Expert Say Body Found In N. J. Not Lindbergh Child

NEW BATTLE PENDING IN MURDER CASE

George Foster Says Seven Autopsy Experts Not Ready to Testify Body Found Near Hopewell Was Not Charles Lindbergh, Jr.; Body Four Inches Taller And Was Embalmed

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A former defense investigator said today counsel for Bruno Richard Hauptmann had ignored evidence that the body in the murder case could not have been that of the Lindbergh baby.

Seven autopsy experts were ready to show, declared George Foster, that the body found five miles from Hopewell, N. J., and identified by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh as that of his son, is really was:

1. More than four inches taller than the Lindbergh child.
2. Decomposed more than would have been possible in the mild weather after the kidnapping.
3. Embalmed.

Foster is chief investigation for James M. Fawcett, who was replaced as Hauptmann's counsel before the trial.

His assertion came as the present counsel prepared to go to Trenton today for a conference on the disagreement over the appeal procedure. This was understood to be, in apt, to the failure of Edward J. Reilly, chief counsel, to attack the State's identification of the body.

TOMORROW IS U. S. HOLIDAY

Postoffice and Banks To Observe Washington's Birthday; School Exercises

The nation tomorrow will turn to the celebration of the anniversary of Washington's birthday, and many a lad in the various schools will recite stories in connection with the life of the first president, especially that about the "Cherry Tree" around which is built the significant fact that Washington never told a lie.

Observing the occasion here, banks and the postoffice will be closed throughout the day and employees will be given an opportunity to cocitate on the qualities that helped make Washington stand out so prominently as one of the three greatest men the nation has ever produced.

The postoffice, of course, will handle incoming and outgoing mail with usual dispatch and the general delivery window will remain open between 11:30 and 12:30. Other departments will be closed as tightly as proverbial "Dick's hat band."

Schools and the college probably will give a portion of the day to discussion of Washington, emphasizing his honesty with his fellowman regardless of how serious things became during the perilous age in which he lived. The "First in war, first in peace, first in the heart of his countrymen," truly will be placed on a high pedestal tomorrow, and youths with tiny bodies bursting with ambition and aspiration will glance long and searchingly at the picture of the "first president" and attempt to catch the torch which he flung to the nation at the end of his splendid career.

The court house and other public buildings will remain open, the observance centering alone among the banks, postoffice and exercises at schools.

To Extend Light Line.
New Bern, Feb. 21.—The planned electric light line extension of the municipal plant to Lane's Chapel and Port Barnwell, six miles along Route 10 was started Tuesday afternoon. Already 60 patrons along the route have applied for electric service upon completion of the line.

The Minneapolis Millers will go a long way to train next spring—they will pitch camp in Daytona, Fla.

LAND ACTION HOLDS COURT

Dispute Over 20 Acres Of Woodland Occupies Civil Court Here Today

Superior court continued hearing today in the land controversy which was brought by Sylvia Moore, colored, against J. B. Bullock, white, both of whom own land adjoining the disputed property on the north side of Tar river, a short distance from Greenville.

The case was begun immediately after court ended its luncheon recess yesterday and was not expected to be completed until late in the afternoon.

The woman, is suing Bullock for 20 acres of woodland which both claim to own. The woman says she is the owner of the property by reason of a change of title and Bullock contends he has a title also.

The case has been on the civil court calendar for about a year.

The one week term was begun Monday and after hearing a divorce case or so the court began hearing in the Albritton alimony case which went to the jury yesterday afternoon and was still in the hands of the jury this morning when court resumed work.

With one more day to go before the week's term is scheduled to be concluded, it appeared today as if only a minor number of the calendar of fifty or more cases would be settled. However, a number of compromises are expected to be chalked up and these will tend to lighten the load of civil cases all ways on tap in this court.

News Behind The News.

Washington
By GEORGE DUBNO
MEAT: Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's AAA has slipped a report to President Roosevelt which should make most of the country's farmers feel better.

It forebodes a city consumer's tear, however, to match each rural smile. Wallace has advised the White House that cash income is up 12 per cent in the last two years—with livestock prices shuddering the load at the moment. This means much higher prices for steaks and chops as the housewife already well knows.

