DAVIS GOES ON STAND TODAY IN BANK CASE

President of Defunct Asheville Bank Denies That Reports on Bank's Condition Falsified.

Asheville, May 9.—(AP)—Wallace B. Davis, president of the Central Bank and Trust Company, which failed here last fall and on trial with two of its directors on a charge of violating the state banking laws, today took the stand for the defense.

Davis began his testimony with a story of his boyhood and his business life up to now.

He said his bank was one of the largest individual banking institutions in the state in 1929-30 and that as its executive officer he outlined its policies, but had nothing to do with the detailed work of the bank. He described the work of the vice-presidents and cashier.

Before he took the stand, the defense presented a number of character witnesses, including men prominent in the business and professional life of Asheville.

They testified Davis and his co-defendants, Dr. J. A. Sinclair and C. N. Brown, were men of good character.

They also said R. Vance Brown, who was assistant auditor of the bank, was regarded in Asheville as being of good character. Brown yesterday appeared as a defense witness and contradicted the story of a state witness that Davis ordered a report of the bank's condition as of September 24, 1930, made to the State Corporation Commission, falsified.

The three defendants are charged specifically with making a false report of the bank's condition. The bank failed with $1,000,000 on deposit, including $400,000 in public funds a few weeks after the report was made.

Davis testified that the office of bank auditor was created so that officials of the bank might have accurate information at all times as to its condition.

He said reports of William McCants, the auditor and a witness for the state, always had been relied upon in their entirety by officers of the bank. McCants had testified that Davis ordered changes made in the report to the Corporation Commission last September.

During the summer and fall of 1930, Davis said, he was busy trying to arrange financial support for the bank in New York and did nothing in the bank except when called on by other officers.

J. Charles Bradford, cashier, was left in charge of the internal operations of the bank during that period, Davis said, and he was expected to handle all matters in conjunction with other officers.

HARD TIMES FROM FAILURE ENTER LEAGUE

Daniels Says American Failure To Enter League Nations Responsible For World Wide Depression.

Chapel Hill, May 9.—(AP)—Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., newspaper editor, asserted that the United States' failure to join the League of Nations was largely responsible for the present world-wide depression, in an address today before the closing session of the Institute of Human Relations at the University of North Carolina here.

Daniels, who was secretary of the navy during the Wilson administration, has long advocated that this nation join the league.

"The policies of the present Republican administration," Daniels said, "were a large contributing factor to the depression, but the chief responsibility must be laid to the failure of the United States to follow Woodrow Wilson who gave warning in his last utterance touching on world problems that we shall inevitably be forced by the moral obligations of civil honor to retrieve the fatal error and assume once more the role of courage, self respect and helpfulness which every true American must wish and believe to be our true part in the affairs of the world."

"The chief responsibility for the world distress and the danger of future wars lies at the door of the American politicians who have prevented the redemption of pledges made to mankind when the United States entered war."

Dr. James T. Shotwell, of Columbia University, a historian and economist, also spoke at the final session.

He said the best method to prevent war was through an international court of arbitration and through conferences for conciliation. He cited the League of Nations as the best example of the latter.

Authorities Arrest Six Members Notorious Gang Robbers And Kidnappers

Believe Gang Has Received Six Million Dollars From Robberies And as Ransom From Kidnappings.

Chicago, May 9.—(AP)—The authorities have struck at gangland again—this time to capture, they claimed, a gang of six kidnapers and bank robbers whose loot and ransom money ran into the millions, including $200,000 taken in the Denver mint holdup of 1922.

Their proceeds were estimated by their accusers at $6,000,000, of which $1,000,000 was fixed as ransom money in kidnappings.

The six were caught in a spectacular raid on what officers described as "Gangster Flat" in downtown East St. Louis, Ill., late yesterday, as the result of the combined efforts of federal, state and local authorities.

