REPUBLICANS AFTER HOUSE LEADERSHIP

Compromise Ticket is Proposed for Speaker and Leader at National Capital.

Washington, Sept. 2.—(AP)—With but three months until the new Congress convenes, speculation around the Capitol has thrown new possibilities into an already complicated lineup of contenders for leadership in a House in which the strength is closely divided between the two parties.

The latest suggestion is for a "compromise" Republican ticket including Representative Mapes, conservative Michigan member with a large personal popularity, for speaker; and Representative Frear, progressive from Wisconsin, for leader.

On the theory that this team would promise to hold northwestern liberal elements in line while satisfying the regulars, it was predicted today in some quarters that it might overcome an established lead now almost evenly divided by the survivors of Nicholas Longworth's famous triumvirate of leadership—Representatives Tilson of Connecticut, floor leader, and Snell of New York, chairman of the rules committee.

The late Speaker Longworth's closest personal friend in the House, Minority Leader Garner of Texas, remains meanwhile the only Democratic candidate for speaker.

For Democratic leader Representative Byrns of Tennessee, ranking minority member of the appropriations committee; McDuffie of Alabama, veteran whip of his party, and Crisp of Georgia, have been suggested.

With eight House seats vacant and the count standing two in the favor of Republicans, the balance of power might be tipped from day to day and organization may depend on the death and sick list when Congress assembles.

Another new name in the speaker-ship race is that of Representative Cooper of Ohio, whose strong stand for prohibition enforcement might become a campaign issue.

Representative Hoch of Kansas, and Purnell of Indiana, are repeatedly mentioned as possibilities among those who want to elect western or middle-western men to high places.

Should the Doughty Frear appear on the Republican slate, there would be the spectacle of a candidate for honor in a member who once paid the price of his committee membership for party irregularity. Frear campaigned vigorously for the ill-fated independent presidential aspirant Robert M. La Follette in 1924, and was removed from committee assignments, but later was reinstated.

SUES SENATOR FOR $150,000

George Southerland Charges W. M. Hendren With Alienating Wife's Affections.

Goldsboro, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The marital troubles of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Southerland of Goldsboro, today had reached a double-barreled climax in the courts, with two North Carolina State Senators involved in the proceedings.

Shortly after Southerland filed suit for $150,000 against Senator W. M. Hendren of Forsyth county, in Wayne County Superior Court yesterday, Judge E. H. Cramer gave Mrs. Southerland custody of their 3-year-old child, George C. Southerland II, so long as Mrs. Southerland is an inmate of her father's home in Kinston. Mrs. Southerland is the daughter of Senator Ira M. Hardy of Lenoir county.

Judge Cramer made his ruling in dismissing a habeas corpus action brought by Southerland to obtain possession of the child after the couple had separated. The jurist held that Southerland "is not a fit and proper person" to have custody of the child.

Southerland's suit against Senator Hendren was filed during a recess in the closed chamber hearing of the habeas corpus action.

In his complaint he identified Senator Hendren as "chief counsel" of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company of Winston-Salem, and charged the legislator with alienating his wife's affections by "winning and dining" her in Raleigh hotels and "especially by serving wine, liquor and meals in his bedroom in the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh."

Southerland issued a statement in Winston-Salem after the suit had been filed denying the charges and asserting that "there is no foundation in fact for the slanderous allegations made against me and Mrs. Southerland."

He declared he believed the suit was instituted "for the purpose of drawing me into the controversy over the custody of their child, and as a part of the scheme on the part of Southerland to discredit and humiliate his wife and her family, and at the same time to attempt to extort money from me."

Deficit Of Government Reaches $396,365,000 In 62 Days Of New Year

Figures Given Out by the Treasury Department as Pres. Hoover and Administration Officials Proceed With Study of Nation's Finances.

Washington, Sept. 2.—(AP)—In the 62 days of the new fiscal year, the government has rolled up a deficit of $396,365,000.

This was recorded today by the daily Treasury statement. Just two months ago the Treasury ended the 1931 fiscal year with a deficit of $902,000,000. This was wiped out by an addition to the public debt and the government started the new year with a clean slate.

The figures were announced by President Hoover and administration officials went ahead with a study of the nation's finances with a view to determining whether the President shall recommend an increase in taxes or resort to another bond issue.

Chairman Wood of the House appropriations committee, which passes upon the allocation of funds to the government departments, said today federal expenditures for the next fiscal year would be cut drastically and that he wanted to start with the army and navy.

During the first 62 days of the new fiscal year $144,000,000 more was spent than during the same period of last year.

The Treasury statement as of August 31 showed that in the two months government income had amounted to $230,399,151 and expenditures were $626,764,751.

The receipts from all sources were only about $11,000,000 less than in the first two months of last year but the increased expenditures brought the deficit for the two months to $156,000,000 more than the deficit in the same period of a year ago.

The chief increase in the expenses in the fund which includes money spent in carrying on the public building and public works program. The postal deficiency for two months doubled as compared with that for the same period last year.

Mrs. Phoebe Omile of Memphis, Tenn., who was first to arrive in Cleveland, won the men's and women's air derby from Santa Monica, Cal.

SPEED TALK OF AIR RACES

Cleveland Spectators Chafe at Delay of Arrival of Quick-Stepping Planes.

Cleveland, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Dazzling speed in the achievement of which American pilots hope to write new records into the books, was the talk of the 1931 national air races today.

