBOS, Associated Press Staff Correspondent

Madrid, April 15.—(AP)—As King Alfonso and members of the royal family scattered in all directions today, the new republic moved to insure life for the new regime and to make a return to Spain impossible.

Queen Victoria, four of her children, the Infantes, Christiana and Beatriz and the Prince of the Asturias and Prince Gonzalo, left on a train for Irua and Paris today and are due at the French frontier at 9 o'clock tonight, (4 p. m. EST). King Alfonso, accompanied by his cousin, the Infante Alfonso of Orleans, and the Duke of Miranda, boarded the cruiser Principe Alfonso at Cartagena and sailed away before dawn into exile, probably in England, although his destination was not announced.

TRUE BILL IN TURNER CASE

Faith Healer Indicted By Grand Jury for Criminal Assault on Woman

K. H. Turner, self-styled faith healer and evangelist, was indicted on a charge of criminal assault by the grand jury in the criminal term of Pitt County Superior court in this city yesterday.

He was said to have described the charge as a "frame-up," the result of his enemies.

The magistrate's court was packed to suffocate at the initial hearing, and it was necessary for the court to order the room cleared before the case could proceed.

The alleged assault was said to have occurred one rainy Saturday morning several months ago.

Turner had been asked to take Mrs. Smith to work in his automobile. Instead of taking her to the uptown section where she was employed as a clerk in the store, he was alleged to have taken her out the Parkland road, then into a side road and attempted the assault.

Prisoner Killed While Attempting Escape at Cary

Raleigh, April 15.—(AP)—Nathan Moore, 30, paid with his life today as the price for an attempt to escape from Cary Prison Farm late yesterday.

The young convict whose home was listed as Goldsboro but who was sent to prison from Guilford county in October 1930 to serve two to five years for larceny, was shot down by guards as he and Lemuel Moss broke from a group of workers. Moore died in the prison hospital today.

Moss escaped, though prison officials said they believed he was wounded. He was sent to prison from Henderson county in January 1931 to serve one year for larceny.

YOUNG MAN IS HURT IN WRECK

Another Out Under Bond After Collision Near Country Club Last Night

Adrian Savage, Jr., 18, was in the Pitt Community hospital today suffering from injuries which he sustained when his automobile was hit by another car driven by Bert Moyer on the Ayden highway, near the Country club intersection, this morning shortly before two o'clock.

Although his injuries consisted of a fractured skull and many bruises, he was reported to be getting along as well as could be expected this afternoon. He was knocked unconscious by the impact of the machines, but had partly regained consciousness when the last report was received from his bedside.

Sidney Gaston, occupant of the Moyer car, suffered severely from shock but was to be released from the hospital this afternoon.

Moyer who was said to have been drinking, was placed in jail but was released this morning under bond of $500. He was to have been given preliminary hearing today but this was postponed until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock on account of the inability of all witnesses to attend the hearing.

Moyer was said to have been returning from a dance at the Country club when his car collided with the one driven by young Savage. There were two other occupants of the car in addition to Moyer and Gaston, but they were said to have escaped without injury. Just how the accident occurred was not determined, but members of the State highway patrol were investigating the crash. Both cars were said to have been badly damaged by the impact.

FIVE ROBBERS SENT TO JAIL

Others Sentenced to Roads in Criminal Court Here During Yesterday

Walter Pratt, negro, charged with breaking and entering the store of A. W. Ange at Winterville, several months ago, was sentenced to from 13 to 15 years in the penitentiary by Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, of Snow Hill, in yesterday's session of the criminal term of Pitt County Superior court.

Two other negroes, Charlie Ewell and Herman Mascen, charged with complicity, were given from two to five years in prison.

The attempted robbery failed to materialize when Pratt became the victim of an unexpected charge from a shotgun which had been placed on the floor with a string attached for the purpose of protecting the store against the entrance of thieves. The entire shotgun charge entered the negro's stomach and he lingered between life and death for several days.

The other two men were arrested shortly after an investigation launched by county officers. Henry Crawford and Sam Schrevo were sentenced to two years each in state prison on a charge of robbing the Greenville Cafe, on Evans street, several weeks ago. They obtained a small sum of money in rifling the cash register, but part of this was recovered when the men were captured.

Will Jenkins, Wade Jenkins and Charlie Hardy, colored, who were arrested some time ago on a charge of stealing a hog, were sent out to the county road force to spend one year each.

Ben Moore, colored, charged with reckless driving, drew 90 days on the roads.

Judgment was suspended in the case of Tom Gray, colored, charged with assault.

Nine Americans Slain By Insurgents In Nicaragua Since The Past Saturday

Roving Bands of Soldiers Also Reported to Have Slain Undetermined Number of Natives, Although Meeting With Reverses From the Constabulary

Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, April 15.—(AP)—Nine Americans have been killed by Nicaraguan insurgents in the vicinity of Logtown, about 70 miles from here, since last Saturday morning.

The insurgents, who attacked a lumber camp there by surprise, and have since ravaged nearby haciendas, have slain a large but undetermined number of natives, although meeting with some reverses themselves at the hands of the Nicaraguan constabulary.

The insurgents suddenly appeared at Logtown on the morning of April 11 at about 7 A. M., barely giving the commissary clerk the time to call the Wawa Junction telephone exchange. He shouted "help" into the mouthpiece and ran leaving the receiver down.

The Wawa operator as a consequence was able to hear the bandits as they looted the Logtown commissary and notified Puerto Cabezas and other encampments in the vicinity.

An automobile carrying William Selser and "Pinkie" Wilson, and Arthur Curtis, Americans, took a Marine and four of the guards toward the lumber camp but stopped some distance away to await Captain Harlan Peffley and four more of the Guardia, before proceeding to Logtown.

When they were near the place the insurgents, who had prepared an ambush, opened fire from behind, killing Captain Peffley and wounding a Guardia picked up their dad and wounded and returning to the commissary reported the fight to Puerto Cabezas.

The insurgents had tapped the wires and were listening to the appeal for help so that when Lieutenant Clyde Roy Darrah, Ralph Beardsley and twenty men from Puerto Cabezas approached they found another ambush and were isolated by the Nicaraguans. They later fought their way out.

