DRY QUESTION TO BE AIRE IN CONGRESS

Both Wets and Drys Preparing for Immediate Action When Session Opens.

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The thrusting forward early of prohibition as a controversial issue has been promised the next Congress. From the welter of discussion trailing the American Legion's demand for a referendum on the liquor question arose today a pledge by an anti-prohibitionist that a bill for repeal of the Volstead Act would be introduced soon after Congress convenes. It came from Representative Britten of Illinois.

On the other side of the fence, Senator Sheppard of Texas, co-author of the Eighteenth Amendment, expects to resurrect his bills making the purchaser of liquor equally guilty with the seller, and also clarifying the Volstead Act to prohibit liquor making in the home. At Omaha, Nebraska, the veteran Texas prohibitionist predicted the Legion's action would have slight effect. He asserted an overwhelming majority of both houses of Congress would oppose submission of prohibition to the voters.

Representative Britten saw in the Legion's vote the "death knell" of prohibition. He asserted if the service organization and the American Federation of Labor would use "their tremendous persuasive power" they could bring about repeal of the Volstead law during the impending congressional session.

Two dry leaders trained their guns upon the Legion's vote. Dr. Dan A. Poling, national chairman of the allied forces of prohibition, described the veterans' action as a "fundamental mistake."

Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, said repeated statements by wet newspapers that President Hoover would continue to support prohibition for political reasons was a tacit confession "that the majority of the voters of this country are dry."

Meanwhile, an attack upon the Legion by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Church's Temperance Board, asserting "Numbers of staggering drunks disgraced the uniform and yelled for beer" drew a counter-charge from the League For Modification of the Volstead Act.

"I would suggest that Dr. Wilson put his own house in order and confine his criticisms to those of his organization who vote dry and drink wet," said former Senator Handsbrough of North Dakota, national chairman of the league.

Farmville Man Drowns Himself In Well Friday

Farmville, Sept. 26.—J. Paul Davis aged 60 years, drowned himself in an open well early Friday night, at his home on the S. M. Pollard place, near Joyner's Cross Roads, about a mile from the corporated limits of Farmville. Funeral services were held this afternoon and interment was made in the burial grounds of the Williams homestead near Falkland.

Mr. Davis was a native of Pennsylvania, but had been living in this section nearly 20 years. He married Mrs. Ruth Lang Williams, a widow, who was formerly Miss Ruth Lang, of the Falkland vicinity 15 years ago. He had belonged to the Salvation Army at one time in his life and was well known here where he worked at the trade of a painter, as a sober, honest and dependable worker.

Mrs. Davis was away at the time of the suicide, but a married step-daughter was at home. Ill health and dependency is thought to have caused the act. Besides his wife, Mr. Davis is survived by three children ages from 4 to 10 years.

Gandhi Turns Deaf Ear To Plea Of Textile Employes

Darwin, Lancashire, Eng., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, surrounded by the vestiges of Great Britain's vanished textile trade with India, today turned a deaf ear to Lancashire's plea that he lift the Nationalist boycott against foreign cotton goods.

After hearing from the workers, the jobless spinners and from the mill owners how difficult Lancashire's lot has become, he replied that India's lot is still harder to bear and that he and the Indian Congress party would remain firm in their stand that India produce cloth sufficient for its own needs.

CHARGED WITH DROWNING WIFE

Harry G. Wimbley (right) is held in Washington charged with drowning his wife and daughter to collect insurance money. Held with him is John Crowder, who is said by police to have confessed that he collaborated with Wimbley in the crime. Wimbley is shown leaving the inquest in custody of a policeman.

INTEREST IN BERLIN VISIT BY FRENCHMEN

Paris, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Europe awaits with consuming interest not unshared with anxiety the results of the official visit that Premier Pierre Laval and Foreign Minister Aristide Briand are making to Berlin tonight.

The visit may lead to a "burial of the hatchet" by the great nations which have been more or less antagonistic and certainly mighty rivals for power since the Franco-Prussian war of 1870 and the great war.

M. Briand, "Apostle of Peace," who has been calumnyed by many of his own people for seeking a rapprochement with Germany, finds in this visit a crowning of his hopes.

Worn and broken from age and hard work, he is confident that there are enough peace loving people in both Germany and France to realize the necessity of genuine cooperation in every line of activity.

M. Laval, France's "laconic" statesman who has won a name both at home and abroad as a shrewd and capable leader, will bring to the conversations the freshness and optimism of comparative youth. He is 47. With France solidly backing his ideas, he will be able to tell Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius that the French republic wishes sincerely to collaborate with its great neighbor, Germany.

Both Briand and Laval are radicals in their up bringings and both have been Socialists. No Frenchmen could better serve as messengers of the people. They will speak the voices of the people in France—of the "man in the street" as well as of the French government.

Some anxiety has been voiced in Paris as to how Laval and Briand will be received by the people of Germany and whether or not Fascism followers of Adolf Hitler might not stage manifestations against France.

Ocean Fliers in New York

New York, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The three survivors of the ill-fated transatlantic plane Eza—two Germans and a Portuguese—had a full day ashore today for the first time in weeks.

Willy Rody, owner of the wrecked plane, and Christian Johannsen, the chief pilot, were guests of Dr. Paul Schwarz, German consul in New York. Tomorrow they will attend a church service of thanksgiving, arranged for them at the German Lutheran Zion Church.