With the first taste of real speed offered by Lowell Bayles, slightly built and mild-mannered record breaker from Springfield, Mass., spectators chafed at the postponement of the arrival of the most quick-stepping planes from the west coast.

Bayles, who rode a strong wind to attain a speed of 286 miles an hour on one way over a one-mile course and averaged 267.342 miles an hour in four dashes, said he would make several chances on his plane in an effort to break the world record of 278.48 miles an hour set in 1924 by a Frenchman, Warrant Officer Bonnet.

His ship, novel in its design because of its stubby proportions, is a low-wing monoplane with a total length of 15 feet. The pilot peers out of a transparent, stream-lined hood that shields the cockpit.

Among those honored in today's running of the air races were quiet birdmen, an organization of veteran fliers, and Germans who paid tribute to their countryman, Max Ernst Udet, members of the European stunt team and head-liner of all aerobas.

THINK WOMAN MAY SURVIVE

Rachel Moore Has a Fighting Chance for Life After Murderous Attack.

Rachel Moore, colored, severely backed with an axe in the hands of Warren Thorne, also colored, as she slept at her home in Allen's Lane Monday night, was reported today to have a "fighting chance" in her battle against death.

The woman was taken to the hospital apparently in a dying condition yesterday morning, and surgeons worked over her for hours in an attempt to save her life. Although she was still unconscious this morning, belief was expressed that she would live if complications do not set in.

From his cell in the city jail Thorne, who was first thought to be crazy but who officers later described as a "bad man," was alleged to have said the Lord told him to kill the woman. He will be moved to the county jail to await trial sometime in the next day or so.

Thorne and the woman live in the same house in Allen's Lane. Early yesterday morning Thorne was alleged to have gone to the woman's bed, hit her over the head with an axe and then partially severed a lower limb.

Neighbors, attracted by groans, discovered the woman lying in a blood-soaked bed. Thorne was said to have gone back to his bed in another part of the house and was sleeping peacefully when officers arrived to take him into custody.

Officers said Thorne told them the woman had cursed him previous to his attack and that he was prompted by the Lord to commit the crime.

Officers, however, abandoning the theory that the negro is crazy, declared his action was the result of a devilish nature, and prepared to bring him to trial as early as possible. The negro has a reputation as a genuinely "bad man," it was stated, and attempts to decrease the responsibility of his meanness by playing crazy.

Gardner Suggests Governors' Confab On Cotton Crisis

Raleigh, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Gov. O. Max Gardner today telegraphed Gov. Ross, Sterling of Texas a suggestion that he join him in calling a conference of Governors, United States Senators, and leading agriculturists to be held in Memphis, Tenn., September 11 and 12 to consider the cotton situation.

Asked if he contemplated calling a special session of the North Carolina General Assembly to consider the cotton situation, Governor Gardner said such a move "would be futile until other southern states growing most of the cotton take definite stands."

The purpose of the Memphis meeting, Governor Gardner proposed, would be "not to promulgate any plan but to get the conservative and careful judgment on all plans that may be presented and offer it possible a unified program to the south."

Under the plan proposed, the conference would assemble the first day "without speeches" and would resolve itself into five committees to consider the problem before it.

Freak Mule Produces Quart Of Milk Daily

Not so many years ago the automobile came along and practically monopolized the place which horses and mules occupied in transportation, and today there is a mule in Pitt county attempting to take the place of the lowly cow.

She is just an ordinary mare-mule, with long ears, unruly heels, bushy tail and innocent eyes, but for the last two years she has astonished the people of the community by giving from a pint to a quart of milk daily.

The story of the strange beast was brought to the city yesterday by R. L. Manning, who resides on the H. C. Sugg farm, on the north side of the river, about five miles from Greenville.

It was Manning who discovered the unusual development in the physical structure of the mule, and it was he who made the tests and that has caused the mule to be classed among the greatest monostrous of the region.

Manning said the mule had been milked four times a week for two years, but right recently daily, and always yielded from a pint to a quart of milk. The animal, he said, apparently was more prolific in the summer than other seasons of the year.

Allowed to set overnight the milk develops rich yellow cream. It is stated and it tastes like real cow's milk. The fluid has never been tested for butter fat content but a sample will be presented for analysis at an early date.

Like all farm mules the animal has her idiosyncrasies and is able to kick as high and with as much force as any other mule on the plantation. She is gentle when being milked, however, and stands obediently at plant life while the fluid is being extracted from her body.

POLICE FIND DEATH CODE OF BLUEBEARD

Harry Powers Kept Record of Persons He Desired to Remove From Life.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Chief of Police C. A. Duckworth said today that Mrs. Luella Powers, 45, wife of the man held here in connection with the killing of two women and 3 children, told him this morning she was "through with Harry Powers — I wouldn't have him turned loose for a hundred million dollars."

Clarksburg, W. Va., Sept. 2.—(AP)—A "death code" by which Harry P. Powers recorded the progress of his correspondence with women throughout the country was discovered today by detectives investigating ramifications of the killings of two women and three children.

Letters and postcards he received in response to his lure of wealth and affection were found to be marked apparently for filing.

A fragment of an envelope gave an apparent key to one of the markings. The mark was "P-15." It bore the notation "graveyard." Such a marking was found on letters from the two women he confessed he killed, Mrs. D. P. Lempe of Worcester, Mass., and Mrs. Asta Eicher, Chicago, whose three children also were slain.

City Detective Carl Southern said he believed "P-15" indicated those correspondents Powers had marked for death.

