HEALTH, RUM, HOLD SOLONS DURING WEEK

Revenue and Appropriations Bills Also Give Legislature Lots of Trouble

By E. D. McLEAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Raleigh, N. C., March 2.—(AP)—Public health and alcohol tied with revenue and appropriations for the center of the legislative stage this week.

With the two money measures apparently nearing completion in committee, most members observed the customary week-end holiday and only brief sessions, for consideration of local bills, were held today.

Yesterday the Finance Committee adopted the three per cent sales tax rate and a sub-committee schedule of higher taxes on chain stores and chain filling stations. The latter is expected to increase revenue by $300,000 annually.

Appropriations Committee members said it has been tentatively agreed to allow public schools $20,000,000 for the second year of the next biennium. This is expected to be supplemented by Federal aid funds to be applied to school transportation.

The highway supply bill has been tentatively approved at about $26,400,000 for each year of this amount about $9,000,000 annually would be applied to debt service.

The drivers' license bill became law this week when the Senate concurred in House amendments and next November 1 all automobile drivers of this State will be required to be licensed. Private drivers may secure license without cost prior to that date.

House and Senate also passed a bill changing the regulation of cosmetic arts in this State, after a bitter fight, and the personnel of the examining board will be changed as a result. The bill ran up against stiff opposition in both Houses.

The House killed a bill to increase the alcoholic content of beer from the present 3.2 to 5 per cent and then revived the measure and sent it to a Judiciary Committee.

A measure requiring inoculation of all dogs against rabies passed the House and is now in a Senate committee. The upper branch yesterday tabled a bill to require vaccination of infants against diphtheria.

The Hill liquor bill, calling for a referendum on the question of State-operated liquor stores, is set for Senate consideration next Tuesday. Also as a special order for the same day is a measure to regulate the practice of optometry. It has passed the House and has a favorable Senate Committee report.

Friday drew fire in the Senate and brought an expression of resentment from Senator Hill when the former asked in a prayer before the upper branch that the liquor bill be killed.

Several "dry" members of the Senate termed the incident "unfortunate." A storm broke over the General Assembly when Miss Edith Davis, former nurse at the Morganton Hospital for the Insane, told a committee of alleged mistreatment of nurses at that institution. A resolution calling for an investigation passed the Senate under suspension of the rules, but the House sent the measure to the Joint Appropriations Committee.

The committee instructed Dr. John McCampbell, superintendent, to submit figures for an appropriation that would eliminate admitted hardships and bring conditions at the institution up to the level existing at Dix Hill, another institution for the insane at Raleigh.

Delegations appeared before the Joint Roads Committee Thursday in support of the bill by Senator Coughlin of Martin, that would require the State to repay money loaned by counties for road construction. The roads were built in the early days of the highway program and repayment would be at the rate of $1,000,000 annually, under terms of the bill.

Cameron Morrison, former Governor and United States Senator, addressed a joint legislative session Wednesday night and praised the monetary policy of the Roosevelt administration. "This is the first time the people of the United States have ever enjoyed real constitutional government," Morrison said.

The week was stormy in the Finance Committee with chief disagreement coming on the rate of the administration, endorsed general sales tax and proposed to increase taxes on chain stores and chain filling stations.

Bills to provide unemployment insurance, old-age pensions for school teachers, rental of school text-books and make the State bear expenses in case of injury or death to a child riding in a school bus, are now dormant in committees, but interested members are formulating plans for (Continued on Page Four)

Cuba May Take Drastic Action To Halt Strike

Havana, Cuba, March 2.—(AP)—Colonel Fulgencio Batista, chief of the nation's armed forces, declared today the government might be forced to take drastic measures to handle the land-wide movement for a general strike.

Although he expressed the hope the government would be able to handle the problem without extreme measures, he was afraid, he said, that the moment may come, and it may be very near, when the situation must be handled another way.

Dr. Jose A. Presno, rector of the Havana University, who has been chosen by the united opposition of irreconcilable, political organizations, as successor to Colonel Batista, said he would not accept the office under any conditions.

NEW EVIDENCE DEVELOPED IN HEIRESS DEATH

Solicitor at Pinehurst Says Information at Variance With First Findings

Pinehurst, March 2.—(AP)—Solicitor Roland Pruett, investigating the mysterious death of Mrs. H. Bradley Davidson, Jr., 22-year-old heiress of E. M. Statler, said this morning he had developed information apparently at variance with testimony at the inquest.

Among other things Solicitor Pruett said further investigation of the carbon monoxide death theory was "certainly necessary."

Found slumped in the automobile in a closed garage Wednesday morning, after spending practically all night at a charity ball and night club, Mrs. Davidson was said to have died at Moore County Hospital.

Pruett said he was reliably informed that Mrs. Davidson had started to set in when the young woman was brought to the hospital. Also he said, instead of being in the driver's seat of the car, the body was in a kneeling position on the running board, the head lying across her arm on the floor board.

Pruett said one of the principal angles to be followed between now and Tuesday when the inquest will be held, would involve the original findings of physicians that the young woman, wife of a 41-year-old Washington, D. C., social leader, died from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Pruett said investigation revealed that doors of the three-car garage had a considerable clearance at the bottom providing ventilation which caused doubt that sufficient gas would have collected from the automobile to cause death.

The Hill liquor bill, calling for a referendum on the question of State-operated liquor stores, is set for Senate consideration next Tuesday. Also as a special order for the same day is a measure to regulate the practice of optometry. It has passed the House and has a favorable Senate Committee report.

