SOCIETY GIRL IS KILLED BY NEGRO BANDIT

Two Other Women Wounded During a Highway Holdup in Birmingham Area.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Civilian possesmen today joined city and county officers in a hunt for a negro who last night killed Miss Augusta Williams, society girl and wounded her two girl companions after keeping them captive four hours following a highway hold-up.

Miss Nell Williams, sister of the slain girl, was shot in the spine and hospital attendants called her condition grave. Miss Jennie Wood a friend received a bullet in her right arm, the three were shot when they tried to escape from their captor.

Miss Williams told officers the three girls were driving along the highway about three miles from an exclusive Birmingham residential section when a negro leaped on the running board of their car covering them with a pistol.

They were forced to drive into a wooded section about 100 yards off the highway. There, the negro took their money from them but refused to permit them to leave, she said. The girls decided to make an attempt to escape when the negro got "fresh," Miss Williams said.

Despite her wound she was able to make her way to the nearest home, about three miles distant to sound the alarm. A search for the assailant was begun, and the three girls were taken to a hospital where Miss Augusta Williams died a short time later.

Weak and exhausted from loss of blood, Miss Nell Williams described her struggle with the negro before he opened fire on them, as she lay on a hospital bed today.

"We had been to a show and had been driving around before going home," she said. "It was dark and we were riding slowly when the negro suddenly jumped on the running board and pointed a gun at us. He told us he wanted some money and we immediately offered him what we had, but he said, 'Never mind, not now,' and ordered me to drive into a small lane leading into the woods. I drove into the lane.

"As soon as we reached the woods the negro began insulting us. He seemed to be making a speech and appeared to be an educated negro. He insulted us time and again, while we begged him to let us go. When he became too insulting to bear it any longer, I grabbed at him with the hope that the three of us could take the gun away from him. He started firing and all of us were shot.

"I fell to the ground and made as if I were dead, and in a little while he left. I then tried to lift the others into the car, but couldn't. Then I got in and drove with one hand to Homewood to get help. It was way after dark then."

Anniston, Ala., Aug. 5.—(AP)—A negro who gave his name as Rufus Austin, of New Orleans, was arrested here today as a suspect in the shooting last night of three Birmingham young women, one of whom died, and immediately started for Birmingham.

The negro, about 35 years old and answering the description of the abductor of the three girls, was removed from a Southern Railway freight train in the yards here by Mayor Sidney J. Reaves and Chief of Police S. O. Smith.

Officers said he was carrying a pistol from which one shot had been fired and that he told them he boarded the train at Avondale, a Birmingham suburb, early today.

Southport, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Shortages or discrepancies totalling more than $17,000 were charged against the accounts of seven former Brunswick county officials today in the report of a special auditor.

The former officers are Republicans, most of whom were defeated by Democratic candidates in the last election. Their names and the alleged shortages listed in the audit are:

GERMAN BANKS OPENED AGAIN

Perfect Calm Marks Resumption of Business With Very Few Withdrawals.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Germany's banks, closed for more than three weeks as an emergency measure to stabilize the country's finances, reopened today for public business in an atmosphere of perfect calm.

Preparations made for possible runs by depositors proved superfluous and nowhere did withdrawals exceed the estimated volume. Hoard ed money freely flowed into banks here and the same conditions prevailed in the provinces.

Chancellor Heinrich Brüning leaves tonight for Rome with his foreign minister to visit Premier Mussolini as well as Pope Pius XI. Following in the wake of the English, French and German visits the Rome conference will be one of a remarkable series of meetings among the leading statesmen of Europe which began on June 4 with the journey of German officials to London. Herr Brüning hopes to complete the good work by having Premier Laval and Foreign Minister Briand in Berlin late this month and to persuade Mussolini and Foreign Minister Grandi to reply the German visit.

The opening of the Reich's banks after an enforced holiday of more than three weeks was believed to have given the chancellor new encouragement in his task of bringing financial order out of chaos.

Plans are Discussed at "House Warming" Celebration of Merchants Association Last Night: Mass Meeting for Further Discussion of Plans to be Held at Court House Next Monday Night at 8 O'clock.

A movement looking to the organization of a chamber of commerce was launched at the "house warming" celebration given by the Greenville Merchants Association at its new home on Evans street last night.

Scores of prominent business and professional men assisted in the launching and numbers of them made speeches setting forth the need of a departmentalized chamber of commerce to aid in the continued expansion of the city and community.

Although organization was not perfected, it was decided to hold a mass meeting at the court house next Monday night at 8 o'clock to give everybody an opportunity to take part in discussion of organization plans.