Information that Powers had been with Stamatios Sifkas, 44, Clarksburg shoe shine parlor owner, shortly before Sifkas disappeared in June, spurred investigation of that affair, just as discovery of a trunk containing several firearms and 50 photographs of women gave further impetus to search for other possible victims of the 42-year-old former salesman. The quest spread to Miller, S. D., Vanalia, Ill., and Mansfield, Ohio, where he was believed to have lived as "Joseph Gildeau" about the year 1924.

Commercialism reappeared with the erection of a high board fence about the garage where Powers, he admitted, killed the five victims.

Efforts to charge admission to sightseers were blocked by county officers yesterday. Today the county prosecutor said he knew of nothing that could be done to stop the practice.

Approximately 150,000 Pounds of Leaf Offered for Sale Today and Market Is Cleared by the Noon Hour; Local Market Sold More Tobacco Than Any Market in Belt Yesterday with General Average of $6.90 Per Hundred Pounds.

The price gain registered on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday afternoon was reflected in the light offerings disposed of here today.

There was approximately 150,000 pounds of leaf on the floors of the various warehouses this morning and sales were completed before the noon hour.

Most of the tobacco offered was of a common quality.

On the opening sales yesterday the Greenville tobacco market sold more tobacco than any other market in the state, based on official reports received this morning.

Total sales were officially estimated at 874,956 pounds for $60,361.71 at a general average of $6.90 per hundred pounds.

The price situation developed sharply yesterday afternoon with the arrival of circuit riders representing the large domestic buying concerns of the nation. Prices during the afternoon were estimated at about a third higher than the morning, and the same strength was evident in the disposition of the light offerings today.

Thousands of people from all sections of eastern Carolina attended the opening of the market and warehouses were jammed until the late afternoon when sales were completed.

Every section of the city, and especially the business district, was crowded practically all day, and refreshment and eating places did a big business.

Light sales were reported on the remainder of the markets of the belt today, farmers apparently holding back their better tobacco awaiting a still further improvement of prices.

The marketing of the leaf in all probability will begin to hit its stride next week and the bulk of the crop will be sold by the coming of the holidays.

Greenville is operating with five sets of buyers, enabling the market to dispose of enormous quantities of golden leaf each day. In fact, the market can handle a million seven hundred thousand pounds of leaf daily with improvement of warehouse and factory facilities.

Raleigh, Sept. 2.—(AP)—With the opening day's heavier breaks out of the way, sales were light on the 17 new bright belt tobacco markets today. There was little change in the average of $6.10 to about $9 per hundred pounds paid yesterday.

Farmville's official average today was $7.68 a hundred for 32-214 pounds as compared with a $7.55 average for 263-028 pounds yesterday.

A slightly better average was made at Rocky Mount on the first 200 sales with little difference in quality from yesterday's offerings of largely first primings and bottom leaves. The first 200 sales averaged $8 a hundred pounds. Approximately 100,000 pounds were offered.

Warehousemen estimated that 75,000 pounds half the amount offered yesterday, was on the floors at Goldsboro and was selling at about the same figures as yesterday when the average was $7.95. Kinston, where 622,380 pounds sold yesterday at an average of $7.64 a hundred, had lighter offerings with the price remaining about the same.

Around 70,000 pounds were on the floors at Tarboro and were bringing an average of about $7 per hundred.

New Bern with an average of $9.28 per hundred for 113,000 pounds yesterday, had about 40,000 pounds on the floors today.

Sales on the Wilson market were estimated at from 300,000 to 400,000 pounds at slightly higher prices.

BANK EMPLOYEE HELD IN THEFT

Walter Wolfe Confesses Embezzling $2,000,000 from Illinois Bank.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Walter Wolfe, 42, for 20 years an employee of the Continental Illinois Bank & Trust Company, today faced the possibility of prosecution on a charge of embezzling a sum estimated in some quarters as high as $2,000,000 and in others as low as $1,500,000.

He was held in custody of private detectives at a hotel and confessed, bank officials said.

Lloyd's of London, which carried the bank employee's bond estimated the amount at $2,000,000. Reports current in LaSalle street placed the figure at $1,500,000.

The officials said Wolfe had confessed to carrying on his delinquencies by using an audit-proof system over a period of twelve years, but he added that the bank, itself his largest in Chicago, was protected against loss by Lloyds.

George H. Reynolds, chairman of the bank's executive committee, said Wolfe began his speculations in 1919. At that time he was employed by the old Illinois Trust and Savings Bank which later, through two mergers, became part of the Continental Bank and Trust Company. He is accused of using securities owned by customers of the bank. But when Wolfe took a bend, he would also take the record of that with it. Thus so far as the bank was concerned, there would be no record that the bond had ever been deposited. Hence an audit would reveal nothing.

These bonds were placed by Wolfe with brokers as margin for his speculations, the officials said. When a bond had to be accounted for, Wolfe would get it back from his broker, substituting another.

The broker bewildered by Wolfe's apparently inexhaustible supply of wealth dropped in the bank to inquire about his financial situation. A report of this reached Wolfe who was away on a vacation. He returned home, called in a vice president of the bank who was a personal friend of many years standing and made his confession.

GRAF REACHES PERNAMBUCO

Big German Dirigible Completes Its 5,000 Mile Non-Stop Trip Across Atlantic.

Pernambuco, Brazil, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Germany's aerial envoy, the Graf Zeppelin, was the center of an admiring throng today because of her 5,000-mile non-stop flight across the South Atlantic from Germany on clock-work schedule.

