REVENUE CONFEREES AGREE ON NEW COMPROMISE

Agreement Based On Fifteen Cent Ad Valorem Tax

New Revenue Bill Will Be Drawn By a Sub-committee of Five Members of the Conference Committee and Will Be Submitted to the Full Committee at One O'clock Monday; Agreement Opens Possibility That the Legislators Might Adjourn By May 23

Raleigh, May 15.—(AP)—The conferees on the biennial bill agreed on a new compromise this afternoon, based on a 15-cent ad valorem tax levy by counties to aid the state support of the six months school term.

The new revenue bill will be drawn by a sub-committee of five members of the conference committee and will be submitted to the full committee at 1 p. m. Monday. The agreement opened the possibility that the General Assembly might adjourn May 23 but refusal of the compromise by either house would result in a further prolonging of the session.

Chairman Spence of the House conference committee, said the new bill would increase franchise taxes on power and telephone companies to five per cent, and includes a merchant's license tax but would not contain a documentary tax or a tax on consumers of electricity, gas and other utilities.

The sub-committee to draft the report, which will be presented to the divisions of the assembly Monday unless the conferees reverse themselves, is composed of Representatives Spence of Moore, Cherry of Gaston and Connor of Wilson, and Senators Dunlap of Anson and Gravelly of Nash.

This morning Representative MacLean of Beaufort, leader of the House forces fighting for support of the six months schools without an ad valorem tax, told a caucus that it was "his judgment" that the Senate compromise offer of a 15-cent county ad valorem tax should be accepted but that it was against "his inclination."

The caucus voted 44 to 4 not to accept any proposal containing an ad valorem tax but if only 44 members vote against the proposed report on the floor it is probable it will pass.

After the action of the caucus the conferees were undetermined as to whether to report the compromise agreement to the floor or not and at 1:45 had not reached an agreement.

The special Senate investigating committee probing charges that the senators had been subjected to bribery had an informal meeting this morning and Chairman Ward announced further hearings have been indefinitely postponed.

Joseph Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, and a supporter of the MacLean law for school support without an ad valorem tax, spoke to the caucus, as did T. C. Bowie of Ashe county, a former representative. Other newspapermen were barred from the caucus.

The House refused 52 to 40 to table the Ewing bill to tax electrical energy produced in North Carolina one-half mill per kilowatt hour and set the measure as a special order on second reading for Monday night.

Death was dealt the proposal that the General Assembly adjourn its meeting place to Wrightsville Beach when the House today tabled the measure on a standing vote.

Introduced at first as a joke yesterday the measure passed second reading in the House and appeared headed for final approval there but the Senate expected to kill it, but on motion of Representative Cherry of Gaston it was tabled this afternoon.

The House adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow with no public bills to be considered and set 3 p. m. Monday as the hour to meet and receive the report of the revenue conferees.

DR. HUMBER VISITS HERE

Noted Cancer Specialist Guest of His Parents for a Short Time

Dr. John D. Humber, of San Francisco, noted cancer specialist, arrived in Greenville last night and will spend several days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Humber at their home corner Fifth and Green streets.

Dr. Humber, who is associated with Dr. Hubert Coffey in the discovery of a cancer extract which has attracted the attention of members of the medical profession in all parts of the world, came to Greenville from New York where he and Dr. Coffey have been conducting public hearings regarding the opening of a clinic.

Several months ago the two specialists were given a million dollar home on Long Island in which to conduct experiments, and at the present time considerable research work is being carried on there.

Although no decision has been reached concerning the New York clinic, Dr. Humber expressed opinion that they would continue research activities on Long Island and might eventually open a clinic there.

He said they were also contemplating the establishment of clinics in other sections of the country as soon as definite plans in this connection could be perfected.

The specialists have been conducting clinics in San Francisco for nearly two years, and during that time several hundred patients have received attention. Only cancer sufferers who have been declared incurable by the medical profession, are accepted for treatment.

Numbers of remarkable developments have taken place among patients in the clinics, and the cancer has entirely disappeared in numbers of cases.

Dr. Humber, in an illustrated lecture before members of the Pitt County Medical Society and doctors from other parts of the state at the high school here last year, gave a graphic description of the development of the extract and treatment of the hundreds of cases in the clinics. He presented pictures of various cases and the wonderful progress which was made by the patients after receiving treatment.

