GORDON WILL END REVIVAL
HERE TONIGHT

Tremendous Crowd Expected to Hear Winston Salem Writer's Final Message

The series of revival services which opened at Memorial Baptist church last Sunday morning will be brought to a close tonight, and the public has been given a cordial invitation to attend and hear Dr. S. D. Gordon, of Winston Salem, internationally known writer and lecturer, in his final message.

Two services have been held daily and at each Dr. Gordon has delivered impressive messages. His style is entirely different from any other revivalist that has ever visited Greenville, and his quiet, easy delivery combined with novel arrangement of his subject matter, has made a lasting impression upon the hundreds who have heard him.

Last night he spoke on the subject, "Have You Ever Spent a Day with—God?" This morning his subject was, "Can We Pray for the Conversion of Loved Ones, and Is It Fair to Them?"

A feature of the musical program at last night's service was a solo by Mrs. Herbert Waldron which provided an appropriate setting for the message to follow.

Tremendous crowds attended the services Sunday and Monday, but dwindled slightly Tuesday night because of the storm which swept over this city with such devastating effect. Unseasonable weather also held down attendance last night and this morning, but the building is expected to be crowded to overflowing tonight as members of the various congregations who have not heard the inspired messenger of the Bible make a final effort to hear him.

Prayer meetings were abandoned by the majority of churches last night to give their members an opportunity to hear Dr. Gordon. The text of last night's message was taken from Genesis 5:21 and 1 John 1:5-9. Dr. Gordon said in part:

"Enoch habitually walked with God. Have you ever spent a day with—God? You have spent a day with a friend, a kinsman. You were invited to spend the day with them and your presence there at the home of one of these affected your conduct."

Here is a story in the Old Book of a leading man of the community who used to spend a day with God, in fact, it became a habit, and he spent every day with God.

"What does that mean? The answer to this inquiry will reveal the secret of strong human life. It is the touchstone to spiritual power. Just keeping in touch with God."

"There are three bits of suggestions to think about. First, anything that belongs to the normal round of life concerns Jesus because it concerns us. Would this not make a difference in our conduct? Second, anything you can't talk over with Him, Jesus—you'd better leave out of your life. Third, talking things over with the Master in a simple reverent way, you do things better. Many a man has found this to be true, and solved many a problem thereby."

"This fact is the key to and the inspiration of the Carpenter life of the Son, at Nazareth. He lived that life for a generation. He spent his day in touch with the Father."

"But—it's a bit embarrassing walking with God. What does John say? 'He and I are fellows.' Walking in the Light as He is in the light. It will take some very costly fight to cleanse the spots that the light reveals. Try it for a day. Here is a man walking in the woods, his heavily shadowed. He talks to himself, and about himself. He's a fine fellow. Then he gets out into the open spaces, the light is bright. He notices spots on his clothing, and other defects. In the light the spots were revealed. The man hasn't changed. He has only stepped into the light. How many prefer the friendly shadows where the spots are not revealed."

"Only the precious Blood of Jesus can cleanse, giving to us the blessed sense of peace, putting a song in our heart. In the gracious presence of this blessed Fellow you may walk in the light. This is God's old plan, and it is the plan that shall be the consummation of His purposes. Try it. Walk a day with God."

This morning Dr. Gordon said: "Can we pray for the Conversion of Loved Ones, and is it fair to them?" 2 Peter 3:9 gives us a bit of suggestion in answer to this inquiry. Our loved ones may be set against it. The will may be against it. Shall we meet that condition with our power in prayer to overcome."

Man is a free agent so far as God is concerned. But—so far as Sin and selfishness is concerned man is the most enslaved creature in the universe. The purpose of prayer is not the break a will, but

KEEP PROCESSING TAX, WALLACE URGES FARMERS

A plea to hold on to the agricultural processing tax until industry removes the tariff was sounded by Secretary Henry A. Wallace to a mass meeting of some 3,000 farmers at Washington. The farmers and ranchers had gathered in Washington to voice support of the AAA and they received Wallace's speech enthusiastically. He told them they must be willing and ready to change their production control plans at any time. A part of the large crowd which listened to him is shown at left, while at right Wallace is shown speaking. (Associated Press Photos)

RAPS POLICY OF MUSSOLINI

Briton Says Italy Cannot Criticise Germany if She Ignores Her Own Vows

London, May 16.—(AP)—Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, attacking Premier Mussolini for his Ethiopian policy, declared today that Italy could not fairly criticize German rearmament if she ignored her own League of Nations vows.

