SEN. ROBINSON ASKS SPECIAL U. S. CONGRESS

Thinks Meeting Necessary to Consider Hoover's Proposal for Relief.

SEN. ROBINSON ..N ..N ..N ..N

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—An extra session of Congress to deal with President Hoover's credit proposals and other necessary economic legislation was advocated today by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader.

The Senate minority leader said the presidents program was sound as far as it went, but suggested as supplemental actions the provision of funds to allow federal and joint stock land banks to grant extensions of credit, and the arrangement for renewal of 1931 crop loans to farmers.

"It does seem to me," Senator Robinson said, "that the surest and quickest way to get decisions and to make plans effective is by assembling the Congress."

Robinson, in his first comment on the president's program, said the proposals for a $500,000,000 credit fund and for expansion of paper eligible for discount at federal reserve banks, "should prove helpful and of permanent advantage."

"If in addition, some feasible arrangement can be entered into which will provide the necessary funds or credit to enable both the federal and joint stock land banks to grant reasonable and necessary extensions to their borrowers who are under temporary disadvantages due to the abnormally low prices of farm products, conditions in the rural sections will be substantially improved," he said.

"I am also urging that a portion of the government loans to assist farmers in making crops during 1931 be carried over so that something may be available for the reduction of old debts and for future requirements, but I can give no assurance that any plan in this regard will be acceptable to the representatives of the government."

Arkansas After Southwide Union on Cotton Relief

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Mississippi's Legislature has gone on record for curtailment of cotton acreage while the neighboring state of Arkansas seeks a southern union on cotton relief legislation.

Yesterday the Mississippi House of Representatives passed with slight amendment the Senate - approved bill to restrict cotton planting in 1932 and 1933 to thirty per cent of the area under cultivation. The act will be ready for signature by the governor upon concurrence by the Senate on the amendments.

At the same time, the lower House turned down the measure that Louisiana and South Carolina have adopted to prohibit production of cotton entirely in 1932.

Meanwhile, in Arkansas, the Legislature received a resolution seeking unity on cotton relief laws. The "Southern Unity" resolution provided for the naming of five legislators to meet with similar commissions from other cotton producing states, all backed by 'moral pledges' of their legislatures, to pass any cotton relief plan approved by the majority.

Convicted Man Slays Himself

Los Angeles, Oct. 8.—(AP) — A moment after a jury had returned a verdict convicting him of sixteen counts of grand theft and violation of the State Corporate Securities act, Harry S. McCormack, drew a pistol and shot himself to death in court here last night.

The 63-year-old Glendale, Calif., financier was convicted of having handled the affairs of two large finance and real estate companies so as to have caused a loss of $345,000 to approximately 200 investors.

As the jury's verdict was read, McCormack arose, threw back his head, drew the weapon from a coat pocket and fired a shot through his heart. He dropped, dying, at the end of the counsel's table.

There was no disorder.

Judge Elliott Craig asked jurors and spectators to remain seated. Court attendants quickly removed McCormack to the judge's chamber. He was dead when police surgeons arrived.

Two envelopes were left on the counsel table by McCormack. One was addressed to the judge and the other to a newspaper. The former was empty, but the note in the latter declared the writer guiltless of any attempt to defraud investors.

Study Legislation For Busine[illegible] Rejuvination In The United States

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—With convocation of Congress less than two months away, legislation that may be necessary to make operative the administration's program for business rejuvernation has the almost undivided attention of officials.

Concurrently, in its survey of the business situation, the administration is reaching toward its decision whether a tax increase will be asked of Congress to meet the

FOUR CASES ARE AFFIRMED

Supreme Court Returns Decision Sustaining Action in Pitt County Cases.

The State Supreme court affirmed opinions in four minor cases from Pitt county yesterday.

Probably the most important of the cases was that of James W. Smith, of Swift Creek township, against Nash Motor Company in which the plaintiff sought to recover $3,000 for injuries which he sustained as result of alleged defects in an automobile manufactured by the concern.

Smith claimed that a defective wheel ran off and caused his car to run into a ditch and turn over. He sustained injuries himself and the car was completely wrecked.

The case was non-suited when it came up for hearing here and the plaintiff appealed to Supreme court The higher court affirmed decision of the lower court.

The high court also found no reason to change the opinion of the lower court in the case of Reddick vs. Greenville Cafe. The action was brought by relatives of a colored man killed in an affray in the rear of the cafe here last year but the claim was disallowed when taken before the State Industrial Commission for settlement.

The Industrial Commission also disallowed a compensation claim brought by Pilley against the Greenville Cotton Mill, and the action was upheld when it was carried before the higher court.

No error was found in the action of Printers' Supply Company vs. M. B. Prescott, of Ayden. Prescott. surety on a note given the Printers Supply Company, contended he was not liable by reason of the fact that the property had been sold without the proceeds being applied to the note. The court here held him liable, however, and he appealed to Supreme court where the decision of the lower tribunal was sustained.

N. E. Athletic Conference To "Clean House"

The Northeastern Athletic Conference is conducting a "housecleaning" campaign at this time, and when it is over officials hope to be able to say that every club is abiding by regulations.

At a meeting here last night, conference members decided to take drastic action against towns that had violated conference rules, and appointed a committee to investigate conditions.

Rich Square was ruled out of the conference because of playing ineligible men. The committee was ordered to investigate Elizabeth City and determine whether that club was playing men in violation of conference rules.