LAGGARD: Beef, lamb and pork are way up—thanks to the drought and the AAA program of decimation. Washington's two biggest chain stores in the last two weeks have started carrying quantities of fish daily instead of on Friday only in an

POTATO BILL STARTS TRIP IN CONGRESS

Sponsors of Spud Control Measure Hopeful of Passage at Early Date

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The potato bill started its way through legislative channels of Congress today with sponsors hopeful of early passage.

Introduced by Representative Warren of North Carolina the measure would make potatoes a basic commodity providing for sales quotas and levies a tax of 75 cents on every one hundred pounds of potatoes sold in excess of the allotments.

The measure, drafted by the Farm Administration, represented much of the agitation for potato control motivated by low prices. Marketing agreements failed to meet expectations adding to the clamor for control similar to the program for cotton and tobacco.

The movement originated in Eastern Carolina potato growing sections but quickly spread to other areas, getting much support from Maine.

One Killed; One Badly Injured in Truck-Car Crash

Laurinburg, Feb. 21.—Buck Cox, 24, Robeson county Negro who lived near Rowland, was instantly killed and Alice Cox, 26, his sister, is not expected to live, as the result of a truck-car crash near Johns lake yesterday afternoon. The Negro's car came out of a side road and crashed into a truckload of baled hay driven by Francis Forde of Laurinburg, who was unhurt. Three other occupants of the car had minor head injuries.

Road Sentences For Drunk Drivers

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Anyone convicted of driving while drunk before Judge Wilson Warlick is going to the chain gang no matter who or what the circumstances. The judge so announced in Superior Court today in giving twelve months to A. P. Ponders for larceny of an automobile while intoxicated and sixty days to John Muse on a plain drunk driving charge.

"I don't care if it be the son of the President of the United States," the judge said. "I'm tired of these pleas for leniency for young boys who drive automobiles while they are drinking. It's all right to say 'I have a prison sentence will ruin their lives; but the same boy is likely to kill or maim somebody else if this mixing of whiskey and gasoline isn't stopped."

ORDER ENFORCEMENT OF SLOT MACHINE LAW

New Bern, Feb. 21.—Judge Len J. Moore of recorder's court and Mayor Leon C. Scott issued strict orders to county and city officers this week to enforce strictly the law against slot machines, tip tables, punch boards and all other such gambling devices. Police officers made a thorough canvass of the town but found not a single gambling machine.

effort to meet the situation. Experts in the Agriculture Department predict that meat prices are still to reach their peak.

Meanwhile Wallace tells the President his big problem is to restore an internal balance between the various farm products. Certain regions, notably the Northeast and the Far West, haven't responded to treatment as well as the rest of the country despite benefit payments etc.

DUMPING: The pressure on President Roosevelt from within his own official family to chart a definite course for our future international trade relations is getting somewhat acute.

Late News Flashes

Today In The Legislature.
Raleigh, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Compulsory licensing of every driver of a motor vehicle in North Carolina moved another step nearer to becoming law today when the House passed on second reading a measure already approved by the Senate.

A few minor amendments were adopted which necessitate the bill going back to the Senate when it completes House passage. It will probably come up for its third reading tomorrow.

The Senate passed a bill to require all persons practicing midwifery to secure a license from the State Board of Health and sent the measure to the House.

It also approved a bill shortening the time for intervening suits on bonds of contractors for public buildings from 12 months to six.

There were no major committee meetings this morning but the finance groups had another protest hearing this afternoon and the joint health committee tonight was to hear arguments for and against (Continued on Page Four)

WOMAN WINS ALIMONY SUIT

Mrs. Annie Lee Albritton Given Decision by Jury in Civil Court Here Today

Mrs. Annie Lee Albritton won her suit for alimony when a jury in Pitt County Superior Court this morning returned a decision in her favor. The suit was against her husband, B. G. Albritton, local rural mail carrier.

Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount, who is presiding over the one week term of civil court, is expected to set the amount of alimony which Mrs. Albritton will receive probably tomorrow afternoon.

The plaintiff a year ago was granted temporary alimony of $45.00 a month by Judge F. A. Daniels, of Goldsboro, and the suit completed today was to make the payment permanent.

The case was started Monday about noon and was completed yesterday afternoon shortly after one o'clock. The jury reported its decision shortly after court resumed work this morning.

