JOHNSON TO TAKE STAND IN LEA CASE

Tennessee Auditor To Testify Today; Owens Asked To Identify Letters.

Asheville, Aug. 10.—(AP)—M. D. Johnson, auditor of the Liberty Bank and Trust Company of Nashville, Tenn., arrived here today to testify for the state in the $1,300,000 bank fraud trials involving Col. Luke Lea, Tennessee publisher and three co-defendants.

Many of the transactions alleged by the state to constitute a conspiracy to defraud the defunct Central Bank and Trust Company here, were handled through the Liberty Bank by Colonel Lea.

Wallace B. Davis, former president of the Central bank; Luke Lea, Jr., and E. P. Charlet, of Nashville, are indicted with the Elder Lea on charges of conspiring to defraud the bank and with actual misappropriation of funds.

S. G. Owens, former Central Bank collections and exchange teller, who was testifying when court adjourned Saturday, returned to the stand this morning as the third week of the trial began.

He was asked to identify a thick portfolio of letters alleged to have passed Colonel Lea, the Central Bank and others.

The state read to the jury letters indicating that Lea and Davis considered the purchase one or more banks in order that their securities might be sold for cash and Lea's securities substituted therefor.

One letter in particular mentioned such a plan while numerous others bearing on the financial transactions of Lea, Davis, the Central Bank and Trust Company and numerous other corporations were read.

The letter containing the reference to the purchase of additional banks was addressed to Davis and signed by Luke Lea, Jr. It read: "Our Kentucky representative, Mr. E. W. Bryan, vice-president of the First City Bank and Trust Company at Hopkinsville, was here today for our weekly conference and we have discussed with him some parties he has recently had with the First National Bank of Greenville, Ky., also the Farmers State Bank at Greenville and some at Central City, Ky.

"I am sending herin copy of the last printed statement of the First National Bank of Greenville showing resources of $2,139,401.46, bonds and securities, $958,000, also Central City statements.

"This is one of the strongest and most successful banks in Central Kentucky and the controlling spirit, Mr. Reynolds, wishes to retire from active participation in the bank as he is now a wealthy man and wishes to take things a little easier. He also owns control in the other bank in Greenville, which shows resources of approximately $500,000. Also, he controls the Citizens' Union at Central City, the county as Greenville.

"I believe we could pay a 300 per cent cash dividend at Greenville and could buy control of the bank with an investment of $60,000, with nearly $1,000,000 in bonds on hand we could sell a good part of them and substitute our issues instead.

"Of course, any negotiations we have had would be subject to an exhaustive audit, and this Mr. Reynolds, the owner, suggests and invites.

"Please go over these statements and let me know just how you regard the matter and whether or not you would suggest further negotiations at this end and with additional reports to you.

"I await with interest your reply and with regards and best wishes, I am,

"Very truly yours,

"LUKE LEA, JR."

Man Injured When Car Crashes Into Tree Near Bethel

Jesse Wyatt suffered a compound fracture of the leg when his automobile crashed into a tree about two miles from Bethel, on the Bethel-Rocky Mount highway, early yesterday morning.

He was brought to the local hospital for treatment and will be tried on a charge of driving while drunk as soon as his injuries will permit him to be carried into court.

Wyatt was going from Bethel in the direction of Barboro when he lost control of the machine and it left the road, ran into the yard of a farm home and crashed into the tree.

PRES. HOOVER 58 YEARS OLD

Washington, Aug. 10.—(AP)—A little grayer at the temples and with a few more wrinkles around his face, President Hoover entered his 58th year today burdened by international and domestic problems.

But he was still smiling and apparently physically well fit to meet any vexing problem. As he observed his 57th birthday anniversary with Mrs. Hoover he reviewed a year of accomplishments commingled with disappointments, and turned to another period fraught with troubled clouds.

With the economic depression running into its second year and the unemployment problem loomingly larger in the forthcoming winter, the Chief Executive continues to bend his efforts to alleviate both situations. In addition, however, he will be confronted in December with a none too friendly congress where doubt prevails whether the Republican or Democratic party will control.