Rich Square was scheduled to play here tomorrow, but the game was called off following the team's expulsion. However, arrangements were made for La Grange to play here at 3:30

Ayden voluntarily withdrew from the conference several days ago because the majority of its players are ineligible. The club will continue to play, it was understood, but the games will not come under conference jurisdiction.

Tractor Ploughs Field by Radio

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 8.—(AP)—It may not be long now before farmers throughout the country will be doing their ploughing by radio.

J. J. Lynch of Miles City, Mont., demonstrated this possibility yesterday by plowing around a thirty acre field with a tractor operated by radio. Two hundred expert electricians, radio operators and business men from most of the central states, witnessed the demonstration. They said it was the first time in history that a tractor, so operated, had acautlly plowed ground.

RAY TURNAGE DIES AT AYDEN

Son of J. R. Turnage, Prominent Business Man, Succumbs to Acute Bronchitis.

Ray Turnage, 20, son of J. R. Turnage, prominent Ayden business man, died at the home of his parents in Ayden last night at 10:30 o'clock following an attack of acute bronchitis.

Funeral services were conducted from the home this afternoon by Rev. E. D. Dade, pastor of the Ayden Methodist church, and Rev. W. H. Brunson, pastor of the Christian church of Ayden. Final rites were held at the graveside in the Kinston cemetery.

The youth was one of the most popular and beloved of the Ayden younger set. He was born in Ayden and spent all of his life there.

He is survived by his parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Turnage, and two sisters, Misses Adelaide and Frances Turnage.

AIR PAGEANT OPENS TODAY

Lady Birds Gather at Charlotte for Four Days' Stunting, Flying and Speeding.

Charlotte, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Aviation's head-line makers, the stunt and speed fliers, opened a four-day aerial circus here today.

Fifteen or more nationally known pilots were on hand for the opening events and others, including Frank Hawks, the speed king, and Wiley Post and Harold M. Gatty, round-the-world fliers, were expected later today and tomorrow.

Tuning and testing of planes occupied the morning hours today with the first of the formal events set for 12:30 P. M. The day's program listed the famous "spin of death" of Frances Hazel Marsailis, Brooklyn girl, and stunt flying by Al Williams, Swanee Taylor, and Kenneth Hunter.

The first of the races, including one for women, was scheduled for late today.

Only one break in the fast and furious program was anticipated. All planes were ordered grounded at 3:15 P. M. to leave the air clear for the Eastern Air Transport Co., regular plane to arrive and take off with mail and passengers.

Post and Gatty were due in midafternoon on a flight from New go to Fayetteville to meet Henry L. York. The two fliers tomorrow will Stevens, Jr., commander of the American Legion, and bring him to Charlotte for a welcoming celebration by the state.

Calls Meeting Of City and County Officers Tuesday

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Mayors of all North Carolina towns with over 5,000 population and chairman of the boards of the county commissioners of the 100 counties today were asked by Gov. O. Max Gardner to meet here next Tuesday to discuss plans for relief in the state

The town, city and county officers will meet in the hall of the House of Representatives at 10 o'clock the morning of September 13.

R. W. Henninger, executive secretary of the state council on unemployment and relief, said that definite plans to be followed in various communities for relieving unemployment conditions and needy cases would be discussed.

The meeting will be the third of a series being held by the governor with the idea of formulating and placing in effective operation necessary plans to aid jobless and poor persons during the coming winter.

MORE COTTON IS PREDICTED

October Estimate Increases Yield from 15,685,000 to 16,284,000 Bales.

MORE COTTON ..N ..N ..N ..N

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Favored by excellent growing weather, the prospective cotton crop continues to pile up in the South.

The agriculture department today forecast a 1931 crop of 16,284,000 bales, based on October 1 conditions. This represents an increase of 599,000 bales above the September 1st estimate of 15,685,000, adding to the surplus already on hand.

Southern states now are seeking methods of raising cotton prices which have dropped the lowest in 30 years. Louisiana, Texas, and South Carolina have passed laws prohibiting all or partial planting next year. Mississippi is considering similar action.

The estimated 1931 production is 2,352,000 bales larger than 1930 ginnings and 1,016,000, or 6.7 per cent above the 1925-29 average of 15,268,000 bales.

Crop prospects improved greatly since September 1 in Arkansas and Mississippi and to a smaller extent in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Missouri due to hot, dry weather, which was exceptionally favorable for maturing the crop.

On the other hand, these weather conditions in other parts of the cotton belt, particularly in Oklahoma, caused premature opening of the late bolls.

In the northern portions, the department said, cotton this year is not subject to the usual hazard from frost since a larger proportion of the crop than usual was opened by October 1st.

Because of the rapid opening of the crop during the latter part of the month, field loss of seed cotton is expected to be somewhat greater than usual and the possibility of loss from wind and rain also is greater. In the forecast, the department made allowancee for greater than average potential loss of open cotton, since the forecast relates to probable ginnings.

The October 1 condition was placed at 69.3 per cent of normal, compared with 53.5 on the same date last year and a ten-year average of 53.3 per cent. The estimated yield per acre is 190.5 pounds, compared with 147.7 in 1930 and a ten-year average of 154.4.

Ask to Reduce Freight Rates on Bright Leaf

Washington, Oct. 8.— (AP) — Claiming motor trucks were giving dangerous interference to their business, the Southern and Chesapeak and Ohio Railroads asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow them to reduce rates on leaf tobacco from Norfolk and Newport News, Va., to Durham, N. C., without the usual 30 days notice but their plea was denied.