"It is impossible to claim respect for the collective system in the north and flaunt it in the south," said Lord Cecil, who is president of the League of Nations council.

"Nor can a unilateral breach of part five of the treaty of Versailles (the military clause) be justly condemned unless equal sanctity is admitted of part one which contains the covenant of the league."

Cecil directed Italy's attention to the fact that Mussolini had adhered to the Stresa resolutions supporting the collective maintenance of peace in the framework of the League of Nations.

The circumstances of the Italian Ethiopian situation, said the famous peace advocate, caused him to look "anxiously to the coming meeting of the league council."

Lord Cecil delivered his attack some after the government called home Sir Eric Drummond, the British ambassador, to Rome to report on the outcome of recent Anglo-French overtures for peaceful settlement of the East African dispute.

BALL CLUB TO LAUNCH FINAL DRIVE FRIDAY

Citizens to Be Called On To Give Liberally to Successful Team This Year

A drive for finances of the local club of the Coastal Plain League will be launched Friday morning, it was decided at a meeting of the board of directors of the organization here this week.

All citizens who are appreciative of the fine record made by Greenville club the past two years in capturing the league pennant and the effort being made to place another winning team in the field are urged to give liberally to the cause.

It was understood that similar campaigns have already been launched in the seven other towns comprising the league with gratifying success. Goldsboro and Winterton, the two new entrants, especially have made rapid strides in providing their clubs with ample finances to carry on in good style. The response in other towns, it was said, has been very generous.

The directors were informed by President G. V. Smith that the roster of the local club had virtually been completed. The players come from Duke and several other prominent Send Bonus Bill To White House. Washington, May 16.—(AP)—Expressing confidence that they had picked up some votes, Senate supporters of the Patman bonus bill decided today to let it go to the White House for President Roosevelt's veto.

They reached this decision shortly after the White House had definitely made known that a veto would be forthcoming as soon as the legislation arrived.

Senator Thomas, Democrat of Oklahoma, said he would withdraw his motion to reconsider the bill, by which the bill has been kept tied up in the Senate for more than a week with the understanding that the vote to override the President's veto would be forthcoming.

THREE TOWNS
FETED HERE

Washington and Farmville Guests of Local Department at Banquet

Firemen of Washington and Farmville were guests of the Greenville Fire Department at a banquet and get-together meeting held at the Woman's club here Wednesday night. Approximately 100 firefighters from the three communities were in attendance and heard themselves extolled by city officials and leaders of their organizations.

Washington and Farmville departments came over to Greenville about a month ago to help the local company combat a destructive blaze in the western section of the city. At that time the visitors were promised they would be entertained here in a short time and the banquet was a fulfillment of that promise.

The three towns have co-operated with one another in a commendable way the last several years, and whenever there is more work than one company can do a call to either of the other two cities brings immediate response. Disasters here have been halted and thousands of dollars saved because of that spirit of co-operation.

The speakers were Vernon Parrish and Joe Taft, members of the Greenville Board of Aldermen; Sam Silverthorn, member of the fire committee; C. W. Shuff and Dick Bundy, Greenville; Haywood Smith, chief of the Farmville fire department and Richard Joyner and Dick Leach, members of the Washington department.

Each of the speakers referred to the value of a well equipped fire company to a community, and the important part which it plays in holding down the annual fire toll.

The principal thing stressed by the speakers, however, was the spirit of co-operation existing between the three towns, and what this has meant in recent years. Had it not been for Washington and Farmville in the recent fire here, it was said, it is impossible to say what the loss would have been.

The fire heads declared themselves appreciative of the commendation from the citizen, and planned to stick to one another in the future as in the past, realizing that the resources of three departments play an important part in holding down the annual loss of the fire demon.

BONUS VETO
CONFIRMED AT WHITE HOUSE

President Roosevelt States Definitely He Will Not Okay Patman Bill.

Washington, May 16.—(AP)—The White House announced definitely today that President Roosevelt will veto the Patman Bonus bill.

