Governor Of Ohio Charges Hopkins With Criminal Libel

SWEARS OUT WARRANT FOR RELIEF HEAD

Action Comes After Hopkins Declares he Has Evidence of Political-Relief Corruption in Ohio; Governor Davey Faces Impeachment; Governor Calls Relief Head Coward

Columbus, O., March 18.—(AP)—Governor Martin L. Davey, facing charges by Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins that he had "incontestable evidence" of political corruption in the administration of relief in Ohio, filed a warrant charging criminal libel against Hopkins today.

The developments came two days after President Roosevelt directed Hopkins to "assume entire control" of the administration of the Federal Government's $8,000,000 a month relief bill in Ohio.

"Come to Ohio if you dare and show you are a man, or turn and run like a coward and confess your contemptible character," Davey said in concluding a 700-word telegram to Hopkins.

The warrant for criminal libel was sworn out in the municipal court at Newark, Ohio, at 9 a. m.

A few minutes later Governor Davey made public his blistering telegram to Hopkins. Meanwhile the Federal Government Relief Agency pressed a charge of corrupt alliance between politics and relief in Ohio. As the scandal developed proportions which may split the State Democratic leadership, Charles S. Stillman took over control of the Ohio relief organization by order of President Roosevelt and denied the entirety of a Federal investigation of Ohio relief forces is to be told.

CIVIL COURT BEGINS TODAY

Judge M. V. Barnhill, Of Rocky Mount, Presiding Over Two-Week Term Here

A two-week term of Pitt County Superior Court, for the trial of civil cases, convened here this morning with Judge M. V. Barnhill of Rocky Mount, on the bench.

The calendar, made public several days ago, contains approximately forty cases of more or less interest to the people of the community, and although much interest is centered around some of the cases, only a small number of persons were on hand when court convened at 10 o'clock.

In spite of the fact that this is the season of the year when farmers are in their fields preparing for the planting of another crop, and witnesses are difficult to obtain, court is expected to dispose of the majority of cases on its docket. Quite a number probably will go to the compromise route with the remainder either being directly disposed of or non-suited.

Judge Barnhill, who dispatched work rapidly in the number of terms he has presided over here in recent years, is expected to push the calendar speedily with the end of the two weeks seeing the major part of the cases completed.

Daniels To Speak

Josephus Daniels, Jr., candidate for Commander of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion, will address the Pitt County Post of the American Legion at Third Street School field house tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. He is the son of Josephus Daniels, ambassador to Mexico.

BLIND TIGER NABBED HERE

Guilford Webb, Colored, Bound Over to County Court Under Bond of $200

Guilford Webb, colored, was being held on a charge of selling whiskey today following a raid of his home on the lower end of Evans Street Saturday night. It was made known today by Chief of Police George Clark.

Given preliminary hearing in Mayor's Court this morning, Webb was bound over to the next term of County Court under bond of $200. He was unable to provide bail and was remanded to jail.

Chief Clark said Webb is one of a number of bootleggers who, during pit and quarry business rather than these days, have started selling whiskey by the drink. Only a small amount of liquor was found in his possession, but he was said to have been in the act of selling a drink when police walked in and interrupted the sale.

Chief Clark said officers were having considerable difficulty rounding up the one-drink blind tigers in view of the fact that only a small amount of whiskey, easily disposed of, is usually carried in stock although large quantities are easily accessible. Webb was the first arrest of this kind made in some time.

Wedging a dime into a tree trunk and driving a ten-foot plank through the chassis and steel body of an overturned automobile were two freakish stunts performed by tornadoes during 1934.

SKILL. President Roosevelt's last sock at the power trust qualifies him for instant admittance to the CCC as a master technician. He proved once more he knows how to start a backfire without getting too embroiled in the flames.

When the President renewed his demand that Congress abolish utilities holding companies he was all seriousness. But a lot more may be read into that message. It afforded him an excellent opportunity to champion the masses against "Wall Street" without personally becoming involved in the national political row kicked up by Long, Coughlin and Co.

FDR got immediate results. At the instigation of that veteran Progressive, George W. Norris, of Neb., the Federal Trade Commission is to run an inquisitive finger into the propaganda mill set loose by the utilities interests to defeat the Wheeler-Rayburn bill, which would sentence holding companies to more

DANIELS TO THREE ESCAPE SPEAK BEFORE FROM CONVICT LEGION POST CAMP IN PITT

Candidate For Commander of the State Legion Department, Here Tuesday Nite

Josephus Daniels, Jr., candidate for commander of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion, will address the Pitt County Post of the American Legion Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at Third Street School field house. It was made known today by officials of the local Post.

Mr. Daniels, son of Josephus Daniels, Ambassador to Mexico, and Secretary of the Navy during the Wilson administration, will be accompanied to Greenville by Chester Bell, past commander of the Raleigh Legion Post. Mr. Bell is also expected to make a brief talk dealing with activities of the Legion and to press the candidacy of Mr. Daniels for the command.