The commission's refusal was based on failure of the roads to set forth the attitude of competing carriers.

An application of the Norfolk Southern, Seaboard Air Line and Durham and Southern for permission to reduce cotton rates from points on the Durham and Southern to Norfolk, New Port News, Berkley and Porthsmouth, Va., was held in abatement pending further information from the carriers.

RUM DEALER SENT TO PEN

Warren Bell, Colored, Draws 3 Years at Atlanta; Three Others Acquitted.

Four men, arrested by federal officers here several days ago for alleged violation of the national prohibition law, were given hearings in Federal court at Washington yesterday. One of them was sentenced to three years in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, and the other three were acquitted.

Warren Bell, colored, operator of a filling station on the Greenville-Vanceboro highway, about three miles from Greenville, was sentenced to three years in prison.

He was charged with possession, transportation and sale of whiskey as the result of the discovery of a considerable amount of whisky and wine at his combination store and filling station.

Louis Robinson, operator of a filling station on the Greenville-Bethel highway, about a mile from the city, was acquitted when he established the fact that he was not at the filling station when the raid was made by Federal officers. Only a small amount of whiskey was located.

John and Alton Pitt, colored, were acquitted on a charge of manufacturing liquor when officers failed to produce sufficient evidence to bring about conviction.

All of the above defendants were given preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner T. E. Beaman shortly after their arrest and bound over to Federal court under bond.

Three or four other Pitt county cases remain to be heard during the week, but decisions were not expected before Friday or Saturday.

Convicts Protest Radio Restriction

Leavenworth, Kas., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Protests against what Warden H. B. White said was curtailment of radio privileges created a disturbance among prisoners in the federal penitentiary here early today.

The warden declined to disclose the extent or cause of the radio restrictions, but said there was no cause for alarm as all of the convicts were locked in their cells. A report that the ban included broadcasts of the world series games could not be confirmed.

The angry shouts of the prisoners and the continual ringing of gongs within the prison wallswere heard a considerable distance from the institution. Warden White said the disturbance was confined to two cell blocks, B and E.

W. J. Hardee is Fined $1,000 in Fraud Case

W. J. Hardee, Greenville man, pleaded guilty to a charge of using the mails to defraud and was fined $1,000 by Judge I. M. Meekins in Federal court at Washington this afternoon.

A similar charge against Mrs. Hardee was nol-prossed.

The charge grew out of false financial statements which Hardee was alleged to have made to the Wachovia Bank & Trust Company and The Norfolk National Bank of Commerce and Trust.

EDISON HOLDS HIS STRENGTH

Inventor Reported No Weaker Today in Spite of Very Restless Night.

West Orange, N. J., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Thomas A. Edison spent a very restless night but did not appear to be weaker today, his physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe, announced in his morning bulletin.

"Mr. Edison passed a very restless night," the bulletin read. "He ate a fair breakfast and does not appear to be weaker than last night. His vitality is amazing."

Dr. Howe said that ordinarily he would be able to predict when a patient in Edison's condition would slip into the coma preceding death. In the case of Mr. Edison, however, he said such a prediction was impossible because the aged inventor was making such a valiant battle for life.

Dr. Howe said that although his examination did not reveal that Edison was any weaker today, still it was only natural to suppose that in fact that the inventor was constantly if very gradually weakening.

CHURCH FIGHT GOES TO COURT

Charlotte, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Political dissension which swept the Ninth Avenue Baptist church here during and since the 1928 presidential campaign, today had found its way into the courts, with Rev. W. L Griggs ordered to appear before a commissioner in a suit filed by the members of his congregation charging libel.

The case grew out of the expulsion from the church of A. A. Tarleton, prominent Charlotte attorney and worker for Alfred E. Smith in the last campaign.

Tarleton, joined in the suit by C. A. Mullis, W. E. Keeter, R. K. Huggins and J. W. Kesterson, charged that the minister conspired with M. J. Green, F. M. Ferguson and Earl Fite to oust Tarleton because the latter had vigorously opposed the pastor's practice of preaching political sermons and distributing political literature from the pulpit.

They petitioned James B. Yandle, clerk of court, to appoint a commissioner and summons Griggs to give evidence before him in order that their complaint might be prepared, and Elbert E. Foster was appointed to hear the case October 20.

Their petition charged that the minister first accused Tarleton of drinking and unseemly conduct but that he was exonerated by a church committee, other charges were then "trumped up", the petition claimed, and a "stacked" church conference called, which ousted Tarleton on a "false" statement sworn to by a member. Referring to this statement, the petitioners claimed Griggs instructed one of the church Deacons to "go and get the member to sign the paper, but if he asks you if I sent you please, please tell him no, for I do not want my name in it."

JURY PROBES CANNON CASE

Political Activities of Bishop are Under Scrutiny at Nation's Capital.

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The political activities of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., today went under grand jury scrutiny.

Just before examination of witnesses began, counsel for the Southern Methodist clergyman filed a brief with District Attorney Rover Denying there was any legal ground for prosecution.

Former Senator Joseph F. Frelinghauysen, of New Jersey, and E. C. Jameson, New York financier, each of whom contributed thousands to the Bishop's anti-Smith work in 1928, headed the 21 persons subpoenaed. Volumes of records on the cleric's financial transactions also have to be studied.

William Tyler Page, clerk of the House of Representatives, today refused to give the grand jury the original reports of campaign expenditures filed with him by Bishop Cannon.

