MAY QUASH INDICTMENTS IN BANK CASE

Judge Threatens to Call the Corporation Commission for Derelict Duty

Asheville, May 2.—(AP)—Judge M. V. Barnhill today indicated he was considering quashing the indictments of three officials of the Central Bank and Trust company, charged with making a false report of its condition to the State Corporation commission, and at the same time told the solicitor that if the commission had been derelict in its duty charges should be brought against it.

His statement followed testimony that the bank, which failed last fall for years had carried millions of dollars of worthless paper on its books as assets and had so reported the paper to the commission which supervises state banks. The state's charge against the bank officials is based on that allegation.

"One branch of the state government," Judge Barnhill said, presumably referring to the judicial, "can hardly punish a man for acts condoned by another branch. If the Corporation commission has been derelict, let's bring them here and try them all at once."

Judge Barnhill said he did not wish his remarks to be interpreted as a charge of collusion against members of the Corporation commission.

He said his statement was to apply only if collusion were shown or attempts made to prove it.

He also indicated that his statement regarding the Corporation commission was not applicable to the entire case, but only to one count of the indictments.

Solicitor Zeb V. Nettles replied that if the evidence in the case materialized he planned to ask the indictment of any official who knowingly permitted the bank to continue in business after its assets were known to be irrevocably "frozen."

Judge Barnhill said he would make no ruling immediately, but asked counsel for the state and defense to consider the situation over the weekend. The defense filed motion for dismissal of the indictments when the cases were first brought to trial.

Wallace B. Davis, president of the bank, and two directors, Dr. J. A. Sinclair, and C. N. Brown, are on trial in the present case. They are the first to be brought to trial of 27 men indicted as the result of the failure of the bank which had $18,000,000 on deposit. Approximately $9,000,000 of the deposits were public funds.

The jury was absent while Judge Barnhill discussed the indictments with the attorneys. It was brought in and D. M. Darden, state bank examiner, who began his testimony, was placed on the stand.

Magazine Writer Held for Murder

Fort Payne, Ala., May 2.—(AP)—Tom Roan, magazine fiction writer and his negro chauffeur, Alonzo Crook, were in the DeKalb county jail today, pending preliminary hearing on charges of murdering Dr. W. P. Hicks, Collinsville physician, last Saturday.

The negro was arrested last yesterday on a warrant obtained by R. P. Hicks, brother of the slain doctor. John C. Anderson, acting coroner, told Hicks he believed the negro was knocked down by Dr. Hicks just before the latter was shot at Roan's home.

Crook told a coroner's jury the slaying was the outgrowth of a quarrel that arose during a visit by Dr. Hicks to the Roan home on Lookout mountain, near Collinsville.

The coroner's jury recommended that Roan be held without bond. Roan, a native of DeKalb county returned to Collinsville a year ago from Seattle, Wash.

Four Million Pounds Of Tobacco Lost In Flames

CROWN QUEENS AT EXPOSITION

Winners in Pulchritude Race Center of Attraction As Section Show Closes

The Eastern Carolina exposition, which has been holding forth at Forbes and Morton's warehouse since last Monday was brought to a close last night with probably one of the largest crowds of the week in attendance despite inclement weather.

Highlight of the closing night was the coronation of senior and junior queens. The exercises were of an impressive nature, and the young women who were declared victorious in the two contest fields were duly crowned and sent on their way with the plaudits of an admiring people ringing in their ears.

The result of the senior contest was not made public until last night just a few minutes prior to the coronation ceremonies. The announcement was made by Secretary Bartlett.

Miss Blanche Steton, of Greenville, was declared queen of Pitt county. She received 6,477,500 votes. Miss Christine Perkins won second place and Miss Grace Gaston, third. Their vote was between five and six millions each.

Miss Elizabeth Sheffield, of Tarboro, won first place outside of Pitt county, with Miss Honey Felton, of Ahoskie, second, and Miss Mary Whitaker, of Kinston, third. Miss Sheffield's vote was 5,984,000.

The junior queens taking part in the coronation were Miss Jane Rowlett, of Greenville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rowlett, who won first place as queen of Pitt county, and Miss Grace Wallace, of Kinston, who was declared victorious of the outside districts.

Each of the young ladies was placed upon the throne, and the crowns were presented by Secretary Newell G. Bartlett, and Ralph Deal, platform manager. President Guy Smith also took part in the coronation.

Bill Lee, on behalf of the Greenville Floral company, presented the young women with bouquets.

The exposition was brought to a close by a vaudeville performance under direction of Miss Margaret Freeman, of New York, assisted by Bobby Heath, Miss Pen Raymond, Miss Frances McCall, Charles McColl, and Orwell and Glasser, and the regular dance.

The exposition opened last Monday evening with a display of Eastern Carolina talent. The headline attraction was Major General Butler, who delivered two addresses Tuesday. Earl Weatherby, of New York, gave a concert the second day.

The program during the remainder of the week featured the presentation of the queens, a style show by C. Heber Forbes, and a cotton goods style show, displaying fabrics made from the fleecy staple of the southland.

