Senat Refuses To Instruct Conferees To Favor Sales Tax

After Two Hour Session This Morning the Only Work Accomplished by Conferees Was to Seek Sentiment of Upper House On the Sales Tax Question; Determined Opposition Leaves the Deadlock Still Unbroken; Senate Adjourns Until Noon Tomorrow

Raleigh, May 14.—(AP)—The Senate today refused to instruct its conferees on the biennial revenue bill to advocate passage of a general sales tax on retail merchants.

The vote was 30 to 9 against instructions after the conferees reported that they wished to learn the sentiment of the Senate on the question.

After a two hour session this morning the only result was the decision to ask the Senate's opinion on the general sales tax and with the determined opposition exhibited by the vote it left the revenue deadlock unbroken.

The Senate adjourned until noon tomorrow. Last night the Senate conferees stayed in session until midnight, only to find themselves locked in the revenue building. After stumbling down the darkened stairs, they climbed out of a window. The conferees reached no agreement, and prepared nothing to submit to the House.

Disagreement over the revenue bill has been primarily responsible for the length of the session, which reached its 128 day today. It was on the 100th day that the revenue bill first went to conference. The House has rejected all proposals containing a sales tax, and the proposals tax majority in the House has rejected all proposals which contain an ad valorem tax on property for the support of the schools.

It is conceded by both that the six months session cannot be supported without either a sales tax or an ad valorem tax.

Rumors of a sine die adjournment without passage of revenue, school, or appropriation bills continue to be current. Those who favor such a course believe that two weeks at home would give many legislators a new viewpoint, and they could return and settle the deadlock in a special session, in accordance with the wishes of the people.

Mr. Roddy added that his sister, Miss Myrtle Roddy, of Baton Rouge, La., also was denying statements credited to her that the couple are or had been engaged.

"There is absolutely nothing to the story," said Mr. Roddy, a widower and pastor of the First Presbyterian church. "Miss Morrow and I are not engaged."

PRICE FREEZE IN WAR SOUGHT

Recommendation Would Empower the President to Take Action in Conflict

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—Legislation to empower the president to "freeze" all prices at the outbreak of a war was recommended today by Brigadier General Benedict Crowell, who was assistant secretary of war during the world conflict.

Crowell heartily endorsed the plan proposed by Bernard M. Baruch former head of the war industries board.

"His plan consists in adopting promptly at the outbreak of war the organization which was in effect in the latter part of 1918 and was then functioning successfully," Crowell said. "I do not see how this plan can be improved upon."

Crowell said he believed a president would have complete power to put the Baruch plan into effect without legislation but he favored specific authorization by Congress because "in our past wars the president has usually shown a reluctance to act on the strength of his war powers."

All prices, both retail and wholesale, should be frozen at the outbreak of a war, Crowell said, as of a date selected by the president.

He agreed the plan would not entirely eliminate excess profits and advocated an excess profits tax to make up the difference.

The Baruch plan was opposed on behalf of the War Department in testimony yesterday by Chief of Staff MacArthur who said it would result in injustices.

The War Department proposed a plan of gradually fixing prices by negotiation, if necessary.

The only other witness today was Captain H. K. Cage, director of the material division of the Navy Department, who approved the army's mobilization plan as far as it applied to the navy.

He said the navy had not studied and was not in a position to comment on MacArthur's plan for general mobilization of industry.

St. Paul's Men Meet Death As their Auto Plunges Into Train Near Lumberton

Lumberton, May 14.—(AP)—Two men were killed and two others injured early today as their automobile crashed into a Seaboard Air Line freight train at a crossing here.

The dead are Morris Herndon, 20, of St. Pauls, and Barjoo Stephens, 21, son of P. P. Stevens of St. Pauls.

Catholic Spain Back to Church After Rioting

Madrid, May 14.—(AP)—Catholic Spain went back to church today after the mad riots of the past four days in which Catholic buildings in many of the big cities were laid waste by fire.

This is the Feast of the Ascension, one of the most important days in the Catholic calendar and a national holiday in Spain. The banks were closed, business and industry were suspended and the churches were thronged while priests performed the services.

Cordoba, Seville, and other parts of Spain, had fled to France on the way to Rome, and charred ruins of churches and convents were guarded by soldiers, but the anti-Catholic disorders apparently had ended.

Martial law continued in most of the important cities, however, and troops were ready to go into action if the disorders should recur.

Plan Censorship of Cable Lines From Shanghai

Shanghai, May 14.—(AP)—The Nationalist government ministry of communications announced today that all international cable and wireless facilities operating from the Shanghai international settlement would be subject to government censorship within a few days.

Although the ministry failed to supply details, it was generally believed the political situation in south China caused the administration to decide upon censoring and controlling press dispatches relating to the trouble there.

If the censorship is imposed it will be the first time in history that foreign cables sent from the international city will have been subjected to the criticism of the Chinese government.

ASK BRIAND TO HOLD JOB AS MINISTER

Premier Laval Asks Him Not to Resign Until Work at Geneva is Completed

Paris, May 14.—(AP)—Aristide Briand, defeated in yesterday's Presidential election, today offered his resignation as foreign minister, a post he has held for seven years, but Premier Laval and his other colleagues in the cabinet persuaded him to remain in that important office at least until his immediate tasks at Geneva are completed.

The cabinet decided that he should go to Geneva tomorrow for the meeting of the committee on European Federation, as he had planned to do before the election.

When Briand left the Quai D'Orsay where the cabinet met he confirmed the report of his resignation, adding "I refused to accept it," but indicating that the resignation still stands.

Briand's associates thought his friend had repudiated him and the policies of international conference which he fathered.

His departure today for Geneva, it was believed, would be only to preside at the inaugural meeting of the committee on his pet confederation of Europe, where after he would resign his place probably to Laval, who is expected to follow him in the foreign office.

Laval's attitude was that the presidential vote in no way affected French foreign policy, which has been frequently ratified by Parliament.

It was believed he would request Briand to remain in the government at least until June 13, when according to custom the cabinet of an outgoing president presents its resignation to the incoming official.

The Parisian press today generally rejoiced at the selection of M. Doumer. There were a few exceptions such as the Socialist organ, Populaire, which called him "the candidate of reaction and treachery."