Page explained to the grand jury that the House was not in session and its rules prohibited him from surrendering its records without specific authorization.

The jury is investigating charges that Bishop Cannon violated the corrupt practices act in failing to report to Congress on certain anti-Smith political expeditures in 1928

The grand jury appealed to Justice James Proctor, of the District of Columbia Supreme court, for a legal opinion on Page's action.

Justice Proctor asked whether a rule of the House could be held superior to an act of Congress, pointing out that the corrupt practices act "seems to me necessarily involves the submission of papers to the grand jury."

"This rule," Page replied, "was laid down in 1879 and I do not think I could assume the House would condone my presentation of any part of the files."

U. S. Chamber Leaders Hold Confab Here

I. P. Dickey, of Atlanta, and Junius P. Fishburn, of Roanoke, Va., president and vice-president, respectively, of the Southeastern Division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, held a conference with business men of this city at the Merchants' Association's offices yesterday afternoon.

Numbers of representatives of the various business houses of the city were in attendance and listened intently to what the two visitors had to say.

They discussed work of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and asked support of its program looking to rehabilitation of every branch of industry affecting this nation.

Each of the visitors is prominently identified with the business life of the two states they represent, and a great fund of information dealing with conditions throughout the South was imparted to those attending the conference.

Road Bill Would Aid This State

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—(AP) — North Carolina would benefit by approximately $2,400,000 should Congress pass the proposed $100,000,000 road appropriation bill being sponsered by the American Association of State Highway Officials, according to figures of John D. Waldrop, state construction engineer.

Waldrop has just returned from Salt Lake City, where the association conference adopted the legislative program.

SEES NEED OF NEW POLICY

Speaking Before Pan-American Conference, President Recalls Plea He Made Four Years ago That Foreign Loans Be Made Only For Reproductive Purposes: Says Adoption Of Plan Would Have Smoothed Many a Bump from World's Economic Path.

Washington, Oct. 8.— (AP) —A plea by President Hoover that nations neither lend nor borrow except for reproductive purposes today brought 600 delegates to the fourth pan-American commercial conference to their feet with applause.

Recalling from four years back a statement he had made before the same conference in 1927, the president maintained such a step would help prevent war, international embarrassments and economic complications.

"I repeat this today," he said, "because had it been followed during these past five years our problems throughout the world would be far different, our difficulties infinitely less."

As the president concluded, delegates from 21 countries of the Western Hemisphere rose to their feet en mass. Their applause continued unabated for more than a minute.

Throughout his address, spoken quietly, but broadcast through both this continent and South America many of the delegates listened through earphones attached to their chairs in the big auditorium of the Pan American building.

The president was introduced by Secretary Lamont.

Turning to present day affairs, Mr. Hoover told the Pan-American delegates the American theory of government required that commercial enterprise, except as a rare emergency action, be essentially a private undertaking.

"The sole function of government," he said, "is to bring about a condition of affairs favorable to the beneficial development of private developments." The president's address follows:

"I am most happy to extend to you the warmest possible welcome on behalf of the government and people of the United States. We are grateful to you for coming to Washington at this time to discuss the commercial problems of common interest to the nations of America. You are meeting during a period of wide-spread economic depression, but this fact emphasizes rather than diminishes the necessity for the nations of this continent to take counsel with on another.

"There is one lesson from this depression to which I wish to refer and I can present it no more forcibly than by repeating a statement which I made to the conference just four years ago, when we were in the heyday of foreign loans.

I stated, in respect to such loans, that they are helpful in world development, 'provided always one essential principle dominates the character of these transactions That is, that no nation as a government should borrow or no government lend and nations would discourage their citizens from borrowing or lending unless this money is to be devoted to productive enterprise.

Kings Daughters Pay Honor To Local Women

Salisbury, N. C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. A. A. Walker, of Charlotte, today was elected president of North Carolina Kings Daughters at the final business session of its convention here. Charlotte was awarded the 1932 convention.

Other officers elected were Mrs. C. H. Shipp, Durham; first vice-president; Miss Clara L. Moye, of Greenville, second vice-president; Mrs. J. S. Evans, Henderson, treasurer; Mrs. J. N. Norman, Raleigh, recording secretary, and Mrs. J. B. Cherry, Greenville, chaplain.

SAM

By Freeman Lincoln

SYNOPSIS: After struggling to support her stepfather, Fourth Aldersea, and her half-brother, Nelson, Sam Sherrill becomes engaged to Peak Abbott. Learning that Peak has supplied money for the purchase of an invention of Fourth's, she runs away, breaking the engagement. Freddy Munson, a former suitor, follows her to plead Peak's cause.

TWO SIDES OF A TRICK

"You've asked a question," said Freddy cheerfully, "and now perhaps you'll answer it. Would you for a discussion, or wouldn't you?"

"I wouldn't," Sam told him.

"Very well." He leaned back in his chair. "In that case I shall be forced to deliver a monologue in my best manner. I'll be grateful if you'll listen."

Sam said evenly: "Unless I'm mistaken you came here to persuade me that I should marry Peak."

"That's about it."

"Then I don't want to listen."

"I think you do." He was suddenly serious. "You know me, Sam and you know I wouldn't travel a million miles without a darn good reason. I came here because I know something that you don't. It's something you ought to know."

She was completely unmoved. "That may be true, Freddy, but it happens that I don't want to hear about it."

He stared. "Is that fair? I've come a long way, you know."