Fernando Da Costa Vieira, the third member of the party, was confined to his hotel room, nursing an injury to one leg. He fell against the motor of the wrecked plane as she tossed in the Atlantic for 134 hours.

MRS. COLLINGS NOT TO APPEAR IN COURT AGAIN

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Miss Leonora Adverta Murtart, a nurse, who had locked herself in her landlord's apartment and had warned detectives they would not be admitted without a search warrant, became today an important figure in the investigation of the Collings murder mystery.

Authorities wanted to question her on a report she knew the Jersey City man who had a motive to kill Benjamin P. Collings, who was beaten, tied hand and foot, and thrown overboard from his cruiser, the Penguin, in Long Island Sound the night of Sept. 9.

Inspector Underwood in charge of Jersey City detectives, said he did not know whether a warrant would be issued.

Assistant District Attorney Fred J. Munder of Suffolk county, and Felix Di Martini, special investigator, arrived in Jersey City late last night and conferred with police officials.

Munder and Di Martini said they were here on the Collings case, but refused to say in what connection.

Huntington, N. Y., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Objections of Mrs. Benjamin Collings to further testimony added complications today to the inquest into the drowning of her husband by yacht pirates.

Mrs. Collings, nervous and almost at the point of collapse after three hours of questioning yesterday, turned to her father-in-law, H. P. Collings, and her attorney, William A. Kelly, at adjournment and said: "I am not going on the stand again today, and I don't promise to come back here either."

Mr. Kelly later said: "Mrs. Collings will not go back again at any time under present conditions."

Kelly objected to the publicity given his client at public hearings before Corona William Gibson in the Huntington town hall.

Mrs. Collings lives in Stamford, Conn., and her presence as a witness was purely voluntary.

"I can't force her to come," commented Alexander G. Blue, district attorney of Suffolk county, who questioned her at the inquest, "but I hope to have her on the stand again next week."

Passed it On
Buffalo, N. Y.—Helen Hicks is richer by a gold sovereign. End Wilson, British champion, gave it to her after their match in the semi-final round of the women's national tournament. "This was given to me by a friend in England who told me to give it to the first woman who beat me in the United States," she explained.

Plan Move For Better Conditions In Section

Will Seek Unified Effort for Diversified Farming and Program to Meet Present Conditions; Oppose Special Session Legislature.

A united effort on the part of all for betterment of conditions through out Eastern North Carolina is the aim and object of a committee selected in a meeting yesterday in Goldsboro called by the newspaper men of this section and attended by bankers, merchants, farmers and representatives of various lines of business and industry. The meeting also expressed the belief that a special session of the legislature at this time to deal with the farm problem would be without benefit and adopted resolutions against the calling of such a session.

Additional resolutions urged the formation of rural-urban councils throughout the eastern section for a closer contact between the country people and the townspeople with a view to working in greater harmony for the benefit of all. The newspapers were urged to seek out those farmers successful through diversified programs and spread the gospel of their successful through diversified programs and spread the gospel of their success throughout their territories with the view to encouraging others to adopt similar programs. The preachers were likewise urged to take advantage of their opportunities to carry to the people of the section the doctrine of present day needs and a spirit of faith and optimism.

The committee was instructed to get together at the earliest possible date and endeavor to work out a practical and concrete plan for greater development and betterment of Eastern Carolina and to act in getting all organizations, businesses, individuals and newspapers to aid in carrying out the plan.

The committee composed of bankers, newspaper men, tobacco warehousemen, time merchants, fertilizer men and farmers is as follows: Farmers: G. B. D. Parker, Dewey Harsellon, Elizabethtown; F. W. Boswell, Wilson; Dr. C. R. Young, Angier; J. E. Winslow, Greenville; Leland Kitchen, Scotland Neck; F. P. Latham, Belhaven, and J. C. Braswell, Rocky Mount.

Newspaper men: J. L. Horne, Rocky Mount; John D. Gold, Wilson; Talbot Patrick, Goldsboro; Henry A. Dennis, Henderson; J. A. Sharpe, Lumberton.

Bankers: W. H. Woodard, Greenville; A. W. McLean, Lumberton; H. D. Bateman, Wilson; R. P. Holden, Smithfield and W. A. Hunt, Henderson.

Tobacco warehouse men: B. B. Sugg, Greenville; Joe Eagles, Wilson, and W. E. Fenner, Goldsboro. Supply merchants: J. H. Blount, Greenville; John L. McNair, Laurinburg; William Sanders, Smithfield; Sam Clark Tarboro; J. R. Turnage, Ayden, and Felix Harvey, Kinston. Fertilizer manufacturers: E. B. Borden, Goldsboro and Graham Woodard, Wilson.

State To Erect Central Prison

Raleigh, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Erection of new central prison plant adjacent to the Polk prison farm just outside the Raleigh city limits was one step nearer today.

The State Prison Board approved the architect's plans for the building yesterday. The plant will cost approximately $250,000. The last General Assembly appropriated $400,000 for prison building.

The plans call for a group of buildings enclosed by a wire fence. There will be one central building of three stories, four dormitories, a kitchen and dining room, prison hospital and recreation quarters. The dormitory capacity will be 600. The plant will be fireproof.

Governor Gardner and the prison advisory commission, to whom the plans were referred by the prison board, must approve the plans before the contract is let.

Escaped Convict is Captured Here

Brodus Godley, white convict, recently escaped from Caledonia prison farm, was captured in this county last night by Deputy Sheriff Herbert Harris and Constable Gus Stokes. Brodus is confined in jail here awaiting return to State Farm or prison as may be directed. The arrest was made late last night near Yankee Hill below Pactolus.

