Begin Probe Of Bribery And Corruption Among Members Of The Senate

Eight Subpoenas Placed in Hands of Sergeant-at-Arms for Immediate Service; Senator Ward of Beaufort County Is Named Chairman of Inquisitorial Committee; First Testimony to Be Taken at 3 O'clock Tomorrow Afternoon

Raleigh, May 12.—(AP)—While O. P. Shell, sergeant-at-arms, was engaged in serving eight subpoenas requiring persons to appear before the Senate committee named to investigate the charges of bribery and corruption of senators the Senate debated a motion to reconsider its action but took no vote on the proposal.

Senator Johnson of Duplin made the motion this afternoon that the Senate reconsider the vote by which it authorized an inquisitorial group of five of its members but the body adjourned until noon tomorrow with the motion still before it.

Raleigh, May 12.—(AP)—The North Carolina Senate committee appointed to investigate charges of bribery and corruption of senators today placed an unannounced number of subpoenas in the hands of O. P. Shell, sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, for immediate service.

Senator Ward of Beaufort, author of the resolution authorizing the investigation, was understood to have been named chairman of the inquisitorial group at its first session, held behind closed doors this morning.

Senator Ward and other members of the committee of five refused to divulge names of persons summoned and also declined to say how many were called.

The first testimony will be taken at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at a hearing in the State Revenue building here. Senator Ward said he added that it had not been decided whether the hearings would be open to the public or not.

By unanimous vote the Senate last night passed a resolution offered by Senator Ward of Beaufort to authorize an investigation of "any and all reasonable and credible charges of corruption on the part of any person toward any senator."

The vote on the resolution came after Senator Ward declared he had "specific information" of offers of bribery and that he would secure a bench warrant for the arrest of the alleged offerer and secure information that way, if his resolutions were sent to committee.

Lieut. Gov. R. T. Fountain named a committee of five senators who were to organize themselves today. The committee follows: Senators Fritchett of Beaufort; Haywood of Cabarrus; Ward of Beaufort; Lovell of Watauga and Nixon, of Lincoln.

The committee, under the resolution, has "full authority and power to sit at any place in the state and to investigate any and all reasonable and credible charges of corruption on the part of any person, whether the act so investigated shall have been consummated or shall have been attempted to the extent of showing a readiness and willingness and effort on the part of such person or persons."

If its work is completed before the General Assembly adjourns a report will be made to the Senate. Afterwards, the committee will report to the governor. Expenses are provided from the Senate's contingent fund.

The introduction of Ward's resolution threw the Senate into a tense silence. He had it read but made no comment.

It declared that "a member of the Senate arises at his place in the open Senate while engaged in its deliberations and solemnly announces that rumors from a most credible source believed by him to be genuine and truthful, have come to his attention, containing statements of fact which if true will show direct overt acts of corruption on the part of certain persons in this state, and directed to a member of this Senate, touching his official duties."

Several senators rose in protest. When they withdrew their objections Senator Ward threatened to get a bench warrant for the investigation.

Meanwhile, the battle over the revenue bill, still in conference, was overshadowed by the looming investigation. The Senate conferees yesterday decided to offer the House conferees two propositions, both of which the House is expected to reject, that look to state support of the elementary schools only and to an equalization fund of about $10,000,000 based on a 25 cent county ad valorem tax.

VISITS CITY FOR REUNION

Confederate Disappointed to Learn That Memorial Day Was Held Friday

Walter Barfield, of Gastalia, Confederate veteran, came to Greenville yesterday to attend Memorial Day exercises and was greatly disappointed to learn that the occasion was observed last Friday.

He observed that he had been attending reunions here since the ending of the war, and would have been on hand Friday had he received notice of the change of date. He said he felt confident the occasion would be observed Monday with the 10th coming on Sunday. Declaring that he hoped he would be notified in due time of any future change of date, he returned to his home in Gastalia late in the afternoon without the pleasure of having mingled with the men who fought with Lee and Jackson in the immortal struggle for supremacy of the nation.

Mr. Barfield said he was 85 years of age. He enlisted with Company A, First Regiment of the Confederate Army, during the early part of the war and was among the last to lay down arms and return to the upbuilding of the desolate southland.

Since that time, he said, he had been attending reunions in this part of the county and never tired of mingling with his buddies and hearing them relate stories of the conflict in which so many of them paid the supreme sacrifice. He was among the few who were present at the celebration here last year, and a tear stood in his dim eyes as he mentioned the fact that two of them had joined the ranks of the dead since that time.

Had Mr. Barfield been here Friday he would have been greeted by D. F. Robinson, of Martin county, the only veteran present at the reunion. The Martin county man, like Mr. Barfield, has been a visitor to the reunions of the Bryan Grimes camp of the Confederacy as far back as he could remember, and deplored the fact that he happened to be the only one to take part in paying tribute to the heroism of Confederate dead.

The exercises here consisted of the usual parade to the cemetery to place flowers upon the graves of the dead, and exercises at the East Carolina Teachers college where Dr. R. H. Wright paid tribute to the intrepid spirit of the men of the south.

Then, also the lone son of the Confederacy was given the opportunity to speak, and he told of some of the stirring days of the war in a way that gripped the fancy of his hearers.

The eyes of Veteran Barfield brightened considerably as he was told of the exercises, and repeated the wish that he be notified of any change in date of future reunions.

He complained of having a "hurting" in the top of his head and was directed to a dose of "salizer" or a similar mixture which the druggist declared had cured the headache of many other veterans.

DEFER PROBE INTO DEATHS IN CABARRUS

Inquest Into Slaying of Two Women and Man Postponed Until Tomorrow

Concord, May 12.—(AP)—An inquest into the slaying of Mrs. Criss Starnes and her daughter, Ada, near here Saturday and the subsequent suicide of R. L. Barrier, 47, owner of the farm where the women were slain, today was postponed until tomorrow.

Sheriff Ray C. Hoover said it was postponed because of the discovery of new evidence and the inability of all witnesses summoned to be present for the hearing.

Solicitor Zeb V. Long, of Statesville, is expected to attend. More than 50 witnesses have been summoned.