Geneva dispatches, commenting upon defeat of Aristide Briand for the French presidency, indicated a hope that he would continue in the foreign office where his efforts in behalf of the League of Nations and world peace would still be felt.

Berlin newspapers generally regretted his defeat.

FIRE CHIEF SUSPENDED

George Gardner, chief of the Greenville Fire Department, has been suspended by the city government pending investigation of charges of alleged interference with city affairs.

Gardner will be given a hearing before members of the Board of Aldermen who will meet in special session Friday evening at 8 o'clock to consider the charges.

Gardner is alleged to have attempted to influence members of the fire company to vote against Mayor J. O. Lanier in the recent municipal election. It was said that two members of the company were discharged because of lack of sympathy with the chief's activities.

Mr. Gardner stated this morning that he was not aware of the nature of the charges and would have no statement to make until after the hearing.

DR. BROOKS DIES AT WACO

Head of Baylor University Succumbs to Cancer at Sanitarium in Texas

Waco, Tex., May 14.—(AP)—Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, died at the Baptist Sanitarium here early today.

He succumbed to cancer a few days after physicians had forbidden him to complete a last labor of love for the school of which he had served twenty-eight years, the chairman of the board of trustees and members of this year's graduating class.

Dr. Brooks recently underwent an operation and surgeons found he was suffering from cancer in a form they declared to be incurable.

They predicted by consensus that he would be in his grave time he would be in his grave. In spite of the warning Dr. Brooks set himself cheerfully to the task of signing the diploma of the graduating class, his own well to the student body. He affixed his signature to approximately 700 working daily when physicians forbade further expenditure of his strength.

Dr. Brooks did not have the opportunities of even a common school education until he was 23 years old. His fight upward among students to a place of prominence among the nation's educators came after he had supported his invalid father for several years by working as a farm laborer and as a section hand on the Santa Fe lines in Johnson County, Texas.

Dr. Brooks had a consuming desire for an education since childhood, however, and was not discouraged by the late start in school.

At the age of 23 taught a small rural school in Johnson county, from the proceeds of which work he was able to enter the high school department at Baylor at Waco at the age of 24, and continued his work in the institution until he was graduated with the A. B. degree in 1893 at the age of 30.

Following his graduation at Baylor he entered Yale University from which he received another degree in 1894. He then returned to Texas where he taught for a while as principal of the public school at McKinney before being called to the chair of history and economics at Baylor University.

After several years on the Baylor faculty, Dr. Brooks returned to Yale University to take his master's degree, and it was while pursuing his work there that he was elected president of Baylor and returned to his alma mater as chief executive in the summer of 1922.

Under his leadership Baylor University more than trebled its resources and quadrupled its student body, greatly enlarged its curriculum, and increased its scholarly standing among the higher institutions of this country.

NYE CALLS N. Y. MEET

Cannon Case to Be Given Consideration By Committee At Metropolis

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—Chairman Nye of the Senate Campaign Funds committee today called a special meeting to be held in New York this week-end for consideration of the inquiry into the disposition of campaign funds by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, south in 1928.

The chairman today left for New York. He will confer with Senator Dale Republican, Vermont, and Wagner, Democrat, N. Y.

Senator Nye did not disclose whether hearings would be held in New York but there was a belief that the committee was prepared to go to work again shortly.

Bishop Cannon, who has challenged the authority of the committee, called today on Chairman Nye to ask about future plans for the committee.

The bishop was informed that the committee would make them known to him at least by Monday.

At the last meeting of the committee Miss Ada Burroughs of Richmond, former treasurer of the anti-Smith organization in Virginia in 1928, declined to supply the committee with the information sought and challenged its authority to make the investigation. Cannon filed a similar protest.

J. J. Hatch Testifies That He Told Faison Thompson That If He Would Use His Influence to Help Defeat Luxury Tax He Thought He "Could Get a Fee"; S. Clay Williams Testifies In Behalf of W. N. Reynolds; Senator Umstead Allowed to Read Statement; Body Adjourns Until Tomorrow

Raleigh, May 14.—(AP)—J. J. Hatch, a Goldsboro attorney, today testified before the special Senate investigating committee probing charges of alleged attempts to bribe or corrupt members of the State Senate that he had told Faison Thompson also of Goldsboro, that if he would use his influence to help defeat a luxury tax he thought he "could get a fee."

At the hearing this morning S. Clay Williams, president of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, asked to be allowed to testify and stated that he was informed last night by W. N. Reynolds, of the company, that he had not proposed to David H. Pope, chairman of the Wake County Board of Commissioners, that he offer "any consideration" to Senator John Hinsdale of Wake county.

Yesterday Senator Hinsdale testified that Pope told him Reynolds had sent him a message that he could have "anything he wanted" if he would "let up" in his fight for a luxury tax. Pope denied on the witness stand that any consideration or mention of remuneration was made by himself when he referred to Hinsdale details of a conversation he had with Reynolds.

Senator John Umstead of Orange county, whose name was brought into the investigation yesterday, asked to be allowed to read a statement this morning. He testified under cross-examination that he was in room 346 of the Sir Walter hotel, in which one of the alleged attempts to bribe or corrupt a senator's vote was made, together with Hatch and Thompson "for about three minutes." He said he did not see Thompson personally and therefore left the room.

Umstead testified that he did not hear the name of Senator Ruff Dortch of Goldsboro mentioned in the room nor did he hear mention of any consideration. He said he had no intimation any attempt was being made by the occupants of the room to influence any vote.

Hatch testified that he was "intensely interested" in the revenue bill and that he called Umstead and Thompson and asked them to meet him. The three met in room 346.

Thomson and Hatch discussed the revenue bill, Hatch said.

"I told Thomson I thought that if he would use his influence to help defeat the luxury tax I could get a fee for him," Hatch testified. "Senator Dortch's name was not mentioned and he was not the man in mind as everyone knows he is above approach."

Yesterday Thomson testified he assumed reference to "a senator" meant Senator Dortch.

"Who did you think would pay the fee?" Senator Ward of Beaufort, chairman of the investigating group, asked Hatch.

"I did not know," the attorney replied.

"How was Thomson to get the fee?"

"That was not known at that time."

"Did Senator Gower (of Johnston) come in the room?" Senator Ward queried.

