BOOSTS PLAN FOR UNION OF TWO CHURCHES

Atlanta Minister Says Sentiment Growing for Merging of Presbyterian Groups

Montreat, N. C., May 29.—(AP)—The Rev. S. L. Morris, of Atlanta chairman of a committee on closer relations with the Associate Reform Presbyterian church, today told the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States that sentiment was growing rapidly for a union of the two church groups.

"One or two practical differences stand in the way at present," he said. Mr. Morris asked that negotiations be continued until the differences were adjusted. He reported that the Reform group would not consider union while negotiations were underway for union with other Presbyterian groups.

Requests have been received in overtures, he said, that negotiations with all church bodies except other groups with which union has been considered are the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, the United Presbyterian church of North America, the Reform Church in America (Dutch) and the Reformed Church in the United States (German).

The Rev. Thomas W. Currie, D. D., of Austin, Tex., retiring moderator told of the negotiations that have been carried on with the other churches.

He suggested that a committee be appointed to devote two weeks to meet with committees from the other churches so that it could present you an intelligent book of order.

The Assembly voted in favor of appointment of such a committee, to consist of one minister and one layman from each Synod.

R. A. Dunn, of Charlotte, the moderator, deferred appointment of the committee. The report of the permanent committee on judicial business was received. That part referring to the complaint of the Rev. J. E. McJunkin, of Forest City, Ark., Arkansas' disposal of charges and others against the Synod of against the Rev. Hay Watson referred to the standing committee Smith, Little Rock, Ark., was on judicial business.

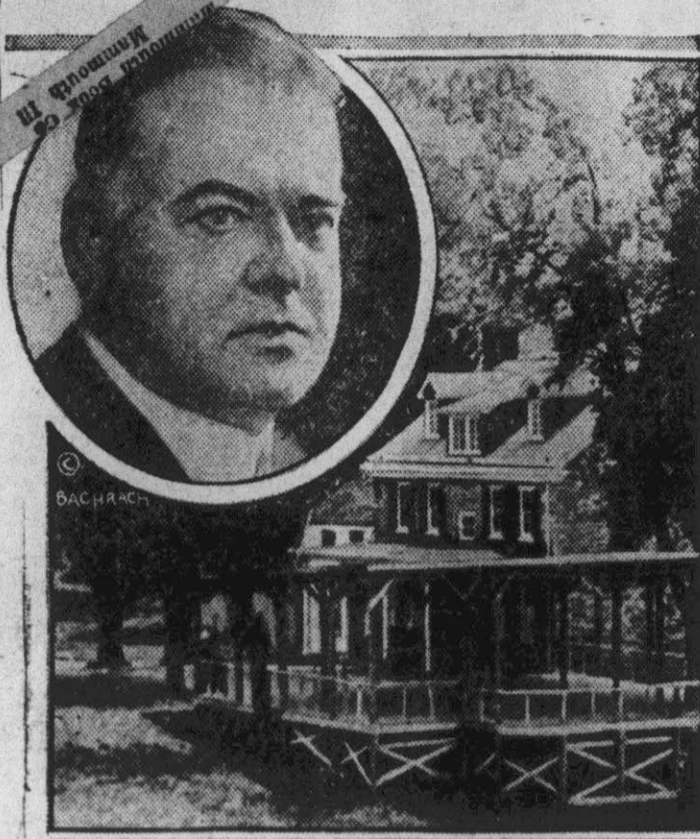

The complaint charges the Synod failed to make a proper investigation of charges that Mr. Smith's faith is unsound. Speaking before the Assembly, the Rev. H. L. Bowlby, of New Alliance, said that if the people York, secretary of the Lord's Day were not "awakened to the perils" of violation of the Sabbath Day the church could look for prize fights and bull fights on Sunday.

He related that, he had conferred with President Hoover about law enforcement and said the president told him there were twice as many convictions in the Federal courts the past year as the year before.

The new moderator of the General Assembly today announced the chairman of important committees as follows:

- Rev. Thomas W. Currie, Austin, Texas, bills and overtures. Rev. William Crow, St. Louis, judicial business. Rev. J. L. Mauze, Kansas City, Assembly's work. N. C. foreign relations. Rev. C. M. WINS $500 DAMAGE SUIT

W. M. Laughinghouse Awarded Verdict Against National Insurance Company

W. M. Laughinghouse was awarded judgment of $500 against Great National Insurance Company of Washington, D. C., by a jury in the civil term of Pitt County Superior court today. The case was taken up this morning and went to the jury shortly before the noon hour. The jury deliberated only a short time. The suit was the outgrowth of failure of the company to pay Laughinghouse $500 for destruction by fire of an automobile which he had previously insured with the concern. The company contended the policy had expired prior to destruction of the car, but Laughinghouse claimed that it had not and that he was entitled to the amount for which he filed suit.

The two-week term of court was expected to come to a close this afternoon. Numbers of cases have been disposed of, the largest being that of J. N. Harrington against the defunct Bank of Ayden which consumed nearly one entire week. The major part of the two weeks calendar was completed.

BANK HEARING NEARING JURY AT ASHEVILLE

Judge Barnhill Says He May Turn Case Over to Jurors Tomorrow

Asheville, May 29.—(AP)—Judge M. V. Barnhill, presiding in the trial of three former bank and county officials here on charges of conspiracy to divert the county's credit to aid the now defunct Central Bank & Trust Company, today said he might give the case to the jury tomorrow.

His announcement was made as arguments were resumed. Yesterday Judge Barnhill said he would delay charging the jury until Monday. At the same time Solicitor Zeb V. Nettles told Judge Barnhill he would prefer that this term of court be concluded with the close of the present trial. A score of other cases growing from the failure of the Central bank here last fall are on the docket.

