NINE MONTHS
SCHOOL AGAIN
BOOSTED HERETwo Parent-Teacher
Organizations Vote
Overwhelmingly in Favor of Proposal

The movement looking to a nine-months' school term for Greenville received additional impetus here last night when two parent-teacher organizations meeting in widely separated areas of the city voted overwhelmingly in favor of the proposal.

This endorsement follows favorable action by the local Post of the American Legion and the Kiwanis Clubs and other organizations appreciating the value of a nine-months' school to the children of the city, are expected to take similar action in the near future.

Favorable votes were recorded last night at Parent-Teacher meetings at Third Street and the Training School. The vote in each instance was overwhelming and followed vigorous appeals in behalf of the movement by parents.

Mayor Flanagan gave his wholehearted endorsement of the movement at the West Greenville meeting, declaring he favored an extra month of school what he described as the best interests of the children of the city and community.

The mayor was outspoken in his desire that the city with its fine financial record should be among those giving its children the same privileges as those enjoyed by some of the larger towns of the State and was one of those who case his vote in favor of the issue.

Attendance at both meetings was the largest of months, and numbers of interesting talks dealing with the proposal were made by parents, each revealing a general desire for the additional months.

The city has been operating on the eight months' term since the State took over control of the schools two years ago, and though numbers of appeals for the extra month have been heard from time to time, this is the first concerted movement undertaken here.

The American Legion and Kiwanis Club gave their wholehearted endorsement to the plan at previous meetings, and pledged their entire memberships to its support. Improvement of schools has been made one of the main objectives of both organizations, both in the State and nation, and each town finds them fighting for improvement in the educational system.

COLLECTIONS OF TAXES OFFSlackening of Payments of City Taxes
Noted During the Past Month

Slackening in the city of collections during the past month was as great as the corresponding months last year, but the reason was only a matter of a few days, it was revealed today. Duval, city clerk, who has completed the check up for the month, said that as compared with March this year, collections were $5,753.10 as compared with $5,753.10 last year.

He said about 65 per cent of the taxes had been collected, but he believed that the figure would be still greater at the end of the month.

During the month were the latter part of last year, that is always the case, money is easy or tight. Last year a new record set for the month with $20,000 being reported. The report was made up until the first of the month.

Persons who have their taxes to do so as early as possible, and in that way they can come to the end of the year with financial colors still in the air.

The first few months above those of previous years enabled the city to finish the first half of the year with a paid money still in the treasury. It was hoped the same situation will prevail in June when the fiscal year is closed.

H. W. WINSTEAD
PASSES AWAYCitizen of Rocky Mount Community
To be Laid to Rest
Here Tomorrow

News was received here today of the death in Rocky Mount last night of Hammer W. Winstead, planter and former tobacco man who had a number of relatives in this community.

Death occurred last night at 8 o'clock in the Rocky Mount Sanatorium where Mr. Winstead underwent an operation a few days ago. Funeral services will be conducted from his late home near Rocky Mount tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and the body will be brought to Greenville where a brief commitment service will be held in Cherry Hill cemetery, where interment will take place.

He was the grandson of the late Sheriff Bill and Mrs. Almata King of Greenville, and had a number of relatives here who received news of his death with deep sorrow.

He was a member of an old and socially prominent family, and was connected with the tobacco business in China prior to confining his attention to agriculture in the Rocky Mount territory.

He is survived by his wife who was formerly Miss Lizzie Higgs, of Greenville.

STRIKE VOTE

IN AKRON, O.Major Rubber Companies Prepare For Strike as Strike Leaders Take Vote

Akron, O., April 2.—(AP)—Three major rubber companies cleared their decks for a stormy spell of labor troubles today, but union leaders continued to take their strike votes and remain silent.

Sheriff James T. Flower had 1,000 special deputies at his call as union workers at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company cast ballots for or against the strike.

The Goodrich and Firestone locals of the United Rubber Workers of America have set their elections for Sunday.

About 250 special guards equipped with helmets, tear gas and night sticks, guarded the Firestone plant last night. Special deputies also patrolled the Goodyear and Goodrich plants.

Adjutant Emil S. Marx of the Ohio National Guards, said he had received no request for National Guardsmen in event of strike here but he said he had sent an observer into the city.

Sheriff Flower said that if the strike move is made he will immediately warn citizens to stay clear of the danger zone in the vicinity of the plants which will be patrolled by deputies and police.

