LEAGUE ENDS SESSIONS IN SWITZERLAND

Twelfth Assembly Is Adjourned After Outlining Plan For Armament Truce.

Geneva, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The twelfth assembly of the League of Nations adjourned this afternoon after having set in motion a plan for an armaments truce beginning November 1. The League Council, however, remained in session to consider the Sino-Japanese conflict in Manchuria.

The closing session was marked by an exchange of appeals that the powers use every means to make next February's disarmament conference a success, and the members congratulated themselves over the collaboration of the United States with the League's work at this session, expressing gratitude to Secretary Henry L. Stimson for his interest in the League's work for peace.

In the three and a half weeks of the session the assembly recorded these accomplishments:

It received Mexico into the League and as a member of the assembly.

It invited non-members, including the United States, to participate in its disarmament discussions. America, Brazil, Costa Rica, Egypt and Turkey accepted and participated.

It postponed action to dovetail the League covenant and the Kellogg pact.

It concluded a convention for the protection of whales from indiscriminate slaughter.

It concluded a convention "for strengthening the means of preventing war," embodying a number of minor provisions for checking warlike aggression.

It authorized the European commission to continue its work for another year and to invite participation of non-European states in consideration of any problems of universal concern.

It discussed measures for relieving the world's economic difficulties and authorized further study of a number of proposals for rehabilitation of commerce, industry and finance.

It authorized a study of the economic non-aggression pact proposed by Soviet Russia.

Hope Finger Prints Will Aid Solution of Murder Mystery

Cross Hill, S. C., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Investigating authorities depended today on fingerprints to aid them in solving the mystery of who beat to death W. C. Rasor, 71-year-old retired banker and merchant, and shattered the stock of a shotgun on the head of his son, Jake.

They also had the shotgun, the stock splintered from the barrel and broken in two pieces, as clues. In addition, there were the tracks of a barefoot man found at the Rasor home here where the slaying and attack occurred Saturday night.

The fingerprints were taken from objects in the home yesterday by State Constable J. W. Richardson, assigned by Governor Blackwood to aid Sheriff Columbus L. Owens, of Laurens county, in the investigation.

Shortly after collecting the prints, Richardson left to obtain the services of a fingerprint expert to aid in following up this lead. He was to return today to continue the investigation here.

In the meantime, Jake Rasor, who was attacked by his father's slayer as he returned home about midnight from a ginny and store he operated, was recovering from his wounds at a Greenwood hospital.

He was found in a semi-conscious condition at the Rasor home, where he and his father lived alone, when neighbors heard shots and went to investigate. The barefoot intruder first had fired the shotgun at Jake, who returned fire with a pistol.

Inside was the body of the father, his skull crushed by a blow with a stick of stove wood, and his body covered with his quilt. A gold watch and $15 had been taken from his pockets and the house ransacked, leading to a theory that the slayer possibly entered the home with robbery as a motive.

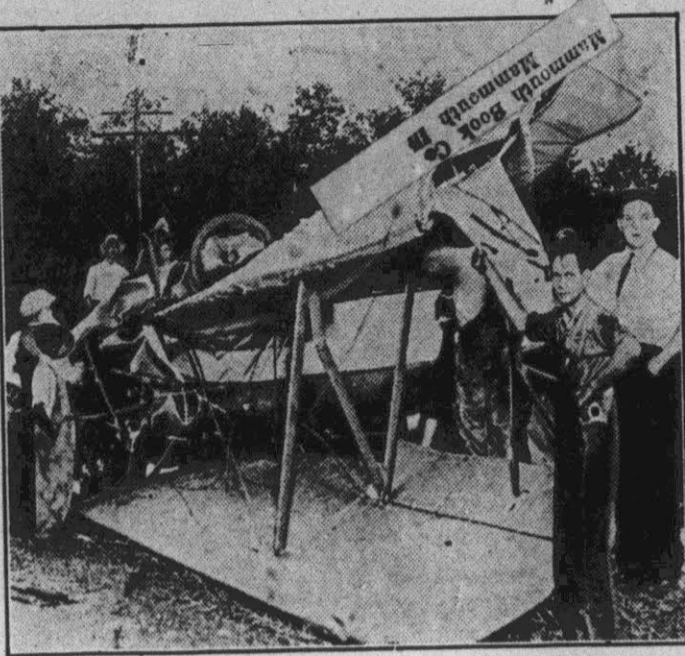

SOVIET DRUGGERY CAUSED BY LAUNDRY SHORTAGE

Moscow.—(AP)—In pursuance of its campaign to liberate women from household drudgery and use them instead in industry, the Moscow soviet had begun to provide for more and better public laundries.

Statisticians have shown that the average housewife spends five days a month in washing and drying clothes.

It is estimated that the public laundries in Moscow are able to satisfy only one per cent of the population's demands.

PLANE LOSES TILT WITH TRAIN

Two licensed aviators were seriously injured when their plane, forced down on a railroad track at Harrisburg, N. C., was struck by a passenger train. The pilots were John Lohr, High Point and Albert Jones, Mount Tabor, N. C.

Says Both Parties To Bar Prohibition Issue

Washington, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Beer, and prohibition generally, will be barred from both Democratic and Republican national conventions next year, if Senator Watson of Indiana, is correct as a prognosticator.

And it will be stamped firmly from the Democratic platform if his party harkens to the plea of Senator McKellar of Tennessee. Both yesterday added their voices to the steady drip, drip of liquor.

POLICE PROBE BOMB BLASTS

Lives of Fifty School Children Endangered By Explosion in Denver, Colorado

Denver, Colo., Sept. 29.—(AP)—The explosion of a group of bombs, one of which endangered the lives of fifty children in a church school occupied the attention of police here today.

Six bombs in all were fired within a few hours of each other last night, resulting in the destruction of one home and a general panic in North Denver and two suburbs. The first three did no damage.

Police originally ascribed the first reported explosion in Valverde, to small boys, but abandoned this theory after a terrific blast rocked the Holy Family Church in North Denver.

