Two Airplanes Off On Non-Stop Flights Over Atlantic Ocean

Bellanca "Cape Cod," Manned by Russell Boardman and John Polando, Bound From New York to Istanbul, Turkey, 5,500 Miles Away; Hugh Herndon and Clyde Pangborn Begin Around-the-World Trip With Moscow As First Objective

Floyd Bennett Airport, New York, July 28.—(AP)—Two powerful monoplane took off within 18 minutes of each other on non-stop trans-Atlantic flights today.

The Bellanca monoplane "Cape Cod" manned by Russell Boardman of Boston and John Polando of Lynn, rolled down the 4,100 foot runway at exactly 5 a. m. EST, on an intended round-the-world flight with Moscow, 5,400 miles away as their first objective.

They are heading for Istanbul, Turkey, about 5,500 miles away. The second plane to take off was that of Hugh Herndon Jr., former Princeton student and Clyde Pangborn, veteran circus flier. They rolled away at 5:18 a. m. EST, on an intended round-the-world flight with Moscow, 5,400 miles away as their first objective.

Weather conditions across the entire Atlantic were described as ideal for the flight by Dr. James S. Kimball, government meteorologist and unofficial starter.

For the first time since the Byrd flight, Dr. Kimball arrived at the field to see the take-offs of both planes. Another visitor was Giuseppe Bellanca, designer of the two planes.

Field officials feared the Boardman-Polando plane might meet with difficulties because of its great weight. It carried 718 gallons of gasoline and 25 gallons of oil, sufficient fuel to keep it going 7,000 miles if necessary. It is propelled by a 300 horsepower Wright engine.

They hope to eclipse the present long distance record set by Coste and Le Brix, who flew 4,912 miles non-stop.

Herndon and Pangborn's red monoplane has a 500 horse power motor and is capable of cruising at 125 miles an hour. It carries 850 gallons of gasoline, enough to travel 5,500 miles without a halt.

Although their plane has a winnie mae, Herndon and Pangborn hope to beat the round-the-world record by flying longer distances. They have dual controls.

Herndon was educated at Princeton and learned flying in France. He had been refused a license in this country because of color-blindness. He will act as navigator on the trip having studied under Capt. Lewis Yancey. Herndon's mother is Mrs. Dixon Boardman, society woman of Park avenue. Herndon's secret marriage was revealed a week ago.

Pangborn, his flying mate, is the first airman to fly a plane upside down. His record shows more than 1,200 hours in the air. He is from Wenatchee, Wash.

Boardman is from Boston. He is 33 years old and has been flying since he was 23. His co-pilot Polando is 27, married, and works for the East Coast Aircraft, Boston. His home is in Lynn, Mass.

They have 17 small parachutes with which to drop messages as they pass over important points enroute to Turkey.

Boston, July 28.—(AP)—When Russell N. Boardman and John Polando, co-pilots of the monoplane, "Cape Cod," slanted off over the Atlantic today they thwarted a series of mishaps that ruined previous plans.

Boardman is a former movie stunt flier and is considered an expert at "blind" flying. He is married and has one child. He first planned an ocean flight in August, 1930 when, under the auspices of the American Legion, he intended to canvass European cities and spread news of the Legion convention to be held in Boston.

For weeks weather reports carried nothing but bad news. Finally the sea cleared but on the eve of (Continued on page two)

TURKEY GOAL OF THEIR FLIGHT

Russell Boardman (left) of Boston and his pilot-mechanic, John Polando, seek to set a continuous flight record between New York and Turkey in their plane, the Cape Cod. They plan to fly up the north Atlantic coast and pass out to sea from Harbor Grace, N. F., without stop. Their objective is Istanbul, Turkey.

R. T. Fountain Speaks Here

Lieut.-Governor Discourages Centralization of Power Thru Short Ballot

Declaring the right of self-government should be retained by the people of North Carolina, R. T. Fountain, Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina, spoke at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary club here last night.

Discussing the short ballot recommended for North Carolina in the Brookings report, the speaker asserted that adoption of such a plan would breakdown and destroy local communities which have been the backbone and foundation for the growth and prosperity of the people of the State. He discouraged taking away the rights of the people through centralization of power of government.

The session was presided over by President Howard McGinnis, and a song number was rendered by Misses Sybil Clark and Mary Phelps accompanied by Oliver Jones. (Continued on page two)

Graf Makes Short Stop in the Arctic

Friedrichshafen, July 28.—(AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commanding the Graf Zeppelin on her Arctic cruise, notified the Zeppelin Works by radio today that the big dirigible had landed briefly in the bay off Hooker island, Franz Josef Land.