Now It's Japanese Beer

Washington, D. C., April 2.—(AP)—Japan has come to the front as an exporter of beer, the Department of Commerce reports. Sales of Japanese beer abroad in 1933 ranked second only to that of Great Britain, the leading exporter. The present sales of Japanese beer abroad, the report states, would not be sufficient to cover packing costs in Germany.

TAXES: Unless the Congressional situation develops even more snarls than now anticipated, you good folks of the nation need not worry about additional federal taxation during this session.

The Roosevelt administration, so its Congressional spokesmen indicated, will be satisfied with a re-enactment of some $400,000,000 of nuisance taxes. These already have been in effect on radios, auto accessories, gas, etc., long enough generally to be taken for granted.

A Republican press agent might point out that the New Deal very much doesn't want new tax legislation because next year is a presidential campaign year. But he would only be repeating what Democratic press agents said at the same period of the political year when the G. O. P. was in power. Tax increases and campaigns don't mix well.

FEW CHANGES TO BE MADE IN SPENDING BILLTeachers to Get Preference in Pay Increases During Next Biennium

The Reflector, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, N. C., April 2.—Few changes will be made in the appropriations bill by the Senate. Already passed by the Lower House with only two changes—an increase in the allotment for vocational agriculture from $116,000 to $200,000 and a proviso that school teachers are to be given preference in salary increases—the Senate is expected to make short work of the money-pending bill which appropriates more than $64,000,000 for the next two years.

The appropriations measure, which was sent to the floor of the House after its committee had labored on it for sixty days, experienced little difficulty in gaining House approval. A move to increase to $22,000,000 annually the allotments for public schools was halted by R-representative Victor Bryant, House Appropriations chairman, after Mr. McDonald and other advocates of the larger figure had waged a fight.

Chairman Bryant read a letter signed by Dr. McDonald which had been broadcast to school people throughout the State in which McDonald urged asking for a still larger appropriation in order to get the $22,000,000. McDonald places the blame for the failure to get an increase above the appropriations bill on Clyde Erwin, State School Superintendent, who, he charges, refused to be quoted as favoring the larger figure at the crucial moment during House debate. Because of Erwin's refusal, McDonald, once Erwin's staunch supporter, has broken with him and announced that he will never again support him. The appropriations bill carries public school allotments of $20,631,000 and $20,800,000 for the next two years. A move by Representative Erwin, of Mecklenburg, to slice the appropriations for the State University also suffered defeat.

The school forces long victory on the floor was the provision that school teachers be given preference in salary increases over State employees. In other words, if it is decided that all employees cannot be given pay increases amounting to 20 per cent for the first year and 25 per cent for the second the school teachers are to receive the full raise and other State employees are to be raised according to revenue.

Commissioners
Hold Monthly Meeting Here

The monthly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners was held at the courthouse yesterday, but only routine matters received consideration.

The board confined practically its entire time to the paying of bills, hearing reports and listening to several hundred indigent persons who were turned back by the government to the county sometime ago. Considerable time is always taken up in listening to the appeals of the unemployables, and the board found much of the day vanished when this hearing was finished yesterday.

Manufacturing Association Code

Washington, D. C., April 2.—(AP)—The Federal Trade Commission announced today it was preparing a complaint against the Rubber Manufacturers' Association NRA code authority on charges of price-fixing.

The complaint will deal particularly with alleged price-fixing and other unfair competitive methods in connection with the sale of fire hose. Until this is prepared, no other data concerning the contents may be revealed.

Commission officials said it would be based on the recommendations of its investigation staff which yesterday reported its findings to the Senate Finance Committee now holding hearings on the NRA.

LINCOLN CORTAGE FLUTTER
MAKES 90TH BIRTHDAY

Denver.—(AP)—H. F. Martin, who played a flur in the band which led the funeral cortege of Abraham Lincoln, recently celebrated his 90th birthday on the job as usual—selling masculine attire in a downtown clothing store.

Six feet tall, straight, clean-shaven and his dark hair not unusually gray, Martin believes you can grow old "without showing it" by the simple rules: "Never worry. Live moderately. Eat sparingly."

Martin relates he wanted to enlist in the Union Army when the Civil War started, but was rejected, he said, because of "consumption," as they called it in those days.