Rain descended in torrents prior to and during the "house warming" activities last night, and while attendance was cut considerably, many were on hand to help the association celebrate its new home. Punch was served prior to and after the meeting, and the best the weather man could do with his sluice gates failed to dampen the ardor of the assemblage.

John Clark, president of the association, presided, explained the two-fold purpose of the meeting, and urged that some action be taken to organize a chamber of commerce to more completely boost the resources and possibilities of the community. He then called for expressions on the proposal.

W. S. Brown said this was as good a section as there is in the country, but it needed more advertising to let the outside world know more about its advantages and resources. He said the association had played a tremendous part in this respect but was not able to do the work as effectively as a chamber of commerce with men from every walk of life participating.

SEARCH FOR BUS VICTIMS

Twenty-One Bodies Recovered from S. C. River after Draw-bridge Accident.

Georgetown, S. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Workers today continued their search for the bodies of two of the 23 victims of Monday night's draw-bridge disaster.

The 21st body, that of a negro man, was dragged from the river near here last night, nearly 24 hours after the school bus loaded with a picnic party of 22 negroes, and operated by two white men had plunged from an open drawbridge into the stream.

Funeral services for many of the victims, most of whom were from Andrews, have been held in abeyance. Seven women and four children were among them.

The law enforcement office of the State highway patrol, division of the department, has received the report of Patrolman J. O. Sanders, Jr., that the gates were down at the open draw and that lights were burning. Sanders and county officers conducted an investigation of the tragedy.

Verdicts of "accidental drownings" were returned at an inquest. Warren Newton, 32-year-old farmer, and his son, Olin, 17, had rented the bus to the negroes for an outing near Charleston. Bodies of both Newtons were recovered.

The sole survivor, Jerome Fraser, 18-year-old negro bootblack, has been in bed suffering from exposure and cuts received when he broke open a window of the bus to escape. He said he had to break the grip of a woman to get out.

"A girl, Ruth Brown, had a death grip on my toe," Fraser said. "I loosened my shoestrings and slipped out of my shoe. I cut my hand in some way. I know I came through that window."

He said he made a futile effort to save his sister who was in the front part of the bus.

BATTLE AGAIN ON THE STAND MAN KILLED ON HIGHWAY

Former Teller of Defunct Bank Resumes Testimony in Trial of Col. Lea.

Asheville, Aug. 5.—(AP)—D. L. M. Battle, former teller of the defunct Central Bank & Trust Company here, returned to the stand today in the trial of Col. Luke Lea, Tennessee publisher, and three co-defendants on conspiracy charges.

With his son, Luke Lea, Jr., E. P. Charles, of Nashville, a former business associate, and W. B. Davis, former president of the bank. Lea is charged with conspiring to defraud the institution of approximately $1,300,000.

Yesterday Battle and C. J. Hawkins, vice president of the bank, told of carrying hundreds of thousands of dollars to Lea at Nashville under instructions from Davis and J. Charles Bradford, former cashier.

Prior to the resumption of Battle's testimony, Judge M. W. Barnhill sent the jury from the courtroom while state and defense counsel argued the demand of the state that Lea produce the originals of a number of letters said to bear on the state's allegations of conspiracy.

Defense attorneys argued that this demand, if enforced, would be tantamount to forcing the defendants to produce evidence against themselves.

State attorneys said their demand was merely for the purpose of serving notice that they would offer secondary evidence if the originals of the letter are withheld and the defense then dropped its fight against the proposed order and turned its guns on the admittance of the secondary evidence until ample time is given them to secure the papers and check the state's evidence.

Judge Barnhill ruled that while the state could offer its secondary evidence it first must show that the records in question actually are in the hands of the defendants and pertinent to the case.

Battle then began his testimony by identifying letters written by Bradford prior to the bank's failure, saying he delivered the originals to the elder Lea.

Unidentified Negro is Hit by Truck Near the Country Club Intersection.

An unidentified negro was killed when hit by a truck driven by Geo. Peed, tenant on the Harrington farm near Ayden, at the intersection of the Country Club road and the Ayden highway last night.

Although officers had been investigating the case throughout the morning hours, the identity of the negro could not be established.

Peed was returning to Ayden after bringing a load of tobacco hands to Greenville when the accident occurred. The negro was walking on the edge of the highway, and a torrential downpour of rain prevented the driver from seeing the man.

The negro was struck by the side of the truck body, but was still living when Peed stopped to investigate the cause of the impact. The body was placed in the truck and rushed to Greenville for medical aid, but the man lived only a short time after reaching the hospital.

Investigating officers expressed belief that the negro had been drinking and was walking aimlessly along the highway when hit by the truck.