It also was emphasized that it was the earnest hope of the president that congress will support the veto. This statement was given through his secretary, Stephen Early, in response to published statements that some administration leaders might like to see the veto overridden for political purposes.

"I will say as definitely as I can," said Early, "that the president is not interested in the bonus because of political reasons or political expediency. He will veto the bill passed by congress."

Just when the bonus bill will be sent to the White House has not been determined. It may be tomorrow or next week. "In his message he will present as forceful an argument as he can and it is his earnest hope congress will support the veto," Early declared.

As to the stand in congress for or against the veto, the White House said all it knew was what was published in newspapers. Latest published reports were said to indicate the veto would be upheld by the senate.

SELECT CIVIL COURT JURORS

Judge M. V. Barnhill to Preside Over Two Week Term to Meet Monday

The list of jurors to serve in the two weeks' term of Superior court which will convene here next Monday morning was selected at a recent meeting of the Board of County Commissioners.

The calendar for the term was completed by the County Bar Association last week and was ready for distribution a day or so later. Between fifty and sixty cases are scheduled for the two weeks and it was believed the majority would be completed either by actual hearing or through the compromise route.

Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount, will preside over the term, and every effort will be put forward to clear the calendar as much as possible.

Several terms of civil court have been held here since the first of the year, and scores of cases which had been hanging fire for a year or more were completed. A few 'snags' prevented court reaching as many cases as desired but considerable progress was made nevertheless.

The list of jurors follows: Mills Smith, C. G. Whitehead, H. T. Flythe, T. G. Worthington, W. H. Highsmith, D. C. Whitehurst, Joe Tyson, B. N. Caraway, C. H. Edwards, L. O. Whitehurst, J. B. Hardee, R. B. McLawhorn, Frank Holloman, W. F. Jefferson, B. F.

ROW STARTS
AS FARMERS
RETURN HOME

Sen. Hastings Charges AAA With Subsidizing "March on Washington"

Washington, May 16.—(AP)—Though the farmers who came to praise the New Deal agrarian policy were mostly all gone home today they left behind a row that stirred the depths of bitterness.

Before the senate was a resolution by Senator Hastings, republican of Delaware, demanding that the Agricultural department produce data to show whether the "march on Washington" was subsidized by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Secretary Wallace, saying he welcomed an investigation, denied the AAA had any connection with the demonstration.

Earlier Hastings had compared President Roosevelt to "a small town bully" because of his declaration before the assembled farmers that critics were "lying" about the Agricultural program. His remarks caused an angry counter attack from Sen. or Connally, democrat of Texas, while some of the farm visitors were watching the battle proceed. The Hastings' resolutions, Connally charged, was an insult to the farmers. "It implies," he asserted, "that they and Wallace were in a plot to embezzle funds from the United States."

Angry, Connally urged an immediate vote on the resolution so "the detectives can get out their searchlights and see if the farmers have left anything."

STORM TOLL
INCREASES IN PITT COUNTY

Total Damage Suffered by Various Communities Expected to Reach $200,000

Reports of increased property loss from the storm which swept over this section Wednesday afternoon continued to reach Greenville today. It is now quite probable the total damage will amount to $200,000 instead of $100,000 as reported yesterday from incomplete reports reaching the city from the affected communities.

W. H. Moore, who owns and operates a large farm between Bruce and Falkland, said today hail and wind swept over his section with devastating effect. Ninety acres of tobacco were practically destroyed on Mr. Moore's farm alone with other farmers of the territory suffering heavy loss.

Mr. Moore said his loss included eight tobacco barns, five tenant houses and damage to the roof of his own home. The tenant houses were unroofed as the terrific gale swept over a path described as four miles wide and extending from the Wilson county line several miles down the north side of Tar river then to the east side into Beaufort county. Probably the greatest damage in Beaufort county was reported at Washington where a power plant building was demolished with loss of $10,000. Scores of other buildings of the section were either flattened by the wind or unroofed.

Numerous farmers on the north side of Tar river and in the Simpson community lost tobacco barns and outouses in addition to having their tobacco crop damaged both by wind and hail. It was believed on the basis of the scattered reports reaching here that between 100 and 200 tobacco barns and outouses were either demolished completely or damaged so badly they will have to be rebuilt.

