World Stock Market Rises In The Face Of War Debt Holiday

Sensational Rises Reported on Exchanges In New York, Berlin London and Paris; Other Corners of the World Also Reflect Considerable Buoyancy Following Hoover's Proposal For Suspension of Debts For one Year; World Capitals Buzz Politically as Government Begin Consideration Of Proposal.

President Hoover's proposal for a year's suspension of war debts and reparations payments was reflected in a strong upswing on the stock markets of the world today. In New York prices surged up 2 to 15 points.

The Berlin Bourse responded with boom on all markets, leading shares going up as much as 30 points, while there was not a minus sign on the whole list when the market closed.

London showed similar activity, stocks going up four to nine points while the Liverpool cotton market opened sensationally 34 points higher later advancing to 41 points increase. Copper and tin spurted strongly.

Paris also showed a gain, the Bourse, recovering in considerable breadth and prices in some instances advancing 10 per cent with a very firm closing.

Other corners of the world also reflected buoyancy, in Shanghai bar silver improving nearly 10 per cent; stocks rallying in Tokyo while cotton improved on the Bombay market.

There was a general upward movement on the Rome stock exchange.

While the world's markets swung upward on news of the president's initiative, world capitals buzzed politically as the various governments began consideration of the part they must play in any acceptance of the president's proposal.

Paris apparently held the key to the situation and it was understood that the cabinet will consider it tomorrow. The premier and minister of finance conferred today.

While the French government thus far has declined any comment, the point most likely on which the French decision will hinge is on France's willingness or unwillingness to permit suspension of that part of German reparations paying for devastation in France during the war.

London has reacted with much approval to the Hoover proposals. Prime Minister MacDonald spoke on the subject this afternoon.

Steamship Surgeon To Testify In Murder Case

Hurt In Boat Race

Loretta Turnbull, Citrus college, California speed boat racer, suffered a dislocated left hip and other injuries when she was thrown from her boat in the intercollegiate outdoor regatta at Skaneateles, N. Y.

Dr. F. Jasemon Carr Reaches New York From England, to Reveal Three Letters Which He Received From Starr Faithfull Before Her Mysterious Death.

New York, June 22.—(AP)—Three letters from the late Starr Faithfull to Dr. G. Jameson Carr, surgeon of the Cunard liner Franconia, commanded attention today from Nassau County officials investigating the beauty's mysterious death.

As a voluntary witness with what he considers vital information, Dr. Carr has come from England with the letters. He arrived at Boston yesterday on the steamship Laconia and continued on the same boat to New York. He said he would not reveal the letters before submitting them to the authorities. One excerpt, as published, had the girl predicting her death.

Inspector Harold King, chief of Nassau detectives, today gave out a letter written by Miss Faithfull to Dr. Carr on June 2 on Hotel Pennsylvania stationery. How King obtained the letter was unexplained. It follows:

"Dear Dr. Carr: "I want to apologize and tell you how deeply I regret my conduct on the Franconia last Friday. I have come down hoping to renew our acquaintance, but instead I only made a fool of myself, and that was very disagreeable for you. "I had brought some drinks on the boat with me and drank them too fast. I became intensely irrational when I drink and I want you how deeply sorry I am for the embarrassment I must have caused you.

"Very sincerely yours, "STARR FAITHFULL."

Miss Faithfull visited the Franconia May 29 and was taken off intoxicated after the liner left her pier. Her body was washed ashore at Long Beach, Long Island on June 7. She was reported missing June 5.

Dr. Carr is expected to be a witness when the grand jury resumes investigation of the mystery at Mineola tomorrow. County authorities arranged a conference with him on his arrival from Boston this afternoon.

"I wouldn't waste my well earned leave if I did not feel I could aid the grand jury and help clear up the 72 hours before Starr Faithfull's death," he said.

The doctor explained he first met the girl in 1927 when she was a passenger on the steamship Aurania on a cruise from Montreal to New York.

He treated her professionally three times and had seen her on several other occasions. He described her as beautiful, intelligent and alert, of mind.