Peed was exonerated by the coroner's jury this afternoon, the coroner being declared unavoidable. Coroner Williams said the body would be held for identification and invited anybody knowing anything about the negro to come in to view the body.

The dead man apparently was about 25 years of age and wore a sailor straw hat, light shirt, overall trousers and tan slippers. He was of a ginger-cake color, with long, wavy black hair, was 5 feet eight inches tall and weighed 160 pounds.

Plan Non-Stop Flight From Tokyo To Seattle

New York, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The world's flight headquarters here received a cable today from Hugh Herndon, Jr., in Khabarovsk, Siberia, definitely announcing that an attempt would be made to fly non-stop from Tokyo to Seattle.

When Pangborn and Herndon left New York in their attempt to beat the time of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty around the world, an attempt now abandoned, they carried 830 gallons of gasoline of which 80 gallons was in small tins.

"Will attempt non-stop Tokyo-Seattle flight," the cable said. "Will have extra tank built in Tokyo."

It was believed here that a tank would weigh considerably less than the tins and that thus about 50 more gallons of fuel could be carried.

SAYS EDISON NOT OUT OF DANGER YET

Physician Asserts the Aged Inventor is Hanging to Life by Frayed Strands.

West Orange, N. J., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Thomas A. Edison is held to life only by the frayed strands of health, Dr. Hubert S. Howe told reporters today.

He said that although the 84-year old inventor had showed marked and rapid improvement he was not yet "out of immediate danger."

"His condition is like the fraying out of an elevator rope," said Dr. Howe. "The elevator functions until the last strand breaks. The outside looks all right. All that is left for the engineer to do is to protect the last few strands."

The physician said Edison has a chance of "coming out of this and living for some time."

In the earlier stages of his illness, Dr. Howe said, the inventor had been unwilling to take medicine until he had read all about it and studied its chemical reactions. But he had been so sick, the doctor added, that he was willing now to take the medicine first and read of its effects afterwards.

Dr. Howe's morning bulletin which he amplified in a talk with newspapermen, follows:

"Yesterday afternoon Mr. Edison took a short ride, and he did not seem to be unfavorably affected by it."

"He had a restless night, but despite this is bright and cheerful this morning and seems slightly improved."

BIRDS PERISH DURING STORM

Hundreds of English Sparrows Drowned or Electrocuted in a Thunderstorm Here.

Several hundred English sparrows were either electrocuted or drowned during the terrific thunderstorm which swept over Greenville last Friday night, it was revealed following a check-up on the premises of Mrs. J. S. Tunstall, on Albemarle avenue.

Mrs. Tunstall's home is surrounded by several magnolia and pine trees and the morning after the storm the ground was literally covered with dead birds.

Mrs. Tunstall said they raked up an ash can full of sparrows, numbering 210, and that an undetermined number still remained to be disposed of.

It was impossible to say how the birds met death, but opinion was expressed that they were either electrocuted by a bolt of lightning, or drowned during the torrential downpour of rain which continued throughout the early part of the night.

Good, Grainy Cigarette Tobacco Appears To be in Demand But Common and Poorer Types Bring Low Prices in Comparison with Bids Previous Years; the Price Situation Varies But Slightly from Yesterday on the Eastern S. C. Tobacco Markets.

(By the Associated Press) Tobacco prices on South Carolina border belt markets held steady today with decreased offerings boosting bids a few points on individual floors.

Estimates were that a slight increase at Lumberton would raise today's price average from the 745 cents paid yesterday to an eight-cents level. Only about 100,000 pounds of leaf were on the floors, however, farmers apparently holding the bulk of the crop until an accurate estimate of the market range can be determined.

Whiteville reported approximately 50,000 pounds for sale with prices in the neighborhood of slightly better than the eight cents average that prevailed yesterday.

Decreases in offerings were also reported from Chadbourne, Fair Bluff and Mount Tabor, three other Columbus county markets, with the prices maintaining yesterday's range of from 7.10 to 8.10.

Lige predominated on the Clarkston market where an estimated 24,000 pounds was sold at an average of approximately 7.65.

Good, grainy cigarette tobacco appeared to be in demand but common and poorer types were bringing very low prices in comparison with bids of other years.

Florence, S. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Sales in the Eastern South Carolina tobacco belt today continued light and prices showed but little variation from yesterday's opening bids.

The average price today seemed to be slightly less than ten cents, but everywhere it was conceded much of the offering was of a low grade.

Nowhere was the fact that farmers have not found it possible to market their crop more evident than in Mullins and Lake City, the two largest markets in the state.