Seven men were indicted on the conspiracy charge now being tried. Judge Barnhill yesterday ordered non-suits for four of the seven defendants in the present case, and reduced the charges against the remaining three.

This left Wallace B. Davis, president of the bank, and Newton W. Anderson, former chairman of the Buncombe county board of commissioners, charged with conspiracy to divert public credit to the benefit of Davis' bank and with misapplication of $875,000 of county money. Only the conspiracy charge remained against L. L. Jenkins, former county treasurer, the third defendant.

Judge Barnhill said that as soon as the arguments were completed today he would adjourn court until Monday when he would deliver his charge and send the case to the jury. The four men, charges against whom were dismissed by the court, were Russell C. Davis, brother of Wallace Davis and vice-president of the Central bank; James W. Grimes and J. O. McElroy, former county commissioners; and Charles N. Malone, former county bond attorney.

In the first of the bank trials, Wallace Davis was convicted of making false reports of the Central bank's condition before it closed last fall with approximately $18,000,000 of which some $3,000,000 was public funds on deposit. He has not been sentenced on this count.

LOCAL YOUNG MAN IN HOLDUP

Edward Tucker Has Thrilling Experience With Bandits At Brooklyn, N. Y.

Edward Tucker, Greenville young man, who is employed as manager of the Tom McAn Shoe store at Brooklyn, N. Y., had a thrilling experience with bandits who obtained $60 in a holdup of the store last Saturday night.

Writing of the experience to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tucker, the young man said he had never been quite so scared in all his life.

Tucker was in the rear of the building counting up the major part of the day's receipts when he was notified that somebody wanted to see the manager.

Walking to the front of the building, he was confronted by a masked man who told him to put up his hands and open the cash register "if he didn't want to be bumped off."

Another bandit, brandishing a gun, held frightened clerks and customers at bay in another section of the building while the man covering Tucker rifled the cash register.

Young Tucker said that fortunately the principal part of the day's receipts had been taken to the rear of the store prior to the arrival of the bandits and prevented them from walking away with around $400.

"Having a gun thrown in your face and your life threatened is not an altogether pleasant experience," Tucker wrote his parents, "and I hope I shall never go through the ordeal again." He said the money taken by the bandits was covered by insurance.

TO EQUALIZE TAX VALUES

Commissioners Authorize Adjustment of Property Taxes in This County

The Board of County Commissioners sitting in special session at the courthouse here this morning, authorized the equalizing of tax values in the various townships of the county. The work was to be begun immediately, and was hoped to be completed within the next week or ten days.

The commissioners at a previous session had authorized a general realization of property to begin immediately, but action of the closing session of the legislature postponing the meeting this morning to reconsider the matter.

The Board of Assessors, appointed several months ago to conduct the revaluation program, was converted into a Board of Equalization and its members will sit in the various townships of the county for the purpose of adjusting values.

According to a ruling by the legislature the total reduction of no township may exceed 10 per cent, although it will be possible to make individual adjustments above that figure.

The Board of Equalization will meet this afternoon to map out the program, and P. L. Stone, director, said they hoped to be able to begin work immediately.

The board was in a quandary as to what action to take in the matter prior to the meeting of the commissioners, but now that they have received definite instruction, hope was expressed that they would be able to complete their work in the ten days allotted to them.

As soon as all townships have been covered a complete report of adjustments will be presented to the commissioners for final action.

Railroad Plan to Regain Lost Traffic Results in Failure

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—The first of the important experiments designed by railroads to regain lost traffic has been declared a failure by its originator and is being abandoned.

The St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad Company has notified the Interstate Commerce Commission it considers its efforts to increase passenger traffic by a two-cent-a-mile rate have fallen short of expectations. It is abandoning the scheme July 1. Formal permission of the commission was expected to reach the railroad officials today.

YOUTH HIT BY AUTO, IS DEAD

Ten-Year-Old Claude Smith of Grimesland, Victim of Unavoidable Accident

Claude Smith, Jr., the little ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Smith of Grimesland died in the Washington Hospital at 10 o'clock this morning of injuries received Tuesday afternoon on the week from an automobile driven by Mr. Bryce Sigmon of Greenville, while the little boy was riding a bicycle on the highway in front of his home.

It is reported that the car and bicycle were traveling in the same direction and that the youngster suddenly swerved his wheel directly across the road, which made the accident unavoidable. Mr. Sigmon rushed the child to the hospital where a thorough examination was made, and it was found that he received a fractured skull and several broken bones. Consciousness was never regained.

The little fellow had a legion of friends, and was recognized as one of the community's best little citizens. He was the star pupil of his class in school the past term also a splendid Sunday School worker.

He is survived by his parents, Claude Smith of Grimesland and Mrs. Smith, who before her marriage was Miss Thelma Hope Baker of that city; one brother, and two sisters, and was a nephew of A. P. Baker and B. T. Smith of Greenville.

Funeral services will be from the home of his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baker of Washington tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Glass, pastor of First Methodist church, and burial will take place in the Oakdale cemetery of Washington.

The entire community joins in expressions of sympathy to the grief-stricken parents and relatives of the little boy.

Uphold Tariff Rates in U. S.

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—The Republican National committee today found "ample evidence to show that under present conditions the rates in the Hawley Smoot tariff are no more than adequate, in many instances, and that in some cases perhaps not high enough."

The G. O. P. organization's statement used as an illustration of this contention the demand of Representative Connery, Democrat, Massachusetts, that the tariff commission increase the rates on boots and shoes 50 per cent over the present 20 per cent ad valorem duty.

"Democratic leaders," the statement said, "have been free in their criticism of what they call the 'iniquitous' rates in the tariff bill, yet not one of them has answered the challenge to name the rates they would reduce."

