TRIO OFFICERS SUSPENDED AT CHARLOTTE

Suspension is Result of Shooting of Former Duke Athlete By Officers Thurs.

Charlotte, June 19.—(AP)—Three Charlotte police officers were under suspension today as a result of the shooting and wounding of Lowell Mason, Duke University star athlete, as he fled from two officers who were escorting him to headquarters.

The city council ordered the men suspended pending an investigation of the shooting, which occurred early yesterday.

A few hours after the suspensions were announced, Chief of Police Pittman issued a statement saying no warrant had been issued for Lowell, "because we had no charge to prefer against him."

Chief Pittman expressed the regret of the police department, particularly of Alex West, night captain, said to have fired the shot that struck Mason, for the shooting.

Capt. West was one of the officers ordered suspended by the council. The other two were Guy Vickery and R. O. Cordell, patrolmen, who were taking Mason and two companions to the police station after an automobile driven by one of the young men had collided with a milk truck.

Some hours later, J. R. Wilks, Jr., of Charlotte, one of Mason's companions, was arrested and charged with driving while drunk, and F. T. Dellinger, the other with drunkenness.

Dellinger was convicted and fined $5 yesterday, while Wilks trial was set for today. Both are N. C. State College students.

Chief Pittman's statement said an investigation had failed to produce evidence that Mason was in a drunken condition either at the time of the accident or when he was escorted to the police station. Pittman said he had been informed that Mason ran from the officers because of "a horror of possible arrest and imprisonment."

"In response to a call to 'stop him,' spoken time after time by a civilian who was not a member of men continued, 'Captain West, the young man's party,' the statement happened to be about a block from headquarters, fired his revolver after the young man had run down a side street."

West, statement said, disclaims any intention of shooting Mason and thinks the bullet must have ricocheted and struck him.

Mason, a son of E. L. Mason, formerly a prominent citizen of Charlotte but now a resident of Greenville, S. C., was reported today as resting comfortably in a local hospital. He was wounded in the pelvis.

Durham, June 19.—(AP)—Lowell Mason, wounded by a policeman in Charlotte yesterday, was to have had a first string backfield berth in Duke University's grid line-up next fall, Eddie Cameron, backfield coach, said today.

The Charlotte athlete, who will be a junior next term, was ranked among the most accurate passers and broken field runners on the squad last season, and received national attention for some of his work.

"His injury will be a definite loss to our prospects," Coach Cameron said. Mason is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Graf Zeppelin Lands on Water

Friedrichshafen, Germany, June 19.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin settled down on Lake Constance today demonstrating for the first time that she can be landed successfully on the water without the assistance of the landing crew which always brings her down to earth.

It was accomplished by releasing gas until the big ship floated down smoothly on a thin rubber covered bumper of her gondolas.

The operation was a delicate business. Dr. Hugo Eckner, who has taken the Graf on her most important flights, made the test to demonstrate the Graf's seaworthiness.

Before he starts for the North Pole, the Graf neared over the lake after a slight seeping through the Alps, dipped slowly, began to settle fore and aft and eased into the water, spurning the aid of two police boats standing by in case they should be needed.

Carrington Asserts Tariff Is Cause of Considerable Harm to Tobacco Industry

Association President Says Tobacco Price Has Dropped to Correspond With Increased Production

Associated Press Photo Clara Bow, red-headed film actress, who has recovered from her breakdown, is shown togged out in boots and riding costume on the ranch of Rex Bell, her fiance, where she is riding the range to regain her health.

Asheville, June 19.—(AP)—A. B. Carrington, of Danville, Va., told the Tobacco Association of the United States today that "it is a safe guess, that in the end" a high protective tariff "is obliged to work considerable harm" on the tobacco industry in this country.

Making the annual report as president of the association, Mr. Carrington said retaliatory measures of other governments as a result of United States tariffs "are certainly doing the tobacco industry no good."

Other speakers for today at the convention of the organization, in session here, included Granville Woodward and D. B. Hill of the U. S. Department of Commerce, and E. D. McDowell of the Department of Commerce. Their addresses dealt with tobacco trade and marketing problems.

Opening dates for all markets in the bright tobacco districts of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and other southeastern market districts will be announced at a banquet tonight. Dr. D. W. Daniel, of Clemson College, S. C., will speak at the banquet which will close the convention.

Mr. Carrington discussed the danger of steady decreases in tobacco prices incurred by a mounting production of the leaf. He said production had been growing in volume rapidly for the last five years and that "there is almost a direct ratio between the increasing crop and the decreasing average price."

In spite of an aggressive campaign for slashing the 1931 crop, the most optimistic, he said, claim hardly more than a 10 per cent reduction, and favorable or unfavorable seasons can yet affect that estimate greatly.

Added to the hazards of the grower, he continued, is a tremendous increase in tobacco stocks on hand and the prospect of a let-up in the increase in exports and domestic consumption. He gave figures to show stocks held by dealers and manufacturers in the United States of all types of tobacco on April 1931, amounted to 2,150,000,000 pounds as against 1,965,000,000 in April of 1930.

"Following three previous crops of record size," he asserted, "the world cannot take and consume this much tobacco, especially when all other countries, wherever possible, are making determined efforts to raise their own, backed by legislative enactments designed to protect the tobacco grower in their respective countries."

Mr. Carrington said exports barely showed an increase last year and that it is doubtful if there will be any increase for 1931 over the previous year in domestic consumption.

Peter Arno, New York caricaturist here for divorce, announced last night that he was considering the desirability of bringing Vanderbilt and his attorney, Samuel Platt, to account for "absurd" statements blaming him for troubles in the Vanderbilt household.

Arno's attorney, Clyde D. Soutter, also issued a formal statement in which he said the question of whether a suit for slander would be brought was being debated. It read:

"Mr. Arno consulted with me today concerning the desirability of bringing a slander suit against Mr. Vanderbilt and Mr. Vanderbilt's attorney, Samuel Platt. The purpose of the suit would be to secure a judicial determination of the facts in this matter which has been brought to public attention by statements allegedly given out by Mr. Platt concerning Mr. Arno's name with that of Mr. Vanderbilt."