MAXIMUM TAX TO BE LEVIED ON LEAF SALE

Secretary Wallace Proclaims 33 1-3 Per Cent Rate For The Present Year

Washington, D. C., March 2.—(AP)—The maximum tax allowed in tobacco production under the Kerr-Smith Control Act will be levied for the 1935 crop year.

Secretary Wallace late yesterday set the rate at 33 1-3 per cent in proclaiming the control program in effect another year, carrying out the result of the referendum among weed growers.

The minimum rate of 25 per cent was imposed in 1934.

The higher rate was requested by co-operating flue-cured growers because new growers participating in tobacco production this year may make production excessive.

The Farm Administration has increased the tax exempt production of flue-cured for 1935 at 560,000,000 to approximately 700,000,000 pounds and concern has been expressed that production outside the program will send the total to approximately 800,000,000 pounds and wreck prices.

With the 33 1-3 per cent tax rate involved it will be harder for non-co-operating growers to compete with the co-operators. The new tax becomes effective June 30.

Although continuance of the Kerr-Smith act becomes effective at the beginning of the crop year May 1, the 25 per cent rate will be maintained for two months.

This was done, Wallace said, because some markets are still selling 1934 tobacco. He said it would be impossible for any 1935 tobacco to be sold at the lower rate.

The tax applies to producers of all important products of tobacco, including flue-cured, fire-cured, dark air-cured, burley, cigarette and binder tobacco.

Arrangements have been made which insure splendid services and it is expected that the people of the community will attend in large numbers this cooperative effort to make a community preparation for the coming of Easter. There will be a large chorus choir composed of members of the various city choirs, both senior and the younger groups.

Miss Nacie of the faculty of East Carolina Teachers College will be the pianist and Mr. McDougal, Director of Music in the High School, will serve as choir director and song leader. The ministers of the participating churches will deliver the sermons. Dr. G. R. Combs being the speaker for the opening service. REBELS SEIZE FIVE WARSHIPS OF GREEK NAVY

Government Aircraft And Destroyers Chasing Rebels Toward Island of Crete

Athens, March 2.—(AP)—Five Greek warships manned by rebel officers were racing for the Island of Crete today closely pursued by government aircraft and destroyers, but on destroying the last remnants of an anti-government revolution.

After the recapture of the S. S. Hellenic from rebel forces, Athens returned to normal life despite a law asked as the sudden revolution was blamed on government supporters of General Nocholas, the dictator of a day, during the revolution in 1933.

The burst of gunfire from the rebel ships was accompanied by aerial fire and aerial bombings which crippled the cruiser Averoff, one of the crafts manned by the rebels.

Despite a direct hit, the cruiser was steaming at 15 knots accompanied by the cruiser Helli and three destroyers.

Seven bombing planes and four destroyers formed the pursuing forces while fortresses on the Island of Crete were ready to open fire on the rebels.

The fleeing craft were attempting to defend themselves. Some of the aircraft which flew in pursuit of the rebels returned showing signs of having been peppered with shots.

Two former admirals in the Greek navy were reported in command of the rebel craft. They formerly held high records in the naval service, but were summarily expelled from service because of their connection with anti-government plots.

HE'S A HUMAN BIRD!

Clem Sohn of Lansing, Mich., claims to be the first man to fly with a pair of home-made wings. He went up in a plane at Daytona Beach, Fla., and stepped out at 12,000 feet. For 2,000 feet he left his wings folded. Then he spread them, and glided, banked and looped until he neared the ground, when he opened a parachute and came down safely. His outfit weighs only eight pounds. (Associated Press Photo)

NO CASES FOR POLICE COURT

Regular Session Abandoned This Morning Because of Docket Shortage

The regular Saturday morning session of police court was abandoned this morning because there were no cases to hear.

It was the second time this week Mayor Flanagan was not called upon to preside over the court. Wednesday's session also having been called off on account of lack of cases.

During the first session of the week, Monday, quite a number of actions were disposed of, including two or three charges of larceny and robbery, in addition to the usual number of drunks and violation of traffic laws.

There was one case that might have been given hearing this morning had witnesses been available. That was the charge of receiving stolen goods lodged against Ed Fleming, colored, the first of the week. When witnesses could not be located this morning, Chief of Police George Clark decided to defer hearing until next Monday morning when he expects to pick up enough business over the week-end to give the court plenty to do for an hour or so, if not longer.

Fleming is charged with receiving cigarettes taken from a freight car of the Norfolk Southern Railway here about two weeks ago. A white man is now awaiting trial in Superior Court on a charge of stealing the "fags." Fleming and another member of his race were charged with buying the cigarettes, valued at $32, for $2.

Campbell Tests Racer.
Daytona Beach, March 2.—(AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell got as high as 233.463 miles an hour on southward run and 208.212 on the northward run today, far below his two year old mark of 272.108 miles per hour, as he tested his giant bluebird for further assaults on the automobile speed record.

Under perfect sunny weather conditions, on a beach that was hard and wide, Campbell made one south and north run before calling off his tests for the day. With his car running perfect except for a leak around the exhaust which scorched the blue side of the car. He is expected to go out tomorrow for a new record. He hopes it will be as high as 300 miles an hour.

LEGISLATURE HOLDS BRIEF MEET TODAY

Measure Introduced To Revoke Physical Examination For Men in Marriages

Raleigh, N. C., March 2.—Representative Sparger, of Stokes, introduced a bill in the House today proposing revocation of that section of the State law on marriages which requires physical examination and affidavit of physical fitness before a license can be issued the man.