"No." "Did you see him?" "I saw him in the lobby and spoke to him and later spoke to him in the Senate chamber." "Did Thomson state to you that he was on the luxury tax side and could not accept employment?" "I think so." "Was the amount of the consideration mentioned?" "No." Senator Ward asked such about a statement made by Judge Henry A. Grady that Thomson had related to him that he (Thomson) was present in room 346 when a member of the Senate came in the room and took another occupant into the bathroom. Thomson heard, Grady's statement said, one of the two senators, chairman of the investigating group, asked Hatch.

NON-SUIT IS REFUSED IN BANK CASE

Judge Barnhill Declines Second Motion in Hearing At Asheville Today

Asheville, May 14.—(AP)—Judge M. V. Barnhill today refused a second motion for a non-suit of charges of violating the state bank law brought against C. N. Brown and Dr. J. A. Sinclair, who were directors of the Central Bank and Trust Company, which failed last fall.

Brown and Sinclair are on trial with Wallace B. Davis, who was president of the bank. They are alleged to have given the State Corporation Commission a false report of the bank's condition as of September 24, 1930.

On November 20 the bank, with $5,000,000 of public funds among its $20,000,000 deposits, failed.

Attorneys for Brown and Sinclair made the motion just before arguments in the trial were started. During the testimony, concluded yesterday, numerous witnesses testified Sinclair and Brown could not have had knowledge of the statement being false.

In denying the motion, Judge Barnhill said that if the jury would be glad to entertain a motion to set the verdict aside.

Judge Barnhill allotted the state four and one-half hours for argument, attorneys for Davis three and one-half and attorneys for Brown and Sinclair one and a half each.

He said he might hold a night session tonight or tomorrow in order to complete the arguments in the first trial to charge the jury the first thing Saturday morning.

L. R. McLendon, former Durham County collector, appointed by Governor O. Max Gardner to aid the prosecution, opened the argument for the state.

British Scientist Gives Description of Two Months Beneath Snow and Ice

August 14th, Greenland, May 14.—(AP)—A story of being buried two months beneath ice and snow in an igloo was told here today by Augustus Courtland.

The British scientist, who was found last week by fellow members of the British Arctic air route expedition, had only a minute to provide air to his place of refuge.

The Greenland ice cap, Courtland, whom Captain Albin K. Swenson, Swedish aviator, with the expedition, brought here from the inland base, was unbroken and unapproachable for months. He said he had been somewhat the worse for a long enforced diet of seal meat.

Walking said that his rescue party had toiled for many weeks over the ice cracks toward the locality where at the winter's beginning they had left Courtland to observe weather conditions.

They frequently lost the trail and near the place they reckoned Courtland to have been left were delayed for days when the sky clouded up and they could no longer ascertain their position.

In searching a way to the north they found an enormous deep covered with a thick layer of ice which they at once concluded must have been Courtland's igloo.

At the top of the snowman, which rose above them surrounded by acres of frozen snow the weary party found a small hole which was the only opening in the surrounding desert and which they concluded must be the igloo's chimney.

They shouted down into it, hoping their comrades was safe below and heard in reply an unexcited: "Hello. All right," which relieved their doubts and assured them that the imprisoned man was very much alive. They went to work with spades and within fifteen minutes had dug down and reached Courtland.

Courtland said that two months before a blizzard had raged for several days, completely covering the igloo. It was out of the question to try to dig himself out, first because the snow would have fallen in on him and because he had left his only shovel outside.

There was no opening to the outside world from the igloo except by the chimney, which he had to keep open and provide him with air.

For a month he was without a permanent light and depended for an occasional glimmer upon a little gasoline lamp which he used to melt snow to obtain drinking water.

He said that he spent most of his dreary time in his sleeping bag dozing and thinking, telling himself to keep his courage up.

War Mothers Stick to 18th Amendment Norma Talmadge Is Given Release

Raleigh, May 14.—(AP)—Delegates to the annual convention of the North Carolina chapter, American War Mothers, carried with them to their homes today resolutions of a sharp convention fight over endorsement of the 18th amendment.

Over the objections of Mrs. U. H. Cozart of Wilson, president, who declared the 18th amendment has produced more criminals than any other law, the convention at its closing session yesterday went on record pledging the chapter as upholding the dry amendment.

The stand was taken, after a bitter debate, on a resolution introduced by Mrs. T. Wiley Duke, of Raleigh.

In opposing the resolution, Mrs. Cozart urged the convention not to bring politics and the prohibition issue into this convention, saying the issue was "entirely the man's problem and we should let it alone."

Wait Till Mr. Tire Maker Sees This!... It'll Shoot His "Tricky" Comparison Chart Full of Holes.

A recent photograph of Mr. Pinson, his trusty car, and his faithful Riversides.

Meet T. J. E. "Uncle Happy" Pinson of Platte Center, Nebraska—known in the frontier days as "Devil's Arrow." Mr. Pinson is one of the colorful figures of the old west. He rode on the plains with Buffalo Bill, and knew Jesse James and his brother Frank. You see him in the photograph standing beside his 1912 Ford with two Riverside tires, just removed, after giving ten years of service and covering more than 40,000 miles. The hat he is wearing is punctured by bullets from the guns of Sioux Indians. Mr. Pinson paid $18.65 each for his Riversides in 1920. Since then, Riversides have been improved tremendously, and the prices have dropped amazingly. You can buy Riversides today, in the Ford size for only $4.55, and they are guaranteed WITHOUT LIMIT. Mr. Pinson's endorsement of Riversides came to us unsolicited and was not bought at a price. It is a voluntary testimonial of the satisfaction that Riversides have given him.

MR. PINSON'S RIVERSIDES LASTED 10 YEARS and covered 41,428 miles over rough territory

What chance have "comparison charts" you see in the papers and magazines against evidence like this! Who cares about charts showing "Rubber volume, weight, and the like," anyhow! We could build a tire bigger, heavier and wider than any tire on the market (bigger even than Riversides)—but that alone wouldn't give you satisfaction. It's mileage you want in a tire and these "paper comparisons" don't tell how far a tire will run.

We'll match Riversides... ON THE ROAD... against ANY tire made. And we'll beat it in price... Ask Mr. Pinson!

