COUNTY SOLD NOTES TO AID WEAK BANK

Evidence Shows Buncombe Had Money in Other Banks When Notes Were Sold

Asheville, May 21.—(AP)—Records showing Buncombe county had large sums on deposit in other banks last year when it issued notes and placed the money received on deposit in the Central Bank & Trust Company were introduced today in the trial of seven men, charged with perverting the county's credit to aid the tottering bank.

W. E. Ebs, cashier of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company here, was on the stand at the time. He identified records showing large amounts of county funds were on deposit in the bank and in other banks.

Before he took the stand, Charles A. Taylor, who was vice-president of the Central Bank & Trust Company which failed last fall, told of the duties of Wallace B. Davis, president, and Russell Davis, vice-president, of the Central bank.

The Davises, however, and five former county officials are on trial. The other defendants are L. L. Jenkins, former county treasurer; Newton M. Anderson, James W. Grimes and J. O. McElroy, former county commissioners, and Charles N. Malone, former county bond agent.

The Central bank had $8,000,000 in public funds among its $20,000,000 deposits when it closed.

G. N. Nelson, liquidating agent for the Central bank and for several other banks that closed after it failed, identified ledger sheets of the bank showing county funds on deposit.

H. B. Atkins, formerly assistant to Henson and in charge of the Bank of West Asheville, identified similar accounts in that bank. V. C. Harrell entered similar testimony concerning accounts in the Bank of Black Mountain.

J. C. Seabury, former assistant cashier of the Wachovia Bank & Trust Company, and now assistant to Henson in charge of the Blount-Oteen Bank testified Jenkins on November 3, 1930, had the Wachovia wire $75,000 to the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, New York, for credit to the account of the Central bank here.

On another occasion, he said, the Wachovia issued a check to Jenkins for $75,000 and later a check for $87,978.05 to the Central Hanover Bank was given Jenkins.

"Attorneys for the state said they would seek to show the transactions by Jenkins were made to transfer the money to the Central bank here.

Seeks Expanded Public Work To Avoid Distress

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—A vastly expanded public works program made possible by an immediate special session of Congress was seen today by Senator LaFollette as the sole hope of avoiding "the dire consequences of a third winter of unemployment for many millions of our citizens."

Speaking as chairman of the unemployment and industrial stabilization committee selected at the recent progressive conference, the Wisconsin Republican based his conclusions upon a preliminary report made by Dr. Isador Lubin, chairman of this conference subcommittee on unemployment.

"The federal government alone can meet the wide-spread distress which the report reveals," LaFollette said. "At the present rate of industrial revival the number of unemployed to be provided for during the coming winter bids fair to remain close to the 6,000,000 found by the census bureau in its enumeration of last January."

Man Slays Wife And 2 Children

Medford, Wis., May 21.—(AP)—Joseph Fleischmann, 35, shot and killed his wife and two small sons last night and for five hours held his two daughters, another son and three adults in a state of terror while he talked incessantly of firing on them.

The three adults, one a Catholic priest, escaped from the Fleischmann farm home amid a burst of bullets. They called officers who arrested the man before he harmed his other children.

Fleischmann, an assistant butter maker at a creamery, was crazed by liquor, Sheriff George R. Baird said. He said Fleischmann had been confined at the Winnebago asylum twice for alcoholic insanity.

The sheriff said Fleischmann began drinking home brew yesterday. Inflamed, he shot his wife and two youngest sons and talked to himself about taking the lives of his other children.

Finally, he telephoned Anton Kummer, a neighbor, and invited him to his home. Kummer walked into the house and found himself covered by Fleischmann's rifle. The threats of death continued.

Kummer was forced to drag the bodies of Fleischmann's three victims into another room and cover them.

Fleischmann ordered Kummer to telephone to the Rev. Father Gregory Reuter, his parish priest, and asked him to come to the home. The priest arrived shortly with Otto Huber. They were made captive and with the other four were marched into the room and forced to view the bodies.

The crazed man continued to mutter threats against their lives. At Kummer's suggestion he, Father Reuter and Huber fled. Fleischmann shot at them as they climbed into the priest's automobile, they told Sheriff Baird.

They summoned the sheriff and his deputies who found Fleischmann had escaped to a nearby woods. A few minutes later he returned home without his rifle and offered no resistance when placed under arrest. The gun was found in the brush.

"I have always had excellent health, but since my early childhood I have suffered from a melancholia, which in the last five years has begun to show definite symptoms of manic-depressive insanity."

"In particular my remorse is bitter over my failure to appreciate my beautiful lost angel, Carlotta, the only woman I ever loved and whom I respect and admire above all. She is the only person who could all the rest of the human race, have saved me had I been savable. She did her best. No one ever had had a more devoted or more understanding wife."

JURY IS STILL DEADLOCKED IN SUIT HERE

Twelve Men Continue Wrestling With Suit Against National Veneer Co.

A jury in the civil term of Pitt County Superior Court continued deadlocked this afternoon in the case of Mrs. E. L. Brewer who is suing Roy Moyer and the National Veneer Co. of Ayden for $2,500 as damages for injuries which she received when the automobile in which she was riding collided with a Jop car near Ayden sometime ago.

The case was received by the jury yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock and after deliberations extending through the night, the jurors were reported no nearer a solution this afternoon than when they started.

Moyer was employed to haul logs for the Veneer company, and left a trailer load of logs on the highway one night. One of the logs was said to have protruded from the trailer for a considerable distance, and crashed through the windshield of the car of which Mrs. Brewer was an occupant, inflicting serious injuries.

