BOTH HOUSES OF S. C. LEGISLATURE ADOPT COTTON RELIEF BILL

MEASURE GOES TO GOVERNOR

Legislation Will Prohibit Planting of Cotton in 1932 If States Raising Three-fourths of Cotton Crop Pass Similar Measures; Adoption Paves the Way For Early Adjournment; Bill For Appropriations to Legislators and Several Other Reduction Bills Remain To Be Acted Upon.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Both houses of the South Carolina Legislature today adopted the report of the free conference committee, chosen to adjust differences in the cotton holiday bill, and ordered the measure enrolled for ratification.

The bill must now only have the signature of the governor before it becomes an act.

The bill as finally adopted is virtually the same one originally introduced. It forbids planting of cotton in 1932 if states raising three-fourths of the cotton crop pass similar legislation.

The House vote adopting the report was 75 to 22. The Senate had only an oral vote.

The conferees made it acceptable to the House by eliminating a Senate provision which would have appropriated $2,500 for a commission to aid the farmer in planning his 1932 crops.

The adoption paved the way for an early adjournment. The bill making appropriations for paying the legislators, and several cotton reduction bills remain to be acted upon.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Texas legislators, at odds over the terms of pending cotton restriction laws, were hopeful of reaching a compromise today as conferees from the House and Senate met to discuss their differences.

House conferees showed an inclination to recede half way from the passage of the House bill that would limit cotton acreage in 1932 and 1933 to one-third the cultivated area. The Senate bill would restrict cotton planting to one fourth the cultivated area for the next two years, both bills provide for crop rotation prohibiting planting the same land to cotton in successive years.

While the House was trying to obtain a quorum to conduct business, the Senate met and adjourned until Monday to permit its free conference committee to work.

Rob Bus Company Of $15 and Escape

Reidsville, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Two men robbed a bus company cash drawer of $15 here this morning and escaped after tying up John Best, clerk of the Belvedere hotel, from whom they also took $15.

At the time Best, a negro bell hop were the only ones in the hotel lobby where the bus company had its office. The negro slept through the entire affair.

The two men entered the hotel early this morning and asked for a room but before Best could open the register he was seized. His mouth was bandaged with adhesive tape and his hands and feet bound.

The pair then looted his pockets, dumped him in a store-room adjoining the office and robbed the bus company cash drawer.

Best finally freed himself and called A. U. Green, manager of the Belvedere, who notified police. The entire force augmented by a number of citizens began a search for the robbers.

The men were described by Best as about 25 years old, one wearing a grey suit and the other a brown one. He said the men drove up in a roadster.

NEW TALES OF BELIZE STORM

Band of Survivors Describe Suffering Prevailing in Stricken Area.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 19.—(AP)—New tales of the horror and destruction wrought by the hurricane that swept Belize, British Honduras last days ago were related here today by a little company of the survivors who arrived aboard the steamer Parismina.

Among those who told their stories were Cleveland county teachers, Hargreaves of Chicago, wife of a steamship company manager of Belize, and by John M. Staub of New Orleans, two of the more than a score of refugees who left to escape the peril of disease and distress.

The Hargreaves and Staub were among a score of persons in the Hotel International during the storm.

They told of standing by helpless and watching the destruction of the small dwellings by wind and water.

Most of the persons killed were blacks, Mrs. Hargreaves said. Her estimate was 3,000 persons dead, but there was no way of telling how many died.

In burning the debris to check pestilence, she said authorities had found so many persons had been buried alive that in one place a funeral fire had to be quenched for fear of burning living persons.

Staub said the roof was blown off the hotel in the first blast of the wind, but the walls, constructed substantially, held through the second and harder blow, although it became partly submerged.

"At 2 p. m.," said Staub, "just as the first blow came up the bell in St. Mary's Church on one side of the hotel was calling the children of the town to special services. The church was the first wind struck."

"The church, filled with youngsters, survived the first blow, though the steeple was toppled off. But the second wind demolished the building, burying the children under the wreckage."

He said the suburb of Mesopotamia was wiped out and its 500 inhabitants killed.

As the Parismina pulled out from Belize at night, the survivor said, the sky was reddened by the great funeral pyres.

