CUBA DECLARES TWO YEAR MORATORIUM ON LOANS

Large American Sums Involved In The Action

STEP TAKEN TO HELP PAY HOME DEBTS

$50,000,000 in Loans From American and British Houses Will Not be Paid Until Obligations of Government Are Met at Home; Nothing Will Be Paid on Principle Of Bonds; Interest Forthcoming

Havana, April 11.—(AP)—Cuba has declared a two year moratorium on about $50,000,000 in loans from American and British houses and leaders said today it may be extended even longer.

It was a case government, officials explained, of letting national obligations including salaries of public employees go unpaid or of suspending payments on certain international obligations.

Cuba chose the latter course. Under the moratorium approved by the cabinet of President Carlos Mendive last night nothing will be paid on the principal of bonds loaned through Steyer and Morgan from 1904 to 1927. Officials emphasized the interest will be paid.

Phantom Sniper Slays Another In N. Y. City

New York, April 11.—(AP)—The gun of a phantom sniper has barked again, this time in Brooklyn. William Badalante was shot in the back about 10 o'clock last night as he was walking through the crowded Williamsburg section. He was the third this week to be struck by sniper's shot. The others, a man and a woman, were killed.

BOND BOOKS CLOSE APR. 12

Persons Desiring to Exchange Called Bonds For New Ones Should Act Soon

Greenville Banking and Trust Co., and State Bank and Trust Co., which were yesterday asked to aid the government in the redemption of Liberty Loan bonds of the Fourth series, today received a notice from the Federal Reserve Bank at Richmond, stating that Secretary Morgenthau had announced that subscription books for the current offering of 3 1/4 per cent Treasury bonds of 1944-46 will close Thursday night, April 12, 1934.

The statement said that new bonds may be obtained only in exchange for Fourth Liberty Loan bonds called for redemption on April 15, 1934, and Treasury notes of series A-1934, maturing May 2, 1934. The Fourth Liberty Loan bonds called for redemption April 15, and now exchangeable for the new Treasury bonds, bear serial numbers ending in the digit 9, 0, or 1.

Subscriptions placed in the mail before 12 o'clock midnight Thursday, April 12, as shown by the post office cancellation, will be considered as having been entered before the close of the subscription books, it was stated.

Subscriptions amount to about $625,000,000 had been received up to the close of business on Monday, April 9, the statement indicated. Persons holding bonds containing the digits mentioned in the statement may exchange them at the local banks for issues of the new series or redeem them in cash outright.

RESCUE PARTY MAROONED ON BIG ICE FLOE

Moscow, April 11.—(AP)—Thirty-three members of a party of 83 men marooned on an ice floe in the Bering Sea were rescued by daring Russian airmen late last night and early today.

Planes were rushed, said reports to the government rescue commission here for the rescue of the 50 castaways still imperiled on the crackling floe.

22 persons were taken to safety last night, by the Russian fliers, Kaminnin, Molokov, and Slepnev in three separate planes and flown to Cape Van Keream Siberia.

EDUCATIONAL CONFAB HERE APRIL 13-14

Leading Educators And School People To Meet Here in Two Days Session

Greenville will be host this week, on Friday and Saturday, April 13 and 14, to a number of school people and educational leaders, when the second state-wide conference will meet at East Carolina Teachers College.

Superintendents, principals, classroom teachers, officials from the State Department of Education, and others from various parts of the state are expected. Classroom teachers from the town and county are urged to attend and take part in the discussions.

The theme, "Education for the New Social, Political and Economic Order" is in line with the problems that are stirring the whole country and in harmony with the spirit of the meeting held in Raleigh some weeks ago for the consideration of the curriculum of the public schools.

An exceedingly interesting program has been prepared, with the discussion groups under strong leaders. The program committee consists of the following: M. K. Fort, chairman; W. O. Hampton of Wilmington; Dr. L. R. Meadows, Miss Frances Wahl, M. L. Wright, W. A. Graham of Kinston, and Mrs. Edwina Wells of Johnston county.

LIGHT DOCKET GIVEN HEARING

A comparatively light docket was disposed of in the regular weekly session of county court here yesterday and work was completed during the afternoon hours.

The cases consisted of charges of larceny, violation of the prohibition law, driving drunk and other violations and numbers of the defendants either found their way to the roads or were released on payment of fines.

Henry Dail, convicted of selling whiskey, was fined $50 and cost. Walter Cannon, colored, charged with larceny of brass junk, was assessed $20. Boston Burney, colored, driving drunk, drew four months on the county road.