Said by police to be remnants of the Cuckoo and Shelton gangs of southern Illinois and to have also been affiliated with the "mob" of Fred Burke, notorious killer, the six were accused of participating in more than 60 bank robberies in Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Wisconsin, including the theft of $1,000,000 from the Lincoln, Neb., National Bank on Sept. 17, 1930.

In addition to these crimes the officers attributed to the gang the slaying of Mrs. Cora Garrison, wife of Clyde Garrison, Peoria, Ill., gambler, killed October 17, 1930; the killing of Thomas J. Rooney, Chicago labor leader, March 19, 1931; and the kidnaping of Fred J. Blumer, Monroe, Wis., near-beer brewer and James Hackett, Blue Is., Ill., gambler who said he paid $150,000 for his entire fortune for his release.

The accusations against the six, whose names were given as Tommy Hayes, Thomas O'Connor, Jack Britt, Howard Lee, E. Hawks and William McQuillen, were made by Roy McWhorter and Patrick Roche chief investigator for the state's attorney's office.

The capture ended a nationwide search and more than eight months of intensive investigation, initiated by the Postal Department, McWhorter, a Chicago postal inspector said.

Information obtained by Federal officials was supplemented by the Chicago and state highway police, as well as by the "secret six" anti-crime business men's organization, which is reported to have received tips from within the state prison at Joliet and the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

Chicago police got their first information of the activities of the gang when detective sergeants Roy Steffens and Charles Tomushky, were working for solution of a gang killing in suburban Cicero, Ill. They went to East St. Louis and helped make the arrests.

Telephone calls, overheard by investigators, made between members of the gang in East St. Louis and Chicago, calling the "barnches" together for a "board meeting" was said by police to have been the immediate cause of the arrests. Ten men were taken in all, but later four of them were released.

Precautions, similar to those taken when Fred Burk was taken from Missouri to Michigan to answer for the slaying of a St. Joseph, Mich., policeman, were arranged by the officers for the overland journey of the six captives toward Chicago.

AGED WOMAN AND DAUGHTER ARE MURDERED

Bodies of Two Women Found on Farm Near Concord. No Motive For Double Slaying Been Found.

Concord, May 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Criss Starnes, 75, was found beaten to death and her 40-year-old daughter, Ada, dead and hanging from a barn rafter today on their farm near here.

The daughter's head was crushed and she apparently had been slain and hung from the rafter.

R. L. Barrier who owns the farm where the two women lived alone found the bodies. He visited the farm today and said when he received no response to a shout he pushed open the door and found the elder woman's body in the house. Later, he found the daughter's body.

The mother's body was found in the kitchen. She had numerous wounds on the head.

Barrier called Dr. I. A. Yow, coroner, and other officers. Dr. Yow said the mother's wounds indicated she had been struck with an instrument sharper than that with which the daughter's head was washed in.

He found heel prints on the porch floor of the home which he said indicated the mother had been dragged from the porch into the kitchen.

There was no blood on the porch but there was considerable in the kitchen.

Dr. Yow expressed belief the women had been dead for several hours. He said the women apparently had not fed their chickens yesterday afternoon, prepared supper or slept in their beds.

No motive for the slayings was apparent. Dr. Yow found $265.89 hidden in closets and other places in the house and said that robbery did not appear to be the motive.

The farm house is approximately three-quarters of a mile from any other. Neighbors said they had seen no one on the farm yesterday.

Says $100 Too Much To Pay For Return Of $13,000 In Bonds

St. Paul Minn., May 9.—(AP)—Pay $100 to recover $13,000 worth of lost bonds? No, sir! Fifty dollars reward is enough.

So think F. A. Barcus of Madisonville, Ky., bond broker, who lost the negotiable securities in the washrooms of a hotel here yesterday. Mr. Barcus advertised his loss and offered $50 reward.

He received two telephone calls, saying the bonds would be returned if the reward were doubled.

"I'll not pay $100," said Mr. Barcus. But he expects to hear from his mysterious telephone correspondent again, and perhaps reach a compromise.

