FALSE PR... COUNTS STAY IN BANK CASE

Judge Barnhill Refuses to Dismiss Two Allegations Against Asheville Bankers

Asheville, May 4.—(AP)—Judge M. V. Barnhill, presiding at the trial here of three officers of the defunct Central Bank and Trust Company, today announced he would not dismiss two counts of making a false report of the bank's condition.

The two counts charge Wallace Davis, president of the bank, and Dr. J. A. Sinclair and C. N. Brown, directors, with listing loans to insolvent corporations as assets in reporting the bank's condition to the State Corporation Commission.

Judge Barnhill indicated Saturday he might dismiss the counts, telling prosecution attorneys their evidence was that the Corporation Commission had allowed the reports to be made in that way and that one branch of the state government could not punish an individual for an act condoned by another.

He said this morning that he would take no action toward dismissing the counts before the evidence in the case was completed, holding a defense motion for dismissal in abeyance until that time.

After Judge Barnhill's statement, the trial proceeded. W. W. Duncan, chief bookkeeper of out-of-town accounts for the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company of New York, was called as a witness.

He testified the Central Bank and the Central Bank and Trust Company was $27,418.48. A report introduced by the state as that given the Corporation Commission by the Central Bank and Trust Company on that date it asserted it had slightly more than $2,000,000 on deposit in the New York bank.

Duncan's testimony was that after paying the city of Asheville's obligations the Central Bank and Trust Company had a balance of $40,628.13 on deposit with the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company.

This balance steadily declined until September 24, the date in question in the trial, when it totaled $27,418.48, he said. He also said that on September 27 the Central Bank was overdrawn $396.56.

Mrs. Emory McLean, bookkeeper for the County Board of Education, identified records and H. Reeves, treasurer of Buncombe county, took the stand and produced certificates of deposit issued by the bank to the county prior to September 24, 1930, totalling $644,000.

The state announced they would be used to show the bankers minimized the amount due public officials in their statement of condition to the Corporation Commission.

Mrs. G. Llewellyn, who was employed in the Central Bank's trust department, testified she signed on September 20 for a package of cancelled notes from the Central Hanover Bank. Her testimony was offered by the state in contending the defendants knew the notes had been paid out of their funds in the Central Hanover bank.

Manning Rogers Buried Sunday

Manning M. Rogers, local tobacco man, was buried in Wilson yesterday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted from his late home in this city at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Eighth Street Church of Christ, and the body was then taken to Wilson for burial.

Mr. Rogers died Friday night from wounds which he inflicted with a pistol bullet. The act was said to have been caused by despondency, although no communication was left to indicate the reason.

He had lived in Greenville about ten years, having come here from Wilson. He was a native of Mullins, S. C., and is survived by several relatives in that city.

Says Employment Relief Simply a Political Gesture

Alexander, Va., May 3.—(AP)—John Hopkins Hall, Jr., Virginia Commissioner of Industry and Labor told the Virginia conference of social work, in session here today, that President Hoover's National Employment Relief Committee was "little more than a political gesture."

Speaking of unemployment and its effect in Virginia, Mr. Hall said: "It has developed that the national committee was more a fact finding propaganda committee than one of functional relief. In the final analysis, the localities were left to work out the salvation."

Opponents of The Luxury Tax Still Hold Out Hope

Raleigh, May 4.—(AP)—Passage of the revenue bill on second reading is scheduled in the Senate tonight, but the opponents of the luxury sales tax, which is included in the bill, have by no means given up hope of victory.

The supporters of the tax, which is necessary if the six months school term is to be supported without ad valorem taxation, however, are confident that the tide has turned in their favor, and that they can pass the revenue bill, by a vote of 27 to 22, the same margin by which the Senate adopted the conference report favoring a luxury tax on cigarettes, chewing gum, soft drinks, movie admissions and many similar "non-essentials."

The House is expected to have before it the "machinery act" which provides for the collection of ad valorem taxes. Its principal provision is one deferring the re-valuation of property until 1934.

If the conference committee on the appropriation bill is able to reach an agreement, that may also be presented to the two houses tonight. The principal difference between the House is the appropriation for the University of North Carolina, the Senate having voted for $759,000 and the House for $724,000.

The new Folger-Johnson school bill, representing a compromise between the two measures originally introduced by the two senators must be acted on before the session is over. It carries a provision the counties may levy an ad valorem tax to improve the schools above the state standard, and this may lead to a ruling that it is a roll call bill requiring six days for passage.

Should this or any other hitch develop, instead of adjourning Wednesday or Thursday, the General Assembly will not be able to adjourn before Saturday, or maybe some day next week, should the two houses disagree on any pending legislation.

MARK SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Home Building and Loan Association Observes 25 Years of Service This Week

After twenty-five years of splendid service to the home builders of the community the Home Building and Loan Association is observing its Silver Anniversary this week.

A new series was opened last Saturday and will continue through this week. It is known as the "Silver Anniversary Series" in celebration of the 25 years of service, and was reported to have gotten away to a good start Saturday.

