Winter Laurels Assault Against The Eastern States

SNOW BLANKET OBLITERATED IN THE WEST

Temperatures Race Downward on the Eastern Seaboard; Snowstorms Whip in
From West; New York, Pennsylvania
And Other States
Muffled by Snow; Mercury Drops From 53 to 15 in New York City

(By The Associated Press)
While winter's front line assault ed Eastern States, temperate weather in the van started to obliterate a snow blanket and frigid temperatures that gripped the West and a large section of the North.

Temperatures raced downward along the Eastern seaboard as snow-storms whipped in from the West muffling New York, Pennsylvania and other States. In a few hours the mercury fell from 53 to 13 in New York City. Stern warnings were posted for all shipping.

More than nine inches of snow filled the Panhandle of West Virginia and prevailing warm weather was replaced by snow in the nation's capital.
Eastern highway transportation was hampered and highway traffic halted.

Flains and mid-Western States cleared drifted highways as temperatures abated from sub-zero depth that reached 20 degrees below zero Bismarck, yesterday. Rocky Mountain States reported melting snow and clearing skies.

Spring weather with the thermometer at 44 was Puget Sound's boast with Pacific Coast rains forecast for today.

As wintry weather retired from Oklahoma and other Western States farmers prepared to repair damage done by recent dust storms to their crops.

Weather forecasters held out hope for moderate weather for central sections of the nation Wednesday and the East Thursday.

David Lancaster Laid to Rest Today

Funeral services for David Sim Lancaster, 69, who died at his home near Dudley's Cross Roads yesterday morning at 1:15, were conducted from his late home this afternoon at 3 o'clock and burial was made in the Roach graveyard on the Greenville highway.

Final rites were in charge of Rev.
Duff Tolar, pastor of the Oak Grove Free Will Baptist Church, where Mr. Lancaster attended services over a period of many years.

The deceased was a native of Craven county and spent most of his life where he died. He was never married and is the last of his family.

He was beloved by a wide circle of friends because of the great amount of charity work which he did in his community.

He was an extensive landowner and played an important part in the development of agriculture.

Two Sentenced In Rum Cases

Rocky Mount, Feb. 27.—Luther H.
Joyner, sought for some time by local police on liquor charges, is under $750 bond awaiting trial in Edgecombe court. He was trapped by police near here last night with a companion, William H. Edwards as they fled from officers.

Police trailed the car, said to have been driven by Joyner, and nabbed the two men when their machine failed to make a curve and drove into an embankment near the city.
Officers said they found Joyner in the act of breaking a five-gallon demijohn when he was arrested.

In Police Court today Judge Ben H. Thomas sentenced him to fifteen months on the roads, with $100 fine for reckless driving and transporting liquor. Edwards got three months.
Both appealed and bonds were fixed.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG News Behind The News.

By GEORGE DURNO
CREDO: Washington Republicans are reliably informed that despite all denials of any political significance in Herbert Hoover's recent visit to New York, the men of 1932 had a real huddle.

The former President's statement from Tucson, Arizona, demanding immediate re-establishment of the gold standard is direct result. Its is-surance was said to have been deferred until Mr. Hoover got far west in an effort to disassociate any connection in the public mind between the thrust at the New Deal and the New York meeting.

Although the Hoover credo was passed over here with polite surprise, it was meant to be a blast settling the Republican state of mind into so many words which all could read and understand.

QUERY: As the story comes back to the Capital the question was put direct to the Old Faithfuls in New York whether the time had not come to Mr. Hoover to step forward and speak for the G. O. P.

One man present is said to have been brash enough to inquire whether if Mr. Hoover assumed this new leadership of the party, it portended his receptiveness as a candidate next year.

If there was an answer to this one it got lost in the shuffle. The returning Washington scout heard none.

ISSUE: It is true that the shades of Bryan and McKinley have been flitting furtively about Washington these days as the war over gold, stable currency and inflation rages unabated.

Some of the more statesmanlike academic and less political politicians—and they must have been represented at the New York reunion—profess to see the money question as the big issue in 1936.

But the more hard-bitten gentry

COUNTY COURT ENDS SITTING

Several Actions Disposed of in Concluding Day's Session of Tribunal

Wiley Tripp and Oscar Wooten of the Farmville community, were fined $25 and one-half cost each in the concluding session of county court today on charges of reckless and careless driving and assault with an automobile.

The case, one of the longest drawn out heard at a term of court in several months, was started shortly after court convened after the lunch recess yesterday and was not completed until shortly before noon today.

When the two cars collided, one of them crashed through a tobacco barn owned by M. O. Speight, striking a youth standing near the building, breaking his arm and inflicting other injuries. The other machine halted after crashing into the structure. The injured young man was named Joyner. He and a companion were standing near the barn when the cars driven by the two men collided. The other youth narrowly escaped injury.

Other cases disposed of in today's session follow:

Beverly Daniels, colored, whiskey for sale, judgment suspended on payment of cost and good behavior.

Willie Mayer, abandonment, judgment of six months to the roads suspended providing defendant pays one-third of his yearly income to Blount-Harvey's store.

Jake Brannon, selling liquor, $50 cost deducted; eight months road sentence suspended for three years providing he remains law-abiding and of good behavior.