Usual "local business" sessions were held by both divisions. The House, however, for the first time since the 1935 session started, will hold a day meeting Monday when it resumes its regular sitting at noon. The Senate will begin work as usual Monday night.

FOUR STILL TAKEN FRIDAY

Large Amount of Beer Also Seized by County Officers in Two Townships

Four whiskey distilling plants were captured by county officers in Greenville and Patactus townships yesterday, it was announced today from the office of Sheriff Sam Whitehurst.

The sheriff also reported the seizure of approximately 1,500 gallons of beer.

Neither of the stills was in operation. Two of the plants were copper affairs and the other two steam. They were capable of putting out a tremendous supply of liquor in the course of a week, and their seizure was described as a right good blow against the liquor element of the two townships.

This is the largest seizure made by officers during the past month, although about two months ago a similar number of stills, two men and a considerable amount of whiskey were captured.

Distillers are putting in as much time as possible at this time in view of the fact that springtime is just around the corner, a period of the year when demands begin to fall off, reaching its climax during the hot summer months when drinkers "shut down" for fear the hot weather and fiery beverage might prove their undoing.

However, liquor running especially from states where the bar is down, is carried on extensively, and officers are forever keeping their eyes trimmed in an effort to land the run runners behind the bars.

Sues For Damage In Ear-Bite Case

Wilson, March 2.—Jesse Aycock Wilson county farmer, placed a value of $15,000 on his right ear Friday when he filed papers in a suit against his brother Symon, of Wayne county, with the clerk of court here.

The ear-biting episode occurred in the upper corridor of the court house here on February 9, and resulted in what Jesse says, will be a permanent disfigurement for him. The biting occurred after Jesse and Symon had come out of a hearing before the clerk of court concerning a division of land of the James Daniels estate in which both were interested.

NEW TOBACCO CONTRACT FOR 'LITTLE' MARIAN

Recent Ruling by the AAA Takes Care of Growers of Three Acres

A ruling by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration taking care of the "little" tobacco grower was announced today from the office of E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt County Department of Agriculture which is in charge of the government control program.

Mr. Arnold said the new contract included a provision which in effect permits a contracting party with a base acreage of 3.2 acres or less to plan his base acreage, or three acres whichever is smaller, provided he agrees that no payments shall be made under his contract for 1935.

He said the ruling also provides for upward adjustment in the base acreage and production for contracts which are determined to have an abnormally low base, and for downward adjustments for contracts in which the acreage or production figures have been found since acceptance to be higher than the correct figures.

The announcement of the ruling signed recently by R. G. Tugwell of the AAA, follows:

"The ruling which affects only flue-cured tobacco grown in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, provides:

(1) That any contracting party of flue-cured tobacco, whose base tobacco acreage is 3.2 acres or less may plant in 1935 the base acreage established for his farm or 3 acres whichever is smaller, and may make a number of pounds of tobacco production, or 2,400 pounds, whichever is smaller; provided he agrees that no payments shall be made under his contract for 1935.

(2) That upward adjustments may be made in the base tobacco acreage and production under contract if the county committee determines that an abnormally low base was established because of conditions during the base years, which were beyond the control of the producer. In consideration for such adjustments, producers will agree that no payments shall be made under their contracts for 1935.

(3) That downward adjustments may be made upon the recommendation of tobacco committees in those cases where it is determined that any of the acreage and production figures for 1931, 1932 and 1933 are higher than the correct figures. Producers who agree to the recommended corrections and agree that no payments shall be made under their contracts for 1935 will be entitled to receive the payments provided for by their contracts for 1935 without regard to the corrections. For producers who refuse to agree to the corrections recommended by the tobacco committee the state may, if it is considered advisable, make a further investigation with a view to termination of the contract.

"Persons in close touch with the flue-cured tobacco program believe that the planting of the base tobacco acreage will result in more efficient utilization of labor and equipment by growers whose base acreage is less. These small growers usually handle their crop with labor in the family, and most of the farmers are equipped for production of acreage or tobacco equal to or some cases larger than the base acreage. Reduction in their cost below the established base rate in a higher unit cost. This was set in 1934 by the higher rate adjustment payment provided by the contract.

"Adjustments in cases where an abnormally low base was established and in cases where additional information has shown the acceptable base to be higher than warranted by correct figures are expected, make the flue-cured program nearly equitable to all classes of growers. In making upward adjustments, the total increase in tobacco acreage or base tobacco production for any state may exceed 3 per cent of the total acreage or base production under all contracts in effect in the state in 1934.

THEY SHOULD BE PAID NOW

Hearing on the matter of immediate cash payment of the soldiers' adjusted compensation certificates will begin before the Congressional Ways and Means Committee Monday, according to announcement from Washington, and it is to be hoped that not only the committee but both the House and Senate will take favorable action on the measure.

The payment of the soldiers at this time would go a long way toward restoring buying power with its resulting prosperity, and certainly thousands of cases it would bring great relief to unemployed ex-soldiers and their families.

The payment of the soldiers' adjusted compensation certificates would place in the hands of veterans in North Carolina more than $34,000,000, and in our own county of Pitt veterans would receive approximately $600,- 000. It goes without saying that this money would certainly be a great aid to business recovery and on this point alone the payment at this time is justified, but the question is why the ex-soldiers should have their money if the debt, despite amendments to the constitution, is already past due.

