NEW BETHEL GYMNASIUM IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Community Building Wrecked By Flames Of Unknown Origin

PLAN EFFORT TO RESTORE THE BUILDING

Outhouses Behind Nearby Structures Also Wrecked by Flames This Morning at 2 o'Clock; Building Erected From Reconstruction Funds And Public Donations. And Was Nearing Completion

The new gymnasium and community building which was nearing completion at Bethel was destroyed by fire this morning about 2 o'clock. It was revealed by information reaching the city today.

The structure, built through Reconstruction funds allotted to this county and public contributions, was to have been completed within the next several days.

The loss was undetermined. It was stated an effort would be made to replace the building which was partly covered by insurance.

Several outhouses behind homes in that vicinity were also destroyed as the fire department battled to prevent the flames from reaching the main structures.

The building, 60 by 100 feet, was located on the campus of the Bethel high school but was not close enough to the high school building for the fire to do any damage.

The fire, of undetermined origin, but believed to have been caused by a cigarette left in the building last night following a basketball game, had gained such headway when discovered that the wooden structure was doomed. Flames had spread over the entire place when the fire department reached the scene and flames confined the attention to the saving of nearby buildings. Had it not been for a stiff wind blowing in the opposite direction, it was believed that much valuable property would have been destroyed.

Outhouses at the homes of J. R. Barnhill, Will Grimes and the Baptist parsonage were destroyed with a loss of several hundred dollars.

The building was one of the finest of the kind in this part of the state and the pride of the thrifty community. Scores of persons contributed liberally of materials to help make it possible and a sufficient amount of money was obtained from Reconstruction funds to provide the labor.

It was the largest of five or six similar buildings erected in the county in a co-operative way, and leaves Bethel temporarily without adequate accommodations to take care of high school athletes and large community gatherings.

Although uncompleted, the structure was being used for athletic purposes and only last night the high school basketball team engaged in play on its spacious floors. The building had a seating capacity of several hundred and the style of architecture made it possible for it to be used for athletics as well as all kinds of community purposes.

Winston-Salem, N. C., March 29.—(AP)—After two or three months of preliminary preparation, a movement was instituted today by Winston-Salem magistrates to form a State-wide association of justice of the peace for the purpose of maintaining higher standards of the office.

The magistrates also pointed out that another purpose of the organization would be to "protect conscientious justice from unmerited criticism" and said a meeting would be called here within the next few days when it was expected magistrates would attend from every section of the State.

At the coming meeting, the group is to be formed definitely and officers selected.

GIVES HISTORY OF EARLY ROME

Rev. Charles Gable Continues Series of Lectures at Catholic Church Here

The lecture last evening on "The First Century of Christianity" at the Catholic Church, was a development of the history of the first period in Rome. The Rev. Charles J. Gable made it clear that considering the importance of the subject, there was no detailed chronicle of the life and the labors of either St. Peter or Paul in Rome. Whatever information we may have is obtained by writers who lived in the following ages and by an examination of the monuments that remained with their tradition. The absence of a written record is not without some reason. From the beginning, the apostles were doing what was forbidden by the Roman Law.

DEFER CLINIC SET FOR CHICOD

Epidemic of Measles Causes Health Officers to Transfer Clinic to Bethel

Twenty-four children were operated on for tonsils and adenoids at the public health clinic conducted in Belvoir yesterday. This brought the total number of children who have been operated on in the series of clinics held the last month or so to around 150.

The public health forces were scheduled to go to Chicod Friday but the engagement was postponed indefinitely, on account of an epidemic of measles. About 150 cases were reported in the community and this caused health authorities to transfer the clinic set for that place to Bethel.

Over twenty children have undergone operations in the clinics held in the various schools of the county, and by the time work is completed it was believed the number would pass the 200 mark.

Public health officials were pleased with the progress being made in the various schools and examination will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible in the hope of completing work within the next few weeks. Expense of the clinics is being defrayed through Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds allotted to this county and operations are being performed by nose and throat specialists of this city.