The exposition, in the words of Newell Bartlett, was held for the purpose of showing the country that Eastern Carolina is still going strong, and capable of attaining an exhibition of the kind in spite of the depression.

The warehouse was a thing of beauty with thousands of yards of streamers, and hundreds of multi-colored lights. Numbers of the latest creations of the automobile world were on display, and booths were attractively arranged.

Wright-Hughes Warehouse at Winston-Salem Destroyed By Blaze Last Night; Total Tobacco Loss Estimated at Over $1,000,000

Winston-Salem, May 2.—(AP)—Winston-Salem's loss from two tobacco warehouse fires within the last few days stood today at approximately $1,000,000.

Fire originating in the warehouse of the Wright-Hughes Tobacco company last night destroyed the building and an estimated 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco. Another building was slightly damaged.

The damage from this fire was estimated at more than $400,000, the cause of the blaze undetermined.

Earlier in the week, flames originating in the sheds of the Winston Leaf Tobacco company did damage estimated well in excess of $500,000. Spontaneous combustion in tobacco piles was believed responsible for this blaze.

SEEK CAPONE FOR QUIZZING

Chicago Officers Would Question the Gangster in Connection With Killing

Nashville, Tenn., May 2.—(AP)—Resignation of James Cannon, Jr., from his bishopric in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is asked in a petition to the semi-annual meeting of the College of Bishops here.

In the petition, the Virginia prelate, who was vindicated by the last quarterly conference of the church and later by a group of elders of charges based on stock market transactions and other allegations never made public, is described as "doing the church untold harm."

"Reports that gravely reflect on the moral character of Bishop Cannon have been published throughout the country," the petition recited. "He has made no public statement that would vindicate himself or that would relieve the church of the embarrassment which she suffers by reason of the fact that he is one of her bishops."

The petitioners asked that "our bishops find some means to restore confidence in the moral integrity of our church," adding that "the least that could be asked of Bishop Cannon under these circumstances is that for the good and peace of the church he resign his office."

Church officials here pointed out that the college was unable to oust a bishop and therefore action probably would be taken only on the question of Cannon's elevation to the presidency. By the rule of rotation he should have achieved that office last December, but he waived his claim because formal charges were pending against him.

NYE REFUSES TO POSTPONE CANNON PROBE

Will Not Delay Hearing to Give Bishop a Chance to Be On Hand

Washington, May 2.—(AP)—Chairman Nye today declined the request of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., that the Senate campaign funds committee postpone its meeting set for next Wednesday to resume its investigation of political activities of the southern Methodist churchman in 1928.

Bishop Cannon in a letter from Louisville dated April 29, said he wanted to be present when the committee met but could not be in Washington on May 6 because of a prior engagement to attend the sessions of the General Board of Missions of the Methodist Church at Nashville on the 5th and 6th. He asked the committee meeting be postponed until the 7th or 8th.

Replying, Nye said he regretted the "conflicting dates" confronting the bishop, but said the committee "felt that such hearing as it had in mind for May 6 would not necessitate your presence."

He added a transcript of the entire hearings would be sent to the bishop. The meeting could not be deferred, he said, because Wednesday was the only time at which all committeemen could be present.

CITY ELECTION NEXT MONDAY

Voters to Select Mayor and Five Members of the Board of Aldermen

With the municipal election scheduled for next Monday, candidates for mayor and aldermen were scurrying around today in a frantic attempt to lineup their constituency for a showdown as to who will be at the head of the city government in the future.

The political pot has been boiling vociferously the last several weeks, but it assumed additional steam today as the candidates attempted to impress upon the unregistered voters the importance of registering before the closing of the books this afternoon.

Contest has been assured for the office of mayor and every one of the five wards to be voted on at this time with the exception of one, the fifth ward, where "Baldy" Hobbard is "sitting tight and saying nothing."

Mayor J. C. Lanier is opposed by Roy Flanagan. Their announcements were made public over a month ago, and since that time the people have been furnished with considerable information as to why each is best fitted for the responsible job at the head of the city government. Flanagan promised equal justice to all and economy in government, while Mayor Lanier has told his constituency that he was running on the record of his past achievement, and promised to render similar service in the future if again elected to the important post.

In the first ward John Ivey Smith is opposed by J. N. Williams, who fired the opening-gun of the campaign about two months ago.

In the second ward, J. H. Waldrop chairman of the finance committee of the Board of Aldermen, is opposed by "Wash" Patrick.

T. T. Hollingsworth in the third ward is opposed by H. H. Duncan, and J. H. Boyd, Jr. in the fourth, has D. A. Windham as an opponent.

Three other members of the board were not to be voted on at this election.

Due to the amount of interest indicated at this time, it was believed that one of the heaviest votes in years would be cast.

The election will be conducted under the Australian ballot system, and booths will be in the corridors of the courthouse. Each of the candidates for mayor has been allowed one marker each to assist voters in preparation of ballots.

Confirm Sale of Bank Building

Asheville, May 2.—(AP)—United States District Court here today confirmed sale of the American National Bank building to Gay Green of Asheville, for $80,000.