He knew Lincoln, he said, describing him as looking like "a gangling farmer in a top hat."

Martin was born in Decatur, Ill. A son, Milton Martin, 69, now lives there.

LEAF CHECK
RUSH ON HEREHundreds of Growers
Visit Farm Office to Obtain Tobacco Adjustment
Payments

The rush for tobacco adjustment checks was on in real earnest here today and hundreds of farmers and farm women were congregated in front of the farm office on the court house square awaiting their turn to get their "comeback" money as many call it.

Distribution of the batch of checks totaling $460,000 actually got under way here yesterday morning following the mailing out of notices Saturday afternoon.

E. F. Arnold, director of the farm office, who is in charge of distribution of the checks, said this morning his office force was taxed to capacity and would be the remainder of the week when the last of the checks is expected to be in the hands of the growers.

The department is issuing the checks at the rate of between five and six hundred daily, and with 2,600 on hand it was certain the end of the week would see the bulk in the hands of the growers.

Something like $500,000 is to be paid to the growers of this county for taking part in the government control plan, but the total amount was not included in the first batch of checks reaching here the latter part of last week. However, the government is expected to rush the remainder of the money to the county as rapidly as possible.

This additional money is expected to play an important part in enabling the growers to carry on planting operations this season, and when the coming crop is on the floors they are expected to be in much better financial condition than they have been in years.

Mr. Arnold said his department was exerting every effort to deliver the checks as rapidly as possible. The crowd yesterday was not as large as that today because the majority of growers did not receive their notices until sometime yesterday and consequently were not able to reach the city until today. However, with notices in the hands of all growers by this time, the farm office probably will have plenty of visitors throughout the week.

Local Troops Plan to Attend Annual Gathering of State Scouts
At Chapel Hill

Plans are nearing completion for the Boy Scout Jubilee in recognition of the 25th Anniversary of Scouting to be held in connection with the North Carolina Dogwood Festival Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 25th to 28th inclusive with 104 scouts from East Carolina Council to attend.

Prof. Harold D. Meyer, Chairman of the Special Jubilee Committee, stated this morning that these 1,000 scouts from over the State of North Carolina will arrive at Chapel Hill Thursday afternoon the 25th and set up camp in the woods surrounding Kenan Stadium. For the next 3 days they will participate in mammoth camp fire programs lead by Camp Chief W. C. Wessell, participate in scoutcraft events, be shown over the University grounds on a tour at which time open house will be held at the Fraternities, take part in a cook-erie circle and climax with a gigantic scout parade in Kenan Stadium Saturday evening at which time the University band will provide the music for the parade and grand entry for the 1,000 scouts and Governor Ehringhaus and Chief West will deliver addresses and the pageant will be given demonstrating the strong body to be portrayed by the Winston-Salem Council, an alert mind for the Occurrence Council, Durham; a clean heart by the Piedmont Council, Gastonia; civic service by the Uwharri Council, High Point; community life by the Tarboro Council, Goldsboro; fun by the Cherokee Council, Reidsville; leisure by the Cape Fear Council, Wilmington; home life by the Charlotte Council, citizenship by the Daniel Boone Council, Asheville; and advancement by our own East Carolina Council with headquarters in Wilson, at which time Chief Scout Executive Dr. James E. West will make presentation of Tenderfoot pins and Eagle Brides.

Following a camp church and song service lead by Dr. Donald H. Stewart, Pastor of the University Presbyterian Church officiating early Sunday morning, camp will break and scouts will be dismissed.

Each Greenville troop will be represented and our scouts are looking forward to this high point which comes midway between the Anniversary Week celebration in February and camping experience.

Sentiment

(By Associated Press)

"Off-year" city and state elections in a half dozen states Tuesday took on national importance as party chieftains eyed them as barometers of 1936.

Chicago Democrats and Wisconsin Progressives went to the polls to determine whether they had gained or lost strength and in Los Angeles a municipal primary promised indications of the power of the Epic party fashioned by Upton Sinclair.

Meanwhile, Michigan Republicans claimed their first victory yesterday when early returns indicated that M. R. Keworth had defeated the Democratic candidate for superintendent of schools.

Democrats in Chicago concentrated on the record majority for incumbent Mayor Edward J. Kelly in his contest with Emil C. Wetten, Republican candidate, and Newton Jenkins, third party nominee. Kelly supporters predicted a gain of a half million votes for their candidate.

