GOVERNOR ATTEMPTS TO END ROCKINGHAM STRIKE

Gov. Roosevelt Promises New Foreign Trade Deal To People Of Northwest

THIRD MAJOR TALK TONIGHT

New Yorker Moves to Portland, Ore., for Another Assault On Republican Policies; Large Crowd Hears Democratic Nominee in Speech At Seattle; Tariff Given Sharp Attack.

By WALTER T. BROWN (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Portland, Ore., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Leaving behind a promise for a new deal in the restoration of foreign trade and encouraged by cheering crowds in northwest Washington, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today moved his Presidential campaign into the normally Republican state of Oregon, the home of an administration leader, United States Senator Charles C. McNary.

The Democratic nominee will speak tonight at Portland, delivering the third of the major speeches of his 8,900-mile journey through twenty-one States. Mr. Roosevelt will discuss public utilities, a subject to which he as governor of New York has given much attention.

Last night at Seattle, Roosevelt made a brief speech to an auditorium crowd that filled every seat, the aisles, window ledges and overflowed into a baseball park adjoining the building. There were 12,000 in the auditorium and an estimated 14,000 in the park.

Referring to the Hawley-Smoot "or Grundy tariff," Mr. Roosevelt said, "President Hoover should have known that this tariff would have had to stimulate foreign markets. Representative Willis C. Hawley, Republican co-author with Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, of the Hawley-Smoot act, is an Oregon Congressman.

"That tariff, as you in Washington will know," the Democratic candidate continued, "had the inevitable result of bringing about retaliations by other nations. Forty of them set up tariff defenses."

Among the commodities of the Pacific Northwest, which Roosevelt said had been injured by retaliatory tariffs, were peaches, vegetables, apples, condensed milk, hay and salmon.

"To remedy this," asserted Roosevelt, "I have advocated, and continue to advocate, a tariff policy based in a large part upon the simple principle of profitable exchange through negotiated exchange tariffs which benefits each nation. If I am any judge of conditions, this policy will be initiated on next March 4."

"This constitutes what I conceive to be a new deal in the restoration of foreign trade—it is the way of economic peace and stability to reasonable and sound prosperity. This measure of justice can come only through a revival of industry and employment."

"Not charity, but a chance to earn a living. This is the hope and demand of the men forgotten in the policies of the present Republican leadership."

That sentence ended his prepared address. He added, however, his right arm outstretched and his voice stressing every word:

"All my life I have been a doer, not a phrase maker. I ask your help in support of liberal views and liberal measures. I ask it in the name of a stricken world. I ask you to give me your help."

Mr. Roosevelt's auditorium speech climaxed a tumultuous and busy day. Police estimated that more than 100,000 persons jammed the streets when the Democratic nominee drove from his train to a hotel. Along the 25-mile route to the Western Washington Fair at Puyallup, crowds had gathered in every village and 25,000 heard him briefly talk at the fair grounds. Returning, he visited Tacoma, where the crowd all but suffocated his motor car and the others in which members of his party rode.

TWO KILLED AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Sister Textile Workers Die as Train Hits Their Car at Crossing at Graham.

Burlington, N. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Two sisters, Burlington textile workers, were instantly killed near Graham early today when a Southern eastbound freight train derailed their automobile at a crossing. Three men riding with them were slightly injured.

The dead were: Mrs. Sam Lee and Mrs. E. A. Gillespie. They were en route here to work in Burlington mills.

G. W. Shepherd, David L. Michael and Leon King, the three men, received bruises and were shaken up, but none was seriously hurt.

It was not known immediately who was driving or how the accident occurred.

Conductor Ben Logan, who was riding in the caboose at the time of the impact, was thrown against the side of the coach and received a severe cut over one eye.

Later, King said he was driving the machine, a sedan, and that he neither heard nor saw the approaching train until it was on him.

He said he was almost across the track when the engine struck the rear of the machine.

Coroner R. M. Trotter said there would be no inquest.

ALUMNI WILL BANQUET HERE

Former Students Of Davidson College to Meet at Woman's Club at 6 o'Clock.

The annual banquet of alumni of Davidson College will be held at the Woman's Club tonight at six o'clock.

The principal address will be delivered by Dr. Walter Lingle, president of Davidson, and talks will be made by Rev. Tom Lingle and Prof. C. R. Harding, members of the Davidson faculty.