Fifty members of a church school club dashed terrified from the building. The blast stopped the motion picture machine in the Oriental theatre across the street and hundreds of theatre patrons rushed for exits.

Mrs. Mary Jackson, who lives near the church, told police she saw a "stout man" leave a car, walk up an alley behind the church school and run out later, a second before the explosion.

A few minutes later a bomb blast rocked a neighborhood a few blocks distant, shattering windows and knocking goods from store shelves for several blocks around.

Police were investigating these explosions when a fourth blast wrecked and set fire to a house owned by Custer Rand in Barnum, another suburb. Rand, who lived next door, could not be found last night.

Thousands of persons stayed in the streets until daylight today, afraid to return to their homes. Police reserves were held in all stations and firemen on leave were recalled to duty as the city hunted vainly for the bomb throwers.

Dismiss Count in Davis Case

Asheville, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Judge E. Yates Webb today dismissed one of 12 counts in the bill of indictment as arguments were begun in the trial of Wallace B. Davis and William D. Harris, former Asheville financiers, on charges of using the mails to defraud.

The count dismissed alleged the two conspired to defraud the Mortgage Guarantee Company of America, Atlanta, Ga.; the Industrial Company, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Bartley and Company, New York; The Prudential Company, Chicago; Hansbrough and Carter, Winchester, Va.; the Atlanta National Bank, Va.; the Montana National Bank, Havre, Mont.; E. W. Hays and Company, Louisville, Ky., and J. B. Hecht, Norfolk, Va.

The remaining counts name 11 specific allegations of using the mails to defraud.

MISSOURI TO DECIDE HEADS OF CONGRESS

Both Democrats and Republicans Look to State to Determine Leadership.

By Cecil B. Dickson.
Washington, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Missouri was the crystal ball into which Republican and Democratic chieftains looked today for an indication of which party will control the next house of Congress.

As ballots were cast in the Seventh District of that state for a successor to the late Representative Samuel C. Major, Democrat, both national congressional committees awaited the outcome avidly. It was expected to indicate the trend of six other special elections to fill house vacancies, all of which will have been held by the night of November 3.

At present the Republicans have 214 seats, the Democrats 213 and the Farmer Labor party one. The last November elections gave the Republicans 218; the Democrats 216, and the Farmer Labor.

Democrats hope to retain the seventh Missouri seat, regained by Major after two years of occupancy by John W. Palmer, Republican, and to capture the first Ohio vacated by the death of Nicholas Longworth, Republican nominee for speaker for his fourth term.

Although they have but little hope of taking the remaining five, they would tie the seats 217 to 217 if the first Ohio fell to the Democratic fold. With the assistance of Kvale, Farmer Labor, Minnesota, they could organize the House because it takes only a majority of one to do it. Kvale, however, has not indicated with which party he will vote.

The Democrats are reported unanimous for representative Garner of Texas, their leader for the past two years, as nominee for speaker. Thus, they can present a united front to the Republicans on organization.

The Republicans, on the other hand, must caucus again to select a successor to Longworth. A number of names are being discussed.

CHURCH DROPS DRY QUESTION

Episcopal Bishops Take No Action On Prohibition Because of Divergent Views.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 29.—(AP)—The House of Bishops and House of Deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church were agreed today that there is a wide-spread difference of opinion as to the wisdom and desirability of retaining the 18th amendment in its present form.

They also were agreed that there is a widespread difference of opinion as to the wisdom and desirability of retaining the church's marriage and divorce canon in its present form.

On the prohibition question, they decided to do nothing because of the highly controversial issues involved. On the matrimonial question they hoped to effect a compromise.

The matrimonial issue was considered last night by a conference committee composed of representatives of the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies. The results were expected to be announced in both Houses today.

The committee was named after the House of Bishops had rejected two proposed canons from the House of Deputies and the deputies had refused to concur on two substitutes offered by the bishops.

Differences of opinion were largely technical. The deputies favor mandatory ecclesiastical courts to consider matrimonial cases. The bishops would leave establishment of such courts to the discretion of the diocese and provide for operation of the courts through the bishops.

The bishops demand that at least one party to a marriage must have been baptized. The requirement is not necessary in the eyes of the deputies. The deputies list the existence of venereal disease as an impediment to marriage and a cause for annulment in case before the ecclesiastical courts. The House of Bishops eliminated this on the ground that it is difficult to determine the existence of social disease.

Both bishops and deputies would restore divorced persons who have remarried by a civil authority to all communicant rights, under a favorable decision from an ecclesiastical court.

McKellar Booms Roosevelt For The Presidency

Rogersville, Tenn., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Senator Kenneth D. McKellar of Tennessee was endorsed for the 922 presidential nomination by state Democratic leaders here last night but announced he would support Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York as "a man, who if nominated, will be elected."

With McKellar as guest of honor, more than 700 Democrats from the Mississippi to the East Tennessee mountains gathered last night at the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union of North America, for a barbecue and political festival.

After the gathering unanimously adopted resolutions commending McKellar to the national organization "as a candidate worthy and able to carry the Democratic party to victory in 1932" the senator presented the name of Roosevelt.

"I am a sensible man," he said "and I believe no Southern man can be elected. I wish to take no steps which would jeopardize the chances of the Democratic party."

SUIT ON NOTE IS CONCLUDED

Flanagan Buggy Co., Awarded Judgment in Civil Court Here Yesterday.

After completing hearing in one case and accepting several compromise actions, civil term of Superior court caught up with its calendar about the noon hour yesterday and recessed until this morning.

Flanagan Buggy Company was awarded judgment for $250 against A. J. and J. C. Taylor. The suit was the outgrowth of a note issued in the purchase of a tractor.

There are approximately forty cases to be given consideration during the present session the third of its kind held since July, and the majority were expected to be disposed of during the sitting.

Judge N. A. Sinclair, of Fayetteville is presiding.

Big Leaf Break In the Old Belt

Danville, Va., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Sales on the old belt tobacco market opened here today with an unusually big break of about 500,000 pounds. Sales were expected to block.