Sam said nothing for a time. At last she said listlessly: "I've got to make you see, somehow the way I feel. Perhaps the best way to do that is to tell you what I've been going through for the last few months. I'll review those months briefly for you. They began just before Christmas, when I had practically decided to marry Peak for his money, and had told him so. That worried me. I couldn't sleep nights wondering if I was doing the right thing. Then you came along and I fell in love with you—or thought I did. That nearly drove me crazy. I didn't know whether to send you away or to forget my responsibilities and marry you. Then Nelson eloped. I threw you over and got myself engaged to Peak. I thought I had to do it. Then I fell in love with Peak, really in love. Then—but what's the use?" She spread her hands expressively. "You know the whole story. It ended only a couple of weeks ago, and the ending was the crowning touch."

"I know." Freddy nodded, in sympathy. "You've had a fairly tough time."

"I have, and I know what caused it. All this love business caused it, and nothing else."

"Well?"

"Well," said Sam quietly, "I've had enough. I'm fed up. Like a child that has eaten six plates of chocolate ice cream, I don't want any more. They very word makes me want to jump in the ocean. I'm through with it for good. Do you understand?"

"I suppose so." He seemed doubtful. "I suppose I do."

"I'm glad, for I don't want you to think I'm rude. It's just that I can't stand any more. Since I've been here I haven't allowed myself to think, and I haven't opened any letters or telegrams. Now I'm asking you not to say whatever is in your mind."

"But, Sam!" He scratched his head. "It's important. It's darn important!"

"It couldn't be important. If you told me that the world was coming to an end I wouldn't be interested. I'm cured, Freddy."

"Oh, well." He sighed. "If you feel that way, of course."

"That's the way I feel." Sam glanced at her watch and got to her feet. "You'll stay for supper, won't you?"

"Thanks." Freddy also rose. "I'd like to."

"Have you ever opened littlenecks?"

"No, but I won't have any trouble. I'm clever with my hands."

Sam laughed. "I'll open the littlenecks. You can use your clever hands at peeling potatoes. You might have a chance of success at that."

Freddy, peeling potatoes, watched Sam in considerable puzzlement. Was it possible that she was so completely indifferent as she seemed? Was he to be forced to go away without a word?

They talked little until their meal was prepared and half eaten. Then Sam said, "How is Fourth? You've seen him, I suppose."

Freddy nodded. "Yes, I've seen him. I've seen Nelson and Martha, too. Nelson and Martha are living at the stable again."

"I supposed they would be. How are they getting on? Has Nelson still got his job?"

"Yes."

"And Fourth?"

"Well, Fourth isn't working just now, but he seems to think that he'll soon be selling books again. From what I gather, the prospect gives him no paroxysms of pleasure."

"How is he? Is he worried?"

Freddy smiled. "I wouldn't say that. Your step-father, Sam, is not a man to be broken on the wheel of misfortune. He rebounds. He's rebounding at the moment to the tune of a widow lady. Name, Frye; weight, one-eighty on the hoof."

"Really?" She sighed. "I might have known. I suppose he'll be marrying her one of these days."

"I couldn't say about that, but the intelligence wouldn't drop me insensible to the floor. There was something in the air. Maybe, as you suggest, it was the faint fragrance of orange blossoms."

"I suppose I ought to go home." She frowned.

"It might be a good idea. I was hoping you might go back with me tonight."

"Not tonight." She shook her head. "I couldn't do that, but I'll probably have to follow in a little while. I wish it wasn't necessary. I wish I coud stay here forever. I love this place. It's mine, you know. Mother left it to me in her will. We used to come here summers, but we rent it now."

Freddy took out his watch and glanced at it. "Quarter past seven" he said with a frown. "That leaves me exactly fifteen minutes."

"Yes." She nodded. "I'm sorry you have to leave so soon."

"I'm sorry, too, but for a different reason. I'm sorry, that I have to leave in this way."

"In this way?"

"Yes. I'm sorry that I have to leave without saying what I want to say."

"Oh."

"It isn't right," he protested re[illegible]. "It isn't right at all, and I don't like it. Look here, Sam [illegible] you reconsider? Won't you let me speak my piece, just as a favor? I haven't asked you for many favors that I can remember, and this one won't be hard to grant. I'll take only a few minutes, and I'm positive that you won't regret them in the end." He held out a pleading hand. "Won't you let me, Sam? I'd be very grateful."

Sam hesitated and rubbed her forehead with a weary hand. Then [illegible] but I suppose I must. I can't very well refuse."

"Great!" Freddy grinned his pleasure. "You won't be sorry."

"Won't I?"

"No." He was vigorous, now, and determined. He spoke swiftly. "To go back to where we began, I still can't see any reason why you won't marry Abbott. You love him, you know.

"I knew there would be no sense to all this. You're wrong, Freddy. You're utterly wrong. I don't love Peak Abbott. I'll admit that I did love him for a time—more than I thought I'd love anybody. I was happy. Then—"

"Then," Freddy interrupted, "you found out about the invention deal"

"Yes."

"That upset the apple cart completely. You felt that you'd been tricked, not to say deceived," he went on.

"Well? Can you blame me?"

"No. The deception was there, but that isn't the point. The point is, why was the deception made?"

She laughed without mirth. "Must you ask?"

Tomorrow Freddy tells Sam a new explanation of Peak's "trick." Does she believe it?

as HOT as you please

or COLD if you please

IF the autumn morning is crisp and clear, serve Shredded Wheat Hot. It's simple enough. Just pour hot milk over the biscuits instead of cold. You can't serve a better way. It doesn't cool while you're serving it—hot milk holds its warmth.