Farmer Held For Slaying

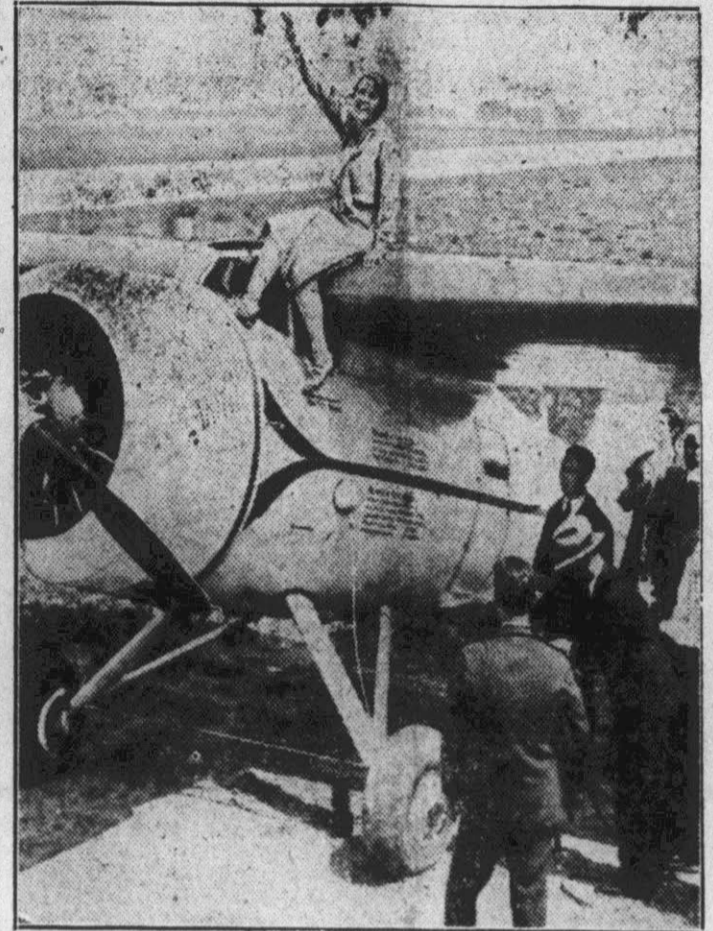

Asheville, June 22.—(AP)—His three-year-old daughter's story of her mother's death today furnished the basis of a murder charge against Roosevelt Roberts, 29, a Madison county farmer.

Roberts shot and killed his 22-year-old wife two weeks ago. He said he mistook her for an intruder in their home and fired thinking he was defending her from a burglar.

The child, however, said her father killed her mother after knocking her down with a chair. Confronted with the child's story, Roberts yesterday confessed and told a new version of his wife's death.

He said he accused her of infidelity and a violent quarrel ensued during which he pointed the gun at her to frighten her. Then, he said it discharged accidentally, she

STOCK PRICES SOAR UPWARD

Security and Commodity Prices Make Spectacular Gain on Exchange

New York, June 22.—(AP)—Security and commodity prices soared at the opening of the markets today in response to President Hoover's weekend proposals for a moratorium on debt payments and reparations. Advances of $2 to $15 in stocks were numerous, while cotton climbed $2.50 to $3 a bale here.

On the New York stock exchange opening transactions in favorite shares ran as high as 20,000 shares. Auburn auto showed the largest initial advance, $15. Air Reduction skyrocketed $9. A 20,000 share block of U. S. Steel changed hands at $94.75, up $2.

Some of the largest opening blocks were: 20,000 shares of General Motors up 2; 10,000 General Electric up $1.75; 10,000 Bethlehem Steel up $4; 19,000 International Telephone up 2.25; 10,000 Radio up $1.50; 15,000 United Corporation up $1; 10,000 International Nickel, up $2; Consolidated Gas, up $1.75.

HEAT ABATES IN THE EAST

First Day of Summer Finds Cooling Breezes Along Seaboard; Several Deaths.

New York, June 22.—(AP)—Summer got underway today, cooler and breezier, and the eastern seaboard got its first respite from the three day heat wave, which had sent the thermometer soaring to new records.

New York had three deaths and eight prostrations attributed to the heat wave. There were ten deaths due to drowning.

Coney Island received 700,000 visitors yesterday and police headquarters reported there were about 300 lost children, all of whom were reclaimed by anxious parents later at night. Mayor Walker had thrown open the city parks to the public during the hot spell, and thousands availed themselves while extra police guarded them during their slumber.

Chicago, June 22.—(AP)—Summer in its birthday caprice, slid down the thermometer today.

Over-Sunday showers and breezes cooled off most of America, choking the heat wave that was Spring's dying gasp.

From New England to California temperatures were moderate.