The organization was formed on May 5, 1905, and since that time has loaned money to over 1100 people for the purpose of building homes.

The first loan ever made by the association was for a house on the corner of First and Evans street. Building is still standing, as are numbers of others, as a memorial to what the organization has done toward the building of more homes for the citizens of the community.

The association has the enviable record of never having lost a dollar during its 25 years of history, and is rated among the 25 leading institutions of the kind in the state.

Regarding the organization of the Home Building and Loan Association, the Daily Reflector of the issue of Tuesday, April 10, 1906, had the following to say:

"Greenville did herself proud Monday night in the organization of a building and loan association. The meeting in the mayor's office Monday night was attended by the largest and most representative gathering of business men of the town that we have ever seen come together, and the interest they took in the organization was most gratifying. Let this interest be carried on and Greenville will show one of the best working building and loan associations in the state."

"The meeting was temporarily organized by the selection of H. W. Whedbee as chairman and D. J. Whichard, secretary. Chairman Whedbee stated that the first business should be filling out the application for a charter, which should begin with the selection of a name for the association.

"Four names were suggested—Greenville, Home, Pitt County and Tar River. A vote was taken, a majority favoring the name Home Building and Loan Association. It was also decided that the operations of the association shall embrace Greenville township. The shares were designated to be $100 each the minimum with which business should begin being placed at 500 shares and the maximum number to be in existence at any one time not to exceed 10,000 shares and the maximum number of any single series 1,000 shares.

"It was decided that twelve directors be elected to manage the association. The first seven of these were elected by acclamation one at a time, the remaining five by ballot. These were D. J. Whichard, B. W. Moseley, H. A. White, R. J. Cobb, R. O. Jeffress, H. W. Whedbee, G. S. Pritchard, D. C. Moore, C. T. Munford, R. C. Flanagan, C. O'H. Lauckinghouse, and S. T. White.

"H. A. White was elected president of the association, and the secretary treasurer will be elected by the directors.

"A count of the shares showed that 781 had been subscribed for, and it is believed the number will

BALLOT FIGHT GOES TO COURT

Federal Judges Asked for Order to Impound Ballot Boxes in North Carolina

Greensboro, N. C., May 4.—(AP)—United States District judges in North Carolina today were asked to order the ballot boxes used in the Bailey-Pritchard senatorial election impounded and the third postponed immediate action.

The petitions for impounding of the boxes were signed by the Senate sub-committee on elections, appointed to investigate the contest George M. Pritchard, republican, filed against the election of Josiah W. Bailey, democrat, as senator from North Carolina.

Judge Johnson J. Hayes granted the petition here and ordered the U. S. marshal for the middle district of North Carolina to impound the boxes and hold them for the Senate committee.

A similar order applying to the Western district was signed at Shelby by Judge E. Yates Webb.

Judge I. M. Meekins received the petition at Wilmington, but before taking any action wired Bailey asking whether he wished to oppose it.

INDICT TWO FOR FLOGGING

Ministers Charged With Whipping Man for His Failure to Stay Sober

Mena, Ark., May 4.—(AP)—Two ministers were under indictment here today for flogging a man they accused of disregarding their warning to stay sober while the Red Cross fed his family last winter.

Sheriff John E. Joplin says if they are convicted and fined, he will raise the money to pay the fines.

"I think it was a Christian act," he said.

The ministers, Rev. Sid Wise and Rev. P. R. Larimore, of the Apostolic Faith, have not been arrested. Wise, who is said by the sheriff to have whipped Bud Ralls last month in New Mexico holding a revival meeting. Before leaving here, however, he told officers if he were indicted, he would return to face the charge. Larimore was permitted to remain at liberty on his own recognizance.

The ministers admitted the flogging, Sheriff Joplin said, and added their act appeared to have the approval of residents of the community.

Wise was said by the sheriff to have warned Ralls if he went home "drunk" again, the minister would whip him.

One Friday in April Wise accompanied Ralls to Mena to get supplies for his family. The following Sunday, Ralls went home intoxicated and abused his family, Sheriff Joplin said he was told, whereupon Wise and Larimore went to the Ralls home and administered the whipping.

Wise did the whipping with a big switch while Larimore looked on and saw it was well done," the sheriff said.

Ralls did not file charges against the men but reports to the prosecution.

THREE DIE IN YOUNG WOMAN PLANE WRECK CUT TO DEATH

Pilot and Two Asheville Youths Killed As Plane Crashes At Asheville

Asheville, May 4.—(AP)—An airplane piloted by Graham Gardner of this city, who received his flying license Friday, brought death to him and two other Asheville youths yesterday in a field near Fletcher.

The other two were Paul Yow, a parachute jumper, and Sam McMullan, a passenger.

In sight of a score of persons, the plane, flying low, went into a tailspin and crashed to the earth. The three youths were killed almost instantly.

The plane was owned by the Asheville Flying Service.

Observers were unable to tell just what caused the accident. They said the plane was at an altitude of 100 to 200 feet when it went into the tailspin.

