APPROVE PLAN FOR MERGER OF OIL COMPANIES

Greenclair, Prairie and Pipe Line Company Announce Consolidation.

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The directors of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, Prairie Oil & Gas Co., and Prairie Pipe Line Company today announced that they had approved a plan for merging the properties.

The new company is to be called Consolidated Oil Corp. Holders of the Sinclair and Prairie oil stocks will receive new stock on a share for share basis.

Negotiations for the merger have been in progress for more than a year. It was indicated recently that an agreement was near.

The merger procedure, it was announced, will involve changing the name of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corp. to Consolidated Oil Corp.

It is expected that H. F. Sinclair will be chairman of the executive committee, with W. S. Fitzpatrick vice-chairman.

G. W. Satterfield Buried at Falkland

Funeral services for G. W. Satterfield were held January 7, at three o'clock from the Falkland Presbyterian Church.

The active pall bearers were C. P. Pierce, S. L. Flye, R. W. Holland, W. P. Bryan, Frank Parker Jr., and Tom Harris.

Will Recognize The Gift of Dr. Laughinghouse

A bronze tablet in acknowledgment of the gift of his library by the late Dr. Charles O'H. Laughinghouse to the North Carolina State Board of Health will be dedicated with appropriate exercises on the afternoon of January 24, at 3 o'clock.

The exercises will be held in the offices of the Board of Health at Raleigh.

The tablet will be laid in the hall of the health building where-in are the books which the late health officer donated to the State Board of Health.

State Leaf Prices Reflect Decrease

Raleigh, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Tobacco sold on North Carolina markets last December brought the growers' return of only about one-half what they received in December, 1931.

A State Department of Agriculture report, published today, shows growers' sales for last December were 65,058,914 pounds, which paid the growers $4,386,770.80.

Total producers' sales this season through December amounted to $22,631,212 pounds as compared to sales for the corresponding period last season of 490,595,793 pounds.

Charge Mellon With 'Running Rough Shod' Over Laws Of Country

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A suggestion of Chairman Sumners, charge the Justice Department has let Secretary Mellon "run rough shod" over Federal laws was made before the House judiciary committee today by Representative Patman, Texas, Democrat, but was stricken out of the record on the

Criticizes Officials

Rear Adm. William V. Pratt (above), chief of naval operations, criticized the handling of recent attack cases by Hawaii's civil authorities. His statement followed arrest of Lieut. Thomas H. Massey, accused of slaying Joseph Kahahawai in Honolulu, "American men," he said, "will not stand for violation of their women."

Patman was testifying on his resolution seeking impeachment of the veteran treasury head for "high crimes and misdemeanors."

Eleven Killed by Tornado

Birmingham, Ala. Jan. 13.—(AP)—A tornado that dipped into five counties in west central Alabama and central Mississippi last night brought death to eleven persons, ten of them negroes, injured more than 150 others and wrought untold property damage.

The greatest loss of life was reported at Moundville, Ala., where nine people were killed, all negroes. More than a score others were hurt and more than 40 homes raised by the wind which at times reached a velocity of 70 miles an hour.

UPHOLD LEAF FREIGHT RATE

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today upheld freight rates on tobacco products in sales from carloads from Winston-Salem, Reidsville and Durham, North Carolina, and Richmond, Virginia, to southern destinations.

The Tobacco Merchants Association, composed of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, the American Tobacco Company, Liggett and Myers, Larus and Brother and other tobacco manufacturing companies complained that rates on less than carload shipments of tobacco products were too high.

The cars are loaded by the companies at the factories in such a way that freight may be taken out in order in which cars reach the various stations. Usually the railroad company loads less than carload freight. The tobacco men (Continued on Page Three)

STATE BANK IN FINE CONDITION

Directors Re-Elected at Annual Meeting of Stockholders held Yesterday.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the State Bank & Trust Company was held at the City Hall yesterday with all stock represented either in person or by proxy.

The stockholders re-elected all members of the board of directors, but election of officers was deferred until a later date, probably next Monday.

President B. B. Sugg, in a brief talk on the banking situation in this state, declared local conditions sound. He said the banking institutions of the county enjoyed the universal confidence of the people.

Reports by John Mitchell, cashier, and F. W. Brown, of the examining committee, showed the institution to be in a liquid condition and ready to render the highest type of service to the community.

At the suggestion of K. W. Cobb, a rising vote of thanks was extended to bank officials for the splendid way business had been conducted since reorganization several months ago.

Directors re-elected follow: J. H. Blount, F. W. Brown, J. Key Brown, R. M. Garrett, C. W. Harvey, John Mitchell, W. S. Mays, B. B. Sugg, H. C. Sugg, K. R. Wooten. The present officers are B. B. Sugg, president; C. W. Harvey, vice-president; John Mitchell, cashier.

DANIELS ASKS FOR COURAGE

Mount Berry, Ga., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Josephus Daniels, N. C. editor, told an audience here today that "America can be wrecked without the consciousness of vicious purpose to wreck."

Daniels, secretary of the navy under President Wilson, spoke at the observance of the 30th anniversary of the Berry school here and paid glowing tribute to the school's founder, Miss Martha Berry.

After recounting many incidents of President Wilson's career, Daniels launched into a discussion of present day conditions.

"All is not well with the world," he declared. "Much is bad in this hard old world and the worst thing is the realization that most of the depression was preventable. It is human greed and governmental favoritism and blindness, added to war issues, which created the atmosphere that breeds fear."

Daniels declared "the most disagreeable and squawkish voice that agitates the atmosphere is the rattle of polyanthuses that there's nothing really the matter with the country except bad psychology and nervousness."

"If there was nothing wrong," he said, "Mr. Hoover and Congress and the press would be silly charlatans to be advocating measures defensible only in war or in panic. The frenzied language of speculation, the fear of extravagance, the period of favoritism in government, the closing of the eyes to the need of finding a substitute for war, and the lack of faith and courage have brought the country to serious peril."

"To be sure we can wreck the country without the consciousness of vicious purpose to wreck. We can prevent the wreck by courageous real remedies that will cast out our fear. We cannot do so by halcyon or boosting or shutting our eyes to the grave demand to quit pouring new wine into old bottles. There are real remedies at hand, some temporary which must be applied as palliatives, to be followed by permanent remedies which will not only effect a cure, but will provide against a recurrence."