The veneer company contended that it was not responsible for the wreck, as Moyer was an independent leader. One of the company's men, however, superintended loading of the logs, it was said.

The case was non-suit'd at a hearing sometime ago, and the plaintiff appealed to Supreme court where the decision was reversed and sent back to the lower court for action.

The case was begun day before yesterday and a considerable amount of testimony was heard on both sides.

TWO BANKERS ARE ARRESTED

Officials Held Following Closing of Farmers Bank at Belhaven Today

Belhaven, May 21.—(AP)—The Farmers Bank of Belhaven did not open today by order of the state bank examiners and W. J. Justice, cashier and vice-president, was charged with misappropriation of bank funds and arrested.

A warrant was sworn out for W. C. Haynes, assistant cashier, but he could not be located. Justice was jailed in default of bond.

Michael Wiggins, bank examiner, signed the warrants against the two men. The warrants charged there is a shortage of over $80,000 in the bank's funds.

A preliminary hearing was held for Justice and his bond was fixed at $50,000. He was unable to post it and was jailed.

Wiggins with N. B. Carson, another examiner, came here Tuesday. They quoted Justice as telling them they would find a small shortage.

The bank had deposits of $94,687 on March 25, its report to the state banking department showed. It was capitalized at $30,000, had a surplus of $10,000 and total resources of $150,104.

High Court Rules In Bank Action

Raleigh, May 21.—(AP)—The North Carolina Supreme court holds that the State Corporation Commission, as liquidating agent for the Defunct Central Bank and Trust Company of Asheville, is bound by any contract entered into for the bank by Wallace B. Davis, president, before it closed.

In a decision handed down yesterday, the court ruled John C. Arbogast is entitled to recover $127,573.59 in notes and mortgages held by the commission. Before the bank closed, Arbogast set forth, he had agreed with Davis to exchange property valued at $150,000 for notes and mortgages.

The high court sustained a lower court holding this agreement between Arbogast and Davis was valid.

LACY WARNS AGAINST SIN

Richmond Minister Describes Sin As a Disease Eating at the Heart of the Public

The minister influence of sin was described in a vivid and masterful manner by Dr. Ben R. Lacy, of Blenheim, in the series of evangelistic services at the Presbyterian church here last night. Declaring that sin is a disease eating at the very foundation of civilization, the distinguished minister and educator urged his congregation to rise against the form of sin, and attempt to improve their condition.

The service last night was attended by one of the largest crowds of the week. The main auditorium was packed to capacity and the crowd overflowed into aisles and the balcony.

The sermon was preceded by an inspirational song service directed by J. B. Overmyer, director of the choir of the First Presbyterian church of Gastonia. The singer rendered a solo number during the latter part of the song service.

Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the church, said he deeply appreciated action of other congregations in abandoning their usual weekly prayer service to permit their people to worship with the Presbyterian. He continued to urge the people to attend the service each day and gain some of the inspiration which Dr. Lacy is imparting to his hearers.

Tomorrow evening has been designated as "young people's" night, and Dr. Lacy will deliver a special sermon to the youth of the city. The service, Mr. Harden declared, promised to be one of the most impressive of the week, and hope was expressed that parents would influence their children to attend.

Dr. Lacy addressed the student body of the high school yesterday morning, and told the young men and women of the importance of taking God along with them in their studies. The message was described as provocative of much thought and made a lasting impression upon the minds of the young people.

The services, which began last Sunday morning, will be concluded next Sunday evening. The two services Sunday are expected to draw the largest crowds of the week and extra effort will be made by the committee on accommodations to take care of the worshippers.

After designating sin as a disease, Dr. Lacy, discussed the subject from three different angles—sins of the body, sins of the mind, and sins of the spirit.

Sins of the body were laid at the door of intemperance in eating, drinking and moral depravity.

He said there had never been a (Continued on page four)

BANK TRIAL BEGUN HERE

Depositor Sues Directors of Defunct Bank of Ayden for Recovery of Deposit

Civil court began hearing today in the case of J. L. Harrington against directors of the Bank of Ayden which closed its doors in 1928.

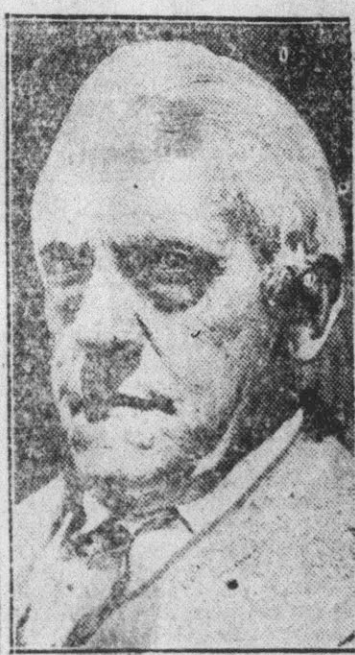

The case was started this morning about 11 o'clock and was expected to consume the remainder of the day's session.

The plaintiff is suing for deposits which he alleges he made in the bank while the directors knew it to be in an insolvent condition. Nine other actions of a similar nature await to be heard following completion of the case, and it was expected they would consume the remainder of the week.

Defendants in each of the cases are attempting to recover deposits made prior to the bank closing, and considerable amount of evidence was to be introduced on both sides.