Godley was serving four to six years following conviction in Beaufort county, on a manslaughter charge.

T. P. A. MEETING CLOSED TODAY

Presidents and Secretaries Enjoy Two Days Conference in This City.

Seventy-five presidents and secretaries of the North Carolina Division Travelers Protective Association were enroute home this afternoon after concluding a two-days conference here at noon. The conference included three business sessions, a banquet and reception for those present and proved a most enjoyable occasion.

Meeting yesterday afternoon at Sheppard Memorial Library the visitors hear an address of welcome by Mayor R. C. Flanagan, followed by another address of welcome by James T. Patterson on behalf of the local post of the association. J. B. Kittrell, president, then stated the purpose of the conference and reviewed briefly the workings and accomplishments of the organization.

Included in the out-of-town speakers at the two business sessions were Dr. Isaac W. Hughes, Henderson, state chaplain; O. W. Patterson, Greensboro, national membership chairman; A. H. Holland, chairman of the state board of directors. Each of the talks dealt with various phases of the work of the organization and proved instructive as well as interesting to the hearers.

At 6:30 last evening the gathering was entertained at a delightful banquet at the Woman's Club on West Third street, at which time an enjoyable musical program was rendered by the Misses Fullilove, Mrs. J. H. Waldrop and Mrs. R. A. Tyson, of this city. One of the highlights of the banquet was an address by Mrs. A. H. Holland, of Winston-Salem, who spoke on the recent San Francisco convention of the national association.

After the banquet the state board of directors held a meeting at the home of J. B. Kittrell on East Fifth street, after which Mr. and Mrs. Kittrell gave an informal reception for the visitors and members of the local post.

At the directors meeting plans for the coming year were discussed including a determination on the part of the North Carolina Division to again carry away the honors at next years convention at Atlantic City. For the past five years this state has led in the number of applications written.

New System at University

Chapel Hill, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The "Collins System" of scoring, which allows the possibility of adding two extra points after each touchdown, will be used in the North Carolina-Wake Forest football game here this afternoon.

Devised by Chuck Collins, North Carolina head coach, the system provides for putting the ball in play on the 10-yard line after a touchdown. Four downs are allowed and if the goal is reached by running or passing plays two points are scored. If the goal is kicked, one point is added.

Collins contends the system will reduce the number of tie games. Pat Miller, the Wake Forest coach, agreed to try the system as an experiment.

PROHIBITION ISSUE BEFORE EPISCOPALIANS

Committee of Twenty One from House of Bishops Divided On Question.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Prohibition has joined the list of issues upon which there is registered a difference of opinion among delegates to the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Prohibition was both criticized and defended in a report by the committee of twenty-one adopted by the House of Bishops. The committee, headed by James E. Freeman of Washington, was appointed to consider prohibition and lawlessness, world peace and industrial dislocation.

"There is," the report recites, "widespread and honest difference of opinion in the nation, within the church an among members of this convention as to the wisdom and desirability of retaining the Eighteenth Amendment and the consequent legislation in their present form."

"There are those who honestly favor the retention of the law as it now stands, believing it has accomplished good, and may accomplish more and better results."

Others, not less devoted to the high purpose which prompted the passage of this law, believe that in its present form it ministers to disrespect for law and the growth of a dangerous spirit of anarchy."

The committee hesitates to recommend concerted action on the grounds that issues involved are "highly controversial and closely related to partisan politics."

"The enforcement of the prohibition law," the report states, "has been steadily resisted, and has been accompanied by graft, corruption, lawlessness, murder and political cowardice and hypocrisy—lawlessness, however, issues in part out of conditions which have not always been given full consideration, such as the enactment of laws, or the failure to repeal laws which do not command or continue to enlist public confidence, and have lost the respect and support of a majority of the people."

The ignoring or violation of such laws, the report continues, results solely because the laws affect personal rights and liberties which individuals themselves determine to maintain, regardless of social consequences.

Problems regarding marriage and divorce and the use of the American missal, mass book, were in the hands of the House of Bishops today, after a heated session of the House of Bishops.

Provisions on the matrimonial canon adopted by the deputies included premarriage instruction, the establishment of an ecclesiastical court in each diocese a missionary district and the right of divorced persons, remarried by civil authorities, to retain their communicant rights in the church after applying to an ecclesiastical court of recognition.

Youth Confesses Attempted Holdup

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A troubled conscience was given by a young man who said he was Archie Glenn, 21, of Winston-Salem, as the reason for his surrender today and confession of an attempted holdup.

At the police station he admitted entering the restaurant of Ralph Allen with a companion beating him with dishes and a blackjack and running away without the contents of the cash register when both lost their nerve.

"I have never in my life done anything like this before," Glenn said on giving himself up. Margie Saylor, 21, of Girardville, Pa., and Frances Tractett, 21, of Greensboro were taken into custody as suspicious characters when Glenn gave their names as reference to show he had a good reputation.

LEGISLATOR FROM CASWELL DEAD

Reidsville, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Julius Johnston, 42, member of the House of Representatives from Caswell county, died early today at his home at Yanceyville from heart disease.

Set Early Example

Chicago—Northwestern University co-eds are citing the example of an illustrious alumna in their campaign for smoking privileges. Miss Jean Van Evers, woman's editor of the campus paper, found a story in old files about Frances Willard, founder of the women's Christian Temperance Union, being caught smoking a cigarette by a preceptor.