There was much discussion of a successor to Ambassador Dawes in London and at the Geneva arms conference; of some one to take Ambassador Forbes' place in Tokyo; of a follower for Governor Theodore Roosevelt in Porto Rico; of a new member of the radio commission.

There was search, too, for men to fill at least four prospective directorships in the proposed $2,000,000,000 reconstruction corporation. The president hopes to have them chosen by the time Congress approves the plan.

New names constantly entered the talk today of a successor to Justice Holmes. One was that of Federal Judge Curtis Dwight Wilbur, former secretary of the navy, brother of Secretary Wilbur of the Interior Department and now upon the circuit bench in California.

There was equally prominent speculation upon Attorney General (Continued on Page Six)

TWO WOMEN ARE SLAIN IN VIRGINIA

Middleburgh, Va., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Jones B. Isley, about 40; prominent society and sports woman, and her maid, about 65, were found murdered today, their skulls crushed, in the Isley home, near here.

The bodies, scantily clad in night attire, were found in separate rooms. The house was in wild disorder.

The body of Mrs. Isley, who was well known in society circles in New York, Middleburgh and Aiken, was found on the floor. The body of the maid found lying in bed in a room across the hall.

Investigating officers said the women were evidently slain by blows from some heavy weapon. There was evidence that the assailant washed his hands in the maid's room.

The bodies were discovered by Mrs. Isley's brother, Paul Boeinz. A request that fingerprint experts (Continued on Page Six)

LOCAL BANK PAYS DIVIDEND

Checks totalling $7,500 distributed at meeting of Greenville B. & T. Co.

The stockholders of the Greenville Banking & Trust Company held their thirty-first annual meeting at the City Hall Tuesday, January 12th, 1932, at 2:30 p. m. Those present declared it to be one of the most enthusiastic meetings in many years.

E. G. Flanagan presided. There were 1565 shares of stock represented in person or by proxy. Dividend checks totalling $75,000 were distributed.

W. H. Woolard, Exec. vice-president, stated that the year 1931 had exceeded his expectations in earnings and deposit totals. The net earnings for the past year being approximately $22,000, which compared favorably with previous years. He stressed the liquid condition maintained throughout the year and that loans in the Home Office had been reduced from $600,000 a year ago to less than $500,000.00, these loans being made to individuals, firms and corporations and secured by U. S. and other bonds, stocks, collateral, endorsement and real estate mortgages, with average maturity of 30 to 90 days.

Mr. Bowman, certified public accountant, representing A. M. Pullen and Co., who audited the affairs of the bank in December 1931 made comments on the scope of the audit and stated that the records, accounts and affairs of the bank in excellent condition and all in balance. Mr. Bowman stated that it was very rare to find a bank as large as the Greenville Banking & Trust Company in as good and liquid condition.

Mr. C. S. Carr, vice-president and treasurer of F. S. Royster Gunn Co., director of the bank and former cashier attended the meeting and spoke briefly to the stockholders. Mr. Carr stated that the report (Continued on Page Six)

Tobacco Market Closes Season Friday, Jan. 29

The Greenville tobacco market will close for the season Friday, January 29, it was revealed today by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales of the local market.

Farmers were advised to carefully work the remainder of their tobacco and market it as quickly as possible. The market disposed of 225,000 pounds of leaf yesterday and there was approximately 200,000 pounds on the floors of the various warehouses today, the report also indicated. There was no visible change (Continued on Page Six)

TALK SHOALS AT MEETING

President and Snell Discuss Measure For Placing Power Plant in Operation.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The possibilities of accelerated action in the House upon a measure to place Muscle Shoals in operation were discussed today at an early morning conference between President Hoover and Minority Leader Snell.

"We are anxious," Snell said as he left the White House, "to get a good clean leasing bill into the congressional machinery. It is time we got something out."

The New York Republican reported the President in favor of House action to get Muscle Shoals in operation. He did not say, however, whether the President would recommend action on the huge Tennessee river project along the same lines as suggested in the recent report of a joint federal-state commission.

The commission recommended private operation of Muscle Shoals under a 50-year lease primarily for the manufacture of fertilizer to (Continued on Page Three)

HOOD SYSTEM BANK GROWS

All Officers Re-Elected at Annual Meeting of Stockholders Yesterday.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Hood System Industrial Bank was held yesterday, and the institution was shown to be in the most liquid conditions in years. Virtually all of the stock was represented and all officers were re-elected. One change was made in the board of directors, John Ivey Smith succeeding F. J. Forbes, who recently moved to Reidsville.

The report of Cashier W. C. Braswell showed the bank to be in splendid condition. Although the bank showed healthy growth during the year no dividend was declared, this being passed with a view of rendering greater service to the hundreds of patrons of the institution.

Following the meeting of stockholders, the board of directors met and elected the following officers: J. Key Brown, chairman of the board; W. H. Woolard, president; W. E. Hooker, first vice-president; B. B. Sugg, second vice-president; M. K. Blount, attorney; W. C. Braswell, secretary and cashier; Helen F. Braswell, assistant cashier.

MELLON GIVES TESTIMONY ON TAX INCREASE

Tells the Democratic Group that Balanced Budget is the Goal of Higher Taxes.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A balanced budget at the end of the fiscal year 1934 is the goal of the administration's tax increase program submitted today by Secretary Mellon to the house ways and means committee.

Appearing as the principal witness at the opening of hearings before the Democratic-controlled group that will formulate broader revenue raising legislation, the veteran cabinet member of three Republican administrations said:

"We are in the midst of a great emergency. It is essential to raise additional revenue, not just to cover current expenditures but to maintain unimpaired the credit of the United States Government.

"This last objective is of paramount importance to every citizen in the land. It is an indispensable step in our progress toward recovery.

"The losses that will be suffered by every individual and every industry through a continuation of the depression will exceed many times over the amounts to be contributed in additional taxes.

"It is not only the patriotic duty of all to insure the financial stability of the government in times such as these, but the sacrifice demanded—if we desire to put the justification on a lower plane—is amply warranted by considerations of individual self-interest."

