NRA RECEIVES ANOTHER SETBACK FROM COURTS

Federal Judge Rules Against Code At Newark

National Industrial Act Held Unconstitutional as Applied To Regulate Authority of Inter-State Business; Acme, Inc., Granted Injunction Restraining Enforcement of Fabricated Metal Code

Newark, N. J., March 13.—(AP)—Federal Judge Guy L. Fike today rendered a decision in which he declared that National Industrial Act was unconstitutional in respect to its authority to regulate intra-state business.

The jurist handed down this opinion in granting the Acme, Inc., of Jersey City, an injunction restraining the government from enforcing the fabricated metal code regulating hours and wages and the payment of code assessments.

The action also enjoined the government from indicting or prosecuting the company for failure to comply with the code.

United States District Attorney Harland Besson indicated he would recommend to the United States Solicitor General Crawford Biggs that immediate appeal of the ruling be taken.

New Legislation Not Necessary in U. S. Money Policy

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today that government studies had revealed no necessity for new legislation as result of the Supreme court's gold decision.

LEAF GRADING BILL UPHELD AT HEARING

Proponents of Flannagan Bill Charge Manufacturers With Interfering

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—A mass of opposition to the Flannagan tobacco grading and inspection bill was met today with objections by proponents of the measure that tobacco manufacturers and warehousemen had inspired objections by propaganda.

The opposition was wildly applauded last night as a house agriculture committee held its third public hearing on the bill which would authorize the tobacco section to set up an inspection and grading service for all types of tobacco.

Proponents of the measure referred to reports circulated that the grading service would subject growers to a fine of $1,000 should they fail to have their tobacco graded and that the grading cost would have to be paid by the growers at the rate of 5 cents a pound.

"Malicious misstatement," said Rep. Carden of Kentucky.

Rep. Flannagan, author of the bill, sought to show that the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company of Winston Salem and Washington operators were assisting in opposition to the bill.

He asked J. W. Holmes of Farmville, N. C., if he had knowledge the tobacco company had offered to defray expenses of witnesses to the Washington hearing, but Holmes replied in the negative.

"I paid my own expenses," Holmes said.

More than two hundred persons from the tobacco growing states of Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, attended last night's hearing, a great majority being allied with the opposition.

Prolonged applause and cheers greeted the statement by opponents of the bill that tobacco couldn't be graded and growers did not want to be disturbed.

They denied grading would destroy the present auction system of selling tobacco under the Flannagan bill as the grade would be met by the buyer but the Virginia representative had shown a willingness for the measure.

Timely Scales Weigh Earth Stanford University, Cal.—(AP)—With an apparatus consisting of two heavy bronze weights, two little bronze marbles, a couple of strands of wire, a hollow tube, a mirror, a concrete block and a telescope—constructed by Dr. William Hanson—the physics department is able to calculate the weight of the earth.

With the data obtained from this apparatus and a set of complicated mathematical equations, the weight of the world is found to be a little over 6,000,000,000,000,000,000 tons. The weighing of planets is based on the theory that the attraction of one body on another depends on weight of the bodies.

RAPS BORAH FOR CRITICISM OF STEEL CODE

Donald R. Richberg Charges Idaho Senator With Misrepresentation of Facts

Washington, D. C., March 13.—(AP)—Donald R. Richberg told the Senate Finance Committee today that Senator Borah's criticism of NRA's steel code was an "exaggeration or trifles" that did not represent "mature judgment of the facts of industry."

This reply to the Idaho Representative was made just before Richberg had represented American business as "overwhelmingly in favor of continuing the NRA."

The recovery co-ordinator was loud in NRA's approval of the steel code in the face of monopoly charges, contending it did not establish and monopoly in the steel industry and didn't change policies in the industry. Then without mentioning Borah by name Richberg referred to charges on the Senate floor by the Idaho Senator that steel prices had jumped as much as 800 per cent.

"That is the sort of exaggeration of trifles," Richberg said warmly "that does not represent mature judgment of facts on industry."

He sighted figures designed to show that steel prices had not risen unduly.

LIGHT DOCKET BEFORE COURT

Half Dozen or More Actions Disposed of Weekly Sitting Here Yesterday

Sitting for the last time in two weeks because of the civil Superior Court term scheduled to convene here next Monday morning, County Court disposed of a docket of a half-dozen cases yesterday in one of the shortest sessions in months. Judge Dix Jones presided.

Six gamblers who were arrested at Bethel several days ago by sheriff's officers were permitted to pay cost after all but two pleaded guilty. The two, W. C. Carson and M. O. Whirlfield, were permitted to pay half cost and the other four, S. W. Briley, Earl Briley, W. C. Whitehurst and R. C. Keel were released on payment of their half.

Burwell Griffin, charged with driving drunk, was fined $50 and cost and had his driver's license revoked for a period of ninety days.

Herbert Sumrell, colored, charged with selling whiskey, was fined $25 and cost. His father, Jim Sumrell appearing on the same charge, was adjudged not guilty.

Moss Harvey, colored, charged with conducting a plumbing business without license, had judgment suspended until next August. The charge was filed against licensed plumbers of the city.

Henry Reeves, colored, charged with possession of whiskey for the purpose of sale, was fined $25, cost deducted.

Prayer from judgment was continued in the case of Guy Moore charged with having whiskey for sale.