The counties held the spotlight in Wisconsin. Two state senate races and one senate contest was regarded as a test of Governor Phil LaFollette's forces.

Late News Flashes

Today in the Legislature
Raleigh, April 2 (AP)—The House passed today on second reading a bill to substitute a lethal gas chamber for the electric chair for legal executions in North Carolina as the senate approved a measure to regulate photographers in this state.

The senate worked along on a heavy calendar but sidetracked most legislation for consideration later. It got into a long and hot wrangle over a bill to repeal the absentee ballot in Pitt county.

House approval of the lethal gas measure was voted orally but the bill was held up for its final reading so that some members may draft an amendment to provide that the chamber be movable so that executions may be carried out in the counties where the crimes are committed.

There was apparently little disposition on the part of the law-makers to do much work as the all-important revenue and appropriations bills continued to re-appear in Senate Committee.

The Senate financial group will not meet again tomorrow to continue work of redrafting the tax measure passed by the House. It had already changed the sections on peddlers, taxes chain stores, ice cream manufacturers, pool parlor and bowling alleys. The money-spending bill awaited Senate committee consideration.

Prospects of early sine die adjournment were becoming dimmer as the money bills were left alone. The photography regulatory proposal has been passed by one house but the senate amended it to eliminate giving power to substitute witnesses to the board of examiners it creates.

The State Association of Photographers is empowered to select the board which in turn can examine the license and regulate every photographer in communities of over 2500 population.

The senate fight over the absentee ballot provision came when Senator Corey of Pitt secured passage of a bill applying to his county and Senator Nixon of Lincoln, chairman of the Elections laws committee asked for reconsideration so the measure could be sent to his committee.

Corey pleaded for senate courtesy to let his bill through asserting it would have no chance of a favorable report if it went to Nixon's committee. He was supported by White of Robinson, Hill of Durham and Burroughs of Gilford.

Athens, April 2.—(AP)—Thousands of students and others paraded the streets of Athens today protesting against the failure of the government to sentence to death the leaders of the Venizelos rebellion.

Athens was like a beleaguered city. Armed tanks were stationed before the home of Premier Tsaldoris and public buildings.

Troops patrolled the streets with fixed bayonets and cavalrymen dashed about the district with drawn sabres.

Hundreds of gendarmes surrounded the Parliament building toward which John Zetaxas, who resigned from the cabinet in protest against the mild policy toward the rebels, led strong forces of students in tumultuous demonstrations.

GRADY SPEAKS
AT ROTE MEETPresbyterian Minister
Talks on Subject of Peace at Weekly
Meeting of Clubmen

By WYATT BROWN

"Peace will come from terrific pressure of small cliques. Absolute refusal of youth to fight and refusal of factory workers to produce for war," said Reverend Robert Grady, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, last night at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary Club in their club building. The speaker preambled his remarks with the statement that he would confine himself to sup-physical, observations and purely personal convictions.

"We want peace? Yes, but without sacrificial convictions or commitments," Reverend Grady asked and answered in the same breath. He said in opening that he would try first to answer two questions: 1. If there is a European conflict can we remain out of it; 2. Is there a way out?

"We would not stay out of the conflict if it occurred. We thought we could stay out of the World War but found things in the world too closely interlocked.

"One reason the United States cannot stay out is that so many millions look on another war as a possible relief from the poverty of the inadequate recovery program. Then there are those who want to go to adventure.

"Another important reason we would join in is because our trade interests would suffer. The 'high' and 'mighty' would not want us to lose our trade position.

As a matter of supporting evidence, the speaker cited the incident of the receipt by Woodrow Wilson the day following his inauguration upon the cry of 'He kept us out of war.' of a telegram from Walter Hines Page urging entrance into the war as a distinct advantage as the war trade move and also the best way to avoid a panic which was otherwise inevitable due to the money situation in Europe. Shortly we entered the war.

"Our present military policy is to talk peace and prepare for war. We are increasing our armaments every day. By an act of Congress in 1920 war supplies for an army of three to four million were provided. As Christians, Reverend Grady challenged his hearers as representative citizens, 'are we trying to promote peace or are we trying to fend off war by use of the big stick.'

"The Navy department has cooperated with Pratt-Whitney interests, manufacturers of airplanes, in the development of air cooled airplane motors. This same company has increased its sale of planes to Germany.

