GORDON WILL OPEN REVIVAL
HERE SUNDAY

Noted Author
Lecturer to Conduct
Services at Memorial
Baptist Church

Plans had been completed today for the coming of Dr. S. D. Gordon, of Winston-Salem, who will begin a series of revival services at Memorial Baptist church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and continue through May 16th.

Preparatory services leading up to the revival will begin tonight at 8 o'clock and continue through Friday evening, Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, pastor of the church said today.

The coming of Dr. Gordon, noted lecturer and author, announced several weeks ago, has been received with interest throughout the community and the church is expected to be crowded to overflowing each day the services are in progress.

Dr. Gordon, a layman, is probably best known through his creation of "Quiet Talks," a series of books on the personal Christian life and world conditions. There are some twenty odd volumes in the series and they have been read by members of various denominations in many parts of the world.

Dr. Gordon recently returned from Geneva where he had the opportunity to sit in the press gallery of the League of Nations. The impressions gained at those important sessions enable him to color his discussions with vivid impressions of world conditions.

He has made extended speaking journeys through British Isles, Continental countries and Asia. He spoke through an interpreter for nearly three years on one of these trips.

His opening sermon here will be on the subject, "The Hungry Heart of God."

Mr. Fleischmann said a cordial invitation was extended to members of all denominations to attend these services and hear this noted lecturer and author.

The Greenville High School will make a distinct contribution to the Education Day program to be given tomorrow night at which Dr. Edgar W. Knight will be the speaker. The program will be in the Greenville High School auditorium. The Glee Club will furnish the musical numbers. High School students will act as ushers and the teachers who are members of the A. A. U. He spent a year investigating educational problems in European countries. He has taught in the summer school of Columbia University from which he received his doctor's degree. He will be sure to have a message tomorrow night for the general public as well as for school people, members of Parent-Teacher Associations, and others directly connected with the public schools.

IMPRESSION: Braun - trusting

Roosevelts often express irritation over Dan Roper's performances. They criticize him as a politician of the old-fashioned order. But Dan frequently exhibits the kind of pinch-hit brains the President needs these days.

Day after the bankers excoriated the administration's monetary policies at White Sulphur Springs, some time ago Dan summoned his Business Advisory Council to the Capital and belittled them to the White House. There they endorsed several phases of the presidential program. Day after the United States Chamber of Commerce lambasted the New Deal Dan again herded his council into Mr. Roosevelt's presence.

Since bankers and Chamber members serve on the council their objections at the White House after each attack upon its occupant extracts some poison from their sting.

DAMAGE SUIT

Concord Business Man Defends Himself Against Charges
Of Brandon Smith

Charlotte, N. C., May 8.—(AP)—Joseph F. Cannon, wealthy Concord business man, took the witness stand in Mecklenburg Superior Court today to defend himself against the $250,000 alienation of affections suit brought by F. Brandon Smith, Jr., his son-in-law.

Smith, young Charlotte real estate operator, charges that Cannon was responsible for the divorce secured by his wife, the former Ann Cannon Reynolds, first wife of Smith Reynolds, tobacco fortune heir. Cannon took the stand after Judge W. F. Harding overruled a motion of non-suit.

Counsel for Cannon in asking the non-suit, argued there was no evidence that the defendant had acted in any fashion except in accord with a natural reaction of a father toward strained conditions in the family of his daughter.

Smith's counsel, on the other hand, contended there was ample evidence to show Ann was taken to Hot Springs, Ark., for the divorce against her will.

The plaintiff has contended all throughout that Cannon, incensed because of Smith's insistence that Ann should have custody of her little daughter by her previous marriage, used the child and his parental authority to draw Ann away from her husband.

North Carolinian
Slated For President
Of Cotton Textile
Institute

Washington, D. C., May 8.—(AP)—O. M. Gardner, former Governor of North Carolina, today appeared slated to become president of the Cotton Textile Institute.

Announcement late yesterday at the White House that President Roosevelt at Gardner's request had relieved him of the appointment as special counsel of the telephone investigation, gave rise to report that the North Carolinian would succeed C. H. Door, acting president of the institute.

