Eight Hundred Million Government Bond Issue Largely Oversubscribed

Secretary Mellon Announces Subscription of $6,000,000,000 When Books Closed Last Night, Seven Times More Than Original Issue; Money Will Be Used in Refunding Short Term Debt

Washington June 4.—(AP)—The $600,000,000 bond issue, announced by Secretary Mellon today was oversubscribed more than seven times when the books closed last night with total subscriptions of $6,000,000,000.

The secretary announced today that subscriptions for the 18-year 3-1/8 per cent bonds, issued to begin the refunding of the short term debt of more than $3,000,000,000, had been closed last night.

An announcement of the actual amount of subscriptions and the basis of allotment will be made within a few days, probably Saturday morning.

Subscriptions received by federal reserve banks and the Treasury Department through the mails up to 10 o'clock this morning will be considered as having been received before the close of the subscription books.

The huge oversubscription surprised officials because the most optimistic of them had not expected the issue would be taken up more than three or four times. The $600,000,000 bond issue last March 15 was oversubscribed four times.

Officials expressed the private opinion that the oversubscription was due to the anxiety of investors to have safe government issues in which to place their funds and to the fact that bankers took advantage of the 3-1/8 per cent interest to put their idle funds to work.

The money derived from the sale of the bonds will be used to retire approximately $600,000,000 of maturing treasury certificates of indebtedness and to pay $90,000,000 in interest on the public debt.

U. S. Mayors Visit Cellars of France

Rheims, France, June 4.—(AP)—America's visiting mayors today stepped out of the sunshine into the damp cellars of Pommery, Mumm and Heidsieck to tramp through the long lanes of vats and bottles.

Silvester Andriano, president of the board of supervisors of San Francisco, raised a glass of champagne and drank "to the return of light wines and beers to America," expressing the hope that his country some day will once more be using the liquid products of France.

In an adjoining cellar Judge Frank N. Padden, of Chicago, lifted his arm to "A. J. Cernak, Chicago's new mayor and the greatest advocate of conservative drinking in America."

While they were underground, all the tourists signed a postcard addressed to "Jimmy" Walker, mayor of New York. Afterward there was a luncheon attended by representatives of thirty-five champagne companies. This evening the mayors will leave for Lille.

Page to Attend Economic Council

Raleigh, June 4.—(AP)—Frank Page, temporary chairman of the Southeastern Economic Council, will leave Raleigh tonight for Atlanta, Ga., where plans for a permanent organization of the council will be discussed by representatives from seven states tomorrow.

Mr. Page said today he had received "favorable responses" from 30 to 40 of the members of the council, who were appointed by the governors of the seven states, and that he expected a good attendance at the conference.

The council was organized at Asheville a year ago upon the call of Gov. O. Max Gardner of North Carolina. States represented are: North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Virginia and Tennessee.

NEW SCHOOL LAW STUDIED AT RALEIGH

Several Hundred Officials Attend School Conducted by Dr. A. T. Allen.

Raleigh, June 4.—(AP)—Several hundred school officials from every part of the State assembled here today to attend the "school" conducted by Dr. A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in an effort to find out the details of the far-reaching school legislation enacted by the 1931 General Assembly.

The large hall of the House of Representatives in the capitol building was filled to capacity as Dr. Allen and others explained the new school law in all of its phases.

Among the speakers were: R. T. Fountain, lieutenant governor; B. B. Dougherty, T. B. Attmore, H. L. Price and Walter H. Powell, members of the State Board of Equalization; Edwin B. Jeffress, chairman of the State Highway commission; and A. S. Brower, State purchasing agent.

Chairman Jeffress told of the plans of the new State Highway commission, which takes over 45,000 miles of county roads July 1, and said: "I want to assure you all that we will endeavor to have road service at your doors." He asserted in the future it will not be necessary to send delegations to Raleigh to plead claims for road building, and pledged the cooperation of the commission to the county officials.

Mr. Brower assured the school officials that it was the governor's intention to extend the state buying service to the schools of his state. He discussed a standardization of trucks used in pupil transportation and suggested that each county appoint a committee of three to five persons to consult with him on transportation problems.