BASEBALL PEP
MEET TONIGHTJudge Dink James to Be Principal Speaker of Gathering at Court House

Plans have been completed today for the baseball "pep" meeting to be held at the courthouse tonight at 7:30 o'clock, and indications were that a tremendous crowd would be on hand to give their support to the movement to put Greenville back in the Coastal League this season.

Much interest has been aroused in the meeting by reason of the important part which Greenville has played in the league the last two years, winning the pennant each season, and the movement for a third year berth has taken on considerable impetus.

The meeting will be preceded by the ringing of bells, blowing of whistles and music by the High School band, it was announced the first of the week by R. L. Powell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who is in charge of arranging plans for the gathering.

The principal speaker will be Judge Dink James of Cauty Court and G. V. Smith, president of the Greenville club of the Coastal Plan League will preside.

Numbers of young women interested in the ball club will be on hand and some of them are scheduled to make brief speeches of appreciation of the fine record made by the local club.

The entire object of the meeting, Mr. Powell said today, is to arouse interest in baseball. He said the time had come for an awakening of interest in the national sport with the fever already in the air, and it was hoped the public would turn out in large numbers.

EDEN BEGINS TALKS WITH
POLISH HEADSProposed Changes in League of Nations
Reportedly Sought by Government

Warsaw, April 2.—(AP)—Captain Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, began his conversations today with Polish statesmen who it was hinted by the semi-official Gasetka Polska proposed changes in the League of Nations. It was assumed the conversations would amplify news leading to new proposals for amending mutual distrust among European nations and that the theme might take the form of a renamed Eastern European security pact that would satisfy Poland's proposals for a limited agreement, meet German opposition to the mutual assistance clause and soothe the Russian fear regarding German intentions.

Captain Eden who Polish newspapers extolled as a leading statesman left his hotel at 10:05 for the presidential palace to sign the visitor's book as a preliminary to calling at the British Embassy for a conference at the Foreign Office, holding a luncheon conference with President Amoski beginning at 1 p. m. and taking part in a tea table talk with Marshal Pilsudski whom the newspapers call the "deciding factor."

The Foreign Office talks which the Polish Ambassador to London and director of the ministerial cabinet also attended lasted two hours.

The British emissary was reported reliably to have outlined his findings in Berlin and Moscow and to have reported that neither Germany or Poland had any aggressive intentions against Russia.

NEGRO HELD
FOR MURDERErnest Watson Faces
First Degree Charge
Following Death of Frank Barrett

Ernest Watson, 23-year-old Greenville negro, today faced a first degree murder charge following the death last night of Frank Barrett, 30, alleged to have been killed by Watson at Barrett's home on Railroad street Sunday evening.

Suffering from shotgun wounds in the stomach, Barrett died last night. Little hope was held out for his recovery from the first in view of the fact that the entire load of shotgun pellets penetrated his abdomen, inflicting injuries which were described as probably fatal upon first examination by a physician.

Watson was to go before a coroner's jury sometime today.

He was said by police to have confessed the shooting immediately after being taken into custody, declaring that he fired on Barrett's stepfather, because of mistreatment of his mother.

Barrett had just entered a living room from the cafe when Watson, allegedly fired upon him from a window about ten feet away. He then fled and was later taken into custody by police. At first, the negro declared he knew nothing of the shooting but when officers found a gun hidden in his home he allegedly confessed.

EXTENDED SCHOOL TERM

Already several of the civic organizations here have endorsed a movement for a nine months school term and it is to be hoped that the movement will gain impetus with the result that the extended term can be put into operation for the present school year. There has been much talk here regarding the extended term during the past few weeks and the only opposition that has been voiced is on the grounds that the state as a whole does not have but eight months school and therefore there is no need for Greenville to have an extended term.

Such an argument, as we see it, is a weak one for if there were no pioneers nor leaders in education or in other lines of endeavor for that matter, we would remain in a stalemate forever. Greenville prides itself upon being a leader and certainly this leadership should include provision for giving its children the best of educational advantages in order that they might be well equipped to cope with the problems of life.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

talk about immediate new taxation. Senator Couzens of Michigan wants to impose a graded corporation tax that his business would worry about. Senator La Follette of Wisconsin suggests higher incomes in the lowest and highest brackets—with most of the pressure on top.