It also was reported Gardner probably would become chairman of the Cotton Textile Code Authority, a post now held by George A. Sloan. Decision on Gardner to withdraw from the telephone investigation came after textile interests, especially in the South, appealed to him and to President Roosevelt, that he remain associated with the industry. He is now Washington counsel for the institute.

House Kills Liquor Bill
Raleigh, May 8 (AP)—The House this afternoon killed the Day bill proposing to put the state in the liquor business by allowing it to sell one quart of whiskey every 15 to adults.

The measure was based on the 1915 North Carolina law which was replaced in 1923 by the stringent prohibition law after national prohibition became effective.

Debate on the bill was limited and its proponents expressed belief it would result in better control and would not permit any more liquor in the state than at present.

Opponents argued the senate would kill it on a point of order as they had already refused to pass the Day liquor store bill and it was defeated 64 to 21.

The senate passed the amended biennial school machinery bill on its final reading as amended and returned it to the house for concurrence.

The house in mid afternoon refused to concur in the senate changes in the school machinery act and conferees were named.

Senators debated at length a measure to fix the salaries of workers of the State Highway and Public Works Commission.

The joint resolution passed by the House yesterday calling for sine die adjournment of the Legislature Friday afternoon had not been considered by the Senate early this afternoon but Senate leaders predicted it would be amended to make adjournment Saturday instead of Friday.

House members put the cost of county hunting licenses back at the Senate figure at $1.10 in striking out the 60 cents amendment they put into the State-wide game bill yesterday and the passed the bill on second reading.

As the Representatives worked to get through all business this week they started killing bills containing tax features which might delay adjournment. Death was dealt a measure to tax beer made in the State because it would have taken five more days to enact the law.

The House also killed the Bowie bill proposing to repeal the absentee ballot law in several counties of the State. Both divisions previously had killed the measure to repeal the absentee ballot law in all elections and primaries.

GOVERNMENT WILL DIRECT
STATE RELIEF

Change in Administration of Relief
Funds to Become Effective July 1

Washington, May 8.—(AP)—High officials asserted today that the government is planning to take command of relief administration in the states by July 1. Most of the present state relief directors probably will be retained, it was said, but they will be responsible to Washington instead of to the governors.

Declining to be quoted by name, the officials who forecast the change in policy, said that recent controversies with several states were "partly" responsible for the action.

Another explanation given was that the centralization of relief forces would provide a more responsible organization to feed the $4,000,000,000 work relief drive now just getting under way.

"It will be a change in form rather than in substance," one official said.

He recalled that control of the billion dollar social work administration campaign slightly over a year ago was controlled in the capital.

The relief reins in several states already have been taken into the hands of federal authorities.

IN COURT HERE

Three Consolidated
Cases Seek Recovery From Atlantic
Coast Line Railroad

Plaintiffs won out in three damage suits against Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company in civil superior court here today.

Julius Brown was awarded $250 in one suit and $227.50 in a second suit, and Fred Jones was given $266.50 in a third suit.

They were suing for alleged damage caused to their woodlands by fire which they claimed was started by sparks from A. C. L. trains.

The suits were consolidated and heard as one. The jury received the case shortly after noon and returned a verdict in 15 minutes.

The three damage suits against Atlantic Coast Line Railroad went to the jury during the early afternoon and a decision was expected any time.

The suits are those of Fred Jones and Julius Brown who seek recovery on around two hundred acres of timberland burned by a fire which they charged was started by sparks from an engine of the railroad.

Jones instituted one suit and Brown two, and the court decided to consolidate them in order to save time.

The plaintiffs want from $10 to $15 an acre damage, but the railroad company declares the figure exorbitant, although they were said to be willing to pay from 50 cents to $1.00 an acre.

The case was begun yesterday morning immediately after court reconvened and the entire day was spent in examination of a long string of witnesses presented by both sides. Argument was started shortly after completion of testimony this morning and the case went to the jury around noon.

Court convened here for a one-week term Monday morning with a docket of around thirty cases. Four or five cases were completed the opening day, three of which were compromises, and the remainder of the week is expected to find the calendar virtually cleared barring unexpected delay.

After a week off next week, civil court will convene Monday week for a two-week term. Sixty or more cases are scheduled for action during that period with indications that the civil calendar will be greatly relieved.