The extract has not yet been released to the public, Dr. Humber stated, but he expressed opinion it would be sometime in the near future. He said it had been used purely in research work the last several months and would be available for public use as soon as experiments have been completed.

BERT MOYE FINED $75

Local Young Man Guilty of Three Charges in Connection With Wreck

Found guilty of charges of assault with a deadly weapon, transporting whiskey and reckless driving, Bert Moye, local young man, was fined $75 and cost by Judge W. L. Wheeler, presiding over the regular weekly session of County court this morning. He was adjudged not guilty of operating an automobile while drunk. Evidence as to the condition of his defendant after the wreck was not admitted by the court.

The charges grew out of an automobile collision on the Greenville-Farmville highway, on the outskirts of the city several weeks ago in which Adrian Savage, occupant of another car, received injuries which necessitated his confinement in the local hospital for sometime.

Moye, it was said, had driven down the Farmville road a short distance, and was turning around when his automobile collided with the car in which young Savage was riding.

Moye was arrested but was later released under bond pending hearing in County court. The other occupants of the two automobiles escaped unharmed with exception of one or two who were said to have suffered from shock.

Abe Hathaway and Jesse Stancill were fined $25 and cost on a charge of possession of whiskey. John McLawhorn, charged with possession of whiskey was fined $25 and cost.

Louise Taylor, colored, sentenced to three months in jail on a charge of larceny.

John Moore, colored, was sentenced to six months on the road for selling whiskey.

Dave Morris, colored, was sent to the roads for four months on a charge of larceny. Ozie Watson, held in the same case, was adjudged not guilty.

Widie Wingate, colored, was fined $20 and cost and given a suspended sentence on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Court began work yesterday and the docket was so congested that it was unlikely hearing would be completed before late this afternoon.

HILL HORNE IS HONORED

Greenville Druggist Elected Grand Commander of the State Knights Templar

W. Hill Horne, Greenville druggist, was elected grand commander of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of North Carolina at the final session of the convention of the organization at Asheville yesterday.

Mr. Horne, accompanied by Wiley Brown and J. N. Hart, returned to the city this morning and reported the convention as one of the most delightful in years.

Mr. Horne, who has served as grand commander since the death of Sterling Gary of Halifax, was elected unanimously. It is the highest office it is in the power of members of Masonry to confer upon one of their members.

Mr. Horne has been prominently identified with Masonry for many years. He has held many offices and was largely responsible for the formation of the Bethlehem Commandery in this city several years ago.

He was honored guest at numbers of social functions during the Asheville convention, the most prominent probably being the luncheon given at the Biltmore Country club by Thomas J. Harkins, one of the leading members of the Masonic body of the nation.

The new commander was born and reared in Greenville, and has spent the major part of his life here except the years he was away at college, and the period he was engaged in the practice of pharmacy in other towns of the eastern part of the state.

For the last several years he has operated a drug store in Greenville, and enjoys a large patronage. He (Continued on page six)

Fletcher Bank Is Robbed of $1,500

Fletcher, N. C., May 15.—(AP)—Two bandits held up the Bank of Fletcher today, locked the cashier, S. B. Rhodes, in the vault and escaped with approximately $1,500.

The bandits, one short and dark, apparently about 50 years old, and the other younger and taller, came into the bank in the early afternoon when all employees were out except the cashier.

One suddenly pulled a gun and held up the cashier while the other began to gather the cash. Rhodes grappled with his guard, but was overcome by the two men.

The cashier's hand was lacerated in the struggle. After taking all the money they could find, the bandits shut Rhodes in the vault. He was able to free himself in a few minutes and sounded an alarm.

The bandits meanwhile had escaped in a large sedan. The car was left standing before the bank while the robbery was in progress.

Citizens who had seen the car before the bank said it had either an Ohio or a South Carolina license, tag. No one took the number of the license.

Officers from here set out in pursuit of the bandits who drove off in the direction of Asheville. Neighboring towns were notified of the robbery and asked to watch for the bandits.

BELASCO DIES IN NEW YORK

Grand Old Man of Stage Succumbs to Heart Disease in His 75th Year

New York, May 15.—(AP)—The theatrical world was in mourning today for David Belasco, grand old man of the stage, creator of stars, wizard as director and producer.

In his 77th year, he died of heart disease yesterday after virtually a lifetime devoted to the stage. "I shall retire when I am carried feet first out of the theatre," he said on his 75th birthday. However, he did retire and there was a dramatic touch to his death.