FRENCH SEEK TO POSTPONE DEBT DEBATE

Paul Boncour is Expected to Seek Delay of Consideration Of U. S. Payment

Paris, March 29.—(AP)—The government is seeking to delay parliamentary debate on the $19,000,000 debt instalment due the United States last December so that negotiations with Washington may proceed unhampered. Foreign Minister Paul Boncour is expected to take the floor at the first session of the committee to ask postponement of discussion of the problem for several weeks inasmuch as the government believes debate will be inopportune in the present circumstances. Edouard Herriot, chairman of the committee is expected to accede.

LEAF HOUSE LEASED HERE

Prominent Tobaccoists Announce The Leasing of Gorman's Warehouse

Negotiations had virtually been completed today for the leasing of Gorman's tobacco warehouse by H. C. Sugg, W. P. Moore and Biggs T. Cannon, it was announced this afternoon.

The warehouse will be run under the name of the Dixie Warehouse Company, the same name used by the three operators when they operated Jovner's Warehouse last year.

Arrangements looking to the leasing of the mammoth brick building, among the largest in this part of the State have been under way for several days and were nearing completion this afternoon, it was stated.

The new operators have been connected with the tobacco industry for many years, and have played a conspicuous part in the warehouse business here.

BEGIN BOYCOTT OF THE JEWS

Germany Begins to Take Retaliatory Action in Berlin and Other Areas

Berlin, March 29.—(AP)—Germany's boycott of Jews, although it does not begin officially until the morning of April 1, already has begun to take form.

This morning the Berlin city government ordered that beginning April 1 all supplies for municipal projects be purchased from Nationalist merchants.

Forty-eight Jewish shops picketed by Nationalist storm troops were closed, but owners of a number of other shops run by nine of the Jews on money borrowed from Jews also were picketed.

Jewish professors were prevented from entering the class-rooms at the University of Westphalia.

Hugo Sinzheimer, member of the University faculty, and three Jewish attorneys, were placed under protective arrest. Professor Sinzheimer was a reporter for the War Guilt Commission and is a member of Germany's Preparedness Commission.

The Nationalist-Socialist party headquarters which issued an appeal for a general Jewish boycott yesterday described the campaign as in retaliation for erroneous reports of Jewish persecution published abroad.

TWO-YEAR-OLD CHILD ATTACKED BY ROOSTER

Wilmington, March 29.—Emma Jane, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Russell of 1414 South Second street, who was visiting on a farm at Delco last Friday, was attacked by a large rooster and knocked to the ground. She fought bravely, however, until help arrived. Then she exhibited five deep wounds where the rooster had buried his spurs in her face, head and neck. One wound was dangerously close to her left eye.

Dagenham, Eng., March 29.—(AP)—A three-day strike over wages at the Ford Motor Company plant was settled this morning when representatives of strikers agreed to accept a new minimum wage rate. The strike affected seven thousand men.

The new scale represents an increase over that to which the workmen objected.

BRITISH AGAIN TALK WAR DEBT

Consideration of The Budget Again Brings Debt Issue to The Forefront

London, March 29.—(AP)—The question of a final settlement of the war debts owed the United States again became the chief business before the British government today.

The budget was on for discussion at today's cabinet session even before the expected arrival tonight of Norman Davis, who has been named as special Ambassador for ruling in the issue by President Roosevelt.

Important action is expected in parliamentary circles to result from discussion between Davis and government chiefs.

The latter fixed a settlement that will obviate the necessity of relieving Germany's reparations reduced 65 per cent in the United States on war debts.

BEGIN WORK ON NEW FARM RELIEF BILL

Senate Agricultural Committee Starts Re-writing Measure to Aid Farmers

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—In strict privacy the Senate Agricultural Committee today set about re-writing the administration's sweeping farm relief bill with indications the committee would seek to include provisions for insurance to the farmer at cost of production on that portion of the crop going into the domestic market.