Mellon said the plan he submitted was generally a return to the taxation existing under the 1924 revenue act, twice amended since. He estimated it would return $300,000,000 additional revenue during the current fiscal year and $920,000,000 in the fiscal year 1933 beginning next July 1. It would include a selective sales tax, increases in income and corporation taxes, a super estate tax, and increases in surtaxes.

Citing the $993,000,000 deficit last year, and a prospective deficit of $2,122,000,000 this year, Mellon estimated there would be a deficit of $1,417,000,000 in 1933 despite the increase in revenue.

Coming somewhat as a surprise to the committee members, the treasury secretary announced that "the administration is determined, with your cooperation, to arrest this borrowing process on June 30 next" in urging the increased taxes in order to prevent an increase in the public debt. The administration has been borrowing hundreds of millions the last three years. In addition, he recommended that the new taxes be terminated at the end of two years when the budget is balanced in 1934.

"A fundamental thought which I wish to present to you is that current receipts and expenditures of the government should be brought into balance for the next fiscal year beginning with the coming July, so as to put an end at that time to any further increases in the public debt," Mellon told the committee as he read from a prepared statement. "This is essential not merely for maintaining unimpaired the credit of the government, but also for reinvigorating the entire credit structure of the country."

"The greater part of the present fiscal year has already elapsed and it is impossible to avoid a large deficit for this year. To cover the balance of this fiscal year, all expenditures already authorized and appropriated for as well as those called for by the administration's special emergency relief program, will probably require increases in the public debt by $1,500,000,000 less any amounts to be derived by the current year through additional taxation.

The report of Cashier W. C. Braswell showed the bank to be in splendid condition. Although the bank showed healthy growth during the year no dividend was declared, this being passed with a view of rendering greater service to the hundreds of patrons of the institution.

Following the meeting of stockholders, the board of directors met and elected the following officers: J. Key Brown, chairman of the board; W. H. Woolard, president; W. E. ## GALLI-CURCI SINGS HERE JANUARY TWENTY-FIFTH

The announcement that Galli-Curci will give a concert here has created a great deal of interest throughout this section. Inquiries have come from various places and a number of people. Some seem to doubt that the great prima donna herself would consider coming here and think there is some trick about it.

East Carolina Teachers College is on the list of artists and their managers as one of the good places for engagements. Whenever tours are scheduled for the south and only a limited number of dates can be offered, this college is apt to get an offer early. Tentative arrangements were made with Galli-Curci's managers nearly a year ago and the definite contract was signed in the early spring. This was necessary because there was only a certain number of dates allowed the south-east in her coast to coast tour for this season. In spite of the depression, all of these dates were taken early and many places that wanted her could not get her. Eastern North Carolina is fortunate in having her include this in her tour.

The date of her concert here is January 25, two days before her concert in Chapel Hill. The statement that her first concert in this state would be there is a mistake, as she appears here on Monday evening and there on Wednesday evening.

PRAYER SERVICE AT MEMORIAL BAPTIST CHURCH

The mid-week service of prayer, praise and Bible study will be held this evening at 7:30. Our topic for discussion is "The Progressive Church," Phil. 3:12-17. Every member is urged to avail themselves of the opportunity to fellowship together and to commune with the Lord. Come.

TALK SHOALS AT MEETING

benefit agriculture. The chief executive transmitted the report to Congress without recommendation.

Snell said he personally favored leasing the project along "the same general lines" as recommended by the commission. He added he believed there was considerable sentiment for this in Congress, but that he could not yet gauge the strength of those who last session passed the Norris bill for government operation.

Three or four bills to put Muscle Shoals in operation, he said, already have been or will be introduced, adding a choice should be made soon between them.

To Attend Press Institute.

TO EVALUATE CLINIC WORK

the hope of further reducing the spread.

Rosenwald and the United States Public Health Service gave an additional appropriation to Pitt county for this work during the present year making it possible to further cope with the situation through an extensive educational campaign. A colored nurse has been employed and in addition to work in the clinic, she will be charged with the responsibility of familiarizing the people with the danger of the disease.

LIGHT DOCKET BEFORE COURT

Four Cases Heard in County Court Yesterday and Two this Morning

Charles Smith, charged with possession of liquor was fined $25 and cost in the regular weekly session of County court yesterday.

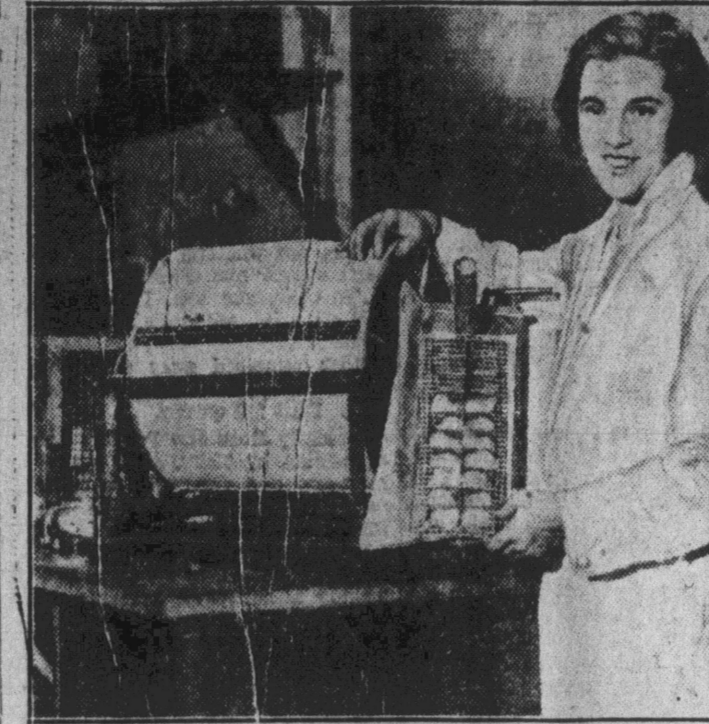

Three other cases were disposed of during the day and two others remained to be given hearing this morning before work was completed. The docket was one of the lightest in months, but more time than usual was required to complete it by reason of one or two of the cases being long drawn out.

W. C. Edwards was fined $75 and cost on a charge of reckless driving and assault with a deadly weapon, but filed notice of appeal to Superior court. The charge grew out of an automobile accident.

Elijah Mills was adjudged not guilty of assault with a deadly weapon.