INVITE PUBLIC TO STATE FARM

"Inspection Day" Will Be Held At Live-at-Home Farm Near Greenville April 17

The "Live-at-Home" demonstration farm, on the highway between Greenville and Bethel, will be thrown open to the public for inspection on the afternoon of Friday, April 17, it was announced today. The occasion will be known as "inspection day" and prominent leaders of the agricultural department of the state will be present to explain different phases of activities.

The farm was established by the state last year at the suggestion of Governor Gardner, with a view of interesting growers in producing more of the things which they consume at home. It is the only farm of the kind in the state and has been the cynosure of all eyes for months as developments in connection with operation occurred from day to day.

At present there are approximately three hundred acres of land under cultivation, and in this space is included every kind of crop embraced in the live-at-home idea.

George R. Ross, head of the state farm, will be present to take part in the occasion. He will deliver the only address of the day at 2 o'clock. This will deal mainly with efforts of the governor to interest people in the importance of raising more of the things which they consume at home, and the part which the farm will play in expanding the idea.

E. V. Morrow, horticulturist of the Extension department, will explain the value of the garden crops which have been developed on one section of the farm.

S. J. Kirby, agronomist of the Extension department, will show the value of the farm crops.

A. O. Bocne, superintendent of the farm, will confine his attention to the dissemination of information regarding activities of the farm.

This is the first time the farm has been thrown open for public inspection since the beginning of operations last year, and members of the local farm department expressed opinion that hundreds of farmers from other parts of the state would be in attendance.

The farm will be open from 1 to 5 o'clock on inspection day, and hope was expressed that everybody interested in the development of agriculture would attend.

TUCKER TALKS ON RIDICULE

Two More Gripping Sermons Delivered By Raleigh Minister at Revival Here

"The Sting of Ridicule," was the subject discussed by Dr. J. Powell Tucker of Raleigh, last night in the series of revival services at Memorial Baptist church.

The revival will be brought to a close tomorrow night.

Dr. Tucker spoke again this morning, using as his subject "The Resurrection of the Body."

The minister's text last night was taken from the twenty-fifth verse of the twenty-ninth chapter of Proverbs: "The Fear of man bringeth a snare; but who shall eth his trust in the Lord shall be safe."

Vividly describing the endeavor of Nehemiah, the leader of the Jews, returned to Palestine from the dispersion, to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem, Dr. Tucker drew a picture that stirred all who heard him.

Nehemiah's endeavor to forward the finer things of life among his people and re-establish the government was met by the scornful ridicule of Sanballat and his Samaritan followers. The sting of ridicule is hard to bear, the minister declared. It is harder to be laughed at than to be shot at. Many a man would rather face bullets than the scornful sneers of laughter of people. Consequently, he said, many postpone steps that ought to be taken because they have no moral courage to be ridiculed. Such was the case of a soldier who confessed to the trenches of the great war, but fell immediately before the laughter of his comrades when returned home. (Continued on page four)

SCHWAB SEEKS BONUS SYSTEM

Makes Plea for Ratification of Proposal Before Bethlehem Stockholders

Newark, N. J., April 15.—(AP)—Charles M. Schwab, "the old man" of Bethlehem Steel, apparently has won "the last star in the diadem" which crowns his years in the industry.

He appeared at a meeting of stockholders, faced a hostile faction and pleaded for ratification of the bonus system under which officers of the corporation have received approximately $36,000,000 in the last 14 years.

The management, which he represented, held proxies for 72 per cent of the outstanding common and preferred stock. In their struggle to prevent a vote on the bonus system, a minority had carried the case into court. Shortly before the meeting was called the court ruled that a vote might be taken, but the result could not be entered in the minutes until the suit should be finally determined.

The minority asked that fixed sums be paid to officers and directors in lieu of the bonus.

Mr. Schwab accepted responsibility for the bonus system. His defense of it was such that even dissenting stockholders sometimes joined in cheers and applause.

"The crowning star in the diadem of long steel management is the approval that people give to what you have done," he said. The old man won't be with you many more years—and I am not appealing on the ground of personality—but he would like to add to his diadem that, one last star of your approval of what he has done."

He recalled that he had risked his personal fortune in Bethlehem on every occasion up to 1918. From 1901 to 1907 he worked without salary. In the next 12 years it was $50,000 annually. From 1921 to 1929, as chairman of the board, he was paid $150,000 and in 1930 the board of directors, without his knowledge raised it to $250,000 a year.

"Now," he said, "I'm damned if I ain't going to get a salary commensurate with my services."

The bonus system he said, was an incentive to effort. In one year the plan added about $1,600,000 to the $12,000 salary of Eugene G. Grace president of the corporation. He added that he had placed Mr. Grace "on a pedestal" so that he would live up to his position and that he believed, with the late Andrew Carnegie, it was necessary to make men feel big and act big to accomplish big things.

More Prosperity. Concord, April 15.—(AP)—The Kerr Bleaching & Finishing Works here has received a contract from Thomas E. Collins & Company of St. Louis, for 800,000 cotton fabric letterheads for the Wrigley Company of Chicago.

When the section on public instruction was reached the House appropriation of $18,500 for state aid was carried over without debate and other parts, appropriating $287,700 were adopted as the House voted them.

Measure Does Not Contain Either Day or Hinsdale Sales Tax Plans; Senator Johnson Fails to Offer House Revenue Bill as Substitute; Senate Considers Appropriations Bill as Committee of the Whole; the House Tables Highway Patrol Bill

Raleigh, April 15.—(AP)—The Senate today passed its biennial revenue bill by a 25 to 20 vote and sent the act to the House by special messenger.

The measure does not contain either the Day or Hinsdale sales tax plans. Senator Johnson of Duplin, who served notice yesterday that he would offer the House revenue bill, including the Day tax of one per cent on the gross receipts of retail merchants, did not send it forward today.

In effect the Senate money bill repudiates the MacLean school law with its requirement of full state support of the six months constitutional term without an ad valorem tax. This would cost $18,500,000 annually.

The bill passed today anticipates a school fund of $10,000,000 to assist the counties in school support and contemplates the levy of an ad valorem tax of 30 cents per $100.