For thirteen minutes she rested on the still waters of the bay near the Russian icebreaker Malgin, which sailed into the north with a party of tourists and anchored off the island for the rendezvous.

Floating ice in the Arctic bay made it inadvisable for the Graf to remain on the water longer than she did. Radio reception was difficult, owing to atmospheric disturbances, but it was said that the landing took place early last night and the Graf and the Malgin exchanged mail.

Says German People Realize That Economic Situation Demands Self-Help

London, July 28.—(AP)—Germany is beginning to realize that her economic problem is one which demands self-help. Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson said today upon his return from a two-day visit to Berlin, and the country has taken the first steps toward recovery.

"The people I saw in the streets and parks," he said, "were not on the brink of revolution. They looked their chancellor in the eye and although many recognized us as mingled with the crowds there was not a single hostile demonstration."

He talked with Chancellor Bruening, President Von Hindenburg and other German officials about the country's economic and other problems, he said, and he believes that the American viewpoint is better understood now than it was before.

In very frank discussions he told them that they could not reestablish confidence in Germany so long as complaints about hardships continue and he was informed at the embassy here today, he said, that complaints about hard times in Germany have been few since the seven-power conference in London.

Talking about the war days with the president and the chancellor, he discovered that Dr. Bruening was a machine-gunner at Bourlon Wood near Cambrai when Colonel Stimson was serving with an American unit just opposite.

Problems of the approaching disarmament conference were discussed in some detail, and the Germans told the secretary that the country is arising even less than the limits of the Versailles Treaty.

Everywhere, Mr. Stimson said, he heard comments indicating a widespread and growing desire for establishment of really friendly relations with France and he concluded that such an arrangement may be made in the near future.

SAYS BRITAIN IS OPPOSED TO POWER PLAN

MacDonald Tells Germans International Security Must Come From Co-Operation

Berlin, July 28.—(AP)—Great Britain is diametrically opposed to the balance of power theory, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald said today, because it is incompatible with disarmament.

So long as the nations try to maintain national security on the basis of a balance of power they will need big armaments, he told a delegation of German newspaper men, but Great Britain believes in establishing security by international co-operation, a policy in violent contradiction to that of the balance of power.

As for economic cooperation, he said, experience continues to prove how necessary it is that the resources of all the countries should be used in the interests of international stability. High tariff walls he asserted, will lead to universal (Continued on page two)

TARBORO MAN HEADS LEGION

Henry Bourne Elected State Commander at Morehead City Convention

Morehead City, July 28.—(AP)—Henry P. Bourne, of Tarboro, was elected commander of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion at the final session of the annual convention here today.

Bourne won in a spirited election over Luther Barbour of Durham and Tom Daniels of New Bern.

H. Matthews of Asheville and Dixie Moore of Kinston, were elected vice-commanders.

Asheville was selected as the 1932 convention city, the date to be announced later.

Immediately afterwards the Legion began balloting for new officers. They had not been elected at 2 P. M.

A resolution was unanimously adopted which asked the people of North Carolina to forget their sectional differences and stand together as a unit for the common good of the State as a whole.

This resolution, one of the high spots of the concluding session, came as the result of Governor Gardner's speech yesterday in which he urged the veterans to help wipe out sectional lines in the State.

The Raleigh Drum and Bugle Corps won first prize in the competitive drills, with Greensboro second and Charlotte third.

Morehead City, July 28.—(AP)—Two high officers of the regular army today addressed the 13th annual convention of the North Carolina Department, American Legion. Maj. Gen. Albert J. GRAHAM SEES HAPPY DAYS FOR FARMERS

Commissioner of Agriculture Extends Greeting At Cotton Convention

Raleigh, July 28.—(AP)—Happy days are ahead for the farmers, Commissioner of Agriculture, W. A. Graham said in extending formal greetings at the opening session of the 29th annual session of the North Carolina Farmers' and Farm Women's Convention at N. C. State College here today.

Cooperative marketing and the advancement of the dairy industry in the State will play big parts in the future, he said. The commissioner declared the "voice of the farmers on this important question of taxation" will also be heard.

"Attention has been focused on the topic of taxes because of its fundamental bearing on the future progress of the farming industry," he added.

SCORES DEAD FROM HEAT

Residents Flee From Imperial Valley As Death Toll Mounts to Sixty-three

Los Angeles, July 28.—(AP)—Residents fled today from the heat-stricken Imperial Valley and Arizona points as the toll from the southwest's most prolonged heat wave in years mounted to 63 deaths.

