President Roosevelt Returns Sumner Welles To Havana

AMBASSADOR TO CUBA WILL HOLD OLD POST

Policy Looking to Establishment of Definite Stability in Island Purpose of American President; Interview With Welles Kept Secret; President Begins Relaxation Program

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is sending Ambassador Sumner Welles to Havana today on the United States policy looking for the establishment of a definite stability in the troubled island.

This brief announcement by the President last night after a five-hour talk with Welles that the ambassador would return to his post was accepted here as meaning there would be no change in the American attitude of recognition of the Grau-San Martin government in the island.

In other words, Mr. Roosevelt is waiting to see what San Martin can do to maintain peace and stability. The interview with Welles in this regard was kept in confidence. After devoting his first day at Warm Springs to the Cuban situation, Mr. Roosevelt cast aside official calls today to enter into the relaxation of his other estate.

PLAN THAT SPEEDS COLLEGE ENTRANCE CALLED SUCCESSFUL

Mount Vernon, Ia.—(AP)—Belief that Cornell College's experiment in admitting high school juniors to its freshman class has been successful is voiced by Dean T. R. McConnell as the plan enters its third year of operation.

In this year's new class are three students who were not graduated from high school, but who were allowed to matriculate on the strength of unusual scholastic records. "The students who have entered Cornell on this basis," Dean McConnell says, "though younger than the average freshman, have not only maintained high standards of scholarship, but in every case have adjusted themselves socially to the institution in an acceptable manner. There has been widespread dissatisfaction with the system of determining individual educational progress in terms of semester credits and Carnegie units. These are purely time measures; there is a determined movement to substitute achievement and aptitude as yardsticks for promoting students."

NEGRO RUN DOWN BY CAR

Farm Tenant of Ayden Section at Point Of Death as Result Of Injuries

A negro named Jenkins lay at the point of death in Pitt Community Hospital today as a result of injuries sustained when he was struck by a hit-and-run driver on the highway between Ayden and Grifton early this morning.

Officers investigating the case today had obtained no clue leading to the identity of the driver of the automobile. Jenkins was said to have been walking along the highway when he was struck by the car. It was not known on which side of the road he was walking or in what direction he was traveling. The investigation disclosed the fact that he is a tenant on a farm in the Ayden community.

With his skull burst, the negro was brought to the hospital where every effort was being made to save his life, but his condition apparently was hopeless, officers stated.

JUDGE JAMES HEADS DRIVE

Named General Chairman of Salvation Army Home Service Appeal Nov. 27

Judge Dink James was elected general chairman of the Salvation Army Home Service Appeal at the meeting of the Greenville Advisory Board held at the City Hall last week. As chairman he is organizing a strong campaign committee to work with the members of the Advisory Board in the drive for $2,240 that will be instituted the week of November 29.

The local Advisory Board, of which Guy V. Smith is president, approved the budget for the new fiscal year and decided to put forth every effort to make the annual maintenance budget in order to assure the continuance of the worthy and splendid work being done by the Salvation Army in Greenville.

PITT SENDS FINAL RELIEF QUOTA TO C.C.

Twenty-Three Young Men Left For New Bern Today For Conservation Service

Pitt County's quota of replacement troops for civilian conservation camps left this morning for New Bern where they will stand an examination camp left this morning for New Bern where they will stand an examination before going to Wilmington for final check-up preparatory to beginning camp life.

The number of young men leaving today was placed at twenty-three, ten having left November 8. They are to take the place of those who failed to make the grade out of the 107 enlistments leaving the county last June. Twenty-five of the first contingent were dismissed from service for various causes.

The total number of young men sent out from this county was given at 140.

K. T. Futrell, director of the Pitt County Welfare Department, is in charge of enlistment work in this county, and made preparations for the final replacement troops to reach New Bern.

HEAVY LEAF SALES TODAY

Over Million and Half Pounds of Leaf Offered on Local Tobacco Market.

