DARST SPEAKS TO GRADUATES HIGH SCHOOL

Sermon By Episcopal Bishop Ushers in the Commencement Season for City Schools

"Pick out your peak in life and climb," was the advice which Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Darst, bishop of the East Carolina Diocese, in his sermon to members of the graduating class of the Greenville high school in the high school auditorium last night.

He urged his young hearers to never give up until they had reached the topmost height of their ambition, and in this way prove of inestimable service in solving the countless problems which affect civilization on every hand.

The sermon marked the opening of the public school commencement season which will be brought to a conclusion Friday evening in the campus building of the East Carolina Teachers College by Dr. William Louis Poteat, president emeritus of Wake Forest college, and presentation of diplomas to the seventy-seven graduates.

Although the graduating class is slightly behind last commencement on the standpoint of numbers, it is considered one of the record classes of the school and is a matter of considerable pride to members of the faculty and the citizenship generally.

Thursday evening in the high school auditorium the senior class will present their class day program. Friday morning in the high school auditorium the graduates of the seventh grade will be received into the high school with impressive exercises.

In addition to the literary address and presentation of diplomas one of the features of the final exercises Friday evening will be the awarding of the Keith Distinguished Service Cup. This cup was given by last year's graduating class to be awarded each year to a member of the graduating class making the highest average on practically every phase of school activity.

All churches of the city abandoned their usual services last night in order to give the congregations an opportunity to attend the services at the high school, and the auditorium and balconies were packed to capacity.

The service opened with a procession by the high school orchestra during which members of the graduating class filed into the building and were seated in the front of the building which had been roped off with a chain of roses.

Responsive Scripture reading was conducted by J. H. Rose, superintendent of schools. The opening prayer and Scripture reading was by Rev. W. A. Lilliver, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Two numbers were rendered by the high school chorus under direction of Miss Ona Shindler, director of public school music. About forty-five young women participated in the rendition of "My Task" by Ashford, with Miss Eva Hodges as accompanist.

At the conclusion of the services a chorus of 60 young men and young women rendered "Gloria in Excelsis," my Mozart, accompanied by the high school orchestra. The singing was described as one of the most impressive efforts of the high school chorus in years, and elicited widespread commendation from patrons of the school.

Mr. Rose made an announcement concerning the commencement program, and then introduced Bishop Darst.

Taking his text from the first verse of the sixth chapter of Hebrews, Bishop Darst delivered one of the most masterful sermons probably ever heard by a graduating class here before. Using his text as his subject, "Press on to full growth," he hurled a distinct challenge to his young hearers to press on to higher ground and to try to render a type of service which will make the world a better place in which to live.

He said he thanked God for the dreams of youth that enable mankind to overcome all obstacles and to reach the highest point of human endeavor. "Youth," he declared, "lifts its face to the peaks and can and will win through the it upon every hand."

He told them of the importance of finding a purpose in life—an objective—by which and through which they might climb to the top.

GAS PLANT TO BE CONSIDERED

Much Interest Manifested in Session of Aldermen to Consider Purchase

Much interest is being exhibited in the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen tomorrow night at 8 o'clock to consider whether or not the city desires to purchase the local gas plant, property of the Carolina Gas and Electric Company, which was recently sold to the Tidewater Power Company, pending decision of the local city government.

It was expected the city hall would be packed to overflowing with citizens interested in the proposition, and that some definite action would be taken.

The city sold the gas plant franchise to the Carolina Gas and Electric Company several years ago with the understanding that in case they should ever desire to sell, Greenville would be given a refusal before sale was finally perfected.

Several weeks ago the gas company notified the aldermen they were contemplating selling and asked what action would be taken in the matter. The aldermen asked officials of the company to prepare their data regarding the plant and to also submit a price of the property.

Considerable delay was experienced in obtaining the desired information, but several days ago it was received, and after deliberation among themselves the aldermen decided to call a special meeting to determine whether the people of the city desired to make the purchase.

The gas company's price for the plant is $100,000, and it was understood that negotiations had already been completed for transfer to the Tidewater Power Company at that price.

It is the desire of city officials to fully ascertain public sentiment in the matter and hope was expressed that a large gathering of citizens would be present at the special session.

SMITH CASE IS REMANDED TO ARKANSAS

Pastor Charged With Unsound Theological Beliefs to Get Second Hearing

Montreat, June 1.—(AP)—The case of the Rev. Hay Watson Smith, D. D., Little Rock, Arkansas pastor who is charged with unsound theological beliefs, was remanded to the Synod of Arkansas today for retrial by a commission of the Presbyterian church in the United States.

This action was taken after the Rev. Marion A. Boggs of Hot Springs, representing the Synod admitted that the synod had erred in the methods following at the first trial when Dr. Smith was cleared of the charges.

Rev. Mr. Boggs stated, however, that the Synod did not admit any error had been made in the "not guilty" finding it had returned but only that the case had not been handled according to the legal manner laid down by the church's rules.

He said the case should not have been submitted to the committee on legal business for disposition. The commission adopted the following resolution:

BODY ASKS FOR REVALUATION

Commissioners Receive Petition From Tax Relief Association Today

Members of the County Board of Commissioners met in regular monthly session at the court house here this morning and adjourned to meet again next Wednesday to consider uncompleted business.

In addition to the discussion of regular routine matters this morning the commissioners were presented a petition from the County Tax Relief Association asking for revaluation of property.

The commissioners took no definite action in the matter at the time but assured spokesmen of the association that they would act as far as the law enabled them to and would abide by the interpretation which the county attorney placed on the recent action of the legislature.

The commissioners, several weeks ago instructed the Board of Assessors to go ahead with the revaluation program, but this action was rescinded when the legislature during its closing session postponed revaluation until 1933.

However, the Board of Assessors was instructed to proceed with adjustment of unequal property values in the various townships of the county and work in that connection got under way today.

The question is expected to be revived at the meeting Wednesday and at that time a more liberal interpretation of action of the legislature will be presented the commissioners by the county attorney who is investigating the law with a view of fully informing the governing body of the county in regard to the matter so they may be guided accordingly.

