Negro Man Admits Murder Of Woman And Three Children

Cornelius Pierson Confesses Crime at Clarksburg After Night of Questioning By Police; Bodies of Woman and Children Found Under Garage; Pierson, Former Matrimonial Bureau Correspondent, Rushed Back To County Jail For Safe Keeping at Daybreak.

Clarksburg W. Va., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Andrew Moore, Harrison county jailer, announced at 6:30 A. M. (EST) time today that Cornelius O. Pierson, 45, had confessed the murder of a woman and three children whose bodies were found under his garage yesterday. Moore said Pierson promised "to tell all today." Pierson was locked up after a night of questioning.

Disheveled, red-eyed and nervous, the once suave correspondent of matrimonial agencies was hurried back to his cell in the county jail at daybreak.

The bodies wrapped in burial and buried in a drain sewer beneath the oddly-constructed garage six miles from here, were tentatively identified as those of Mrs. Asta Bulck Elcher, well-to-do Chicago widow and her children, Harry, 12, Greta, 14, and Anabel, 9.

The basement of the garage was divided by thick brick walls into four chambers. There was a gas jet in each of these. Police expressed the belief the victims might have been gassed, although there were marks on all the bodies.

For 12 hours Pierson had stoutly maintained he knew nothing of the death of the woman and children. Through complaining of drowsiness and a pain in his right side, Pierson parried with police officers of Clarksburg and Charleston, W. Va., and detectives from Chicago.

During the night he posed for a photographer. He held a hammer while the picture was taken—and he smiled.

Men Seized by Mob After They Had Been Bailed Out of Jail by Their Employer; Charged With Attacking Frazier Williams, a Forest Ranger.

Blountstown, Fla., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Two negroes were lynched 15 miles south of here late last night after they had been released from jail on bond. They were charged with attacking Frazier Williams, a forest ranger.

The negroes, Richard and Charley Smoke, father and son, were shot to death by a fusillade of rifle and pistol shots. A coroner's investigation early today held the men came to their deaths at the hands of a band of masked men.

The negroes were turpentine workers. They were bailed out of jail by their employer, and were said to have been on their way home last night when seized by the mob.

Williams was attacked and beaten by two negroes last Tuesday. Authorities said they have learned Williams struck a negro during an argument at a turpentine camp last Tuesday and another negro took up the fight, hitting the white man severely. Williams was taken to a hospital at Panama City and is recovering.

The Smokes were arrested soon afterwards and were imprisoned until late yesterday. Several hours after their release, the mob seized them, marched them along a road for some distance and then started shooting. Their bodies were riddled.

Sheriff R. J. Flanders started an investigation forthwith, hoping to learn the identity of the mob members. The coroner reported he was unable to identify any of them.

MRS. DANCY PASSES AWAY

Funeral For Beloved Woman to be Held From Memorial Baptists Church Sunday

Mrs. Mary Florence Dancy, 73, member of an old and socially prominent family, died this morning at 7 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. Dot Patrick, on Green street.

Funeral services will be conducted from Memorial Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, pastor of the church, and interment will be made in Cherry Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Dancy had been an invalid for fifteen years and was confined to her bed the last eight years. Her condition became more serious the last several weeks and death was not unexpected.

She was one of the most beloved women in the city and bore her suffering with such cheerfulness and Christian fortitude that she was an inspiration to her hundreds of friends throughout the community.

She was born in Hamilton, Martin county, October 3, 1858, the daughter of the late John and Mary Wise Gaskell Flanagan. She was married to George E. Dancy, October 29, 1875, who preceded her to the grave about 45 years ago.

Mrs. Dancy's father was a native of Pitt county and moved back to his native section while she was a child. She has made her home here since that time and until her illness was active in the life of the community.

She was the oldest member of the Memorial Baptist church and always manifested interest in activities of the congregation. She was devoted to the cause of Christianity and during the trying days of her invalidism maintained unwavering interest in the cause of the church.

She is survived by a son, Charles O'Hagan Dancy, of Bristol, Tenn.; three sisters, Mrs. E. H. Shelburn, Mrs. J. F. Davenport, and Mrs. D. Patrick; two brothers, R. C. and E. G. Flanagan, all of Greenville. She is also survived by several grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

WAGE CUTS ON INCREASE

Ten Per Cent Cuts Affect 210,675 Workers in U. S. Department Finds.

Washington, August 29.—(AP)—Wage reductions of approximately 10 per cent affecting 210,675 workers were reported to the labor department during the first six months of 1931 by 1,339 establishments.

