BIG GAIN IN N. C. REVENUE

Collections for Past Month Far Exceed Those of the Same Month in 1930

Raleigh, Sept. 1.—(AP)—State revenue collections for the month of August totalled $2,299,319.72 and far exceeded the figure for the corresponding month in 1930. A. J. Maxwell, commissioner of revenue, announced today. Figures for August 1930 were only $1,365,133.91.

Public utilities taxes, collected under increased schedules, made by the 1931 General Assembly for the first time during the past month, represented $1,316,618.63 of the total. This compared with $526,683.09 collected in August last year.

License taxes also showed a gain as the result of legislative tax increases. Revenue from this source totalled $257,852.16 last month as compared with $111,520.28 in August 1930.

Total franchise taxes collected during the month, including the Public Utilities Tax, were $1,988,925.11 as compared with $971,599.91 in August 1930.

Mr. Maxwell also announced figures for the first two months of the new fiscal year showed a considerable increase, $3,387,645.11 having been collected in this period this year as compared with $2,453,542.97 last year.

A gain in the collection of highway revenue during August also was reported. Total revenue in the month was $1,323,711.12 as compared with $1,111,984.47 in August 1930.

Governor Pinchot Assails Farm Board
Seedalia, Mo., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Assailing the Federal Farm Board as "that huge and costly leviathan," Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania said in an address here today that the welfare of America depends upon justice to the American farmer—justice as the farmer himself understands justice—and not some alleged panacea devised by men who neither know his problems nor comprehend his point of view.

Addressing the annual convention of the Missouri Farmers' Association, Gov. Pinchot urged the farm industry "be placed on a basis of economic equality with other industries."

MURDER VICTIM'S CLOTHES FOUND

Trunks and clothing identified as belonging to Mrs. Asta Eicher, Chicago widow, are shown in this picture taken in the garage near Clarksburg, W. Va., near which the bodies of Mrs. Eicher and her three children were found. Harry F. Powers confessed to the murders of all four.

STILL SEARCH FOR VICTIMS

Clarkburg, W. Va., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The nation was scoured today for trace of women with whom Harry F. Powers corresponded, to learn if more yielded to his lures of wealth and social position and died as did Mrs. Asta Eicher of Chicago, Mrs. D. P. Lempe of Worcester, Mass., and re-checked papers found in the possession of the pudgy, 42-year old student of "scientific crime," in Detroit, headquarters of a correspondence agency Powers used, records of the agency were sought for further clues.

Meanwhile, digging progressed about the Powers death garage near here for traces of any further victims there might be; court officials discussed the possibility of a special term of court to try Powers for the five killings he has admitted; and interest heightened in the suggestion that Powers might have been responsible for this mysterious slaying in Washington of Mary Baker, Navy Department clerk.

Conferences between Criminal Court Judge John E. Southern and Will E. Morris, Harrison County prosecutor, continued, the special court term in the balance.

Demands for prompt disposition of the Powers case poured in upon the prosecutor Saturday night after the discovery of Mrs. Lempe's body. There was no indication, however, of what action might be taken, Powers' attorney, meanwhile, refused to commit himself as to the possibility of a plea of insanity being entered when the trial is called. Attempting to combat any such move, the state yesterday called Dr. Edwin E. Mayer, Pittsburgh psychiatrist, who said he found Powers "legally sane."

City Detective Cary Southern today announced receipt of work from Washington police that Powers talked with that of a suspect in the killing of Miss Baker two years ago. Inquiries in that case followed a suggestion from a Washington resident that Powers might be the slayer.

Claim Aged Man Not Able to Stand Trial This Court
Mocksville, Sept. 1.—(AP)—An 81-year old man's contention that he is too ill to stand trial on a charge of murdering his son-in-law today was receiving the consideration of a court appointed physician.

CUTS WOMAN WITH AN AXE

Demented Negro Makes Murderous Assault on Sleeping Woman Last Night

Warren Thorne, 35, demented negro, was held in the city jail today charged with making a murderous attack on Rachel Moore, colored, as she slept in her home in Allen's Lane early this morning.

The man was arrested by police officers this morning after the woman badly hacked about the head and lower limbs had been taken to the hospital apparently in a dying condition.

Thorne and the Moore woman lived in the same house. This morning about 2 o'clock he entered her room with an axe, beat her over the head, practically chopped off one of her legs, and lay down in his own bed and went to sleep.

Attracted by the groans of the injured woman other occupants of the house went to her room and found her lying in a blood-soaked bed. Had she not been discovered when she was, it is probable she would have died from loss of blood, attending physicians said.

She was carried to the hospital and was reported still on the operating table this afternoon as surgeons made an attempt to save her life. Thorne, neighbors said had been acting crazy for some time, but last night was the first time he had shown any disposition toward violence.

Entered In Air Meet

Lieut. Col. Mario d. Bernardi, Italian army pilot, is among the foreign entries in the national air meet at Cleveland.