Riverside Tires are one of the best known in America. They have been sold for 19 years. They are made by one of the largest tire companies in the world. They are built to the most rigid specifications known. They are the finest quality it is possible to produce. They are backed by the most daring tire guarantee ever written. And they sell for less than any first-quality nationally advertised tire on the market! These sound like sensational claims. But they're facts. And Montgomery Ward & Co. stands back of every word. Note this—the nationally advertised tires offered to you at the same price as Riversides are not the first-quality tires of the manufacturers who make them—but their second-quality tires—put on the market to meet Riverside competition. So always compare qualities as well as prices. The table at the right lists some of the best known first-quality tires that do compare with Riversides in quality—you compare the prices!

ROUND TABLE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. AUSTIN

Mrs. H. E. Austin on Tuesday afternoon, was gracious hostess to the members of the Round Table Club and the following guests: Mrs. George Hawkins, Mrs. S. B. Underwood, Mrs. L. L. Rives and Miss Athlene Edwards. With business quickly disposed of, the program was turned over to Mrs. R. L. Smith.

As a background for her subject "American Ideals," Mrs. Smith had displayed a large American flag, the emblem of the ideals our nation upholds. She explained how the Constitution with its great objectives expressed in the Preamble, has stood the test of the ages, placing Freedom and Government hand-in-hand, with Liberty safeguarded by law.

Thirteen other countries of the world have given up monarchies and adopted republican forms of government, similar to that of the United States. Such a government insures the minimum of man's rights and progress to all and permits the maximum to those who work to attain it.

Mrs. Smith noted that the two powerful factors seeking to destroy these ideals in the world today are Dictatorship and Communism. The work of the Communists has been manifested in the closing of banks, causing of strikes, destroying of property, and in spreading of propaganda in schools and churches.

The number of such undesirable and their work among foreigners and negroes is just cause for decided measures to be taken to protect these ideals and principles upon which our nation has grown.

Mrs. Smith beautifully expressed in the following lines the summary of her thought.

Let's rally to Old Glory, Let's lift her colors high, Let alien eyes behold her, Let's dare to do or die.

Let's stand by her Ideals Of justice, truth, and right, Let alien hands molest her, Let's stand with all our might.

She stood the test of ages— Will stand for many more, Should alien feet dare trample, Let's close our open door.

Let's crush this creeping serpent That leaves a poison slime In home and church and school; Let's crush it for all time.

Let's keep the old ship sailing With steady helm and keel, And in her hold the ballast, American Ideals!

An explanation of the many baskets of roses and peonies then appeared in the form of a birthday cake with sixteen burning candles, for Miss Nellie Denny. The "Round Table" just twenty-one years old wished to share its birthday with Miss Denny's. In a few happy words, Mrs. T. A. Person presented to Miss Denny a purse, containing a piece of "Money Vine," from the oldest tree in America. This purse with its bit of "money vine," assured the presence of money and expressed the good wishes of the Round Table. An ice course, served by Mrs. Austin and Miss Edwards, concluded a happy and profitable meeting.

MRS. MOSELEY HOSTESS TO END OF CENTURY CLUB. The End of the Century Club held a most delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. B. W. Moseley Tuesday afternoon at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. J. L. Fleming, the president, presided. The books were distributed, after which some most interesting current events were given by the members and guests present.

The program was then turned over to Mrs. L. R. Meadows who gave a most interesting and instructive paper on "Ants." She told of the industry and thrift of these tiny little creatures and spoke of their habits, some of which displayed remarkable intelligence.

Miss Jesse Moye, accompanied by Mrs. C. V. Smith, sang a group of lovely songs which were much enjoyed by all present. Miss Moye has a voice of remarkable sweetness and is always heard with great pleasure.

At the close of the program the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Nancy Arthur Pundexter, served an ice course.

The guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Thomas Clifton, Mrs. Guy V. Smith, Miss Jesse Moye and Misses Scott, Horne, Powell, Brown and Shandler.

The club adjourned to meet May 26 with Mrs. J. L. Fleming.—Reported.

ANNUAL POPPY SALE SATURDAY, MAY 23-D

The little red memorial poppies which disabled World War veterans have been making through the winter and spring, will be sold in Greenville on Saturday, May 23. Mrs. D. M. Clark, president of the Auxiliary of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion announced today. A complete organization which will give everyone in the city an opportunity to buy and wear a poppy in memory of the World War dead is being developed by the unit under the leadership of Mrs. Wiley Brown chairman of the poppy committee. A larger sale of the memorial flowers than ever before is anticipated by the unit.

"The purpose of the poppy sale is two-fold," Mrs. Clark explained, "first, to honor the war dead by wearing the poppy which grows on the fields of France and Flanders where they fell, and second, to aid the living victims of the war, the families of the dead. Every penny of the money which the people of Greenville pay for their poppies will go to the relief of war sufferers the bulk of it to needy veterans and families.

"Saturday, May 23, the Saturday before Memorial Day, will see the whole nation wearing the memorial poppy," Mrs. Clark continued. "Poppy sales conducted by 7300 Auxiliary units will cover practically every city and town in the country. More than 10,000,000 Americans are expected to pay tribute to the world war dead and help the war's living victims back to health and happiness through buying and wearing a poppy on that day."

At noon a salute gun was fired, the various whistles of the town blew the numbers, 1931, and the birthday of a new organization was ushered in. The town as a whole was keenly interested in the gathering of the young men, flags flew from the sidewalks, and the streets were lined with people who came to view the parade.

The parade was most interesting, first came the Boy Scouts, carrying the colors, then in succession followed Miss Alice Harper Parker, 6-year-old daughter of a septuagenarian, J. W. Parker, pushing her little carriage and escorted by two Scouts bearing a banner, "A Little Child Shall Lead Them," the national guard, world war veterans; American Legion Auxiliary representatives; Spanish-American veterans, members of the Spanish-American Auxiliary, Confederate veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Daughters of the American Revolution, Pitt County Welfare representative, Septuagenarians, Octogenarians, Mayor Belcher and Town Aldermen.

Following the parade a barbecue dinner was served in the Rotary dining room, and the meeting adjourned with the singing of "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again."

SEPTUAGENARIANS HOLD FIRST MEETING

Farmville, May 13.—Something "new under the sun" in organization is believed to have been perfected here yesterday, when the septuagenarians and octogenarians of this and adjoining counties, met together to organize themselves into a unique group to be called the Septuagenarian Society.