Figures compiled today showed that during the same period 33 establishments reported wage increases averaging 6.9 per cent and affecting 2,022 workers.

The cuts were listed by units in virtually every one of the 54 industries reporting.

While these figures were being made public, the Federal Employment Service in its monthly bulletin said curtailed operating schedules continued in many manufacturing establishments during July while public works and farm labor were leading factors in employment.

Seasonal influences, the bulletin said, were responsible for reduction of activities, but several industries registered gains in operations and employment, including boots and shoes, and branches of the textile trade.

Wage cutting was shown in the other report to have had a wide variance from month to month, with the largest number of affected workers reported during May.

The largest number of wage cuts during the first six months were made in the lumber industry which reported 255 instances of reductions. The iron and steel industries came next with 214; textiles 210; food-stuffs 129; brick and tile 116, and boots and shoes 30. Seventeen shoe factories reported reductions in July.

The Federal Employment Service bulletin said seasonal operations were started in July in a large number of canning factories, providing work for many men and women.

"Certain outdoor activities," it said, "continued as the leading factors in the employment of labor throughout the country. Federal, state, and county highway construction was at a high peak.

AIR RACES TO BEGIN SUNDAY

Fliers Gather at Cleveland for Beginning of Ten-Day Speed Contests.

Cleveland, Aug. 29.—(AP)—American aviation downed its circus trappings today for a 10-day carnival of sport and speed.

The 1931 national air races roared into being on a background of massed maneuvers and individual aerobatics.

Inauguration of the speed contests backbone of the classic and heralded as promising new American or world records before the end of the meet will not take place until tomorrow.

First place on the opening program was given to a welcome freedom's newest heroes, Russell Boardman and John Polando, who flew nonstop from New York to Istanbul, Turkey, for a world distance record.

Nye Committee Goes Into Lengthy Recess

Body to Begin Study Of Evidence in Cannon Case About Middle of October; Think Evidence Demands Explanation From Cannon and Associates.

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—With its record bulging with evidence of the Republican source and the final disposition of money given Bishop James Cannon, Jr. for use in his 1928 anti-Smith Democratic campaign, the senate campaign funds committee today went into a long recess.

Chairman Nye said the committee would not have a chance to come together again until after the middle of October to study the wide variety of evidence accumulated in the three days' hearings and decide what action it would take regarding it and the two witnesses who refused to testify.

He added he thought evidence placed in the record demanded an explanation under oath by Bishop Cannon and by his two associates—Miss Ada L. Burroughs and J. Sidney Peters—who refused to talk.

Among the testimony that went into the record in the last three days were assertions that a check for $5,000 charged to the account of Claudius H. Huston, who later became chairman of the Republican National committee, was used in financing the anti-Smith movement in North Carolina. The committee has subpoenaed all the records in connection with this account.

Conrad Probst, vice president of the International Germania Trust Company of New York, submitted the records of the account for the month of October, 1928, during which the $5,000 check was paid. He said the total deposits in the account for the month was $183.35.

COTTON BILL BECOMES LAW

Louisiana Legislature Completes Action on Holiday Production Plan.

Baton Rouge, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Gov. Huey P. Long's plan to declare a holiday in production of cotton during 1932 today became a law that will be operative if states growing three-fourths of the cotton crop adopt similar measures.

Already adopted by the lower House the bill went to the Senate at 1:05 this morning. It was passed in less than ten minutes without discussion by a vote of 32 to 0.

Immediately, the bill was taken to the governor's mansion and its sponsor awakened. Governor Long sat up in bed in his cotton night clothes to affix his signature.

He then arranged for O. K. Allen, chairman of the Louisiana State Highway commission to start at daybreak in an airplane to deliver a certified copy of the measure to Governor Sterling at Austin, Texas.

Early approval of Texas was sought as that state produces near a third of the annual cotton crop.

"If the other cotton growing states will follow Louisiana's lead," Governor Long said, "I will personally vouch for twenty cent cotton."

The Louisiana Legislature also memorialized President Hoover and the Farm Board to arrange loans to farmers immediately at present market value of cotton and asked a moratorium of three to five years on farmers debts to the Federal Farm Loan Bank.

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Egypt's formal proposal for an international conference to discuss the world cotton depression was laid by the State Department today before the interested federal agencies for their opinions.