When informed last night of the contemplated action, Platt would say nothing other than he was "not interested." Vanderbilt could not be reached.

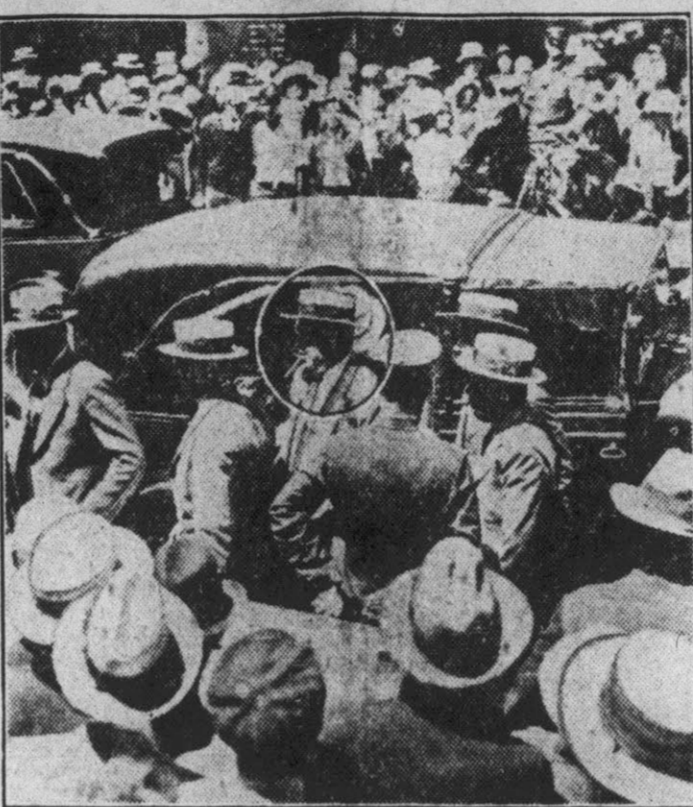

Meanwhile, Reno's divorce colony was awaiting the outcome of a conference between attorneys representing Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt at which it was expected some solution of their marital difficulties would be reached.

William Woodburn, for Mrs. Vanderbilt, announced yesterday that three possibilities would be considered by himself and Mr. Platt—a divorce, a legal separation or a reconciliation.

ATTACK AWARD NEW GANG HEAD BEAUTY TITLE NOW IN CHARGE

Claim Texas Contestants Treated Unfairly In International Beauty Show

Galveston, Texas, June 19.—(AP)—Legal action attacking the award of the title Miss United States to Anne Lee Patterson, 18-year-old Ludlow, Ky., blonde, was in prospect today.

Col. William E. Easterwood, Jr., Dallas, Texas, aviation enthusiast, announced he had employed counsel to contest the award, presented at the twelfth international pageant of beauty here last Monday night.

His charge that there was discrimination against Texas girls was denied by Marvin Starr, managing director of the pageant.

"The caliber of our judges' tribunals, speakers for itself," said Starr, "Imagine telling John Held, Jr., Haskell Coffin, McClelland Barclay, Jules Cannert, Lee Townsend, Dr. W. E. Huddleston and Ben Carlton Mead which way to vote, who to rule out and why."

"The friends of the Texas beauties," Col. Easterwood said, "have no objections to Miss Northland Kentucky receiving the award of $500, but we do insist that they receive justice in the honors."

He said the points of contest against the winner would include "the fact she has been in commercial movies in Cincinnati;" that she was permitted to use cosmetics, denied to other contestants; and that she was the only one who was not required to pay $100 for a float.

Miss Patterson was runner-up in the contest for the crown of Miss Universe, which went to Netta Duchateau, 17-year-old Belgian girl.

Hopes to Start On Ocean Flight Sunday Morning

New York, June 19.—(AP)—Damage to Ruth Nichols' plane in landing at Floyd Bennett Airport from Jersey City yesterday on the first leg of her projected solo flight across the Atlantic will prevent her leaving before Sunday.

Mechanics worked all night on the plane but it was said this morning that two days work was still ahead of them. Not only was the tail skid broken and struts bottom of the fuselage was cracked and the gasoline tanks had to be removed preliminary to repairing it.

Miss Nichols said she hoped to take off for Harbor Grace, N. F., Sunday morning but if the plane was not ready by then would go as soon as repairs were completed.

SEVEN YEARS OLD GIRL KILLED BY AUTO

Goldboro, June 19.—(AP)—Leslie Williams, 18, of LaGrange, was at liberty under $500 bond today after his car struck and killed Arthila Lane, 7, negro girl, near his home yesterday. An inquest has been ordered for tonight.

F. A. Garner, coroner, ordered Williams held until the inquest, although officers said the child had started across the highway and Williams swerved completely off the road in an attempt to miss her.

LOCAL COUPLE ESCAPE FROM BURNING HOTEL

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Vincent Among the Guests Routed From Hotel in Macon, Ga.

Macon, Ga., June 19.—(AP)—The left wing of the 95-year-old Hotel Lanier headquarters of the state government which Sherman was marching through Georgia, was destroyed by fire early today and the rest of the six-story structure except the fire-proof right wing was badly damaged.

So far as could be determined all the approximately 150 guests escaped, most of them in pajamas and nightgowns. T. W. Hooks, owner of the hotel, estimated the damage at $100,000, which did not include the property of guests that was destroyed.

Origin of the fire was not determined. F. A. Reynolds, of Asheville, N. C., who was stopping in the left wing with his wife, and Mrs. W. E. Houser, of Atlanta, reported smoke to the clerk shortly before 1 A. M. and the blaze burst through the roof and windows a few minutes later. Miss Louise Calhoun, telephone operator, aroused the guests from her switchboard and most of them sped to the street directly from their beds. A few paused long enough to save some of their possessions.

All of the fire fighting apparatus of the city was mobilized around the hotel, but for more than an hour the fire raged out of control and threatened an entire downtown business block. It was brought under control shortly before 3 A. M. but continued burning some hours thereafter.

