PREPARE FOR INAUGURATION OF MEADOWS

Inaugural Ceremony to be one of Features Of College Commencement Season

The inauguration of Dr. L. R. Meadows as president of East Carolina Teachers College has been fixed as one of the features of the coming commencement. It will take place on Saturday morning, June 1. This will be one of the most interesting occasions Greenville has ever had and will bring a great many distinguished visitors here.

The inauguration address will be delivered by ex-Governor Pat M. Neff, now president of Baylor University, Waco, Texas.

The investiture of office will be an imposing ceremony. The academic procession, which will include representatives from a number of colleges and universities throughout the country, will add color and pageantry.

Dr. Meadows did much of his undergraduate work at Baylor University, receiving his A.B. degree from that university when he was quite young, as it is peculiarly fitting that the speaker should be from there.

The alumnae day, which will hold their meeting after the luncheon, which will be as usual, but with the guests here for the inauguration as honor guests. One of the advantages of having the inauguration as a part of the alumnae a chance to attend. Dr. Meadows has always been very popular with the alumnae.

The commencement sermon will be on Sunday morning, June 2. Dr. Oliver J. Hart, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church and chaplain of the Senate, will preach the sermon. He will also lead the Y. M. C. A. services that evening.

The opening event of commencement will, as usual, be the musical recital on Friday night, which is May 31.

Sutton Case Given To Jury This Afternoon

The Sutton case, which has held attention of Superior Court here throughout the week went to the jury shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon following the charge by Judge M. V. Barnhill of Rocky Mount. The judge's charge followed a presentation of the case by attorneys for both the plaintiff and defense.

The case was begun Monday morning and has held attention of court throughout the week. A considerable mass of evidence was presented on both sides.

The suit centers around an effort of W. J. Sutton to recover property which he alleges was fraudulently disposed of by his sons and others while he was in a state of mental deficiency and in the hands of guardians. Sutton won his fight last spring, but the case was returned for a new trial by the Supreme Court.

SEEK TO AVERT STRIKE OF SOFT COAL MINERS

Conference Called to Consider Matter, as Critics Hammer at The NRA

Washington, D. C., March 30.—(AP)—Sensational critics of NRA hammered away today at the Roosevelt administration bill to extend the Blue Eagle for another two years.

Meanwhile a crucial conference was called in attempt to avert a call for a walkout of 500,000 soft coal workers next Monday morning. The NRA, through its chairman, Donald R. Richberg, had submitted a plan for peace in the coal wage crisis. Although it was emphasized that nothing was settled one informed source said it was a good bet that the walkout which the United Mine Workers insisted would not be a strike would be averted.

says the miners will not work without Sunday night and the "U. M." says to miners will not work without contracts. The NRA suggested the present coal contract be extended until June 6 when the recovery law expires.

Given hearing on a charge of highway robbery in police court this morning, Otis Watson, colored, was bound over to the next term of Superior court under bond. He was unable to provide bail and was remanded to jail to await trial.

RUSSIANS IN FAVOR OF PLAN FOR SECURITY

British Peace Envoy Told to Let Germany Enter Proposed Pact Or Stay Out

London March 30.—(AP)—Joseph Stalin and Maxim Litvinoff told Britain's peace envoy today, according to information from Moscow reaching official quarters here, that Russia recommends that the powers proceed to the Stresa conference with the European security system as planned permitting Germany to join or stay out as she likes.

The Russians, told Captain Anthony Eden, it was understood, that the Soviets prefer such a collective system instead of a group of alliances on the continent.

The Soviets have declined to compromise with Hitler on the mutual assistance feature of the proposed eastern pact, Eden was told.

Russia wants the original plan developed in Anglo-French conversations in London to stand and hopes that Eden can convince the Polish people to join the agreement regardless of the German attitude, the British were informed.

Eden is leaving Moscow for Warsaw where he is seeing Marshal Joseph Pilsudski. It was stated here that all European problems will be discussed.

TWO ROBBERS NABBED HERE

Negroes Charged with Two Robberies Here And one at Farmville in February

Police today had solved two robberies—two here and one in Farmville—as result of the arrest of two negroes here and in Kinston during the week-end, it was revealed today by Chief of Police George Clark.

Those arrested are Henry Barber who gave South Carolina as his home, and Clifton Carr, former Greenville negro, who for the last few years has been living in Danville, Va. They will be given preliminary hearing probably Monday.

Barber was taken into custody at Kinston Thursday and implicated Carr who was nabbed in the heart of the business district here this morning. Barber, Chief of Police Clark said, confessed.