Mr. Moore said he planned to replant his tobacco at once if plants were available. Similar action is planned by farmers in all sections visited by the storm. A surplus of plants this year probably will enable the growers to meet the emergency.

Cotton and other crops were also affected, it was indicated. The Bethel truck section virtually escaped damage, although heavy rain was reported in the district.

Disruption of electric light and telephone service has been reported in all sections, but the worst damage was done around Greenville. At least a hundred poles were blown down on the Bethel highway, about two miles from Greenville and in Greenville proper service was disrupted in the western part of the city for several hours.

Although it is impossible to determine the total loss suffered in the storm zone, the straggling reports reaching the city yesterday and today indicated the damage is much more severe than at first estimated. In fact, it is believed the loss will easily reach $200,000.

The storm which apparently came out of the northwest did around $300,000 damage in Wilson county reports reaching here today indicated. Tobacco was dealt a more paralyzing blow than in Pitt and scores of farm houses were wrecked along with disruption of telephone and power service.

News Behind The News.

WASHINGTON

By Ray Tucker

TRIO: The Democratic high command has quietly set up preliminary arrangements for the 1936 campaign. Their program for watching and patching their fences—which is all they think they need to do—is simplicity itself.

James Roosevelt's move to Hyde Park to manage the parental farm is part of it. Although illness necessitates that he give up his Boston insurance business, he is a skilled student of politics. At Hyde Park he can rest and consult important individuals and groups with greater secrecy than he could at Boston New York or Washington. The President is proud of his son's political initiative and depends on him for advice a great deal.

Chairman Farley will contact the politicians. His assistant, Emil Hurja, has resumed his statistical

Clinic To Hold Here A Week and Then Move To Other Towns of County

The Pitt County Health Officer, Dr. Emmett, has arranged with Doctor McCain, Superintendent of the State Sanatorium, to give Pitt County a tuberculosis clinic. This clinic will be conducted by Doctor W. F. Thornton, of the Sanatorium, in cooperation with the Pitt County Health Department.

Doctor Emmett sent a letter regarding the clinic to the physicians of the county last week, saying, in part, as follows:

"Patients must be referred by the attending physician, and can be examined by appointment only, except children may come for a tuberculin test without a special appointment. There is no cost attached to the clinic except where an X-ray is needed, and this can be had at a special rate."

The schedule for the clinic is as follows:

Greenville, Court House, May 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25.
Farmville High School, May 26th.
Ayden High School, May 28th.
Bethel High School, May 29th.
Greenville, Court House, May 30, 31, June 1st.

Hours 9:00 to 4:00, except Saturdays, 9:00 to 12:00.

Friday and Saturday of each week in Greenville have been reserved for colored patients, only.

Remember it will be a whole year before your patients will again have the privilege of this clinic and in the meantime, the suspected or incipient case of today may have lost his one chance of recovery."

The health officer states that the early symptoms of tuberculosis are very indefinite, but tuberculosis should be suspected if you tire easily, or have a poor appetite, or feel (Continued on Page Three.)

PITT GROWERS
RETURN FROM CAPITAL CITY

Tobacco Planters Pleased With Cordial Greeting Extended By President

Scores of Pitt county farmers who joined the "march on Washington" to praise the farm program of the New Deal returned home last night and today after a friendly chat with President Roosevelt and with his words of praise ringing in their ears.

It was said at the farm department the first of the week that approximately three hundred growers of this county, the largest tobacco producing county in the world, planned to make the trip to the capital city, and those returning said the figure was about accurate as Pitt countians squirmed about as much tobacco juice on the capital city streets as the rest of the sun-baked growers from other sections of the west and east.

The growers went to the capital mainly to voice their approval of the cotton processing tax and to commend the farm program of the AAA. They not only did that, but had an opportunity to visit places of interest at the capital, and to gain first hand information on the way the government is run.

They were impressed by the cordiality of President Roosevelt. Many of them had heard him in his periodical "fireside talks," but it was the first time they had ever seen him and come under the spell of his magnetic personality. The President, they said, is just like any other man. He talked to them as a farmer, too, and fully appreciated the problems confronting them. A few of the Pitt countians happened to be in the front of the crowd and were almost close enough to touch the chief executive who chatted affably with them before he addressed the three thousand who were permitted to visit the White House grounds.