REFUSE TO REVIEW FALL CONVICTION

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—The Supreme court today refused to review the conviction of Albert R. Fall on charges of accepting a bribe in connection with the naval oil reserve leaves as Secretary of Interior under President Harding.

Under the action of the court, Fall must report at once for commitment under his sentence of one year in the penitentiary and payment of a fine of $100,000.

NATION WILL OFFER BONDS ON JUNE 15TH

Long Term Issue to Be Sold for Purpose of Retiring Short Term Securities

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—A long term bond issue totalling $800,000,000 will be offered to the public June 15 by the Treasury. The proceeds will be used to retire short term securities.

As Secretary Mellon announced yesterday in the face of a $1,000,000,000 treasury deficit, the Commerce Department reported that business conditions generally in April showed improvement.

April was described by the Commerce Department as "the third consecutive month in which the volume of business in the United States, after allowing for normal seasonal trends, showed further slight expansion from the low levels established in January, while the seasonal decline occurring in early May has been slightly larger than usual."

The new treasury bonds will mature in 1949. They will bear 3-1/8 per cent interest and will be redeemable after June 15, 1948. Replacing $589,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness, they will reduce the short term debt to about $2,900,000,000. The balance will be used to pay interest on the public debt and to meet other obligations.

The issue will help the treasury simplify its short term debt problem but will have slight effect on the deficit this fiscal year ending June 30. Treasury officials expect an expenditure of $4,435,000,000 by them, with the total income which amounts to but $3,000,000,000, due to decreases in income tax and customs receipts.

In its survey of current business, the Commerce Department said the output of manufacturers in April was larger than in March, "owing chiefly to greater than seasonal improvement in the food products, automobile, leather, shoe and tobacco industries, while iron, steel, and non-ferrous metal production was smaller than in the preceding month."

Some improvement in employment was noted in manufacturing and mining industries in the survey, but a decrease was reported in building construction.

NEW HEARING FOR KIRKLAND

Judge Crumpacker to Hear Arguments for New Sentence in Killing of Arlene Davis

Valparaiso, Ind., June 1.—(AP)—Judge Grant Crumpacker, criticized for the one to ten year sentence he pronounced on Virgil Kirkland for the slaying of Arlene Draves, today ordered the Gary youth returned here from Pendleton reformatory and said he would hear arguments on a new sentence.

The court acted on its own initiative and said it would set aside the sentence of last Wednesday after a second jury had convicted Kirkland in the girl's death.

Judge Crumpacker said he still contended the law provided for a one to ten year term in the case of a minor not previously convicted of a felony despite the opinion of Attorney General James M. O'Conor that it should have been five to 21 years.

His action to bring back Kirkland anticipated that of Prosecutor Robert Estill of Lake county, in charge of the Kirkland prosecution, who immediately afterward moved for a rehearing on the sentence. Kirkland was to be brought here today and arguments heard tomorrow morning.

Man Slain In Knife Battle

Asheville, June 1.—(AP)—Troy Stewart was dead here today and his brother, Bryan Stewart, was near death as the result of a knife battle in the Cragsy section of the Blue Ridge mountains, near here.

Charles Rymer, charged with the slaying of Stewart, was ordered held by a coroner's jury which investigated the case. William Rymer, his brother, was released under $1,000 bond.

William Rymer said the trouble started when Bryan Stewart tried to drive an automobile into the Rymer yard. He refused to tell the "whole story" of the cutting scrape except "before the judge."

SETTLEMENT OF CATHOLIC ISSUE LOOMS

Controversy Discussed at Conference of Pope and Mussolini Today

Rome, June 1.—(AP)—Prospects of a settlement of difficulties between the Vatican and the Italian government emerged today from conferences by the Pope and Premier Mussolini with their advisers.

At the end of a meeting with twenty-four cardinals of the Curia the pontiff directed the editor of the newspaper, Osservatore Romano to discontinue his editorial attacks on Fascist students who have participated in anti-Catholic demonstrations for the past week.

At the same time Premier Mussolini passed word to Fascist editors that they were to cease their anti-Catholic campaigns at least for the time being.

This leaves the field clear for diplomatic negotiations and it was expected that representatives of the two governments would move immediately to effect an agreement.

The meeting at the Vatican was virtually a consistory such as is called only on extraordinary situations and thereafter the order was issued to the Osservatore Romano and there was another suspending all religious processions in Italy.

The Pope, it was understood, did most of the talking and several of the cardinals were said to have encouraged continuance of his firm stand.

It was said that the Pontiff told his advisers he had no desire to break the concordat with Italy but that he wished that agreement not as one which could be violated by either party but as an international treaty subject to the regulations of international law.

If Italy takes that view, it was said, the Vatican will not think of renouncing the concordat.

The evening papers of Rome tonight published a note saying they had discontinued their anti-Catholic editorial campaigns to leave a clear field for the diplomats, but that they would be resumed if necessary to "clarify ideas."

ASH GIVES UP OCEAN FLIGHT

Returning to Tokyo After Finding Plane Did Not Measure Up to Expectations

Tokyo, June 1.—(AP)—A Rengo agency dispatch from Samushiro today said Thomas Ash, Jr., had abandoned his proposed non-stop flight across the Pacific and was returning to Tokyo.

Ash's abandonment of the flight was attributed to the Rengo dispatch to the failure of his plane to come up to expectations in several particulars. The message said the motor failed to run perfectly and had developed only enough power for 1,650 revolutions per minute when at least 1,800 were needed to rise with his heavy load of fuel.

The failure of a detachable dolly which Ash used in the place of a tail skid was listed also as a factor in his decision to abandon the project. The message also mentioned a bent left auxiliary wing and said Ash had found the plane did not respond properly to the controls.

Prior to the announcement that he would abandon the flight, Ash reduced his gasoline supply to 900 gallons. He had originally supplied the ship with 1,020 gallons but twice reduced the amount when it was evident the plane would not take off.

Ash was a time contemplated trying to fly with the reduced supply to Dutch Harbor, Alaska.

Rengo quoted Ash as saying: "The range of the monoplane, as shown by the flight from Tachikawa to Samushiro (380 miles) and my attempt to take off with a full load of fuel, has proved to be much less than is required for a flight from Japan to America."