The opening prices indicated that good cutters were selling higher than last year, but that common tobacco was meeting with lower prices. There was considerable complaint from tobacco farmers who gathered in record numbers for the opening sales.

The early prices indicated an average of $8 to $9 per hundred pounds.

Works Will Help State Combine Three Colleges

Raleigh, Sept. 29.—(AP)—North Carolina today had called into service Dr. George Alan Works, University of Chicago dean of students and nationally recognized educational expert, to help in solving the numerous problems surrounding the plan to combine its three greatest institutions of higher learning.

The sub-committee of the governor's commission, organized to effect the combination and have the project in working order to be taken over by a single board of directors next summer, yesterday named Dr. Works, who is expected to attend another meeting scheduled for next Monday in Greensboro.

At that time two associates of Dr. Works will be named to study the situation surrounding all three colleges—the University of North Carolina College for Women.

Dr. Works was formerly president of Connecticut Agricultural College, and a member of the Cornell, University of Minnesota and University of Wisconsin faculties. He has conducted state-wide educational surveys in Texas, New York and Utah.

The sub-committee meeting was attended by Governor Gardner, Dr. William J. Cooper, U. S. commissioner of education, Dr. Fred J. Kelly, of Cooper's staff; Dr. Fred N. Morrison, secretary of the commission; Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of State College; Dr. L. R. Wilson, University of North Carolina; Dr. B. B. Hendrick, North Carolina College for Women and F. J. Jackson, Davidson College.

FETE STEVENS IN GOLDSBORO

National Legion Commander Given Rousing Welcome to the Wayne Capital.

Goldsboro, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Henry L. Stevens, Jr., the Warsaw attorney picked by the American Legion as its commander, came back to North Carolina today to receive an enthusiastic welcome from his fellow Tar Heels.

"Hello, Henry," shouted the crowd of several hundred friends, neighbors and admirers and his train came in here at 6:20 A. M., and the youthful commander appeared on the platform.

All smiles, Stevens threw his arms up in one all-embracing gesture of greeting and shouted like a school boy.

The next moment he was overwhelmed by the charge of his seven year old son, Henry III, and with his arm about the boy received the greetings and congratulations of his mother and of his father-in-law L. A. Beasley, of Kenansville, and Mrs. Beasley.

Surrounded by his admirers and with the Drum and Bugle Corps of the Wayne Post of the Legion, the Goldsboro fire and police departments and the Goldsboro Boy Scouts as an escort of honor, he left for his hotel.

Forty-five minutes later he went to breakfast as the guest of the Wayne post of the Legion. Col. George K. Freeman, of Goldsboro, past commander of the North Carolina Department of the Legion, presided.

Chaplain W. V. McRae, of the Wayne post offered grace and Freeman extended congratulations to Stevens.

"In the next 2 months," Freeman told Stevens, "you will be the guest of many posts in many states, but in no place will your welcome be more sincere than here where you have been known and loved since childhood."

Mayor J. H. Hill, of Goldsboro, welcomed Stevens on behalf of Goldsboro and K. C. Royall, commander of the Wayne post, on behalf of it.

Royall said that with the exception of the presidency there was no elective office which was a greater honor than that of commander of the American Legion.

In replying to the greetings, Mr. Stevens said he had had many thrills in his life, but no thrill like that of coming home today and receiving the welcome of my home people.

He then presented his mother, his wife, her mother and father and several friends of the breakfast.

Funeral Held For Daniel Shackelford

Daniel W. Shackelford, age 39, died at his home in Greene county near Walstonburg Saturday, funeral rites being conducted on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock by Rev. Lonnie Scarborough, pastor of the Walstonburg Christian Disciples Church, and interment made in the Thorne's family burial grounds.

Mr. Shackelford had been a sufferer from tuberculosis for the past ten years, but had fought the disease patiently and consistently until forced to his bed in April. Death followed a critical illness of two weeks' duration. His cheerful disposition won many friends for him and he will be greatly missed by a large circle of acquaintances.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John P. Shackelford, a native of Greene county, and a former resident of Wilson. He was married in October, 1915, to Miss Katie Gay, who survives him, together with five children: Evelyn Hope, Katie Gay, Harper Lee, James Edward and Frey Raymond Shackelford.

ASSAILANTS UNIDENTIFIED

R. L. Nichols Knocked From Buggy by Undetermined Number of Men, Believed To Have Been Seeking Money, While Returning Home From Greenville; Receives Cuts on Neck, Face; Highwaymen Fail to Obtain Small Sum of Change and Escape with Victim's Horse and Buggy.

R. L. Nichols, 70-year-old farmer residing about seven miles west of Greenville, was recovering today from a wound inflicted by highwaymen in a holdup on the Greenville-Farmville highway about two miles from the city last night at seven o'clock.

Although he was unable to identify his assailants, officers were investigating the case today and hoped to be able to obtain some definite clue by tonight.

Mr. Nichols spent yesterday in Greenville and was returning home in his horse and buggy when the attack occurred. He said he was passing through a ravine with his horse walking along the side of the road when he heard a light rustling sound behind him. Turning to discover the noise, he was slugged on the side of the neck and face and knocked from his buggy and to the ground.

He said he was partially stunned by both the blow and fall but realized that two or three men surrounded him and were searching his pockets. He had only a small amount of money in his back pocket, but somehow the thieves failed to find this, and realizing the futility of their mission, one of them said, "Let's go."

They mounted the buggy and drove off down the road. Mr. Nichols, although suffering from a quarter of an inch gash in the left side of his neck and an abrasion on the face, recovered sufficiently to enable him to reach home.

The horse and buggy were found at a farm midway between the Nichols home and the scene of the attempted holdup this morning. Neither appeared to have suffered from the effects of use by the highwaymen and were returned home.

Mr. Nichols expressed belief the men had had some knowledge of his activities while in the city yesterday, and believing him to have a large sum of money in his pockets, waylaid him with the intention of obtaining it.

