Ballard Robbery Case Again Comes Into The Limelight

Deposit Box in Wilson Alleged to Belong to Mrs. Ballard Attached By Sheriff; Elmer Whitley Files Suit for Slander

The Ballard robbery case and its principals forged into the limelight here again today as a result of a suit for damages filed by Elmer Whitley, one of the two men convicted in the April term of court here on a highway robbery charge...

According to today's reports of the affair, Sheriff Sam Whitehurst of this county, started an investigation when he overheard a conversation referring to Mrs. Ballard's visit to Wilson, just a few days after the robbery here...

The robbery case created considerable talk hereabouts when it was first reported to the sheriff and the trial of Elmer Whitley and Rodney Cox, young white men, drew crowded court rooms at every session.

On Wednesday of this week Whitley formally filed suit for $5,000 against Mrs. Ballard, charging that he had been slandered by her prior to and during the time of his arrest on the robbery charge.

SEEK SUPPORT FOR DRY LAW

Prohibition Leaders Meet to Lay Plans for Action in 1932 Campaign

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—More than a score of prohibition leaders gathered in the capital today as members of a "board of strategy" to lay plans for coordinated action in the 1932 campaign.

As the bard met this morning, however, one of its members stood pledged to the statement that the organized dry forces thus far had fallen short in their plans and that his newly created group planned to seek "fresh support for the dry law."

The campaign as he outlined it would start in Columbus, Ohio, September 8. Two appointed speakers would hold a series of meetings there on that day, to be followed by two more on the second day and two more on the next day.

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—The prevention of future wars today came into closer connection with the proposal to suspend obligations of the last one.

Secretary Stimson's latest message to the powers involved, President Hoover suggested that Secretary Stimson proceed to Europe to discuss international questions, including disarmament.

The president had said his moratorium proposal has no direct bearing on the conference for limitation of land armaments to be held next February.

"We trust that by this evidence of our desire to assist we shall have contributed to the good will which is so necessary to the solution of this major question."

Secretary Stimson some time ago explained he would make a tour of Europe this summer in which conversations with officials on important international issues would be of secondary importance.

The head of the American diplomatic forces will leave New York tomorrow, conferring with Italian leaders about July 7.

As Stimson today completed his last-minute duties, the generally optimistic attitude prevailed here that the divergent American and French views toward the moratorium could be reconciled.

The secretary of state will be the second American cabinet officer in Europe, Secretary Mellon is "reactioning" in Paris after participating in moratorium conferences in England.

Franco-American Agreement on Debt Holiday Assured

Copenhagen Fliers Reach Destination This Morning

Hilig and Hoiris Get Rousing Welcome Back Home As They Land Their Plane at Copenhagen

Copenhagen, Denmark, June 26.—(AP)—Oato Hillig and Holger Hoiris, the first emigrants to America to come back to the old country by air, landed here today and received a rousing welcome home.

"This is the greatest day of my life" said Hoiris as he got out of the plane and was picked up by well-wishers who paraded about with him on their shoulders.

He clasped his mother in his arms, kissed his sister, shook hands with several other members of the family there to see his triumphal home-coming and then heard official welcoming words from the lips of Minister Fruis Skotts, representative of the government.

It was home for Hoiris, for he was born in Denmark, leaving here as a boy to go to America. It seemed like home to Hillig, although technically it was not.

The flying field was thronged with Copenhagen residents, many of whom had spent hours there yesterday awaiting news from the fliers while they were making the crossing of the Atlantic from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

The principal road to the field was so crowded with automobiles long before the plane arrived that traffic movement was virtually at a standstill.

Illinois suffered most. In Chicago, the temperature topped the season at 93. Four persons succumbed yesterday and a fifty today. Hundreds of thousands rushed to Lake Michigan's shores.

Paris, June 26.—(AP)—The French reply to President Hoover's proposal for a year's war debts and reparations payments suspension, made public today, states that the French government is in "cordial accord with the high sentiments" inspiring the President's proposal.

The French government has taken note with great interest of the proposal of the President of the United States and declares itself in cordial accord with the high sentiments which have inspired this proposal.