Furthermore, Mr. Hoover is planning on the United States taking a leading part in the disarmament conference at Geneva next February, in the face of opposition to reduction in arms by European and other important powers. This subject is close to his heart, he believing that the cost of large military establishments, maintained because of national fears of foreign powers have contributed more to the world wide business stagnation than any other factor.

Before he celebrates another birth date, the 1932 election campaigns will be well underway. Republican leaders see Mr. Hoover as their candidate, it being the history of the party that it always nominates for a second term the Presidential incumbent. The conventions and campaigns the unemployment problem and business depression, along with needed legislation are a paramount importance to him in his new year.

Although the last congress overrode him in granting the world war soldiers large loans on their bonus certificates, rejected some of his nominees to important government posts and forced drought loan legislation into inaction, the folks at his birthplace in little West Branch, Iowa, overlook those incidents in recounting his accomplishments.

The most outstanding achievement of the past year, was Mr. Hoover's success in having postponed for one year payment of intergovernmental war debts, so that Germany's financial systems and probably the government might not fail. He threw the forces of the federal government behind the efforts of relief and other government agencies to care for last winter's army of unemployed and rendered aid to distressed agricultural regions. He took steps to bring economy in government operation and to improve conditions in the insular possessions besides aiding in bringing competing eastern railroad systems into discussions of their mutual consolidation problems.

In addition, Mr. Hoover bore close personal anxiety over his elder son, Herbert Hoover, r. who last fall became ill of tuberculosis, and only recently recovered at Asheville, N. C., but during that time, he experienced the joy of having the cheerful laughter of three of his grandchildren in the executive mansion.

NEGRO YOUTH EXECUTED AT STATE PRISON

Raleigh, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Wilson Autry, 20-year-old negro youth of Union county, convicted of criminal assault, on the mother of a seven-weeks old baby, was electrocuted at state's prison today.

Autry, apparently very nervous, entered the death chamber at 10:29 and was pronounced dead at 10:35. He was given only one shock of electricity, for a duration of two minutes and 50 seconds.

The negro protested to the end that he was innocent of attacking Mrs. Hoyle Keziah, who lived in the Marshville section of Union county. His story to newspapermen and prison officials was that he had improper relations with the young woman but did not force himself upon her.

Mrs. Keziah testified at Autry's trial that he attacked her May 13 and Sheriff Clifford of Union county testified that Autry had confessed to him that he was guilty.

The negro was captured by a group of negroes near Lancaster, S. C., after he had escaped from the scene of his crime. He was hunted by several hundred men for a number of hours.

His case was unusual in that it was not appealed to the State Supreme court, he being one of a very few persons to be electrocuted at state's prison on a day other than Friday, the date automatically set when reprieves are granted on appeals are lost.

Six white girls who are being kept in cells on death row at the prison, which adjoins the death chamber, were removed from that section of the prison early today and kept on the regular women's quarters while the electrocution was held.

The girls are serving sentences for attempted arson for the burning of two buildings at Samarcaud, state institution for delinquent girls, and are kept in the death row cells because they are fire-proof.

THREE KILLED IN UPRISING

Havana, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Martial law reigned in Havana and Del Rio provinces, today in the wake of a revolutionary uprising against the regime of President Gerardo Machado which cost three lives and threw the island into confusion.

The president issued a proclamation saying that military authority was supreme until countermanded and that all legal action was vested in the military courts. He also promised that rebels, other than leaders, who laid down their arms within 24 hours would be pardoned.

The armed forces of the government, sought; by land and sea the slender precise figure of General Mario G. Menocal, Cuban president from 1913 to 1921 and alleged leader of the movement.

Strict censorship prevented direct communication with the interior, but there were rumors that there had been fighting in Pinar Del Rio, Camaguey and Santa Clara provinces. Army officials, the interior department, and the palace denied them.

The theory was that General Menocal and two of his aides were aboard the yacht Coral which sailed from the Havana Yacht club Saturday. Major Carrera, chief of police, however, said he believed Menocal was in Havana.

Public opinion connected the revolutionary attempt with the recent detention in New Jersey waters of many Cubans suspected of having tried to smuggle arms into Cuba. It was rumored three boats actually arrived with military supplies.