Among the witnesses summoned are Carl Jack and Jeff Barrier, sons of the land-owner, Clyde Barrier, brother of R. L. Barrier; Adam Faggart Lester and Eric Smith who found Barrier slain near his home yesterday, and Carl Love, tenant, on the Barrier farm, who is held as a material witness in the slaying of the two women.

Officers said the inquest into the Barrier suicide would be held as a preliminary to the inquest into the killing of the Starnes women and would be directed towards establishing a motive.

Last Saturday morning, Robert L. Barrier, 45, discovered the bodies of the women on the premises of a tenant house they occupied on his farm.

Both had been beaten on the head with a heavy, blunt instrument, and the body of the younger woman hanged by a rope from a joist in a barn on the place.

Early yesterday, after he had borrowed a shotgun at the home of a brother in the community, Barrier was found in a public road nearby with the top of his head blown off. Authorities, after investigating, decided he had committed suicide.

Early today they had disclosed nothing that would link the suicide with the slaying.

An investigation started Saturday and given added impetus by the death of the plantation owner, was pressed through last night in preparation for the inquest. The investigators indicated they were puzzled but said they expected momentarily to uncover "startling evidence."

REVIVAL WILL BEGIN SUNDAY

Dr. Ben Lacy to Conduct Series of Services at the Presbyterian Church Here

Plans have been virtually completed for the evangelistic services to be conducted at the Presbyterian church here by Dr. Ben Lacy, president of the Union Theological Seminary of Richmond, Va. It was said today by members of the committee on arrangements. The revival will begin next Sunday and continue through the 24th.

The coming of Dr. Lacy, for years one of the most prominent ministers of the denomination in the south, has attracted attention of members of all congregations here, and Presbyterians will make every effort to accommodate the crowds expected to fill the building to capacity each day.

Two services will be held daily, one in the morning and the other at night. The hour of the morning service has not been fully decided upon at this time, but will be made known before the series of services begin.

Inspirational song services will precede Dr. Lacy's sermons each day, and these will be directed by one of the foremost song leaders of the south.

Dr. Lacy, son of the late B. E. Lacy, for many years treasurer of North Carolina, is well known in Greenville, having delivered a principal address before the Pitt County Post of the American Legion here last November.

Dr. Lacy is known to hundreds of veterans of the world war, having served as chaplain of the 113th Field Artillery. He was denominated the "Fighting Parson" by reason of his bravery in manning captured German guns while in action in France.

Dr. Lacy was an honor student at Davidson college, and during his college life took an active part in many forms of athletics. During his senior year he won the Rhodes Scholarship and spent three years in Oxford, England, in study. He graduated later from the Union Theological Seminary at Richmond and did graduate work at Princeton.

His first pastorate was in a country church in Johnson county, N. C., and while there he accepted appointment as chaplain of the 113th Field Artillery. While in France he was elected pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Atlanta, Ga., and held this position until his elevation to the presidency of the Union Theological Seminary.

Accuse Capone of Attempt to Control Cleaning Industry

Chicago, May 12.—(AP)—Alphonse Capone, the gang chief, was accused today of threatening to seize control of the cleaning and dyeing business in Chicago.

The accusation was made by Dr. B. M. Squires, chairman of the Cleaners and Dyers Institute of Chicago, who said Capone had offered to police the industry and wipe out competition in exchange for one-half of the industry's annual receipts, but that the offer was refused. The refusal to accept any such condition was announced following a meeting yesterday of 86 of the institute's members.

Dr. Squires said a committee of his organization had obtained promises from Mayor Anton J. Cermak and other officials, assuring protection from the Capone organization. He added that a group of the cleaners and dyers had called on Capone in response to an invitation from him and that Capone had asked for 75 per cent of the profits, later cutting the figure to 50 per cent.

"Either you accept my protection or I'll take charge of the cleaning and dyeing business, anyway," Capone was quoted as threatening.

TELEGRAMS INTRODUCED IN BANK CASE

Attempt to Show W. B. Davis Was In Nashville Instead of New York Last June

Asheville, May 12.—(AP)—Wallace B. Davis, president of the Central Bank and Trust Company which failed here last fall, today told of allowing Col. Luke Lea, of Nashville, Tenn., to overdraw his account thousands of dollars as he was cross-examined in his trial on a charge of giving the State Corporation Commission a false report of the bank's condition.

Davis said Lea was allowed to overdraw because he was aiding the bank in getting money. After Davis' statement, the state introduced records which it said showed at one time Lea had owed the bank $1,300,000.

In questioning Davis and by the records introduced, the state charged more than $1,500,000 in cashier's checks and certificates of deposits were fraud to Lea or made in blank and sold by Lea to boost the Central Bank's deposits during the last three months of its life.

Asheville, May 12.—(AP)—Telegrams which the state said showed W. B. Davis, president of the failed Central Bank and Trust Company here, was not in New York last June 23 as he testified yesterday, but was in Nashville, Tenn., conferring with Col. Luke Lea, of Nashville, were introduced today in Davis' trial on a charge of violating the state banking laws.

The telegrams which the state said were taken from the Central Bank's files were exchanged between Lea and Davis.

The state asserted the telegrams showed Davis arranged with Lea for the Holston Union National Bank at Knoxville, to take $726,000 in securities held by the Central. The securities, the state attorneys said, were represented in a report made to the State Corporation Commission by the Central bank as having been sold for cash, but in reality were returned to the Central bank a few days after the report was made.

Davis is charged specifically with giving the Corporation Commission a false report of the bank's condition as of September 24, 1930. C. N. Brown and Dr. J. A. Sinclair, directors of the bank, are on trial with him.

The telegrams were introduced during cross-examination of Davis who first took the stand Saturday. Lewie Little, personal representative of Col. Lea, has been in the courtroom continuously since the trial began. He said he was keeping a detailed record of Davis' testimony. (Continued on page four)

HILL HORNE TO OPEN MEETING

Greenville Man Will Preside Over the Knights Templar Session at Asheville

W. Hill Horne, who for years has been prominently identified with Masonry in this city, will preside over the fifty-first convocation of Knights Templar which convenes at Asheville today. Mr. Horne, accompanied by J. N. Hart and Wiley Brown, left for Asheville yesterday.

