Britain and Poland Agree To Maintain Close Contact

CAPT. EDEN ENDS TALKS AT WARSAW

Pan-American Security Pact Seen as Result of Conversations Between Britisher and Polish Leaders; Eden Prepares to Go To Praha For Further Conferences

Warsaw, April 3.—(AP)—Great Britain and Poland today agreed to "the desirability of maintaining close contact" on the European situation with authoritative quarters indicating a Pan-American security system as a likely result.

The agreement was reached with Polish statesmen by Captain Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, as he concluded two days of conversations concerned with the general peace of Europe and prepared to depart for Praha for more conferences.

As the conferees parted they gave each other mutual assurances described officially as concerning the desirability of maintaining close contact in regard to future developments in the European situation.

The following communiqué was issued:

"During his stay in Warsaw Captain Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, was received by the president of the Polish republic and by Marshal Pilsudski. Captain Eden had in addition several conferences with Joseph Beck, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

"He gave Beck an account of his exchanges of views with the British ministers who have been in Berlin and Moscow on the basis of the London communiqué of March 2.

"During the conversations which were cordial in tone, Captain Eden laid out the views of the Polish government on matters set forth in this communiqué and on the present European situation in general.

"It was agreed that the exchange of views were exploratory in character but had fulfilled their purpose. The desirability of maintaining close contact in regard to future developments in the European situation was emphasized."

From sources considered reliable it was learned that Captain Eden was told by his hosts that they would welcome an agreement definitely advancing European peace.

Fishing Luck of Pres. Roosevelt Is Not So Good

Miami, Fla., April 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt reported "very little luck" today in fishing off Long Island in the Bahamas group.

He sent the following message to Marine M. McIntyre headquarters: "Have been fishing all morning off Long Island. Very little luck. Probably proceed tomorrow to Conception Island."

Conception Island is about forty miles due north of Long Island.

It was off Long Island that President Roosevelt tried his luck at fishing last July 4 on his way to Puerto Rico.

Mr. Roosevelt is apparently going ahead with previous plans to continue his cruise for the remainder of the week.

TAX LISTING UNDER WAY IN PITT COUNTY

Names of List Takers in Various Townships Announced by Auditor Today

It was announced today that tax-listers have been posted in each township of the county for the purpose of listing all real or personal property and poll taxes.

The list of listers was announced today by John Coward, county auditor and tax supervisor, who said that the annual task of listing was to begin immediately.

Due notice as to listing operations and where tax-listers may be found have been posted in each of the thirteen townships. Mr. Coward said and the public has been urged to get busy at once and help speed up this work as much as possible.

R. A. Tyson, Jr., is the list-taker for Greenville Township and H. S. Ragsdale is list-taker for the city of Greenville. They will be located in the rear of the court-room at the courthouse for the convenience of people desiring to list either in the city or township.

In announcing the beginning of listing operations today and the name of list-takers, Supervisor Coward said that "all persons having real or personal property or poll taxes are urged to list promptly." He declared that early listing and cooperation with list-takers would greatly facilitate the work and tend to eliminate discrepancies.

All listing, he pointed out, must be done with list-takers, and late listing will be treated as delinquency and penalized as required by law.

Mr. Coward called attention to the fact that the Machinery Act makes it a misdemeanor for list-takers to fail to administer the oath to those listing, and they are required to use due diligence in seeing that all personal property is properly listed and value, or report their failure to do so.

The list of listers follows:

Ayden—A. R. Cannon, Ayden.
Beaver Dam—O. M. McLawhorn, Greenville, N. C.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
News Behind The News.

Washington
By GEORGE DURO

WAR: Washington has maintained discreet silence in the face of Germany's determination to rearm and further scrap the Versailles Treaty but that doesn't mean our State Department is without interest. Far from it.

During the past week or so confidential reports from our diplomatic representatives abroad virtually have monopolized the "fast cable" which connects London with New York.

A large soft pedal officially is being put on the idea that Europe is about to flame out into another war but Secretary of State Hull nevertheless is insisting on word of inside developments as fast as they break.

RELEASE: For instance, The day the Grand National was run in England an eastern newspaper wanted to use that fast cable for a few minutes to flash a picture across the Atlantic of the finish of the race. "This is the annual steeplechase better known to Americans as the Irish Sweepstakes," upon which thousands of our citizens hold lottery tickets and some won handsome prizes.

Recently, the cable company refused use of the fast transmission line, explaining the State Department had taken it over to the exclusion of all other business.

When the State Department was asked about it the suave answer was the cable authorities must have made some mistake. Later that afternoon the "fast cable" was released to the newspaper for 45 minutes.