Senatorial advocates of further levies are stymied by one thing. The Constitution requires that all revenue measures must originate in the House. And so far the House has only been able to grow faintly through its muzzles. There may be much talk on the other side of the Capitol but there won't be any action unless the House leadership decrees.

WAR PROFITS: The Senate munitions committee will soon report out its recommendations on control of profits during war. This doesn't mean that legislation will be enacted. Suggestions by Bernard M. Baruch, John T. Flynn and members of the committee are at variance, although the general idea is the same—to hold down profits or tax them.

But the committee chairman, Senator Nye, is supported by several members in a desire to lop off private munitions enterprises altogether. This meets opposition from Secretary of War Dem. The Navy Department objects also. Experts insist that the government can't economically maintain war equipment plants in peace time on a scale capable of instant expansion in war time.

With urgent recovery legislation pending the best guess is that Congress will not enact war-profit control legislation at this session.

UNDERCOVER: Letters have been coming into the White House in increasing numbers recently urging that President Roosevelt go on the radio again in a "fireside talk" and reassure the people that everything is all right.

The White House would like nothing better than a good dramatic issue with which to do just that. The trouble is that now the whole national picture is in a state of flux. Well-defined influences on the one hand and other influences not so well defined but probably more powerful are hammering away at President Roosevelt's prestige.

His lieutenants point out that he would be foolish to feed the enemy with an affidavit at this juncture because they would promptly turn it to their own advantage. For the present FDR is going to have to fight back from under cover—that being the nature of the warfare.

TEARS? Suggestions are numerous that Mr. Roosevelt take to the air in an effort to stave off cash payment of the bonus. There isn't a Chinaman's chance, according to best posted quarters.

FDR will veto a bonus bill when and if it finally passes Congress. His scouts on Capitol Hill assure him the Senate will sustain the veto. Other observers who have reported aren't so sanguine. They think it just possible that there would be sufficient desertions—despite past political records—to force payment of the bonus immediately. This solely to further embarrass the President.

FDR has set himself plainly against the bonus. He is prepared to do it again with a veto pen if necessary. Just how many real tears would be shed at the White if his opposition fails in something only time can tell.

the eastern part of the state. Mr. Shepherd, originally from Wilmington, has been associated with Colonel Abell for the past ten years and is regarded as one of the outstanding younger attorneys in this section. The addition of Mr. Pou to the firm, who is a native of Smithfield and Johnston county and well known over the entire state, will make it one of the best known law firms in eastern Carolina, many here believe.

One of the hottest fights this session is in prospect, when the Cherry rental textbook bill gets on to the floor of the house. The report is going the rounds, and has been pretty well confirmed that the textbook companies have made "deals" with almost all of the professional lobbyists here who have been working for other firms, to oppose this rental textbook bill when it comes up. Some of them are already busy fighting it. Thus it is expected that almost every lobbyist here will be working against this bill if it manages to get out of the committee with a favorable report. The present strategy is to kill it in committee with an unfavorable report, if possible.

The motion picture industry is considering North Carolina as a possible new location for its activities. Instead of California, Fred E. Pelton, representing the National Association of Motion Picture Producers, is here in the state now and will make a survey of the entire state with regard to its qualifications as a new home for the film industry. It would spend $150,000,000 a year in the state if it came here, Pelton said.

The one thing that may prevent the motion picture industry from moving to North Carolina may be the same thing that is causing it to leave California, namely, excessively high taxes on corporations, Pelton indicated. "The industry is going to leave California because it is being discriminated against by the California state government through the imposition of extremely high taxes, with the result that it is planning to move bodily to another state where it can be assured of fairer treatment," Pelton said. But when the North Carolina franchise and income tax rates were outlined to him, he said that he was afraid that the high taxes already imposed on corporations in North Carolina would make it impossible for the film industry to consider coming to this state.

"From the standpoint of geography, climate and varied scenery, your state is ideal," Pelton said. "But we are planning to leave California because of excessive taxation, and apparently would run in to it again if we should come to North Carolina. However, we are going to make a thorough survey of the state anyway."

After conferring with Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell and others, including Director R. Bruce Etheridge of the Department of Conservation and Development, here yesterday, Director Pelton expects to visit Charlotte, High Point, Winston Salem and other cities in the Piedmont. Later on he will go to Asheville and inspect the western part of the state. Pelton was disappointed because there were no large cities in the state but showed interest in Charlotte because it was the largest.