David Dixon, larceny, $25, cost deducted, and $4 for shirts allegedly stolen.

John Mills, carrying a concealed weapon, $50 and cost.

Sam Cox, whiskey for sale, sentence suspended on payment of cost and of good behavior.

Yesterday Charlie Forbes was fined $50 and cost and had his license revoked for six months on a charge of driving drunk.

Soldiers On Duty As La. Legislature Speeds New Bill

Baton Rouge, La., Feb. 27.—(AP)— Soldiers with fixed bayonets today guarded Huey Long's special session of the Legislature as it speeded fourscore more of its laws to passage.

Fifty-seven measures introduced with characteristic Huey Long gusto when the two Houses met last night.
The bills were sent to the House Ways and Means Committee for consideration today.

For the first time in history national guardsmen surrounded the as-semblymen in Long's $5,000,000 skyscraper capitol. About one hundred militiamen were on duty to preserve marital law declared after the armed uprising here several weeks ago.

ALLEN STORE BROKEN INTO

Robbers Make Away
With $25 Worth of Goods at Store on Farmville Highway

Robbers last night entered H. R.
Allen's store on the Farmville highway about three and a half miles from Greenville and made away with merchandise valued at approximately $25, the owner of the store reported to the sheriff's office early this morning.

The sheriff immediately started an investigation, but had obtained no clue of any consequence a few hours later.

Cutting away the lower part of the back door with an axe, the robbers entered the building and obtained a liberal supply of overalls, shoes, cigarettes, socks, hose, candy and other goods and escaped.

The robbery was discovered early this morning when employees of the store opened for resumption of business.

Although there were no identifying tracks near the store, Mr. Allen expressed belief that the thieves packed the stolen goods in an automobile and sped away. Without the aid of a car or some other form of conveyance several men would have been required to carry away such a large amount of goods.

Killsnook, Alaska, is one of the smallest villages in the world. In the 1930 census it had a population of three.

While crosses, mysteriously appeared on dwellings in Faison one night last week. That night several homes were robbed.

Then crosses appeared on homes in Warsaw and in Mount Olive.

The theory is that there is some connection between the crosses, made with chalk, and the burglaries.

Mrs. George Bennett in Warsaw encountered a burglar in her home Saturday night. When the man saw her he ran from the house.
Sunday night two negroes were caught robbing a store at Warsaw.

At Faison a burglar got $40 from the home of Mayor Martin.

The measure, written for the most part by Senator Corey who has long been a student of highway matters and who last session introduced unsuccessfully virtually the same bill disagreed violently with amendments added to the bill in the lower house which admittedly lessen the severity of the act.

The amendments to which Senator Corey objected were those which would permit the courts to exercise discretion in sentencing violators of the drunken driving clause of the bill and exclude as evidence records of the state highway department in trials arising from the administration of the act. Corey wrote in the original bill a mandatory two-day jail sentence for violators of the provision.

Monday night the Senate passed

SEVERAL NEW BUILDINGS ARE GOING UP HERE

Permits For $79,900
Worth of New Construction Issued
Since First of Year

Indications today pointed to an unusual amount of building activity in Greenville during the present year, probably exceeding any single year since the boom period immediately following the war.

George Clark, building inspector, who also is in charge of the is-surance of permits for new constructions, said today seven permits for new buildings had been issued since January 1, calling for an expenditure of $79,900. This amount is far in excess of the past year which saw some thing over $100,000 worth of new buildings and repairs completed here during the period.

The most important of the permits, the building inspector said, was that for the erection of a new tobacco warehouse on the western end of Dickinson Avenue. The building, now under construction, is being built by R. V. Keel, prominent tobac-coist, at a cost of $50,000 and is expected to be completed during the early summer, considerably ahead of the opening of the market.

Brick, concrete and steel are being used in construction of the new acquisition to the tobacco industry.
The building will contain all of the modern conveniences used in the operation of such a business.

The second largest sum, $15,000 will be spent in the erection of two wings to Pitt Community Hospital.
Construction work has already begun and will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

It was understood the two wings would provide fourteen additional rooms and two wards, giving the institution sufficient capacity to take care of demands for several years to come.

The other permits call for the erection of four new residences and a store on Fifth Street. The residences will cost from $3,000 to $5-000 each.

On the basis of this start during the first two months of the year, Inspector Clark said he anticipated more construction than in several past years. The building is expected to center mainly around new homes, a revival of construction in this field having been noted last year with a number of new residences dotting various sections of the city.

The first measure, sponsored by the N. C. League of Municipalities, would, says Senator Morgan and the league, prevent the State from taxing
the local government units by means of the gas tax. It is not known how much money would be diverted from the State Highway Fund by the bill.

The second measure, which does not apply to regular bus lines operating under State franchises would guarantee to the highway fund all revenues derived from buses, taxis and you-drive-it automobiles operated within town and city limits except that municipalities would be permitted to tax such vehicles up to fifty in the case of buses and $25 in the case of taxis and others.

The two measures are a sort of talk-back-one-hand-and-a-giving-to-the-other. Senator Morgan, attorney for the town of Hamlet and a member of the board of trustees to the municipalities league has devoted considerable time to the study of local government problems.