Along the roads at the base of majestic San Geronimo mountain, which lifts its snow capped peak slightly more than 20 miles above the sweltering Great American Desert, hundreds of automobiles moved to the cooler coastal areas and mountain resorts so their occupants might find relief.

Boston, July 28.—(AP)—New England today wilted under sweltering atmospheric conditions.

The weather bureau reported a temperature of 90 degrees at 11:30 a. m., with a likelihood the mercury would rise to about 95 during the day.

An unidentified man on a bus between Somerville and Charlestown died from the heat.

Frenchton, N. J., July 28.—(AP)—Cornelius R. Taylor, 65-year-old carpenter, looked at a thermometer set he registered near the 100 mark and fell over dead. His death, was ascribed to heart seizure induced by the heat.

Snappy July Weather Buenos Aires—Snappy July weather prevails here. The coldest day of the winter has been recorded with temperatures well below freezing.

New Imperial Addition Near Completion Here

K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales on the Greenville tobacco market, released today the biggest and probably the most important story in the history of the tobacco industry in Greenville.

Mr. Cobb stated that the mammoth addition to the already large Imperial Tobacco Company's factory is nearing completion, and will be ready for the opening of the market Tuesday, September 1. This company has added one large modern redrying machine which gives them three of this type. The addition of this and other modern machinery increases their capacity one-third and gives the local market probably the largest redrying plant in this country.

The Imperial plant covers practically two city blocks, being about 600 feet long, 130 feet wide and three stories in height. When working at full capacity this company can handle each twenty-four hours 400,000 pounds of tobacco, and they employ approximately 750 workers in the various departments of their factory. This gives the Imperial not only one of the largest but possibly the most modernly equipped factory in any of the tobacco growing states. Mr. C. W. Shuff, who assumed the management of the local unit of the Imperial Tobacco Company about eight years ago, has played an important part in the unequalled growth of the local market. He has been prominently identified in the civic, industrial and religious life of the city. He is ably assisted by W. D. Pruitt, W. T. Lipscomb, G. J. Woodard, R. S. Neal, T. A. Smoot, Jack Foley and others, all of whom have contributed much to the expansion of the tobacco industry of Greenville.

Light Offerings Are Reported at Opening Of Various Markets

BEGIN FLIGHT AROUND WORLD

Hugh Herndon and Clyde Pangborn left New York this morning on an intended flight around the world with Moscow, 5,400 miles away, as their first objective.

Advices From Blackhear Indicate Average of 10 1-2 Cents on First Sales, While Nashville, With Poor Quality Pays Around 7 Cents; Warehousemen Report Good Crowds and Optimism Among Planters; Waycross Paper Says It Is Believed Prices Better Than Previous Year

The Georgia tobacco market opened this morning and prices averaged all the way from 7 to 10 1-2 cents, according to private advices received by the Reflector this morning in addition to leased wire reports of the Associated Press.

A telegram from "Shep" Morton at Blackhear stated "Tobacco is averaging 10 1-2 with Reynolds being the largest buyer."

Another message from J. Ficklen Arthur at Nashville said, "Market is averaging around 7 cents. Quality is lower than last year. Export is not on sales and Liggett and Myers and Reynolds are the largest buyers."

Associated Press reports followed: Atlanta, Ga., July 28.—(AP)—Tobacco went under auctioneers' hammers in twenty-one Georgia markets today to open officially the 1931 selling season of the bright leaf crop.

Warehousemen reported good crowds and optimism from planters due to a sharp curtailment of the crop.

Tifton warehouses were about half full. An unofficial report from that market said the first row of one house brought an average of 9.32 per one hundred pounds while best grade lugs brought an unofficial average of from 15 to 25 cents per pound.

The growers, as usual, were not offering their choice leaves for the first sales.

The market offerings at Waycross were light due to a heavy rain in that vicinity last night. The Waycross Journal Herald said it was believed the prices were better than on opening day last year.

Growers and warehousemen predicted that sales would not get under full way in many markets for several days due to a late crop. Drought and heat have delayed maturity in many sections, and these factors with reduced average leaf government experts to forecast a sharply curtailed crop.

Warehousemen predicted a crop decrease of from 25 to 30 percent for the Douglas area. They said they expected light sales especially the first two days of the season as a result of late maturity of the crop.

Drought, unusual heat, curtailed acreage and a drop in fertilizer sales were among the factors cited by growers and warehousemen as contributing to the Georgia bright leaf crop curtailment.

