WAGE CUTS PUT INTO EFFECT BY BIG CONCERNS

Steel Industry and General Motors Announce Cut Effective October 1.

Washington, Sept. 23.—(AP)—President Hoover's anxiety to maintain the present standard of living was said at the White House today to be unaltered despite wage cuts made by leading industrial corporations yesterday.

The action of United States Steel and Bethlehem Steel Corporations, and the General Motors Corporation, in reducing wages was regretted in administration quarters.

No official statements were forthcoming, it was said informally at the White House, however, that the president had been consistent in his desire to keep the standard of living up.

In the fall of 1929 the Chief Executive called to Washington the heads of practically every leading industry in the country and received from them assurances that wages would be maintained.

About three months ago Secretary Lamont said that often it had been necessary to cut wages in order to keep factories open.

Within recent weeks at the White House, it was said the president's attitude on wage cuts had not been altered although President Hoover was aware that in many cases men had been laid off on account of the depression and then rehired at a lower wage.

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Announcement of impending wage cuts in steel, motor, rubber and copper industries was subject today to a variety of interpretation.

Organized labor proclaimed its resistance. Some financial writers attributed to unnamed business leaders the belief that the step would hasten a revival of business.

United States Steel took the initiative and announced a ten per cent cut affecting 220,000 employees October 1. Bethlehem Steel followed suit. It will reduce wages 10 per cent October 1 for 50,000 employees. Youngstown Sheet and Tube ordered a corresponding cut.

The General Motors corporation announced a 10 to 20 per cent reduction for 25,000 salaried employees. Some 150,000 employed on an hourly wage basis will not be affected.

The United States Rubber Company announced a five-day working schedule starting October 1. This will mean a reduction of about 9 per cent in wages to 25,000 employees. The hourly scale will not be touched, but no one will be given more than five days work.

The American Smelting and Refining Company and the Utah Copper Company announced 10 per cent wage reductions effective Oct. 1st.

A forecast of resistance came from Matthew Wall, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, after the announcement by United States Steel. He said: "I can only express great regret and profound disappointment at the action of the United States Steel Corporation. The disappointment is particularly justified because this action is the sharp contradiction with that of the same corporation some time ago in reducing dividends, but declining to cut wage scales. At that time the attitude of the United States Steel Corporation was received with satisfaction by all who believed that any dislocation of wage schedules would be a most disturbing factor, economically and socially."

"All I can say is that the action of the United States Steel Corporation will certainly not be helpful, regardless of the causes that may have prompted it. I fear that this action may well encourage others to do likewise and prove the result of even more serious perturbations than we have yet witnessed in the nation's economic life. A general policy of wage cuts holds out the danger of serious industrial conflicts, for it is inconceivable that the workers will take this blow without resistance."

Washington advises represented President Hoover and his advisers as hopeful that the action of U. S. Steel would have no sweeping repercussions among the employes of big business generally.

Last Day of Summer Washington, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The national capital spent the last day of summer sweltering in temperatures 20 degrees above normal.

Autumn was scheduled by the astronomers to arrive at 24 minutes after 7 P. M. (EST), and the weather bureau held out hope that it would bring a breath of coolness.

Tar Heel Leads Race For Legion Commander

Prohibition Question Is Topic of Discussion Before National Convention Today.

Detroit, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Detroit News today says that Henry L. Stevens, Jr., Warsaw, N. C., attorney, appears to be the choice of the American Legion for National Commander for 1931.

"With eight or more candidates in the field, the few—if any—of the departments, other than the candidates' own states apparently interested in the race," the paper says, "the contest appears today to be 'in the bag' for Stevens."

The News explains its surmise as follows:

"Last year's convention having been held in Boston, the 1931 meet in Detroit, next year's schedule to go to Portland, Ore., and the 1933 meeting in Chicago. Interest in the commandship appeared today to have centered on the south, with the 'understanding' that that section should be thus recognized. New York, meeting in caucus Tuesday, is reported by its department leaders to have cast its 92 votes for Stevens. A total of 1,415 votes will be cast."

Detroit, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The American Legion's unemployment commission today recommended that the Legion national convention give consideration to modification of the prohibition act to legalize beer.

The recommendation made by the commission said: "Your national employment commission feels it to be the duty of the commission to present the following to the attention of this convention:

"That, when it shall properly come before this convention, due consideration be given to modification of the Volstead act to legalize real beer without conflict with the Constitution of the United States in the interest of furnishing added employment. Your commission believes that hundreds of thousands of jobs may be created through such action.

The new commander will be elected at tomorrow's session. The American Legion National Convention went into business session today with the controversial issues of prohibition and bonus payments in the foreground. The bonus question was pushed (Continued on page three)

YACHT MURDER STILL MYSTERY

Collings Death Still Unsolved as Investigators Continue Run Down Clues.

Huntington, N. Y., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The investigation into the Benjamin P. Collings murder mystery today became a mystery itself.

In contrast to their merry-go-round pursuit yesterday of half a dozen different clues that evaporated almost as quickly as they were considered, the officials this morning maintained complete silence about the case.

District Attorney Alexander G. Blue arrived at his Huntington office earlier than usual and went into conference with his assistant, Fred J. Munder, Felix D. Martini, special investigator retained by Blue, was already at work.

But what the strategy of day was to be in the efforts of the authorities to find out who killed Collings in the melodramatic midnight attack on his cabin cruiser September 9 remained a mystery.

The last public pronouncement on the case, made last night by District Attorney Blue, was to the effect that Mrs. Collings, who was on board the cruiser at the time of the attack, "is not under suspicion."

Convinced that Mrs. Collings "is relieved of all culpability" in the case, Blue said that his assistants had questioned and re-questioned her about her story of the strange murder and were inclined to believe it, fantastical as it was.

Previously, Blue had expressed himself publicly as skeptical of the story in its entirety although he stated he thought Mrs. Collings actually told as much of the truth about what took place as she knew.

Meanwhile, no results from the search instituted yesterday for a madman suspected as a possible participant in the queer murder were forthcoming thus far today.