The hotel is one of the most historic in the state. The Civil War governor, Joseph E. Brown, took refuge there with his staff when Sherman's forces entered the city. The hotel was built by Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, was a guest of the hotel during the war.

The hotel has approximately 200 rooms.

Among the out-of-town guests who raced the flames to the street were Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, R. E. Hoppel, of Norfolk, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Vincent of Greenville, N. C.

FIVE DIE FROM MID-WEST HEAT

Many Others Prostrated as Section Is Visited By First Real Summer Weather

Chicago, June 19.—(AP)—Merely heat ruled the northwest today.

The swelter burned out five lives. Heat prostrations were common. Two bathers drowned. Temperatures soared around the century mark.

Two aging men succumbed to prostrations in Minnesota, one at Worthington and the other at Pine Island. A third died in Bismack, Neb. A fourth in Milwaukee, a boy attending his graduation exercises was stricken in the burning sun and died.

In Omaha, Neb., a man died at the wheel of his automobile, the writing wave aggravating heart disease.

Little hope for relief was held out by the weather bureau.

In Chicago, beaches were crowded and over all Illinois, the thermometer roared around 92.

A girl drowned in Lake Minnetonka, Minn., and a young man drowned while swimming in the Minnesota river near Granite Falls.

A young woman succumbed to the heat in Chicago while shopping and her condition was serious.

In Minneapolis three persons were prostrated as the thermometer climbed to 94. Three more were chafed up in St. Paul.

Small Says Prohibition Has Proven Big Failure After 11 Years Of Trial

Gets Death Penalty

Associated Press Photo William Moore Frazer of Rahway, N. J., was convicted of first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Phoebe Stader, whom he was charged with killing and carrying her body in a car. The death penalty was mandatory.

Mr. and Mrs. Small arrived in Greenville yesterday morning and while in the city were the guests of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen at her home on Fifth street.

The address was a third of a series which the distinguished lawyer and statesman has delivered in this section of the state. He was heard by large crowds both in Washington and Elizabeth City, and was highly complimented for his scholarly treatment of the subject.

In his address here last night he said in part:

"Discussing the consumption of Amos Woodcock, present prohibition administrator, recently stated that 375,000,000 gallons of intoxicating liquors were consumed in the United States in 1930.

"The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment recently employed experts to make an estimate of the volume of intoxicating liquors consumed in the United States, and they finally submitted an estimate as follows: Beer, 79,000,000 gallons; wine, 110,000,000 gallons; distilled liquors, 200,000,000 gallons; they also estimated that the consumers paid for this liquor a total of $2,840,000,000.

"It is estimated that American people are now consuming intoxicating liquors as compared with 1913, in the proportion as twice as much wine, one-fourth as much beer, and one and one-tenth more spirits.

"The Wickersham Commission report on page 29 gave official data. This report states that in 1913 the Commissioners of Internal Revenue reported the seizure of 2,375 stills. In 1929 the Federal government seized six times as many stills as in 1913. In the same year the total seizure of stills by both Federal and State authorities were twelve times as many, which would make a total of about 28,000.

"The Bureau of Internal Revenue estimated that for every illicit still seized that there are ten in operation. If this estimate holds good there were more than 280,000 in the United States in 1929.

"Here are some of the official figures for North Carolina as to the seizure of illicit stills:

"In 1918 there were 1,573 stills; in 1922, 1758; in 1929, 2,472, while in 1930, 2,642 stills.

"As to deaths from alcoholism, based on the data from states which report vital statistics, the number of deaths from alcohol since 1920 has increased more than five times.

"The enforcement of prohibition has been promoted with corruption since it became effective in 1920. General Andrews, former prohibition administrator stated that 875 officers had been dismissed from service for corruption from January 1920 to February 1930 and convicted in the courts.

"An official statement shows that from the beginning of National Prohibition in 1920 to June 30, 1930, there have been 17,972 appointments in the prohibition service. Of the above number 11,982 were separated from the service on charges of corruption and for the good of the service. The grounds for dismissal included bribery, extortion, theft, forgery, perjury, etc. These figures represent only the officers who were discovered. There were certainly many instances of corruption which were not detected.

"The number of lives taken by killing or shooting in the attempt to enforce the law constitutes one of the tragic results. Senator Millard E. Tydings, of Maryland, in a book on prohibition which he has written, quotes from the official records to the effect that there were a total of 1,285 persons killed from January 1920 to the end of 1929. This is an average of 136 per year, or nearly three every week.

Former Congressman of First District Sums Up Awful Toll of Life and Property Exacted in Enforcement of Eighteenth Amendment; Says Only Remedy is Repeal and Exercise of Home Rule

The toll of life and property exacted in the enforcement of prohibition in this country was set forth in a forceful and convincing way at the court house here last night by Hon. John H. Small, of Washington, former Congressman of the First District.

Speaking before a crowd of representative citizens from many sections of the county, Mr. Small pointed out the abject failure of the Eighteenth Amendment after eleven years of trial, and said the only remedy for the situation lay in the repeal of the legislation and the exercise of state right, or home rule.

Mr. and Mrs. Small arrived in Greenville yesterday morning and while in the city were the guests of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen at her home on Fifth street.

The address was a third of a series which the distinguished lawyer and statesman has delivered in this section of the state. He was heard by large crowds both in Washington and Elizabeth City, and was highly complimented for his scholarly treatment of the subject.

ABANDON PLAN FOR SAILING OLD IRONSIDES

Secretary Navy Says Navy Without Men Capable of Handling Old Frigate

Washington, June 19.—(AP)—A plan to have "Old Ironsides" taken to the sea under canvas again was discarded today because Uncle Sam's Navy has no men that can sail the gallant old frigate that conquered Barbary's pirates.

Answering the appeals of Roosevelt native Sol Bloom of New York and others, assistant navy, Johnnie, said there were several reasons why the rebuilt U. S. S. Constitution would have to go in tow of a tug when she is recommissioned on July 1 at Boston and starts on an exhibition cruise.

"The Constitution, as restored, on" or two that are carried for her, he said, "hasn't any sails except sheer purposes. A full set would cost $6,000 or $7,000.