The Georgia market was scheduled to remain open four weeks, but buyers and warehousemen have agreed it shall be extended if the late maturity of some of the crop makes such a move advisable.

Despite the late maturity of much of the basis of the crop curtailment and quality of the leaf found produced.

Texas Town Menaced By Blazing Oil Well

Kilgore, Tex., July 28.—(AP)—An oil well was burning within two blocks of the main business section of this bustling East Texas boom town today after a tank explosion which killed one man and injured two.

Claude Erskin, 35, died in the blast from oil tanks near the rig last night and two fellow workmen were burned. Confusion at the scene led to reports later refuted that an entire crew had been trapped and five men burned to death.

Firemen fought desperately to prevent the fire from reaching the well, but lost the battle after an hour and a half. The cause of the explosion was not announced.

Despite the proximity of the well to the town, officials said they believed they could save shacks and buildings in the vicinity.

Modern Kilgore came into existence with the discovery less than a year ago of the East Texas oil field.

NOT TO DELAY LEA HEARING

Judge Barnhill Refuses to Continue Conspiracy Charge Against Tenn. Man

Asheville, July 28.—(AP)—Despite the sudden illness of L. E. Gwinn, Memphis attorney for Col. Luke Lea, Judge M. V. Barnhill today refused to continue the conspiracy case against the Tennessee publisher and three others.

Counsel for Lea, Luke Lea Jr., and E. P. Charlet, charged along with Wallace B. Davis, president of the defunct Central Bank and Trust Company, with conspiring to defraud the bank of $1,300,000 for Lea's benefit insisted they were not prepared to proceed without Gwinn.

Dr. Bernard Smith of Asheville, presented to the court, stated that Gwinn had suffered three gastric hemorrhages this morning.

Judge Barnhill then recessed court until 2:30 p. m. today to give defense counsel time to prepare pleas for dismissal and other motions.

Dr. Smith told the court that even if Gwinn suffers no more hemorrhages he will be confined for two weeks.

Heated replies were drawn from defense counsel as Solicitor Zeb V. Nettles insisted five attorneys should be enough and that the plea was "merely another effort to evade trial."

"We never conspired with the federal court in Tennessee in an attempt to have it take us under its jurisdiction and away from North Carolina's jurisdiction," Giles Evans, Nashville lawyer, said in answering an implication from Nettles that this had caused part of the delay.

Judge Barnhill held that the court could not be responsible for the Leas having "put all their eggs in one basket."

Lindberghs Leave Capital for Maine

Washington, July 28.—(AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh left today for North Haven, Maine, for family farewells before continuing their aerial vacation trip to Japan.

The Lindberghs took off to the southward after taxing about the river to warm up the motor. Circling about, the colonel headed back up the river and as he passed over the Anacostia naval station dipped his wings in farewell and dropped a missile from his plane.

A boat went out to pick it up, thinking it might be a note. The departure was made at 1:20 p. m., after several hours had been spent in fueling and testing the radio with which the ship is equipped.

Lindbergh expected to fly directly over L.A.D. despite his plane is working well he planned to make North Haven today. If necessary, however, they will spend the night at North Beach, New York.

Furniture Market Opens at H. Point

High Point, July 28.—(AP)—What manufacturers described as High Point's largest and potentially most successful furniture market was under way today with more than 125 buyers present from many states.

The exposition known as the Mid-Summit Southern Furniture Market, opened yesterday. It will continue for two weeks.

The feature of the market was the showing of styled furniture at popular prices. Prices were said to be the lowest since 1916.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES The F. Clark Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Kansas City.

ABOUT TOWN

The Merchants Association is going to hold 'open house' Tuesday, August 4, and members and friends of the organization will be invited to attend.

'Open House' is to give the public and opportunity to inspect the new home of the organization on Evans street and to gain some idea as to the scope of its activities.

This is the first time such an affair has been staged by the association in years and that the guests will take advantage of the opportunity to attend is not to be questioned.

The work of the institution has not been confined alone to the merchants, but to everything looking to the advancement of the city and community. In fact, it has taken the place of a Chamber of Commerce to a great extent, and it is largely through its effort that the resources and possibilities of the community are so well known throughout the nation at this time.

Such an organization is an invaluable asset to the city, and that its future work will receive the usual fine support goes without question.

The opening of the Georgia tobacco market today will hold attention of the tobacco interests in all sections of the nation.

People in all walks of life are interested in initial prices paid for the golden leaf because of economic situation of the county is largely affected by the money the farmers receive for their crop.

With drought causing a pronounced reduction in the crop, Georgia farmers were looking optimistically to the future in the belief that this would aid in price recovery.