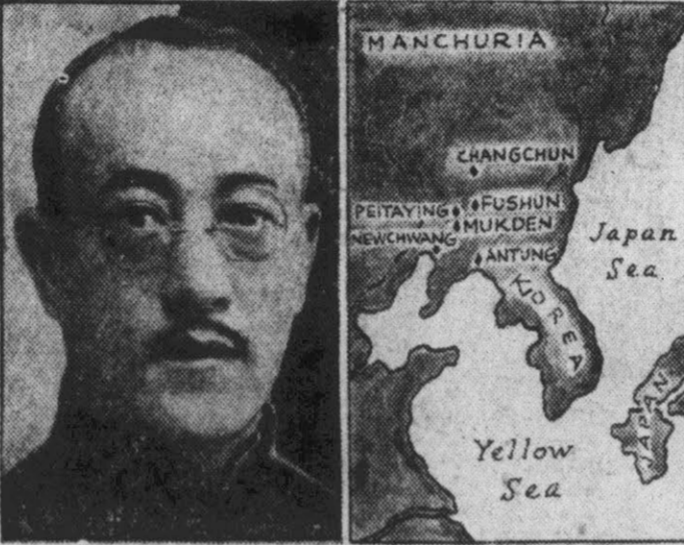

The suspect, described as a lunatic recently paroled from a New York institution, was reported missing from his accustomed whereabouts.

Stamford, Conn., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Benjamin P. Collings, whose husband was slain two weeks ago today in Long Island Sound, will go to Long Island Friday to give her story to a coroner's inquest, if her presence is requested, Homer B. Cummings, her counsel, said today.

Fair Boosters Here Tomorrow Raleigh, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Four buses loaded with Raleigh business and professional men intent on arousing interest in the state fair, which will be held here October 12 to 17, left this morning to visit 47 towns and travel 501 miles before tomorrow night.

The boosters, accompanied by the N. C. State College band, will spend tonight in Kinston after a trip from Raleigh through Fayetteville, Laurinburg, Maxton, Lumberton, Clarkton, Warsaw and other towns. Tomorrow the trip will continue through Greenville, Tarboro, Rich Square, Rocky Mount, Wilson, Smithfield and a score more places before Raleigh is reached tomorrow night.

SHELTON TRIAL CONTINUES AT ALEXANDRIA

Prosecution of Clergyman May End Its Testimony Sometime During Today.

Alexandria, Va., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Dr. William A. Shelton, prominent Washington minister, defended himself today against charges brought by a former woman secretary.

The pastor of the Mount Vernon Methodist Episcopal church, south, appeared before a church trial board hearing testimony on the charges. Their nature has not been revealed. The former secretary, Miss Carrie Williams, testified last night.

The trial was expected to close late today without hearing character witnesses. It was said this procedure had been directed by Bishop E. D. Mouson of Charlotte, N. C.

Dozens of witnesses were on hand yesterday to testify to the character of both principals but they were absent today. Less than half a dozen awaited the outcome. Dr. Shelton's family remained outside the trial building.

Alexandria, Va., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Behind locked doors, the prosecution continued today to array before a church trial board charges upon which may rest the ecclesiastical future of Dr. William A. Shelton, pastor-scholar of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The end of the prosecution's case was in sight, however, as the second day of the trial opened. The 56-year-old suspended pastor of the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church in Washington, prepared to call witnesses from many sections of the south to testify in his behalf.

A long recital of accusations against the quiet clergyman was in the record. It was given yesterday by Miss Carrie A. Williams, who served as secretary to Shelton and two of his predecessors in the pulpit of the Washington church.

Through two days sessions and a night sitting, the committee of 13 ministers who compose the trial board, heard Miss Williams, a sister, Miss Alberta Williams, and Miss Ada Lee Powell, a close friend of the former secretary.

KANE HEARING POSTPONED TO SEPTEMBER 30

Illness of Mother of Dead Woman Causes Postponement Hearing Today.

Hampton, Va., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Preliminary hearing for Elisha Kent Kane, former U. N. C. professor charged with murder in the drowning of his wife, was continued today until 10 a. m., Sept. 30, because of the illness of Mrs. W. C. Graham, mother of the dead woman.

The court room of the Elizabeth City county police justice had been packed for more than an hour before the hearing was called today. As soon as the court convened it was announced that illness prevented Mrs. Graham's appearance and the prosecution asked for continuance.

Mrs. Graham had been expected to testify about letters to Kane from Betty H. Dahl of Mount Holy, N. J., which members of the Graham family said had been seen by Mrs. Kane and had caused her "great unhappiness."

The letters were also said by Coroner George K. Vanderville to have been an important factor in his verdict that Mrs. Kane's drowning was murder for which Kane was held responsible.

Thirteen witnesses who testified at the coroner's inquest were summoned to the preliminary hearing today and were released on their own recognizance under $300 bond each for appearance Sept. 30.

Gandhi and Chaplin Form Acquaintance

London, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, who leads millions to freedom, and Charlie Chaplin, who makes millions laugh, today cherished a friendship of mutual understanding.

"A very charming man," said Gandhi of Chaplin. "A most interesting figure," said Chaplin of Gandhi.

At Chaplin's behest they met for the first time yesterday in the east end home of one of the Indian leader's friends. Adults and children thronged around the house as the film comedian entered and loaded him down with bouquets of garden flowers.

Say Senator Reed May Seek The Presidency

Observers See Threat To Roosevelt Strength if Reed Is Candidate.

Kansas City, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Speculation over Democratic presidential prospects again embraces the name of James A. Reed, former United States senator from Missouri.

Two newspapers, the Kansas City Star and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, said today Reed would make an active bid for the presidency in 1932 and observers saw in the situation a threat to the political strength of Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York.

The former senator declined to make a formal statement, but announced that he had informed a St. Louis inquirer he would "consider it a compliment" to have the Missouri delegation pledged to him at the next Democratic national convention, as it was in 1928.