At Mullins, where usually almost half the crop is sold, the floors showed an amount slightly in excess of 100,000 pounds. Last year 35,000,000 pounds were marketed in Mullins.

At Lake City only about 75,000 pounds were offered.

The Mullins average price was unofficially estimated at nine cents a pound; Lake City at 8 1/2.

The Timmonsville market proved a strong point in the otherwise puny report. Warehousemen asserted there had been 200,000 pounds for sale and the average price was 9 1/2 cents. The market there closed strong.

Export buyers still had failed to make their appearance, leaving the low grades a drag on the market.

The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company at Mullins, boosting the better grades from three to five cents a pound over last year's prices.

The giant seaplane, largest in the world, arrived here June 29 after a 1,400 mile flight across the South Atlantic from the Cape Verde Islands to Fernando Noronha, off the coast of Brazil. She had left Allschwil, Switzerland in November, 1929 and traveled by short stages, often interrupted by accidents, across western Europe and down the coast of West Africa.

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The seaplane DO-X, on the way to New York with ten passengers, landed at Caravelas at 11:30 A. M. (9:30 A. M. E. S. T.) today. The next scheduled stop is Bahia, where she will remain overnight.

MISFIT MEN GOING GOOD IN MAJORS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

One of the big problems in major league baseball is found in the "misfit" players—men who don't do well with one team or have no real place on it but who often become great players when sent to another club.

Two Brooklyn castoffs, Harvey Hendrick and Jake Flowers, who were merely good but not particularly useful utility players with the Robins, have attracted wide attention this season by their performances since being traded. Hendrick a regular with the Cincinnati, is one of the National league's leading batsmen and Flowers, sent to St. Louis for the waiver price, was proved almost invaluable as a substitute for Frisch and Gelbert.

Another such player has cropped up recently in Bill Hunnefeld, who had a varied career with the Chicago White Sox, Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves before he landed with the New York Giants in mid season. Hunnefeld has fitted nicely into the Giant machine in the hole left by the injury of Hughie Critz. He has proved an expert defensive player and, while not a strong batter, a good enough man at the plate.

Hunnefeld did his share toward New York's double victory over the Brooklyn Robins yesterday by driving in one run in the first game and scoring one in the second. Travis Jackson was the big gun of the Giant attack that turned back the Robins by scores of 6 to 3 and 3 to 2.

Chicago's Cubs, refusing to let the Giants gain an inch in their struggle for second place, took a doubleheader from the humble Cincinnati Reds by scores of 4 to 2 and 7 to 3.

Pittsburgh ran its string of shut-out innings to 45, then saw it broken with a loud crash. Henry Meine, trying for his third straight shutout victory over the Cardinals, made an error in the sixth inning and the league champions broke through for seven runs in two innings to win 7 to 1.

The Phillies and the Boston Braves split the third twin-bill on the National league program. Ray Benge stopped the Braves with six hits to gain a 3 to 2 victory in the opener while Wee Willie Sherdel, making his first start in a month, outpitched Chick Dudley in the second clash and Boston won 4 to 2. Vic Frasier's pitching enabled the Chicago White Sox to gain an even break with Detroit in their "cellar" series. Frasier held the Tigers to eight blows to win the final clash 5 to 1. Rain halted the battle between Cleveland and St. Louis while the other American league teams had an off day.

BOONE LEAVES THE POINTERS; WILL RETURN

By PAUL SIMMONS
Charlotte, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Dan Boone, veteran High Point pilot and home run king of the Piedmont league, was off to Pennsylvania today, leaving the managementship of the Pointers in the hands of Hobe Brummitt, first baseman.

Mrs. E. E. Sensenbach, Pointer owner, said Boone had not severed connections with the club but would return next year as manager. He expects to play the rest of this season with the York club of the New York-Pennsylvania league, keeping a sharp lookout in the East for promising rockies to bolster the 1932 edition of the Pointers.

Mrs. Sensenbach explained that the Pointers were so hopelessly out of the race Boone decided he just as well spend the remainder of the season busting the pellet over the fence in the New York-Pennsylvania loop.

The Pointers dropped down another notch last night shortly after Skipper Dan had pulled out, losing to the Raleigh Caps at High Point, 3 to 2.

Brummitt, the new manager, says he is going to make a mighty effort to steer the nine through the rest of the season in good style. He is a Cigarette Loop veteran, having played several seasons with Greensboro before going to High Point.

The Pats are proving to be "the stuff." They romped on the Tourists, 12 to 7, last night at Asheville to sweep the series.

The Kanemen led the circuit last week with five wins in six starts. It looks as they are out to repeat this week.