In striking contrast to previous sessions only one defendant appeared yesterday on a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of whiskey. Heretofore the court has had to deal with from two to a half-dozen such violations each sitting. The defendants were required to pay fines and in addition had their drivers' license revoked for periods of from three to six months.

Body Missing Man Found In Neuse

Kinston, N. C., March 13.—The body of Jake Sutton, 47, who disappeared more than four weeks ago, has been found in Neuse River some miles from here. Coroner F. A. Garner announced today it was jammed beneath drift logs and covered by brush. It was believed to have drifted seven miles from where a hatchet known to have been carried by Sutton was found on the river bank. There were indications the body had been in the river ever since his disappearance, the coroner said.

CHICOD AREA SUFFERS FROM HEAVY STORM

One Person Injured as Wind Wrecks Tobacco Barns and Out-houses of District

A severe windstorm sweeping through sections of Pitt County late yesterday afternoon today was charged with the wrecking of several tobacco barns and out-houses and the injury of one person in Chicod Township, according to reports reaching the city today.

Although other parts of the county suffered slightly from the terrific blow, it was apparent on the basis of information compiled here this morning that Chicod was the greatest sufferer with the damage believed to run into thousands of dollars.

G. S. Porter, leading citizen of the Simpson community, telephoned The Daily Reflector this morning that a son of Doc Baker, farmer residing near Simpson, suffered a broken leg when a tobacco barn in which he was working suddenly collapsed, pinning him beneath the debris.

Two tenant houses on the farm of W. E. Tucker were lifted from their foundations and turned completely around and the top of a barn on the same farm was ripped off.

Two tobacco barns on the Dunn Wilson farm were demolished along with other shelters and outbuildings.

Although a complete check had not been made, Mr. Porter said he was confident other farmers of the district suffered loss of out-houses as the wind, howling out of the west, rattled windows and shook the foundations of some of the most substantially built houses of the community.

Mr. Porter said he had discussed the storm with a number of residents of the vicinity, and it was generally agreed that it was the worst blow the section has had in the last "fifty years."

The storm assumed gale proportions in Greenville, wrecking a number of fragile out-houses on the outskirts of the city and causing considerable apprehension to telephones and telegraph companies.

W. J. TURNAGE PASSES AWAY

Prominent Farmville Business Man Succumbs After Several Months' Illness

W. Jason Turnage, 66, one of the most prominent business men of Farmville, died at his home this morning at 7:30 o'clock after an illness of several months.

Funeral services will be conducted from his late home Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. C. B. Mashburn, pastor of the Farmville Christian church. Interment will be made in Forest Hill cemetery.

Mr. Turnage was one of the leading business men of Farmville for the last forty years.

He was junior partner of the firm of T. L. & W. J. Turnage, which was reorganized about two years ago under the name of Turnage Company, for forty years.

A member of one of the oldest and most prominent families of the county, Mr. Turnage was active in educational development of Farmville, having served as a member of the school board over a period of many years.

Surviving are his wife, formerly Miss Ora Smith, and three sons, Lieut. Colonel A. H. Turnage, United States Marine Corps, Washington, D. C.; H. W. Turnage, Silver Springs, Md.; and W. J. Turnage, Jr. of Farmville.

Wind Storm Causes Damage In Carolinas

Charlotte, Mar. 13.—(AP)—Widely scattered sections of the Carolinas counted heavy toll from wind storms today as residents of the mountains turned apprehensive eyes on new snow banks already swollen streams. Conditions in the eastern section was returning to normal after winds disrupted shipping, wrecked houses, cut off power, and communications and injured several persons, some seriously.

On the coast the wind assumed gale proportions driving shipping before it. Freighters and trawlers hugged landlocked havens and fishing boats surveyed damage done when they were caught in nets.

Mrs. Bailey Brown, of near Goldsboro, was seriously hurt as was her two-year-old baby when the wind destroyed her home and those of several neighbors. Several others were injured in the community and one plantation owner estimated his damage at $10,000.

The senate debated for more than two hours a bill to require inoculation of every dog in North Carolina against rabies as the house passed measures to ease up requirements for getting marriage licenses and to change the law on the registration of voters.

Interest began to turn to tomorrow scheduled senate debate and second reading on the Hill bill to create a system of liquor stores. There is also a public hearing scheduled by a house committee tomorrow on a bill to raise the legal alcoholic contents of beer from 3.2 to 5 per cent.

LEGISLATIVE RAMBLINGS

A majority of the members of the Finance Committee are opposed to any further diversion of highway revenue into the general fund, in spite of the apparent insistence of Chairman Harris Newman of the Senate Finance Committee that $1,650,000 be diverted instead of the $1,000,000 recommended in the budget revenue bill, according to most observers here today. For after adopting the $1,650,000 item in one session last week, after it had been recommended by Chairman Newman.

There were only 76 true tornadoes in 1934 according to weather bureau records as against 260 in 1933 and 152 in 1932. Last year's "twisters" cost the lives of thirty-two people and demolished property worth $2,800,000.

It was stated by members of the local society today around 150 physicians and dentists were expected to be in attendance.

This is the first visit of the society to Greenville in several years and everything has been done to make the stay of the guests as pleasant as possible.