"Never," it continued, "has the necessity of protecting our markets and our workers been so apparent in view of tremendous wage cuts abroad. If our tariff walls are not maintained and the fullest protection accorded agriculture, industry and labor, the American standard of living must fall to European levels."

"Blind theorists, foreign interests and Democratic free traders are threatening to destroy our tariff."

Actress Not a Lady. New York—An actress is not a lady, in the words of George Bernard Shaw. At least when she is, she is not an actress. He gives the definition in a preface of a book containing his correspondence with Ellen Terry (G. P. Putnam's Sons). A lady, he adds, is schooled to hide her true feelings; an actress is trained to show her emotions.

SEVEN FLIERS READY TO GO OVER OCEAN

Await Favorable Weather to Take Off On Flights Over the Atlantic

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Seven airplanes are awaiting a favorable weather report from Dr. James H. Kimball, meteorological expert, and the trans-Atlantic flights will be on once more. Within the week, one woman, Miss Ruth Nichols, and 12 men hope to start their long journeys.

Three of the expeditions are around-the-world-flights. Miss Nichols will fly alone and expects to start from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland. She has not divulged her intended destination.

Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, Australian navigators, will also fly to Harbor Grace for their hop-off on a trip around the world. The only expedition that will leave directly from New York will be the Bellanca plane manned by Hugh Herndon, Jr. and Clyde Pangborne, veteran circus flyer, who hope to beat the Graf Zeppelin record around the globe.

John Henry Mears and Vance Breeze expect to leave from Harbor Grace in their Lockheed for a globe circling trip. Two other fliers are chancing their lives on visits home. They are Otto Hillig, Liberty, N. Y., photographer and Holger Holris, Danish aviator, who operated a flying field in Liberty, N. Y. They will take off from Harbor Grace for Denmark and Germany.

Russell Boardman of Boston expects to start on a solo flight in his Bellanca for Paris. He intended going last year, but his plane was damaged by fire.

The last expedition has hopes of reaching Budapest. The Hungarian pilots are Alexander Magyar and Captain George Endres, now in Hartford, Conn., with their Lockheed Sirius, a plane similar to Lindbergh's. They expect to start from Harbor Grace.

Samushiro Beach, Japan, May 29.—(AP)—The "somewhat cumbersome" monoplane in which Thomas Ash, Jr., American flier, hopes to span the Pacific without a stop, rested on the natural runway of this beach today ready to take off for Tacoma, Wash., at 7 a. m., tomorrow (5 p. m. Friday, EST).

Ash landed here late today after a 380-mile flight from Tachikawa, airmore, near Tokyo. He then inspected and prepared the plane for the 4,400-mile solo flight across the Pacific. He expects to land at Tacoma in forty to fifty hours after flying.

Ash will carry no radio, nor is his plane equipped with pontoons. His only baggage will be a small amount of food and a pocket full of letters. Included in the food Ash will carry is a small box of capsules. Each about the size of a cherry and each containing nourishment equivalent to a full meal. This was presented to him by officers of the Japanese army during the ceremonies attending his departure from Tachikawa. Another important item will be six thermos bottles of black coffee.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 29.—(AP)—A new world's non-refueling endurance record of 84 hours and 33 minutes was set here last night by Walter Lees and Frederic Bosny, Detroit aviators.

This is nine hours and 10 minutes better than the former mark set by two Frenchmen in northern Africa this past March. Air experts estimated that the aviators flew approximately 6,600 miles.

More than 600 planes are to assemble near Quantico, Va., at 10:35 o'clock. The complicated maneuvers which are necessary to bring the force into compact review column will take most of the squadrons as far as Leesburg, Va., by way of Fairfax. They then will return to the vicinity of Quantico, falling in to review formation.

The head of the review column will fly up the Potomac past Mount Vernon, reaching Arlington Memorial bridge at 11:20 a. m. As the units of the 20-mile column pass over the bridge, they will swing to the left, dipping in salute to the army's dead in Arlington cemetery. Then they will break column and proceed to their airdromes.

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—Air corps preparations today moved Washington to the center of the stage as the last "battlefield" for the massed flying force engaged in annual exercises.

Bolling Field, transformed by a spell of fair weather from soginess to a good landing surface, became the focus of operations as headquarters for commanding officers and fleet pursuit planes.

Plans are being reviewed for the final demonstration tomorrow by airplanes that were mobilized two weeks ago in the nation's greatest peacetime concentration of air strength.

With Bolling Field as the center of operations, far-flung outposts were ready to accommodate parts of the air division during a rest tonight before the massed move on Washington.

Quarters were arranged at Middletown, Pa., Wilmington, Baltimore, and Langley Field, Virginia, for attack, observation, bombardment and transport planes.

They were ready to receive their guests this afternoon as the sky fleet turned its eyes from New York to demonstrations over Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore.

Sweeping Charges Pending Soon for Vets Administration

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—The Washington Post said today there would be a sweeping reorganization of the Veterans Administration within the next ten days.

Co-ordination and consolidation to unify the legal, medical and other work of the several groups under Administrator Hines, was along the line which the Post said changes would be made.

Adoption of the office of general counsel of the Veterans Bureau and creation of a general legal head, possible to be known as "Solicitor of the Administration of Veterans Affairs," was predicted.

William Wolf Smith is Veterans Bureau counsel. Smith was attacked in Congress last session for drawing officer's disability retirement pay as well as his $9,000 salary.

This and similar situations led Senator Reed, Republican Pennsylvania to offer legislation to deny disability pay to all government employees receiving salaries of more than $2,000. The Senate approved it as an amendment to an appropriation bill but it was killed in conference.