ARMY PLANES IN AIR RACES

Thundering Fighters Dance Through the Skies in Observance of Army Day

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Fifty thundering fighters staged a war dance through the skies today in observance of army day at the national air races.

The fifty, flying in groups and in mass, in echelon or stairstep formation, stormed out of the northwest and low over the field with their 500-horsepower engines and propellers roaring an ear-splitting din, to circle, roll, loop and turn in every formation in the military catalog.

The fighters were from the first army pursuit group at Selfridge Field, Mich., under command of Major Gerald Brewer. Thirty-seven of them had arrived Saturday and the remainder today, the first contingent having left the field early to meet the newcomers.

Speed also shared the program with the spectacular, for some of the fastest planes in the air races were sent through tryouts for the Thompson Trophy race, which will be run next Monday. Thompson Trophy entrants are determined they will break the world speed record for land planes, which was set away back in 1924 in France at 278.8 miles an hour.

Prices Slightly Lower Than Last Year in View of Improvement in Quality; Lower Grades Selling at Bottom Prices; Thousands of People Jam the Warehouses to Capacity and Tobacco Town is Cluttered With Every Conceivable Medium of Transportation

Approximately a million pounds of tobacco was in evidence when the Greenville tobacco market swung open on the 1931-32 season this morning.

The unofficial price average on the first hours of selling ranged from 7 to 7 1-2 cents a pound. The average on the opening day last year was slightly over 7 1-2 cents.

The quality this year showed distinct improvement over the previous year and prices for the better grades were slightly lower than the previous season. Common grades were lower than last year.

The heaviest buyers on the market today were the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company who were said to have bought liberally of their grades.

Circuit riders for the various domestic companies, arrived on the Greenville market shortly before noon and during the noon hour and this afternoon there was considerable more competition between the buying companies. The activity of the American being most noticeable.

Prices during the afternoon were about a third higher than on the early morning selling.

Several thousand people were in attendance this morning when the voices of the auctioneers simultaneously set sales in motion on five warehouse floors. It was expected the market would be cleared of the day's offerings during the afternoon hours.

With one of the finest crops produced in this section in years, farmers were hopeful the price situation would show an improvement when the best of the season's crop begins rolling to market.

Always a scene of feverish activity on the first day of tobacco season, tobacco town today was littered with hundreds of automobiles, carts, wagons and trucks, and a sea of humanity surged about the floors of the eight big warehouses in an effort to watch the price situation.

Hot dog stands, restaurants and refreshment places did a land office business as the perspiring growers and their families wandered from one section of tobacco town to the other in their desire to see everything going on.

In the patios of the farmers themselves, "It was the biggest sight of the year," and very few of them failed to obtain a definite impression of everything going on.

Tobacco began rolling to market the middle of last week but the movement did not hit its stride until early this morning when hundreds of vehicles conveyed the first loads of the season to market.

The warehouses last night were about one-third filled and warehouse employees were able to take their time about placing the leaf and getting it in readiness for sale. They speeded up as the hour of auctions drew nearer and when the salesmen began their cry that set the wheels of the market in motion the last arrivals of leaf were moved at a swift pace.

The Greenville tobacco market is capable of handling from a million to a million seven hundred thousand pounds of tobacco daily, and the sale today was but a drop in the bucket of what is to come. If the opinion of tobaccoists counts for anything.

Growers for the past few years have been holding back their offerings waiting for an improvement in the price situation and the same tendency was in evidence today. Development in prices always brings an influx of growers and this year is not expected to be any different from the rest.

CAROLINA WILDWOOD SONG

I sing of the forest and woodland of fenland of glade and of shadow, Of live-oaks hoary with winters all mantled in gray Spanish mosses;

I sing of the tremulous aspen the poplar towering heavenward, The jasmine vine in the shadow, And laurel exotic with fragrance;

I sing of the long-leaf pine and the bramble that grows far beneath it, The marshland teeming with life and the fluttering wings of its children;

I sing of the soft-flowing rivers and flowers that rest on their bosoms, Of roadsides shaded with myrtle, all scented by fragrance of cedars;

I sing of the joy and the beauty of lowlands of North Carolina. —ROBERT C. RIVES.

SEVEN HELD AS KIDNAPPERS

Six Men and Woman Arrested in Disappearance of Charles Rosenthal

New York, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Arrests in three cities swept six men and a woman into police cells as the kidnapers of Charles Rosenthal, young New York broker.

Rosenthal, who was abducted on August 11 and released August 29 upon reported payment of $50,000 ransom, identified Bettie Green, 29 year old negroess, as the woman who acted as a lure for the abductors. She was arrested in Atlantic City this morning with her husband Clarence, a negro. Rosenthal flew there and made the identification.