Death at Irvington
Before Classes Be-

Irvington, N. Y., May 8.—(AP)—Dr. Paul Kyle, elderly head of the Kyle school for boys here, was found shot to death at the school today.

The school director had been shot in the head. A shotgun lay nearby on the ground, police said.

They notified medical examiner Amos O. Squire.

About a month ago a man with a German accent similar to Dr. Kyle's, telephoned to newspapers to say the headmaster had committed suicide. At the time some of the messages said the shooting had occurred at the school and some that it was in a New York hotel. It caused confusion for several days as Dr. Kyle had left the school to go to New York and could not be located.

Eventually he returned to the school, and said he planned to take action against the reporter of his death if he could find him.

The shooting today occurred about 9 a. m., just as classes were convening for the day.

Mexico, D. F., May 8.—(AP)—Eager to blaze another new aerial trail, Amelia Earhart hopped off at 6 a. m., 7 a. m. (EST) here today on an attempted 2,100 mile non-stop flight to New York.

The famed woman flier, conqueror of two oceans, lifted her heavily loaded plane into the air after taxiing two miles along the three-mile runway especially prepared for her and then circled to gain altitude.

Once she was high enough in Mexico's rarified atmosphere she held a straight course across the 10,000 foot mountain between the capital and Tampico.

Thence her course lay across 700 miles of the Gulf of Mexico to New Orleans. After the Louisiana land-fall she plans to fly straight to New York.

Member of Liquor
Free Conference
Announces Action of Body on Question

Columbia, S. C., May 8.—(AP)—Representative Solomon Blatt, of Barnwell, a member of the liquor free conference, announced today after a talk with Governor Johnston that "we will have a straight license in liquor bill."

Blatt did not amplify his statement, but it was indicated that the governor had objected to a provision in the tentative conference bill which would have allowed counties to take out licenses and compete with private dealers.

The measure, basically the same that the Senate passed, would license retail dealers over the State for $250 and wholesalers for $2,000 a year to operate under a $2,000 surety bond. Retail sales would be restricted to packages of at least one-half pints.

A meeting of directors of the Greenville base ball club was held in the directors' room of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company last night. Practically all the directors were present and much business was attended to, so much that finances were not reached. The directors voted to spend the entire next meeting on Tuesday night, May 14 on ways and means of solicitation and general financing. The committee which was named to have additional grandstand and bleacher seats erected reported and were instructed to carry on. All two outfielders from Alabama had been abandoned. It was decided the club had enough local talent to select from without having these boys come from another state.

The president of the club reported that Stowe of E. C. T. C. had been signed for this playing season and other players were discussed. Nothing further along this line will be given out at present pending a conference next Thursday between Farley and club officials, as Farley will be in town on that date to further perfect the organization. After next Thursday the directors hope to give the entire roster and also the adopted schedule for this season.

The board of directors voted unanimously that the club would play regular scheduled games on Sunday and not play exhibition games as has been suggested by some. It is not the intention of the Greenville base ball club to commercialize on Sunday base ball and what Sunday games are played in Greenville will be regular scheduled games. Mr. Whitehurst attended the meeting representing the Greenville water and light company and made a donation as coming from the employees of that organization. He also invited the committee on grounds to have dinner with the water and light company at their next "get-together" meeting on the fourth Friday night in May. The club hopes to be able in the next few days to give the entire roster and all other information regarding base ball here this summer.

By C. A. PAUL

The House continued its liquor-mindedness as it O. K'd under suspension of the rules a bill by Representatives McCall, McQueen and McEachern to legalize the "wee dooch-an-dors" in the "Scotch Belt" of North Carolina.

The "wee dooch-an-dors" (translated into modern English, it means "a drink in the stirrup") originated in the bonny Scotland ages ago. A traveler on horseback would stop at any house along his route and, without dismounting, would bail out to the persons living in it to bring him a wee dooch-an-dors. It would be brought to him and while he slipped it he would tell any news he knew from the direction whence he came. The news was payment for the stirrup cup.

Representative Martin McCall, of Robeson, who was born and educated in Scotland, made a ringing speech filled with burrs in support of the bill.