Consolidation of the various veterans activities, veterans bureau pension bureau and national homes for volunteer soldiers, began with the creation by Congress of the existing veterans administration. General Hines was authorized to consolidate all activities and he has been gradually achieving closer unification of the work.

President Hoover to Honor War Dead at Valley Forge

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—In the hilly country where a winter of privation and training prepared revolutionary soldiers to continue their struggle for independence, President Hoover tomorrow will honor America's war dead.

Like many others, the President will journey to Valley Forge, Pa. for Decoration Day services and on ground that felt the tramp of George Washington's volunteers during the winter of 1777 he will deliver his memorial address.

The chief executive's train will leave the capital this afternoon, reaching Philadelphia in time for Mr. Hoover to have dinner tonight with the Union League Club.

Early Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Hoover, two of his secretaries, and the White House physician, Dr. Joel T. Boone, he will motor to Valley Forge.

After delivering the address, the President will inspect the two-story rock structure where George Washington made his headquarters after the battles of Brandywine and Germantown. He will walk over the same country on which Washington and that famed German-American soldier—Baron Friedrich Wilhelm von Steuben—drilled the volunteers until they were ready to re-occupy Philadelphia, which had fallen into British hands.

The inspection of the state park concluded, President Hoover will return to Washington by train. He decided to abandon the proposed long motor trip back because of heavy traffic consequent to holidays. He is expected to reach the capital late Saturday.

FRANCE BARS TEXAS GUINAN

N. Y. Night Club Hostess and "Gang" Denied Admission to Land at Havre

Havre France, May 29.—(AP)—Texas Guinan and her "gang" who did not attempt to land at Plymouth, Eng., from the liner Paris when she docked there were refused admission to France today because port authorities said their working contract was not in order.

Texas and some of her friends who had come down from Paris to meet her said the contract was being sent to Havre from Paris and that when it arrived the authorities probably would let the girls land.

Plymouth, England, May 29.—(AP)—Texas Guinan, New York night club hostess, cast longing eyes at the shore of England today and announced she would return later.

Arriving aboard the liner Paris she did not attempt to land and proceeded to Havre en route to Paris.

"I will come back," she said, "because England will want my company as does every civilized country. We are not out to make money. We want to make people happy."

She said she was unable to understand how stories got about that she had been barred from this country.

"What are these stories that are being told against me?" she said. "I have done nothing to be ashamed of."

The Daily Express said when she sailed from New York Scotland Yard detectives would meet her boat here and prevent her from departing, claiming she was on the government's list of barred aliens.

"I will gladly give a check for a hundred thousand dollars to any charity if anyone can substantiate statements made against my character," she said.

"What has England against me? My parents were born in Great Britain and I regard was only too glad to welcome me when I worked for her during the war."

She commented at length the 30 girls who comprise what she called her "gang."

"These girls have worked for me for years and we are all pals. They are straight and honest girls. I'm taking them around the world to show them some things."

None of them drink, she said, and as for herself—"I've never had a drink and never sold a drink in my life."

Referring to a feature in her night club show, she asked: "Is it because I said I would ride down the strand on my white horse, that I've been barred from England? If you can find any statute in the laws of England which make it criminal to ride a white horse I'll make you my heir."

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES Thos. F. Clark, Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Kansas City.

ABOUT TOWN

"National Cotton Week" will be appropriately observed in Greenville if merchants have their way about it.

It was announced yesterday they would put on a special display of cotton goods during the week of June 1 to 6 in an effort to show the public what manufacturers are accomplishing in the textile field.

Cotton fabrics will predominate the display through the week and special advertisements will be prepared to show the people the numbers of things which will be placed upon the counters.

National Cotton Week is being sponsored for the purpose of informing the people of the development which has been made in the textile industry and in that way increase sales of cotton-made goods. This, it is hoped, will bring about an improvement in consumption and create a greater demand for the fleecy staple.

The first schedule in connection with the campaign of the Health Department to bring about a decrease in typhoid fever during the future is carried in the columns of this paper today. It provides for the visit of health workers to numbers of localities to administer treatments, free of charge, against the fever.

Hundreds of people received this treatment last year, and will be immune from fever for certainly three years.

Three injections of the typhoid vaccine are necessary to insure immunization, and as they are a certain preventative against fever nobody can go wrong by taking them.

The ravages of fever have been reduced to no little extent by the use of anti-toxin the last several years, and if the public should cooperate with health workers each year, the toll of death ought to be cut to a minimum.

Greenville youth is getting an opportunity to learn more about swimming and life saving this year as result of activities of the Junior Room, directed by Albert Osborne and Billy Brown.

In addition to being taught how to swim skillfully, the youngsters are told how to act in case of emergency and necessary steps to take in case life saving should become necessary.

It is impossible to foresee the advantages to eventuate from the activities. Hundreds of deaths occur each year from inability of people to swim, and the lack of cool, clear heads in case of emergency.

This is the day of crowded beaches and river resorts, and if loss of life is to be held to a minimum it is going to be necessary to more completely instruct youth in advanced swimming and life saving.

Next week will be observed as "National Cotton Week" throughout the country, and in keeping with the movement Greenville merchants have been urged to place their cotton stocks on display and advertise in such way as to fully inform the public as to what they have to offer.

Nothing pays like advertising, especially at this season of the year, and it should be the purpose of all the leading firms to use advertising space as liberally as they can in an effort to increase interest in the purchase of cotton materials.

The serious economic situation affecting the south at this time is due largely to the decline of cotton prices the last several years, and if something isn't done to improve conditions it is impossible to visualize the outcome of affairs.

Merchants should consider these facts and then turn their attention to interesting the people in the many beautiful cotton materials which they have on display at this time.