The party was returning from a dance here. Near the city boundary, Hoggard said he was blinded by the lights of an approaching automobile, swerved from the road and the car overturned.

In addition to the Atlanta pastorage, he had held pastorates at Hartsboro, and Orville, Ala.

Survivors of the tragedy said the accident was due to something going wrong with the steering gear, causing the minister to lose control of the car.

ASSEMBLY RECESSES FOR THE WEEK-END STILL IN DEADLOCK

PRESIDENT TO TALK BUSINESS OVER WEEK-END

To Devote Time To Conferences Dealing With Problems of Various Governmental Branches.

Orange, Va., May 9.—(AP)—President Hoover arrived at the Rapidan fishing camp in the forenoon today and immediately began a series of conferences with War Department officials.

Instead of whipping a line over the Rapidan river, Mr. Hoover had arranged conferences with Secretary Hurley and the heads of various branches of the War Department. Special attention was to be given to non-military activities of the department.

In addition to President and Mrs. Hoover and Secretary and Mrs. Hurley, the list of guests for the week-end included Assistant Secretary and Mrs. Payne; General Mac Arthur, Chief of Staff; Major General Mosely, assistant chief of staff; the chief of the army engineers; and Mrs. Brown, the quartermaster general, and Mrs. D. Witt, Chairman Wood of the House appropriations committee.

Earle Kinsley, Republican National committee man from Vermont, and Mrs. Kinsley, Theodore Joslin and Mrs. Joslin, and Lawrence Richey.

The study of the War Department problems was the first of a series to be held at the Rapidan on policies affecting various governmental branches.

Gunman Asks For Speedy Punishment

New York, May 9.—(AP)—Frank (Two-Gun) Crowley, held for killing Policeman Frederick Hirsch last Monday, asked authorities today to "get it over with, quick."

"What's the use of foolin' with a trial, and all that bunk?" He asked, petulantly, from his hospital cot where he is recovering from bullet wounds suffered in the seizure and fight that resulted in his capture Thursday. "If I'm going to burn, it might as well be right away."

Just as one girl's tip was responsible for his arrest, the testimony of another is counted upon by the state to be the strongest link in his prosecution.

A blonde dancer, Billie Dunne, in whose West 90th street apartment, Crowley and Rudolph "Fat" Durringer were captured, was responsible for her former sweetheart's arrest, police said.

Crowley telephoned her at the apartment "to get out and make room for a regular girl." Police got the information from the dance hall where the Dunne girl works as a hostess.

Crowley's comment to his guards as he was being taken to jail was "You ought to give a badge to Billie Dunne. She's a cop now."

Helen Walsh, 16, who was with him in the bullet and gas spattered building when 200 police surrounded it Thursday, will be the main witness at his trial for the murder of Frederick Hirsch, Nassau County policeman. Miss Walsh was in an automobile with Crowley when Hirsch was shot.

New York, May 9.—(AP)—An unidentified seaman died today aboard the United Fruit liner Ulua after he had been taken off the burning tanker Ruth Kellogg, 250 miles south of Cape Hatteras. The report of the death was received at New York headquarters of the United Fruit Company.

Bound for New Jersey from Texas, the Ruth Kellogg caught fire Friday and the flames were brought under control after three hours. The injured man was taken aboard the tanker John D. Archibald, and then transferred to the Ulua as better medical attention became necessary.

One of the crew of the Ruth Kellogg is still missing.

Held For Fatal Fire

James V. Foster, 49-year-old salesman of Greeley, Colo., was arrested in connection with a fire that swept the bedroom of his home killing his wife and three children.

NEW RUMORS OF RE-MARRIAGE CAROL - HELEN

Former Queen Helen, of Rumania, Reported Returning Home Tomorrow To Join Her Husband.