Search for Man for Slaying Wife

Mrs. Cranfield was shot in the left wrist, right ankle and right breast. She died instantly. A motive for his killing was not advanced.

FLIER STILL MISSING

Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The whereabouts of Parker Cramer, (right), American flier en route here from the Shetland Islands, was still unknown at 8:30 a. m. (3:30 a. m. EST) today. Military planes were scouting the coast line and radio stations were calling vainly. The picture shows Cramer (right) and his radio operator, Oliver Paquet.

World Cotton Prices Break $6.00 a Bale

By the Associated Press. Sharp breaks in cotton prices occurred today on world exchanges following Saturday's estimate from the United States government that the American crop will reach 15,584,000 bales, more than 1,500,000 bales larger than last year.

Previously a 10 per cent cut in acreage had led to optimism in the cotton trade. A drop of nearly two cents a pound below Saturday's close of slightly more than seven cents occurred at Liverpool.

TELLS OF ACT TO SAVE BANK

Brevard, Aug. 10.—(AP)—H. N. Blake, merchant and farmer of Selma, testified today that C. R. McNeely, former county commissioner, told him Transylvania county borrowed $100,000 upon the advice of three Brevard banking company officials, who said the bank "was in a perilous condition" and needed the deposit.

McNeely, with six other former county officials and two bankers, is on trial on charges of conspiracy to use county funds to aid the bank.

McNeely told him he testified that he met Thomas S. Schipman, president, Joseph H. Silverstein, vice-president and bank director in his office. J. H. Picklesimer, another county official, also testified.

Public Urged To Attend Mass Meeting Tonight

Much interest is centered around the mass meeting to be held at the courthouse tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a chamber of commerce.

Hope was expressed today that one of the largest groups ever to attend a public meeting would be present.

The chamber of commerce movement was launched the early part of last week by a group of business men attempting to effect an improvement in the city and community.

The promoters declare the city has been in need of an organization of this kind for years, and that future expansion cannot be what it should without this additional influence.

SIX PERSONS ARE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 10.—(AP)—A pilot's desperate struggle to halt a head-long plunge of a trimotored airplane failed to prevent its crash here yesterday, in which six persons were carried to instant death.

The plane, bound from Cincinnati to Atlanta, had just taken off from Lunken airport when the propeller of its right side engine came off and a moment later the engine itself tore loose and hurtled to the ground.

Thrown out of control, the big passenger plane at once started its death dive while Pilot M. T. Odell, 23, of Cincinnati frantically strove to right it.

Witnesses said Odell apparently attempted to land the plane in a corn field at the edge of the Little Miami river, and falling in that, tried to head for a sand bar on the opposite side of the stream. Instead, however, it smashed into a clay bank, turned over nose first, tore out the entire front end, and killed all aboard.

The victims were Miss Wrenna B. Hughes, 22, of Thomas, Ky., a stenographer; William E. Keith of Atlanta, radio distributor; W. H. Brimberry of Atlanta, electrical dealer; V. O. Baum of Memphis, contractor; William J. DeWald of Fort Thomas, Ky., co-pilot; and Odell.

Airport officials said the accident was caused by a broken hub on the propeller. When the blade came off, the motor revolved at such a terrific speed its fastening bolts were unable to hold it. Department of Commerce inspectors, on the scene a short time later, said they would report to Washington officials but agreed the broken propeller hub was the cause. The plane had left the airport hardly one minute and was about 500 feet high when the accident occurred.

ARREST KILLER OF GUARDSMAN

New Bern, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Mary Cannon, young white woman held here as a material witness in the slaying Friday night of John Peel, Pamlico coast guardsman, failed today to identify Allen T. Ogleby, alias James C. Thomas, as Peel's slayer.

Ogleby, arrested in Durham, was brought here today. He was taken before the girl who said "he looks like the man" but she refused to positively identify him.

Henrietta Pelham, negro, owner of a filling station where Peel, the Cannon woman and three other men stopped shortly before Peel was killed, will be asked to identify Ogleby.

Two pistols, an army automatic and a tear gas gun were found on Thomas when he was arrested.