This would be a version of the domestic allotment plan and coincide with the views of John Simpson, president of the National Farmers' Union, who consumed several hours of the committee's hearing time in presenting them.

The majority of members privately expressed to newspapermen the opinion that the cost of production ought to be guaranteed in the bill and that it should include a fair return on the farmer's investment.

GOVERNMENT WORKERS CUT

Fifteen Percent Salary Cut Will Become Effective on Next Saturday

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—The salaries of government employees, both high and low, will be cut a maximum of 15 per cent effective next Saturday.

President Roosevelt ordered the reductions yesterday bringing the previous 8 1/2 per cent cut under the Hoover furlough system up to the maximum of 15 per cent allowed by the new economy act.

MILLER LOSES DAMAGE SUIT

Man Who Said he Drank Mouse From Coca Cola Bottle Fails to Recover

Because he said he swallowed a mouse while drinking a coca-cola about two years ago, J. W. Miller, of the Fountain community, filed suit for $5,000 against the Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Greenville.

The case came up for hearing in the civil term of Superior Court yesterday and a jury returned a verdict against the plaintiff.

The case taken up at the opening of court yesterday morning, was one of the longest drawn out of this term and was not completed until about 5 o'clock. The jury remained out only about fifteen minutes.

Numbers of witnesses were presented by both the plaintiff and defense, and the taking of evidence was not completed until after the noon hour.

Miller said the mouse, contained in a bottle of coca-cola which he was drinking, caused him several days' illness as well as considerable alarm.

The company denied the charge, declaring that the sterilization process used in the plant eliminated the possibility of the existence of such foreign matter after the drink had been bottled.

Court continued to work on its calendar of seventy or more cases today with indications that the end of the week would see the docket greatly relieved.

Judge Grady last week ordered the preparation of 300 cases for hearing one day this week in an effort to further relieve the docket, but the day they will be considered had not been made public today.

Bishop Cannon's Stock Market Adviser Completes Term in Fraud Case

Fort Eustis, Va., March 29.—(AP)—Almost five years of his prison confinement behind him, Harry Goldhurst, market adviser of Bishop James Cannon, today had served his penitentiary term for using the mails to defraud.

His time was up yesterday. Goldhurst, whose case attracted nationwide attention, boarded a train and was believed to be headed back to New York.

STOKES HEADS COUNTRY CLUB

Other Officers Elected at Annual Meeting of Stockholders Here Yesterday

R. C. Stokes, Jr., was elected president of the Greenville Country Club at the annual meeting of stockholders was held yesterday afternoon.

J. C. Lanier was named vice-president and the following members to the board of governors were also selected: D. M. Clark, J. J. White and J. B. Kittrell.

It was decided to reduce monthly club dues from $5.50 to $3.30 and green fees for out-of-town visitors were cut to 50 cents.

Under the improvement program discussed during the session the club house will be repainted and put in better condition.

The golf course, one of the finest in this part of the State has been improved recently, and holds an additional attraction to the hundreds indulging in this popular pastime.

A drive for new members will get under way immediately, it was stated, and the membership was expected to be increased considerably by the coming of the summer months.

Nitrate of soda is not harmful to the diseased plants and will promote quick growth. Let the plants stay in the bed until they have shed the diseased leaves, put out new growth and developed a new root system.

If plants are to be lost it is better to lose them in the bed rather than to go to the trouble of setting them in the field and then losing them, says the tobacco expert.

BLUE MOLD AGAIN HERE

Plant Bed Disease Reported in Three Sections of Eastern Area Today

Raleigh, N. C., March 29.—Blue mold, dread plant disease affecting tobacco plant beds, has again made its appearance in North Carolina following the unseasonable weather of the past ten days, says E. Y. Floyd, extension tobacco specialist at State College.