To reply to the suggestion of President Hoover, the French government is ready to ask of the French Parliament, whose intervention is indispensable and whose decision is sovereign, that France abstain provisionally and during the delay of one year from keeping any payment coming from the Reich.

Seasonal temperatures held sway over most of the south. In Birmingham, however, the temperature climbed to 100.

French Reply Expresses Cordial Accord With High Sentiments of Hoover Proposal; Formal Conversation Between Two Countries to Begin Tomorrow

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—The willingness of the United States to compromise with France on a war debt and reparations moratorium plan was indicated today by Secretary Stimson in a formal statement.

The suggestions in the French counter-proposal to President Hoover's one year's moratorium plan do not accomplish the full measure of relief contemplated by the President and must, therefore be the subject of discussions to reconcile the two views.

Early conclusions in the discussions now being carried on in Paris by Ambassador Edge and Secretary Mellon with French officials were expected by the secretary in his statement.

"The French note shows a gratifying cordiality to the President's proposal," said the secretary's statement. It was issued by the State Department simultaneously with the text of the French government's note replying to the President's moratorium plan.

"The question of the method by which this postponement is to be accomplished and the ultimate payment of the postponed amounts are matters requiring negotiation and settlement between different governments."

"There are suggestions in the method proposed by the French government which do not accomplish the full measure of relief to debtor nations corresponding to the President's plan and must, therefore, be the subject of further discussion with a view to a modification that will bring the full measure of accord of which the fine evidence of cooperation in the French note gives every hope of success."

"In view of the action already taken by some governments in acceptance of the President's plan and the corresponding suspension of payments on intergovernmental debts due July first, Ambassador Edge and Secretary Mellon are engaged in these discussions with the French government with view to early conclusions."

The text of Secretary Stimson's statement follows: "The French note shows a gratifying cordiality to the President's proposal. As we understand it, the French government is mainly concerned that there should be no breach in the integrity of the Young Plan agreement. France expresses a willingness to forego the retention of any German payments for a year."

"The President's plan does not propose a reconsideration or impairment of any international agreement, including our own debt agreements. His suggestion, extended only to the simple postponement for one year of the payments under such agreements."

Paris, June 26.—(AP)—The French reply to President Hoover's proposal for a year's war debts and reparations payments suspension, made public today, states that the French government is in "cordial accord with the high sentiments" inspiring the President's proposal.

ABOUT TOWN

The teaching of vocational education in various parts of the county has brought good results and scores of young men are receiving training which will stand them in good stead in the years to come.

The youngsters are taught the latest methods of farming, and already have been able to reap substantial profits through activities during the last two years.

This training enables the youngsters to fully appreciate the value of scientific farming, and inspires them to reach out to acquaint themselves with the new ideas presented to the agricultural realm from year to year.

They are instructed in the best means of farm development and are given a keener appreciation of things that go to make this industry of a higher type than ever before.

Pitt county agricultural communities should consider themselves with the new ideas presented to the agricultural realm from year to year.

They are instructed in the best means of farm development and are given a keener appreciation of things that go to make this industry of a higher type than ever before.

Pitt county agricultural communities should consider themselves fortunate in being able to obtain vocational training, and farmers should use their influence in getting the boys to attend classes and thereby more fully prepare themselves for the life ahead.

That the children of the city are appreciative of the supervised recreation furnished through West-brook swimming pool and the golf course at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets has been evidenced by the hundreds who have taken advantage of this form of recreation the last two days.

The two playgrounds were made possible through the liberality of a group of business and professional men who, realizing the pressing need for supervised recreation, guaranteed to finance the two projects the first month providing the public should contribute toward its maintenance during the remainder of the summer.

It is the first time in history of the city that the kiddies have had places of this kind to attend, and the movement deserves the heartiest co-operation of men and women who realize what it means to the welfare of their children.

The children are fully protected while at the playgrounds by men who have had long experience in this line of endeavor, and parents should be in no suspense concerning the safety of the youngsters.