While here, he said he visited the bank and several other places of business before beginning his return trip home. He thought probably his assailants had seen him at the bank and presumed he was returning home with money in his possession.

The point where the holdup occurred is one of the darkest and most deserted on the road between Greenville and Farmville. It is in a ravine and timber growth on each side of the road makes the gloom almost impenetrable at night. The darkness and his semi-conscious condition prevented Mr. Nichols from determining whether the highwaymen were white or colored.

Although they had not been able to obtain a single club this morning, officers started an investigation which they hoped would result in throwing more light on the activities of the highwaymen.

Local Christian Minister Discusses Important News Developments of Week.

As the topic for his discussion of last week's most encouraging news item, William A. Ryan, minister of the Eighth Street Christian Church, selected at Sunday night's service three related articles from the issues of the Daily Reflector; an editorial appearing on Wednesday urging the need for diversification of crops, and the reports of meetings held in Greenville and Goldsboro dealing with the same subject as well as with the reduction of tobacco and cotton acreage. Mr. Ryan stated that what made the week's most encouraging news was not that it was done in these particular instances, but that it indicated that there was an ever present group of clear-thinking men who were determined to emphasize the need of a wider range of production in agriculture. That this note continued to be sounded in the face of the farmers' ignoring of the repeated warning against dependence upon any single crop was the indication of a most encouraging persistence.

In commenting on the matter, Mr. Ryan stated that the history of agriculture clearly indicated that continued dependence upon one crop had always meant eventual bankruptcy. In such cases as tobacco and cotton over-production was an inevitable result. He suggested as a remedy for some of our present ills the matters presented in the editorial and news reports—reduction of tobacco and cotton acreage until production more nearly conforms to the market's demands; the cultivation of such crops as will provide food for humans and feed for stock, thus eliminating the suicidal policy followed by so many farmers, that of using

Girl Aks State To Spare Life Of Mountain Youth

Raleigh, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Willie Rector, awaiting electrocution Friday for assaulting Louis Yancey, Burke county girl, may be informed today of a happier fate because the girl has appealed to Governor Gardner to spare his life.

The boy from the South Mountains strayed into an affair with the girl and, not quite comprehending, into death row at state's prison via the courts, there to abandon hope.

But Louise, her father, J. O. Yancey, 11 members of the convicting jury, Presiding Judge Walter E. Moore and Solicitor L. S. Spurling have filed pleas for clemency upon which the governor is expected to decide today or tomorrow.

Concord, N. C.—(AP)—Mrs. M. P. Guffy sustained lacerations and a sprained back when her auto overturned six miles from Albemarle.

MISSIONARY UNION TO MEET HERE TOMORROW

The twenty-fourth annual session of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Reanoke Baptist Association will be held at Memorial Baptist church tomorrow. The first session will begin at 10:30 o'clock and will be marked by an address of welcome by Mrs. A. W. Fleischmann of Greenville and response by Mrs. W. M. Mass, of Wilson. This will be followed by a report of the year's activities and appointments of committees. The visitors will be served luncheon at the Woman's club by societies of the Pitt and Washington districts. The afternoon session will be devoted to reports of county leaders and an address on China by Rev. I. B. Olive.

COUNTY COURT DEFERRED UNTIL NEXT TUESDAY

The usual session of County court was deferred today until next week. The deferment resulted from the one-week session of civil court which convened here yesterday morning with Judge N. A. Sinclair, of Fayetteville, presiding. Already heavy, the county court docket is expected to require two days or more in disposing of during next week's sitting.

STEAM WHISKEY PLANT CAPTURED EAST OF TOWN

County officers captured a steam whiskey distilling plant in the eastern part of Greenville township yesterday afternoon. It was announced from the office of the sheriff this morning. The raid also netted approximately 1,500 gallons of beer which was being held in preparation for distillation. The still was not in operation.

STING OF AUTUMN VISITS THE LOCALITY

Temperatures, which last week hung around the nineties, held their autumn trend today, and hundreds of citizens began casting about for heavier clothing to guard them against the chill winds. The change in the weather occurred Sunday and the temperatures have dropped intermittently will not exist longer than similar periods in the past.

Arched from stupefaction of extravagant self-complacency that existed in time of deflation, men and women everywhere have turned themselves to the task of making the best of a bad situation, determined not to be downed by a condition successfully surmounted by millions of their forefathers.

The rainbow which the over-optimistic have predicted from time to time has not yet made its appearance, but who doubts that the audacity and resourcefulness of the American people will not bring about the improvement in the near future.

Conditions cannot remain the same all the time and the experience gained from partaking of the dregs of the cup of bitterness of the last several months will be a contributing factor in the ultimate recovery which the optimistic predict is "just around the corner," and which the majority of us devoutly hope will not take long to reach.

Despite the fact that the fetid breath of Communism has carried its contamination to several communities of this country, the followers of this dangerous teaching are conspicuous for their paucity in this area of the nation.

North Carolina heard much of Communist thought during disorders in the western part of the state in recent years; but the lack of success of the organizers and their disciples was so pronounced that they have either given up in desperation or are working so quietly that the effect of their activities has not touched the public pulse.

In this preponderantly agricultural region Communism stands no more show than a snowball in the utmost depths of the infernal regions. The workingmen have only one idea and that is for the perpetuation of the high ideals made extant by the men and women who hundreds of years ago blazed their way from one coast to another in quest of happy and contented life. It is realized by those who toil for the realization of this ideal that they have nothing to gain by attention to a doctrine that has created unhappiness, misery and poverty for countless millions of people in other lands, and their love for liberty, happiness and security will forever prevent them from joining forces with evil influences seeking to tear asunder all that has been done in making possible the goal of their ambitions.

Communism in America is a lost cause—as lost as the cause of his satanic majesty—and all the combined strength of the "Red" element cannot sweep America from the cause chartered by her forefathers when they stepped ashore hundreds of years ago and blessed the land to the cause that has made this nation the cynosure of the eyes of the world.

since that time bringing to the locality the first real evidence of the fall of the year. The metamorphosis not only quickened the human pulse, but caused a speeding up in the business field and this condition is expected to continue until after the holidays.