In Newark, Theodore Adinolfi and Albert Sileo were arrested while their names were not immediately made public by Police Commissioner Mulrooney. Police said the men were arrested in Newark in their possession marked bills which were part of a ransom paid for Rosenthal's release.

Rosenthal said that Mrs. Green, whom he described as of light complexion for a negro, telephoned him at his brokerage office and told him mutual friends had suggested she get in touch with him. He took her out to dinner and later in company with her met the men he said kidnaped him.

Decapitated Body of Woman Found in a Corn Field

Grayson, Ky., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Following the discovery last night of the almost decapitated body of Mrs. Annie Evans, 33, in a cornfield about one mile from her home near here, James Evans, the woman's husband, was placed in jail here for questioning. He denied any knowledge of the crime.

Coroner C. W. Henderson ordered Evans' arrest after bloodhounds had followed a trail from the scene of the slaying to the Evans home. The coroner said a shotgun, recently discharged, was found in Evans' home.

At first Coroner Henderson said he believed the slayer had cut off Mrs. Evans' head with a hatchet or axe, but later examination revealed several small shots in her head and the coroner said she had been shot with a shotgun. He said there was evidence of a brief struggle at the scene of the slaying.

Mrs. Evans, mother of five children, left her home yesterday morning to go to Wilson Creek to telephone her brother in Huntington, W. Va. She was seen returning but no one was found who had seen her arrive home.

Evans told authorities he had been in Grayson all day. The Evans home is in Carter county near here.

TOBACCO AVERAGES BETWEEN 7 AND 1-2 CENTS

The inferior grades, however, were selling for a few cents a pound lower than last season and early sales indicated a price average of about the same as that of 1930. Offerings were light.

Approximately 250,000 pounds of sand lugs and first primings were offered at Rocky Mount and they brought an estimated average of $6.50 per hundred. The price ranged from $1 to $24 per hundred.

Farmers who crowded the warehouses apparently were satisfied with the prices brought by the better grades. Warehousemen there and at other points in the belt expressed belief that the quality of the offerings was better than that of last year's initial sales.

Offerings at Goldsboro where 157,226 pounds were sold on the initial day of last season were estimated at 150,000 pounds of mixed quality. The poorer grades there brought one or two cents a pound less than last year, but the better grades ranged equally higher. Last year's opening day average there was $8.34.

Disappointment at prices was expressed by farmers at Tarboro where an estimated 40,000 pounds of inferior sand lugs and first primings were sold for an estimated $5 per hundred. Some tobacco sold for as little as 50 cents per hundred.

Enfield's sales were estimated at 40,000 pounds at an average of $7 per hundred.

Block sales were experienced at Robersonville where approximately 350,000 pounds sold at an estimated average of $6 per hundred. Wilmington's markets sold 200,000 pounds in the first hour at an average of $6.40 per hundred. Farmers turned many tags, refusing to accept the bids at both markets.

Early sales indicated an average of eight to nine cents a pound at Washington, where 100,000 pounds were on the floors. Some tobacco sold as high as $26 per hundred.

The breaks at Kinston were estimated from 800,000 to 1,000,000 pounds. The average was estimated at $9.50 per hundred compared with an average slightly under eight cents for last year's opening.

Windsor, one of the markets in the belt last year, has no warehouses operating this season.

Sales at Ahoskie were estimated at 125,000 pounds at an average of $9 to $10 per hundred, slightly lower than last year's average.

Wilson had comparatively light breaks with approximately 250,000 pounds offered. There was a brisk demand for the better grades but sand lugs and first primings were selling low. Prices ranged from $1 to $36 per hundredweight. Farmers expressed some dissatisfaction with prices.

Farmville had a quarter of a million pounds with an estimated average of 8 cents.

Smithfield, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The bacco offerings here today at the opening of the new bright belt were very light, only about 125,000 pounds being on the floors. Prices for the early sales ranged from one to 30 cents a pound. Medium and better grades appeared to be selling slightly higher than on the opening last year but poor grades apparently were lower.

WILL NOT BUY MORE COTTON

Farm Board Abandons Buying of the Staple for Stabilization Purposes

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—For the second successive day members of the cotton advisory committee met today with Carl Williams, Farm Board member for cotton, to discuss the many problems confronting producers and handlers of the new crop.

The announcement yesterday that the board was not considering the purchase of any more cotton followed a conference between Williams and members of the advisory committee, which gives the board the benefit of its knowledge of the cotton industry when called upon.

There was no disposition at the Farm Board, however, to connect the decision to buy no more cotton with the meeting between Williams and committee members.

In stating that the board had abandoned stabilization operation because of continued over production, Williams said the board was still considering various plans to help the situation and that it "might have something to say later on."

Cotton farmers and trade interests have urged the board to announce that it would not sell any of the 1,300,000 bales held by the stabilization corporation this year, cotton men characterized this cotton as a menace to the market because of the uncertainty as to its disposition.