Mr. Horne became Acting Grand Commander of Knights Templar of this state upon the death of Commander Sterling Gary, who died at his home in Halifax last winter, and will be the directing head of the Asheville convocation.

As he is in line for election to this high office, it was expected he would be elected to a full term during the present convocation. Election of officers is scheduled for Thursday.

Mr. Horne will deliver the opening address before the grand body Wednesday, at which time the convocation will get under full swing. Today's sessions were largely of a minor nature, being featured mainly by group meetings.

The acting commander recently received an invitation to a luncheon which will be given in his honor at the Biltmore Country club by Thomas J. Harkins, for years one of the leading Masons in the Carolinas and prominently identified with the business circles of the western half of the state. This will be one of the outstanding social attractions of the gathering and many notables of the various Masonic bodies will be in attendance.

HOUSE CONFEREES ASK INSTRUCTIONS ON REVENUE BILL

Greenville Schools Make Highest Academic Rank Of Any School In State

Latest Copy of State School Facts Gives Local School Total Score of 94.3 Out of Possible 100; Academic Ranking Increased Last Three Years As Financial Rating Decreased

The latest copy of State School Facts, a publication from the office of the State Superintendent of Schools, reveals the fact that the Greenville city schools achieved the highest academic ranking of any school in the state with a total score of 94.3 out of a possible 100. This is rather noteworthy in view of the fact that the financial ranking, which indicates the amount of money spent, was only 78 out of a possible 100. The five factors which make up the academic ranking are as follows:

1. Percentage of enrollment and average daily attendance.
2. Average length of term in days.
3. The training of the teachers.
4. Percentage of the total school enrollment in high school.
5. Percentage of children enrolled who are either under age or are normal age for their grade.

The application of these five factors to the Greenville city schools gives a ranking of 243 as indicated above, the highest in the state. The five factors which make up the financial ranking are as follows:

1. The average annual salary of principals and teachers.
2. The cost of instructional service per pupil enrolled.
3. Current expenditure per pupil enrolled.
4. Current expenditure per teacher and principal employed.
5. Value of school property per child enrolled.

The application of these five factors gives Greenville a score of 78 out of a possible 100. This score of 78 is twelfth from the bottom of all the city school systems of the state.

For the past three years the academic ranking of the local schools has been steadily rising, while the financial ranking has been steadily dropping. The school with the highest financial ranking in the state is Asheville with a score of 97.8 out of a possible 100. This indicated the lowest expenditure per child of any school in the state. Henderson has the lowest financial ranking with a score of 62.1 and likewise the lowest academic ranking. Below are given the figures of all the schools in the state as to academic and financial ranking:

TRY TO HALT ARSON WAVE

Mailed Fist of Spanish Republic Poised to Bring End to Wave of Violence

Madrid, May 12.—(AP)—The mailed fist of the month-old Spanish republic was raised today to halt the widespread wave of arson throughout Spain which has left smoking Catholic churches and convents, hastily evacuated by monks and nuns.

Martial law is the republic's answer to the mobs which have swept through the streets of the largest cities in a campaign against the Catholic Church.

The tension had eased today but President Alcala Zamora said the government was prepared to use all the force it commands to restore and preserve order.

More than 200 persons have been arrested as a result of the disorders which have continued since Sunday. The capital was almost normal this afternoon although soldiers were in the streets keeping the crowds on the move.

Seville was quiet, as was Toledo, and Barcelona, often a hotbed of political disturbance, was calm. Five churches and convents were burned before dawn in Seville. Martial law was declared and troops were placed on the streets in an effort to control the throngs which ranged the city, destroying monuments which marked the centuries of Roman Catholicism in Spain.

Spain's conditions prevailed in Malaga, where two churches and church buildings were burned during the night; at Cadiz, where four churches were burned, and Alicante where four churches and convents were partly destroyed by fire and looting.

Mobs at Zaragoza, Cordoba and Bilbao attacked and wrecked church buildings in those cities, but did not burn them.

With cavalry, infantry, tanks and machine gun squads patrolling the streets of Madrid and the capital was restored to tranquility during the night. But not before ten ecclesiastical buildings had been burned to the ground while the mobs prevented firemen fighting the flames.

A nation-wide checkup showed 21 church buildings destroyed by fire, and perhaps ten more badly damaged, but not burned. Innates of the buildings fled and while a few monks and priests were beaten there were few casualties among them.

Nuns in almost every case were respected by the mob. Estimates on the number of religious workers fleeing Madrid alone ran as high as 50,000.

In addition to the carload lots over 100 truck loads were shipped.

Request Lower Branch to Inform Them As to What Position They Should Take On a Proposal That the State Take Over Operation of the Six Months Schools With Counties Aiding in Cost to the Extent of Ad Valorem Tax of 20 Cents on the $100

Raleigh, May 12.—(AP)—House conferees on the biennial revenue bill today asked the lower division of the General Assembly to instruct them as to what position they should take on a proposal that the state take over operation of the six months schools with the counties aiding in the cost to the extent of ad valorem tax of about 20 cents per $100.

Chairman Spence of the House revenue conferees explained the report to the body and asked that specific instructions be given the group as to whether or not it can sign a revenue report containing it.

Previously the House "authorized" its conferees to work for a revenue bill containing a sales tax and not including or contemplating any ad valorem levy for school aid.

When Spence concluded, Representative Ervin of Burke, an opponent of any form of sales tax, moved that the conferees be instructed to adopt the Senate proposal.

Submitted to the Senate and House conferees by Senator Clement of Rowan, the newest effort to reach a compromise between the divisions of the assembly on school support and revenue does not include any form of sales tax.

Recognizing the "principle" of the MacLean school law for state support without an ad valorem tax, the proposition includes provision for the county land levy as an emergency measure.

The state would take over the operation of the schools and be aided by the counties through the ad valorem tax, whereas at present the counties operate the schools and the state aids with an equalization fund of $5,500,000.

The ad valorem tax would be levied on the basis of a three billion dollar valuation for the state. This figure is slightly higher than the present assessed valuations of the counties but is lower than the figure the equalization board has used in figuring its disbursements. This would result in the levy being slightly more than 20 cents per $100 in some counties.