A huge lighter about 50 feet wide, and 75 feet long, used in ship to shore passenger service was carried on the crest of the tidal wave accompanying the storm and crashed through a business building.

CIVIL COURT NEARING END

Session To Close With Completion of McLawhorn Case This Afternoon.

The civil term of Superior court continued hearing this afternoon in the case of R. L. McLawhorn, who is seeking to recover from the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company on an insurance policy for injuries which he sustained in 1929.

The case was taken up yesterday afternoon and argument was still in progress when court resumed sitting after the noon recess today.

McLawhorn, whose hand was blown off by a dynamite charge in 1929 contends that the injury is of a permanent nature and is asking the court to award him $20 a month on a policy which he had with the insurance company. He is also asking that the premium for that period be waived.

The insurance company, however, contends that the injury is not a permanent disability, and refused to pay the amount involved in the permanent disability clause.

The case was expected to be completed during the late afternoon, although it was impossible to say how long the jury would be out.

LIGHTNING HITS HOUSE

Falkland Family Injured by Glass as Freakish Bolt Passes Thru Home

Several members of the family were injured when the home of Jennis Moore of Falkland was struck by a bolt of lightning during a terrific electrical storm last night about 10 o'clock. The house was also badly damaged but the total amount of the loss has not been determined.

The family had just retired when the bolt of lightning entered the sitting room on a wire, shattered all fixtures and overturned the furniture, crashed through a radio and a w/i into another room, passed over the bed where two children were sleeping and then shot out of a window into the storm.

Although stunned by the lightning, all members of the family rushed out of the building into the storm and found refuge in the home of a neighbor. Their feet were painfully cut as they stepped on pieces of glass scattered over the floor by the freakish bolt.

The building was filled with smoke as the family rushed to safety, but the house did not catch fire. Practically every piece of furniture in the section of the house which the lightning passed through was either turned over or badly damaged.

The hole in the wall where the bolt passed into the other section of the room was described as almost large enough for a man's arm. The radio was almost completely demolished.

Had the family been in the sitting room as they were before retiring, it was believed they would have either been killed or probably seriously hurt.

HOLMES WINS BAR AWARD

Associate Justice Of American Bar Assn. Sent Medal By American Bar Assn.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The American Bar Association awarded its medal for distinguished service in the law today to Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the United States Supreme Court.

Justice Holmes for more than 30 years noted for his liberal and dissenting opinions in the Supreme court could not attend the convention due to illness.

Instead he addressed the following letter in long hand from Beverly Farms, Mass., to J. Weston Allen, former Attorney General for Massachusetts and chairman of the association medal committee:

"The unexpected honor that the American Bar Association has done me calls for an answer on the wings of the wind. But as I have not quite recovered my energy from a recent pull down, I avail myself of your permission to reply upon the post office rather than upon the radio.

The law tries to embody things that men most believe and want. But belief and wants begin as vague yearnings and only gradually work themselves into words.

These words at first cannot fully express what they aim at. Some of us have tried to make clear what the aims are or should be, using history, economics and philosophy as our aides.

If we have help to throw light upon the general scope of the subject or some part of it, we have so far helped our fellows along a predestined road and have been of use.

"It has been my deepest wish and the passion of my soul to do something of this service although, as one draws to the end, every human effort seems small. The American Bar Association has done all that could be done to assure me that the long struggle has not been in vain."

Justice Holmes was the third recipient of the medal. Prof. Samuel Williston of Harvard having been honored in 1929 and Elihu Root in 1930.

Tobacco Sales Near Ten Million Mark

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday sold 951,988 pounds of tobacco at an average of $4.35 per hundred pounds, it was announced today by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

This brought the season's sales to 9,673,682 against 8,679,850 for the corresponding period last year.

SAYS POWERS HER HUSBAND

S. C. Young Woman Asserts He Took Her Jewelry and Left Her Stranded.

Branchville, S. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—A young woman of this place today claimed as her "lawful" husband, Harry F. Powers, hel in Clarksburg, W. Va., on charges of murdering three children and two women.

After looking at newspaper pictures, she said she was "sure" he is the man she married at Cameron, S. C., on January 26 this year under the name of J. H. Dixon.