Reports to Mr. Floyd from at least three points in Eastern Carolina indicate that the disease may be on its way again to destroy tobacco plants this season.

Floyd says about 90 per cent of the plant beds in the State were affected by the trouble last year and he does not look for such great infestation this season, but it is well for all growers to be on the alert to protect the beds where this may be necessary.

Mr. Floyd received a letter from the South Georgia Experiment Station last week indicating that the blue mold trouble had appeared to some extent over nearly all of the Georgia tobacco growing section. He has also had reports from growers in Columbus, Robeson and Greene counties. As yet, he has not been able to get to the infected farms to check these reports.

At any rate, this outbreak seems to mean, he says, that reports about farmers increasing their tobacco acreage to the danger point are premature. No one knows what the acreage will be, Floyd says, and statements that it will be increased by 37 per cent over last season may not be borne out by the actual settings.

Where the disease appears, Floyd advises removing the canvas on warm days, replacing it at night when there is danger of frost and ton-dressing the plants with three pounds of nitrate of soda about twice each week. Water the beds every day, early in the morning, so that the leaves will dry off early but the ground will remain moist.

WILL ASK FOR REGULATION OF SECURITIES

Regulation and Supervision of Stock Exchanges Will Be Proposed in Eight or Ten Days; New Banking Legislation Also in The Offing; Publicity on Securities to be Governed

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt contemplates a broad program aimed at protecting the money invested by the public.

He arranged to send to Congress today the first phase of his plan to govern publicity on security issues.

Regulation and supervisions of the stock exchanges will be proposed in eight or ten days. In addition, the President has in mind banking legislation which would separate securities affiliates from regular banking institutions and dividing commercial banking from trust company banking and include private banking concerns in the scope of the regulations.

Also, he wants to see to it that the directors and officers of corporations and the subsidiaries are placed in the position of trustees for the stockholders.

It is not likely that all of the legislation will go before Congress this session, but the President is pressing for control of the stock market.

Samuel Uttermeyer, of New York, is expected here today. He, with several others, including Carl Taussig, economic aid to the President, have been at work many weeks on the legislation.

Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—The Roosevelt program is gaining full momentum regardless of Congressional speed and there headed for Capitol Hill a drastic measure providing for Federal Regulation of new security issues.

The next few days the President will present his measure for Federal reorganization of "railroads under a Federal coordinator, refinancing of small farm and home mortgages, and the regulation of stock exchange.

The sweeping proposal to spread a cloak for the national protection over investors in securities by virtue of the Federal Trade Commission supervision over publicity was sent to Congress in the afternoon accompanied by a special message.

YOUNG MEN'S CLUB FOR LEGALIZED BEER

Elizabeth City, N. C., March 29.—The Young Men's Club here last night adopted resolutions asking legislation of beer and "trotting" on the legislature's attitude for failing to pass such a measure so far.

The resolutions said that if Virginia legalizes beer, North Carolina may lose much revenue to that State.

PARKER RAND WINS IN INSURANCE SUIT IN WAKE

Raleigh, March 29.—A Wake county jury yesterday decided in favor of Parker Rand, farmer and mill operator, in his suit against Home Life Insurance Company, in which he sought to collect total disability insurance. The defendants took an appeal.

Mr. Rand had two policies providing for payment of $150 per month for total disability. He became ill in April, 1931, and the insurance firm claims the policies lapsed for non-payment of premiums several months later. The firm contends that Mr. Rand did not notify them of his becoming disabled and that the policies are therefore invalid.

Late News Flashes

Today In The Legislature Raleigh, March 29.—(AP)—Friends of the Greater University of North Carolina won their fight when the Senate today formed an allotment of $832,240 for the school each year for the next biennium as proponents of the state eight months school term announced a majority in the senate had signed an amendment to allot $16,000,000 for schools.

The Senate as a committee of the whole threw out the House figure of $700,240 for the university and substituted the original joint committee figure without a record vote.