Before slipping into the fatal spin witnesses said the motor shut down and the plane dipped from side to side.

Two physicians who lived nearby reached the scene before the youths could be extricated from the wreckage. They said Gardner and McMullan were still alive when they reached them, but died a few minutes later.

The crash was in a field within a few hundred feet of the Asheville-Hendersonville highway and within a few minutes hundreds of persons had gathered there.

The accident occurred in Henderson county, but the bodies were brought here without the Henderson county coroner holding an inquest.

L. W. Wilson Laid to Rest Sunday

Funeral services for L. W. Wilson 56, were conducted from his home in the Grimesland community yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial was made in the Wesleyan graveyard. The final rites were conducted by Rev. Speight Risgo, pastor of the Free Will Baptist church.

Mr. Wilson died Saturday afternoon following a stroke of paralysis which he suffered about a week ago. He is survived by nine children and several other relatives.

Pitt Criminal Recaptured In Detroit, Mich.

Raleigh, May 4.—(AP)—Bonnie Andrews, who escaped from State's prison January 2, 1927 while serving a 30 year sentence imposed in Pitt county for abduction and assault, has been recaptured in Detroit.

State's prison officials announced today that Andrews, who escaped under gunfire at Caledonia Prison Farm after serving only five years of his sentence, would be brought back immediately.

Much Interest Is Displayed In City Election Today

Greenville electorate went to the polls today to cast its vote for a mayor and five members of the Board of Aldermen. The election gave promise of being one of the most interesting held here in years, and indications at two o'clock this afternoon pointed to the heaviest vote ever before recorded in an election of this kind.

It was estimated that over 1200 ballots had been cast at 2 o'clock and those who had watched the almost unbroken string of voters during the morning hours believed that the vote would reach at least 2,000 by the closing of the polls at sundown. The normal vote cast in an election of this kind heretofore was around 1300.

Although there was no way in the world of saying definitely which way the election was going, supporters of Mayor J. C. Lanier and

R. C. Flanagan were unanimous in declaring that their candidate would emerge victorious.

The most ardent of the Flanagan supporters were confident their candidate would win by a margin of two to one, while followers of Mayor J. Con Lanier were just as firm in their conviction that their man would win, although they ventured no claims as to the extent of the victory.

Although interest in the aldermanic race was of minor importance compared with the mayoralty contest, it was said that the constituency was rallying behind the favorites in a way that indicated some of the wards would be carried by a mighty close margin.

The election is being conducted in the corridors of the court house. Booths have been arranged.

SENATE SEEKS TO OUST SMITH

File Suit in District Court Asking Removal of Power Commission Head

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—The Senate today sought removal of Chairman Smith of the power commission through a suit filed in the District of Columbia Supreme court by its special counsel, John W. Davis and Alexander J. Groesbeck, counsel for the Senate.

Smith occupied his office illegally, they asked that the chairman be required to show by what warrant he holds office and that he be ousted if it be adjudged that he has usurped the position.

Smith was appointed chairman of the commission in December by the Senate, but in January the Senate reconsidered the nomination and declined to approve the chairman.

This second action followed an organization meeting of the commission held by Smith, and Commissioners Draper and Garsaud in which they voted to dismiss Solicitor Charles A. Russell and Chief Accountant William J. King.

WHEREAS: County Commissioner S. I. Dudley, is, to the best of his ability, firmly standing by his pre-election campaign to reduce the cost of County Government and to reduce taxation, and is opposing the other four commissioners, to wit: Staton, Joyner, Gaskins and Stokes, in continuing without effort to change it, excessive expenses for government, excessive valuation on real estate and excessive tax burden, contrary to their pre-election campaign promises.

Now, therefore, be it resolved: That we, Pitt County Tax Relief Association, and those working in harmony with it, do loyally commend and support Commissioner S. I. Dudley in his consistent discharge of duty to Pitt County as a whole, in endeavoring to reduce Pitt County's expense of government, to reduce excessive burden of taxation on real estate and his efforts to have real estate placed on the tax books at its true value; and

In our opinion it seems that Commissioners H. V. Staton, F. L. Joyner, H. P. Stokes and F. L. Gaskins, have violated their signed statement and published under the name of W. E. Hooks, Pitt County Democratic Executive chairman, in the Daily Reflector on October 25, 1930, in which they asserted: "We wish to state emphatically that if we are elected as your County Commissioner on November 4, that we will do all within our power to reduce taxes and cut expenses in every way possible." We do, therefore, disapprove the failure of the said four commissioners to fulfill their said pledge and their refusal to cooperate with Commissioner Dudley in his efforts to accomplish the things which the said four commissioners obligated themselves to accomplish.

We do further respectfully urge the several officers of Pitt County to immediately reduce to the lowest practical sum, the expense of the several offices, to the end that Pitt County Government in its several departments, may be enabled to continue to function during the existing business depression. If such reduction be not immediately made we shall, to the utmost of our ability, oppose every effort on the part of Pitt County to borrow money.