BUSINESS REPORTED TO BE PICKING UP IN COUNTY

A general improvement in business conditions has been noted during the last few days. It was stated by business men today.

One merchant reported that his business so far this month had been ahead of the corresponding period last year.

With the coming of cooler weather, it was expected that shopping would be conducted upon a more extensive scale than any other period of the year. Shoppers usually delay their purchases of fall and winter goods until the coming of the first biting weather of the cold season, and with a continuance of present weather conditions, augmented by colder temperatures, the revival experienced in the business field was expected to continue.

DCN'T BE FOOLISH

The holdup of Mr. R. L. Nichols near this city last night should be a warning to farmers and all other persons who travel the country roads and carry money in their pockets. Fortunately Mr. Nichols was too wise to have money on his person and therefore did not suffer any monetary loss in the holdup. However, the motive was there and had Mr. Nichols had money with him he would have been just that much loser today in addition to an injured throat and jaw. There are no doubt many people who, visiting the tobacco market, cash their checks and carry the money home with them in their pockets and no doubt the highwaymen thought Mr. Nichols was one of these men when they staged their holdup last night. The man in this day and time who carries money around with him is indeed inviting not only financial loss but bodily injury, and we urge you not to take these chances. The proper and by far the safest place for your money is in the bank. Don't be foolish enough to invite disaster by carrying a large amount of money around with you, especially when you travel the highways at night.

ABOUT TOWN

Trenchantly attacking Secretary Mellon for his participation in private enterprises, Representative Patman, of Texas, proposes to ask for impeachment of the secretary of the treasury at the next session of congress.

The sapientcy of such action no doubt will be questioned by the thousands of followers of Mr. Mellon throughout the nation, but there is a great school of thought who will be glad to see the matter sifted until the charges have been proved true or definitely refuted.

If the secretary is using his knowledge to the benefit of private corporations in which he is a stockholder, then the Texan will be perfectly justified in seeking his removal. If, on the other hand, it can be established that no such relation exists, then it would be nothing but proper and just that impeachment proceedings be abandoned.

Charges and counter-charges have been one of the outstanding developments during the present administration, and while they are regrettable to the extreme, they should have a tendency to relieve the tension existing in the political field and give the public a fairly comprehensive idea as to the composite elements that go to make up leading statesmen of the nation.

The people of this section have remained imperturbable in the face of the severe economic situation, which has swept over the nation and the world the last two years, and despite complaints heard on many sides in recent months, are facing the future confident that this part of the state will be among the first to experience the improvement predicted by leaders by business and public thought.

Deflation of values quite naturally have affected everyone but it seems to be generally realized that this condition is purely temporary and Misses Colleen and Dorothy Little of Greenville, are visiting Miss Anna Little.

Mr. G. V. Smith of Greenville, was here Saturday.

King Mayo had a birthday party Friday night and the party-goers had a fine time, they reported.

Miss Mattie Little who is having much more time up now, went to see her sister Mrs. Estelle Duke, Saturday.

Glenn Moore is quite sick at his home near Bruce.

Quite a large number of young folks went to Mrs. R. B. Tyler's on Thursday night to a class meeting and party. Boiled peanuts, cake and grape juice were enjoyed after the games.

Miss Ruth Pittman who is teaching at Oak City, was at home for the week-end.

Brown Mayo, who is teaching at Bell Arthur, was at home Saturday.

Miss Eloise Marslander who is teaching at Crisp, spent the week-end with Miss Edith Marslander.

Miss Bonnie Boswell who is teaching at Farmville, spent the week-end at Mr. W. H. Moore's.

The cool winds will hasten work on tobacco as fall is here and winter makes itself felt very suddenly sometimes.

As some prices advance people will have more encouragement to work.

Since the highway has been opened up, there is a large number of people passing through our village. We are glad to see them and will welcome those who stop and stay awhile in our midst.

There was an interesting meeting of the Home Demonstration Club at the school house on Thursday evening. Miss Niece talked about and did dry cleaning; also talked of planting the highway with crepe myrtle. Hope all members will be present at next meeting.

Birthday Party.
On Friday evening Mrs. V. C. Carson delightfully entertained a number of young people at a surprise party, the occasion being the 17th birthday of her daughter, Louise. The evening was spent in games and music, after which a delightful ice course was served.

About thirty young people enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Carson.

Leave For Duke Hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Harrington left this morning for Durham to take their little daughter, Jean, to Duke Hospital for treatment. Their many friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS TO GIVE MUSICAL

The music leaders of the Home Demonstration clubs held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of the Home Demonstration agent. Plans were made for the musical program which will be held in the Greenville Woman's Club on Thursday night, October 29. It was decided that each community would use costumes or not, as it chooses. You are invited and you are needed to help with any one of the communities.

Books Needed
The following school books are needed by children unable to buy them: Story Land No. 3; Treasure Box, No. 3; McCall's Speller, No. 1; Outer Door Language, No. 3.

Any one who will give these will please call Miss Lill Wilson.

Did you know that Oh Kay, a thrilling mystery play, was booked for Greenville October 9th?—(Adv.)

French Statesmen Leave Berlin With Faith in Economic Commission.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Premier Laval returned to France with Foreign Minister Briand today, firmly of the opinion that the new Franco-German economic commission was the first step toward world collaboration to restore prosperity.

The same precautions marked the departure of the guests as did their arrival, with heavy squads of armed police hovering in the background to guard against demonstrations.

The streets leading from the hotel to the station were crowded with people shouting viva la Paix. Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius were on hand to wish them farewell.

"The commission will work in harmony with the universal efforts to combat the economic crisis," M. Laval said in a statement. Cooperation with all other nations will be sought wherever necessary.

"This action will be the first step to cooperation which has become the need of the hour and in which all are called to participate."

He made it clear that the plan was not directed against the interests of any other nation and that "the solution of problems put to the commission in no wise will be effected by the mutual raising of customs tariffs."