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The Farm Board has abandoned the buying of cotton for price stabilization purposes because it has found after two years that the practice was not the remedy for the over-production situation.

The announcement was made late yesterday by Acting Chairman Carl Williams, the board member for cotton. He said the agency was not considering "the purchase of cotton under any circumstances" because such practice was futile in view of continued excessive outputs.

The same idea, he said, applied to wheat, the price of which is depressed by increased production.

With the board rejected the scores of suggestions by southern senators and growers that it continued the purchase of the stable to maintain prices. It was made after a conference between Williams and members of the cotton advisory committee at which relief plans were discussed, including that to reduce cotton acreage.

Asserting that for two years the board had "cushioned the American farmer, particularly the raisers of cotton and wheat against price declines that have affected other commodities and industries," Williams said, "the board has discovered that purchasing of the commodities for price bolstering purposes is not the remedy for the situation."

spend extravagantly and foolishly, but the kind that enables them to act with discretion and to try and improve every opportunity to improve their environment.

Not the kind of economy that causes institutions to use a false perspective and to abolish essentials, but the kind that will enable them to see their needs clearly, and with a foresight undimmed by the clamor of the mob for lowering the standards of living established in the past.

Not the kind of industry that takes away from the other man his right to a livelihood, but the kind that gives every honest laborer a chance to live comfortably and constructively and to contribute his part of the joys and happiness of community life.

It is a monumental task, difficult to follow in times of stress and uncertainty, but one that should add to the life of any community willing to give it a trial.

The DAILY REFLECTOR is giving its readers an opportunity to reap a saving on yearly subscriptions at this time and that many will take advantage of it is not to be doubted.

The Reflector has served the community for nearly fifty years and during that time has kept the community fully informed of happenings in all parts of the world.

The paper has grown along with the town and at this time its news service is comparable with that of metropolitan dailies. Through the Associated Press leased wire service the columns of the Reflector are able to provide its readers with the latest developments in all phases of human life in all parts of the world and this is a protection the public should appreciate.

The local service faithfully portrays the activities of county people, and shows what is being accomplished in every line of industry.

The lowered subscription rate is an effort on the part of the publisher to aid the people who have been hard hit by depression during the last two years and who have found it difficult to get the paper at less than a cent a day and this should place it within the reach of every home.

Greenville extends a cordial welcome to the several thousand people attending the opening of the tobacco market here today and hopes everyone of them will return fully resolved to come back again.

Greenville people are in hearty accord with the plan of tobacco interests to make this truly the shrine of bright leaf tobacco in this part of the country, and visitors may be assured always of finding a joyous welcome wherever they may go here.

By reason of the splendid service of past years the market has rapidly forged into the limelight as one of the greatest in the world and when the present season comes to a close this fact should be decidedly more impressive than it has ever been before.

Situated in the heart of the greatest cigarette producing county in the world there is no reason why the city should not be the greatest sales centralization point.

This market has established many records in past year from the standpoint of service to the growers and more are in prospect, as tobaccoists turn to the task of bringing more growers here than any other year in the over thirty years of operation.

Optimism, economy and industry is what the nation needs to pull it out of the quagmire of depression in the opinion of leading business men of the nation.

It needs the kind of optimism that enables men to smile when the clouds hang dark and heavy, and apparently won't let the sunshine through. Not the kind of optimism that causes people to forget their responsibilities and to

How CARDUI Helps Women

"I WAS passing through a critical time in my life, and I suffered a great deal," says Mrs. Mat Howard, of Quilan, Texas. "I improved very much after I had taken Cardui for a while. Since then, I have given Cardui to my five daughters. As each one of them arrived at womanhood, I gave her Cardui for several months. I found they were less nervous and felt stronger. All of them have continued the use of Cardui in their homes. In my home we have all been better for having taken it."

WES FERRELL SHOWS WORTH WITH THE BAT

By GAYLE TALBOT
 (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Almost any day now, Wesley Ferrell is likely to discover that he has hated himself right out of his present job with the Cleveland Indians. With every passing week it becomes more apparent he never was cut out to be a pitcher.

It's quite true the young right-hander rang up 25 victories last year and already has scored 18 this season, but that doesn't alter the fact that he has been more or less wasting his time. His real career seems to lie on the other side of the firing line.

Through yesterday's games Ferrell was hitting a rare 358 an average topped only by two American League players who have participated in as many games as he has this season. They are Al Simmons and Babe Ruth. Appearing in 47 games many times as a pinch hitter, he has pounded eight home runs, six doubles and a triple and batted in 27 runs.

Valuable as is his pitching arm to the Cleveland cause, it would not be surprising to see the Indians shift him to a regular outfield position in order to get the daily benefits of his big bat.

There are the shining examples of Babe Ruth and Lefty O'Doul who deserted the mound for the more lucrative gardens. Ferrell would not require more than a passing glance at their salary checks to convince him the change was for the better.