Under the Senate bill a total of about $20,000,000 would be raised annually. Under the House bill, which the Senate materially wrote including elimination of the Day tax, about $29,000,000 would have been raised annually.

The principle differences between the two money bills, besides the elimination of the Day plan, are that the Senate increased or decreased various franchise taxes to make the moonform to the contemplated 30 cent ad valorem levy and raised the rate on incomes.

Today an amendment by Senator Pritchett of Bertie to reduce the franchise tax rate on telephone companies from 5 to 4 1/2 per cent was adopted.

With the completion of the Senate consideration of the bill all legislative interest centered on the House.

Even after the Senate had refused both forms of sales tax, and it was conceded one was necessary to carry out the MacLean law, the House overwhelmingly voted to appropriate $18,500,000 annually for school support.

Legislative observers vary widely in their opinions as to what may happen now.

Most of the prognosticators expect a deadlock. Many think the final result will be acceptance of the Senate plan for an increased equalizing fund. Others say the House "will stay here until Christmas before it backs out on the MacLean law." Still others see additional legislation in the next thing, with a special session being necessitated to write revenue and appropriations bill for the next biennium.

Almost as soon as it had passed the revenue bill and sent it back to the House, the Senate resolved itself into committee of the whole and took up the appropriations bill for the next two years.

It is most unusual, but not unprecedented, for the appropriations bill to be considered by a committee of the whole, veteran legislators said.

The 1931-33 money spending bill written by the House allows approximately $29,340,000 annually to state departments, institutions and public schools. The $18,500,000 House appropriation to carry out the six months school term without an ad valorem tax is the largest allotment.

Taking up the bill section by section, the committee of the whole left the legislative figure at $179,535 for the 1933 session.

Sections appropriating $326,400 for the judicial expenses and $108,790 for the executive departments, were adopted as written by the House, as was that setting aside $123,200 for the adjutant general.

The board of public buildings and grounds figure was left at $93,700 and the board of charities and public welfare, one of the few agencies getting more than in 1929, still gets its $140,900 allowed by the House.

When the section on public instruction was reached the House appropriation of $18,500 for state aid was carried over without debate and other parts, appropriating $287,700 were adopted as the House voted them.

Endurance Fliers Still in the Air

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., April 15.—(AP)—Walter Lees and Frederic Brossy, Detroit, airlines, seeking a world's non-refueling endurance record in a diesel-motored plane, were forced to land shortly before 11 A. M. E. S. T. today following by more than three hours to equal the present record.

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., April 15.—(AP)—Having surpassed all American marks for non-refueling endurance flights, Walter Lees and Frederic Brossy, Detroit fliers piloting a new Diesel powered monoplane, soared on today toward a new world record.

If they are still in the air at 1:15 this afternoon, they may lay claim to the title now held by Lucien Bossuot and Aime Rossie, French fliers, who set the mark of 75 hours and 23 minutes over Algiers early in March.

The present American record, held by Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman, went by the boards during last night. It was 67 hours.

At 7:52 o'clock this morning EST Lees and Brossy had been aloft 71 hours.

FREE MAN IN MURDER CASE

Three Others Held in Connection With Double Slaying Near Waynesville

Waynesville, N. C., April 15.—(AP)—Carl Miller, arrested as a material witness in connection with the slaying of Scott Brown and Mims White was free today. Officers released him after saying Frank McGaha, Vester Brown and Vorsele Gates, charged with murder, apparently had tried to "frame" him into the case.

The other three men two of whom have confessed slaying Brown and White, the other admitted he watched the slaying, were in the Buncombe County jail awaiting trials of murder charges in Haywood county in October.

A fourth, Mrs. Oma Hicks Brown, widow of Scott Brown was held without bail in the Haywood jail, the others' confession indicated that though she took no part in the crime she had knowledge of the two murders in the Big Ben section authorities believe she still has information she has not revealed.

White and Scott Brown were last seen in the Big Ben section of the Pigeon River in August. Their disappearance led to a long investigation, on Monday, Frank McGaha led investigators to a "sink hole" where he said bodies of the two men had been buried. They had died on August 22.

Frank McGaha denied he had participated in the slaying. He and Vester Brown and Gates had been in jail for several days. Vester Gates admitted he had taken part in the slaying, and finally on Tuesday morning, McGaha's confession completed the chain of evidence sought so long by the officers.

The body of White was to be taken this afternoon to Belmont for burial, his widow and sister reached Waynesville yesterday for the purpose.

Brown, an ex-service man, was to be buried by the American Legion in Waynesville cemetery this afternoon.

The confessions of the three men indicated that the slaying had been a brutal one. All admitted Scott Brown and White were without warning and had been felled practically without warning. The argument appeared, had arisen when Gates and McGaha had hidden some shoes belonging to the two victims and the demand had been made that the shoes be returned.

Bar Carrying of Pets By Air

Detroit, April 15.—(AP)—Carrying of pets—animals or birds—in passenger cabins will be barred from airlines and only children under two years of age will be carried free on domestic routes as a result of conferences of the Aeronautical chamber of commerce held here in connection with the national aircraft show.

These regulations, together with a number of other agreements reached by chamber committees representing the aircraft industry, were announced today as the culmination of a series of conferences lasting nearly a week.

Other rules call for fenced off areas for spectators and loading chutes for passengers.

Under terms of the inter-line agreement, 30 pounds of baggage will be carried free when weight and space on the plane permit, and excess baggage up to 20 pounds will be charged for at one per cent of the air fare a pound.

Eighteen airlines were represented in the conferences carried on by special committees on operations, air traffic, maintenance, and accessories.

POWER OF X-RAYS TO MAKE POISONS DEADLIER STUDIED

Cincinnati.—(AP)—A mystery of X-rays—why they make some poisons more poisonous—is partly cleared by recent experiments at the University of Cincinnati.

The rays drive an inner electron out of each atom. This electron, traveling at nearly the speed of light, sometimes sets up ultraviolet radiation. It also changes the electrical form of the atom through ionization, and this alteration of shape appears to be the extra poisonous element.