"This decision was just reached after exhaustive calculations—it means postponement of my life ambition."

"Observation at Samushiro convinced me that a non-stop trans-Pacific flight to America from Samushiro is practicable. I hope to have the opportunity yet of trying again with a more suitable plane."

Many of Ash's friends here telegraphed him yesterday urging him to abandon the flight.

FINALS CLOSE AT TEACHERS COLLEGE HERE

Dr. W. A. Harper and J. Y. Joyner Commencement Speakers Sunday and Today

"True religion has nothing to fear from science or any other source," declared Dr. W. A. Harper, president of Elon College, delivering the commencement sermon at East Carolina Teachers College yesterday morning, "because true religion, like true science, is founded upon the same ultimate truth in the discovery of which the human race has been engaged from the beginning."

Commencement season, which began last Friday, was brought to a conclusion this morning with delivery of the literary address by Dr. J. Y. Joyner, of Raleigh, and presentation of diplomas to 173 graduates. All exercises were largely attended and patrons of the school from many sections of the state were in attendance to witness the impressive program which sent the young women on their mission into the educational life of the nation.

The Alumnae business meeting was held Saturday morning at which time further preparations were made toward the establishment.

GOVERNORS TALK TAXES

Gov. Brucker of Michigan Delivers Opening Address at French Lick, Ind.

French Lick, Ind., June 1.—(AP)—After three days of Hoosier entertainment, state executives from 24 commonwealths convened here today for the 23rd annual conference of governors.

Taxation formed the general topic of the opening session with addresses by Governor Wilbur M. Brucker of Michigan, and Governor Harry H. Woodring of Kansas.

Tax burdens, declared Governor Brucker in his prepared address, have become a menace to the stability of government. He urged that the states assist in the complication and unification of local political units so they will become more responsive to the public will.

Real tax relief, in the opinion of Governor Woodring, must be sought through a reduction in local taxes. He suggested states should adopt a policy of limiting the maximum tax levy or maximum per capita expenditure of local units. Too much state control, he said in his prepared speech, was responsible in many instances for high local taxes. He expressed the belief that within prescribed limitations, the local unit should be permitted to work out its own salvation.

Whether Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania will be permitted to deliver his speech tomorrow on public utilities instead of reforestation which was assigned to him, continued to be the subject of discussion among the delegates. Governor Norman S. Case, Rhode Island, chairman of the executive committee which arranged the business program, said it had not officially been brought to his attention that the Pennsylvanian wished to change his topic.

With Governors Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, both of whom are prominently mentioned as Democratic presidential candidates, in attendance, the political aspects of the convalescence loomed larger than the official business.

Governor Roosevelt will address the conference on land utilization. The Maryland chief executive will preside at one of the round table sessions. Asked whether problems of prohibition or unemployment would creep into the conference, Governor Ritchie said he "thought it would be a good thing if the governors would consider 'these subjects of vital interest to the people.'"

Lambeth Speaker At Salem Closing

Winston-Salem, June 1.—(AP)—An address by the Rev. Dr. W. A. Lambeth, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Durham, and presentation of diplomas to members of the graduating class today brought to a close the 100th session of Salem College here.

Forty-seven young women received diplomas from President Howard Roththal, who announced during the exercises that a number of gifts had been made to the institution by persons interested in various phases of its work.

Will Succeed to the Governorship in the Event of Impeachment of Gov. Henry Horton; Investigation Committee Continues Preparation of Additional Articles of Impeachment

Nashville, Tenn., June 1.—(AP)—Senator A. B. Broadbent, of Clarksville, today was elected speaker of the Tennessee Senate from which position he would succeed to the governorship in the event of the impeachment of Governor Henry H. Horton.

Senator Broadbent received 34 of the Senate's 33 votes the other members foregoing the opportunity of voting.

Among those voting for Broadbent a successor to Speaker Scott P. Fitzhugh, who resigned last week, was Senator Walter S. Faulkner, chairman of a legislative committee that recently investigated affairs of state and made a report upon which an impeachment article against Governor Horton was based.

Fitzhugh let it be known he resigned as Senate speaker because of criticism regarding his alignment with the political faction of Congressman E. H. Crump of Memphis, which is leading the movement for impeachment of Governor Horton. He said the charges had been that a plan was afoot to have him succeed to the governorship through impeachment of Horton and thereby place the Crump faction in control of the state.

Tennessee does not have a lieutenant governor. Under the law, the speaker of the Senate succeeds to the governorship in case the latter office is left vacant.

Broadbent is an avowed political opponent of Congressman Crump. Meanwhile, a special committee of the House of Representatives, which reported the impeachment article against Governor Horton last week, was busy today preparing additional articles against the governor.

The article, reported charged the Chief Executive with conspiring with Colonel Luke Lea, newspaper publisher and politician, and Rogers Caldwell, financier, to receive their political support in exchange for manipulating affairs of state to their personal gain.

Man Goes to Trial In Clara Bow Case

Los Angeles, June 1.—(AP)—Clara Bow remained under treatment at a Glendale sanitarium today as Fred Girmann, publisher of a weekly newspaper, was called to trial in federal court for sending obscene articles on her life through the mail.

Miss Bow suffered a nervous breakdown May 3, a little more than a week after Girmann's arrest. Last Friday, B. P. Schulberg, managing director of Paramount Pictures, announced that the actress desired to retire from the screen. Miss Bow has not commented publicly on his statement.

When Girmann was taken into custody today two men who Rex Bell, friend of the actress, said, proposed that he advance $15,000 and they put up $10,000 to buy Girmann's newspaper, were caught. Bell said the men suggested that in this manner they could stop publication of the Bow articles. They have not been found.

Denies Rumor of Last Meet of Veterans

Montgomery, Ala., June 1.—(AP)—Indignant denial by General Harry Rene Lee, adjutant general of the United Confederate Veterans, that the reunion opening tomorrow would be the last mustering of the army of the South was registered today as veterans of the Confederate forces gathered for the 41st time.

"If your grandson happens to be a reporter, he'll be writing about Confederate Reunions," General Lee told a newspaperman in Nashville, Tenn., last night as he and his party entrained for Montgomery.