"I shall retire when I am carried feet first out of the theatre," he said as his daughter, Reina, Mrs. Morris Gest, went to his bedside, in the Hotel Gladstone, a moment before the end.

True to the Belasco tradition, his latest play "Tonight or Never," went on as usual last night.

Mr. Belasco was stricken but a few hours before his death. He had apparently recovered from a severe pneumonia which had kept him absent several months last winter. Earlier this week he had reserved eight tickets for the fights tonight in Madison Square Garden.

Sunday he went motoring. Tuesday night he fell ill, but refused to let his nurse summon a doctor. At 8 A. M. yesterday the doctor was called and remained with the stage master until the end at 4:15 P. M.

Hundreds of messages of condolence reached his daughter. Typical were: Lee Shubert—He was without (Continued on page four)

LACK OF JOBS IS DEPLORED

Welfare Worker Says Unemployment Situation Is Causing Pauperization

Cleveland, May 15.—(AP)—The man who directs one of the country's largest charitable organizations believes present widespread unemployment is creating pauperization, although, he said, the average worker would rather have a job than financial relief alone.

The director is Edward D. Lynde, general secretary of Associated Charities of Cleveland. With his staff of 400, mostly trained psychologists and social workers, he is trying to care for destitute families of Cleveland's unemployed, which are variously estimated from 65,000 to 90,000.

Lynde believes that the peak of the number requiring care has been reached. In March the number was 10,539, but since has declined.

Lynde described today his organization's vast amount of planning to care for large numbers with limited expenditures, which in April were $162,000. There must be a limited breakdown of morale among the jobless—no beginning, no soup lines, greatest encouragement of self help, and no financial relief unless bank accounts and credits are exhausted.

In normal times the organization's work is chiefly rehabilitation by trained men and women; only about a third of the family's under care receiving financial aid. Today, however, rehabilitation must be set aside under the pressure of financial necessity, and as a result (Continued on page four)

Western North Carolina Bankers Face Court Action As Result of Charges Growing Out of Bank Failures in That Section

Asheville, May 15.—(AP)—A federal grand jury here today returned indictments against six Western North Carolina bankers on charges growing out of the failure of banks in this section last fall.

Two defendants not previously arrested in the bank cases were named, R. E. Curran, cashier of the closed American National Bank of Asheville, and Jean Babbington Williams, teller No. 1, Citizens National Bank of Hendersonville.

Curran is charged with false entries in the reports. There are seven counts in the indictment.

Williams is charged with false entries and embezzlement; nine counts. The others indicted, all bound to the federal grand jury at a preliminary hearing several months ago, are:

L. L. Jenkins, president of the closed American National Bank, charged on three counts with misapplication and false entry.

Lacy, president of the Union Theological Seminary at Richmond, Va., who is to conduct a series of evangelistic services at the Presbyterian church here next week, is expected to reach Greenville sometime tomorrow. He will preach the opening sermon of the series Sunday morning. Two services will be held daily, the first at 10 o'clock each morning and the second at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The services will continue through the 24th. While here Dr. Lacy will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Crisp at their home on Fifth street.

Song services will be conducted by Mr. J. B. Overmyer, of Gastonia, director of the choir of the First Presbyterian church of that city. Mr. Overmyer is a ministerial student at Richmond and is considered one of the leading evangelistic singers of the denomination. He will be guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harvey while here.

Members of the denomination were busy today putting finishing touches on plans for the services. The beautiful church building at the corner of Fifth and Pitt streets is expected to be packed at each service, and preparations are being made to take care of the crowds.

Members of all denominations have been cordially invited to worship with the Presbyterians during the services.

Dr. Lacy is well known in Greenville, having delivered the principal address before the Pitt County Post of the American Legion here last November.

He is a veteran of the World War, having served as chaplain of the 118th Field Artillery with such distinction that he was called the "Fighting Parson." He was reported to have captured German machine guns with such effect at one time during the war that he helped his soldiers turn defeat into victory.

Senator Hallet Ward, Chairman of Special Investigating Committee, Announces That Further Hearings Have Been Deferred Indefinitely; Committee May Call Further Witnesses at Later Date, Continue Probe Or Decide to Make Final Report

Raleigh, May 15.—(AP)—Senator Hallet S. Ward of Beaufort, chairman of the Senate special investigating committee probing charges of alleged attempted bribery and corruption of senators announced today that further hearings have been indefinitely postponed.