In less than a month after the Georgia opening the farmers of this district will be turning their attention to initial sales on their own market, and they too, will be looking for improvement in prices by reason of the reduction and improvement of their crop.

If prices are good, as everyone hopes, conditions will undergo a noticeable improvement a few days after the market opens, and growers who have been hard hit by the wave of depression which has swept over the nation the last two years, will begin to struggle toward the top of the economic deluge.

Condemning the nation's prison system as antiquated and inefficient, the Wickersham committee in a recent report to President Hoover, declared that bars should play only a minor part and education should be uppermost in the system of the future.

The major part of the report was characterized as unbelievable in scope.

The report in this instance is decidedly more enlightening and informative than that submitted some time ago dealing with the Eighteenth Amendment.

How far the report will go to establish new and better conditions is problematical, but continued hammering at the question should eventually bring about a system more in keeping with requirements in other phases of national life.

The Farm Department of Pitt county is emphasizing the importance of planting certain kinds of crops which may be stored for use this winter. It is along the same line which has been stressed by prominent farm leaders the last several months, and if given proper attention by the growers should bring splendid results.

Construction of food crops should be of interest to all growers in view of the uncertain prices for their money crops. If prices are not good for the cash crops then they can fall back on the things saved through the conservation movement to sustain them through the cold winter months.

With the amount of food produced by the planters of Pitt county during the present season, the section ought to be able to sus-tain itself under almost any conditions. If the plan is followed in the future years much of the depression which has existed in the South should be completely dissipated.

FARM NOTES

(E. F. Arnold, County Agent) Food Conservation

A great deal of stress has been placed on canning and drying surplus food crops. In addition to these methods of food conservation, we should not overlook planting certain crops at this time which may be stored for winter use or which may be left in the ground well into the winter and harvested as required for use.

A cool cellar, well ventilated and fairly moist, supplies a condition favorable to the successful storage of such vegetables as beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, parsnips, potatoes, salsify and turnips. However, means of heating is desirable so as to prevent temperature from falling below freezing. Only sound vegetables should be selected for storage.

Cone-shaped banks which are commonly used for the storage of sweet potatoes is a very satisfactory method for storing the vegetables named above. However, cabbage is better stored in a bank that is long and narrow. The cabbage should be placed in the bank in layers of three rows, head down, and covered with soil only.

Any storage pit or bank should be well drained. In the preparation for storage of sweet potatoes make the ground level with the area on which the vegetables are to be heaped is first raised so that the drainage is insured. It is necessary to ventilate these banks.

The usual method is perforated wooden troughs inverted on a level area connected with a wooden pipe for ventilation, stood upright on the intersection of the level area and straw and vegetables are heaped upon this bed and around the central ventilator pipe. The vegetables are then covered with straw and earth, a layer of each sufficient to protect the contents from freezing.

The possibilities of the home garden when properly conserved by canning, drying, pickling, brining and storage of root for winter use is such as to enable the farmer to have home-grown vegetables the year around.

GRAHAM SEES HAPPY DAYS FOR FARMERS

Several hundred farmers and farm women are in attendance. The session will be continued through Friday and will be featured by a number of "classes" for the delegates.

The session opened today with a talk by H. G. Ashcraft of Mecklenburg county, president of the convention, Dr. W. C. Riddick dean of the School of Engineering at State College, made the address of welcome in behalf of the school. He was followed by Mrs. N. L. Stoddman of Halifax county, president of the State Federation of Home Demonstration clubs.

Commissioner Graham, next on the program opened his address by reviewing his plan for the cooperative marketing of fruits and vegetables grown in the southern states.

"We realize that so long as North Carolina acted alone it would find itself unavoidably conflicting with similar interests in other southern states and would thus aid in keeping the market continuously upset and out of adjustment to the needs of producer and consumer," he declared.

Co-operative marketing by southern growers, he said, "will prove a great boon to our fruit and vegetable growers."

Speaking of the depression and taxes, Commissioner Graham said "certainly land which is not productive should not be taxed as heavily as land which is yielding an income."

With the farmers' voice being heard on taxes, "Times are going to get better and after a period of rest and quiet, the old stockings are going to give up their change, old bureau drawers are going to

Mr. Fountain called attention to the tendency in these times of centralization of power insofar as the many plans are being suggested tending to take away from the people the right to elect their local officers. Under the Brookings report, and survey made for the benefit of the members of the past session of the General Assembly he reviewed the effect of the short ballot and stated that under such form of government there would be only two elective officers, the Governor and an Auditor, and that all other officers of the State now elected by the people would be appointed by the governor, and that this would be extended even to the elective officers of the various counties of the State.