The banquet will be one of the highlights of the convention of the North Carolina Synod of the Presbyterian Church in session at East Carolina Teachers College, and was expected to be largely attended.

Dr. R. S. McGeachy and other officers of the East Carolina Alumni Association, have arranged a delightful program which will consist of a number of stunts in addition to the addresses.

Charlotte, N. C.—(AP)—Dr. C. E. Pierce, of Gastonia, was chosen president of the Piedmont District Optometrical Society at a meeting of the group here.

Better Times Reported In all Parts of Southland

Atlanta, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Wild geese fled south today and with them came autumn when pumpkin vines, orange trees bear and folks gin their cotton to barter for calico and silk, banjos and organs.

It is the busy season in Dixie when winter supplies must be purchased and business leaders agree the outlook is encouraging and that a new hope has been born in the cabins and manors while hard times were knocking at the doors.

Farm women from Virginia to Louisiana are busy with their preserves while the men market tobacco and cotton and pay off at the general store—if possible. Soon wild turkeys will be calling and quail will be whistling in the clover fields as the harvest season grows in a country where seasons are pronounced.

LA FOLLETTE IS DEFEATED IN WISCONSIN

Senator John Blaine, Another Progressive Trailing His Opponent.

(By The Associated Press)

A conservative Republican's defeat of Governor Philip La Follette, exponent of the family progressive policies so long victorious in Wisconsin, today overshadowed prohibition battles in New York and Massachusetts party primaries.

Walter J. Kohler, whom La Follette defeated for re-nomination two years ago by a 127,000 majority, today was leading the youthful governor by over 40,000 votes in returns from two-thirds of the state precincts. The vote was 325,568 to 247,301.

Also trailing in yesterday's primary was another La Follette-supported candidate, Senator John J. Blaine. In the race for the Republican senatorial nomination John B. Chapple, Ashland editor, topped him by 263,158 to 247,278.

Massachusetts Republicans piled up a lead of 17,000 over his nearest opponent for lieutenant governor, William S. Youngman in the gubernatorial race with more than half the precincts reported. Governor Joseph B. Ely, Democrat, was re-elected without opposition.

Representatives George Holden Tinkham, Republican, and John W. McCormack, Democrat, again won.

PILOT LIFE HEAD KILLED

Charles Gold, Greensboro, Accidentally Shot While Hunting Squirrels.

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Charles W. Gold, president of the Pilot Life Insurance Company, was shot and killed while hunting in Randolph county, near Randleman, early today with H. C. Deeson, assistant secretary of the Pilot Company.

Announcement of Gold's death was made here by the insurance company which said a messenger was sent here by Deeson to advise officials that Gold had been "accidentally shot to death" while hunting squirrels.

Deeson, in Randleman, telephoned the sheriff of Randolph county and advised him of Gold's death.

Deeson was quoted as saying he and Gold had been separated when he heard a gun discharged. He hurried in Gold's direction, he said, and found the life insurance head lying dead beside a fence.

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Charles W. Gold, president of the Pilot Life Insurance Company, was shot and killed while hunting squirrels near Randleman, N. C., early today, his office here announced.

He was 56 years old.

Officials of the Pilot Company announced he died shortly after his gun accidentally discharged as he hunted during the early morning hours with H. C. Deeson, assistant secretary of the company.

Presbyterians Agree On Big Reduction of Budget

The work committee of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina today agreed on a budget of $585,000, a reduction of $300,000 from the budget for the fiscal year ending last June.

The committee's report, which is to be presented to the Synod later today, was made public by Dr. A. D. P. Gilmour of Wilmington, chairman of the group.

The budget allows $351,000 to causes of the church's general assembly and $234,000 to causes of the Synod. Contributions for the last fiscal year showed a decrease, the committee reported, but a gain in membership was registered. The contributions totalled $1,761,000 compared with $1,000,000 the previous year. The total membership in this state advanced from 75,042 to 76,818.

The Synod voted to postpone indefinitely any action for a church paper to serve the Synod.

Sampson county was transferred from the Fayetteville Presbytery to the Wilmington Presbytery and Lee county from Orange Presbytery to Fayetteville.

The board of regents of the Presbyterian orphanage reports its receipts for the last fiscal year amounted to $74,000 and presented a request for a budget of $80,000.