With milder temperatures prevailing over this bright leaf belt today, heavier sales were in evidence on the Greenville tobacco market today.

It was estimated that there was over a million and a half pounds of leaf on the floors of the various warehouses this morning with the price situation still holding to the gains made since the sales holiday over a month ago.

Sales on this market were lighter last week than any week since the opening of the market. This was due mainly to the cold wave which held up the grading of tobacco. However, with the improvement in this connection tobacco men were anticipating heavy offerings this week, and in fact, until after the holiday season.

Greenville continues to lead the way in poundage and price, and this week was expected to add to the gain both in the price and pounds field.

W. Lyman Joyner Buried at Wilson Sunday Afternoon

Funeral services for W. Lyman Joyner, formerly of Farmville, were held at Wilson yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and interment was made in the cemetery there.

Mr. Joyner died from injuries which he sustained when he fell through the elevator shaft at the Cherry Hotel in Wilson about two weeks ago.

He was the son of Mrs. C. E. Moore, of Wilson, and a brother of Hubert Joyner, of Greenville. He was a native of Pitt County, having been born and reared in the Farmville community.

Rev. A. W. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of this city, assisted in the final rites. Attending the funeral from this city, in addition to Mr. Lillycrop, were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Joyner, G. N. Mitchell, J. P. Carr, and Joe Parkerson.

JOHN KOONCE JAILED HERE FOR ROBBERY

Noted Jail Breaker Nabbed by Police in Greenville Last Saturday Night

John Koonce, 30, of Craven County, known as one of the most notorious store robbers in this section of the State, was arrested by policemen here Saturday night after being trailed with bloodhounds.

He was lodged in the county jail and was to be taken to Raleigh sometime this week to resume a sentence in State's Prison.

Koonce, officer said, has probably established an all-time record for escaping from State's Prison. He is said to have escaped five or six times. The last time he gained his liberty was about six months ago, and since that time he has been going from county to county in this immediate section robbing stores and filling stations.

He was originally sentenced from Lenoir County for store-breaking. After breaking out of State's Prison he came to Pitt County where he was arrested and placed in jail. He broke jail Christmas Eve night, 1930, and was recaptured in Onslow County about thirty days later and returned to State's Prison.

He had nine years more to serve when he broke out of State's Prison about six months ago, officers said, and will be returned to Raleigh to complete the sentence. After that he will be given a hearing for robberies committed during his liberty from prison service.

Koonce was taken into custody Saturday night after being tracked by bloodhounds to a reed thicket in the vicinity of the cotton mills in the western part of the city. He was captured by Policemen Mobley, and was said to have put up quite a fight before finally being subdued. In his possession were a shotgun and suitcase. Another man was with him but escaped.

Koonce was alleged to have entered the home of Jim Vandford near the cotton mill to have disappeared with several quilts and a pair of overalls.

Notified of the robbery, police obtained bloodhounds and started tracking the alleged robber. The trail led to the reed thicket quite a distance from the scene of the robbery where Mobley came suddenly upon the quarry and forced him to surrender after a violent scuffle.

HOME OWNERS GET MORE AID

State Loan Corporation Reports Taking Up 44 Mortgages The Past Week

Salisbury, N. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Paying out of the largest amount in bonds and cash of any week of its existence, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation last week took up forty-four mortgages throughout the State for a total of $191,746.20, it was announced today by Alan S. O'Neal, State manager of the organization, with headquarters here.

At the same time Mr. O'Neal said thirty-three foreclosures on property having a value of $70,269.95 had been halted. The figure covered business transactions during the seven-day period which ended November 17.

Loans on 114 homes were approved and sent to the legal department. Examination of title and other legal requirements will be handled before payment of titles and other legal requirements will be handled before payment in authorized. The total involved in the loans was $319,330.24. In twenty-seven of these cases the mortgage indebtedness was reduced and eighty-seven others there was no reduction.