Ruth Woolard, colored, was sent out to the county home to spend sixty days after being convicted of a charge of selling liquor. For driving an automobile while drunk, James Dixon was given four months on the roads. Found guilty of stealing ware (Continued on Page Four)

PUSH DRIVE FOR BASEBALL CLUB FUNDS

Committees Ordered To Get Busy and Rush Work of Raising Funds For Club

The directors of the Greenville Baseball Club met last night at the Chamber of Commerce and received reports of the committees soliciting funds for the operation of the team during the 1934 season. Only three of the committees had what President Guy Smith considered a satisfactory report and he urged the members of the other soliciting teams to work hard and see every baseball fan for a contribution. It is going to be necessary for the fans to contribute more liberally if they expect Greenville to have a ball team this year. There is no use to enter a team in the league unless $1,500 is raised before the league opens because it is utterly impossible to meet your payroll promptly and pay the other expenses on a less amount.

President Guy Smith is appealing to the baseball fans and citizens to make a contribution at once in order that the directors can make plans to enter the league and secure players before the other teams get the pick of good players. President Smith stated that it was not necessary for the fans to wait until a director calls on them for a contribution and those who would like to contribute to have baseball this season should make a contribution at once. A large number of baseball fans are taking the idea of "letting George do it" and the directors want to make it plain to the fans that unless they do their part in the way of giving a contribution at once Greenville will not be able to enter the league.

DEATH CLAIMS C. B. ATWATER

Night Clerk and Auditor of Proctor Hotel Died This Morning at 7 o'clock

C. B. Atwater, 62, night clerk and auditor of the Proctor hotel, died this morning at 7 o'clock as a result of a stroke of paralysis which he suffered Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock. He never regained consciousness and attending physicians held out little hope for his recovery.

Funeral services will be conducted at Mount Pleasant Methodist church near Chapel Hill, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and burial will be made in the churchyard by the side of his parents.

Mr. Atwater, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, came to Greenville about two years ago and since that time had been connected with the hotel. Prior to accepting the position here he was for a number of years connected with the Fidelity Bank, Durham, and the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company of Raleigh.

He was a native of Chatham county and a member of the Methodist church. He was unmarried.

Mr. Atwater made a number of friends during his residence here who received news of his death with sorrow.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. N. M. Watson, of Wytheville, Va., Mrs. J. W. Murry of Burlington, in addition to a number of nieces and nephews including W. D. Turner of Greenville.

President to Receive Report From General Hugh Johnson on Business Recovery

Miami, April 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt turned his vacation fishing yacht toward Florida land today and will receive here a report of General Hugh Johnson, industrial administrator of additional business upturn.

Mr. Roosevelt will end his two weeks at sea, probably here tomorrow and will leave by train in company with his recovery captain for Washington in time for the regular Friday cabinet meeting.

Johnson arrived here last night with Donald Richberg, general counsel of the NRA, ready to tell of what has happened—and he said that is good—and prepared to outline new steps in the recovery campaign.

Sand Saves Island

Port Isabel, Tex.—(AP)—Padre Island, the narrow sandy island which extends 120 miles along the Texas gulf coast from near Brownsville to Corpus Christi, has won another battle with the tides. A channel five feet deep which threatened to cut the island in two has been filled up by the sand.

INSULL WILL START BACK HOME FRIDAY

Istanbul, April 11.—(AP)—Samuel Insull will be placed aboard the S. S. Exolona Friday at Smyrna and started on his return voyage to the U. S. in custody of American authorities.

Burton V. Berry, 32, year old secretary of the American embassy will accompany Insull on his trip to face charges of embezzlement and fraud in Illinois. American authorities said they expected no further difficulty in bringing to an end the 74-year-old Chicagoan's long flight from justice.

They minimize the significance of a last minute move by Insull's legal staff to delay his extradition.

DR. IDLEMAN WILL DELIVER SERMON HERE

Noted New York Minister to Preach Baccalaureate Sermon At Teachers College

Dr. Finis S. Idleman, pastor of the Central Church of the Disciples in Christ in New York City, will preach the baccalaureate sermon at East Carolina Teachers College on Sunday morning of commencement June 3.

He is a leader in various cooperative movements looking to better social, industrial, and religious associations. He is a splendid representative of the cultured, intellectual, social and theological liberal school of today whose quiet but effective work is definitely eliminating from social and religious life many of the prejudices and antipathies which have in the past so retarded social and spiritual growth.

He is associate editor of the Christian Union Quarterly, Executive Counselor of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and an official of the American Committee on Inter-racial Relationships. He has been an untiring worker for the union of Christian Protestantism and in this connection was closely associated with the late Dr. Peter Ainslie. In the City of New York he is prominently connected with all the leading cooperative organizations.