A FULL 200 POUNDS

OF REAL EASTERN AT THE RIGHT PRICE

Mr. Farmer: You have an important decision to make: One that vitally affects the welfare of you and your family.

In a short time the roads will be literally covered with trucks and wagons loaded with fertilizer. Some of these will be headed for your farm. Will it be just another load of fertilizer, or will it be a carefully selected load of plant food especially made for the particular crop under which you will use it. In making this selection you can not be too careful. Much depends upon your decision.

Now, if the bags on these trucks or wagons coming to your farm are branded "EASTERN", you will KNOW that you have a fertilizer second to none; that is backed by a management whose sincere purpose is to give to its customers the real results of experiment station recommendations; a fertilizer that has given great satisfaction to thousands of Virginia and Carolina farmers.

Training School P. T. A.

The Training School Parent-Teacher Association met in regular monthly session on Monday evening in the school auditorium.

Miss Frances Norman's grade gave an excellent program on "Great Composers." Mary Sue Smith gave a sketch of Franz Schubert. J. N. Williams played a solo by Schubert and Elizabeth Sugg and Ruby Taylor played a duet. Herbert White Lee gave a sketch of Joseph Hayden. Burney Warren, Jr., gave a sketch of Foster and Frances Willard gave a sketch of McDowell. Following each of the sketches the grade sang selections by the respective composers.

Dr. Thomas Ennett of the County Health Department gave a very timely talk on "Malnutrition." His talk was followed by a business meeting in which a report was given on the playground and the nine months' school was discussed. The association went on record as unanimously voting for a nine months' school term. The attendance for the meeting was unusually large.

NO. 1 HANG-OVER--OVER EATING

Most people think of over drinking as the cause of hang-overs when over eating, or eating the wrong food is the big offender. Distress after eating is banished after a glass of 7-Up. The effect of 7-Up in the stomach neutralizes the acid—the CO₂ (Carbon Dioxide) purifies and sweetens the stomach. 7-Up does take the "ouch" out of grouch. You can easily prove it. Keep a case at home. 7-Up sold wherever Bottled Drinks are sold. Order a case today from your grocer.

The next Hang-Over will be No. 2—Over Drinking.

First Church of Christ, Scientist

"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 31.

The Golden Text was from Psalms 102:12. "Thou, O Lord, shalt endure forever; and thy remembrance unto all generations."

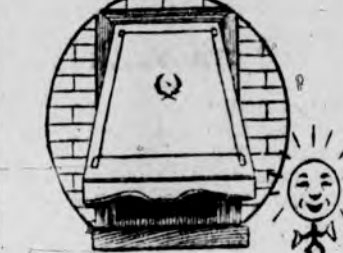

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else: I am God, and there is none like me. Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure: I will bring near my righteousness, it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry, and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory." (Isaiah 46:9, 10, 13.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and

His ideas. The Scriptures also declare that God is Spirit. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit of Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual." (Page 331.)

CATS DROP 43 GAME TO ECTC

East Carolina Teachers College defeated High Point, 4-3, yesterday to break even in a two-game series.

The locals won in the seventh, when three runs were tallied on four singles and an error.

High, starting hurler for the Panthers, was relieved by Rudisill in the seventh. The locals made five of their eight hits off High.

Rogerson pitched the route for the Teachers, and he kept the visitors' hits well separated except in the fifth. Three singles and a sacrifice produced two runs in that frame.

The Teachers play Atlantic Christian College here Thursday.

De Kolb Troupe To Be At Auto Exposition Here

The exposition, week April 8, has booked one of the feature acts in show business, the Great DeKolb Troupe of four clever people who will be here all the week, presenting the new acts the Sew-Saw Rolling Globe and other feature acts, on the high pole. These two startling features are outstanding in their line, and have played every big thing in America. They were featured at the Century of Progress in Chicago for a run of twenty-four weeks, the only act that played that length of time. The other acts include Miss Millie Long, America's finest acrobatic dancer; the shooting, Manfield, Si-Craig radio star and his banjo; Carter and Carter, novel Stevens, juggler, and other favorite acts. The big program will be one of the finest circus and vaudeville programs ever offered the citizens of Greenville.