Fred Wingate, colored, paid a fine of $10 and cost for unlawful operation of a trailer.

SHE'S NOT AFRAID OF MICE

Not many girls would live in a windowless room with 160 mice as companions. But that's what Katherine Wilson did for more than a week instead of taking a holiday vacation. She is a graduate student at New York university and conducted experiments with mice for her Ph.D. thesis. The mice were given injections of pneumococcus, the germ that causes pneumonia in humans, and Miss Wilson watched them studiously recording all their reactions.

ELEVEN KILLED BY TORNADO

when the storm demolished her home at New Hamilton, Miss. Her 12-year-old daughter Helen, was taken to an Aberdeen, Miss, hospital where attaches said she had small chance to live. More than 125 persons were hurt at New Hamilton. Forty-five of these were taken to the Aberdeen hospital.

One negro was killed and 12 hurt at Fausdale, where many buildings were destroyed and much livestock lost.

Several homes were damaged at Forest, Miss., Magee, Miss., reported damage of between $15,000 and $30,000. At Jasper, Ala., the Walker county court house burned during the storm with a loss of $200,000.

Torrential rains accompanied the high winds. Pensacola, Fla., had a cloudburst which was recorded by the United States Weather Bureau as eight inches. Vicksburg, Miss. reported 2.36 inches and Montgomery, Ala., recorded 1.76 inches. The fall at Louisville, Ky., was 1.12 inches and at Atlanta, Ga., 1.00 inch.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 13—(AP)—Three known dead, more than 125 injured and thousands of dollars of property damage today were left in the wake of a tornado that whirled across five counties in Alabama and Mississippi late yesterday.

New Hamilton, Miss., one of the first towns struck, was virtually demolished. It reported one of the dead and approximately 100 of the injured. Homes and buildings were blown down and trees and vegetation uprooted.

The single fatality there was Mrs. Frank Simmons, killed when the windstorm razed her home. Many of the injured were taken to Aberdeen, Miss., for treatment. Near New Hamilton, considerable damage and several injured were reported at Oklahoma, Miss.

Forty homes were reported destroyed at Moundville, Ala. There an unidentified negro was killed and eight others injured. A second negro was killed and twelve persons injured at Fausdale, Ala. Death of much livestock also was reported.

In addition to the places where the tornado struck hardest, other communities of the two states reported property damage from high winds, thunderstorms and heavy rains that were fairly general.

Telegraph companies reported several homes damaged at Forrest,

Deserted Baby Sought by Five

Richmond, Va., Jan. 13—(AP)—Five persons had come forward today to ask the custody of a two-weeks-old infant deserted in a Richmond hotel Sunday night.

Although police in three states were apparently stalemated in their effort to find the baby's mother, the child is assured of a home.

In her bassinet at the city home, the child was well cared for and contented, while Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee police were fruitlessly seeking the mother who gave her address as Bristol, Tenn., and said the baby was born at Greensboro, N. C.

The woman registered at the hotel as Mrs. Etta Lee. Monday morning, after breakfast, she left with a 17-months-old child in her arms. Late that afternoon the infant was found by a chambermaid.

Wrapped in a scanty supply of baby clothes was a note which read: "Baby's name is Dorothy Mae Brown. She was born in Greensboro, N. C. Get her a good home or put her in an orphanage, for I cannot work and raise two babies and I haven't got any help. God bless her is all I can say. I love her."

Argument Begins in Perjury Case

Wilson, Jan. 13—(AP)—Both defense and state rested today in the trial of Alton J. Jordan, Norfolk, Va., attorney in United States District Court here on a charge of perjury and arguments were begun.

J. Davis, member of a Norfolk brokerage firm, was recalled at the opening of court for further cross examination. He denied having any connection with a receivership action filed by Mrs. Margaret Ramsey of Norfolk against the Home Mortgage Company of Hickory.

The government alleges Jordan perjured himself in testimony given at a Master's hearing on the receivership action.

Davis admitted, however, retaining E. S. Merrill, an attorney, to represent Mrs. Ramsey at a hearing on December 6, 1930, in connection with the receivership

Miss, but no reports of injured were received. More than 40 homes were demolished and communication lines blown down over a six-mile stretch between Moundville and Hull. The $40,000 Moundville grammar school was among the buildings destroyed.

Magee, Miss., reported damage of between $15,000 and $30,000 from high winds. Several buildings were destroyed near Nettleton, Miss. At Jasper, Ala., the Walker county courthouse burned during a thunderstorm with a loss of $20,000, but it was not determined if defective wiring or lighting caused the fire.

UPHOLD LEAF FREIGHT RATE

claimed they should be given the benefit of this work in their rates.

The commission held that while this method of loading might reduce the expense of the railroad companies in handling less than carload freight it was unsafe to "indulge in any assumptions in this matter for so much less than carload traffic is now distributed by motor trucks particularly for short distances that the bulk of the less than carload movement may be handled substantially like complainants' traffic except for the loading feature."

Reynolds Profits Reflect Increase

Winston-Salem, Jan. 13—(AP)—An increase in net earnings for 1931 over 1930 of more than $2,000,000 was shown in the annual re-

After resting its case the defense again asked for dismissal of the charge. Judge Johnson A. Hays overruled the motion.

The only government witness on rebuttal was W. M. Bateman, deputy clerk of court, who testified Mrs. Ramsey has been indicted for perjury.

Arguments were limited to three hours.

News Institute Opens at U.N.C.

Chapel Hill, Jan. 13—(AP)—The eighth annual North Carolina News agency will open here tonight, following a conference of daily publishers called by John A. Park, of the Raleigh Times, to discuss "present perplexing problems of perspiring publishers."

Among the speakers at the institute will be Charles E. Honce, executive news editor of the Associated Press of New York; J. Fred Essary, veteran head of the Baltimore Sun's Washington bureau; General Mortimer Bryant, of Bryant, Griffith & Brunson, newspaper representatives of New York; D. S. H. Hobbs, Jr., of the rural social economics department of the University of North Carolina; Hiden Ramsey and L. R. Phillips of the Asheville Citizen-Times; Dean Justin Miller of the Duke University law school, and David Owens, Charlotte department store manager.

port of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

Net earnings for 1931, after deduction of Taxes, depreciation and all charges, were reported as $36,296,817, as compared with $34,256,664 in 1930.