The man she married, the former Miss Collins said, promised her "all the luxuries of life. Diamonds, pearls and an automobile, and all the pretty clothing I wanted."

Instead of giving me these things, she related, he took her own diamond rings and left her stranded at Fountain, S. C., a few weeks after the wedding ceremony.

Her brother, J. E. Collins, of Charleston, a railway employe, whom, she said, her husband had promised "a fine job," had to come to her rescue and pay her past-due board bill.

"Mrs. Dixon" said the man she married represented himself to her as a traveling salesman and gave his address as 409 Monroe street, Jacksonville, Fla. They were married, she said by the Rev. E. M. Lightfoot, of Cameron.

She said she was "sure" Powers was the man.

Durfey Convicted Of Embezzlement

Raleigh, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Carey K. Durfey, former Raleigh broker, who administered the Florence P. Ticker estate for 20 years, today faced the possibility of spending a similar period in prison.

Durfey was convicted last night by a Wake county jury on two counts of embezzling $236,000 from the estate while he was its executor. The maximum sentence on each count is ten years. Judge Walter L. Small said he would pass sentence Monday.

One count charged Durfey with embezzling $116,000 from the trust fund of Mrs. Minnie Pitch Baker, one of the surviving Tucker heirs, and the other with embezzling $118,000 from the funds of Mrs. Bessie Tucker Fellows, the other surviving heir, who now lives in France.

Durfey's brokerage firm, which he ran in partnership with H. Wade Marr, failed last year. The charges of embezzlement were made shortly afterwards.

Durfey faces additional indictments of embezzlement and Marr also faces similar charges.

It was announced that the board of directors had selected the following to attend the Kiwanis convention to be held in Pinehurst on October 21, 22, 23: Ralph Deal, W. A. Darden and D. C. Moore, Jr. Alternates: J. C. Galloway, E. L. Hillman, W. H. Woolard.

It was decided that the club should meet hereafter at 6:30 instead of 7 o'clock.

President Darden announced that the club would entertain members of the faculty of city schools at the next session two weeks hence. It is the annual custom of the club to entertain the teachers and as usual an interesting program will be arranged for the occasion.

Heat Records Are Shattered In S. Carolina

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Weather bureau predictions of cooler weather in South Carolina promised relief today from a blistering September heat wave that sent the mercury to 100 degrees in several cities and forced the closing of school in at least one city.

All existing heat records for September 18 were broken yesterday at Florence and Spartanburg, where the thermometer soared to the century mark, and at Greenville where a reading of 97 degrees was registered.

The 99 degree mark, reached at Columbia, did not equal the 104-degree record set on September 18, 1896, but it made school rooms so oppressive that the pupils were turned out several hours early to seek relief in the open air.

At Charleston the thermometer shot up until it approached the 100-degree record set on 78908.... 100-degree record for September set in 1912.

The young University of Tennessee professor, was wearing a grey suit and no hat as he left the jail where he has been confined since last Sunday when arrested shortly after his wife's burial.

Except for a brief word of thanks to Sheriff C. C. Curtis for kindness he had nothing to say and was whisked away in a waiting automobile with relatives and counsel.

HARRIS DENIES FRAUD INTENT

Continues Testimony In Trial On Charge Of Using Mail To Defraud.

Asheville, Sept. 19.—(AP)—William D. Harris denied today that there was any intent to defraud in his acts as vice-president of the Central Securities Company of Asheville, Inc. as he continued his testimony in his trial on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Harris is on trial with Wallace B. Davis, who was president of the Central Securities Company and the Central Bank and Trust Company of Asheville. Both institutions failed last fall.

The government alleges the securities company sold $3,600,000 of its bonds by means of false financial statements and circulars mailed to prospective customers. Harris testified he did not know at the time the statements and circulars were mailed that they were false.

Relating events surrounding the transactions of the company, he said Davis made a personal profit of $128,000 from the sale of four mortgage companies here known as the Thomas P. Byrd Company.

Earlier in the trial the government introduced evidence that Davis owned one of the companies, but allowed it to be sold to the Central Securities Company as though still owned by Byrd.