They are charged with robbing the Sinclair Filling Station, corner Fifth and Greene Street, and the Blades Motors Company, in Greenville, on the night of February 11. They also allegedly entered a garage at Farmville prior to the robberies here, cut a safe to pieces with an acetylene torch without reaching the cash. Only $3 in cash was obtained in the filling station robbery here, but nothing was reported missing from the Blades Motor Company, although the safe was rifled and papers scattered around the room.

Barber was arrested shortly after being found asleep in a filling station at Kinston Thursday night. Chief Clark was notified of the arrest, went to Kinston and found that the negro's fingerprints matched with those found at the scene of the two robberies here as well as that in Farmville.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in finally rounding up Carr who was reported hiding out near Greenville. This morning he came to town and was taken into custody while he sat in an automobile in the business district.

GRADY SPEAKS TO KIWANIS

Presbyterian Minister's Talk on 'Peace' Highlight of Clubmen's Program

One of the most interesting and pertinent addresses to which the Greenville Kiwanis Club has listened for a long time was delivered here last night by the Rev. R. C. Grady, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Grady's subject was "Peace" and the manner in which it was handled would have done credit to a much older man. Since the anniversary of the U. S. entrance into the World War will be celebrated next Sunday, Mr. Grady presented his discussion under two heads: "Can the United States keep out of a European War?" and "Is there a way out?"

Under the first division of his address the speaker listed eleven reasons why the United States would be more than likely to become involved in a European war, should such a conflict materialize. These reasons were: The eagerness for a chance following a long period of financial depression with a resultant drain of living and outlook; heavy investments of American capital in foreign countries which holders will demand be protected; our present military policy by which practically entering race for race activities with other world powers; lack of adequate legislation to maintain an embargo on munitions shipments; lack of legislation tending to prohibit shipment of munitions under false labels; Chauvinistic leadership of so-called 100 per cent Americanism as found in many of our professedly patriotic organizations; newspapers and politicians; in fact, that U. S. is a capitalist state and war business means profits; lack of strong radical leadership competent to combat subversive fascist doctrines; the cost of staying out of war is greater than cost of co-operation for peace.

Answering the question, "Is there a way out?" the speaker listed several methods such as educational policies, but concluded that, while the ideal for long-range training would not adequately serve in an emergency. The most promising way out was for increasing numbers of citizens to make it known that they would not participate in another war, realizing the futility, wastefulness and crime of all wars. Through the work of some such organization as The War Resisters League, he advocated the building up of an effective sentiment for peace which would not only refuse to fight in a war, once it was declared, but would use to the utmost its powers to make public declarations concerning peace and seek in every legitimate and rightful way to educate the public mind so that increasing numbers would refuse to participate in or sanction another war.

President Dink James and Guy Smith were elected delegates to the International Kiwanis Convention soon to be held in San Antonio, Tex. A musical program under the direction of Miss Shindler was enjoyed by those present. Two numbers were sung by Misses Helen Foley, Eileen Sawyer and Mabel Beaman.

Late News Flashes

Railroads Denied Increases.
Washington, March 30.—(AP)—American railroads were denied the right to make horizontal increases in freight rates today but at the same time were authorized by the I. C. C. in a split decision to again add emergency charges to existing rates. The emergency charges will apply to a large part of the freight of the country until June 30, 1936.

They are similar, said the commission, except in amounts to those which were authorized in 1931, and which ended Sept. 30, 1933. The emergency charges in general on carload traffic will be 7 per cent of the total lines hauling transportation charge subject to a maximum of 5 cents on the 100 pounds.

LEGISLATIVE RAMBLINGS

By C. A. PAUL

The Douglass gas mask bill was almost gassed to death by a rollicking house of representatives. The bill would have required all cities having fire departments, to purchase gas masks for firemen. Taken up out of order upon the motion of Dr. Douglass, of Wake, father of the bill who had conceived it as a result of a recent disastrous department store fire in Raleigh's downtown area, the bill at once became the target for amendments.

"Provided, that this act shall also apply to members of the Legislature and that all gas masks purchased under this act shall be purchased from Major Hooper" read one sent forward by Representative Blount of Beaufort. Representative Palmer of Cabarrus, chimed in with an amendment which would have required all newspaper men covering the Legislature to be equipped with the masks. At that juncture Dr. Douglass, resenting the playful mood of his colleagues, moved that consideration of his bill be deferred, but the House would not heed it. It voted him down.