If the day promises the warmth of Indian Summer, serve Shredded Wheat with cool milk. Just heat the biscuits to retain their crispness, and add bananas or other fruit, if you like, then serve with milk or cream.

Which ever way you serve Shredded Wheat, the result is the same. A delicious, healthful breakfast, easily served and warmly appreciated by every member of the family.

WOMAN SHOT TO DEATH AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A woman believed to be a relative of Frank McErlane, notorious gangster, was found shot to death in an automobile today.

The license of the car had been issued to Frieda McErlane. Two dogs in the car with the woman had also been shot dead, and the automobile was peppered with bullets.

There's entertainment and amusement for all in "Oh, Kay!" —(Adv.)

TRAINING SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEETS

The first meting for the year of the Training School Parent-Teacher Association, which was held Wednesday afternoon in the Training School auditorium, was largely attended. A short business session was held, with Mrs. E. L. Henderson presiding. Favorable reports from various committees were heard.

Mrs. S. J. Everett gave a graphic report of the Parent-Teacher Institute, which she attended in Chapel Hill in August. Her report made all present wish that they could have attended the institute.

Dr. R. S. McGeachey, county health officer, spoke a few words in regards to contagious diseases. He stated that in cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever and sceptic sore throat in the home all children in the home should be kept out of school. In cases of measles and whooping cough in the home, only children who had previously had the diseases could attend school. Smallpox, chicken pox and German measles are not quarantinable. He urged the mothers to cooperate with the heatlh department in the quarantine laws.

After his remarks, Dr. McGeachey introduced Dr. Ernest B. Branch, director of Dental Education of the State Health Department. Dr. Branch's lecture on "Building Resistance" was very instructive. He stressed milk drinking, proper diet and care of the teeth. He showed several interesting picture slides bearing on his subject.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was held and refreshing punch was served.

STUDY LEGISLATURE FOR BUSINESS REJUVINATION IN THE UNITED STATES

Confidence prevails that private financial interests will carry through their part of the wide-armed program approved Tuesday night at a bi-partisan conference. At the White House of political leaders in Congress. This includes creation of the $500,000,000 agency to help dissolve frozen banking assets into trade channels.

The government's part, however, must largely go before Congress for formal approval. In the chambers of the Senate and House office buildings cautious consideration is being given already of legislative plans for carrying it into effect.

While Democratic and Republican members who attended the conference publicly spoke the indorsement they had given the president's plan, scattered demands that Congress be called into special session to cope with the situation were heard. Indications were, however, that President Hoover would await the regular session to present his program.

Meanwhile, he turned to real estate men, builders and bankers to make possible a speeding-up of home construction and consequent employment in the building trades.

At a conference yesterday which he did not consider related to current emergency problems, the Chief Executive discussed with ten representatives of these groups plans to make it easier and less expensive for the future home builders to obtain credit. They were members of the finance committee of the coming White House conference on home building and home ownership which meets here December 2-5.

Opposed by representatives of the Building and Loan Associations, Harry S. Kissell, of Springfield, Ohio, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, presented a proposal for a central Mortgage Rediscount Bank. The associations, however, were said to have plans for some form of central bank designed to expand credit.

Foremost under the administration's proposals, receiving legislative consideration is that to broaden the base of securities which the Federal Reserve system may accept for rediscounting.

In many cases gilt-edge securities held by banks have not been eligible for rediscount under the Federal Reserve restrictions, thereby tying up the institution's assets.

A further plan to release banking funds will be presented to Congress by John W. Pole, comptroller of the currency, in his annual report.

He contemplates amending the national banking laws so that banks in any community, through cooperation with the receiver of a suspended bank, could make money available for the depositors. This, he believes, would speed up liquidation with consequent relief to depositors.

Already holding the approval of many congressional committeemen before who it will come, the Chief Executive will lay before Congress his suggestion that it subscribe $60,000,000 in additional capital stock for the Federal Land Banks to expand rural credit facilities.

hours.

Harrison told the president rapid steps were being made in setting up the institution.

Details of the complete proposal, he said, would be "laid before every clearing house and every banking group in the country at once."

It was said at the White House that the institution would have a board of twelve directors, one from each of the Federal Reserve districts. The directors and the man to head this group have not yet been named.

Many assurances of banking support for the $500,000,000 corporation, already have been forwarded to President Hoover.

It was said the institution would not be sectional in any sense but would be entirely national in character.

ABOUT TOWN

The Mississippi Legislature has passed a cotton reduction bill similar to that passed in Texas, producer of one-third of the nation's cotton crop.

As the Delta state finished work on its cotton bill, Arkansas began consideration of reduction measures.

Then plan to reduce production of cotton during the next two-year period seems to be gaining favor throughout the south, and legislators are hopeful it will restore King Cotton to the throne which he has been losing almost steadily the last several years.

There are certain dangers attached to the reduction plan that may have been overlooked in the bustle to improve conditions.

These lie in the probability of other countries increasing their crops in face of the cut in the United States.

If the reduction plan should be adopted by the majority of cotton growing states in this country, effort should then begin to make the movement of international scope, placing the same restriction on all cotton producing countries.

In this immediate section the plan vitally affects the tobacco crop, opening up the impossibility of increased acreage by planters who cut their cotton crop.