Senator Ward explained to newspapermen that the committee might at a later date call further witnesses, continue its investigation or decide to make a final report.

The chairman stated that no formal meeting was set for this morning, though it had been understood one was called. He said the members agreed among themselves to meet and "discuss subsequent procedure."

"We decided that for the present the matter is to be held up for further investigation," Senator Ward announced, "or until we decide what we will do."

No statement was made by Senator Ward or other members of the committee as to what they thought of the testimony which has been heard by the inquisitorial group.

Senator John Hindsdale, of Wake, has testified before the committee that David H. Pope, chairman of the Wake County Board of Commissioners, told him W. N. Reynolds, of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, would offer Hindsdale anything he wanted if the Wake Senator would "set up" in his fight for the luxury tax.

Reynolds, in a telegram to the committee yesterday, denied he made any such statement to Pope and Pope has denied he told Hindsdale that Reynolds told him (Pope) there would be such an offer. S. Clay Williams, new president of the Reynolds company, appeared before the committee yesterday and denied the rumors and asked for complete abolition of his company of any underhand tactics.

The other rumor of alleged unsuccessful bribery of senators involved the name of Senators Hugh Dortch of Wayne, another staunch and consistent supporter of the luxury tax.

Investigation of this report yesterday led to a statement from J. J. Hatch, Goldsboro attorney, who said he told Faison Thomson, another Goldsboro attorney, that he thought if Thomson would use his influence to defeat the luxury tax he "could get a fee." Hatch denied there was any mention of Senator Dortch's name or the name of any other senator.

Barber Fined $10 for Hitting Saunders

Elizabeth City, May 15.—(AP)—Els Prichard, a barber, who slapped W. O. Saunders, newspaper editor and magazine writer on the street here yesterday, paid a $10 fine today rather than apologize to Saunders.

Prichard took offense at a story in Saunders' newspaper, the Independent, in connection with the municipal election. The story described Prichard as a "ward heeler" and intimated he had not voted for Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic nominee in 1928.

Haled into court, Prichard was told he would be acquitted of a charge of assault if he apologized. He said that if the editor first apologized he would "humble himself" to the extent of reciprocating. Saunders did not apologize and Prichard was fined.

After striking Saunders, Prichard threatened to repeat the slaps every time his name was mentioned in the paper.

He explained today his treat was conditional and that he would take no offense if his name was "properly used."

The barber said he was more incensed over the implication that he had not voted for Smith than over the term "ward heeler."

Owns Derby Entry

C. V. Whiteway's Derby horse is one of the favorites to win the Kentucky derby at Louisville, Ky.

the explorer's sled and skis had been found but that no trace of Wegener had been discovered.

Prof. Alfred Wegener, who headed a German expedition into Greenland last year has not been heard from since November 1 when he left the central base of his expedition and started for the west coast of Greenland with one sled and one native.

He was given up for lost when a relief expedition reached the central base only to learn of his departure.

When he left the base he took provisions for only three weeks and if he were alive he should have reached the west coast long ago. There is a possibility that he may have dug himself in somewhere on the ice cap as did the British explorer, Augustine Court, who was rescued last week, but leaders of the relief expedition said that possibility was scant.

Says Diplomats Violating The 18th Amendment

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—Representative Schafer intends to ask a committee of the next Congress to determine "why law enforcement officers of the Federal Government are permitting foreign representatives to violate the 18th amendment."

According to incidents related to the recent raid by Honor Thayer on the Salvadorean Legation, Schafer wrote to Secretary Stimson today that "It appears indefensible for officials of the government to permit violations of the prohibition law" by diplomats.

Schafer, a Wisconsin anti-prohibitionist, was a Republican member of the last House expenditures committee, and said in a statement today he would offer a motion to that committee at its first meeting "providing for a thorough investigation of the embassy and legation liquor question."

Instead of granting 24-hour police protection for "privately-owned beverages," the anti-prohibitionists asserted, "it would seem more appropriate for law enforcement officers to apprehend and prosecute the felons and confiscate their illegal stocks."

Schafer told the secretary of state he could see no reason to allow diplomats "to transport prohibited liquor by truck loads and at the same time send a tax-paying American citizen to jail for five years and brand him as a felon for transporting one pint of beverage liquor, or 4 per cent good wholesome beer."