There followed a deluge of amendments exempting county after county from the effect of the measure. Finally, the dilemma was solved by Representative Cherry of Gaston who sent forward an amendment. (Continued on Page Two)

VAN ZEELAND WINS OUT IN GOLD BATTLE

Belgium Premier Given Smashing Victory in Chamber of Deputies Today

Brussels, March 30.—(AP)—Premier Van Zeeland won a smashing victory today on his policy for suspending the gold standard and devaluating the belga and immediately turned to the Senate to learn the fate of the program.

The cabinet decided to demand a vote of confidence today in order to push ahead its bills devaluating the currency by 25 per cent and prolonging the government's special powers.

Van Zeeland answered his critics with repeated references to President Roosevelt's program. He said: "I am keen admirer of President Roosevelt's program. He certainly committed errors. Had he based his program on suspending gold the crisis would be ended now. But I apply only the Roosevelt measure to Belgium which is good."

HOLD NEGRO IN THEFT CASE

Henry Batts Arrested Here For Wilmington Officers on Charge of Larceny

Henry Batts, colored, was being held for Wilmington authorities today following his arrest at the home of a brother on Fleming Street here last night.

Batts was taken into custody by Sheriff Sam Whit-hurst who immediately notified Wilmington officers. It was understood the negro was wanted on a charge of stealing an outboard motor in Wilmington sometime ago and then escaping. Officers were expected to arrive from New Hanover County today to return him to Wilmington for preliminary hearing.

Batts was taken into custody at the home of his brother, Obie Batts, on Fleming Street, where he had been stopping for the last three or four days.

Officers would have known nothing of his appearance here had not Sheriff Whitehurst been notified from Wilmington yesterday and asked to be on the lookout for the negro.

Under-Cover Campaign Seeks Parole For Lea

Reflecter Bureau Sir Walter Hotel By J. C. BASKERVILL
Raleigh, March 30.—(AP)—An intensive under-cover campaign to bring more and more pressure to bear on Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus to get him to grant a parole to Colonel Luke Lea, former Tennessee publisher, is being carried on here by those interested in getting a parole for Colonel Lea. It was learned that some one of the ace cards being played to get Colonel Lea out of prison is the bill introduced in the house some time ago and still in committee to abolish the office of Commissioner of Paroles, set up a Parole Board of five members and thus take the power of parole entirely away from the Governor. It is intimated that a threat has been made that if Lea is not paroled, this bill will be passed and the parole power entirely removed from the Governor.

It has been intimated by the friends of Colonel Lea that they can get enough members of the Parole Board appointed who will be friendly enough towards him to assure his release, according to confidential reports.

This bill was introduced in the

STAGE IS SET FOR FESTIVAL OF MUSIC HERE

Eight Hundred Voices To Take Part in Musical Event at College Tomorrow

The community was looking forward today to the music festival to be given in the Campus Building of East Carolina Teachers College tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the North Carolina Music Festival Association.

This is the first sectional event of the kind staged by the association and people from many sections of the State were expected to be in attendance.

A chorus of over eight hundred voices will be a feature of the combined program, and a number of towns in this part of the State will be represented by the singers. The towns in this part of the state will be New Bern, Ayden, Kinston, Kennedy Home, and Greenville.

Pat Alderman, executive secretary of the North Carolina Music Festival Association, who was in the city the latter part of the week making final preparations for the festival, said he hoped to make this the greatest program ever offered in this section of the country.

Mrs. Worth Wicker, chairman of the Greenville Choral Club, has been assisting in getting everything in shape for the program. The Greenville Club is acting as host club to the organizations coming for the program. Other officers who have been working with their chairman in a great way are Miss Jessie Brown, chairman of the Junior war, Buster Starkey, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Guy Smith, accompanist.

Various committees have been doing their bit to get everything in ship-shape order are Mrs. Thelma publicity; Miss Brown, arrangements, and Mrs. Hewes, program. All committees report everything in fine shape.

Mayor R. C. Flannagan will welcome the visiting clubs and the visitors in the audience and get the program off to a good start. Rev. W. A. Ryan will give the invocation and Rev. Worth Wicker the benediction. The marshals of the college will attend to the ushering business for the afternoon. Prof. J. B. Cummings has been most helpful in getting the stage all set at the college. The big chorus will be seated on raised platforms on the stage and sides.

Program and song sheets will be in hand for the audience. Come early if you desire to sit down. The indications are that a host of out-of-town people will present for the festival occasion.