Durham officers who had held Thomas on suspicion called sheriff R. B. Lane and went to Durham and after questioning Thomas returned him here late last night.

Two men were with Thomas at the time he was arrested in Durham but they escaped. A search was being made for them today.

Meanwhile, Mary Cannon, 22, of near Vanceboro, was held as a material witness. She was with Peel when he was shot.

She told officers Peel stopped at a filling station while they were riding in his automobile and a stranger at the station asked for a ride to New Bern. Peel agreed, she said, and after they rode a short distance the stranger shot the coast guardsman, jumped from the car and ran.

The operator of the filling station said two men were with the stranger at the station and when he left rode after him in an automobile.

WOMAN FACES JAIL TERM FOR KILLING

Greensboro, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Lena Wuensche today faced a term of 10 to 20 years in state's prison for killing L. L. Krippner here on June 28.

Rejecting her plea that she shot him in a fit of temporary insanity caused by his mistreatment of her, the jury found her guilty of second degree murder Saturday night.

The state contended she shot him because he ceased his attentions to her.

JONES SPEAKS TWICE HERE

Roundly scoring men of wealth who are hoarding up their money in an effort to reduce the standards of living of the working man, Rev. H. Frederick Jones, of Baltimore, pastor of Brantley Baptist Church, spoke at the second of the series of union services held among various churches of the city in Immanuel Baptist Church last night.

The minister graphically portrayed the spectre of hunger and unemployment stalking throughout the country at this time, and launched a severe indictment against those in position to help, but who refuse to lift their hands to do so.

Mr. Jones also spoke at Memorial Baptist Church Sunday morning, exchanging places with Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, pastor of the local church, who preached to Mr. Jones' congregation at Baltimore at the same time.

In spite of the hot weather, fairly large crowds greeted the minister at both services, especially yesterday morning, when the church was crowded to capacity.

Speaking on the subject of "Character," Mr. Jones, former pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, called attention of his hearers to the important part which creeds play in the life of men and women of all spheres of human existence.

"A man is not known by what he is," he asserted, "but by what he believes."

Deeds are in keeping with creeds, he said, and what the world needs today is men of deep and abiding conviction who have enough strength of character to abide by them.

The creed of greed is the creed of a fool, he told his hearers and called to their attention the Biblical story of the priest and the Levite. They lived by a creed of "what's mine is thine, and I'll keep it," refusing to minister to the man found on the road after being wounded by robbers.

He compared the crime wave of today with the spirit of the robbers of the Biblical era. "What's thine is mine and I'll take it."

He called attention to the severe economic situation prevailing throughout the world, and asserted the situation would not improve until creeds are changed, and men awakened to the fact that they must minister to others if they would get the best out of life.

He urged the application of the creed of the Samaritan. "What's mine is thine, and I'll give it." It is the spirit of compassion for unfortunate humanity that really counts in the stiff race of life, and men who give the best in them will find that they will be sustained by promises of Christ.

Yesterday morning he spoke on "Stewardship of Suffering" showing that physical handicap is oftentimes instrumental in developing the talents of the sufferer.

Referring to world conditions, he expressed opinion that what America and all other nations needed at this time was a leader. Men

Tale of Ten-Year Record of Illegal Law Enforcement by Barbarous "Third Degree" Methods Unfolded in Wickersham Report to Pres. Hoover; Urges New Legislation to Correct Conditions.

Washington, Aug. 10.—(AP)—A tale of systematized police brutality spreading over half the nation—a 10-year record of illegal law enforcement by barbarous "third degree" methods—was unfolded today by the Wickersham commission.

Asserting it was his duty to lay the "naked, ugly facts" before the public, the commission crammed into a single lengthy volume on "lawlessness in law enforcement" more than five score proved instances of extorted confessions.

It urged upon President Hoover new legislation or a constitutional amendment if necessary, to abolish "conduct so violative of the fundamental principles of constitutional liberty."

Quoting a "reliable informant" the report said of North Carolina that "the third degree exists spasmodically in some cities. That it is used against poor persons, and comprises of grilling and the rubber hose; that discrimination is not made as to color."

The informant was further quoted as saying that "the district attorney countenances these unlawful practices and possibly takes part in the grilling."