The meeting also by unanimous rising vote, adopted the resolutions printed in this paper on the first Monday in April, which had been adopted on that day and presented to the Board of County Commissioners, signed by 71 taxpayers.

Also, resolution was passed requesting the Board of County Commissioners in the event they do not

TAX RELIEF BODY MEETS

Resolutions Drafted Following Discussion at Court House Here Today

Pitt County Tax Relief association held its meeting today in the court house at which there was a large attendance. The court house was practically filled. The President, S. T. Hooker, called the meeting to order and stated his purpose. C. W. Hearne was secretary.

The meeting discussed the general welfare of the people of the county as it is affected by county government. There was much discussion relative to need for re-valuation of real estate and the attitude of the several commissioners on that subject. Following this discussion the following resolutions were, by rising vote, unanimously adopted:

"It is needless for me to emphasize the high degree of economic interdependence of the world—we require no more emphatic demonstration than the present worldwide depression. Although the United States enjoys a far greater economic independence than any other large country, yet we have been gravely affected by world forces."

"The present depression is comparable in its extreme depth and its extent only to those who have followed about the same distance after the former great wars in modern history. This depression is no doubt contributed to by many very important, immediate, economic causes to which each of you will give different weight, but I believe you will all agree with me that the destruction of life and property, and great tax burdens, and the social and political instability which resulted from the great war have had large responsibility in its origins."

"Over three quarters of the commercially important population of the world has been in a state of social and political upheaval at some time even during the past three years. Although some secondary part of this political instability may have been the result of immediate economic causes, we can not ignore the malign inheritance from the great war. These political and social disturbances necessarily undermine that confidence on which economic life, both domestic and international, must thrive."

"This is not an occasion for a view of the action and inter-cession of such a multitude of forces, but I do wish to give emphasis to one of these war inheritances in which international co-operation can effect a major accomplishment in reducing the tax burdens of the world, removing a primary cause of unrest and establishing greater confidence for the long future. That is the limitation and reduction of armament."

"The world expenditure on all arms is now nearly five billions of dollars yearly, an increase of about 70 per cent over that previous to the great war. We stand today with near 5,500,000 men actively under arms and 30,000,000 more in reserve. These vast forces, greatly exceeding those of the pre-war period still are to be demobilized even though twelve years have passed since the armistice was signed, because of fear and of inability of nations to co-operate in mutual reductions. Yet we are all signatories to the Kellogg-Brand pact by which we have renounced war as an instrument of national policy and agreed to settle all controversies by pacific means. Surely with this understanding, the self-defense of nations could be assured with proportionately far less military forces than these."

Lancaster, S. C.—(AP)—Pete H. Hindman, 6, was run down and killed here by an automobile driven by a Mr. McCroy, of Florence, who was absolved of blame.

ASKS NATION TO CUT LAND ARMAMENTS

Pres. Hoover Makes Stirring Appeal Before International Chamber Commerce

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—President Hoover today entreated business men from many nations to aid the furtherance of plans for reductions in land armament.

Addressing the first session of the International Chamber of Commerce convention, he directed attention to naval limitation agreements. Then he added that within a short time will meet to discuss the broad questions of reduction in land armament," and urged business men to "insist that this problem shall be met with sincerity, courage and constructive action."

Proposals to decrease armament, he said, transcend all others advanced for world economic rehabilitation. He interpreted the annual world expenditure of $5,000,000,000 on arms as not only a threat to business recuperation but "a serious contribution to all forms of instability, whether social, political or economic."

While the United States is not directly concerned about land force decreases, Mr. Hoover said, "we have, however, a vast indirect interest in greater assurance of peace, order and the increased economic prosperity of other nations."

The text of the President's message follows:

"I bid you welcome to the United States. You have come from many lands and at a time of grave responsibilities at home to participate in discussions that will contribute to world advancement. The consideration and discussion of worldwide economic problems and of the economic relations between nations by men who have had to deal with the results of economic forces can be most helpful to world understanding and world co-operation in their solution."

"It is needless for me to emphasize the high degree of economic interdependence of the world—we require no more emphatic demonstration than the present worldwide depression. Although the United States enjoys a far greater economic independence than any other large country, yet we have been gravely affected by world forces."

"The present depression is comparable in its extreme depth and its extent only to those who have followed about the same distance after the former great wars in modern history. ABOUT TOWN

Today is election day again in Greenville.

The voters marched to the polls all through the day and expressed their preference for a mayor and five members of the Board of Aldermen.

Just what the outcome of the contest will remain to be seen, but whatever it is should elect to the high offices should attempt to preserve the harmony which has featured the operation of the city government the last two years.

As long as there is a spirit of co-operation existing among a body of this kind the city may be expected to benefit inexpressibly, but when a spirit of strife and in-harmony exists, nothing great or good can possibly be accomplished.

All of the men in today's election are representative of the city and community, and there is no doubt that each if elected would render the highest type of service possible.

Whoever turn the tide of victory may take it to be hoped the successful candidates will keep ever before them the thought that they are servants of the public, and should always have the best interest of the municipality at heart.