Legion Commander

Henry L. Stevens, Jr., of Warsaw, N. C., is the new national commander of the American Legion. He was elected at the Detroit convention.

STEVENS TO BE PAID HONORS

Official Celebration for new Legion Commander to be Held October 9.

Charlotte, Sept. 26.—(AP)—North Carolina official welcome to Henry L. Stevens will be held here October 9 when the Warsaw attorney, Legion commander of the American Legion, will be feted with an all-day celebration.

Senator Rivers Johnson, of Duplin county, home of Commander Stevens, announced from Warsaw last night, after a telephone conversation with the Legion head, that Charlotte had been selected for the official state welcome.

Definite plans for the celebration will be worked out here within the next few days by Legionnaires, Chamber of Commerce, and city officials, the tentative program calls for a street parade, in which every organization and individual in the state will be invited to take a luncheon and an address by Commander Stevens.

Legion posts throughout the state will be invited to send official delegates to attend the ceremonies. State officials will also be asked to take part.

Commander Stevens' itinerary after he leaves Detroit calls for a conference with President Hoover in Washington Monday at noon. He plans to leave the national capital Monday night, arriving in Goldsboro Tuesday at 6:30 A. M., where he will be the breakfast guest there of Wayne Post No. 11.

A motorcade from Duplin county will escort him to his home town of Warsaw, arriving there at 10 A. M. where a local welcoming party will be held. More than 1,000 Duplin county citizens attended a mass meeting in Warsaw last night at which committees were appointed to arrange for the celebration.

The new commander will probably be entertained by a number of individual posts before coming here for the state-wide gathering.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY

South Atlantic States: Generally fair, except showers Wednesday or Thursday, cooler at beginning, warmer middle, and cooler near end of week.

Doolittle Sets Flight Record

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Major James H. Doolittle, who left St. Louis at 9:35 A. M., today landed at the Indianapolis Municipal Airport at 10:27 A. M., covering the 240 miles in 52 minutes.

Doolittle's association said the record between the two cities, which are 230 miles apart, was one hour and 19 minutes, made by Captain Frank Hawks in a westward flight.

Doolittle broke the record between the cities established by Captain Frank W. Hawks, who flew in the opposite direction.

HOOVER URGES LESS DEMAND FOR SPENDING

Says Federal Government Needs to Decrease not Increase Expenditures.

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Faced with a two-horned problem of declining federal receipts and mounting expenditures, President Hoover pushed an attack today against group demands upon Congress for new spending.

"At least until 'the country is in better conditions,'" the President said, "voluntary associations, business and the general citizenry should realize a need 'not to increase but to decrease the expenditures of the federal government.'"

However, his call for a halt in what was termed the annual massing up of pressures in behalf of self-interested sectional projects gave no final answer as to the administration's course toward taxation.

It fell almost in the midst of diverging proposals by members of Congress for curing the nation's fiscal ailments. Some continued their advocacy of new federal borrowing to meet the deficit, a rapidly mounting number called for additional taxation, whether upon incomes high and low, general sales or luxuries.

The administration's answer is due within a month or six weeks. As an example of what he meant by taking the spending pressure off the coming Congress, President Hoover cited and praised the action of the American Legion in voting against demands for new bonus legislation.

Mr. Hoover said the Legion had "set an example to other voluntary bodies in the country in its determination to make no requests of the next Congress."

As a further instance, he cited 47 bills introduced in the last Congress—all of them rejected. He said, additional appropriations of $6,100,000,000 would have been called for during the current fiscal year and nearly $17,000,000,000 during the next 10 years.

Briefly the situation being attacked by the President is this: Receipts for the current year are $241,000,000 less than at the same time last year. Expenditures are $170,000,000 greater. The deficit last year approached the billion dollar mark.

Liquor Raids Cause Shortage Hotel Bell Boys

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Atlanta had a bell boy shortage for a time last night—but not for long. City and county police, bearing 69 indictments returned by a special grand jury that convened yesterday, invaded 18 downtown hotels to make wholesale arrests among negro bell boys on various charges including liquor selling.

By the time 44 had been arrested, the word of the raid spread and others fled their posts—uniforms and all.

Walters were pressed into service but shortly news of the arrests reached the negro sections of the city and in a little while numbers of unemployed negroes congregated about the hotels in search of replacement duty. They solved the bell boy problem.

Unemployment Meet at Chicago Closes

St. Louis, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Leaving behind a prediction "the flames that now are consuming the butts and hovels of the poor owing to the economic errors of capitalists and industrialists will destroy the palaces of the rich unless these conditions are corrected," Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma was on his way back home today from his unemployment conference.

The conference, attended by representatives from 19 middle western states, closed last night after listening to three congressmen urge that money for the relief of unemployment be obtained through heavy increases in the income taxes upon individuals with large incomes.

Kingsford-Smith After New Record

Singapore, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, attempting to set a new flight record between Australia and England, flew over Singapore last night.

He dropped a note reading: "I cannot stay. Am in a real hurry this time." The small airplane, Southern Cross Jr., sped out of sight in a few minutes toward the west.

BOUND TO SUCCEED

The movement started at Goldsboro yesterday for the unification of all forces in Eastern North Carolina directed toward the betterment of conditions is bound to succeed. It goes without saying that in this section we are dependent upon the farmer to a great extent and as the farmer prospers, so prospers the section. Likewise it is true that when we find a successful farmer we find one that is holding to his faith and diversifying his efforts on the farm rather than depending entirely upon cotton and tobacco, and when every farmer as well as every business man and individual in the section realizes this prosperity will return.