The jury answered three of the five issues in the case in favor of the plaintiff. They held that she was legally married, was forcefully put out of her home by her husband and had not committed adultery, as Albritton attempted to prove both in the answer to the complaint and by witnesses put on the stand in the concluding hours of testimony.

Mrs. Albritton, the mother of two children by a former marriage, said she was severely beaten by Albritton on several occasions and forced to leave home because of his brutality.

He contended she had been untrue and had not lived up to her marriage vows.

A number of witnesses were put on the stand by each side and argument did not begin until late Tuesday afternoon.

Black 'Phantom' Stirs Negro Area

Durham, Feb. 21.—Havli, the Negro section of Durham, which for years has made Durham the crime center of the South, today was on the watch for a huge Negro moral degenerate, styled the "Flashlight Phantom."

For the past two weeks, the local police have been after the monster Negro who in the silence of the night prowls through the streets and alleys of the Negro section. He turns his flashlight on and scares women with his insults.

Officers have done everything in an effort to find the Negro. He has neither home nor regular hangout. He doesn't work, and is never seen in the daytime. He is only recognizable at night by his flashlight and the screams that follow from the woman he has insulted.

TWO GIRLS DIE IN LEAP FROM AN AIRPLANE

Daughters of American Consul at Naples Jump From Plane in England

Upminster, Essex, England, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Two beautiful American girls, Elizabeth and Jeanne Dubois, the only children of a consul general plunged from an airplane today as friends said they started on last flight over the recent crash-death of two men of the Royal flying corps.

They fell from a commercial plane speeding toward Paris at an altitude of 1500 feet. Horrified witnesses looking up said they plummeted to earth clasped hand-in-hand and in full embrace.

London friends of the girls, who were the daughters of Covert Dubois, consul-general in Naples said the girls' grief was uncontrollable over the loss of the big British seaplane "Ace of Diamonds," which crashed into a hillside near Messina, Sicily, February 15, six days ago.

Friends said they did not know which of the nine men killed in the "ace of Diamonds" the girls had been especially interested in, although they had learned the girls were in company of the British fliers a number of times when the "Ace of Diamonds" was in Naples during January and the first of February.

The girls had been living in a west-end hotel in London for some time. Their tears and hysterics excited attendants of the London hotel. Both girls were less than 24 years old.

RELIEF NEEDS SHOW DROP

Demands of Poor this Year Not as Great As Previous Year, Relief Workers Say

The demand for relief in this community is not as severe this year as it was a year or two ago, it was made known today by a member of the local relief committee.

Although the committee has supplied numbers of school children with shoes, and several families with coal, it was said the demand is not nearly as great as last year even, the first time the community had actually seen the light of a new financial era in several years.

It was reported this morning that around 200 pairs of shoes had been distributed among both white and colored school children in addition to a number of pieces of under-clothing to those who were improperly clad.

A number of families have been supplied with coal during severely cold weather, but the amounts are limited and they are told to find means of looking out for their own demands as soon as possible.

The local committee has only a limited supply of money and every cent is being made to count for those truly in need and deserving of public aid.

Each needy case has been investigated by relief workers and the line has been drawn to include only those who can furnish proof that they need aid and have no other means of support.

The relief campaign will extend through the winter months only. With the coming of activity on the farms, the unemployed will be told to get busy and look out for themselves.

George Clark, chief of police, who has charge of distributing relief goods, said today he had six "floaters" to ask for aid here last night. They were given shelter in the city jail and went their way this morning. This was the largest number of that kind of unemployed the city has helped in some time. They float in here from two to three a night, and always if conditions are favorable, they are given shelter.

Eleven bad checks turned up at Edenton.

Edenton, Feb. 21.—Checks drawn against the accounts of three local physicians and bearing their forged signatures have been cashed here during the past week by various means. The doctors whose names were forged are M. P. Wicks, O. L. Holly and J. C. Hines, and so far 11 checks all in small sums, have made their appearance. Chief of Police Helms and Sheriff Boyce, who have been at work on the case for several days and arrested one suspect subsequently released, say two Negroes are the offending parties.