Dr. Hugo Eckener brought her into the new mooring mast at 6:10 last night, within 20 minutes of his estimated time for her cruise. He figured she had traveled 5,093 miles in 72 hours at an average speed of 70 miles an hour. She left Friedrichshafen Saturday night.

The airport crew, assisted by a company of soldiers, tied her up on a rain-soaked field eight miles from here and the crew and 13 passengers alighted to earth for the first time in three days. The provincial governor and his staff boarded the dirigible for a look-around and all went to leading hotels for a welcome celebration.

Ships and factories blew their whistles when the Graf illuminated and flying low, hove into view over the city a few minutes before the squares and bridges were filled with cheering onlookers.

The airship is scheduled to leave tomorrow night on her return trip to Friedrichshafen and her ninth crossing of the Atlantic in both directions.

Abandon Another Plan to Increase Prices of Cotton

Washington, Sept. 2.—(AP)—In addition to refusing to buy more cotton now, the Farm Board has discarded another plan designed to raise the price of the staple.

Made apparently in all seriousness, it suggested the army buy up several million bales to use as ramparts for fortifications.

"Shades of Andrew Jackson," said a board member when he heard of the proposal.

BOTH LEGS BROKEN WHEN HIT BY CAR

Salisbury, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Carl Tippet, a barber, was in a hospital here today with both legs broken as the result of being struck last night by an automobile driven by D. C. Carter, of Richfield. Carter lost control of his car and it was wrecked. He suffered a severe cut on the arm.

SAM

By Freeman Lincoln

SYNOPSIS: When Sam Sherrill, lovely stepdaughter of the poor but aristocratic Fourth Aldersea, refuses to marry Freddy Munson, he leaves her in a rage, saying he is going west. Sam loves Freddy, but needs money too much to marry him. Peak Abbott, wealthy young publisher of the Express, for which Sam and Freddy work, also proposes to Sam. She is considering his suggestion that a businesslike marriage would benefit them both. The most pressing of her financial worries is settled when Aldersea provides the money for mortgage interest, which he has borrowed from Mrs. Frye, his best customer in his bookselling ventures. Aldersea passionately cares for social position. Sam keeps from him the knowledge that her half-brother, Nelson, is going out with their maid, Martha Givens. While Sam wonders whether Freddy is in Chicago, she sees a taxi in front of the stable where the family now lives, near the former mansion.

Chapter 7
"MARRY ME TODAY"
Freddy was waiting in the living room, a tall figure in front of the fireplace. He threw away a cigarette when he saw her, and spoke her name, "Sam!"

"Freddy!" Sam's eyes were bright, but she pushed him away strongly with both hands when he tried to take her in his arms. "Not here, Martha!" she whispered warningly.

Martha Givens thrust her head through the butler's pantry door. "Miss Sherrill," she began, her eyes inquisitive, "there's a gentleman."

Sam followed him, without question. The overgrown driveway twisted away up the hill, and they followed it silently until they came to the deserted, brooding house at the top.

At a far corner of a broad wooden veranda Freddy halted and turned to her. "Well," he said grimly, "how about this? She won't come up here, will she?"

"No, Freddy," Sam smiled and shook her head.
Sam did not want to talk, being happy once more, and at peace. She sighed and murmured: "You shouldn't have come, Freddy."
He laughed. "Why not?"

"It's just that it can't do any good. It will make us both more unhappy than we were before."
"I don't agree," he said. "I think I will do all the good in the world."
"Why?"

"Because," said Freddy slowly, distinctly, "before I leave here you are going to tell me that you'll marry me; and that you'll do it today. You may not know it but you and I are taking the six o'clock train for New York. We'll be married as soon as we get there, and after that..." He grinned. "After that, who cares what happens?"

Sam sighed. "What would I give," she said, "if I only could!"
Freddy talked. He talked swiftly, urgently, and with passionate earnestness. He was particularly convincing concerning the obligations of love.

Sam did not listen. She merely put her head on the rough tweed of his shoulder and wondered why she was so unreasonably happy.
Finally he seemed to sense her inattention. He stopped talking, abruptly, and once more tipped back her chin. "Tell me something," he commanded, gently, looking straight into her eyes. "Tell me that you'll marry me—today."

Sam, returning his gaze was conscious of her powers of resistance. "I can't, Freddy," she said hopelessly.
"Tell me," Freddy repeated his command calmly, never taking his eyes from hers. "Tell me that you'll marry me, Sam dear, today."
"No!" Her eyes filled with tears, and her denial was almost piteous. "I—I can't."

They looked at each other for a long moment. Then, wearily, Sam surrendered. "What I meant to say, Freddy," she corrected herself in a small, tired voice, "was 'Yes, I will.'"

It was almost five o'clock when Sam returned to the stable for the last time. She had been furiously busy ever since Freddy had left for the city, and there still remained a great many things to be done in the thirty minutes before she must leave for the train.

this is going to be a shock to you, no matter how I put it, so I'll try to get it over as soon as possible. The fact is that Martha and I love each other and that way any longer going on this way any longer, this letter, she and I will be married, and that will be that.
"Now please don't take it too hard and for heaven's sake try to square me with Fourth. I know he'll hit the ceiling, but he'll have to get over it the best way he can."
"Being broke I've had to borrow from what you had in your bureau drawer. I promise I'll send it back to you every cent."
"Be good and try to forgive me. I'll write soon."
Sam read the letter three times, and then turned and went slowly to her own room. She went to her drawer, where she found that only one of the fifty-dollar bills remained in the handkerchief case. She seated herself in a little chair beside the window.