While the personnel of the commission was not announced, it was reported that Hans Von Raumer, former minister of finance and commerce and an industrial leader, would be a German member and that Paul Bouisson, president of the Paris Chamber of Commerce, would be on the French delegation.

The French statesmen's visit was officially ended with a dinner at the French embassy last night at which American Ambassador Frederic M. Sackett, chancellor Bruening, Foreign Minister Curtius and members of the diplomatic corps were guests.

High Point, N. C.—(AP)—G. J. Harvey and his wife sustained bruises when their car, containing nine other persons, overturned near here as they were returning from Asheville.

talk that promises to spill over into coming Congressional sessions and the 1932 elections.

The Republican Senate leader forecast that both conventions would abandon any attempt to commit their parties on the prohibition issue.

Senator McKellar, in an address at Rogersville, Tennessee, said nothing but a wet plank could prevent a Democratic victory in 1932. He appealed for a campaign based on economic issues and the tariff.

Perry, of Louisburg, president of the North Carolina Legion Auxiliary; Representative C. L. Abernethy, E. M. Thomson, incoming commander of the Wayne post, and State Senator Rivers Johnson, of Warsaw.

The breakfast group broke up at 9:05 and Stevens and his party, led by the Wayne Drum and Bugle Corps as an escort of honor, left for Warsaw and the formal celebration scheduled there.

friends and neighbors.

It was the greatest celebration this little town here has ever known. The law has staged since the Armistice was signed, ending the war Stevens and his buddies fought.

He rode into town amid cheering thousands while fire crackers exploded and airplanes dipped and circled in salute overhead.

Two companies of soldiers and several bands led his automobile down Warsaw's main street while hundreds of automobiles which had formed in parade at Goldsboro where Stevens' train arrived early this morning followed.

In the parade were the Wilmington Light Infantry, Company I of the 120th Infantry, the Fort Bragg band and colors, the Goldsboro Drum and Bugle Corps and the Wilmington Drum and Bugle Corps. All business houses in the town were closed.

The procession wound up at a speakers' stand erected on the school house lawn where Stevens was formally welcomed home and extended congratulations upon his election as commander of the Legion at the Detroit convention last week.

An address by Governor Gardner and Stevens' reply to the greetings were broadcast by a nationwide hook-up of radio stations.

Addresses by Senator Jossan W. Bailey and Cameron Morrison also went out on the national radio hook-up.

All the speakers heaped praise and congratulations upon the new Legion commander. Replying Mr. Stevens said:

"With a voice cracked with emotion, with a heart overflowing with love for my people, I thank you from the bottom of my heart for this welcome. I dedicate my soul on the altar of service. My all is laid at your feet in devoted service. I say to all legionnaires of America, here I am."

With the last words he stepped back with arms outstretched while the crowd burst into uproarious applause.

Describing the Legion as the "greatest and most vital modern organization," Senator Bailey said

SAM

By Freeman Lincoln

SYNOPSIS: Sam Sherrill dreads confessing to Peak Abbott, whom he promised to marry to help her family's poverty, that she has been in love all along with Freddy Munson—even though that love now has cooled. Sam is worried, believing that Fourth Aldersea, her stepfather, has caused the disappearance of Martha, his son Nelson's wife.

Chapter 30

POSTPONED CONFESSION

"Yes, I want to tell you about having luncheon with Freddy Munson today—about that and about some other things," Sam said.

"I see," Peak did not seem particularly interested. There was a tired, almost indifferent note in his voice. "Was the luncheon so very important?"

"Yes," said Sam quietly. "It was important. So are the other things that I want to say. You must let me say them, Peak."

"I don't know what's the matter with me," he said without glancing in her direction, "but I seem to be terribly tired all at once."

"Of course not. What is it?"

He hesitated. "I wonder if you'd mind not talking about Freddy Munson?"

"But, Peak!" Sam gasped in consternation. "I've been waiting all afternoon just for that. It's important!"

"I think I understand," he nodded. "I think I have a fair good idea of what you want to say."

"How can you?" She was mystified. "How can you possibly?"

"I don't know," he shrugged. "Maybe I'm just a good guesser. At any rate, I agree with you that what you have to say is probably very important. That's why I'm asking you not to say it now. I'd like to finish this business of Martha and Nelson before I tackle something else."

"But, Peak! I thought that business was all settled. I thought all you had to do was to tell Nelson where to find Martha and then let him go up there and bring her home."

"It isn't quite as simple as that. I think I'll have to go with him. I want to warn Martha not to say a word to Nelson about Fourth's finger in the pie."

"I'm sorry you're right," Sam said. "I'm sorry, Sam," Peak shrugged uncomfortably. "You probably think I'm unreasonable. I promise you I won't keep you waiting long. If you like, I'll come to your house tonight as soon as I get back."

"Yes," Sam smiled gratefully at the straw. "I wouldn't be able to sleep anyhow, until I talked to you. I must do that, Peak."

He merely nodded, and the rest of the trip was made in silence. When they reached Peak's house Sam refused his invitation to come in. "If you don't mind, I'll drive straight home, and leave everything to you."

"Of course," said Peak. "I'll be able to handle things, I'm sure."

"I don't know how I'll ever be able to thank you," said Sam with sudden humbleness.

"Don't talk about it, please," Peak was gruff. "It isn't anything."

"It's a great deal. You've been wonderful. And you won't forget about tonight? You'll come to the house as soon as you possibly can?"

"Yes, I'll come." His smile was grim. "For better or for worse!"

ROTES STAGE MOCK TRIAL

Two Defendants Are Exonerated After Presentation of Voluminous Evidence.

Dr. Alfred Schultz and J. A. Watson were exonerated of a charge of conduct not coming a Rotarian in a mock trial staged at the regular meeting of the club last night.

The verdict came after voluminous evidence had been presented by both prosecution and defense and was greeted with a roar of laughter from club members and visitors.