The midwest, stared by a wetter that burned out more than a score of lives was succored by rains and Great Lakes winds.

In Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas the heat still ruled but cooler temperatures held sway to the west.

Beneficial rains brought a respite to Montana. It rained in Denver and sent the mercury downward. Washington and Oregon were visited by showers blown down from Alaska.

In New York and other eastern states, the weather changed its mind after reaching the nineties and scampered back into the low eighties.

But Maryland and parts of the South still sweltered.

Summer's official entry was a weatherman's freak.

Washington, June 22.—(AP)—Two persons were dead in the capital's heat wave today as other residents awaited the official arrival of summer without hope of much relief.

Over the week-end, Benjamin O. Betz, 45, shipping board employe, succumbed while playing golf on the East Potomac Park course. The second fatality was Daniel Thompson, 52, negro, who died while at work in a downtown lunch room.

Entire Waterfront Reduced To Ashes By Conflagration

Await French Action On War Debt Holiday

Washington, June 22.—(AP)—Upon France's response, more than any other one thing, rests the future of America's offer for a one-year holiday from war debt and reparations payments.

Great Britain is sympathetic toward the plan; Germany is appreciative; Republican and Democratic leaders forecast that the next American Congress will pass the necessary legislation; world-wide reaction, for the most part, is favorable. So, diplomatic circles in Washington believe, responsibility for the next step is with France.

President Hoover has reason to think the French attitude will be favorable.

ACCUSES MAN OF SLAYING

Automobile Driver Declares Harry Stein Killed Vivian Gordon to Pay Debt

New York, June 22.—(AP)—Harry Schlitten, self-confessed driver of the automobile in which Vivian Gordon met her death today accused Harry Stein of strangling the Broadway night club habitués to repay a man to whom he was indebted.

Schlitten made the accusation testifying as a states witness in the murder trial of Stein and Samuel Greenberg before Justice Albert Cohn and a jury in the Bronx Supreme court.

Schlitten gave a graphic description of the killing. He said Stein asked him to get the car, saying "If I don't put a certain party out of the way, a friend of mine is going to end up in jail." On the day following the killing February 25, Schlitten testified that he gained a further clue to the identity of the man when Stein came into the Sixth Avenue tea house where the witness was employed and gave him $212.

"I was looking in the paper and I said 'there's your friend Chowderhead,' Schlitten testified he told Stein. "Then I opened to the picture of Radeloff and said 'who's 'there's the party we done it for, Radeloff. I owe him $1,500. He defended me in a case."

Radeloff was not further identified by the witness.

John A. Radeloff, Brooklyn attorney, was mentioned in Miss Gordon's diary, but Schlitten gave no indication he was the man Stein referred to.

In describing the slaying, Schlitten said he and Greenberg picked up Stein and the Gordon woman in the Bronx. As he drove off he said he heard sounds of a struggle.

"I heard an awful ghastly sound like a screech or a cackle then I heard Stein say 'she's finished now, I turned around and saw Stein and Greenberg on their knees tying a rope around her neck."

Then he said they drove to a deserted spot in the Bronx and Stein and Greenberg got out took Miss Gordon by the feet and shoulders and put the body in a ditch by the side of the road.

One Killed In Fighting Around Pennsylvania Mine

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 22.—(AP)—One man was killed and seven others injured in a battle early today between deputies and crowds of workers picketing of the Wildwood mine near here on the Butler Consolidated Coal Company.

About 100 shots were exchanged between the ten deputies and a crowd of about 250 men and women who marched on the mine in defiance of the court order secured a week ago.

The dead man was a striker among the injured was one of the mine guards, William Z. Foster, was reported to have led the marchers.

E. T. ROLLINS PASSES AWAY

Owner of Herald and Sun Succumbs to Sudden Heart Attack in Durham

Durham, June 22.—(AP)—Edward T. Rollins, 67, owner and publisher of the Durham Herald and Durham Sun, died in his sleep at his home here early today.

A heart attack was assigned as the direct cause of Mr. Rollins' death which was entirely unexpected.

Although his health had not been good since a paralytic stroke four years ago, he did not complain of feeling ill until late last night when he was treated for an attack of indigestion. However, he seemed much relieved when he retired.

Funeral services are to be held from the home at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Interment will follow in Maplewood cemetery.

A pioneer in the North Carolina newspaper field, Mr. Rollins became known as one of the most successful publishers in the entire south.