The Harris Warehouse is now beautifully decorated and lights and booths are being erected. The season tickets are selling very good at 50 cents, and are good for all the week. Special added attractions will be offered every night during the exposition, and other features. The doors will open Monday night, April 8, and all funds will be used for charity work in Greenville.

GRADY SPEAKS AT ROPE MEET

Successful efforts of munitions manufacturers, the speaker said. They have secured favor from our leading statesmen such as Secretary of State Hull. Legislation to put an embargo on munitions and armaments shipments to other nations has been defeated by manufacturing interests.

Furthermore, he showed how embargo legislation could not be enforced if it was enacted. Armaments are shipped under false labels and by means of tramp steamers it is smuggled. Both sides in the recent South American disputes were supplied fighting material by United States firms.

"There are some who cannot be fooled with the old idea of fighting for trite postures. But others still hold those old convictions. War is not for ideals but stocks, bonds and oil."

Defining slacker and "resister" the speaker explained that the slacker tries to get a place out of danger when a war comes along. The resister on the other hand works for peace during peace times as well as war and stands ready to die for his right to resist war and to stand the public criticism.

NEGRO JANITOR HONORED AT SALES MEETING HERE

The regular monthly meeting and dinner of the Carolina Sales Corporation was held at the plant, corner Third and Catawba streets last night with a number of problems affecting the organization being discussed at considerable length. Today being the birthday of Lance Wooten, colored janitor of the firm, the latter part of the meeting was turned into a celebration of the birthday anniversary of the janitor and in addition to being wished many happy returns of the day he was presented a number of presents in honor of the occasion.

New York Cotton

New York, April 2.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady three to twelve points advance in response to higher Liverpool cables but met with foreign selling and liquidation. At the end of the first half hour July was selling around 11.11 with the general market ruling about 3 to 7 net higher. Local and New Orleans selling became a little active toward mid day with July easing off to 11.02 and January to 10.44 making net declines of one to 11 points.

	Open	Close	Priv. Cl.
May	11.11	10.95	11.00

N. Y. Stock Market

Washington, April 2.—(AP)—The stock market clung to the skirts of the rails and utilities today and was able as a whole to maintain its steady to firm stand of the previous session.

While there was little in the news to bring buoyant buying in any category technical factors were sighted by some of the traders as constructive.

Wheat and other grains were narrow along with cotton. The Belva again sagged in foreign exchanges dealings but the other gold monies were about even to a little better. Sterling rallied briskly in London and eased later in New York.

The trading volume picked up for a brief space in the last hour but tended to dwindle near the finish. Transfers were 550,000 shares.

Late News Flashes

Senator Bailey of Washington, said elections were not merely local matters and asserted the measure should go to committee. Core asked him if the committee had not killed every bill given it and Bailey admitted it had. Core then asked if Bailey did not make a motion which his committee adopted that its chairman should seek repeal of any local bills passed effecting the absentee ballot.

IF YOU FEEL "USED UP"...

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

"FIRE-FIGHTING IS MY JOB," says Stanley Adams, fireman. "It's exciting, yes—but it's difficult, exhausting work, too. There's a lot of pleasure in a Camel, especially when you're tired out. When I feel 'all in,' I like a Camel to freshen me up. Camels give me new 'pep' and energy. Camels have more flavor—and yet they're mild, for I've found I can smoke them steadily and they never upset my nerves. I'm ready any time to 'walk a mile for a Camel!' (Signed) STANLEY ADAMS

"Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand." (Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, North Carolina

FROM THE BUSY COLLEGE WORLD comes this comment John L. Filson, class of '36, says: "It's a great relief to smoke a Camel any time I'm tired and quickly experience a delightful return in energy. And boy! do Camels taste good!" (Signed) JOHN L. FILSON, '36

"RUNNING A HOME involves details that use up energy," says Mrs. Ross Kelley. "When things irritate me, I smoke a Camel. Soon I have renewed energy and can go on to the next task. Camels have such a mild flavor, I've become quite a steady smoker." (Signed) MRS. ROSS KELLEY

"THE MOST ENJOYABLE WAY of easing strain is smoking Camels," says this newspaper man. "When I feel 'all in,' I can restore my energy with a Camel." (Signed) RAY BAKER

"CAMELS BRING BACK a feeling of vigor," says F. W. Evans, electrical engineer. "They're milder, but have a rich, appealing taste." (Signed) F. W. EVANS, E. E.