Mr. Daniels, who is connected with operation of the News and Observer, has been connected with activities of the Legion for a number of years and has filled a number of important offices in the Raleigh Post. He has always taken an active interest in the work of the organization, not only in this State but throughout the nation and has played an important part in the recognition received by the State Department of the Legion.

Announcement of his candidacy for the high post sometime ago was received with interest throughout the State, and he is understood to have attracted a large following. Although he has been to Greenville a number of times in the past years, this is the first time he has ever appeared in the capacity of speaker at a Legion meeting, and members of the local Post were anticipating large attendance.

Youth Held For County Court On C. C. W. Charge

Ellsworth Jordan, 18-year-old white youth, was bound over to County Court on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, in the regular Monday morning sitting of police court here this morning.

He was also fined $5.00 and cost for allegedly attempting to shoot out a street light.

He was arrested by police Saturday night at the corner of R-ade and 13th streets while allegedly firing a pistol in the direction of a street light, and was carried to the city jail and locked up to await hearing.

With exception of the hearing of a charge of selling whiskey lodged against Guilford Webb, colored, this was the only case of any importance heard by the court this morning.

Local College

Receives Boost Of Appropriation

In a report of the amount of money recommended for East Carolina Teachers College last week, it was said that the "institution was given more than asked for" in the appropriation committee report filed with the legislature.

It should have read "received more than recommended by the Budget Commission."

Figures show that the college actually asked for $156,000 and received $106,365 for the first year and $111,455 for the second year. The Budget Commission had recommended $89,180.

The increase was granted due to a raise in teachers' salaries and long needed repairs at the college.

Marcellus Smith, Colored, Recaptured, After Being Shot by Pursuers Today

Marcellus Smith, colored, one of three convicts who escaped from the State convict camp about two miles north of Greenville late yesterday afternoon, was recaptured after being shot by his pursuers in Monkey Den section this morning, according to information received at the sheriff's office this afternoon.

Although several parts of his body were peppered with shots, the negro was not believed to be in a serious condition.

Two others who escaped were Marcellus Adams and Julius Moss who were still at large today with convict guards scouring the countryside for them.

The escape was said to have occurred as prisoners were being transferred from the day camp to the night camp. The three suddenly darted away and were gone before the guards could do anything about it.

Smith was convicted of purse-snatching in criminal court here several months ago and sentenced to several years on the roads. He snatched a pocketbook from a Miss Ross on Fourth Street during the Christmas holidays last year and was run down and caught shortly afterward.

Adams was serving a term of one year for car theft. His term would have been up in a few days. It was said, and officers were planning to send him back to New Jersey where he escaped while serving a twenty-year sentence for robbery.

Moss was serving a term for larceny.

RUM RUNNER SEIZED HERE

C. W. Miller and Ten Cases of Bottled-in-Bond Liquor Nabbed By Sheriff

One of the bottled-in-bond liquor supply sources for this community was suddenly disrupted Saturday night when Sheriff Sam Whitehurst seized an alleged rum runner and his truck containing ten cases of bottled-in-bond liquor at Joe Hatem's filling station, about a mile north of Greenville.

The rum runner, C. W. Miller, of Portsmouth, Va., was released on $200 bond for his appearance at the regular session of County Court here April 2.

The truck containing the liquor was parked in front of the station and Miller was on the inside of the building when the sheriff walked up and arrested the man.

The sheriff said Miller admitted the truck was his and immediately posted bond for his appearance before the court here in April.

POTTS SPEAKS AT PRE-EASTER SERVICE HERE

Delightful Musical Program Marks Union Services at Pitt Theatre Last Night

Rev. J. R. Potts, of Vanceboro, former acting pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, last night delivered the sermon at the second of the series of Pre-Easter union services being held in Pitt Theater each Sunday evening for the next six weeks in preparation for the coming of the Easter season.

Approximately 400 persons attended the services last night, and in addition to the splendid sermon heard several delightful numbers by the choir composed of members of the choirs of various churches of the city. The musical program was marked by a special quartet number by H. A. McDougle, W. W. Lee, Spruill Spain and Will Lipscomb.

Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, was in charge of the service.

The crowd was some smaller last night due to threatening weather. Approximately 600 persons attended the opening service last Sunday and heard Dr. G. R. Combs, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church in the initial sermon.

Mr. Potts, in part, had the following to say:

"Subject: Echoes"

"My text is a sentence found in Ezekiel 7:7: 'The sounding again of the mountains.' That is the echo Ezekiel had heard again and again. Born among the mountains and in his journey to distant exile having passed among the mountains, it was natural that all through his writings there should loom up the mountains. Among them he had heard the sound of cataracts, and of tempests in wrestle with oak and cedar, and the voices of the wild beasts, but a man of so poetic a nature as Ezekiel could not allow another sound, viz., the echo to be disregarded, and so he gives us 'the sounding again of the mountains.'"