For thirty years he published the Morning Herald, building it into one of the most successful newspapers in the state. During a large part of that time he was associated with the late Joe King, whose skill as an editorial writer was widely known.

In August 1929, Mr. Rollins purchased the Durham Sun, the evening newspaper, from the Page interests, continuing its publication as a separate daily, but combining the Sunday editions of the Sun and Herald.

Practically Whole Harbor Facilities at West St. John Wiped Out; Several Warehouses, Grain Elevator, Seven Sheds, Canadian Pacific Baggage Depot And Many Wharves Also Destroyed; Canadian Pacific Liner Empress Reported Afire; Government Immigration Buildings Believed Safe.

St. John, N. B., June 22.—(AP)—A fire of conflagration proportions swept the west St. John waterfront today, causing damage which officials feared would mount into millions. Practically the whole harbor commission facilities at West St. John were wiped out. Several warehouses and a grain elevator were destroyed.

An unconfirmed report at West St. John said the Canadian Pacific Steamship Empress was ablaze. Estimates of the damage by those at the scene ranged as high as $10,000,000 but there was no immediate opportunity of checking these.

The government immigration buildings stood in the way of the onrushing flames, but the wind was blowing away from the upper town and it was believed safe.

The fire consumed seven sheds, an old wooden elevator and the Canadian Pacific baggage shed as well as many of the wharves.

The Canadian Pacific Railroad grain elevator at Sand Point was caught by the flames and was being destroyed.

A newer concrete one, also owned by the C. P. A. is in danger.

The fire was first discovered late in the forenoon burning on the wharf of number 7 shed. A strong wind drove it quickly over a wide area of the shipping district. So rapid was its progress, that in half an hour much of the harbor facilities were in its grip.

An old wooden grain elevator burst into sudden flames like a bonfire.

Acts of heroism went almost unnoticed as firemen and volunteers fought bravely to stem the red tide. Fifty tons of oil were reported aboard the blazing S. S. Empress, but firefighters worked at the grain conveyors nearby until ordered to retire to save their lives.

The new C. P. R. elevator crumbled gradually and at 1 p. m. was a smoking ruin. Shopkeepers frantically carted away goods from shops near the waterfront.

Queen, St. John and Union streets were crowded with furniture hastily removed from homes. Men worked on the roofs of their houses with waterpails quenching flying sparks.

West side fishermen dropped huge stones into their small craft to sink them before the flames could reach them, but thousands of dollars worth of fishing nets, were destroyed.

A new motorized fire pump, tearing madly to the blaze, crashed through a weakened floor of a shed. The driver, and a fireman were seriously burned before they could be extricated.

Dynamic blasts under conveyors added to the confusion as firemen took this method of stemming the conflagration.

ABOUT TOWN

The opening of the Westbrook swimming pool as a part of the program for supervised recreation for children of the city during the summer months was received with gladness here today.

From now on during the remainder of the hot weather the kiddies will be able to swim under the supervision of life saving experts, and this should relieve the parents of all worry and suspense during the recreation period.

The golf course at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets was thrown open last Saturday and will be one of the big features of the entertainment program for the youngsters.

The two projects were made possible by a committee of business and professional men who realizing the need of supervised recreation during the summer provided for the operation during the first month and then asked the citizens to contribute to the upkeep of the program during the remainder of the season.

It is impossible to estimate the good which the children will derive from the movement. They will not only be kept off the streets and out of reach of decadent influences, but will be given an opportunity to develop their tiny bodies into strong, vigorous mediums for the strenuous years ahead of them.

The business men who made the playgrounds possible deserve the deepest appreciation of fathers and mothers of the city and should receive the co-operation of those who fully realize what this recreation program will mean to the young people.

City authorities should endeavor to put a stop to little children begging in the business and residential sections of the city.

It is a condition that has attracted the attention of the citizenship over a period of several weeks, but somehow nothing has been done to bring it to an end.

If these children were actually in need there is no question but that they would be amply provided for through charitable organizations. But in most instances they put out their tiny hands for alms simply to obtain money to go to shows, to buy candies and drinks, and in some instances to provide luxuries and intoxicating liquor for depraved parents.