Some provision must be made in the tobacco growing states to see that their interest is protected. The world tobacco market in congested and another bumper crop would spell disaster for the industry. There are many angles from which to consider this plan to relieve our economic condition thrugh curtailment of crops, and the dangers are so numerous as to demand the closest possible scrutiny of the various states so that the movement will not become a detriment or an improvement.

Those St. Louis Cardinals are putting up a spectacular battle for the honor of becoming the next world champions, and if Connie Mack, the hoary leader of the Athletics, doesn't watch his step the flag is going to be snatched from his grasp.

By taking the fifth game of the series at Philadelphia yesterday, the Cardinals made it three out of five for honors of the series. They will now move to their own home town to finish the encounter and if the highly touted murderers' row of the Athletics is not able to hammer the ball in old time form, then all hope of their repeating for the championship will be definitely dissipated.

The Cardinals have been aided immensely this year by the spectacular stick work of 'Pepper' Martin, who hit three times yesterday to send in four of the runs that put the game on ele for the Cardinals. Inn addition to this, he equalled the world's series record of twelve hits for a single series.

But all the honor does not go to Martin alone. There is the mighty arm of "Wild Bill" Halahan to be considered. Twice during the series the dependable left-hander has hurled his teammates to victory, and who knows but they may give him a chance to display his skill again if the Athletics capture the sixth game.

The Cardinals have developed a powerful machine that seems to be gradually dethroning the apparently unconquerable Philadelphia outfit, and the sports of the world will watch the next two games with eager anticipation, expecting to see another club elevated to the throne of baseball

President Hoover's conference with congressional leaders has been followed by a distinct spirit of optimism throughout the country, and there is a much better tone noticeable in the business world.

His "six point" program should play an important part in restoring confidence in the fabric of the American business world, and if properly executed, should bring about a revival of a degree of prosperity in the next few months.

The proposed creation of a half billion dollar private credit agency to handle credits unacceptable to the reserve banks is a stroke which should cause an easing up of money and relieve some of the tension which has existed in channels of trade.

The liquidation of some of the frozen assets of insolvent banks is another one of the six points that should influence improvement Frozen assets have been a contributing cause to the wave of depression, and if relieved, ought to cause many a community to come from under the cloud that has hovered over it the last several months.

It really appears as if the President has induced some of the "big moneyed" interests to loosen up on their purse strings, and if the money bags are opened wide enough the nation ought to experience gradual recovery from the hysteria of depression.

BUILD UP HEALTH

and pains go away

WOMEN who find themselves in a painful condition due to a run-down state of health should give Cardui a fair trial, for a reasonable length of time, as did Mrs. E. G. Hodnett, 1101 Hazel St., Texarkana, Texas, who writes: "I was anxious to build myself up so I could enjoy and take interest in my home. I had suffered with soreness and a constant pain in my side. My mother told me she thought I should try Cardui. Soon after I began taking it I noticed an improvement, so I kept on until I had taken three bottles. By this time I was feeling so much better, the pain and soreness were gone."

Sold at drug stores.

John Mitchell, Cashier of the State Bank & Trust Company personally appeared before me this day and being duly sworn, says that the above condensed statement of condition is true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JOHN MITCHELL, Cashier.

Sworn and subscribed to before me this the 7th day of October, 1931.
V. M. FORREST, Notary Public.

The above is the first published report of condition of the State Bank & Trust Company, Pitt County's youngest banking institution. We not only invite but ask you to compare our statement with that of any other bank, any size, anywhere. You will note that the amount of our cash and its equivalent is more than sufficient to pay upon demand our entire deposit liability, for which present demand can be made. The policy of this bank is to give first consideration to the depositor's money. Our statement will show you how closely we are following this policy. We invite those who are seeking a safe depository for their funds to do business with us.

Sheriff's Tax Sale

By virtue of the tax list execution placed in my hands by the Board of Commissioners of Pitt County, and the levy made thereunder, and the law authorizing such sale, I will, on Monday, Nov. 2nd, 1931, at the court house door, in the town of Greenville, N. C., beginning at 12 o'clock, noon, offer at auction the real estate of parties hereinafter set out and the real estate as described in the said tax list, unless the taxes, 4 per cent penalty, and costs on the several parcels are paid by that time. Taxes for 1930.

This October 8th, 1931.

S. A. WHITEHURST, Sheriff of Pitt County.

NEWS BRIEFS

From Over The City and County

YOUTH INJURED AS MOTORCYCLE CRASHES INTO FILLING STATION

David Hardee, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hardee, of Dickinson avenue, had a narrow escape from death when the motorcycle which he was riding plunged into a gasoline tank at a filling station on Albemarle avenue late yesterday afternoon. Hardee was badly bruised but his injuries were not considered of a serious nature. The motorcycle was damaged and the filling station pump torn from its foundation.

The youth borrowed a motorcycle from an employee of the Citizens' Ice company, and started out for a ride. As he rounded the curve at the intersection of Fifth street and Albemarle avenue he lost control of the machine, which crashed into the filling station before the driver could regain control.

COUNTY COURT RESUMES SITTING THIS MORNING

County court continued its sitting this morning after abandoning hearings yesterday on account of the absence of Solicitor Tyson, who was called to Washington to attend Federal court.

About a dozen cases were disposed of in the first day's sitting Tuesday, and about the same number remained to be completed today.

Attempt to Show Capone Violated Income Tax Law

Federal Building, Chicago, Oct. 8—(AP)—The government attempted to introduce into the records of Al Capone's income tax trial today a mass of documents purporting to show that the gang chief had admitted a tax liability and attempted to settle with the Revenue Department.