The society will be guest of the Pitt County Medical Society, and plans for an elaborate program were completed by members of the organization yesterday.

Dr. K. B. Pace of Greenville is president of the district society and will preside Thursday. The visitors will be welcomed to the city by Dr. H. M. Booner and the response will be made by Dr. DeWitt Klutz, of Washington.

330 LEADERS SCHEDULED TO BE EXECUTED

Mass Executions Expected to Mark Government's Victory Over Enemies; Government Spokesman Declares Italy Will Not Grant Extradition of Former Premier Venizelos

Athens, Greece, March 13.—(AP)—ing squads faced more than 330 Greek rebels today as the government instituted a wholesale courtmartial for those implicated in the eleven-day revolt.

The belief that a mass of executions would mark the final chapter of the uprising was widely held in Athens where it was recalled a similar fate befell the leaders of Greece's last revolution.

Premier Tanayoti Tsaldaris gave a cheering crowd before his home a hint on the strenuous measure the government might take to climax its triumph.

"The people of Greece," he said, "may be certain the law will be executed in such a way the present generation will never again witness the spectacle of these last few days."

While his followers awaited to learn the penalty of disloyalty to the government, Eleutherios Venizelos, leader of the revolution, found a Napoleonic fate on the Island of Rhodus, fifty miles southwest of Turkey in the Aegean Sea. To this haven a potent dictator of the republic, led on the rebel flagship Ayvross with his wife and other associates.

Word from Rome said that a government spokesman there declared that Italy will refuse any request of the Greek government for the extradition of the former premier.

Police Court Fails To Sit; Case Shortage

Mayor's court was abandoned this morning when the single case scheduled for consideration was continued until the regular session next Saturday morning.

James Ellis, colored, was to have been tried on a charge of speeding, but had been out of town and was unable to prepare for the trial, so he was granted continuance until the next sitting.

Although the court had plenty to do Monday morning with actions developing over the week-end, this is not the first time it has been without cases since the Christmas holidays. In fact, several sittings have been abandoned from time to time as the criminal element refused to act criminally and gave the court a much needed respite.

Because the court was inactive today is no indication police are not busy. They have been kept on their toes attempting to solve a number of robberies reported in the community the past two weeks. These cases were heard before a magistrate and then sent up to Superior court for final consideration.

Acquit Merchant In Negro Killing

Laurinburg, N. C., March 13.—King Seals, 68-year-old merchant of Scotland County, was cleared of responsibility yesterday in the slaying, 18 days ago, of Bruce Everett 30, negro, in an affray at Seals' store. The grand jury refused to indict.

Evidence before a coroner's jury, which had held Seals for court action, was that Seals tried to eject the negro who, hand in his pocket, advanced on him just below the heart.

According to report from the community in which the slain negro, Everett, lived, Everett was a desperate character—he is charged with having almost beheaded another negro and shortly before his own death had tried to kill his own mother.

Car Theft Wave Annoys Police

Kinston, N. C., March 13.—A wave of automobile thefts is annoying local authorities. Practically every car stolen has been recovered, the police announced today. The cars of Dr. W. H. Dixon of Ayden, found in a ditch near here and J. C. Alexander, of Kinston, found abandoned near Ayden, were the latest to be recovered. The thieves abandoned Dr. Dixon's machine, first running it off the road, rather than repair a punctured tire.

HOLD NEGRO IN THEFT OF MEAT

William Harrington, Fourth Member of Band, Arrested in Lenoir County

Charged with taking part in the robbery of 400 pounds of meat from Warren Bell's smokehouse, about three miles from Greenville last Friday night, William Harrington, colored, was taken into custody in Lenoir County yesterday and immediately returned to Greenville to face preliminary hearing.

Three others, arrested here last Saturday in connection with the robbery, are Ernest Hines, Matthew Barnes and Mag Hines. The woman is being held on a charge of receiving stolen goods and the others are charged directly with theft of the meat.

They are alleged to have tunneled their way under the Bell smokehouse, broke through the floor and obtained the meat. Several hams, Chief of Police George Clark said shortly after the arrest of Hines and Barnes, were sold to local stores, but the major part of the haul was found at the home of Mag Hines.

Bell is the operator of a store at Bell's Cross Roads and always has a large supply of meat in store. It was the largest meat theft reported here in months, although a smokehouse was entered in the Bethel community the latter part of last week with about a hundred pounds of meat being stolen.

Hines, Barnes and the woman were given preliminary hearing here yesterday before Magistrate C. B. Rowlett and bound over the Superior Court. They were unable to give bond and were remanded, to jail to await trial.

Harrington was said to have admitted his part in the theft and waived examination hearing this morning. He was bound over to the next session of Superior Court. He was also unable to give bond and was transferred to the county jail to await trial.

By GEORGE DURNO

FLYING: Harry Hopkins figures to be President Roosevelt's right hand man in administering the proposed new work-relief program if 2 and 2 add up correctly to make 4.

When the White House needed advice badly the other day on strategy for the Senate fight, Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins was out in the central states on a brief speaking tour. A phone call brought him flying back here and five of the appearances on his schedule were cancelled.

Public Works Administrator Harold Ickes, who handled the original $3,300,000,000 fund, was sitting right here in Washington at the time. He saw the President also during the final period before the $4,880,000,000 measure was brought up again, but it may readily be seen how badly Hopkins' counsel was wanted.