Where do we go from here?

General Butler and J. C. B. Ehringhaus, highlights of last week's exposition have come and gone, and each has left in his wake considerable material for thought.

General Butler told the people of the need of eternal vigilance and warfare against the criminal element lest it should increase to untold bounds in the future. After depression, he said, the next greatest problem is the handling of the criminal, and if this great country is to be free from this form of plague it is going to be necessary to do some house-cleaning.

Mr. Ehringhaus, speaking from the wisdom of long experience with the people of this part of the state, urged the development of our own resources and in that way attempt to catch up with the spirit of progress set by the western section of North Carolina.

The tide of population and the last ten years because of the apathetic conditions of the people in this territory, he said. It is time for the awakening, and when that is realized this great section will come back into that era of prosperity which it enjoyed prior to the World war.

The dissemination of more information dealing with the possibilities of this locality was pointed out as one of the most direct ways to accomplish this ambition, the Pasquotank statesman pointed out.

This with a strictly live-at-home policy should bring untold rewards to the people in the years to come.

The people would do well to consider the statements of these two men. They speak from a wealth of experience gained from association with men and women in every walk of life, and are trying in their own way to improve the condition of the people they desire to serve.

ROBINS WIN GAME FROM THE GIANTS

By GAYLE TALBOR, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

When the Brooklyn Robins lost a ball game by ragged base running, that's not news. But when they snatch one out of the fire by spirited work on the paths, it is something to chronicle.

They beat the Giants yesterday, 4 to 3, with as pretty a piece of base running as you would want to see.

Fresco Thompson, a recent importation from Philadelphia, was perched on second base in the seventh inning, when Lefty O'Doul smacked a roller to Bill Terry at first.

Thompson lit out and, seeing Terry fumble momentarily, didn't even slow up rounding third. He beat a perfect throw to the place by an eyelash, winning the Robins their straight victory and settling a tight duel between Dazzy Vance and Carl Hubbell.

The defeat was costly to the Giants, who lost ground in their fight for the National League top as St. Louis made it three straight over Chicago, 5 to 4. The Cards went a game and a half ahead when Charlie Gelbert's squeeze bunt scored the winning run in the eleventh inning. Gabby Hartnett's third homer of the year accounted for two of the Cubs' runs off Rheim.

The Boston Braves missed an opportunity to move into third place when they dropped their fourth to the Phillies, 4 to 1. Ray Beng held the Braves to six hits. Whitney nicked Seibold for a homer with one on.

Cincinnati finally registered victory No. 2, defeating Pittsburgh, 10 to 5, in the second game of a doubleheader after the Pirates had won the first, 6 to 3. Joe Stripp, Red infelder, hit three doubles and a single in the second tilt.

Al Simmons went on one of his well known hitting sprees to give the Athletics a 3 to 1 victory over Washington in their opener. His triple drove a run across in the first inning and he added a homer for good measure in the ninth. Cronin's homer in the ninth deprived Walberg of a shutout.

The Yankees hailed Babe Ruth's return to the lineup with an 4 to 3 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. Ruth played six innings and hit a pair of singles, getting around nicely on his injured leg.

A big sixth inning, in which they scored runs and drove Thomas from the hill, enabled the St. Louis Browns to down Chicago, 9 to 5, and break a nine-game losing streak. Gray went the distance to get credit for his second victory out of four the Browns have won.

MANY SPORTS EVENTS SET FOR CAROLINA

Charlotte, May 4.—(AP)—North Carolina collegiate teams plunged this week into a regular carnival of sporting events.

More than 25 contests, with tennis and baseball predominating the card, were lined up for the six days' activity—an average of more than four combats a day.

The week started off with North Carolina at Princeton and Duke at Virginia for tennis matches and Wake Forest at Quantico, Va. to engage the Marines in baseball.

North Carolina's Tar Heels, who are out in front in the Tri-State Baseball League and undefeated in the Big Five, will keep things moving in the top ranks with a baseball game tomorrow with N. C. State at Chapel Hill.

After that will come scraps between State's nine and Virginia at Raleigh Thursday; between North Carolina and Virginia Friday at Chapel Hill and Saturday at Greensboro, and between State and Duke Friday.

More tennis matches than can be counted on the ten fingers are booked. Both the Blue Devil and Tar Heel netmen are on northern tours, meeting some of the fastest racketeers in the East. In addition, one or two good matches within the state are scheduled.

CAPS TIED WITH HORNETS FOR LEAD

Charlotte, May 4.—(AP)—With Charlotte and Raleigh in the vanguard, the eight-club Piedmont League today moved into the second week of what promises to be a snappy season of fast class B baseball.

The Caps, whose four victories and one defeat the first week put them in a tie with the Hornets for league leadership, faced the Pointers at High Point today and tomorrow.

Charlotte made another two-day stand at home, meeting the Durham Bulls, winners of a post-season play-off last year, and now tied with Henderson for a third place in this season's standing.

The Gamecocks, who topped the percentage column in the regular 1930 campaign, were back at home to entertain Winston-Salem's Twins who started the second week in seventh place.