A third bill introduced by Senator Morgan would regulate purchases by counties, cities and towns. It would require that purchases, repairs and so on would be made by a system of competitive bidding, all bidders being required to deposit a sum representing 2 per cent of the bid as evidence of good faith. This bill said Senator Morgan, is designed to remove purchases of local governments from the field of politics. The competitive bidding plan, Senator Morgan believes, is the best way to accomplish that purpose.

REPEAL GAINS SLIM LEAD IN ALABAMA VOTE

Fate of Prohibition in Bone-Dry State Was Still in Doubt
Today

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 27.—(AP)— The fate of prohibition in Alabama, for the last twenty years a bone-dry State, was in doubt today as the lead for repeal was whittled slowly by later reports from ballot boxes from yesterday's three-fold referendum.

Repeal, after lagging behind in early returns last night, jumped to the fore. The repeal lead after mounting to 12,000, was whittled down by a heavy dry vote from northern Alabama. The vote early today with 1259 boxes represented out of 2,156 in the State, gave modification 77,615 votes to 71,178 against, a majority of 6,438 in favor of the change.

On the question involving legislation of wines and beer the majority was for a change. The smallest lead favor of modification was on the proposed legislation for hard liquor. The vote was 76,320 for and 71,147 against.

TWO NEW ROAD BILLS READY

One Measure Seeks To Rebate Taxes on Gas; Limit Tax Levies on Taxi Drivers

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 27.—Two moves, one for diversion of highway funds and another in exactly the opposite direction, were made when Senator Morgan, of Richmond, introduced two bills in the Senate.

One of the Morgan measures would require the State to rebate to counties and towns any tax paid on gasoline bought by them. The other would allocate solely to the highway fund all taxes collected from for-hire cars and limit the tax levies against such cars by local governments.

The first measure, sponsored by the N. C. League of Municipalities, would, says Senator Morgan and the league, prevent the State from taxing
the local government units by means
of the gas tax. It is not known how much money would be diverted from
the State Highway Fund by the bill.

STEAL FOWL, PAY IN COURT

Two Negroes Find
Chicken Stealing Rather Expensive Before County Court

Bill Wooten and Dorsey Sparkman, colored, of the Falkland community, found chicken stealing rather expensive when they were fined $75 in the opening session of county court here yesterday.

The court required Sparkman to pay $50 and Wooten $25, with cost deducted, in both actions.

The couple are alleged to have stolen 18 chickens from the farm of C. C. Harris of the Falkland area and were later taken into custody before they had disposed of the stolen property.

C. O. Whitesturt, charged with driving drunk, was fined $50 and cost and had his driver's license revoked for a period of six months.

When court convened yesterday morning after a week of inactivity because of the one week term of Superior court, it had about enough cases to carry it through the day, but a snag was encountered during the early afternoon and it was necessary to continue work until today.

A half dozen or more actions were disposed of in the opening session.
They consisted largely of charges of driving drunk and violation of the prohibition law. Most of the defendants either found their way to the roads or were required to pay heavy fines. Those convicted of driving drunk found themselves deprived of their driving privilege for six months, and in some instances longer.

The court is making an effort to reduce drunken driving on the various highways of the district and it is for this reason defendants are dealt with severely.

Tomorrow night in the First Presbyterian Church at six o'clock the Diocese of Albemarle Presbytery will hold its annual meeting. Supper will be served the visiting deacons by the Woman's Auxiliary of the local church. A word of welcome from the board of deacons of the host church will be given by Dr. S.
M. Crisp, chairman of the board.
Quartette selections will be rendered by a group from East Carolina Teachers College.

The speaker for the evening will be Rev. P. D. Miller, D.D., newly installed minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Raleigh, and one of the outstanding leaders of the Southern Presbyterian Church. Previous to Dr. Miller's acceptance of the pastorate of the Raleigh church, he served for several years as educational secretary of the executive committee of Home Missions of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church. Dr. Miller's subject upon which he will speak to the men has not been announced, although he will deal with some phase of the work of the men of the church.

The boards of deacons of the different Presbyterian churches within Albemarle Presbytery comprise the Albemarle Diocese of which A. P. Thorpe, Jr., of Rocky Mount is president.

Farmers Admit Bankruptcy
New Bern, N. C., Feb. 27.—Sam

County farmers, have filed amended voluntary petitions in bankruptcy, admitting bankruptcy. Both sirs were formerly referred to W. B. Rouse, county conciliator, but now go to W. B. Duncan, of Raleigh, referee in bankruptcy.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev.
L. B. Manning, pastor of the Aspin
Grove Free Will Baptist church and burial was made in Forest Hill cemetery, Farmville.

Pallbearers were J. C. Killbren, Roy Felton, Hilton Felton and Her-

Section 7 Of Recovery Act Held 'Invalid'

Late News Flashes

Today In The Legislature.
Raleigh, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The legislature today postponed until Tuesday at least any debate on the Hill bill to create a state system of liquor stores.

The House defeated a measure including the legal alcoholic content of beer to 5 per cent and passed on second reading the Fenner bill to require the inoculation of all dogs in the state against rabies.

Much interest was manifested in the joint session tonight which will be addressed by Cameron Morrison of Charlotte, former governor and senator.

Each division of the assembly received many local and minor bills.
Senator Hill of Durham, author of the liquor measure, asked that consideration of his bill on the Senate floor be carried over until Tuesday. The Senate supported him.