Edward J. White, vice-president and general counsel of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, obtained that information by telephone when he called Reed to explain the proposed organization of a Roosevelt-for-President Club in St. Louis.

Later White announced that, in view of Reed's stand, plans for the forming of a Roosevelt club had been abandoned.

"I shall support Senator Reed," White said, "just as I have always done in all his campaigns. I think this will be the attitude of every other Democrat who was listed as favoring the nomination of Gov. Roosevelt."

The Globe-Democrat introduced its story with the statement: "Former Senator James A. Reed is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency."

The Star stated that "plans which have been quietly in the making for some time will be immediately rolled into action to organize the movement in Missouri and elsewhere in behalf of Reed for President."

"It was predicted by Reed's backers," the newspaper said, "that he would obtain the Missouri delegation without trouble and that aid from other states would be forthcoming when Reed got under way."

Reed, after serving eighteen years in the Senate, declined to seek reelection in 1928. He was a candidate for the presidency for a brief period in 1924, but failed to obtain the support of the Missouri delegates, the majority of whom favored William K. McAdoe.

The state delegation voted for Reed at the last Democratic national convention at Houston, Tex., until the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York.

THINK FLIERS STILL ALIVE

Fishing Folk of Shetland and Orkney Islands Searching for Cramer, Companion.

Kirkwall, Orkney Islands, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Spurred by a broadcast appeal from London, fishing folk of the Orkney and Shetland Islands started a far flung search today for traces of Parker D. Cramer and Oliver Paquette.

The searchers' hope was buoyed by the fact that the clock on the plane's wreckage had stopped at a time which indicated that they had crashed not long after leaving the Shetlands.

London, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Hope that Parker D. Cramer, American aviator, who was lost on a flight from Detroit to Copenhagen, remains alive lingered today.

RUSSIA HOLDS HANDS OFF OF CHINA-JAP ROW

Troop Movement Slowed up Pending Hearing Before League Nations.

Shanghai, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Immediate danger of Russia being drawn into the Sino-Japanese imbroglio apparently was averted today by the decision of the Japanese military not to occupy Harbin.

Tokyo seemingly has determined to keep the Manchurian crisis strictly an issue between China and Japan, excluding all interventions, whether by Russia, the League of Nations or the Kellogg anti-war pact signatories.

Although the Japanese chief of staff in Manchuria had ordered troops to move into Harbin to protect the Japanese community there the cabinet at Tokyo evidently decided it was not worthwhile risking Russian intervention and ordered Chang Chun be made the northern limit of the occupied zone.

A majority of Japanese residents of Harbin, inland Manchurian metropolis, are expected to withdraw to safer places within the Japanese military cordon.

Although the Chinese press was filled with wild rumors of Russian war preparations above the Siberian border, confirmation was lacking.

Heretofore Russia has limited herself to a mild protest against the Japanese occupation of the Chinese Eastern Railway station at Kwanchengtz, which later was evacuated. The Chinese Eastern Railway is jointly operated by Russia and China.

Tokyo, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A foreign office spokesman announced tonight that Japanese troop movements in Manchuria so far as occupying positions outside the South Manchurian Railway zone are concerned, must end.

"There are to be no further developments in the field," the spokesman informed newspaper correspondents after a conference with Baron Shidehara, the foreign minister.

The foreign office spokesman asserted that reports on Japanese occupation of Chinese territory outside the South Manchurian Railway concession area had been grossly exaggerated by over-zealous militarists endeavoring to create a favorable impression in Japan.

A foreign office announcement said Japanese troops were withdrawing from the area outside the South Manchurian Railway zone.

The spokesman asserted the situation had narrowed down so that it might be said there now were practically no occupation forces outside the South Manchurian Railway zone excepting at Kirin, Chang Chun, the native city of Mukden, and possibly Antung.

At Kirin, all troops have been recalled with the exception of 200 doing police duty while concerning the walled city of Mukden, the spokesman said, military authorities hoped some solution would be reached soon to enable the transfer of police authority to the Chinese.

Japanese forces occupying the Chinese barracks of Chang Chun are larger than at Kirin, the spokesman said, but smaller than the force (Continued on Page Three)

GIANT AIRSHIP TAKES THE AIR IN TRIAL TRIP

Akron, the World's Largest Dirigible, to Make Test Flight This Afternoon.

Akron, O., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The U. S. S. Akron, largest airship in the world, today faced the beginning of her reign as Queen of the Skies.

Second of America's home made dirigibles, she had only to prove on the maiden flight that she can fly; later tests will take her measure as the world's largest, fastest, and strongest airship.

The massive dock, where she has stood stolidly planned to a mobile mooring fast since soon after the christening ceremony August 8, teemed with life as last-minute preparations were hurried for a take-off at 3 o'clock.

A landing crew of 250 men was assembled at 9 o'clock along the sleek silver-colored sides of the gigantic ship, each man taking his place along heavy rope lines to steady the bulk in the journey out of the dock.

The officers and enlisted men of the crew, casting aside the fatigue clothes they have worn in the days of waiting, were ordered on deck in uniform at 12:30 o'clock.

A glittering cross-section of national notables—admirals in gold braid, statesmen, and men who have had an active part in constructing the airship—was on hand, many of them with envied places within the ship.

Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, on whose shoulders as skipper rests the responsibility for the $5,375,000 air queen, beamed approval.

Ready to go, the Akron reached the crowning milestone in a history that reaches back to 1924 when the ill-fated Shenandoah had been completed and navy designers began preliminary work to keep themselves abreast of airship progress.

The Shenandoah, America's first home made dirigible, crashed in a storm over Ohio just six years ago. Ranking as the largest airship ever built, the Akron is 785 feet long, only nine feet longer than the Graf Zeppelin but having a gas capacity of 2,800,000 cubic feet; greater because of the increased diameter is 132.9 feet, giving the Akron a shorter stockier appearance than the Zep-pennel shape of other dirigibles.