The success of the recreation centers is largely up to the public and it is to be hoped contributions to the cause will be as liberal as possible so that the children may enjoy every advantage throughout the hot weather.

American fliers are holding the center of the world aviation stage at this time by a series of flights steadily under way and several to be attempted during the next several days.

Wiley Post and Harold Gatty reached Moscow yesterday in their effort to beat the Graf Zeppelin's record for a round-the-world trip. They hope to complete the trip in something over ten days, thereby bettering the German record of a little over 21 days. If they accomplish the feat they will have set a record which others no doubt will shoot at a long time before finally breaking.

Otto Hillig and Holger Holtrix started from Newfoundland with a view of making a non-stop trip to Copenhagen, but they lost their way and had to land in Germany to take on more fuel. It was unfortunate that this should have occurred, but the fact that they were able to span the ocean, the most dangerous part of the flight, was a matter of much pride on the part of their followers.

Another round-the-world flight has been set for Saturday and in this Clyde Pangborn, barnstorming pilot and his wealthy companion,

Hugh Herndon, Jr. will be the principal figure. Ruth Nichols injured in a crash at the Harbor Grace landing field, has postponed a flight to Europe, and her aspirations to be the first woman to span the Atlantic will have to wait until September.

Regardless of the success of the various flights, it is plainly evident that America is taking the lead in aviation and is spending inestimable sums of money for advancement of the cause. It is a dangerous undertaking—these daring attempts to cross the stormy Atlantic—but each one does its part toward solving problems of aviation and will make flying more safe for future generations.

It is hot weather—that season of the year when the highways are crowded with traffic bound to and from the various seashores in this section of the state—and highway authorities are cautioning motorists to drive carefully, hoping to do their part toward decreasing the annual toll of death resulting from accidents.

Drivers are urged not only to obey traffic laws in every respect but to maintain a keen vigil of the road and prepare for eventualities. Regardless of how good one may be able to drive, there will come a time when one's skill will count for little, and if proper caution has been observed an accident might have been avoided.

People are always in a hurry when going to and from places of recreation, mainly because of the distance which many of them have to travel, and are prone to drive too fast. Such persons should keep before them the fact that life is far too precious to be sacrificed by a matter of a few minutes' time, and should pick their way carefully through the heavy traffic, preserving their own lives and others who may be along the highway at the time.

Boy Scout of Byrd's Trip to North Pole Comes to Wilson

Through the efforts of the local Boy Scout officials and the Boy Scout regional office in Atlanta, arrangements have been made for Scout Paul Siple, who was chosen among six hundred thousand Boy Scouts to accompany the Byrd Antarctic expedition, to visit Wilson, N. C., July 22, and appear on a program being planned for the Boy Scouts in eastern North Carolina.

Mr. Siple brought honor to himself and the Boy Scouts of America on his Antarctic trip. He has written a book on his experiences, and has declined an offer to tour America on the chautauqua platform in order to be of service to Scouting this summer.

Men, women and children will deem it a privilege to see and hear him. Announcements will be more specific later concerning details of the program that is being arranged.

Stokes Y. T. H. F. Showing Progress

The first active work of the Y. T. H. F. organization of the Vocational Department of Stokes High School, after it was organized last fall, was to take part in the District Dairy Judging contest held at Rocky Mount. The boys on the judging team were Leo Hawkins, Joe Moore and Clarence Little. One of the boys, Leo Hawkins made the fourth highest score which was just a few points from making the team to later judge dairy cows at Raleigh in the State Judging Contest.

The next activity was to put on a community exhibit at the Pitt County Fair. At the county fair all of the boys of the Vocational Department had an opportunity to judge dairy cows and take in the fair in general. At this time organization had the second highest score which was made by Hallis Cherry. The judging was in competition with the organization at Fountain.

An interesting sight for those who had not seen the like before. A general review of the farm and corn cribs on this farm, revealed many interesting things to the group.

At times during the winter many improvements were made on the school grounds, such as transplanting shrubs and improving the playgrounds by building and installing new equipment.