The American National Bank failed November 20, 1930. L. L. Jenkins, president, was indicted for abstracting $20,000 and for illegal diversion of funds to officers of the General Bank and Trust Company of Asheville.

The proceedings in Federal Court followed.

STATE LEGISLATURE EXPECTED TO CLOSE DURING NEXT WEEK

Republican Independents May Oppose Pres. Hoover In Primaries Next Spring

Several Leaders of the Party Mentioned As Probable Presidential Timber; Senator Brookhart Says Progressive Sentiment Should Be Tested Out

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—Republican Independents may oppose President Hoover in the party primaries next spring.

This group in the Senate from the northwest agricultural states has disagreed with Hoover policies throughout his administration.

Senators Borah, of Idaho; Norris of Nebraska; and La Follette of Wisconsin, independents, are mentioned in political discussions here as possible candidates, together with Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania.

Senator Johnson of California, who was not aligned with the independents, but who has found himself in frequent opposition to the President, also is counted among the potential candidates.

Republican regulars who in 1928 went into the field against Herbert Hoover in the pre-convention campaigns are watching interestedly or preparing to go actively to the fore for the President.

It is a paradoxical situation. Leaders in the fight for Hoover in 1928 may be his opponents in 1932. The old guard allies who fought him so hard in 1928 may be his main support next year.

Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, a member of the independent group, opened the discussion today of a progressive battle.

"Progressive sentiment ought to be tested out," he said, "by such leaders as Senators Johnson, Borah, Norris and La Follette and by Governor Pinchot. There is no doubt in my mind of their popularity in many states."

"The standpatters feel that the re-election of Herbert Hoover is impossible and that it would strengthen the party immensely to have a new candidate. If the progressives could carry most of the principal states it would then be evident to everybody that a new candidate should be nominated."

However, the progressive candidates put forward by Senator Brookhart decline to concede the likelihood of their becoming candidates—at least at this time—and the whole proposition is still in the speculation stage.

RED MEN HOLD MEETING HERE

Three Hundred Members Attend District Meeting in This City Yesterday

About three hundred members of the Improved Order of Red Men attended a district meeting of the organization in this city yesterday.

The major part of the day was confined to discussion of business and last night at the court house two high officials of the fraternity delivered addresses.

The speakers were Past Great Sachem, J. R. Anderson, of Charlotte, and Present Senior Sagamore R. A. Whitting, of Reidsville. Each spoke on the subject of fraternalism and brought the members inspiring messages dealing with the outlook for future activities.

The visitors were extended a cordial welcome by Mayor J. C. Lanier, who assured them that Greenville was glad to play host to a gathering of the kind.

L. S. Spence presided over the meeting at the courthouse, but was called away before the session was over and D. A. Windham was selected to fill his place.

Members of the local lodge described the gathering as one of the most important of the year, and expressed belief that good results would obtain. A string band of the local lodge furnished music for the occasion.

M. M. ROGERS IS SUICIDE

Tobacco Buyer Kills Himself After Worry Over Financial Condition

Manning M. Rogers, 39, independent tobacco buyer, died from a self-inflicted wound in the local hospital last night.

Mr. Rogers fired a pistol through his head at his home on Raleigh avenue yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock and died about four hours later. Financial worries were ascribed as cause of the act.

Funeral services will be conducted from his late home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Eighth Street Church of Christ, will officiate. The body will be taken to Wilson for burial.

Mr. Rogers was a member of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade and the Greenville Post of T. P. A. He was also a member of the local Christian church.

He was a native of Mullins, S. C., and came to Greenville about ten years ago from Wilson where he had been engaged in the tobacco business for a number of years.

He was well known in local tobacco circles, having operated as an independent buyer, and making a host of friends among the farmers and tobaccoists alike.

He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Jennie Boykin, of Wilson, and three children, Martha Deans, Manning, Jr., and Eleanor. He is also survived by a brother, E. G. Rogers, of this city, and several other brothers and sisters living in various sections of the country. His mother, Mrs. N. H. Rogers, of Mullins, also survives.

Pall bearers will be: E. J. Garrett, G. V. Smith, C. W. Willard, E. L. Willard, T. T. Hollingsworth, J. L. Harris, W. B. Dupree, K. W. Cobb.

Honorary pall bearers will be members of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade and L. G. Cooper, Frank Jolly, Roy Flanagan, J. H. Boyd, Jr., R. T. Cox, S. A. Whitehurst, Ed Clark, Claude Gaskins, Frank Harrington, Clyde Carson, Ernest Langston, W. J. Turnage, F. S. Corbett, Shep Morlon, Lee Goode, Tom Andrews and Henry Staton.

Session Expected to Conclude in a Whirlwind of Activity; Revenue Measure to Be Enacted Into Law By Next Wednesday, Barring Unforeseen Complications; Few Measures Given Consideration During Brief Session of Both Houses Today

Raleigh, May 2.—(AP)—With enactment of a "luxury" or selected commodities sales tax apparently assured, members of the North Carolina General Assembly today thought a sine die adjournment of the longer legislative session in the state's history, probable next week.