The compromise report, which has approval of the Senate conferees, limits the revenue from the ad valorem levy to $6,000,000.

It is provided that it shall not cost more than $16,500,000 annually to operate the six months school through former estimates have been based on approximately $18,500,000.

The conferees on the appropriations bill are requested in the compromise to make all further cuts possible in the biennial appropriations bill, though most allotments are already materially lower than the 1929 appropriations.

A very slight reduction is made in the increases in franchise and license taxes imposed on bottles and railroads.

The Senate provision of a merchants' license tax of one-tenth of one per cent is included in the report.

Grand Jury Frees Officers Held In Wilmington Killing

Wilmington, May 12.—(AP)—Four county officers involved in a gun battle here last January in which a deputy and a mill truck driver were killed today had been exonerated by the same grand jury that soon after the shooting failed to find sufficient evidence to indict them.

The officers, Deputies E. J. Hale, L. M. Massey and A. B. Crews and Special Officer Porter Davis, were bound over to the superior court by a Justice of the Peace a few days after the first grand jury report.

The grand jury yesterday declined to return true bills against the officers.

The gun battle, in which Lupo S. Roberts, mail driver, and W. P. Starling, county deputy, were slain, resulted when Roberts drove his mail truck up on a bridge where the officers were waiting for an alleged rum runner.

Mrs. Walter Harrington, chairman of the ways and means committee the past year, thanked the members for their hearty co-operation in helping her.

Miss Jesse Moye, sponsor, was given a rising vote of thanks by the club for her splendid work in putting on the programs at the theatre last week.

The stage committee for the Betty Dixon Revue, which the club will sponsor on May 21-22, will have as its chairman, Miss Ada James, Mrs. J. B. Cummings and Mrs. Norman Winslow will assist her.

The club voted to screen the 29 windows in the ball room of the Woman's Club building, in the near future. Miss Margaret Fleming will be chairman of this committee, and Misses Rose Hadley and Helen Gray Jones were named assistants.

The club donated $6.50 for the purchase of tea glasses, etc., for the Woman's Club. The purchasing committee is composed of Mrs. W. F. Young, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Clifton and Mrs. Person Nicholson.

The meeting was then given over to the program leader, Miss Mary Harrington. She introduced Mrs. J. L. Kline, the speaker, who delighted to read several poems, from such poets as Edna St. Vincent Millay, Grayson Long Crowell and our own N. C. poet, Anne Blackwell Payne, who is one of the most gifted writers of verse that our state has produced. Some of the poems read were: "Renaissance," "A Prayer for Womanhood," "Song of Gratitude," "Mothers," "Candle," "Resolutions of April," and "Windmill."

Misses Mary Harding and Ada James, hostesses, served refreshing iced tea with sandwiches and cookies.

Annual Poppy Sale May 23rd

The annual poppy sale conducted by the American Legion Auxiliary will be held on Saturday, May 23rd. On this day the members of the Auxiliary will offer these flowers for sale to the public.

The poppies are made by the ex-service men, and the proceeds are used to help the disabled in the veterans' hospital in the United States.

When you are asked to buy a poppy remember that to wear a poppy is to honor the dead and to aid the living.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY TO MEET TOMORROW

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3:30, with Mrs. S. L. Bridges and Miss Hennie Whitehead, at the home of Miss Elizabeth, 817 Evans street. The Junior Auxiliary will meet with little Miss Elizabeth Bridges at the same time.

All members are urged to be present. Plans will be for the annual poppy sale which will be held Saturday, May 23rd.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the Free Will Baptist Aid Society for the Mother's Day present. May the Lord bless each one.

Farmville U. D. C. Meets.

Farmville, May 11.—The regular meeting of the Rebecca Winborne chapter U. D. C., was held on Friday afternoon with Mrs. G. A. Rouse as hostess, and with Mrs. J. W. Parker presiding. Spring flowers were beautifully arranged in the reception room.

The impressive ritual of the organization was followed by prayer. Mrs. W. C. Askew gave a report of the recent district meet held in Greenville, and the annual report of the chapter was read, which stated that all special days had been fittingly observed, and a total of $77 expended. The president thanked the program committee for the splendid year books which were distributed at this time.

The program for the afternoon was featured with an address on the historical work of the State U. D. C., by Mrs. R. W. Isley of Snow Hill, historian of this division. An account of the organization of a Paris chapter was read by Mrs. J. I. Morgan. A number of the "Handbook of Historical Facts" were ordered by the members thru the divisional historian.

Delightful refreshments were served in two courses by the hostess, and miniature baskets of flowers were given as favors. Special guests included Mrs. Whittlesey, of Opelika, Ala., and Mrs. G. S. Vought.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED BY DAUGHTERS CONFEDERATE

Farmville, May 11.—Memorial Day was observed here with appropriate exercises Saturday afternoon in Forest Hill cemetery, by members of the Rebecca Winborne chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy and visitors at five o'clock. A short introductory talk was made by the president, Mrs. J. W. Parker, and the address delivered by Dr. A. S. Venable, Presbyterian minister.

Appropriate songs were sung, a reading, "The Blue and the Grey" was given by Mrs. A. C. Hodges, and a double duet "Tenting Tonight" was rendered by Miss Vivian Case, Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt, Mrs. A. C. Hodges and Mrs. J. L. Shackelford. Flags and wreaths were then placed on the graves of veterans and Daughters.

Death came two months after one of the greatest triumphs of his career as a musician, the debut of his opera, "Peter the Miner" written in Walloon dialect, at Liege last March. He himself was unable to attend but seen Elizabeth, who did go arranged a radio broadcast so that he could hear the opera from his bed.

The work was given an ovation. Between acts Yeaye, speaking into a microphone in his room, thanked the performers for their interpretation of his work and the public for their enthusiastic reception of it.

As early as the middle of 1928 Yeaye was suffering from diabetes phlebitis, and a year later had to undergo amputation of his right leg. He seemed to recover but later in 1930 became ill again. At the time of presentation of his opera he was thought to be on the road to recovery but recently took a sudden turn for the worse from which he never rallied.