PEP MEET IN FAVOR SUNDAY BALL FOR CITY

Numbers of Speakers Favor Proposal at Meeting at Court House Last Night

Sunday baseball in Greenville advanced one step nearer last night when it was given almost unanimous approval at a mass-meeting of baseball enthusiasts at the court-house.

The meeting was in the nature of a "pep" affair to arouse interest in baseball this summer and not to discuss Sunday baseball particularly, but the question popped up and was given such widespread approval that there seemed to be little question about the popularity of the sport on Sunday in view of the fact that it is being played in surrounding towns on that day.

The only dissenting voice came from Miss Ruth Hillhouse, director of young people's religious education of the Presbyterian Church, who spoke in opposition. She was one of a number of women present to express themselves on the baseball situation, but the others spoke in favor of the issue.

Miss Hillhouse said baseball was no worse than any other form of recreation being followed on Sunday, but questioned the advisability of letting down the bars to this additional recreation. She expressed belief that the thing to do is to close up all forms of recreation and places of business on the Sabbath and devote the entire day to rest as set forth in the Bible.

G. V. Smith, president of the Greenville baseball club of the Coastal Plain League presided over the meeting and Judge Dink James of County Court delivered what was described as the "pep" talk of the evening.

GERMAN AIR FORCE STRONG AS BRITAIN'S

John Simon Tells House of Commons Of His Conference With Hitler

London, April 3.—(AP)—Sir John Simon, Foreign Minister, revealed to the House of Commons today that Reichsfuehrer Hitler told him in Berlin that Germany already has an air force as large as that of Great Britain.

Sir Charles William Cawser, conservative, asked whether Hitler during his conversations with the Foreign Secretary "gave any indication of the present size of the German air force."

Sir John answered: "Yes. In the course of these conversations in Germany the Chancellor stated in general terms that Germany has reached a parity with Great Britain in the air."

While Sir John was making the revelation in the House of Commons Sir Philip Sassoon was enacting in a discussion of government air armament policies at a meeting of the League of Nations Union.

Sir Philip said Britain was fifth among world powers, "and if we are contented to stay as we are, we shall not remain in the front of Germany."

WATSON HELD FOR SLAYING

Colored Man Bound Over to Superior Court Following Preliminary Hearing

Given preliminary hearing in police court this morning, Ernest Watson, 23-year-old colored man, was bound over to Superior Court without bond on a charge of murder on the fatal wounding of his stepfather, Frank Barrett, at Barrett's combination cafe-home, on Railroad Street last Sunday night.

Watson was immediately transferred from the city jail to the county jail to await trial.

He allegedly fired an entire shotgun charge into the stomach of his stepfather because of alleged mistreatment of his mother by the dead man. Barrett died Monday night after Watson allegedly confessed to police that he did the shooting.

James Watson, colored, charged with vagrancy, was sentenced to 30 days on the road for trespassing.

Indefinite Woodward, colored, was sentenced to thirty days on the road for vagrancy.

These were the only two cases receiving attention of the court this morning and the session lasted only a short time.

H. W. WINSTEAD BURIED TODAY

Funeral services for Hamner W. Winstead, 52, well-known Nash County farmer, and former tobacco operator in China, were conducted from his late home near Rocky Mount this morning at 10 o'clock and the body was brought to Greenville for interment in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Final rites were conducted from his late home on the Nashville highway by Rev. W. H. Skeels, pastor of the Universalist Church, and Rev. Geo. W. Perry, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Rocky Mount.

Mr. Winstead died in a Rocky Mount Hospital Monday night following an operation which he underwent a few days ago.

Mr. Winstead lived near Rocky Mount all of his life with exception of the fifteen years he spent in China with the British-American Tobacco Company. He was prominent in work of the Universalist Church both in the Rocky Mount territory and throughout the State. He was actively connected with the Rocky Mount Universal Church board of trustees and also a member of the board of trustees of the North Carolina Universalist Convention. He joined the church while a student at Southern Industrial Institute, South Hill, Ala.

Mr. Winstead was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Winstead, the family being one of the most prominent in this part of the State.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Lizzie Higgs, of Greenville; one brother, W. Robert Winstead, Brunswick, Maryland, and four sisters, Mrs. R. D. Bullock, Mrs. W. V. Gupton, Miss Lizzie Winstead, all of Rocky Mount, and Mrs. J. D. Carlton, Salisbury.

SEED LOANS AVAILABLE

Application Period For Emergency Crop Loans Opens at Court House Here

Emergency crop loans became available to growers of this section today with the notice of the beginning of the filing of applications at the local office of the organization at the courthouse.

T. O. Etnis, in charge of the local office, announced the beginning of the application period this morning, and said farmers desiring to obtain loans from what is popularly known as "seed loan fund," should get busy and make their applications at once.

