ABOUT TOWN

It is a matter of much pleasure to the people of this section to note the amount of interest manifested in the home canning plants installed...

This means that the growers are giving serious consideration to the plan to conserve surplus food crops and enable the people to live at home regardless of the price for money crops.

The canning plant idea is being sponsored by the Merchants Association in conjunction with the Home Demonstration Department of the county.

The movement is along the same line championed by prominent agricultural leaders throughout the state in an effort to do away with much of the hard times and lack of food experienced in virtually all rural communities of the east last winter.

The plan is undoubtedly one of the most logical that has been called to the attention of the growers in recent years and it is hoped it will receive more consideration each year.

Two more days and the voters of the city will have the privilege of voting to the polls to express their sentiment in the proposal to purchase the local gas plant.

These interested in the proposition have been making a study of all details the last few weeks and will go to the polls well informed concerning the question involved.

If the election authorizes the issuance of $100,000 in bonds to insure the purchase of the plant it will be operated under direction of the Water & Light Commission, an organization that has created one of the most valuable water and light plants in the state.

If the commission has been able to make such a success of this enterprise, it is safe to say it would be able to do the same by the gas plant when other towns of similar size in this part of the state are reaping splendid benefits from such an industry.

This is undoubtedly one of the most paramount questions that has come before the public in years, and as the future of the city will be largely determined by the success of the election, it is to be hoped the voters will to the polls well acquainted with the subject, and then cast their vote in behalf of the bonds.

It is an issue that must be decided on election day, and if lost will be eternally lost, therefore, the necessity for comprehensive consideration of the facts involved by those in doubt as to the feasibility of the project.

With the widespread wave of larceny sweeping over the country automobile drivers should see that their cars are securely locked every time they are left on the streets. This will insure the safety of things left on the inside of the machine and discourage the hundreds of people eternally watching for an unsuspecting driver to come along and leave his car fully exposed to the activities of the mendicants of easy street.

Automobile owners carrying extra tires should by all means see that the tires are locked because the larceny of tires is possibly the most extensive of automobile accessories.

Every day we hear of cars being robbed of some of their parts even while standing in the busiest parts of the city. The automobile thief is as slick as the old time pickpocket and is able to make away with car parts almost as easily as the pickpocket vanished with a wallet.

Don't leave your property a prey to the sharp practices of thieves, but see that the car is under lock and key every time you leave it on the streets and save yourself much mental anguish.

HAWKS LOOKS TO WIFE FOR THE WEATHER

Noted Flier's Wife Keeps Weather Reports Ready for Service at Once

New York, July 11.—(AP)—When Captain Frank Hawks, who holds more speed records than you could count on the cylinders of an airplane engine, wants to know whether the weather is right for flying he doesn't ask the weather bureau—he asks his wife.

For Mrs. Edith Hawks has made weather her business, part of her routine household duties, and she keeps it ready to serve at a moment's notice.

The speed flier and his wife live in a skyscraper penthouse and while the lofty apartment is everything that a home should be, it is also considerably like the laboratory of an aerologist.

The terrace outside, overlooking the East river and Long Island is equipped with a rustic wooden fence, comfortable chairs and gay awning, but it also has a wind indicator, a windcock to show direction and a rials for three radio sets.

One of these radios is a short-wave affair just for weather reports and while Mrs. Hawks buds herself about the kitchen muttering things like "separate one egg, add a rounded spoonful of something or other and salt to taste," she is also keeping a careful ear on remarks about "Belleville visibility none, ceiling none, Cleveland clear, wind south by southwest."

And so as she serves whatever it may be she made out of the "spare" egg and the rounded spoonful she can say, "I think you'd better not go over the mountains today, Frank. Pittsburgh seems to be indicated." And that day Capt. Hawks flies by way of Pittsburgh.

And while Hawks is out on a flight he's apt to call his apartment from some landing point and ask what the outlook is on his next leg.