By next Wednesday the revenue act for 1931-32 will be enacted into law, barring some unforeseen complications, and legislative affairs will likely be terminated in a whirlwind activity for sine die adjournment sometime during the week.

A formidable hitch in the plans for adjournment next Wednesday developed late yesterday when the House finance committee threw out the machinery act passed by the Senate and adopted a new one.

Under the Senate act passage by roll call on separate legislative days was required. The new House bill eliminates this but whether the Senate will accept the new bill or not is unknown and on passage of the machinery act, usually more or less a perfunctory task, the adjournment of the assembly may hang.

While the revenue bill was completing its House course and starting its final trip in the Senate where the conference report has been adopted 77 to 22 and passage has been conceded by leading opponents, the conferees on the biennial appropriations bill ceased work until Monday with nothing done.

During the week the Moss-Chey bill, changing the basis of licensing automobiles from horsepower to weight, was enacted into law. Its provisions include quarterly payment reductions in license rates, which are now effective, but a supplementary amending law postponed the effectiveness of the weight scale until January 1 and set a minimum fee of $12.50.

The Peel bill, deferring the sale of lands for taxes until the first Monday in November, in the discretion of county commissioners, was enacted during the week. Advertisements of tax sales were to be made next week.

The Senate amended and passed the House substitute resolution authorizing the governor and other officers to co-operate with the United States sub-committee on elections in its investigation of the Bailey-Pritchard senatorial election. The House must concur in the amendments before the resolution can be ratified.

Yesterday the Ewing bill to regulate "corrupt practices," which places new regulations on committees and organizations taking part in political campaigns, got final legislative approval.

The Crouse-Gill-Turner bill regulating public utilities, requiring uniform accounting, auditing and book-keeping systems, started its course during the week by surviving several attacks in the House.

Moving to "regulate" lobbyists, the Senate passed a bill by Senator Hardy of Lenoir to require them to register and pay a fee of $5. It must go to the House.

In a short session today the Senate placed the revenue conference report on its calendar, which is equivalent to first reading, and passed four local bills.

By the barest margin the Crouse-Gill-Turner bill passed its third reading in the House, a bare quorum being present after one who had not recorded on a roll call vote on the bill and it had to be passed by oral vote. It was sent to the Senate.

Both houses will meet at 8 p. m. Monday.

ABOUT TOWN

Towns and cities are built from the inside and not from the outside in the opinion of J. C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City, who spoke at the annual banquet of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce here Thursday evening.

The Pasquotank orator discouraged the idea of depending upon outside capital for support, expressing belief that the people of the eastern section of the state needed to go to work and more fully develop their own resources.

He deplored the westward drift of population the last several years, and asserted that this was due largely to the lassitude of the people of the east, who did not realize their own possibilities and therefore did not develop them.

He urged the circulation of more facts regarding our own resources, so that the people at home might realize the things which they have to depend upon and then build on.

He urged that farmers should get away from the money idea and first begin to live and then confine their attention to the accumulation of wealth.

He championed the live-at-home movement, believing this one of the most vital things in connection with the section's recovery from the depression which has existed the past several years.

Greenville girls are among the prettiest in the world, in the opinion of scores of people who saw them on parade in the queen's contest of the Eastern Carolina exposition.

Long noted for its hospitality and good-looking women, Greenville did its best to send the cream of its pulchritude to the stage this year, and the result of the effort is not to be questioned.

But the city was not by itself. The entire assemblage of young women reflected credit on the whole eastern part of the state, and indicated that shortage of other crops does not affect the beauty crops.

Greenville is proud of the record made by the young women, and hopes they will be able to gain just as much recognition in future life as was accorded them at the exposition.

Opton wearing apparel is being boosted throughout the southland at this time in the hope that women will abandon some of the silks and satins for the goods made from the fleecy staple produced in this section at the rate of from fifteen to seventeen million bales annually.

Some of the most attractive wearing apparel seen here this season was made from the fleecy staple, and it is possible that the severe economic condition confronting the section at this time is going to make it imperative that some of the finer materials abandoned for this kind of dress.

We have been talking about live at home for a long time now, but there is no better way to do this than to aid the movement looking to increased sales of cotton-made goods. If the plan should be generally accepted throughout the country, it would not be long before the glutted condition of the cotton market would be relieved perceptibly.

Tobacco planting season has come and farmers are being urged not to forget the warning that over-production will mean ruin for them. The admonition concerning the glutted condition of the world market has been broadcast from one section of the country to the other, and the farmer that goes ahead and plants usual acreage in the face of the warning is doing nothing more than cutting his own throat.

Manufacturers have said that they have more tobacco on hand than they know what to do with, and this fact alone is sufficient to show the farmer that he would receive lower prices for an ordinary crop. There is only one thing for the grower to do and that is to curtail acreage and then try to produce a better grade of leaf. This would result in more money than he could possibly hope to receive for a large crop of inferior tobacco even under normal conditions.

By planting less money crops and giving his attention to feeding his family from the products of his own farm there is no reason on earth why the farmer of this section of the country should not be able to recover from the depression which has produced such an economic revolution throughout the nation.