Dr. Ben R. Lacy Jr., president of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., in explaining the work and financial condition of that institution, asserted that "too many unprepared and inefficient men are trying to get into the ministry." He said his seminary had "adopted regulations" which he hoped "would put an end to this."

The Rev. H. Carr Taylor, Presbyterian missionary to China for 15 years, told of his experiences in that country.

A memorial service for ministers who have died during the year was held here last night.

PREPARE FOR STATE JURIST DIES AT E. CITY

The Legion Post Here Takes Initial Steps Looking to Proper Celebration.

Tentative steps looking to the celebration of Armistice Day here, November 11, were taken at the monthly meeting of Pitt County Post of the American Legion at the high school cafeteria last night.

Officers of the organization were instructed to make arrangements for a program in keeping with significance of the occasion and to obtain an important speaker.

Vance Bunting, of Bethel, vice-commander, presided in the absence of Commander Charlie Martin, of Ayden, who was prevented from attending on account of business.

A. F. Rowe, member of the Post from Ayden, extended an invitation to the organization to hold its next meeting at Ayden, and it was accepted. This will be one of the many out-of-town meetings held by the Post in recent years, and members are looking forward with interest to the gathering in the progressive town.

Dave Moore called attention of the Post to the recent election of Louis Johnson, of West Virginia, as National Commander of the American Legion. In view of the fact that the new commander is a cousin of J. Picklen Arthur, member of the local Post, the adjutant was instructed to write to Mr. Johnson expressing

M'KEE WINS SKIRMISH FOR MAYOR'S SEAT

Opponents, However, Declare They Will Carry Fight To The Higher Courts.

New York, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Joseph V. McKee won the first court skirmish today in his battle to retain until 1934 the mayoralty seat abandoned by James J. Walker, but forces which wish a new election this fall soon let it be known that the fight will be carried into higher courts.

Supreme Court Justice John McGeehan today granted McKee's petition asking that he be allowed to stay in office until after the regular election in November next year. He denied other petitions asking for judicial approval of a special election in connection with the general election this November.

McKee was opposed in the first court move by the Socialists and by the board of elections.

After Judge McGeehan's ruling today the corporation council, acting for the board of elections, and Morris Hillquit, the Socialist party's candidate for mayor at the desired special election, both announced that the decision would be appealed. At Tammany Hall no definite statement would be taken by that organization also.

Mayor McKee, who automatically succeeded Walker from his former position of president of the board of aldermen, said there had been no agreement in advance by opposing parties to have the Supreme Court ruling appealed.

Indian Political Leaders Attempt Reach Compromise with Leader of Millions.

SEEK END OF GANDHI FAST

Poona, Sept. 21.—(AP)—A group of Indian political leaders from Bombay visited Mahatma Gandhi in his cell at Yeroda jail today and submitted to him a plan for a compromise on the communal elections question which they hoped would end the hunger strike he began yesterday.

They spent two hours closeted with the Mahatma and when they left, although no formal statement was made, the belief was expressed that Gandhi's fast would be ended before many days.

The committee included his son Devidas.

The Mahatma was up early and showed little effect from his abstinence which began at noon yesterday.

The plan presented to him embraced a suggestion for joint elections, with proper safeguards for the Untouchables, in whose interest he began the fast.

"Mr. Gandhi appears famished but otherwise he is well," said Rajah Gopal Acharya, acting president of the Indian National Congress, after visiting the Mahatma.

"After ten days without food his Death resulted from low blood pressure only a few hours after he had told attorneys in civil court here he was "not feeling well" and would have to adjourn the day's work earlier than usual.

He walked to his hotel with Dr. Claude B. Williams, a brother-in-law, and went to bed.

"I have been holding court eight years now," Judge Midyette said, "and this is the first time I have ever had to order an adjournment on account of not feeling well."

Before his brother-in-law could reply, Judge Midyette collapsed.

Judge Midyette, a native of Hyde county, was appointed to the Superior court bench in 1923 by former Governor Cameron Morrison. He succeeded John H. Kerr of Warren, when the latter was appointed to Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Claude Kitchin. He had been re-elected regularly since his appointment.

Judge Midyette had recently been treated for heart disease and at the time of his death, Mrs. Midyette was enroute here to care for him should he become ill. She did not, however, know of his sudden attack and was making the trip as a precautionary measure. She arrived here 30 minutes after her husband's death.