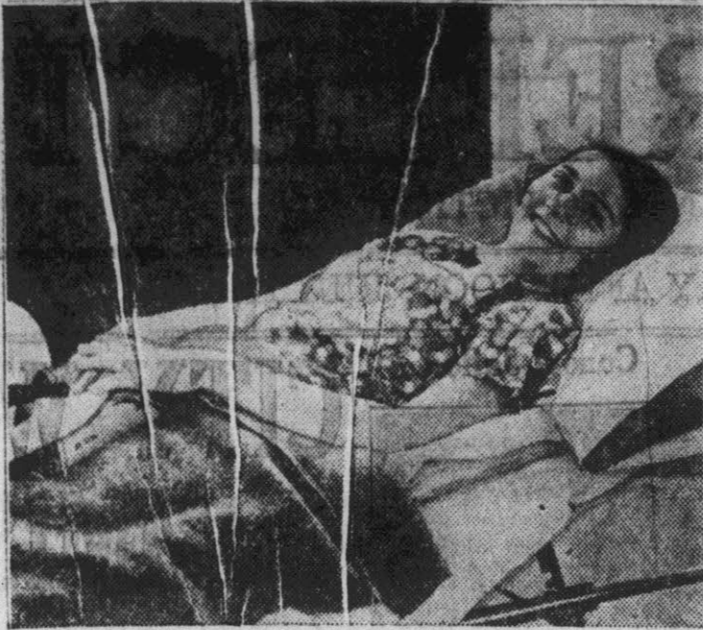

Mrs. Hawks has flown almost 100,000 miles with her husband during the few years of their marriage and her only regret is that she cannot accompany him in his little speedster in which he broke the transcontinental record in both directions.

"I did think out a way to do it," she said today, "but Frank would not stand for it. I thought and thought and finally I told him that the only way was for me to get in to the single seat first and then for him to sit on my lap. But he just laughed at me."

Symbolic, perhaps, of the part Mrs. Hawks plays in her husband's career is an antique blue kerosene lamp she keeps always in a window of the "Hawks Nest" between the glass and the curtain. It's never lit, for such a little flame would be invisible amidst the brilliance of New York, but it stands there as a sort of symbol of woman's helping hand to man, the wanderer.

"It's just sort of an idea," Mrs. Hawks explains, and turns to give ear to the information that the visibility over Belleville is just terrible.

Optimistic Over Business Outlook Dailey Defends Night Baseball

New York, July 11.—(AP)—A mid-year survey of business by Bradstreet's released today, points out that there are a number of factors in the present situation which give a sound basis for optimism as to the outlook for the last half of 1931.

The survey finds that the most outstanding and basically important happening this year was the continued drop in commodity prices. Although the Bradstreet commodity price index had shown a 25 per cent decline from Oct. 1, 1929 to Jan. 1, 1931. The index had an additional drop of 7.7 per cent to July 1.

"However," the survey says, "there are some signs of resistance which distinguish the decline of the past half year from that of 1930. For two months of 1931, April 1 and July 1 the Bradstreet index has shown increases, whereas there had been a steady decline from October, 1929, to March of this year."

Lebriz to Begin Tokyo Flight Today

Paris, July 11.—(AP)—Joseph Lebriz, noted French flier, told the Associated Press today that he and Marcel Doret expected to take off on a straight line flight to Tokyo from LeBourget at 4 o'clock tomorrow morning (10 P. M. Saturday, E. S. T.).

The weather forecast indicated favorable flying conditions. Lebriz has given the purpose of the flight as an effort to break the world's straight line distance record.

"I am going to Tokyo," said Lebriz, "but don't say what I am going to do after I get there, for I don't know myself."

His friends think that if everything is all right by the time he reaches Japan he and Doret may go on to San Francisco and New York, and come back to Paris over the Atlantic.

They charged Davis turned over to Col. Luke Lea of Nashville, Tenn. for delivery to Caldwell & Company of Nashville, a note or notes of the city of Asheville for $45,000 without receiving any consideration for the paper.

Asheville, July 11.—(AP)—Election of officers and disposition of other business were the concluding events today on the program of the convention of the North and South Carolina Cotton Seed Crushers' Association.

The convention opened yesterday with approximately 125 delegates present.

DRESS REHEARSAL TO BEGIN THIS AFTERNOON

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., July 11.—(AP)—Seth Yerrington and Edward Maloney announced today that they would start between five and six o'clock this afternoon on a non-stop flight to Mexico City, where they expect to rest 12 hours and fly back non-stop. The journey is what they call a dress rehearsal for a proposed Atlantic flight.

Yerrington and Maloney will make the flight in a black Stinson monoplane named for the late Emilio Carranza, Mexican aviator, who was killed in a crash on a flight from New York to Mexico.