ITALY STILL MOVES TROOPS INTO AFRICA

Mussolini Adopts Julius Caesar's Practice In Handling Affairs Of Country

Rome, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini, true to the traditions of his favorite experiences of Julius Caesar, devoted himself today to planning a colonial military campaign while giving his attention to internal affairs.

On orders from Duce, commander-in-chief of the Italian army one thousand regular officers and troops departed for the East yesterday to join the 3,000 militiamen already there.

Several Italian ships waited today with steam up ready to transport additional contingents as soon as definite orders are received from Mussolini.

In nearly the same breath with which he issued his military orders recalling Caesar's practices of dictating campaign orders and his memoirs, almost at the same time delivered a statement on Italy's domestic situation.

He brought to a close the convention of the supreme council of the defense by decreeing that he had finally liberated Italy from the bondage of war. He added that Italy may now consider itself free to a large extent from outside economic support.

ASK FOR PATROL OF FISHING AREA
Edenton, N. C., Feb. 21.—Formal complaint has been lodged with John A. Nelson, State Commissioner of Fisheries, that thieves have been at work the last few nights stealing herring and shad nets from all the pounds between the town wharves and the Norfolk Southern Railroad trestle, and Mr. Nelson has been appealed to for a patrol boat in this area for the future protection of what seems the robbed fishermen may be able to return to their pound holes. It is not unusual for these Albemarle pirates sneaks to raise the nets and steal what fish may be found therein but this is the first time in several years where they have been brazen enough to steal fish and nets together. In seven cases the robberies have practically put the net owners out of business as what ready capital they possessed was laid out in the stolen seines. However, it will be difficult to use or dispose of the stolen property as the nets all bear marks and designations of their owners. No clues to the thefts have been found. Albert Lassiter, J. W. Bembridge, W. C. Watt and L. V. Holley are the latest to report disappearance of their paraphernalia.

GET THEM IN NOW

With a big federal public works program in the offing those in charge of public works and relief work in this state have sent out a call to every community to get in their list of projects as early as possible. It is believed that North Carolina will be able to get its full share of the federal public works money if there are enough worthwhile projects to require same, so no time should be lost in getting up the list.

Those projects of most lasting public benefit will probably be the first to be given consideration but every community should list every worthwhile project and get them in to the state public works officials at once.

To be sure there are many worthwhile projects that could be carried on in this city and county and we urge our officials to lose no time in getting in our requests for funds for these projects.

IT'S TIME TO BEGIN TO RIGHT THE WRONGS

Information from Raleigh is to the effect that even those opposed to it, admit the justice of the claim of more than forty counties that are seeking payment for roads they built for the state, but there is a hesitancy on the part of the legislators to provide for payment because it is feared that there are other injustices that the legislature might be called on later to correct if this is done. Such an argument against the measure, we consider, is a weak one, for if it is admitted that these counties have been discriminated against,
then certainly the state should take action to right the error. The fact that there are other injustices should not keep the state from starting now to try to correct them. A start must be made sometime, and the sooner the better.

The ten year plan of repayment provided in the bill will not prove a detriment to the state in the way of a drain upon its funds and there is no just reason why the measure should not have favorable action by the legislature.

would have to take in exchange would violate our anti-dumping law.
Peek's office has kept its mouth shut on this decision, but a Congressional source reports government legal experts ruled the cotton deal would not have run counter to the letter of the dumping law.
What it would have done to the spirit of the act is clear.

TIME: Those close to Peek say the White House rebuff has not inclined him to offer his resignation in a huff. Rather, he plans to sit tight in the belief his formula eventually will have to be accepted.

Secretary Hull's activities have been directed to a preservation of the most-favored-nation clause whereby all nations agreeing have an equal shot at any foreign market.

Hull's economic adviser, Herbert Feis—a Felix Frankfurter man who first entered the State Department in the Hoover administration—advises that if the most-favored-nation rule is discarded the race for international trade will devolve into a chaotic scramble. Feis urges that from three to five years be given the State Department to work out commercial agreements embodying the clause.

VETERAN: Peek's men say they have no complaint against this faccred-looking program, but they foresee the United States losing many of its markets forever in the 3-to-5 year interim.

The earlier plan is advanced by Peek as a recognized makeshift designed temporarily at least to help lighten the domestic unemployment load and hold some of our rapidly falling markets. Currently he is twiddling his thumbs while Hull proceeds with negotiation of new commercial treaties.