A movement to make the whiskey bill a special order for Tuesday night, sponsored by Senator Teague of Wayne, lost as Hill, Senator Bill of Mecklenburg, and Senator Dunn of Rowan, argued against "making a side-show of the legislature."

The three opposing solons argued it was "hard" to conduct business in an orderly manner when the galleries were packed with spectators to whom the senators could orate.

The anti-rabies bill which had thrown the House into extended debate at three previous sessions, was passed 77 to 31 as a state-wide measure though some representatives had sought to eliminate their counties. It will come up for final reading tomorrow probably.

Supreme Court Dismisses Appeal.
Raleigh, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The appeal of Sidney Etheridge from a murder conviction in Onslow county was dismissed by the State Supreme Court today as it handed down 39 decisions in the first of the spring term.

Etheridge was sent to the electric chair following his conviction last July for the killing of Mamie Moore.
He gave notice of appeal to the high

The Weirton case was openly regarded as one of foremost importance to the labor guarantee provision of the National Industrial Recovery Act.

The government instituted the proceedings nearly a year ago and lost its first skirmish when Judge Neilds refused to issue a preliminary injunction holding that under the Norris-LaGuardia act the hearing with witnesses in open court was necessary. The trial began last October and lasted about seven weeks.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—(AP)— Francis Biddle, chairman of the Labor Relations Board said today he understood the government would appeal Federal Judge John Neilds' decision in Wilmington, Del., holding that Section 7 of the National Industrial Recovery Act as applied to the Weirton Steel Company.

The decision dismissing the government's petition to restrain the steel company from alleged interference with its employees' selection of representation for collective bargaining will not affect the Labor Relations Board in any way, Biddle said. He expressed the viewpoint that the decision would hasten a Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of seventy-two others which he said would be helpful to all the labor boards.

Chairman Doughton, Democrat of North Carolina, whose House Ways and Means Committee headed the Recovery Act with Section 7 in it told newspapermen that "if there is any question of constitutionality we can take care of it shortly."

"The Wilmington court's decision certainly isn't final," he said.

"There is no doubt in mind but that the case will be carried to the high court."

"We've got a new NRA bill coming up and necessary changes could be made in the legislation.
There will be an effort made to meet objections and constitutionality."

Stock and Feed Burn Burns Clinton, N. C., Feb. 27.—The stock and feed barn on the farm of P. E.
Woody, who lives four miles from Clinton, was burned about 10 o'clock Saturday night. The farm feed supply for the year, two mules, a truck by the flames. The loss, exclusive of insurance, was estimated at $2,500. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Judge John Neilds at Wilmington, Del.,
Dismisses Request
For Injunction
Against Weirton
Steel Company; Declares Section in Dis-

Nearly Year Ago

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 27.—(AP)— Federal Judge John P. Neilds today declared unconstitutional and invalid Section 7 of the National Industrial Recovery Act against the Weirton Steel Company.

Judge Neilds dismissed the government bill of complaint for an injunction to restrain the company from alleged interference with the introduction of the workmen's section of collective bargaining.

Judge Neilds said:
"There is no showing on the part of the plaintiff warranting the court to issue an injunction."

"Section 7 as applied to the defendant and its business is unconstitutional and void."

"This opinion contains the statement of the essential facts and of the law applicable thereto in conformity with equity rule 70 1-2. The bill must be dismissed."

"The government in its suit con-resentation plans are a so-called of the G. O. P. don't think so. They say not many more people understand the intricacies of currency manipulation than do the Einstein theory.

PRACTICAL: Public comment on the Hoover statement generally was withheld but privately the Elephant Keepers here say the Squire of Palo Alto failed either to furnish the Republican Party with that long-sought, sure-fire issue or himself a sufficiently elastic springboard from which to leap back into the White House.

Many of the G. O. P. veterans are inclined to look upon Mr. Hoover as another Left. They don't hanker for another moral victory.

"No," said one. "The man who gets the Republican nomination next year should have a slogan like Alfalfa Bill Murray—bread and butter, bacon and beans."

FIGHTER: Aside from Huey Long, Florida-faced, white-plumed Senator Pat McCarran (Democrat) of Nevada has developed into the most talented trouble-maker for the New Deal in the upper House.

McCarran's prevailing wage amendment to the $4,880,000 work-relief bill was a real sock in the solar plexus for the White House even though arrangements are being made to reverse the decision.

This is far from the first time the Nevada Irishman has tangled himself up in New Deal hair. He had scarcely taken the oath of office two years ago before he was in the thick of the economy bill fight, ignoring the unwritten rule that new Senators remain silent their first year. He was instrumental in securing a partial restoration of veterans' benefits over White House objections and government employees can thank him they are getting their pay cut back sooner than planned by the Budget Bureau.

SHARKS: Protests against the pending "small loan" bills for the District of Columbia are piling up and revision of the bills is already going on. Money sharks apparently hoodwinked District authorities into proposing a law that would legalize outrageous interest charges under a camouflage pretending to protect small borrowers.

The uniform small loan law in effect in many States as a result of organized effort by the Russell Sage Foundation and other public-spirited workers was blocked in the District of Columbia. The legislation now proposed would give Shylocks a chance to collect 40 per cent usury in some cases. Committee hearings have disclosed these flaws, and the bills are being tightened up. In the end they may be substantially like the uniform small loan laws of the States.