The preacher described echoes in the natural world. "Near Coblenz," he said, "that which is spoken has seventeen echoes. In 1766 a writer says that near Milan Italy, there were seventy such reflections of sound to one snap of a pistol. A blast of an Alpine horn comes back from the rocks of Jungfrau in surge after surge of reflected sound until it seemed as if every peak had lifted and blown an Alpine horn but have you noticed—and thus

Three negroes who last night allegedly stole $200 worth of meat from the May farm about two miles from Greenville on the Winterville road were taken into custody by officers today and held for preliminary hearing. They also were alleged to have stolen three hams from a tenant on the May farm.

They are Catsar Newton, Clifton Metts and King Hall.

All of the stolen property was reported to have been recovered by the sheriff's officers in the ensuing investigation.

The robbery was reported to the sheriff's office here this morning by Miss Sudie May, who declared her smoke-house had been entered with every bit of her summer's supply of meat taken with exception of two or three small pieces.

CREEK REBEL LEADERS FACE COURT TODAY

Verdict Expected by Nightfall as Court Martial Proceedings Get Underway

Athens, Greece, March 18.—(AP)—Thirty former Greek army officers, stripped of swords and sidearms, were brought before a military court for courtmartial today on charges of participating in rebellion.

The prisoners were conveyed to the court in ordinary police wagons into which they were cornered from cells in jails on the outskirts of Athens.

At the door of the classic facade of the court building the abettors of the thwarted uprising passed by their former fellow officers who remained loyal to the government.

Not a smile nor a glance of recognition was exchanged between the two groups.

The court was expected to sit throughout the day and possibly return its verdict by nightfall.

REVIVAL WILL OPEN TONIGHT

Dr. J. Clyde Turner, of Greensboro, to Hold Services at Immanuel Baptist Church

Dr. J. Clyde Turner of Greensboro, arrived in Greenville this afternoon to begin a series of revival services at the Immanuel Baptist Church tonight at 8 o'clock. The services will continue for a period of one week, with services at 10 o'clock in the morning at 8 o'clock at night.

Rev. J. R. Potts of Vanceboro, who was acting minister of the Presbyterian Church here last summer, will assist in the services. It was announced today by Rev. J. A. McIver, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Mr. Potts will be the guest in the home of Mr. McIver while here.

The congregation has made extensive preparations for the services and large crowds were expected to be on hand each day to hear Dr. Turner, considered one of the outstanding Baptist ministers in the state. Special musical numbers will be rendered by the choir and congregational singing preceding the sermon is expected to be of an inspirational nature.

THREE NABBED IN MEAT THEFT

Officers Recover Over $200 Worth of Meat Taken at May Farm Last Night

Three negroes who last night allegedly stole $200 worth of meat from the May farm about two miles from Greenville on the Winterville road were taken into custody by officers today and held for preliminary hearing. They also were alleged to have stolen three hams from a tenant on the May farm.

The robbery was reported to the sheriff's office here this morning by Miss Sudie May, who declared her smoke-house had been entered with every bit of her summer's supply of meat taken with exception of two or three small pieces.

Officers said they discovered that the negroes traded in a piece of meat at a filling station for a pint of whiskey, and arrested them at their homes. The meat was found secreted near the home of Jarvis Metts, who lost three hams in the raid by the trio.

Conscription Of Soldiers Ordered To Start At Once

Late News Flashes

Today In The Legislature. Raleigh, March 18.—(AP)—The House today passed and sent to the Senate under suspension of the rules a bill to levy a $500 tax on dealers in scrap tobacco, but the measure had to be recalled for roll call vote due to the tax levying feature it will come up for consideration later.

The first amendment offered for the revenue bill by the McDonald-Lumpkin anti-sales tax faction changing the taxes on theatre admissions was defeated by the House committee of the whole today.

With many seats vacant for the mid-day session, 26 representatives voted for the change and 38 against it.

The change would have levied an additional 5 per cent tax on the gross receipts of theatres whose gross income exceeded $1,500 per month.

Under the present laws of the revenue bill a tax of 3 per cent is levied on the gross receipts.

ORDERS COURT TO DELVE INTO CRUELTY CASE

Gov. Calls Special Court Term in Mecklenburg to Probe Mistreatment

Raleigh, March 18.—(AP)—Governor Ehringhaus today ordered a two-week special term of Mecklenburg Superior Court to start April 18, with Judge Don Phillips presiding, to investigate charges of mistreatment of prisoners by convict prison authorities.

"The special court had been requested by Solicitor John Carpenter of that district following executive and legislative inquiries.