Bucharest, Rumania, May 9.—(AP)—Queen Helen of Rumania is coming home tomorrow morning from Belgrade, where she is visiting her sister-in-law, the Queen of Yugoslavia, prepared, it is believed, for a reconciliation with King Carol.

In quarters which usually are trustworthy it is said that King Alexander of Yugoslavia proposed the reconciliation, and it is believed that Queen Helen accepted his offer as mediator.

Last week King Carol and King Alexander had an unusual conference in a small boat, in which they rode together down the Danube. Neither has disclosed the nature of their conversation at that time.

Those who profess to know King Alexander made a serious effort to overcome King Carol's resentment at the attitude his queen took in divorcing him while he was living in exile in Paris.

Carol, it is said, told Alexander he was prepared to consider a reconciliation under certain conditions which Alexander has now made known to Helen.

These conditions, it is understood concern Helen's future attitude toward other members of the family. It is believed that Helen told Alexander she was ready to accept Carol's proposal and that Carol invited her to return to Bucharest so that they might attend together tomorrow a military parade marking the fiftieth anniversary of the enthronement of King Carol I.

Uncover Plot To Assassinate Carol

Bucharest, Rumania, May 9.—(AP)—The police were reported today to have uncovered a plot to assassinate King Carol tomorrow on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the enthronement of Carol I.

Although the police issued an unqualified denial, the report was to the effect that authorities had arrested an individual who lay concealed under the stands from which King Carol and the royal family planned to watch the military parade. He was reported to have been armed with a revolver and prepared with ample food supplies.

METEOR SEEN IN STATE LAST NIGHT

Charlotte, May 9.—(AP)—A meteor of brilliant bluish hue was seen over this section early today. It burned but a few seconds, but at Salisbury was reported to have produced a light almost as bright as day.

Conferees To Meet Monday Afternoon

North Carolina General Assembly will in a week-end recess, with its revenue and appropriations bills still unvoted.

The House met at 10 o'clock to consider local bills only, and a factory session to carry the requirements of the constitution while the Senate has adjourned Saturday session, by meeting the clock past midnight.

The House will not vote on public bills again until Monday night, but on Monday morning the conferees will meet to discuss the revenue bill.

Under the General Assembly's rules the Senate conferees are to accept any form of agreement while the House conferees are not to accept any agreement and to carry out the House's state support of the revenue school.

While recognizing that they are working under certain restrictions, House conferees are hoping to secure some sort of a compromise.

The House has been in conference with its conferees, Representatives of Beaufort, Allen of Spence of Moore, Cherry of Johnston, Connor of Wayne, Person, and Hood of Wayne.

The Senate, however, has a conference committee consisting of anti-sales tax men and pro-sales tax men.

Senators Dunlap of Johnston of Surry, Ranking of Gravelly of Nash, and Rowan. Senators Wake, Fritchett of Burke, Clark of Edgecombe, tax men, resigned from the militia yesterday when they voted in favor of an amendment on property and against tax.

A proposal that the schools of the state be under the MacLean law under the high schools remain on the counties, organized by Senator Dunlap to the senate committee, is reported in the conference. This proposal cost about $12,000,000 and does not necessitate any form of tax.

In addition, however, an ever proposed amendment.

Possibility that House would report a bill which an ad valorem tax on members of the conferees committee contended that the work for a bill which would not report on the bill, however, directed that the bill be reported.

The rift in the assembly revenue, which appeared to have been closed Monday with a report on the bill passed by the House and by the Senate, was reopened Tuesday night when the Senate 25 to 24 on some revenue.

During the week-end recess the Senate has a personal appearance in Assembly in a special session to adopt the principle of the Leach law for school support on an ad valorem tax to recognize that the measure is a small one and to be levied for the next year. The message apparently will effect, despite the agreement for speedy action by the House of the Democratic party.

The Long bill to amend the constitutional amendment to be at the next election on the creation of a committee to separate from judicial power enacted into law when the Senate.