MUKDEN HELD BY JAPANESE

Diplomatic Relations Strained as Japanese Troops Seize Capital of Manchuria and Land Forces in China Proper; Japanese Cabinet Issues Orders to Localize Situation to Prevent It From Spreading; Nanking Also Wants To Avoid Trouble

Nanking, China, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Foreign Minister C. T. Wang today dispatched a note demanding immediate cessation of hostilities in Mukden on the part of Japanese troops and immediate withdrawal of all Japanese troops to their original positions. The note was given to Japanese Foreign Minister Shigemitsu for transmission to Tokyo.

By Associated Press Diplomatic relations between China and Japan were sorely threatened today by the occupation of the capital of Manchuria by Japanese troops and the landing of a Japanese force in China proper.

Japanese soldiers bombarded and captured the walled city of Mukden and another force landed at Tsingtao on the south coast of the Shanghai peninsula, midway between the southernmost tip of Manchuria and Shanghai.

The Japanese attributed their action to the alleged destruction of a section of the South Manchuria railway, operated by the Japanese government in a leased zone. The Chinese contended that the railway was damaged by the Japanese themselves as a pretext for the attack on Mukden.

The Japanese cabinet in Tokyo issued orders that the situation should be "localized" and prevented from spreading. Chinese foreign officials in Nanking said they had received no official information as yet and expressed the hope the trouble would be "localized."

Tokyo, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Japanese troops seized the City of Mukden, capital of Manchuria, today after a bloody clash with Chinese soldiers.

The clash, growing out of trouble which had been brewing for several weeks between the Nationalists of the two countries in Manchuria, Korea and elsewhere, precipitated military and naval activity in Japan.

Peitaying, a suburb of Mukden, was the scene of the principal fighting. A Japanese war department communiqué here said the fighting started when Chinese troops attempted to destroy a bridge of the South Manchuria railway there.

The railway, which is controlled by the Japanese government, traverses Chinese territory, but operates in a treaty zone protected by Japanese troops.

Japanese sources estimated their own casualties at two dead and seven wounded, and the Chinese losses at 13 dead, 15 seriously wounded and 600 to 800 captured.

The Japanese said they fired possibly a dozen shots from their artillery and the Chinese were said to have used light field pieces without inflicting any damage.

Subsequently the Japanese cleared the railway zone of Chinese, called all their Nationals out of the native city, disarmed native officers within the Mukden walls and occupied the capital.

A Reno News Agency dispatch from Changchun, Manchuria, said the Chinese garrison at Kwan-chengtsai, near Mukden, which previously was reported to have been occupied by the Japanese, still was holding out tonight in the face of repeated attacks by the Japanese.

Orders to reinforce the 13,000 Japanese troops in the Mukden zone were issued by Japanese military authorities and troops were started in that direction from Korea and Darlen. An air squadron was reported moving from Korea toward Mukden and Japanese naval officers were ordered to be ready for emergency duty.

ABOUT TOWN

Growers of the Farmville community have organized a farm club with the idea of launching a movement for diversified farming during the next planting season.

John T. Thorne, one of the best known business men and planters of the section, is president of the organization, and has pledged his influence to its success.

The club will prepare a program and every member will be expected to live up to it. The idea is to produce better economic conditions among the growers by the planting of more food crops instead of confining so much acreage to money crops.

Other sections of the country should be able to accomplish good results by following the pathway blazed by Farmville, and this should be done immediately, giving farmers ample time to outline a definite program before the planting season.

Diversification has been advised by leading agriculturalists for the last several years, but this is the first time it has become imperative because of the condition of the world market and that the farmers in all sections will take advantage of it seems to be a foregone conclusion at this time.

The way of the bootlegger and distiller has been made extremely dangerous by the operations of federal officers in this part of the state the last two months.

Through efforts of undercover agents, one hundred indictments have been issued for violators of the prohibition law in this territory, and squads of officers are out even at this time bringing in the offenders to face trial.

By reason of the high bond the government has placed on violations of this kind it is going to be difficult for some of the defendants to furnish bail and they will have to go to jail to await hearing before federal court.

Prohibition violators usually go free by the payment of fines in state courts, but it is a different proposition altogether when they land in federal court. In the majority of instances they are sent to federal prisons to pay for their crimes, and that many of those rounded up in the present drive will take this course is not to be doubted.