The action came as members of the legislative investigating committee returned empty handed from a search in Watauga county for the graves of convicts they were told had been buried in unmarked graves from the state prison camp.

LEGISLATIVE RAMBLINGS

By C. A. PAUL

It is not believed here that the proposed "mutiny" against the sales tax, if enacted with the staple food exemptions removed, by food dealers and others will materialize. It is generally understood, although he would not make a definite statement, that Willard Dowell, executive secretary of the N. C. Merchants Association, is counselling members of his group against such a mutiny.

For some time, says Dowell, he has been receiving letters from various sections of the State from dealers in various lines advocating the presentation of a united front by merchants against the sales tax. In these letters is the suggestion that merchants agree among themselves to not collect the tax and to refuse to pay the State a tax upon their sales. Recently the board of directors of the State Food Dealers Association, at a meeting in Charlotte went on record against collection and remittance of the tax. The action was a definite appeal for a mutiny against the tax, or so it was interpreted here. Since that time Dowell has increased Those merchants who advocate open mutiny almost invariably, says Dowell, point out that the sales tax was levied by the 1933 Legislature as "an emergency act" and that the general understanding was that the tax would not

London—Jolted by the Hitler announcement of a conscripted German army, the British cabinet met today and then the session was ended at noon, it was learned that another final joint protest to Berlin by a group of Versailles treaty signers was being considered.

The protest would include France Italy and Great Britain.

Vienna—Burgomaster Victor Schmid announced that although Austria has not completed her military service, "it is coming soon."

Rome—Official circles while believing it would be futile for the powers of Europe either to join in a direct protest against German re-armament or an appeal to the League of Nations, expressed confidence there was no likelihood of war.

Moscow—Michael Malinin, president of the All-Russian, All-Union Executive Committee to organize Russian cavalry, said: "War may break out at any time and warned Russian military forces to be prepared."

OTHER NATIONS PLAN TO FILE NEW PROTEST

Capitals of Europe Agitated by News of Conscription of German Soldiers; Machine to be Built Along Old Imperial Line; France Turns To Building New Air Defense; War Seen By Some Powers

Berlin, March 18.—(AP)—Authoritative sources said today that conscription of soldiers for a new German army modeled on the old imperial war machine was beginning at once following Reichsfuhrer Hitler's announcement Saturday that the Reich again will have to draft an army.

Conscripted military service is regarded as largely in existence. The announcement caused a boom in the shares in the Berlin Karlsruher industry on the Bourse. The shares of the company which formerly manufactured the Reich armaments, gained 7 1-2 points. Steel works gained two points.

The nation plunged into the re-armament fever for all today which all the enemy pent up during the fifteen years she has been fettered by the military clause in the Versailles treaty.

The Reichswehr ministry hummed with activity as officers leaped to the task or co-ordinating the Hitlerite military units, planning a rural campaign, conscription of officers' corps and arranging military supplies.

General Warner Von Fritsch, the army chief of staff, whose responsibilities have been greatly increased by the developments, began a tour of the six army corps area for an inspection of his government's factory limits.

(By The Associated Press) Reverberation of Reichsfuhrer Hitler's startling announcement that Germany was restoring its conscription army system continued to agitate the capitals of Europe today.

Berlin—The Reichswehr ministry hummed with activity as arm officials hastened to the task of reorganizing the Reich's new military establishment.

Paris—French official circles seeing all hope for diplomatic settlement of Europe's peace problems shattered, turned their attention to the possibility of arranging a new work of air defenses to oppose Germany's re-born military power.

London—Jolted by the Hitler announcement of a conscripted German army, the British cabinet met today and then the session was ended at noon, it was learned that another final joint protest to Berlin by a group of Versailles treaty signers was being considered.

that have poured in on Congress urging defeat of the Rayburn-Wheeler bill. A week ago today this column outlined them. And when the Commission reports, Congressional Progress automatically will be lined up to help fight the White House battle.

WEAVING: Some of Mr. Roosevelt's friends have suggested he go on the radio himself and make general answer to current attacks from the extreme left wing. Others have intimated it might be well for him to cancel his forthcoming Florida fishing trip and stand close guard on the situation.

Best information is that both suggestions will be ignored. FDR will leave it up to General Johnson and others to toss alliterative invective at the opposition over the radio. The Presidential fishing party should be well under way in a week.

Meanwhile the resident in his holding company message had made another large gesture in the little fellow's direction. New Deal lieutenants will weave it into the general scrap with the left bank.

PRIVACY: When Senator Pat Harrison of Miss., Chairman of the Finance Committee, first tried to pour cold water on the idea of repeal of the income tax pink slip he had no real idea the Senate would fail to follow the House's action.