That the children are not in actual want has been determined in several instances by citizens interested in humanitarian endeavor, and this being the case it is nothing but right that the people should stop giving to them to discourage public begging. In a few years the youngsters will be converted into professional beggars, and the remainder of their lives will be devoted to the business of obtaining their livelihood from sources other than their own effort. Begging converts children into human parasites, who will forever remain a burden on the public—an obstacle in the path of achievement of civilization.

Voters should bear in mind the paramount importance of registering for the election to determine whether or not Greenville is going to buy the local gas plant recently sold to the Tidewater Power Company by the Carolina Gas & Electric Company.

Three hundred or more persons registered during the first week the books were open and it was believed the number would increase during the remaining two weeks. In fact the final week is expected to see just about twice as many names put on the books as the first week.

The registration books will close July 3 and the election is to be held July 14. Persons who do not register will not be allowed the privilege of voting, or giving public expression to their sentiment in the proposition.

It is unnecessary to stress what the proposed purchase of the gas plant means to the people of Greenville. Everybody knows the dangers centering around the coming of a big power company, and those who fully appreciate the menace will most certainly cast their vote in favor of the purchase of the plant.

In addition to being a good buy at the price of $100,000, the plant would open up a new source of revenue for the city, probably enabling the Water and Light Commission to retire the bonds necessary for the purchase just as they retired those in connection with the constant growth of the water and light plant.

Municipal ownership of gas plants in Wilson and Rocky Mount, it has been shown conclusively, has been very successful and these two cities enjoy rates far below those paid by Greenville at this time. Users of electricity here pay a lower rate than the majority of towns in the state and this is because the municipally-owned plant here is giving the citizenship the advantage of the profits netted each year. This has been done in face of improvements which make the local plant one of the most valuable in this section of the country.

The protection of the water and light plant is the object of proponents of the bond issue, and they are attempting to fully inform the people of the facts involved so they will know exactly how to vote when they go to the polls.

Ernest Bloch, the great composer, wrote the Hebrew rhapsody "Schelomo" for cello and orchestra, especially for him. In this connection Mr. Bloch wrote: "When I heard him play I understood that his cello voice, the deepest, the most passionate, the most living, I know was the only way to express my thoughts better than limited words, so I wrote 'Schelomo.'"

Offices of the Merchants Association have been moved across Evans street into the building formerly occupied by the Greenville Refrigerator Company.

An assembly room is located in the rear of the business offices and here various committees will meet for discussion of business from time to time.

Printing House Officials Indicted With Capone Gang

Chicago, June 22.—(AP)—One of the 68 beer peddlers, truck drivers and aides indicted with Alphonse Capone ten days ago for liquor law violations was George A. Howlett.

Today's Herald and Examiner said internal revenue department operatives, in gathering the Capone evidence, had learned Howlett lived in a $100,000 residence in the Long Beach Ind., summer colony and was known as the millionaire official of a Chicago printing concern.

Howlett, the newspaper said, entertained at the Long Beach County Country club and was a lavish host at his mansion.

The revenue operatives placed Howlett near the top of the Capone organization. They said such "big shots" as Joe Fusco and Jack Delaney took orders from Howlett in the beer distribution.

The newspaper said A. P. Madden, chief of the intelligence unit of the revenue department, had been investigating Howlett's income for several years. In 1929, the revenue operatives said, Howlett lived in a northside Chicago hotel and belonged to a North Shore country club.

Robert E. Neely, acting internal revenue collector, the newspaper said, had disclosed the government had levied a tax of $52,000 against Howlett's income. The name of the printing concern with which the indicted Capone aid is connected, was withheld.

None of the others indicted with "Scarface Al" have been arraigned. Some including Howlett, have not been apprehended.

The newspaper said Howlett, then known as "Hollis," was indicted in Indianapolis with George Remus and 38 others in the Jack Daniels distillery case.

AFTER SPLIT SEASON FOR PIEDMONT

Charlotte, June 22.—(AP)—Talk around the Piedmont league today was of rumors the circuit may have a split season.

While nothing official was forthcoming, the reports had it that five of the clubs, Durham, High Point, Winston-Salem, Henderson and Asheville want to stop the present race July 4 and begin again with the first and second half winners to play a series for the title.

These same reports said a meeting of the league directors to consider the proposal would be held this week.

If the season is split nothing short of a sharp reversal of form can keep the Charlotte Hornets from winning the first half.

The Bees now hold a lead of three and one-half games on Raleigh and have shown no signs of letting up on their fast pace. The Caps could hardly overtake them in the 11 games between now and Independence day.