Yeaye was married twice, his first wife dying in 1924. His second wife was an American girl 44

FIVE FATALLY SHOT AT KENTUCKY COAL MINES

More than 300 Kentucky national guardsmen were sent to Evarts, Ky., to guard against a recurrence of outbreaks that cost five lives at nearby coal fields. This picture shows a company of guardsmen at a mine. Police Judge Bradley Buckhart, of Evarts, said the trouble grew out of ill feeling between mine operators and striking miners.

Yeaye was known for the original style of his playing and sometimes was called a musical colorist. He terminated his engagement as conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra in 1919 after discussion had arisen among the members at alleged favoritism to certain musicians.

Oscar of Waldorf On Spinach Diet

New York, May 12.—(AP)—Oscar of the Waldorf, internationally-known maitre d'hotel, who has ushered countless millionaires to the grooming board and presided at thousands of epicurean feasts, is on a diet of lowly spinach.

"It's my liver," the rotund expert of L'aute cuisine explained. On account of the sedentary life I lead it has become a trifle flogged. At least that's what the specialists say and they ought to know."

The renowned host, who started as a humble waiter and worked up to such heights that New York made him an honorary police commissioner and France gave him a silver cross for "social services," disclosed his new culinary regimen in answer to a reporter's query.

"The newspaperman, seeking some 'inside dope' on good things to eat, asked:

"Mr. Oscar, if you had all the world's edibles at your disposal including turkeys, what kind of a meal would you order right now?"

"Spinach," said Oscar with a sad shake of his head.

"Oh, of course I might have a little fish," he added, "they'll let me have that. Or a little chopped parsley in a glass of milk. Then if I followed the doctor's advice, I'd go and lie down on my back for an hour. A German specialist in 'Is of the liver told me that."

"Don't you feel a great void in your life?" he was asked.

"Not exactly," Oscar said. "I had my fling when I was a youngster. Remember the canvasback and terrapin at Delmonico's?"

Oscar, who served the old Waldorf as maitre d'hotel for many years, thought he could quit and retire to his blue spruce tree farm upstate when they razed the famous old structure to make way for the Empire State building.

But the owners of the hotel determined otherwise, so when the new Waldorf opens its doors he will be there to welcome its guests.

Zaro Agha Fails To Return Home; Takes Plane Ride

Istanbul, Turkey, May 12.—(AP)—Where, oh where can my sequel-centenarian be is the worry which is haunting Mrs. Zaro Agha just now.

The old man is gadding about Europe and does not come home.

His 65 year old wife and great great grandson expected him back in Istanbul in time for the annual mutual festival and sacrificed a big ram in preparation for the homecoming, but Zaro failed to turn up.

Now they are really worried. America was to them a healthy land of milk and honey where their old man was safe. So many people are hacked to pieces by motor cars and water buffalo in the streets of Istanbul that even Zaro's misadventure with New York traffic did not seriously bother them.

But Europe is a different and wicked matter, and even veiled Mrs. Zaro has glimpsed enough of European ways in Istanbul to judge that it is not the right life for a 157 year old kurd—and she scowls at the intimation that anyone of alleged 157 years is false.

The great great grandson goes day after day to meet incoming trains but he has had no luck—Zaro has not appeared and Mrs. Zaro is beginning to appear more angry than anxious.

Zaro Agha, who claims to be 157 years old, went to the United States last July and sailed April 9 for Europe, ostensibly to return home. He was equipped with a new set of false teeth.

London, May 12.—(AP)—Zaro Agha, Turk who claims to be 157 years old, took his first lesson in airplane flying at Brooklands field yesterday. He enjoyed his experience and momentarily took the controls. He hopes to have another try at it. As far as can be learned he is not at all anxious to get home.

4-H CLUB TO HAVE PICNIC

Students of Homemakers' Course Invited to Winterville Friday

By ETHEL NICE (Home Demonstration Agent)

All 4-H Club girls and boys who are taking "The Homemakers' Course" are invited to Winterville for a 4-H picnic meeting Friday, May 15. The Pitt County Health Department will be present to make final health checks for all those who have eight red health spokes in the 4-H club wheel, and during the afternoon the queen and king of health will be crowned. A district health contest will soon be announced at Washington, where the county winners will compete for championship in the district. Thirty-one have already been checked twice and have been found eligible for the county contest. This is an honor worth more to any boy and girl than many others and very careful eliminations will be made in the contest Friday.

Bring with you your own lunch just as you would go to school and be prepared for fun on the playground.

Parents are urged to make every effort to have their club members present and they are invited to come with them.

The program will last from 11 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Canned Strawberries

For the benefit of those who have asked how to can strawberries so they will not all go to the top, I submit the following recipe:

Strawberries contain so much water that the canned product is not very attractive. They are ordinarily more palatable if preserved. The following method is recommended in case they are to be canned: To each quart of berries add 1 cup of sugar and 2 tablespoons of water. Boil slowly for 15 minutes and let stand overnight in the kettle. In the morning re-heat the mixture to boiling, fill containers hot and process all sizes for 5 minutes in boiling water.

WHO MAKES YOUR FIRE INSURANCE RATE?

TRAINED experts compute it, but property owners—individually and collectively—create the conditions which determine the cost of their fire insurance.

Several major factors enter into the determination of fire insurance rates, such as structure, occupancy, the quality of private and public fire protection, exposure from other property and general loss experience.

Surveys Available. The agent who writes your insurance can obtain an itemized explanation of how your insurance rate is computed. There is nothing secret about it.

companies solicit your interest, and offer free of charge the advice of rate-making bureaus to assist in eliminating hazards or correcting defects which may affect your rate.

Seek Counsel. Do not attempt unsound fire prevention measures, but seek the counsel of the accredited experts of rating bureaus who desire to tell you the proper way to make improvements.

Insurance companies generally prefer risks eligible to a low rate to those which carry higher ones. A low rate indicates better conditions, better maintenance and less chance of fire.

In North Carolina fire insurance rates are computed by the North Carolina Inspection and Rating Bureau, with offices at Raleigh.