THE SUICIDE BRIGADE

There seem to be a good many people in this country who don't care much for living but who would be the first to be agast if you accused them of it. For no reason at all, they are constantly and cheerfully risking their necks—and yours.

This group of citizens—who total hundreds of thousands—constitutes our reckless, ignorant and irresponsible motorists. Consciously or unconsciously possessed of the idea that their abilities are not second to those of the daredevils of the race tracks, they make a practice of driving faster than the law allows, even though they are going nowhere in particular and have all the time in the world to get there. They weave in and out of traffic—if they waited until the roadway was clear for passing, they'd lose a precious second or so. They drive on the wrong side of the road. They have a contempt for traffic lights and signals, which were obviously created for less gifted mortals. They laugh at the rumored perils of hills and curves, and take extreme pleasure in passing on them. When their brakes go bad and their steering and lighting systems falter, they put off repairs until some distant tomorrow—they'll certainly be able to get by until then without a mishap. And so it goes, down the entire list of acts of commission and omission that cause our toll of 35,000 automobile deaths per year.

The rest of us wouldn't have any kick coming if the suicide brigade risked their own lives only—that, after all, would be their prerogative. But they menace us as well—menace everyone and everything which uses the streets and highways. The innocent suffer along with the guilty—and, unless these drivers are curbed, each of us runs an excellent chance of being eventually numbered among the victims of the suicide brigade.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

mize the importance of the Chamber's attitude. They suggest that this organization no longer speaks for the more influential business element, in view of heavy losses in membership during the depression.

ACTIVE: The administration is far more concerned over the strategy of the American Liberty League. The Shouse-Kaskob-Smith outfit may constitute a serious threat to 1936 dreams.

The League has money and brains. It is establishing state branches, still expanding, it occupies more floor space in Washington's largest building than does the National Democratic Committee. Its pamphlets criticizing New Deal proposals are eagerly sought after by members of Congress, newspapers, government departments, the Republican Congressional Committee and even the British Embassy.

So Jim Farley may be glad to learn that the League does not plan to participate in the Presidential fracas. It will restrict its activity to electing or defeating candidates for Congress. But its record so far indicates that it will extend its blessing to anti-New Dealers in the main.

ERRORS: Organized labor chose the wrong time to stage a strike demonstration in the automobile industry. Their more intelligent leaders knew it all the time.

The industry had one of its best January-March sales periods in many years. The strike which threatened last December would have crippled the manufacturers, for then they could not meet the dealers' demand. But now, facing the slack season of spring and summer, they can afford to shut down. Exhibition of new models has been advanced from next January to early fall, and designing of novel features will take time. But a skeleton scientific staff is all they need for the next few months. A strike in the production plants won't hurt so much.

A. F. of L. insiders cannot understand why their leaders failed to head off choice of such an unfavorable time and ground for a battle. Behind the scenes there is a muttered but growing demand for more expert generalship. One of these days it may upset Bill Green and his staff.

CRUSADE: "Safety glass" manufacturers are preparing for a profitable season. Almost without general notice lobby-dods of the monopoly which manufactures this type of automobile window are persuading legislatures to pass laws requiring it for all cars.

Seven states now require that this so-called "shatter proof" glass be installed in private or "for hire" cars. Similar demands are before the 40-odd legislatures now in session, with a good chance of enactment. The movement, tenderly nursed by several corporations, is spreading, and there is talk of seeking federal action along this line. The AAA has watched the development closely, and thus far has protected motorists by insisting that the provision apply only to new cars manufactured after a certain date.

But this "safety crusade" may prove costly. There is no assurance that the lobby may not move on private homes, office buildings and de luxe baby carriages.

ASSETS: It wasn't because of Norman Thomas's engaging personality that President Roosevelt recently welcomed his 1932 Socialist opponent at the White House. Whether he meant to or not Mr. Thomas did the Democrats a good turn where they need it.

He declared on the White House doorstep—an excellent publicity pulpit—that there was more wretchedness in Kingfish Long's Louisiana than elsewhere in the land. The only material possession of starving tenant farmers, he said, is a Long button proclaiming the doctrine of "every man a King."

Huey has counted on support from Socialists in the cities if he heads or sponsors an anti-Roosevelt movement next year. But this rough talk by the Marxian men's leader is so many lost causes won't win the Senator many votes in that sector.