Investigation both of the fast flying electron particle and of the induced ultraviolet light indicates that neither can account for the increase in lethal power from the X-rays.

This work is conducted by Robert G. Morris in the Basic Science Research Laboratory. He finds that X-rays increase the poisonous effect of sodium bromide and of sodium cyanide 25 per cent each.

England chooses seven as cup race candidates. The seven selected are Flight Lieutenants E. J. L. Hoper, F. W. Long, J. N. Boothman and G. H. Smith; Lieutenants G. L. Brinton, and Flying Officers H. H. Leech and S. Smith.

BELL ARTHUR FACULTY ENJOY HAY RIDE AND THEATRE PARTY

Among the many spring parties, few will be enjoyed more than the one in which the Arthur faculty participated Monday evening. It was in the most beautiful part of the day, just when the shadows were beginning to gather that the party started on this hay ride. After riding for some time they were entertained at the State Theatre in Greenville by Miss Bessie Thompson, where everyone enjoyed seeing and hearing Ruth Chatterton playing in "Unfaithful." From the theatre, Prof. C. F. Wildman invited the party to be his guests at the drug store. Having spent a very pleasant evening, everyone was ready to start home not expecting anything else to happen, when Mrs. C. F. Wildman surprised the party with a very appetizing lunch which brought the evening to a close.

Those enjoying the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Wildman, Miss Bessie Thompson, Miss Patrice Crutchfield, Miss Alma Worthington, Mrs. Marjorie Phillips, Miss Myrtle Melton and Janie Reed Phillips.

SENIOR NORMAL CLASS TO GIVE THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS

The three one-act plays to be presented by the senior normal class of East Carolina Teachers College on the evening of April 23 make a good evening's entertainment, taking no more time than one three-act play. All three of the plays have freshness and interest because they are not old and hackneyed. They are all present plays, two of them with present day setting and costumes. The third is a Chinese romantic fantasy, following the traditions of the Chinese theatre, with the characters coming in to music that fits the personality and with the properties indicated by action rather than by their actual presence, leaving the picturesque effect to the costumes and to oriental suggestions in the background. This play is "The Thrice Promised Bride."

The short curtain raiser "Wrong Numbers" is the crook play, with the scene behind a screen in a department restaurant. The second play, "The Rector," takes place in the rector's study, and represents a meeting of the carpet committee of the church. It has both humor and romance running through it.

The director of these plays is Miss Helen Dorch, of Goldsboro, who has been associated with the Carolina Playmakers for some time and is considered one of the best actors and producers they have turned out.

FARMERS SEEK REPEAL OF BOVINE LEGISLATION

Tipton, Ia., April 15.—(AP)—Application of the compulsory bovine tuberculosis test law went forward today in Cedar county today following the concurrence of 500 of the objectors at a mass meeting.

The agreement, however, was a conditional one wherein the farmers demanded that Gov. Dan Turner will use every effort to bring about a vote on a bill now pending in the legislature to repeal the present law, and that testing of Cedar County cattle proceed only with accredited veterinarians of the farmers' own choosing.

The farmers maintain that the present law is unreliable, that it does not protect public health, that it will not eradicate bovine tuberculosis, and that it permits unfair condemnation and confiscation of property.

The marriage in Council Bluffs, Iowa, of Rosetta Copling, 11-year-old grammar school girl, to Albert Bryan, 29 years her senior, was investigated by juvenile authorities. The girl's mother was married at a double wedding with her daughter, mother and daughter being bridesmaids to each other.

Investigate Tunnel Disaster at Chicago

Chicago, April 15.—(AP)—Reports of crossed wires or carelessness on the part of a workman today were subjects of inquiry by Consumer Herman Bundsen, in his effort to find the cause of the sanitary district tunnel disaster which brought death to eleven men and serious injury to sixteen others.

A coroner's jury composed of Chicago business and professional men, sworn in last night, not only hoped to fix responsibility for the tragedy but planned recommendations for the prevention of such accidents in the future.

The theory that a careless workman might have started the fire was advanced by Timothy J. Ryan, the contractor, who said there had been unconfirmed reports that a man had dropped a candle into a pile of sawdust and shavings near one of the tunnel gullheads.

Ryan also said crossed electric wires might have been responsible. Philip Harrington of the fire department inspection bureau likewise knew of no definite cause for the fire unless the smoking rules were violated.

Meanwhile, Chicago set about to reward firemen who distinguished themselves in rescue work. Mayor Anton J. Cermak, phoning from Miami, ordered extra compensation for those whose heroism was noted. He plans to forward the names to the Carnegie foundation.

Fireman Irving Strom, who repeatedly returned to the burning tunnel to rescue his unconscious mates and laborers, was singled out for special honor by the mayor.

The sixteen were recovering in their homes and hospitals.

Suggests Coolidge As a Successor to Speaker Longworth

Washington April 15.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge was suggested today, perhaps seriously, as a "dark horse" candidate for the speakership of the House to Nicholas Longworth.

Representative Johnson, Republican South Dakota, said there is no constitutional mandate that the House elect a speaker from its own ranks though such always has been the custom.

"It looks like there might be a deadlock in the closely divided House lasting for weeks," he said. "Anything might happen. If we cannot agree on a colleague why not go outside?"

"There are plenty of prominent men who could be selected, such as former President Coolidge."

The prison industries of Indiana were operated at a loss of $18,350 during the fiscal year of 1930.

Dr. Kenneth Phohl Heads Moravians

Winston-Salem, April 15.—(AP)—Dr. J. Kenneth Phohl, 56-year-old pastor of the Home Moravian Church, today took up his duties as bishop of the Southern Moravian Province.

He was elected last night at a special synod to succeed the late Bishop Edward Rondthaler, whom he also succeeded 23 years ago as pastor of the home church here.

Leadership of the beautiful Easter sunrise service at the home church and God's Acre, historic burial ground of the Moravians, also falls to Dr. Phohl. He conducted the service for the first time last Easter, after the death in January of Bishop Rondthaler, who had officiated for five consecutive years.