Thirty-two men, veterans of two wars, and representing various occupations and walks in life, ranging in years from 70 to 88, were given seats of honor on the Perkins Hall stage Tuesday morning, and the whole town turned out to do them honor.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "America." The welcoming address was made by R. T. Martin, local attorney, who briefly reviewed the war represented by aged veterans present, and paid tribute to the heroes of the present and the past, and also remembered those who were forced to remain at home "to keep the home fires burning."

A. J. Moye, one of the septuagenarians, responded. Watt Parker, whose zeal and untiring energy the society was organized and perfected, spoke on the value of such an organization and suggested a motto, "Let honor be bestowed where honor lies."

Mrs. R. L. Davis, Farmville's oldest and most beloved citizen, and the only living resident who witnessed the first incorporation of the town 59 years ago, was honored by the rising of the assemblage when he arose to speak. He is the only bachelor in the society.

"Dixie" was sung lustily and with great spirit preceding the address of Rev. Newsum Harrison of Plymouth, a silver-haired Confederate veteran of 85 years, and an ambassador of God, who has served four Primitive Baptist churches for the past 65 years, and who states that the chief ambition of his life has been "the sowing of the right seed at the right place at the right time." He has the added distinction of being the only living Civil War veteran in Washington county, out of six companies which marched into the great struggle. His expression of love for his captain was touching, and one could not hear him without feeling the heat of the burning patriotism which seemed to obsess the souls of the southern men and made of them as fine-soldiers as ever despised death.

Mr. Harrison contrasted the principles of war with those of the Christian religion on "Peace on earth, good will towards men," and as one realized how very close was this man of God to the life beyond he could almost see the light of the halo which surrounds the heads of the saints.

Teas and laughter were intermingled during the talks made by various comrades, but the keynote of the testimonies was that of deep thankfulness at being spared to see the allotted span of three score years and ten. One was impressed with the seriousness, with which they regarded life, not as something to be lightly considered and eagerly laid down, as the tendency of today would seem to be, but as a priceless treasure, which even glows brighter with the years, and loses not its sparkle and gleam.

Mayor R. E. Blecher, Dr. W. M. Willis, Dr. Paul E. Jones and other visitors made short informal talks. John Hill Paylor was master of ceremonies.

The election of officers was an automatic procedure, the oldest man, A. P. Turnage, was made president; the youngest, F. M. Davis, secretary; his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Davis, historian, and the wealthiest, R. L. Davis, treasurer.

The organization is unique again in that there are no dues nor obligations of any sort imposed on the members.

At noon a salute gun was fired, the various whistles of the town blew the numbers, 1931, and the birthday of a new organization was ushered in. The town as a whole was keenly interested in the gathering of the young men, flags flew from the sidewalks, and the streets were lined with people who came to view the parade.

TO "Set-Ups" Seen In the American

St. Louis, May 14.—(AP)—If here are any "set-ups" in the American League this year, Joe M. Carter, skipper of the New York Yankees, hasn't seen them yet.

Marce Joe, paying his first visit to St. Louis as an American League pilot, explained today he had not yet seen the Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers in action yet, but called the other clubs "good ball teams."

An interviewer reminded McCarthy that Connie Mack recently picked the Yankees to give the Athletics plenty of trouble before the season is over.

"I have the greatest respect for Mr. Mack's judgment," he replied with a smile, and "I'll take his word for it, especially as I am quite sure he's right."

McCarthy said the Athletics were the team the Yankees would have to beat to win the pennant, "and that's not just paying back Mr. Mack for the nice things he has said of us, either."

ABOUT TOWN

Members of the Greenville Merchants Association will go to Greensboro the first of next week to attend the annual convention of the State Merchants Association. At this session many important questions relative to the welfare of the merchants in all parts of the state will be taken up and threshed out to the satisfaction of association members.

Judson Blount, of this city, will preside over the meeting. He has held office for the past term of one year, and a successor will be named for the ensuing year.

The administration of Mr. Blount has been very successful in spite of the depression and countless other problems which the merchants have had to grapple with from time to time. His wise counsel has resulted in marked growth of the majority of associations, and the year will close with a record which both he and the association may be justly proud.

Plans have been completed for the series of evangelistic services to be conducted at the Presbyterian church beginning next Sunday and continuing through the 24th, members of the committee stated today.

Two services will be conducted daily by Dr. Ben R. Lacy, president of the Union Theological Seminary of Richmond, Va., recognized as one of the leading members of the ministry in this part of the country.

The morning services will be held at 10 o'clock and the evening services at 8 o'clock.

Members of all denominations have been extended a cordial invitation to attend the services and hear Dr. Lacy, who is known as the "Fighting Parson" because of services which he rendered while acting as chaplain of the 113th Field Artillery during the world war.

Since that time he has held some of the leading pastorates in the south after which he was elected to the presidency of the Seminary at Richmond.

Greenville is proud of the opportunity to entertain the distinguished minister, and hopes his stay here will be both pleasurable and profitable.

It will not be long before employees of the various business houses of the city will be enjoying the usual half holiday observed each week during the summer.

Although no action has been adopted in this direction this year, it is supposed that the plan will again be in vogue. It is impossible to estimate the benefits which the workmen receive from the short respite from the rush and din of industry. They returned to their work last fall in much better physical condition and were able to render far better service during the winter months.

There is nothing that will take the place of recreation out in the open spaces during the summer, the most trying period of the year, and business men should find that continued observance of the plan will benefit them materially in the long run.

This is the season of the year when farmers begin putting their crops into the ground and this year is finding the growers giving the matter more mature consideration than ever before.

Before planting the growers would not go amiss by visiting the state live-at-home demonstration farm on the Greenville - Bethel road and gain some idea as to what may be done toward producing crops all the year around.

It is the purpose of the demonstration farm to show the growers what kind of plants may be grown each month of the year thereby making it possible to provide things for home and market consumption at the same time.

With agricultural leaders advising against normal acreage of tobacco and cotton, it seems the most advisable thing for the farmer to do is to reduce his money crops and plant the surplus acreage in things which his family and stock will require throughout the year.

By doing this he should find himself in position to live comfortably regardless of the trend of prices for a consideration was to be made in $100 bills.