They have Charlotte and the Raleigh teams, who are bracing up this week, to contend with, to say nothing of some of the other clubs.

The Bees kept their slate for the week to date clear by smashing out a 6 to 4 victory over Durham last night at Charlotte.

The league leaders move against the Gamecocks at Henderson today for the mid-week stand, while Winston goes to Greensboro, Asheville to Raleigh, and High Point to Durham.

WALLACE PLEASES AUDIENCE WITH MAGIC TRICKS

The magic performances of Wallace the magician, "the opti-mystic" as he signs himself, came up to expectations in his program of magic and mystery at East Carolina Teachers College last night. In spite of the rain, there was a long line-up of small boys ready when the curtain went up, and these added to the evening's entertainment by their enthusiastic appreciation of some of the finer things done or by the skeptical demands when calling for proof or completion of things that were doubtful to them.

Wallace played on this doubting Thomas spirit, pretended to make slips and explanations which caught the small boy in their own traps. He made puns and played jokes on his audience with the naive, innocent air of an ignorant person. His witty comments and facetious remarks never missed fire any more than his tricks.

His ventriloquist dialogue with his puppet was excellent. His rapid fire drawings and quick transformations of a picture of one thing into another with a stroke and a turn, delighted the audience. He worked with gloves on. Trouble was perhaps saved because he made the boys who were waiting to nab the thrown-aside pictures realize they must not handle them because the chalk used was poisonous.

The Chinese Torture trick he says is a new one, and this was only the third time he had given it. During the evening he had appropriate Victrola numbers going.

It was an excellent entertainment, if the response of the audience is an indication of its success. Dr. Meadows made an interesting speech during the intermission. He invited all the audience to a watermelon feast on the back campus, but the rain interfered, seriously with what would have been a very delightful social occasion if the night had been fair.

Edward Tucker Held Up in N. Y. Again

Bandits are causing lots of trouble for Edward Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tucker of Greenville, and manager of Tom McAn Shoe Store at Brooklyn, N. Y.

Several months ago two masked men walked into the store, brandished guns and ordered young Tucker, clerks and customers to be quiet while they rifled the cash register. They escaped with a small sum of money and were not apprehended.

Several days ago one of the same bandits entered the store while Tucker and the clerks were busy, held them up at the point of a gun and obtained $18.

Tucker, in a recent letter to his parents, gave a vivid description of the incident and said he positively identified the bandit as one of those who took part in the first robbery. Although police have been working on the case, no arrests have been made.

Order Probe Into Death of Woman; Husband is Jailed

Hendersonville, N. C., Aug. 5.—While her husband was held in jail without bond, an inquest was ordered here today into the death of Mrs. Plato Edney, shot to death at her home Monday.

Edney, a well-to-do farmer, who is accused of killing his wife as well as wounding his two small children, was captured late yesterday by a posse led by Sheriff W. A. Garren, after a two-day search.

So far he has refused to comment on the shooting which relatives of Mrs. Edney attribute to jealousy. Edney told Sheriff Garren he had been looking for the sheriff to render.

Mrs. Edney is the daughter of a banker here.

Greenville Lodge Enjoys Watermelon Feast and Contest

Reported
Greenville Lodge No. 284 A. J. and A. M. held a very interesting meeting Monday night August 3rd, with a full house. At a previous meeting the lodge arranged to conduct a Lodge Attendance Contest in accordance with the statement of attendance contest being promoted by our Grand Master. The lodge membership was divided into two teams—the Reds with T. I. Moore senior warden as captain and the Blues selected Nash R. Joyner, senior deacon as their captain. The battle was on from the start and as a result of the contest 28 members were present at this meeting, which is a nice increase in regular lodge attendance. These teams are going to work hard and if a member of Greenville Lodge No. 284 does not attend his lodge real soon these captains are going to know the reason why.

Some very interesting programs are being arranged for the meeting of the lodge during the next four months. We not only want every member of our lodge to be loyal to the call of our Most Worshipful Grand Master but we want him to refresh his memory of the grand and enduring principles of Masonry and renew his fellowship and acquaintance with the brethren. It's a fine place to fellowship and get very close to your neighbor, which the world needs today more than ever before. In token of your loyalty and your love for your neighbor, attend your lodge as often as you can and your reward at least will be a clear conscience that you have done something to bring human hearts in closer accord with each other, thereby restoring FAITH, increasing our HOPE and exercising CHARITY, which will in a great measure help to cure the ills of a troubled world.