MAKES HIS NINTH ESCAPE FROM PRISON

Concord, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Some time between midnight and morning Ellis Bratton, alleged forger, picked his cell lock at Cabarrus county jail and walked to freedom.

With him went Marvin Basinger and Lester Baxter, cell mates.

Sheriff R. C. Hoover said Bratton, in the past few years, had escaped once from the penitentiary at Raleigh; thrice from the Almonmarle jail; twice from that at Monroe; and once each from jails at Concord and Spartanburg, S. C.

GANDHI DISCIPLE LEFT OUT MOTHER'S WILL

London, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Miss Madeline Slade, daughter of an English admiral, who for sook a high position to become a lowly disciple of Mahatma Gandhi, was not mentioned in the will of her mother as published today.

Lady Slade bequeathed an estate of about $50,000 to another daughter, Mrs. Edward Vernon. Miss Slade said that she had requested the omission of her name from the will and that it met with her whole hearted approval.

Cotton and Tobacco Meetings to be Held Tomorrow Morning

C. B. Rowlett announced this morning that the mass meeting announced for eleven o'clock tomorrow morning to discuss the cotton situation with a view to adopting resolutions urging a special session of the legislature to take action toward crop reduction, had been changed to include the tobacco production as well as cotton.

He urged that every farmer and business man interested in the tobacco and cotton situation be present at this meeting. The meeting here is one of a series of similar meetings being conducted through this section in the hope of adopting resolutions that will bring about action for better farming conditions in Eastern Carolina.

SAM

By Freeman Lincoln

SYNOPSIS: Loved by two men, Sam Sherrill refuses Freddy Munson, whom she loves, and accepts Peak Abbott, popular young millionaire, because of her family's need of money. Her stepfather, Fourth Alderson, suddenly becomes wealthy through the mysterious sale of a worthless invention, and Sam turns from work to play.

Chapter 25
TREACHERY
Freddy could not answer Sam's question of how poverty had affected her.

"Well," said Sam, the result has been that I've always been a charity patient. I've been forced to accept invitation after invitation that I've never had a hope of being able to return. People have even tried to give me clothes! Is it any wonder that I've fallen into a very definite classification?"

"And what?" Peak inquired slowly, "do you consider your classification?"

"I'm a sponge," said Sam contemptuously — "a large, squashy, bluish-absorbent sponge."

"Rot!" said Peak. "Nothing but silly pride."

She nodded. "It also explains why I've been so happy since Fourth made that money."

"Yes," he nodded, and then frowned. "I see that, but if money was your only worry, why weren't you happy as soon as you and I got ourselves engaged?"

She stamped her foot. "Oh, can't you see that money from you would just be more of the same? More charity? Can't you understand that this money of Fourth's is honestly earned, is honestly mine?"

"Yes," said Peak calmly. He had himself under complete control once more. The madness had gone.

"I'll admit, though, that I had hoped the chance in you was due to something else."

Sam's eyes wandered from his. "You mean that you hoped I'd come to care more about you. Well, I have come to care more about you — a lot more."

"Is that not true? But you can't say that you love me? Is that it?"

She was silent.

"You kissed me, Sam," he reminded her gently. "It wasn't just an ordinary kiss. It meant something. What did it mean?"

"I—I don't know."

"Don't you want to love me, Sam?"

"Yes, I want to love you. I want to love you—terribly! But—"

"But what?"

"But I don't see how I can." Her eyes were wide. "It's impossible, Peak," she said in a small tired voice.

He instantly knew what she meant. She meant that it was impossible for her to love him because of Freddy Munson. Freddy Munson stood in the way. Freddy's presence suddenly filled the entire summer house, and Peak resented it. He resented it so deeply, that he said something he was bitterly regretted.

"Impossible?" The words were cold. "Why is it impossible, unless there is somebody else. Is there, isn't anybody else, is there, Sam?"

Sam said nothing. Her wide eyes merely became wider and wider and then suddenly filled with tears.

After an interval of silence Peak shuddered and shook his head as though emerging from a bad dream.

Then he said roughly: "Don't pay any attention to me. I must be crazy. Come on, let's get out of here. It's cold."

They went out into the wind. The moon had disappeared, and with it the pleasant little valley. As Peak had said, it was cold.

On the way home, and Sam had insisted that they go home immediately, there was silence. Both were busy with thoughts that were anything but pleasant.

Peak, puffing savagely at a cigarette, surveyed the ruin of his carefully laid plans. In one unaccountable moment he had destroyed all the framework of confidence he had built so carefully.

No more would Sam regard him as an undermining friend and companion. No longer would she be at ease and off guard in his presence.

He had slammed the little side door by which he had hoped to find his way to her heart. He wondered what Sam was thinking of him at the moment.

As a matter of fact, Sam was not thinking of him at all, although a phrase he had spoken was drumming in her brain. "Is there somebody else?" Peak had asked. "There isn't anybody else, is there, Sam?"

Was there anybody else? Sam could have cried aloud in very real pain, for she was realizing all at once that in the weeks that had just passed the thought of Freddy Munson had slipped further and further and further into the background of her consciousness. She had thrust it there deliberately at first in what she had been sure was a hopeless effort to forget.

The thing seemed impossible, and yet to a certain degree it had happened. In the excitement of her newly discovered interest in people and things, she had allowed herself to drift. There had been periods of days, she told herself remorselessly, when she had not thought of Freddy at all. Even now it was difficult to bring to mind a clear cut vision of his face.

The more she thought of the matter the more clear became the fact of her slowness and treachery. She had half forgotten when she should have remembered. She had been happy when she should have been miserable. As a sort of crowning touch she had kissed Peak Abbott that very night. She had not kissed him, as Peak himself had suggested, through any sense of duty, but simply because she had responded to a very definite urge.

"What did that kiss mean? What did anything mean?"

When they reached the street, she said good night to Peak hurriedly, absently, and ran across the gravel to the front door.

There was a single light burning on a little table in the living room and beside it lay a telegram. She ripped the yellow form from its envelope, and glanced casually at the typewritten words. Then, suddenly, she stiffened.