Individual growers may obtain as high as $500 each under the emergency ruling and landlords may secure as high as $1,000.

The total amount made available to the county this year is $60,000.00 as compared with $40,000.00 for the previous year.

The office is located in the grand jury room of the courthouse and will be open each day now to receive applications of growers desirous of obtaining funds from this source.

Pitt County growers have taken advantage of this source of help quite freely in past years, and in spite of the increased number of sources through which loans may be obtained at this time, it is believed as many will borrow from the seed fund this year.

Ethiopia Moving New Troops To Frontier; Italy Remains Silent

Addis, Ababa, Ethiopia, April 3.—(AP)—Ethiopia is moving troops to her frontiers, authorities here revealed today, to meet what her government regards as a threat from Italy's East African forces.

The Ethiopian detachments were said to be moving in large numbers to the Eritrean and Somaliland borders.

Government sources were quick to explain that activities were solely for defense purposes.

Described as being on a more efficient basis than Ethiopia's wild tribesmen ever before have been the troops were under strict orders from Emperor Selassie to avoid contact with Italian border garrisons.

Ethiopia has no intention of undertaking an offensive, it was authoritatively explained, but the country was said to be rallying obediently behind the emperor.

Rome, April 3.—(AP)—Italian military authorities said today Italy has been aware for some time that Ethiopia has been massing troops on both the Eritrean and Italian Somaliland frontiers and has made extensive purchases of war materials abroad.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY GAINS IN WISCONSIN

Elections Also Show Gain of Upton Sinclair's Forces in California Territory

(By The Associated Press)

Progressives strengthened their position in Wisconsin and Upton Sinclair's EPIC party achieved partial success in California to highlight elections in various parts of the nation.

Two more progressives were elected to Wisconsin State Senate yesterday, bringing the La Follette-sired party within one vote of the Democratic majority in a show of forces interpreted in some quarters as a veto of confidence in the third party that put Governor Philip La Follette into office three months ago.

In Los Angeles one city councilman was re-elected by the EPIC forces, whose "end-poverty-in-California" campaign failed to elect the former Socialist governor several months ago. Apparently from ten to fifteen EPIC councilmen were assured positions in the run-off elections May 7.

The EPIC movement placed on three out of ten candidates in the municipal judgeship race.

A striking display of strength was exhibited by Chicago Democrats who rolled up 798,150 ballots to retain Mayor Edward J. Kelly at the head of the nation's second largest city, showing under Emil Wetten who cleaned 166,771 votes and Newton Jenkins, independent, with 8,726.

Many Entries In Misspelled Word Contest

The misspelled word contest is creating more interest each week with the readers of The Reflector. Many entries were received from various parts of the State as well as more than twice the number of local ones. Mr. Respass, of habecue fame, has come in for a great deal of correction in the spelling of his name. In fact, the writer asked the gentleman HOW he really spelled his name. He stated, "R-e-s-p-e-s-s." Therefore, this should end the controversy. The winners in the issue of March 27 are as follows: First prize, R. O. Mayo, Greenville; second prize, Mrs. R. W. Ginn, courthouse, Greenville; and third prize, Miss Respass Bryan, 1407 Broad St., Greenville. If these winners will call at The Daily Reflector office, checks will be handed them covering the prize won. Entitled to honor mention are Mrs. Stokes, Misses Florence E. Lutes, Rose Lee McGowan, Nell McGowan, Inez Allen, Route 1, Harry Lee, all of Greenville, and Miss Mavis Lee Braxton of Winterville, N. C.

The winner of first prize made a correction of a grammatical error in Thorson School of Beauty Culture adv., changing "man-kind" to "woman-kind." This winner is the only one among the great volume of entrants that caught this error, although grammatical errors do not necessarily disqualify those who did not win this time will make a greater effort to win in this issue.

HEAVY DOCKET AGAIN MARKS COUNTY COURT

Drunken Drivers Continued to Hold Spotlight of Tribunal Here Yesterday

The operation of automobiles by drunken drivers continues in Pitt county without any pronounced let-up in spite of the fact that numbers of such violators are fined and have their driver's license revoked at each sitting of County court.

Sitting for the first time yesterday in two weeks because of the recently completed term of civil Superior court, County court was faced by five or six charges of drunken driving. As customary the drivers were fined $50 and cost and ordered not to drive for periods ranging all the way from six to eight months.

With a highway safety campaign under way in this community, especial attention has been paid to this form of violation during the last two or three months, but if there has been any pronounced decrease in the practice it has not been revealed in the weekly sitting of the county tribunal.