Deposed Sheriff Refuses to Turn Over His Keys

Ridgeland, S. C., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Ben F. Spivey, ousted as sheriff of Jasper county by order of Governor Blackwood, again today refused to hand over the keys of his office to G. L. Langford, the governor's appointee.

Sheriff Spivey's first refusal to give up office came immediately after the governor had proclaimed the office vacant.

He took the case to Associate Justice Jesse F. Carter of the State Supreme Court on that occasion and obtained a temporary restraining order.

Yesterday, however, Justice Carter announced he did not consider the governor's executive acts reviewable and dismissed the restraining order.

This morning, when Langford went to the sheriff's office, Spivey refused to quit it. Auditors several days ago announced they had discovered a

ABOUT TOWN

Maynard Fletcher, Washington, N. C. minister, got his chance at European royalty while attending the international convention of Rotary Clubs at Vienna recently. Besides rubbing shoulders with some of the leading people of the nation, he had the honor of shaking hands with the President of Austria at a dinner given in honor of the Rotarians.

Lindbergh, as usual, seems to be meeting with success in his vacation flight to the orient. He arrived at Baker Lake yesterday after the outside world had been out of communication with him for several hours.

The present flight will test the flying ability of the distinguished aviator to no little extent in that he will fly over some of the most dangerous sections of the world.

With Lindbergh luck—the same old luck that enabled him to make the first solo flight across the Atlantic, the noted flier should be able to reach the orient, have a fine vacation, and then return as straight home as a bird to its nest.

With light offerings of inferior tobacco in evidence, the South Carolina and border markets opened yesterday with an average price similar to that of last year.

The averages ranged between eight and nine cents, and the average last year was slightly over eight cents.

Tobaccoists, on the basis of this information, believe the price situation will undergo a pronounced improvement when the farmers begin offering the best grades of leaf.

The next thing to look forward to in this industry is the opening of the Eastern Carolina Tobacco markets. The economic future of this section of the State is bound up in the outcome of the opening, and everybody is watching the other markets in an effort to determine if the situation will be favorable.

Eastern Carolina produces some of the finest tobacco grown in the world, and if prices are any way normal, the farmers ought to be able to recover from the low prices of the last two years even in the face of a curtailed crop.

Thursday is "Dollar Day" in Greenville and hundreds of people are expected to visit the city to inspect the countless bargains which merchants are providing for them.

"Dollar Day" is one of the greatest sales events of the year and shoppers who fail to visit the city will miss the greatest harvest of values in years.

Merchants have sent their buyers to northern markets to lay in values for "Dollar Day" and the showing will be the most complete and extensive since inauguration of the trade day.

The affair is being sponsored by the Greenville Merchants Association, long noted for its service to the people, and all who come to Greenville next Thursday have the assurance of members of this organization that they will get the best to be had on bargain counters.

In the face of a reduction of six million dollars in valuations, members of the Board of County Commissioners have been able to decrease the tax rate 41 cents for the present year.

The rate at this time is 94 cents compared with $1.35 last year. The reduction was made by possible by enactment of the MacLean school law transferring support of schools to the state, and the excellent financing ability of the commissioners.

A fraction over fifteen cents of the tax rate will go to the state to aid in the support of schools, and the remainder will be expended in the general operation of the various departments of government. It is a long time since the county has enjoyed such a low tax rate, and it should be of special significance to the public in view of the fact that the reduction is said to be greater than any other county in this immediate section of the State.

LAUNCH MOVEMENT HERE LOOKING TO ORGANIZATION OF CHAMBER COMMERCE

chamber of commerce with departments covering every branch of human endeavor so that everybody might have a part in the plan to make Greenville a bigger and better place.

Dr. R. H. Wright, president of East Carolina College, told of the importance of attracting more people, and held up France as an object. That country, he said, has thrown open its doors to people of all nations, and because of that fact is rapidly recovering from the effects of the devastation of the World War.

He declared Greenville had good government, fine schools, modern stores, a tobacco market second to none, and everything else worth while. It is a splendid place to live, he asserted, and its growth has been largely the result of an unsurpassed spirit of co-operation among the business interest. He urged his hearers to do their best to let the other part of the world know what the city is doing and that men of character and integrity will always find a welcome in "Our Greenville, Yours If You Come."

K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Market, expressed belief members of the tobacco industry would be in hearty accord with a chamber of commerce and would be glad to support it. He told of the advertising which the tobacco market had done, but said the city should be advertised along more extensive lines. He also stressed the advisability of a chamber of commerce with departments to serve men in every walk of life.

Dr. H. M. Bonner thought such an organization should be able to render an exceptionally high type of service, and felt sure the medical profession would give it all support possible.