Probably by the time the Legislature meets again the various departments affected by the drastic changes will have been able to work out their salvation. The most seriously affected is the department of schools, which in addition to accepting a ten percent reduction of salaries, will also be forced to make many changes in keeping with the MacLean law.

It is impossible to foresee the outcome of the changes, but if the ambitions of the proponents of the various bills are achieved, it will cut expenses and bring relief to some of the harassed land owners in all parts of the state.

In view of the fact that the school bill is expected to carry a million dollar deficit at the end of each year, it might be wise for state officials to begin casting about for a place to raise money to meet the situation.

This promises hard sledding for the next session of the General Assembly, and it will take a stout heart to go back to Raleigh and try to find away out of the wilderness of financial worries.

Reject Taylor Plan of Mileage Rates

Cincinnati, O., May 29.—(AP)—Members of the joint contact committee, representing all the freight traffic territorial associations to the east in half of the country, have rejected the Taylor plan of mileage rates proposed as a solution of the rate trouble of the textile traffic conference.

Shippers, receivers and manufacturers of cotton piece goods, knit goods and kindred products, submitted the Taylor plan Tuesday, proposing a series of mileage basis rate on the theory the rate level of districts both in the north and south should be on a parity.

The textile tariff conference is

FOUR KILLED AS NEWSPAPER PLANE CRASHES

The plan which have effected rate increases ranging from 5 to 10 per cent, it was said, to take the place of rate advances of from 18 to 35 per cent which the shippers asserted would ensue if the Interstate Commerce Commission should approve tariffs proposed by the railroads of sections east of the Mississippi river.

Charles J. Tilford, chairman of the Southern Freight association, in announcing the rejection, said railroad executives had not been able to agree upon any plan whereby the Taylor plan could be more effective.

He said the railroads would go ahead and publish their tariffs effective August 8 and that in all probability the various elements in the textile trade would file an action with the Interstate Commerce Commission asking that they be suspended pending investigation by the commission.

The proposed tariffs are intended to cancel all commodity rates on cotton piece goods and other kindred fabrics, both in the south and north and substitute for them a set of class rates based on 50 per cent of the first class rate.

Part Time Job Plan Practised in United States

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor's suggestion that full time jobs for a few be made into part time jobs for many has already been put into practice in some instances by American industry.

A continued tendency in that direction was reported today by Fred Croxton, vice-chairman of the President's emergency committee for employment.

Croxton, who is in charge of the committee's work while Chairman Woods studies unemployment in Europe, said the large numbers of workers have been provided a living during the depression by employers dividing available work and that this policy still is being followed.

The scheme was given added prominence this week by its inclusion in a general plan advanced by William Green, president of the Federation, for approaching problems of the depression.

The announcement of his program followed utterances in which he said labor should strike to prevent wage cuts if nothing else proved effective.

In addition to program available work, Green's program included maintenance of existing wage scales, community planning for relief to the unemployed and a guarantee of at least part time work from employer to employe.

Green said not more than 1,500,000 of the more than 6,000,000 reported unemployed last February had obtained jobs.

New York—Charles H. Tuttle, who was an unsuccessful Republican nominee for governor, is delighted that somebody in the family is able to be elected to something. He so expressed himself at the induction of Mrs. Tuttle as president of the state Woman's Republican Club.

BRAVES WIN CLOSE GAME FROM GIANTS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

According to the records compiled so far, it is very much of a southpaw's year in big league pitching.

The left handers usually are considered a wild lot, sometimes very good but more often very bad. But this season about a half dozen pitchers who deliver from the portside are right up among the leading mound departments and three of them hold a complete monopoly on the top positions in the standings.

Ed Brandt of the Boston Braves has won eight games in a row, taking a hard earned decision from the New York Giants yesterday by a 7 to 6 score to keep his record clear of defeat.

In the American league, left handed Robert Moses Grove of Philadelphia pitched the last two innings against the New York Yankees yesterday and scored the ninth inning run that gave the A's a 5-4 victory. Getting credit for the win, Grove gained a tie for the league pitching lead with his equally left handed teammate, George Walberg, whom he relieved with the score tied.

Right handers did most of the other work yesterday, but previously Lester Sweetland Walker, Clarence Mitchell and Bill Walker, New York, and Jim Elliott, Philadelphia, for the National league and Charles Fischer, Washington and Pat Caraway, Chicago, for the American had done plenty to place the southpaws in the limelight.

The result of Brandt's victory moved the Braves back into third place ahead of the Chicago Cubs, who dropped a 3-1 decision to Cincinnati but left the first two places unchanged as Pittsburgh won a seven inning slugging duel from St. Louis 11 to 8.

Washington, now second in the American League, improved its margin over the Yankees by beating out Boston 4 to 3.

Cleveland extended its newly found winning streak to five games and carried the St. Louis Browns' row of defeats through the same number of contests by gaining a 5 to 4 decision.

Ted Lyons of Chicago had the edge in a mound duel with Vic Sorrell to give the White Sox their third straight victory over Detroit, 3 to 2.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia in the National League had their second for day.

SAYS BRANDT WHOLE BALL CLUB BY SELF

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 29.—(AP)—A surgeon's knife probed along the antra in Big Ed Brandt's chest bones, cured a chronic sinus condition last winter and made a $100,000 pitcher out of the Boston Braves crack outpaw.

That valuation on Brandt's services is set by Bill McKechnie, crafty pilot who has lifted the Braves in a couple of seasons from the foot of the National league to a position of respect in the eyes of all pennant contenders.

"I could trade the big lefty for a pretty good ball club," says Bill. "But what I need is more like him, not less."

Brandt was always a good pitcher. McKechnie explained, "but for two seasons he's been sick. A sinus infection poisoned his system. He had everything he had today except the strength to keep using it."