The Hornets picked up a full game on the Caps last week in winning six of seven games. Both the two games Raleigh lost in seven starts were to Charlotte.

Heavy clouting showed the way for the Bees. They pounded out 88 hits, an average of 124.7 per game, and scored 67 times.

High Point, although winning only two games and losing 5, ranked just back of Charlotte in hitting. The Pointers racked up 84 safe hits, but could make them good for only 41 runs while 65 were scored against them.

Dan Boone's club has been hard hit by injuries. Attempting to strengthen it, he acquired Bailey Tipton, veteran catcher, and Jay Smith, outfielder over the week-end. Tipton formerly was with Montgomery in the Southeastern league. Smith was secured from Winston-Salem. Walter Hunter, catcher, was released when Tipton was signed.

Cox, Bryant and Holt, infielders who have been on the sick list, are expected to get back into the game this week.

The Pointers' poor showing for the week put them in a tie with Durham in the cellar position of the league standing. The Bulls won three games last week and lost four as did Asheville and Greensboro. Henderson took four of seven while Winston-Salem lost five and won two.

WES FERRELL TURNS BACK THE SENATORS

Wesley Ferrell, big right handed mound ace of the Cleveland Indians, not only is winning his share of games on the hill, but he is batting well above the 300 mark and often hitting 'em when they count.

Yesterday he not only held the mighty Washington Senators to seven hits in a duel with Alvin Crowder but he won the game with a home run, his fourth of the season. Ferrell hit for the circuit in the seventh inning, breaking a 1-1 tie. In the next frame Morgan hit another homer to make the final score 3-1.

Wesley's brother, Rick, who catches for the St. Louis Browns, also hit a homer yesterday to assume one of the featured roles in another surprising baseball tale.

His four bagger aided the Browns in winning their second victory of the day over the Yankees.

St. Louis took the first game 9-7 despite Babe Ruth's 13th homer, Lou Gehrig's 14th and one by Lazzeri to break a nine game losing streak, then they continued their clouting to win the second 8-2.

The defeat of Washington and the Yanks put the Philadelphia Athletics in a safer place than they have held for the past few days. The A's won their fifth straight game, nosing out Chicago 6 to 5, and increasing their lead to four games. Boston won the other American league clash, beating Detroit 7-6 by means of Earl Webb's homer in the seventh inning.

Among the National league leaders the situation also became tense as St. Louis improved its position with an even break in a double header with the Boston Braves. Frankhouse and Brandt stopped the Cards with five hits to win the first game 6-2. They got the same number of blows off Socks Seibold, but young Pepper Martin came through with a homer behind Grimes' equally good hurling and St. Louis won the second 1-0.

With a chance to register a gain, the New York Giants lost a half game when their defense fell apart in the eleventh inning of a battle with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Two errors in the eleventh enabled the Pirates to overcome the effects of Grantham's four misplays earlier in the game and win 5-4. Philadelphia kept on even terms in its private race with Pittsburgh for sixth place by beating Cincinnati 7 to 1. The Phils piled up 20 hits while Frank Watt held the Reds to five.

Brooklyn continued its stern chase of the leaders by beating the Chicago Cubs 7 to 6. Babe Phelps weakened in the ninth inning and gave the Cubs three runs and a tie before Dazzy Vance came to his rescue. Then the Robins came through with the winning run in their half of the ninth and handed the Dazzler his fifth straight victory.

Shelby, N. C.—(AP)—Hardsurfacing of state highway No. 190 from Shelby through Polkville and Gilden Valley to Marion is being urged by the local Kiwanis club.

Man Joins Church And Confesses To Murder in Florid

Marydel, Del., June 22.—(AP)—A conscious stricken man—who for 17 years had been a fugitive from justice, had risen to become a civic leader and ardent church worker, is serving a term for murder in Florida today.

Last week he gave himself up to officials of that state after conferring here with three ministers. Benjamin Franklin, fugitive for 17 years, would probably be free today if he hadn't dropped into a church revival last August. He joined the church.

And that's when he really started his trip to the Florida prison. After that he lived over many times the day when, as the leading druggist of Blountville, Fla., and as president of the Blountville city council he went out with the sheriff to assist in catching a suspected negro attacker. He caught the negro. And he killed him.

He lived over and over again the days of his trial which ended with a conviction and prison sentence.