F. W. A.: Shifting of a greater part of direct responsibility for handling the unemployed onto Hopkins could be done without giving Ickes any public black eye.

As the answer to Senator Byrd's resolution demanding information will show, there is still over a billion dollars of the original $3,300,000,000 actually to be spent. Watching a billion dollars is a fair-sized job in itself, but also remember Ickes is Secretary of Interior.

While Ickes is kept as busy as a man should be completing the first phase of public works, Mr. Roosevelt will need someone else to administer the bulk of the new schedule. The Federal Emergency Relief Administration goes out

WHY NOT ENFORCE TRAFFIC LAWS?

What is the use of having traffic laws for the protection and convenience of our people if our city officers are going to make no pretense at enforcing them? We bring to the attention of our city officials at this time two traffic ordinances that apparently no effort is being made to enforce and no regard is paid to the ordinances by the motorists.
There is an ordinance against making a U turn at the intersection of Third and Evans streets and yet motorists rush up to this corner at will, make a complete turn and dash back down Evans street without regard for the prohibitory ordinance and nothing is done about it. The practice is a most dangerous
one and certainly the ordinance should be enforced.

The other ordinance affecting traffic at almost the same spot is the "No Parking" ordinance on the east side of Evans Street immediately in front of the post office. Despite the fact that there are three "No Parking" signs placed along the edge of the sidewalk there motorists stop at will, get out of their cars and go into the post office to read their mail or pass the time in conversation without regard to the "No Parking" ordinance
or the inconvenience of others parked on the opposite side of the street who cannot move their cars until the illegally parked cars move out of the way.

If we are going to have traffic laws let's at least make a pretense of enforce-ing them. Otherwise let's do away with them and let everybody take care of themselves as best they can. It is just a farce to pass a lot of ordinances and post signs if the public is going to pay no attention to them and the officers do nothing about it.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

existence—under that name—in May. Washington has yet to hear any rumors that Hopkins was going also. Mr. Roosevelt is expected to establish a new agency in place of the old, using the same personnel, possibly calling it the Federal Works Authority.

ERRORS: Administrators from the White House down got a terrific shock the other morning
when they read in many newspapers that the relief rolls had jumped to embrace 22,375,000 persons.
The actual figure of 20,500,000 had been enough.
What happened was that Deputy Relief Administrator Aubrey Williams told two reporters there were 5,400,000 cases on the dole. Although Williams cautioned them
not to confuse cases with families, this mistake was made. The erroneous total was cabled abroad

where it occasioned much comment.
The government figures 4 to a family in arriving at relief totals.
Williams visitors multiplied 5,400-000 by 4 and then added in 7,000 more, that being the last previous figure available on single persons
on relief rolls.
Actually included in Williams 5-400,000 cases had been 4,903,000 family heads and 840,000 single persons.
Some 300,000 drought relief families
balance the grand total. It probably won't use the term "cases"
again.

FRICITION Under the recent executive order Secretary of War Department of Commerce—
that same agency heard of Hoover once built to paragonize the personal factions of subordinates accepting and pulling and hauling
at one another in a way that eventually promises to be left in the business world.

Smiling faces and back attention to the wants of American businessmen are revealing a lot of family friction that will work into a noisy blow-off if somebody doesn't fight
the safety valve pretty soon.
A number of Department of Commerce employees are more encouraged at the moment over whether their jobs are going to hold than they are in official business.

QUAKERS: One Assistant Secretary, Ewing Y. Mitchell, is said to be defying the efforts of associates to ease him out of the picture. Mitchell is reported reliably to have been offered a European post but refused it because he recognized it as the way upstairs.

Bureau chiefs are chafing because they are being given no say in the selection of their personnel, even when men with particular technical qualifications are needed.

As in the case of NRA discussed yesterday, minor employees are getting jittery too. They speak with new rumors daily and spend considerable of their working time tri-

ing to decide which boss's coat-tail promises the safest riding.

WHIRLS The worst case of shakes is discernible in the Bureau
of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, which normally should be performing the most important work of the whole Department. This Bureau already has been shaken twice from stem to stern under the New Deal by a personnel housecleaning. Those still left of the old order fear the end is not yet.

Under Director Claudius T. Murchison in the Bureau are 32 divisions. Thirteen of the old division chiefs have been removed. Another is scheduled to be whirled out.

Murchison, who succeeded Dr.
Willard Thorp after one year's confirmation, was backed last year in a vicious undercurrent fight
has no say in personnel selection.

President over the years. Commerce situation is what the workers have dubbed "The Pickering Board," set up by Secretary Roper himself. On it are Assistant Secretary John Dickinson, Assistant to the Secretary Chester H. McCall, Solicitor South Tamm, Jr., and Lester St. Clair, nationally known advocate of transportation expenses, and those official func-tionaries whom the anxious workers regard as Roper's personal trouble-shooter.

One able official says it would be better for the Department's moral if there were one general housecleaning, followed by a definite announcement from the Secretary's office that the weather throughout would be fair and warm.

Even though the carnage might be great and hideous, this insider figures it the best way to get the ball really rolling again.