He added: "No wonder the people of the United States are showing disrespect for law and order when these conditions are permitted to exist."

In the statement, Schafer said he would propose that the House committee also ascertain "the amount of diplomatic liquor diverted to non-diplomatic channels."

MRS. SUGG HOSTESS TO SANS SOUICI CLUB

The Sans Souci Book Club met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. B. Sugg. Sixteen members and one guest were cordially welcomed by the hostess, who showed them into the living room, beautifully decorated with snapdragons and roses.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Judson Blount, after which the roll was called and minutes read and approved. The business over Mrs. Boots Skinner rendered a delightful and instructive paper on George Bernard Shaw, the noted English novelist and playwright.

We found him versatile and covering a wide area of thought. Every member thoroughly enjoyed an insight into his life and character.

Current events, always an interesting part of our program, were given. At the close of the meeting the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Will Hooker, served a delicious salad course.—Reported.

POPPIES FOR ANNUAL SALE RECEIVED BY AUXILIARY

Work of preparing for the annual poppy sale of the American Legion Auxiliary went into full swing today when the memorial poppies which will be worn on Poppy Day, May 23, in honor of the World War dead, were received here. The little red flowers, packed in neat boxes, came from the work rooms where they were made by disabled veterans under Auxiliary direction.

They must be counted and arranged for distribution to the volunteer workers who will offer them on the streets on Poppy Day.

The poppies are paper replicas of the wild European poppies which bloomed on the battlefields in France and Belgium during the World War. It was this flower growing between the rows of wooden crosses above fresh battle graves, which inspired the famous poem, "In Flanders Fields," by Col. John McCrea. Since the war the flower has become recognized throughout the world as the symbol of war sacrifice.

How many people of Greenville who will wear these poppies this year, realize the story that is behind each little flower?

Each poppy has been made individually by some disabled veteran who through this work has been able to help himself or his family in the long struggle against the handicaps of war disability. Often there is a tragic and pathetic story wrapped up in these flowers.

Each poppy made means one cent earned by some needy disabled veteran for the support of his family or to aid him when he attempts to reestablish himself in the world. Three hundred flowers a day is the limit usually placed on the workers to prevent them from overtaxing their strength, but three dollars a day is a God-send to men who have earned nothing for months and years. Approximately 10,000,000 of the poppies have been made this year and about $100,000 has been paid by the Auxiliary into the empty pockets of the disabled men.

Teachers College Students Win In National Contest

Miss Thelma Cherry of Greenville and Miss Juanita Worsley of Rocky Mount, both students in the science department of East Carolina Teachers College, were notified today that they were winners in a national contest open to undergraduates of normal schools and teachers colleges and sponsored by the American Chemical Society.

Miss Cherry was awarded first prize, $500, for her paper on "The Role of Chemistry in the Diffusion of Knowledge"; and Miss Worsley received the second prize of $300, her subject being "Chemistry and Household Conveniences." The young women deserve high praise for their excellent work, especially since the papers were judged best among those submitted by students from all parts of the country. Would Protect Homes Against All Obscenity
Atlanta, May 15.—(AP)—Richard B. Russell, Chief Justice of the Georgia Supreme court and father of 18 children, one of whom is governor-elect of the state, has no objection to anyone practicing birth control but he wants "the boys" protected against an invasion of obscenity through the "United States mails."

Debating Mrs. Margaret Sanger, veteran birth control crusader and the mother of three children, here last night the Georgia jurist defended the so-called Comstock law which makes illegal dissemination of birth control information by mail.

"I am not debating against repeal of this law because I am the father of 18 children," he said. "Everyone in Georgia who needs to know about birth control already knows it. Furthermore, its practice is common. Otherwise, how would the state have lost two congressmen as a result of the last census? But I don't want the mails in my state opened to injurious matter to be placed before the immature minds in the home. Any state that wants contraception practiced can have it."

Mrs. Sanger agreed that birth control was employed by many persons, and has been for a generation or more, but she argued that the Comstock law prevents contraceptive information from reaching the poor people who need it most. She estimated that since the law was passed 37 years ago a million and a half mothers have died of causes incident to childbirth, 90 per cent of whom might have been saved had the law not been in effect.

Judge Russell said it was "not the self-sacrificing home-loving, man-making woman who wants birth control, but the so-called ladies who want to attend the theaters and the club instead of staying at home and caring for their children."