Copies of the note which was handed to Acting Secretary Castle of the State Department yesterday were forwarded today to the Departments of Agriculture and Commerce and the Federal Farm Board. The three agencies already have before them an informal intimation of the Egyptian proposal sent to the State Department five days ago by cable by the American legation in Cairo.

Tentative Budget Finally Adopted at Special Session of Aldermen Last Night; Rate of $1.11 Based on Estimated Valuation of $9,250,000 as Against $9,977,400 Last Year; Every Department Of City Government Cut to The Bone in The Economy Plan.

The tax rate in Greenville during the present year will be $1.11 on the $10 valuation, a reduction of 19 cents under the rate of $1.30 for the past year.

This decision was reached at a special session of the Board of Aldermen at the city hall last night at which the tentative budget for the year was adopted.

The new rate was based on an estimated valuation of $9,250,000 as against $9,977,400 last year.

The school fund, which has been a bone of contention among aldermen and members of the School Board since announcement of the $12,000 shortage in state allocations, was finally approved by the board, and the schools will receive $26,625 for the present term, according to the budget estimate. The rate was 25 cents.

The School Board had previously asked for a 30-cent rate, or something over $31,000, but the aldermen clung steadfastly to their announced program of economy in the face of economic distress existing in this section and refused to allow more than the 25-cent rate.

Members of the School Board met yesterday morning and cut salaries of white teachers practically 17 per cent and this brought the budget estimate to the specified sum, which the aldermen thought they would be able to allow. The shortage in school appropriations from both state and city will approximate $17,000.

The budget rates follow: General fund, 21 cents; city bond interest and sinking fund, 38 cents; school bond interest and sinking fund, 30 cents; school maintenance, 25 cents.

In order to effect a decreased tax rate the board slashed mercilessly in every department of city government and not a single individual escaped the reduction program.

The economy movement was made necessary by inability of the city to collect a considerable sum in taxes, and a desire of the board to cut down the city's $40,000 debt as much as possible.

Members of the board were highly gratified at their ability to lower the tax rate in the face of reduced valuation and were forced to work late into the night on several occasions to complete their task.

A copy of the budget will be sent to Raleigh for approval, but will not be finally okayed by the aldermen until the next meeting of the first of next month.

While the main figures of the budget will remain as passed last night some changes of minor importance will probably be made before being finally adopted.

The appropriations for each department are cut to the bone and it is going to be necessary for all employees of the government to hew to the line in expenditures, it was said.

Even the aldermen themselves talk haltingly about spending these days, and it is the firm resolution of the entire board stay within the budget and attempt to get back to normal.

ABOUT TOWN

Heading the increasing demand for a lower tax rate, members of the Board of Aldermen have slashed various departments of the city government until they have been able to give the taxpayers an appreciable cut.

After reducing expenses and salaries in every department of government, the board carried its fight into the public school system, already sorely handicapped by a $12,000 shortage in state allocation and cut over $5,000.

The total cut of the schools is over $17,000 in one year with reduction in teachers salaries alone approximately 17 per cent. or 27 per cent the last two years.

Although the board was reluctant to take more money from the schools, its members asserted they felt bound to do so in the face of the $40,000 debt hanging over the city government, inability to collect taxes, and the insistent cry of the public for lower tax rates.

The school system is the last thing in the world the people want to touch, but the slash, in the opinion of the aldermen, has been made imperative by depressed conditions and cannot be helped.

If there should be an improvement in the future they have promised to give the schools more aid and carry on its activities as near normal as possible. In the meantime the teachers will receive pay below the state schedule, even though they enabled the system to establish the highest scholastic rating of any school in the state last year.

It is a situation no one is able to draw any inspiration from, and the sooner we are able to recover from the shortage of finances the better everybody will feel about it, especially the men and women who have labored long and painstakingly for improvement of the schools.

The woman who refused to talk to members of the Senate committee has set a record not many of her sex will be able to emulate. She is the only woman that has declined the opportunity to talk to a group of distinguished men in our recollection and we propose that Congress give her some kind of decoration for distinguished service.

Bishop Cannon should be proud of such a champion of his cause. A woman who willingly gives up a chance to air her views is one in a thousand and should rise high in the political life of the nation where utmost secrecy, it seems, is a valuable asset.

It is not known what action the Nye committee will take against Miss Burroughs, but there is every reason to believe she will wish she had told what she knows before the investigation is over. It is easy to defy a Congressional committee, but getting away with it is altogether a different thing.

Two more days and the city will be completely transformed. The change will be effected by opening of the tobacco market, bringing with it thousands of people in all walks of life from virtually all sections of eastern Carolina to see how the leaf is going to sell.