About ten bushels of pure bred seed corn was purchased through the organization this spring. The Y. T. H. F. Organization has held one mid-summer meeting with one hundred per cent of the members present. Another mid-summer meeting is to be held to formulate plans for the White Lake trip in August. That week at the Lake is being looked forward to with much interest.

FRANCO-AMERICAN AGREEMENT ON DEBT HOLIDAY ASSURED

(Continued From Page One) The French government, therefore, considers that there is a moral interest of the first order in postponing in any way the payment of the unconditional annuity, even during the period contemplated by President Hoover.

The French government, being desirous of collaborating fully in every effort made to attenuate the consequences of the present crisis, believes that it should point out, in the very interest of the success of this effort, that the mere general suspension of payments would furnish an inadequate remedy. The dangers now threatening German economy and more generally, European economy, have another origin and are especially due to important restrictions of credit and withdrawals of foreign funds.

The solution of the German crisis, therefore, does not appear to lie only in the diminution of the charges on the budget of the Reich but in an extension of credit.

That is why the French government declares its readiness, subject to the approval of Parliament, to place at the disposal of the Bank of International Settlements a sum equal to its share for one year of the non-postponable annuity with the sole exception of the amounts necessary to the execution of the balances of the current contracts for payments in kind, a proceeding which, moreover, is advantageous to German economy.

In making this proposal, the French government expects that the other beneficiaries under the Young plan will adopt the same decisions and it even hopes that other measures may be taken to favor the beneficial restoration of credit and confidence in the world.

The sums thus turned over to the Bank of International Settlements could be utilized at once for improving credit in Germany as well as in countries of central Europe, and especially those in which the suspension of execution of the Young Plan during one year might create financial or economic disturbance.

Paris, June 26.—(AP)—An American reply to the French memorandum responding to the Hoover war debts proposal was handed to Foreign Minister Briand of France at noon today.

The reply was as follows: "The American government appreciates the cordiality of the French government's response to the president's proposal. It hopes the French government will take advantage of the presence of the secretary of the treasury in Paris and discuss with the Ambassador and with him the various problems arising from the original proposal of the president and the French answer. The ambassador and Mr. Mellon are fully advised as to the views of my government." (Signed) STIMSON.

Paris, June 26.—(AP)—Negotiations seeking to harmonize the views of the United States and France on President Hoover's proposal for a war debts and reparations holiday were under way today.

tions holiday will open tomorrow under Andrew W. Mellon, American secretary of the treasury, and French officials.

Premier Laval today said he would meet Mr. Mellon and Ambassador Edge at the Ministry of the Interior. The French finance minister, budget minister, and foreign minister Briand will be present, and technical discussions will take place.

The announcement came in the midst of presentation of the inter-change of views thus far before the Chamber of Deputies and followed the receipt of a brief reply to the French memorandum on the Hoover proposals expressing the hope of the American government that the French government would take advantage of the presence of the secretary of the treasury in Paris and discuss with the ambassador and with him the various problems arising from the original proposal of the president and the French answer." The French memorandum which was handed to Ambassador Edge several days ago and was made public today followed the broad outlines of suggestions previously published.

The reply says that the French government declares itself in cordial accord with the high sentiments inspiring the Hoover plan, but expresses belief that in the very interests of the success of Mr. Hoover's effort, the general suspension of payments alone would offer an insufficient remedy.

Forty-eight others are more than half through. A few who registered on the first day have not yet made any report. They should come in this week with one or more reports. The club work will close on the day school opens in the fall, so there is plenty of time for doing the reading when most convenient, yet everybody cheers the "firsts."

Put Men to Work Building is one of America's greatest industries. It employs hundreds of thousands of men—architects, contractors, carpenters, painters, electricians and building tradesmen. When building work slows down the nation has "hard times" but when building goes ahead America is prosperous. The din of the plumber pounding on his pipe, the clatter of the carpenter's hammer and the swish of the painter's brush are noises that mean America is happy and prosperous.

You can help start up these welcome sounds by saving your money in the Home Building and Loan Association. The money left with this association is loaned out for the most part to stimulate building.