"You can quote me as saying the next reunion will be held in Washington," he said in answer to a question about reports that the reunions might be discontinued after this year's meeting in the "Cradle of the Confederacy."

The vanguard of the old soldiers and other participants in the reunion program already had arrived last night. The main body was moving in today on regular trains and special cars. Arrangements had been made to care for 40,000 visitors, with estimates of attendance ranging from 20,000 upward.

Slayer Seeks Vote As City Judge

Los Angeles, June 1.—(AP)—While the state sought today to hold David H. Clark for trial for the slaying of Charles Crawford, politician, and Herbert Spencer, magazine editor, Clark urged voters to name him municipal judge in an election tomorrow.

Crawford and Spencer were found shot to death in Crawford's office the afternoon of May 20. Alleged gang leaders were immediately questioned and it was not until many hours after the shooting that Clark, a former deputy prosecutor surrendered to District Attorney Byron Pitts.

From the jail Clark issued a statement saying, "I am innocent of these charges and all I ask is that my friends and supporters retain their confidence in me."

ABOUT TOWN

Bishop Thomas C. Darist of East Carolina Diocese, delivered the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of Greenville High School last night.

Always carrying an encouraging message for the young people of the land, Bishop Darist told the graduates that to realize the highest ambitions of life they must accept the teachings of Christ as enunciated on the shores of Galilee over nineteen hundred years ago.

The sermon was the beginning of the commencement exercises which will come to a close Friday night with the annual literary address by Dr. Louis Polatz, president emeritus of Wake Forest College.

The high school has had one of the most successful years in its history. In addition to winning the highest scholastic rating of any school in the state, it also captured honors in the field of music, literature and sports.

One of the most notable achievements in the realm of sports was won by the girls' basketball team in capture of the championship of the Northeastern Athletic Conference. It was the first time in the history of the institution that young women have displayed such skill in the field of activity, and they have been the recipients of congratulations from every team of the conference.

It is impossible to estimate the far-reaching effect which the winning of the highest scholastic rating of the state will have on the future of the school, but the accomplishments should be the pride of every citizen as well as members of the faculty and student body. The distinction was gained in the face of a much lower financial rating than some of the larger schools of the state, and reflects credit on Supr.
Rose and members of his faculty.

One hundred and seventy-three young women will leave the walls of East Carolina Teachers College today with diplomas entitling them to the privilege of becoming teachers in the public schools of North Carolina, or the nation, for that matter.

It is impossible to conceive the influence which these young women will bring to bear on the future life of the state and nation, but if they follow the high ideals which were implanted in their minds during their term in college, they will render a type of service that should tend to make the world a better place in which to live.

Hundreds—nay, thousands—of young women have stepped out into the broad field of life ahead of them, and scores have emblazoned their names in the educational life of the state.

The college is rated as one of the leading schools in the country for the training of teachers, and its achievements are not only a matter of pride to members of the faculty but to the entire state.

The state has devoted considerable sums of money to the development of the institution, but it has been well spent in the improvement of the standard of state teachers and should be an inspiration to legislators in future years when they go about the serious business of allotting money for the upkeep of the school.

Dr. Wright and members of his faculty have done a wonderful work the last several years, and they may rest assured they have the entire sympathy of the state behind them in their attempt to raise the standard of the school even to a higher level than it is today.

This is "National Cotton Week," and prominent men of the industry in all parts of the nation are trying to stimulate interest in consumption of the staple.

It is the purpose of these men to induce the people to buy more liberally of cotton made goods and in that way open up a greater outlet for the principal crop of the south.

Production has been forging ahead of consumption for the last several years and this has resulted in a slump of prices which has improved quite disastrous to the industrial and commercial life of the dustry. How much the trade will be affected by "National Cotton Week" can not be estimated at this time, but prominent dealers hold out hope that the market will be given a distinct boost.

In view of the fact that this is one of the chief crops of the southland it behooves the people of the section to wear more of the materials made from cotton and set an example which maybe the remainder of the world will begin to follow during the period of depression.

Persons who have been clamoring about unequal tax values will have an opportunity to bring their complaints before the board of adjustment in the county during the present week.

The adjustment campaign takes the place of revaluation promised by the commissioners several weeks ago but which had to be cancelled following action of the legislature postponing revaluation until 1933.

The total reduction in the various townships cannot exceed ten percent but this will be something of a relief to the man who has felt that he has been paying at the rate of excessive valuation.

Then also it is expected considerable relief will eventuate from the passage of the MacLean school bill enacted at the recent session of the General Assembly. In fact, it is estimated that the taxpayers will save in the neighborhood of $170,000 in Pitt county alone. This will be deducted from the school tax, and will cause a noticeable drop in rate, it is believed.

DARST SPEAKS TO HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

unobstructed sphere where the human heart derives its greatest satisfaction. "Pick out your peak and climb," he challenged his hearers, "and never give up until you stand victorious at the summit of the soul's desire."

Declaring there are too many aimless people without plan or purpose, he admonished the students against leaving school and following the pathway of least resistance.

Employing parables of the street,
he referred to the schools and colleges as grinding out young men and young women "all dressed up and nowhere to go." An educated person without a purpose in life becomes a menace to society, he asserted, and it would be much better for them to remain in ignorance than to be thrown on society without any goal to work to.

He said the objective must be larger than ourselves. In this connection he told the story of a soldier who, upon being questioned about his objective upon the battlefield, said he was fighting for the "great cause and companionship."

He said the "great cause" of the men and women of today was to change the character of all people for the great cause of God, the transforming of greed, anger and hate and influencing them to the cause of God.

He described the graduates as part of a great company marching on to higher things. The outer wall of our armor will be pierced by the conflicting influences of life unless the inner wall is built of character and integrity. All the forces of evil cannot batter down the inner wall if it is strong and built upon the truth of God, he said.

He said the world was composed of three kinds of people, the selfish, sentimental and sacrificial.
He portrayed the dangers of the selfish life and of the sentimental life that causes people to weep over trivial, silly things, and impressed upon the graduates the fact that only the sacrificial life of Jesus, as expressed during his ministry on earth, would prevail after all other things disappear.