Kiwanis To Play High Schools As Feature of Finals

Kiwanis - High School baseball games are scheduled to highlight commencement season at three schools of the country during the latter part of this week and next week. It was made known today.

The Kiwanians are scheduled to meet Winterville High at Winterville Thursday afternoon, May 9; Grimesland at Grimesland Monday, May 13, and Bethel at Bethel Friday, May 17.

All games will begin at 3:30 o'clock and hundreds of people attending commencement at the three schools are expected to be on hand to watch the High School lads pit their prowess against former college and league players comprising the Kiwanis outfit.

The Kiwanians have shown much interest in the development of athletics in the various schools of the county the last several years and threw a team or their own into the field to further this objective.

The clubmen have already engaged two or three county school teams in play this season at the risk of stiff joints and accompanying inertia, but they were looking forward with more or less interest to the commencement season and expect to furnish plenty of competition for the high youngsters.

The mountains of the world spring up from low furrows in its surface.

Oak Ridge To Play College Here Saturday

On Saturday the Pirates of East Carolina Teachers will play the Cadets of Oak Ridge here in the last home game of the season for the locals. In an earlier game with the Cadets the Pirates were defeated 6 to 1.

Three of the Oak Ridge players are former Coastal Plain League players. Hayworth and Peele were with Kingston and Roger Taylor, Greenville boy was with Greenville. Peele will report to Chattanooga after the current season is over. Red Hayworth, Cadet first baseman, is a brother of Hayworth, the Detroit catcher.

Col. Earl Holt, Oak Ridge baseball coach, is perhaps the best baseball coach in the South. He has developed many big league players. At the present, the most outstanding are the Ferrell brothers of Botson.

Roger Taylor, Cadet ace, is likely to pitch against the Pirates in the game here Saturday. Rogers or Dunn will be the opposing pitcher. Peele will catch for Oak Ridge and Ayers will complete the E. C. T. C. battery. The game will be played at the college field at 3:30 o'clock. Come out and give the players your support in the last game of the season.

Legislative Rambling

It was for the benefit of "the God-blessed Macs of the Scotch Belt," Moore, Cumberland, Hoke, Robeson, Bladen and Scotland counties were named as comprising the Scotch MBelt.

The bill will reach the Senate today. Because the Senate killed its Day liquor control bill the House is in the proper mood to pass just about any liquor bill offered it. The House likes to punit the Senate on the spot.

Almost any moment, now Senate liberals may move to force their dry colleagues who voted No on the Day bill to show their hands. The Senate calendar committee ruled thumbs down on the Page prohibition enforcement bill which would have created a dry army. But the bill is not dead. The liberals may force a showdown by attempting to remove the measure from the unfavorable calendar. If they do they will demand a roll-call vote.

After passing the House on three readings, the hotel tax bill is now in the hands of the Senate Calendar Committee. Branded by many as "a retaliatory bill" against Senator Hall Johnston, of Buncombe, who voted against the liquor control bill, the measure would levy a graduated tax on hotel rooms and make the 3 per cent retail tax apply to the rental of such rooms. Senator Johnston had succeeded in removing from the revenue bill the section which would have placed hotel rooms under the sales tax.

Legislative leaders are having difficulty in holding the two Houses in check this week. The leaders are striving mightily for sine die adjournment before the week is over. Last week they said the Legislature ought to call it quits by today (Wednesday), still later, they named Thursday as the day. Now they "have it fixed" for Friday, but Saturday is the more probable date.

House members have grown very restless, and Speaker Johnson has to remind them frequently that State-wide bills are facing the House and that they must be passed if the General Assembly is to get away this week. It's like the last week of school, the boys are inclined to be playful.

Droves of local bills have been run through the legislative mill this week. Some of them, following the habit of former years, are bill repealing local bills passed earlier in the present session.

Colonel LeRoy Kirkpatrick, former Senator from Mecklenburg and candidate for the governorship in the 1936 primary, is in Raleigh shaking hands. The impeccably-dressed Colonel says he is "letting the other boys talk," thus expiating his silence on State affairs. The Colonel has "reformed"—it isn't exactly typical of him to keep silent on anything political.