All of which is preamble to the fact that Wes had one of his most spacious days yesterday. In addition to holding Chicago to six hits and registering his 18th victory, 15 to 5, he plastered opposing pitchers for two-home runs and a single, drove in five runs and himself scored four.

Waite Hoyt, former "schoolboy wonder," pitched his second straight shutout as the Athletics defeated Wilky Moore and the Boston Red Sox 3 to 0. He yielded seven hits, Moore allowed only six but one was a pinch single by Cramer in the seventh and another was Jimmy Fox's 24th homer run.

Washington rallied to score four times in the sixth inning and two more in the seventh, knock Herb Pennock from the hill and defeat the Yankees 6 to 5. Lou Gehrig's 38th homer with three on in the fifth accounted for four Yankee runs.

The Detroit Tigers behind Earl Whitehill's 6-hit hurling, downed the St. Louis Browns 8 to 3, in their series opener. Dale Alexander drove in four of the winners' runs with a double and single.

John McCraw's New York Giants had that little extra punch necessary to capture a pair of close ones from the Boston Braves 3 to 2 and 4 to 3. The first, a duel between Freddie Fitzsimmons and Fred Frankhouse, went to the Giants when Frankhouse grew unsteady and walked two men in the ninth. The nightcap went 10 innings before Mel Ott drove Bill Terry across with the deciding run. The Braves had scored twice off Clarence Mitchell in the ninth to tie the score.

Wesley Ferrell, Indians—held the White Sox to 6 hits, batted in five runs with two homers and a single and scored twice.

Lou Gehrig, Yankees—took the American league home run leadership, hitting his 38th home run with the bases loaded off Brown of the Senators.

Fred Fitzsimmons and Clarence Mitchell—turned in two fine pitching performances to enable Giants to defeat Braves 3 to 2 and 4 to 3.

Waite Hoyt, Athletics—shut out Red Sox 3 to 0 in his seventh game for the Athletics.

Dale Alexander, Tigers—drove in four runs as Tigers defeated the Browns, 8 to 3.

PATS BEAT THE TOURISTS

By WHITNEY THARIN
 (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Charlotte, Sept. 1.—(AP)—If Ray Kennedy contemplates operating the Asheville Piedmont League club next season he'll be in the market for at least three good players.

Bobby Hipps, manager of the Tourists since Kennedy decided to devote his entire time to business affairs, and slugging first baseman for the club, heads a delegation of three that Kennedy has sold to Hollywood of the Class AA Pacific Coast League.

Roy Tarr, a 300-hitter who holds down third base for the Asheville club and Roy Luebe, the Tourists' vociferous catcher, are going to travel to California with Hipps. Just how much Kennedy got out of the deal was not made public.

Hipps, hitting in the 360's and 370's, is generally recognized as the class of Piedmont League first sackers. As a manager, he has been unusually successful with a fourth place club. Part of his hitting percentage has been made with eleven home runs, which isn't exactly bad in a loop where Hudgens of Charlotte, with 19, is the leader.

Tarr is also a 300 hitter, being just over the margin while Luebe, according to last official averages, fall short of the coveted mark by less than 10 points.

Despite the presence of two of this trio, Tarr and Luebe, in the Tourist lineup last night they were unable to stop Greensboro and the Pats scored a 5 to 4 victory. The winning marker came in the last half of the ninth after two men had gone out in succession.

Wick Wical, the league's leading pitcher, tossed Charlotte to a 6 to 3 win over Durham to chalk up his 14th victory against three defeats.

Before the game started, Manager Guy Lacy of Charlotte, announced he would seek the assistance of George Whitted, Durham manager, in arranging a post-season series between the Hornets and a picked team of Piedmont stars. The series would be played at Charlotte with the players dividing the receipts. It would be in addition to the regular post-season series which Charlotte will probably play with Raleigh or Greensboro.

More than likely it will be Raleigh. The Caps beat High Point 12 to 6 in a free hitting contest that marked the seventh straight loss for the Pointers. Included in the 28 hits were 11 doubles, 3 triples and a pair of homers, both by Country Davis, Cap first baseman. The win enabled the Caps to strengthen their hold on second place.

Henderson played errorless ball and turned in 13 safeties to lick Winston-Salem 7 to 1. The game lasted only an hour and 2 minutes and was the shortest of the season in Henderson.

KILLS WOMAN AND HIMSELF

Roy Jenkins of Bonifay, Ala. told police he and Stafford went for a ride with Miss Owens and her sister, Polly, daughters of Tiny Owens, pitcher for the Mobile club this season. They were drinking, he said.

At Grand Bay, Ala. 28 miles from Mobile, Jenkins said, the car was stopped and he and Polly Owens left it for a moment. They heard shots, he added, and ran back to find Stafford and the girl dying. They were brought to a hospital here but both were dead on arrival.