Of South Carolina it was said "the opinion has been expressed that the third degree exists in this state much as in North Carolina."

It cited the Leopold-Loeb case, in which an innocent school teacher was beaten into confession, as having focused attention upon the "third degree."

It turned to the Snook case of Ohio as showing the unfavorable reaction to a prosecutor who struck the university professor on the jaw to obtain a confession.

One case, however, the commission refused to discuss, asserting flatly a review of the Mooney-Billings case had been decided against because of inability to examine witnesses and because a pardon for one of the men accused of the 1916 San Francisco preparedness day bombing now is under consideration.

In addition to its assault upon the "third degree," the report condemned as too prevalent cases of conscious "unfairness in prosecutions" by district attorneys and judges.

It dealt with nearly 150 instances of trials following so closely upon arrests as to leave the accused no time for defense; denial of counsel to defendants and actual misconduct by court and prosecutor.

The bulk of the report, written by Professor Zechariah Chafee, Jr. of Harvard, and Walter H. Pollak and Carl S. Stern of the New York bar, asserted that despite the slavery and denials of police brutality instances of the "third degree" had been found in "constantly over half the states."

The three experts reported they were unable to determine whether the "third degree" was increasing or decreasing as an instrument, but after citing reports that the methods were growing "less barbarous" they wrote the words "conclusion in doubt."

Actual cases were cited of prolonged sleeplessness; severe beatings with a rubber hose, sand bag, fist or telephone book; questioning murder suspects over the corpse; cramming men into cells with diseased persons; administering the "water cure"; and handcuffing men upside down while spraying them with tear gas.

Turning to "unfairness in prosecution," the expert recommended for consideration such rules as establishment of a minimum time for preparation of the defense representation of the accused by counsel in all cases; inclusion of qualified persons on jury lists regardless of color, thus allowing negroes to sit in the south; allowance of judicial comment when the accused fails to testify; the abolition of payment of judges, prosecutors and court officials from fines and costs.

The report cited the instance of the mayor of a village near Cincinnati, where half of the liquor case fines imposed by him went to the village treasury. He himself received the costs in each case. During a seven months period, the report said, he and his associates shared an income of $5,000. It was added that similar practices

ABOUT TOWN

Prediction that the highway patrol would be increased in future years was made by Marvin Blount, Pitt county representative in the State Legislature, speaking before members of the Kiwanis Club during an entertainment here last week.

Mr. Blount is the father of the original highway bill, and has used his influence in behalf of the measure the last two sessions. The number of patrolmen was reduced considerably in the first measure, but was increased during the last session of the Assembly when its members were brought face to face with some of the achievements of the previous years.

So effective has been the work of the organization that Mr. Blount feels confident future legislatures will continue to increase the personnel until even the most remote districts are fully and completely patrolled.

Greenville is proud of having the division patrolmen located here and hope they will be able to render just as much service this year as they did during the first year of their work—and that is almost assured in face of the increase of force which became effective the first of the month.

One of the most mooted questions among the people at this time is the organization of a chamber of commerce proposed at a recent house-warming celebration of the Merchants Association.

The matter will be completely threshed out at a mass meeting at the courthouse here tonight and hope has been expressed that citizens representing every field of endeavor will be on hand to participate.

Chambers of commerce perform a mission no other organization can touch and it is for this reason promoters are so anxious to complete formation of a departmentalized body here. There will be work for every citizen and everybody interested in the development of the city should make it a point to be present Monday night and let his influence count in behalf of the proposal.

Scores of persons are injured or killed in automobile accidents each day. The majority of the wrecks result from lack of care on the part of drivers who apparently forget their lives are at stake all the time they are on the highway.

Right recently several wrecks have occurred in this community and the cause in virtually every instance can be traced to a moment of inattention to duty on the part of drivers.

Lindbergh Rated An Amateur by New Pilot Association

By W. W. CHAPLIN
New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the world's most famous flier, is rated as an amateur by the newly formed United States Amateur Air Pilots Association.

The organization was formed to organize amateur aviators for promotion of individual flying and to secure members more advantageous insurance coverage.