What Pat was afraid of was the interminable debate that will ensue in the Senate when the question of income tax publicity comes up. He knew as well as the Capitol Hill reporters who made unofficial polls that scarcely more than fifteen Senators are opposed to the general idea of closing the tax books to snooping neighbors. He also knows those few opponents, aided unconsciously by proponents of modification without complete repeal, will be able to stir up a terrific amount of time-killing talk.

"Pink slip" repeal may prove to be an effective weapon for indirect filibustering against future New Deal legislation. Watch for White House opposition to take full advantage of it. There isn't any immediate danger of having your 1934 tax return made public and both sides of the Senate know this.

SHADOWS: A wine bottle used in lieu of a gavel called a recent Washington inflation dinner to order. Although the speeches of the evening received scant attention in the public prints they soon will serve as the basis for a sustained drive on the administration for a little more air in our currency and credit system.

Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina as master of ceremonies, introduced Rep. T. Alan Goldsborough of Maryland to offer one of the keynotes.

Goldsborough attacked the present setup because "the government borrows from the bank money it doesn't have; pays interest on the credit thus established on government bonds in the bank's favor, and finally pays back the bank money it never received."

be re-enacted this session. Dowell himself has taken the same attitude, although he has indicated, though not openly expressed such an opinion, that an open rebellion by merchants would not accomplish any permanent good. Too, it is known that many members of the Dowell organization are not opposed to the sales tax so long as they can pass it on to their customers. Chief among this block are department stores, who fear other levies far more than a sales levy.

Apparently most of these advocating mutiny believe that re-enactment of the tax in a stronger form will establish it as a permanent policy. Observers here have long been convinced that the present Legislature will enact the sales tax. They do not believe that any considerable group of merchants will wage a war-

by Mabel Howe Farnham

SYNOPSIS: James Stinson, III, last of the New Concord, N.C., Stinsons with the exception of his mother, Aunt Sarah, has been compelled to forego college because Sarah lost most of the family money. James has read law in Judge Holcomb's office, however, and the Judge is convinced he has a position under his belt. New Concord's economy, meanwhile, have started to find James a suitable wife.

Chapter 13 JANE NORTHUP

THE ladies were agreed on one point at least. Beauty they decided finally might be a help, but could be waived. Charm of manner and consideration for older people were considered indispensable.

Serious-mindedness was debatable as was a fondness for the sterner sex as well as an aptitude for church work.

But the self-elected arbiters of James' destiny set so high a standard as their ideal for his mate that it seemed for a long while that they never would agree and that James would be left to huddle alone unaided and marry in the usual but or miss fashion.

And then when they were most discouraged, in a regular "Isn't Truth Stranger Than Fiction" fashion, just after the ladies had come up bumptious against an insurmountable barrier, Jane Adam de Northrup returned home from two years' schooling in New England following a year in Europe.

The ideal was suddenly found, and the quest ended. As they all joyfully agreed it really seemed too good to be true.

That Jane passed with flying colors every test that the most subtle ingenuity of feminine intellect could devise showed the stuff that she was made of. Even the most critical and most exacting of James' friends, even those who had cherished secret hopes for their own daughters, agreed that Jane seemed to have been made to order as the perfect wife for the brilliant but impractical embryo statesman.

The little circle of earnest enthusiasts drew a deep breath of complete satisfaction as they rested after solving their problem.

As Miss Julia remarked, "It did seem that Providence was looking out for James all the while, just like the Judge had said."

There remained only the minor matter of arranging to throw the chosen two together so that they might fall properly in love. For of course it was to be a love match; nothing less for Dr. Jim's son was to be thought of. Their part was merely to guide a young man's fancy.

JANE NORTHUP had left home three years earlier an overgrown, rather forward, pert and much spoiled only daughter of New Concord's richest citizen. No one except James' father and mother had thought then that she gave promise of good looks or charm.

But she returned so lovely a thing to look at, so perfectly mannered and polished and "finished" a product that her native town felt a warm glow of pride in producing her.

Jane undoubtedly possessed what is known in New Concord as "a head on her shoulders" and she very evidently had used it to the best possible advantage. She dressed beautifully, carried herself well, made the most of every good point.

As she walked down North Fifth Street, apparently quite unconscious of her young alluring slenderness, the women smiled at her. As she passed along Commercial Street all mas-by means of open mutiny against the re-enactment.

Drastic and far-reaching proposals are incorporated in a bill to regulate tax foreclosures drawn by Charles Whedbee, legislative adviser to Governor Ehringhaus, and offered simultaneously in the House and Senate. Representatives Ervin, of Mecklenburg, and Blount, of Baitort, and Senator Allsbrook of Halifax offered the identical bills.