URGES CURTAILMENT OF BANKERS' POWER

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Curtailed the power of bankers and issuance of $27,000,000,000 in currency was urged last night by John A. Simpson, president of the National Farmers' Union, on the eve of his organization's national convention.

Simpson predicted the convention, which opens here tomorrow, would approve a program reiterating the platform it adopted last year.

Navy Flier to Attempt To Penetrate Mystery of Third Layer Of Atmosphere Above The Earth's Surface; Expect to Gain Altitude of 36,000 Feet; Major Chester Fordney Also Taking Part in The Flight

Alliance, O., Nov. 20.—(AP)—The spherical balloon of Lieut. Commander T. G. W. Settle en route to the stratosphere was sighted near here at 10:14 a. m. (E. S. T.) today as it slowly climbed upward. It was traveling in a southeasterly direction. Alliance is thirty miles east of Akron. Settle appeared not to have gained any great altitude since his take-off. Spectators here said they could see the shroud lines dangling from the spheroid with the naked eye and the gondola glistening in the sun.

Akron, O., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Seeking to penetrate further the mystery of the cosmic ray, Lieut. Commander T. G. W. Settle, of the Navy, and Major Chester Fordney, Marine Corps mathematician, sailed away at 9:27 a. m. (E. S. T.) for the stratosphere at least 36,000 feet above the earth's surface.

The two men were aboard the seven-foot gondola which swung beneath a huge hydrogen-filled bag expected to carry them into the third layer of atmosphere above the earth.

Socialists Plan Drive in N. C.

High Point, N. C., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Alton Lawrence, of High Point, State secretary of the Socialist party, today said they will establish headquarters here and plan an intensive membership drive in North Carolina because of the complete breakdown of the Recovery program.

A statement from the headquarters here said: "The entire Recovery program, including the National Recovery Act and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration Act, has failed of its purpose."

FIRE CAUSES $10,000 LOSS

Home and Outbuildings on Jim Halstead Farm Destroyed Last Friday Night

The home and outbuildings of Jim Halstead of the Clay Root Neck section of this county were destroyed by fire last Friday night about 9 o'clock entailing loss estimated at $10,000, according to information reaching the city over the weekend.

The origin of the blaze was not determined. The property was not insured.

In addition to the home and furnishings, barns, stables, hog pens and other buildings were a total loss. The fire created considerable excitement in the neighborhood and scores of neighbors rushed to the farm to render all aid possible, but the flames had made such headway that it was impossible to save the buildings.

Halstead is a former engineer on the log road in the Clay Root Neck section.

PREPARE FOR LEAF SIGN-UP IN THIS AREA

Campaign to Start in Pitt County as Soon As Blanks Are Received

Arrangements are being rapidly completed for a tobacco contract sign-up which will start as soon as blank contracts are received from Washington, D. C.

The following towns have been designated by the county agent as places where farmers can go in each township and secure assistance in signing up their new contracts: Ayden, Bel Arthur, Bell's Cross-Roads, Bethel, Stokes, Grimesland, Black Jack, Falkland, Farmville, Fountain, Greenville, Pactolus, Grifton, Gardenville and Winterville. Committees have been selected and will be given instructions with regard to filling out contracts and will be at the above-designated places from 8 until 5 o'clock each day.

Farmers will be notified in advance the day they should call on the committee for assistance in filling out contracts so that the committee men may be able to wait on all who call on them each day. It is important that farmers fill out these contracts as rapidly as possible in order that they may receive the benefits coming from the 42 per cent processing tax placed on tobacco.

Those who sold their tobacco up to and including October 7 will be paid a benefit to bring up their average due to the fact that tobacco was selling low at this time.

A rental of $17.50 per acre will be paid those signing preliminary contracts between now and February 15 provided they are prompt in signing contracts. They will receive a further benefit payment of 12 1-2 per cent of their initial allotment up to 21 cents per pound next winter. Pitt County farmers will receive some $300,000 in rental and benefits between now and February 15.