Representative A. D. Beaufort, urging the House to pass the bill, said it is in position on a charge that "too many" too many members of the House did not believe in the measure and that the measure was not a measure of the House.

ABOUT TOWN

Mothers Day will be fittingly observed in Greenville tomorrow, and ministers of the various churches will deliver sermons in keeping with the significance of the occasion.

It is impossible to calculate the multitude of blessings which mothers have bestowed upon the children of all ages, but it may be said without fear of contradiction that her gentle spirit is at the foundation of this great government which we all claim to be the most important in the world.

Thank God that the name of mother has been enshrined in the hearts of the American people through the observance of this peculiar day. May her gentle spirit forever dominate the fre-sides of this prosperous nation, inspiring the children of all generations to attempt to carry on to the realization of greater dreams of human achievement.

Construction of new homes is continuing in Greenville at this time despite the almost insistent plea of depression which has been heard on every side the last several months.

During the past month the city of Greenville issued permits for permits for the erection of an even half dozen residences involving an outlay of between $40,000 and $50,000.

This evidence of growth at a time when other parts of the country are talking hard times is a splendid augury for Greenville, and should prove an inspiration to surrounding communities.

Greenville is living up to its reputation as the "Hub of Eastern Carolina," and if the growth of the future compares with the past it should be able to maintain the distinction without any trouble.

Not long ago the writer of this column had occasion to comment on the honor accorded Edward Thomas local boy, upon his elevation to the presidency of the State Collegiate Press Association.

The young man, a student at Duke University, has been the recipient of further honors this week. He has been made editor-in-chief of his college publication, and selected a member of a service fraternity where scholarship and ability are requisites to gain the honor of membership.

Young Thomas has established quite a reputation during his college term, and Greenville is looking forward to greater honors for him in the years to come when he has left the school SHRDLUU his place in the road and din of industry.

The city and county have deferred the advertising of property of delinquent taxpayers until October 1.

This is in accordance with a recent act of the legislature empowering officials to postpone advertising plans if they deem such necessary. Many towns and counties have adopted the plan in an effort to aid the taxpayers, hoping that the majority will settle up before the extension has expired.

The people should show their appreciation of the delay as much as possible and attempt to settle up their taxes at their earliest convenience.

The shortage of tax collection is proving a severe handicap to virtually every part of the state, and it has become necessary for the majority of governments to borrow money until the taxes are collected. This is a situation that is to be deplored, and it is hoped the people who are behind with their taxes, will use every influence to obtain sufficient money to meet their obligations, and unless they can collect they are put in an embarrassing position such as that which the majority are confronting at this time.

The aldermen have had so many complaints about the condition of Cherry Hill cemetery that they are determined to bring about an improvement immediately.

The city has kept walks and hedges in good shape for years, but private lots have been left to the care of individual owners, because of the fact that three cemeteries are involved in the one. The question of whether the city is responsible for the upkeep of the private lots is up for consideration at this time, and will be definitely settled in the near future.

The aldermen agree that something should be done to keep all the lots in a tidy condition, but they feel that they should receive the help of the private lot owners, especially those in the two cemeteries outside the one owned by the city in the Cherry Hill development. It is something in which the entire community is interested, and everybody should aid the city fathers in finding a solution to this problem.

MOTHER.

You painted no Madonnas
On chapel walls in Rome,
But with a touch divine
You lived one in your home.

You wrote no lofty poems
That critics counted art,
But with a nobler vision
You lived them in your heart.

You carved no shapeless marble
To some high soul design,
But with a finer sculpture
You shaped this soul of mine.

You built no great cathedrals
That centuries applaud,
But with a grace exquisite
Your life cathedraled God.

Had I the gift of Raphael,
Or Michaelangelo,
Oh! what a rare Madonna
My mother's life would show.

MR. AND MRS. TURNAKE. LEAVE FOR ALBERMARLE. Farmville, May 8.—Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Turnage and children left this week to make their home in Albermarle. Mr. Turnage, a former cashier of the Citizens Bank, accepted a position with the Page Trust Co., in Troy, in January of this year, and has been recently transferred to Albermarle.