Most striking provisions of the bill are the proposals which would nullify rights of lien-holders to contest tax claims, provide for notification of the Superior Court in which the property in question is located. Failure to do so would be deemed to have waived his right to be served with notice in any tax foreclosure suit brought under this act and any judgment rendered against the taxpayer shall be as binding upon said lien-holder as if . . . and said lien-holder shall be forever estopped from questioning the judgment rendered in said tax foreclosure suit. . . . Although the bill refers constantly to tax foreclosure suits as now conceived by law, would in effect be abolished. Proponents of the bill believe that all future lien holders would be affected by the bill, but they are by no means certain that liens executed in the past could be brought under its terms if the question should be carried to the State Supreme Court.

Proponents of the proposed law declare that it will bring "order out of the present lack of system." They claim the present system as one of "chaos."

The bill provides for "procedure as now prescribed by law up to a certain point. That point is the payment of taxes. The bill provides no plans for the payment or property taxes in addition to the lump settlement now existing; taxpayers would be given the right to choose between four and eight month installment payments, such payments to be made monthly.

Two plans for collection of back taxes, but would turn over his books as usual, on July 1, to the auditor or other officer designated by the county commissioners. The first plan then provides that the commissioners shall order sale of property for uncollected taxes and either advertise such sales in newspapers or order notices served by the sheriff or his deputies. Or,

As an alternate plan the commissioners may serve notice of such tax foreclosures either by registered letter or personal service by a sheriff or a deputy. This procedure to be followed, of course, within the discretion of the commissioners after the sheriff has turned over his books as in the first instance.

Here the bill converges with the present set-up.

The bill is a bulky affair and contains 36 sections. Most observers here believe that the bill will experience considerable difficulty when it comes up for consideration if it meets with approval by its committee. The House sent it to its Finance Committee, the Senate to its Judiciary No. 1 body.

It is understood that it was drawn by Whedbee after various phases of it had been passed upon by certain professors at Duke University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Now legislators here are as yet sufficiently familiar with the bill to discuss it. Arrival of the Revenue and Appropriations Committee in the House and the efforts of both Houses to clear their cluttered calendars for consideration of the two money bills occupied the members of the Legislature.

Announcing

THE METER-ATOR PLAN

AS LOW AS 15¢ A DAY

NO DOWN PAYMENT

This announcement is one of the most important we have ever made because it brings Kelvinator Electric Refrigeration within the reach of every family.

NO DOWN PAYMENT—On this convenient, easy payment plan there is no down payment. You merely deposit as little as 15 cents a day in the METER-ATOR (depending on the model you select), and use the Kelvinator while it pays for itself. If you care to, you can deposit enough for one, two or three weeks at one time. Once a month this money is collected and when the Kelvinator is paid for, the METER-ATOR is removed.

OUT OF SIGHT—If you wish, the METER-ATOR can be placed anywhere near the Kelvinator—out of sight and out of the way.

THE IDEAL WAY—The METER-ATOR Plan is the ideal way to buy your Kelvinator. You will never miss the small daily payment. As a matter of fact, you can actually save enough with your Kelvinator to cover this daily amount.

ENJOY KELVINATOR NOW—Now, there is no need to put off getting your Kelvinator any longer. Come in at your convenience, and get your Kelvinator on our METER-ATOR Plan.

There are 18 different Kelvinator models available on the METER-ATOR Plan. Daily payments range from 15 cents a day upward, depending on the model you select. (K-2200-5)

Mrs. Rose Speaks to Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. J. H. Rose spoke to the Y. W. C. A. of the college last evening on the subject "Loyalty To One-self." She stated that one of the major problems of all people is learning to live with one's self and being loyal to the virtues one possesses.

She said in order for one to be loyal to himself, he must learn to choose between the essentials and non-essentials in life; to think the right thoughts; for what one thinks in a large way determines what one is; and to have a growing consciousness of the divine in one's life.

West Greenville P. T. A. Meets.

The mothers of West Greenville School have been given an unusual opportunity in the course of study provided through the Adult Study Group. We owe our gratitude to Miss Mary York, George-Read Home Economics teacher, who met with us in our January P. T. A. meeting and organized this study group. We have continued to meet one afternoon in each week, and our course of study has included subjects pertaining to child training and home building. As representative of this work, the members of the group presented on last Friday evening at the regular March P. T. A. meeting, a one-act play entitled "Saved."

This play was written by T. W. Rogers, Jr., a Texas man, and the scene took place in a small town of his native state. The setting circle of the Ladies' Missionary Society met at the home of Miss Minnie and Miss Emily Tremaine, and as the play developed, the story of Sue Tremaine and her aunt is told. The cast of characters included: Mrs. M. E. White as Miss Minnie; Mrs. Herman Duncan as Miss Emily; Mrs. L. H. McLawhorn as Mrs. Botic; Mrs. P. L. Goodson as Miss Zilla; and Mrs. Bill Drum as Sue. It would be difficult to point out any one character as responsible for the success of the play, as the routine of conversation kept attention rotating from one to the other, however Mrs. M. E. White, as Miss Minnie, the positive old-maid aunt, who felt herself capable of regulating the lives of her sister and niece, so thoroughly nettered into the spirit of the character she was interpreting, as did Mrs. Herman Duncan who played the part of the sympathizing aunt, and finally succeeded in arranging an elopement for Sue, the niece, played by Mrs. Drum. The spice of the play was provided by Mrs. L. H. McLawhorn, who played to perfection the part of the "neighborhood gossip."