Dr. Brooks Is Critically Ill

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of North Carolina State College, who suffered a stroke of paralysis Saturday, remained in a "critical condition" at the Raleigh Hotel here today.

Dr. Brooks was on his way home from Chicago when stricken. The office of Dr. Harry Hart, who is physician at the hotel, with Dr. Sterling Ruffin, who was called in as consulting physician, considered Dr. Brooks in a precarious condition, but both felt he had a chance.

Mrs. Brooks and E. C. Brooks, Jr., were at the college president's bedside. They arrived from Raleigh yesterday.

DO YOUR PART

Public solicitation in this year's Red Cross Roll Call here will get underway Thursday of this week and again we urge our good people to respond to this cause.
It is unnecessary, we feel,
to undertake to tell you here of the great work of this organization. Most everyone is familiar with the fact that wherever there is disaster and need the Red Cross goes to the aid of distressed humanity and this should be sufficient to make everyone want to have a part in supporting this organization and its work.

Be sure that you enroll
when called upon by a member of the soliciting committee.

THE GROWER AND ADVERTISING
(Southern Tobacco Journal)
Thanks to "good growing season, and various other beneficent contributory agencies, the tobacco grower has been able to realize a little profit on his crop this year.

And this is a good time for him to stop and think along some serious lines regarding his own future and the future of those from whom he obtains his livelihood.

It has been a favorite "Stove League" practice to blame the manufacturer for low prices on tobacco.
The manufacturer buys the crops and pays the money and the planter gets the idea that the buyer pays just about what he wants to.

But Mr. Grower might stop and consider whether or not he hasn't had something to do with it. He has been pushing the manufacturer mightily hard by over-production.
The manufacturer has saved himself, as well as the farmer, by steady plugging in developing new and greater markets for his products.

The grower suggests that the manufacturer has money to spend for advertising and promotion work and can't understand why some of that money couldn't come to him.
But he doesn't look far enough to realize that these expenditures for advertising are responsible for the manufacturer being able to stay in business and buy crops each year.
There's an age-old verse that's apt just here:

"He who whispers down
a well
About the goods he has to sell Won't reap so many golden dollars
As he who climbs a tree
and hollers!"

If a tobacco manufacturer didn't climb a tree and holler about his goods, he soon would find the demand disappearing. Unless he slowed down his plant operations, his storehouses would be overloaded.
Then the leaf warehouses would find themselves swamped with tobacco that nobody needed and the grower would be in a sad plight.

The true value of advertising is well established. And, when the planters gather around the crossroads grocery these winter nights, they might toss a bouquet to the manufacturers who are advertising and thus helping this old world to roll along.

DEER WITH AUTOMOBILE

Chatom, Ala.—(AP)—Bob Alman,

narrow road, he found his way blocked by a five-point buck that

The Bank

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"Now," said Willy Nilly to Rip, the Dog, who was lying on the porch, "I simply must attend to my pointed, sticking-out ears. I'll get some adhesive tape and fasten them back in the first place. Then I'll—"

But he was interrupted by Top Notch, the Rooster, who was walking by the steps in a very grand manner. "Cock-a-doodle-do," crowed Top Notch. "We've always had to get out of scrapes after they've happened. Let's do something ahead of time that is sensible."

"Bow-wow," barked Rip, "whatever are you talking about?"
"Ah," crowed Top Notch importantly, as he took out his little mirror and looked at himself to see that his white feathers were smooth and his red comb just right.

"Ah," Top Notch repeated, "if it weren't for me Puddle Muddle would be sadly lacking in ideas."
"Don't be so conceited," cawed Christopher Columbus Crow from his nest up in the tree. "Everyone knows that the Crow is the clever one."

"Don't argue," begged Willy Nilly.
Christopher nodded his head.
"I want to take a nap anyway."

he cawed, and sank down into his nest.

"What is your suggestion, Top Notch?" Willy Nilly asked.