Others who had any part in war-time service, including the railroads, munition
manufacturers, shipbuilders, government employees and others have already been paid adjusted compensation
with interest running to a total of nearly twenty billions of dollars, and certainly there is no just reason why the ex-soldiers should not be paid.

The ex-service men have been made the goats in this matter of payment long enough.

not understand if a subsidy is granted to shipping.

The Senate Munitions Committee
brings out details of Immetson bonds paid to Bethlehem Steel executives just as the movement to grant ship subsidies gets under way. Senator Clark (Democrat) helps to show this monkey wrench so many Senators agree with him in opposing
"that profits" in shipbuilding that subsidies to this branch of shipping may turn up missing.

DEFEAT. If Washington can believe all it hears from returning pharmaceuticals, Long is set to cut so much additional ice in Arkansas
this year that he will take Senate Majority Leader Joe Robinson for a buddy. It will be remembered that the Klanshish accomplished
"Cordway's" election in that State when everyone said he couldn't.

Men who have had an ear very close to the Arkansas ground lately

find that throughout the rural communities Long gets an eager audience whenever he goes on the radio.
His personally distributed newspaper has a wide circulation among the farmers. Arkansians who once whoop-ed it up for President Roosevelt are now taking the Louisiana Kingfish
for their gospel leader.

All of which doesn't forebode any good for Senator Robinson when he comes up for re-election next year—presumably against Long's strong candidate, Tom Terral, who will stand without hitching.

WAGES. Relief Administrator
Harry Hopkins has canvassed the nation's 3,000 counties and made a special report to President Roosevelt on the subject of "prevailing wages."
This, please, remember, is the fly in the ointment of F. D. R.'s $4,800,- 000,000 work-relief bill.

Hopkins' survey shows the nationwide average for unskilled or common labor to be 45 cents an hour.
It ranges all the way from 70 cents
in a few of the big Northern cities to 10 cents in some of the rural Southern communities.

Skilled labor strikes a national average at $1 an hour—although FERA finds that carpenters in some Southern communities are paid as low as 30 cents.

DYNAMITE. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace anticipates he will have as big a corn-hog adjustment program on his hands this year as last.
A million farmers got farm-hog checks in 1934. Over 300,000 already have signed up for a repeat order.

Wallace has whispered in the President's ear, however, that farmers generally aren't responding to the home renovation and building drive.
The Department of Agriculture
Extension Service would like to do something about it, but opines financing at reasonable interest rates is still not available to the men of the soil. It is suggested respectfully to the White House that this condition is full of political dynamite.

BABIES. The Treasury doesn't seem to have the slightest doubt that baby bonds will make a strong patriotic appeal to citizens of small income. The 14,000 postoffice outlets of sale will whoop up the campaign.
In spite of the caviling of money
sharps who wonder what the dollar will be worth hereafter, it is believed that the average man and woman has full faith in the government and will take advantage of the opportunity to make a little extra saving in the shape of baby bonds. The experience of foreign governments will thus form of financing supports this belief.

LONE. Representative Virginia E.
Jencks, of Indiana, wants officials required by law to display the American flag on all government buildings in Washington—although it seems to be a general practice.

Everywhere in Austin the latter went

a native where an American flag might be flying and the answer was:
"Over the postoffice."

NOTES: Every day's wrangling in Congress over matters piles up obstacles in front of new NRA and AAA legislation. Miss Perkins made the dedication of her splendid new Department of Labor building
a gala event—flowers, music, tea.
Bill Green's eloquent speech and all
a thorough inquiry into farm income and farm condition is impending.

DELISTED: Chairman Joe Kennedy of the Securities and Exchange Commission may be in for a disappointment. He made it appear as a sweet for a play when he informed the 26 banks whose stocks have been traded on the New York Produce Exchange that they will lose their registered status when the securities division of that Exchange goes out of business. He apparently expected them to heed his advice to just their stocks on one of the big exchanges. The institutions concerned are enjoying a quick chuckle.

Several of the leading New York
banks—including the Guaranty Trust and the Chemical—are on the list. But the point is that they never asked to have their stocks on the Produce Exchange—any in fact even have permission for this to be done.
The Produce Exchange sort of com-mandered their securities without so much as a by-your-leave in the hope of building up its own volume of activity.

Furthermore the "privilege" which they are supposed to regret losing is that of having their stock used as collateral for brokers' loans. Nothing could please them more than just such a ban. Some bankers would like to go even further and have their securities declared ineligible as collateral for any loan whatever. It's true that some bank stocks are very widely held—but that doesn't mean the banks want them actively traded in. They much prefer their investors to stay put.

So the net response will be exactly zero to Mr. Kennedy's suggestion.

BOSS. The next few weeks will tell who's going to run the New York Stock Exchange next year.
Nominating committee sessions
open for the first time to non-members will be lively affairs.

clination to quit may be overruled.

A RAPID-FIRE ROMANCE BY EVAN EVANS.

Chapter 44

DEATH RACE

"THE friar and Rubric—Mateo Rubric! By God, I won't believe my eyes!" one guard was saying,
jerking up his rifle uncertainly.

"Be still, you fool! See, they are arm in arm with Juan-Silva!"

And, risking one glance behind him, Mateo swung the leaders at the same time towards the archway that opened from the patio to the valley road, and as he did so he saw the servant who had been holding the heads of the leaders standing agape with great eyes of horror.

That man had seen too much. In another moment his voice might begin to speak words that would bring all the men of the household lurching in pursuit—but, ah, to be through the shadow of that arch and into the open road!