Depression which has gripped the world the last several months will be almost completely forgotten as tobaccoists and growers go about the annual task of disposing of the crop of bright leaf, and the general public also will experience a psychological effect.

It is the season of the year when money begins rolling into the pockets of everybody regardless of their station in life and if prices are favorable this condition will be much improved. The entire citizenship always anticipates coming of this part of the year with pleasure and this season is no exception.

Although it is impossible to say how the price situation will be, the growers are facing the opening optimistically, hoping they will be rewarded for the long hours of toil and sacrifice put into the production of the crop.

Federal funds will be needed to supplement local effort in behalf of relieving unemployment during the winter months in the opinion of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The labor leader estimated the unemployed total would reach seven million during the winter and that demands of the poor would be more pressing than last year.

The opinion is at variance with that of Walter Gifford, chairman of the Hoover unemployment relief committee, who stated he hoped to inform Congress that communities throughout the nation had made provision to take care of their situation.

That may be true of some communities, but there are others unable to meet the constant cry of the poor for aid and if the government does not provide some way to help them it is impossible to estimate the acute suffering that will exist among uncounted thousands.

The committee should plan for an emergency, and be able to meet any exigency reported from hard-pressed localities.

The fifty, of the series of union services held among city churches during the summer months will be conducted at Memorial Baptist church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of Eighth Street Church of Christ.

The last service of the series will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church next Sunday night with Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector, delivering the sermon.

Inspirational congregational singing is always one of the features of the services, and the public is given a cordial invitation to attend and take part.

GREENVILLE FISHERMEN GET THEIR FISH ANYHOW

There's always a way to do a thing and Greenville fishermen are never at a loss how to do it.

Four of them—omitting names for fear the fish hereabouts will know more about them—went to Morehead City yesterday to do their part toward diminishing the finny tribe.

Hooks and lines were brought into action, but the fish absolutely refused to strike despite the fact that the water was literally working with them. They were so bold they would come to the top of the water near the boat, take a careful squint at the fishermen and then jump up and down for the sheer joy of living.

The fishermen were so exasperated at their lack of success with hooks and lines that they tried grabbing the fish with their hands. The finny creatures were too vulpine and elusive for action, of that kind, and the effort netted absolutely nothing.

A man dispatched to a hotel for a crab net and when he returned the boys managed to capture something like forty nice trout within the space of a few minutes.

Although they are not claiming any kind of record—except for endurance—the four followers of rod and reel feel like they have contributed their part to science if nothing else.

ADULT DAY AT WESTBROOKS TOMORROW

Nearly every night this week a werner roast, birthday or class party has been given at Westbrook's Swimming Pool. Although the nights were cold and very few went swimming, the groups had a pleasant time playing games and enjoying roasting weners and marshmallows around a long fire in the pavilion.

Tomorrow is "adult day" at Westbrook's. The pool is open to all children and adults, come and bring your friends to the cleanest and most sanitary bathing place in this section of the state.

Beginning Monday, swimming lessons will be from 9 a. m. until 11. This will give a number of ladies who are unable to get here at 9 the opportunity of getting a full hour in the water.

CRIMINAL COURT WILL CONVENE HERE MONDAY

A one-week criminal term of Pitt County Superior court will convene in Greenville Monday morning with Judge N. A. Sinclair of Fayetteville, presiding.

The calendar, completed the first part of the week by Solicitor D. M. Clark contains approximately 80 cases, ranging from murder to violation of the prohibition law.

Criminal court always brings hundreds of people to the city and the courtroom is expected to be crowded every day.

A one-week term of Civil court adjourned Thursday afternoon after completing over twenty cases.

Lindbergh Visits Soviet Embassy

Tokyo, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, during a visit to the embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics today, told officials that he and his wife had not determined which route they would take home, but both were greatly interested in Siberia.

The call at the Soviet embassy was made to express the fliers' appreciation of the courtesy extended them at Karagin Island at Petropavlovsk during their flight from the United States to Tokyo.

Colonel Lindbergh informed the Russians that he and his wife had for some time been casting eyes toward Moscow as the destination of a sightseeing trip. He said, however, that the trip over Siberia might require more time than they planned to spend on this flight.

He added that weather in Siberia soon would be too cold for a "vacation" flight.

The trip to the embassy was made unaccompanied by any members of the embassy staff, the American and U. S. S. R. governments "not being on speaking terms diplomatically."