For twenty minutes there was absolute silence in the stable. Sam did not move. At the end of that time she got to her feet, took off her traveling clothes, put on a gingham blouse dress and went down to the kitchen.

She noticed that it was exactly six o'clock. The train for New York would just now be pulling out of the Broad Street Station. (Copyright, Freeman Lincoln)

How does Freddy take Sam's failure to appear at the train? In the next installment, Fourth Fourth faces the news about Nelson.

While prices on opening were some lower than most people expected, at least 75 per cent or 85 per cent of offerings were bottom primings and common tips and, as is generally known, there is little demand for this type of tobacco. We have the very best market to be found in Eastern Carolina. Of course you will see wild reports about averages and prices on the different markets, but Greenville's average has always been above the average for the entire belt.

A lovely dinner was tendered the children and grandchildren of the honoree by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parker of Bolton, N. C. Mr. Parker being the youngest son of the guest of honor.

The widespread trees of the Newton lawn made a fitting background for the long table laden with the food indicative of southern hospitality. Barbecue with its accompanying dishes, fried chicken sandwiches and salad were followed by an ice course in pink and white, the color scheme of the entire table carried out in the color of picnic plates, cups and napkins. The birthday cake with its 81 candles in pink and white held the central place in the decorative scheme while lovely pink flowers in baskets further accented the note of pink and white.

Police Find Death Code of Bluebeard

Meanwhile, the bodies of Mrs. Eicher and her children were being taken to Pittsburgh for cremation. Their ashes then to be taken to Park Ridge, Ill., their home.

Detroit, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Promising steps to end operations of the correspondence club medium thru which Harry F. Powers made the acquaintance of two women whom he killed in Clarksburg, W. Va., Assistant Attorney General Joseph A. Gillis today began an investigation of the American Friendship Society.

The friendship society was incorporated by Albert B. Plater and his wife Olga, "net for profit." Powers became a member under the alias "Cornelius O. Pierson" and engaged in ardent correspondence with women in many cities.

In announcing the investigation, Governor Brucker said the five murders confessed by Powers, whom he termed a "modern Bluebeard," had "shocked the public conscience. He said that "any agency which encourages hasty and ill-advised marriages or aids parties to enter into the marriage relationship for a mercenary or illegal consideration, strikes at the very foundation of human society and is a menace to the country."

RED OAK NEWS

Please take notice of the fact that our revival meeting started at Red Oak last night, Tuesday, Sept. 1. Due to a misprint, it read in our last news that it would start the fifteenth, but it should have read the first. A good-sized crowd greeted Mr. Shookley last night in his initial sermon. Due to sickness in the family, your correspondent could not attend services last night, but she hopes to be there from now on. Everybody is invited and urged to attend.

Latest reports from the bedside of Mr. Roy Allen, who underwent an operation in the hospital last Monday, say that he is getting along as well as could be expected. We shall miss him very much during our services at Red Oak and we hope he will soon be able to return home.

Miss Pattie Jenkins who has been spending the summer with her parents in our community, left for Raleigh Tuesday morning where she will resume her duties as teacher in the Raleigh city schools.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Jenkins of Goldsboro spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jenkins.

Practically every man in our community attended the opening of the tobacco market Tuesday. They went with long faces and came back with longer faces. Cheer up folks. There has never been a cloud so black but that the sun was shining behind it.

Twelve Arrested in Liquor Raids in McDowell County

Marion, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Twelve men were arrested today in raids in McDowell county by federal prohibition agents who served warrants issued on information secured by "undercover" men.

The agents worked under the direction of U. S. Marshals Hamrick and Mathson in cooperation with Sheriff O. F. Adkins and his deputies. They said other arrests would be made later in the day.

One still found in the garden of John Bowman, a farmer living near here, was captured.

Those arrested were brought before a U. S. commissioner here and bound over to the district federal court, which convenes in Asheville November 9.

Those arrested were Eva Harris and her husband, Harvey Harris; Fred Houck, Zeb Grier, Joe Taston, Robert Rhodes, Gene Goode, Fred Sogrie, John Bowman, Raymond Mace, Charlie Holland and West Parker.

Six Counties Under Martial Law, Idaho

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Six counties comprising a large part of central and southwestern Idaho were under martial law today as Gov. C. Ben Ross sought to increase the precautions against incendiarism in valuable timber lands.

The chief executive declared martial law in Adams and Lemhi counties last night three days after he had placed Idaho, Gem, Boise and Valley counties under control of the Idaho national guard troops.

Governor Ross said he "disliked inflicting hardships on people traveling into the area," but pointed out that there had been no incendiary fires since martial law was declared "and there were seven in the 24 hours preceding."

Reports from all fronts were that fires were under control and dying down despite high winds.

Pilot Extinguishes Blaze on His Plane

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Because three miles is too far to swim, Lieut. Michael H. Kernodle, navy pilot, elected today to play the part of fireman as well as pilot in extinguishing a blaze in his plane while flying three miles off shore.

When he discovered his plane was afire, Lieut. Kernodle maneuvered his ship into a tail dive so that the flames would be blown away from him and extinguished the fire with chemicals.

He beat out the embers with his hands and at the end of a 1,500 foot drop righted the plane and made for land. He suffered burns on the hand while his passenger, Lieut. I. S. Reeves, official observer of the scouting fleet, was unhurt.