"I think we should put the $2.15 we own in a bank. At present it is in a cracked tea cup on the mantelpiece. I know a fine hole in an old tree which is covered by a vine.
Let's have that for our bank. Then our money will be safe."

Willy Nilly hated to leave all that he had planned to do, but he thought Top Notch's idea a good one.

Tomorrow—"Christopher's Strange Manner"

had ideas of its own about sharing paths.

Alman's brakes wouldn't hold and his car crashed into the deer, hurling it backward into the front seat.
The family enjoyed venison that night, although the opening of the deer hunting season was a week away.

Investigation by game wardens disclosed Alman had killed two other deer in the same manner over a period of years. The wardens termed all three deaths accidental and exonerated him of violating the game laws.

"Not like others"

"I HUNTED all day long... and just knocked
'em cold.

"I smoke Chesterfields all the time and I'll tell the world...they're milder!"

Tobacco Growers Selling In Greenville--Get More Money

Don't be satisfied just because you might get a fair price on some other market. It is easy to be satisfied and then lose a $100.00 in the sale of one barn of tobacco. Many of the buyers in Greenville have orders up to 85c per pound, and it will pay you to sell in Greenville because you will get more money for all grades.

It is believed that Greenville has many orders other markets do not have.

Let us suggest that you give preference to marketing your good and fancy tobacco. More tobacco is bringing from 40c to 75c than in years, and if you have good tobacco, it looks unwise to hold it back.

Tune in on Greenville's Radio Station WEED every day (except Sunday) at 9:45 A. M., 12:45 P. M. and 4:45 P. M. for latest

Pitt County Boys at Wake Forest

Wake Forest, Nov. 20.—Six Pitt county men are among the 900 students enrolled this semester at Wake Forest College.

They are W. S. Buck, R. T. Cox, V. P. Dunn, W. M. Jolly, A. M. Mumford, W. C. Rogerson.

The Baptist institution, now in its 100th year, will celebrate its Centennial anniversary next spring with the completion of a new and handsome administration building.

Its medical school has just moved into new quarters, the William Amos Johnson memorial medical building.

REPULSE EFFORTS OF CONVICTS TO ESCAPE

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Making a desperate rush in full sight of their guards, several convicts attempted to place a crudely constructed ladder against an outside wall of the Eastern State Penitentiary today.

Rushing toward the convicts with pistols drawn, guards frightened them into dropping the ladder at the foot of the wall.

Warden Herbert J. Smith said it was all over so quickly that none of the men who carried the ladder were identified. They fell back among other prisoners at sight of the guards, he stated.

Smith said he was at a loss to explain how the ladder, about forty feet long, was made. About thirty feet of plaited black wrapping twine, with which the prisoners apparently hoped to drop to the street, was found near the ladder.

"They never had a chance to escape," Smith asserted. "Even if they could have made it with the ladder, it was badly strong enough to hold the weight of a boy. Should they have reached the wall, they would have been picked off by the sharpshooters."

COTTON QUALITY IMPROVED BY NEW VERTICAL DRIER

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Use of a new vertical cotton drier, developed by the Department of Agriculture, has increased the value of lint from 60 cents to $5 a bale above the cost of drying, a department estimate.

The drier was used in ginning about 45,000 bales of seed-cotton in the Mississippi delta region in 1932. Several hundred thousand bales are expected to be treated this year.

The department has conducted experiments which show that moisture affects the quality of ginned lint. The drier consists of a series of shelves through which the cotton tumbles while exposed to blast of hot air.

WEAVER WILL SIT IN RITTER INVESTIGATION

Miami, Fla., Nov. 20.—(AP)—House Judiciary sub-committee tomorrow will begin an investigation into charges against the official conduct of Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter, with exonerations or impeachment proceedings as the ultimate result.

Holding the spotlight of interest in the hearing, which probably will consume three or four days, will be an inquiry by the committee of five into the appointment of Federal receivers in bankruptcy cases by Judge Ritter and fees allowed those receivers for their services.