The Greenville tobacco market continues to cling steadfastly to the lead established over sales for the corresponding period last season, and indications seem to point to a new record this year.

The market is about 700,000 pounds ahead of the same period 1929 year, and the figure should pick up noticeably when the farmers begin marketing their crops more freely.

Marketing of the crop this season has been conducted along conservative lines because of the price situation, but after the low grades are gotten out of the way and prices begin showing more strength, sales should show renewed life.

The Greenville market opened this season with greater facilities than ever before, and situated in the greatest bright leaf producing county in the world, there is no reason on earth why it should not register healthy growth from year to year.

Walter S. Gifford, director of President Hoover's unemployment relief committee, is of the opinion local communities will be able to handle their unemployment problems during the winter months.

This assertion was made at the opening of the relief committee conference yesterday, when the director stated that it was the aim of his organization to help the communities in their task of meeting the burden placed upon them by unemployment—whatever the burden may be.

The greatest problem faced by the communities in the south is not in the purely physical task of carrying relief to the suffering people, but raising sufficient money with which to make that possible. If the national organization should be able to provide the funds, thouands of men and women would willingly undertake the task of placing it where it was most needed.

Shortage of finances—this is the problem facing the south in its unemployment fight—and if Mr. Gifford or any other committee member should be able to loosen the purse strings of some of the money interests, then the people would feel like they owed them nothing thanks.

Possessing the basic goodness of sound design and fine manufacture

CHEVROLET From the selection of raw materials to the completion of the finished Chevrolet product, each process of building, assembling and checking the Chevrolet Six is marked by extreme care and precision. An exhaustive system of test and inspection makes certain that every part meets specified dimensions exactly. Many of these parts are held to limits of one ten-thousandth of an inch. No manufacturer in the industry uses more care or precision in building and testing than Chevrolet.

Just as every part of the car is soundly built, every feature is soundly designed.

In planning the motor, Chevrolet engineers were not content to offer the public anything less than tried and proved design. They knew that the only satisfactory way to get smooth, flexible power in a car is to use at least six cylinders. So they adopted the six-cylinder engine without compromise. And this is what you get in today's Chevrolet Six.

DRY AGENTS OPERATING EAST OF TOWN TODAY

Approximately a hundred alleged members of the illicit whiskey traffic have been indicted in Eastern Carolina as result of activities of undercover agents since July. It was stated here yesterday. Three squads of agents are busy at this time rounding up the offenders, who will be allowed bond and released for trial in the next sitting of Federal court.

Working in towns and along highways, the officers were said to have obtained incriminating evidence against scores of filling station owners and operators of small stores. The majority of the arrests made here consisted of filling station operators a few miles from the city.

The six defendants were given preliminary hearing before Commissioner T. E. Beaman and bound over to Federal court.

Owing to the high bonds arranged by the government for violators of the prohibition laws, it was said that alleged traffic members were having difficulty arranging bail, and numbers were expected to be remanded to jail because of their inability to furnish necessary bonds.

Although the agents were reported as operating several miles to the east of Greenville today, they were expected to return to this vicinity in the near future to complete the roundup started yesterday. Commissioner Beaman said it was impossible to estimate the number of indictments obtained in this immediate section, but expressed belief the officers would spend at least three days here.

Wilson, Sept. 19. — (AP)—Fifty-two men and five women from four counties were held today for district court trial following preliminary hearings here on charges of violating prohibition laws.

Fourteen federal enforcement agents and three deputy marshals, under P. M. Caudle, prohibition administrator for Eastern North Carolina, conducted raids in Bertie, Pitt, Martin and Beaufort counties.

In addition to the arrests, two automobiles containing 60 gallons of whiskey were captured.

Battle Lines Drawn For Fight On Bonus Issue

Detroit, Sept. 19. — (AP)— Battle lines for an impending fight on the veterans' bonus question were being drawn today as ex-service men from every section of the country invaded the city for next week's American Legion convention.

National Commander Ralph O'Neil made plain in a statement yesterday that delegates will be offered every facility for free discussion of the bonus question during the convention sessions.