GOLDSBORO ATTORNEY QUIZZED BY SENATE INVESTIGATING BODY
 "Was the name Clay Williams mentioned?" Senator Ward queried.
 "No, I do not know Clay Williams," Hatch stated.
 "Was there any reference to $50,000?"
 "No."
 "Was any thing said about $100 bills?"
 "No."
 Hatch identified himself as attorney for a Goldsboro bottling company.
 Williams told the investigating group that he called Reynolds on long distance telephone at Lexington, Ky. last night, after hearing the testimony yesterday, and told him the situation.
 Williams identified himself as an official of the Reynolds Tobacco Company in the Winston-Salem offices. He said he had been in Raleigh most of the time since the legislature started meeting as he is "officially interested" in the proposed luxury tax. He testified he did not know Pope personally.
 He first heard the rumor that Reynolds was supposed to have sent Hinsdale "a message on Monday night," William said, but paid no attention to it as "such rumors are often heard in hotel and legislative lobbies."
 "I knew Reynolds told me on the telephone that he saw Mr. Pope at the time of the medical school dedication at Duke and that on that occasion they discussed several matters, including horse racing and the luxury tax," Williams said.
 "Reynolds said he phoned Pope to meet him."
 "I argued to Pope that it (the luxury tax) was an unwise tax for North Carolina," Williams quoted Reynolds as telling him last night, "further than this I asked Mr. Pope if he would present these views to Mr. Hinsdale."
 Williams stated that Reynolds told him that no consideration was mentioned in the conversation with Pope and that he did not give Pope any message for Hinsdale.
 The following telegram from Reynolds was read:
 "I have learned of Mr. Pope's statement before a committee yesterday. He was correct when he said that I saw him in Durham when I was there at dedication of Memorial hospital and that I pointed out some of the reasons why North Carolina should not pass a luxury tax and asked him to see his friend Mr. Hinsdale and present these reasons to him if he felt about that matter as I did. Mr. Pope was telling the truth when he said I did not offer him any consideration or authorize to make any trade whatever about the matter. I gave him no message or proposition for Mr. Hinsdale or anybody else. Our meeting at my suggestion was nothing more than an attempt to get some of the facts as to the burden of these taxes on the poor people and this unfairness of them presented to Mr. Hinsdale through some one whose statement, I thought he would hear and consider seriously. I have known Mr. Pope many years and I was pressed for time to stay in Durham. I took the liberty of phoning him from Winston-Salem and asked him if he would not meet me in Durham as he did. I also had some other matters which I wished to discuss with Mr. Pope pertaining to the North Carolina fairs and the clarifying of the races at both Winston-Salem and Raleigh fairs."
 Williams denied ever having brought $50,000 or any other sum with him to Raleigh other than the necessary money to maintain himself here and defray personal expenses.
 Asked if he had any assistants here, Williams said M. A. Brassell, an attorney of the Reynolds Company from Winston-Salem had been here and that he had also employed Pete Murphy of Salisbury, John Dawson of Kingston and Walter Woodson of Salisbury to aid him but that none of them had yet been paid.

 The investigating committee adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow. Chairman Ward did not reveal whether further witnesses would be summoned.

Algerian Colors Are Introduced By Dame Fashion

New York, May 13.—(AP)—Across the Mediterranean from Algiers comes a new influence to add color and romance to the season's fashion creations.
 This new note introduced at the French colonial exposition in Paris is already gaining popularity in the most exclusive shops of American couturiers and will be much in evidence at fashionable gatherings this summer.
 Red, green, yellow, navy, white and black—Algerian colors—are combined in one of the most striking symphonies of the season. Together they are used in the development of scarfs, sashes, bags and turbans. Necklaces of many different strands employing several of all these colors are particularly chic with ensembles of solid colors, particularly of white.
 The last word in beach robes is a barbaric bathing burnoose evolved from the cape of the Nomad tribesman of the desert. Fashioned from heavily-piled twining, striped in the Algerian colors, it is gathered around the figure and caught in two ivory rings on one shoulder. Its utility is one of its greatest charms, as the robe may be converted into a towel after a dip into the ocean.
 One French designer has created a bright little Chapeau of knitted material with a sept color roll framing the face. The crown of the hat rises to an elfish peak at the back of the head.
 Gold and silver coin jewelry and bracelets of a light composition in orange, yellow and green also reflecting the French African influence are decorative additions to the summer costume.

 Pigskin accessories are gradually being accepted by smart women. A complete set—bag, gloves, and flowers—can be obtained. They can be washed.

Baptists Laud Work of President Hoover

Birmingham, Ala., May 14.—(AP)—The Southern Baptist convention, in annual session here today unanimously adopted and forwarded to President Hoover a resolution endorsing his stand on law observance and enforcement and reduction of land and naval armaments.
 The resolution was introduced on the convention floor by Dr. A. J. Barton, of Wilmington, N. C., chairman of the Social Service committee.
 The resolution follows:
 "The Southern Baptist Convention, with a constituency of more than 24,000 separate and independent churches having in their membership nearly 4,000,000 faithful and loyal citizens hereby sends cordial greetings and good wishes to the President of the United States.
 "We felicitate the president and the American people upon the president's efforts for law observance and enforcement; for reduction of naval and land armaments in order that nations of the world may be relieved of intolerable taxation and that international far may be removed and good will established and thus international peace may be made secure and permanent for child welfare and other like humanitarian enterprises in which all good citizens are deeply concerned.
 "We pray the Almighty God in whom we believe and trust may give the president a constant sense of his sustaining presence and may vouchsafe to the president wisdom, grace and strength for performance of his arduous duties and for meeting all his grave and weighty responsibilities."

 The resolution was dispatched to the president by telegraph.

Seeks Information On Protection of Foreign Diplomats

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson today instructed the Latin-American division of the State Department to ascertain what steps the Metropolitan police were taking to protect foreign diplomats in the capital.
 The secretary issued the instructions in connection with an attack early Wednesday on the Salvadoran charge d'affaires, Dr. Don Carlos Levia, by burglars attempting to loot the legation of its liquor supply.
 In response to questions, Stimson said he was not concerning himself with the protection of the liquor supplies of the foreign missions in Washington as much as he was the protection of the persons of foreign diplomats.
 The secretary is studying the whole question of protection to determine the best to be followed. Some officials of the Metropolitan police have expressed reluctance to take on the responsibility and additional expense which an extensive patrol of the foreign missions in Washington would require.