Asheville, tied with High Point for fifth place, engaged the Patriots, the cellarites, at Greensboro.

The first week of the new season apparently settled one point. Fans who delight in the crash of the ball against the bat are going to get their money's worth.

Fourteen homers and 303 hits in all were slammed out by the eight teams in the 17 games of the first four days. These accounted for 183 runs.

The ex-Sally Hornets, led by the old clouter Guy Lacy, topped the parade in homers, hits and runs. They got eight of the four-baggers, 56 of the hits, and 37 of the runs.

High Point and Greensboro came along with two homers each and Henderson and Winston-Salem with one apiece.

CORNELIAS' JEWELS

It was a bright morning in the old city of Rome many hundred years ago. In a vine-covered summer-house in a beautiful garden two boys were standing. They were looking at their mother and her friend, who were walking among the flowers and trees.

"Did you ever see so handsome a lady as our mother's friend?" asked the younger boy holding his tall brother's hand. "She looks like a queen."

"Yet, she is not so beautiful as our mother," said the elder boy. "She has a fine dress it is true; but her face is not noble and kind. It is our mother that is like a queen."

"That is true," said the other. "There is no woman in Rome so much like a queen as our own dear mother."

Soon Cornelia, their mother, came down the walk to speak to them. She was simply dressed in a plain white robe. Her arms and feet were bare, as was the custom in those days; and no rings or chains glittered about her hands or neck.

For her only crown, long braids of soft brown hair were coiled about her head; and a tender smile lit up her face, as she looked into her sons' proud eyes.

"Boys," she said, "I have something to tell you."

They bowed before her as Roman lads were taught to do, and said: "What is it, Mother?"

"You are to dine with us today, here in the garden, and then our friend is going to show us that wonderful casket of jewels of which you have heard so much."

The brothers looked shyly at their mother's friend. Was it possible that she had still other rings besides those on her fingers? Could she have other gems besides those which sparkled in the chains about her neck?

When the simple outdoor meal was over, a servant brought the casket from the house. The lady opened it. How those jewels dazzled the eyes of the wondering boys! Smooth as satin; heaps of shining rubies, red as the glowing coals and diamonds that sparkled like sunlight.

At last the casket was closed and carried carefully away.

"Is it true, Cornelia, that you have no jewels?" asked her friend.

"Is it true as I have heard it whispered that you are poor?"

"No, I am not poor," answered Cornelia, and as she spoke she drew her two boys to her side and said: "Here are my jewels. They are worth more than all your gems." The world still likes to hear the story of Cornelia's jewels. —James Baldwin.

U. N. C. GLEE CLUB TO BE HERE MAY 7th

The University of North Carolina Glee Club, which has won for itself, throughout not only this country but also in Europe, the splendid reputation of being one of the most outstanding college glee clubs of the country will give a concert in this city on May 7th. The program of the glee club, which is one of the highest types in its field of choral music, is perhaps best described by the New York Times:

"The program was of unusually good quality and wide variety. Their choice of vocal tones ranged all the way from a robust forte to an almost inaudible piano. They evidently had been well drilled in their ensemble work, and gave their numbers with intelligence and expression." The glee club has attempted to put its program in a field of slap-stick comedy which has been adopted by the less pretentious clubs of the country. The way the public has acclaimed this program has been very gratifying to its sponsors.

As the Atlanta Constitution proclaims, "Here is a group of college boys presenting not the old-time entertainment, but one which affords the finest example of excellent pianissimo singing, clean attack, clear enunciation, and fine phrasing."

The glee club will sing under the direction of Dr. Harold S. Dyer, a well known and praised musician and director. Dr. Dyer has drilled the glee club on the fine particulars of the program until the effects obtain as Douglas Gordon says in the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch:

"Literally, it is a flawless trained chorus of men's voices which sings with almost incredible precision music of many moods and of varying degrees of difficulty."

Mr. Harry Lee Knox, the accompanist, will render two groups of piano solos. Mr. Knox has won much praise from the critics this year, and as the Winston-Salem States says: "He proved himself to be a finished player, and was enthusiastically received." Mr. Arthur H. Fleming, Jr., the baritone soloist, will also be featured in several selections.

Gillespie Preaches Final Sermon for Farmville School

Farmville, May 4.—(AP)—Giving forceful illustrations of how Jesus went about doing good, and three practical ways of following in His footsteps; "by lifting up the fallen along Life's highway, bearing each other's burdens, and bringing souls to the knowledge of Jesus", Dr. E. A. Gillespie of Greensboro, secretary of the Home Mission Work of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of 12 young ladies and 9 young men, and to a capacity audience in Perkins' Hall Sunday morning at 11:00.

Taking as his text Paul's charge to the Galatians, "As we have therefore opportunity let us do good", Dr. Gillespie made very clear his point of salvation coming only through the atonement of Jesus, and not by good works, but admonished his hearers to build in materials of gold and silver on the foundation of Christ Jesus, saying that the stars in the crowns of the saints are emblematic of service and good deeds done here on earth.