Senator Bailey of Washington, one of the proponents of the bill to create a state-wide eight months term to replace the six months term and extended aid now in effect, said 37 senators, more than a majority, had signed the amendment to strike out the House figure of $14,000,000 for schools. A GREAT ASSET

The address of Mayor R. C. Flanagan to the Rotary Club in which he declared that from a credit standpoint Greenville ranks among the highest in the state. This should be good news to our people but better than just knowing that we occupy this position is the realization that we can occupy this position as a result of owning our water, light and gas plants.

Already in the past our citizens have shown they preferred that the city own these utilities rather than let the big companies get a foothold here and it is to be hoped that we will continue to maintain this attitude in the interest of the future of our city.

AGAIN WE SAY, LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE

Despite the fact that the Senate Committee yesterday voted overwhelmingly in favor of legalizing beer and wines in this state, again we repeat, leave it to the people. Twenty-five years ago the people of our state went to the polls and outlawed beer along with other liquors and we maintain that if beer or any other beverage outlawed by the people is to be again legalized it should come only through a vote of the people.

There are those who claim that matters would be delayed if an election had to be called to settle the question but it is our belief that without an election there will be sufficient court action to delay matters even longer than any delay that may be necessitated by an election. CHAPTER 45 THE TRAP IS SPRUNG A sound The turning of a key in the lock. The door opened, and the Great Kaid, Haroun Abdallah Karim, stood in the doorway.

He entered the room, and, like a following shadow, the giant negro Ibrahim the Lion, stooping through the six-foot doorway, followed his master. Behind him came the Kaid's confidential scribe. Softly the door closed behind him and Le Sage suppressed a sigh of relief.

Intent upon his victim, the Kaid noticed not the absence of his trusted Vizier, and in the noise of his booming speech, the faint, almost inaudible sound of a turning, well-oiled key, was lost. Seating himself on the throne, his bodyguard and secretary behind him, the Kaid smiled again. "Aslamu aleikum!" he boomed. "How is your health? Well? That is well. We would have you get the fullest enjoyment from such life as may remain to you by the Grace of Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate."

Le Sage bowed and seated himself. "I trust that Allah the Merciful, the Compassionate, will not only give the Great Kaid many long years of health, but to me at least an equal number in which I may know that he is—safe where no enemy can reach him, and..." Leaning back upon his throne, his great jeweled sword across his knees, the Kaid gave vent to his humor in his great roaring laugh for which he was not only famous, but feared.

And scarcely had that leonine roar of dreadful laughter begun before there was another roar, a shout, a cry in Cockney English. "My Gawd! It's im. It's im!" as Sailor Harris sprang to his feet. "E'ung my chum on the 'ooks!" And, leaping the settee as he shouted, Sailor Harris, his fixed bayonet at charge, rushed upon the Kaid.

Even as Le Sage sprang to his feet, the madman lunged and drove the long lean bayonet through the heart of the Kaid. "Take that, you bloody torturer," shouted the mad Harris, as he drew forth his bayonet and stabbed again. "Ready," shouted Le Sage, striking Ibrahim the Lion on the side of the head with all his strength, as the latter stooped to seize the Kaid's sabre.

employees and actors complaining that the executives and the brighter stars and directors came out best. The 50 per cent cut, as originally proposed by the studios, would apply to everybody. Executives making $5,000 a week would get $2,500, just as $100 a week workers would get $50. But the smaller fry don't agree to the justice of such a proposition, arguing that executives are getting too much anyway and that the sliding scale if reductions should be upward, to hit at those top-heavy incomes, and spare the "little fellows."

Populism in the executive ranks comes in for fire, too, and tales of favored nephews, uncles cousins or sons-in-law do not help the cause of the higher-salaried few in the opinions of the smaller earning majority. What eventually will result from the group conferences of the recent past remains to be seen; the consulting groups have been piecing together a veritable jig-saw puzzle in trying to appease all groups and yet protect their own interests.