NOTES: The President is urged to use Public Works money to extend the east front of the Capitol
—a job never finished. Insurance of mortgages is mounting into big figures and the system is rapidly spreading. Senator McKellar is working feverishly to block the Federal investigation demanded by Hays Long. Fireworks in the NRA investigation is promised by Senator King and Borah. Senator Glass of Vermont made no bones of his switch on the work-relief bill. "We wanted food control, and we got it."

man, the committee later removed the increase of $650,000 after hearing the other side presented.

Again yesterday when it was suggested that the amount to be diverted from the highway fund into the general fund be increased from the $1,000,000 figure adopted last Friday up to $1,650,000, the committee refused to restore the amount and stood firm. Senator Spence of Moore County led the opposition against this move and engaged in a rather heated argument with those advocating the diversion of the additional $650,000.

Those who advocate the diversion of $1,650,000 from the highway fund
into the general fund maintain that this is only equivalent to a 3 per cent sales tax on gasoline and that hence is not excessive. The advocates of this move maintain that the total sales of gasoline amount to approximately $55,000,000 a year and that 3 per cent of this amount to $1,650,000. The opponents of this move, however, maintain that the total sales of gasoline amount to approximately $55,000,000 a year and that 3 per cent of this amounts to $1,650,000. The opponents of this move, however, maintain that this figure of $55,000,000 a year includes about $20,000,000 in State taxes, resulting from the State tax of 6 per cents a gallon on gasoline and disregards the Federal tax of one cent a gallon, with the result that if the tax of 3 per cent should be based on the $55,000,000 figure, the State would be taxing its own tax of 6 cents a gallon as well as the Federal tax, which is double taxation.

They further maintain that if the tax is computed on the gasoline sales exclusive of the State and Federal tax that the amount is slightly less than $1,000,000 and that hence the recommended diversion of $1,000,000 a year is sufficient.

Indications point strongly toward Senate concurrence in the $75,000 appropriation for Federal-State employment service. The bill, already passed by the lower House, was placed upon the calendar on the motion of Senator Gravelly instead of going through the customary committee procedure. The bill has been made an order of special business for Friday.

The $75,000 will be matched by a like amount from the Federal Government and North Carolina cities will contribute an additional $27,000, bringing the total available annually to $177,000.

The service, under the supervision of Major A. L. Fletcher, Commissioner of Labor, has been in existence about eighteen months. If the service is to continue the State must allot $75,000 under the Wagner-Peyser Federal Act which provides for co-ordination of State and Federal activity.

A total of 102,429 industrial workers have registered with the service and 45,167 have been placed according to figures compiled by Major Fletcher. Three hundred and four thousand, one hundred and fifty rural persons have registered and placements are shown as 116,003. Cost of operation of the service is shown in the statement for December, 1934,
in which months the service spent $9,839.97.

Chiefly responsible for the bill's easy course through the Legislature is Mrs. May Evans, of High Point, assistant director of the service. W.
P. George is Major Fletcher's other assistant. Mrs. Evans has presented a strong case for the service to members of the Legislature.

At present the service operates twenty-two offices, including the Raleigh division. The Charlotte office is the largest of the branch offices. In explanation of the great difference between industrial and rural registrations and placements the service points out that of the State's population an overwhelming percentage is rural. The population figures are: Rural, 2,511,398 and industrial, 622,491, and are based on the Federal census of 1930 which showed North Carolina as having a total population of 3,133,889.

Establishment of a new tubercular sanatorium to be located in the western part of the State is assured by Senate concurrence in the House bill which provides for a $250,000
State bond issue for that purpose.

To Senator Lee Gravelly, of Nash goes most of the credit for the measure, despite the fact that this bill was first offered in the House
by Representatives Clegg and Rasberry. Senator Gravelly has waged an unremitting fight for the bill and observers here concede that it is his bill.

It is expected that the Federal Government will match the $250,000
dollar for dollar, bringing the total amount available to a half-million.
The next important step is the location of the new institution. Western counties are expected to fight over that angle. Some observers here believe that the final location selected will be Newton, in Catawba County. In Newton the county owns it is said, a $200,000 hospital, although the county has never been able to get sufficient funds to operate the plant. Many think that some arrangement can be worked out whereby the State could gain control of the hospital, thus saving money and advancing the date
when the new sanatorium can begin operating. Representative Klutz of Catawba, is thought to favor such a plan.

The fight over the location will not be a legislative battle, however, because, under the terms of the bill, the governing board for the sanatorium is to select the location. The governing board will be appointed by the Governor.
As an indication of sentiment for the establishment of such an institution and of hope for early establishment it is noted that the present appropriations bill carries a provision for $10,000 for the first year and $100,000 for the second for maintenance of the plant. Senator Gravelly is chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

No information is available as to the personnel of the new board.

Land mammals and birds had their origin as land reptiles, and the reptiles sprang from amphibian stock,
which had fish for ancestors.

Stops Coughs Two Ways!