"Yep," said Brandt, a big, quiet, powerful fellow who looks as though he'd never been sick a day in his life. "I'm feeling good again. I've picked up fifteen pounds since the surgeons got done with me last winter in Spokane. I feel like a different fellow. I'm strong again and it makes all the difference in the world."

Brandt explains that it doesn't matter how much stuff a pitcher has. He can't get along without the reserve strength to call on in the late innings of a close ball game, when every pitch counts and one faltering moment means a game lost.

Brandt didn't have that extra stamina last year. As a result he had to quit trying to start games. He became a relief pitcher and over the span of the entire season won only four times. Now he has won eight straight, taming the Giants yesterday for the third time.

The left hander, whose pitching so far this season would make anyone of four club in the league a standout contender, came up to the Braves in the spring of 1928 from Seattle in the Pacific Coast league. His home is in Spokane and he went to Seattle from the "land lots of the home town."

Until this season opened and Brandt started his spectacular spurge, his chief claim to fame was ability to beat the Brooklyn Robins. In or out the Robins all looked alike to him. But now he's a whole ball club in Bill McKechnie's eyes. And a pretty good one at that.

MANY PEOPLE GATHER FOR AUTO RACES

Indianapolis, May 29.—(AP)—While the two and a half miles of bricks at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway were washed clean of oil and grease today in preparation for the annual 500-mile automobile race tomorrow, the city broke out in its annual pre-race atmosphere.

Visitors from many states thronged the downtown district, and an ever lengthening line of automobiles formed before the speedway gates waiting for a chance at "pole position" in the infield parking spaces. The first car in line had waited ten days.

Attracted by the fastest field of race cars ever to start here, a large crowd appeared certain to view the speed classic. Thirty-eight of the forty starters covered the ten-mile qualifying distance at an average of more than 100 miles per hour.

The track was closed late yesterday after several drivers had taken brief practice spins. Most of them held their mounts to sufficient speed to test carburetion, shock absorber and spring adjustment and spark plugs, but William (Shorty) Canton of Detroit, whose sixteen-cylinder car is declared to be the fastest in the race, breezed several laps at 118 miles an hour.

Canton with Billy Arnold of Chicago, last year's winner, Francis J. Jimm, West Coast sensation, and several other hard drivers, are placed far back in the starting lineup of ten rows of four cars each, and predictions were made that thrills would be produced early in the race when they mantry to forgo ahead in search of lap prize money.

At least one driver in today's race has no intention of pulling into the pits until the race is over. Dave Evans, of Evansville, Ind., who will pilot Clessie Cummings' racer, the only oil burning car in the starting field, said he believed the machine would stand the grind without stopping.

Evans said his tires have stood up well for more than four hundred miles, and with a new set for the start of the race, he expected to hit an average of 93 miles an hour without a stop.

Undaunted Dizzy

It was a shame to waste all the spring ballpoo on Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, only to have the Cardinals extract his tonsils and the nship him to Houston in the Texas league.

Dean was as welcome to the touring correspondents in Florida as a check. He so impressed Gabby Street that Gabby warmed to the companions of Dean with the great Walter Johnson.

"I don't see how he can miss," remarked Gabby.

Maybe so, even though Dizzy didn't get beyond the bull-pen with the Cardinals this spring. He reached Houston on a Sunday afternoon in May, went to the park and pitched a shutout against Wichta Falls, yielding only three hits.

The New Ball

Speaking of the effect of the new major league ball, examine the case of Outfielder Jonathan Stone of Detroit. In 126 games last year, Stone hit three home runs. In less than a month of the current campaign he has doubled that output.

Buzz Arlett, the Phillies' heavy-weight fielder, wasn't even close to being the Pacific Coast league home run king last season, but he has joined the major league pace-setters.

With one accord we pulled out fresh cigars and leaned up against the wall. The rest of the boys were talking horse-racing, since it was Louisville and the night before the Derby.

RALEIGH WINS SEVEN GAMES

Charlotte, May 29.—(AP)—Fans that glory in a fierce baseball contest might do well to keep an eye on the far western front of the Piedmont league battleground the last two days of this week.

There, at Asheville, the Greensboro Patriots and the Tourists hook up today and tomorrow in a three-game series. Ordinarily, this probably would be just three ball games, but something has happened that promises to make it an entirely different matter.

The Pats, by putting on a smashing winning rally, have hauled themselves up within a half a game of third place in league standing, now occupied by the Tourists.

It came about through the Pats' copping four nice wins in a row while the Tourists dropped five matches one after another.

But when it comes to moving them down one right after another, the Raleigh Caps are still the class in the Piedmont. From what they are going, they must have it in their heads they are another bunch of Athletics. They overhauled the Gamecocks, 6 to 5 last night at Henderson for their seventh straight win. Although it took ten innings to do it.

This reverse put Henderson three percentage points below the fourth-place Pats.

The Charlotte Hornets have turned on full steam in an effort to overtake the Caps in the team standing. They filled a tough assignment last night by trouncing Asheville, 11 to 4, at Charlotte, and sweeping the series.

Dan Boone added a little more emphasis to his promises of a big come-back by putting the skids under the Winston Twins again at High Point. The score was 8 to 5. Three of Dan's boys, Land, Holt and Walgren blazed out homers. It was Land's second in as many games.

SPORTS SLANTS

On the theory that anybody can stick a plaster on this pillar of sporting argument, Santa Monica (that's right—California) wishes to be heard when there is any conversation about turning athletes loose upon the principal fields of combat.