 They have pointed out that the problem is primarily one for the federal government which maintains on its public buildings and at the capitol a special guard in uniform different from those of the Metropolitan police and outside the authority of the organization.

BANK OF ENGLAND REDUCES RATES

London, May 14.—(AP)—The Bank of England reduced its discount rate today from three per cent to two and one half per cent.
 The rate had been at the old level for just over a year.
 Reduction of the United States rate last week created a belief in the market that the directors of the Bank of England would follow suit, especially since discounts had been altogether out of touch with the official minimum.

Baptists Seek Way to Reduce Their Expenses

Birmingham, Ala., May 14.—(AP)—The Southern Baptist Convention representing 18 states and the District of Columbia, today sought to devise means for resuscitating depleted finances.

Entering the second day of its annual conference here, the convention prepared to consider a report of a special committee of 19 named by President W. J. McGlothlin to bring expenditures within income and insure no further increase in indebtedness.

While the financial program was discussed in committee, the executive committee submitted its annual report recommending that it be permitted to appoint a radio committee and make such use of the radio as found to be practicable.

The radio committee would be charged with the task of "co-ordinating broadcasting hours for the support of our denominational causes," but to sponsor "no south-wide programs put on at the regular hour for church services."

The last of the convention board reports were presented last night with reading of the fortieth annual Sunday school board report by I. J. Van Ness of Nashville, executive secretary, and the thirtieth annual report of the relief and annuity board by Secretary Thomas J. Watts of Dallas.

The Sunday School Board reported an enrollment of 2,659,183, a gain of $2,518 since last year and a B. Y. P. U. enrollment of 532,976, a gain of 32,571. Business receipts for the year totaled $1,840,562.11, a decrease during the year of $93,930.57.

To relief and annuity board reported that, in the face of further decline in receipts from churches, it paid to relief beneficiaries during the year a larger aggregate sum than was paid in any year since 1927, when the greatest sum was paid. The report also stated that there are now on the waiting list 150 relief applications.

ADVANCED REFRIGERATION

On smooth steel rails foods slide in and out of Frigidaire!

Push a heavy bowl of soup-stock into a Frigidaire—it doesn't stutter its way to the back of the shelf—slopping over as it goes. It doesn't ask to be lifted into place, either. It slides along as smoothly and silently as a Cadillac on a concrete road!

And when you want it again it doesn't have to be coaxed to come out—it seems absolutely eager to obey your guiding hand... This is because Frigidaire Food Shelves are made of smooth steel rails all running one way—from front to back. There are no crinkly crossbars for dishes to stumble over and stub against. Now, in themselves, easy-riding rails on food shelves are small things. But they are one of the many things that go to make Frigidaire Convenience, which (millions of women will tell you) is a Very Big Thing, indeed!

Easy-riding, one-way rails on all food shelves are one of the very real advantages of Frigidaire Advanced Refrigeration. There are many others. It is these major improvements, developed by Frigidaire, that have made household refrigeration so healthful, convenient and economical. We invite you to come in and learn about them.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, May 14.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 6 to 8 points lower under selling promoted by relatively easy cable from Liverpool, and a favorable view of the weather outlook.

The light scattered selling was quite readily absorbed on the decline to 9.75 for July and 10.30 for December by covering and some trade buying, presumably to fix prices. This was sufficient to steady the market and prices rallied 3 or 4 points from the lowest. Trading remained quiet with the active months showing net declines of 4 or 5 points at the end of the first half hour. Temperatures shown by the early map were considered rather low, but it was clear quite generally over the belt with prospects for warmer weather.

Liverpool cables reported that early liquidation in that market had been absorbed by covering promoted by the reduction in the Bank of England rate.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, May 14.—(AP)—Stops selling forced grains sharply downward today, especially during late transactions, wheat and corn both falling more than 2 cents a bushel from yesterday's high point. Weakness of securities had a depressing effect. Canadian predictions of scattered showers in Alberta and Saskatchewan provinces were also a lat' bearish influence.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 14.—(AP)—Share prices developed resistance to the downward tendency in another session of apathetic trading today.

Wall Street was interested in the reduction of the Bank of England's discount rate from 3 to 2 1/2 per cent, but the London market was preoccupied with less cheering developments, despite the constructive aspects of this further evidence widespread cheapening of credit.

In the early trading, pressure was exerted on U. S. Steel, which was depressed a point to a new low at 108 1/2 but it soon recovered. The general market manifested a better tone around the middle of the day, but the rails failed to recover appreciably from an early attack.

Among issues recording gains of a point or two were American Can, Montgomery Ward, Case, Underwood Elliott, Allied Chemical, Fox and Alaska Juneau, the last named, a recent pool favorite.

Although call money in the New York market again renewed at 1 per cent, it was freely offered. Time money continued to decline, six-month funds being reported offered as low as 11-2 per cent. It is felt in some banking quarters that the clearing house committee may soon cut the rate interest paid on deposits, despite its recent inaction, and the rumors of disagreement.

Women Donate Huge Sum To Presbyterians

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—(AP)—Gifts by 150,000 women of the Southern Presbyterian church to the church amounted to $1,502,968, says a report released today from the department of women's work with headquarters in this city.

Miss Janie W. McCaughey, secretary, is to submit the report to the General Assembly of the church at Montreat, N. C., May 28.

The report says interest in church work was promoted during the year by 2,520 classes in foreign missions, 5,087 Bible study classes and 6,106 prayer bands with 63,330 members.

A special offering of $55,632.33 was made for establishment of a ministerial relief endowment fund in honor of Mrs. W. C. Wimbrough, secretary emerita of the Department of Woman's Work.

The little inboard cruiser Greyhound carried its owner Frederick Smith of Memphis, Pilot Harvey Brown, Engineer Grady Lyle and Edmund Higgins on a record breaking run up the Mississippi from New Orleans to St. Louis. New Theory In Concord Murders Held In Secrecy Concord, May 14.—(AP)—Officers kept a veil of secrecy drawn today about the nature of "an entirely new theory" which Dr. I. A. Yow, county coroner, said they had reached in their investigation of the slaying of Mrs. Criss Starnes, 75, and her daughter daughter, Ada, 40.

What evidence they have gathered in their search for the slayer who beat the two women to death last Friday likewise remained undisclosed.