The charge was instituted by A. E. Hobgood who asserted that conduct of the two defendants was contrary to the code of ethics of the organization.

F. C. Harding represented the defendants and Lebron Spence the prosecution.

In addition the club enjoyed a delightful musical program by Misses Ariene and Thelma Parker of Belvoir township. The program was marked by use of the guitar, piano and uke.

C. W. Porter, director of high school athletics, told of activities of his department this season, and members of the club purchased tickets to help make the season a financial success.

Howard McGinnis presided over the session and the usual supper was enjoyed.

The closing point made was that the speaker could see no permanent development for such communities as ours until the business and professional men, bankers and farmers seriously set themselves to the task of providing the community with such industries as will insure regular year in and year out payrolls. Such a procedure would provide an economic, financial and industrial basis for prosperity such as can never be attained so long as dependence is placed upon one crop and a short selling season. He stated that if there were in Greenville and the vicinity no men sufficiently

Your Cotton

What will you do with it?

Three propositions are open to you:

(1) Sell it now at the lowest price in 26 years, a price far below the cost of production, and help to run prices down to still lower levels;

(2) Haul it back home, throw it out on the grown, uninsured, and subject to fire and theft risk, and loss in weights and country damage, and put no money into circulation in your community; or

(3) Pool your cotton now, avoid fire and theft risks, avoid loss in weights, avoid any damage, draw your advance within one cent per pound of market value plus amount due for better grades and staples, help put money in circulation, and still hold your cotton.

There is a far better opportunity for cotton to advance beyond the 6c level this year than there was for it to advance above 10c last year or 16c in 1929.

On Guard!

Thoughtful people throughout the United States will again observe Fire Prevention Week, as suggested by the President in his annual proclamation.

This year October 4th ushers it in. Commercial, civic, social and other organizations will hold appropriate meetings. Millions of school children will take part.

You can make a definite contribution to Fire Prevention Week by increasing your efforts to safeguard your own home and business.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

has always been an active factor in Fire Prevention Week—through the National Board of Fire Underwriters and other organizations, and through its local agents in all states.

The purpose of Fire Prevention Week is not only to reduce the fire waste, but to save human lives. In doing that, further reductions in the average cost of insurance will be justified—a cost that has consistently declined for many years.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to a decline of 4 points under a moderate volume of southern selling combined with some selling here for continental account and liquidation which may have been promoted by relatively easy cables.

Traders, however, seemed to be paying less attention to Liverpool fluctuations, which were attributed to partially to changes in sterling rates, and orders here were evidently quite evenly divided. Fluctuations after the call were correspondingly narrow with December ruling around 6.09 and March 6.32 at the end of the first half hour or about 4 to 5 points net lower.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and general liquidation in that market and said Manchester was quieter with the decline in cotton checking business.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Fickleness of Wall Street securities did much to unhinge the grain markets today, and bring about material setbacks in prices.

The world's available wheat supply increased 5,555,000 bushels for the week, and is now 435,768,000 bushels, against 423,699,000 a year ago. European demand for wheat from North America was meager, with purchases of only 250,000 bushels exclusively Canadian.

September corn as well as all new crop deliveries of corn sold today at bottom levels heretofore unreached this season. September wheat equaled the season's lowest quotations.

Wheat closed nervous, 3-82 1-4 cents down. Corn 3-8-1 off, oats at 5-83-4 decline, and provisions unchanged to 12 cents up.

STOCK MARKET

By CLAUD A. JAGGER

(Associated Press Financial Editor) New York, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Further hurries of selling kept the securities markets unsettled today.

In the share market, prominent industrials and several utilities recorded new lows for the bear market, but rails showed notable resistance to the declining tendency.

Selling was active at times. Bonds were again under pressure, although declines were more moderate than yesterday's.

In stocks, New York Central managed to advance 21-2 points at one time, but later lost its rise. A few specialties broke widely. Coca Cola tumbled 13 points, then recovered partially. Wrigley slumped more than 6 points. Miscellaneous issues losing 2 to 3 points including U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, North American, Borden, Eastman, Procter and Gamble, Allied Chemical, Woolworth and others. General Motors and General Electric declined more than a point to new lows, and Krueger and Toll lost as much.

The market appeared to be still under the domination of uncertainty abroad.

The Paris Bourse closed with a distinctly heavy tone, and the London market was partially paralyzed by the uncertainty over the possibilities of an election, and the apparent deadlock in the government over a protective tariff.

The local money market was a little easier, with outside call loans at 1-4 per cent, against 1-2 per cent yesterday.

Gold exports of roughly $30,000,000 today were the largest since June of 1928, but the outflow of metal should have little effect on the money market, for a time at least.

STATE GRID TEAMS PUSH FIELD WORK

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Charlotte, Sept. 29.—(AP)—North Carolina's principal grid elevations—unusually free from backfield and line gaps due to injuries—today were able to look back on their opening tilts and pick out a few markers by which to judge the distance to mid-season form.

Over at Chapel Hill, Coach Collins couldn't find much cockiness among the Tar Heels.

Although jubilant, they were admitting much of their 37-0 success over Wake Forest Saturday was due to unexpected weakness in the Deacon line.

But he put them through a bunch of kindergarten stuff just to make sure, although promising to let them scrimmage today and tomorrow before taking off Thursday for Nashville where they will meet Vanderbilt.

Wallace Wade apparently didn't think much of the way his backfield looked against the conquering South Carolinians Saturday and is trying out some new combinations. JACKETS GET IN TRIM FOR GAMECOCKS

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets are flexing muscles and trying to figure out what they can do to South Carolina's southern conference prospects Saturday.

There are eight - conference matches scheduled that day but the battle of the Jackets and the Gamecocks is important because a South Carolina victory would make the Gamecocks a title threat along with Georgia, Tulane and Vanderbilt.

Billy LaVal was a little dissatisfied with his 7-0 victory over Duke last Saturday and has begun a hard routine of blocking and tackling in preparation for Georgia Tech.