EX-CONVICT ARRESTED BY SMITHFIELD POLICE

Smithfield, N. C., Nov. 20.—A. J. Joe, alias J. C. Brooks, of High Point, was arrested here early this morning by Night Officer E. A. Johnson and questioned on suspicion of being connected with a State-wide gang of store-breakers and safe-crackers.

Detectives Joe Lowe and Bruce Pool, of Raleigh, came here yesterday afternoon and questioned Joe, who is an ex-convict, at length concerning recent robberies in this section.

Joe was found with a pistol, fully loaded, and his pockets contained around 25 extra cartridges. He was arrested when his actions in attempting to board an automobile attracted the attention of Officer Johnson. The car, without license plates, was driven off before officers could stop it.

HIT-AND-RUN MOTORIST KILLS FOUR OAKS MAN

Smithfield, N. C., Nov. 21.—The body of John Henry Allen, prominent farmer of near Four Oaks, was found on State Highway No. 21 late Saturday night after he had been crushed by a hit-and-run automobile driven by a man whose name has not been disclosed.

H. Kirkman, who investigated the case today, could claim no evidence as to who was responsible for the death. Allen is survived by a wife and several children.

A further investigation into the causes of the death will be held by the coroner later this week.

BLUE AND GREEN FOUND TO BEND PLANTS MOST

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The blue and green colored parts of sunlight are those that play the chief part in making a plant bend in any direction, says the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution.

It was found that green light is 1,000 times more active than yellow light in causing a plant to bend, and blue light is thirty times more active than green. Red and infra-red or "invisible red" light do not cause any bending.

The bending effect of different colors of light was measured by growing an oat sprout between two lights of different colors. If the sprout started to bend toward one light, intensity of the other was increased so that the sprout was kept growing straight upward.

The increase needed in the intensity of one light to offset the bending of the plant toward the other light showed how much more of a "bender" one color was than another.

By using the same principle that makes our movies possible engineers are able to "stop" the motion of a rapidly moving mechanism and study the motion.

Duke Hospital

Co-operative Rate Plan

Duke Hospital is attempting to meet the necessity for reduced hospital costs by the adoption of the following scale of charges: Public Wards: $2 daily. The actual cost to the Hospital for public ward to meet over $4 daily; but in order to meet the greatly increased demand for the charity work, Duke Hospital has adopted the co-operative plan of paying half the cost, provided the patient, or his county welfare department, co-operates by paying the other half, or $2 daily, in advance.

Private rooms: $6 to $9 daily. Children are charged one-half the above rates.

These are flat rates and cover all charges except for special nurses, blood transfusions, and barbers. Doctors' fees also are charged for middle group and private patients. An additional charge of $2 daily is made for ear, nose and throat patients; patients requiring radium treatments, and certain operative cases which do not require more than four days of hospital care.

Write, or have your physician do so, before coming to the hospital. Address: Superintendent Duke Hospital, Durham, N. C.

New York Cotton

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Cotton futures were really steady, two points lower to two points higher owing to near month liquidation and exchanging to distant positions. Trading was quiet at the start but increased right after the call with prices firming upon covering and commission house buying from Wall Street sources.

Except for further near month liquidation and switching from December to later months trading was quiet later in the morning. Prices sagged two or three points from the best following a set-back in wheat. At midday December was quoted at 10.01 and May at 10.38, or about two to four points higher.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Stocks and staples were steady, but unenthusiastic today as the R. F. C. boosted the domestic price of gold 10 cents to $33.66 an ounce and the dollar dropped in foreign exchange dealings.

After a dull opening there was a rally of one to two or more points in equities but the ticker tape was not pressed at any time. The activity dwindled appreciably following a moderate half hour spurt.

Sterling at 53.2 was up 7 1/4 and French francs advanced 0.5-1/2 to a cent to 6.42. Grains lost their early gain and were little better this evening. Cotton did little. U. S. Government securities again pointed downward.