"Furthermore, I doubt whether you would find any sailors in the navy who would know how to fit and unfurl them. You won't find 'em in the British navy. The only place you would find 'em would be in the merchant ships of Norway and Sweden.

"To teach a crew to handle those sails you would have to take them out and train them for two or three months.

"Even then I don't believe it would be possible to sail the boat up the Potomac river to Washington.

"It would be utterly impossible to comply with the schedule of visits to various cities that has been mapped out for the old vessel. Everything would depend on the wind."

Regarding a suggestion that the crew dress as they did in 1812, Johnnie said smilingly that it would be inviting a mutiny to try to tog out modern sailors in the queer-looking and uncomfortable uniforms of that period.

He added that if the 1931 crew of the Constitution is to look like that of 1812 its members "will have to start right now letting their beards grow."

Wilmington, N. C., June 19.—(AP)—This port city, through its Chamber of Commerce, has initiated efforts to have the renovated Constitution, better known as "Old Ironsides," make a call here on its southern trip this fall.

More Card Playing. Washington, June 19.—(AP)—Card playing is on the increase during these days of unemployment.

At least that is one explanation why the Treasury is getting more revenue from "the pastebards."

During the 11 months of the fiscal year the stamps that go on each pack brought the government $4,533,700, or $30,691 more than during the corresponding period of the year before.

Boat to Remove Snags in River

Washington, N. C., June 18.—Congressman Lindsay Warren was today informed by the chief engineers that a snagboat would commence operations in Tar River near Rocky Mount, not later than July 15. The removal of obstructions in the upper part of Tar River will greatly aid the farmers in Edgecombe and Pitt counties who are menaced by floods after excessive rains.

Jimmy Walker 50 Years Old

New York, June 19.—(AP)—Mayor James J. Walker, whose favorite activity, he says, is answering critics, was 50 years old today, but regarded his birthday as just another day.

The dapper, youthful-looking executive of America's metropolis, whose $40,000 salary makes him only second to the President as the highest paid public official in the United States, said he felt "very fine." "But by the time this is printed I may be worse. You can't tell. It's a fast world."

ON THE RADIO

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD
Associated Press Radio Editor

What would you think of a very man about carrying his own receiving station?

Doesn't sound so practical, even in these days of midget receivers, yet engineers have a vague idea that the time is approaching when they can design equipment that will fit into a clothes pocket.

That has been one of the reactions to investigations of the ultra-short radio waves, down in that ether space where centimeters are used to designate a particular channel rather than meters.

"Optowaves"

All over the world engineers are delving into these mysterious wrigglers of the air that have never been put to work. One of the first things they found is that the waves act a great deal like light, and that they travel about as far as a man can see, 25 miles or thereabouts.

Thus the appellation, "optowaves."

Out at Riverhead and Rocky Point, L. I., the international radio stations of R. C. A. Communications, Inc. research workers are trying to find out all about the miniature waves, and they are operating on 65 centimeters to do so.

Talk to these engineers, and the idea of the walking receiver doesn't seem to be impossible of realization.

Through Your Hat

One can imagine a radio set built for one, with the hat as the space to run the antenna, and with one side of that hat hiding a tiny loud-speaker delivering enough volume for only one ear.

Wires sewn into the clothing would lead from the hat aerial to the radio receiver in a handy pocket, and then back to the loud-speaker. For the whole thing might be placed in the hat and not be too top-heavy.

Basis for this delving into the future is to be found in the apparatus already in use for the 65-centimeter investigations.

Inhibition there was appropriated $3,100,000, the direct appropriation for the fiscal year 1930 amounted to $14,985,744. The above appropriation does not include the amount appropriated for the U. S. Coast Guard Service, or for the building of any coast guard boats, or the amount appropriated for the use of the Customs service in the enforcement of prohibition. The total amounted to about $20,000,000.

"Every intelligent person who is familiar with current events knows that crime has increased in the United States and particularly in the cities and densely populated areas. The best students of criminology have expressed the opinion that the largest factor in the production of criminals, including gangsters and racketeers in the cities, has grown out of the national prohibition law. The profits to be derived from the sale of liquor have been so attractive as to invite the formation of groups and gangs for supplying the demand for intoxicating liquor who have reaped fabulous profits. These lawless acts naturally fed the criminal instincts and produced lawlessness in other lines, notably the so-called gangsters and racketeers. The present disregard for rights of life and property has arrested the attention of intelligent citizens everywhere. Even civic respect and obedience to law upon the part of the average citizen has been impaired by their lack of respect for the Eighteenth Amendment, and their constant violation.

"The Wickersham Commission unanimously agreed that the attempt to enforce national prohibition has been a failure. They attribute the failure to the lack of a strong public sentiment in favor of its enforcement. They emphasize that the law cannot be enforced without the aid of the people. Colonel Woodcock has made a recent statement to the effect that the Federal government, through his bureau would not attempt to prevent violation of the law in the homes of the people nor individual violations represented by speakeasies and places for the sale of liquor, and that such violation would have to be enforced by the state, if enforced at all.

"In this connection it is an impressive fact that six sovereign states of the Union have already repealed their state enforcement laws. This is tantamount to saying that the people of those states have no respect for the Eighteenth Amendment and will not attempt to enforce it through their state governments. These states are Montana, Nevada, Wisconsin, New York, Massachusetts and Illinois. Several of these states have also had state-wide referendum and have voted in favor of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. It is evident that no aid may be expected from these states in the enforcement of any phases of the national prohibition law. If the co-operation of the states is necessary for even a partial enforcement of the liquor laws, why not repeal the Eighteenth Amendment and restore to the states the full responsibility in their exercise of their police powers for the control and regulation of intoxicating liquors?"