Mr. Lindbergh is a professional as one who is paid, directly or indirectly, for piloting or giving instruction or who engages in the sale of planes or accessories. Exception is made for executives of aviation companies who own private planes entirely for personal use, and this let Lindbergh in.

John S. Reeves, who heads the U. S. A. P. A., said that Lindbergh's status was not altered by the fact that he occasionally piloted the first plane over new routes of companies by which he is employed in an advisory capacity.

Mrs. Lindbergh is of course listed as an amateur, as she has never received money in connection with her flying.

Many fliers are listed as professionals because they have accepted money for using or for permitting advertisements concerning their use of commercial products.

Writing, which has caused disension in the ranks of the tennis amateurs, is not considered damaging to amateur standing by the new aviation association.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile -Without Calomel!

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute.

The library was artistically decorated with forest greens, ferns, white hydrangeas, gladioli and tall standards bearing ivory tapers. A short program of instrumental music was rendered by Mrs. M. V. The bride, a lovely brunette, was attired in a modish going away costume of black with white accessories and a close fitting black hat, and carried a small white moire bouquet.

In a social period following the ceremony the guests were served iced molded in wedding motifs, decorated cakes and fancy mints.

LOCAL MERCHANT OFFERS FREE COAL. Celebrating the tenth anniversary of the introduction to the public of the "Heatrola," the Home Furniture Store, Inc. of this city has announced an offer of a free supply of coal with all Heatrolas ordered between August 8th and 29th.

The free coal offer was explained today by Mr. Collins of the Home Furniture Store, Inc.

"We are glad to be able to make this free coal offer to the people of Greenville. We are enabled to do so through the co-operation of the Estate Stove Company of Hamilton, Ohio, manufacturers of the Heatrola. Heatrola dealers in every section of the country are joining in the Heatrola tenth anniversary offer of free coal," Mr. Collins said.

Introduced to the public in 1921, the Estate Heatrola is said to have brought about a radical change in small-house heating methods everywhere. It is claimed that the Heatrola will replace two or more old-fashioned radiating stoves, flooding the house with moist, healthful, circulated warm air.

Mr. Collins has asked that anyone interested in the Heatrola and the free coal offer get in touch with him at the Home Furniture Store, Inc.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Cotton opened easy today, 126 to 132 points lower under heavy general selling inspired by the unexpectedly large crop estimate issued by the Department of Agriculture on Saturday.

This report was reflected by a very severe break in Liverpool, but the decline in the local market was checked to some extent by active covering by shorts who had carried their commitments over the week-end.

Initial offerings were well enough taken to cause moderate rallies but the selling continued forcing the active months about 135 to 142 points net lower before the end of the first half hour.

October deliveries sold off to 6.70 and March to 7.26, making declines of about $6.75 to $7.10 per bale from the closing quotations of Saturday. The market was still active and unsettled, but was a few points up from the lowest at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported world liquidation in that market on the government report absorbed by trade calling and covering at the decline and said that Manchester was demoralized with buyers of cotton cloths and yarns holding aloof.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Buying based largely on predictions that the government report due after the market closed would indicate a domestic spring crop yield of about 131,000,000 bushels, compared with 156,000,000 officially forecast in July lifted wheat prices today. Highest quotations were reached in the late dealings notwithstanding that the United States wheat visible supply showed 8269,000 bushels increase to a new record total, 220,943,000 bushels. Report that Russia had chartered vessel room for 70,000,000 bushels of grain so far this year against 23,000,000 last year was also ignored.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Sweeping declines in the world cotton markets injected a fresh element of bearishness into the financial outlook today, which completely obscured the improved international situation with the victory of the Bueening government in yesterday's Prussian plebiscite.

The stock market opened feebly, stiffened about midday, but sagged again after publication of U. S. Steel's monthly report. Trade continued while losses in leading industrials and utilities were limited to moderate proportions, the persistent heaviness in the railroad group developed into pronounced weakness in spots.

Union Pacific and Santa Fe tumbled 6 points and more, the former to the lowest price in six years. New Haven declined more than 4 points to the lowest since 1927, and losses of a point or two embraced a wide list of carriers, including New York Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific and others.