He is a native of Des Moines, Iowa, a graduate of Eureka College, Illinois, old graduate work at the University of Chicago and received his doctors degree from Drake University. For nearly twenty years he has been minister of the leading church of his denomination in New York City.

CLUB SEEKS MORE BOOKS

"Library Night" to be Observed by Kiwanians at Meeting Here Friday Night

A campaign to provide additional books for Sheppard Memorial Library was inaugurated here the first of the year by the Kiwanis club and indications today pointed to success of the movement.

"Library Night" will be observed by the club Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock and every member has been asked to bring a book or the price of one. The program will be in charge of Dr. M. J. Massey and Dr. G. R. Combs, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church will be the speaker.

"More books for the library" is one of the main objectives of Dr. R. S. McGeachy, president of the organization, and this fact has been stressed at virtually every meeting. The President realizes the value of the library to the life of the community and is desirous that the club do everything in its power to help increase the number of books for the reading public.

Members of the club were urged in a letter sent out this week by Secretary D. C. Moore, Jr. not to forget to bring a book to the meeting or sufficient money to buy one.

Other contestants announcing several days ago were A. T. Moore, present incumbent, Vance Perkins and C. W. Willard.

Along with the new contestants for this office, L. W. Cherry announced he would be a candidate for the Board of County Commissioners. This is the second candidate to fling his hat into the ring for a seat on the board. Frank Kilpatrick of Ayden, having made his announcement the latter part of last week.

With the date of the ballot battle set for June 2, it was expected additional hats would fall into the ring during the next several days, and when election day actually rolls around there should be plenty of material to choose from.

The significance of the election lay largely in the fact that it was the first in which an entire state was afforded opportunity to register its opinion of its congressmen since the Democratic landslide in 1932.

Henry T. Rainey, congressman from the 20th district and speaker of the house of Representatives, scored a five to one victory over James Kirby, state representative.

CHILD HELD CAPTIVE BY YOUTH, DIES

Chicago, April 11.—(AP)—Little Doretta Zietlow, two year old, died today of cold and starvation a short time after a 13-year-old boy confessed holding her captive for two days in a crumbling house.

Police announced that George Rogalski admitted taking the child from the home of a grandmother to a deserted building. He striped her naked, he was quoted as saying, but did not attack her. Doctors found no evidence of criminal assault.

The boy was locked up for juvenile authorities.

PEACE HOPES BRIGHTER IN AUTO FIELD

Tool and Dye Workers Plan Conference With Employers For Wage Increase

(By The Associated Press) Hope for peace in the auto industry grew today as representatives of 18,000 tool and dye makers planned a conference with employers on demands for a 20 per cent wage increase and 36 hour five day week.

Workers at Ford, Chrysler, and other refineries postponed indefinitely a strike scheduled for 8 o'clock this morning pending mediation efforts by the federal labor policy board.

The result of a vote by 9,000 striking shipyard workers at Camden, N. J., on an offer of a ten per cent wage increase was to be made known today.

The strikers had demanded a 25 per cent increase and closed shop. Aircraft workers in Connecticut started what they said would be a progressive strike by walking out of a propeller factory threatening to strike at another plant today and a third tomorrow unless demands for wage adjustments are met.

SEED LOANS MOVING FAST

Over Five Hundred Applications Received at Local Government Office

Applications for government seed loans continued to roll into the local office here today and T. O. Edens, manager, said checks were being returned as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Edens said over five hundred applications had been received by the local office during the last several days and that many of the applicants had already received checks for the loans.

He urged all growers desiring to obtain these loans to get busy at once and make their applications.

Individual farmers may obtain as high as $250 and farms $750. When the loans were first announced only $500 was available to individual farms, but since that time a liberalization of the seed loan policy raised the limit $250 making it possible for farm owners to obtain as high as $750.

Loans will be available through this month, Mr. Edens said, and growers desiring to obtain funds through this source were advised to file applications immediately.

The health director has notified parents whose children were operated on in various clinics last year to forward information concerning their improvement to his office as quickly as possible, but the response so far has been slow. He urged immediate action.

Persons who have been receiving attention at the various clinics here the last year or so were asked to send in a report of their condition. This information also will be presented to the State Health officers.

Dr. McGeachy said he believed children who received attention in clinics here last year had derived great benefit and was hopeful reports of their improvement could be made a part of the permanent records of his department.

BODIES BLOWN TO BITS BY EXPLOSION

Elias Crawford and Edward Sutton of Frog Level Community Victims of Explosive While Dynamiting Stumps at Crawford Farm Yesterday Afternoon; Both Funerals to be Conducted This Afternoon; Burial in Greenville

Elias Crawford, 58, and Edward Sutton, 23 were killed instantly yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by a dynamite explosion at the Crawford farm about six miles west of Greenville, in the Frog Level community.