Mr. Small submitted, in discussing the remedy of these evils, that the frank and courageous thing for the American people to do was to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment. He agreed that this might take time but after all it was a matter for determination by the public opinion of the country. The same public sentiment that brought about adoption of the amendment could easily be transformed to an adverse sentiment which would result in its repeal by the same manner. There are various plans for modification of the amendment so as to give to each state the right to hold a referendum and take itself out of the regulation of this problem. It is plainly evident, he said that some plan must be evolved which would give to each state the right through its electorate to assume the regulation and control of liquor. It is necessarily a local question. The limit jurisdiction is the state itself. No summary law has ever been enforced or ever will be enforced by the central government. Under such a modification of the Eighteenth Amendment if any state should wish to remain its jurisdiction and have its liquor laws enforced by the central government they would have a right to do so.

And, finally, Mr. Small emphasized that present conditions would not endure and that honest and intelligent citizens must study this issue and endeavor to reach a wise conclusion.

DEVICE COMBINING FILMS AND RADIO FITS IN SUITCASE

New York—(AP)—A suitcase accommodates a combination talking movie machine, radio receiver and public address system.

The compact outfit contains about everything needed to turn the home or even the hotel room into a theatre.

Demonstrated here, it was operated first as a talking movie machine, the cover of the carrying case, which weighs 52 pounds complete, being placed at one side of the room as the screen.

The cover also contained the loud speaker. Sound was supplied by a record.

A couple of switches were turned, and it became a radio set. The aerial was supplied through the light socket that also furnished the power.

Then a microphone was plugged in and the outfit used to address the listeners.

SINGERS NOW OBJECT TO TITLE "CROONER"

New York—(AP)—Most microphone singers object to the appellation of "crooner."

The reason they give is that it is being "too generously applied to any one who vocalizes, or attempts to, in any form departing from the conventional."

Vaughn de Leath, considered one of the pioneers in this type of singing, Rudy Vallee and Lew Conrad, all dislike being referred to as "crooners."

Cotton Comment Issued Today

New York, June 19—(AP)—Commission houses commenting today on the cotton market expressed the opinion that for the time being a "trading market" is likely to continue.

Factors (AM) letters follow:
J. S. Bach & Co.—"The absence of speculative support was traceable to the nearness of notice day for July contracts, with considerable further liquidation expected in that month. With the critical growing period ahead we would not favor pressing the short side."
F. B. Keach & Co.—"The poor tone displayed by both security and commodity markets today is suggestive of further easiness, and in the more immediate future we anticipate that rallies will attract free offerings."

F. B. Keach & Co.—"We think a trading market likely for the time being, with daily fluctuations depending to some extent upon the trend of securities but to a considerably larger degree upon the trader's interpretation of crop accounts. We definitely favor the 'long' side."

Advocate Sharing of Profits With Nation's Workers

New York, June 18—(AP)—The Advertising Federation of America asserted today in a resolution passed at its annual convention that the widest possible distribution among workmen of "an equal share in the profits of production is necessary for business to realize its full development."

The resolution was a modification of a proposal considered by the resolutions committee. The original proposal was to stand flatly against wage reduction.

The modified statement was adopted unanimously at the closing general session of the annual convention, which has devoted much of its attention to causes of and cures for the business depression.

Expounding its views of what might be done without attempting to offer a specific cure-all, the convention asserted that a vital factor is the education of business men to the relinquishment of obsolete ideas and the acceptance of sound leadership.

An Unpleasant Subject

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that cures and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 25 cents per bottle from R. S. Warren, Drugist.

LARGEST ATTENDANCE AT THIRD DAY OF COOKING SCHOOL IN THIS CITY

Mrs. Frances Young Kline, food expert, of the Consumer Service Department of the General Foods Corporation, New York City, drew another large crowd at the cooking school in the high school auditorium yesterday. The school is being conducted under the auspices of the Water and Light Commission and has been conducted each afternoon since Monday. In addition to the attractive menus and dishes prepared, much interest has been shown in the prizes given away each day. The grand prizes given by the merchants, who are cooperating with the cooking school, will be given away this afternoon at the closing session. Included in the daily prizes yesterday were a number of shoulderettes given by the Greenville Floral Company.

Yesterday was American Legion Auxiliary Day and Mrs. Kline was presented by Mrs. D. M. Clark, president of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The program for yesterday was especially interesting and was handled by Mrs. Kline in her own amiable manner. Her subject was hostess luncheon plates and among the tempting dishes prepared and discussed were savory meat loaf, ses dream salad, old Virginia spoon bread, scalloped meat, tart tomato aspic, lightning cake, seven minute frosting and a cup of tea.

Mrs. O. H. Jackson will present Mrs. Kline this afternoon and Mrs. J. O. Edwards, Mrs. J. L. Rollins, Mrs. Charles Tyson, Mrs. Leon Tyson and Mrs. Oscar Speight will assist the ladies. The girls of the 4-H club will act as ushers and assist Mrs. Kline.

The grounds are closed to all until Monday, the opening day. Boys who are not actually working are not allowed on the grounds.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR MISS KING, BRIDE-ELECT

The Woman's Club was never more attractive than on yesterday afternoon when Mrs. W. F. Young very graciously entertained in honor of Miss Virginia King, a popular bride-elect of this month.

Nineteen tables for bridge were placed in a lovely setting of daisies, gladioli, lilies and baby's breath.

Mrs. George F. Hadley and Miss Mary Forbes received the guests at the door. Receiving with the hostesses were Mrs. W. B. Young, Mrs. R. W. King, Miss Virginia King, bride-elect and honor guest, Mrs. T. A. Galbraith of Kinston and Miss Effie Mae Winslow, bride-elect of the late summer.

At the conclusion of the games silk hose were presented Mrs. Graham Flanagan for high score; Miss Clara Moye for second high; Miss Christine Perkins for the visitors, and Miss Effie Mae Winslow, bride-elect.

The wedding march, played by Mrs. L. W. Gaylord, announced the arrival of little Miss Margaret LaRoque of Kinston, as the bride, and Master Richard Gaylord as the groom, who landed in a miniature airplane. The youthful bride wore a wedding gown of white satin with lace veil. The bride and groom were followed by a porter carrying suitcases containing an array of beautiful miscellaneous gifts for Miss King.