The telegram had been sent from Chicago, and the two words at the bottom of the message read: "Freddy Munson."

Mrs. Munford Entertains.

Last evening following the meeting of the Order of Eastern Star, Mrs. C. T. Munford charmingly entertained at her home on Evans street.

The home was attractively decorated with roses and other fall flowers carrying out the colors of the order.

A number of games were enjoyed. Late in the evening the guests were invited into the dining room where tempting refreshments were served. The table was especially pretty, covered with a cloth of lace, centered with a mirror on which was placed a bowl of red roses, flanked by silver holders with red candles.

Mrs. Munford's guests were officers of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Batchelor in Duke Hospital.

Friends of Mrs. Edward Batchelor will regret to learn that she is in Duke Hospital, Durham.

Mr. Batchelor spent Sunday in Durham with Mrs. Batchelor.

PRAYER SERVICE AT MEMORIAL BAPTIST CHURCH THIS EVENING

The mid-week service of prayer, praise and Bible study will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. May the year of prayer, fellowship with one another in Christ and blessed communion with the Lord appeal to our hearts to assemble in His sanctuary. We need the strengthening of faith, the ennobling of courage and fortitude with which to meet life today. Come. You are welcome.

GREENVILLE PEOPLE RECEIVE $81,900.00

Through the maturing of the 39th Series of the Home Building and Loan Association the people of Greenville received in cash and cancelled mortgages the large sum of $81,900.00.

The maturing of this series represents the 39th time the Home Building & Loan Association has distributed large sums to its shareholders. Since the Association's organization in 1906 it has paid to its thousand of shareholders considerable over $1,000,000.00.

The Home Building & Loan Association has always paid large dividends to its shareholders. The holders of shares in the 39th series received over 6-1/2 percent on their savings. During the last fifteen years this Association has been one of the largest earning Associations in the State. Through their large savings they have not only attracted local savers but savers throughout the State.

PRESBYTERIANS MEET TO PRAY THIS EVENING

Wednesday evening of each week at 8 o'clock, the people of God meet to pray together for themselves, for others. At the Presbyterian Church this evening the book study will be II Corinthians, a very personal book for the church and the ministry. Read it, and come to be helped in your further study. This meeting is for all men, women and children; for church members, and all who believe in prayer.

To Plant Trees.

Home Demonstration and 4-H Club girls of Pitt County are planning to plant crepe myrtle on the roadsides this fall. Your interest is solicited. Will you donate plants—and will you be present on planting day and plant a crepe myrtle on which will be placed a tag bearing your name. The maintenance division of the State Highway Commission is helping in this movement. They will direct the planting—put up a protection for each plant—and see that they are protected in the future. Other announcements will be made in the future. Please let the Home Demonstration agent know if you will help.

PRAYER MEETING AT METHODIST CHURCH

The theme for prayer meeting this evening at Jarvis Memorial M. E. Church is "The Preaching of Amos." There are some very interesting facts about this prophet that we are to study for several Wednesday evenings. You are invited to share with us in this study.

into prominence by a statement from the national commander, R. T. C'Neal, in which he renewed his promise that there will be full and free discussion of the issue.

It was the first utterance on the subject by a Legion leader since President Hoover's address at the opening session Monday in which he called attention to the condition of the national treasury and asked that no burden be added to it.

The convention was divided into two camps on the prohibition question. It was not a wet and dry division—rather, one group insisted that the Legion follow the policy of past years and keep the issue out of its discussion, while another favored a vote on at least one of the numerous resolutions which have been presented.

The latter group was not in agreement as to whether the convention should be asked to advocate repeal of the 18th amendment, a nation-wide referendum or liberalization of the enforcement acts to permit manufacture of beer.

Resolutions containing a wide range of prohibition proposals were in the resolutions committee, which got into a technical wrangle last night and failed to act on any of them.

Publication of a report that a sub-committee on policy had advocated reporting a beer resolution at a secret session and the subsequent publication of a report that the sub-committee on policy itself had taken the opposite attitude threw the matter into confusion.

Both reports were vouched for after publication by some members of the two groups but the resolutions committee itself, which alone has power to report to the convention, took no action.

Legionnaires were warned today by a former comrade in arms, Administrator Frank Hines of the veterans affairs, not to risk public good will by demanding further payment on adjusted service certificates.

Speaking from the same rostrum from which President Hoover delivered a similar appeal on Monday, Hines said "one with his ear to the ground cannot have failed to hear an occasional rumble and criticism directed toward the American Legion because of its anticipated further demand in behalf of the ex-service men."

"We must not forget that the intangible asset of good will is the most valuable we can possibly possess," the former brigadier general said. "The Legion has had it unboundedly. It has it today. But it is a fickle thing and must be carefully guarded. Nothing can vanish more quickly."

Hines urged also that the ex-service men think carefully before demanding at this time pensions for widows and orphans of veterans whose deaths were not caused by

OFFERINGS ON MIDDLE BELT LIGHTER TODAY

Price Situation Reported Slightly Above That of Opening Yesterday.

Raleigh, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Offerings on the middle belt tobacco markets were lighter today with an average slightly higher than yesterday's mark of around $10 per hundred indicated.

Today's sales at Durham were devoted largely to cleaning up the black of yesterday. Heavy sales of grades bringing from $10 to $20 per hundred brought expectations for an average of from $12 to $15 per hundred.

Oxford had very light new offerings and the warehouses there were also engaged in cleaning up yesterday's left-overs. An average between $9 and $11 per hundred was indicated.

About 30,000 pounds were offered at Aberdeen and was selling at around $10 per hundred.

Official sales for Henderson's opening day were announced as 209,216 pounds at an average of $10.55 per hundred.

Approximately 25,000 pounds were offered at Fuqua Springs and early sales were at an average of $8 per hundred. Carthage had 30,000 pounds on the floors. An average of $9 to $10 per hundred was expected.

All Charged Up.

Hubleton, Wis., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Things happened here yesterday. At 4:40 a. m. early all the telephones in town began to ring.