Before visiting the U. S. S. R. embassy the Lindberghs paid courtesy calls at the Canadian and the Chinese legation. At the latter they inquired regarding the necessary permission to go to China, possibly via Seoul, Korea, Mukden and Peiping.

Zep To Start For S. America Tonight

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Germany's globe-trotting airship, the Graf Zeppelin, tugged at her mooring mast today in readiness on her first non-stop cruise to South America.

Dr. Hugo Eckener will take her aloft about 11 o'clock, weather permitting, and will set a course for Pernambuco, Brazil. There will be 45 passengers aboard and they will be paying $1,000 each for a ride of about 5,000 miles. The fare on the first trip, which included one stop, was $2,500.

The projected course lies over France, Spain and the Canary Islands, then direct across the South Atlantic to the goal. The Graf will lay over at Pernambuco only a day, tying up at a new mooring mast, and will then start the homeward journey.

The passengers include Dr. Ludwig Wickmann, director of the Geophysical Institute of Leipzig and a number of professors. He will conduct experiments in the temperatures of trade winds with a miniature airship trailed from the dirigible on a cable.

The Graf is insured for about $425,000 for the duration of the trip. She is carrying a near capacity load of freight and mail, contributed mostly by stamp collectors.

Ehringhaus Says Folks Should Save

Charlotte, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Instead of attempting to uncover new sources of revenue in order to meet governmental expenses, J. C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, is of the opinion a search should be made for "ways of saving."

Speaking over radio station WBT here last night, Mr. Ehringhaus chose a discussion of taxation as his first political speech in behalf of his candidacy.

The tax question, he said, should be met in a "business like manner," which calls for the "application of sound business principles rather than cheap politics in its solution."

"In my opinion," he said, "our thought in the past has been too much upon the uncovering of new sources of revenue and too little upon how we may discover ways of savings. It is well, as well as necessary, that we change the emphasis."

"The fundamental activities of government must, of course, be taken care of by adequate tax provision. Its debts and obligations must be promptly met. But when we pass beyond the realm of fundamentals and get into that of unnecessary expenditures, another question is presented.

"Proud as we are of our social progress, we must remember it cannot advance more rapidly than our material progress. . . economy consistent with efficiency must be practiced; duplications must be avoided and unnecessary activities must be curtailed."

Police Seek Girl In Kidnaping Case

New York, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Police today were seeking "Thelma Gross" named by Charles M. Rosenthal, stockbroker, as the girl who decoyed him into hands of kidnapers. Rosenthal returned that Rosenthal's mother had paid his kidnapers $50,000 for his release. His only clue was the girl he took to dinner the night of his disappearance. He said she lived in Philadelphia. He thought her name was Thelma Gross.

In Nassau county, detectives were still seeking Edgar Haeglein, Jr., 16, year old son of a lawyer. The boy's father said he received a $35,000 ransom letter for the return of his son, but doubted he was in the hands of kidnapers. He thinks his son may have gone off on a boating trip. The boy has been missing since last Thursday.

Ninty-Four Pass Bar Examination

Raleigh, Aug. 29.—(AP)—North Carolina today had 94 brand new attorneys and four out-of-the-state residents with county licenses to practice law in this state. The new lawyers were the survivors of 142 persons who took the mid-summer bar examination. Six others who qualified for the test did not take it. Chief Justice Stacy wrote the examination, pronounced one of the hardest given in years.

Two women, Mary Virginia Hill, of Smithfield, and Annie Perry Neal, of Lenoir, passed the examination while a third, Tressie Jean Pierce, of Columbia, S. C., was granted a comity license.

Edward Lee Cannon of Durham, a son of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, was among the successful applicants.

Says British Courts Move Faster Than Those in America

Winston-Salem, Aug. 29.—(AP)—That English courts and law enforcement move faster than those of America is the opinion of Arthur Henderson, Jr., member of the British Parliament, after a visit to municipal court here.

"In capital cases," he said, "the average time between arrest and execution of a criminal is about six weeks, with eight weeks being the outside time. In America there are many instances where the time length stretches over many, many months."

The English barrister, after listening to trials in the local court, said that both American and British courts apparently attain the ends of justice despite wide difference between their methods of procedure. Most of his previous knowledge of the workings of American Courts, he said, was gained from novels and motion pictures.

Woman's Colony Is Planned For New Central Prison

Raleigh, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Out of the $400,000 appropriated by the last General Assembly for a new central prison, the North Carolina prison directors expect to get a 5,000 acre prison farm in the Eastern part of the state and create a woman's colony in the present Camp Polk buildings, in addition to the new plant.