The 1931 earnings are equivalent to $3.63 per share on the 10,000,000 shares of common and class B common stock outstanding.

Undivided profits were given as $67,233,341, an increase of $6,296,817 over the previous year.

ABOUT TOWN

The people have been called upon to pay their taxes and in that way enable city schools to operate the regular nine months.

Schools everywhere are suffering from lack of funds because of shortage of state appropriations for the regular six months' term and unless the taxpayers of the cities rally to the call for aid it is going to be impossible for many of the schools to run more than seven or eight months.

Meeting in joint session here Monday night aldermen and school trustees agreed that the only way the situation here could be saved was through prompt settlement of taxes, and passed resolutions calling on the people to act.

This is something that involves every home of the city, and those who realize the serious situation confronting the system should make arrangements to pay their taxes at the earliest convenience and enable the schools to continue the full term.

It is impossible to estimate the damage which would eventuate from the closing of schools before the completion of the regular term. Students would be retarded in their work and in many instances would be delayed a year in completion of their education. This is a serious matter and it is hoped the entire citizenship will consider the problem and do their utmost to meet the exigency.

Dick Fountain, lieutenant governor of North Carolina, sounded the battle cry against depression in an address before the Parent-Teacher Association at Grimesland Monday night when he declared the only way to meet the situation was through increased education.

Mr. Fountain, a successful lawyer of Rocky Mount, but a former Pitt county boy, told his hearers to cut expenses to the bone in every branch of government, but not to impair the efficiency of the schools through shortage of funds.

He realizes the predicament which the school system has found itself in as result of the passage of the McLean bill and the resultant failure of the legislature to raise sufficient money to care for the present session, and is trying to prevent a repetition of such action in the future.

He also realizes that educated people are far more able to intelligently combat problems of depression than those with unstained minds, and believes that the more advantages offered in the field of education the more readily the nation will be able to solve future periods of depression.

Attorney General Mitchell has signified his intention to proceed directly to Honolulu to investigate disturbances of the last several days.

He was instructed by Congress to look into the questions involved in the racial disorders and make the proper recommendations to Washington.

It seems the principal cause of trouble is a desire for race equality resulting in attacks on white women by islanders. It is a delicate situation, one as old as the existence of the world, and that it will test the ability of the nation to finally settle to the satisfaction of all parties concerned is quite certain.

A series of clinics will be held at various schools of the county in the near future for the administering of toxin antitoxin for diphtheria. Representatives of the health department will be in charge of the clinics and the toxin antitoxin will be given to children of the first grade.

This is one of the many clinics which the department of health conducts from time to time in the interest of improving health conditions and it most assuredly will have its effect in public life.

The department of health here is probably one of the most active in the state and has commanded nation-wide attention through various phases of activities, and especially through the venereal clinics conducted by the Rosenwald Fund

Sunset Pass

By ZANE GREY

SYNOPSIS: When Hesbitt's cowboys imply their belief that the Prestons rustle cattle, Trueman Rock defends Gage Preston's reputation. But he knows that Preston, his employer, is a cattle rustler, together with his son, Ash. Rock wants to help Preston out of the dangerous situation because he loves Preston's daughter, Thiry.

CHAPTER 39

ASH GIVES WARNING

"What!" ejaculated Dunne, his face turning yellow. "Can't you hear? ... Any man who thinks me a rustler has got to back it with his gun."

"Rock, I—I—Throwing guns wasn't in my orders." "Dunne, you don't fit on this range," replied Rock, in bitter scorn. "Keep out of my way hereafter."

Then he turned to the other riders. "Reckon you're not willin' parties to this raw deal Dunne gave me. Any self-respecting cowboy, if he calls another a rustler, knows it's true and is ready to fight."

Tell Hesbitt exactly what happened here. If you don't I'll hold it against you. Tell him rotten gossip on the range isn't proof of an outfit's guilt."

"All right, Rock, we'll shore give Hesbitt the straight of this," replied the rider.

The four mounted men rode away, and Dunne made haste to get astride and follow. Rock called after him:

"Dunne, I reckon all the Prestons—Ash in particular—will take your insult to me home to themselves."

The three young Prestons with Rock certainly took it so. Through the whole affair they had been pale, set-faced, silent.

"Looks bad to me, boys," said Harry, gloomily. "Clears up some queer remarks I heard in town."

"Let's rustle home." Rock agreed, whereupon they bent united efforts to breaking camp.

On the third day following, early in the afternoon, Rock and his cowboys left the herd of steers in the meadowland below Elgel's ranch, and rode on home.

The labor of the past few weeks had been so strenuous that Rock scarcely realized the lapse of time. What had happened at Sunset Pass during the interim?

By the time he had shaved and changed his clothes, there came rapid footfalls, followed by a knock on his cabin door.

"Who is it?" he called, for he had taken the precaution to lock the door.

"Preston. Open up," came the peremptory reply.

Rock slid back the bar, whereupon Preston stamped in, with Ash close behind him.

"Howdy, boss!" said Rock, cheerfully, and nodded to Ash.

"Al busted in with a wild story," broke out Preston, waving a greeting. Rock was he just loco, or is he exaggeratin' a little run-in you had with one of Hesbitt's outfits?"

"Boss, Al told the truth, and put it mild at that," replied Rock, and turned to tie his scarf before the mirror. In the glass he saw Preston's eyes roll and fix with terrible accusation upon his son. "Sit down, both of you," went on Rock, and presently faced them again. Ash was coolly rolling a cigarette, his face a mask. Preston had been drinking of late, but appeared sober, and now though grim and angry, his eyes shone steadily.

"Wal, that's short an' sweet," he said, with a gruff laugh. "So you come in only a little short of five hundred head?"

"Four eighty, if we counted correct."

"Wonderful job!" exclaimed Preston.

"Rock, suppose you tell us everythin' that come off."

Thus adjured, Rock began a minute narrative of the situation from the day Al caught the two riders spying upon him from the slope.

"So you invited Dunne to draw?" Preston queried, rising with his eyes like lights behind transparent veils.

"Boss, I did reckon I was good and sore," admitted Rock. "But what could you expect of me? He made me out a rustler, though he crawfish'd yellow on it. Besides, that insult extended to my boss, didn't it?"