The men had been blowing stumps and returned home for a new supply of dynamite and caps. Placing the explosive in a bucket they returned to the place where they were dynamiting the stumps.

As Sutton put the bucket down, the dynamite exploded, hurling parts of the bodies from fifty to a hundred yards away. The bodies were badly mangled.

Funeral services for Crawford were conducted from his late home this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. M. A. Woodward, of Whitwellville assisted by Rev. R. N. Hinnant, of Gaffney, pastor of the Piney Grove Free Will Baptist church.

Final rites for Sutton were held from his late home on the Crawford farm this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. M. A. Woodward, Free Will Baptist minister of Whitwellville.

Both burials were made in Greenwood cemetery in Greenville.

Crawford was a prominent farmer and a native of this county. Sutton was also engaged in farming. Both were members of the Piney Grove Free Will Baptist church.

Crawford is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Clara J. Forbes, two sons, Hubert and Carl Crawford; three brothers John Crawford of New Bern; three half brothers, Huei, Lee and Leslie Crawford of Pitt county.

Surviving Sutton are his wife, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Sutton, with whom he had made his home; two brothers, Woodrow and Herbert Sutton; seven sisters, Mrs. T. A. Clark and Misses Carrie, Louise, Lula, Lettie, Irene and Viola Sutton.

SEEKS FACTS ABOUT CLINICS

Health Director Compiling Records of Improvement from Tonsil Work Here

Dr. R. S. McGeachy, public health director of Pitt county, today was busy attempting to compile a record of the result of tonsil and adenoid clinics held in Pitt county last year.

Dr. McGeachy is desirous of obtaining a definite record of this work in view of the fact that he is scheduled to present this information at a convention of North Carolina Health Officers Association at Pinehurst the latter part of this month.

The health director has notified parents whose children were operated on in various clinics last year to forward information concerning their improvement to his office as quickly as possible, but the response so far has been slow. He urged immediate action.

Persons who have been receiving attention at the various clinics here the last year or so were asked to send in a report of their condition. This information also will be presented to the State Health officers.

Dr. McGeachy said he believed children who received attention in clinics here last year had derived great benefit and was hopeful reports of their improvement could be made a part of the permanent records of his department.

Illinois Piles Up Big Democratic Majority

Chicago, April 11.—(AP)—Leaders of organized democracy in Illinois whose candidates won nominations in yesterday's state wide primary almost as they pleased labeled the tremendous democratic vote today as a "tribute and compliment" to the Democratic Administration, both national and local.

The significance of the election lay largely in the fact that it was the first in which an entire state was afforded opportunity to register its opinion of its congressmen since the Democratic landslide in 1932.

Whether we are heading for revolution as charged by Dr. Wirt, we do not know, but we do know that since
Mr. Roosevelt took the helm of government the business

Some of the kids, and the grown-ups too, for that mat-

about the inactivity on the swimming pool project. For the present work has been discontinued while the CWA projects under way. With the material already bought and on the ground and with the construction work part-

that the swimming pool will be completed. Too much has already been invested and the swimming pool is too badly needed here for the project not to be carried to completion.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

(Smithfield Herald)
Your own attitude toward others and the world in general plays an important part in making easy or difficult your path through life.
Much depends on how you see things and what you think, whether it be right or wrong. The following from an exchange, under the caption,
"As a Man Thinketh," is a classic
worth passing along.
If a man thinks every one is against him, he will soon begin to treat them so, and they will be.
If he thinks every one is his friend,
he will unconsciously treat them as such, and they will soon be his friends.
The man who lives his daily life
according to this formula has in his make-up a philosophy that will

JEANNEY BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Judith Dale's fight to build the Rio Grande with the $1 million dollars Big Tom Bevin left in his will for the purpose has been complicated by the discovery that Morton Lampere, attorney for the Bevin heirs in a mysterious activities higher up the river. Then she gets a letter from her husband, who sides with the heirs against her, saying that he intends to give up their home.

Chapter 33 THE ANSWER

JUDITH DALE wrote an answer to her husband's letter at top speed, then raced down the hill to the Big Tom post-office and mailed it before she had time to change her mind.

In bed she tried to remember certain portions of her answer. She had written, "I'd as soon consider cutting the house into small bits and keeping those parts as I would taking part of the furnishings for myself. Hillendale is an entity. To have a part of it would only remind me of what I have lost."

Maybe seeing him with Mathilde would cure her of her obsession, for surely a love which could call forth the acute emotional agony she was suffering was an obsession.