ABOUT TOWN

Greenville Boy Scouts have gone to Camp Charles, near Wilson, where they will spend several days in recreation and practice of Boy Scout activities.

This is the first outing of the season for the youngsters, and they were participating one of the best times in years.

The local organization has made much progress the last several months, and goes to camp in splendid condition.

The Scouts were accompanied by Joe Taft, leader, who has used his influence in an attempt to make this one of the most active organizations in this part of the state.

It is impossible to enumerate the advantages derived from training of the young Scouts. They are instilled with ideals which should play an important part in converting them into splendid citizens—youngsters who are destined to play an important part in the moral life of the nation.

Greenville is proud of the services rendered by the Scouts from time to time and is hopeful that the future will see just as much development as the past.

June 1 has been set aside as "National Cotton Week" in the United States and during that time a campaign will be waged to interest the public in buying the fleecy staple.

One of the leading cotton men of the country recently declared that the importance of cotton had never been properly stressed and expressed opinion that it should be given all publicity possible during the above week.

The south is intensely interested in cotton because it is one of the chief crops. With more demand for it the price situation would undergo a decided change and enable the producer to receive more for his offerings.

During the last few years production has been above consumption. This has produced one of the worst situations imaginable, and producers at this time do not receive enough to pay cost of production.

It is to be hoped "National Cotton Week" will receive the attention its promoters hope it will for in this way much of the depression which has existed in this market will be relieved to a great extent.

The toll of death from automobile accidents has decreased very little the last few months, bringing the public to a keen realization of the danger of the operation of automobiles, especially in a reckless and careless manner.

The amount of damage to property alone would run into millions of dollars annually from this cause alone, but it is nothing compared with the value of lives snuffed out by hundreds of wrecks.

Traffic experts everywhere are doing everything possible to cope with the situation but they will never be able to effect an improvement until people—the automobile drivers—are sufficiently impressed with the danger to convince them of the necessity of driving carefully at all times.

Experts declare that the majority of wrecks in this country result directly from carelessness on the part of the experienced drivers. They feel so confident of their ability to drive safely that they are prone to take unnecessary risks and eventually wind up in the cemetery.

Life is too precious to jeopardize in this manner and it is to be hoped that drivers will use more common sense and prepare themselves for eventualities which present themselves from time to time along the highways of the nation.

Commissioners have ordered the board of appraisers to begin revaluation in this county at once.

This means that the board appointed last December will soon be busy putting new values on property in all parts of the county, and attempting to relieve the people who have been contending that their property was valued too high.

It is a monumental task—one requiring months to complete—and the appraisers are hoping they will receive the best of co-operation from the citizens affected.

The Legislature postponed revaluation the latter part of the year, and the counties were unable to go along with the work until the date of postponement had expired.
Although it is impossible to say definitely how much the revaluation program will cost, tentative estimates place it at approximately $10,000.

TELEGRAM INTRODUCED IN BANK CASE

timony for the information of Col. Lea.
Lea, his son, Luke, Jr., and E. P. Charlet were indicted with Davis and J. Charles Bradford, the Central bank's cashier, on a charge of conspiring to defraud the Central bank of more than $1,000,000 which allegedly went to the elder Lea.

Davis was asked about certificates of deposits totalling $60,000 which were issued to the Bank of Tennessee and other interests of Col. Lea. The state introduced the certificates as evidence.
The former bank president said his memory was "rather hazy" with respect to the certificates.

He said one for $300,000 was money deposited in the Central bank by the Bank of Tennessee under an agreement that the Central bank would buy a similar amount of Caldwell & Company bonds.

Various letters and records of the bank were introduced. The state said they showed that the bank had agreed to re-purchase various securities it had sold to other banks while in the report given the Corporation Commission the three defendants swore there were no re-purchase agreements.

Davis was asked about a transaction of September 15, 1930, when the Central bank drew $2,200,000 from its account in the Central Hanover Bank of New York. The report of September 24 listed the amount as on deposit there. Davis said he did not know anything about the transaction.

He said he asked J. Charles Bradford, cashier, about the cash reserve of the bank after the call for a report of its condition came, and was told that it was sufficient. He said he did not ask Bradford about the Central Hanover account.
Davis said he did not make any inquiry about the report when it was presented to him for his signature before being sent to the Corporation Commission.

William McCants, former auditor for the bank, testified earlier in the trial that he falsified the report under instructions from Davis.

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. prevent either M. Briand or Doumer attaining a majority.

The Paris press, largely predicting M. Briand's election, argued that so shrewd and experienced a political strategist would not have consented to yesterday's announcement of his candidacy unless after calculation of all the elements in the race he believed himself certain to win.
If M. Briand is elected he will be the thirteenth president of the third French republic. His immediate predecessors will have been Gaston Doumergue, the incumbent, Alexandre Millerand, Paul Deschanel and Raymond Poincare, who held the office during the war and probably brought it to its place of greatest influence.

Briand Slated for Presidency

Paris, May 12.—(AP)—Aristide Briand, veteran French foreign minister, today seemed slated for election to the French presidency by the national assembly upon the first or second ballot tomorrow.

Friends of M. Briand and of Paul Doumer, the president of the Senate and his principal opponent engaged today in wide canvassing in an effort to secure votes for their leaders but it was not believed generally that Senator Doumer could stage off beyond the second ballot the absolute majority necessary for Briand's election.

The candidacy of Jean Hennessy, wealthy French distiller, a member of the Chamber of Deputies and former minister, was not considered in political circles as affecting the situation. He and other possible dark horses, however, may poll enough votes on the first ballot to

PHILLIES WIN FROM CARDS

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr. Manager Burt Shotton has his Philadelphia Phillies using an entirely different system this season, and they are getting surprisingly good results.

Last year the Phils went in for bushels of hits, including doubles, triples and homers, but they didn't score in proportion. The result was that they led the National league in hitting and were a strong eighth in the final club standing.

This year, however, Shotton has his boys going at it differently. With such sluggers as Lefty O'Doul and Fresno Thompson gone, the 1931 Phils are not getting as many hits, but they are getting them where they count—leaving fewer men on base and winning more ball games.