There is now a doctor's prescription that does these two remarkable things:

1. In 15 minutes and with only one swallow, it relieves throat irritation—stops coughs.

2. Does a lot more besides. Acts internally to quickly drive fever and cold out of the system. Hence so much better.

This wonderful medicine is now sold under the name THOXINE. It is safe, pleasant—effective for adults and children alike. Take no chances with coughs and sore
throats when you can get Thoxine
—real prescription medicine—for only 35c. Results guaranteed or you get your money back. Pitt Drug

MEN who study haulage costs know that Chevrolet trucks are as outstanding in economy and durability as they are in price. Chevrolet trucks handle tough hauling jobs day after day at small operating cost, because they are built to Chevrolet's own high standards of quality in every part. The powerful six-cylinder valve-in-head engines are truck motors, especially designed to give sustained pulling power and to keep on working under the hard punishment of road and load. Features that assure stamina and long life are evident in every

Mrs. Johnson Sutton III
Ayden, March 13.—The many friends of Mrs. Johnson Sutton of near Black Jack, Pitt county, will regret to learn of her serious illness at the home of her son, Joe Sutton, of Scotland in Green county. For several weeks Mrs. Sutton has been ill with bronchitis and her condition does not seem to improve. She has been for a number of years a great worker in the Free Will Baptist church and since her illness has been greatly missed by her friends and pastor.

Cubs Meet Thursday
The Cubs will meet at the Episcopal church Thursday afternoon at four o'clock.

Complete College Course
Two of the three graduates who completed the four-year work for the A. B. degree at the close of the winter term of East Carolina Teachers College, are Greenville girls.

These are Miss Margaret Hassell, a primary major, and Miss Verda Wilson, who majored in high school work in English and History. Miss Mary Elizabeth Crawford, of Kingston, who majored in Home Economics and History, is the third one.

Two completed the two year normal school course, both of them primary majors. These are Misses Julia Dolores James, of Parnell, and Ursula Marshall, of Halifax.

All of these will receive their degrees and diplomas at commencement, with the entire class for the year.

Davidson College News
Special to The Reflector:
Davidson, March 13.—Among six hundred and fifty students registered for the spring term at Davidson College is H. M. Summerell of Greenville.

During his career at Davidson, Summerell has been active in undergraduate circles and has taken an interest in extra-curricular activities. He is a member of the Junior class and of Kappa Sigma social fraternity. Summerell has taken great interest in journalism during his two years here.

A recent check-up of the registration records revealed the fact that twenty-seven states and eight foreign countries are represented in the Davidson student body this semester.

RED OAK NEWS
We have had quite a number of guest speakers at our Sunday school and churches since our last news.

Sunday before last Mr. Burr James of Greenville spoke to the members of Red Oak Sunday school. He made one of the best talks ever heard at Red Oak. We wish that everyone in the community could have been present. We want Mr. James to come again soon and we hope to have a large number present to hear him. There were ninety-nine present on that Sunday.

Last Sunday Mr. R. F. Harrison made a splendid talk to the members of Piney Grove Sunday school. Then at the church hour there was a large congregation present to hear Mr. Harrison preach and sing and Rev. M. A. Woodard preach an inspiring short sermon on "Remember Your Faults". These guest speakers bring new life to our community and we are always glad to have them.

No one knows just where Red Oak community ends because we claim that anyone who comes to Sunday school in this community belongs to us therefore although the Mays have a little community of their own they have always been some of the most zealous members of Red Oak Sunday school and church. Consequently when we write the Red Oak news we always include any happenings in that neighborhood. And have things been happening there lately? It sounds like old Colonial days! This spring, "Quilting Bees" have been quite the go in that community. All the ladies meet at a certain home and in just a short while a quilt has been quilted.

Here is an invitation that Mrs. N. O. Hodges extended to her neighbors this week:

Dear friend—
When we all get together, Happy are we.
Let's all get together.
Each other to see.
Let's all meet together at an old Time "Quilting Bee".
Let's all meet promptly.
Each one on time.
Bring scissors and Thimble.
As the clock strikes nine.
Bring good cheer with you.
And a happy face.
We'll visit friends together.
Hodges is the place.
Now just picture about twenty or twenty-five women busily sewing and talking around two quilts that were put in the frames the day before. In the meantime two or three ladies are busily engaged in the kitchen and when the farm bell rings for dinner a feast fit for kings is spread on the table. Those who have never attended an Old Time Quilting Bee, cannot imagine the pleasure that it is. Mrs. H. May, Mrs. Johnnie May, Mrs. Billy May, Misses Fannie and Ella May, Miss Estelle Harris, Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Clyde Bright have had or will have an occasion like this at their homes.

Mr. Zeno Allen and Jarvis Allen went to Durham Monday. Mr. Zeno Allen went to Duke Hospital for treatment.

John Wyatt Tyson has been confined at home this week with mumps.

Veteran of Civil War Celebrates His 94 Birthday
H. J. Stokes, 94, who resides on Greenville R. F. D. 3, and who is probably the oldest man in Pitt County, is observing his 94th birthday today.

Mr. Stokes is a veteran of the War Between the States, having served the cause of the South faithfully for three years. He served under General George Singletary and Major Steadman, and took part in a number of the major battles of the war.

He was near the scene when General Stonewall Jackson was accidentally mortally wounded by his own men. He also participated in the battle of Petersburg, Va.

Confined by Union soldiers about three months before the war ended, Mr. Stokes was held prisoner at New Bern where he was later given his liberty. Following his release he walked back to his home in Pitt County about seven miles from Greenville.

As far as known, Mr. Stokes is the last living survivor of the Confederacy in this county.

He is very active for his age, and is able to go about his home almost as spryly as any other member of the family. Numbers of his friends called upon him today to wish him many happy returns of the day. He was also the recipient of several useful presents from relatives and friends.