Repeats Charges Against Walker
New York, May 15.—(AP)—Alan Fox, chairman of the City Affairs committee of the National Republican club, whose attack on Mayor Walker's private life was censored by the club members, today issued a pamphlet repeating the charges.

The committee's report was submitted April 21 at a meeting of the club. It met severe criticism in debate and reference to the mayor's private life were expunged.

The three sentences, which the club ordered deleted, said of Walker: "He has joked, jaunted to race tracks, sat up all night at wild parties, entertained Hollywood and ignored the city's problems. Every man of course, has a right to live his private life as he sees fit, so far as consistent with his obligations to others, and we have no concern with Mayor Walker's private escapades except insofar as they interfere with his public duties. of his private life to interfere with reasonable attention to the responsibilities of his great office." Newspapers said today a movement was afoot to prevent reappointment of Fox to the committee.

Newport Society Woman Married

Newport, R. I., May 15.—(AP)—Miss Louise Astor Van Alen of Newport and Prince Alexis Z. Divani of Georgia were married at Wakehurst, the bride's Newport home, today. The ceremony was one of the simplest and least catenatious society weddings held in Newport in many months.

Neither the bride nor the groom was attended. Less than a dozen persons, all members of the bride's immediate family, witnessed the ceremony and the family of the prince was not represented.

The bride, a direct descendant of John Jacob Astor, is the daughter of Mrs. James Laurens Van Alen and granddaughter of the late James J. Van Alen, once United States ambassador to Italy.

Prince Divani, who is 23, is the brother-in-law of Mae Murray, screen actress, whose husband is Prince Serge Divani, the divorced husband of Pola Negri.

In applying for a marriage license, Prince Alexis listed his occupation as "gentleman."

ABOUT TOWN

Tarboro golfers came to Greenville today to play the local Country Club in the tournament series of the East Carolina Golf Association. Much interest is being manifested in the contest by reason of the fact that the game will have an important bearing on the outcome of the association's series.

Both cities, it is understood, have put in much time in preparation for the match and some mighty fine playing is expected in the engagement this afternoon.

Golf has been gaining greater recognition in this part of the country the last several years, and it is probable that more men are playing on the Country Club links at present than any other time since the club was organized. Golf is considered one of the best outdoor sports of the day and those who follow it feel well rewarded for the time and effort which they put into the game.

It was generous of the planters in Carolina township to offer tobacco plants to farmers whose crops were badly damaged by recent hail storms. It shows the farmers have a catholicity of sympathy for contemporaries, and are willing to do their part toward enabling them to survive the onslaught of the elements.

Carolina township growers were fortunate in producing a bountiful supply of plants this season and as they have no intention to try to plant all of them, what was more natural than for them to offer to share with the less fortunate growers.

The hall was said to have done considerable damage in some sections of the country, but the planters will not be delayed to any great extent by having to replant in view of the fact that planting time is not yet over. The extra work involved, however, is not to be relished by any means.

The annual campaign against typhoid fever is under way in Pitt county and with public co-operation the health department is hopeful of maintaining the splendid record of this last several years.

Hundreds of people were inoculated against the fever last year, and hundreds of others will receive treatment this year. This immunizes them against fever for a period of several years, and reduces to no little extent the annual toll of death taken by the fever.

The Health department is doing everything possible to improve the health of the people during the summer months, and if given proper co-operation there is no reason why sickness should not be even less than last year.

Persons who have not taken treatment for the fever should do so before the summer season actually begins.

It is now suggested that members of the Legislature adjourn their meeting place to Wrightsville Beach for a "summer session."

Should there be the slightest hope of getting results at the beach, the public hopes the legislators will begin pilgrimage to Wrightsville immediately.

If, on the contrary, they plan to continue the deadlock it might be advisable for them to remain at the capital and "sweat it out."

A little discomfort of this kind might hasten a decision whereas the cool breezes of the seashore would inspire them to work less and give more time to recreation.

As soon as summer actually comes the people will begin buying liberally of clothing in keeping with the season.

Greenville merchants are well-stocked with clothing of this kind and have countless bargains awaiting the thrifty shopper.

The majority of people undoubtedly have left off the major part of their buying until the advent of real hot weather, and when it comes it is to be believed the business district will be crowded with persons seeking lighter materials.

This city enjoys the reputation as the principal shopping center of Eastern Carolina and it is natural for the shoppers to expect to find here anything in keeping with the season.