INVESTIGATE RUN ON BANKS

Authorities Also Seek Head of Chain of Closed Banks in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Authorities today investigated the reported invasion of two of the nine suspended A. T. Hudspeth banks by depositors who demanded their money—successfully in one case—as a nation-wide search for the head of the chain got under way.

The first report came from Marshall, Arkansas.

Officials of the First State Bank there said a group of about twenty-five townsmen and farmers quietly entered the institution after it had closed yesterday and firmly told the directors, in meeting, they wanted their money.

There was no disorder, A. A. Hudspeth, cashier, nephew of A. T. Hudspeth, said, but "it was easy to see they were mad and meant business." Deposits totaling approximately $5,000 were paid out to the men. Hudspeth said bank officials received the impression some of the men were armed.

The second report came from the Citizens Bank & Trust Company at Harrison, Ark. There officials said county collector Dan Hale and former sheriff L. M. Martin of Harrison entered the bank armed with pistols.

Informing that the funds were in the vault, protected by a time lock, they locked three officials in the bank and expressed determination to remain until the bank vault opened at 8 a. m. today. Shortly before midnight, however, State

Senator Roy Milum, Prosecuting Attorney Jack Holt and others persuaded them to release the officials. Claude Alexander, vice-president; Dan Holms, cashier, and Ernest Time, assistant cashier.

A state bank examiner, checking the bank's affairs with the officials, was allowed to leave after $30,000 in county funds and Martin $5,000. Prosecuting Attorney Holt said it was "up to the grand jury" whether action would be brought against the two depositors.

At Marshall, A. A. Hudspeth said bank examiners were expected today, and the invasion of the bank there would be discussed with them. He said the deposits were paid out under protest and this angle and the possibility of bringing charges would be discussed with the examiners.

The head of the chain of banks, A. T. Hudspeth, left Friday for St. Louis with the announced intention of borrowing funds there. Yesterday a letter was received from him, addressed to the public, which said "When this is in print, I'll be in Canada."

He assumed responsibility for the condition of the banks but said: "I tried hard to make them go."

Denies Driving "Death" Auto

Lenoir, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A. B. Johnson's denial that he was driving his automobile when it turned over killing Miss Dolly Greene, today was part of the court record in the trial of the North Wilkesboro business man on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the young woman's death.

Johnson, testifying in his defense yesterday, said Miss Greene was driving when the wreck occurred January 8. He said he received a blow on the head that rendered him unconscious until the next day.

Testimony that Miss Johnson sitting in the car was given by Leland Anderson, a farmer. An-person said that after Claude Doughton, North Wilkesboro banker, had driven Johnson to a hospital, he found Miss Greene's body lying in the snow near the wrecked machine.

Johnson testified he did not remember seeing three state witnesses who swore he told them after the accident that he was driving.

Waynesville.—(AP)—The Rev. Caleb Ridley, charged with violation of the prohibition law, is to go on trial during the September term of Haywood Superior court.

ABOUT TOWN

The tobacco market has opened and those who have been venturing guesses concerning prices may return home now without having to resort to speculation any longer. Thousands of people attended the opening and rubbed elbows with growers from all sections. It was the biggest day of the year for people in all walks of life because all of them will benefit materially from the money received from the sale of bright leaf.

Pronounced gain has been reported in collections of revenue for the month and the state has more money on hand with which to meet its countless obligations at this time.

The collections are said to be far in excess of the corresponding period last year, showing that those who pay the tax are trying to live up to their responsibility in the best way possible.

If collections of property taxes were as good as revenue collections the various cities and counties of the state would be in much better condition than they are today. In fact, the financial shortage being experienced by all governments would be relieved and commissions would not find keeping the old bank of government afloat as difficult as they have the past two years.

This is the season of the year when merchants should begin telling the people about what they have to offer during the fall and winter months and those who do so will most assuredly be the ones to get their share of the trade.

There is no better way to tell the people about such things than through the columns of the daily newspaper, and it is not to be doubted that the public appreciates this kind of service in that they are able to keep fully informed regarding the things the stores have to offer.

Merchants should keep in mind the fact that the leading business men of the nation attribute most of their success to the advertising columns of daily newspapers and this is convincing enough to cause any merchant to try the experiment.

Advertising is just as essential to success of the modern business firm as any other progressive measure and merchants who use newspaper space liberally will find their condition greatly improved.

authentic news breaks of the world in a short time after they happen and these are placed in the homes of our readers every afternoon. This is in advance of services of any other town in this part of the state and shows to what extent the publishers are attempting to cater to the public.

LOU GEHRIG STEALS BABE RUTH THUNDER

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.

Associated Press Sports Writer If Lou Gehrig keeps on hitting at the present rate, it seems likely that his name will be substituted for that of the great Babe Ruth in the marshall adage "as Ruth goes so go the Yankees."

Lou has been hitting at a terrific clip for the past few days after doing well through the whole season and his burst of home run hitting has helped the Yanks considerably in their effort to overhaul Washington. He clouted a home run in each game of a doubleheader yesterday to make a record of six homers in successive contests and give himself a comfortable margin in the race with Ruth for slugging honors with a total of 40.

Not only does Gehrig lead the big leaguers in four batters, but he is first in the majors in scoring, total hits and runs batted in as well.

Gehrig received quite a bit of aid from his teammates yesterday, but his two homers were the important factors in the Yanks double victory over the Boston Red Sox which left them nly a game and one half behind the second place Senators.

Lou's 39th four bagger and a single, three hits by Babe Ruth and some effective pitching by Lefty Gomez gave New York the first game by an 11 to 3 score.