The projects were virtually approved by the directors at a meeting here yesterday. It was pointed out that the new prison can be built for approximately $200,000 and the prison farm bought for about $100,000, leaving the remainder for other improvements, including the woman's colony.

Goal Loaded With Dynamite

Mamaroneck, N. Y.—Mrs. Edward Nash's goat is loaded with dynamite but it seems to be a dud. The goat wandered into the yard of Mrs. T. de Roos and dined on garden truck. Mrs. De Roos tossed it a stick of dynamite for desert. Mrs. Nash had her arrested. Sergeant O'Neill testified that although he gave the goat a swift kick, it did not explode. The judge reserved decision.

Ocean Fliers In Hudson Bay Section Today

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Two airplanes flying in different directions along the northern coast between Europe and America were on the eastern shore of Hudson Bay today, only about 75 miles apart.

This perhaps, will be Warren's last sermon before he returns to Duke University for the fall term; so come out and bring someone with you.

Negro Convicted Of Murder Charge

Lexington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—An appeal to the State Supreme court today was all that kept Dudley Moore, young negro, from knowing the day he would die. Moore, convicted yesterday of the first degree murder of Mrs. Jacob G. Berrier, 59, was sentenced by Judge Wilson Warlick to be electrocuted October 23 but notice of appeal by his counsel assured the youth a longer tenure of life. Judge Warlick granted 60 days for perfection of the appeal. A Davidson county jury found Moore guilty in 20 minutes. He was charged with clubbing and shooting Mrs. Berrier to death in her farm home near here August 15. The defendant offered no testimony and the state introduced Moore's confession as part of its evidence.

German Seaplane Flier In Quebec

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Captain Wolfgang von Gronau, German seaplane flier, apparently was somewhere in the northern wilds of Quebec today enroute from Germany to the United States by way of Greenland. Radio messages received by the government station at Resolition, Hudson Straits, north of Labrador, indicated he arrived unexpectedly over the American continent yesterday from Godhavn, Greenland. He planned to make his first stop on the American continent at Povungnituk, an Eskimo village in Northern Quebec. He left Westerland, Germany, on August 8.

Seven Prisoners Escape From Jail In Anson County

Wadesboro, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Seven Anson county jail prisoners, using a key made from a spoon handle, early today made their escape. Nine other prisoners had opportunity to escape as the jail door swung ajar, but they remained. Sid Perry, C. Mangum, fashioned the key from the spoon that unlocked the door. Among those escaping was Ocell Sturdivant, negro, charged with the killing of a negro boy a fortnight ago. Others escaping were Perry and three other white men, Bert Smith, Alfred Griffin and Press Biggs, and two negroes, Stokes Clark and James Robinson. All except Sturdivant had been held on minor charges.

NEY COMMITTEE GOES INTO LENGTHY RECESS

(Continued from page one) and thousands of dollars flowed out of it each day. Aside from the $5,000 check, there was no indication of the use to which the remainder of the fund was put. Word H. Wood of Charlotte, North Carolina, testified he received this check from Bishop Cannon after the North Carolina Democrats had called upon the headquarters organization of the anti-Smith movement for help. Basil Manly, a committee investigator, put into record charts asserting that the churchman diverted many thousands of dollars to his personal accounts, used some of it to pay personal notes and to pay some of the beneficiaries of an estate for which he was the executor. Manly exhibited one chart which he said indicated that Bishop Cannon had been repaid $10,607.71 more by the anti-Smith Democrats' headquarters committee than he had loaned it.

SAM By Freeman Lincoln

SYNOPSIS: The unexpected proposal to Sam Sherrill that she marry Peak Abbott, wealthy young owner of the newspaper for which she works, leaves Sam perplexed. Abbott wants her to marry him although she does not love him. She is tempted to do this, because she badly needs money. Fourth Aldersia, her stepfather, a social snob but a poor business man, has lost the family fortune. Sam controls the remains of the family finances, while Fourth sells books. Freddy Munson, also on the Express, wants Sam to live alone with out responsibilities. Angry because Sam may marry Abbott, Freddy announces his intention of leaving town. Sam is worried because she has seen her half-brother, Nelson, dancing at a restaurant with Martha Givens, the maid of all work at the stable where the family now lives. Sam is at a party with Peak, when she is unexpectedly called to the telephone.