Stafford and his wife were estranged. No theory has been advanced as to his motive for the shootings.

SAM

By Freeman Lincoln

SYNOPSIS: Sam Sherrill is in love with Freddy Munson, reporter on the Express, but refuses to marry him because she believes she needs money to be happy and Freddy needs freedom. Peak Abbott, owner of the newspaper, asks Sam to marry him as a business proposition, gambling on the chance that she may later care for him. Sam finds a decision about Freddy more difficult, because she is involved in her family's affairs. She has promised her dead mother to keep her half-brother, Nelson, and her step-father, Fourth Aldersa, "out of the parlor." Aldersa combines a passion for aristocracy with poor business sense. Sam has discovered her half-brother dancing at a restaurant with the maid of all work, Martha Givens, and Nelson asks her what she is going to do about it.

Chapter 6
NELSON STATES HIS CASE
 "Dad? I'm not going to do anything. I just thought that you'd be interested to know that I'd seen you."

Sonny stood in front of the davenport with his long fingers clinched into fists and his eyes smouldering. At last he said savagely: "I know what you're thinking. You don't have to tell me. You and Fourth think that I'm having an underhanded affair with a servant girl, and that I ought to be ashamed of myself. Well, I'll tell you this much. He came over and stood close beside her, blurring his words. 'I'm not having any affair do you understand? I'm not having anything of the kind!'"

"All right, Nelson," said Sam mildly. "I believe you. Please don't shout."
 "And as for being ashamed of myself," he continued swiftly, bitterly. "I'm not that either, and you and Fourth can go to the devil!"

He began to pace up and down, excitedly, emotion working in his face. Sam watched him calmly. "Fourth doesn't know anything about this," she said quietly, "and you haven't heard me hint that I thought you ought to be ashamed of yourself, have you?"

He laughed sharply. "You may not have hinted it, but I know what you think. Underneath, you and Fourth have the same ideas; fool ideas about class and caste and all that rot. Some people are just people, and if I like them I don't care whether they earn their money by street cleaning, or ditch digging, or waiting on table. I, at least, have the courage of my convictions!"

"I suppose so," said Sam suddenly weary of the whole affair. "But if you have the courage of your convictions why have you kept it dark that you've been running around with Martha?"

"I wonder!" Sonny laughed. "I suppose Fourth wouldn't have hit the roof. I suppose he wouldn't have fired Martha as quick as a wink. I suppose he wouldn't have made my life miserable with his jawing, from then until the end of time. Oh, no! Oh, no! at all!"

"Probably you're right," said Sam with a sigh. "but I don't see why you get so excited. Fourth doesn't know, and he doesn't have to know."

"You aren't going to tell him?"
 "No. It would only make trouble. And you won't fire Martha?"
 "I won't do anything, Sonny, if only you'll calm down."

Nelson was appeased and tremendously relieved. "You're a good sport, Sam," he said gratefully. "and I'm sorry I went off the handle. It's just that all this bunk about social position and money gets on my nerves till I'm fit to be tied. Besides that, Martha is a nice girl and I don't want her to get into trouble. You don't know what a darn nice girl she is."

Sam admitted that she did not. She had never really thought of Martha at all except as an individual who never seemed to be able to make a bed properly, and who always managed to get bits of shell into the cup with a soft boiled egg. Nelson evidently saw her in a very different light. He called her a "darn nice girl" and would have elaborated upon the theme had Sam been willing to listen. She, however, pleaded a headache and went up to her room where she could be alone to think.

Fourth Aldersa had a pleasant facility for being able to forget whatever he wanted to forget. By the time he reached the stable he had forgotten the frame of mind in which he had left the home of the widow Frye, and was highly pleased with himself in the role of triumphantly providing male.

He tossed the little heap of new bills carelessly into Sam's lap and remarked, with a wave of the hand: "Well, there's that small matter of the mortgage interest settled. I hope we won't have to hear about it again for another six months."

Sam fingered the money in amazement and delight. "Fourth, is this really true? I can hardly believe it!" She got up from her chair and kissed her stepfather impulsively. "Oh, Fourth, I don't know how to thank you. You can't realize how worried I've been."

Fourth patted her cheek, and nodded. "I know," he said gravely. Nelson looked at the money and whistled. "All brand new fifties! Maybe a man couldn't have himself a time with a handful of those?"

LOUIS FICKLEN IS HI-Y BOYS' PRESIDENT

Louis Stuart Ficklen will be the president of the Junior Hi-Y for the coming year. Tom Wilson, the former president was accepted and joined the Senior Hi-Y on his promotion to the ninth grade. The following boys have joined the Junior Hi-Y: Harvey Deal, Jack Kilgo, Leo Burks, Earl Shuff, Ernest Willard, George Lautares and Charles McGowan. Boys under consideration for membership are Martin Swartz, Eugene Ward, Dixie Smith and Bill Clark.