The following report is filed by Frank E. Smith, sports editor of the Santa Monica Evening Outlook, and duly noted:

Santa Monica's Fame
 "Santa Monica can step up and make Old Don (Ashbaugh of Glendale, California) green with envy. Santa Monica tennis products include Johnny Deeg, national champion; Jay Cohn, national boys' champion; Midge Giedman, Van Ryn, Billy Do's and Spud Myers, national ranking boys' team; and Grayn Wheeler, Pacific Coast girls' champion. Not to forget, May Sutton Bundy, the grand veteran of them all; Tom Bundy, former national doubles titleholder with Maury McLoughlin, and a flock of others.

"Jumping" Joe Scovoldi, the best strong feller from Notre Dame lives here, as does his brother, "Litt" Jumping Joe. Another "bon-crusher" who lives here is Everett Marshall, the Colorado grizzly bear.

"Johnny Lyman, the ex-Santa Monica High School lad who broke Bud Houser's prep shot-put mark, lives here when he isn't tossing weights for the Stanford track team.

"We have quite a few polo players, one of them being Will Rogers. His sons, Bill Jr. and Jimmy, both are crack stick and ball men.

Will som' one kindly take up the cudgels for Natick, Mass., whose athletic products are scattered as far west as Berkeley, in the person of the veterans Walker Christie?

Here is THE TRUTH ABOUT WARD'S TIRES

Montgomery Ward & Co. sells two qualities of tires

THE RIVERSIDE is our first quality tire

It is made by one of the largest tire companies in the world. It is built to one of the most stringent sets of specifications in the tire industry. It is one of the best known tires in America. It has been sold by Ward's for nineteen consecutive years. Millions of Riversides are in use today. It is backed by a guarantee without limit as to time or mileage.

Other fine tires equal in quality to our Riversides are Firestone High Speed, Goodyear All Weather and Goodrich Silvertown Cords... but these tires are much higher priced than Riversides. The table at the left gives you a size-for-size price comparison.

Having studied that price comparison there remains only one question for you to ask... "Are Riverside tires really as good as these other tires with which they are compared?" Well, Montgomery Ward & Co. has been in business for sixty years. It is one of the largest and oldest merchandise institutions in the world. It is the originator of the "Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back" guarantee. It depends for its business not only on tires, but also on some 40,000 other items of merchandise which it wishes to sell to you. Isn't it reasonable to believe therefore that Ward's MUST be telling the truth when it makes these direct statements to you?

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Cotton opened very steady today, 7 to 14 points higher on trade buying and covering.

Evidently recent declines had strengthened the technical position of the market and notwithstanding a favorable view of the early weather news, there was a disposition to cover short contracts in advance of the holidays.

The opinion was also expressed in some quarters that lower price levels had created a little more confidence in values and that the trade was buying a little more freely.

Offerings were comparatively light and after some little irregularity, active months sold 14 to 17 points net higher with July advancing to 8.73 and December to 8.21 by the end of the first half hour. In some quarters the advance was considered a technical reaction.

The Liverpool market was closed today, but will reopen for business next Monday morning.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, May 29.—(AP)—Today marked the wind-up for May contracts on all grains, and proved generally uneventful, with government sponsored agencies sellers of May wheat on all advances.

Month end liquidating sales of May corn, however, found support from buyers lacking, and a fall of 31-4 cents a bushel from earlier top prices followed.

A bearish influence as to wheat was a report from a trade authority estimating 1931 domestic wheat production at 1,000,000 bushels more than was forecast a month ago by the same expert and 40,000,000 bushels more than was harvested last year.

Wheat closed irregular 7-8 lower to 1-4 advance; corn 21-4 down to 1-2 gain; oats 11-4 off to 1-8 up; and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 12.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 29.—(AP)—With the stimulating effects of higher freight rate agitation completely exhausted, the rail shares plunged to new low levels for the past several years in today's market, and dragged the rest of the list after them.

Pre-holiday short covering gave the market a substantial upturn in the early dealings, but advances 2 to 3 points in such issues as U. S. Steel, Consolidated Gas, Allied Chemical and Case, were soon lost.

The carrier issues were depressed by April net operating income reports, which were considerably worse than expected a few weeks ago, and expectation of little improvement before August.

The bond market gave a better account of itself than stocks.

Railway issues and the foreign government obligations showed a considerably improved tone. This was distinctly encouraging to Wall Street, inasmuch as the bolstering effects of the cheap money program have been delayed by liquidation in those groups.

Brokerage circles were inclined to hope that the Memorial Day week-end might mark a turning point after three months of stubborn liquidation in shares. Rumors that a banking pool was being formed to support the market were generally discredited. It was stated in important banking circles that there was no occasion for such action. Credit conditions remained virtually unchanged.

Summerville, Ga., May 29.—(AP)—Deliberating on a window sill of the jury room in a murder case cost J. Lindsey Bradley, 38, his life. Bradley lost his balance, made a futile effort to grab the edge of the window, and fell to the ground one story below. He rallied under medical treatment, but died last night.

Under agreement of attorneys, delivery in the case continued with 11 jurors.

Wesleyan Plans to Protect Girls From Cigarettes

Macon, Ga., May 29.—(AP)—Girls at Wesleyan college. Methodist institution here, will be protected from "use of the pernicious cigarette" to the fullest extent of the ability of the board of trustees and the new president, Dr. Dice R. Anderson.

The trustees adopted a resolution at the instigation of Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, urging the Wesleyan faculty to exert their influence to save the students "from all those coarse and hurtful indulgences, and especially the use of pernicious cigarettes."

The Macon Telegraph says it learned the resolution followed discussion of reports that Dr. Anderson permitted students to smoke at Randolph-Macon women's college of Lynchburg, Va., of which he is now president.