This play was directed by Miss Mary Dirnberger, dramatic coach of E. C. T. C., and is recognized as one of the many interesting and entertaining productions directed by Miss Dirnberger in our community. Mrs. Claude Allgood acted as assistant director, and the costumes and stage property were arranged by Mrs. Dennis Bailey and Mrs. J. D. Aman. During intermission, Miss Agnes Fullove, Mrs. Dink James, Mrs. H. A. McDougal, accompanied by Mrs. Ray Tichen, entertained with several vocal selections. Mrs. J. S. Allen of Ayden, played several piano selections.

A short business meeting immediately followed and was presided over by our president, Mrs. H. A. Hudson. After hearing the minutes of our last meeting by Mrs. L. A. Whitehurst, and treasurer's report by Miss Jane Hadley, the parents were invited to visit the class rooms, especially the new ones which have been recently completed, and are quite an addition to our school.

A large crowd attended and Miss Purvis' fifth grade won the prize for having the most parents present.

Troop 30 Observes Kite Day.

Troop 30 observed the annual kite date with a hike to Camp Pickle. Most of the boys of the troop were present on the hike. The hike started from Scoutmaster Skinner's office at 10 o'clock.

Almost every boy had a kite but many kites were broken on the way to camp. Camp Pickle was reached at about 11:30 o'clock, and many boys put up their kites.

After dinner was cooked and eaten, came the big event of the day, which was the kite flying contest. The contest winners were as follows:

Jack Moye, smallest kite; Clifton Evans, largest kite; John Collins, highest flying kite; Vernon Tyson, prettiest kite.

The hike homeward began at 2 o'clock and everyone had a swell time.

Clifton Evans, Troop Scribe.

First Church of Christ, Scientist.

"Substance" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, scientist, on Sunday, March 17.

The golden text was from Ecclesiastes 3:14: "Whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson sermon was the following from the Bible: "I would seek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cause: Which doeth great things and unsearchable; marvelous things without number." (Job 5:8, 9).

The lesson sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God's thoughts are perfect and eternal, are substance and life. Material and temporal thoughts are human, involving error, and since God, Spirit, is the only cause, they lack a divine cause. The temporal and material are not then creations of Spirit. They are but counterfeit of the spiritual and eternal. Transitory thoughts are the antipodes of everlasting Truth, though (by the supposition of opposite qualities) error must also say, 'I am true!'"

Tea At The College.

The second of a series of informal Sunday afternoon teas was held in Fleming Hall by the college students yesterday from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

A number called during the hour, including members of the faculty and their wives and relatives and friends of the students who were on the campus visiting them.

Miss Annie Newell of the faculty, and Misses Mary Shaw Robeson and Onie Cochran were hostesses. Punch and wafers were served by Misses Maywood Wagner, Naomi Newell, DeLorse Smith, Lucy LeRoy, Frances Callahan and Mary Elizabeth Barker.

Celebrates Eighth Birthday.

On Thursday afternoon from four to six o'clock, little Miss Margaret Anne Johnson delightfully entertained about twenty of her little friends at a birthday party at her home on Paris avenue.

As the little guests arrived they were served fruit punch, then all were seated and stories and games were told and played. Next came the contests. Little Miss Faye Duval won the guessing prize, and little Miss Mary Barden Taylor won the donkey prize.

After the contests the guests were invited into the dining room. On the table was the two-tier birthday cake with eight lighted candles, decorated with blue and yellow, carrying out the color scheme throughout the home. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Margaret Anne, after which they were served cream and cake.

Favors were Easter Eggs, chicks and bunny rabbits. Margaret Anne was recipient of many lovely little presents.

Dr. ReBarker Y.W.C.A. Speaker.

Dr. Herbert ReBarker spoke Friday evening at the Y. W. C. A. of the college. His subject was "Religious Efforts To Solve Major World Problems." His talk concluded the study course which has been held for several weeks.

He pointed out that all worthwhile inventions, improvements, and discoveries, in the past had religion as their basis. This, he said, proves that in the future the fundamental way of solving world problems must be through a common religion of the natives.

Davidson College News.

(Special To The Reflector) Davidson, March 18.—Among six hundred and fifty students registered for the spring term at Davidson College are H. G. Sugg and B. F. Moseley of Greenville.

During his career at Davidson, Sugg has been active in undergraduate circles and has taken an interest in extra-curricular activities. He is a member of the Sophomore class and is on the staff of several campus publications, besides being a varsity debater. He belongs to Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity.