He emphasized the principal laid down by Thomas Jefferson in that the people should have the right to rule and quoted Claude Bowers in his Chapel Hill speech as saying, "There is only one way for the people to have a voice and that is through the referendum at the polls". Governor Fountain believes that the people by reason of their advancement in education were never more capable to govern themselves and that this right of self government for which their forefathers fought should be always retained by the people.

He believes that this is a time that the people should make known their wishes because there has been recently appointed a constitutional commission to study out the different plans and forms of government and that this commission will soon give consideration to the recommendations made and set out in the Brookings report. In that report the same recommendations made for Porto Rico are made for North Carolina. And if such a plan of government should be adopted for the people of North Carolina it would break down and destroy local communities which have been the back ground and foundation for the growth and prosperity of our people. It is known that Lieut. Governor Fountain is a candidate for governor in the 1932 election.

Three weeks passed and the rebuilt plane was taken to Barren Island, N. F., again awaiting favorable weather. After a crack-up he finally gave it up.

Last April his plane again rebuilt, Boardman said he intended to fly to Istanbul, Turkey. Last Friday he and Polando rose into the dawn but a few minutes later they jettisoned drums of gasoline and returned, unable to gain altitude.

Today they were on their way and veteran pilots said their chances were good. Boardman has more than 3,000 flying hours to his credit.

The prime minister laughed at the suggestion that withdrawals of gold from the Bank of England might worry him.

"The old saying 'Sound as the Bank of England' is as true today, said he "as it was 620 years ago. I'm not worried a bit."

Mr. MacDonald declined to discuss the Nationalist opposition as a factor in Germany on the ground that this was internal politics and out of his sphere.

A proposal for a five year "political moratorium" has not been discussed in the conference here, he said, adding that he believes any moratorium likely to relieve financial or political tension would be a good thing if the practical difficulties were not insurmountable.

Neither he nor Mr. Henderson would talk about the French disarmament moratorium.

They agreed that real progress had been made in improving Franco-

German relations and that in the past few weeks there has been a decided improvement in those relations.

White, Trustee, by Durham Kamegay and wife, Julia Kamegay, on the 29th day of January, 1924 which said Deed in Trust is recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County in Book G-15, page 227, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, the undersigned will offer for sale for CASH, at public auction, to the highest bidder before the Court House Door in Greenville On Friday, August 28, 1931 at 12 o'clock Noon the following described real estate, to-wit:

That piece, parcel or lot of land lying and being situate in the County of Pitt, State of North Carolina and Town of Greenville, in that part of said town known as Little Washington, and on Clark Street, being a part of that lot or parcel of land purchased by Joe Harrington and wife from Craven McGowan, bounded on the South by the lot of C. W. Harvey, on the North by the Lee Adams lot, on the West by the Isa Mills lot and on the East by Clark Street, and being the same lot described in a deed from H. W. Whedbee and others, Commissioners, to Harry Skinner, by deed dated January 20 1921 and recorded in Book 8-13, page 534 and being the same lot upon which Durham Kamegay and wife now live.

This the 27th day of July, 1931. H. A. White, Trustee.

J. J. White, Administrator. F. G. James & Son, Attys. July 28-11w-4wk.

HAVE YOU MET THE LADY WHO NEVER READS THE ADS?

GO INTO her kitchen. The shelves are filled with familiar brands of soup and soap and foods of all sorts. Her electric iron and ice-box have been advertised regularly. So have her rugs and towels and table silver. Somebody must have been reading "the ads" ... asking for known quality ... buying the goods ... giving them leadership.

Few women now are content to miss the marvelous comforts of the times. Almost every one is planning to make next year easier and pleasanter than this year. YOU read the advertisements with interest because in them you find the freshest news and the most practical ideas about keeping house — and about all other branches of the modern art of living.

Naturally, your interest and your confidence grow when you see the same product appearing over and over again. Improved ... better now than ever, but an old friend, anyway. Something you can rely on to meet a need, and do a job.

Follow the advertisements in this paper carefully. They are full of interesting facts and useful ideas.

They will save you time and money ... and bring you better things.

Solicitor Begins Probe of Death of J. Thomas Phillips

Shelby, July 28.—(AP)—The scrutiny of Solicitor L. S. Spurling was directed officially today to the

MODEL YOUTH SENT TO JAIL

(Continued from page one) the case after the boy pleaded not guilty, read a seven and one-half page summary of the case, severely criticizing the parents and imposing a penitentiary sentence despite the lad's youth. He pointed out that he had made arrangements with Warden Henry C. Hill for Corry's incarceration and that he would be eligible for parole in 10 years and 3 months, at the age of 25.