Cordell Hull, in addition to being
No. 1 man of the Roosevelt Cabinet, is a veteran of Senate politics. He already has scored in one major engagement with a fellow New Dealer.
—Ray Moley—and most of the official family have given him a wide berth since.

GYPS: The Postoffice Department has felt itself called upon to warn all postmasters against a magazine solicitation enterprise in which at least one member of Congress is said to be involved.

A name which sounds intimately identified with the Democratic party was trademarked for the publication and agents were sent out to get subscriptions at the rate of $2.00 a year.

Very shortly complaints began coming in to Washington that postmasters had been approached with the rather urgent suggestion they take half a dozen subscriptions. Now P. M. G. Farley asks all postal people to mail the gypsies and help him in the jug.

TAXATION: Whether the bomb-bail goes through or not a "slight" increase in taxes is likely to be more toward the end of this session. The taxes that will otherwise expire must be renewed, and in that renewal, fresh items are under consideration. The House Ways and Means Committee has a mass of figures bearing upon taxation and possible sources of revenue, gathered during 1934.

Added taxes are not discussed openly just now. It is necessary first to push through the spending program. Key men like Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the Finance Committee, shun down questions on the prospect of added taxation.

THAWING: The process of loosening up petrified mortgages goes

"voluntary cooperation" on this point attracts attention from other features of the SES's reform program the old guard will consider it a good investment.

Note that the office partner governments are to be called "governing members." That deft designation is the fruit of heavyweight thinking on the part of Exchange authorities and their legal advisors.

The Exchange's deepest concern has been to preserve its status as a private club. It was feared that allowing non-members to become governors would alter this status in the eyes of the law—thereby inviting a host of complications, especially a great vulnerability to damage suits. The law fairly frothed at the thought. But some genius saved the day by evolving a new kind of membership for the interlopers. That makes everything simply swell.

It remains to be seen whether this surrender and a couple of others in prospect will cause the Securities and Exchange Commission to forget some of the more objectionable reforms it proposes—such as the change to a strictly democratic form of Exchange government. Impartial observers doubt that the Commission will drop the trail so easily.

COLD: About 2,000 persons were expected to attend a New York luncheon today in honor of Joseph P.
Kennedy—chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. But the affair has been postponed for a month—the reason given being Mr. Kennedy's illness.

Informed sources chuckle at the explanation. They remark that Mr.
Kennedy would be in a somewhat delicate position if he made a public appearance here while the Exchange is still debating his reform ideas. If he came out strongly for his program Wall Street would resent it as an attempt at moral coercion—thus hurting chances for future cooperation. If he didn't it would be construed as a confession of defeat. He's better off if he stays away and says nothing until the argument is settled.

One New Yorker comments that Kennedy's ailment is probably a timely case of cold feet.

STRATEGY: New York bankers have no bets that the Senate conservatives led by Carter Glass can head off FDR's program for reforming the Federal Reserve but they do believe Glass and his cohorts will perform an extremely useful service.

The point is that the radical element in Congress is much more likely to push through amendments than the Glass crowd. The more noise the right-wing critics can make the better chance there is of persuading doubtful Senators to oppose left wing ideas.

GEMS: The stockbrokers' frantic thrust for business has awakened a lively interest in minor companies with good earnings records. Customers are being told about little gems of corporations that nobody in Wall Street ever heard of before.
Few of these prizes are listed on any New York exchange—but brokers have no objection to doing business in Bridgeport or Salt Lake City if it will net a few nickels. No commission is small enough to sniff at these days.

BOXING STAR BACK AT WORK AT CAROLINA

Chapel Hill, Feb. 21.—With the return of Max Novich, undefeated sophomore light-heavyweight, to the line-up, the Carolina boxing stock for the Southern Conference tournament in Charlottesville Friday and Saturday has taken a rise.

Novich, suffering from a severe cold, was confined in the University Infirmary during the past week. His anxiety to participate in the Duke scrap last week led him to slip from under the doctor's care, journey to Duke and defeat Don Schmidt, and then return to his bed. Carolina and Duke deadlocked at 4-4, sharing the Big Five title.