But studio employe relations have been spotlighted, without a doubt, from all possible angles. NOTICE OF SALE North Carolina—Pitt County. WHEREAS on the 9th day of May, 1931, P. W. sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself. Bile is nature's laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, gas and disease germs. When your liver becomes sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach. Sargon Soft Mass Pills remove the cause of this condition in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative of any kind. Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two generally recognized substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them. Only one for a full 30-day treatment. Ask your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.—(Ind.)

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel years younger, stronger, healthier and happier. It brings back life and color to faded eyes and checks, restores the appetite and

Studio Optimism Spur To Bigger Picture Plans

By ROBBIN COONS Hollywood—(AP)—Movieland reverberations from the recent nationwide financial shakeup stirred many a new conference over a problem that to Hollywood is on old one. That problem, involving the division of the money that the motion picture industry takes in for its product, has ever been acute, but it is in the urgent demand of the major companies for wage slashes up and down the line that some observers see the climax—and possibly the road opening to a solution.

The two groups of persons arguing, wrangling and discussing the points involved are, on the one hand, the employes of the industry, on the other, the employers. Their immediate problem has been to work out a plan of salary reductions "acceptable" to all branches of the industry. Back of the immediate question, however, lies that old sore spot of the movies—the division of the money that supports the industry. In the past, as now, this division has caused bitterness, strife, dissension. Usually it left the lesser

DUKE GLEE CLUB AT COLLEGE THURSDAY NIGHT

The Duke Glee Club, which will give a concert in the campus building of East Carolina Teachers College on tomorrow evening, March 30, is making a special trip to Greenville for this one concert. The glee club is not making a regular tour this spring. About 30 or 35 men will be in the party.

About NEW YORK

By WILLIAM GAINES
New York—(AP)—When Joe E. Brown hit town on a gilded special train full of movie people, I had breakfast with him one noon at a popular restaurant.

As far as privacy went, that was just about like trying to lead a giraffe on a leash across Broadway without attracting attention.

People stared as if they expected to see Brown stuff a whole grapefruit into his muchly baldy-headed mouth. The comic, who doesn't try to be comical at breakfast, attempted to keep up a conversation—mainly about baseball. As you know he bought a big interest in the Kansas City Blues of the American Association, and would as soon talk about Manager Tris Speaker's chances as about his next film.

All the while the waitresses were asking him to autograph their check pads, match folders—anything they could get their hands on.

That was a few hours after Brown had talked to his wife over long distance, and she told him their house was cracked up by the California quakes.

If you'll stand for digging up that hoary laugh-clown-laugh gag just once more, it certainly is applicable to Brown's case.

Some months ago he suffered a financial swat when three banks closed. Then there was a string of illness in his family, and he himself had a session with the M.D.'s. When he started out on a personal appearance tour, he was making towns just as the states were enforcing their bank holidays. He couldn't collect any cash. On top of it all, he caught the special train and arrived here just in time to get the earthquake news.

The old operative touch was the word from his studio that as soon as he could get back to Hollywood conferences would begin on his next comedy. He might as well be thinking up something funny.

That transcontinental junket did what it was supposed to—it brought the actors and beauties before the public and a bit too much at times for their own comfort.

"We are all exhibitionists" said Bette Davis, the Lowell, Mass., blond, referring to those who display their art and good looks on screen or stage, "but even so, they have been times on this trip when one just simply couldn't help blushing."

About the first person Lyle Talbot asked about when he arrived was Milt Caniff, the artist. He and Milt played in stock together, out in Columbus.

An Instance

Rumor has it that an incident occurred recently "on the hill" which, if true, provides a good illustration of what might continue to happen had the Farley rule been adhered to.

President Roosevelt sent to the Senate the name of the Shipping Board, Senator McAdoo, it is said, had no knowledge of the selection, and was not entirely pleased.