Senator Clarkson Announces He Has Been Reliably Informed That If the Senate Adopts the Report It Would Be Passed by the House; Report Includes 15 Percent Ad Valorem Tax to Be Levied by Counties But Does Not Contain Sales Tax

Raleigh, May 21.—(AP)—The Senate today reconsidered the vote by which it rejected the revenue conferees' report without taking a record vote today.

The action placed the report before the Senate for adoption or rejection.

Senator Burrus of Guilford who changed his vote yesterday when the motion to adopt the report had failed of passage due to a tie vote of 24 to 24, yielded the floor to Senator Clark of Edgecombe, who made the motion to reconsider and asked all members of the Senate sales tax faction to vote with him.

Immediately Senator Clarkson of Mecklenburg, after introducing a bill to limit any cut in teachers salaries to 10 per cent if the revenue bill fails to provide sufficient funds to pay them according to state, announced he would vote for adoption of the report.

This was believed to assure its adoption in the Senate.

Senator Clarkson said he had been "reliably informed" that if the Senate adopted the report it would be passed by the House.

The report includes a 15 cent ad valorem tax to be levied by the counties to assist the state in supporting the six months schools but does not contain a sales tax. Clarkson had previously been a backer of the Hindsdale luxury tax.

Senator Clarkson said his only objection to the present conference report was that it might result in an excessive cut in salaries of teachers.

He qualified his declaration he would vote for the revenue report with the statement "if this resolution passes" as he introduced his measure.

The Senate immediately started debate on the new bill. Senator Johnson of Duplin attacking it on the grounds it did not include superintendents and principals and Senator Baggett of Harnett followed him to flay the measure.

A motion to suspend the rules and pass the Clarkson bill immediately, which would have required a two-thirds vote, failed of passage 24 to 22 and the measure was sent to the committee on education.

The Senate then recessed until 4:30 in order to allow the education committee to meet at 3 and report the bill.

The House had taken no action on the revenue report early this afternoon.

The House debated the Johnson bill to allow certain counties to levy ad valorem taxes for special purposes but due to amendments the measure was sent back to first reading to be voted on tomorrow.

Representative Connor of Wilson led the fight for the bill, telling the House many counties would have to default in payment of their obligations if it was not passed, while a number of reprobation of the measure and also opposed it as allowing land taxes for special purposes to replace any removed by other legislation of a state-wide nature.

Bills passed by the General Assembly today follow:

Senate: Folger of Surry, to permit clerk of Superior court in Surry to employ assistant.

Johnson of Moore, relating to de-possession of tenants in Moore county.

House: Brinson of Pamlico, to amend justice of peace bill.

Butler of Sampson, to put name on pension roll.

Day of Onslow, relating to election in Richlands.

The Senate killed the following bill:

McGoughan of Columbus, to increase board of education of that county.

The House killed the following bill:

Ervin of Burke, to require that not more than five per cent of the advertisements of financial statements of insurance companies be published in any one paper.

AIR ARMADA DEFENDS CITY

Over Six Hundred Army Planes Take Part in Mock Battle Over Chicago

Chicago, May 21.—(AP)—America's greatest peace time air force was assembled today to "protect" Chicago and then advance eastward to work out a hypothetical problem of fighting it out with the forces of a coalition of European powers.

Standing room on skyscrapers was in demand and the police were under special orders to handle the crowds as all Chicago looked skyward for the maneuvers of the armada of 659 army airplanes. The weatherman promised favorable weather.

Theoretically, a strong European naval force, accompanied by planes was en route to the North American continent, and the American planes were already gathered in the midwest for annual training exercises when the word "war" was received.

In line with this situation, Brigadier General B. D. Foulet, commander of the provisional first air division, held an order for the planes to proceed from Chicago to Dayton, O., and then on to New York "in anticipation of combat operations off the Atlantic Coast."

Promptly at 8:05 A. M. (GST), 659 army airplanes took off from five airports scattered over the metropolitan area.

Heading for the western suburbs, the great armada began forming the parade that was to take it down the lake front from Waukegan, Ill. to Gary, Ind.

The weather was almost ideal for flying with only a few clouds, a bright sun and a brisk wind.

With the exception of a few "flaming ships" which took 312 snappers up for the parade, the corps had orders to fly directly to Dayton and Cleveland after their maneuvers.

Following the attack group was the second bombardment group from Langley Field, Virginia, flying lower than the leaders about 600 feet from the earth and a quarter mile out over the lake. The bombing bombers flew in columns of three, 50 to 60 in each (Continued on page four)

TWO KILLED BY GANGSTER

Los Angeles Editor and Wealthy Politician Victim of Unknown Assailant

Los Angeles, May 21.—(AP)—Assassination of Herbert Spencer, magazine editor and crusader against organized gambling, and his friend, Charles Crawford, wealthy politician, started police today on their quest for the man who shot them in Los Angeles.

On the eve of a projected episode of gambling by Spencer's magazine, the editor was shot through the heart and the politician was mortally wounded late yesterday in the latter's office by an unidentified man whom Crawford had received. Officers said the circumstances indicated gangster revenge.

Death overtook Crawford before he could keep a promise to identify the killer, who escaped in an automobile.

Apparently confident that he would live, Crawford told detectives before he underwent an emergency operation that he would tell only "I'm due to go."

He died three hours after being wounded.

Early today detectives, spurred by a statement from Spencer's widow that "the overlord of gambling here had threatened to get Herb," searched haunts of gamblers and gangsters for a "sawthy" man about 35 years old of heavy build.

An hour before the tragedy, Spencer, formerly city editor of the Los Angeles Evening Express, left his office, telling an associate that he was going out to get some more "underworld stuff" for the magazine, which had published a number of articles on alleged gang and vice activities here.