It is said that Ernest Dudley, former sheriff of Pitt county, and now a prominent planter, had the pleasure of being one of those near the president and actually spoke to the New Deal leader, who in turn flashed his famous smile and told the Pitt countians he was glad they came to see him.

Pitt county probably had the largest representation present of any other county providing that when Pitt starts out to do a thing it does it in a big way. The county was the first to launch the move for government aid of tobacco growers, the first to complete signing acreage control contracts, and the leader in carrying out provisions of the agreement with the government.

By reason of this important part in the federal farm program, the growers were interested in the "march on Washington," and put on their "best bib and tucker" for their appearance before the president and approval of his farm program.

Science Club Visits Wilmington

The trip to Wilmington Tuesday by members of the Science Club of the college, was reported a great success. The party was in charge of Miss Lorraine Hunter, faculty adviser of the Science Club, and the outgoing and incoming presidents of the club, Robert Sugg Fleming and James Carr.

Every courtesy was extended to the party by the Wilmington people. The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Louis Moore, met the party at the city limits and conducted them into the city. A special block near the City Hall and the hotel had been reserved for parking and a policeman was on hand to see that his "No Parking" orders were enforced. The party went first to the Cape Fear Hotel, where they received every courtesy, and from there were conducted to the chemical plants and the sight-seeing trip to city park.

The fertilizer plant of the American Agricultural Chemical Company was the first plant visited. Here the manager himself, L. H. Vowell, greeted them. They saw the fertilizer in the making, from the raw ingredients that had been brought from various parts of the world and carried through the vast mixing hoppers until the various brands by different formulas came out and was poured into sacks and loaded on cars.

The visit to the Spiritine Plant across the city, on the banks of the Cape Fear, was very different but perhaps even more interesting. The wholesome smell of turpentine products seemed to sweep the dust out of the lungs, and there was a delightful social touch to the visit as the wife and private secretary of the owner served punch and sandwiches.

The business owned and managed by Louis Hanson, was established fifty years ago by the father of the present owner, and was one of the first plants of its kind in the world. There is now only one older plant in existence that extracts oil from wood, and that is in China. Much of the work here required knowledge of the processes in order to understand it, as the kiln and distilleries were the only features that could be seen, but all could understand that the bottles of the finished products were useful in exterminating termites. The pine trees that had been tapped for future cutting were seen along the roadside throughout that section.

The beautiful drive around the city park, Greenfield Park, and the glimpse of the extensive CWA project now being carried on, were among the most interesting features of the day. One can see how this will in time become the rival of the Charleston. The visit to the Ethyl-Dow Chemical Company of G. F. Dressel is superintendent, located on a narrow strip of land between the ocean and the river below Carolina Beach, was the high spot of the day from a scientific standpoint, as many of the stages of the processes can be seen and followed. In parties of 20 they were guided through the plant. From the tower they could get a birds-eye view of the ponds in which the sea water was held, the canal and the pipes through which it was brought with the various vats, the channels through which the refuse was carried out into the river, as well as every other part of the plant.

This is the only place in the world where bromine is extracted from sea water and is a new enterprise, only in its second year. While many interesting things are done in its laboratories, the one product is has on the market is the Ethyl debromide it furnishes for the companies for making high power gasoline. It employs a hundred and thirty men.

The members of the party had a glorious time during the lunch hour at Carolina Beach. Some had a dip in the waves while others prepared the picnic lunch in the pavilion, and all sighed when they had to hurry on and leave the beach.

After four o'clock there was no further attempt to keep the fourteen cars together. The drivers were instructed to have their groups back at the college by 9:30, and it is remarkable that only one of the fourteen had car trouble and lost the way and was late returning.

Rev. Harris Presents Diplomas

In presenting the diplomas to the graduating class of the Belvoir High School last Friday evening, Rev. C. J. Harris said in part:

"Through the courtesy of your highly esteemed Principal, Mr. Lewis, I have the privilege of presenting to you, your diplomas as a reward of honor for the hard studies of the years spent in school."