For this reason we say that the movement started yesterday is bound to win for, while diversification has been preached throughout the section for years, never before has there been such a united effort along this line as will come from the movement launched yesterday.

Faith in our God, faith in our fellowman, faith in the future and the use of a little common business sense is what is needed to put our section, or any other section for that matter, on the road to progress and prosperity and united together in these things the future should hold no fears for us.

LAKE SHORE LINE BENDS AGAIN FOR CHICAGO'S TRAFFIC

Chicago. —(AP)—Once more Chicago is calling on its flexible lake shore line for traffic relief.

Broad boulevards strung along parkways reclaimed from Lake Michigan in the last decade have done much to ease congestion, providing high-speed "outer drives" both north and south from the loop.

Now the job of linking these north and south routes is under way.

It involves construction of a $10,000 viaduct and bridge over the mouth of the Chicago river.

This entails pushing the shore line immediately south of the river mouth 445 feet farther out, but Chicago has so completely tamed its shore line that this part of the job is incidental.

Some 73,000 automobiles pass over the famous Michigan avenue bridge in an average day at present. Much of this is through traffic which must forsake the scenic and speedy lake front drives and join this congested stream to get over the river.

Officials of the Chicago Plan commission estimate that the new bridge—it is scheduled for completion by October, 1932—will carry a daily traffic load of 50,000 cars.

RETURN TO STANDARD TIME TOMORROW

New York, Sept. 26.—(AP)—New York City and other eastern communities in which timepieces have been an hour fast since the last Sunday in April will return to standard time tomorrow. Most persons will turn back their clocks an hour before going to bed and will have an opportunity for an hour's more sleep than usual.

SAM

By Freeman Lincoln

SYNOPSIS: The tangle of Sam Sherill's affairs increases when her stepfather, Fourth Aldersea, suddenly becomes wealthy through the mysterious promotion of a worthless invention. She has promised to marry Peak Abbott, young millionaire, to relieve the family's former poverty. But Freddy Munson, whom she believes she loves, demands a showdown.

Chapter 28

FREDDY RETURNS "Oh," said Peak, when Sam told him she was having lunch with Freddy Munson. He dropped her hand and the grin disappeared.

"Of course," said Peak in a tone that was curiously flat. "I remember him perfectly."

"And you're sure you don't mind? He's just in town for the day—"

"Of course not," said Peak quietly. "Of course I don't mind."

He stood there for a time after she had driven away. His blue bath robe fluttered grotesquely about his long legs. Then he shivered, and turned toward the house.

Sam met Freddy the main door of the Express building. When she first caught sight of him he was leaning against the marble wall near the elevators. The collar of his light spring overcoat was turned up at the back and the brim of his gray felt hat was pulled down over his eyes. He was reading a newspaper.

Sam drew a sharp little breath, being inevitably reminded of the first time she had met him for lunch. The hour was the same and so was the place. Freddy was the same. He was wearing the same clothes in the same way. He might have been reading the same paper. She found herself wondering if there had been any interval at all. She also found that she was shaken and embarrassed. She wanted to run away.

Freddy, too, was embarrassed. She could tell by the quick nervous way in which he straightened as she approached, and by the manner of his greeting. "Hello, there," he said with elaborate carelessness. "How are you? Let's eat, shall we?"

"Hello, Freddy," Sam laughed nervously. "I'm splendid, thanks, and I'm quite ready to eat."

He nodded and led the way out of the Express building, across the crowded street, and into the equally crowded little restaurant on the far corner. He said nothing and Sam said nothing until they were seated and their order given.

"Well," he grinned and for the first time they were looking into each other's eyes. "Something should be said, I suppose, about water under the well-known bridge."

"I suppose so," Sam resisted a strong temptation to look away. "Quite a lot of it seems to have flowed, Freddy."

"How's your job?" he asked abruptly.

"My job?" Sam realized angrily that she was suddenly blushing. "I gave it up."

"Oh, I see." Whatever Freddy saw must have been unpleasant, for his familiar scowl appeared and remained. "So that's it, is it?"

"Yes," she stirred uneasily. "You see, Freddy, I don't have to work any more. Fourth suddenly made money."

"Fourth?" He stared, incredulous. "Your step-father?"

"Yes. I told you about his invention, didn't I?"

"I don't remember." Freddy was leaning back in his chair now, but he was watching her closely. "At any rate, let's hear about it."

Sam seized the opportunity. She found that for some reason she wanted to talk on and on about Fourth and his inventions.

Their luncheon had arrived, and they ate it as she talked. Freddy smoked one cigarette after the other, and interrupted frequently to ask questions. He inquired all about the circuit-breaker. He encouraged her to tell him all about the effect of this sudden wealth upon herself. He gave strict attention to her account of her new dresses, of parties she had attended. Sam gave all the facts such generous consideration that the desert plates had been carried away before the last word was spoken. Freddy was stirring his coffee as she finished, and Sam, glancing up, saw that he was smiling quietly to himself.

"And so," he said gently. "You have all the money you need now. You don't have to worry and you don't have to work. You can dance, and go to teas, and play bridge. It's nice, isn't it?"

"Yes," Sam managed to nod calmly, although she could feel the rapid beating of her heart. "It's very nice."