He told the officials that the state was considering purchase of a special brand of coal for school heating purposes, and was also considering engaging the services of a heating expert to help the schools solve their heating problems and use their coal so as to get the maximum amount of heat from it.

In answer to a question, Dr. Allen said that every school would be on the same basis so far as participation in state funds is concerned. No discrimination will be shown, he added.

Several members of the equalization board, including Secretary Leroy Martin, who was re-elected secretary yesterday, sat in on the meeting of the school officials.

LINDBERGH TO MAKE TOUR OF THE FAR EAST

Mrs. Lindbergh to Accompany the Noted Flier On Trip Across North Pacific

Washington, June 4.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will leave within a month for a flying tour of the Far East making the trip by air across the North Pacific.

Mrs. Lindbergh will accompany him. The exact date of his departure has not been determined, but at his request the State Department is asking the Japanese and Chinese governments for permission for him to land in those countries.

Although the trip across the North Pacific will not involve any long water hops Colonel Lindbergh is taking every safety precaution. The purpose of the trip, Lindbergh told the department was to tour the orient. His present plans call for an air tour of two or three weeks around China and Japan.

The Lindberghs will not take with them their young son. Plans for the return trip from the Orient have not been arranged, Lindbergh stating that he had not determined whether he would return by boat or by the northern air route. The announcement of the proposed flight was made by Under Secretary of State Castle in compliance with a request by telephone, from Colonel Lindbergh today.

His Lockheed monoplane will be equipped with pontoons and he will make fueling arrangements at necessary points. State Department officials said that if it was necessary for Lindbergh to land on the Soviet territory of Siberia he would secure permission privately as other fliers do when planning flights over Soviet territory.

The exact route or itinerary of the trip was not clear in the minds of State Department officials. They said they presumed he would fly across the country to some point on the Pacific coast and thence across the northern Pacific.

They were uncertain whether he would begin his trans-Pacific flight from the extreme northern part of this country, or from Alaska.

Officials of the Soviet Information Bureau, which communicates with the Moscow government in obtaining flying permission for Americans over Soviet territory, said today Colonel Lindbergh had not sought such permission.

They expressed the opinion that

MAJOR MOTT PASSES AWAY

Former "Millionaire Reporter" Dies In Ontario After Eventful Life

Los Angeles, June 4.—(AP)—A life of strange adventure and romance leading halfway around the world at the price of forfeiture of a fortune of $25,000,000, has ended with the death of Major Jordan Lawrence Mott, 50, once New York's "millionaire reporter."

In late years a nationally-known sportsman and author, Major Mott had lived on Santa Catalina Island. He spent the summers at a camp on the North Umpqua river near Roseburg, Ore., where death occurred yesterday.

At his bedside was his wife, the former Francis Hewitt Browne, once a light opera singer, for whom he forsook the fortune of his father, J. L. Mott, New York iron manufacturer.

Shortly after his graduation from Harvard, Mott went to work as a reporter in New York. He covered his assignments on news stories in an imported limousine driven by a chauffeur.

His first marriage was an unhappy one and during his domestic difficulties he met Mrs. Browne, who like himself, had experienced an unfortunate marital life.

In May, 1912, they decided to elope, although neither had been divorced, and as they later told the story, the defied conventions and sailed for Europe from New York on a tramp steamer, the Indridio. The departure of the couple was followed by a frantic effort by Mott's father to make his son give up the romance. Giving Hector Fuller, a New York newspaperman, unlimited financial backing, the father sent him in pursuit of the couple. Fuller boarded a fast steamer, but arrived in Gibraltar two hours after they had left.

The chase led to Port Said, and thence to Hong Kong, where Fuller finally caught up with them. Mott refused to accede to entreaties.

REVALUATION PLEA REFUSED

Commissioners Decline to Grant Petition From Tax Relief Association

There will be no revaluation of property in Pitt county.

This question was definitely decided at a special session of the Board of County Commissioners, in this city yesterday afternoon. The commissioners instructed the Board of Assessors to continue adjusting unequal property values as ordered at a previous meeting and to report their findings to the commissioners who will act as a board of equalization.

Yesterday's consideration of the revaluation question was the outgrowth of a petition presented to the commissioners last Monday by the Tax Relief Association of Pitt county. The petition asked that a revaluation program be declared for the county in order to give the people desired relief from excessive tax values.