While planting season is well advanced in this section, it isn't too late for farmers to confine some attention to the live-at-home suggestions advanced by leading agriculturalists in all parts of the country.

In fact, this is the time of the year when the thrifty farmer begins casting about for extra crops, and if he is wise he will plant the things which his family and stock consume each part of the year.

Leading growers believe this is the only plan whereby the growers can find their way back to prosperity and the experiment certainly could not bring less results than continuing to plant the money crops which assuredly will result in continued low prices.

SIX BANKERS INDICTED TODAY

Company, and Jenkins, charged with misapprehension and aiding and abetting. The same four defendants are named in another bill which charges conspiracy to violate the national banking laws.

There are seven counts in the first bill against the two Davises, Bradford and Jenkins, and 20 counts in the second.

Among the counts in the bill against Currence are the following: That on December 31, 1929, he made a false entry in the report of the bank's condition to the comptroller of the currency that the demand depositors on that date were: $791,614.65, when the true figure was $706,614.85, and that this entry was made because there was a false entry on the individual ledger account crediting the Central Bank and Trust Company with $85,000.

The second count charges that the amount of overdrafts on December 31, 1929, was reported as $166.59 when the true amount was $1,735.87, due to three overdrafts not reported:

First National Bank, Gastonia, $1,280.98.

American National Bank, Spartanburg, $85.29.

In the fourth count, Currence is charged with reporting the overdrafts on September 24, 1930 as $29.39 when the true amount was $3,006.50.

making the extract available for public use. Dr. Humber said, to avoid the exploitation by "racketeers" in various sections of the country.

Only a short while ago, he related, "racketeers" began operating in California with a medicine they claimed to be the Coffey-Humber cancer cure, and sold it at $500 a dose to unsuspecting cancer sufferers.

He declared they hoped to avoid anything of this kind when the extract is actually released. They hope to put it before the public at a cost within reach of every individual suffering from the dread scourge of cancer and in that way give the medicine a chance to fulfill its mission to suffering humanity.

LACK OF JOBS IS DEPLORED

there is a danger of pauperization, Lynde said.

Employers participate in district meetings and are beginning to find a new responsibility, Lynde said. "There has been evidence of appreciable progress in employment stabilization. Almost every large concern has staggered its jobs. There has also developed a psychology more sympathetic to the worker."

Lynde said his organization is now able to keep a family on an average of $22.80 a month. Moving into cheaper quarters is encouraged; usually no more than half the rent is paid, and families are not asked to sell their radios and pianos.

Unemployed men who drift into the city are fed and bedded at Wayfarers' Lodge, with its 600 beds, and new linen for each man, who earns his fare by chopping wood, retailoring donated clothing and doing carpentry and barbering. The cost for each lodger averages now 8 cents a day.

Beggars on the streets are sent to the workhouse.

doubt the greatest producer the theatre has ever known.

George M. Cohan—He was the finest combination of genuin-artistry and real showmanship. David Warfield—He was a man who never stopped at anything to make his production perfect and superb.

Sam H. Harris—The greatest theatrical producer of all time. William A. Brady—The greatest director.

Charles B. Dillingham—Master of them all.

In the words of Daniel Frohman, who brought him from San Francisco to Broadway 49 years ago, Belasco had a profound journalistic instinct, an inborn grasp of what interests people. As typical instances of the producer's ability to thrill an audience Mr. Frohman cited Mrs. Lellie Carter swinging from a bell in "The Heart of Maryland" and the wounded hero in "The Girl of the Golden West," hidden in the loft by the heroine, being betrayed by blood dripping from the ceiling.

Belasco was a realist. The stairs in his plays were real stairs. The flowers were real flowers. In his latest success, dealing with the career of an opera singer, the star, Helen Gahaja Gan, sings an operatic aria.

On the stage first as a child, Belasco had played 200 parts while still a young man. At his death he had produced some 400 plays, of which he had written 150.

Among his outstanding successes were: "A Grand Army Man," "The Music Master," "The Heart of Wetmah," "Tiger Rose," "Tiger, Tiger," "Deburau," "The Gold Diggers," "Kiki," "Lulu Belle." He starred among others: Francis Starr, Mary Pickford (he changed her name from Gladys Smith), Ina Claire, Lenore Ulrich, Fay Bainter and David Warfield.