Drivers still continue to "guzzle" liquor before going for a spin and the best that the court can do so far has proven ineffectual. However it was hoped the situation would improve as the court continues to hand out punishment of sufficient severity to help halt the practice.

However, drunken drivers were not the only kind of violators appearing before the court yesterday, as numbers of others charged with crimes ranging all the way from petty larceny to assault with a deadly weapon received attention, and will continue to receive attention today as court attempts to complete its docket of thirty or forty cases.

O. W. Miller, of Virginia, who was arrested here several weeks ago with a truck containing several cases of bottled in bond whiskey, was sentenced to 90 days on the road and had his truck confiscated, on a charge of possession of whiskey for sale. The road sentence was suspended under condition that the defendant not violate the state prohibition laws for a period of two years. The truck was ordered sold and the money derived from the sale turned over to the school fund.

Clinton Cox, appearing on a charge of whiskey for sale was fined $25, cost deducted.

Other cases disposed of by the court follow:

Ola Jones, driving drunk, $50 and cost, driver's license revoked for six months.

Porter Garris, colored, carrying a concealed weapon, -50 or 90 days on the road.

M. L. Little, driving drunk, $50 and license revoked for eight months. He was also ordered to pay $10 as damage to an automobile belonging to Miss Eva Hodges.

High Be'angia, reckless driving, judgment suspended on payment of one half cost.

James Smith, driving drunk, judgment suspended on payment of one half cost.

Elbert Mann, colored, assault with a deadly weapon; pay cost and six months' suspended sentence to road.

Annie Lee Fields, colored, larceny of dress, four months to the county home.

Abner Williams, driving drunk, $50 and license revoked for eight months.

SHOULD ABOLISH ABSENTEE BALLOT

Senator Corey has started a row in Raleigh by the introduction of a bill that would abolish the absentee ballot in this county and it is to be hoped that he will stand by this fight and see it through if possible. It appears that there is a determined effort on the part of the politicians to see to it that the absentee ballot is not abolished either statewide or as a local county measure, but as we see it, it should be abolished. If the other counties don't want it abolished that should be no reason why our county should not be permitted to do away with this part of the election laws in the interest of fairer and more honest primaries and elections.

The absentee ballot law was adopted during the world war in order that the men away from home on military duty might not be deprived of their privilege of voting, but there is no reason now why the absentee ballot law should remain in effect and certainly it has furnished one of the means of a lot of crooked and unfair politics.

It is pretty generally known here that those who are able to pay workers to go about the county gathering up absentee ballots are the ones who get the absentee votes in the primaries, and then, too, it is known that such ballots in some instances have been opened after being given to solicitors, and when the ballots are not voted as desired they are changed according to the wishes of the workers of candidates before they are turned in to the election authorities. There is no need for any such form of balloting in this state and to do away with it would certainly do away with a lot of crookedness in our primaries and elections.

FATAL ERRORS

Traffic accidents were more numerous and more severe in 1934 than any previous year.

Eight of the worst driving mistakes responsible for last year's tragic record are listed as follows:

(1) Driving too fast for conditions, a cause named specifically in 22 per cent of all accidents resulting in fatalities charged to drivers alone, and a distinct and sometimes controlling factor in accidents attributed to many other causes. (2) Driving on the wrong side of the road. (3) Violating right-of-way rules. (4) Cutting in. (5) Passing on curve or hill. (6) Failing to signal or signaling improperly. (7) Driving off roadway. (8) Reckless driving.

Pedestrians made fatal errors too. Four of the worst were:

(1) Crossing between intersections, a mistake that accounted for more than 25 per cent of all pedestrian fatalities. (2) Crossing against the signal light at intersections. (3) Playing in the street, an error made chiefly by children, resulting in 16 per cent of all pedestrian deaths. (4) Coming from behind parked car.

Motorists and pedestrians! Avoid these fatal errors in 1935—and you will be doing your part to reduce the traffic toll.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

tension of NRA past the Senate. The new NRA bill introduced by Senator Pat Harrison of Miss., already has stirred up quite a few of the boys who contend it would just about completely scrap the anti-trust laws and perpetuate price-fixing.

This bill is back in committee for prolonged hearing. Before they are over some of the trading points in the measure may become more apparent. The pressure is on for enactment of new NRA legislation and the White House will get it. The interesting feature of the maneuvers will be to see how the sections dealing with monopoly and price-fixing finally come out of the wringer.

RICHBERG: Administration will play two arguments for all they are forth in seeking passage. "Business is being retarded by uncertainty and labor unrest demands immediate action."

Donald Richberg, chief spokesman for President Roosevelt, told an executive committee session last week that action on NRA was imperative or strikes would be breaking out all over the country.