Immediately after receipt of the petition, the commissioners instructed the county attorney to go to Raleigh and confer with the attorney general regarding the matter.

At yesterday's meeting the county attorney reported that he had been instructed to abide by the ruling of the last Legislature which postponed revaluation until 1933.

Revaluation has been one of the main bones of contention in this county for the last several months, but the commissioners were not able to reach any definite decision in the matter until the close of the Legislature last week and the subsequent ruling of the attorney general.

Revaluation was ordered by the board several months ago on the presumption that a similar plan would be followed by other counties of the state. The program did not get under way, however, owing to indecision of the Legislature as to what action would be taken.

However, during the closing session the General Assembly postponed revaluation until 1933, allowing counties the power to declare a ten per cent reduction in their total tax values.

Working along this line, the commissioners last week instructed the Board of Assessors to begin the adjustment work in each of the townships, and to report in a period of ten days. The commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, will consider the work of the assessors and accept or reject any recommendations which they may make.

FICKLEN BACK FROM EUROPE

Tobacconist Declares Depression on Continent As Severe As That In America

Depression existing in this country is just as severe throughout Europe, in the opinion of J. S. Ficklen, president of the Ficklen Tobacco Company of this city, who returned home last Tuesday after spending six weeks in Holland, Germany and England. He declared Europe is faced with the same problems of unemployment that this country has had to deal with the last several months, with the same reduction of commodity prices and burdened with much heavier taxes.

Discussing the tobacco situation in Europe, Mr. Ficklen said that while this industry had weathered the storm of depression better than other lines of trade, it had also been affected to a considerable extent.

He expressed opinion that the tobacco trade is not in a position to take care of a crop as large as that last year at anything like reasonable prices. He said the trade generally is hoping for a reduction of the bright crop this year.

Mr. Ficklen returned to the United States aboard a steamer on which he traveled in 1927. He said there were 750 passengers on the ship at that time, whereas there were only 225 this year.

He declared a corresponding reduction was apparent to him in railway and passenger traffic in Europe as well as in hotel patronage.

Greek Church To Open College Near City of Gastonia

Gastonia, N. C. June 4.—(AP)—The Greek Orthodox Church of America today accepted the old Linwood Female College building and grounds, several miles west of Gastonia, as the site whereon it will open the first Greek college in the United States.

Archbishop Athenagoras, head of the church, notified local interests and Greeks interested in the deal that acceptance of the offer of the property for a nominal sum had been decided upon and renovation of the buildings would be started shortly so that the college may open its doors in the fall.

Local members of the Arabovitan Karyae, national Greek brotherhood, stated it had been decided that the Rev. P. Stamos, of Philadelphia, formerly of Charleston, S. C., would be president of the new college.

The college will include grammar and high school grades which will be the first opened. The college's department will be opened at a later school session. The site accepted includes about 400 acres of land surrounding the old Linwood Female College. The price paid for the land was not announced.

U. S. LOSES BY HIGH TARIFF

The Higher Canadian Duties May Result in $25,000,000 Loss In Exports

Washington, June 4.—(AP)—A commerce department study of the Canadian tariff revision forecasts that the higher duties may result in American concerns losing $25,000,000 annually in exports to the Dominion.

Assistant Secretary Klein, a leading authority on foreign and domestic commerce, in announcing the findings of the study last night, said exports equaling approximately four per cent of the 1930 shipments to Canada would be "imperiled" by the changes.

Last year Canada absorbed American goods valued at $69,325,000, while the United States' total exports amounted to about $3,500,000,000.

Klein made his statement after Secretary Stimson announced no protest would be made to Canada over the revision because this country considered tariff as a domestic question exclusively.

Canada, Klein suggested, made the revision in an effort to alleviate its unemployment situation. He added it was obvious the Dominion was "putting herself in a favorable position" for conferences on reciprocal tariffs among the British dominions next fall. He recalled that Canada was economically a new land and had been using a high protective tariff to develop a more evenly balanced economic status. Excessive seasonal variations, he continued, made such a policy inevitable as a means of equalizing employment irregularities.

American investments in Canada, he noted, amounted to between $3,600,000,000 and $3,900,000,000, while those of British interests amounted to about $2,300,000.