A woman who went for a pail of water got a shock from the metal pump handle.

A lad who was barefooted said the ground was "all prickly" with electrical charges.

Two farms were threatened with fire caused by electricity.

It was all a deep, dark mystery until authorities explained that the strange happenings were caused by L. M. Von Eschen of Madison, who dozed while driving his car, hitting a pole in such a way that a power line fell across the telephone wires.

occupying the native city of Mukden. Authorities also hoped to come to some decision concerning Chang Chun within a few days that will make withdrawal of troops practicable.

It was announced the Japanese government will issue tomorrow or Friday a statement on Japan's position in Manchuria. The statement probably will touch upon the League of Nations' suggestion that Japan withdraw her troops from Chinese territory.

No exact date will be mentioned for the withdrawal of troops from Mukden or other points still occupied, but it appears the government will contend that as soon as the Chinese government gives definite assurance that the South Manchurian Railway zone, as well as Japanese lives and property, will be adequately safeguarded, then all troops will be recalled to Japanese concessions.

COTTON BILL BECOMES LAW

South Carolina Governor Signs Bill for Cotton Holiday That State Next Year.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Governor Blackwood signed the cotton prohibition bill today.

By fixing his signature to the measure, it becomes a misdemeanor in South Carolina to plant cotton in 1932. The act contains the provision that three-fourths of the cotton-growing states pass similar laws.

As he signed it Governor Blackwood said the only thing that prevented it from being a "perfect act" was that cotton was not outlawed unconditionally in South Carolina next year.

"The more the other states grow, the more we will wish we hadn't grown any," he said.

If the total prohibition act had been passed, he added, it would have been "the greatest piece of legislation in 50 years."

The prohibitory law was passed last week by both houses of the General Assembly called into extraordinary session by the governor.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Governors of nine cotton producing states have been asked by Governor Ross S. Sterling to join Texas in legislating against over-production of cotton.

Telegrams were sent to the governors of Georgia, Louisiana, South Carolina and North Carolina. The first answers to be received were non-committal.

South Carolina and Louisiana only recently enacted a "1932 cotton holiday" law.

Texas' step toward curtailment of its cotton crop was completed yesterday when Governor Sterling signed a bill limiting cotton planting in the state in 1932 and 1933 to 30 per cent of the cultivated acreage.

"Why My Next Car will be A FORD"

WHEN you buy a Ford there are two things you never have to worry about. One is reliability. The other is long life.

Here's an interesting letter from a Ford owner in North Carolina:

"My Ford was purchased May 8, 1928, and has been run 121,767 miles. It has never stopped on the road for repair of any kind whatsoever except punctures.

"The brakes were relined at 101,000 miles. My gas mileage averaged 21 miles to the gallon, and on tires, 19,000 miles per tire. I travel over all kinds of road conditions—mountainous and flat.

"I consider this a wonderful record and I assure you my next one will also be a Ford."

This is just one of many tributes to the reliability and long life of the Ford. A Ford owner in Iowa tells of driving his Ford 73,000 miles in a single year. Another writes of 120,000 miles of good service.

Think ahead when you are considering the purchase of an automobile and consider what it will be like after thousands of miles of driving. Will you still be satisfied? Will you still say "it's a great car"?

If it's a Ford, you know everything will be O. K. It will be taking you there and back in good style, just as it has always done. And you will have saved many important, worth-while dollars in cost of operation and up-keep and low yearly depreciation.

TAR HEELS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE FOR OPENING

BY WHITNEY THARIN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Chapel Hill, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Despite all the proof-mouth talk emanating from this seat of learning, a look at the 60-odd candidates for the University of North Carolina's football team will convince the most skeptical that the Tar Heels will be nobody's push-over this season.

So far as the team prospects are concerned, the Tar Heels appear to be well off. It's not the team, it's the schedule that is worrying Collins.

After opening here Saturday with Wake Forest, the Tar Heels go up against Vanderbilt, Florida, Georgia and Tennessee on successive week-ends.

At least three of these teams are outstanding contenders for the southern conference championship while Florida, though not quite in the glory it enjoyed a few years ago, is no breather. Other hard games follow later in the season.

North Carolina's line, averaging about 180 pounds, should be on a par with any other in this section. The starters will all be men thoroughly trained in their individual jobs. The backfield, ironically enough for an outfit that once proclaimed itself the "team of a hundred backs," appears to be the weak point.

Erwin Walker and Theron Brown a pair of 175-pound ends; Harry Hodges and June Underwood, 185 pound tackles; Henry McIver and Ellis Pysan, husky guards, and Red Glibreath, 185-pound pivot man, are the veterans in the line.

For line replacements, Collins has three other lettermen and a host of reserves anxious to play.

With Branch's scholastic difficulties removed, the backfield will be built around this star quarterback, although John Peacock may get the call over Branch in the Wake Forest game.

Peacock has been drilling for the job while Johnny has been studying but it is safe to say that Branch will be the sparkplug of the ball carrying department.

His partners will probably be Ripp Slusser and John Phipps, halfbacks, and Stuart Chandler, shifted from half to fullback. Tom White, Alex Weisker, Hanes Lassiter and Charley Woolen are capable substitutes.

Collins' system, an outgrowth of the late Knute Rockne's type under whom the head coach played, is being drilled into the candidates this year as never before. The men have met the hardwork more than halfway and observers say the squad's spirit is better than at any time since Collins took charge. The team, for the first time almost in memory, has no captain. A leader will be appointed for each game.

Early Winter

Munich, Bavaria, Germany, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Winter has come early to Southern Germany. It has been snowing for days in the Bavarian Alps.

LOOKS LIKE HOT WEATHER FOR GRIDDERS

Charlotte, Sept. 23.—(AP)—North Carolina coaches cast critical eyes over their reserve material today as Saturday's opening games gave promise of being played in sweltering weather.

The heat has interfered considerably with the entire training period and men who last a full game this early in the season will be subjected to extra punishment because of the severeness of the weather.