Mr. Turnage and his charming wife make a delightful couple, having been most popular and very active in all phases of community life here, and will be greatly missed. Mr. Turnage, who is a native of Farmville, has served as town commissioner and as chairman of the board of the Christian Disciples Church for several years, and was a member of the local Rotary Club.

Club Party. Farmville, May 8.—The Contract Club charmingly entertained at a bridge party on Wednesday evening, honoring two members of the club, Mrs. H. W. Turnage, who leaves this week to make her home in Albermarle, Mrs. W. D. Bryan, who will soon make her home in South Boston, Va., and husbands of the club members.

The reception room of the American Legion Home was elaborately decorated with blue iris, snapdragons, and tulips, and the punch table was especially attractive. Here guests were served as they arrived by Mrs. I. E. Satterfield and Mrs. M. V. Horton. Bridge was played at seven tables. Mrs. J. Loyd Horton winning the ladies' prize, and W. E. Joyner being awarded the men's prize. The honorees were given pieces of Italian pottery.

Strawberry shortcake was served. Progressive Bridge Club. Farmville, May 8.—Mrs. L. T. Pierce was hostess to the Progressive Bridge Club on Tuesday afternoon with additional guests, making up six tables. The home on Pine street was attractively decorated with a variety of spring flowers. Mrs. J. H. Darden was winner of the high score prize, a guest towel, and Mrs. H. W. Turnage, who will leave soon to make her home in Albermarle, was remembered with a lovely evening handkerchief. A pineapple salad course was served after the game.

OLIVE JACKSON 4-H CLUB GIRL WINS STATE HONORS

Miss Olive Jackson of Winterville has recently been chosen to represent the 4-H clubs of North Carolina at the National Club Camp at Washington, D. C., together with Louie Elliott of Stanley county, Boyce Brooks of Duplin county, and Ralph Suggs of Gaston county. These four young people have been chosen from more than 20,000 4-H club members and the honor bestowed upon them by the State Agricultural Department is one worth striving for. Each year two boys and two girls are selected from each state to attend the National Camp in June. They go as guests of the United States Department of Agriculture and are entertained by their while there.

In addition to the camp trip, Miss Jackson has been awarded free railway fare, including Pullman and other incidental expenses, to and from Washington and all camp expenses by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company.

Miss Jackson has received these honors because of her 4-H record for the past several years, and because of her activities as a 4-H club leader. She has done project work in clothing, food and room improvement. When she was ready for college, she had accumulated $345.50 to help with her expenses at Mars Hill where she entered last fall. As a leader she has helped her local club by teaching and helping others with their project work. She has helped the county organization materially on several occasions, especially through her efforts during the fair season by collecting and displaying 4-H exhibits in the county and in the district.

At home, in school, in church and in club, Miss Jackson's influence has been felt and Pitt county is justly proud of the honor she has brought to us all.

Text Of Dr. R. H. Wright's Address Confederate Memorial Service Held At Teachers College Yesterday