He appealed the case and while it was pending he escaped. He wandered over the nation until seven years ago when he came to Marydel.

A month ago he told his story to three ministers in Marydel. They advised him to go back to prison and wrote Governor Burk who in turn notified Governor Carlton of Florida. Marydel learned yesterday that Franklin's "vacation trip" was to give himself up to go to prison. They are launching a move to try and gain a pardon for him so he can come back and take charge of his filling station "the largest in town"—so he can enjoy the $19,000 he saved.

WOOTEN CLAN HAS REUNION

Two Hundred and Fifty Members of Family Hold Annual Meeting Here.

Two hundred and fifty members of the clan of Wooten gathered at the country club in Greenville Friday for their sixth annual reunion. The members of this family eagerly look forward to this yearly gathering as a time for renewing friendships and relationships and for discovering hitherto unknown relatives. Representatives were here from all parts of North Carolina from South Carolina and Virginia and kinmen from Louisiana and Mississippi sent regrets at being unable to attend.

The meeting was called to order by the president, J. L. Wooten of Greenville and minutes of the last yearly meeting which was held in Raleigh were read by Mrs. Annie Wooten McAuley of Acme. An outstanding feature of the morning session was the musical program which was in charge of Mrs. Loyd K. Wooten soprano, of Kinston. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Farrabow, pianist, Mrs. Brickhouse, contralto and Mr. Robert Rhodes, violinist, all of Kinston and Miss Julia Daniel pianist, of Wilson. A rising vote of thanks was given these musicians for their entertainment.

One of the newer members of the family, Rev. Glenn Barden of the Belgian Congo who became a member through his marriage to one of the clan, was the principal speaker of the morning. He delighted his hearers by taking them on an imaginary trip from New York to the mission fields of Africa. Needless to say, when he had finished we all wished that we might make this imaginary trip a real one. The children were thrilled over the skin of an enormous snake killed near the mission station. They were interested too, in seeing samples of writing and arithmetic done by the little African children. Their work compared very favorably with that done by any American child.

After the appointment of a nominating committee the meeting adjourned to the yard for lunch and such a lunch as it was! One of the characteristics of the Wooten family is that they all like good food and they certainly had it that day. From the looks of the men and women there, they seem to have it all the time. The lunch hour was a time for talking, for tracing relationship and for a general good time.

The afternoon session was given over to the historical side of the family. Plans were made for the erection of a monument at the grave of Ensign Shadrach Wooten of Revolutionary fame. He is buried at the West Spring church in Columbus county and the plans are to hold the 1932 reunion there when the monument will be unveiled.

Hon. J. Y. Joyner of Raleigh, chairman of the nominating committee, gave the following report which was unanimously accepted.

E. C. Wooten of Norfolk, Va., president; W. S. Wooten of Tarboro, vice-president; Julian Wooten of Stantonburg, treasurer; Mrs. Annie Wooten McAuley of Acme, secretary.

The place of next year's meeting will be Silver Lake, Wilson.

It was a happy day for everybody who was privileged to be there and we hope that an even larger number may attend next year.—Reported.

Arno Expected To File Divorce Suite

Reno, Nev., June 22.—(AP)—Peter Arno, New York cartoonist who has figured in the Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. divorce case, was expected to hold the center of the Vanderbilt is held in abeyance.

Attorneys said Arno, having completed the six weeks residents required by law, probably would file suit for divorce from Lois Long Arno, a writer.

That Mrs. Arno will contest the action brought by her husband is expected, it having been reliably reported that she will file a cross complaint and that Arno will consent that the decree be granted to her. Mrs. Arno would not be required to be present in court.

William Woodburn, counsel for Mrs. Vanderbilt, has announced that "legal steps" will be taken tomorrow to combat the divorce action begun by her husband on grounds of extreme cruelty. Waller would not say just what action was contemplated, the usual procedure is to file a cross complaint and ask for a bill of particulars.

Vanderbilt filed suit for divorce last Friday after he and Mrs. Vanderbilt had quarreled over attentions he charged Arno was paying her.

Vanderbilt himself said that he had driven Arno from his house early Monday and that he would have shot the cartoonist had he not realized the seriousness of the situation.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, June 22.—(AP)—Cotton opened firm today, 48 to 53 points higher on active general buying which was stimulated by the firmness abroad and the favorable construction of the Washington proposals for a year's moratorium in the payment of reparations.