For instance, they collected only five hits yesterday, but they cut off the eight-game winning streak of the St. Louis Cardinals, 2 to 1. Chuck Klein hit his sixth homer of the year to tie the score in the sixth inning. Then Buzz Arlett got on second and Les Mallon, rookie infielder, brought him in with a lousy double.

Their loss to the Shottonmen reduced the Cardinals' lead over the New York Giants to a single game.

Cold weather at New York kept the Giants and Chicago Cubs indoors and gave Manager Rogers Hornsby of the western team an opportunity to speculate on what had happened to his hitters. He admitted that being held to eight hits in two games with the Giants was bad business, but denied a rumor that he planned to bench Hack Wilson, the hard hitting outfielder.

Braving the chill winds on the opposite bank of the East river, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Brooklyn Robins got in the day's only other National league contest. Heine Meine let the Robins down with five hits to give the Pirates their second straight victory, 4 to 2. The invaders bunched four hits of Dazzy Vance to score three runs and saw it up in the fourth.

Only one American league title survived the epidemic of rain and cold, the Washington Senators burying Detroit under an avalanche of hits, 14 to 4. Ossie Bluzek led the 18-hit assault on four Tiger pitchers with a homer, double and two singles.

HIGH POINT LICKS BEES

Charlotte, May 12—(AP)—Old Guy Moran, whose deceptive slants used to baffle the big league batters, hasn't lost much of his cunning on the mound or his punch with the willow.

Thanks to Guy, who is now helping another former major leaguer, Pilot Dan Boone, in the drive to put the Pointers on the Piedmont league steple, Charlotte today is second to Raleigh in league standings.

The one-time American league ace held the Bees to two bingles, which they manufactured into two tallies, at Charlotte yesterday, while the Pointers drove in three runs to topple the Queen City nine. To help things along, the sturdy old Guy pounded out a homer.

The Caps gained the eminence with a smashing 11 to 6 decision over the Bulls at Durham. A double by Pilot Odie Strain and a homer by Money in the eighth accounted for five of the Raleigh markers. Cimpf and Tom Wolfe clouted four-baggers.

The Gamecocks put the brakes on Greensboro's rousing comeback last night at the Queen City. Aided by a couple of homers, one by Parrish, and the other by Lennox, Teague's nine downed the Pats, 8 to 6.

Asheville's Tourists busted out bingles to the far corners of the lot to give Bunn Hearn's Twins a 7 to 2 set-back at the Tourist city. Every one of Kennedy's bunch, except two, got one or more hits off McKinney and Boykin.

SICK HEADACHE IS ONE PENALTY

Neglect of Constipation Brings Painful Symptoms—For Relief, Take Black-Draught.

Mrs. Ruth Scott, of Tusculumbia, Ala., relates her experience of more than thirty years in the use of Theford's Black-Draught. "When a child at home," says Mrs. Scott, "my mother gave it to me for disordered stomach, and from then until now when I have needed something for biliousness, indigestion and headache, or for constipation, I take Black-Draught. "It relieves me as no other medicine will. I don't believe there is a better one made.

"When I get constipated, I have a dull, aching feeling, and if I don't take something, I get a headache. Black-Draught is the thing I take. That is why I recommend it—for the good it did me."

Constipation dams up poisons in the bowels, where they are absorbed into the general system, causing many serious symptoms. At the first sign of constipation, take Theford's Black-Draught. This medicine is made of pure botanical drugs and contains no chemical ingredients. It has been in use nearly 100 years, with constantly increasing popularity.

U. N. C. CLAIMS NET HONORS

Charlotte, May 12—(AP)—The crack University of North Carolina tennis team, which this season has swept victoriously over all opposition, today broadcast a claim to the national net title.

A spokesman for the team said that since it had shut out all southern outfits it had played this season and defeated strong eastern teams, including Harvard, it had a right to claim national honors. Mid-western and western teams, the spokesman said, are weaker this season than the easterners the Tar Heels have licked.

On top of this, came word from Chapel Hill that Bryant Grant and Wilmer Hines, two of the mainstays of the team, would not be permitted to play in the Southern conference net tournament this week at Tulane. The trip, university authorities decided, would interfere too much with the studies of the two, both sophomores.

The North Carolina baseball outfit slipped up into high gear yesterday and ran over Davidson to the tune of 8 to 1 at Chapel Hill. The Tar Heels are slated to meet Maryland today in another home match. Davidson was booked for an invasion of the Wolfpack stronghold at Raleigh.

The Davidson tennis team ended its season yesterday in fine form by handing Erskine a 5 to 1 defeat, at Davidson.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

The answer seems to be an Androque "Yes and No" so far as the effectiveness and effect of the new major league baseball is concerned. It's a great heap to the pitcher when Wes Ferrell twirls a no-hit game or Freddy Fitzsimmons holds the hard-hitting Braves to a brace of bingles.

It's just as lively as the old ball on the day that the Browns scored eight runs in the ninth, only to have them wasted by a Cleveland rally, or on the afternoon that Rogers Hornsby smacks off three straight homers.

In short, the good pitchers are still good and the heavy hitters are doing their customary damage, with a few conspicuous exceptions.

The search for further data from the "feed-boxes" is rewarded by notations on the visit of Charley Root to the town of Donora, Pa. The famous Chicago Cub right-hander told Edwin McKay of the Donora Herald-American that the new ball, while just as lively as the old, nevertheless "is a help to the pitcher, because the raised seams make it easier to control." Continuing, Root explained: "Pitching a curve this year is easier than it was last year. But when they do hit it, it will travel just as far as the old ball."

Being in the neighborhood, Brother Root voiced a few words of commendation for Jewel Ens and the Pittsburgh Pirates. "If Pittsburgh only had a couple of good pitchers to add to the staff the club would be the most dangerous in the league," said the Cub star to his interviewer. "Ens picked up a good man in Osborn, who was with us." Root doesn't think the St. Louis

Cardinals will repeat their pennant victory, because "it isn't their year" and as far as the Boston Braves are concerned, "they always look good in the early season."

The new ball was a big help to Rube Walberg of the Athletics until he blew up one recent afternoon against the crippled Yankees. Al Simmons didn't blame the ball for his early batting slump and promptly snapped out of it with a characteristic blast of long-range firing against the Washington Senators.