The organization, which has a unit in Greenville is rehearsing eight thousand people in the state each week is an effort to create more interest in community singing and the sectional event to be here tomorrow is one of a number to be held in other parts of the State.

In addition to the chorus of eight hundred voices, the program tomorrow will consist on an adult chorus of two hundred voices and a junior chorus of three hundred voices. Each of the groups will be heard in separate recitals as well as in combined performance.

Fred Allen, of Kinston and New York, will direct the program here.

house by Representative Thomas R. Cooper of New Hanover county, who is known to be friendly towards Colonel Lea and active in his behalf. Several weeks ago Cooper told several people that General John J. Pershing was planning to come to Raleigh to make a personal plea to the Governor for a parole for Lea.

While neither the Governor nor any high state officials will discuss the Lea matter or the pending bill to create a Parole Board and take the parole power out of the hands of the Governor, it has been intimated from sources close to state officials that his bill is being moved as a club or will be used as a club if the Governor continues to refuse to grant a parole for Colonel Lea.

One section of the bill would grant additional time off to those who have been convicted of crimes and to those who hold honorable discharges from the Army, Navy or Marine Corps. Colonel Lea served overseas in the World War. He would be given six days a month more time than the other prisoners, a bill, should pass, bankers serving prison terms would (Continued on Page Three)

HIS GREATEST ROLE

Yes, sir—those who have seen Wallace Beery in "West Point of the Air" say it's his greatest role and that's saying lots about this grand master of screen roles. "West Point of the Air" features not only Wallace Beery, but also Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan and host of film stars. The story is filmed against the background of the U. S. Air College at Randolph Field, Texas. Beery, who is an experienced pilot and holds a transport pilot's license plays the role of an aviator sergeant in the picture.

Factory whistles will sound, bells will ring, the band will play and the meeting will go off with a bang. If anyone has a suggestion to offer in regard to baseball, this meeting is the time to get it off their chest.

A number of ladies have already stated that they will be present among them being Mesdames A. B. Corey, Lindsay Savage, John Clark and a number of others. Several other ladies have stated that they will make a two-minute talk on baseball, they being Jane Hadley, Sue Barrett and Alma Lee.

If you miss this meeting you will regret it during the season because a number of matters are going to be discussed that are of vital importance to every baseball fan. Every child that attends the meeting with their parents will be given a "Jumbo Ice Cream Cone." So it is up to the children to get their parents out to the meeting which will not last long. The president of every organization, fraternal, lodge, society have been asked to postpone their meeting. Tuesday night is baseball night in Greenville—and nothing else.

also get this additional six days a month "good time" and their sentences be reduced accordingly. The bill would also restore the full rights of citizenship of prisoners paroled by the parole board, in addition to the extra six days a month which prisoners convicted of crimes of non-violence or with honorable discharges from the Army, Navy or Marine Corps would be allowed, the bill would also allow an additional ten days "good time" each month for prisoners in the highest grade, nine days a month in the next grade and eight days a month in B grade, with no "good time" allowance for prisoners in C grade.

In addition to these allowances for time off, the bill further provides that each prisoner in the highest grade shall be given 45 additional days "good time" to be cut from his sentence at the end of every year in the next grade 35 days a year off their sentences and those in the next grade 30 days off, provided they have not been disciplined during the prison year. It also provides that only those who have been convicted of felonies must serve one year in prison before being eligible for parole after serving one year of their sentences.

to secure a parole for Lea, it was learned. It has been intimated rather pointedly to those close to the Governor that if a parole is not forthcoming for Lea in the near future that William Randolph Hearst will send some of his high-powered news men and feature writers to North Carolina and "expose" the entire North Carolina prison system, including the recent Mecklenburg county prison camp incident, where the feet of two prisoners froze while in solitary confinement, making the amputation of their feet necessary, and publish the story in big full-page "spreads" in Hearst newspapers throughout the United States. One member of the House Penal Institutions Committee told this correspondent that a special correspondent for the Hearst papers was here last week and came to see him seeking information about the Mecklenburg county case.

The prevailing opinion here, however, is that Governor E. M. Bingham is not going to be bluffed or "high pressured" into granting Lea a parole.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, March 30.—(AP)—The stock market ended the week and the month today with a quiet display of confidence.

Encouraged by such key groups as railroads and metals other divisions had no difficulty in keeping in step and closing prices for active leaders were minor fractions to a point higher.

Transfers were 250,000 shares.