KNIVES: Dr. Rex Tugwell was so disgusted when he found four of his left-wing pretenses dumped out of AAA that he thought of resigning and leaving the United States to go to the devil. Then he came under the influence of a Winning Smile and decided to continue his work of planning the nation's destiny. He told this boys he would remain in the United States of America.

The new AAA bill is expected to be passed. It makes a Hitler out of the Secretary of Agriculture, the Mr. Wallace. He became fatter over farm-priest, president, handkerchief and chair before of all great acts of the soil with power to fill up factories and shut down mills that can't learn the quickest.

Two years ago that bill would have passed. Last year it was stifled by a House block where whiskers bristle at the word "Rex." This year it is in for a fiasco. Knives are grinding at both ends of the Capitol.

New York
By JAMES McMULLIN
Urgent: Quite a few of the smart lads—both here and abroad—were set for a quick and easy clean up if the gold decisions had gone the other way. They figured the 69 per cent profit on the gold-coin securities could be put to work at once scooping up other investments at the temporary panic prices which were expected that would have pyramided their gains to startling proportions when things snapped back to normal.

This doesn't mean that a majority of Wall Street big timers—or anything like it—were in on the play. The actual number of those preparing to shoot the works on this system was small. But the liquidation of gold-coin bonds since the decision was rendered gives striking evidence that plenty of money was involved. Speculative enrichment would have been spectacular.

Keen New York observers believe the public reaction to the picture of a few crowd traders making fabulous profits at the expense of the many might have engendered grave political consequences. They also figure the Supreme Court majority must have been aware of this angle.

It's noted that the five justices who upheld the New Deal are all from New York, Boston or Philadelphia. The four dissenters came from the interior. The easterners were presumably better able to appraise accurately the ramble involved and what it would mean if the decision went the other way. Insiders remark that their toughest job was to find logical reasons for a step that was socially urgent.

DAMAGE: New York better-enders are scouting around for an American living abroad on the income from gold-coin securities who is willing to test the loophole offered by the Court for probable losses due to "repudiation by Act of Congress." If they find one he will be enriched with carloads of bonds loaned from here in case the long shot comes through. The idea is to get something started in a hurry before Congress shuts off this avenue of escape.

Interested parties don't want the test to be made by British or French holders of American bonds. They can imagine nothing that would give Congress greater pleasure than to enact legislation squelching foreign claims for damage.

FINANCING: Secretary Morgenthau's new method of raising fresh funds with 6 and 9 month discount bills instead of bonds or notes took Wall Street by surprise. Financial sharks figure this departure means three things.

1. Government spending will not be as prolific in the next few months as is generally expected. A good deal of money can be raised in this way with a minimum of excitement—but it would take quite a while to run it into billions.

2. By confining March and April financing to refunding operations the Treasury is sure of getting the cheapest possible rates for long-term issues.

3. The administration evidently figures it's wiser not to plan any large-scale new financing until after Congress has called it a year.

OFFSET: A number of New York investors are interested in the new baby bonds as a hedge against their commitments in outstanding government issues. The terms on which the Treasury will repurchase the "babies"—plus the fact that they are non-transferable—is an absolute guarantee that they cannot decline in dollar value.

Some of Wall Street's confirmed pessimists are apprehensive that federal issues traded in the open market will depreciate as and when inflation takes hold. Assured gains in the babies would help offset such potential losses and there will be many subscriptions to the $10,000 limit on that basis.

FRANCE: Conservative resistance to Premier Flandin's effort to liberalize the Bank of France is worth watching. New York insiders hear there may be an explosion if Baron Edouard Rothschild and Senator Francois de Wendel—French munitions king—carry out their threat to resign from the bank's Board of Regents if the government continues to force relaxation of credit requirements.

A single pair of rats would produce 15,000 offspring in six weeks if they were unchecked.

Legislative Ramblings

the measure with the house amendments included, but Senator Corey served notice that he would ask for reconsideration of the bill. Despite the fact that he made a fervent plea for reconsideration, basing his argument on the two-day sentence and charging that favoritism would be shown in cases growing out of violation of the act unless a minimum mandatory sentence was written in the bill, his motion for reconsideration was voted down. Senator Carl Bailey of Washington, opposed Senator Corey in a speech to the Senate. Senator Spence, chairman of the roads committee, said he did not like the house amendments, but voted for the bill with the amendments added because he was "anxious for the bill to become law without further delay."

Those who can show that they have driven satisfactorily for the past year will not be required to pass an examination. Anyone applying for a driver's license after Nov. 1 will be required to pass an examination, the rules of which will be laid down by the highway department.

Companion bills to increase the size of the highway patrol will be considered next as a result of the driver's law. Senator Corey has introduced a bill which would create a patrol of 200 men.

Dr. Ralph McDonald, Forsyth legislator and ex-college professor, the father of the much-publicized sales tax substitute plan, is astonished no end to discover the widespread existence of the "finger of the Lord" philosophy in North Carolina.