He controlled the leaders to a mere prancing walk, nevertheless,
as they went under the black of the shadow.

"Good day, señor!" sang out a guard, saluting.

There was no answer. There never would be any answer.

At a smart clipping trot he sent the team forward, and as they took the bend of the road towards the lower valley he heard Rubric cry out exultantly: "There's nothing! We're clear of them!"

"Look again!" called the Kid, "but don't crase your neck. And keep Juan-Silva straight in his place."

"The barelegged mope has run out into the road," said Rubric. "He's pointing after us. The two guards are out there with him. Put the whip on the horses! Make them gallop—for our lives, Montana!"

"No; they may be only suspecting.
They'll hardly be knowing—not yet!" said the Kid, "Is there an alarm signal in the valley?"

Still at a brisk trot, he drove the team towards the lower mouth of the Valley of the Dead. And he heard Rubric make answer: "Three shots—
a time between each one. That's the alarm."

"Steady, steady!" answered the Kid, never turning his head. "There's the guard at the mouth of the valley.
Do you think we can ride them down,
Mateo? Keep the dead body straight.
Look to the face of it. Don't let the mouth sag, you hear?"

The Kid saw the lean, naked arm of the captain of the guard rise in a signal—the other horsemen instantly spread to each side of the road.

Then, high-pitched, he heard the challenge: "Halt, there!"

The Kid stood up in his place.

"You goat-faced, chicken-legged bastard!" he shouted, keeping the horses at the full trot. "Are you stopping the señor himself?"

The gray-head jerked himself
high in his stirrups under the impact of those insults, but the name of the "señor" had the effect of checking and bewildering him.

BUT here the captain shouted loudly: "Rubric—the friar—take aim, everyone. Halt, El Keed!
Halt or we shoot the horses first and
you second."

The Kid looked wildly back, and he saw the two friends seated dauntlessly erect and—between them, the frail body of Juan-Silva.
That nodding head, and the now
partly opened mouth of the dead
man—might they not seem like life
if no pause were made?

"Señor Juan-Silva!" cried the Kid.
"Do you hear him? Do you hear the drunken fool?"

"It is Rubric! By the Mother of Heaven, it is Rubric! Where are you taking him?"

"Where Juan-Silva wants him to be. Eat that and choke on it!" cried the Kid.

"On your own head!" yelled the captain. "Fire!"

And then, his voice pitched as high as a scream, almost, he cried out the counter-command. "Hold your fire!
Hold your fire! My God! my brain's turning—but—the señor—"

And jerking his canting horse to a halt, he saluted with all dignity
while the carriage sped past him,
and instantly was out of view around
the next bend of the pass.

And at the very instant of passing the teeth of danger, it seemed to the Kid that they had accomplished nothing—that all remained to be done.

He heard three gunshots, then. It was the alarm, and now the Valley term. They feel his retirement would turn their precious organization over to "interlopers"—probably for keeps.

Two rival candidates have been publicly mentioned. If John W.
Hanes, of C. D. Barney and Co., is chosen it will mean a decisive triumph for the Association of Stock Exchange. Firms—the influential group of brokers who want the whole setup changed.

Charles L. Gay of Whitehouse
and Co. would be more of a compromise. His firm is comparatively small but highly respected. It has operated longer under the same name than any other Exchange member.

E. Burd Grubb—ex-president of the Curb who has been forecast as Whitney's successor, is temporarily in the background. His sponsors found the idea of promoting a newcomer so rapidly didn't take very well. But he will bear watching in the future—perhaps even this year if there's a stalemate in other directions.

If G. S. Noble and Arthur Turnbull—veteran members of the Law Committee—will probably be candidates to succeed themselves if Whitney runs—not otherwise. If they retire it means a decisive warning of Morgan influence in Stock Exchange affairs.

COMPROMISE: Informed observers are amused at the insistence of Stock Exchange officials that they went beyond Securities and Exchange Commission recommendations by definitely arranging to admit office members to the board of governors—whereas the Commission had merely suggested such governorships be made permissive.

The Exchange is upset because it wants to use its zealous cooperation on their point to offset some of the Commission's less palatable suggestions. The publicity value of the move is lost if people insist on interpreting it as a compromise.

DISCRETION: New York gets a kick out of Bill Green's deft change of front toward the problem of unifying the motor industry. Recently he was breathing fire about strikes to outlaw company unions.
Now he's all in favor of olive-branch tactics. Comment runs that Bill was wise to pull in his horns before a showdown that would have been fatal to Federation prestige. "People with only one tooth shouldn't go around threatening to bite."

EDUCATION: Wall Street wonders whether Frank Hope—president of the Association of Stock Exchange firms—is getting delusions of grandeur. His proposal for a National Recovery Council to include the sequence is Hope's
bankers, brokers, stock exchanges,
industry, agriculture, labor, investors
and the professions, strikes observers as the most ambitious yet. His mission of the government was noted with scc.

His further suggestion that bankers and investment markets should educate the public to appreciate their functions through newspapers, magazines and the Congressional Record also stirred comment. "The Record doesn't sell advertising. Maybe he thinks we can pick up a few commissions at bargain rates."

SCARE: Some utility men are beginning to wonder whether they haven't overdone the scare technique on their security holders.
There are signs that some of the latter—instead of feeling impeded to write their Com. snags—are so alarmed they are selling their securities. That's no help at all.