What the decision will be on advocacy of immediate payment of bonus certificates of face value, he said no one now knows. National headquarters has received from only 15 of the 58 departments notice of their stands on the question, he said. Eleven of them approving and four opposing immediate payment in some form.

While every train was unloading its contributions to the 100,000 convention visitors expected by next week, the national defense committee of the legion made public last night the resolution it will present to the convention for adoption.

The committee recommends increases in the various branches of the country's armed forces, specifically an enlisted personnel of 125,000 for the regular army, with an average strength of 12,200 officers, 200 to be allotted to the air corps, and authorization of sufficient naval construction to meet the requirements of the London treaty.

Jones was awarded the clubmember's prize, a Japanese crumber, and the visitor's prize, a novel piece of bric-a-brac, was presented to Mrs. D. R. Morgan. A delectable salad course was served.

Woman's Club.
Farmville, Sept. 17.—The Farmville Woman's Club, after resting from activities during the summer months, resumed its monthly meetings on Monday afternoon, when the members met at the home of Mrs. J. M. Wheelus with the Garden Club department as hostess, and the president, Mrs. Robert E. Boyd, presiding.

An art exhibit to be held later in the fall was planned; the furnishing of meals to a charity case was arranged; and the agitation of a cotton wearnig movement locally, was decided upon in an important business period.

An excellent program arranged by the Garden department was presented by Miss Tabitha DeWaconi, the chairman, who made a talk on "Bulb Gardening"; and by Mrs. J. H. Joyner, whose subject was "Reasons Why Children Should Have Gardens." The program closed with the singing of "The Club-woman's Hymn."

Mrs. George W. Davis Jr. was cordially welcomed into the club as a new member at this time. A delightful social hour was enjoyed after adjournment.

Music and Art Department.
Farmville, Sept. 17.—The regular monthly meeting of the Music and Art department of the Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Shackelford on Tuesday evening of this week. An interesting musical bee was conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Haywood Smith. The topic of study for the evening was "The Relation and Inspiration of Poetry to Music," which began with a round table discussion and was followed by a poem "On the Road to Mandalay" by Kipling, read by Mrs. W. J. Rasberry in illustration. An article, "Homage to Music" was read by Mrs. R. T. Martin, and Grieg's "Pappilqi" was played in a most musically manner by Miss Serene Turnage.

Further entertainment was furnished by Master Edward Harris, who sang several numbers, and by a group singing of favorite songs and old time melodies.

Charlotte, N. C.—(AP)—County commissioners fixed the tax rate for county school operations on the extended 1931-2 term at 21 cents, seven cents lower than last year.

"CHIC" SALE FEATURED AT STATE ON MONDAY

Chic Sale, who is featured with Walter Huston in "The Star Witness," the Warner Bros. production which comes to the State Monday insists that the back yard of his new home in fashionable Beverly Hills shall have more than a touch of rustic simplicity. There is a chicken run, a high swing and teeter-totter for the children, and a goat, the only one in the exclusive confines of the town. "I like to have a little live-stock around," says Chic. "We always had, back in Urbana." "The Star Witness" marks Chic's screen debut—as his famous Grandpa Sumnerill—a Civil War veteran, who on a forty-eight-hour leave from the Soldiers' Home—made things hum in a way to make drama.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 3 to 7 points with active months showing net declines of 5 to 7 points during the early trading under heavy southern selling.

The pressure from that source was more active than at any time previously since the beginning of the season but the break into new low ground brought in a good deal of trade buying and covering.

This checked the decline around 6.51 for December and 6.77 for March but prices were within a point or two of the lowest around 10:30 o'clock.

Liverpool cables were better than due on the New York close of Friday on continental buying, selling and covering, but the advance there was attributed largely to re-adjustments, or nervousness over the unsettled situation in Sterling.

The amount of cotton on ship-board awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 62,000 bales against 94,000 last year.

Much of the southern selling was attributed to hedging, and the appearance of increased offerings from that source led to some liquidation from old long accounts.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Persistent crumbling of securities led to sharp breaks in grain prices late today. Stop loss selling developed both in wheat and corn, with wheat down to about the lowest figures this season and corn at new bottom records. All else but the weakness of stocks was apparently lost sight of for at least the time being.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Securities markets fopped again today, but the fall in stocks was broken by extensive bear repurchases, and losses were less severe than yesterday's.