Incidentally, this bill which appeared so suddenly was the product of many weeks' work by Richberg and his assistants.

TEAMED: Wiley Pat Harrison, whose name goes on the bill, explains it was offered so suddenly last Friday merely to reassure business and labor alike that Congress was thinking about them and would have something ready at the proper time.

Harrison conceded there might be numerous changes in Committee. When some of the Progressives get through with it this prediction undoubtedly will be borne out to the letter.

But it does help, from an administration viewpoint, to have business fighting for one section of the bill and labor another—with both waiting for its ultimate passage.

GRAVITY: With two weeks' rest in Florida behind him and $4,890,000.00 in pocket, President Roosevelt will be in a position next week to tear down unprofitably on some of the Congressional recalcitrants who have been tossing monkey wrenches in the New Deal machine.

Pronounced in the New Deal machine, the legislative battle average is better than 800. His closest lieutenant, says he intends to ride out the current session without getting below that tomahawk showing.

Powerful forces are at work under cover to reduce his standing in the political league but there are darn few members of Congress who aren't looking eagerly for a slice of that $4,890,000.00 for their state and districts. Watch and see how it works out.

DRUMFIRE: TVA directors are using the European war scare to bring about legislation to stiffen up the TVA act. Both Chairman Merz and Director Lilienthal have asked the House committee on military affairs to put through the McGowan bill, which purports to base TVA on the national defense power of Congress. Lilienthal pictured a shortage of power in the Tennessee Valley system in case of war.

The TVA act will be tested in the Supreme Court unless the Department of Justice pulls back as it did in the test case affecting NRA. The

by Mabel Howe Farnham

SYNOPSIS: James Stinson, III, has had doubts whether he wants to marry Jane Northrup after all. Her parents are the managing kind, and besides, there is the gentle memory of Leslie Harris. Now the wedding day has been disrupted by getting roses about altar candles and by the vicar's refusal to keep members of the congregation who assemble for prayer, meeting up of the church while the wedding is in progress. But at last Jane starts for the church, beautiful — and beautifully gowned.

Chapter 25
MABEL WEBSTER

THE first carriage was already in place under the porte cochere. Mrs. Northrup and the twins were to go in that and it was time to be off.

But where were the twins? An hour before their mother had dressed and groomed and brushed them within an inch of their lives, threatening them with unspeakable punishments if they dared under her handiwork. The twins in long white sailor suits and gloves (there had been a terrific battle over the sailor suits) were finally unearthed scowling from the pantry.

Their mother's threats must have been taken to heart for they were still incredibly immaculate, although their hair was in the usual tousled state. Mrs. Clum flew upstairs after a brush and comb and smoothed the think proper to invite, may force themselves into the church. . . . Into the back of the church, I am certain of that. . . . quite certain. You need not upset yourself. It is imperative that you should not upset yourself.

"Next load," shouted Ed Hines, the hackman, cheerfully. There was nothing that Jane could do but shoulder this latest cross and bear it. She sat in stony silence during the mile drive while Julia, who accompanied her and her father, chatted and explained.

Three carriages proceeded the bridal chariot, one followed bearing Mrs. Clum and the second girl and the chok. Clippety, clippety, clippety, clippety. It sounded exactly like a funeral. She wished it were a funeral and herself ahead in the hearse. As they drew near the church Jane asked, "Did James know?"

"Certainly, yes, most certainly," her father answered.

THE quaint little stone church had been turned into an altar of fairy glee and white. There were no candles gleaming on the fly-decked altar, but at each pew stood a man-high ivory candle, there was no other light except one shaded electric light over the organ.

offending locks quickly and efficiently.

"Do you want to kiss me goodbye?" Jane asked her brothers.

"Why?" Nate inquired. "Aren't you coming back?" Norris chimed in.

"Aren't they terrible?" Jane appealed gaily to the sympathetic multitude, with a little gesture of mock exasperation. "Well, kissing is free in this house. Run along and for Heaven's sake try to behave."

"At last everything was ready. 'Now, Mother, remember you are not to cry,' was Jane's final admonition."

"I won't," Mrs. Northrup promised tearfully as she went out the door.

"How about me? How about your old daddy?" asked Mr. Northrup pompously.

"But you're going with me," Jane cried gaily. "As if you'd dare, right under my awful eye."

THERE was a ripple of laughter at Jane's playfulness. All was joyousness and affection and tenderness, the emotion charged, it is true, with tears, but the more joyous for all that. Temporarily at least Mabel Webster and her Machiavellian chicanery were completely blotted out and forgotten. It was almost as Jane had dreamed.

"Did you know it was prayer meeting night?" the twins spat at her, and shot through the door after their mother.