Elected Dr. Phohl as bishop came on the first ballot. He received 83 of the 109 votes cast, while 18 votes were cast for Dr. Howard Rondthaler, president of Salem College and son of the late bishop; 8 for Dr. Edmund Schwarz of Winston-Salem, and 4 for the Rev. Walter F. Grabs of Forsyth county.

Born in Salem, Dr. Phohl was educated at the Salem Boys' School here, the University of North Carolina and the Moravian Seminary in Bethlehem, Pa.

ABOUT TOWN

Decide what candidate you wish to vote for in the municipal election to be held in this city May 4th and then see that you are properly registered so there will be no question about your eligibility to vote.

Registration books are open in the various wards of the city at this time and people who have moved from one ward to another since the last election should see that they are registered. Also it is necessary for citizens moving from some other community to do likewise.

The election gives promise to being one of the most interesting held in this city in years, and candidates are anticipating a heavy vote as the voters of the five wards give expression to their sentiment.

An effort to rejuvenate the Boy Scout organization of the Christian Church is under way at this time, and sponsors of the movement are looking forward to increased activity during the summer months.

Greenville Scouts for a while were among the most active of the district, and if all the patrols would keep eternally on the alert there is no reason why they should not be able to make just as good a showing in the future as any period of the past.

reducing taxes. This important matter seems to have escaped the attention of the Senate at this time as it delves away on the revenue bill. In fact, it appears as if the body is going to lock horns with the House, bringing about a hopeless deadlock.

The solons went to Raleigh with a clear ultimatum from the people to reduce taxes, yet only the House has shown a disposition to obey the mandate.

The property owners have shown conclusively that they are unable to continue to shoulder the burden which has rested upon them since the formation of this great nation and they want it shifted to other sources. They recognize in the school bill a direct means of relief if sufficient revenue is provided for its support, but without such the old burden remains.

The duty of the legislators is clearly defined. There is nothing chimerical about the condition of the property owners. The tax books show only too well how desperate is their plight and if they are not given desired relief it is impossible to foresee what will eventuate in the future.

ALFONSO AND MEMBERS OF HIS FAMILY LEAVE SPAIN TO BEGIN PERIOD OF EXILE

An automobile carrying the deposed monarch and his party from the palace at 9:30 last night had its blinds drawn, but from behind them Alfonso, who in his day has heard crowds cheer for him, listening to the shouts of his subjects, chanting happily, like the yelling sections at an American football game:

"Now he is gone! Now he is gone!"

And, "we've thrown him out! We've thrown him out!"

"Viva Espana! Long live Spain—were Alfonso's words of farewell to the country which has acknowledged him as king since his birth, 45 years ago.

It was four o'clock this morning when the automobile bringing him, a cousin and the chief of the royal household from Madrid arrived at Cartagena, driving through the city by a circuitous route so as to avoid demonstrations. Only a few hundred persons saw the royal car and its escort of soldiers. Some of these cheered, others jeered.

Heavy police guards were stationed about the docks, and would not let any one come near except a few newspapermen and port authorities. A party of army and naval officers were already gathered at the quay and they cheered as the deposed monarch stepped down from the car.

He was smoking a cigaret, and was attired in a sack suit covered by a brown overcoat. He wore a grey hat, which he doffed for a moment as he shook hands with the officers. One of them, Admiral Magaz, who was a member of Gen. Primo De Rivera's cabinet during the dictatorship, spoke to him, remarking how much he felt about all that had happened.

Alfonso replied: "I am continuing my traditions."

He lit another cigaret and stepped aboard a tiny launch waiting at the dock. The officers cheered and shouted "Viva rey"—"Long live the king." Alfonso replied simply: "Viva Espana"—"Long live Spain."

The little launch shoved its way out into the bay, where the deposed king boarded the cruiser, Principe Alfonso, for his trip into exile.

Like the French, who danced the Carmagnole on the streets of Paris after the fall of the Bastille, the people of Madrid became deliriously happy, dancing, shouting, screaming in their delight. Strangers slapped each other on the back. Hawkers improvised republican flags of red, purple and yellow and sold thousands. It was nearly dawn before the streets cleared and the city quieted down.

The government today guarded with utmost secrecy details of negotiations between Alfonso and Alcala Zamora, which led to Alfonso's decision to leave Spain and allow proclamation of a republic.

He sent an emissary to Alcala Zamora, who is understood to have demanded that the king resign before 5 p. m. The Conde De Romanones, ex-minister of state, asked for an extension of time, but Alcala refused, saying that it would mean a civil war or a general strike.

At 5:30 the king called in Alcala and others of the royal and official household to talk over the situation. As he entered the room he exclaimed: "I am still king."

Then he announced his decision to withdraw and allow establishment of a republic. He shook hands with each of those present. "I am going because it is the will of Spain," he said, "and to avoid bloodshed. I go with a clear conscience."

Friends advised Alfonso to disguise himself for the trip from Madrid, but he scorned to do so. His attitude recalled his words to a Spanish aristocrat who showed him some secret passageways under the palace which he might use for escape in time of need. The king replied: "Only foxes run to earth; there are no foxes in my escutcheon."

Gibraltar, April 15.—(AP)—The Infante Juan, third son of the deposed king of Spain, arrived in Gibraltar this morning from Cadiz aboard the Spanish destroyer T-16 and registered at a hotel here.

His first thought was for his father, and communicating with newspapermen, asked what had happened to him. He was told that Alfonso had left Cartagena on a Spanish cruiser for an unannounced destination, and he replied with his warmest thanks and a request that he be kept informed of any developments.

When the royal exile disembarked from the destroyer he was dressed in the uniform of a cadet at the Cadiz Naval School, but at the hotel he changed it for a military uniform. When he reappeared on the streets later to do some shopping, a crowd of curious, principally Spaniards, followed him around. He is seventeen years old.

Paris, April 15.—(AP)—A request for accommodations for the queen of Spain and her children, beginning tomorrow morning, has been received by the Hotel Maurice, where King Alfonso usually stays when he is in Paris, hotel officials said today.

The manager said he was waiting for a telegram which would indicate the hour the royal guests would arrive. He had heard nothing of the movements of King Alfonso, he said.

TUCKER TALKS ON RIDICULE

(Continued from page one) He did not have the courage to face them and be true to his confession of faith in Christ.