"Cowboy, I never expected you'd stand up fer me that way," burst out Preston, benignly moved. "Would you mind givin' me your angle on this deal?"

"Most as short an' sweet as the other. Hesbitt is a new rancher here. He doesn't know our range. There's been some rustling, as you know. Reckon Hesbitt has been losin' most of any of you ranchers. He's sore, and his outfits are tryin' to be Wyomin' smart. They've picked on you."

"Wal, by—! It's as clean an' sharp as everythin' else about you," returned Preston, perturbed. "Ash, did you savvy that?"

"Shore, but I ain't awful impressed."

"Reckon this hjar deal wouldn't be particular bad fer me if it wasn't fer our butcherin' business."

and the U. S. Public Health Service in the hope of improving the health of the colored race.

In view of the fact that Pitt county was the only section in the south in which clinics of this kind were conducted, the results of the work have been used extensively in other campaigns inaugurated in other territories.

Preston remarked, as if thoughtfully to himself. Rock, however, divined that was a calculating speech.

"You hit it, Gage. There's the rub. My hunch is you must quit the butcherin'," said Rock, deliberately, his eye on Ash. He anticipated that individual's reaction.

"I will, by thunder!" replied the rancher, wheeling instinctively to face his son.

Ash rose out of the cloud of smoke. At that moment, for Trueman Rock, nothing in the world could have been so desirable as to smash that face. Ash took no notice of his father's decision. He flipped his cigarette butt almost at Rock.

"I'm butcherin' tomorrow, Mister Rock," he asserted.

"Butcher and be darned!" retorted Rock, absolutely mimicking the other's tone.

"You're gettin' too thick out here," said Ash, backing to the door, which he opened. "I told you once to clear out. This's the second time. There won't never be no third."

"See here, Ash, I'm not tryin' to run your affairs. I was just givin' my angle. As for clearin' out—well, I'll consider that. Reckon I don't want to make trouble between you and your floks."

Ash backed out the door, his wonderful blue eyes like fire under ice, then he stalked off the porch toward his cabin.

"Gage, that bull-headed son of yours will be the ruin of you," said Rock, turning to the rancher.

"Lord, don't I know it!" groaned Preston from under his huge hands. Up he sprang, to lift clenched fists, and broke into an ungovernable rage that broke astonished and mystified Rock. The proxyism subsided, and he grew composed, but if there was not actual hate in the set glare of his deep gray eyes, then Rock erred in his belief.

"Boss, some way or other you must persuade Ash to give up the butcherin', at least for a while. Make him think so. Anythin' to gain time."

"Rock, why don't you persuade him?" queried Preston, significantly.

"Me!" ejaculated Rock, shot through with an impression he hoped was false. He did not betray that he had grasped Preston's dark hint.

"Thiry an' I have kept him layin' off since you left. I reckon we'd better try the same again."

"Yes, try whatever worked. But don't oppose him, Preston."

"Wal, I guess not. I'll let him cool off a bit, an' tackle him after supper."

Rock remained away from the supper table, though the second bell rang. Dust fell quickly.

Presently Rock saw Preston, accompanied by Thiry, come out of his cabin and cross over to enter Ash's. A light flashed from the window.

It was quite dark when he slipped out. He stole among the trees, and making a half-circle he came up to the bench under Thiry's pine, and sat down there to wait, thrilling wit anticipation of soon seeing her white form emerge from the blackness. But an hour passed. She did not come. Another went by!

The night threatened to be rainy. All the lights except that one in Ash's cabin were now out.

It must have been long after midnight when Rock heard a door closed, and that he was sure had come from Preston's cabin. How pitch black it was at a little distance! Then a pale sheet of lightning illumined the heavens. By its aid Rock discerned a white form, gliding swiftly. Thiry! He moved to intercept her.

Out of the blackness a slender vague shape glided, like a specter. "Thiry! Thiry!" he whispered unable to make his voice clear or steady. "He heard her gasp. "Thiry! Don't be frightened. I waited. . . It's Trueman."

"You!" she cried, and seemed to loom on him out of the shadows. Her arms swept wide and that extraordinary action paralyzed Rock. The next instant they closed round his neck.

(Copyright, Zane Grey)

"Why did you do that?" Rock asked in the next installment—and learns that he must play his hand carefully.

"He's rather a bossy old darling, and I didn't know how he'd like the idea of my smoking. The first time I lit a Chesterfield in front of him, he sniffed like an old war-horse... and I braced myself for trouble. But all he said was, 'That's good tobacco, Chickabiddy.' But I still think that if he hadn't been so impressed by the quality of Chesterfield, the old dear might have been less agreeable. Human nature is like that! Grandfather raised tobacco in his younger days, so he knows what's what. I don't, of course—but I do know that Chesterfields are milder. It's wonderful to be able to smoke whenever you want, with no fear you'll smoke too many. And it doesn't take a tobacco expert to prove that Chesterfield tobaccos are better. They taste better... that's proof enough. Never too sweet. No matter when I smoke them... or how many I smoke... they always taste exactly right. # GIRL SWIMMER COPS SIXTEEN WORLD MARKS

By FRANK GORRIE
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 13.—(AP)—When motorcycle cops in Seattle aren't leading a procession in honor of Helen Madison they are chasing her with official tags.

A brilliant roster came into her life recently and since then there has been no depression in the traffic division to the local police department. She goes everywhere with the top and the accelerator down.

But speeding clips mean nothing to this 17-year-old girl who ranks as one of the greatest swimmers of all times. Fifty miles an hour through traffic on the busiest street in town is just a breeze.

Speed fascinates her. In the water she holds 16 world records and 53 of the 67 American marks in the free style division. Travel to her is synonymous with airplanes. She likes to play poker but she tosses the cards around so fast that there is nothing but misery in the game for others.

Right now she is best with all the 17-meters and excitement of seven-eighths growing up. Only in the past year she learned to dance she wants to be a movie actress. Clark Gable is "w-o-o-n-d-e-r-f-u-l-u-u-u". She pretends to smoke at parties, likes beer and thinks champagne is grand, particularly when the bubbles get up your nose. And club sandwiches.