During his career Moseley has been active in undergraduate circles and has taken an interest in extra-curricular activities. He is a member of the Sophomore class and of Kappa Sigma social fraternity.

Dr. Wells At College Tonight.

Dr. B. W. Wells, head of the botany department of State College, who is to speak on the college campus tonight, under the auspices of the A. A. U. W., will be a guest of honor at the formal dinner scheduled by the college for six o'clock this evening.

At the table where Dr. Wells is to be seated, Miss Lorraine Hunter, chairman of the program committee of the A. A. U. W., will be the hostess. Also at the table will be Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, president of the local branch of the A. A. U. W., Robert Sugg Fleming, president of the science club at the college, and Miss Rachel Stone, a representative of the student body, who is also a member of the science club.

Dr. Wells, an authority on gardens and gardening, will lecture in the Austin Auditorium at eight o'clock on "Natural Gardens of North Carolina," and will illustrate his lecture by the use of colored slides showing various gardens of the state at the height of their beauty.

President L. R. Meadows will introduce the speaker. Those who have heard Dr. Wells report that his lecture is most interesting, and that the colored reproduction of garden scenes are well worth seeing.

Special invitations to hear this speaker have been extended to the clubs of the town that are interested in beautifying the landscape and to the science club of the college. All other people, too, who are interested in gardens or in beauty of their state are cordially invited to be present.

New York Cotton

New York, March 18.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened weak, 24 to 41 points decline on lower Liverpool cables and under active liquidation and foreign selling with the demand poor.

Stop loss orders were uncovered on the initial break which carried July and new crop positions to new loss ground for the movement. May declined to 10.30, or within five points of last Monday's low.

Active months generally showed net losses of 45 to 63 points. The decline prompted covering and trade buying and prices rallied eight to twenty-five points from the extreme lows at the end of the first half-hour. Further Southern selling was reported later in the morning. It was attributed to hedging.

While futures were irregular, there was enough trade buying and covering to cause rallies. The improvement met renewed selling in most positions. An easier tone developed after May rose from 10.30 to 10.52 and October from 10.10 to 10.26.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, March 18.—(AP)—Securities markets were depressed by the militaristic week-end news from Europe and slumps occurred in several leading commodity markets today.

Stocks slid off one to two points in several leading issues in early dealings and later as selling subsided they showed virtually no recuperative power. By early afternoon United States Steel, Bethlehem, American Telephone and several others took on a new level since 1933.

Cotton was depressed by another flurry of selling from Europe and grains were down at the start, but most of the staples markets recovered part of the losses as trading progressed.

News of a French loan to Belgium reversed the recent flow of funds from Europe to London and gold currencies rallied when the British pound and related moneys slumped with depressing effect on the American commodity markets.

The late stock tone was easy. Transfers were 620,000 shares.

for immediate consideration of the general sales tax section of the bill and voted to consider the measure section by section as submitted by the joint finance committee after a warm debate.

The action was taken by the House sitting as a committee of the whole with Rep. Harris of Person, former speaker, presiding as chairman.

In explaining the revenue bill drafted by the finance committee, said it was designed to raise $31,750,000 for 1935-36 and $31,959,028 for 1936-37, a total of $63,709,028 for the biennium.

He said it represented an increase in revenue for the biennium of $13,897,766 over the estimated receipts for the current biennium. By schedules he said it was estimated the revenue bill would get:

From inheritance taxes, $750,000; from license taxes under schedule B, $2,400,000; from franchise taxes of schedule C, $7,800,000; from income taxes, $8,150,000; from sales taxes, $9,250,000.

The Senate was not in session today, being in recess until tonight and the revenue act held the attention of Capitol Hill.

Relief Bill Near Final Vote. Washington, March 18.—(AP)—The $4,880,000,000 relief bill with the prevailing wage issue compromise today approached a final ballot on passage with the administration leaders confident of success.

Easy Payment Plan Announced On Kelvinators

The Carolina Sales Corporation announced today the adoption of an easy payment plan whereby everybody can own a Kelvinator.

Under the plan the firm will install a Kelvinator free in your home. On this they place a meter-ator. You can buy the Kelvinator as low as 15 cents a day by simply putting any amount you desire in the meter. A collector will come around the first of the month and collect from the meter. He will give you a receipt for the amount taken from the meter and you will be given credit for same at the office, and when you have paid for the Kelvinator it is yours. No down payments will be required.

E. E. Rawl, sales manager for the corporation, said today Kelvinator sales tripled this year as compared with the past year. He said he is confident business will continue to increase by leaps and bounds.

An advertisement regarding the plan is carried in the columns of this paper today.

To Plant 26,000 Trees
Dalhart, Texas.—(AP)—Relief workers here will plant 26,000 trees in a 25,000-acre wind erosion control project.