A dispatch from Lynchburg, however, said the Randolph-Macon faculty not only did not authorize smoking, but that Dr. Anderson last year addressed letters to parents of students requesting them to support him in his stand against tobacco. Further, the dispatch said, disciplinary measures were administered to smokers who were caught.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE REQUEST IMPEACHMENT OF GOV. HORTON

The influence and support of Lea and Caldwell and the newspapers they controlled.

The article reviewed various testimony before a legislative committee that investigated state affairs in relation to the purported interest of Lea and Caldwell in the state government for the pecuniary aid of their "numerous private, separate and joint schemes and enterprises."

Lea and Caldwell, the articles charged, were interested in having the state issue large amounts of highway bonds so that much of the proceeds might be deposited in banks in which they were interested and then borrowed and used for their "selfish, pecuniary advantage," regardless of the "resulting detriment and danger to the state."

"In order to achieve the intended results and reap the fruits of said conspiracy," the article declared, "it was desired that said conspirators have willing and plant tools and agents in the positions and offices of commissioner of highways and public works, superintendent of banks, commissioner of finance and taxation, purchasing agent, and as far as susceptible of accomplishment willing members of the governing board of said state and in other offices and positions of said state."

Chairman Tipton, after reading the committee report, moved that the report and article be printed, but administration forces opposing for immediate action, insisted that the report be read.

Representative George Chamblee's point of order that the article be read was sustained by Speaker Walter M. Ely.

Green of Wilson then asked a suspension of the rules for the consideration of Tipton's motion was adopted when well called started and the administration joined the anti in the vote against tabling.

However, on the vote to suspend the rules, the anti failed to gain the necessary two-thirds majority, getting 54 votes against 43.

The clerk then began reading the committee's report and the article.

German Scientist Sends Assistants After Wrecked Balloon in the Alps

Ober-Gurgl, Austrian Tyrol, May 29.—(AP)—Although delighted with the success of his exploratory balloon voyage to the stratosphere, Prof. Auguste Piccard's greatest regret is that he could not make certain measurements which Prof. Albert Einstein, his teacher, had requested him to make.

"As we started," Professor Piccard said today "the wind suddenly became weaker which meant that we rose more rapidly than we had bargained for. Professor Einstein had requested me to make certain measurements while we shot upward, but try as I would this proved impossible.

"Our measurements of cosmic rays, however, which Professor Hess previously had measured up to 27,000 feet were carefully conducted up to 50,000 feet."

Asked what conclusions he had made from his measurements, Professor Piccard replied: "I don't want to make a statement as yet as to that."

Ober-Gurgl, Austrian Tyrol, May 29.—(AP)—Recovered from their perilous thrust into the upper reaches of the sky, Dr. August Piccard began compiling his scientific data today while Charles Kipfer, his assistant, started a three-hour climb to recover their balloon from the glacier on which it came to rest.

Dr. Piccard said in conversation with newspapermen that the stratosphere, which he claimed to have penetrated in an ascent of more than 50,000 feet, was the only practical element for long-distance aviation.

"This can be done, however," he said, "only if the cabins are as airtight as our gondola was."

When some of his interviewers suggested they would like to accompany the scientist to the balloon, Dr. Piccard had a good laugh. "Have you hob-nailed shoes?" he asked. "Are you experienced mountain climbers? Do you know how to operate an ice axe? Then you better keep your hands off."

The two men arose at dawn and were surprised on reaching the lobby of the little Edelweiss hotel to be confronted by not less than 50 journalists and by scores of tourists who used bicycles, motorcycles, horse-drawn vehicles, automobiles and even airplanes to reach the two men about whom all Europe is talking.

Dr. Piccard, Swiss, professor of physics at the University of Brussels, said that he and Kipfer, his aide, had attained the objectives of their ascent—a study of cosmic rays—and in addition had established a world's altitude record.

Referring to a little notebook in which he had jotted down data as winds swept him over southern Europe for a day and a night, he said he had noticed that the moon appeared much brighter than from the earth and that the Alpine scenery below him was "overwhelmingly grand."

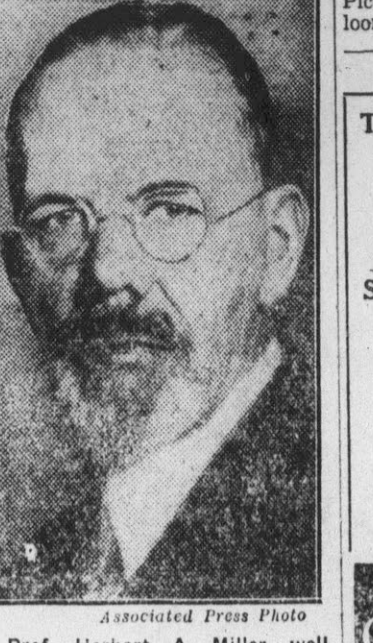

The temperature within the hermetically sealed aluminum ball rose to 106 degrees Fahrenheit at times, while on the outside it fell as low as 78 below zero Fahrenheit.

He explained his delay in landing by the fact that it was impossible to open the safety valve or the porthole until the pressure inside conformed with that of the atmosphere.

"The flight is likely to revolutionize all previous theories concerning the stratosphere," he said. "The flight proved that the stratosphere is navigable and that man with modern technical methods will be able to master its low pressure and its cold."

"We seemed to be in an endless infinity of blue. The earth had completely disappeared. It was like floating at sea with blue water all around and blue shore in remote places."

Loses Teaching Post

Prof. Herbert A. Miller, well known sociologist, was dropped from the Ohio State university faculty. He said several members of the faculty would ask an investigation of the action.

Brussels, Belgium, May 29.—(AP)—King Albert of the Belgians has appointed Professor August Piccard a commander of the Order of Leopold in recognition of his ascent into the stratosphere. He made Charles Kipfer, his aide, a Chevalier of the order.