Tomorrow the Eighth Street Christian Church joins with all other churches of the Disciples of Christ throughout the world in celebration of the annual World Missions Day. This year's celebration takes on particular significance as it marks the 50th anniversary of the work of the Disciples of Christ in China. The offering for World Missions will be received tomorrow, not only in the churches of the homeland, but in mission stations throughout the world. The members of mission churches of the Disciples denomination on the foreign field last year had the distinction of exceeding in their per capita giving the offerings of the home churches, having contributed 52 cents per capita, to home offerings of 48 cents per capita. The local congregation is anticipating the largest offering for this cause in a number of years. There is particular local interest in the work of China, since Mrs. Ryan's sister, Miss Grace Bauer, is located in the Nanking University as a member of the faculty, teaching biology and pathology.

President Meadows Welcomed Home.
President L. R. Meadows was enthusiastically received by the college students yesterday morning when he stepped out on the stage at the assembly hour after a week's absence from the campus. He gave them a most interesting report of the national meetings he has been attending in Atlantic City, proving that he was as busy working for the college there as when he is in his office. He shared with the students the matters of direct interest he gained. There were many interesting features on the program of the National Association of Teachers Colleges, but the address by Dr. Charles Judd, of the University of Chicago, he selected as the one most closely related to them in their work here.

Dr. Judd, in suggesting the best methods of teaching, stressed the use of conversation and illustrative materials, and gave three phases of teaching that must be considered: content matter, the first and most important; some theory; and practice.

Dr. Meadows said the indications are that the two-year course in Teachers College will soon be discontinued and the four-year course required; and, in time, even a fifth year may be added. A re-distribution of work may come later, with the Junior College, or extended work in the high school, taking care of the first two years now in the college course, and three years given to college work.

President Meadows Welcomed Home.
President L. R. Meadows was enthusiastically received by the college students yesterday morning when he stepped out on the stage at the assembly hour after a week's absence from the campus. He gave them a most interesting report of the national meetings he has been attending in Atlantic City, proving that he was as busy working for the college there as when he is in his office. He shared with the students the matters of direct interest he gained. There were many interesting features on the program of the National Association of Teachers Colleges, but the address by Dr. Charles Judd, of the University of Chicago, he selected as the one most closely related to them in their work here.

Dr. Judd, in suggesting the best methods of teaching, stressed the use of conversation and illustrative materials, and gave three phases of teaching that must be considered: content matter, the first and most important; some theory; and practice.

Dr. Meadows said the indications are that the two-year course in Teachers College will soon be discontinued and the four-year course required; and, in time, even a fifth year may be added. A re-distribution of work may come later, with the Junior College, or extended work in the high school, taking care of the first two years now in the college course, and three years given to college work.

DEATH OR NEGRO BLAMED ON HIS OWN CARELESSNESS.
Laurinburg, N. C., March 2.—A Scotland County jury of inquest investigating the death of Buck Cox, 24, Rowland negro, decided to deceased came to his death his own careless and reckless driving.

Has True Dole Stage Hit.
London.—(AP)—No one has challenged the authenticity of "Love on the Dole," a smash hit in one of London's West End theatres. Its author, Walter Greenwood, wrote it because he was unemployed.

The Alarm

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
IT WAS Christopher Columbus Crow who discovered the fire. He saw the flames shooting up from the building.

"Caw, caw, caw!" he cried. "Fire! Fire! Fire!"

The ducks came rushing up from the stream on their pond where they had been playing, and which was only covered with ice here and there.

"I'll get out the fire engine, quick, quick!" cried Fire Chief Quacko.

"Go over to the next village and get Quick-Dick, the fire horse, to help too."

"I'll go at once," cried Christopher.

Top Notch came running along.

"Go and tell Willy Nilly!" commanded Fire Chief Quacko.

Top Notch instantly did this.

The ducks got out their little fire engine and hook-and-ladder. Willy Nilly rushed out of his house, and in no time at all it seemed that Quick-Dick, the fire horse, arrived from the next village pulling a good, powerful fire engine.

Willy Nilly's first words were: "Where is Sweet Face?"

"I'll go after him," said Rip.

"No!" said Willy Nilly. "I'll do that."

"We won't argue about it," barked Rip, as he dashed, without another barking word, into the burning building.

The thick smoke almost blinded him and his eyes watered and pained.

"Sweet Face, where are you?" barked Rip. There was no answer.

Mr. Herring will be in Greenville at the second floor of the U. S. Postoffice on March 4, 5, 12 and 13. In Bethel March 6, Farmville 7 and 8, and Snow Hill on March 9 and 11.

OWNERS GETTING RID OF GAMBLING DEVICES

Kinston, March 2.—Owners of slot machines in and around Kinston are getting rid of them following a warning from J. Frank Woolton, county solicitor. Woolton said the new State law against gambling devices would be strictly enforced, but owners would be given a reasonable time to get rid of them.

No time limit was fixed and officers may swoop down on places in which the machines have been operated any hour.

Hundreds of machines have been operated in wide-open Kinston and neighboring communities, according to authorities. I some neighborhoods practically every store, filling station and restaurant has had from one to half a dozen.

SENTENCED FOR ROBBERY OF POLICE HEADQUARTERS

Laurinburg, N. C., March 2.—Sam Stover, 25, negro, was convicted in recorder's court yesterday on a charge of larceny in connection with a robbery of police headquarters here last summer. Stover drew a twelve-month sentence.

Police say the negro stole a shotgun, among other things, from headquarters, then proceeded to Gibson where he got into trouble and when hauled up in mayor's court there used as his bail security the same shotgun stolen from the cops here.