Freddy continued to smile. "You like it, don't you? It's quite evident that you like it."

"Yes." Again Sam nodded. "I've never had very much of it before, you know, Freddy. I like it."

"Of course." He placed his coffee spoon carefully beside his cup. "You must have enjoyed yourself these last two months. You've been having a good time, haven't you, Sam?"

terribly sorry." "Why should you be sorry? Every body likes to be happy, I imagine. His smile seemed to have become a fixture. He was smiling as he glanced at his watch. "Well," he said in a friendly, conversational tone, "it certainly has been great seeing you, Sam. I've enjoyed it tremendously, but now I'm afraid I'll have to be getting along. My train leaves in twenty minutes."

Sam gasped. "Your train! But—where are you going?" "To New York. After that I'm not sure."

"But Freddy!" Sam was bewildered. "You can't go like this! Why, we haven't even begun to talk!"

"Haven't we?" Freddy suddenly seemed like a total stranger. His polite surprise as he questioned her was that of a casual acquaintance. "I thought we'd been doing quite a bit of talking. What else is there for us to talk about?"

"Everything!" Sam was frightened now, and desperately determined. "You simply can't go away like this! Why, don't you realize that you and I were—that we—"

(Copyright, Freeman Lincoln) Freddy explains his manner, on Monday, and asks Sam: "Can you tell me you are in love with me?"

GOVERNMENT JOBS UNDER MUSSOLINI NO SNAP

Rome.—(AP)—Civil Service employees in Italy have had their duties laid down for them by Mussolini, who, in an editorial in the first number of the state workers' magazine, told them they were not as other workers who washed up and went home when the whistle blew.

"The state employee, from the highest to the lowest grade," said the Duce, "cannot be foreign to the state, but is rather an integral part thereof."

Elaborating his theme, Mussolini told them: "An employee of the Fascist state is not a man who, for a certain task, receives a compensation and, finished with his day's work, is able to disinterest himself from the state."

He is, the Fascist leader told them, a man who represents the state and his work is not a simple matter of economic pressure, but a duty, an act of "an exquisitely moral nature."

DAILY REPORT

Greenville Tobacco Market

Greenville continues to sell more tobacco than any market in Eastern Carolina. Sales some larger yesterday. Prices on better grades stronger. Unquestionably Greenville is the leading market in Eastern Carolina, although we are selling much tobacco from 1c to 3c that other markets are passing, which of course affects the general average.

With 5 sales you can get your tobacco sold on any floor every day. Greenville is attracting farmers from a longer distance than ever before and all say that the Greenville market is making the best showing of them all.

When you sell in Greenville you are getting the benefit of the best facilities in the East, and our buyers have orders from every user of bright tobacco in the world.

Every warehouse pulling together is making Greenville the very Best Market in the State.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rain' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes the good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't take for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. See at all stores. ©1931, C. M. Co.

GREENVILLE PATRIOTS CHAPTER, D. A. R. HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING. The Greenville Patriots Chapter of D. A. R. met Friday, Sept. 25 at Sheppard Memorial Library in their first full meeting, with Mrs. Travis Hooker, regent, presiding, opening with Flag Salute, American's Creed. Devotional was led by the chaplain, Mrs. Sam White, reading 121st Psalm and closing with the Lord's Prayer.

The secretary, Mrs. W. H. Tolson being absent, Mrs. Thomas McGee called the roll and read the minutes. A short business session was held and letters from State Regent Mrs. Sidney Cooper, and Mrs. Lowell Hobart, President General, were read, urging renewed energy and interest in D. A. R. activities for the year and also extending an invitation to the Southern Divisional Conference D. A. R. to be held Oct. 22-23 at Charleston, S. C.

An invitation was read from the Thomas Hadley Chapter, hostess to the eighth district meeting to be held in Wilson, Oct. 7th. A large delegation is desired.

Beautiful programs for the year were distributed and a vote of thanks given to program committee. Mrs. R. L. Smith told of the wonderful historical celebration to be held in Yorktown Oct. 16-19, the 150th anniversary of the surrender to General Washington. Everyone is urged to attend.

The program for the meeting was a splendid talk by Miss Church of Crossmore School. This school is a combination of State and Mission schools, founded 1911, and growing from 34 pupils to 700, and $50.00 will pay the tuition. We were glad to hear her say the D. A. R. had done more for the school than any other organization. She displayed a wonderful exhibit of shawls, bed spreads, bags, bath mats, etc., woven by pupils and which were on sale. This chapter will have these articles to sell here in December. We welcomed as our guests Mrs. T. A. Person, Mrs. R. H. Wright and Mrs. B. W. Moseley.

Farmville Literary Club. Farmville, Sept. 25.—A comprehensive biography of the brilliant and notorious American leader and traitor, Benedict Arnold, based upon historically accurate facts regarding his career, was presented by Mrs. E. C. Beaman and Mrs. G. A. Jones at an interesting meeting of the Farmville Literary Club on Wednesday afternoon, held at the home of Mrs. Claude Barrett, and presided over by Mrs. J. W. Joyner in the absence of the president.

Mrs. Nonie Barrett assisted the hostess in service of delightful refreshments. Mrs. B. Streeter Sheppard of Raleigh, was a guest at this time.

ARGENTINA SEEKS "ALKY" MOTOR FUEL IN CORN. Buenos Aires—(AP)—An official commission has been named to investigate the feasibility of extracting fuel alcohol from corn on a commercial basis.