Mr. Car Owner! YOU BE THE JUDGE

READ the comparison of construction and prices outlined below and judge for yourself. Why should anyone take chances with special brand tires of unknown manufacture when you can buy Firestone quality tires at no extra cost?

We save you money and serve you better because of Firestone's direct buying of rubber and cotton—undivided interest in building tires—owning their own factories, the most efficient in the world—and their great economical distributing and standardized service system.

Come in today—we will give you more value for your dollar.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, May 12.—(AP)—Cotton opened quiet today, 5 to 6 points lower in response to easier Liverpool cables while there may have been some selling on the lower opening of the stock market.

Business was comparatively quiet with offerings light, while the decline to 9.94 for July seemed to bring in a little trade buying to get prices. This steadied the market which was quiet and fairly steady at the end of the first half hour with the more active positions holding within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations. There was very little business in May, but notices representing 1,300 bales were reported and there were sales of May during the early trading at 9.76 or 6 points net lower.

The New York Cotton Exchange service estimates domestic consumption for April at 515,000 bales compared with 491,000 in March. The figures were considered rather encouraging but had little if any effect on the immediate market. Liverpool cables reported continental liquidation and hedging in that market.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, May 12.—(AP)—Higher prices for grains resulted largely today from absence of selling pressure and from continuance of Canadian drought reports. No moisture overnight was noted anywhere in the Canadian prairie province, Montana and the Dakotas were also generally without rain.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 12.—(AP)—News that one of the leading trunk line railroads failed to earn its fixed charges in the first quarter of the year gave Wall Street another excuse for gloom today.

Share prices slid slowly downward, but short covering caused a moderate uptick in the early afternoon.

Railway bonds were adversely affected, taking some of the brightness out of the bond market. Foreign news was also discouraging to bonds, particularly the difficulties of the new Argentine government in putting its financial house in order, and report of embarrassment of a large Vienna bank.

New York Central sold off about four points in an 8-year low. Atchafalaya and Union Pacific dropped about 5. Missouri Pacific preferred tumbled more than 6, and the common half about as much. Miscellaneous issues losing 2 points or so included Baltimore and Ohio, New Haven, Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, International Harvester, Dupont, and Columbian Carbon.

Total sales to dealers, including overseas and Canadian, was 3,951 cars above the total of April, 1930. Advance figures on last week's crude oil output were also favorable, indicating a reduction of 109,692 barrels in average daily output, the best curtailment in some time.

The cheapening of money has failed to progress as rapidly as expected when the rediscount rate was cut last week. The New York clearing house committee failed to reduce the rates of interest paid on deposits by New York banks, as had been forecast, and call money, after renewing for the second day at 1 per cent, rose to 1 1/2. Out-of-town lenders pay a fee of one-half of one per cent for having their funds placed in call loans, and therefore found it more profitable to leave their money on deposit with New York banks.

STATE AND REFLECTOR ENTERTAIN MOTHERS

Over eighty mothers attended the Mother's Day theatre party given at the State Theatre yesterday by the management of the theatre and the Daily Reflector for mothers over fifty years of age.

Upon arrival each of the mothers was presented with a shoulder corsage of sweet peas and roses, gifts of Moore & Randolph Floral Company.

In addition to the regular theatre program featuring Clara Bow in "Kick In," the mothers were also treated to a special musical novelty, "A Tribute to Mother."

Numbers of mothers called up the State theatre and Reflector office this morning and expressed their appreciation of the splendid program.

SWIMMING AND LIFE SAVING INSTITUTE

A swimming and life saving institute will be held at Hillcrest Camp near Kinston under the direction of the National Committee of Swimming and Life Saving of New York City.

Boys wishing to pass their junior or senior life saving test or advance swimming test, send their names to Paul V. Farmer of Kinston, or Albert B. Osborne of Greenville, director of the institute.

For those already passed their senior life saving test will be eligible for examiner test. Only one person in a county can pass the test. Paul V. Farmer will be a candidate for examiner for Lenoir county.

INDIANS TO CAMP OUT NEXT FRIDAY

The Pioneers and Friendly Indians will camp out Friday night if the weather is favorable.

The Roger Williams Pioneers enjoyed a good meeting last night, after which they went over into the college woods and played games. Three boys joined and entered into the program enthusiastically.

Daniel Boone Pioneers meet tonight. It is not necessary to urge these boys to be present—for they will be there.

MORE MINERS GO ON STRIKE

Cartridges Only Trace of Snipers Who Fired On Miners At Harlan

Harlan, Ky., May 12.—(AP)—The Blue Diamond Mine at Chevrolet, owned by the Blue Diamond Coal Company, Knoxville, Tenn., was at a standstill today after practically all of its 225 workers stayed away as a protest against armed civilian mine guards.

Deputies reported to Sheriff J. H. Blair that six empty cartridges found under a tree were the only traces of snipers who fired on negro miners on their way to work at the R. C. Tway Coal Company mine near here last night.

None of the negroes was wounded, but they were bruised when they jumped from a bridge they were crossing.

Mine guards fired in the direction of the shots with no apparent effect, and the deputies were dispatched with bloodhounds in an effort to apprehend the snipers.

The last time shots were fired from ridges four men were slain. This occurred near Evans last Tuesday, and caused Gov. Flem D. Scamson to send state troops to preserve order. Four men, including three city officials of Evans, are under indictments charging murder in connection with the gun battle.

A fifth man, a miner, is under indictment for slaying a deputy sheriff several weeks ago, and many more have been arrested on lesser charges in connection with the coal mine disorders.

State troops took the place of regular mine guards at two pits yesterday, but several mines reported work because their forces had quit work because the military did not generally supersede the civilian guards as the miners ask.

Fine Floors at low cost SUPREMIUM FLOOR VARNISH

Hard drying • Durable

WE highly recommend this superior varnish. It is pale and transparent, bringing out the natural beauty of the wood. It is extremely hard and tough and will stand severe use without marring or scratching. It does not turn white when bruised. Will stand constant washing. Well varnished floors never wear out.

ONLY $1.40 per quart