Ramblers Drop Tight Fray To ASTC Of Boone

The Ramblers of East Carolina Teachers College lost a hard fought game to the Appalachian State Teachers College of Boone last night by the score of 25-17.

The first half of the game was a run away for the Boone teachers as they held the Ramblers to one lone field goal while they piled up a total of 15 points making the score 15-1.

The last half was a different story from the first and the Ramblers got down to work. They completely baffled the visiting team and had it not been for the tremendous lead of the first half, the score would have been a different story.

Led by Miss Askew, the Ramblers put on a strong scoring spree that was mighty hard for the visiting team to stop. Miss Askew scored 13 on her team points and made some of the prettiest shots seen on the local floor this season. The heavy scorer for the Boone teachers was Miss Huskins, who scored a total of 15 points.

Lineups—E. C. T. C. Forwards, Askew 13, Sinclair 2, Fulton 2, Bum Wilson, Gaudard; Overton, Martin, Briley, Hearne, Parker, Busbee, Roberson.

Appalachian—Forwards, Pelmet 4, Haskins 15, Barker 4, Speece 3, Guards, Shumaker, Russell, Chaffin, Dillinger, Referee Mrs. Charles Woodward.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, March 2.—(AP)—The stock market was notably calm today in the face of another slump in sterling and a jump in London gold and silver prices.

Even the metals lost their buoyant tone of previous sessions and fluctuations generally were narrow.

The close was somewhat irregular. Transfers were 260,000 shares.

The pound dropped some three cents around 4.78, the lowest level since October 1923. At the same time the British gold rate was listed at 9 1/2 per cent to 146 shillings, 10 1/2 cents and ounce, equivalent to 35.37, a new record peak. European gold currencies naturally exhibited strength against the pound and dollar.

Commodities were as apathetic as stocks, grains and cotton holding to a restricted range during the greater part of the business day. Bonds were mixed.

Late News Flashes

Faulkner 14 found in a clump of woods near her home in the Gold Sand school section of Franklin county today sent authorities of this section on a determined search for the slayer.

The child's body was found in the woods by her father, Sidney Faulkner, tenant farmer, when he started to a neighbor's house to which Martha said she had been before and where she spent the evening.

The top of her skull had been crushed by a blow and the head had been smashed in several places, as though with an axe.

Officers attending the inquest begun this afternoon in the isolated section said they were without a clue as to the identity of the slayer. Coroner R. A. Bobbin said this afternoon there were no bruises on the body of the child and that there were no evidence of criminal assault. He said the slayer apparently left no clues. He said the child left home at 7 p. m. to visit neighbors and attend a church meeting in the community, and that so far as could be learned it was the last time she had been seen.

Her father said he happened to stumble over the body as he started after her 12 hours later.

Weather Report For Week

Rain beginning of the week or Monday night ending during Wednesday. Milder Monday and Tuesday. Considerably colder Wednesday and Thursday and rain at the end of the week.

Seek Key To Relief Deadlock

Washington, March 2.—(AP)—Behind the capital quiet of a recessed Congress, administration leaders today pressed anew for the elusive key to the $4,880,000,000 work-relief deadlock.

Outwardly there was no sign of a break in the Senate-White House impasse caused when a 44 to 43 vote put the McCarran wage amendment in the Roosevelt plan for putting 3,500,000 needy employables back to work.

At the White House it was said President Roosevelt had no engagements with congressional leaders during the week-end over the work bill dispute. But this was not taken to mean that he was not keeping closely in touch with developments despite his refusal to comment publicly.

Former Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, whose illness has concerned official Washington, was reported by physicians to be holding his own. Chief Justice Hughes was a caller today at the home of his aged friend and former associate.

Among other activities were: W. Forbes Morgan, relative of President Roosevelt, planned to resign next week as deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration to raise funds for meeting the $500,000 deficit of the Democratic party and preparing for the 1936 campaign.

Governor Herbert Lehman of New York, was a White House caller. Governor Frank Murphy, of the Philippines, was also on the list.

Treasury figures showed a federal deficit at the close of the eight months of the fiscal year amounting to $224,923,235.

REYNOLDS PAY ROLL INCREASED BY CODE

Winston-Salem, N. C., March 2.—(AP)—R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company officials today stated that an increase in their company's payroll costs of over three-quarters of a million dollars a year, based on forty hours per week, is indicated after adjustments have been made following changes required by the cigarette code. The increase was effective for last week's work for which employees are now receiving payment.

Other tobacco plants here had not yet estimated the increase in their pay-rolls.

Indicted

Chicago, Ill., March 2.—(AP)—The government sharpened up the old axe of income tax prosecution today and put on the block another erstwhile Chicago political leader Howard W. Elmore.

The former president of Chicago's sanitary district board was indicted by the Federal grand jury on charges of trying to evade payment of $51,659 income taxes on a two-year income the government summed up at $288,811.

Less Talk Makes Better Songsters, Says Opera Star

Milan.—(AP)—Toti Dal Monti, Scala Opera soprano, who has achieved fame and fortune through her voice, believes that most people use their too much.

"Talking is the worst enemy of any singer," says the operatic star. "People talk too much in this world wasting their voices in aimless point less conversation just to make talk as they say. That is why the average man or woman can't sing even 'Sweet Adeline'."

Daughter Sings, Too

Signora Dal Monti is training her eight-year-old daughter, Mary de Muro, to be a greater singer than she is herself. Already, the mother said, the child can sing the great aria "Caro Nome" and the entire soprano part of the "Barber of Seville."