Madison—(AP)—A new concrete and steel bridge over the Dan river has been opened here. The span is 1,000 feet long.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, July 11.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 2 to 1 points lower in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and a favorable view of the early weather news.

There was some scattered selling as well as realigning or liquidation, but offerings were light and were well enough absorbed by trade buying and covering to hold the market steady during the early trading. At the end of the first half hour, July was selling around 8.15 and December 9.76, or about 1 to 4 points net lower.

Liverpool cables reported covering and foreign buying supplied by liquidation and selling on the favorable weather reports and said business in cotton cloths and yarns was unimportant. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 62,000 bales against 41,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago July 11.—(AP)—Notwithstanding President Hoover's denunciation of short selling and despite supplementary statements from Federal Farm Board sources, wheat fell to new low price records today. The market closed at about yesterday's bottom quotations, with all deliveries in Chicago dropping below any levels heretofore since 1894, and Liverpool down to a new low level for 277 years. Mainly wheat selling in Chicago consisted of hedging against country purchases, a process that more than counter-balanced the limited buying power in evidence.

Wheat closed unsteady 3-8 to 3-4 lower; corn 5-8 to 3-4 down; oats 3-4 to 11-4 off and provisions at two cents to 20 cents decline.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 11.—(AP)—The stock market slid slowly downward in an extremely quiet week-end session today, as traders were inclined to withdraw pending the clarification of the German financial situation.

It was one of the quietest Saturday sessions in the share market in recent years, with only about half a million shares traded. Bonds were likewise sluggish, with price changes narrow. There was further pressure against the German issues.

There were declines of 1 to 4 points in some of the principal shares, although the great bulk of changes were fractional. A little short covering in the final dealings caused some recovery from the lowest. Issues of a point or two included American Can, American Telephone, American and Foreign Power, U. S. and Bethlehem Steels, Consolidated Gas, North American, Dupont, International Harvester and New York Central. Shares down 3 to 4 included Johns Manville, Case, Atchison, Union Pacific, Auburn and Allied Chemical.

Despite reports from Berlin that Dr. Hans Luther, head of the Reichsbank, had failed to negotiate a $300,000,000 credit for the Reichsbank because of French insistence on abandonment of the Austro-German Credit Union, bankers here feel that the $100,000,000 credit maturing next Thursday will be renewed and probably increased. In the meantime the flight of capital from Germany quickened, with withdrawals in excess of $20,000,000, the largest in several days.

News that Oklahoma oil producers were seeking a complete shut-down until crude prices get back to $1 a barrel aroused fresh hope that the petroleum industry at last may be on the verge of stabilization. Until the meeting of the Texas legislature to deal with production in East Texas, however, the outlook will remain uncertain.

MOOSE HURLS ATHLETICS TO ANOTHER WIN

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer) Stout-hearted George Earnshaw apparently has accepted the responsibility for keeping the Philadelphia Athletics in their accustomed position at the top of the American League standing. Few pitchers in modern times have worked harder nor turned in more heroic performances than has Connie Mack's right-handed ace in the first four months of the campaign.

Yesterday the "Moose" went to the firing line for the third time within six days and pitched the champions to a victory over the New York Yankees in a 14-inning thriller, 8 to 6. Entering the game as a relief pitcher in the seventh inning, he withstood a blow that would have demoralized a less courageous moundman and stuck it out to win.

Going into the last of the ninth with a two-run lead, Earnshaw retired the first two batsmen and appeared to have the contest in the bag. Then Babe Ruth singled and his old sparring mate, Lou Gehrig, came through with a home run into the right-field bleachers, tying the score.

Instead of becoming unsettled by the turn of events, Earnshaw settled down and blanked the Yankees for the next five innings until Bishop Simmons and Foxk blazed out the hits to win in the fourth-inning. In the twelfth the Yanks filled the bases with none out, but could not score. Their first two batters got on base in the last inning, but again Big George's fast ball turned them back.

The game marked Earnshaw's twenty-third appearance on the hill this year and gave him his fifteenth victory against four defeats. It also marked the sixth loss for the Yankees out of seven extra-inning games in which they have competed.

There was only one game in the American League, rain preventing the other scheduled bout at Washington.