ALDERMEN TO CONSIDER GAS PLANT TONIGHT

Special Counsel Will Make Report on Conference With the Government Com.

One of the most important questions to come up for consideration at the regular monthly meeting of the city aldermen tonight is that involved in the proposed purchase of the local gas plant. The aldermen gave first consideration to the subject at a meeting Tuesday night and sent Louis Gaylord, special counsel, to Raleigh yesterday to confer with the local county government commission regarding what steps the city would be required to take in the purchase of the property.

Mr. Gaylord has returned from the capital city and will be ready to make a report of his investigation tonight.

The Carolina Gas & Electric Company was sold the franchise by the city some years ago with the understanding that should they ever desire to sell the city should be given due notice. The company recently announced their intention to sell to the Tidewater Power Company and asked the aldermen what action they desired to take. The company was requested to furnish information regarding the plant and the price.

The information was sent several days ago and received consideration of the board at a special session Tuesday night. Officials of both the Carolina and Tidewater companies were present and stated that sale had already been completed, and that the Tidewater company would have charge of the operation of the local plant while the aldermen were deliberating the matter.

Mayor Lanier told the aldermen that in his opinion an election would have to be called to decide whether or not the people desire to issue $100,000 worth of city bonds to finance the purchase. The aldermen were in doubt as to whether the local government commission should pass on the matter before or after the proposed election, and named a committee to send special counsel to Raleigh to obtain all possible information in this connection.

The meeting Tuesday night was well attended by interested citizens, and it was expected more would be on hand tonight to see what action the aldermen will take in the matter.

Alabama Democrat in Lengthy Statement Asserts the Re-count of Ballots Now Being Made By Senate Election Committee Proves That He Was Elected "By the Will of the People"

Washington, June 4.—(AP)—Sweeping denial was made today by Senator Bankhead, Democrat, of Alabama, of the charges of fraud in his election contest last November with former Senator Heflin.

In a lengthy statement Bankhead asserted the recount of ballots now being made by the Senate Elections committee proves that he was elected "by the will of the people."

"With practically one-third of the votes recounted," Bankhead said, "including those in the ten counties selected by Heflin as the worst in the State, it has developed that the certificates of the results of the elections sworn to by the elections officers, including a Heflin manager and Clerk at each box, are supported by the ballots."

"It now appears from reports circulated by Heflin's Washington propaganda agent that the investigation is being concentrated on finding the 'possibility of fraud' growing out of the failure of some election officers to comply literally with every detailed declaration of the Alabama elections laws."

"The mere suggestion of such widespread corruption by election officers, men and women, including the election officers and watchers selected by Heflin's organization, is abhorrent and shocking."

"Before I would make such charges of corruption against 7,000 election officers, with two-fifths of them selected by me or my friends to protect my interests, I would withdraw from public life."

Bankhead recalled he had a majority of over 50,000 over Heflin and said the recount so far showed a net change of less than 200 votes.

"I am not disturbed by the final results," said Bankhead. "The Senate will not outrage the will of an overwhelming majority of the voters of Alabama. Everyone connected with the contest must know that Heflin cannot possibly be seated."

Heflin, who is remaining at the Capitol watching the recount, made the following reply to Senator Bankhead:

"If the disclosures of fraud and corruption made up to this time continue it is certain that Bankhead cannot be seated."

Stresses Definite Lead On Questions Divorce-Marriage

London, June 4.—(AP)—The importance of a definite lead by the church on the question of marriage and divorce was emphasized today by the Archbishop of Canterbury at the convocation of the upper House of Canterbury.

The meeting adopted a resolution requesting the archbishop to appoint a joint committee of both houses to consider the bearing of last year's Lambeth conference resolution upon the practice of the church in this province, and to confer with any similar committee to be appointed by the convocation of York.

"I am convinced," said the archbishop, "that we can no longer drift in this matter of marriage and fidelity to our own principles and our relations to the law of the state without grave peril. The time has come, and more than come, when such an inquiry as is proposed, should take place."

The Lambeth conference last August recommended that marriage of any person whose former matrimonial partner was still living, should not be celebrated according to the rites of the church.