Coach Chuck Collings, whose University of North Carolina Tar Heels open against Wake Forest, got little pleasure from viewing his reserves but heard good news from the class room.

Johnny Branch, veteran quarterback, was reported to have passed an examination he took on a subject in which he was deficient. His grade has not been officially announced, pending its confirmation by Dean Carroll, of the economics department but it is a rare thing for the department head to reverse a professor's grade.

Collins complained that his reserves showed no concerted drive and that his second string linesmen were not blocking and charging to suit him.

Coach Pat Miller found pretty much the same situation at Wake Forest. The Demon Deacon mentor shifted Ed Shinn, a third string quarterback, to fullback on his second team in an effort to strengthen the reserve attack.

The Deacons got their last hard scrimmage before the Tar Heel game today. The remainder of the week will be spent perfecting plays.

Monk Younger, Davidson's head man, has turned his attention more than ever to reserve power. West, Peabody, Clarke and Fleagle are among the best bets on the second team.

The Wildcats meet N. C. State at Greensboro Saturday night. It will be the opening contest for the Wolfpack and the second for the Cats.

Cosch Clipper Smith, in working hard against Davidson plays. Part of the drills are being held at night in order to accustom the men to the lights under which they will play in Greensboro.

Wallace Wade is devoting his time to instilling fundamentals in his Blue Devil squad, the heavy scrimmages having been discarded as the team tapers off for the South Carolina game.

Blocking and tackling, two departments in which South Carolina is reported to be weak, are getting particular attention at the Durham school.

Wake Up Your Liver; Bile -Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. C.

WEST BEST IN NATIONAL EAST IN AMERICAN

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
With one game left today before the year's intersectional play in the major leagues ends, the last east-west series in the big circuits has merely proved what the earlier ones indicated.

The eastern clubs of the American League and the western teams of the National, which have outshone their rivals from the other sections all year, wound up with the most thorough triumph yet.

Playing on the home grounds of the strongest sections, the American League's eastern half won 40 games and lost only 14 while the westerners of the National League turned in 38 triumphs to 18 defeats.

When they closed their intersectional stand with an 8 to 6 victory over Detroit yesterday, the Athletics, once said to be weaker than the pennant winners of the past two seasons, accomplished a feat that no other Philadelphia club ever had done before. It was their 105th victory of the season, one more than the great A's of 1923 could win all season. They still have five games left and the possibility of tying the American League record of 110 victories.

Washington snatched the opportunity offered by an open date in the New York schedule and took undisputed possession of second place in the standing with a 7 to 2 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Boston's great spurt was checked in the last inning of a battle with St. Louis 5-2 but the Red Sox managed to hold onto fifth place.

After wasting a number of opportunities in the regular route, the Pittsburgh Pirates finally beat out the Phillies 3 to 2 in the 13th inning of the National League's best battle.

Brooklyn closed the National League season so far as St. Louis is concerned by downing the champion Cardinals 6 to 3 in their final encounter.

The other National League clubs had an off day.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM TOBACCO NOW 5¢ formerly 8¢ "ROLL Your OWN!"

Genuine "BULL" DURHAM Tobacco at 5¢ marked the entrance of my father, Percival S. Hill, into the Tobacco business. For 14 years he was President of The American Tobacco Company. The fine quality and popularity of "BULL" DURHAM were always subjects of great pride to him. Therefore, it is particularly gratifying to us to offer this important saving and service to the American public at this time.

BALANCED FARMING NECESSARY

It is a foregone conclusion there must be a cut in the cotton crop before growers can hope to get a living price for it, but we would urge the tobacco growing states to go slow with drastic action until a definite and balanced plan for both cotton and tobacco can be arrived at least the proposed cotton holiday might tend to increase the tobacco acreage with greater losses to the tobacco growing sections. If the southeastern section of our country is to get ahead with agriculture, it must be on a sound basis of balanced farming including poultry raising, dairying and stock raising, as well as money crops and crops for home consumption. The working out of such a plan and the hearty co-operation of every one of the tobacco and cotton states in carrying out the plan is essential if we are to overcome our present difficulties and we urge the consideration of these things before any drastic action is taken pertaining to any one crop, lest the reduction of one crop might tend to cause an overproduction and lower prices to another.

Says Farm Agents Should Be Free From Local Politics

Winston-Salem, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Home and farm agents in the several states should be maintained from Federal and state funds exclusively, in the opinion of W. Kerr Scott, of Haw River, master of the North Carolina Grange, in order to remove them "from the embarrassment of local politics."

The Grange head expressed his opinion in an address here yesterday at the Grange's state convention.

Lewis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, told the convention "monetary stabilization is one of the greatest problems confronting agriculture."

"We do not say that the gold standard has broken down," he said, "but do say that gold has proven itself not to be a sufficient yardstick for emergencies like the present."

Approximately 500 farmers and farm women from all sections of the state are attending the convention.

GEN. BUTLER ENDS SERVICE WITH MARINES

Today is Last Day of Active Service. Will Officially Retire October 1.

Quantico, Va., Sept. 23.—(AP)—As a spectator at the last charge he will command, Major General Smedley D. Butler today came to the end of his official duties with the Marines.

It was his farewell party, so he was designated to sit on the side-lines as 2,000 men and officers whom he has led staged a spectacular attack on the Marine Corps base here.

Their charge, reminiscent of many he has led in foreign lands, marked the end of Butler's 33 years of colorful service as a soldier of the sea. One week from tomorrow he becomes a civilian for the first time since he was a boy, but his duties ended today.

Until October 1 he has nothing to do but pack his house furnishings preparatory to moving to his new home at Newtown Square in Pennsylvania.

There he will carry with him a prediction of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, that more will be heard from him "soon."

Speaking last night at a smoker given by the Marines in honor of their retiring commander, Pinchot described him as "the greatest leader and builder of morale in the United States today," and added: "We are all going to hear more from General Butler soon."

With his voice shaking, Butler yesterday told the men who participated in a final dress parade for him, they had given him "something to remember the rest of his life."