Florida, scrimmaging in preparation to meet North Carolina State Saturday, their opener, received a set back when "Bo" McClellan, senior halfback and one of the "Gators' mainstays, fractured an ankle, he will be out most of the season, physicians said yesterday.

Homer Seay, another senior half back of the "Gators" who has been out for several days with a sprained ankle was back for practice yesterday but was not expected to get in the game with N. C. State Saturday.

North Carolina University, which meets Vanderbilt Saturday, had scrimmage scheduled today and tomorrow, the team will leave for Nashville Thursday. Guard Fysal's broken tooth was Carolina's only casualty. Vanderbilt had a short scrimmage session yesterday between the freshmen and players who got in the game with Western Kentucky but a little while Saturday.

Pat Miller tore into his Wake Forest team, and instead of letting it off with the usual light Monday, tore it apart, refitted the puzzle and made itswat against the freshmen. Paul Hutchins ran at right half, Ed Shinn at fullback, Bob Edwards at right end and Charles Owens at Right guard.

Today's scrimmage was expected to reveal whether these efforts had achieved any success in plugging the holes through which Carolina ran six touchdowns Saturday.

With their next test against Furman's Purple Hurricane, admitted strong contenders for the South Carolina state title, Coach Miller promised feverish efforts this week to correct the Deacon faults which gave Carolina its easy win.

The Davidson Wildcats came back from Greensboro and their drubbing by N. C. State with some lessons to learn, and this week set about learning them. They got lectured and worked, and were promised more of the same medicine for today, when drill for the Washington and Lee game Saturday will get under way in earnest.

Peabody, star of the lovers against State, is now running with the first string backfield.

State, which got into trouble by its inexperience in shifting Saturday night, went through a warm drill in that department on its first working day at home, with the backfield bearing the brunt. With Allen Nelms and Matt Matlack, lettermen, recovered from injuries back at end and guard, the line was pronounced in good shape and promised to be ready for Florida's "Gators" Saturday.

After Weakening Sickness

IF you are run-down, or suffer from a weakened condition,—take Cardui, a medicine used by women for over fifty years. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of others who have praised Cardui for the benefits they have felt after taking it.

"I had a spell of sickness which left me very run-down and weak," writes Mrs. D. L. Beckner, of Elliston, Va. "I was not able to do my household work. I ached all over my body. My back and sides gave me a lot of trouble. A friend of mine told me to try Cardui. I took it for several months and I got strong and well."

Sold at all good drug stores.

A'S AHEAD OF CARDS IN BOX AND OUTFIELD

New York, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Measured by the calibre of pitching or the yardstick of fielding skill and experience, the world's champion Athletics possess a margin of superiority over the Cardinals in defensive strength for the baseball championship battle.

The National League champions have a faster infield, featuring the Frisch-Gelbert combination around second base. "The A's, otherwise, have an edge on the mound, behind the bat and in the outfield, especially if the sensational ballhawk, Mule Haas, is back in top form.

Lefty Grove and George Earnshaw, the twin aces upon whom the hopes of another quick American league victory are based, always have had the benefit of sterling support from their teammates, inspiration works both ways when either of these fast-ball fingers is on the mound.

It's an old baseball axiom that "you can't hit what you can't see" and at times last October, it appeared some of the Cardinal batsmen were not properly visualizing the smoke of Grove and Earnshaw, let alone penetrating it with any substantial success. Walberg and Hoyt will form the second line of pitching defense for the A's.

The Cardinal twirling defense will be distinctly a gamble if Gabby Street is forced to rely on Paul Derringer and Bill Hallahan, instead of Burleigh Grimes and Jess Haines, veterans of the Red Bird club.

Derringer is a newcomer to series fire. With Hallahan, it's either a shutout or a knockout. He blanked the A's the first time he faced them last year and was routed in two innings the next time.

The A's infield has never been the club's strongest point. Fox, for instance, does not compare with Bottomley as a defensive worker, although big Jimmy is steady. Bishop is not so spectacular as Frisch, one of the great defensive second basemen of all time. Boley, an old reliable, cannot cover the ground, nor has he the arm that Gelbert owns. The Mack substitute, Williams, is more on Gelbert's style. Dykes is about on a par with either Adams or High at third.

On the outer patrol, the A's have two of the first fly-chasers in Al Simmons and Mule Haas. Both cover acres of ground and have great arms. Hafey, in left, and either Pepper Martin or Orsatti in center, for the Cardinals, do not quite measure up to the exceptional standard of their rivals. Watkins or Roetiger, in right field for the National leaguers, lack the experience of the veteran Bing Miller.

Micky Cochrane may have one or two mechanical faults behind the bat. His arm is good, though, not the best in the back-stopping business, but the great Mack receiver's all around ability surpasses that of the clever Jimmy Wilson, No. 1 catcher for the Cards. Micky's biggest advantage is at bat. He is one of the greatest "money players" in baseball and has starred in each of the last two world series.

Connie Mack's famous scorecard must be ranked as a defensive weapon. The 68-year-old manager has studied the batting habits of every Cardinal, personally or through his trusted agents, and will wave his men into position accordingly. If any cracks or cracks develop in the champion's defense, Mack has a flock of reserves primed to gallop into action.

Papeete, Tahiti.—(AP)—Residents of Taega, a small coral atoll with a population of about 40 people, have completed the building of a church, the foundation for which was laid in 1916. Carpenter and construction work was done by persons of various denominations.

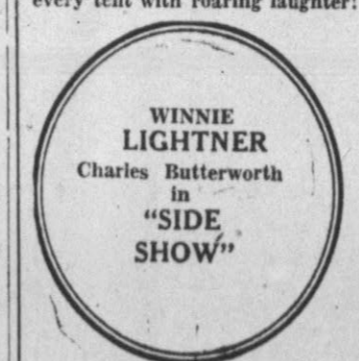

Whiteville, N. C.—(AP)—J. D. Faulk was drowned at Seaside when he was seized with cramps.

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell, candidate for governor, will talk over radio station WPTF at 8:30 tonight.