Varner and two other boys broke into a school building to go swimming and were ordered out of the pool by Smith. Varner shot him with a stolen revolver he was carrying.

Varner was indicted and tried for first degree murder. His attorneys asked for dismissal of the case on the ground no premeditation or malice had been shown. The state asked for an "object lesson."

ARCHIBALD HARRINGTON SUCCUMBS AT SANFORD

Sanford, July 27.—Archibald McNeill Harrington, 71, well known citizen passed away at his home on Oakwood Avenue at 11:30 today following a long period of illness.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Harrington of Harnett county. For nearly 30 years he had lived in Sanford and had many friends here who held him in the highest esteem. Mr. Harrington is survived by his wife who before marriage was Miss Flora McFarland; three daughters, Mrs. W. L. Nisbett, Greenville; Mrs. M. D. Cofe, New Orleans, La.; Miss Vera Harrington, Sanford; four sons, N. A., H. P., W. E. and J. C. Harrington, Sanford; one sister, Miss Sallie Harrington and two brothers William and Anson Harrington of Harnett county. Funeral services will be held at the home at 4 p. m. Tuesday. Rev. R. C. Gilmore, D. D., pastor of the Sanford Presbyterian Church of which Mr. Harrington was long a faithful member, will be in charge. Interment will be in Shallow Well Church cemetery.

death of Thomas J. Phillips, Lenoir automobile dealer, fatally wounded a week ago during an automobile ride with Mrs. Charlotte Yount, 32-year-old Newton widow.

The solicitor began an investigation after a coroner's jury found Phillips came to his death from wounds inflicted by unknown hands.

The jury reached this verdict at an inquest at King's Mountain Friday. In doing so, it refused to accept a statement by Mrs. Yount that Phillips shot himself after stopping his car and telling her to "get out and see if there was a flat tire."

Coroner Roscoe K. Lutz of Shelby turned all the testimony over to the solicitor, who is here for a term of court, about 100 miles from his home.

Mountain yesterday to begin his probe.

After questioning several witnesses, he said he found the case a "bit mysterious." He said he expected to reach a decision this week whether or not he would ask the Cleveland county grand jury to indict anyone in the case.

Phillips, a former mayor of North Wilkesboro, where he lived before going to Lenoir, is survived by his widow and two children. Mrs. Yount also is the mother of two children. Her husband, John Clarence Yount, Newton glove man-

Stephen Gardner, Business Man, is Hard-Boiled Guy

Washington, N. C., July 28.—(AP)—The Rev. Stephen Gardner, D. D. is rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church here, but Steve Gardner B. M. (Business Man) is a hard-boiled guy.

Mr. Gardner made purchases from a Richmond, Va., firm. Upon receiving the bill he wrote firmly but courteously that he believed he had been over-charged.

He received a reply which, he said, was also firm but "anything but courteous."

Whereupon he took his pen in hand and wrote this missive:

"Gentlemen—If the Rev. Stephen Gardner were writing this letter, his inclination would be to tell you that he deeply regretted this controversy and would abide by the pronouncements contained in your letter.

"On the other hand, if Steve Gardner were doing the writing, he probably would tell you that you and your company could go to that place which is so hot that the only merchandise for which there is any urgent demand is ice water, and plenty of it.

"Yours very truly,
"Steve Gardner."

Report Improvement In State Cotton Crop

Raleigh, July 28.—(AP)—Field representatives of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Association today reported improvement in the State's cotton crop during the past week and estimated it is now 87 per cent normal.

In several counties the condition was reported "normal," but none of the field men estimated the condition on the crops above normal.

Weather conditions improved slightly during the week and were reported to be generally satisfactory for the growth of cotton. Woevil infestation varying from "few" to "plentiful," was reported in most counties, with Cleveland, Rutherford, Polk, Catawba, Lincoln and Gaston counties reporting no weevils.

Vass, N. C.—Crops in this section were severely damaged by a heavy rain and hail storm.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, July 28.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 8 to 11 points lower in response to lower Liverpool cables than expected and on continued favorable crop and weather advices from the south.