Local All Stars Trim Williamston In Closing Game
The Greenville all-stars basketball team ended the season in grand style last night when they defeated the Williamston all-stars by the score 50 to 41.

The Greenville lads were leading at the half by the score of 29 to 17 and were never threatened by the Martin County lads during the entire game.

GREAT RICHES

by Mabel Howe Farnham

SYNOPSIS: James Stinson, III, as the last of the Stinsons, was born in New Concord, N. C., and has occupied a prominent position in New Concord society from birth. He has lived in the old Stinson mansion on the bluff overlooking the Mississippi river, and his future has been a subject of interest to all the town's best people. Now, however, he has been sent to school in the East and is, precisely, a nobody.

Chapter Eight

SCHOOL DAYS

IT MUST be confessed that James at this period was neither a beautiful nor a prepossessing young man. The year before he suddenly had begun to grow and after he got a good start it seemed as if he were determined never to stop.

He grew, alas! only in one direction and was so exceedingly thin for his height—he finally reached six feet one and a quarter—that when he sat down he had the effect of doubling up like a jack-knife.

His curly red hair was another cross. Each morning he soaked it in water, parted it in the middle, plastered each half firmly into place and put his cap on to set the mold. But a certain cockle on his crown refused absolutely to stay where it was put more than twenty minutes at a stretch.

James' eyes were not bad. When he grew older the girls used to claim they were "speaking eyes" but at present he avoided girls, considering them pests.

His best feature in after life, a deeply musical and resonant speaking voice, had as yet only toreshadowed a later appearance. While it was already inclined toward the bass and had many notes extremely pleasant to the ear, it unfortunately was punctuated thickly with little so "prano" squeaks which not only spoiled the ensemble but embarrassed their owner to the verge of tears.

James was sent, of course, to the famous old academy in Massachusetts where his father and grandfather had been such shining lights. James, however, lacked altogether the grand air possessed so abundantly by the senior Stinsons.

He was much given to dreaming and was neither alert nor self-possessed and appeared just what he was—somewhat helpless and ineffectual. Possessing at this time what was to be the longest neck in the world outside a zoo he was violently addicted to collars so high they looked more like umbrellas.

James' clothes had been made by Mr. Davis, the best tailor in New Concord, of his finest wools and cloths. That they were well and carefully made cannot be denied, but neither is there doubt that they, like their owner, lacked that indefinable flair and style which distinguished both the clothes and the manner of the golden youths with which James now found himself surrounded.

Miss Sarah went East with her nephew and the preparations for her departure were being hurriedly completed by a helpful member of the faculty in a charming and comfortable home whose owner, Mrs. Bliss, was in "reduced circumstances" and forced to rent rooms to young gentlemen.

Miss Sarah, after arranging for the payment of James' room and his board with a friend of Mrs. Bliss, gave her nephew twenty-five dollars in cash for incidental expenses during the remaining three months of school, kissed him goodbye without breaking down and departed bravely to visit her Eastern relatives without letting James guess to the least what the parting cost her.

TO JAMES who had never needed more than a dollar or two at a time, twenty-five dollars seemed an ample amount and he wondered vaguely when his aunt gave it to him what he would do with all that money. He was to learn very shortly.

That very evening when he was unpacking his trunk a "delegation" called on him for a subscription for the school football team. James was about to offer them a dollar when the supercilious upper classman who was spokesman, shrewdly taking James' measure, made it plain at once that anyone giving less than ten dollars would be branded for the rest of his life as a piker.

James, fairly trembling with relief at the narrowness of his escape, promptly handed over ten dollars. The news spread. The next morning he gave ten more to the baseball team. The following afternoon he promised a third ten to the track team and wrote hurriedly to his aunt for fifty dollars.

The request staggered Miss Sarah and she did not sleep a wink that night debating with herself whether to send the money.

The venom of the black widow spider is carried in a poison sac and injected through fangs.

CREOMULSION
Your own druggist is authorized to cheerfully refund you money on the spot if you are not relieved by CREOMULSION.

The plot of "Love in Bloom" center around two romantic youngsters in New York who are made in love but who haven't even got the price of a marriage license. An Irvin S. Cobb comedy and novel short subject titled "Donkey Baseball" complete the program.

While her father lived it had never occurred to her to worry over her nephew's future, but when the Governor died just as James was budding into manhood and made her his sole guardian, Miss Sarah was stunned by the pressure of her responsibility.

She realized only too well that she knew nothing of a certain dark side of young men or of their temptations. On the other hand, James might need the money very urgently. In the novels she had read the young heroes often got into desperate straits for want of a little ready cash during the process known as "sowing wild oats."

How James in forty-eight hours and under the watchful eyes of his preceptors could have already begun to plant his oat crop his aunt could not figure out. Miss Sarah's thoughts were as delicious as wild cherry blossoms. When something was forced on her notice that she did not consider "nice" she preferred to shut her eyes and pretend it was not there.

But in a matter where her duty lay plain before her, Miss Sarah could be counted on to keep her eyes fully open no matter what the cost to her sensibilities. Therefore, after praying for help until her knees ached, Miss Sarah rose to what she felt was a "crisis" and prepared to do battle as best she was able.