Ray J. Radke, secretary to Crawford, reported to police that shortly after Spencer entered Crawford's office a man appeared, and asked to see Crawford.

Crawford greeted the visitor at the door of his private office and asked him to enter. Radke said the men talked about an hour. Suddenly two shots rang out. Radke heard a scream and a yell from Spencer: "Get that fellow." The door burst open and the gunman fled to the street. Radke rushed into the office and found Spencer dead. Crawford sitting in his chair, arose and collapsed.

Recently Spencer had written of threats on his life. As though he feared they might be carried out, he added in these stories that there was "in a certain bank" a box containing the names and full information about those who had been touched by the exposures. Police began a search for the box.

Among those questioned was Guy McAfee, who detectives said, was identified with alleged gambling activities. McAfee established that he was nowhere in the vicinity of the crime at the time, but admitted that he was an "enemy of Charlie Crawford."

Youth Killed As He Sleeps; Three Women Wounded

San Diego, Cal., May 21.—(AP)—Eddie Gallardo, 19, was killed and a woman and two girls were shot and wounded dangerously as they slept last night by an assailant who fired through the windows of two homes at Escondido, near here, and fled.

Lupe and Laura Gallardo, sisters of the slain youth, received bullet wounds in the head and body. A woman identified by police only as Mrs. Mazon, was shot through the abdomen and one lung.

Police sought Ralph Sinothui, a laborer for questioning. They said they were told that he and Gallardo and Manuel Cruz, had ridden about the city earlier in the evening and that Sinothui had threatened to "shoot up the town."

Officers said the three men decided to go to the home of Mrs. Mazon, where Sinothui and Gallardo became involved in an argument, and that Sinothui drew a large pistol, killed Gallardo and then fired twice through a window of a room in which Mrs. Mazon was sleeping.

Authorities said Sinothui then ran to the Gallardo home in Escondido and fired many shots through the windows at the Gallardo sisters.

Cruz, believed by officers to have driven the car in which the three men had been riding, was held in jail as a material witness.

Women Immune From Poll Tax

Little Rock, Ark., May 21.—Women's rights in Arkansas don't include payment of poll tax.

State Attorney General Hal Norwood ruled yesterday that he could not enforce an act of the last legislature levying a poll tax of $1 a year on all persons over 21 because the state constitution specifically limited imposition of poll taxes to "male persons."

The constitutional provision was enacted long before the days of women's suffrage and has not been changed since.

Describes Prince Charming Person

Chicago, May 21.—(AP)—The Prince of Wales, in the expressed opinion of John Factor, former Halstead street barber, accused of swindling Britons in a stock scheme, is "charming person."

This description of the heir to the British throne was given by Factor after he had surrendered to federal authorities, and served notice that he would resist all efforts to extradite him to England.

The reference to the prince was made when Factor told newspapermen of playing chemin de fer with him at Monte Carlo last August 16. He denied that the prince withdrew from the game when he learned that Factor was the banker in the game. Factor said this couldn't have been, because each player is his own banker.

The club welcomes the return of Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald to membership—she being unanimously elected to fill the vacancy caused by resignation. Following the business, Mrs. Person in a happy vein, presented Miss Annie Perkins who gave readings from "Negro Superstitions."

This was both amusing and instructive, telling us the source of many words and expressions that have been household terms from our childhood up.

Miss Bessie Brown, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Tolson, sweetly sang two negro lullabys, after which Mrs. Tolson rendered Poianaise, by Liszt. Humorous stories by each member added fun and spice to a most interesting program.

Other guests included Mrs. W. L. Hall, Mrs. Travis Hooker, Mrs. Earl Jennette of Henderson, Miss Martha Tyson of New York, and Mrs. Annie Thomas of Durham.

This being the last meeting of the club year, the members were loath to leave and lingered long in the dining room where, amid decorations of roses and lace, refreshments suited to the May time were served.

Says Presentation At Court is Really An Exciting Affair

By PAUL STANLEY
London, May 21.—(AP)—Emotions experienced by an American debutante when presented to King George and Queen Mary at Buckingham palace were revealed today in the personal account of one of the presentees.

She must remain nameless because of the policy of the American embassy in frowning on press interviews with the participants.

"Being presented in court is even more exciting than I had ever imagined it would be," she said.

"The climax of weeks of anticipation came when I entered the throne room and made bows to their Majesties.

The presentees have no more doubts or worries when they reach the palace. The ceremonials are rigidly prescribed. The chamberlains identify each lady, ascertain that she is in the proper place in line and arrange her train so that all she has to do is to walk in, curtsy and take her place.

The throne room during the ceremony was the most gorgeous pageant that could be devised. The king was magnificent in his red uniform and the queen was truly a regal figure in her golden chair. The queens' pale apricot gown, beaded with diamonds and pearls, really was the most beautiful gown in the room—partly, no doubt, because it was worn with such gracious dignity.

"There is no hitch in the proceedings. Everything moves like clockwork. Yet one never gets the impression that things are being hurried along. In fact the whole progress moves with the rhythmic progression of a magnificent, stirring piece of music.

The throne room seats 250 people and many others find room to stand in the vast state apartments. Crystal chandeliers cast a soft, pink light on the variety of colorful uniforms and handsome court gowns of the royal family, presentees and peeresses.

"To me the most memorable event of the entire evening was when Queen Mary bowed to the court peeresses and presentees. It was the peak of the whole magnificent procedure—the most gracious gesture of dismissal by one of the most dignified members of royalty.