Mrs. E. B. Ferguson served frozen fruit salad, beaten biscuits with country ham, olive sandwiches, cheese biscuits, pickles and iced tea.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Donald Kirby of Goldsboro; Mrs. Jack Overman, Miss Louise Dickinson and Miss Elizabeth Moore of Wilson; Miss Mary Smoot of Norfolk, Va.; Miss Christine Stokes, Mrs. Coleman French and Mrs. William French of Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Cecil Cook of Durham; Mrs. Tom Galbraith and Miss Margaret LaRoque of Kinston.

Shower for Bride-Elect

A lovely linen shower, characterized by its simplicity, was given Miss Martha Thigpen, a bride-elect of the month, by Mrs. T. H. Boykin, at her home on Fourth street, Thursday afternoon. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and ivy which formed an effective background for bridge and croquet. After many progressions the hostess presented lovely beads to Misses Mary James Lipscomb and Elizabeth Norman for high scores, dainty handkerchiefs to Misses Margaret Holland and Aldah Little Thigpen for low scores. Mrs. Cleve Hardee, a recent bride, was remembered with a piece of pottery and Miss Thigpen with linen dinner napkins. The guests were then invited into the dining room, beautifully decorated with ivy, feverfew and long white tapers carrying out the color scheme of green and white, where the bride-elect was given a note which read: "Under the shower of bells and flowers a wedding cake waits to be lighted. There will be found in lovely effect many gifts for the bride-elect." The hostess, assisted by Miss Lipscomb served delightful refreshments.

MISS CLARA MOYE HOSTESS AT BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

One of the most attractive pre-nuptial affairs in honor of Miss Virginia King and Miss Effie Mae Winslow, bride-elect of the season, was the bridge luncheon given by Miss Clara Moye Thursday.

The home of Miss Moye, on Evans street, was lovely with quantities of gladioli, roses and other flowers of the early summer.

Mrs. Tom Gorman welcomed the guests and introduced them to the receiving line. In the receiving line were the hostess and her mother, Mrs. Hortense F. Moye, Miss Virginia King, Mrs. R. W. King, Miss Effie Mae Winslow, Mrs. Norman

IT IS A NECESSARY INVESTMENT

Laying aside our belief that it is absolutely essential for our city to purchase the gas plant rather than let the power company have it if we are to protect ourselves against the onerousness of the power companies and ultimate loss of our power plant, it is our desire today to discuss this proposed purchase of the gas plant purely on the basis of a sound investment on the part of our city without a thought of the advantages above mentioned.

A thorough investigation of the holdings of the gas plant here based on present day low material and labor prices reveals an actual physical value of $101,918.20 after deducting $17,421.10 for depreciation or an actual replacement value under today's low prices of $119,340.00. Listing the intangible assets of the plant good will and established business at $29,917.50 (less than the company paid our city for the mains and franchise), we find an actual value today of $131,836.40 after the depreciation has been charged off. The city of Greenville has an opportunity to purchase this gas plant and business for $100,000 or 25 per cent less than the business is actually worth at today's prices.

Now the question is "Can Greenville make money out of the operation of the gas plant?" The answer is that Rocky Mount, Wilson and other neighboring cities owning both gas and electric plants are making a fair return on their gas plants. There is no reason why Greenville cannot do likewise. The following record for the gas plant operation during the past year likewise tends to show that we can at the outset, not only break even on the operation of the plant, but can from the profits of the plant take care of interest on the investment as well as depreciation on the plant. Last year the plant operated as a unit of the Carolina Gas and Electric Company, paying its pro rata part of the overhead of the home office and its own overhead for the operation of the local plant, showed a profit of between four and five hundred dollars. Experts who have given careful study to the operation of the local plant estimate that eight to ten thousand dollars in overhead can be saved by operation of the gas plant by the Water and Light Commission which already has its working organization capable of taking care of the additional duties with but very little increase in expenses. If this be true then the profits from the gas plant should take care of the interest on the bond issue as well as the depreciation on the equipment of the gas plant and members of the water and light department are emphatic in their assertions that the department will be able to take care of the bond interest and sinking fund without an increase in the city tax rate and at the same time without interfering with the help the department is now rendering to the city by paying over to the city a part of its profits to aid in keeping down the city tax rate.

In the face of these facts our city, we believe, would make a great mistake to let the Tidewater Power Company purchase the gas plant to be used if they so desired, to cripple our light and power plant to the extent that in the end we would find ourselves entirely in the hands of the power companies.

What action we take in this matter is entirely up to our citizens who will be given an opportunity on July 14 to vote for or against a bond issue of $100,000 for the purchase of this plant.

The registration books for this special election are now open and we urge you to register now and on July 14 to cast your vote for the issue in the interest of the present and future independence of our city from the clutches of the power monopoly.

ABOUT TOWN

Governor Gardner stressed the importance of harvesting food crops, speaking before a gathering of farmers and business men at Caledonia prison farm yesterday.

"If I were czar of North Carolina," he told his hearers, "I would make it a crime for anyone to permit perishable crops to rot or dry in the fields."

The governor said he was gratified to learn that one million acres of land formerly planted in cotton and tobacco were this year producing feed and food crops.

The governor has stressed the importance of growing more of the things consumed at home for the last two years, expressing belief that this would do more to relieve the economic depression existing among the farmers than any other thing.

Greenville was glad to welcome John H. Small, of Washington, former congressman of this district, who spoke in opposition to the Eighteenth Amendment here last night.

Mr. Small is probably one of the best known men of the district by reason of the services which he rendered the people during his years in congress.

Mr. Small said he was not opposition to temperance, but did oppose the Eighteenth Amendment which he described as complete failure in this country.

He expressed belief that drinking was as widespread today as it was before prohibition became effective, and especially among young women.

Although hard hit by depression, Pitt county is just as great agriculturally as she has ever been and through diligent application of thrift, her people should be able to force to the front again in the next few years.

One of the most important things in connection with the recovery is the growing of things which the people consume each surplus acreage in food and feed crops, the farmers will no longer be victims of a fickle market which has heretofore proved their undoing.

Every grower should make it a point to see that he grows enough foodstuff for the consumption of his family and stock and then plant the remainder of acreage in money crops. If the cash crops sell good he will have that much to his credit, but if on the other hand prices are poor he will be able to live comfortably and carry over to the next season in much better shape than previous years.