May Day, often called International Labor Day, passed off decidedly more quietly all over the world than officers expected. There were a few minor disorders, but they were so insignificant compared with other years that they hardly caused a ripple of excitement in public life.

This is the day set aside by labor organizations to let the world know they are against anything tending to oppress the cause of the workingman, and oftentimes results in bloodshed in some of the foreign countries where bolshevism and communism run riot all the year around.

American labor may show signs of discontent at times, but it is too level-headed to permit foreign exceptions to cause it to lose its equilibrium and self-respect.

PROFITS FROM PINE TRACT TO PAY EDUCATION COSTS

Arkadelphia, Ark.—(AP)—Sixty acres of cut-over pine timber will pay for the college education of three children of L. E. Hardwick. Hardwick, a farmer living near here, has already demonstrated that timber can be grown profitably like other farm crops.

Two and a half years ago he started a thinning and fire-protection demonstration on 15 acres of a 60-acre tract, which now has been completed, fenced and a 15-foot fire line established around the entire tract.

Twenty years ago all the salable timber on the land was removed. Many of the new growth trees are now 10 to 12 inches in diameter, even though growth has been under crowded conditions.

Albemarle, N. C.—(AP)—Hubert Swearingen, 9 months old son of Paul Swearingen, died here from burns received when he pulled a ball of boiling water upon himself.

These meetings are conducted at the Salvation Army Hall on Dickinson Avenue, near the Greenville Cotton Mills.

Boone, May 2.—(AP)—Clint Stone, Watauga county man, was held in jail here today charged with murdering Mattie Bentley, 48, whose body, the back and breast riddled with gunshot wounds, was found on a nearby mountain Thursday night. Four witnesses testified at an inquest that the woman lived in "constant fear of Clint Stone."

Floyd Greene quoted her as saying a few days ago, "There's no use telling a lie about it, Clint Stone is going to kill me if he ever gets a chance. Stone was arrested shortly after the inquest yesterday. He told officers, they said, the woman had attempted to extort $200 from him, but declined to discuss the murder charge.

Think before you vote for Mayor on next Monday and give each candidate the consideration that he is justly due. Now in behalf of J. C. Lanier, our present mayor, I will say that I have known him for years and have always found him fair and square in his dealings as a citizen and as mayor.

He was raised in Greenville, and has always lived here, and has always supported the Democratic party loyally. He is a veteran of the World War and served twenty-three months, with honor to himself and his country—after coming home he was elected Solicitor of the County Court and served four years, with credit to himself and the satisfaction of the people who elected him.

He has given the town four years of good service and under his administration it has been run as economically as possible and the tax rate has been lowered more than once. In his courts he has shown no favoritism. He has tried to treat everybody alike, regardless of their wealth or social standing.

His four years' service as mayor is beyond reproach and as a citizen and mayor, he merits the support, the respect and confidence of the voters of the Town of Greenville. The criticism and knocks that he is getting in this campaign is what comes to every man who holds office and discharges his duties without fear or favor to anyone and usually from men who expect special favors from him. This should not lose him any voters. Everybody should appreciate the fair and impartial way he has handled his office.

REVOLT LOOMS IN PORTUGAL

Ministry Surrounded By Machine Guns, Awaiting Developments; Two Killed

Lisbon, Portugal, May 2.—(AP)—Protected by a ring of machine guns, President Oscar Carmona's ministry today awaited the possibility of a revolution against the government.

The officials were within the sheltered barracks of a loyal regiment. One square of their alarm was an outbreak yesterday in which a bomb was exploded in the midst of a dense crowd of May Day demonstrators in Rocio Square.

Police turned a machine gun on the mob and two persons were killed and about 20 injured before order was restored.

Safe in the quarters of the third artillery regiment, long a refuge for harassed officials, the members of the cabinet were assured by military chiefs that they were in command of sufficient forces to restore order.

A number of men said to have been hired by radicals to incite disturbances were arrested and much communist literature was reported seized. All trains passing through the Spanish frontier were watched closely as a result of the collaring of three Spanish students bringing messages of sympathy to their Portuguese compatriots. They were sent home.

The streets were almost deserted as armored cars passed to and fro, as a warning against attempts to renew violence. Heavily armed troops kept watch along the principal thoroughfares and business was at a standstill. The populace spent a night of apprehension, alarmed over the day's events and fearful over developments. Martial law was expected to be declared but it had not become a fact this morning. Meanwhile, the government reported it was meeting with success in its campaign to put down the rebellion in the Madeira Islands. Preparatory to marching on Funchal, it was said, the expeditionary force was consolidating its position over a 30-square mile area. Another detachment of infantry has landed and was supporting the main column of troops in a march over difficult terrain to the seat of

HIGH SCHOOL TO PRESENT "HERE COMES PATRICIA"

The Senior Class of Greenville High School intends to display its talent to the public on Tuesday evening of next week, in the ultra-modern comedy, "Here Comes Patricia."