City churches abandoned usual morning worship yesterday to permit congregations to attend the services at the college, and the campus building was filled to capacity, the crowd overflowing and almost filling the balconies.

Numbers were sung by the college chorus, and prayers and scripture reading were by Rev. W. A.
Ryan, pastor of the Eighth Street Church of Christ.

Dr. Wright introduced the speaker as one whose work had been blazed across the state and whose influence would have a vital effect on the life of the people. Dr. Harper spoke on the subject "Altering Attitudes." His text was taken from Matthew 23:31-32, "But I say unto you, 'Thou shalt be made desolate from the 21st chapter of Revelation.
' Behold I make all things new."

He said in part:

"The creeds upon which men have based their hopes of eternal salvation are crumbling. The philosophies which have supplied the intellectual background and stabilization for these creeds are no longer accepted. Men's attitudes on the fundamental issues of life, its origin and foundations are altering. Change is characteristic of the time. In the realm of material things men welcome this condition as desirable, as wholesome, as evidence of progress. And there likewise be these in the realm of social and spiritual experience who rejoice in this crumbling of creeds, this passing of philosophies, this altering of attitudes."

"On the other hand, there is a group deeply troubled and pained in heart over what they regard as the apostasy of the human heart.
They welcome progress in material things, but they resent changes in the social and spiritual order. There is nothing certain they assert except change, change for the worse, degen-eration as respects the most sacred principles by which men have lived.
The future for them is dark with spiritual calamity."

"This difference of interpretation is not peculiarly symptomatic of the twentieth century. It has been characteristic of every Christian era. Before the advent of Christ into the world progress in material things too, was under the ban and he who was sufficiently self-assertive in any realm of life or experience before the Christian era to undertake to introduce innovation was branded as a heretic and persecuted by his fellows. But with the beginning of the Christian era the spirit of progress entered into the purview of men's life.
The central figure in the Christian revelation has declared that the Holy Spirit should lead men into all truth. This was the magna charta of human progress, but, strange to say, so conservative has been the attitude of men in spiritual matters that they have limited the race's progress for the most part to material things. We have reached the point now, however, where a growing number of us welcome discoveries and ventures in spiritual things, too, though it is true most of us as of the prophets of Israel, that one generation stone spiritual progressiveness while their children erect monuments to stigmatize the lack of vision and appreciation of their fathers."

"Our institutions of higher learning are criticized on the ground that they teach an unwarranted liberty of conscience in respect to the religious and spiritual life. They do not have confidence in truth to withstand the onslaughts of error.
They conceive truth to be something to be protected, whereas the truth is something to be discovered, appropriated, and enjoyed forever.
They are greatly troubled in heart over the seeming conflict between science and religion and forget that the only real test of truth is the pragmatic one enunciated by the Master Teacher when He said of men and of institutions that by their fruits they should be known."

"Religion has nothing to fear from science or from any other source. That is, true religion has nothing to fear because true religion like true science, is founded upon the same ultimate truth in the discovery of which the human race has been engaged from the beginning. We should, therefore,
rejoice in the crumbling of creeds, the passing of philosophies, the altering of attitudes until the day of the discovery of this ultimate truth has arrived."

"Men's relationships as respects the institutional organizations of life are briefly comprehended under six categories; the home, the school, industry, government, leisure, and the church. There is not a single one of these relationships which has not undergone progressive transformation and this transformation has been particularly pronounced since the beginning of the Christian era as we have said, injected the purview of men's approaches to life and its problems of the concept of progress, of change of growth, of development."

"It is a long story to describe the transformation that has taken place as respects man's relationship to man. Every transformation which has touched this fundamental concept of our life's relationships has expressed itself likewise in the institutions and organization that minister to man's life."

"Men's conception of God has conditioned their concept of man and conditioned itself in the institutions and civilizations of life. The most determinative force in individual and social living is the view that men entertain as to God. When man conceived of Him as bent on vengeance, they themselves practiced vengeance with reference to one another and the institutions of their life were organized in the same terms. When they later conceived of Him as just and impartial, they themselves desired to be just to one another and their institutions reflected that aspiration."

When they later conceived of Him as merciful, they themselves became merciful and charitable and brotherly in their attitudes toward one another and expressed this brotherliness and fraternal spirit in the organized institutions of their life. In our day when men conceive God as Christ-like, as loving in his attitudes toward His spiritual off-spring, as anxiously concerned for the growth and development and happiness of their life, we find ourselves anxious likewise to express this same affection in our relationships with our brother man and to organize it into the institutions that minister to our life."

"It is the attitude, let me say in conclusion, toward life and its problems that really determines the quality of a man's achievement.
Their outcomes in practical living are the direct consequences of attitudes functioning as motives in the individual's creed or philosophy of life. The altering of life's attitudes through the education process is the crowning glory of our educational system. Only as these altered attitudes become our motivating ideals in practical experience can we hope to see looked for progress of the human race in the realization of its noblest and most cherished aspirations."

SINITH CASE REMANDED TO ARKANSAS

"Resolved: The representative of the Synod of Arkansas having admitted that the Synod of Arkansas committee error as set out in paragraphs 1, 2, 3, 4 and part of 5 of the compiling and the commission being of the opinion that these admissions entitle the complainants to have a further hearing before the Synod of Arkansas it is ordered that the complaint be sustained to the extent set out and that the whole matter be sent back to the Synod of Arkansas with instructions to it to conduct a new hearing on the entire matter."

The paragraphs in the complaint referred to contended the Synod pursued an improper course under the rules of the church in passing upon the case.

The commission was named to consider the case after the Rev. J.
E. McJunkin, of Forest City, Ark., lodged an appeal with the General Assembly of the church now in session here, from the decision of the Synod.

He was represented at the hearing by Chalmers Alexander, of Jackson, Miss., who acted as his attorney.

The original complaint against
Dr. Smith was filed by the Augusta (Georgia) Presbytery. The case was tried before a commission of the Arkansas Presbytery which cleared him. An appeal was taken to the Synod of Arkansas which referred the matter to a committee.