The registration books are open for the $100,000 gas plant election and it is the duty of the entire citizenship to register and see that they vote on the proposition.

This is one of the most important questions which the people have submitted to them in recent years, and it should be their desire to see that their sentiment is registered in the matter. Persons unacquainted with the proposition should make it a point to obtain all possible information so that they will know exactly what they are doing when they go to the polls.

The city is of the opinion that the gas plant can be operated to a direct advantage without extra expense to the people and at the same time keep the big power companies from gaining a foothold here.

Registration books will close July 4 and people who have not registered should get busy and do so while they think about it. An entirely new registration has been called and those who do not register will not be able to vote.

The removal of obstructions from the upper part of Tar river will be received with interest of the people of this section in view of the part which this will play in relieving farmers from flood waters.

Congressman Lindsay Warren has announced that a snag boat will begin operation in the Rocky Mount vicinity about July 15, and the removal of obstructions will open up a direct flow of the stream and to some extent prevent the water from overflowing the banks in some of the fertile farming communities.

Crop losses will total several thousands of dollars annually as result of floods in the various sections traversed by the river, and the improvement will represent a saving that should enable the farmers to come out much better at the end of the harvest season.

Anticipating the days of sound and sight programs Bruce Quisenberry, NBC artists service director, signed Miss Sawyer for regular appearances in the San Francisco studio of the network.

Mellon Talks With England Bank Head

London, June 18.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the United States Treasury, today had a long talk with Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, and afterward the two were together at luncheon.

There is a feeling here that the secretary in this informal visit is gathering first hand knowledge of European financial affairs and probably is going into the issue of reparations and war debts. He has consistently declined however, to discuss his meetings with important men of England and has insisted that he is here only for pleasure.

After the luncheon Mr. Mellon went over to the House of Commons for another conference with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Arthur Henderson, the foreign secretary. He spent an hour with them in Mr. MacDonald's office yesterday, later describing the visit as "purely a social call."

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—R. W. Graeber, extension forester at N. C. State College, is recommending that all schools not located in industrial centers use wood instead of coal for heating purposes next fall and winter, so that every possible dollar may be kept within the state.

CARDS GRAB EVERY BREAK TO WIN GAME

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Gabby Street's St. Louis Cardinals have developed an extraordinary faculty for winning ball games with a minimum of effort. Their ability to take advantage of every break, rather than their batting punch, has them three games in front of the National league field today.

For example, the league champions collected only five hits off two Boston pitchers yesterday while their own curving corps was being nicked for eleven, yet they took the Braves into camp, 5 to 4, in opening their latest eastern tour.

After big Ed Brandt had held them helpless for six innings, they bunched a double with three bases on balls and two Boston errors to score four times in the seventh. Then Chick Kaffey came through with a homer in the eighth, and that was the ball game. It marked the fifth straight victory for the Cards since they took a series of lickings from the Braves out west.

The Giants, meantime, continued to win behind great pitching, but they couldn't gain an inch on the flying leaders. Carl Hubbell gave them their sixth successive win at the expense of Pittsburgh Pirates 3 to 1, allowing only six hits and striking out five. But for a pair of infield errors in the first inning the Giant southpaw would have scored a shutout.

The Chicago Cubs lost ground when they could get no better than an even break in two bouts with the Brooklyn Robins. Dazzy Vance, veteran speedballer, was his old self in the first game as he turned back the Hornsby clan, 7 to 5. He struck out 11 of them, every man in the Chicago line-up succumbing at least once. Pat Malone took charge of things in the nightcap, letting the Robins down with five scattered hits and blanking them, 8 to 0. Hack Wilson belted his eleventh homer in the opener and Rogers Hornsby hit No. 9 in the second.

Don Hurst's big bat and the wildness of Cincinnati's pitchers were prime factors in the Phillis' 5 to 4 victory over Col. Dan Howley's pupils. Hurst drove in four runs with a homer and single to tie the score. Four successive walks by three Cincinnati pitchers showed the winning run across in the ninth.

The day's festivities were confined to the National league as the four eastern clubs of the American league traveled west. The A's were scheduled to open today at Chicago, the Washington Senators at Cleveland, the Yankees at St. Louis and the Red Sox at Detroit.

'DIZZY' DEAN TAKES A BRIDE

This happy-looking couple will be known from now on as Mr. and Mrs. Jerome "Dizzy" Dean. The youthful right-handed pitcher who was sent to Houston this year by the St. Louis Cardinals was married to Patricia Nash at Houston. Dean wanted to be married on the baseball field but his bride demurred.

to score but were unable to produce the necessary punch to score. Grimesland made it's first score in the fifth, and two in the seventh. In the ninth with two on and no outs it looked as if the visitors had determined to take home the bacon but Craft tightened and the visitors were forced to hit to the infield for easy outs.

For Winterville's consistent familiarity with the willow and the fielding of Fox, proved to be a great cog in the functioning of the local outfit. H. McLawhorn, catcher, Evans, second base, J. Worthington third and Cox, short played errorless ball and proved their importance at bat and at field. Jones, Oglesby, and Worthington turned a very careful performance in covering their territory in the outfield and at bat.

"Smiling George" without proper support of his team mates gave the best he had including a smile with each ball and proved to be quite popular with the fans.

There was a large crowd out to witness the two games and unusual pep and enthusiasm was manifested by both teams and spectators.

SEVEN HOMERS IN TWO GAMES IN PIEDMONT

By PAUL SIMMONS

Charlotte, June 19.—(AP)—Bunn Hearn, veteran pilot of the Winston-Twins, has seen a lot of baseball service, playing in various positions in sundry leagues. And he still has some good pitching left in the old arm.

Hearn went to the mound last night at Raleigh and held the strong Cap team to six hits. It was a pretty good performance, but it did not quite equal the twirling of Al Yeargin, Cap ace.

Al shaded the Twin skipper, yielding but four hits, and the Caps took the match, 3 to 1.

The Caps swept the two-game series with the twins and picked up a half a game in their chase to overhaul the Charlotte Bees for the ball weather position of the Piedmont flock.