Although the government operated portion of the oil industry produces two-thirds of the domestic gasoline and Argentina ranks seventh among world oil producers, the country imports about half of its needed fuel at an annual cost of $50,000,000.

NOTICE OF SALE. There will be offered for sale at auction for cash to the highest bidder at 10 o'clock a. m. Thursday, October 1st, that piece of property situated in the town of Greenville and commonly known as the National Bank Building. Sale will be conducted in front of said building.

Love Laughs at Locksmiths. The Pat Man—Love laughs at locksmiths and freight trains. Archdeacon Fairies swung off a freight train here, married two couples and caught the caboose as the train started again. The two ceremonies took four minutes. The archdeacon had to hurry, for the next train would not come through for two months.

Trust Planned To Save Swiss Watch Industry. Geneva—(AP)—Reorganization of the Swiss watch industry, to eliminate harmful competition, is being sought by the country's chief watch makers, who have fallen on hard times.

The plan contemplates formation of a national Swiss watch "trust," which would control exportation while leaving management and production to individual manufacturers.

It is proposed that the federal government, which is always prompt to succor the country's big industries in distress, should buy a big block of stock in the export corporation.

It is proposed that the federal government, which is always prompt to succor the country's big industries in distress, should buy a big block of stock in the export corporation.

The watch and clock industry of Switzerland, one of its four economic mainstays, is constituted of scores of companies, large and small. In commercial quarters it is said that underselling to foreign buyers has been a great drain on the industry.

Another practice denounced as harmful is the export of Swiss watch movements and expert Swiss workers. In foreign factories the Swiss movement is skilled Swiss hands becomes a foreign product and is sold to the advantage of the foreign industry.

Horology is an ancient and honored occupation in Switzerland. In 1882 there were 2,662 factories and 135,000 workers engaged in making timepieces. By 1929 the watch factories had grown to 8,314 and watch workers numbered more than 400,000, a tenth of the population.

Now of the unemployed persons entered no Swiss insurance rolls, 18 per cent are watch workers; of the partially-employed, 56 per cent are of the same trade.

Switzerland's latest count of unemployed, total and partial, is more than 333,000 persons.

Colored Singing Contest Given Big Hand Last Night

A capacity house greeted the colored singing contest, held at Gorman's warehouse here last evening. Every available seat and tobacco truck was filled, and hundreds stood in rapt attention as the "boys" and a woman's quartet "put it on"—in the words of some present.

Old Southern plantation songs; Negro Spirituals; and "old-time barbershop" harmony made up the program.

On all sides was the remark: "Singing! negroes I ever saw; I could listen for hours to that harmony." And various other favorable comments were heard all over the house.

Reservations were for white and colored, and it is hard to say which enjoyed the singing most.

A Greenville colored orchestra furnished music between numbers; but they scarcely had a chance as the quartets were "ready" when called—and "deliver the goods" they did. The judges had a real time deciding the winners. Should they give first prize to Rocky Mount, Washington, Raleigh or Greenville, was the question. It was a question that Bill Lee, Sam Allen, Ed Williams, Bill Lipscomb and Dall Laughinghouse debated individually and collectively. Finally (and we believe they just wanted to hear more singing) they requested to hear some more singing, and in the end, with the approval of practically everyone present, the first prize went to the Washington Men's Quartet; second prize to the Greenville Second Quartet; third prize going to the boys from Rocky Mount.

When it was announced that the judges were undecided as to which quartet "took" the money—which was singing going on. All of the singers were determined to win and the contest was on again in earnest, Washington, as stated before, being declared winner of first prize.

Many requests have been made to sponsors of the contest to stage it again, and at this time promoters have it in mind to put on the singing contest again sometime soon.

Bernice "Tige" Gardner filled the chair of master of ceremonies, and filled it well.

U. D. C. Meets. The local chapter U. D. C. held a most interesting meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Ward Moore. Miss Moore and Mrs. T. T. Hollingsworth were hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by the president and several items of business disposed of.

A report of the year's work was read and approved by the chapter.

Mrs. Ferey Wells and Miss Ward Moore were named delegates to attend the convention to be held in Charlotte in October. Mrs. J. L. Fleming and Mrs. W. P. Moore were named as alternates.

As next month is the time to elect officers, Mrs. R. H. Wright, Mrs. Della McGee and Mrs. T. A. Person were asked to serve on the nominating committee and report at the October meeting.

At the close of the business hour the program was turned over to Mrs. W. P. Moore who gave a lovely "reading," "Onward Christian Soldiers." Then Miss Geraldine Harris, a pupil of the Third street school, gave a splendid story on Jefferson Davis.

After a round table discussion in regard to dues, the chapter voted to reduce dues to $1.50 for the ensuing year.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Miscellaneous Shower. Farmville, Sept. 25.—A lovely affair of the week was the miscellaneous shower given on Wednesday afternoon at the country home of Mrs. Thomas Lewis by Mrs. Lewis and her daughter, Miss Ellen Lewis in compliment to Mrs. E. Earl Modlin, of Farmville, a recent bride.

Mrs. Modlin was formerly Miss Mary Finette Lewis.

Upon arrival guests were directed to the punch bowl where Misses Bertha and Margaret Lewis served refreshing fruit punch; then to the register presided over by Miss Penelope Lewis.

As refreshments were being served on the lawn at the twelve beautifully appointed tables, a shower of lovely gifts, arranged in a unique way, fell on the table at which the bride was sitting.