Among those introduced last night was Mrs. Andrew Long, of Hickory, N. C.

Advocate Legalized Gambling in Florida

Tallahassee, Fla., May 21.—(AP)—After 20 years of trying, proponents of legalized track gambling today had a bill almost ready for presentation to Governor Doyle E. E. Carlton.

Over vigorous opposition led chiefly by a woman representative, the state House of Representatives yesterday passed by 55 to 38 a Senate measure to legalize racing and pari-mutuel systems of wagering.

Representative Wicker described adoption of the bill as "the most damnable thing that has ever happened in this House."

The bill provides for supervision of horse and dog tracks by a state racing commission of five, with a season of 90 days. Each county must give approval in a referendum for a track within its borders.

The state would levy a three per cent tax on gross receipts of pari-mutuel machines and a 15 per cent tax on admission.

Attempt to Check American Players for the Davis Cup

Montreal, May 21.—(AP)—Entirely outclassed so far as the "paper" ratings are concerned but still hopeful of making up some of the difference on the courts, the Canadian Davis Cup team set out today in an attempt to check the progress of the youngsters from the United States through the American zone play.

Dr. Jack Wright of Toronto and Marcel Rainville, little French Canadian player from Montreal, were selected yesterday to represent Canada against Frank X. Shields and Sydney B. Wood, Jr., youthful New Yorkers who are close to the top of the United States ranking although it is only their first year as members of the Davis Cup team.

The Canadians believed that the draw for the two singles match-favored their chances. Two No. 1 players, Shields and Wright, oppose each other in one match and Wood faces Rainville in the second. The doubles match is to be played tomorrow and the concluding singles encounters Saturday.

ABOUT TOWN

The annual poppy sale will be conducted in Greenville next Saturday and the public has been called upon to purchase as liberally as possible of the little red flowers symbolic of the sacrifices which American soldiers made upon foreign battlefields.

The sale will be conducted by members of the auxiliary of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion who are hopeful of raising as much money as possible to aid disabled veterans and their families.

Greenville has always bought generously of the little poppies, but it is hoped sales will be larger this year than ever, and that the contribution will reach a new high mark. Purchasers may pay as much as they desire for the flowers, and the more they pay the greater will be the sum which the auxiliary will send to the disabled men.

Remember that it was on Flanders field where poppies grow that the heroes of this nation laid down their lives that civilization might be saved from the ruthless heel of autocracy.

The Pitt County Post of the American Legion is to be congratulated upon its ability to retain normal membership during the period of depression which swept across the country the last several months.

While other organizations have been experiencing difficulty in this line, the Legionnaires have "stuck to the job" of membership building and at this time have the same enrollment they had a year ago.

But they are not content to remain as they are and hope to add additional members by the date of the state convention so they will be accorded more votes.

This is a very commendable determination and that the post will be able to gain the extra vote can not be doubted after the splendid progress they have achieved in rounding up new members in the past.

Many men who were able to stand up under shrapnel fire during the World war find themselves weakening in the pace of civil life. Dr. Ben R. Lacy, of Richmond, told members of the American Legion in a special sermon here Tuesday night.

To be able to stand the pace of life under any condition, man must realize his own weakness and attempt to find strength in the river of all blessings, Jesus Christ, Dr. Lacy declared.

He urged the Legionnaires to life high the banner of God and carry it through civil life just as they did the flag of their nation in the great carnage across the sea.

Dr. Lacy saw actual service during that soul-trying period on foreign battlefields. He knew the aims and ambitions of the soldiers with whom he came in contact from day to day. He also is aware of their aspirations today and is using his influence to get them to realize that nothing great or good can ever be accomplished unless it has its purpose the improvement of humankind. He says that allegiance to the banner of Christ will bring about the fulfillment of the desire of every human heart.

A year ago Barton remarked that an artist should be prohibited from earning as much money as he had. "We're all too rich," he said. "That's why I'm crazy."

Homer added that Ralph had visited Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill when they arrived in New York.

Barton was married and divorced four times, the women being Marie Jennings, Anna Binnerly, Carlotta Monterey and Garmaine Maria Tailleferre. Carlotta Monterey, actress, married him in 1926. time in the history of the nation that people gave themselves more unrestrained to things of the body. He described the ill effects of over-eating, excessive drinking and sexual enslavement and declared that such people could not enter the Kingdom of God.

Sins of the mind were entered around inordinate ambition, pride, avarice, malice, envy and hate.

He said the right kind of ambition was noble, but that when used for self alone it became one of the most cruel things in the world. It leads to worse situations than all of the other sins, because it will cause men to stoop to any depths to gratify that ruling passion.

The portrayed pride as the artificial lifting up of one's self above other people, and said that this prevented humanity from appreciating the greatness and glory of the character of others toiling along low levels of life's highway.

Avarice causes the heart to mod and canker, he said while malice, envy and hate lead eventually to murder.

Sins of the spirit were attributed to idolatry, or the worshipping of false images. He said there were people even in this day and time who believed in witchcraft instead of placing implicit faith and confidence in the supremacy of God.

Other sins were given as contempt of faith, irreverence, blasphemy and profanity, hypocrisy, lack of faith and doubt.

He declared the cardinal virtue of the spirit of faith, and that only

Radio Announcer In Divorce Suit

New York, May 21.—(AP)—A separation suit brought by Mrs. Josephine Garret McNamee against Graham McNamee, popular radio announcer, was revealed today.