There are four Hi-Y clubs in Greenville, affiliated with the Hi-Y of North America in a national endeavor to create, maintain and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the schools and communities of this state and the world. Only twenty-five members are allowed in each club and each member must be voted in separately, and passed by the advisory council, who study the school record and church record of each member before they are accepted. A few members are accepted if they show a desire to improve.

The Hi-Y clubs are found in nearly every credited high school in North Carolina and North America and in many foreign countries.

The Senior Hi-Y boys membership is: M. O. Blount, Ed Skinner, Louis Skinner, Dan Wright, Charles Shuff, George Willard Jr., Hugh Winslow, Philip Winslow, Billy Morten, Carey Warren, Howard Summerell, Tom Wilson, Tom Rivers, Virginius Kasey, John Clark, Billy Staton, Ed Whitehurst, William C. Darden, Ernest Lee Clark, Ernest Wells, Frank M. Park, Bancroft Moseley, Lewis Clark, Jim Slay and V. C. Fleming. The Senior Hi-Y boys is closed, having its quota and several boys are on the waiting list. The Junior Hi-Y girls are closed, leaving the Junior Hi-Y boys and Senior Hi-Y girls open for membership. It is believed both of these clubs will be closed to membership before school opens. Last year the Hi-Y clubs of this city made one of the best records in North Carolina, and this school year we will have one hundred boys and girls—double our last year's membership.

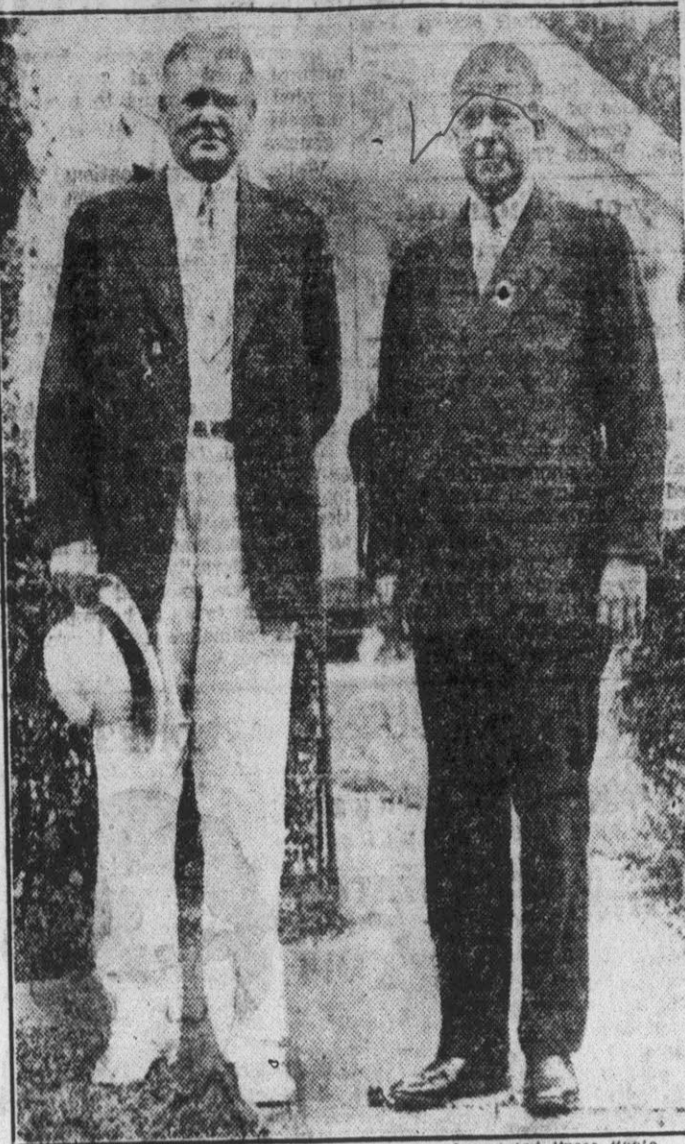

sympathetically, "but he isn't going to. These little items are going to keep a roof over our heads for another half year. I think I'll sleep with them under my pillow to be sure of having happy dreams."

Sam may have had happy dreams but her awakening the next morning was not happy, even with the thought of Fourth's contribution to the family welfare lying snugly in a handkerchief case in her top bureau drawer. The inevitable reaction to her exhilaration of the day before had set in, and the future presented itself as an endless series of blank, meaningless, lonely hours. She duly went through with the business of getting herself dressed and of eating breakfast. She noticed that Nelson seemed nervous and depressed, and that Martha's eyes showed signs of recent tears. Martha had undoubtedly been told of Sam's discovery, and was terribly frightened as a consequence. Sam felt that it did not matter, that nothing mattered very much. She wondered if Freddy had already left for Chicago, or St. Louis, or was it Kansas City?