A. B. Corey said he was in complete accord with the movement, and would do what he could looking to its success.

Mayor Roy Flanagan told of the origin of Greenville's slogan and said the city always extended a cordial welcome to men of character and ability. The citizenship of Greenville is a challenge to all the world, he asserted, because it is progressive, alert and constructive and forever attempting to find a higher plane.

Dr. Herbert ReBarker, member of the faculty of the Teachers college stressed the need of faith in the possibilities of the section, declaring this one of the fundamentals of the growth and development of any community. He pointed to the advantages of co-operation and spirit of boosting, and said he was ready to do his part for the success of a chamber of commerce.

Mr. Caraway, manager of Charlis Stores, promised to use his influence in behalf of the growth of Greenville and the chamber of commerce and would try and interest others in the movement.

Judson Blount, former president of the State Merchants Association, told of the necessity of merchants taking more interest in politics in order that they might be able to more fully protect their interests. He stated only men of integrity and honor should be placed in public office. He said much should be accomplished through co-operative effort of the various interests of the city in the projected movement.

S. T. White expressed opinion the departmentalized chamber of commerce should be able to accomplish more for the upbuilding of the city than any other force, and promised to support the movement looking to organization.

LINDBERGH COMPLETE LONG HOP TO AKLAVIK

would be able to reach the little settlement in time to meet the fliers.

In such case, the Lindberghs might fly directly to the cutter and refuel there. The Northland is now at icy Cape about 150 miles south of Point Barrow.

Col. Lindbergh was all smiles as he climbed from his place at the controls and assisted his wife from the plane after his nose had been drawn up on the muddy shore. The hazardous 1,100 mile hop across the most treacherous and uninhabited country on the continent had been made in 11-2 hours.

"darkness" had just given way to the Arctic Circle dawn as the vacillating Lindberghs made their landing. They had flown through out the short night in the land of the midnight sun, tracing their route along the upper rim of Canada's mainland in a straight line from Baker Lake, off the w.s. shore of Hudson Bay.

Never before had the Northwest Territories been spanned in a single jump, even by the fearless north-land fliers whose livelihood is made in flying over the lak-dotted Tundra country. The take off was made at 6:35 E. S. T. last night after the outside world had come to the conclusion that the Lindberghs would spend a second night at Baker Lake.

At Aklavik, the Lindberghs have completed more than 3,000 miles of their 7,000-mile tour from New York to Tokyo. They have completed five hops in as many days, resting overnight after each jump. While the Lindberghs appeared to be fresh after their long flight, it so med certain they would rest here overnight before pressing on to Alaska.

Seattle, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Blanketed by a dense fog 24 miles west of Icy Cape on the Arctic shore of the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Northland, carrying fuel for Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh on their vacation trip to the orient, today abandoned any hope of reaching Point Barrow in time to meet the fliers.

Cost Guard headquarters here were advised by the Northland that, fog continuous for several days, prevents the vessel from finding a way through the ice off Blossom Shoals. Point Barrow is about 150 miles north of the cape.

TWO KILLED AS TRAIN WRECKS

Engineer and Fireman of Frisco Train Victims of Planned Accident.

Van Buren, Ark., Aug. 5.—(AP)—The engineer and fireman of a Frisco passenger train number 703 were killed in a wreck of the train at Smelter switch near here early today. The dead are Lee Keithley, engineer of Monette, Mo., and William Weeks, fireman of Fort Smith.

Glen Presson, Frisco trainmaster here said apparently the wreck had been planned. A connecting bolt at the switch had been pulled, he said.

An investigation was started immediately. The engine left the tracks, turned over and struck a shed. The engineer and fireman apparently were killed instantly. Their bodies were found under the engine.

The train was south bound. None of the cars left the track and no passengers were injured as far as could be learned.

One passenger, J. M. Woodward of Fort Smith was taken to a hospital suffering severe bruises and possibly a broken rib.

J. H. McCommon, 48, a section foreman at Van Buren, was injured while clearing the wreckage. His right foot was crushed, necessitating its amputation.

The bodies of the engineer and fireman were badly crushed and scalded. They were not extricated from the wreckage, until three hours after the wreck.

Washington, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The public is to learn the inside story of the Federal prosecution of Scarface Al Capone.

Attorney General Mitchell gave out this information yesterday in answer to questions about a reported agreement between the Chicago gangster leader and Federal officials concerning his plea of guilty to charges of income tax violation.

However, the secrets are to be retained at the Justice Department until Capone has completed his business in the courts. Mitchell had planned to congratulate those responsible for securing indictments against the gang chief but had to withhold his messages when Federal Judge Wilkerson in Chicago announced in court no previous agreement would influence him.