The charges in the complaint which has been on file in Supreme court for several weeks were not disclosed.

McNamee said he had been served with the papers about the first of the month. He denied that the action was by mutual consent and said it would not be contested.

"They were married 10 years ago after meeting at a concert in the Dutch Reformed Church in Bronxville, N. Y., where both were on a musical program. McNamee was a baritone singer before he became an announcer.

McNamee has often been quoted as saying his wife was his severest critic, who sat at one of their five radio receivers at home and listened to him broadcast descriptions of sporting events, political meetings and other doings.

In the current issue of Radio Digest, Mrs. McNamee has an article describing the life of a radio announcer's wife:

"I make it a point to keep the hours he keeps and to entertain our friends when it is convenient for him. Many a time I have made pancakes and fried egg sandwiches at 4 o'clock in the morning.

"Although Graham's work takes him away a great deal, I have one advantage over other wives. I can always hear him. The first thing he does when he finishes a broadcast is to telephone me and say, 'did you hear the program? How was it?'"

McNamee is 42 years old.

In 1912 he became a choir singer in a New Jersey church and was with various musical organizations. He became a radio announcer in 1923 and soon was the best known member of his profession.

Speedboats darted over the lake, and amphibians zoomed low over the water to be ready for instant rescue in event of any mishap.

The air was bumpy, and the planes moved in loose formation, spaced widely and with members, attackers, pursuit planes separated. The speeding mass darted planes carrying photographers, like falcons attacking an orderly flight of geese.

There were no fighting maneuvers, no firing of aircraft guns, demonstrate the speed with which it could mass its power to defend an inland center of population.

Its entire strength had been concentrated at Dayton, O., for use here in a single day and sent into the air to parade its power before an imagined challenger.

In an hour it was all over. Chicago had seen its most thrilling aerial demonstration, and when the smoke curtain dropped on the show at 11 A. M. there had been not a single serious accident.

LAST CALL

by your Fertilizer Dealer

No. 8

in a Series appearing in this newspaper

If you hold out any longer from buying your side-dressing, you may find it too late for your crops to take full benefit from the fertilizer. You may also find it hard to get it in time. I've still got a good supply of Chilean Nitrate of Soda on hand. But it's not going to last very long the way they're buying it just now.

Your Fertilizer Dealer

If you wait too long before side-dressing, you'll only be delaying harvest time and you won't get the big yields you should. With Chilean Nitrate selling at the lowest price in years, there's no saving in waiting until the last moment. Get your Chilean—the natural nitrate—NOW. Then there'll be no delay in putting out your fertilizer when crops need it most. In the new 100 lb. bags that stay in good shape, you'll find Chilean keeps in better condition. But be sure to insist on "Chilean" when you order your nitrate. It is the real thing... the real original "SODA." Radio Announcer In Divorce Suit

New York, May 21.—(AP)—A separation suit brought by Mrs. Josephine Garret McNamee against Graham McNamee, popular radio announcer, was revealed today.

The charges in the complaint which has been on file in Supreme court for several weeks were not disclosed.

McNamee said he had been served with the papers about the first of the month. He denied that the action was by mutual consent and said it would not be contested.

"They were married 10 years ago after meeting at a concert in the Dutch Reformed Church in Bronxville, N. Y., where both were on a musical program. McNamee was a baritone singer before he became an announcer.

McNamee has often been quoted as saying his wife was his severest critic, who sat at one of their five radio receivers at home and listened to him broadcast descriptions of sporting events, political meetings and other doings.

In the current issue of Radio Digest, Mrs. McNamee has an article describing the life of a radio announcer's wife:

"I make it a point to keep the hours he keeps and to entertain our friends when it is convenient for him. Many a time I have made pancakes and fried egg sandwiches at 4 o'clock in the morning.

"Although Graham's work takes him away a great deal, I have one advantage over other wives. I can always hear him. The first thing he does when he finishes a broadcast is to telephone me and say, 'did you hear the program? How was it?'"

McNamee is 42 years old.

In 1912 he became a choir singer in a New Jersey church and was with various musical organizations. He became a radio announcer in 1923 and soon was the best known member of his profession.

GIANTS NEAR TOP OF RACE IN NATIONAL

BY GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.

The New York Giants had a just complaint today against the compiler of baseball's handy reference book, the volume in question being a compact, paper-backed affair that tells you at a glance what club is leading the race.

And what has that to do with the Giants? Just this. Up to yesterday afternoon they figured, on the face of things, to be just a half game behind the St. Louis Cardinals. It looked that way. Then they went out and took the Cincinnati Reds 4 to 0, and the Cardinals obligingly lost to Brooklyn 5 to 4.

That put the McGraw clan out in front and pulled the Cards from the top of the National League for the first time this season. That is, it did until the ready reckoner was consulted. It shows that the league champs, though superficially half a game behind, actually still are leading the league by four percentage points today. Hence the Giants' chagrin.

Although they fell short of their goal, the McGrawmen gazed space in the brilliant pitching of John Berly, recruit from Rochester, who set Cincinnati down with five scattered hits and cinched himself as place as a starting pitcher. Bill Terry's homer with two on was the big noise in the Giants' attack.

The Cards went down fighting. They rallied in the seventh and ninth innings to tie the count at 4-all, only to see their efforts wasted when the Robins nicked Bill Hallahan for the winning run in the last half of the ninth. Babe Herman's single scored Fresno Thompson, who had walked, with the deciding run.