Congressman Stephen M. Young of Ohio has a son, Stephen, Jr., 22, who is stationed at Norfolk, Va., as an enlisted man in the navy.

More than 845,000 automobiles were registered in Los Angeles County, California.

THE V-8 SETS ANOTHER RECORD
May 1st brought 1935
Ford V-8 sales up to total all-year 1933 Ford sales
(Total 1932 Ford sales were equalled by April 10th last)

ISN'T IT TIME YOU TRIED THIS NEW FORD V-8

SOMETHING has happened to the automobile world today and that something is the 1935 Ford V-8.

It is a car that upsets accepted standards of motor car practice—by ignoring them.

With its eleven extra inches of springbase (123 inches between the springs) it exceeds all standards for its size as to roominess and riding comfort. With the only V-8 engine short of a $2300 car, it exceeds standards of performance at its price—yet its 85 horsepower engine runs more thrifly than ever.

In safety, too, it exceeds expected limits—with more effective braking surface per pound of car weight than you find elsewhere below $1095—and with welded all-steel body, welded steel-spoke wheels, safety glass all around at no extra cost.

It's a car that you ought to try. Not just because it is setting sales records everywhere—but because the reasons behind those sales records are so straight-to-the-point. You may come "to look over a new car"—you'll remain to approve a whole new set of value standards for your automobile dollar.

May we show you the 1935 Ford V-8?

MOTHER MINE

Oh Mother mine, the name so dear
To me there is no other;
God first, God last, God all the time,
But next to Him, My Mother!

Oh, Memories that bless and burn
Go back for many years
To the time when Mother took me up
And kissed away the tears.

The days when sad, I used to be,
When my heart it seemed to tear;
At home I knew I could be helped—
My Mother—she was there.

God bless my Mother, days have passed
And years are passing too,
I cling to her, 'tis heaven to have
A Mother kind and true.

So when her days on earth are done,
And she's passed from this shore
to another;
No monument on earth can take
The place of kind old Mother.
CHAS. A. STRATFORD.

Youth People's Council
The Council of the Senior Young People's Society of the Presbyterian church met with Miss Ruth Hillhouse at the home of Mrs. O. G. Guiley for the purpose of planning their programs for meetings of the coming month. Fifteen met at the Council, including the hostess and the guests. Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Grady.

An outstanding part of the business was the plan to invite all of the Senior Young People's Societies in Greenville to a joint meeting at our church on Sunday, May 19th.

After the business meeting there was a social hour during which games were played and delicious refreshments were served.

Alumnae Bridge Tournament
The bridge tournament sponsored by the Greenville Chapter of East Carolina Teachers College Alumnae held in Ragsdale Hall last evening was a success in every way.

The living rooms were attractively decorated with spring flowers and twenty-one tables were placed for the bridge games.

At the conclusion of many interesting games, prizes were awarded. Mrs. Archie Sugg scoring high for ladies was awarded silk hose. Archie Sugg scoring high for men was awarded cuff links. Mrs. Harry Johnson was given theatre tickets for second high ladies score and A. A. Henderson a memorandum book for second high men's score. For low, Mrs. George B. Starling was given perfume for ladies and Vernon Parrish a bill folder for men. The door prize went to Mrs. W. I. Wooten, and the birthday prize, cut flowers, went to Mrs. C. H. Edwards.

There were several bridge clubs entertained at the tournament. Mrs. M. K. Fort was given high for high for Miss Morton's club. Mrs. W. F. Young, theatre tickets for high score for Mrs. J. B. Cummings' club. Mrs. Dink James, a permanent wave and shampoo for high score for Mrs. L. W. Gaylord's club, and Mrs. Howard McGinnis, a permanent wave and shampoo for high score for Mrs. H. E. Austin's club.

All the prizes were donated by the merchants of the city.

A tempting ice course was served.

Sans Souci Book Club
The Sans Souci Book Club held one of the most enjoyable meetings of the year with Mrs. Frank Wooten at her home on W. 3rd St., Tuesday afternoon, May 7th. The home was attractive with baskets of pink roses and verbenas and a large number of members were present.

After the business routine the president turned the meeting over to Mrs. J. B. Blount, assistant program chairman. Mrs. Blount called on Mrs. Sam White, who gave for the afternoon's program a review of her recent visit to Williamsburg and the beautiful Virginia gardens.