While Carolina will be represented in the tourney by a full team, four men—all sophomores—are counted on to carry the Tar Heel chances of victory.

Three of these sophomores, Joe Fisher, welterweight; Julius Medynski, junior middleweight; and Max Novich, light-heavyweight, have gone undefeated this season. Fisher, however, fought a draw with Maynard Werner, Conference champ from Virginia. Diehl has but one reverse, a close decision dropped to Taylor of South Carolina early in the session.

In retribution for this loss, Diehl copped a decision from Archie Hahn, Virginia's Conference bottom champ.
Medynski is Carolina's best bet to gain a championship. Although a sophomore, he is ranked among the best middleweights to carry Tar Heel colors. The junior middleweight won every scrap by the technical knockout route during the season.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. gave $5-million to the National Park in North Carolina and Tennessee.

PITT TOURNNEY PLAY BEGINS, MANY TEAMS

Two dozen teams squared off yesterday in the second annual Pitt County High School basketball tournament. Every school in the county except Greenville High School is represented in the tournament.

Play will continue through Monday. D. T. House, principal of Chit-wood High School, is chairman of the tournament committee. Games are being run off in the local high school gym.

Winterville girls defeated Farmville 22-14, in the opening game of the tournament. Miss Rouse, with 12 points, led Winterville. Misses Horton and Joyner, each with five points, led Farmville.

Ayden boys were first to advance in that section. The Ayden quint defeated Pateolus 23-14. Munford and Cox, each with seven points, led Ayden. Sheppard made 10 points to lead Pateolus.

The opening contest of last night's program saw Stokes girls eliminate Belvoir 34-13. Misses D.
Bullock and M. Bullock, each with 14 points, featured for the winners.
Miss A. Kittrell made 11 points to lead Belvoir.

Chitwood boys advanced by defeating Farmville 16-15, in a thriller.
Laughinghouse dropped in three field goals in closing minutes to pull Chitwood into a tie, and then Moore made good on a free-throw chance to bring victory. Matthews, with six points, led Farmville. Laughing-house made eight points to top Chitwood.

The two final games of last night's program were one-sided. Grimesland girls routed Arthur 44-7. Miss Elks counted 24 points to feature.
Miss Flanagan made six of the losers' points. Bethel boys eliminated Fountain 42-13. Highsmith with 12 points, was high for the victors.
Gaynor and Holloman were best for Fountain.

Today's schedule is as follows:
Fountain vs. Grifton (girls' game)
—4:00 p. m.
Grifton vs. Belvoir (boys' game)
—5:00 p. m.
Bethel vs. Ayden (girls' game)
—6:30 p. m.

Greenville After Babe Ruth as Head Of Baseball Club

An effort was under way here today to obtain Babe Ruth "King of Swat," as manager of the Greenville baseball club of the Coastal Plain League next season.

Eugene Wilson, who is one of the leading baseball fans of the community said this morning that he Berry Bostic and Van Staton, two other enthusiasts were conferring with the former home-run king in an effort to get him to accept a contract with the local baseball club this year.

"Kinston has it Bunn Hearne, of University of North Carolina fame," said Wilson, who acted as spokesman for the group, and there is no reason on earth why Greenville should not obtain the services of a baseball celebrity." Wilson said he believed Ruth would prove one of the greatest drawing cards the club could get, and will do everything to coax Ruth into accepting the post here.

Wilson did not say what kind of a proposition would be made the former big leaguer, but declared his group was ready to offer almost any kind of terms just so they see the Bambino in a Greenville uniform during the forthcoming season. He said Greenville fans were out to keep the pennant here for another year after winning it two years in succession and planned to stop any assault which Kinston, with its Carolina team and other clubs, can make Tuesday.

FINDS PRISON BETTER THAN BEING FUGITIVE

Wilson, Feb. 21.—O. Eugene Mason, 16, walked into the local police station Tuesday afternoon and gave himself up after having escaped from the prison camp at Rocky Mount Monday night. His face was flushed with fever and hunger, his body poorly clad, and he said he was "starving." He walked out on the Rocky Mount camp and spent Monday night in the woods near here. The dampness and the fact that he had had nothing to eat were responsible he claimed for his giving up his attempt to go further. He was sent to the prison camp after having been found guilty of breaking into a store in Nash county a year ago.