Democrats Outline Plans For Great Drive In Pitt

Ground work for the Democratic campaign in this county was laid at a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee at the courthouse this morning.

The meeting was attended by a majority of committee members as well as candidates for various offices of the county. W. E. Hooks, chairman, presided.

Mr. Hooks and Mrs. J. B. Spillman were authorized to aid in the organization of Democratic Victory Clubs in all precincts of the county and to solicit funds to carry on work of the campaign.

The committee pledged its cooperation to the Young Democratic Club recently organized here, and which plans to stage a giant rally here early in October with Bob Reynolds as chief speaker.

Announcement was made by Mr. Hooks that he had been assured prominent speakers for the series of Julian Miller Is Enroute to Rockingham to Make Complete Report of Situation and Send it to Gov. Gardner; Possibilities Looking To Understanding In Walkout to be Considered by Governor.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 21.—(AP)—It was learned authoritatively here today that Governor Gardner has initiated quiet negotiations looking toward settlement of strike at Rockingham where 1,200 textile operatives are idle.

Julian S. Miller, personal representative of the governor, passed through Charlotte this morning en route to Rockingham to hold conferences with executives of three plants which have been closed since the latter part of August when the walkout occurred.

Miller said Governor Gardner will receive tonight a complete report regarding the survey that will be made today. He said the Chief Executive will study the possibilities of working out an understanding by which the employees and mill executives can resume operations at the plants.

The trip to Rockingham is the first Miller has made as representative of the governor on such a mission.

Miller, until recently editor of the Charlotte News, regularly is on the governor's staff directing preparations being made in cities of the State for co-operation between the Federal, State and local governments in relief work expected to become necessary during the approaching winter.

The governor's representative said he was under the impression that the Federal and State governments probably will be reluctant to provide relief funds and materials for persons who have the opportunity to obtain gainful employment and who refuse to accept these opportunities.

Miller intimated that this referred to strike situations such as are prevalent now at the Amazon Cotton Mill at Thomasville, where 260 workers have been idle for weeks and at Rockingham.

On August 22 approximately 600 workers of the Hannah Pickett No. 1 mill at Rockingham struck after forming a union. They gained some sympathizers at Hannah Pickett No. 2, and then they closed the Entwistle Mill. Consequently, 1,200 operatives were idle, though all were not on strike.

The strikers there say they will not return to work until their union is recognized, and the mill officials say the plants will not be opened if they (the officials) must acknowledge the unions.

HOOVER WILL SPEAK IN IOWA

President Scheduled for Address at Des Moines Tuesday, 4th of October.

Washington, Sept. 21.—(AP)—A city in the heart of the farm belt—Des Moines, Iowa—today was chosen for President Hoover's first direct appeal to voters for re-election.

The Republican candidate will speak there on Tuesday evening, October 4, traveling to and from Iowa's capital without making any other address en route.

The announcement of President Hoover's first campaign speech was made by Everett Sanders, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

ABOUT TOWN

While America is divorced from the German armament quarrel, President Hoover hopes the German government will continue to take part in the arms conference.

Germany has signified her intention to withdraw from further consideration of the question because the other powers do not like the idea of assuring her equality in armaments.

Why in the world a nation with a mountain of debt should desire similar arms strength with other powers is difficult to understand.

The Democratic Executive Committee gathered here today to outline plans for the presidential campaign, and from all indications the battle will be everything expected.

Women and young men have thrown their influence into the fight this time decidedly more definitely than in the last time, and that they will be able to accomplish much good is not doubted.

Republicans have shown to the satisfaction of everybody that they are not able to provide relief from the depression, and people are desiring the change which a Democratic administration can give.

Hoover rode into the White House on a virtual landslide but signs of the times predict he will ride out by even a greater landslide.

The Synod of the Presbyterian Church got away to a good start last night and the next two days will see the discharge of many matters of importance to the state church.

These annual meetings are always of interest to the denomination because it is during such times that questions vitally affecting the church as a whole are threshed out.

In spite of the severe financial situation which has swept from one end of the earth to the other, the Presbyterians have made marked progress in recent years, and especially last year.

Greenville is glad to welcome this body of godly men and women and hopes they will be able to stick steadily to their program and show the world they can carry on in spite of adverse financial conditions.