ANTARCTIC WHALE DOOMED BY METHODS OF SLAUGHTER

Hobart, Tasmania.—(AP)—Extinction of the whale in Antarctic waters is certain in the near future, scientific societies say, unless there is a halt in their slaughter. Enormous catches have been made this season. One of the Norwegian factory ships had a catch for 14 weeks of 163,000 barrels of oil, valued at $3,400,000.

LINDBERGH TO MAKE TOUR OF THE FAR EAST

Should Lindbergh desire to fly directly from American to Japanese territory, the closest hop would be 300 miles between Attu, the most westerly of the Aleutian islands, and Shumstul, the most northerly and easterly of the Japanese islands.

A flight of some 350 miles could be made between Attu and Copper Island, Soviet territory, and the Peninsula of Kamchatka.

In 1920 Mrs. Browne's husband, a millionaire, obtained a divorce and seven years later Mrs. Mott divorced the adventurer.

By that time the couple had returned to the United States and were living on Santa Catalina Island. In October, 1928, they were married at Merced, Calif. A year before, Mott's mother, wealthy in her own right and a collector of Napoleonic relics, had died leaving her son but $25,000.

Mott then was earning $20 a day renting boats and catching sword fish. In his spare time he wrote fiction. He was the author of a successful novel, "Jules of the Great Love." Much of his time was devoted to campaigns for protection of natural game.

Besides his widow, his father and two children by his first marriage survive.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW HELD IN FARMVILLE

Farmville, N. C., June 3.—The spring flower show sponsored by the Garden club department of the Woman's club, and held at the American Legion home on Tuesday afternoon, was a decided success both from the standpoint of quantity and quality of specimens exhibited, and was a creditable showing for a town of this size.

This department, of which Miss Tabitha DeVoscenti is president, has held flower exhibitions for several years and interest in gardening and the culture of fine varieties increase each year. Many new and beautiful specimens of iris and peonies were displayed and the sweet pea exhibit was especially fine.

VET REUNION NEARS CLOSE

Election of Commander and Host City Occupies Confederates Today

Montgomery, Ala., June 4.—(AP)—Election of a new commander-in-chief and selection of a host city for the 1932 reunion were before the United Confederate veterans today as they neared the final day and climax of their 41st annual reunion.

Two candidates are in the field for the highest post within the gift of the gray-haired warriors Gen. Rice A. Pierce of Union City Tenn., and Gen. C. A. Desaussure, of Memphis, Tenn.

For the 1932 reunion three cities have been mentioned, Houston, Texas; Washington, D. C. and Richmond, Va., another capitol of the Confederacy. Of these Richmond seems to have the edge.

The morning business session for the veterans was shortened today and the election and choosing of the 1932 convention city come in the afternoon. The veterans will shed the years tonight for the grand ball which next to the parade set for tomorrow, is the crowning event of the annual reunion.

The veterans looked back on yesterday as a busy day in which they launched the business session of their reunion and heard their commander-in-chief of the sixties, Jefferson Davis, eulogized as a "soldier, statesman and patriot" by General Pierce in observance of the Confederate President's birthday.

For nearly an hour last night, veterans and their ladies, either their wives or staff-sponsors, maids and matrons of honor passed down a receiving line at a reception given by the sons of Confederate veterans who are holding their annual convention.

Officers of the Forrest cavalry were re-elected by acclamation yesterday and Gen. John N. Johnson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., will continue in command.

The Grand Army of the Republic, yesterday sent a telegram of greetings wishing "our brothers of the southland," a "harmonious and profitable reunion and many more encampments."

ABOUT TOWN

Gilliam Grisson is willing for the Republican party to draft him as a candidate for Governor of North Carolina. He will find, however, that being drafted and becoming governor is an entirely different proposition should the party take him up on its offer.

The Democrats still have plenty of mighty fine material that needs no drafting and when the final dust of battle has cleared away it will still find a Democratic governor at the helm of the state.

James S. Picklen, president of the Picklen Tobacco Company, has just returned from a trip to Europe, and says that depression over there is similar to that in this country. He found the unemployment situation just as severe and the people burdened with much heavier taxes than those in the United States.

Mr. Picklen expressed opinion that the tobacco market is not in position to take care of a crop as large as last year, and said the trade generally was hoping for a marked reduction of the bright crop.