Chapter 4 CRUSHED ORCHIDS

She found the booth and closed the door behind her. The voice from the other end of the wire came to her clearly. "Is that you, Sam? This is Freddy."

"Oh, yes. Was relieved. Hello, Freddy. Happy new year."

"Look here," he said urgently. "I've got to see you tonight—right away—it's important!"

"But, Freddy—" "Please don't argue. I tell you it's important! I'm in the Broad Street Station and there's a train leaving in two minutes. The club is near the station. Isn't it?"

"Yes. It's across the street, but—" "I'll keep you only five minutes. Where will you meet me?"

"Sam saw it was useless to argue. 'I'll be at the station.' 'Good.' He hung up the receiver."

Ten minutes later she retrieved her evening wrap and went out the main door. There was a faint mist of fog that dimmed the brightness of the lights along the drive.

She crossed the deserted pike and descended a short, steep little hill to the station. The dimly-lit platform was empty, and Sam waited in the shadows.

The train arrived five minutes later, and Freddy, the only passenger to alight, walked directly to where she stood. She noticed, in the pause before the noise of the departing train had died away, that his face seemed strained and pale.

"Hello," he said abruptly at last. "Where's your hat?" Sam smiled. "I don't often wear hats to parties. What's your news?"

Freddy said: "I'm going to quit my job tomorrow. I'm going west."

"Oh." He scowled. "Is that all you have to say?" "I imagine so, except that it's probably a good thing. Why?"

"That I'm going away? Why?" Her voice was troubled. "I—I don't know."

"Don't you?" said Freddy grimly. "Well, I do."

Sam had no premonition of what was going to happen. She had never thought of Freddy in that way at all, yet suddenly, his arms were about her and his lips were upon her.

Sam did not struggle. She had no desire to struggle. She was conscious only that she was returning his caresses; that she was happy and at peace.

Finally, as though from a great distance, she heard Freddy saying hoarsely: "That's why! That's why it's a good thing I'm going away. Do you understand?"

Clinging to him, Sam unaccountably began to cry. Freddy pushed her roughly away. "Quit crying!" he ordered savagely. "Quit it. I hate tears. What are you crying about?"

Sam could not answer intelligently. She said: "My flowers are ruined."

"Your flowers?" Freddy raised his arms to heaven. "Who gives a darn about your flowers?"

Sam vainly tried to find her handkerchief. "They were nice flowers, Freddy."

He came close to her. "Do you know what's happened?" he demanded. "You've made me love you, do you understand?"

Where can I find a minister? He looked about him wildly, as though expecting to find a cleric lurking on the right of way. "There must be a minister around here somewhere."

"Please be sensible," Sam pleaded. "Talk to me. Tell me what would happen if you married me? Where would your freedom be?"

"That doesn't matter." "Oh, yes it does. It matters so much that you'd hate me in a month. And where would I be?"

"You'd be married to me." "Yes, and we'd be poor forever. So would Sonny and Fourth." She shook her head wearily. "No, Freddy. I'm afraid it's no go."

He took out his watch. "I'll give you thirty seconds," he said slowly, "to make up your mind whether you'll marry me tonight or whether you won't."

She sighed. "It's already made up."

He stared. "Do you really mean that? Do you mean that you haven't the nerve to face realities?"

"I mean that I have the nerve to see that you and I would make a hopeless mess of things."

"O. K." He returned the watch to his pocket. "Good night."

"Where are you going?" "His laugh was bitter. 'I'd hate to tell you where I'm going.' 'There's no train back to town tonight,' she reminded him gently. 'I'll get a car and drive you in.' 'Oh, no you won't!'"

He turned away. (Copyright, Freeman Lincoln)

NEGO ADMITS MURDER OF W. VIRGINIA WOMAN AND THREE CHILDREN

(Continued from page one) police said he later admitted having given one of the children, Greta, a note to her mother's bank in Chicago, requesting the balance of Mrs. Eicher's account. With it, he said he sent a blank check purporting to have been signed by Mrs. Eicher. The bank, however, refused the request.

Explaining his correspondence with women throughout the country through matrimonial agencies, Pierson was quoted as saying he wrote the women "just for fun."

Many such letters were found in his possession, police said.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 29.—A physician who examined bones in the ruins of a cottage near where bodies of a woman and three children were found yesterday said today they were those of a human being. The bones were found by the John Byrd, of North View, and the physician said they were from a human wrist and finger.