Dr. A. S. Venable, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and president of the ministerial board, conducted the service and introduced the speaker. Rev. Ford A. Burns of the Baptist church read the Scripture lesson, and Rev. H. L. Hendricks, Methodist pastor, offered prayers. Special anthems were rendered by the combined choirs of the town, with Mrs. Haywood Smith as director and accompanist.

The closing exercises of the school began with the senior play on Wednesday evening and the musical on Friday evening, the latter being given by piano pupils of Mrs. Haywood Smith. The class-day exercises will be held on Monday evening in Perkins' Hall.

Motion was adopted requesting the President of Pitt County Tax Relief Association to appoint a committee of five citizens of the County, to recommend to this Association four citizens to be drafted as candidates in the next general election, for members of the Board of County Commissioners, to run with S. I. Dudley.

At the conclusion of the business in the court room the entire body rose and marched in a quiet and dignified manner into the office of the Board of County Commissioners, it then being in session, filling the room completely and the corridors on the outside, about full. The proceedings of the meeting were reported to the Board of County Commissioners, and the resolution read and filed with the Board.

Commissioner T. E. Joyner then declared his desire to have property revalued and asked if those present wished a horizontal cut in valuations or actual re-valuation. The question was addressed to F. M. Wooten. He in turn addressed the question to those present and asked that they vote answer to his question. Vote was taken and un-announcedly favored actual re-valuation and opposed horizontal cut.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, May 4.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 5 to 8 points higher on covering and scattered buying promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables.

Reactionary sentiment was somewhat in evidence after the declines of last week and this was probably reflected by some buying for a rally, but the initial advance met considerable realizing which included some local and southern selling as well as commission house liquidation.

Prices eased off slightly in consequence, but Liverpool showed continued firmness and the market firmed up again with July advancing to 9.71 and December to 10.31 with the general list showing net advances of 6 to 10 points at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported covering with continental and Bombay buying in that market but said sentiment in cotton goods at Manchester was unsettled with order lists running down. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 2 to 4 points higher but the Indian spot quotation in Liverpool showed a decline of 6 points.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 4.—(AP)—Wall street appeared to have regained its nerve over the week-end, and share prices worked higher in quiet trading today, despite isolated heaviness of the coppers.

The better feeling engendered by the climactic upturn of Thursday appeared to be spreading once more after the setback it received when the market broke again late Friday, and closed the past week with uncertain fluctuations.

Issues selling up a point or two embraced a substantial assortment of industrials and utilities, and some of the rails. Allied Chemical pushed up more than 4, and Auburn more than 13. Shares gaining moderately included American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, North American, General Electric, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Woolworth, Eastman, American Tobacco "B", Johns Manville Atchison, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and New York Central. Bears did some experimental selling of U. S. Steel and American Can for a time in the morning but got nowhere with it.

The death over the week-end of George F. Baker was not unsettling to the financial markets, for although he wielded a power comparable to that of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, Wall street was convinced that a banker of Mr. Baker's acumen must have left his estate in such condition that extensive liquidation would be unnecessary to settlement.

Plane Nearing Hut Marooned Scientist

Angmagssalik, Greenland, May 4.—(AP)—Captain Albin Ahrenberg, Swedish aviator, was within flying distance today of the tiny hut on Greenland's ice cap where Auguste Courtauld, British explorer, has been marooned for many months.

After one false start, Captain Ahrenberg flew here yesterday from Reykjavik, Iceland, in five hours, completing a dangerous flight over the north Atlantic from Melroe, Sweden, in four stages. Formation of ice on the wings of his plane prevented him from continuing his journey in search of the isolated Britisher.

Captain Ahrenberg's immediate destination is the main camp of the British Arctic air route expedition, about 40 miles inland, and thence to the meteorological station about 150 miles inland, where Courtauld volunteered to spend the winter gathering data for a proposed air line to Canada. He plans to drop food for the explorer and possibly make a landing to bring him back.

Meanwhile, three dog-team expeditions are presumed to be nearing their objective.

The Danish cruiser Hvidbjorn lays at the Greenland ice barrier, waiting to be of assistance to the searching parties. The Icelandic patrol boat Odinn is bound back to Reykjavik from the ice barrier to obtain repairs for Sigurd Jonssen's plane.

Complete First Leg of Flight to United States

Numaki, Japan, May 4.—(AP)—The first leg of the projected trans-Pacific flight from Japan to the United States by way of the Kurile and Aleutian Islands, was completed today by Seiji Yoshiwara, young Japanese aviator, when he landed here at 3:25 p. m. (1:25 A. M. E. S. T.) after a 368-mile hop from Tokyo.

Carrying good-will messages from Premier Wakatsuka and others, Yoshiwara began his flight at Haneda airdrome, near Tokyo, at 10:10 A. M., after an elaborate ceremony participated in by W. Cameron Forbes, American ambassador, and others.