At the moment it appears that Senators will have a say in the patronage distribution. But what about gentlemen have very definite ideas on the subject.

Maybe the technique will have to undergo further revision.

CABBAGE SHIPMENTS COMMENCE IN EAST

New Bern, March 29—Cabbages are being cut in this section now for shipment westward by northward and the vegetable so far is netting about a cent a pound in the field without crating expense. Thousands of crates of cabbages should be shipped soon. More than 500 acres are planted in cabbages in Cartaret county.

Share in the spoils of victory would be certified by the party leaders of the State after consultation with the county leaders.

This meant that the Senators and Representatives would be deprived of their time-honored prerogative of being consulted before jobs were filled in their States and districts. The singular thing about Farley's idea was that the Senate confirms major appointments made by the President.

The distribution had hardly begun, however, before things were changed. A conference at the White House resulted in the word going out that Senators would be consulted in appointments affecting their States.

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington, D. C.—With so many jobs to hand out and with such a great number of people hungrily eyeing the patronage lists, it has become a matter for speculation as to what technique the Democratic leaders will employ in the method of distribution.

The average person, unless he is looking for a job, might find it difficult to understand just why Senators and Representatives in such times work themselves up into such a fret over the proposition.

Simply, the answer is that these gentlemen can't help it. They are exposed to the demands of those wanting jobs as never before. They are hounded in their offices. Their daily mail bugles with requests for jobs. And try as they may, they can't escape the fact that the responsibility for filling them is theirs—at least in the eyes of the applicants.

Forley's New Theory
In the light of this, therefore, it is not difficult to understand why, under the surface, "Big Jim" Farley has caused the gentlemen "on the hill" to gnash their teeth at late. Farley, the patronage boss, started out with a new theory in the matter of giving Federal jobs.

MEEKINS GIVES MORE TIME TO BUS COMPANY

Elizabeth City, N. C., March 29.—Judge I. M. Meekins, United States District Judge for the Eastern District of North Carolina, Saturday granted a three months' continuance of an order restraining officials of North Carolina from interfering with the operation by the Norfolk-Roanoke Island Transportation of its bus service between Norfolk and Manteo. This restraining order has been in effect for a year, being originally granted by Judge Meekins March 31.

Service was inaugurated by the Norfolk-Roanoke Island Transportation Corporation, between Norfolk and Manteo on May 20, 1931, and was furnished until February 7, 1932, when, one of its buses was stopped in North Carolina by a member of the State Highway Patrol and ordered to cease operation or suffer penalty of fine and impounding of the bus. Service was suspended while suit was instituted in the United States District Court for a restraining order against North Carolina officials. After this order was granted by Judge Meekins in the latter part of March, service was resumed on April 1, 1932, and has been continuous and uninterrupted since that time.

CAROLINA TO MEET MICH. ON FRIDAY

Chapel Hill, N. C., March 29.—Coach Bunn Hearn is looking to the brace of games with Michigan State here Thursday and Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock to tell several of Carolina's young pitchers under heavy fire and to tell him a lot about who is who at several positions which are as yet unsettled.

Both teams have strong veteran outfields to go with promising infields, but the problem of seasoning and developing pitching staffs is worrying Coach Hearn and Coach John Kobs, of Michigan State equally.

The invaders' lone veteran pitcher, Berwyn Bomberton, is expected to start the Thursday game, with Edward Redmond, Kenneth Little and Kelly Langer held in reserve. Carolina will likely call on Nathan Andrews and Fred Crouch in order.

Carolina will probably start Norman McCaskill, catcher; Bill Dixon, first; Vergil Weathers, second; Johnny Phipps, short; Captain Willie Powell, third; Bill Croom, left; Johnnie Peacock, center; and Gene Zaisler, right.

One of the oldest, most consistent traditions surround the spring training activities of the major league baseball camps is the ballyhoo for a recruit who may have the chance to fill the early shoes of a seasoned veteran who happens to be holding out for more money or whose career may be moving toward the shadier side.