Prayer meeting night? Prayer meeting night? "Father, it isn't true? It isn't possible?" Jane cried tragically.

The purple staining her father's already ruddy cheeks, the vengeful glint in his eyes that regarded the carriage which sheltered his sons answered Jane better than words.

"But surely they're not going to have prayer meeting at my wedding?" Jane wailed.

"Now, Jane, don't be an idiot," Julia Millard said quickly. "Of course they're not going to have prayer meeting until after the ceremony."

"But there's something you're keeping back, keeping from me."

"My child, control yourself, yes, control yourself. It only means that a few people . . . a few you did not

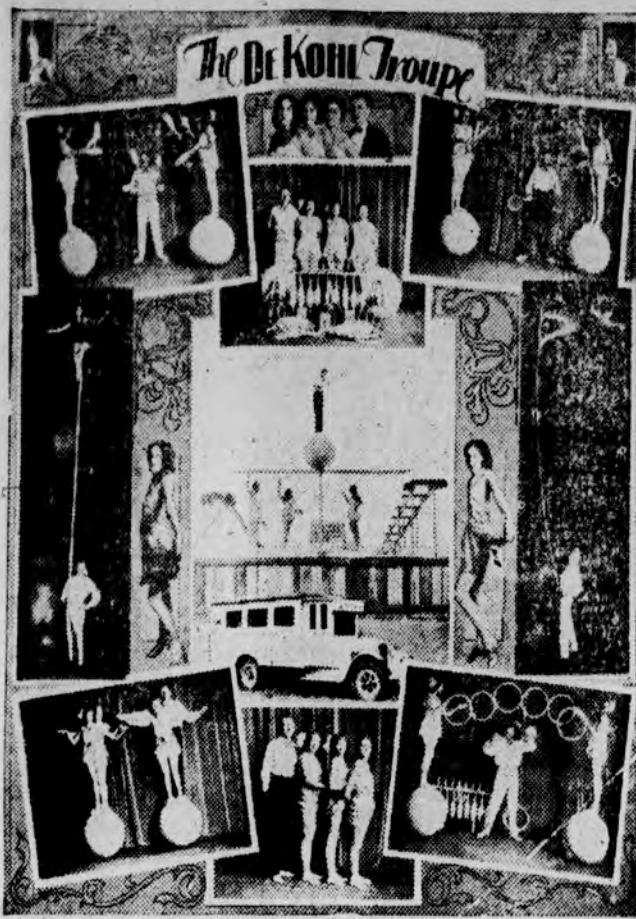

TVA directors feel that development is hampered by doubts regarding the validity of the law. New enterprises are holding back for fear the scheme will collapse.

Smelling the possibility of killing off a new TVA utility spokesman are starting a drumfire against it while testifying on the Wheeler-Rayburn holding company bill.

New York
By JAMES McMULLIN
HELP. The big New York banks haven't done much talking on their own behalf for many months. They have kept especially mum about the Federal Reserve amendments pending in Congress—largely on the theory that whatever they said would only be used against them by the legislators. But recent evidence indicates that they aren't above giving other worth causes a hand when occasion offers.

For instance, some of them have done their quiet bit to boost the opposition to the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill. They have privately encouraged customers and correspondents to contribute to the flow of objections with which Congress has been deluged. One highly respected institution went so far as to print a pamphlet for its customers pointing out the inequities of the legislation and urging them to chip in with their three cents' worth of protest. Then there's the Stock Exchange election. Off-hand that hardly seems in the bankers' alley. Yet brokerage houses in debt to certain banks—plenty of them are on the cuff—have received tactful but pointed intimations that Richard Whitney's re-election is considered desirable.

This delicate pressure may prove a decisive help to Whitney's chances.

SETTLED: The jowly people retain much of their old skill at turning legislators' thoughts into "constructive" channels. Insiders never really thought that Mayor LaGuardia's municipal power plant scheme would get anywhere—but they didn't expect it to be decisively stymied so soon.

After assuring the Mayor he could have what he wanted, the New York State Senate's about-face was startlingly complete. By an overwhelming majority the Senators refused to authorize the city to build its own plants—even for power restricted to municipal uses—without a prior referendum. Ironically the handful of dissenters were all Republicans.

The referendum provision is a neat device to consign the Mayor's plan to the scrap heap. The time element involved alone is enough to remove the threat to Consolidated Gas' peace of mind. The city's fencing for still lower rates will hereafter be done with a tin foil sword—and the Consolidated Gas people are well aware of it.

LOCAL HIGH GRABS FIFTH WIN OF YEAR

By WATSON MORGAN
Number five! The Greenies defeated Williamston High yesterday afternoon in Williamston by the score of 8 to 7.