Clothes have suddenly become tremendously important. They used to be the least of her worries. An old red sweater was her boon companion on her first trip east two years ago. But now! the absolute height of fashion. Pretty Smart. And with a little white poodle that looks like the business end of a new map to add the final touch of tone.

Of course there's a boy. And a diamond.

"Puppy love," says her coach, Ray Daughters. "She'll get over it."

Heels has two superstitions about her swimming and she is very serious indeed about them.

On is an old gray bathrobe that always accompanies her to the side of the pool. The other is a black silk bathing suit, the one she broke her first record in.

The suit is worn out now and wouldn't pass the censors but it must last until her record breaking career is over. Her compromise with the legal requirements is another suit worn over the old black one.

Fights Last Night

NEWS BRIEFS

Greensboro, —(AP)—Governor O. Max Gardner will be one of the speakers at the annual conference of the North Carolina Daughters of the American Revolution in Durham March 9. Mrs. Sydney P. Cooper, state regent, told the D. A. R. executive board here.

Charlotte, —(AP)—The bodies of Alfred and Robert Furr, missing two days after they drowned when their boat overturned in the Catawba river, were recovered. Burial services will be conducted today.

Salisbury, —(AP)—Frank Harper, who returned here from Louisiana because he said he had rather face house-breaking charges than remain there for trial for white slavery, confessed he stole a large sum of money from the home of Henry Starnes while that family was at church.

Newton, —(AP)—Dr. P. M. McCain, superintendent of the state tubercular sanatorium at Southern Pines visited Newton on a survey looking toward the reopening of the Catawba county Tubercular Hospital.

North Wilkesboro, —(AP)—Dr. J. W. White, 70, dean of the Wilkes county Medical Society, who died here after a lengthy illness, will be buried tomorrow afternoon.

Charlotte, —(AP)—C. O. Kuester, secretary of the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce said here Federal authorities assured him appropriations on the New-York-Charlotte-Atlanta air mail line would not be cut although subsidies for some aviation projects probably will be reduced.

Ashboro, —(AP)—B. F. Kearns, 55, of the Moffitt's Mill community was probably fatally injured when his automobile overturned nine miles east of here.

College Cagers Lose To Campbell Outfit, Play A. C. C. Tonight

East Carolina Teachers College lost their first game of the season to the smooth playing team of Campbell College. It was very noticeable at the start that the E. C. T. C. boys were frightened and were shooting their shots too hurriedly.

When the home boys came into the game at the start of the second half, it was immediately evident that Coach Porter had diagnosed Campbell's system of play and they were an entirely different team. Each team scored 11 points in the second half and judging the team in this half they showed the promise of developing into a well rounded team.

The high score for E. C. T. C.

was Tucker, while his opponent scored twelve points. Eason and Martin showed up well at guards, with Eason holding his man to four points.

The college will play their second game of the season with Atlantic Christian College in Wilson tonight. This college has an exceptionally strong basketball team this year, as they have held State College and Wake Forest varsity team to close scores.

Atlantic Christian College will play E. C. T. C. a return game on Saturday night, Jan. 16. As the season progresses the college team will show much better form and more improvement can be detected in the next period.

TAR HEEL CAGERS WIN OVER FURMAN

Charlotte, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Displaying unerring accuracy while their opponents were experiencing great trouble in finding the basket, the University of North Carolina quipped Furman's Hurricane a 37-16 lacing in Chapel Hill last night.

Taking an early lead, the Tar Heels increased it until the very last.

Wake Forest, the other big five-team in action last night, did not fare so well at the hands of Virginia Polytechnic, however, losing in the last three minutes of play when the Gobblers launched a brisk rally which first tied and then topped the score. When the whistle blew it was V. P. I. 27, Wake Forest 26. The Deacons held lead a 14 to 9 lead at half time.

Little six representatives, also playing foreign foes, likewise got an even break for the state. High Point defeated the Parris Island Marines 19-16 in the first of a two game series, but Washington and Lee snowed under Lenoir-Rhyne, 22-15. The Generals held the advantage from the opening play.

Appalachian announced that it had cancelled its West Virginia trip when Concord State, at Athens, was unable to meet the Boonemen. Their next game will be with Catawba Friday. A game with High Point, scheduled for Saturday, has been postponed until February 6.

V. P. I., fresh from its victory over Wake Forest, will come to the state Friday to test the powers of the Tar Heels, and will meet N. C. State Saturday.

Drawn Shades Won't Sell Goods

YOU say you don't draw the shades in your show windows. Well, DO you draw the shades in the biggest window of them all, in the window that everyone sees, in the window that sells thousands of dollars worth of merchandise overnight? That window is the advertising pages of The Daily Reflector.

A window which doesn't wait for prospective buyers to pass by, but goes right into their homes and demands attention. Give your merchandise the sort of display it deserves. The public won't buy what it doesn't know about no matter how strong the inducements, or how big the bargain. The DailyReflector show window should be YOUR show window.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to two points higher on a moderate trade buying, promoted by the steadiness of stocks and reports of heavy rains in the central and eastern belts, March sold at 65 1/2.

The undertone however, was steady owing to an absence of selling pressure and on a moderate trade demand which readily absorbed the small offers. Torrential rains in portions of the central belt and along the east Gulf Coast may have checked the southern selling while at the same time a firm tone to the stock market contributed to the show to stability.

Traders generally were apathetic and there was a noticeable tendency to limit operations and to await developments in connection with the reparations problem and the reconstruction finance corporation in Washington. The March position sold at 65 1/2 and 65 1/4 and the general market at the end of the first half hour was one to three points net higher. Liverpool closed that the market there was influenced by local and continental liquidation and said that the demand for cloth from India had improved.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Responsive to stock market advances, grain values showed improved backbone during late dealings today as compared with a drooping trend earlier.

On the other hand, export business in North American wheat was confined to scattered loads from Canada. Kansas reports of snowfalls were construed as bearish, and so too were railroad advices that drought in northwestern states had been broken, and that subsoil moisture supplies were again about normal for spring crops.

Wheat closed firm 1-4-1/2 above yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 1-4 higher, oats at 1-8 decline to a shade advance, and provisions showing a rise of 12 to 17 cents.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The stock market resumed its climb with vigor today, after yesterday's breathing spell.