The parade was a formal affair made less so by Butler's well-known informality. Standing arm in arm with Mrs. Butler the general returned the salutes of his fellow officers. The parade had not progressed far, however, before he was about to straighten straggling lines which passed in front of him.

No sooner had the parade passed than Butler bounded down off the stand, lighted a cigarette, and directed the formation of groups of men into a male chorus.

The first song was a trifle low. The leader spurred the men to sing with "more tempo" and strength.

"Tempo, Hell! Just sing!" said Butler.

They did.

Hardee in the division of the lands among the heirs of Armitta L. Worthington made during the year 1926.

SECOND TRACT: That certain tract or parcel of land lying and being situated in Winterville township, Pitt county, N. C., lying on both sides of the New Road, bounded on the N. and E. by the McLawhorn lands, on the W. by the lands of Lewis Worthington and Alfred Worthington, and more specifically described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a lightwood knot stake on the New Road, McLawhorn's corner, and running thence with said road N. 61-30 E. 14.79 poles to another lightwood knot stake, McLawhorn's corner; thence with the line of the McLawhorn land N. 3-30 W. 38.36 poles to a stake with pointers, thence S. 52-30 E. 62 poles to a chopped pine, thence N. 64-30 W. running by a stake in the line 23 1-5 poles to a corner in a chopped line, thence with the chopped line S. 12-30 W. 45 poles, thence S. 6-30 W. 136 poles, thence due E. 54.91 poles to some chopped trees in McLawhorn's line, thence with McLawhorn's line N. 2-30 W. 89-88 poles to the lightwood knot stake on the New Road, the beginning, containing 61.31 acres.

The following tract of land is excepted from the above described tract: Beginning at a point in the Public Road leading from Venters Cross Roads to the Dennis Smith old Home Place where the Jesse Hardee Road runs into said road, and running thence with the line of Lot No. 3 "A" N. 12 E. 50 poles to the corner of said lot at an oak and gum on the side ditch in Little Clayroot Swamp; thence with said ditch S. 82 E. 13 poles; thence S. 52 E. 10 poles; thence S. 83 E. 18 poles; thence S. 89 E. 21 poles to a stake with oak and gum pointers on said ditch; thence with the line of Lot No. 5 S. 14-30 W. 53 1-5 poles to an oak on the road; thence with the road leading from Venters Cross Roads to the Dennis Smith old Home Place N. 75 W. to the beginning and being Lot No. 4 in the division of the Armitta Worthington land, containing 20 acres by actual survey, shown by map made by J. D. Cox, Surveyor, in June, 1926.

This sale is made by reason of the failure of L. H. Worthington and wife, Mary P. Worthington, to pay off and discharge the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust. A deposit of 10 per cent will be required from the purchaser at the sale.

The above land was sold on Saturday, the 8th day of Aug., 1931, at which sale the North Carolina Joint Stock Ld. Bank of Durham became the last and highest bidder at the price of $800. Within 10 days from said date the above bid was raised by a deposit of 5 per cent of the price with the Clerk of the Court by The Greenville Oil & Fertilizer Co., whereupon the said land was ordered resold.

This 14th day of Sept., 1931.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady very steady on active and rather excited buying which was stimulated by advances in Liverpool, Alexandria and Bombay, and further buying here to undo old straddlers between New York and Liverpool.

The effect of the sharp advance in Liverpool was modified by an impression that it reflected a further adjustment to the situation in starting.

On the first rush of buying orders December contracts moved up to 6.62 and March to 6.92 or about 24 to 25 points net higher after which there were moderate setbacks under realizing and a little southern selling.

The market at the end of the first half hour was about 17 to 19 points above yesterday's closing quotations. Liverpool cables attributed the advance in that market to heavy general buying, covering, calling and firmness in Bombay and Alexandria.

The market eased slightly during the middle of the morning on a favorable view of the weekly weather export which caused some realizing and there was also some southern selling.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Grains advanced with Wall street stocks today in the face of continued big deliveries of Chicago September corn contracts.

Today's deliveries of corn aggregated 1,618,000 bushels, an unusually big amount after deliveries of 2,021,000 bushels yesterday.

Official estimates of the 1931 wheat crop of 31 countries showed 2,720,000,000 bushels now available compared with 2,861,000,000 harvested in the same countries last year.

Wheat closed unsettled 5-8 to 11-8 higher; corn unchanged to 3-4 up; oats unchanged to 5-8 gain; rye provisions varying from 10 set-back to a rise of 12. Cash lard prices today were the lowest since 1905.

STOCK MARKET

By CLAUD A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Financial Editor)

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—In the swift succession of spectacular economic developments in the past three days, an important section of Wall Street saw pronounced progress in competing major economic readjustments necessitated by the depression.

Share prices, particularly rails, were sent hurrying upward, in the most brilliant market recovery since the war debt moratorium of June.

Stock exchange officials lifted the ban on short selling, once more providing a relatively free and open market, after two days of the most stringent control since the World War. Trading was confidently resumed in London, with a good effect both here and in Paris.

Many shares surged up 3 to 15 points. Price averages indicated an average gain of more than 4 points in leading issues by 1 P. M.

Violent advances occurred in the rails, Santa Fe, Norfolk and Western, Union Pacific and Lackawana sweeping up 10 to 15 points. Such issues as American Telephone, New York Central, New Haven, American Tobacco B, and Allied Chemical gained 6 or more.

Issues selling up 4 or more included U. S. Steel, consolidated gas American Can, Woolworth, National Biscuit and others. Trading was active.

The wage reductions initiated in the steel industry, which may affect some 1,000,000 workers if generally accepted, and the talk of reductions in railway wages, threatened the pay of some 1,300,000 workers, could not, of course, be regarded as of wholly favorable import even by those bankers and economists who believed that a general wage revision must precede recovery.

The midweek business statistics again gave but faint clues to the expected autumn recovery. The freight car loadings figures were for the week of Labor Day, so not commensurate to the full business week preceding.