The selling, however, was not of large volume and price changes were narrow following the opening decline. December contracts declined to 9.05 with the general list showing net losses of six to nine points at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported the market steady early on continental buying with a later reaction under liquidation and hedge selling. There was an improvement in cloth sales to South America and Africa.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, July 28.—(AP)—Equalizing the all-time low price record for future delivery contracts, 50-1-4 cents, wheat today reflected scantiness of demand rather than pressure of selling. On the downturns, some buying was encouraged by belief that the market was near to an irreducible minimum. There were also estimates that prospective wheat yields in the Dakotas had been considerably curtailed since the July 1 government report.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 28.—(AP)—A partial moratorium seemed to be in effect in the stock market today, where prices maintained a fairly good undertone, despite the state of speculative torpor.

With U. S. Steel's dividend and earnings announcement due after the close, traders were content to mark time. Trading dragged along at yesterday's pace, which was the slowest in nearly seven years. The bond market however, was a little more active, with foreign issues, save for the Chileans making some recovery.

U. S. Steel common moved narrowly. A few chemical, chain store and miscellaneous industrial issues moved up a point or two, including Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, General Electric, Safeway, Penney, Woolworth, Sears, Kroger, Chrysler Electric Auto Lite, Eastman, Johns Minville, Byers, Westinghouse, McKeesport and Standard of N. J. and some of the motion picture issues also advanced. Universal preferred sold up more than 4.

There were a few soft spots however. Auburn lost a few points more, and the Childs dropped more than 2 to a new low.

The railroad earnings statements for June which have been pouring in in considerable numbers, still appear to make a little better comparison with 1930 than May did. But the improvement appears to have been largely at the expense of equipment costs. New York Central's returns continue disappointing. Earnings of this premier carrier for the first six months appear to have been around 60 cents a share, against actual dividend payments of $3.50. Tomorrow's weekly freight car loadings report is expected to show a small decline from the previous week.

A number of reports followed their addresses. At the conclusion of these, balloting on a commander to succeed Con C. Johnson, of Moorville, was to begin.

General Bowley was presented to the convention by Representative Charles L. Abernethy, of New Bern.

General McClosky, who recently took charge of Fort Bragg, brought greetings from that army post, and invited the legionnaires to visit the post for which he described as "the largest, post in the army."

During the morning, the convention heard a band concert and listened to Miss Zilma Russ, Washington, N. C., the "official sweetheart" of the state Legion, sing popular songs.

SCOUTS TAKE PEEP AT MEN IN PIEDMONT

By PAUL SIMMONS
Charlotte, July 28.—(AP)—There ought to be some flashy performances hither and yon in the Piedmont league during the next few weeks. The open season for ivory huntin is on.

Big league scouts are reported to be hanging around the leading Charlotte club in droves. If this is true, they are bound to be giving the other nines the once-over also.

Whether it will help them or not some of ambitious young hopefuls are found to perk up and make a stab for fame when they know the rookie collectors for the major leagues are around. They may be wise at that, for a brilliant performance at the opportune time might send them up.

Not that the boys have not been putting out all the season. The way the axe has been falling, they would not still be hanging around if they were not doing their best.

But, be this as it may, there is nothing like the lure of a ticket to the big time to inspire a youngster to put on the steam.

This brand of psychology might have figured in the tussle last night at Winston-Salem where reliable reports have it one or two big league representatives followed the Hornets. The Twins put up a strong battle, but the deadly work of Red Brandes, Bee shortstop, made it possible for his team to win 5 to 4.

Several of the other boys also made a nice showing in the game.

Some of the sages of the soda fountain have figured it out that a certain school in Western North Carolina may be looking for a teacher some time next season. They think the big league scouts are almost sure to get Bobby Hipp, who teaches at the school and plays for the Asheville Tourists between terms.

Hipp, who learned his baseball from the wily Bill Laval at Furman University, was advanced to full management of the Tourists this week. He celebrated by taking them to High Point and smearing a 5 to 2 defeat on the Pointers last night.

A couple of southpaws, Kleinhaus of the Pats, and Briggs, of the Cap'n's, locked horns at Raleigh. Kleinhaus allowed only five hits to nine for Briggs but he walked too many men in the third inning and the Caps rag up a 4 to 1 win.

The Bulls stepped out at Henderson, bunching their hits with the Gamecock miscues to take a 7 to 4 victory over the Birds.

WHITTALL'S
THE MARK OF QUALITY

WHITTALL SEAMLESS ANGLO RAMADAN
Entirely Different

NEVER before has there been a rug like this—more lustrous, more colorful, different from any sheened type of rug produced.

Whittall has woven this rug fabric especially for lustrous. Selected yarns, a new process of dyeing, deeper pile, make the Anglo Ramadan rug exquisitely different from any others you will find.

It is well worth a special trip to our rug department to see these new age creations.