She turned her face into the pillows and tried to muffle the sobs
which shook her entire body, dimly conscious that her physical being from the tips of her toes to the dreadful pain in her head was like a sensitive machine racked by a power beyond her control.

The springs of Delphy's bed
creaked and caused her to catch her breath and lie quiet a moment. Footsteps shuffled to the kitchen, there was the click of metal on metal and a low-voiced monologue on a
"danged contraption that'll cause
ma soul to suffer for a cursin' it."

Delphy was heating chocolate.
The sobs of her mistress turned to hysterical laughter, and when the old woman shuffled in a few moments later she found Judith laughing and crying in the same breath.

"There, there, honey lamb; juss
you shut yo' mouth an' drink this chocolate."

"How can I shut my mouth 'n'
drink?" inquired Judith, with a hysterical giggle.

"I'll rub yo' back down; soon's you finish it. Wrought up you are, wrought up, what with dam buildin', ghosts an' flyin' up where man's never sposed to be you're all a quiver."

When Judith had finished the "chocolate," Delphy, ignoring her protests, rubbed some home-made concoction of menthol on the back of her neck and began massaging
her neck, her shoulders, her back.

When she awakened the next morning she felt that something dreadful which had been on the verge of happening had happened.
Delphy served her breakfast, relating some choice town gossip as she hovered about the table, and Judith, remembering her unselfish devotion, pretended to enjoy the flaky biscuits and to laugh at the gossip.

The change in her personal affairs made Delphy a fresh problem.
She should send her back to Norman or Mrs. Dale. She belonged to them, but somehow, having her made it seem she still retained some hold on her husband. She would let Delphy make the decision.

SHE did that evening. The growing heat of the desert spring had driven them to the little porch in front, and Delphy, silent for the moment, was watching the approach of the work train, crawling along like a black snake.

She explained things briefly, then waited for the old woman to answer.
"Miss Judy, if you mean you don't want me no mo'?" she asked plaintively.

"No, Delphy; not at all. But, as Miss Bevin said in Lige's letter,
you've always been with the Dales."

"Miss Judy, none of the rest of the Dales needs me 'ceptin' you; and,
Miss Judy, I just got to be needed."

Tears started in Judith's eyes at the hunger in the old woman's voice.
"You're right, Delphy, and I do need
you. . . you know that, don't you?"

"The train was in, the mail courier coming up the hill. Judith's heart beat like a tom-tom in spite of her stern efforts to control a hope she knew to be futile. Letters for her
. . . she scanned the handwriting.
Cila's scrawl. She tore open the envelope, pulled out the rough copy paper, and out of the mass of lettering one line seemed to stand illuminated.

"Norman has quit the firm of Dale, Lampere and Morrison."
Judith read on breathlessly.

"The other day in court, someone informed me that Norman Dale's name had disappeared from the door of the firm's office. I telephoned them and the girl told me
Norman was out of town.

make his life brighter. If we put into all the relations with our fellows a full measure of friendliness and good will, we are pretty sure to get it back, full and overflowing.
On the other hand, if a man is suspicious of everybody, every one will be suspicious of him. The man who goes about looking for a fight is sure to get licked some day, good and plenty.

True friendliness is founded on sincerity. And sincerity is about the only thing in this world that can't be counterfeited. The impulse toward friendliness springs from

"When I asked where I could reach him, he said he had asked that his address be kept secret.
Not did she know when he could return nor when that address
would be available."
"Wait 'til I take a story over the phone . . . just a story, okay,
ready to go again!"
"I asked to talk to Lampere. He was as smooth as silk, or as usual, and said Norman had left town to rest. I asked why his resting made it necessary for his name to be removed and he said Norman had thought it advisable as he was liable to return away for several years, might never return, that due to his late embarrassment (meaning you and the Bevin money) he might remain away permanently, even taking bar examinations in some other state."

"I said, bologna, and he said,
what, and I repeated, how interesting may I use this in a news story. At that he nearly jumped from the telephone at me."
"However, Judy-girl, in case you don't all ready know it, your husband is no longer associated with Morton Lampere."

"Mathilde had ceased grieving in Galveston, said Norman won his case and returned here. She evidently found she could grieve here
as effectively as there and appears
now and then in public places,
dressed in devastating mourning (how that girl can make clothes speak for her. I almost smiled at her the other day on Texas and Main, just because of the hat she wore)."

"And that reminds me. She framed Norman into a picture Lampere's sheet used in their rotation. Seems Mrs. Dale and some other woman won that fool bridge tournament. Frost of the Union went down to take their picture. Norman was with his mother and went out on the terrace with her, then sat down in a chair to study some papers he happened to be working on."