"Some people might think it dangerous to begin training so young a voice," Signora Dal Monti says. "But I am a singer and know just how far to go."

Slim Star For Future

"At the same time, I have put her on a special diet and start regimen to that when she is grown she will remain slim and beautiful. As you know, increase in size is the greatest source of worry to all singers, male and female."

May, however, is likely to be a somewhat taciturn prima donna.

"She is learning to conserve her voice. She is learning to speak only when she has something to say," says her mother.

But Here, I Am, Talking Too Much About Talking Too Much

Signora Dal Monti stops abruptly. "But here, I am, talking too much about talking too much," she laughs.

James Dunn wearing his own inimitable smile is featured in "365 Nights in Hollywood," at the State Monday and Tuesday.

Sinnett Answers

Sinnett, famous mystic, closes his engagement today at Pitt Theatre will appear twice today at three in the afternoon and last time at 9 o'clock tonight. Mr. Sinnett has received many letters and queries through the medium of The Reflector, and much interest has been shown in his work. Below are the last questions by Sinnett for readers of The Reflector.

Q.—How will I come out in my lawsuit?—Mr. D. F.

A.—This suit will be decided against you, I see you losing.

Q.—What will I do when I finish school?—Mrs. E. F. R.

A.—There will be a marriage to the young man who is attending the same school as you are at present and his initials are J. F. T.

Q.—Can I get a position if I go back to Greensboro?—Mr. D. F. S.

A.—You will go to Greensboro next week and get your old position back. I see you remaining in Greensboro permanently.

Q.—Is there anything coming to me from my aunt's estate?—Mrs. E. C. W.

A.—No, you are not included in this will. She has left her entire fortune to her son and this will be probated next week.

Q.—Do you think I will succeed as a teacher?—Miss P. L. M.

A.—No, I do not. You are born under the sign of Pisces; this sign is not conducive to detail and patience, something a teacher should possess. You will, however, make teaching your profession and will follow this vocation until you are thirty years of age.

Q.—I want to know if I will go back to my husband?—Mrs. T. M. B.

A.—No, there is no reconciliation shown. You will return to your people in Frankford, Ky., and make your future home there.

Q.—Is my belief correct regarding a certain person?—Miss V. R. T.

A.—You have judged this man correctly. He will not keep his promise and you have acted very foolishly. Profit in the future by this past mistake.

Q.—When will I get my home back?—Mr. G. R. R.

A.—This property will be refinanced through the government and I see you will have this home back in your name in less than one month.

Q.—Is there anything I can do to cause my husband to stop drinking?—Mrs. A. L.

A.—Your husband wants to stop drinking. His friends and he does not have the will power to refuse when he is in their company. If he will not associate with these men he can and will overcome this habit; and a complete change of location where he will be away from these men is the solution.

Q.—Are my sister and her husband going to come here and live?—Mrs. K. M.

A.—No, I see that they will remain in Goldsboro; he will stay with the same tobacco company for many years.

Hoarding Lemons

San Francisco, Cal.—(AP)—In protest against a proposed trade agreement between this country and Italy, growers are hoarding their lemons. Eugene Kellogg, county agricultural commissioner, declared here. He said the citrus men complain oranges and lemons would be the principal products of exchange for Italy to offer.

BILL

years and will remain in his present location.

Q.—Do you see anything favorable for me regarding the trip I want to make?—J. E. D.

A.—You will make this trip after your graduation in June. Your mother will give you the money to make this trip and you will like California so well that you will remain there and your mother will eventually come and live with you.

Q.—Did I make a mistake in breaking my pledge?—Miss C. D. F.

A.—Yes, and you realize it now. However, dismiss it from your mind as you are allowing this thought to interfere with your work.

Q.—Can you tell me how soon I will find a permanent position?—M. D. F. E.

A.—Next week you will go to work for the company you have made application to.

Q.—Is there anything to the rumor I have heard regarding two certain people?—P.

A.—These people are merely acquaintances of yours and their personal affairs are not yours, so do not worry about what these people do or what they do not do.

I have received many letters this week through The Reflector and I would like to have answered every one of them. However, space would not permit, and to those that desire to see in privacy for a private interview tonight at 9 o'clock is my last appearance at the Pitt. Until next year, good luck to all.

their enactment into law. Sub-committees are working on the school machinery bill and the tax machinery measure, but introduction of these bills usually follows completion of the money measure.

As the week ended efforts to override the Ehringhaus administration and reduce tax sales tax to 2 per cent failed. Also failing were efforts to chance the sub-committee's recommendations for taxes on chain stores and chain filling stations.

The anti-sales tax block has given notice of a coming fight in the House to reduce the sales tax rate. Sufficient votes for success are claimed by the anti-sales taxers, but the administration still expresses confidence in its strength and predicts defeat for the lower rate.

RCA VICTOR RADIOS are Good!

No matter what your specialty is, you know good radio when you hear it. And you're entitled to a beautiful modern set quite as much as the greatest maestro or concert artist. This ideal RCA Victor had in mind when designing—and pricing—the amazing new Globe Trotters.

In a 1935 Radio you're entitled to modern performance and you get it in this Globe Trotter 118.

Now you can hear the fascinating programs of foreign lands much as you hear domestic programs on this Globe Trotter! And exquisite design, careful construction and mirror-like finish make this an instrument of beauty for eye as well as for ear.

Globe Trotter 118, complete with RCA Micro-Sensitive Tubes, costs only $49.50