A broad list of prominent shares surged up 2 to 5 points or more, with rails still prominent in the advance. Trading was dull at the start, but quickened after midday. An upturn in U. S. Governments in the bond market, after several weeks of sagging prices, was stimulating to securities generally.

Issues up 3 to 5 points included American Tobacco B, Liggett and Myers B, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Union Pacific and Eastman. Shares up 2 points or more included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Can, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of N. J., Santa Fe, New York Central, New Haven, Westinghouse, Johns Manville and others. Among the many issues up a point or more were Standard Oil of N. J. and General Motors.

The tobacco shares turned upward on publication of R. J. Reynolds Co.'s annual statement, making the favorable showing of $3.62 per share of stock on the combined common issues, as increased from $3.42 in the previous year. Oils showed little response to the Sinclair-Prarie merger, since its terms had been authoritatively reported well in advance of the announcement. There was little activity in the coppers, despite the continued firmness in the metal market.

Senators and Red Sox Will Open Majors

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Once more the honor of opening the major league baseball season will fall to the Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators.

These American League clubs will start major league hostilities of 1932 on April 11, a day in advance of the official opening so that President Hoover can throw out the first ball.

On April 12, the official opening date, the schedules will be:

National League—Philadelphia at New York; Boston at Brooklyn; Chicago at Cincinnati; Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

American League—Washington at Boston; New York at Philadelphia; St. Louis at Chicago; Cleveland at Detroit.

The complete schedules will be announced Feb. 2 and 3, presidents Heydler and Harbridge of the National and American Leagues, respectively, announced after a conference completed yesterday.

Bank Bandits Elude Posse

Magnolia, N. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Poses which had scoured Eastern Carolina since noon yesterday, in search of three men who robbed the Bank of Magnolia and escaped with $14,300, scattered this morning for breakfast without reporting any definite progress.

Shortly after midnight today, Sheriff J. T. Brown of Pendleton county, deputies and newspaper men went to Hampstead, where officials had reported seeing men believed to be the bandits, but had reported no result from their trip several hours later.

The three men drove up to the bank unmasked just before noon. Two went in, masked themselves, forced Alton Gaylor, assistant cashier, into a vault, and walked out with available cash.

L. D. Dial, cashier of the bank, stood across the street during the procedure, but all went so smoothly for the bandits that he said he did not suspect what was taking place until some minutes after the car, driven by the third bandit, had driven off, when customers going into the bank heard Gaylor's cries.

Gaylor said the men had threatened him with death. Witnesses said the men were seen to enter another car, just outside of town, on which the license tag had been painted over to obscure its numerals.

TOBACCO MARKET TO CLOSE SEASON FRIDAY, JAN. 29TH

(Continued from Page One) in the price situation. Greenville led the bright belt from the standpoint of prices during the month of December, it was made known today in the monthly report of the State and Federal Crop Reporting service. The market's average was given as $7.30 per hundred pounds.

Sales have been comparatively light since the re-opening following the Christmas holidays, but a considerable amount of tobacco still remains to be sold, and farmers were urged to re-work it, protect it from the weather and market as rapidly as possible.

HOOVER TURNS TO JOB OF FILLING VACANT OFFICES

In Senate cloakroom conversation the names of Senator Walsh of Montana, and Bratton of New Mexico, both Democrats, recurred. It was argued that five members of the Supreme court are from the northeast and that the president would turn westward for Holmes' successor.

Henry P. Fletcher, former chairman of the tariff commission and before that Ambassador to Italy, often is mentioned as a successor to Daves at the Court of St. James. Others suggested are Frederick W. Peck, Republican national committeeman from Rhode Island; and William Butler of Massachusetts, former chairman of the Republican national committee.

Administration officials have been endeavoring to induce Ambassador Forbes to remain in his Tokyo post, now rendered doubly important by the Manchurian difficulties.

James R. Beverly, Attorney general and second ranking officer in the Puerto Rican government, has been spoken of to succeed Roosevelt there. Although the selection of a chairman of the American Delegation at the Geneva conference after Daves resigns is not now pressing, talk rives in the names of James Grafton Rogers, assistant secretary of state, and Hugh Gibson, ambassador to Belgium and a delegate to the parity. The president is known to be seriously considering Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier and an old friend, as a director of the proposed reconstruction corporation.

TWO WOMEN ARE SLAIN IN VIRGINIA

(Continued from Page One) be sent to the scene was made to Washington and Richmond police. Mrs. Tinsley's husband, Spencer Tinsley, died about a year ago. He was buried at Milwaukee. Mrs. Tinsley had been maintaining a home here for about ten years.

Persons in the vicinity said the murders were discovered by a relative who slept in a house not far from the one occupied by Mrs. Tinsley and her maid. Tinsley's meals at Mrs. Tinsley's house and on going there this morning became alarmed because there was no response to his knocks and calls.

Forcing his way into the house, he found the body of his sister and the servant. They had apparently been beaten to death with a club. Fred Alton Gaylor, assistant cashier, into a vault, and walked out with available cash.

L. D. Dial, cashier of the bank, stood across the street during the procedure, but all went so smoothly for the bandits that he said he did not suspect what was taking place until some minutes after the car, driven by the third bandit, had driven off, when customers going into the bank heard Gaylor's cries.

Gaylor said the men had threatened him with death. Witnesses said the men were seen to enter another car, just outside of town, on which the license tag had been painted over to obscure its numerals.

HELEN DAIL PASSES AWAY

(Continued from Page One) was taken to Snow Hill for burial. Miss Dail was a native of Snow Hill and moved to Greenville with her family five years ago. She was a faithful member of the Methodist Church and evinced much interest in the progress of the local congregation.

Prior to her illness she was employed in the office of Drs. Wright and Barrett. She was popular among a wide circle of friends who received her death with profound sorrow and regret.

She is survived by her mother,

CHARGES MELLON WITH "RUNNING ROUGH SHOD" OVER LAWS OF COUNTRY

The Texan replied that since the department "has let him run rough shod over law as I believe, what reason would I have to expect it would make a criminal prosecution?"

Another Democrat, Representative Oliver, of New York, requested that the statement be stricken from the record.

Falman said he expected to show malfeasance on the part of the secretary before he concluded. Representative Dyer, Republican, Missouri, said it was unfair to make inferences of corruption without presenting such proof.