He has received, he says, numerous letters from persons who oppose the enactment of the compulsory diphtheria vaccination bill introduced by Senator Burrus and which would require all North Carolina babies to be made immune from that disease. Many of those letters, says the erudite professor, declare in no uncertain terms that the "finger of the Lord" is pointing at him and other legislators and that he will be struck down if he votes for the Burrus measure. "Why," exclaimed Dr. McDonald, "I had no idea that such a philosophy existed in this modern year of 1935!" The Doctor was plainly astonished. He was shocked.

Dr. McDonald marveled still more when your correspondent told him that Senator John Sprunt Hill had received more than 200 such letters because he had introduced a liquor control bill.

"I knew," said the Doctor, "that the finger of corporations are pointed at me, but I didn't know the Lord had joined them. It is certainly news to me—and very discouraging when one considers how much we have spent for education."

The sales tax, with exemptions removed, will be included in the revenue bill when it reaches the floor of the House of Representatives the last of this week or the first of next week. A motion by R. P. Lumpkin, co-leader with Dr. McDonald of the anti-sales tax bloc, to remove entirely from the bill the sales tax section was voted down by overwhelming vote by the joint finance committee.

Immediately thereafter McDonald and Lumpkin withdrew the amendments to the revenue bill which constituted their substitute plan. This means that the anti-sales conceded openly what they have known all the time: that the real fight on the sales tax will take place on the floor of the house. By withdrawing their amendments the anti-sales tax bloc will make no more suggestions to the committee, but will now concentrate their efforts to align house members on their side.

With the anti-sales plans out of the way the finance body should move along at a greatly accelerated pace. The only major point to be decided by the committee is that of chain store taxation. That subject is now in the hands of a subcommittee. It is highly probable that whatever changes are made by the subcommittee will be approved by the committee. Almost certain to be included under the chain store tax schedule are chain filling stations now specifically exempt from the present tax.

Representatives McDonald and Lumpkin emphasize their contention that they have by no means abandoned the fight against re-enactment of the sales tax. The scene of battle has merely been transferred to the floor of the legislature. McDonald has recently expressed renewed confidence in the anti-sales' ability to remove the tax when the revenue bill reaches the lower house.

Birthday Luncheon.

Mrs. H. A. White delightfully entertained at luncheon today honoring her little granddaughter, Miss Jessie Barnes White, who celebrated her ninth birthday.

The table was beautifully appointed, covered with a lace cloth and centered with a pretty birthday cake with nine, burning candles with the honoree's name and the date February 27th. Burning candles in silver holders were placed at the corners of the table. Places were marked with bunny rabbits and Easter eggs. A pink and white color note was used.

The honoree received a number of pretty and useful gifts. Covers were laid for eight little girl friends.

Mrs. Flanagan Club Hostess.

Mrs. Graham Flanagan was gracious hostess to members of her bridge club and several additional guests yesterday morning at her home on Evans street.

Tables for the game were placed in an attractive setting of Hawthorne and jonquils.

At the conclusion of the game Mrs. T. A. Smoot was given a lovely linen guest towel for high score.

The hostess served a delectable luncheon.

Three One-Act Plays.

Three one-act plays will be presented by the Senior Normal Class of the college on the evening of March 21. These are: "The Duchess Says Her Prayers," a costume play with its setting in the Renaissance; "Job's Kinfolks," one of the favorites of the Carolina Playmaker; and "Rosalie," a French farce.

Miss Dierberger will direct the plays and will be assisted by members of the class.

The Senior Normal class will follow the precedence established several years ago of giving one-act plays instead of one long play, as their annual dramatic contribution. Every Senior Normal class in the history of the school has had a dramatic entertainment for the public. This class has a long list of successful performances reaching back to the very first classes to receive diplomas from the school.

Young Woman's Auxiliary Meets.

The Young Woman's Auxiliary of Memorial Baptist Church held an enjoyable meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. A. W. Fleischmann.

Miss Margaret Eakes led the devotional. Miss Annabelle Teel presented an interesting program in play form, "Changing Our Land for Christ," in which every member participated.

Mrs. Fleischmann, assisted by Miss Jean Fleischmann, served tempting refreshments.

Math Club To Present Play.

A play "An Idea That Paid" will be presented by the Math Club of the college tomorrow evening at 6:30 in Austin Auditorium. An electric bed-maker is the idea that paid. Not only are all college people invited to come see it, but the public.

Only 15 Minutes Now Needed to stop Cough

If you have tried "everything" and your cough or sore throat still hangs on, do not think you can't get relief. What you need is Thoxine—real prescription medicine. It does two essential things: First, it relieves throat irritation and your cough stops. Second, it attacks the internal cause of trouble, drives cold and fever out of the system.

This two-way action makes Thoxine quicker and surer—and explains its truly phenomenal success. All you do is take a big swallow and in 15 minutes you feel relief or get your money back. Safe, pleasant. No harmful drugs. Only 35c. Pitt Drug Co.—(Adv.)

Memorial Baptist Prayer Service.

The mid-week service of fellowship, prayer and Bible study will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Memorial Baptist Church. Our topic tonight will be "The Incomprehensible Crown," 1 Corinthians 9:19-27. We cordially invite all who desire to meet with us in this hour of devotion and meditation. Come. You are welcome.

Drama-Study Group Meets.