The ambitious youngster bounds into camp filled with eagerness at least some hope. The correspondents then light the first match by hailing him as the boy who may be called on to take so-and-so's place this season, inasmuch as so-and-so is a holdout and threatening to quit the game if he does not get what he wants from the stony-hearted club owner.

Soon the recruit is showing real promise in practice games then he hangs out a couple of hits in the first exhibition contest. By now the manager himself may be busy telling the scribes that this boy has shown phenomenal development, that he looks about ready to stick and he (the manager) is not especially concerned if the holdout regular reports or not.

Sometimes, at this stage, the holdout himself may become a little nervous, especially in such times as these. If an old hand, he will not be alarmed. Perhaps he has figured all along to run the string out long enough to miss a good deal of the camp grind.

Eventually, at any rate, he swings onto the dotted line. With a sigh of relief, the manager who has been so busy touting his rookie substitute assigns the veteran to his old job and begins worrying about something else.

They'll Be Around. No one will be completely astonished, therefore, if Joe Strip starts the season at third base for the Brooklyn Dodgers and Frankie Frisch again captains the St. Louis Cardinals on opening day, April 12, despite the protracted and wordy disputes they have indulged in.

The boys who have been romping around in their laces soon will be warming the bench or hustling for the dear old Newark Bears or the Rochester Redwings.

At that, the baseball job-holders who are associated with a club operating on the chain-store basis can count themselves fortunate nowadays. If they have any promise at all they are more sure of being employed than ever before, based on the index of their ability.

Cream of the Crop. Here are a few of the exceptional young men, all comparative newcomers, who seem fairly certain to stock in the big show, at least for the opening performances or until the pruning process is complete! May 15:

Ed Linke, pitcher, Washington; Blondy Ryan, shortstop, and Hank Leiber, outfielder, Giants; Forest Twoogood, pitcher; Bill Knickerbocker, shortstop, and Harley Boss, first baseman, Cleveland; Albert Wright, second baseman, Braves; Art Scharen, third baseman, Browns; Fred Walker, outfielder, and Don Brennan, pitcher, Yankees; Lou Finney, outfielder, and Frank Higgins, third baseman, Athletics; Walter Beck, pitcher, Dodgers; Henry Greenberg and Marvin Owen, infielders, Detroit.

Sends New Message to Congress. Washington, D. C., March 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today to provide supervision of investment securities.

In another message, his sixth in less than three weeks, the Chief Executive declared "the public had sustained severe losses through practices neither ethical nor honest."

Thereupon he proposed to invoke the power of the government in interstate commerce traffic to control new securities.

Preparation was already under way in both Houses to expedite the new measure.

Representative Rayburn said a hearing would be held by the Interstate Commerce Committee tomorrow.

He endorsed the proposal and introduced the bill when the message had been read.

The President also informed Congress he would propose soon legislation relating to better supervision of the purchase and sale of properties dealt in on exchanges.

He also spoke of legislation he has in mind to correct unethical and unsafe practices on the part of officers and directors of banks and other corporations.

The treatment consists of soaking the seed of an hour before planting in a solution made by dissolving one to two ounces of copper sulphate in a gallon of water. There is also a dry treatment, which consists of shaking the seed with cuprous oxide at the rate of three to six ounces of chemical to ten pounds of water.

STANLEY FARMERS TO PLANT LITTLE COTTON. Albemarle, N. C., March 29.—What cotton is planted in Stanley County this year will be planted with the presumption that the staple will bring only five cents per pound at most this fall. This is resulting in the smallest cotton acreage ever planted in the county, according to those who are familiar with agricultural conditions. Farmers are devoting more and more of their time and energy to a live-at-home campaign that will result in them raising plenty of meat and other food-stuffs, and furnishing more milk to the cheese and butter plant to supply them with ready cash.