The backwardness of cotton caused some modern concern to commodity markets, but grains pushed higher when more dust storms were reported in the Middle West and further strengthening was reflected on the spot market. Bar silver was in the vanguard of other commodities, advancing 1.3 per cent to 61.4 ounce, or within striking distance of the recent established peak.

Bonds were enlivened by a subsequent upturn in other branches.

A sharp drop in the British pound sterling occurred under extensive trading.

In Congress Today

Washington, March 30.—(AP)—House leaders decided today unless there is a change on the Senate situation by Monday the House will enact the $4,880,000 work relief bill including limitation objected to by Secretary Ickes.

The difficulty was provided, it was stated, in the bill requiring that at least a third of the $900,000,000 allotted for loans or grants to state projects must be spent for direct relief work. Ickes contended that it would virtually nullify the chances of spending the money and creating jobs.

PENSION FOR N. C. TEACHERS BEING SOUGHT

Measure Introduced In Legislature Seeking Old Age Fund For State Teachers

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, N. C., March 30.—What observers here termed a "pension racket" bill was introduced in the Legislature by Senator Browning of Swain. The measure would compel teachers to "contribute" 5 per cent of their salaries to the pension fund and would appropriate $50,000 from the State's general fund, as a starter.

The amount of the pension to be paid to any teacher would be left to the discretion of the Pension Fund Board which the bill would establish. The board would consist of the Governor, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the State Auditor, the State Treasurer, a county superintendent of schools and one teacher, the two latter members to be appointed by the Governor. The bill provides that any teacher would have to teach within his discretion pension those who were only 55, but in no case would a teacher be pensioned who had not taught twenty years in the State's school system.

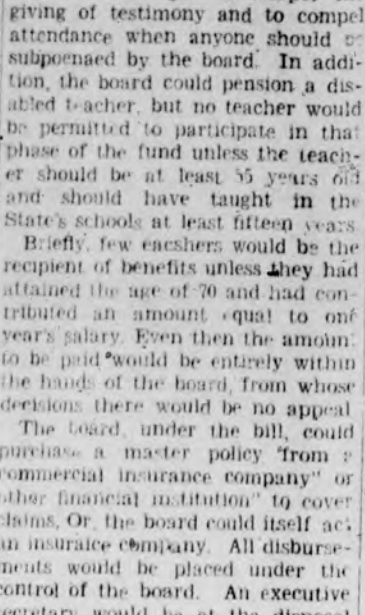

Membership would be compulsory as would also "contributions," as they are termed in the bill. Contributions would be deducted from teachers' salary checks and turned over to the board. The act would become effective next July 1 and would immediately start collection of 1 per cent of teachers' pay checks until the board could get into operation, after which the board could levy a charge of 5 per cent against such salaries, but in no case could a contribution be less than $8 nor more than $100 for any one year. If a teacher died before completing her payments to the fund, in other words, if a girl should finish school teach a few years and then get married and stop teaching she would have to forfeit 2 to 2.2 per cent of her total income.

The bill would authorize the director of the budget to allot an amount from the State's general fund for each year, beginning 1937 to be used as a part of the pension fund. This amount would not exceed the 5 per cent donations by the teachers. In other words, based on present teacher-pay, teachers would be compelled to contribute $80,000 annually, the State to supply an amount not to exceed that sum. The bill further grants to the pension board discretionary powers such as the right to compel the giving of testimony and to compel attendance when anyone should be subpoenaed by the board. In addition, the board could pension a disabled teacher, but no teacher would be permitted to participate in that phase of the fund unless they had attained the age of 70 and had contributed an amount equal to one year's salary. Even then the amount to be paid would be entirely within the hands of the board, from whose decisions there would be no appeal.

The board under the bill, could purchase a master policy from a commercial insurance company or other financial institution to cover claims. Or the board could itself act as an insurance company. All disbursements would be placed under the control of the board. An executive secretary would be at the disposal of the board, the secretary's salary to be paid not from the pension fund, but from the State's general fund. The salary is fixed at $3,600 annually.

The bill is now in the hands of the Senate Education Committee.

Panthers To Play Teachers Today-Monday

East Carolina Teachers College will meet the High Point Panthers in a two-game series of baseball beginning this (Saturday) afternoon and again on Monday afternoon.

The Teachers opened their season here last Wednesday against the strong team of Guilford, losing the first game after a strong eighth inning rally by the Quakers, and tying the last game at five-all.

The two games on tap for this afternoon and Monday promise local fans a chance to see some real baseball, and a great treat is in store for those who attend. The games are scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock each afternoon on the college athletic field.