When she returned to the stable after the routine business of marketing in the village there was a yellow car standing at the front door. Sam's heart almost stopped beating when she saw it for the car was a distinctive shade of yellow. She knew at once that it was a taxi; a city taxi, startlingly and almost absurdly out of its element. Sam shut off the motor with a hand that trembled, and ran swiftly across the drive to the front door.

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today, 19 to 19 points lower under selling inspired by weakness in Liverpool and a favorable weather map.

Present weather conditions are thought likely to promote picking and an increasing movement, which may be reflected by a corresponding increase in hedge selling here, and according to some brokers, there was a little more southern selling in the market this morning.

It was in small scattering lots, however, and offerings were readily enough absorbed by trade buying and covering at the decline to steady the market during the early trading.

December contracts after selling off to 6.55 at the start, rallied to 7.02 while March sold up from 7.26 to 7.32, with the market comparatively quiet and steady at net decline of 13 to 14 points at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported hedging with Continental and Bombay liquidation in that market, and said that stop orders had been uncovered on the decline. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 18 to 24 points lower, and the Indian spot quotation in Liverpool showed a decline to 10 points.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Wheat averaged higher today, although trade was generally inactive and the price range narrow. Latest information from abroad placed the wheat crop of 12 countries, exclusive of Russia at 1,380,000,000 bushels or 3,000,000 bushels more than last year, but no allowance was made for smaller reserves of old grain this year.

There were no deliveries on September corn contracts, and this fact sent prices higher. Later reactions wiped out all early gains and September corn was lower at the close. Oats were slightly higher. Provisions ranged higher on short covering in lard.

Wheat closed firm 1-8 to 1 higher than yesterday's finish; corn mixed 1 down on the September, and unchanged to 1-4 up on deferred months; oats 1-8 to 1-2 advanced and provisions unchanged to 15 cents higher.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The stock market entered September today without showing any inclination of breaking out of the extremely narrow range in which it oscillated listlessly throughout August.

Dull Augusts are not unusual, but in past years the market has usually developed a fairly pronounced trend after Labor Day. Emphatic opinions as to which way the market will turn are extremely rare at the moment, and traders are holding to the sidelines awaiting a clue.

Today's trading was about as dull as anything experienced this year, and most of the so-called pivotal shares fluctuated within ranges of small fractions. The market recovered after sagging a little at the start, but selling of American Tobacco B, North American and Electric Autolite, all of which lost more than 11-2 points, imparted a slightly heavy tone after midday.

The weekly condition statement of Federal Reserve Member Banks in leading cities showed a gain of $7,000,000 in loans on securities, but failed to indicate the autumn stirrings of commercial activity in the "all other loans" classification, which includes commercial loans. That classification showed a decline of $40,000,000 which may in part have represented future liquidation of bankers' acceptances in this market foreign sources.

Sixty-one Thousand Disabled Veterans Are Out of Jobs

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—More than 61,000 disabled veterans of the World War were reported today by E. C. Babcock, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, as out of jobs.

Babcock's announcement was based on a questionnaire sent by the veterans' administration to nearly 300,000 men on its compensation rolls. Returns from nearly half of them showed 46,424 employed; 61,666 out of work and 11,278 unemployable.

The questionnaires were sent out by the Veterans Administration returnable to the labor department, which is attempting to find jobs for the men through the employment service.

Meanwhile, President Hoover's unemployment relief organization emphasized its plans to meet the distress problem through local agencies.

Walter S. Gifford, national relief director, issued a statement saying the organization "is not instituting a campaign for a national fund, but plans nationwide support of local appeals for local funds."

The relief organization has recommended all relief fund campaigns be conducted between October 19 and November 25.

"Insofar as all local campaigns are scheduled within this period," Gifford said, "the president's organization hopes to render the maximum assistance and cooperation by mobilizing all national agencies for stimulation of interest in local efforts."

Gifford was expected to appoint an assistant; today to be responsible for this "stimulation of interest in local efforts."

"Dear Peggy

I'm almost too excited to write, and there's so much to see, both inside the plane and out. We've left Washington behind now, and I've just had a Chesterfield in the smoking compartment—they serve them on every ship.

"Among the eighteen passengers there's a senator and a foreign diplomat, and I'm surprised at the number of women. The trip is two hundred miles and the meter in the cabin reads two miles a minute, think of that.

"For me, the Chesterfields were the nicest touch of all. I was just dying for a smoke, and when the hostess passed them (and my favorite cigarette at that) everyone else seemed as tickled as I was. And my—they did taste good!"

Chesterfields are served in the smoking compartments of all these planes—the largest and most luxurious in the East. With the fast growth of air travel, Chesterfield makes many new friends each day, here as in city streets and country homes—wherever good taste counts.

A mild cigarette—delightfully mild and smooth—with a tobacco fragrance all its own.

Whether you're air-minded or not, you'll always find Chesterfield on the air-line to taste—the quickest way to get there. They Satisfy!