"Mathilde, Mrs. Dale's shadow, was not far away. She gradually effaced herself from Mrs. Dale's side so she wouldn't interfere with the picture, and sat down close to Norman. Frost, having received his orders, took them in this cozy twosome, then turned his attention to the other women."

"Norman was so absorbed in his work he didn't know what had happened until he saw the paper.
Was he mad? If Lampere hadn't held him down he'd have wrecked
the Union, Frost and a few others.
I wonder if your innocent Scotchman isn't getting onto the fact that Lampere is using this stuff to psychologize the public and get future jurors into believing that Norman is the man behind the Bevin women's fight for your money."

JUDITH laid the letter aside for a moment. So that was how that picture was taken, and Norman hadn't known. No longer with Lam-pere, he'd left the firm his grandfather had founded . . . that meant either a tremendous concession or a tremendous disillusionment . . .
and that was why he hadn't been able to keep Hillendale.

Poor Norman. She could see the small-boy look of bewildered pain on his face. He was too fine to understand the motives behind the others. "So straight" his head touches his heels at times, Cila had said.

With maternal fear, she wondered what this cataclysm would do to him, embitter him or send his stubborn chin jutting forward for fresh battle? If only she could be with him . . . at least she could write with veiled encouragement.

There were other pages of gossip and other letters, but the sight of Cunard coming up hill waving telegrams erased them from her mind.
"We've won this far," he greeted.
"They're sending an injunction in from the State commission, with rangers to follow. I'll leave in the morning for Austin, and arrange to meet Scathborne informally, then if necessary, we'll have a hearing."

Cunard left Big Tom Town the following morning. "Not that we've won yet, Judy," he admonished.
These fellows are too slippery to be trusted. Keep your eyes and ears open and whenever Slim comes down have him take you for an air cruise over Scathborne's holdings.
I'll have a list of his holdings sent up from Del Mar."

A few days later she received word that Scathborne had agreed to abandon his dam. "He agreed too readily," wrote Cunard. "I think he has something else up his sleeve.
Watch for it."

Slowly the days passed. Judith watched the mails eagerly and after a lapse of time was surprised to find her last letter to Norman returned unopened. A post office stamp informed her that the "Addressee has moved, left no forwarding address."

The same mail brought word from Lige which stilled the fear in Judith's heart. "Ma'ss Norman had dress in his hawk clothes an' gone hunting."

"Mrs. Dale, she say she don't know where he gone, but she ain't worrying none so I guess she know.
She's lookin' after Hill and Dell,
which is been lease to Miz and Mister De Mao, from Boston. They is French and Boston which is same as United States and they sure is nice.
Rose she like them fine. They think this house sure is pretty and didn't make no change what-all."

Judith gave a deep sigh of relief.

Judith, tomorrow, is given a new reason to worry.

the very soul of man.

The world needs friendliness, and kindness, and good will, not on Sundays only, but every day in the week and every hour of the day.
Think friendly thoughts. Put your faith in men. Believe they are your friends and they will be.

Top Notch Succeeds

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"I'll have to take a look at myself first," Top Notch said. "Ah, here's my little mirror." He pulled it out from beneath a wing and looked at himself long and hard.

"I'm as beautiful as ever," he said after he had shaken off some mud that was on his red comb, and smoothed down his white feathers. "You see I can't afford to run any risks with my beauty."

"I suppose not," said the tight-rope walker, looking at Top Notch with amusement. But after all, it was quite true, Top Notch was a very handsome rooster even though he knew it and was very vain.

"First you should just learn to balance on the rope," said the tight-rope walker, "and then you can learn to jump a little and take fancy steps and sit down and get up again and flourish a fine parasol over your head."

Top Notch tried again and again. "I don't suppose my feathers will turn black and blue," Top Notch said. "But certainly I'll feel that way. Only I do want to learn this trick. It's one I've admired, and when we give a circus ourselves some time I can do this trick as a surprise, and I can tell them that Top Notch, the amazing, beautiful, clever, wonderful, stupendous rooster will do a trick that will leave them breathless, speechless and amazed."

"You talk like the Signor," laughed the tight-rope walker. "I like his talk," said Top Notch. And before the day was over Top Notch had learned to be a tight-rope walker.