The second homer from Gehrig's big bat came with the bases loaded in the third inning and provided the margin of victory in the 5 to 1 game.

Sad Sam Jones and Joe Cronin kept the Yanks from making a bigger gain as their combined work led Washington to a 5 to 1 triumph over the Athletics.

The western half of the American league schedule was rained out while the single game in the National league served principally to give young Jim Mooney another chance to show what a rookie southpaw can do.

Mooney turned in his fourth victory for the New York Giants as he turned back the Boston Braves by a 4 to 0 count.

The defeat, the fourth straight for Boston and the third at the hands of the Giants, left the Braves on the verge of mathematical elimination from the pennant race. They are now 24 1/2 games behind the St. Louis Cardinals with only 26 games to go.

BULLS TAKE ON PATRIOTS

Charlotte, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Durham's path to the end of the Piedmont league season, studded from now until the final game with contests with the three leaders, led today to Greensboro where, a rejuvenated Pat team gave promise of making the going as hard for the Bulls as did Charlotte's Hornets.

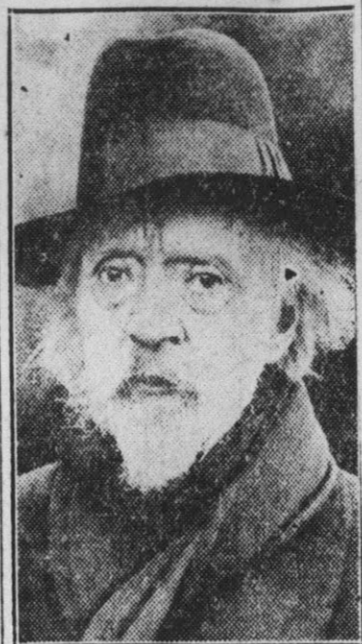

Having disposed of Asheville in two straight games to break a Tourist winning streak, Greensboro appeared to be playing better ball than the Pats have turned in during the last two weeks. It was the first time the Pats had won two straight since August 20.

During the same period, the Tourists had been winning games right and left. They garnered only six hits last night to lose 15 to 7. Ferrell, Pat outfielder, made both his hits of the evening good for home runs.

Durham outlasted Charlotte, 10 to 8, but the hits failed to come at the right time and the Bulls lost 13 to 7. The game was part of "Lacy night" in honor of the Hornet manager, and a number of field events were held between members of the two teams.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM TOBACCO NOW 5¢ formerly 8¢ "ROLL Your OWN!"

Genuine "BULL" DURHAM Tobacco at 5¢ marked the entrance of my father, Percival S. Hill, into the Tobacco business. For 14 years he was President of The American Tobacco Company. The fine quality and popularity of "BULL" DURHAM were always subjects of great pride to him. Therefore, it is particularly gratifying to us to offer this important saving and service to the American public at this time.

POPE AND ACE REACH ACCORD

Leaders of State and Church Clarify Conditions of Lateran Treaty.

Rome, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A final accord was reached by Pope Pius XI and Premier Mussolini today in their bitter three-months controversy over Catholic action clubs, clarifying the conditions of the lateran treaty and the concordat.

The Pope's youth organizations are allowed to resume their activities but are restricted to purely religious endeavors. It was specifically stated there should be no sports or athletics and no intrusion into the syndical or trades union fields.

The Italian government announced an agreement of three parts. They are as follows:

1. Catholic action organizations are essentially diocesan under the control of bishops who appoint club officers and directors, none of whom may be from parties hostile to fascism. There can be no political action or appearance of it and Catholic action can have no flag except the Italian flag.

2. There shall be no organization of professional classes and those already formed within Catholic action must abstain from syndical labors, confining themselves to religious work.

3. The youth clubs shall be known as "Youth Associations of Catholic Action." They shall have no flag except the Italian flag and their religious banners.

The agreement, regarded by each side as a victory, might be considered as a compromise.

V., through advertisements in matrimonial periodicals. The bodies were found buried near a specially constructed "garage" on his property. The slain children shown below are, left to right: Annabelle, Greta and Harry Eicher.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 8 to 11 points lower under liquidation or reselling by some of yesterday's buyers who were evidently influenced by relatively weak Liverpool cables.

December sold off to 7.03 and March to 7.31 under the initial pressure, but the offerings were taken by covering and the trade while there was also a little buying attributed to Wall Street and commission house. This was sufficient to steady the market and to cause rallies of a few points with active months rallying about 6 to 7 points net lower at the end of the first half hour. One of the private end-August reports was published, making the condition of the crop 63.8 and the indicated yield 15.687,000 bales.

Liverpool cables said the decline in that market had been due to hedging, local and continental liquidation and reported small business in cotton cloths from the Manchester outlets generally.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Grain markets finished easy today after a firm start.

Fractional advances took place early with scattered buying of both wheat and corn, but the upturn was short lived, liquidation developing later which carried deferred wheat deliveries to new low levels for the season.

Business of the stock market and slow export demand had depressing effects.

Rainy weather generally prevailed again in Europe and cables said wheat was of inferior quality this year. Corn was under pressure and declined steadily after a small advance early. Oats and rye weakened with other grains. Provisions were unsettled.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 2.—(A)—The stock market awoke from its nap in a rather despondent frame of mind today.