Dr. Tucker then pictured the experiences of Lot, Saul, the Hebrews when stung by the fiery serpents to illustrate how these feel before the sting of ridicule. "This is the principle reason why most men are not Christians he asserted. Men are not courageous enough. Men know sufficient truth about God, Christ and the Bible, but are not willing to be truly Christian. He then hurled a challenge to the audience: "I dare you to be honest with what you know to be right. Face the voice of conscience, it dictates and be honest with them. Be honest with your own convictions."

Reasons why men ought to profess Christ, he said was because it is Christ's way for men to be saved. We must publicly profess Him. Second, because if you are not going to live a Christian life it is absolutely necessary to break with the old crowd. Third, it is the only way by which you may maintain your self-respect.

Discussing the resurrection of the body this morning, the minister led his hearers to consider the proper methods of interpreting the scriptures so as to derive its truth. "We must interpret them as the language out to be understood, and in the light of the Bible as a whole."

He said we must understand that the resurrection of the body centers around the personal second coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. If Christ does not come back there is no resurrection to be expected. We ought to live in daily expectancy of this blessed hope, and know the purification of life resultant thereon.

It is then necessary, he pointed out, to distinguish between the four judgments presented by the Scriptures: The judgment of sin at the cross, where our salvation was purchased; the judgment of our works at the judgment seat of Christ where we shall receive the diadem of rewards; the judgment of the nations where the Lord Jesus Christ shall judge the living nations on the basis of their historic treatment of the Jews, his brethren, and the Great White Throne before which the unrighteous dead shall be judged. It is further necessary, he said, to distinguish between the two resurrections taught in the scripture, that of the righteous, that of the unrighteous.

Four great blessed facts now grow out of these teachings: First—The doctrine of the resurrection refers solely to the BODY.

Second—It is bound up with the crucifixion of Christ, which was for the purpose of redeeming, not only the soul, but the body. The body that suffers now from sickness, pain, death, all of which is due to sin.

Third—The pattern and pledge of our resurrection is Christ's resurrection in the glorified human body.

Fourth—The vindication of the resurrection of the body is to be found in the ascension of the Lord Jesus to Heaven where he is now in his glorified human body. The redemption of the body from the grave is the consummation of God's great purpose. This fact is one of God's specific, outstanding promises.

Reinforcements under Captain J. C. Wood and Lieutenant Simmer joined the guardia Monday and engaged the Insurgents in a battle, killing eight of them.

Washington, April 15.—(AP)—The United States moved today to protect and evacuate its 300 citizens in the insurgent-threatened Nicaraguan seaport, Puerto Cabezas.

Official dispatches said four Americans already were dead and three missing, while reports to the standard fruit and steamship company placed fatalities at 11.

As relief forces deployed in the disturbed region, additional information was sought. The State Department had decided conditions were serious enough to warrant debarking of armed forces from the gunboat Asheville. Twenty Marines landed from the gunboat but were withdrawn when National Guardsmen returned to the city.

Commander W. W. Waddell of the Asheville reported the deaths of the four Americans, without naming them, and said 300 others were panic stricken and awaiting transportation to safety. Arrangements were made to evacuate them on the gunboat and the Standard Oil Company's vessel Cefalu, which was in Puerto Cabezas.

About $600,000 annually is realized by the government printing office from the sale of public documents.

HIGH LOSES BALL GAME TOR. RAPIDS

Greenville high school lost a hard-fought baseball game yesterday to a team to which it is an honor to lose, if a real fight is put forth for victory—Roanoke Rapids. They have one of the finest teams in the conference, if not the best. Not having seen the other teams in the conference, it would be rash to make the latter statement, but I believe it to be true. They have pitchers galore, hitters, throwers, brains, and everything which goes into the makeup of a real baseball team. The score was 10-4, but Roanoke Rapids scored four of these in the last two innings, so it was a good game.

Greenville fought hard and hit hard, showing much improvement over former games. Twice the locals had the bases loaded. Once with no one down and once with one down; each time the hits failed to come through. No hitting in the pinches spelled Greenville's downfall. The hits were many but not timely.

James, pitching the first full game of his career, held up fine, as did the whole team. The weather was ideal, and everybody perspired freely, which always means that good baseball will be played if the talent is there. The Roanoke Rapids lefthander had a lot of stuff, and he held up with great courage in the pinches, and after all that is what counts. All the Roanoke boys hit hard, and for Greenville, Taylor led in the hitting with three for five, and one of these a long, hard-hit triple, in the second inning. Brown looked good in the field for Greenville, making a couple of good catches. Captain Bullock was in the game with his broken finger, playing right field. He looked good, and hit a hard triple to right. He lent much spirit to the team, as he always does because of his courage. Greenville, both high school and town, needs more like him.

The team plays New Bern here one week from Friday. Everybody who likes the sport and wants to help the high school, arrange to be at the diamond back of the Third Street school at 3:30 that day.

FIRST BALL GAMES DRAW BIG CROWDS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

With all the fanfare that usually accompanies the start of a new baseball year, the major leagues have launched what promises to be a highly successful season.

The size of the opening day crowds which filled eight ball parks with nearly 250,000 fans, and the quality of the first game performances combined to promise great things for future days between now and September.

All around the two circuits, the teams that have been picked to finish in the first division performed well enough to justify the predictions while the others showed that they may become contenders.

In no case was the mark of victory more than four runs while one game which brought together two of the prospective pennant contenders was carried into extra innings.

With Philadelphia Athletics, the world champions, defeated the Washington Senators who finished second to the A's in the American league last year, 5 to 3, in an eleven inning battle.

The A's tied the count in the ninth just about the time President Hoover left the scene, then bunched hits off Al Crowder in the eleventh to win.

Three other good pitching performances turned up in the American league.

Before a crowd of 70,000 Charley Ruffin of the New York Yankees held the Boston Red Sox in check to gain a 5 to 3 victory. Babe Ruth added to the festivities by hitting his first home run of the new season.

Wesley Ferrell started out to beat last year's mark of 25 victories by behind him to beat the Chicago White Sox 5 to 4. Walter Stewart of St. Louis limited the rebuilt Detroit Tigers to six hits while the Browns, doubted that number to win 7-3.