He has two more years to serve on his sentence.

"But I'd rather do that than starve," he told Chief Gurley here Tuesday.

Seven National League clubs operated last season without profit. Only the St. Louis Cardinals made money.

At this meeting new members desiring to take part in the spring production of this group will be added to the rolls. At the last meeting the members voted to give Noel Coward's "Hay Fever," a modern comedy with a touch of sophistication. This work is being carried on as part of the F. E. R. A. project in Community Drama under the direction of Miss Mary Dirmberger. The first public production of the Theatre Guild was the "Christmas Festival" written by the members and given last December. Miss Dirmberger is also an instructor in Contemporary Drama and Play Production at the college and was responsible for the Senior Class' recent revival of that old nineteenth century favorite "Fashion," which last week delighted the Greenville theatre-going public.

Recital at College This Evening

The public is invited to the musical recital to be given this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Campus building by the piano students of the college, assisted by the Glee Club and the Violin Ensemble.

The program is scarcely an hour long. Those who will play piano solos who are from or near Greenville, are Clifton Crawford and Misses Edith Marslander and Caroline Hamble.

The Glee Club will sing two folk songs, "Love's a Whirlwind" and an English Hunting Song.

The Violin Ensemble will play two selections, a blending of two French folk songs and the "Rondino" by Kreisler, on the Beethoven theme.

This is the first public recital of the college year. There are private recitals twice every month, when the piano students and faculty make up the audience.

Mr. Seiger Entertains.

Jim Seiger delightfully entertained a few friends Friday night at contract bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hardee.

During the evening Coca Colas and peanuts were served. After three rubbers had been played, the scores were added. Bruce Bilbro held high score and Miss Beatrice Cherry second high. Each received a lovely gift. The Valentine idea was carried out throughout the evening.

A very tempting salad-course with hot coffee was served to the following guests: Misses Laura Smithwick, Beatrice Cherry and Mr. Phillips of Grimesland; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bilbro, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hardee of Greenville, and Mrs. Waters of Tarboro.

The Round Table Meets.

The Round Table met with Mrs. W. C. Vincent on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. E. Austin, with Mesdames J. C. Gallows, A. B. Ellington, Kirkpatrick, Tolson, T. G. Basnight and Miss Helen Gray as special guests.

The program for the afternoon was opened with a paper on "The Decade 1893-1903," by Mrs. Austin. She mentioned the historical, political, social and scientific achievements of that decade in an entertaining way. Current events were given by Mrs. Wiley Brown. Then Mrs. Tolson presided at the piano playing popular selections of that period, among which were Sousa's March and "The Banks of the Wabash." She was then accompanied by Mrs. Kirkpatrick who sang several vocal selections, among which were "The Rosary," "Sweet Marie," "After the Ball," and several others.

Tuesday was Mrs. Austin's birthday and as the members and guests left they wished her many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Vincent bid guests and members good-bye as they were leaving. The club will meet next with Mrs. J. E. Winslow.—Reported.

Ayden Club Meets.

Ayden, Feb. 20.—The program of the Woman's Club, which met at Hotel Ayden, Tuesday afternoon, was in line with that of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs, in its observance of "Better English Week."

The speaker for the occasion was Miss Emma C. Hooper, instructor in English at East Carolina Teachers College, and she was introduced by a former pupil, Mrs. John L. Jenkins of Ayden.

The talk was intensely interesting and very instructive. Miss Hooper emphasized the fact that the speaking of good English must have a background of a sound body as well as a trained mind. That attention should be given to the child's teeth, tonsils, nose, ears and throat, especially the vocal cords and the whole body kept in good shape. Added to this the parents should do everything possible to foster correct and pleasing speech in the home, by precept and by example, and encourage the children to turn to radio and other programs which use correct English and away from slang and too much dialect, and to associate with children who are careful about their speech. She used as examples of good English both prose and poetry selections, and called attention to radio speakers worth listening to and who are very good indeed in their handling of our language. Among these are President Roosevelt, Lowell Thomas and others of like type.

A group from the Woman's Club who are also members of the Choral Club, gave two vocal selections, "The Kerry Dance" and "Villia," the rendition of which added much to the enjoyment of the program.