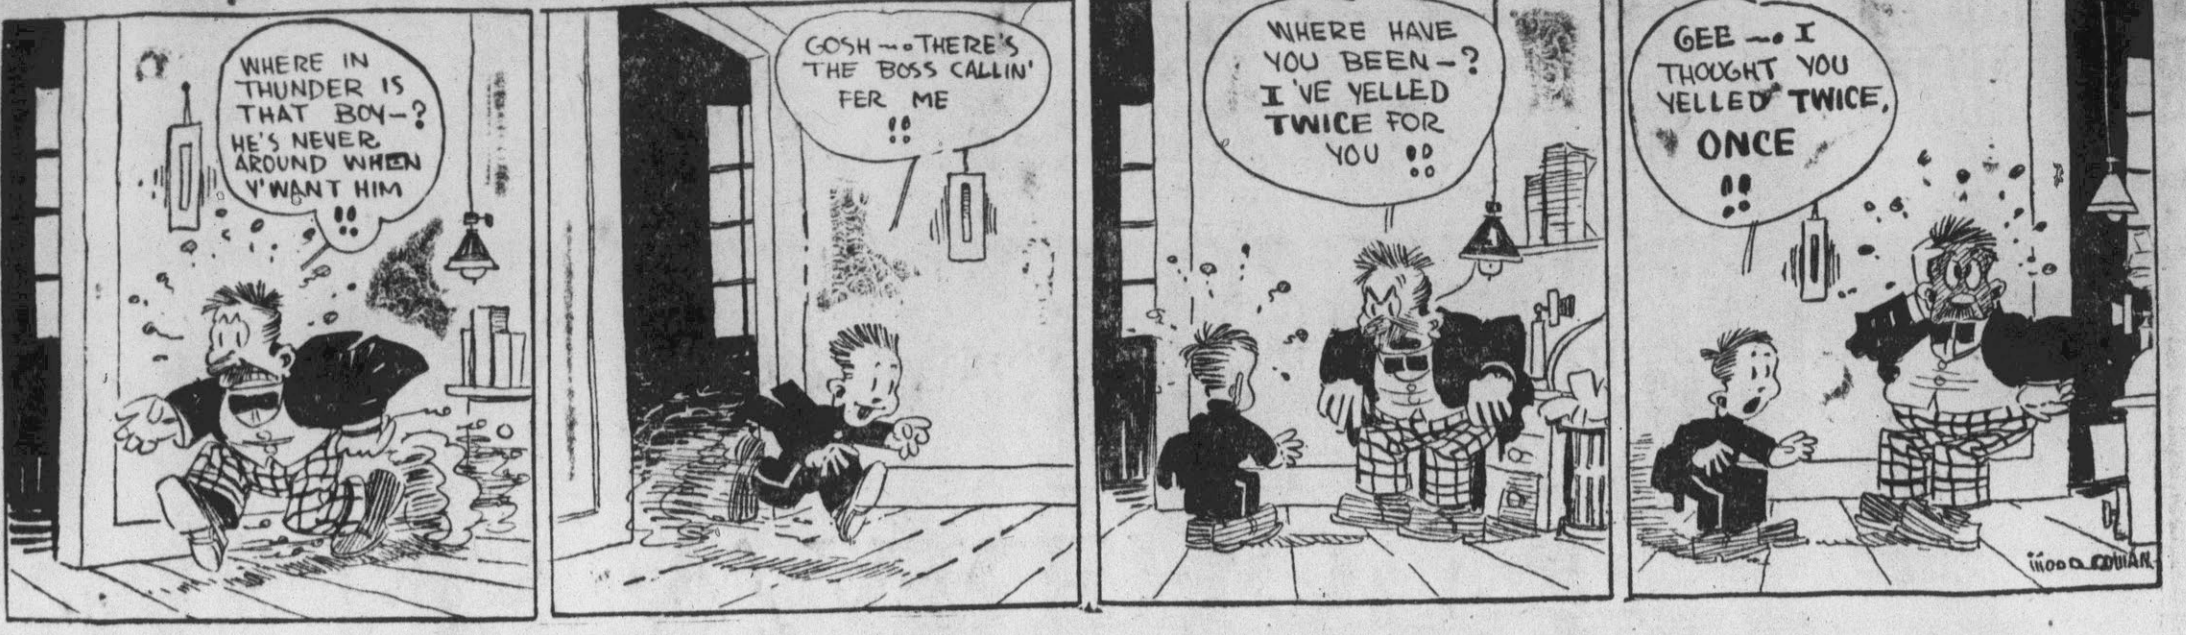

Omission of Lehigh Valley's dividend, together with a much less favorable than expected weekly report of freight movement, sent railroad equities into another slump.

Mid-week business statistics generally made a rather sorry display. Steel and electric power reports failed to provide any trace of the expected seasonal quickening in industry.

Trading in shares continued in moderate volume, although it quickened substantially over yesterday's seven-year minimum level. Lehigh Valley tumbled some eight points to the lowest price since 1902. Pennsylvania sagged more than 2 points to the lowest since 1922.

Miscellaneous issues losing 2 to 4 points included New York Central, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, American Tobacco

JOE SMITH WINS ATTENDANCE RECORD

Joe Smith has made the best record of attendance at Westbrook's swimming pool this summer. Nearly every day except during the cold and rainy spell Joe was in the water. For one month he was in the water once or twice a day. His parents told Mr. Osborne that he was much healthier, and stronger and had been benefited by swimming.

John Lautares comes second: He is a fish for the water; sometimes he would stay in all day unless stopped. John is great for diving and spends most of the time diving. These two with hundreds of others who daily use the pool is substantial evidence that it is healthy to swim and take your daily exercise in Westbrook's.