Through the entire play there is an undercurrent of humor. Probably one of the most amusing factors of the play is the unique love affair between Bud Flanagan, the Irish chauffeur, played by Billy Nesbit, and the coy little man hunter Angelina Knoop, interpreted by Kasey. Esther Rossignol in the role of Angelina's cousin, Minnie Knoop constantly interrupts them at just the wrong moments.

The play, however, has the other amusing characters along with whom there are most pleasing, among whom there is a governor's daughter. The cast intends to make the entire performance move along rapidly and smoothly. They want everybody to come, enjoy an evening of fun and support the senior class.

TWO ATTRACTIONS AT COLLEGE NEXT WEEK

Next week is Music Week and will be celebrated by two distinctive features.

The University of North Carolina Oles Club, which will give a concert at East Carolina Teachers College on next Thursday evening, May 7, has not appeared before a Greenville audience in over three years. In this time it has been widening its base until it is now an internationally known institution. Next week will be the first time people here have had the opportunity to hear them since the trip to Europe two years ago, since Harold Dyer became the director.

The choral singing of the group is considered very fine. It is a far cry from the old type of vaudeville performance that went under the name of "glee club." To the finished, artistic concert presented by these men but the public appreciation good singing by college men and takes pride in artistic achievement. On Tuesday evening at the twilight hour, beginning at 6:30 o'clock in the old auditorium, the E. C. T. C. ensemble will make its contribution to music week by giving a recital, giving music lovers the chance to enjoy some chamber music.

MOTHER

One not learned save in gracious household ways,
Not perfect, nay, but full of tender wants;
No angel, but a dearer being, all dip
In angel instinct, breathing Paradise.
Interpreter between the gods and man,
Who looked all native to her place and yet
On tiptoe seemed to touch upon a sphere
Too gross to tread, and all male minds perforce
Swayed to her from their orbits as they moved,
And gazed her with music. Happy he
With such a mother faith in woman-kind
Beats with his blood, and trust in all things high
Comes easy to him, and though he trip and fall
He shall not blind his soul with clay.

RUSH MADE FOR NEVADA

Three Hundred Unhappy Couples Are Ready for High Speed Divorce Mill

Reno, Nevada, May 2.—(AP)—A rush of 200 to 300 unhappy wives and husbands into Nevada's new high speed divorce mill was anticipated here today with the state's six week's residence law definitely in effect.

The bill was phrased to become effective "from and after May 1." Reno's two district courts completed plans for handling separations at the rate of 100 a day, if necessary to keep up with the expected deluge of petitions.

Under the new method of procedure, no cases filed under the new law were set down for hearing today. The first finished product of the new legal machinery will not appear before Monday.

Each court expected to be able to award a decree every ten minutes in uncontested cases. The great majority of the cases here are not contested. The city has 130 law firms, each of which was expected to file one or more cases today.

Thirteen divorce cases were filed at Las Vegas yesterday. Several attorneys said they would file cases today.

Las Vegas, Nevada, May 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary C. Beatty's family goes in for divorce in a big way. Each of two sons and two daughters filed suit yesterday to sever marital bonds.

Three asked divorces, charging cruelty. A minor son, Rulon K. Beatty, sued Irene Jewel Beatty for annulment, alleging she had a husband from whom she was not divorced at the time of their marriage.

The family revolt against matrimony did not grow out of the new six weeks' residence divorce law. The Beattys are long time residents.

SEEK CANNON RESIGNATION

Church Officials Declare Prelate Is Doing the Cause of the Church Much Harm

Nashville, Tenn., May 2.—(AP)—Bishop James M. Cannon, Jr., today made no claim to the presidency of the College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and by order of succession, Bishop S. R. Hay of San Antonio, Texas, was elevated to the presidency of the college.

Petitions asking that Bishop Cannon be prevented from becoming president, had been presented to the college, as had petitions seeking his resignation. He made no offer to resign but presented a statement to the college as regards the presidency.

Chicago, May 2.—(AP)—Alphonse Capone, the gang chief, was sought today by state's attorney's detectives for questioning in connection with their inquiry into the death of a man whose charred body they believed to be that of "Mike De Pico" Heitler, pioneer racketeer.

The body was found last Thursday in the smouldering ruins of an ice house near Barrington, Ill.

Acting on orders issued by Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, officers raided the Lexington hotel, reputed to be frequently used as Capone headquarters. Although they failed to find the gang chief, four of his henchmen were arrested.

The police arrested "Dago" Lawrence Mangano, reputed operator of a Capone vice, gambling and liquor syndicate.

Roche said Heitler had operated extensively as a rival to the Mangano organization. Other raids were made on resorts reputed to be run by the syndicate.

J. D. Pruett, R. E. Adams, E. G. Rogers, S. B. Tucker, H. E. Till, W. L. Tyson, J. E. Parkerson, R. L. McLawhorn, W. L. Brown, L. B. Garris, J. C. Fussell, W. G. Rush, J. O. Speight, C. M. Peel, C. E. Langston, T. D. Cooper, B. F. McLawhorn.

in the area in which Heitler operated. Police declined to reveal what they had learned.

"We will raid everywhere until we drive out every hoodlum from Chicago," Roche said. "This is just part of our campaign to clean up the city. The hoodlum is getting out. That means Capone too, and we are now looking for him."