CORBETT AND SCHAAF HOLD FISTIC INTEREST New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The names of Young Corbett of Fresno, Cal., and Ernie Schaaf of Boston lead all the rest in this week's fistic roll of honor.

Corbett, by some experts considered the uncrowned king of the welterweights, sallies forth to do battle with Gaston Lecadre of France, in a ten round bout at San Francisco Friday night.

Schaaf, one of the most rugged of the younger heavyweights, tops the eastern program in a ten round battle with Angus Snyder, clouting Dodge City, Iowa, youngster, at the Boston Garden tomorrow night. Schaaf somewhere in his travels has found the punch he lacked before as his two quick knockouts of Jimmy Maloney can attest.

PATS TURNING OUT MATERIAL FOR MAJORS

Charlotte, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Greensboro's Patriots are proving the success of the idea back of baseball "farm." Unless the sports writers around the Piedmont league circuit are wrong, the Pats will turn out several graduates this season who can make good in the higher class leagues with other clubs of the St. Louis Cardinal chain.

Jimmy Maus, rookie catcher, has been picked on numerous all-star teams named by sports editors who have watched his play all the season. Fritz Ostermueller, outfielder and southpaw pitcher, leads the league in batting. His average is .477 for 86 times at bat. He has won 13 games and lost 5.

Ford turned back the league-leading Charlotte Hornets, a club with a .312 batting average, Saturday with three hits in the second game of a doubleheader. The victory gave the Pats the honor of leading the league for the week's play.

During the week, the Pats took seven of eight games and trimmed a game and a half off the margin separating them from Raleigh. Ollie F. Clark, Ransomville, N. C. care Famlico Beach. 6-47

FINE PITCHING MARKS MAJOR LEAGUE TILTS

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr. Associated Press Sports Writer The last third of the baseball season is a time when major league pitchers are expected to do their best, but it has been a good many seasons since they have been so effective as in the current campaign.

Three major league moundmen stepped out over the week-end to pitch really great games. Bob Burke, lanky Washington southpaw, outshone them all on Saturday when he shut out Boston without a hit. It was the second no-hit, no-run game of the season. Yesterday two more came along with one-hit games.

Guy Bush of the Chicago Cubs held the league leading St. Louis Cardinals to a single blow, a scratch single by George Watkins, while Vincent Barton, Chicago's rookie outfielder, won the game for him by clouting a home run, his fifth in a week. Paul Derringer, succumbing to the jinx of a pre-game gift, lost a real hard luck game. He gave the Cubs only three hits in eight innings and fanned nine only to lose the 1 to 0 decision on Barton's clout.

Dick Coffman of the St. Louis Browns pitched the other one-hit game yesterday, beating the Chicago White Sox by a 1 to 0 count in the second game of a double header. The only hit off Coffman, who gave one walk and hit one batsman, was a roller over second by Kerr. Bob Weiland, recently recalled from Louisville, opposed him in close duel. Pat Caraway, lean left hander, held the Browns to five hits to beat Walter Stewart 4 to 2 in the opener.

The various low-hit games had little effect on the league standings. The triumphant Cubs finished eight games behind the Cardinals, and still a point behind the New York Giants, who pounded out a 9 to 4 victory over Brooklyn.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati split a double header, the Reds winning the first game by attacking Larry French in the seventh for all their runs in a 6 to 2 triumph and the Pirates hammering Fry and Rixey in the early innings to win the second 8 to 4. Boston's Braves picked up some ground by taking two games from the Phillies, 5 to 4 and 6 to 3.

Mahaffey, Grove and Simmons shared the honors in the final game of the American league's "crucial" series a sht Philadelphia Athletics came back from two defeats to down the New York Yankees 5 to 3. Mahaffey pitched six shut out innings and Grove came to his rescue and stopped a dangerous rally in the seventh.

Washington had some trouble holding the place ten games behind the Athletics which they had gained while the champions were losing the first two battles of the series to the Yanks. The Senators had to go ten innings to down the Boston Red Sox 4 to 3.

Detroit and Cleveland played loosely in a nip-and-tuck game, the Tigers winning 9 to 8.