"I do not know whether or not you contemplate going to college; but I do know, that wherever you chance to go, you will have to fight life's battle. And in doing that, it is of vital importance that you have your minds centered upon some great historical personage and endeavor to reach the highest standard. Noble effort is the beauty of life. Inflexible determination is the price of success."

"If I were asked, what is the most noble structure in human history, I would say a well spent life. The poet's verse and the orator's eloquence have scarcely entered the threshold of its heavenly glory. Silver-tongued divines, and profound statesmen have endeavored almost in vain to picture in their immortal production the grandeur of its inner court."

"A celestial potency fresh from the throne of God has permeated the utmost limits of human progress. Its triumph, Christianity, and human liberty, twin-sisters sent from above, for man's redemption, has long since taught us that the builder of that grand structure, is noble effort and tireless energy."

"Its unchangeable truth, grand, majestic, sublime, eternal, the grandest truth that ever trembled on prophetic lips, or swelled the notes of royal harps, and is today the brightest diadem in human history."

Search the pages of renown, wonder over the records of illustrious worth, and you will find them filled with principles that have animated ancient bards and holy prophets.

"When Henry W. Longfellow was a young man, he was wasting the golden moments of life, like thousands of our young men are doing today; but on one beautiful morning he walked out in the field, he

ONE REASON WHY YOU DO NOT GET A GOOD WAVE! Naturally, the lower the price you pay for your permanent—the cheaper the materials must be that go into it.

For instance: LOTIONS: (the liquid with which your hair is saturated before steaming)—most of these Lotions are so strong and harsh that when heat is applied, forcing it into the hair, it "cats its way" into the structure—and when the wave is finished it comes out dry, brittle, splitting or breaking the ends of the hair.

Normal hair cannot stand very much of such treatment—and this is ONE of the reasons why some hair will not take a good wave!

A good thing to remember is that NO TWO people have the same kind of hair—and the same treatment will not work in all cases! A permanent cannot be discarded—it must be worn—good or bad—Select your wave with care!

REAL ESTATE ON UPSWING

Transfer of Property Shows Slight Gain Here During Last Few Days

Although the movement of real estate has been rather sluggish in Pitt county during the last month, a slight revival was noted the last several days.

Records in the office of the register of deeds today indicated that approximately a score of transfers were recorded during the period. Although the movement is considerably behind the fall and winter months, the slight spurt has caused optimism for improvement during the summer.

Much new building has been reported in several parts of the county. In Greenville especially a number of new houses are under construction along with repairs to others.

The summer, according to news coming over the grapevine, route probably will see other new homes built and the end of the year ought to find some of the demand for homes met, at least to some extent.

The largest of the transactions here the last several days was that of David Proctor to E. H. Taft and wife, one lot, for a consideration of $8,000.

The next most important was from W. A. Haddock to Sinie Haddock, 20 acres, for $5,000.

Other transactions involved sums ranging all the way from $1 to $4,000.

The list follows:
Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. to J. J. Edwards and wife, 40 A. $150.
A. L. Patrick and wife to Sam Short, 80-9 A. $3,673.62.
T. J. Moore, tr. to A. L. Patrick 179 A. $4,000.

W. S. Tyson, tr. to Blount-Harvey Co., Building, $800.
Selma C. Moore to Town of Bethel, 3 1-2 A. $1,000.

J. B. Smith and wife, et als, to G. C. Basmore, lot, $100.
W. H. Woodard to O. W. Moore 106 3-10 A. $2,212.12.
S. J. Everett Com. to Sallie Norris, A. $400.

The health officer explains that since only a small number can be taken, he must limit the examination to those referred by a physician, otherwise the clinic would be filled up with people who are not tuberculous. For it has been found by experience that when a clinic accepts all who desire to come, many come to be examined simply because they have some chronic heart, kidney or joint disease, etc, and these people keep out the tuberculous suspects—the very patients for whom the clinic is intended.

Several of the players come from Duke. They are the cream of the organization, including such stalwarts as Reynolds May and Ty Wagner, pitcher and catcher, respectively, of last season's championship Greenville club. The pitching staff this season will be much stronger than in previous years, Mr. Smith asserted, and the other players have enough dynamite in their bats to provide plenty of thrills throughout the season.