The committee sustained the action of the Presbytery.
Dr. Smith was present at the meeting of the commission today but took no part in the proceedings. He is a member of a North Carolina family which is prominent in educational and religious circles. One brother, Dr. Egbert Smith, is a member of the Presbyterian Foreign Missions Board.

Another, Dr. Henry Lewis Smith, is president emeritus of Washington and Lee University, while a third, the late Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, was head of the department of English of the United States Naval Academy.

The commission of twenty seven which considered the case today was appointed Saturday. The session was presided over by the Rev.
J. S. Foster of Winston-Salem.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States today voted to abolish compulsory military training in church owned schools.

American Mayors Sip Wine in France

Dijon, France, June 1.—(AP)—

America's visiting mayors have met the celebrated wines of old Burgundy and found that the proof of the vintage is in the sip-ping.

Mayor Gaston Gerard received the visitors and their wives at city hall yesterday and made an address in which he extolled the wine grapes of this section famous for its sparkling red and white Burgundy.

"Remember," he said, "that we are in a wine-growing country, whose fermented products are the least harmful in the world for the human system. As you go around here just look at our Burgundy peasants, who have drunk wine all their lives, and see how healthy and long-lived they are."

Pointing to a table laden with golden goblets of wine he continued: "There are other things to drink on this table but I hope they will not be used."

The visitors accepted his invitation except Mayor John C. Porter of Los Angeles and Mrs. Porter.
Mr. Porter quaffed his thirst with ice water and Mrs. Porter with crangeade.

CROWLEY TO DIE IN JULY

Gunman Sentenced to Death for Murder of Policeman Frederick Hirsch

Mincola, N. Y., June 1.—(AP)— Francis "Two Gun" Crowley was sentenced today by County Judge Smith to be executed the week of July 5 for the murder of Policeman Frederick Hirsch.

The sentence came just 26 days after the killing. Immediately following the brief courtroom proceedings, Crowley was started for Sing Sing, where the sentence will be carried out.

Judge Smith cleared all spectators from the courtroom except those who had found seats. Guarded by 18 men, and handcuffed to Deputy Sheriff Frank Davis, Crowley stepped before the bench.

"Do you know of any legal reason why sentence should not be pronounced?" the clerk of the court asked.

"Crowley smiled and shook his head. 'No.' Then Judge Smith spoke:

"You will be remanded to Sing Sing prison there to be executed during the week of July 5."

The automobile in which Crowley was to ride to Sing Sing was to be followed by another car full of armed guards. In all, ten men were assigned to accompany him.

BANK CASES REACH JURY

Fate of Asheville Banker and Two County Commissioners Be Known Soon

Asheville, June 1.—(AP)—The cases of Wallace Davis, former president of the defunct Central Bank & Trust Company here, and two former county officials, charged with conspiring to use county funds to aid the bank, were given to the jury at noon today.

Judge M. V. Barnhill devoted his charge principally to outlining the points of law involved.

Wallace B. Davis, the bank's president; Newton M. Anderson, former chairman of the county commissioners, and L. L. Jenkins, former county treasurer and president of the American National Bank, Central subsidiary, which also closed, have been on trial here for two weeks.

Judge Barnhill non-suited cases against four other men indicted with the trio.

The state charges in the conspiracy count that the county issued notes when sufficient funds to handle its obligations were already on deposit in the bank. The $875-000 item was deposited in the bank October 4, 1930, to meet notes maturing November 12 and 15. A few days before the maturity dates, the bank notified county officials it did not have the money. The bank was closed November 20.

Davis has already been convicted of making and publishing a false report of the bank's condition. He will be sentenced before court is adjourned.

Trial of others indicted for violation of banking laws in connection with the failures here has been set for the middle of July.

GIVES HIMSELF UP AFTER SHOOTING WIFE
Farmville, May 31.—Unable to persuade his wife, Gladys Tyson Moxingo, to become reconciled after a disagreement on Friday, Elbert "Treat" Moxingo, left his father-in-law's home about noon Saturday, went to his own father's, slipped out a shotgun, returned and shot her twice, one load taking effect in the right hip and the other grazing the scalp as she ran terror-stricken from him down the back porch.

Mr. Moxingo then drove here and gave himself up to police officers. He is in jail, being held without bond, awaiting trial. Mrs. Moxingo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Tyson and the husband is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moxingo, the three families living within four miles of each other. For the older children there is an excellent collection of simple biography material such as Famous Girls of the White House, The Story of the Marys, The Story of the Johns, The Book of Famous Queens, and also some interesting stories such as Sapphires, Secret Cargo, Buckaroo, and Scouting with Daniel Boone. In order to win a certificate this group will read some of each, possibly five books of each type. Further announcement for the club work will be made later. The library staff is expecting parents, teachers and children to come in at any time between 3 and 5 on Wednesday afternoon.

Young Peoples' Banquet.
Farmville, May 31.—More than a hundred young people attended the young peoples' banquet, a delightful affair, held in the dining room of the Christian Disciples Church Saturday evening, and served under the auspices of that church. The banquet table was attractive with an artistic arrangement of ivy, pink roses and sweet peas.

Miss Sallie Maud Atkinson presided as toastmistress. A charming musical program was rendered by Miss Iris and Dan Hooker of Bethel, and Miss Serene Turnage, Rev. C. B. Marshburn, pastor of the church, introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. John Barclay of Wilson, who spoke on the young peoples' conference to be held at Hendersonville beginning June 8th. Informal talks by Misses Catherine Ware and Annabelle Stuart of Wilson, and by Mrs. C. B. Marshburn were also enjoyed.

500 Mile Classic Seen As Greatest Test for Tires
Indianapolis, May 30.—The gruelling 500-mile Indianapolis classic was a test of tires more than ever before. The racing machines were heavier, more powerful, and capable of greater speed. The performance of the Firestone tires, on the first ten cars to finish, is the greatest proof of the advancement in tire engineering. Some of the drivers who finished in the first 10 did not make a tire change although they could do so without any loss of time—in 15 seconds, while getting gasoline. Firestone tires have equipped the cars of the winner for 12 consecutive years, but never before so outstandingly and under such trying conditions.