Positive identification of the "torch victim" was sought, meanwhile by police through attempts to trace two of his gold teeth to the dentist, who had done the man's work.

Roche said after viewing the body he was convinced the man was Heitler. A partly burned automobile which Heitler had borrowed from one of two women, each of whom claimed to be his wife, was found near Itasca, 15 miles from the fire scene.

LOCAL HIGH WINS FROM WASHINGTON

By BILLY BROWN

Yesterday Greenville took great pleasure in licking soundly her oldest and closest rivals, Washington, by the convincing score of 10-4.

The Washington outfit, was without the services of her star catcher, and they played rather listless ball, but I sincerely believe that even with their catcher, Greenville would have emerged from the conflict victorious. Washington's substitute catcher was certainly snappy, but did not have any arm, and a catcher without a throwing arm is like a martinet without any wood. The whole Washington team played hard, but none of them starred because that end of the game was taken care of by Greenville lads.

The stars for Greenville were all the members of the lineup. They played smartly and well. James Burton James pitched a four-hit game, and some of those were scratches. Washington earned only about one of her four runs. He was steady with men on bases and pitched brainily. James is smart, because he does not try to strike anyone out; he tries to make each man hit, but tries to be sure that he hits somewhere that he can be put out. Captain Bullock for the locals played a fine game; Washington could not get more than a foot off the base. He also got the hits out of four times up. Madrin at first got two out of four, and was smart getting a man out for not touching first on a double. When a ball player does that, he's smart. King got two for five, and flied well.

Gaston made some almost impossible long throws after good stops. Dennis looked swell on third, and got a screaming double. Summerell got two for four, and knocked in several runs. Turnage, Register, and Brooks all looked good in the chances they got in right field. Roger Taylor, co-star pitcher with James, played center field, and he truly played it. He knocked in the first two runs, and got two for four. Then, just for spite he ended the ball game with a circus catch of a ball that looked like it might go for all bases. Boy, but he really stretched up for that one.

A game with Kinston will be played here next Friday, and all lovers of baseball are invited out to the Third Street school diamond at 3:45, when the game will start. A game is being arranged with Ayden for Tuesday, and it will be definitely announced through this organ on Monday. The time and place will be the same as mentioned for the Kinston game.

The high school needs your support, and remember to pay your admission of 25c without having to be riddoned because we have no fence or adequate way of collecting the charges. You could not help a wretched cause than the G. H. S. baseball team.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, May 2.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today following a continuation of the recent selling movement.

Week-end covering was promoted by relatively steady cables but the demand was quickly supplied and selling seemed to be a little more general as prices broke into new low ground. It was attributed largely to liquidation, believed to be partly for European accounts and was sufficient to send the market off to 9.41 for May and 9.97 for October, or about 6 to 11 points net lower by the end of the first half hours.

Liverpool cables reported continental and Bombay liquidation absorbed by trade calling and buying for a reaction in that market. A private report was issued here placing the decrease in acreage at 12 per cent and the decrease in use of fertilizer at 44 per cent. These figures showed somewhat larger decreases than recent previous reports but appeared to be without effect on the early market.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, May 2.—(AP)—Buoyancy developed in wheat prices today following reports that 13,000,000 bushels of wheat owned by Farm Board allies had been purchased for shipment overseas. The reported buyers were a syndicate that include two of the largest private export interests. It was asserted that the price of obtained equalled 61 cents a bushel, free on board vessel.

Wheat closed strong at the day's top level, unchanged to 15-8 cents higher, showing in some cases a rise of 2 cents a bushel from earlier bottom figures. Corn finished at 1-3 to 1-4 decline to 3-8 advance; oats unchanged to 1-4 down, and provisions unchanged to 17 cents setback.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 2.—(AP)—The stock market backed and filled erratically today, but turned ultimately upward in the final dealings as bears closed out part of their commitments in preparation for the week-end.

The brisk selling movement which appeared late yesterday was followed by further surges during the earlier part of today's session; but the final week-end adjustment of accounts found more short covering to be done than selling. Gains of 1 to 3 points were numerous at the finish.

Steel shares were heavy for a time. U. S. Steel breaking to within about a point of its 1927 minimum, but they rallied with the rest of the list in the final dealings. U. S. Steel closed about a point higher, and Bethlehem was up nearly 2.

American Can was a heavy spot in the early trading, dropping 3 points to get under its January minimum for the first time. It later rallied to close off only a fraction. At the bottom, at 1053-4 it was still about a point above its 1929 low, and well above the bottom price of 86 reached in the 1929 crash. The manner in which this issue has held above the 1929 bottom has been exceptional.

Auburn was a wide mover, as usual, rallying about 16 points, as compared to yesterday's net loss of 28.

Rails were soft in spots. New York Central sold off 1 point to another new low, then recovered partially. New Haven and Union Pacific lost about 2 each.

Trading was in substantial volume, sales for the two-hour session aggregating 1,300,000 shares.

A'S DEFEAT HEFTY YANK ORGANIZAT'N

By ORLO ROBERTSON
It wasn't so many months ago that George Earnshaw was buzzing 'em past the St. Louis Cardinals in the world series.