The bones were in the ruins of a cottage owned by the wife of Harry F. Powers, alias Cornelius O. Pierson, held here in connection with the killings discovered yesterday. The building was destroyed by fire last spring. It was near Pierson's garage, where the woman and three children apparently were slain.

GRAIN MARKET Chicago, Aug. 29--(AP)--Little interest was manifested in the grain markets today, wheat prices were lower and corn higher in desultory transactions. Fairly persistent selling in small lots carried wheat prices gradually lower until the December delivery touched a new low for the season at 50 1-8 cents a bushel without encountering much support.

STOCK MARKET New York, Aug. 29--(AP)--Firmness of the stock market today reflected the quieting of nervousness over international finance with the formally announced of the huge loan to England, and the conviction in speculative quarters that September will bring some improvement in general business activity, even though it may be slight.

The Washington Senators and Boston Red Sox tried hard to supply another American league game, but were forced to let the rain have its way after three innings. The Sox were leading, 3 to 0, when the game was called.

The National league's lone engagement served merely to stretch the St. Louis Cardinals' lead over the field. After going scoreless for six innings, the Red Birds got to Larry French for two runs in the seventh and four more in the eighth to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 4.

GEHRIG HOLDS LEADERSHIP IN THREE FIELDS

Chicago, Aug. 29--(AP)--Al Simmons' bid to retain the American league individual batting title has been done no good by an enforced lay off of more than a week due to an infected leg.

The semi-official averages, which include Thursday's games show Babe Ruth gained ten points to 381, with Simmons' only four points out in front. Lou Gehrig, the other member of the Yankee slugging firm, also took advantage of Simmons' vacation to jump into a tie in total hits, with 174. Gehrig held sole possession of three other leadership spots. He had batted in 138 runs, had scored 130 times and had a total base collection of 330.

The Babe cracked out three more home runs during the week to raise his total to 37, three more than Gehrig's total. Benny Chapman, the Yankee's springtime outfielder, stole six more bases and had 51 for the season, while Earl Webb of Boston, picked up another pair of two base hits and had a total of 53, eleven short of George Burns' all-time major league record. Roy Johnson, Detroit outfielder, led the field in triples with 15.

Following Simmons and Ruth among the regulars were: Morgan, Cleveland, 358; Gehrig, New York, 354; Webb, Boston, 351; Alexander, Detroit, 341; Goslin, St. Louis, 337; Cochrane, Philadelphia, 337; West, Washington, 336; Averill, Cleveland, 333.

The team leadership remained the same as last week. Cleveland improved its collective batting average one point to .298; while the A's, felled for .977, to shade Washington by one point. The St. Louis Browns completed six doubleplays to reach a total of 138 for the campaign.

Robert Moses Grove failed to create a new American league record for consecutive victories when St. Louis Browns beat him, but the defeat did not drag the Athletics' fireballer down to within hollering distance three defeats, and still had a mark of 30 victories at which to shoot, and plenty of time in which to accomplish the feat. George Earnshaw's idleness helped Grove to move into the lead in strikeouts with 136 in 34 games. Farnshaw had 135 in the same number of engagements.

Notwithstanding the comfortable lead enjoyed by his Philadelphia Athletics, things are breaking none too well these days for Connie Mack.

"Mule" Haas, dependable center-fielder, is lost for the remainder of the season. A wrist, broken several weeks ago, has failed to mend properly.

There is only a slight possibility that he will be back in time for the world series.

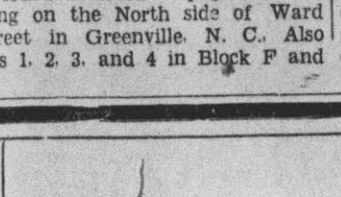

The champions have been playing for a fortnight with only one of their regular outfielders, Bing Miller, and with three fourths of their regular infield. Al Simmons, slugging left gardener, has been laid up with a sprained ankle and Joe Boley, shortstop, has been able to see little action. There is a possibility that rookies will be holding down at least two positions for the mackmen when the big series rolls around.

Mickey Cochrane, peppery little catcher, who was given a short vacation when he complained of dizzy spells during the team's recent western tour, returned to the lineup yesterday, apparently none the worse for wear. He batted three hits to help the A's take the first of a two-game series from the New York Yankees, 5 to 4.

Roy Maheffey, though relieved for a pinchhitter in the seventh, received credit for his fifteenth victory. He has been beaten only twice.

Now the second straight day the Cleveland Indians hammered but a one-sided triumph over the luckless St. Louis Browns, 13 to 1. Mel Harder yielded only four hits.