Charley Root, ace of the Chicago Cubs, turned in the National league's best headline performance as he allowed the Pittsburgh Pirates only four blows while gaining a 6 to 2 triumph. A homer by Gabby Hartnett also helped entertain the 45,000 fans of the National league's biggest crowd.

The champion St. Louis Cardinals, now just one of the teams battling for the flag, found trouble with Larry Benton's pitching in the early innings but came with a rush at the finish and defeated Cincinnati 7 to 3.

The New York Giants and Philadelphia Athletics found the range of the rightfield wall at Baker Bowl, Philadelphia, and slammed out four homers, three in that direction. Chuck Klein walloped two in succession but could not keep his team ahead as a big seventh with the Giants a 9 to 5 victory.

John Pius Quinn started his 29th year as a professional pitcher on the mound for Brooklyn but failed to foil the Boston Braves' batting after the first few outings. Boston won, by a 7 to 4 count.

"Your story of the tragic death of Knute Rockne was all that the most fervent friend of 'Rock' could desire," writes Leo McIntyre of Bethlehem, Pa.

"I write to ask you to give 'One-Play' Johnny O'Brien of Hollywood, Notre Dame end, the credit for scoring the winning touchdown against the Army in that memorable melee in Yankee Stadium late in November, 1928. The credit for scoring the touchdown which gave Notre Dame's mediocre team a 12 to 6 victory over a great Army eleven really belongs to him. Yes, he has never been given it since that time.

"Numerous times have I seen this winning touchdown credited to Chevigny, Niemiec and now 'Kle' Voedsch, end of the 1926, '27 and '28 elevens.

"Collier's magazine, you will remember, in the fall under the by-line of Knute K. Rockne, attributed the winning touchdown to the prowess of Jack Chevigny. Possibly this was an error on the part of John B. Kennedy, associate editor, who 'polished up' these stories for Coach Rockne.

The Real Story

The real story follows: Rockne, realizing that his team was mediocre and must be inspired if it were to give Army any kind of a battle, told the boys the story of George Gipp. By this time you probably know the story by heart. Well, anyway, 'Rock' told the story in his inimitable manner, paused, and then said: "Men this is that game!"

"You'll remember how a sobbing, fighting, courageous band of boys marched down the field to one touchdown only to see it evaporate like gases from an unstoppered test tube; you'll remember, too, how they courageously surged up from behind to tie the Army. It was then that the doughty and dauntless Jack Chevigny, fiery little Frenchman that he is, fell across the Army goal line crying: 'Here's one of them for you, Gipper!'

"Chevigny, exhausted, weeping, was then carried from the field. As he passed his teammates sitting on the sidelines bench he sobbed: 'We gotta get this one for the good old Gipper!'

O'Brien Goes In

"'One-Play' O'Brien, sitting nervously on the bench, heard him. Rockne, master strategist, sent O'Brien into the game. On the next play lanky Johnny streaked forty-five yards down the field to smare a pass thrown deftly to him b the squat Johnny Niemiec. As he fell across the goal line he shouted: 'There it is, Gipper!' The touchdown scored. Coach Rockne ordered 'One-Play' to the sidelines. You'll not forget, of course, how Army bravely fought back and how Notre Dame played out just as bravely without each battering-ram attack until, with Army not more than two yards from tying touchdown, the game ended.

"That, at length, is the inside story of Notre Dame's epic victory over Army in 1928. Notre Dame men who saw the game will never forget the part played in the victory by Chevigny, but neither will they forget 'One-Play' O'Brien and John Niemiec share in it."

Bad Stomach Cause of Bad Skin

You can't expect to have a good clear fresh-looking complexion if your stomach is weak and disordered.

Undigested food sends poisons through your whole body, pimples appear in your face, skin grows sallow and muddy and loses its color. Your tongue becomes coated, breath most unpleasant. But these troubles will end quickly and skin clear up if you will start today taking that simple herbal compound known to druggists as Tanlac.

Tanlac contains nothing but herbs, barks and roots which have a cleansing, healing effect on a poor upset stomach. Just a tablespoonful before each meal stimulates the digestion naturally so that you can eat what you want without fear of distress. And when your stomach is in good shape again see how much keener your appetite is—watch how your skin begins to grow fresh and clear. The cost of Tanlac is less than a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

NEGRO YOUTH REGAINS THE WELTER TITLE

By CHARLES DUNKLEY (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Cleveland, April 15.—(AP)—Young Jack Thompson, Oakland, Calif., negro youth is back on the throne today as welterweight champion of the world.

Thompson regained the title he lost to Tommy Freeman six months ago by scoring a technical knockout over the titleholder in the twelfth round of their scheduled 15-round encounter in Cleveland's public auditorium last night.

Freeman, with his left eye swollen shut, was unable to respond when the bell rang for the start of the twelfth round. The eye started to swell in the tenth and by the end of the eleventh it was tightly closed. He protested that he was unable to see and surrendered to the California negro on the advice of a physician.

By his victory, Thompson exploded the popular belief that they never come back. His performance in winning back the title he lost takes rank with the achievements of the late Stanley Ketchel and Pete Herman, who won back their championships after losing them.

"Now, boy, ain't that something," grinned Thompson as he sat in his dressing room after the fight.

"I got my championship back. I should never have lost it, but I'm sorry I won it the way I did. I would have liked to have knocked him out."

For a championship fight, the battle was highly disappointing to a crowd of 9,000 spectators who paid $6.75 to witness it.

It was dull and so uninteresting at times that the spectators yelled and booed, demanding action.

Freeman was heart broken over his loss, but explained it was useless for him to continue as he could not see. In fairness to the beaten champion, he wanted to continue, but quit on the advice of his handlers.

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 7 to 9 points lower under rather general selling in small lots by commission houses and some local or Wall Street selling which appeared to be promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and a favorable view of the weather map.

There was some comment on bullish features in the weekly report of the weather which sold off to 10.17 for May and 10.73 for October, or about 12 to 14 points net lower before the end of the first half hour. May liquidation was a little more active during the early trading. Trade interests and shorts were considered the chief buyers on the decline.