Yoshiwara's ship is a light-aluminum Junkers seaplane with an open cockpit and no radio apparatus. Seiji Noma, Japanese publisher, is the aviator's principal backer.

Thomas Ash, Jr., young American flier, who is in Japan planning a non-stop flight to America, said it would be "almost a miracle" if Yoshiwara succeeded, but wished the Japanese aviator good luck. Yoshiwara replied in kind, extending best wishes to Ash and adding, "but I fear he will never succeed."

Preacher Held for Kidnapping School Girl

Macon, Ga., May 4.—(AP)—Rev. Harry J. Long, a married Nazarene minister, was in jail in Cochran, Ga., today on a charge of kidnaping 14-year-old Levie Howard in a school bus. The girl was found here yesterday and officers quoted her as saying that she and the minister spent Friday night between Cochran and Macon.

The girl and the minister disappeared Friday from near Cochran along with the bus he recently has been driving for a consolidated school.

After Miss Howard was found she told officers, they said, that Rev. Long had been trying to get her "to run away" with him and that they had planned to go to Florida to live. She said she left with him voluntarily and he brought her to a boarding house here with the promise to return for her later.

Blood Donor Dies At Philadelphia

Philadelphia, May 4.—(AP)—The blood of Howard N. Kennedy, which he shared in transfusions to save more than 200 lives, never will be used in another operation.

The 47-year-old World War veteran and president of the Free Blood Donors' Association of America dropped dead of a heart attack at his home here yesterday.

Estimates made by friends from records they had kept, show, it is believed, that he gave his blood to more persons in transfusions than any other man. And he gave it free.

Kennedy, who numbered among his decorations a Congressional Medal of Honor, Croix de Guerre and a Carnegie Hero award, was talking to his wife when he was stricken.

In 1926 when former President Coolidge's father was dying in Vermont, Kennedy went there by airplane to offer his blood. He underwent several transfusion operations in front line dressing stations during the war and is credited with saving the lives of 18 soldiers.

Issues Ultimatum for Al Capone

Chicago, May 4.—(AP)—Pat Roche, chief investigator for state's attorney, John Swanson, laid down what he claimed to be his Alphonse Capone ultimatum today. He simply stated: "When Capone walks into his office, it'll be in custody of the law."

Roche rejected all of Capone's offers of surrender yesterday.

When the last offer, reported made through the gangster's attorneys, that he would surrender providing he was not to be locked up after questioning in connection with the supposed torch murder of "Mike de Pike" Heiter, Roche answered:

"We'll get him anyway, and when we do, we'll keep him behind bars as long as the courts will let us."

Holy Shroud Shown At Turin, Italy

Turin, Italy, May 4.—(AP)—The Holy Shroud, described by Catholic tradition as the "Clean Linen Cloth" which covered the body of Christ after He was removed from the cross, was on view here today for the first time in 33 years.

More than a million Catholics from many parts of the world are expected to make the pilgrimage here to worship near the garment which Joseph Arimathea is said to have wrapped the Saviour 1900 years ago. It will be exposed for three weeks.

The shroud was reverently removed yesterday from its jewel-studded marble case in the chapel of the Cathedral of Turin and carried into the main section of the church. The ceremony was witnessed only by members of the reigning house of Savoy, owners of the garment, high churchmen and a few guests.

The cloth is about 13-1/2 feet long and 4-1/2 feet wide. Though blackened by age and accidental flames, it bears the faint image of a human form both back and front. This is believed to have been caused by the perspiration and blood of the Master.

Proponents of its authenticity argue that it is recognized in several pronouncements of the Holy See as being the identical garment of the crucifixion. Others insist it was the work of a French artist in the 14th century and that there are many other examples.

PAYS FORTUNE FOR RELEASE

Road House Operator Paid $150,000 to Kidnappers for His Liberation

Chicago, May 4.—(AP)—A story that his entire fortune of $150,000 had been paid to kidnappers for his release, was told today by James Hackett, former gambler and wealthy roadhouse operator of the suburban Blue Island.

The 57-year-old Hackett, who weighs 240 pounds and is regarded by police as the "dictator" of the slot machine business in the southern part of Cook county, was kidnapped by a gang of men last Friday, he advised police last night.

They had seized him on the grounds of the Idaho Country Club. He was released yesterday, on payment of the money, which was turned over to his abductors by his wife and James E. Blouin, a business associate.

Hackett said his wife worked from Friday to Sunday to raise the $150,000, converting jewelry and securities into cash, even going so far as to mortgage their home. This was done on assurance that he would sign the mortgage as soon as he was freed.

A full investigation was promised by Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, who said that, while he believed Hackett was kidnapped, he doubted if the ransom price was as high as $150,000.

Hackett said he was trailed to the Idaho Country Club by the gang in two automobiles. After winding gaites around his head to prevent him from seeing, they drove him to a house which he believed was 15 or 20 miles away.

Later his wife was told by the kidnappers over the telephone that she would never see him again unless the money was paid. She and Blouin met the abductors on a country road. Hackett was freed a short while later near Melroe Park, after he had been driven around in his own automobile.