Your money there earns you a substantial rate of dividend consistent with safety. It also stimulates building and thereby relieves unemployment and makes for better times.

The building tradesmen can put to work with your money soon will be spending that money for other things and thus many people will share in the prosperity brought by the circulation of money you save here.

Your money in the Home Building and Loan Association earns you dividends in cash and added dividends in revived prosperity.

Help bring another long era of prosperity by saving through the Home Building and Loan Association. They have a savings plan for every member of the family.

Marriage and Divorces Halted By Hard Times

Washington, June 26. — (AP) — Hard times hit both the marriage and divorce markets last year, leaving a trail of lean, lorn figures at the Census Bureau.

Of forty states on which the figuring is finished, 33 showed decreases in marriage and 30 showed decreases in divorce.

Miss Alice V. Hagan, who for five years has written the annual Census Bureau study on marriage and divorce, ascribed the decreases to the fact that getting married and getting divorced costs money.

"It is well known that the marriage rate responds quickly to changes in economic conditions, increasing in periods of prosperity and decreasing after a commercial crisis or during hard times," she said.

As for divorce, Miss Hagan wrote to officials of all counties where the rate had fallen as much as ten per cent asking an analysis of the cause.

A large majority of the replies, she reported, laid the lack of divorces at the door of the depression.

Aside from a few flourishing Green Greens, and a scattering of divorce havens, there is little likelihood of a rise in the rate of linkings and partings before 1932, Miss Hagan predicted.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children. Loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and happily expels worms from children will do the same for adults. White's Cream Vermifuge, which you get at

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, June 26.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 1 point lower to 1 point higher.

There was considerable realizing, but offerings were not heavy, and were sufficiently well taken by trade buying and commission house demand to send the active months about 4 to 7 points net higher right after the call with October selling at 10 1/2 the buying was encouraged by steadiness in the stock market.

Liverpool cables said local and continental liquidation in that market had been absorbed by covering and trade calling and reported a fair inquiry for cotton cloths from India and Egypt, but said many offers were unworkable.

Egyptian futures in Alexandria were irregular with Achmouni 1 to 2 higher and Sakellarides 13 to 14 lower.

The early offerings were quite readily absorbed and the market firmed up later in the morning on the steadiness of stocks and optimism as to the prospects for an agreement on the international debt proposals. Prices for all months made new high ground for the movement with July selling up to 10.40 and December to 10.70, making the general list about 28 to 31 points net higher.

Prices at midday were firm and within a point or two of the best.

COTTON COMMENT

New York, June 26.—(AP)—Commission house comment on the cotton situation today generally advised purchases on fresh moderate reactions for prospective renewed upturns.

Extracts from letters follow:

Penner and Beane: "News of developments in the negotiations now being conducted are likely to bring decided irregularity, which should furnish excellent trading opportunities in the more immediate future."

Joseph Bache and Co.: "The immediate trend of prices is dependent upon the market's ability to readily absorb selling at around today's high prices. The outlook is indeed favorable for indications point to increasing activity in textiles and a broadening in outside demand."

S. B. Chapman and Co.: "While the market now looks to have had enough advance, with the maximum rise of nearly 180 points from the low levels of three weeks ago for present general conditions, it looks now as if it will continue in such a good trading position that purchases seem advisable on any fresh moderate reactions for prospective renewed upturns."

Hubbard Bros. and Co.: "It will be good policy to pick up cotton on all setbacks as it has demonstrated its ability to move upward rapidly on any favorable news."

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 26.—(AP)—High grain prices and broader speculative buying developed today after a surprise conference between Chairman Stone of the Federal Farm Board and President Hoover. Simultaneous reports that the Farmers National Grain Corporation, a government sponsored agency, had ceased selling June delivery of wheat were much commented upon. Optimism about an agreement with France relative to debt plans had a further stimulating influence.

Wheat closed unsettled, 7-8-11-2 cent's up, corn 13-4-21-8 up, oats showing 7-8-1-8 gain, and provisions 2 cents to 35 cents down.