Miss Elizabeth Hyman, of the college training school faculty, read Monday night before the deeply interested drama-study group, the well known Pulitzer Prize play "The Green Pastures," by Marc Connelly. Miss Hyman's excellent representation of negro speech aided her in bringing out the humor that occasionally appears naturally in the dialogue; and in rising with the religious exaltation of such parts as Moses' farewell to his people, and "de Lawd's" realization that God himself must suffer before he can become a god of mercy instead of a god of wrath.

At the next meeting of the group Miss Lois V. Gorell will read "Street Scene," by Elmer Rice.

Sans Souci Club Meets.

One of the most delightful meetings of the Sans Souci Club was held with Mrs. J. H. Waldrop on Tuesday morning, with fourteen members present and two guests, Mrs. Guy Smith and Mrs. Hudson Barnes of Washington, D. C.

A short business session was held in which Mrs. Key Brown presented the matter of our club sponsoring the movement to help beautify the city park. This was discussed and voted that we help in this project.

The books were then exchanged. Mrs. Waldrop had charge of the program and she, assisted by Mrs. Guy Smith, presented a beautiful musical program on "Vienna, the City of Song." By her description of Vienna, one can readily see why this city is considered the most celebrated musical capital in the world, and its importance to musical history is evidenced by the number of great composers who have lived and worked there. Among them are: Schubert, Launer, Strauss, Beethoven, Brahms, Gluck, Mozart and Haydn.

Of these, the most beloved are Schubert and Johann Strauss.

Schubert, perhaps the greatest writer of songs the world has ever known, caused Vienna to be called the "City of Songs." These he wrote literally by the hundred—his accomplishments predominated in a genius for melody which enabled him to adopt the feeling of the music to the meaning of the words in a manner which has never been surpassed.

Johann Strauss is known as the "Waltz King." He wrote about 500 dances, mostly waltzes—among them the beautiful "Blue Danube," which is famous all over the world. The most successful operas of the great masters have been written in Vienna for nowhere else could they get the inspiration they were seeking.

Indian Child Cries Tears of Blood

London.—(AP)—The instance of a three-year-old Indian girl who for several months emitted blood when she cried, rather than tears, is reported in The Lancet, British medical publication.

Dr. R. L. Haviland of the Indian Military Hospital, Abbottabad, wrote: "The child was examined, but no abnormality could be detected in the conjunctiva or lacrimal apparatus; the general health was satisfactory and no marked anemia was present."

"An iron mixture was prescribed, and three weeks later she was again brought to the hospital. This time she cried on examination. Actual blood, somewhat diluted by tears, came from her eyes."

"The child has been under observation for three months and at present the condition has almost cleared up, the tears now being tinged a faint pink."

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

the lip of the dipper down. Within a few thousand years, this lip no longer will point to the North Star. A similar movement of stars also is bending down part of the handle. Within 200,000 years, astronomers estimate, the cup of the dipper will become the handle, the present handle the cup, and the whole will appear upside down.

Mizar Is Two Stars

Astronomers at the Carnegie Institute's Mount Wilson observatory have been interested in a single star of the dipper, Mizar (or Zeta), the second from the end of the handle. It is a "binary" or double star—two stars so close together that they appear as one to the naked eye. They almost eclipse each other in twenty-one day periods of revolution about a common point, so the light from them slowly dims and brightens. Mizar was one of the first double stars measured by Dr. Francis Pease.

using a twenty-foot interferometer attached to the giant 100-inch telescope.

But Dr. Frederick C. Leonard, astronomer of the University of California at Los Angeles, has made a study of the change taking place in the dipper, as illustrated above.

"A most interesting fact about the stars of the Great Dipper is that five of them, beta, gamma, delta, epsilon and zeta, are moving across the face of the sky at approximately the same angular rate and in a direction nearly parallel to that from beta to delta," Dr. Leonard said, "while alpha and eta are moving in roughly the opposite direction with comparable angular speeds.

"Because of this difference in direction of motion, the stars have not always formed a dipper. Five of the so-called 'Ursa Major' group, which includes also Sirius, the brightest star in the entire heavens. These stars are approaching the solar system with speeds ranging from about five miles a second, in the case of epsilon, to ten miles a second in the cases of delta and zeta."

New York Cotton

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, three points higher to three points lower in trade buying of near months and liquidation of the later positions. After selling at 12.29 March closed to 12.25 with the general list about net unchanged to two points lower in the earlier dealing.

March later sold up to 13.13, or four points net higher and was looking around that price at midday with other active months ruling net unchanged to four points higher.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The stock market tried to rally under the influence of a little more affable attitude toward the rails today, but after ending mid-week trading statistics traders turned a cold shoulder on the industrials.

By early afternoon recoveries of fractions to a point in the rails were lost or reduced, and some of the stocks were off major fractions to a point.

The bond market was distinctly bolstered by recovery in low priced rails and the commodity markets cotton and grains moved rapidly.

Foreign exchanges maintained recent stability. The late tone was irregular.

Transfers were 900,000 shares.

court but the appeal was not perfected.

Under the state law Etheridge will die March 15 unless he receives clemency.

King versus G. W. War. Pitt, affirmed.

D. O. Moe versus J. B. Winfield. Beaufort, no error.

Defeat Move to Increase Beer

Raleigh, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The house today defeated 61 to 46 the bill to increase the legal alcoholic content of beer in the state from 32 per cent to 5 per cent.