Buzz Arlett, husky recruit from the coast, poled his eighth and ninth homers of the year as the Phillies came from behind in the late innings to take their second straight from Pittsburgh 11 to 7. A four-run rally off Willoughby in the eighth decided the issue.

Four runs in the first inning off Frankhouse and McAfee gave the Chicago Cubs a lead that was never overcome as they squared their series at Boston 7 to 5. Gabby Hartnett hit a homer, double and two singles to lead the winners' assault.

Not to be outdone by his side partner, George Earnshaw, who shut out Detroit with two hits the previous day, Lefty Grove allowed only three blows and gave the Tigers another whitewashing 3 to 0. It ran the Athletics' winning streak to twelve. Homers by Fox and Mauer accounted for two of the winners' runs off Uhle.

The Washington Senators made only three hits off Pat Caraway, but turned them into a 2 to 0 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Spencer's homer accounted for one score and a two-base error by Reynolds made possible the other. Sad Sam Jones held the Sox to six hits and was credited with his fourth victory.

Urban Pickering's two homers did not prevent the Boston Red Sox losing an 8 to 4 decision to the St. Louis Browns. It marked their eighth win of the year and was the fourth credited to Walter Stewart. Rain caused postponement of the Yankee-Indian tilt at Cleveland.

"SPLENDID FOR INDIGESTION"

Pinch of Black-Draught After Meals Recommended By Experienced Nurse.

A professional nurse at Hartwell, Ga., Mrs. Marie Myers, has the following to say about Theford's Black-Draught:

"My mother was a great believer in Black-Draught as a family medicine for minor ailments among children. Naturally when I grew up I, too, thought it was a good medicine.

"Being a trained nurse, my hours were irregular and I often needed a laxative. I found Black-Draught a splendid laxative. It is splendid for indigestion, taking a pinch after each meal. I am very glad to recommend it. I hope by doing so I can be a benefit to others."

Mrs. J. B. Bean, of Kirbyville, Texas, says: "I have used Black-Draught in my home for thirty years. It is a splendid remedy for constipation. I have never found anything that I thought was any better.

"It is easy to take. I generally make a tea of it, but it is just as easy to take dry. For gas on the stomach and indigestion, I have found quick relief follows its use."

HIGH LOSES FINAL GAME OF SEASON

Greenville lost the final and biggest game of the season to Washington by the score of 3-0. Each team had won one game earlier in the season, and this was the deciding game, and as Washington is Greenville's closest rival, this was "the" game of the season.

It was a pitchers' battle between Gaudier for Washington; Taylor for Greenville. Both pitched fine ball, and each allowed four hits. Washington scored on errors, and a squeeze play. Greenville loaded the bases twice, once with one down, and once with none down, and both times Gaudier came through with some really brainy and courageous pitching.

It was a hard game to lose, but Washington deserved the victory. There were no stars of the game except the pitchers. The season being over, the Greenville baseball team wishes to thank its friends in Greenville for their support and help during the past season.

There is to be organized an independent team, composed of high school boys, college boys, and adult citizens of Greenville. An announcement of the games will be found in this organ, and the support of the townspeople will be graciously accepted.

Grimes Suspended By Pres. Heydler

New York, May 21.—(AP)—Burling Grimes, veteran pitching star of the champion St. Louis Cardinals, today was fined $50 and suspended for three days by John A. Heydler, president of the National League, for disorderly action in the game with Brooklyn yesterday.

Heydler also issued a warning to Clyde Wares, Cardinal coach, for his action in protesting a decision at second base. The league executive, however, did not discipline Manager Gabby Street, who was ejected from the game in the first inning for objecting too strenuously to a decision by Umpire McGrew.

Grimes was punished for a succession of arguments with Umpire Charles Moran, who banished the pitcher from Ebbets field after stopping the game five times to issue warnings. Grimes alternated between the bench and the bullpen in annoying the arbiter.

Bees Slaughter Raleigh Caps

(By Paul Simmons)
Charlotte, May 21.—(AP)—There is something about a home town crowd that can make a baseball team play either mighty good or downright rotten ball.

Fans rooting on the home park benches can do two or three things for the team. They can razz the performers, usually with a pretty definite result. They can get the boys keyed up to a too high pitch, or they can give them just the right kind of encouragement.

Well, judging from the results of the only two games that were not rained out yesterday or last night in the Piedmont Loop, there wasn't anything wrong with the home crowd or the home team.

Down on their home lot at Charlotte, the Bees fairly slaughtered the Raleigh Caps. They batted out four home runs, a wide variety of other hits and rolled up an 8 to 1 victory. Some of the experts said Marie Settemire, Bee hurling ace, would have blanked the visitors had it not been for a weird heave he made in the second frame.

It was the same story over at Asheville. The Tourists pled the old stick for 14 hits and 8 runs, while the best visiting Gamecocks could do was 7 hits and 2 runs. This victory put the Tourists in a tie with Raleigh for second place, with the Hornets strength ening their grip on the pinnacle.

Ran interfered with the scheduled Greensboro-High Point and Durham-Winston matches.

Carolina Tar Heels and the Duke Blue Devils.

The Dukemen, however, had the all important football title, although they were tied in the final great game of last fall by the Tar Heels. The Devils likewise had the baseball championship on a percentage basis. But more flies in their ointment were that they were defeated in baseball by the Tar Heels, runners-up for the title, and in basketball by N. C. State, which finished second in this sport.

The Tar Heels had clear title to the tennis and track championships, capturing them in the state meets in these respective sports. They also laid claim to the boxing and wrestling championships of the state.