The declaration of an extra dividend of 75 cents a share by DuPont was a cheerful streak in the Wall Street wind. In addition to the improvement in its own business, DuPont, large ownership of General Motors helped affect the company's income because of this extra 25 cents a share. Prior to a late rally the market was quiet except for a mild buying flurry after the opening. Transfers were 700,000 shares.

FORBIDDEN VALLEY by William Byron Mowery

SYNOPSIS: Curt has returned to Edmondson from the sub-Arctic with the idea of taking a new and very good job. But A. R. Martin, his former chief in the Food Division, and others of Roscoe Martin whom he some day expects to marry lead him to undertake a hazardous journey to the Karakhan international creek. Curt agrees and goes to Vancouver where he finds that Karakhan had known a girl named Helen Mathieson. He arranges to take Helen to dinner hoping to get some information from her. Then they go for a canoe ride in the park.

Chapter Seven FAINT TRAIL

At the first of their talk Curt tried to find out what lay behind Baldwin's attempt to shield Helen that afternoon. He discovered that Helen took her out frequently to dinner or a show, in fact kept rather steady company with her. That was all he learned, but he was satisfied there was something more, something which he could uncover easily enough when he wanted to.

As gently as an inquisitor could, Curt went on.

loyalty she forgave it. She knew he had cautiously thrown her aside—he had done so even before he fled, and had taken up with another girl in Victoria, but she forgave that too. If she had had the slightest knowledge of where he was, she would have flown to him in an instant.

For such loyalty to be wasted on a vicious wolf seemed to Curt a real tragedy. To judge by similar affairs the Russian's career, the man had some undeniable and strong power with women.

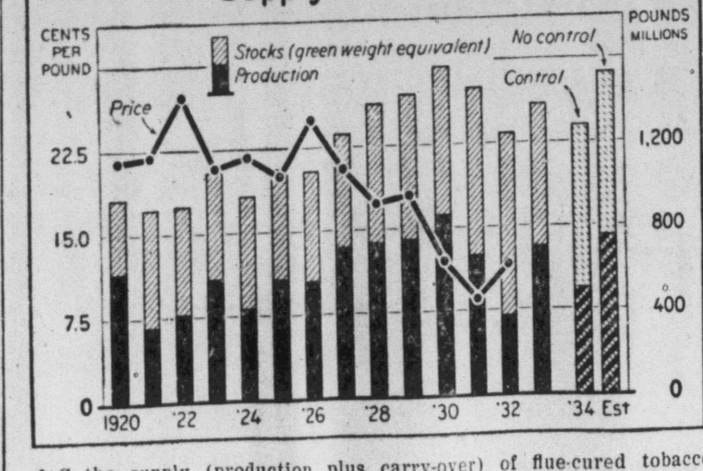

As gently as an inquisitor could, he went on with his probing. He found out that the continued high tension of Karakhan's game had wearied him; that during his last three months in Vancouver he had fished a job in the Strait by way of recreation, and had gone week-end up the coast.

On these trips he had used a plane. He owned none himself, but chartered one privately. Though a pilot went along, Karakhan usually handled the controls himself. He flew very competently, Miss Mathieson said.

CURT'S pulse quickened at this information about the plane pilots. He was working on the theory that Karakhan had escaped by air. Train or auto was entirely too public for so shrewd a criminal, and he would hardly have taken ship away when a wireless flash could have intercepted him in mid-ocean and caught him dead to rights.

But a plane was swift; it took to the trackless sky; in two hops a man could jump clear across the continent. The Silent Squad had found out about his flights but had set them down as ordinary business trips. Plainly they were not that.

Flue-Cured Tobacco in the United States: Supply and Price

As the supply (production plus carry-over) of flue-cured tobacco increases, price decreases. Unless production in 1934 is limited, next year's supply is expected to be about as large as the record supply of 1930.