RED OAK NEWS

The Woman's Club held its monthly meeting last Wednesday afternoon at the club house with 33 enthusiastic members answering to the roll call. The club was called to order by the president. After a vocal duet by Miss Nice and one of the club women, we were led in prayer by Mrs. F. L. Allen. The club then sang "Follow the Glean." Business matters of importance were discussed, among which was a report of the play "A Wild Flower of the Hills," which was sponsored by the club women. We were very much gratified at this report since it netted us enough to pay the debt of our club house and still have a neat little sum in our treasury. The club voted to donate $5.00 to the Woman's Club of Greenville and to express our sincere appreciation to them for the many courtesies extended to our club and to our own community. We can not help but recall only last summer when it fell to the lot of the young people of Red Oak community to entertain the young people of Reedy Branch community and the big question was "where in the world shall we find a place large enough to accommodate so many." We knew we had no place here at home that was large enough. Without a moment's hesitation, after she found out about it, one of the club women of Greenville secured for us permission to use their club house.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF
I hereby announce my candidacy for Sheriff of Pitt County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held on June 2nd. If nominated and elected I shall endeavor to enforce the law fairly and impartially to best of my ability.
R. W. (Dick) KING.

FOR STATE SENATE
Mrs. J. B. Spilman
Candidate from Pitt County for State Senate subject to Democratic Primary June 2.
Your support and vote will be greatly appreciated.

We will never forget that night when over one hundred happy boys and girls met there with plenty of room to play in, plenty of seats to sit on, plenty of windows for fresh air and a nice kitchen in which to fix their refreshments. Nowhere else in Pitt County could we have gone that would have been any nicer. And we do appreciate their kindness. We hope there will always be a Woman's Club in Greenville and that they may prosper in all their undertakings.

Our club will meet next month with one of our new members, Mrs. E. W. Smith. We hope every club woman will be present at this meeting.

The Sunshine Class had its March meeting a little late this time on account of so many other things, but nevertheless it was a jolly good meeting that was held last Tuesday night at the home of Miss Mamie Ruth May.

After a devotional period matters of business were discussed. The meeting will be in the Sunday school rooms next time unless announced otherwise.

After enjoyable games and contests delicious tea and sandwiches were served by the hostess.

We are looking forward to next Sunday when we will have two visitors, Miss Victoria Jackson and Robert Sugg Fleming, from the Eighth Street Christian Church in Greenville. These young folks will talk on the Youth's Conference at Bonclarken. We sincerely hope that some of our young people can attend this summer. We want every member of the Sunshine Class to be present next Sunday morning. Our class will visit the Young People's Christian Endeavor at Greenville next Sunday night. The meeting starts at seven-fifteen and we would like to meet at our church and go in a body to this meeting. Let's be at the church not later than 6:45.

The Sunshine Class rendered their Easter service to a large audience Easter Sunday night. We were delighted to have visitors from all the surrounding communities. Fifteen of these young people broadcast part of this service recently.

Mrs. R. S. Allen and Miss Ina Allen returned from Richmond Saturday. While there both of them underwent a medical examination.

Friends of Jarvis Tripp will regret to know that he has been critically ill the past week.

Right many of our folks are planning to attend the senior play at Winterville next Friday night. The name of the play is "The Girl Who Forgot," and we know it will be good because they always have good plays at Winterville.

Several of our folks attended the funeral services for Mrs. C. W. Exum in Greenville yesterday.

F. L. and Roy Allen and Clinton Allen went to Richmond one day last week.

SANS SOUCI CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. WOOTEN

The Sans Souci Book Club held one of the most delightful meetings of the year at the lovely home of Mrs. W. I. Wooten on Tuesday afternoon.

Seventeen members were present and after the business and passing of books, the club unanimously elected Mrs. Wooten as a member.

Mrs. B. B. Sugg gave for the program a most interesting and instructive talk on Russia, dealing with religion, education, communism—bringing out the question, "Is communism worth what communism has destroyed?"—Lenin with a colorful description of his tomb—she then read an article vividly describing the embassy in Washington as it has been remodeled and opened with great formality and ceremony.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess served a delicious supper which was thoroughly enjoyed.—Reported.

New York Cotton

New York, April 11.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady unchanged to four higher on trade buying of new months and in constructive views of prospective legislation on silver and crop control.

Prices eased slightly under realizing or liquidation during the early morning. July contracts after selling at 12.17 reacted to 12.15 and active months ruled about net unchanged at the end of the first half hour.

Except for further May liquidation and switching from May to later deliveries the market showed no special trading feature later in the morning and prices moved within a narrow range.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, April 11.—(AP)—Financial markets were cheerful today but speculative forces were not included to let bullish enthusiasm run away with discretion.

Stocks generally were steady to firm although there were a few soft spots in the motors and other categories attributed partly to fear of more strike difficulties. The activity was not exceptional.

Rubber, copper and silver were about steady and grains and cotton were only slightly changed. Bonds displayed a moderate upward slant, pending further clarification of scattered labor situations and the much disputed exchange control bill. Brokerage circles were advising discrimination in both trading and investment commitments.