She gave a most delightful insight into the old "Carter's Grove," home-place, now owned by the McCreas. Then, a vivid picture of Williamsburg from its earliest days to its present state of restoration telling of the dream of Dr. Goodwin, that was responsible for the expenditure of the Rockefeller millions and which made him president of "The Restoration Association" and in detail described the buildings, furnishings, grounds, etc. She illustrated the lecture by passing around photographs of all the points of interest. She also gave a most beautiful account of three famous gardens, "Westover," "Lower Brandon" and "Claremont," and her talk was one of the most inspiring and delightful of the year.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. W. I. Wooten and Mrs. S. E. Gates, served a delicious salad course, after which the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Bruce Sugg, May 21st.

Rotary Club Specials
What the Rotarians call "The best meeting of the year" was held Monday night at the Rotary Club and was the only meeting on record to be held overtime by vote so that the program might be completed. Chas. A. Stratford was in charge of the program and is to be commended for the splendid combination of talent he acquired. The evening of entertainment started off successfully with a ten minute talk on "Our responsibilities to the youth of today" by Doc Herbert Barker. It was directed to the individual citizen of today; full of inspiration, advice, and brotherly love such as he alone can give. This talk was followed by a series of instrumental and vocal selections the first being a solo by Edna Earl Ellis (Sunset in the hills) and the way the Rotarians applauded one would have thought they were in the Meca Temple at New York City. She has a lovely contralto voice and would give Kate Smith a close race for popularity if she had the opportunity to broadcast over the radio. Later in the evening she sang "Believe me if all those endearing young charms" by request. Peggy West played a beautiful selection on the piano entitled "The singer and the bird" playing variations and making runs like a professional. No one would think by listening to her play that she had only had five months' lessons on the piano. Fay Duval had the minds of the Rotarians wandering back to the days when they were young as she sang without hesitation or mistake and in a beautiful voice "Drifting down memory lane."

She was the youngest one taking part on the program and is to be congratulated. Charles Wooten next gave a five minute talk on "What Youth expects of the Adult" and told Rotarians point blank what they should do and what they should not do to cooperate with the youth of today. "Farewell to Thee" is always a popular selection and was played again Monday night by Emmie Lou White on her Hawaiian guitar. A person could have closed their eyes and imagined they were on a little island in the South seas among a group of native Hawaiians.

The touch was so perfect and the melody of songs that followed, "When I grow too old to dream," and "Isle of Capri" played by Emmie Lou White and Peggy West was another rendition that would make anyone's mind go drifting to the far off land of somewhere. The last but not the least on the program was a piano solo, "Melody in F," by Rubenstein played by Virginia Stocks. Anyone that understands music, knows that this selection is difficult even for a professional player but Virginia has the touch that makes a good piano player and mastered the keys until one could almost feel the spirit of Rubenstein standing beside her. It was through the kindness of Miss Earl that the Rotary Club obtained their services and the rare treat that they gave. All the children were from West Greenville school and have only been taking lessons from Miss Earl from four to six months. This was their first public appearance and it was remarkable how well they accomplished each selection. But we should not be surprised when we realize the capability of Miss Earl, as a music teacher and her reputation of being able to play any instrument professionally.

We are expecting our encampment this summer to be one of the best we have ever had. Each girl's mother is invited—also all 4-H leaders and all have demonstration club women. Announcements will be mailed to all just as soon as the reports are in this office. Will each club member remind her club leader to send in these reports?

4-H Canning
A schedule will be made for canning demonstrations for 4-H girls in the near future. Will any girl who would like to have a demonstration given in her home please get in touch with the Home Agent at an early date. She may invite all the girls who are near her home whether they are enrolled as 4-H girls or not.

among other things for the institution of a systematic, state-wide study of police work, the preparation of guidebooks for law enforcement officers, and the establishment of a central clearing house of information and crime detection laboratory.

The latter work, it was said, has already been started by the Law Enforcement Officers' Division of the Institute of Government, and two members of the staff, Director Albert Coates and his assistant, Malcolm Seawell, are now going from town to town, studying the work and problems of the police officers first hand.