For some reason or another, however, the famed right arm that came to the rescue of Connie Mack's Athletics last fall has not been performing so perfectly this spring for George—or at least it hadn't until yesterday.

Twice Connie Mack had given his fight-handed ace the starting assignment and twice Earnshaw failed. On a two other occasions he went in as a relief hurler but was not credited with a victory nor charged with a defeat.

Yesterday, Earnshaw won the Earnshaw of 1930, who won 22 games for the world champions, as he turned the New York Yankees back with three singles and the Athletics won 4 to 0.

One of the singles came in the second while the other two were put together in the ninth in a futile rally after Mule Haas and Mickey Cochran had put the champions out in front with home runs.

Jumping into battle after a five-day layoff due to rain and cold weather, the lowly Boston Red Sox pounded three Washington pitchers all over the lot to defeat the Senators 10 to 4.

Joe Judge, veteran Washington first baseman, was forced to withdraw from the game in the sixth and was taken to a hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. His physician said he probably would be out of the game two weeks. Joey Kuhel of Baltimore will substitute for Judge.

Vic Frasier had his right arm and battle eye working on "all four" as he pitched and batted the White Sox to an 8 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Browns. The Texas rookie held the Browns to nine well spaced hits.

Charlie Sullivan stepped out of his usual role as a relief hurler, starting and finishing a game as the Detroit Tigers turned back the Cleveland Indians 4 to 2.

The battle for first place in the National league was settled, at least temporarily, when the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago Cubs 6 to 2. The victory gave the Cards undisputed possession of the top of the percentage column.

To most teams, a two-game winning streak is not much but to the Brooklyn Dodgers, it means that they probably have hit their stride after a dismal start. Heavy hitting behind the steady pitching of Joe Shauto gave the Dodgers their second in a row over the Phillies. The score was 8 to 4.

Hughie Critz, Giants second baseman, swung a powerful bat in New York's 5 to 0 victory over the Boston Braves. He clubbed out four singles and a home run for a perfect day at bat.

A base on balls proved to be the downfall of the Cincinnati Reds as they lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 4 in 11 innings. With the bases loaded Carroll lost control, passed Sankey and Paul Waner scored.

ALECK HEADS SWATTERS OF THE AMERICAN

Chicago May 2.—(AP)—Hammering over 100 points into his average during the second week of the campaign, Dale Alexander, first baseman of the Detroit Tigers, soared to the top of the American league individual batting list, according to unofficial figures which include Wednesday's games.

Alexander's terrific clip boosted his average to .490, 62 points better than the second place mark of Charlie Berry, Boston catcher.

Joe Vosmik, young Cleveland outfielder, who soared through the first 10 days of the season at better than a .500 pace, tamed down to the extent of losing 171 points, and fell from the lead to fifth place among the regulars.

Following Alexander and Berry, among the regulars, the leaders were: Spencer, Washington, .415; Ruth, New York, .400; Vosmik, Cleveland, .396; Hodapp, Cleveland, .381; Fonseca, Cleveland, .360; Paik, Cleveland, .357; Cooke, New York, .353; Melillo St. Louis .353.

Six Cleveland regulars batted .300 or better and the collective average of the pace setters was .31, two points shy of last week's mark, but miles in front of Washington's .292 for second place.

The Athletics boosted their team fielding mark four points to .937 and retained the lead with New York second at .979.

Alexander headed the individual list in total hits, with 24, had the most total bases, 36, and was tied with Vosmik in belting out doubles at seven.

Spencer of Washington had propelled in 15 runs to lead in that department, while Johnny Stone's home runs was another best mark.

Lou Gehrig, New York's wall-pitching first baseman, headed the field in stolen bases, having swiped five, while honors in triples belonged to Harry Rice, Washington outfielder, who had lashed out four three-plays blows.

Five hurlers, Herb Pennock of the Yankees; Pat Caraway of Chicago; Rube Walberg, Philadelphia; Willis Hudlin of Cleveland, and Hal McKain of Chicago had won two games, without losing any, but the most impressive record was owned by Wes Ferrell, who reached a new height Wednesday by holding the St. Louis Browns hitless and runless, for his fourth triumph in five starts.

DAVIS LEADS WITH WILLOW IN NATIONAL

New York, April 22.—(AP)—After two weeks of campaigning in the National league only Virgil Davis of the Phillies has a batting mark of better than .500, and testifying to the potency of the new ball or of the National league pitching, only two more regulars are credited with marks above .400 in the semi-official averages which include Wednesday's games.

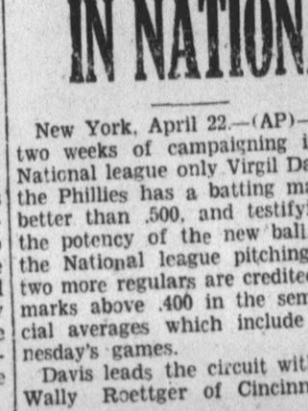

Davis leads the circuit with .552; Wally Rottger of Cincinnati is