Mrs. Fleming Entertains. Grimesland, Sept. 25.—On Thursday evening Mrs. Leslie Fleming delightfully entertained the members of the younger set and a few out of town guests as a farewell courtesy to her sister-in-law, Miss Mary Amanda Fleming, who enters East Carolina Teachers College this fall as a freshman.

The hostess was assisted in receiving by her sister, Miss Dorcas Nooney Jackson and Miss Fleming. Dancing and bridge were enjoyed until a late hour at which time refreshments consisting of bottle Coca-Colas, pickles and chicken salad sandwiches were served.

The honoree was remembered with many pretty and useful gifts.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady, 1 lower to 2 higher on some covering and trading today in the face of relatively easy cables.

Offerings increased after the call and prices eased off to 6.27 for December and 6.58 for March, while October declined to 6.05 making net losses of about 4 to 9 points on the general list.

Sufficient covering developed to steady the market and prices were 2 to 3 points up from the lowest at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported heavy general liquidation absorbed by trade calling on the decline and said that cotton yarns were active with several Lancashire mills reopening. The amount of cotton on the shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at $1,000,000 against 148,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Disappointment over almost complete absence of export business in United States wheat today had a bearish effect on grains. Canadians meanwhile disposed of 750,000 bushels of wheat for shipment overseas. Speculative sellers were restrained by opinions expressed that deflation in money would bring about inflation of commodity prices, and that this in turn would result in better general business.

Wheat closed nervous unchanged to 1-2 lower; corn 5-8 to 1-4 down; oats at 1-4 to 3-8 decline to 1-4 advance, and provisions varying from 3 cents setback to 10 gain.

STOCK MARKET

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Editor
New York, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A steady of nerves, at the end of one of the most trying weeks of the year, was apparent in financial markets today.

Trading slackened in the stock market, and fluctuations were narrower, but a late flurry of selling gave the list a heavy tone at the finish. The market had a fair rally in the early trading, but there were numerous losses of a point or two at the close, with a few wider drops. The bond market was quieter, and some of the foreign issues improved. In foreign exchanges, sterling showed the best tone of the week, recovering about 10 cents, and at no time encountering severe pressure. Commodities were marked by heavy profit taking in silver, after yesterday's advance, the tendency in banking circles to discredit rumors of other nations slipping from the gold basis may have prompted much of the realizing. Several of the pivotal shares were well supported, and closed only a little lower. U. S. Steel rose 2 in the early dealings. U. S. Steel was off 1, and American Can, a fraction, at the close.

Coca Cola was again a weak spot, dropping 5 points. Eastern lost as much. Union Pacific, Good-year and Delaware and Hudson closed 3 to 4 lower.

American Telephone sold off two points, the parallel 1. Other issues closing a point or so lower included Allied Chemical, American Water Works, American Tobacco "B", and International Harvester.

The turnover in stock fell well below a million shares today, compared to 2,500,000 last Saturday. The cotton market sold off a little, closing 35 to 50 cents a bale lower.

In the foreign exchanges, French, Belgian, and Swedish currencies were somewhat lower.

Barons Win Dixie Series

Houston, Tex., Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association held the Dixie baseball series championship today by virtue of a 6 to 3 victory over the Houston Buffaloes, Texas League champions, under the lights here last night.

With the series standing 3-1 against them early this week, the Barons came out of a batting slump to win three successive games.

Two Provincial

New York—Mayor Walker, just back from Europe, thinks his home town newspapers are too provincial. "Our own newspapers, he complains, "are too busy telling about the sensations of our own town to tell the news of other places."

BLONDES ABANDON GOLD STANDARD

New York—Blondes have abandoned the gold standard. Society women returning from abroad are enthusiastic about the effects achieved by their hostesses in London and Paris with the new platinum hair washes and many of them are following suit.

The Universal Circulator

saves 30% to 50% on fuel costs

The Universal Circulator is a new type of residence heater that brings to the home all the comforts of a basement heating plant at a fraction of the cost.

It does not radiate dry, arid heat such as the ordinary stove but circulates healthful, moist, warm air to every nook and corner of the home—there are no hot or cold spots—no chilly corners—heating comfort is equalized in every part of every room.

The most outstanding thing about the Universal Circulator is its economy of operation—it saves at least 1/3 to 1/2 on fuel costs.

The Universal Circulator, with its beautiful two-tone walnut porcelain finish, is more than an amazingly efficient heating unit—it is, as well, an artistic piece of furniture that brings added charm and beauty to the home.

CHALLENGE FROM SMITH & SUGG

Our warehouse was completed Saturday before Tobacco Market opened. Of course we were not able to complete every detail before opening on account of the limited time. We began immediately to eliminate the usual sunspots, which took a few days, AND NOW, THERE IS NOT A "SUNSPOT" IN OUR ENTIRE WAREHOUSE. We had intended using a new style skylight glass, and so advertised, but the factory at the last minute could not make delivery in time. OUR ANSWER TO OUR CRITICS: We are using the same skylight glass in our warehouse that is in general use in warehouses in Greenville and Eastern Carolina. The only difference is, WE HAVE ABSOLUTELY NO SUNSPOTS.

For 18 years we have striven to make Greenville the very best tobacco market in the State, and today Greenville is not only the best tobacco market, but is selling more tobacco than any market in North Carolina.

Come and see for yourself the most perfectly lighted warehouse ever built for the sale of Leaf Tobacco.