The Hornets dropped Wednesday's game with the Pats at Greensboro, but came back strong in the final innings of last night's fray to down the Kanemen, 7 to 6, and split the series.

Rhinehart blasted a couple of homers for the Bees, while Hudson, one of his mates, and Kunes, a Pat, also hit a circuit clout.

That made a total of seven four-batters for the two-game series.

Both Phil Lundeen and Bill Diester of the Henderson Gamecocks, are handy men with the willow. Their slick work combination is hard to beat. Last night, it won a ball game when Phil tapped out a double with Bill on bases to score the deciding tally in a 5 to 4 decision over High Point at Henderson.

George Whitted, who skips the Durham Bulls, will tell you that you can't keep good men down all the time. To prove his argument, his boys hopped on the Asheville Tourists last night at Durham and handed them a handy 8 to 3 lacing.

This was the third victory of the week for the Ervin's and enabled them to pull up a half a game ahead of the Twins and leave the Winston boys in undisputed possession of the cellar.

SPORTS SLANTS

Whether Jess Harper stays one year or five at the helm of the athletic craft of the University of Notre Dame, he will have the course charted well and thoroughly in advance.

The late Knute Rockne learned from Harper the value of planning for the future. Now that the old guiding hand is back at the wheel, Notre Dame won't have anything to worry about, especially so far as its football slate is concerned, for some time to come.

Harper, losing no time taking hold, already has extended contracts, completed others and in general moved to map Notre Dame's gridiron campaign for the next five years.

Harper feels that the Fighting Irish have been unusually fortunate in the development of conspicuous rivalries with Carnegie, Southern California, Army and Navy. Pennsylvania and Northwestern furnish two other high-spot games in the current scheme of affairs.

All of which, Harper recalls, is a far cry from his early days at South Bend. It was difficult to schedule any outstanding foes then. When Notre Dame sought intercollegiate contests, the Big Ten was critical of the policy and shunned the Irish for the most part only to discover its advantages later on.

Armour a Swell Guy

The Tam O'Shanter Club of Detroit, where Tommy Armour holds the professional job, is considered the wealthiest "stag" golf club in the world. Prominent among its members are the Fisher brothers, the auto body builders, Lawrence Fisher is president. Among them, Armour is an intimate as well as a teacher of father and son.

Tommy hasn't had much ballyhoo for it, but he is credited with doing much to help the younger professionals, at least two of whom around the Detroit area have been helped by Armour to obtain lucrative jobs. They tell of one instance where Armour lost a Michigan state tournament because he spent so much time instructing his lesser-known opponents.

WINTERVILLE WINS 2 GAMES

Winterville, June 17.—The Winterville "Sea Hawks" playing a strong offensive and defensive brand of ball defeated Dover 8 to 0, and Grimesland 5 to 3 today.

The first game opened with Winterville taking the lead and never being threatened to be overtaken. Dover had several men to die on third but failed to hit when his meant runs. Conley pitching for the locals pitched a good game of ball and was given fine support and had no difficulties in going the route. Fox local firstbaseman, lead the attack with three hits out of four times at bat. The whole team hit the ball and covered their territory in grand style.

Dover's team made up of a young aggregation showed that they were a scrappy bunch of ball players, however made errors that proved to be costly and their weakness with the willow caused them to go down in defeat before the local outfit.

The second game opened with Grimesland and the locals faced a much stronger and experienced aggregation than the former team had shown. Johnny Ray, Craft and "Smiling George" Galloway hooked up in a great pitching battle with Craft edging victory over his opponent.

Winterville got out to an early lead scoring one in the first on Cox's walk and Evans double. The locals made several other threats

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, June 19.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 3 points higher in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables.

Offerings were light while there was some trade buying and covering after the decline of yesterday which sent price about 4 to 6 points net higher by the end of the first half hour with July selling at 8.51 and December at 9.15. A little more rain would have been considered desirable in some parts of the south but the weather map on the whole was considered favorable and the heaviness of the stock market may have had a tendency to restrict buying, but there were comparatively few selling orders in evidence during the early trading on the bourse.

Liverpool cables said that liquidation and some selling on favorable weather reports had been absorbed by trade calling. Egyptian futures in Alexandria closed 5 to 14 points lower and the Indian spot quotation in Liverpool was 8 points lower.

Trading was quiet later in the morning, but offerings were comparatively light and the market worked gradually upward on some further trade buying and covering July advanced to 8.55 and December to 9.17 with the midday market steady around these quotations, or about 7 to 8 points net higher.

Futures closed steady 22 to 26 points higher. Spot steady, middling 8.85.

STOCK MARKET

New York, June 19.—(AP)—The stock market continued to give ground today, under the persistent of light sprinkle of selling which has been in progress most of the week.

Isolated strength in the oils, the New York traction and a few specialties tended to sustain the list during the morning, but offerings increased after midday, and heaviness became the dominant tone.

Rails again were conspicuously soft, with losses of 2 to 4 points or more appearing in Atchison, Union Pacific, New York Central, New Haven, Delaware and Hudson, Cotton Belt preferred and Baltimore and Ohio. Food shares also encountered considerable selling. National Biscuit losing 3. There were numerous recessions of a point or so among prominent industrial and utilities including U. S. Steel and American Telephone. The advance in the oils was led by a 2-point upturn in Standard of California. Smaller advances in this group were numerous, but Royal Dutch caud.

The improved action of the oil issues primarily reflected Standard of California's increase of 5 1-2 cents a gallon in the price of gas at San Francisco, and the doubling, making the price 13 1-2 cents per gallon of its buying price for crude oil, making the price 40 cents a barrel. This was interpreted as indicating the end of a price cutting war which had completely demoralized the petroleum industry in California.

Over the country at large, petroleum prices are still unprofitable in the main.

Statistical surveys of business activity in May, now making their appearance, are somewhat discouraging, indicating a somewhat larger than seasonal contraction, but a reasonably good season for crops is widely expected to hold the key to important seasonal recovery in general business in the autumn, and current terop indications are in the main favorable.