Pressure against sterling exchange and British bonds as again unsettling. Speculators were anxious to sell sterling short, but were discouraged by leading banks. Much of the slump in London securities and in sterling exchange was attributed to financial unsettlement in Amsterdam, and the selling by the Dutch of the British securities.

Domestic affairs failed to account for the large-scale selling in New York, and brokers were inclined to regard much of it as due to unreasoning hysteria. Furthermore there was again active selling in this market from abroad. Stock sales for the two hour session were well over 2,000,000 shares.

American Telephone was again a weak spot, dropping 6 points, and closing within less than a point of its low. Rails held up fairly well, and such issues as New York Central, Pennsylvania and Union Pacific finished about unchanged.

New Haven, however, lost nearly 3, and Southern Pacific lost 11-4. Norfolk and Western, in which the market is rather thin, lost 7 points.

American Tobacco, B. Eastman, and Woolworth lost about 4 points, and issues off 2 points or so included U. S. Steel, National Biscuit, North American, Corn Products, American Can and others. Royal Dutch was adversely influenced by unsettlement in Amsterdam, and lost 2 points.

Chapter 22
TROUBLE RETURNS

She said: "It's been wonderful. Peak. Think of something gay for us to do tomorrow night, will you please? I have another dress that I want to show the world."

"Another dress?" He tried not to look at her. "Well, I only hope it isn't any more of a menace than the one you have on. This one doesn't please me and not only to me. I could see every other man in the place looking at you. It isn't decent."

"Really?" She was childishly delighted. "Good! That's just what I want to have happen. I'm sick and tired of being decent. You'd better look out, Peak—I'm warning you!"

One afternoon more than two weeks later Eugenie Frye called at the stable.

Sam, who had just finished dressing to go out to tea, received the news with a frown of annoyance. She said to the maid: "Mrs. Frye? What on earth does she want? I can't see her anyhow. Tell her I'm busy, Mary."

Mary hesitated: "I said that you were just going out, Miss Sherrill, but she said it was important."

"All right," Sam shrugged resignedly. "Tell her I'll be down immediately."

There was something different about Eugenie Frye. Sam recognized that fact at once, even though the change lay in nothing tangible. The widow's manner had altered. She seemed subdued—that was it. Her air of bravado and of defiance to the world was gone, as was her nervousness in Sam's presence.

She shook hands and apologized for her intrusion. "I know you are very busy, Miss Sherrill, and I hate to bother you. I can't help it though, for just a few minutes. I—I need your help."

"My help?" Sam was mildly surprised. "Why, of course, Mrs. Frye. If there's anything I can do—"

"Thank you," the widow nodded and glanced wistfully about the room. Then she said abruptly: "How is Mr. Aldersea? Is he well?"

"Fourth? Why, yes, he's well. He's quite well, thank you. Had you heard he was ill?"

"No," Eugenie took a long breath. "I hadn't heard anything. That's why I came to see, you Miss Sherrill. I haven't heard anything from Mr. Aldersea for weeks."

"Oh," Sam was beginning to understand, and she realized at once that she must proceed warily. "I see. Well, to tell you the truth, Fourth has been busy. He's been have backed it myself. My agents told me that I'd just be throwing my money away, and my agents are reliable people." She was tense and grim. "There's something funny about all this."

Eugenie paced the floor, her eyes flashing, and then, abruptly, there came a change. She hesitated, turned to her chair, and collapsed in a fainting fit, her handskerchief flying to her forehead.

"It's worse than peculiar," she said in a tone that had suddenly become low and hopeless. "It is much worse than that. It—it's terrible."

CHANGE OF LIFE

FOR over fifty years, women have been taking Cardui for troubles like Mrs. M. C. Weatherford, of Tahlequah, Okla., describes below: "I had spells (during change of life) when I could not stand up. I had the headache all the time. I was dizzy and had attacks of nausea. I read about Cardui, so I got a bottle to try. It helped me so much that I continued to take it until I was entirely past the critical period of my life. I have given Cardui to my girls. It has been a wonderful medicine in my home."

Cardui is a mild, purely vegetable tonic.