As the first witness was called and the prosecution asked him to identify one of the documents defense attorneys announced "this is a line of evidence to which we object strongly and are prepared to argue a point of law." The jury was excused and Assistant U. S. District Attorney Samuel G. Clawson read to the court what he expected to introduce as evidence.

This included the alleged statement by a Capone attorney that the gangster admitted he owed "some tax" and would be willing to settle on the basis of the following income: $26,000 in 1926; $40,000 in 1927; $100,000 in 1928 and $100,000 in 1929. Prior to 1926 the scarfaced big fellow made only $75 a week as an employee of Johnny Torrio, the attorney was quoted as telling the government.

Cotton Ginning Is Behind Last Year

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Cotton ginned prior to October 1 was reported by the Census bureau today to have totaled 5,406,307 bales, compared with 6,303,895 bales to that date last year, and 5,903,265 bales two years ago.

Ginnings to October 1 by states follow:

Alabama, 529,079; Arizona, 11,778; Arkansas, 268,764; California, 27,853; Florida, 32,853; Georgia, 649,627; Louisiana, 309,095; Mississippi, 358,513; Missouri, 32,531; New Mexico, 5,568; North Carolina, 215,733; Oklahoma, 280,613; South Carolina, 370,734; Tennessee, 48,379; Texas, 2,269,319; Virginia, 6,234. All other states, 634.

Ginnings include 181,966 round bales, counted as half bales, compared with 194,830 for 1930 and 169,337 for 1929; and 2,253 bales of American-Egyptian, compared with 3,882 for 1930 and 3,363 for 1929.

Sen. Morrison Backs Hoover

Asheville, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Senator ocrat since Populist days, today stood on record as a full supporter of Presdent Hoover "in anything for bringing prosperity back to America."

The senators view, given yesterday in a speech before a joint meeting of Asheville's civic organizations, was not directed at the President's new plans for meeting the national economic situation this winter, but took a more general tone.

"I wont give my views of the mistakes which have resulted in the present plight of our nation. I will say, however, I am ready to support President Herbert Hoover in anything for bringing back prosperity to America. I am a Democrat, but not a fool," said the senator.

"Both parties are great. If I were not a Democrat I should be a Republican. Let us forget narrow party groups and prayerfully seek the solutions of our difficulties as citizens of a free government. This is no time for partisanship. Let us look for leadership in either party."

Concord. —(AP)—Atlas Garmon was arrested and a 50-gallon still captured in a raid by Sheriff Hoover and Deputy Nussman at the Garmon farm.

Woman Held For Illegal Operation

Raleigh, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Sophie Layton, of Raleigh, was under arrest here today charged with performing an illegal operation which proved fatal to Celia Roberts, young Creedmor girl.

Her arrest followed a preliminary hearing yesterday for I. E. Harris, Creedmoor Justice of the Peace who is charged with arranging for the operation. The charges against him were dropped when he claimed he only intended to help the girl and gave officers the name of Mrs. Layton.

The girl, when she lay dying, said Harris had nothing to do with the situation.

Charlotte, —(AP) Lester Morris, 19, and Dearmon Williams, 17, were sentenced to a year in State's penitentiary on pleas of guilty to robbing a five and ten cents store safe here.
days over a 10-mile stretch of land

Southport, —(AP)—Forest fires have been burning for the last 10 north of here. Smoke has covered most highways in this section.

Market Report
Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today, at a decline of 9 to 10 points under southern selling and relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of showers in the eastern and central belt sections. December sold off to 5.61 under the initial pressure.

After the initial offerings had been absorbed, the market steadied slightly on covering. Bulges of two or more points were checked by continued liquidation or southern selling, however, and the market sagged off to 5.60 for December and 5.88 for March by the end of the first half hour, or about 11 to 13 points net lower.

Liverpool cables attributed the advance in that market to local and continental buying on easier sterling, but said the cloth demand from China was sustained. Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were among the early sellers here.

GRAIN MARKET

GRAIN ..N ..N ..N ..N ..N ..N

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Augmented buying power followed price advances in grains today, and with an absence of selling pressure quotations rose abruptly. Prospects of a decided decrease in the volume of Russian wheat exports had a bullish effect. Besides, indications pointed to likelihood that Germany's wheat crop would prove to be 16,000,000 short of recent official estimates.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Security markets moved confidently forward in quiet trading today, and had an aspect of normalcy not seen in weeks.

Swift progress in the settling up of the huge credit corporation to aid banks appeared already to have removed the chief source of unsettlement. Stocks moved steadily forward, after a momentary sag in the morning, and the bond market again attracted good investment buying, although trading was quieter. Virtually all important groups moved forward in the share market and yesterday's moderate losses were more than regained. Advances of about 3 to 6 points were recorded in such issues as American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, North American, Woolworth, American Can, Eastman, American Tobacco B, Union Pacific, New York Central and Santa Fe. Gains of 2 or more appeared in U. S. Steel, General Electric, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and others.

Brokers reported that strong buying was steadily coming into stocks although there was a tendency to place orders under the market, in the hope of catching temporary set-backs. Several brokers freely expressed the opinion that the bottom had been seen although many were inclined to wait and see.

Commission houses with extensive wire systems reported that odd lot buying from the public was beginning to appear from offices over the country, giving tangible evidence of the restoration of confidence. Some said the odd lot business was the best in a long time.

The prospect of setting up of another pool, in addition to the credit corporation, to aid building and real estate, received considerable attention, although bankers were without information as to positive plans.