STOCK MARKET

WALL STREET, June 26.—(AP)—Share prices on the New York market climbed back to the best levels of the recovery in more sober trading today, as reports from both Paris and Washington remained optimistic over the prospect of an early accord on war debts.

Trading slackened considerably, but the upward trend of prices was well maintained, as it was in the London and Paris markets. The mild reaction late yesterday only attracted fresh buying, and the list generally soon pushed up to around the best levels touched in yesterday's active trading.

Steels were particularly strong. Although the industry expects several more weeks of extreme dullness, unconfirmable rumors of a new accord in the Bethlehem-Youngstown merger situation helped these issues generally. Youngstown gained more than 7 points, and advances to 2 to 4 were recorded by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and National Motor accessories were also well bought, Eaton Axle rising about 5. Miscellaneous issues rising about 2 to 4 included American Telephone, American Can, International Telephone, New York Central, Atchafson, DuPont, Union Carbide, Anacanda and American Smelting.

Commodity prices continued to work higher in the main.

Annual Convention of Colored Workers Held in Kinston

The 22nd annual convocation of colored workers in the Diocese of East Carolina, was held at St. Augustine's Church, Kinston, last Saturday to Monday night, and was voted easily the best convocation ever held in every respect.

The opening session on Saturday provided a fine start. At the night session welcome addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. B. P. Huske, rector of St. Mary's church and Lawyer McKinley Battle, who represented St. Augustine's. The four services on Sunday brought out large congregations, and the sermon and confirmation service by Bishop Darst at night, when seven persons were confirmed, gave an enthusiastic ending to a very happy day.

Monday's four meetings kept up the high standard. The several items of a very full program were attacked and dispatched with scheduled precision. The final session Monday night presented Miss Bertha Richards, dean of the Bishop Tuttle School in Raleigh, who gave a most interesting account of the work of herself and staff in training colored young women in Christian social service and allied uplifting knowledge. She was followed by Mrs. Steva Dodson who gave a vivid story of her work as missionary in China years ago.

A pageant entitled "The Little Blue Box," was presented by a group of women representing the Women's Auxiliary and proved a beautiful conclusion of the best convocation ever held among the colored people in the diocese. The convocation advanced the Rev. Jas. E. Holder, rector of St. Augustine's, from secretaryship to deanship. The rectory and parish house were the center of many social activities during the meeting.

Bishop Darst appointed Oscar E. Holder, son of the rector, and a theological student, to the charge of the Goldboro and Greenville missions during his summer vacation, and he has arranged to pay his first visit to the local church, St. Andrew's, accompanied by his father, on Sunday afternoon at 4:30, for which all the members and a large congregation are asked to be present.

Deny Reports Queen Helen Took Poison

Bucharest, Rumania, June 26.—(AP)—Attaches of the Royal Palace authorized the Associated Press today to deny published reports that Queen Helen was suffering from poison taken by mistake.

A high authority said the queen was in a cheerful frame of mind physically and mentally. The reports were designated as "absurd inventions."

As for the same rumor concerning Mme Magda Lupescu, it was said there was not even good ground for the assumption that she was in the country, let alone she had taken an overdose of a sedative in a pique at King Carol. The denial was due to a dispatch to the London Daily Express from Vienna that attaches of the king's household reported she drank from the wrong bottle on the dressing table by mistake. The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Herald said that either the queen or Mme Magda Lupescu, King Carol's paramour, had taken an overdose of a sedative but that he was not able to confirm who it was.

Rescued From Lake. Detroit, June 26.—(AP)—A customs patrol boat today rescued 15 persons off Huron Point in Lake St. Clair after their fishing boats had been overturned and blown into the lake by a heavy windstorm. Eight persons were taken from Lake Erie by rescue parties, and all missing following the storm were believed accounted for.

The Lesson of Thrift Says:—

"People who spend all they earn are ever hanging on the brink of destitution. They must necessarily be weak and important, the slaves of time and circumstance. THEY KEEP THEMSELVES POOR. They lose self-respect, as well as the respect of others. It is impossible that they can be free and independent. SAVE and you are no longer the sport of time and fate. Be your own master. Get the thrift habit."