U. S. Steel and American Telephone were steady but U. S. Smelting, Chrysler and General Motors were down major fractions. Transfers were 1,500,000 shares.

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Further substantial modification of the stock market control bill and house approval for interior control of 173,000,000 acres of public domain were high points for congressional action today.

In committee drastic margin requirement were snipped from the stock exchange measure to give authority over that problem to the federal reserve board and the proposed commission to regulate the market.

What the senate will do later is not certain just now. It was staying on the tax bill the immediate focus being a Norris amendment to give back to the Philippine government all taxes collected on coconut oil under the present three cent per pound levy in the bill.

The public domain legislation empowers Secretary Ives to collect fees for grazing. A part of the money collected is to be returned to the states.

Ever present politics had its place Democrats, contending yesterday's Illinois primary results showed popular determination against wreckage of the recovery program. Members of both parties got a bow in the house from Speaker Rainey when they applauded his renomination.

Mrs. Roosevelt Contradicts Wirt
Washington April 11.—(AP)—

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today contradicted the contentions of Dr. William Wirt that the substance of the substance project at Reidsville, Va., is a "communist effort."

The wife of the President gave her views in response to questions at a White House conference with newspaper men.

While before Dr. Wirt on a visit to the capitol had been told the House probing committee desired no further testimony from him and he was free to go back to his Indiana home.

CRIME WAVE AT HIGH POINT

High Point, April 11.—Although police activity over the week-end filled the local jail to overflowing and a load of prisoners had to be transported to the county jail at Greensboro to make room for others here, High Point had a siege of lawlessness Saturday and Sunday that left in its wake two murders, ten stolen automobiles, a flock of housebreakings and much petty thievery.

Both of the dead men are Negroes and in each case another is being held on a first degree murder charge, one of the pair being a woman. All but one of the automobiles have been recovered, but one was badly wrecked and another had been burned up. As for the wave of house-breaking—there being 15 breakings reported in the past ten days—police believe they have solved that also with two arrests and they are on the lookout for two others believed to be members of the gang responsible for the robberies.

Magistrate Is Sent To Rodas

Rockingham, April 11.—In Superior Court here today, Judge Sink sentenced Magistrate Jake C. Lackey of Hamlet, to 15 months on the roads. Lackey, who is 34 years old, has been a magistrate for the past two years. He pleaded guilty to the charge, but insisted there was no intent to do wrong. The specific charges are that he failed to report to the clerk of court the cases disposed of by him settling a case without issuance of a warrant, and marrying a couple with license from another county.

During All This Week

A Special Factory Showing of the New All-Enamel Majestic Range is being held in this store this week. A man from the factory will be in attendance to show this new triumph in cooking efficiency, and explain its many interesting details. We specially invite you to come and see for yourself how completely the problem of efficient, convenient home cooking has been solved in the New All-Enamel Ranges. It is easy to have a beautiful, cool and modern kitchen without changing over to expensive fuels.

The NEW ALL-ENAMEL

Majestic Range

No matter what fuel you use, the same amount of heat is always necessary to cook or bake. Cool, clean cooking is never a matter of the fuel, but of the Range. The New Majestic uses the good old reliable fuels that everybody is accustomed to, but it uses them with a new efficiency. It holds the heat inside, around the cooking compartments, instead of wasting it outside, in the room. With it you obtain the utmost in cooking and baking ability, together with real fuel economy and a cool, comfortable kitchen to work in. Results like these have been sought for years in coal ranges, but have only recently been obtained.

Makes a Cool, Clean Kitchen

Every woman knows how an ordinary range "heats up" a kitchen, especially in summer, and how uncomfortable it is to work under such conditions. Yet this is all unnecessary. With a Majestic there is all the difference in the world. The heat is concentrated on the work; the room is comparatively cool; the cleanliness and the convenience and practical features of this modern aid to good housekeeping are equal to those in any range of any type—And you have with it a beautiful Kitchen, too—for the New Majestic is a handsome creation of bright enamel color and gleaming nickel—as easy to keep clean as it is wonderful to work with.

"Pay-as-you-use-it"

You can get one of these modern high-efficiency Ranges for your home so easy! By special arrangement with the Majestic factory we are able to offer a most attractive "pay-as-you-use-it" plan. Just a little down; the balance spread over many months. No interest, no carrying charges, no advance in price! Come in, This Week, and let the demonstrator from the factory show you how this beautiful New Majestic will lighten your work, and how easily you can obtain one! FREE—This Week only—while the special Majestic Demonstration is going on—a full set of these heavily nickeled, copper cooking utensils will be given to every purchaser of a New Majestic Range!