This information should receive the consideration of the farmers of this section. Mr. Picklen is one of the best informed tobaccoists in this part of the country and his actual contact with the European market places him in a position to speak with authority on the subject.

Conservation of food supplies for the coming of next winter is the plea sent out by Governor Gardner and other state officials. They believe that this action will enable the growers to withstand the present economic situation better than they did last year, and have impressed upon everybody the importance of giving due attention to the matter.

It is in line with the live-at-home movement proposed last year, and shows the necessity of storing away supplies after they have been produced.

The farmer that raises sufficient foodstuffs for his family and stock will certainly fare much better than the one that confines his attention purely to the production of money crops. The live-at-home man will be able to live comfortably despite the trend of prices for the principal crops, and will be able to face another planting season in much better financial shape than the man who refused to be guided by the advice of farm leaders.

It is encouraging information emanating from various sections of the south regarding the opening of banks which were closed last year and the first of this year.

The reopening of these institutions means that millions of dollars that were tied up will be released for the relief of the various communities they serve, enabling thousands of people to look the world squarely in the face, knowing they have the cash to pay their way.

While depositors will be restrained from drawing out the money within a fixed period, the banks will release the money as quickly as possible, and this in itself will have a psychological effect on the public mind and relieve much of the hard times talk which has been heard in all parts of the nation the last two years.

around their premises should get busy and do so immediately. There is a city ordinance prohibiting rank growth of vegetation and people who do not clean up expose themselves to punishment by law. Mayor Lanier recently issued a statement calling on the public to attend to this important matter as a means of reducing breeding of mosquitoes. Health workers say that weeds afford the best breeding places in the world for the insects, and people who permit weeds to grow around their homes can expect nothing better than to have a liberal supply of the pests all the summer. Years ago mosquitoes were distinguished for their paucity in this city, but in recent years the people have become negligent in the matter of stagnated water and weeds and emergence has been very pronounced the last few years. If you would improve health conditions of your community, join the campaign to root mosquitoes during the next several months.

Howard Speaker At Forestry Meet

Asheville, N. C., June 4.—(AP)—An address by William G. Howard, superintendent of lands and forests of the New York Conservation Department, marked the program of the American Forestry Association here today. Mr. Howard outlined the purposes a state system of parks and forests may serve and explain the growth of the New York system. Secretary Wilbur, of the Interior Department, in an address before delegates to the association's meeting yesterday, said that America must change its "policy of exploitation for one of conservation."

"The trouble with the United States," the secretary said, "is that it has had too soft a time. There were too many things stored up for Americans. They got in the habit of destruction. We have started late trying to save some of our areas of natural beauty; the day of easy conservation has gone by."

"The world is great but it has its limits," he warned. "Unless we conserve what we have, we must stop multiplying. State forests and parks can be made to serve the following purposes, Mr. Howard declared: Production of timber, protection of watersheds, creation of public hunting grounds, provision of outdoor recreational facilities, and providing opportunities for reforestation projects. The speaker discussed in detail how each of these purposes can be served through State conservation projects.

Major R. Y. Stewart, chief of the U. S. Forest Service, discussed "National forests in a coordinated program of land use." He discussed the federal government's interest in the perpetuation of forest resources, from the standpoints of timber supply, watershed protection and incidental uses such as game refuges and forage, and stressed the stability offered forest enterprises by conservation of national forests. "The meaning and place of National parks" was the topic chosen by Dr. Wallace W. Atwood, president of Clark University, who addressed the meeting just before adjournment for a trip to Pisgah National Forest.

Nautilus Undergoes Final Tests Before Trip to North Pole

Provincetown, Mass., June 4.—(AP)—The Nautilus, lean and grim old navy submarine which has been reconitioned and equipped with an odd looking trolley designed to rest against Arctic ice, was off Cape Cod today for final tests before starting on as strange an adventure as the fictioneers ever recorded—the under-ice conquest of the North Pole. The submarine arrived here at 5:25 A. M., Eastern Standard Time, today and prepared to go through a series of diving tests.

She took a little less than 17 and one-half hours to make the trip from New London, Conn., where she has been refitting for the Arctic trip. With Sir Hubert Wilkins and a group of scientists aboard she will nose out into the Atlantic in a day or two, bound for England and thence to the north. Some time this summer she will glide out from Spitzbergen to cross the pole to Alaska, traveling most of the way beneath the world's ice-cap.