At the business session which was presided over by the president, Mrs. J. C. Andrews, Mrs. W. W. Salsbury, chairman of the nomination committee, presented the following names to be voted upon for next year's officers: President, Miss Virginia Bell Cooper; vice-president, Mrs. M. T. Frizzelle, corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. M. Edwards; treasurer, Mrs. A. F. Rowe; reporter, Mrs. J. B. Eure; sponsor for Juniors, Mrs. J. C. Andrews; chairman for various departments: Education, Miss Lena Dawson; Music, Mrs. R. F. Pittman; Civics and Garden, Mrs. W. A. Quinerly; American Home, Mrs. W. C. Cannon; Welfare, Mrs. J. D. Cannon.

Educational Department, Mrs. A. C. D. Nee, chairman, served delicious refreshments. National colors used in keeping with George Washington's birthday celebration, were used in decorations and refreshments.

Celebrates Birthday.

Ayden, Feb. 21.—Friday afternoon Bernice McLawhorn entertained a number of her friends at her home near Ayden, celebrating her ninth birthday.

The Valentine motif was used for decorations and in the color scheme of refreshments. Games were played and stories were read. The honoree received a number of lovely gifts.

Those present were Bernice McLawhorn, Douglas and Ray McLawhorn, Hannah Ruth Humbles, Alice Jean Johnson, Dorcas Sumrell, Marion Phillips, Christine Stokes, Lurline Easterlin, Lois Bradley, Robert Earl and Clyde Simmons.

Delicious refreshments were served by the honoree's mother, Mrs. Jake McLawhorn.

The local post office will be closed tomorrow, February 22nd, in observance of Washington's birthday. There will be no city or R. F. D. delivery. The general delivery window will be open from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. All incoming and outgoing mail will be handled in the regular manner.

STOCKS

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Conflicting movements persisted in the financial markets today and speculative forces showed more than usual amount of action.

The news both political and economic was a little spotty and most stock traders were inclined to wait for further protests before deciding whether last Monday's support was a flash in the pan or an indication of genuine spring upturn.

Grais, Cotton and other commodities were barely steady in the greater part of the day. Bonds were about as irregular as stocks.

Leading foreign currencies were holding relation to the dollar. The closing stock tone was irregular. Transfers were 650,000 shares.

Hoover Causes Comment

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—A public statement by Herbert Hoover on the money policies stirred political echoes in the capital today by the administration stood pat on its program and just now was worried more by relief than gold.

ginia.—Mr. Roosevelt's "unreconstructed trouble—that the administration leaned for aid in defeating this plan.

Secretary Morgenthau said briefly that the administration was satisfied with its money policy. This was in reply to a request for comment on Mr. Hoover's suggestion that the government return to the gold standard as a recovery boost.

Politically-minded observers read in the former President's utterances a bid for second nomination. Some Republican stalwarts sided with Hoover's suggestion.

Hauptmann Wins Long Respite.
Trenton, N. J., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted murderer of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was stayed indefinitely today at 12:15 when a certified copy of a writ of error was filed with the clerk of the state prison.

Hauptmann had been sentenced to die the week of March 18.

Defense counsel Fred Pope and C. Loyd Fisher presented the writ to Irving Bleau, the prison clerk, within an hour after they had filed the original writ with the clerk of the Court of Errors and Appeals, the state's highest tribunal.

Argument on the writ will be heard either in May or October terms of court.

The defense indicated it will seek to have the arguments postponed until the latter date which with time required for handing down the decision and the further possible appeal to the Court of Pardons would delay the execution of the death sentence until some time early next year.

'GENUS PLESIPIUS' HERD
DUG FROM IDAHO'S HILLS

Washington.—(AP)—A whole herd of wild horses that roamed the Idaho plains a million years ago has been "rounded up" by Dr. C. L. Gazin of the Smithsonian Institution.

He has corralled the skulls and bones of 65 of these horses, known as the genus Plesippus. They were forerunners of the modern horse and its ancestors, although they died out on this continent long before historic times.

The horses, and the fossil remains of several other kinds of prehistoric animals, were excavated by Dr. Ga-zins and his helpers on the Snake River near Hagerman, Idaho.

Indians Wore Rabbit Skins