The jurist permitted Capone to withdraw his plea of guilty to the income tax law violations, and set the case for trial on September 8. Capone's plea of guilty to prohibition law violations will be considered at the same time.

"As long as the case is pending in the courts," Mitchell said, "No statement about it can be issued from this department. The reason for this is obvious. After the case is finally disposed of in the courts, any information we may have about it here will be available to the press or to anyone who is interested."

Mitchell reaffirmed the government's position that gangster problems were largely those of the states, adding that "there is not much satisfaction in getting a racketeer for violation of the income tax laws when they are machine gunning children in the street."

While emphatically declaring that the rounding up of gangsters was not a federal job, the attorney general said the government was willing to give assistance to the states, although its aid was less direct.

shooting stars an hour are forecast for next Tuesday night. They should appear sometime after midnight of August 11-12, high up in the northeastern sky, seeming to shoot from the constellation Perseus, from which they derive their name, the Perseids. These meteors have never failed to appear on time once a year during the last century.

"This year," says Dr. Charles P. Oliver of the University of Pennsylvania, "at the maximum of the Perseids the moon will not interfere as it did last year. This will mean for an observer with a clear sky that faint meteors can be seen and hence numbers that may well run from 50 to 100 per hour after midnight; for the night of August 11-12 and to half these numbers for the preceding and the following nights."

All persons who watch the Perseids this year are requested to mail their accounts to Dr. Oliver. These should be given by the half hour and note any specially bright meteors, or those with fiery tails.

The direction of flight is wanted and the clearness of the sky. This information from the public is useful for study of meteors, and is one of the astronomers' methods of learning more about meteors. The reports should be addressed to Dr. Oliver at Flower Observatory, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

Meteor Showers Are Forecast For Tuesday Evening

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor) Philadelphia, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Meteor showers running 50 to 100

shooting stars an hour are forecast for next Tuesday night. They should appear sometime after midnight of August 11-12, high up in the northeastern sky, seeming to shoot from the constellation Perseus, from which they derive their name, the Perseids. These meteors have never failed to appear on time once a year during the last century.

"This year," says Dr. Charles P. Oliver of the University of Pennsylvania, "at the maximum of the Perseids the moon will not interfere as it did last year. This will mean for an observer with a clear sky that faint meteors can be seen and hence numbers that may well run from 50 to 100 per hour after midnight; for the night of August 11-12 and to half these numbers for the preceding and the following nights."

All persons who watch the Perseids this year are requested to mail their accounts to Dr. Oliver. These should be given by the half hour and note any specially bright meteors, or those with fiery tails.

The direction of flight is wanted and the clearness of the sky. This information from the public is useful for study of meteors, and is one of the astronomers' methods of learning more about meteors. The reports should be addressed to Dr. Oliver at Flower Observatory, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE Under and by virtue of an order of the Superior Court of Pitt County, made in Special Proceeding, entitled "W. J. Bisset, Adm., on the estate of W. W. Dawson, deceased, vs. Annie B. Dawson, widow, et als."

SHUTS DOWN OIL WELLS

Gov. Murray Carries Out Threat to Close Oklahoma Wells Under Martial Law.

Oklahoma City, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray has carried out a threat to shut down Oklahoma oil wells under martial law in an effort to increase prices for crude oil.

National guardsmen, called out late yesterday, invaded the giant Oklahoma City oil field without appreciable opposition and headed to work to close all of the state's 3,106 wells that have a daily average production of 25 barrels or more.

Published reports were that more than 7,500 persons would be left jobless by the closing of the wells. The order, coming at the end of several days of impatient waiting by independent operators suffering from low crude prices, decreed that each well should remain closed until purchasers agreed to pay a minimum of $1 per barrel at the wells.

Single oil employees, against which company the governor aimed fiery remarks in his executive order, asked guardsmen for written orders to close, but withdrew quietly when they saw Colonel Murray was not planning to arbitrate.

He asserted their combined operations caused low prices for crude to increase their profits, while running smaller independent firms without such complete industrial facilities.

Pipeline companies, refused permission by national guardsmen to take crude oil from leases where about 100,000 barrels were available to Bradford, field production umpire and liaison officer between the guard and the oil companies.

Producers took the shutdown activities quietly, many with smiles. The Wilcox Oil and Gas Company, however, detailed workmen to guard the guardsmen. Sinclair leases also were supplied with company men but they were directed to aid the guard in any way.

About 50 guardsmen were constantly in the field. A close watch was kept on one producer where gates were slightly damaged and there was a possibility it might blow out of control.