Carl Love, an employee of R. L. Barrier, 47, who owned the farm where the two women lived and shot himself to death two days after finding their bodies, was ordered released from the county jail. Love was arrested as a material witness.

A coroner's jury yesterday reached a verdict that Barrier had killed himself. Relatives and neighbors testified he had been despondent.

No attempt was made to connect his suicide with the deaths of the two women. Dr. Yow said an inquest into the women's deaths had been postponed indefinitely while the investigation is being made.

He said the inquests might be held in a few days or a few weeks.

Rocket Voyagers To the Moon Better Carry Stoves Along

Urbana, Ill.—(AP)—Studying the face of the moon as it appeared at its full phase a few days ago we recall reading of proposed trips to its surface, in vehicles propelled by rocket motors, or in some other way.

At the comfortable speed of a hundred miles an hour, the trip would require only three months. And a radio message of the safe arrival could be transmitted to stations on the earth in one and one-third seconds. So far the trip seems attractive.

Astronomers at the Mount Wilson observatory have recently completed measurements of temperatures at the moon's surface. They find at the center of the disk of the full moon a temperature of 214 degrees; the rocks just there are slightly hotter than the ordinary boiling point of water.

Toward the edge of the moon's disk it becomes cooler, and finally much colder. Near the edge, which at the full moon is the sunrise or sunset line, the thermometer reads 60 degrees below zero. And on the other side, where it is night, the temperature is as low as 250 degrees below zero.

Prom day to night on the moon the temperature may drop from the boiling point of water to the point at which air with it becomes liquid. But on the moon there is neither

Seek Negro for Attack On Woman

Marshville, May 14.—(AP)—A negro believed to be the man who attacked Mrs. Hoyt Miziah, 29, year old mother of a seven-weeks-old baby yesterday, was reported surrounded in a patch of woods near the South Carolina line, 17 miles from here, at 4 A. M. today.

North and South Carolina officers who scoured the countryside for the negro all last night, sent out a call for reinforcements and were expected to close in on the negro soon after daylight.

Mrs. Miziah said the negro attacked her as she was working in a garden at her home near here. He choked her into unconsciousness and threatened to cut her throat, she related. The ground was torn up for several yards where the two struggled.

The woman's husband was in a field some distance from the house and, regaining consciousness, she ran to the nearby home of a neighbor and spread an alarm. Her condition was described as serious.

water to boil nor air to liquify. Having in mind the remarkable achievements of science, one would scarcely venture to predict that a successful crossing to the moon can never be accomplished. Engineering difficulties may well be overcome, and means may be found for providing a supply of air, as well as food and water. Chance encounters with swiftly moving meteors would have to be reckoned as one of the hazards of a dangerous trip.

For the astronomer a station on the moon's surface would offer conditions for observing the heavens far superior to the most favorable site on the earth. The lunar sky is always cloudless, and the view is so clear and steady that very high magnifying powers could be employed successfully. Then, too, the stars could be seen in the daytime fully as well as at night. The moon is the ideal location for a great telescope.

Armor Tells of the Giant Armadillos of Florida Jungle

Bradenton, Fla.—(AP)—An extinct beast armored like a miniature war tank moved through the Florida jungles 40,000 years ago. It was the giant armadillo, whose hide was bit-proof.

Parts of its armor, and bones and teeth have been discovered near here by Walter W. Holmes, field worker in paleontology for the American Museum of Natural History, and his associate, James E. Moore of Sarasota. This is the first specimen ever found of a new genus of armadillos, and has been named Holmesia in honor of Mr. Holmes.

The hard, bony plates that covered the giant armadillo's back were flexible as the chain mail of King Arthur's knights. When danger threatened the animal rolled up in a ball that was tough enough to discourage even the saber-toothed tiger, which also lived in Florida in those days.

Including its tail the giant armadillo must have been nearly six feet long and as large around as a man, says Holmes. Its teeth show that it was a vegetarian. They have flat surfaces for grinding food instead of points for biting.

The giant armadillo died out, perhaps because the Florida climate did not remain warm enough to produce the food it needed, it is suggested by Barnum Brown, curator of fossil reptiles at the museum.

Severe Sickness Left Lady In Debilitated Condition. — Tells How Cardui Helped.

"Some years ago, I was in a very weakened condition from a severe sickness," writes Mrs. S. R. Pearson, of Greer, S. C.

"I was very weak and so nervous I could not stand on my feet. I would get so faint."

"I read in the newspaper that Cardui helped weak women, so decided to use it."

"After I began taking Cardui, I grew stronger. I was less nervous. I kept it up until I had taken one dozen bottles. By that time, I was strong and well again."

"I have never found anything that gave me strength and stopped nervousness as Cardui did. I highly recommend it."

Many women are surprised at the recovery of strength following their use of Cardui, when in a weak, nervous condition, such as described above.

Cardui is a harmless, mild, medicinal compound of botanical drugs, and may be safely taken by women of all ages.

HOW ONE WOMAN LOST 102 LBS. OF FAT

Nevertheless True Almost Unbelievable—

Dear Friends:

You advertise Kruschen Salts for reducing, so I finally tried them and when I started I weighed 219 pounds and when I took them for a year and 3 weeks, I lost 102 pounds.

I am 23 years old and I look at least 5 years younger now than I did when I was fat. I have a picture of myself before and after so if you want to see them let me know.

I am always telling my friends about the wonderful salts. I am always advertising them.

I took 2 bottles every month for a year and 3 weeks. It amounted to $25 for reducing 102 pounds but it was worth it.

If I can be of any help to you let me know.

Yours truly, Miss Nellie Simpson, 1903 Wayne Street, Swissvale, Pa. Oct. 31, 1930.

Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

You can hasten the reducing action of Kruschen by going lighter on potatoes, pastry and fatty meats. Unlike other Salts, Kruschen does not reduce by rushing food thru your system. Rather it's an ideal blend of 6 separate mineral salts which help every gland, nerve and body organ to function properly.

Women everywhere are overjoyed with this marvelous reducing treatment. Frequently pound by pound of surplus fat leaves and soon you possess that trim, slender figure you've always craved.

An 85c bottle of Kruschen (lasts 4 weeks) is sold by leading druggists the world over—so start this SAFE method to lose ugly fat TODAY!