What activity there was in the National served only to stretch the St. Louis Cardinals' lead over the field. Gaby Street's marksmen scored their third straight victory over the Cincinnati Reds, 2 to 1, while the Brooklyn Robins were being nosed out, 4 to 3, by the Boston Braves. As a result, the leaders today were four and a half games ahead of the New York Giants, who were held idle by rain and five games in front of Brooklyn.

Two runs off John Ogd'n in the first inning were sufficient to give the Cards their triumph over the Reds as Haines and Stout kept seven hits scattered. It was the third straight game in which St. Louis pitchers allowed one run.

Two mound aces hooked up in the game at Boston, and Lefty Brandt finally bested Dazy Vance. The Brooklyn speedballer held the Braves to five scattered hits for seven innings, but was driven from the box in the eighth when the Braves scored three runs after two were out. Brandt went the distance to record his eleventh victory.

BABE HERMAN LEADS TEAM WITH STICK

New York, July 11.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Robins, last year one of the most dangerous wrecking crews in baseball, apparently have had more difficulty with the National League's new sphere than any team in the league. The Robins as a team are not hitting within thirty points of their form a year ago and only two members of the club are hitting over 300.

Through Thursday's games Babe Herman was leading at bat with a mark of 318, and Lombardi, big rookie catcher, was hitting .301 to complete the team's list of top sluggers. Yet the Brooklyn nine has pulled itself up into the thick of things in the league race, while the Philadelphia Phillies, with six men hitting over 300, are far down in the second division. Brooklyn as a team is hitting only .273, compared with 296 average boasted by the Chicago Cubs.

Although his teammate, Virgil Davis, was leading the league's batsmen through Thursday's games with a mark of 366, Chuck Klein of the Phillies, continued to hit in the senior circuit. In addition to hitting a rare 361 for second place in the batting marathon, the Phil outfielder had collected the most hits, 110, knocked in the most runs, 75, scored the most runs, 72, and hit the most home runs, 21.

Dick Bartel, Philadelphia, had blazed 28 doubles to lead that department. Bill Terry of the Giants and George Watkins of the Cardinals were tied with nine three baggers apiece. Adam Comorosky, fleet gardener, was credited with 11 stolen bases, one more than Hazen Cukler of the Cubs.

Frank Watt, big rookie right-hander of the Phillies, furnished one of the surprises of the season when he rang up his fourth consecutive victory during the past week and went into a tie with Bill Morrell of the Giants for pitching leadership, each with four wins and one loss. Jim Elliott of the Phils and Fred Fitzsimmons of the Giants each had won eleven victories, while Brandt of the Braves and Grimes of the Cards each had scored 10 wins.

GROVE LEADS MOUND ACES

Chicago, July 11.—(AP)—Robert Moses Grove, angular speed ball ace for Connie Mack's Athletics, just goes rolling along to victory.

While the batting stars of the circuit continued to wage their hard fight for the hitting championship, Grove added two more wins during the past week to run his great record to 17 victories and only two defeats, unofficial records including games of Thursday revealed today. So far this season, the unofficial statistics reveal, that he pitched 161 innings, allowed but 137 hits, struck out 97, and hasn't hit a batsman with a pitched ball or tossed a wild pitch.

His closest rival was big George Earnshaw, who had a record of 14 victories and four defeats.

Babe Ruth's unofficial average dropped from .397 to .391 during the past week but the mark was good enough to keep him in front of the batting race by three points over Eddie Morgan, Cleveland first baseman. Most of the leaders failed to keep up their hard hitting pace during the week but most of them remained among the "big ten."

They were Ruth, .391; Morgan, .388; Webb, Boston, .375; Goslin, St. Louis, .371; Simmons, Philadelphia, .363; Averill, Cleveland, .346; Cochran, Philadelphia, .346; West, Washington, .343; Gehrig, New York, .339; and Haas, Philadelphia, .338.

Although his batting average dropped seven points during the week, Gehrig led in three individual batting specialties and tied Babe Ruth with his collection of 21 home runs. He topped the field with 74 runs, hits for a total of 174 bases, and 83 runs batted in. Haas led with 112 singles. Webb led with 37 doubles, while Simmons, Cronin of Washington and Reynolds of Chicago tied with nine triples each. Bennie Chapman of the Yankees kept in front with a base stealing collection of 31.