Some experts—notably English navy men—have attacked the Wilkins project as a prize bit of foolhardiness. Others—notably Vilhjalmur Stefansson, explorer—have declared it to be an eminently practical way of determining what goes on at the top of the world.

The trip starts with the benediction of Jean Jules Verne, grandson of the novelist whose imaginary undersea vessel set a mark for inventors to shoot at. Verne came to the United States in March to attend the christening of the Nautilus at Brooklyn Navy Yard. The name of the vessel in his grandfather's "twenty thousand leagues under the sea," was bestowed on the submarine.

One of the chief problems that had to be solved when the boat was made over was the question of providing air required for recharging storage batteries. This was done by means of ice-cutters; there are three of them on the ship's back—one atop a conning tower than can be thrust up thru 12 feet of ice. The others are placed aft, and can bore their way through 100 feet.

New York, June 4.—(AP)—Rudolph C. Durringer, 25, Ossing truck driver, was convicted early today of murder, first degree, for the killing of Virginia Brannen, dance hall hostess.

Justice Cohn said he would pronounce the mandatory sentence next Monday which will condemn Durringer to the electric chair in Sing Sing prison in his home town. Durringer was calm and stoical when he heard the verdict which the jury returned shortly before 2

A. M., after seven hours of deliberation. Miss Brannen, who came to New York from Bangor, Me., was shot during an automobile ride in the Bronx, April 27. Durringer said he shot her accidentally when she clutchd his revolver. He then drove to Yonkers and tossed her body beneath a hedge. Other members of the automobile party was Francis Crowley, now in the Sing Sing deathhouse for the slaying of a Long Island policeman. They were captured in a Manhattan apartment, after a gun fight with 150 policemen, armed with tear gas and machine guns.

SIGNS YOU NEED BLACK-DRAUGHT

Good Way To Treat Common Complaints Mentioned By Two Southern Men.

Mr. Hubert Bailey, of 97 North Bradford Street, Gainesville, Ga., says that a few years ago he suffered from indigestion and heartburn. "My tongue would get coated, and I would have a bad taste in my mouth," writes Mr. Bailey. "I had gas pains.

"I knew I must take something to overcome this condition. My mother told me to try Black-Draught, which I did. After I had taken a few doses, I felt much better. The gas pains would stop, my mouth would feel clean and my food would taste much better. I know Black-Draught helped me."

"When I feel bloated, and have headache after meals," says Mr. George Chevalier, of Guilford, Miss., "my method of taking Black-Draught is to take from a pinch to a level teaspoonful in my mouth, dry, and wash it down with about half a glassful of water, regulating the dose according to the situation by taking more or less, according to how I feel.

"I usually take a dose on going to bed, when needed, and am relieved next morning."

Consider your Adam's Apple!!* Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

The great Lord Tennyson in a beautiful poem refers to a woman's Adam's Apple as "The warm white apple of her throat." Consider your Adam's Apple. Touch it—your Adam's Apple—That is your larynx—your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Protect the delicate tissues within your throat. Be careful in your choice of cigarettes. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants! Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, June 4.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 7 points higher in response to a show of firmness in the Liverpool and Egyptian markets and on further covering and trade buying.

The demand, however, was not of an aggressive character and subsequently the market reacted under renewed liquidation and selling for foreign account. Some disappointment was expressed over the irregular action of the stock market and buyers were timid, especially as weather conditions over the cotton belt continued generally favorable for the cotton crop. Values reacted to below the previous close and by the end of the first half an hour showed losses of 2 to 3 points.

Liverpool cable that prices there had advanced on covering, general buying, firmness in Alexandria, and a cessation of pressure.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 4.—(AP)—Spreading operations that consisted of purchasing of wheat against selling of corn led to material upturns in wheat prices today. There was also buying of wheat on account of drought of securities and on strength complaints from a wide area in Canada and parts of the American northwest. An authoritative unofficial Canadian crop report to be issued Saturday was expected to make the poorest showing ever known at this time of year.