In the 500-mile grind, the continuous flexing of the tires tends to generate disastrous internal friction and heat and centrifugal force often increases the circumference of a tire by more than 10 per cent at top speeds. Knowledge of these conditions is what makes the drivers so cautious in selecting the tires which they use in this race. They are glad to pay for their tires because their chances of victory and even their lives depend upon them.

In 1930 members of the Race Drivers Association presented a silver plaque inscribed: "To Harvey S. Firestone, in appreciation to his untiring co-operation and leadership in the consistent development of tires which have contributed safely in the establishment of automobile speed and endurance records."

On this Indianapolis testing ground Firestone has achieved important developments for the tire industry.

The Firestone pit has become an institution where justified confidence prevails. In fact racing driver shift the responsibility to Firestone engineers and devote their attention to their motors and other mechanical factors.

Firestone engineers studied how internal friction and heat eats tire vitality at high speeds, and developed the Patented Gum-Dipping process in which pure liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, minimizing internal heat in Firestone Tires on highway and speedway.

Similarly the Patented Double Cord Breaker was perfected providing 56 per cent stronger union between treat and cord body and 26 per cent greater protection against blow-outs. It is constructed of Gum-Dipped Cords in a more open construction. Two plies of this material form the union between tread and cord body as the big cars, with smooth tread to allow skidding on curves, roar and pound around the 500-mile course of hot, uneven bricks. Without these Firestone features tires could not be expected to carry the drivers over the entire course with the assurance of safety at speeds necessary to win the victory.

COTTON WEEK IS OBSERVED

People of This State Also Celebrate the "Made in North Carolina Week"

Charlotte, June 1.—(AP)—North Carolina today started a dual celebration with a single purpose. It's national cotton week for the rest of the nation but it's more than that to this state. The second annual "Made in North Carolina" week opened today and observance of the two go hand-in-hand.

The movement is sponsored by the State Department of Conservation and Development. Its aim is to encourage the use of North Carolina manufactured articles by citizens of the state.

By way of celebration, cities and towns have planned sundry special events.

A cotton fashion at Greensboro tomorrow night with young women of that city modeling beautiful cotton frocks will be a feature there.

Charlotte will also have a style show, divided into sections, department stores in the city will take turns this week displaying their finest cotton clothes at special shows.

Show windows in every section of the state are dressed entirely with cotton goods and articles manufactured in North Carolina. Advertisements are featuring home products and cotton products.

Exhibitions of manufactured articles and farm products have been arranged in a number of cities.

Gov. O. Max Gardner, in official proclamations, called upon citizens to observe both "weeks."

Atlanta, June 1.—(AP)—Dixie, the land of cotton, joined the nation today in beginning a week-long celebration of National Cotton Week to help bring prosperity back to an industry which provides a livelihood for an estimated 12 million Americans.

In the south, where cotton is king, scores of towns and cities arranged programs in celebration of the event. There were social functions, festivals and style shows. Retail stores throughout the country featured cotton goods.

Cason J. Callaway of La Grange, Va., president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, estimated that more than 200 miles of store windows throughout the country will be devoted to displays of cotton products. He said a survey by the Cotton Textile Institute of New York disclosed 11,840 retail stores in 48 states, more than 100 wholesale concerns, 21 national trade associations and 19 of the nation's largest chain and mail order houses are participating in the movement.

The cotton industry, in promoting its own interests this week, hopes to make a contribution toward general business revival, he said, through increasing the buying power of "the more than 12,000,000 Americans" employed in the movement.

Many of the entertainers have grown restless under the strain of their confinement. The surroundings and the routine have begun to effect their nerves. As one girl put it: "I don't care where we go so long as we go some place."

TEXAS GUINAN WILL NOT RUN

Continues to Appeal for Admission of Her "Gang" to France

Havre, France, June 1.—(AP)—Texas Guinan does not "choose to run" until the last hope wanes that she and her night club "pals" can land in France.

She was awaiting today an answer from the minister of the interior to her appeal from the government's decision barring her troupe from appearing in a Paris cabaret and ordering them deported Wednesday on the liner Paris.

"Well, in the words of Coolidge: 'I do not choose to run,'" she said. "I will not accept this as final until I receive word from my agents in Paris as I have appealed to the minister of the interior to consider my case."

The party was under strict surveillance by French police in the emigrant hotel in which they have been quartered since they arrived. The girls have been refused permission to resume their jaunts about the city and a scheduled trip to church was cancelled yesterday.

Many of the entertainers have grown restless under the strain of their confinement. The surroundings and the routine have begun to effect their nerves. As one girl put it: "I don't care where we go so long as we go some place."

Amplifying the reasons for the government's action, an official of the immigration bureau said he had heard of the parties conducted aboard ship by La Guinan and that he did not think "her type of amusement is our type."

All of the leading British stars were entered along with five from Argentina, ten from France, two from India and one each from Germany, Australia and the Philippine Islands.

Play today was given over to the first 18 holes of the qualifying round.

Scotland Neck Editor Marries
Gaffney, S. C., June 1.—(AP)—Miss Frances Dorcas White, of Scotland Neck, N. C., and James Thurman Madry publisher and editor of the Scotland Neck Commonwealth, were married here today at noon, the wedding being in the nature of a surprise event on the commencement program of Limestone College.

President R. C. Cranberry of the college, united the couple in marriage. Mrs. Madry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William White of Scotland Neck, was head of the Limestone College department of music during the past year. She is a graduate of Meredith College, Raleigh, while the bridegroom was graduated from the University of North Carolina.

Play Begins In British Open

Carnoustie, Scotland, June 1.—(AP)—Despite a beating rain and water-logged courses at Carnoustie and Barry, play in the first 18-hole qualifying round of the British Open Golf Championship got underway today.

A 24-hour rain had inundated some greens on both courses and the start of play was delayed until green keepers had swabbed the greens and drained the larger of the miniature lakes that dotted the fairways.

The first pair out, R. E. Ballantine of Mooltown, and Arthur G. Havers of Sandy Lodge, winner of the title in 1923, started with only a small group of hardy Carnoustie golf fans following under big umbrellas and dressed in fisherman's skins to withstand the storm.

The field numbered 214, including 13 Americans. The withdrawal of Bobby Jones from tournament competition left the tournament without a defending champion.