SHE wrote James a long and (for her) firm letter in which she warned him against temptation, and wondered now he possibly could have spent such a sum in two days. But having finished the letter without yielding, she added two postscripts:

"P. S. Do not think, my dear nephew, that I have no faith and confidence in your fortitude. But forewarned is forearmed, as you know. I enclose a postal order for twenty dollars. You must make it do till the end of the term, Aunt Sarah."

"P. P. S. Of course, if anything should occur that would make the possession of more money imperative, you must let me know. I trust, however, no such contingency will arise, Auntie."

The letter embarrassed James terribly. When he answered it he referred only vaguely to Aunt Sarah's warning. The letter made him feel more alone than he had ever before.

A longing for his grandmother nagged over him when he had yet experienced swept over James and twisted and tore his heart. His grandmother would have understood. His grandmother would not have prated about temptations. It came to him as if for the first time that when he went home his grandmother would not be there. He would never see her again.

It was years before James could bear to look back and relive his first weeks at school.

James' room was on the third floor front of the Bliss residence and directly below him was a suite occupied by two upper classmen, who had achieved respectively positions no less exalted than the captaincy of the football team and the editorship of the school paper.

The captain of the football team made it a matter of policy to be on a friendly footing with even the lowliest and most insignificant. The editor of the paper, being a student of human nature, saw in James something of the pup the Judge had visualized shut out in the cold and trying his best not to whine.

Consequently their nightingales were on the whole inclined to be friendly, even though they jibed at James and his native state for the good of his soul.

Unfortunately James remembered the Judge's advice to go slow in making friends and ignored the friendliness. Later, when he had discovered the eminence of the two who dwelt just below him he was too proud to make any but the most tentative advances, which were in turn ignored. James immediately retreated into the fastnesses of his own soul and surrounded himself with prickles.

It took but a week or two at school to make him doubt his own importance. It took less than a month to make him wonder whether there was something inherently wrong with him that made strangers shun and avoid him. James was naturally the most sociable of souls and he missed companionship fearfully.

He took refuge in books or long solitary walks, varied occasionally by the company of another pariah like himself. As for the temptations from which his aunt had urged him to flee, they seemed to be confined, as far as James could discover, to her imagination.

But tomorrow, James has another significant triumph.

New York Cotton

New York, March 12. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, eight points to eleven points advance on higher Liverpool cables and trade and commission house buying. While early advance of from 20 to 25 points was not fully maintained, the market was steady at the end of the first half-hour.

There was further irregularity later, but buying was full and at mid-day March was selling around 11.15 with the futures last twelve to fourteen points higher.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Mar. 13. (AP)—It was a squally day in the stock market but most of the list managed to maintain even level.

The bond market was again depressed by the selling of rails but railroad shares were well sold out.

Cotton again showed little enthusiasm to other markets keeping close to yesterday's final prices. The British pound showed encouraging signs of having been brought under control once more. A number of leading industrialists tried to rally during the morning but backed and were about unchanged by the early afternoon.

The stock market displayed firming tendencies in most sections today. Transfers were 1,110,000 shares, or slightly above yesterday. The late tape was fairly firm.

legislation to regulate utilities holding companies.

The inquiry was proposed in a resolution by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, and approved without debate. President Roosevelt struck out at such propaganda in his message to Congress yesterday, urging enactment of regulatory legislation.

Norris' proposal directed the Trade Commission to investigate and report on the "origin, purpose, methods and existence of such propaganda."

Reidsville, N. C., March 12. (AP) J. Roy Turner and T. G. Mize, of Schoolfield, on the North Carolina-Virginia line, were killed at Schoolfield last night when a southbound Southern freight train crashed into their auto.

Turner, 45, was an auto salesman who formerly lived here but recently moved to Danville. Mize, 37, was a Schoolfield textile worker.

Both suffered fractured skulls and broken arms and legs. Investigating authorities said Turner's hands were still gripped to the steering wheel when his body was found with that of Mize in the wreck.

Several railroad tracks cross the highway at the scene of the crash and it was presumed the men waited for one train to pass, then drove onto the tracks without seeing the oncoming freight.

Each man is survived by his widow and two children.

Indian Tools And Sea Monster Teeth On Display Here

That Pitt county was once the home of prehistoric sea monsters and later the camping ground of Indians was brought forcefully to mind today by a collection of specimens placed on display at the Reflector office by Judge Frank Wooten.

Among the collection is an Indian mortar found on the banks of Tar river recently by Frank Wooten, Jr. The large stone receptacle is in a perfect state of preservation and indicates the Indians knew what they were about in the preparation of corn for bread.

In addition, there was a tomahawk and arrow head picked up by Judge Wooten in this vicinity.

The most interesting probably of the collection are two parts of what all believed to be the teeth of prehistoric monsters which walked about in the waters that one time inundated this section of the country. Judge Wooten said he had shown the specimens to dentists and scientists and all agreed that they belonged to some kind of sea animal. The teeth were dug from the ground in Greene county.

Judge Wooten, who is one of the best informed men in the county on Pitt county history, said an Indian settlement was located on Harvie Creek, about three miles from Greenville, back in the days when the "redskin" was the leading inhabitant of the area. He stated that numbers of things used by the tribe might be picked up along the creek banks at this time, delineating the hardy life of the first American settlers.