Briand Will Make Last Fight for the French at Geneva

Geneva, May 15.—(AP)—Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, came to Geneva today for what may be his last great efforts in behalf of a pan-European, with, it was understood, a plan by which France is to help the nations of Europe past the economic slump.

Dispatches from Paris said that the plan was in three parts, the first dealing with European agricultural problems, the second with industrial problems, and the third with the continent's financial problems.

The feature of the first part, the Paris dispatchs said, is European preference for central and eastern nations' wheat, with a central sales office for wheat from those countries and abandonment of the most favored nations' clauses.

The second part proposes organization for production and sale, either through existing industrial groups or the creation of new ones, for steel, heavy electric plants also coal and chemical products. A close understanding between these various industrial branches is depicted as necessary.

In the third part the French government offers to co-operate financially in execution of the financial program, upon condition that the finance committee of the League of Nations act as controlling organ for state loans for public works and for quotation of foreign securities on the Paris Bourse. On the initiative of the Bank of France a number of French banks would be grouped to study conditions under which they will participate in investment operations abroad.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, May 15.—(AP) Cotton opened steady today unchanged to 2 points lower.

Traders found very little inspiration in the Liverpool cables which were slightly lower than due and it looked as if the selling of yesterday had discounted the better weather reports of this morning. There was some pressure of local and commission house offerings, however, and July eased off to 9.65 during the early trading while December declined to 10.25, making net losses of about 3 to 4 points on the more active positions. Business was quiet with the market showing no special feature at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said that buying for a reaction and covering had absorbed some continental liquidation in that market, while day temperatures in the south were reported higher, night temperatures were said to be still rather too cool.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, May 15.—(AP)—Uneasiness over drought threatening serious curtailment of the Canadian wheat crop led to a sharp rise in wheat prices today. Prospects of rain south of the Canadian border, though, caused reactions at times. Corn went lower owing to favorable conditions for planting and germination.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to 1-2 higher; corn unchanged to 3-4 down; oats unchanged to 1-4 off, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents decline.

STOCK MARKET

By CLAUD A. JAGGER (Associated Press Financial Editor)

New York, May 15.—(AP)—The slow but relentless wearing down of share values broadened in today's market.

Several of the industrials that have recently offered considerable resistance gave way after midday notably General Motors. The further decline reduced the general level of prices close to the four-year low recorded April 29.

The price index of 90 shares recovered 81-2 points between that date and May 8, but starting last Saturday, the trend has been almost steadily downward.

U. S. Steel and American Can dropped about 4 points to new lows. Auburn, after pushing up to 217 fell back below 200. Rails continued to show conspicuous group heaviness, but motors and utilities also lost ground. Miscellaneous issues off about 2 to 3 points included General Motors, Eastman, American Water Works, American Telephone, Corn Products, Johns Manville, National Biscuit, Case, Sears Roebuck, Goodyear, Dupont, Atchison, New Haven, and several others. Losses of a point or so were numerous. Missouri Pacific preferred, however, rallied 3 points on declaration of the regular dividend, and Standard of N. J. was steady, despite the shrinkage in earnings reported today for 1930.

Bear pressure and discouraged selling by investors were indicated in brokerage circles as important sources of the continued pressure.

The Federal Reserve System showed a shrinkage of about $40,000,000 in Bankers Acceptances held despite slashing of rates and attractive buying prices offered. It appeared that banks had refrained from selling their acceptances until convinced that no more favorable rates would be offered.

Thief Returns

Greensboro, May 15.—(AP)—Perhaps the thief had a change of heart during the sermon.

Anyway, H. Grady Miller's watch was stolen from the men's dressing room of the West Market Street Methodist church last Sunday.

After a story of the theft had been carried in newspapers here, Miller received the watch by mail "here is your watch please notify paper watch has been recovered."

Orders Special Venire for Trial of More Bankers

Asheville, May 15.—(AP)—Judge M. V. Barnhill today ordered a special venire of 125 brought here from Madison county next Tuesday morning when selection of a jury for another of the numerous criminal cases growing out of bank failures here last fall will be begun.

His order was issued as attorneys made their arguments in the trial of Wallace B. Davis, who was president of the Central Bank and Trust Company, and C. N. Brown and Dr. J. A. Sinclair, directors.

The three former bankers are charged with giving the State Corporation Commission a false report of the bank's condition as of September 24, 1930. Its failure two months later was followed by a succession of other failures.