Friends, as one looks over the world today and as one hears the many notes of discouragement that are constantly being struck it seems to me that it is a time when people should realize that God works in mysterious ways His wonders to perform. I am not one of those who believe that everything on earth is going to the bad. I am not one of those who firmly believe that God is in His Heaven, and that all is well with the world. I do not mean by that that there are no problems to be solved; I do not mean by that that there are no difficult tasks for you and for me, but I do mean that in times like these we find our opportunity to do service that is really worthwhile. In periods of depression men are made more worthwhile. It isn't the periods of prosperity that bring to the world real character in human beings. It is the period when all human beings realize that something needs to be done, that sacrifices must be made; it is in these periods that people begin to weigh values and to realize the worthwhile things of life. The hundred years war brought to certain sections of Europe a complete breakdown of human society. The War between the states in America produced a generation of sacrifice and suffering on the part of the people who lived in our Southland. Following every great war there has been a let-down, apparently, of standards of life that were there before war began. We are today on this side of the greatest conflict the world has ever known and we are today in that period of adjustment following that great world conflict, but the "let-down" has been nothing in comparison with that following the hundred years war, or that war in which those fought whom we are honoring today. When we think of this, there is reason for us to take hope and realize that God is in His Heaven, and all is well with the world. It is time for us to have faith. I am not going to talk to you this morning about the war between the states. Every American whether he was on the one side or the other is proud of the record of the Southland and we people in the Southland are particularly proud of the soldiers that were in our army. We love the remnant of the army with a love that is almost sacred. There is in our hearts a spirit of reverence for those folks who dared to do and dared to die for a cause they believed was right, and it is well for us that we feel that way. It is well for us that we can measure the value of the things in the past because it will help us today to measure values and solve the problems that confront us today.

As I see it, we are in a period just before the dawn of the brightest day that this world has ever had. I know that there are thousands upon thousands of people throughout the world today who do not believe that, but I am quite sure, as a student of history and as one who realizes that the let-down followed that great world conflict has followed all previous conflicts, and because I have faith in Jehovah, that this hour is only that dark hour which comes just before the dawn; and that there is before us the greatest opportunity that has ever come to men and women on the face of the earth.

"Woe unto ye of little faith!" We need faith today as we have never needed it before; we need hope today as we have never before needed it; we need love; faith in God, in our fellow-men, and especially, faith in the youth of today, and hope for the future. We need faith and out of that faith action that will bring to pass that bright day just in front of us. We need love; that love that makes man love his enemies, and makes us sacrifice for the common good; love for God, love for high ideals, love for our fellow-men. With that kind of love and hope that burns eternal and faith that we need so much, I am quite sure that the youth of today are going to solve the problems of tomorrow, and that tomorrow is going to be the most glorious the world has ever known, and that the civilization of a few years from now is going to be the most satisfying and helpful this glorious world has ever had.

God moves in mysterious ways His wonders to perform. And God is at work with the sons and daughters of man today to bring about a realization that is worldwide that all men are brothers and that man cannot live by bread alone. It means the dawning of a day when people will realize the spirit of the Master who said that He came to give us life and that we might have it more abundantly. He came to show us the way to live the fuller life. I firmly believe that in just a few years we will enter into that day when men and women the world over can live a much fuller life than those who have gone before. In this I am sure that I am voicing the sentiment of the lone soldier who is with us today.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, May 9.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 6 to 10 points on over night buying orders attracted by the firmness of yesterday and some buying on the relatively steady showing of Liverpool.

The demand was not in large lots but was fairly active on the advance which carried July to 10.19 and December to 10.79 at the start. I was supplied by realizing while there also appeared to be some New Orleans and commission house selling which caused reactions of 5 to 6 points from the best during the early hours.

July sold off to 10.13 but the market at the end of the first half hour was quiet and fairly steady at rallies of a point or two from the lowest, with active months showing net gains of 4 points. Some traders were inclined to take rather a more favorable view of the weather while others thought it still too cool and showery.

Liverpool cables reported Continental and Bombay buying in that market and said that the spot sales of 10,000 bales reported included 7,000 bales of Russian cotton.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, May 9.—(AP)—Wheat and corn both made decided advances today, wheat affected bullishly by reports of severe delays of seeding in Russia. Only a third as many acres of spring wheat as was estimated, had been seeded by Russia this season as a year ago.

State Price Briefs

Charlotte, May 9.—(AP)—The annual Virginia-North Carolina baseball classic at Greensboro was on tap today for the fans of the two states.

The Cavaliers went into the fray eager for vengeance for a 6 to 2 licking they received yesterday at Chapel Hill in an ancient series with the Tar Heels.