Liverpool cables reported local Manchester Continental liquidation and hedge selling. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 30 to 42 points lower. The Indian spot quotation in Liverpool was 10 points lower.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 15.—(AP)—Stimulated by indications that Europeans had over-reached themselves in hand-to-mouth buying, wheat today suddenly established a new high-price record for the season.

Transatlantic home grown breadstuffs supplies were reported becoming exhausted, and new crop prospects in European continental countries unsatisfactory. Selling of corn against purchases of wheat had a bearish effect on corn.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Steel succeeded in pushing U. S. Steel down to a new low for the 1929-31 bear movement today, but were surprised to find Wall Street impressed by their demonstration. Share prices continued to ooze slowly downhill, but with no excitable public following in the market.

U. S. Steel declined more than two points, getting slightly under last December's bottom price of 134 3/8, but it quickly made a partial recovery. Vanadium, a pool favorite last year broke about 5 points to a new low on omission of the dividend, getting down nearly 100 points under its 1930 high of 143 1/4.

Several issues sold off 2 or 3 points including American Can, American Telephone, Allied Chemical Consolidated Gas, North American. The market turned extremely dull around midday and recovered a point or so from the bottom, but the recovery was not well maintained.

While the decline was largely impelled by bearish activity, the weekly steel trade reviews gave the bears a good argument to support their cause, and the weekly report of electric power consumption was less favorable than those of the past few weeks.

The decline in freight car loadings as reported for the week ending April 4 of 11,568 cars was interpreted over bearishly on first glance. As a matter of fact, the decline was less than usually occurs in the week of Good Friday and was largely accounted for by a smaller movement of coal.

ISOLATION OF FAMILIES CALLED AID TO EVOLUTION

Baltimore.—(AP)—One big fact to account for origin of species of isolation—separation of families. This discovery is reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Dr. W. H. Longley of Gloucher college as a result of applying mathematical studies to millions of known species of plants and animals.

"The study of species in their numerical relations in their general," he says, "and in relation to the areas they occupy, shows that no species-making occurs without effective isolation of the individuating groups."

ONE-CELLED SEA DENIZENS STUDIED IN OCEAN 'CENSUS'

La Jolla, Calif.—(AP)—About 20,000 catches of minute, single-celled creatures of the sea have been taken in 10 years by the Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

These catches have been made in canvas buckets from steamers at full speed, in pails from the surface, and in self-closing bottles at subsurface levels.

Hundreds of thousands of the little creatures have been taken in some catches, says Prof. W. E. Allen of the institution, and reports have been written and published for about 12,000 of the catches.

He calls this a census-taking of the food of fishes.

Dignity of Mayor-Elect Is Contrast To Thompson

Chicago.—(AP)—Chicago's mayor-elect is a man who would rather be known as a humanitarian than as a political giant.

And in almost every respect save for physical stature, Anton J. Cermak appears in striking contrast to William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson, whose long tenure he has upset.

TO INVESTIGATE NEW YORK CITY GOVERNMENT

This legislative committee was named to investigate charges of municipal corruption in New York City. Seated, left to right: Sen. J. McNaboe, Sen. Samuel H. Hofstadter, chairman, and Assemlyman Louis A. Cuvillier. Standing: Sen. Leon F. Wheatly, Assemlyman William J. Lamont, Assemlyman Hamilton F. Potter, Sen. John Knight, and Assemlyman Abbott Low Moffat.

real estate, Cermak arrived at a position of strength in Chicago really through a long and devious route.

He started as a breaker-boy in an Illinois coal mine, came alone to Chicago at 16, and gradually acquired a scrap-wood hauling business.

Then he was graduated to teaming and coal-selling, and with his profits made some corner-lot purchases which formed the nucleus for what now is a flourishing real estate business.

Concurrent with his business career ran Cermak's political progress. His quiet discharge of party duties carried him through the mill as precinct committeeman, secretary, president and committeeman of his ward, member of the general assembly, alderman, chief balliff of the municipal court, and ultimately to the presidency of the Cook county board of commissioners.

He has held that job since 1922—a post he now will resign officially, but of which he still may be a virtual dictator. His only attempt in national politics resulted in his defeat by Otis S. Glenn in 1928, when he bid for the United States Senatorship of Illinois.

Always Cermak has manifested keen interest in public welfare. He won commendation for work in directing relief during the world war and at times of distress such as mine and hurricane disasters.

One of his proudest achievements is the development of Cook county's forest preserve, an expansive playground affording recreation to all classes of people.

Family affairs are among Cermak's chief delights. He has three daughters, all married, and seven grandchildren.

Veteran Airship Commander Will Skipper 'Akron'

Washington.—(AP)—Eight years ago an instructor at the naval academy had a hunch he would like flying; now he has become skipper of the giant airship Akron.

He is Lieut. Comm. Charles E. Rosendahl, a slim, blue-eyed officer in whose life dirigibles are part and parcel since a day in 1923 when he went with the first class of volunteers for duty on the Shenandoah.

He reported at Lakehurst, N. J., April 15 to prepare for his new command.

To his new task he brings the experience of 3,333 hours of flight in lighter-than-air craft and the record of more hours in the air as skipper than any other American officer.

He was senior surviving officer of the Shenandoah's wreck in 1925 in Ohio, tree-ballooning to safety with six companions in the broken off forepart of the airship.

He commanded the Los Angeles for three years, was at the helm when it flew nonstop to Panama in 1928 and when it made a landing on the aircraft carrier Saratoga.

He became first commander of the rigid airship training and experimental squadron, formed in 1929 at Lakehurst, N. J.

He had been on the Graf Zeppelin when it first crossed the Atlantic from Germany and when the airship was poised at Lakehurst in 1929 for its flight around the world.

He returned hastily from inspecting sites for a Pacific coast dirigible base to get on board with only a day to spare.

Among his narrowest and most thrilling escapes he numbers the 12-mile ride in the damaged fore section of the Shenandoah and the Graf Zeppelin's barely averted collision with a high tension wire or it took off from Los Angeles on the last leg of its globe-girdling flight.