In a short time now Greenville fans will be treated to plenty of

TRAILING A CLUE

What did F. F. mean? Was she just reading into his words the accusation which filled her thoughts?

It was as much as Nan could do to sit next to Robert Leonard without crying this accusation aloud—"You've been trying to kill Jervis!"

George Tetterley gas giving her a tabloid version of his last game of golf; to such a mellow mood had lunch and her likeness to that earlier Nan Forsyth brought him.

Quite definitely George did not like him—oh, quite definitely. Neither did he like Rosamund—much.

Rosamund had begun to smoke before she had begun to eat. She ate very little, and she lit one cigarette from another all through the meal.

Nan's heart hurt her very much as she looked across the Tetterleys' luncheon table at this beauty of Rosamund's. Jervis' very anger against her was the measure of his love and his loss.

"What did you mean, Mr. Francis?" she said without looking at him.

"I'd rather you'd not call me that," he said.

"You did—just told that story on purpose, and you looked at him—Mr. Leonard. What did you mean?"

"That's rather good—isn't it?" he said.

"Who was Eisenthal?" she said.

"Perhaps I didn't mean anything."

"You mean — an experimental chemist."

"Yes—that was quick of you." She shook her head.

"How was Eisenthal useful?" "A handy fellow," said Ferdinand.

"Well, yes, I know." "Are you going to tell me?"

"Well, that's what I don't know." "Why?" He saw a faint sensitive clouding of those eager eyes.

"About a month before he'd captured me, Pedro Ramirez had brought off a little coup. He was carrying on operations in the Magdalena district and harassing the government quite a bit.

"There were three trains, and they left Magdalena at three-four intervals. The first of them ran off the line on the edge of the big pass where it enters the hills. It went down a couple of hundred feet, and there weren't many survivors.

"I'm not a chemist, but I got the idea that Eisenthal had invented a thing that disintegrated certain substances. The man who told me said he'd seen the ties where those three trains left the line, and they were just mush."

"But, F. F.—the first train got as far as the hills." He nodded.

"Why didn't it crash sooner? It must have run over the places where the other two trains went off, and Prayer Meeting Tonight.

"The Thirty Silent Years" will be the subject at prayer meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

For six Wednesday nights "The Life of Jesus" will be the theme of Bible study. In addition to the regular attendance, it is hoped that the members of the Woman's Missionary Society will avail themselves of this opportunity. Due credit will be given the society for this season of prayer and Bible study. Since the Woman's Missionary Society is expected to co-operate in this Bible study course it is expected that a large attendance will be had from the very first of the course. In preparation read Matt. 1:1-17; Luke 1:26-38; Luke 2 and Mark 6:3.

Paddy the Clown Back.

Paddy the Clown, who appeared as an electrical man in an advertising campaign conducted by Home Furniture Store three years ago, was back with the same firm today, assisting in a new advertising drive. He will appear with State Theatre Friday.

Child Scalded.

Donald Rose, fourteen months old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rose, was painfully scalded about the upper part of his body yesterday when water in a percolator on an electric stove overturned.

The child was said to have pulled a cord attached to the percolator causing it to overturn. Scalds were confined to the upper part of the body, and while painful were not considered necessarily serious.

PAGE-COOK.

Ayden, Sept. 20.—The marriage of Miss Thelma Louise Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cook of Williamston, to John DuBarry Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Page of Robersonville, took place Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. Radford Holton of Ayden. Rev. A. C. D. Noe, rector of St. James Episcopal Church here performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives and a few friends. The spacious hall in the home, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, had an improvised altar banked with ferns and palms with cathedral candles in the background.

The bride entered on the arm of the groom without other attendants, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mrs. R. F. Pittman, after Rev. R. F. Pittman had sung "O Promise Me." During the ceremony McDowell's "To a Wild Rose" was softly played.

The bride who is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cook, is a graduate of Williamston high school and Robersonville Secretarial school. She wore a suit of brown waffle cloth and accessories to match and a shoulder corsage of pink roses.

The groom is employed by the David Grimes Drug Co., of Robersonville. A three-course dinner at the home of her sister, Mrs. Holton, followed the ceremony, after which the couple left for a short trip. They will be at home in Robersonville after Sept. 25th.

Old Fashioned Fashion Show.