Rep. White of Chowan changed his vote from "Y" to "N" just before the result was announced which placed him in position to ask a reconsideration tomorrow. He said he would ask another vote later.

Members voting "Y" included Barnes of Wilson, Black of Beaufort and O'Berry of Wayne. Those voting "N" included Andrews of Wayne and Blount of Pitt.

Two Deaths From Cold Wave.

Atlanta, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Two deaths in the south were attributed today to the current cold wave which caused widespread suffering.

The deaths were reported here and at Marion, Ga. A 65-year-old woman was found in the yard of her residence here and a newspaper route carrier died at Marion, both apparently frozen to death.

A man picked up under a viaduct here unconscious and carried to a hospital, was said to be in a serious condition.

Fresh Trouble For Administration

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Fresh trouble for the administration involving the constitutionality of the Recovery Act came today to plague Roosevelt leaders trying to rescue the $4,800,000 work relief bill from a Senate deadlock.

In Wilmington, Del., a federal judge ruled that section 7-A of the NRA as applied to the Winton Steel Company was unconstitutional as immediately government officials made plans to appeal the latest setback on the new deal legislation.

The senate was in recess today and the important figures involved in the controversy over the work relief bill awaited President Roosevelt's return to Washington to see what his next move would be.

Local Cagers Drop Double Header Here

The great girls' basketball team of Washington High School blanked the Greenville High school here last night. The score was 74-0.

Miss Stewart scored 30 points to feature the Washington lassies registered their 64th consecutive triumph.

In the other event of a double-header, Williamson boys defeated the Greenville quint, 21-17. Bowen made 13 points to lead the winners. Price scored 10 points to lead Greenville.

Bethel All Stars Play Local Cage Team Here Tonight

What will probably be one of the best basketball games of the season will be tonight at the high school gymnasium, when the Bethel all-star team will play the Greenville all-stars.

Both teams are just about evenly matched and this was evident in the recent all-star tourney which was held in Bethel when in the final minutes of play one of the Bethel players shot a field goal to defeat Greenville by one point. The local boys are more than anxious to avenge this defeat and will do their best here tonight.

With Barrett and Bock at forwards to lead the way for the locals, with "Doc" Mathis and Charlie King at guard and Troy Barrett at center, that is a combination team which will be hard to beat. Barrett was the high scorer in the recent tourney, and Mathis was placed on the all-star first team.

The game will be called tonight at 8 o'clock sharp and the boys are anxious to have you come out and give them your support.

Question _____

Another capacity house greeted Sinnett last night at Pitt Theatre, and a score of questions were answered by the Mystic. Below are the answers for today's readers of The Reflector:

Q—Will brother stay married to present wife. O. J.

A—There is indicated a continuation of this marriage. I do see a change of location for your brother and his wife and they will be more contented and satisfied after this change of location which is indicated in the month of June.

Q—When will my wife return from hospital. S. L. B.

A—I see much improvement in the condition of this person. It seems not so much a physical condition as it is a nervous reaction. I see a complete recovery of your wife around the age of forty, and she will live well into the evening of life. You will receive a letter from Baltimore in a few days.

Q—Where will I be located six months from now? T. E.

A—I see you at the time you mention working for the County, and will be located in this city.

Q—Will I make a success of the N. Y. position? E. B.

A—You will succeed in this position and make N. Y. your future home. I see no reason for any hesitancy in accepting this offer. You will leave for N. Y. in a few weeks.

Q—What should I do regarding a certain thing? M. L. W.

A—You have much to look forward to. Do not make any hurried decisions and you will in the future look back upon your past and see that you acted wisely.

Q—Where are my sister's glasses? Mr. P. L.

A—In the top of the desk in the office where she works.

Q—What makes a certain person so indifferent toward me? Miss L. M. H.

A—This young woman knows of your actions last Friday night and she is going to break the friendship. You are treading on thin ice and a continuation of this affair will in all probability bring you to much grief.

Q—Can you help me overcome a certain habit? H. F. R.

A—You refer to drink. To overcome this habit, you must first of all stop drinking.

Q—What makes a certain person so indifferent toward me? Miss L. M. H.

A—This young woman knows of your actions last Friday night and she is going to break the friendship. You are treading on thin ice and a continuation of this affair will in all probability bring you to much grief.

come this habit is easy if a person understands certain natural laws and will apply them to themselves. Come to the theatre, buy my books, which will entitle you to a private reading and in this interview I will go into detail regarding this matter.

Q—Who is the person that told my wife about the trip to Washington? G. R. F.

A—The servant that works in your home.

Q—How will I come out with my pending contract? L. E. W.

A—You will sign this contract in June but you will be stationed in Wilson at the opening of the market. One of the major companies will stop buying on this market soon after it opens.

Q—Did my brother have anything to tell me before his death? B. S. C.

A—Yes. It was his death-bed desire that you marry the man you were going with at the time which you have since done.

Q—What can I do to get J. F. to make up with me? Miss V. W.

A—Tell him the truth regarding the debt you had a few weeks ago. Truth is the most convincing thing and if you will stop trying to deceive him, I see a reconciliation.

Q—Will I get the appointment to the state position? R. T. E.

A—Not at this time. I see you