Wheat closed firm, 1-4 - 2 higher, corn 1-4 - 1 1-4 up, and oats 1-2 to 5-8 advanced. Provisions rallied sharply and closed at 15 to 27 gains.

STOCK MARKET

New York, June 4.—(AP)—The stock market refused to be depressed by quick profit-taking today and after some hesitation in the earlier hours resumed its advance under the stimulating leadership of an active rally in the rails. Bonds also improved.

Realizing sales followed an irregular opening. Rails seemed to be helped by news that the Interstate Commerce Commission had permitted the Great Northern to increase freight rates on coal into the northwest, apparently viewing this decision with an eye to the rate rise requested by the carriers east of the Mississippi.

Net gains of 1 to 4 points or more were common in the carried stocks embracing New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Pacific, Atchafalaya, Rock Island, Illinois Central, Louisville & Nashville, Union Pacific and others. Industrials and utilities rallied less vigorously, but U. S. Steel crossed 91 and American Can got back to 100. American Telephone more than recovered an early loss of nearly 3 points and other prominent issues made corresponding progress. Some specialties were buoyant. Eastman Kodak soared several points in response to the statement on 1931 prospects. National Lead was especially strong.

Wall street decided not to pass too hastily a judgment on the rapid recovery. The market has reached several so-called selling climaxes in the last twenty months, only to swing into a reaction, and brokerage houses wanted to await its performance under fire before venturing a belief that an important turning point had been reached. It was recalled that after the last sharp rebound, a few weeks ago, the market dropped just as quickly as it had risen.

There were no developments in the money markets and the 1 1/2 per cent call loan renewal rate still held.

PLEASUED WITH SPLENDID JUNIOR ROOM ATTENDANCE
 The leaders of the junior room program are pleased with the splendid attendance and the interest the boys and girls are taking in the four-fold program. Last night every member of the Junior H-Y girls were present, and a nice program was enjoyed. Four girls joined and four more will remain on the waiting list until next meeting.

The average attendance at the programs in the junior room last month was 90 per cent. This is a good record and we believe we have the finest group of boys and girls that are striving "to create, maintain and extend throughout school and community, the high standards of Christian character."

START SOON ON WORLD FLIGHT

The big plans got here last week from the vicinity of Bolama, Portuguese West Africa, and began a series of tests of landing and take-off conditions.

Since she left Altenheim, Switzerland, last winter, intending to cross the Atlantic by easy stages, the flight has been delayed again and again.

In Jortugal fire destroyed one of her wings and she was laid up a long time for repairs. When she finally got to the Canary Islands, her next stop, bad weather and heavy seas delayed the take-off, but at last she was able to cross the stretch of water between the Islands and Africa to Villa Cisneros, Rio De Oro, whence she went on down to Bolama.

Youth Near Death After Kidnapping and Slaying Girl

Winona, Minn., June 4.—(AP)—Formally accused of murder by a coroner's jury, Roy Ashley of Beaverdam, Wis., lay near death in a hospital today, after kidnapping and slaying Evelyn Brown, 15, also of Beaverdam.

He shot the girl after abducting her from home early yesterday. Ashley lured her from her home on the pretext of taking her for a ride. When they reached a farm near here, Ashley stopped to fill the automobile radiator with water. Evelyn shouted that she had been kidnapped and Ashley threw a bottle at her. She seized a revolver and shot him in the abdomen. Ashley took the weapon, hit her over the head and drove a short distance, then shot her.

Evelyn's body will be sent to Beaverdam for burial.

Ashley at first said "She shot me and then shot herself," but officers reported he threw the girl from the car and shot her through the head as she pleaded "for her life."

Father Continues Vigil At Stream Where Son Drowned

Asheville, N. C., June 4.—(AP)—Undaunted by the futile efforts of more than 100 men who since Tuesday afternoon have sought to recover the body of his 11-year-old son, Dewey, from the French Broad river by diving, dynamite blasts, and dragging the deeper pools, John Cordell today continued his vigil of more than 40 hours on the bank of the river at Carrier's Bridge, near where the boy went to his death.

Although members of the fire department, friends of Mr. Cordell, who is employed in the Asheville railroad shops, and scores of others had searched the river almost inch by inch, no trace of the body had been found today. The river had been searched from the point where the boy sank to a mile or more below the bridge.