The demand sent prices up to 9.45 for July and 10.06 for December, making an advance of about $6.50 per bale from the low record price touched early in the month which attracted a good deal of realizing. There may also have been some selling on a belief that the advance was over-rapid in view of favorable weather conditions in the South. This was reflected by reactions once the first rush of excited buying had subsided, but the demand continued in sufficient volume to give the market a steady undertone at the end of the first half hour when the active months showed net gains of 35 to 38 points. Liverpool cables reported extensive covering and widespread buying on the reparations news. The market for Egyptian futures in Alexandria was 66 to 169 points higher and sharp advances were reported in the continental markets.

STOCK MARKET

By CLAUD A. JAGGER

(Associated Press Financial Editor)
 New York, June 22.—(AP)—Although Wall Street may have its Shylocks, President Hoover's decision that Uncle Sam shall be a patient and forbearing creditor was celebrated with demonstrations of joyful bullishness in the securities markets today.

Although Saturday's upswing in share prices had been so violent as to cause some misgivings in brokerage circles, the announcement of a definite proposition to declare a one-year holiday on war debt payments after the close of that session brought a further violent extension of the advances today. The upturn was checked by waves of profit-taking and hang-over liquidation occasionally, but trading slackened when the advance faltered.

The market was swamped with buying orders at the opening, shooting up 2 to 15 points, as 1,000,000 shares were traded in the first half hour. The list stood off considerably during the morning, but pushed back to around its best levels after midday, several prominent issues got up 4 to 8 points, including U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Can, International Harvester, Bethlehem Du Pont, Eastman and Union Pacific.

Auburn pushed up 15, but failed to hold all of its gain. International Telephone, which has a large stake in Europe, gained more than 3.

This dramatic upturn in share values comes at a time when heavy industries are lapsing into mid-summer sluggishness, when second quarter earnings statements are about to make their appearance, are expected to cause many disappointments, and on the eve of several important dividend meetings, over which Wall Street is none too hopeful.

Brokers were inclined to attribute the upswing more to a panicky retreat of die-hard bears than to any general rush to accumulate stocks, but several commission houses reported the best public buying in some time, and many brokers expressed the belief that any secondary reaction would leave the low levels of early June inviolate.

The President said: "Subject to confirmation by Congress, the American government will postpone all payments upon the debts of foreign governments to the American government payable during the fiscal year beginning July 1 next, conditional on a like postponement for one year of all payments on intergovernmental debts owing the importance creditor nations."

 The President said his course of action was "entirely consistent with the policy which we have hitherto pursued."
 "We are not involved in the discussion of strictly European problems, of which the payment of German reparations is one," he said. "It represents our willingness to make a contribution to the early restoration of world prosperity in which our own people have so deep an interest."
 A moratorium on all debts would cost the United States about $245,000,000 during the year, and France in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. Germany's payment ordinarily would amount to about $425,000,000.
 In studying his plan to aid economic recovery by helping distressed Germany, President Hoover sought detailed information, as to conditions in that country. Declining to rely upon available information, he went directly to President Von Hindenburg. The reply was considered confidential.

Prince of Wales Nears Birthday And Still Single

London, June 22.—(AP)—The Prince of Wales will be 37 years old tomorrow—and still a bachelor. Britain seems to have accepted the situation as his final decision, for there isn't even the usual crop of rumors buzzing about his blond head.
 For one thing, much of the affection which set old ladies to gossiping over their tea-cups and maidens a-sighing, has been transferred from the prince of little Princess Elizabeth.
 For another, Wales has changed in this last year from something of a playboy prince whose main job was to inherit the British throne to a business prince who means to help restore Britain's lost trade.
 He is an older man, as well, and while even at 37 there is still something boyish about him, he isn't any kid and his public life reflects this change as well. This year he spent nearly four months on his South American tour and his serious purpose was well known. Since his return he has resumed his various public appearances but mostly they have had a business angle. His speeches to English business men are examples. In many ways his job isn't very interesting, but he works at it like a beaver. On his father's birthday he was busy as any time since he came back from South America. This is what he did.
 He arrived in London before breakfast after a night journey from Scotland where he watched the first rounds of the open golf championship. He rode with the king at the "rooping of the colors" in the morning. Later he presented the king's shield to the first Mousmouth Battalion Company of the Church Lad's Brigade. In the evening he unveiled a memorial and took part in the services of a war veterans society, making a little speech.