Richard Downing started on the mound for Greenville, but lasted less than two innings. He was relieved by Ed. Wells. Dick got by the first inning with but two runs scored against him, but during the second inning, the visitors' left-fielder, stepped to the plate with one man on base, took a toe-hold and walloped the old ball just like Babe Ruth—you know, the ball stops rolling in the next county. This finished Richard, so Ed. switched from his first basing job to the mound. The seven and one-third innings that he was on the firing line he held the visitors to three runs, two of those coming in the ninth, and struck out nine of their batters.

This boy Robinson was very much of a problem to our boys all afternoon. He came through with two hits—one, the above-mentioned homer, and robbed Captain Bill Clark of what looked to be a sure three-runger.

The leading hitters for Greenville were Wells with three hits out of three; Pierce, three for four; Hatten, at last out of his hitting slump three for four, and Lanters with two hits.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Greenville 001 400 030—8 12 2
Williamston 220 010 002—7 7 4

Batteries: Wells, Downing and Hamilton; Stronberg and Shaw.

PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Your itching, bleeding protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the hemorrhoidal veins. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal remedy should be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the affected parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of success that all druggists say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must free you from your Pile agony or money back.

BUCS TO PLAY A C C DOGS ON THURSDAY

On Thursday of this week the Pirates of East Carolina Teachers College will play the Bulldogs of Atlantic Christian College here for the fifth home game for the locals this season. In a past contest of the week with High Point College the Pirates won by a score of 4 to 3.

Lefty Dunn, Ayden, former Coastal Plain player for New Bern, is very likely to pitch for the Pirates. Dunn is the only pitcher that was on the squad last year.

"Jew" Ayers, Rocky Mount, is filling the vacancy left by Jimmie Johnson at the catcher's position. Johnson has been shifted to first base, and so far this season, he is doing very well.

"Runt" Bostic, local boy, has recently been elected captain by the local team. "Runt" is playing better ball this year than we have seen him play in the last few seasons.

Relieves Sluggish Feeling
Night or day, when you first begin to feel sluggish and need something to straighten out your bowels (to relieve constipation)—take a dose of reliable Thedford's Black-Draught.

"We take Black-Draught for biliousness, constipation and any bad feeling that comes from these conditions," writes Mrs. Lavena Owens of Springer, Okla. "Black-Draught cleans the system and makes me feel much better after taking it."

Freshen up by taking this purely vegetable laxative, if you have a tendency to constipation or sluggishness.

If he continues to keep up the style of ball he is now playing, he will surely make a good man for the local semi-pro team this year. "Runt" played third base with Greenville last year after having started the season at shortstop. He is now back at his old position and he is doing well.

S. R. Lee, former Greenville boy is a member of Atlantic Christian College squad.

Come to the game Thursday afternoon and see a real ball game. The game will be played at the college field at 3:30 o'clock. Next week the Pirates are playing Richmond Seminary, William and Mary (North Division), and Louisville. All these games will be played here.

NO. 1 HANG-OVER—OVER EATING

Most people think of over drinking as the cause of hang-overs when over eating, or eating the wrong food is the big offender. Distress after eating is banished after a glass of 7-Up. The effect of 7-Up in the stomach neutralizes the acid—the CO₂ (Carbon Dioxide) purifies, and sweetens the stomach. 7-Up does take the "ouch" out of grouch. You can easily prove it. Keep a case at home.

Notice To List TAXES

List takers are now ready to list taxes at points designated by them, due notice of which having been given in notices which they have posted.

All persons having real or personal property or who should pay poll tax, are urged to list promptly. Early listing and cooperation with list takers will facilitate the work and tend to eliminate discrepancies.

All listing must be done with list takers. Late listers will be treated as delinquents and penalized as required by law.

Attention is called to the fact that the Machinery Act makes it a misdemeanor for list takers to fail to administer the oath to those listing, and they are required to use due diligence in seeing that all personal property is properly listed and valued, or report their inability to do so.

Farmers will aid greatly by preparing crop acreage reports in advance of listing. List takers are required by law to take these reports.

BANKER TALKS TO STUDENTS

J. H. Waldrop Explains Gold Standard And Other Monetary Issues at College

Money, the gold standard, and currency problems now before the nation, were ably presented by J. H. Waldrop yesterday morning to the college students. They found it one of the most interesting of the talks in the series given during the year by various speakers.

The five special functions of money Mr. Waldrop gave were: A medium of exchange, a standard of value, a store of value, a standard of deferred payments, and reserve for credit. Each of these functions he illustrated and explained. He made clear the reasons why gold and silver were chosen, as they are portable and divisible. He also showed why other things were impracticable, such as precious stones, which lost value if cut, or as to cattle, which would grow old and die.