Fashions of the yesterdays will be displayed between shows at the State Theatre Thursday night. Sponsored by the Episcopal Junior Guild. No increase in price.—(Adv.)

One of the features of the session to be held at the Presbyterian Church tonight will be an address on Home Missions by Dr. B. R. Lacy Jr., president of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va.

Rev. R. A. White, of Mooresville, was elected moderator at the opening session of the Synod last night. He was chosen on the third ballot over Dr. Ben Lacy, Jr., of Richmond, Va., president of the Union Theological Seminary, and a member of the State Synod. The vote was 84 to 80.

Three other ministers were also nominated for the office. They were Rev. Charles Nesbit, of Charlotte; Rev. R. H. Stone, of Jefferson, and Rev. M. S. Huske, of Reidsville.

After his election the new moderator was presented the gavel by Dr. A. D. P. Gilmour, D.D., of Wilmington, retiring moderator, who delivered the opening sermon and called the Synod to order.

Accepting the gavel, the new moderator asked the co-operation of the ministers and delegates in speeding up activities, and said he would do everything in his power to carry on the work of the organization in a highly successful manner.

The Synod was welcomed to the city by Mayor R. C. Flanagan and Dr. R. H. Wright, who were introduced by Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, and who also extended a cordial welcome to the visitors.

Mayor Flanagan assured the gathering that the city was indeed glad to have them as its guests even though it had to wait a hundred and nineteen years before being accorded the pleasure.

Dr. Wright, welcoming the Synod on behalf of the college, predicted a revival of spirituality throughout the world, and said he would be glad when the time came for a return of the teaching of the Bible in the public schools. He declared civilization cannot hope to recover from the abnormal economic situation until people realize their responsibility and return to God.

Mr. Harding said it was a pleasure of the Church to entertain the Synod jointly with the college, and expressed hope that every minute spent here by ministers and delegates would be filled with pleasure and profit.

Delivering the opening sermon, Dr. Gilmour used as his subject, "Concerning Foundations." His text was taken from the 27th and 35th verses of the 7th chapter of Matthew's: "And it fell and great was the fall thereof. And it fell not, for it was founded on the rock."

The speaker declared it is not the alarmist alone who is concerned over the unusual conditions facing the world at this time, but that the soberest and best of the citizenship were asking themselves, "What next and whither?"

He reviewed the fate which befell ancient and modern nations which fell because they gave more attention to the material side of life than the moral. He showed conclusively that even the mightiest can fall, and inquired if there were no enduring foundations.

He referred to foundations trusted by nations of the past, force, arbitration, and education. Constant warfare among nations, he asserted, point to the fact that war and arbitrations are not means of reaching a secure foundation. Education, although it has reached a State of perfection in many lands, and has done much to improve humanity, has not provided the solution, he said.

He declared the only foundation upon which mankind could base hope of future security could be found alone in the teachings of Christ. He urged his hearers to return to the spiritual life and establish a foundation that will endure throughout the ages.

MARKET REPORT

Sell Your Tobacco in Greenville FOR MORE MONEY

Sales were lighter today. Prices on Better Grades showed considerably more strength today.

The government report for August shows the border markets are averaging 28c less per 100 pounds than last year, while Greenville is averaging from 40 to 50 per cent more.

Some of the markets continue to carry in the newspapers misleading and incorrect information. We urge all the growers to come and see for themselves rather than be influenced by false propoganda sent out by publicity bureaus.

No market has keener buying competition than Greenville.

Keep your tobacco dry and market it in best possible condition.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady 12-16 higher on higher Liverpool cables and trade buying.

Buyers found additional encouragement in the strong opening of the stock market, eastern belt rains and expectations of bullish features in the weekly weather report. The advance extended to 7.20 for December with the market at the end of the first half hour comparatively active and firm at net advances of about 22 to 30 points.

There was very little southern trading in evidence and while some traders were talking of a probable increase in hedging later in the week, there were also reports that farmers were showing more disposition to hold their cotton following the recent decline.

Liverpool cables reported covering, Bombay buying and trade clearing in that market, influenced by the rains in the south, and said there was a broadening demand for cotton cloths although delivery difficulties were restricting business.

Grain Market

Chicago, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Wheat rose today to more than 3 cents a bushel higher than prices current late last year.

Pronounced strength in stocks and cotton furnished the chief incentive. The advance was in the face of spread selling here against being at Whittier.