George Hinton allowed the visitor, but three hits, and John Peacock, center fielder, tapped out a long homer in the fifth with the bases full to make the victory safe for the home team.

As an added attraction to today's program the N. C. State and Duke nines will clash at Raleigh.

North Carolina's southern track champions, 18 strong, were at Penn State today for a dual meet. They risked a record of no dual losses in the inter-sectional meet.

Davidson's tennis team turned in a 4 to 3 victory over the Citadel yesterday at Davidson. Guilford defeated Lenoir-Rhyne, 8 to 6, in a baseball game at the Quaker home field.

FRIENDLY INDIANS HOLD MEETING

The regular weekly Pow Wow of the Friendly Indians was held last night in the old library. The two tribes, Cherokee and Mohawks were there in full force. Four new members sat in council and joined the tribes in the pledge of Alliance to the Flag of the United States, the Friendly Indian Code of Honor and the Lord's Prayer.

For the interest of boys thinking of joining the Friendly Indians, we are explaining our Code of Honor: "Live Pure, Speak Truth, Right Wrong and Follow the Trail." 1—"Live Pure" A Friendly Indian is clean in mind and body. He will at all times stand for clean speech, clean habits, clean sport. He is reverent towards God and must respect every boy's religion. Catholic or Protestant.

2—"Speak Truth." A Friendly Indian is expected to speak the truth and win the confidence of those he plays and lives with.

3—"Right Wrong." A Friendly Indian does at least one good deed each day. He must equip himself so that he is prepared at all times to help to save life, help injured persons and above all help mother and father. Like the knights of old, he is kind to all, especially to women and children, the old, weak and helpless. He may take money for work, but not take tips for good turns.

4—"Follow The Trail." A Friendly Indian is loyal to mankind, his home, his parents and his country. He follows the World Trail toward international peace by a better understanding of the people of the world.

The Pioneers had a fine time out camping last night. They returned early this morning. All the boys will meet at the Junior room at 11 a. m. today to go for a swim.

VACATION TIME—ACCIDENT TIME

Each year the accident list increases during the summer months. Women and children head the list. I have secured special policies that will protect them financially. $5,000 housewife policy, pays for one day to two years disability, extra for hospital. Covers every kind accident, at home, work or play. Cost only $15 annually. Smaller policies for less money.

Special auto accident policy, $1,000 for boys and girls, ages 7 to 16. Pays extra for hospital and nurse fees. Also sold to everybody, to age 70. $5 per year. Health and accident policies for business and professional men and women. Pays from one day to last day disability. This lifetime feature is unusual, as most policies now limit health to 12 months and the need is greater the second year.

Resigned from the Provident April 28th, but have coverage from four old line companies, their contracts embrace every need. A policy for every purse, protection for every person. House confinement not required. Further information can be obtained by seeing me at J. Hicks Corey's office or phones 150 and 280-W, or write Box 71.

Past patronage has been appreciated and with increased lines, trust I may serve you better in the future.

CLAUDE TUNSTALL, H. and A. Specialist. (Adv.)

WEAK, SICK, BUT DIDN'T GIVE UP

Strength Gradually Came Back After Lady Had Taken Cardui For a While.

"I was weak and sickly and felt like giving up, but after taking a few bottles of Cardui I felt better and regained my strength," writes Mrs. J. J. Monk, of 1450 Barry Avenue, Dallas, Texas.

"I was badly run-down. I dragged around the house, and was unable to do housework. I felt so weak and sickly—I felt more than once like giving up. I was awfully discouraged.

"After I got some Cardui and began taking it, I soon began to get better. Gradually my strength has come back, and now I feel fine.

"I can always praise Cardui for what it has done for me, and I hope that all women who are weak and sickly will take Cardui, for I do think that Cardui is a wonderful medicine for women."

Go to your druggist, (or phone him), for a bottle of Cardui, today, and give this old, well-known medicinal tonic a thorough trial. It may do you a lot of good, like it has so many others.