In explaining the gold standard he gave the conditions at the time the bank holiday was declared, showed how the crisis was met, and how it affected business today. He gave the steps taken by other countries that led to our going off the gold standard also. He showed that with the action of the government was inflationary it was controlled, and no matter what defects it may have had, it saved the country from bankruptcy. He contrasted the success of France and the failure of Germany in managing their currency by inflation.

He pointed out the fallacies in the think of those people who believe that the lack of easy money is the root of their troubles. If those who want the printing presses to work to pay off interest succeed in having their way, he sees a return to the state of affairs in Revolutionary times when "continental dollars" and backed by gold, became worthless. The expression, "not worth a continental," had its origin then.

He cited the two bills now before Congress, the bonus bill, and the Townsend bill to pay old-age pensions, which if they become law would necessarily start the printing presses to work. He said to pay everybody at the age of 60 the sum of $200 a month in one year would take the amount of the national debt at the end of the war, which was about 25,000,000,000. He also referred to the schemes of Upton Sinclair and Huey Long.

He closed by expressing the feeling that the promises given by the President that we shall have adequate currency, and with sound backing will be kept and that Congress will stand back of these promises.

Twenty-five years ago Mr. Waldrop was a student in what was then East Carolina Teachers Training School. Before he began his serious talk he delighted the students with some of his experiences as a college boy.

Dr. Adams introduced the speaker, giving as the two reasons the Chapel Committee especially wanted him to speak were that he was a former student and a business man who had something of interest for them.

New York, April 3.—(AP)—The stock market followed the line of the easy resistance today and drifted quietly downward under the weight of industrial and metals.

Confronted at the outset by a general mixture of mid-week business news the best of which was moderately mildly encouraging, the market made a feeble effort to fight back at the opening but so failed and drifted back in the narrowly lower groove into which it was maneuvered in the late trading Tuesday by fresh sinking spells.

Late News Flashes

North Carolina was approved by the House today as the Senate again worked on a long list of minor state-wide bills.

The House passed the Peterson bill to replace the electric chair with a lethal gas chamber and sent it to the Senate. It refused to amend the measure to provide that the gas chamber should be movable so that executions might be performed in the counties in which capital felonies are committed.

The Senate finance committee voted at a morning session to eliminate the filling tax schedule from the biennial revenue bill passed by the House and substituted the joint finance committee recommendation. The House levy was estimated to raise $600,000 annually, while the committee proposal is figured to get $300,000 annually.

The senior division finance group also changed a number of other house amendments to the joint committee bill and decided to hold another meeting this afternoon.

Senator Newman of New Hampshire, Senate finance chairman, will report on his effort to get federal approval of an additional $630,000 yearly diversion of gas taxes to the general fund. He said the federal road officials had agreed.

An effort will be made to eliminate a new provision to the tax dividend from stocks as normal income.

Would Include Germany's Treaty. Washington, D. C., April 3.—(AP)—Inclusion of Germany in a future naval conference was advocated by Secretary Swanson.

He recalled at a press conference that while he was a delegate to the 1932 disarmament conference at Geneva "we tried to include Germany." Swanson said Germany's proposal for a 450,000-ton navy should not affect the 5-5-3 ratios as far as Britain and Japan was concerned, not the United States "if we get a treaty and continue it."

The naval secretary emphasized he spoke as an individual and had received no German proposal. Asked if he favored specifically 450,000 tons for Germany, Swanson said: "It was State Department matter."

Before Congress

Washington, April 3.—An encouraging drop in the number of families on relief was reported by Harry L. Hopkins today as Congressional leaders sought to break the deadlock on the $4,800,000,000 relief bill.

Though outwardly at a standstill the big relief fund was the subject of behind the scene talk. One informed leader forecast a compromise on the administration opposed bill requiring that one-third of the $900,000,000 allocated for loans and grants to be spent for direct relief work.

Hopkins, reviewing the work of his relief administration, said "one and three-tenths per cent fewer families were on the relief rolls in February than in January. He said it was the first time in recent years that February had not shown an increase over the first month of the year.

As the Senate continued consideration of the Copeland pure food and drugs bill the House began debate on the McSwain bill to take the profit out of war. At a meeting of the Senate munitions committee Chairman Nye asserted a "Japanese war scare was stirred up to help naval appropriations before Congress."

any, would be sought to put the social securities bill through the House next week. Evidence that James Roosevelt, son of the President, interceded at the White House for naval shipbuilding jobs of the Bath (Maine), Shipbuilding Corporation, was introduced before the committee.