Putting on a great golfing exhibition in the tournament at Sedgewick, the Davidson Wildcats captured the collegiate links title.

The final important collegiate encounter before the boys go into a huddle over the final exams was played yesterday at Raleigh between the Tar Heel and Wolfpack baseball teams. The Heels rang down the curtain in great style by trouncing the home team, 20 to 8.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, May 21.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 5 to 7 points higher, with July selling up to 9.37 and December to 9.87 on a continuation of yesterday's buying movement which seemed to find further inspiration in the relatively steady Liverpool cables and unfavorable features in the weather news.

The advance, which was attributed largely to covering and a moderate trade demand, met a renewal of liquidation, however, and selling became more active. This was sufficient to ease prices off after the initial demand had been supplied and there were reactions which carried July off to 9.23 and December to 9.77 by the end of the first half hour, or about 4 to 7 points net lower.

Liverpool reported covering and continental buying in that market on the rains and said a more cheerful feeling prevailed in Manchester on expectations that the Indian cloth boycott would be lifted.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, May 21.—(AP)—Corn today tumbled to new bottom prices for the season, with December corn falling to below 48 cents a bushel for the first time.

Death of shipping demand here, with Missouri river terminals offering corn to come to Chicago at the May delivery price knocked support from under the market. Stop-loss selling ensued.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 21.—(AP)—For the third successive day, the stock market was bolstered by an improved tone in the railroad issues today.

Selling flurries continued to go through the market, but had little effect upon the bulk of prominent issues. The bi-monthly settlement day in London brought forth no adverse developments, and uneasiness on that score appeared to have been ill founded.

Although the list encountered considerable scattered selling at times, it stiffened early in the afternoon. In the carrier issues, gains of a point or two appeared in New York Central, Pennsylvania, Missouri Pacific, Illinois Central, Union Pacific, General Electric and Anaconda sagged to new lows, but the former recovered.

Losses of 2 to 4 points, many of which were later modified, appeared in Allied Chemicals, North American, Eastman, Coca Cola, Dupont, Air reduction Bethlehem steel Lows, West'n Union.

The improvement in the rails which first appeared Tuesday, after eight sessions of steady declines, is attributed both to completion of liquidation and to unofficial reports of progress in the plan of the carriers to request an upward revision of freight rates to restore their earning power and protect their credit. Executives of the eastern roads met at the Bond Club this afternoon, and while official comment was withheld, it was understood that the meeting was to perfect plans for requesting the higher rates.

Call money again renewed at 11.2 per cent, but was abundantly offered in the outside market at 1. The effects of cheap money were less apparent in the bond market than during the past few days, but this was not surprising, in view of the wide advances in the high grade issues already scored. Some bond houses are so confident that cheap money will eventually bring a thoroughly good bond market that they are adding to their sales forces.

Historian Gives Booth Credit

Atlanta, May 21.—(AP)—John Wilkes Booth is credited by George Fox Milton, historian and editor of the Chattanooga News, with being largely responsible for high popular opinion of Abraham Lincoln.

"Had Lincoln lived," Milton said in a speech here yesterday, "almost surely the battles of reconstruction would have tarnished the laurels about his brow. So far as history is concerned, Booth was the unwritten friend of the man he assassinated."

Milton, who is the author of "The Age of Hate," a work dealing with Andrew Johnson and the congressional group known as the "radicals," contrasted Lincoln unfavorably with his successor in the White House.

"Lincoln was the politician," Milton said, "and Andrew Johnson the statesman in the conventional uses of the term. For Lincoln was willing to let principles go if the occasion was of due importance. But

THE AUTOMOBILE IS THE greatest menace to life and limb in this country today. Figures compiled by the National Safety Council prove it. In spite of all traffic regulations, "Stop and Go" lights, safety devices, drivers' licenses and other precautionary measures, the number of deaths from automobiles climbs steadily upward each year and injuries multiply without end. Furthermore—the damage done is financial as well as physical. Hospital, surgical and nursing fees come high these days. Why continue to take chances? Why keep on dallying risking your own time and earning power—and the welfare of your family to the turn of an automobile wheel when a Provident Automobile Accident Policy will take the financial jar out of these bumps? President of Spain Declared Very Friendly

By CLARENCE DUBOSE
 Associated Press Staff Writer
 Madrid, May 21.—(AP)—Providential President Niceto Alcala Zamora is the sort of man who reminds you in a vague way of your favorite uncle. He is friendly, gentle, good humored. He chuckles now and then as he talks—although he can make a fiery enough fighting speech without any laugh in it when he is campaigning politically. He has a warming sort of personality. You are sure he wishes you well, and everybody well, and that he is earnest and sincere.

The head of the republic has thinning white hair, always tousled as though he had just been ed and sure he wishes you well, and greyish white moustache usually appears disarrayed. There is always just a little something out of order about his clothes. If his trousers are creased beautifully, the chances are his necktie will be slipping. If his collar is correct, his coat may be sarged out of shape with overstuffed pockets, running his hands through it. He for his clothes than many a Madrid dandy and it is a known fact that he brushes his hair carefully and regularly. He never appears actually sloppy or ill kempt. He probably spends more money musical, and still carries quite an Andalusian accent, for he was born in a village near Cordoba 54 years ago. He is an appealing speaker on the stump or in the court room. He does not like to prepare the manuscript of a speech in advance, although he does upon especially important occasions. His preference is to jot down upon little slips of paper the main points he wishes to develop and speak extemporaneously.