The United States has walked off with this prize nine times in the last ten years, only Arthur Havers succeeding in breaking through for England in 1923. Of the nine American titles in this period, Walter Hagen won four and Jones three, the others going to Jim Barnes and Jack Hutchinson.

None of these was represented in the starting field but the Americans had a half dozen or more formidable contenders. American professionals entered were Horton Smith, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen, MacDonald Smith, Tommy Armour, Tony Manero, Joe Turney, Joe Kirkwood, Willie Hunter, and Arthur Staub. There were three American amateurs, Joshua Crane, Johnny de Paolo of Los Angeles and Tom Maguire of California.

All of the leading British stars were entered along with five from Argentina, ten from France, two from India and one each from Germany, Australia and the Philippine Islands.

Play today was given over to the first 18 holes of the qualifying round.

Probe Deaths of Five Husbands
Chicago, June 1.—(AP)—The deaths of the five known husbands of Mrs. Margaret Summers, as well as those of fourteen other persons were under investigation today. Coroner Herman N. Bundesen said in connection with poison murder charges already made against the woman.

The inquiry, the coroner said, was carried back over a period of 25 years, as a result of information supplied concerning Stanley Jones and James Lynch, two of her husbands, whose deaths antedated those of three others. Investigators were trying to learn whether Mrs. Summers insured these men as she did the others.

James Fairfax, Stanley Korzen and Thomas Summers were the husbands who followed Jones and Lynch in death.

Mrs. Summers is charged with murder by poison in connection with the deaths of Summers, Thomas Myers, 17, a nephew; Thomas Langan, 46; and William Reenan, 72. Langan and Reenan were roomers of Mrs. Summers. She held insurance policies on them totaling more than $6,500.

All of the 19 persons whose deaths were being investigated, were relatives or roomers of the woman. Additional names were obtained in a canvass yesterday of five homes in which Mrs. Summers has lived since she came to Chicago from Birmingham, Ala. The investigation confiscated Mrs. Summers' Bible, in which, they said, Mrs. Summers was entered.

Asheville.—(AP)—The Right Rev. William J. Haley, Roman Catholic Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, yesterday ordained John B. Murphy, Richard E. Barrett and Edward T. Gilbert as priests of the church.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, June 1.—(AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today, 11 to 16 points lower, which was only a partial response to weakness in Liverpool.

The initial offerings were fairly well taken by trade buying and covering, but the buyers were supplied and prices eased off further with July selling down to 8.50 and December to 9.06 before the end of the first half hour, or about 19 to 21 points net lower. Business was fairly active. Houses with Liverpool connections were credited with selling here on the difference, and local traders seemed inclined to take fairly favorable views of the weather news on a belief that showers reported over the holiday had not been harmful.

Liverpool cables reported local continental and Bombay liquidation in that market with a poor off-take. Egyptian futures in Alexandria were 24 to 52 points lower and the Indian spot quotation in Liverpool showed a decline of 5 points.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 1.—(AP)—Notwithstanding that government sponsored agencies bought cash wheat at pegged prices much above July quotations, all grain future contracts went down today. September and December wheat established a new bottom price record. The chief reason given was the bearish effect of heaviness shown by securities. United States Steel shares in particular. Crop reports from domestic winter wheat territory continued to indicate yields much in excess of the official May forecast. There were 2,106,000 bushels increase in the United States wheat visible supply total.

Wheat closed nervous 11-8 to 17-8 lower; corn 3-4 to 11-4 down; oats 1-4 to 1-2 decline and provisions 12 to 25 up.

STOCK MARKET

New York, June 1.—(AP)—Stocks made a dismal start on the last month of the second quarter today, slumping to new lows for the bear market.

Finding nothing in the news over the extended week-end to revive its low spirits, the market was rather easily influenced by a fresh break in the rails. Pivotal industrials and utilities fought off the trend for a time during the first hour, but finally gave way before the sharp mark-downs in many of the carrier issues. The volume was around recent levels.

Absence of support for the rails resulted in a thin market. Atchafalpa lost 9 and Jersey Central 8. New York Central tumbled 5, B. and O., Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific 2 to about 4, and many others one or more.

Interest in the bond market focused on the announcement of the $800,000,000 long term loan which Wall Street believes will be strongly supported. The amount of money seeking employment is enormous and the coupon rate offered by the government is well above the return available on short term securities, also, it is somewhat higher than the yield on outstanding treasury obligations.

There was no change in the credit markets, call money renewing at 11-2 per cent.

NEWS BRIEFS

From Over The City and County

Junior Room Activities
The month of May has been a month of activities. During the month, 1600 boys went swimming under supervision; 181 boys went on "over-night" hikes, camping out in the woods Friday nights, and 960 boys attended the weekly meetings of the Hi-Y, Pioneers and Friendly Indians.

We have two senior life-savers and three junior life-savers on our roll, and twenty boys have passed the national swimming test this month.

Monday night, Roger William's Pioneers meet at 8 P. M.

Tuesday night—Daniel Boone Pioneers meet at 8 P. M.

Wednesday night—George Eliot's Pioneers meet at 8 P. M. and the Junior Hi-Y girls meet at the same hour. There will be no meeting of the Junior Hi-Y boys this week.

Thursday night the Senior Hi-Y boys meet at 8 P. M.

Friday afternoon all Friendly Indians meet at 4 P. M. A special program will be arranged for Friday night and Saturday morning for all boys. Look for further announcements.

Forty-one Boys Spent Night in Woods
The largest number of boys to go on an "overnight" hike this year met last Friday night at the Junior Room of the Sheppard Memorial Library and hiked three miles down the Faulkland road, camping in the shadow of the pines. It was a beautiful night with the moon shining over head, with some of the boys were prone to ramble instead of sleep.

After a hymn and prayers, the boys rolled in their blankets slept until four in the morning. After breakfast, the group hiked about a mile and half to have a morning dip in the river. Time passes quickly with boys on hikes like this, and it was not far from noon, when the party returned to town. Every boy reported he had a good time.

We appreciate very much the interest the parents are taking in these programs and the offer of the cars from time to time.