Greenville lagged in play until the latter part of the second half last season when she forged ahead and barely nosed out winner. She then captured championship honors from Kinston, a two to one favorite in the betting when the series opened. An earlier start in the battle for first place honors will be made this year, President Smith told the directors, and he expressed hope everybody would share in the work of the club by generous giving in the financial drive to open Friday.

New York Cotton

New York, May 16.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady two to nine lower under selling of May notices and liquidation of commission houses.

July which sold up from 1188 to 1194 was quoted at 1191 late in the first hour and the market was generally two to three points net lower except for May which showed loss of 11 points.

The advance was checked when March sold up to 12.00 or net unchanged to three points higher for the more active months. By mid-day the market had become quiet. The rally carried July up from 1188 to 1196 and prices at midday were holding within a few points of the best.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, May 16.—(AP)—The inflation bee buzzed a little louder in today's speculative market as stocks were pushed up in a boom time spurt to the highest level since last July.

Oils, motors, steel, rails many specialties participated in the sharp rally which carried prices up to two or more points ahead and put the ticker tape seven minutes before floor transactions for a brief period.

While the inflationary revival was given most credit for the buying movement this picture was not altogether clear to market analysts. Secondary bonds improve by United States government and low yield corporations loans supposed to suffer from any drastic inflation were not too heavy. Cotton was narrow. Grains followed stocks.

Transfers were 2,000,000 shares.

Approve Federal Projects

Washington, May 16.—(AP)—The federal government planned to take charge of all municipal projects whose entire cost is borne by the four billion dollar public works program.

This was made known today by Harry Hopkins, head of the works progress administration at a press conference.

Meanwhile, Senator McCarran of Nevada, served notice he would fight the wage rate schedule reported to have been drafted tentatively by high officials for a 30 cent cut from the prevailing wage in paying employees on the work project.

Executives of the 60 government agencies who will supervise the work planned were summoned to the white house today to go over proposed projects. It was considered likely some of them would be approved at the meeting.

State Convict Killed.

Raleigh, May 16.—(AP)—Paul Honeycutt, serving a sentence in the state prison for house breaking in Buncombe county, was killed this morning at the Carey prison farm near here, by Ed Hester, another prisoner.

Hester entered the prison March 16 from Gaston county to serve 20 to 25 years for second degree murder.

Coroner L. M. Waring of Wake county ordered Hester held on death row at central prison here pending his indictment on a charge of murder. The coroner said his probe resulted in finding that Hester had borrowed an axe this morning from Douglas Rowland, another prisoner, and without saying a word to anyone walked down the ditch in which the prisoners had been put to work.

GORDON WILL END

REVIVAL TONIGHT

To set the man free so that he may voluntarily act. Being freed, the man will come on his own two feet, and he will thank you for having been so kind as to pray for him, and being faithful to your task.

"Four helps: First, Our side, we must do the praying, and keep in touch. John 15:7. This will straighten things out for us.

Second, God's side, 2 Peter 3:9. "Not willing that any should perish." That is God's view of the matter. Third, the process through which it works, 2 Tim. 2:24. "The Lord's servant—you must not strive—that is, not argue—but be gentle—gentleness is strength accommodating itself to someone less strong—toward all, apt to teach forbearing in meekness, instructing those that oppose themselves, so that they may get a change of mind about God, the simple truth and themselves, and then those who have been taken captive by the Devil for his will, shall recover themselves out of his snare to the gracious will of God." Fourth, the form of prayer, Matt. 6:13, "Deliver us from the evil one."

"In this process it requires us to go over onto the battlefield of another life. If Satan is in control of that life, then Jesus is besieging it to get control. Lift up the Blood of God, the blood of Jesus, Claim His victory on the battlefield of the loved one's life. The Devil must go, however reluctantly. The Blood of Jesus spells his defeat. Thus the loved one will be freed from his power and will come of his own free will to the feet of Jesus, surrender the life and thank you for praying for him.

"We are the open doorway into the light for our loved ones. Will we keep the door swung wide, and help them cross the threshold to life, peace and love in Him?"

Terminal Plans About Ready.

Raleigh, May 16.—(AP)—Governor Ehringhaus expressed the opinion today that a formal contract between the state and the federal PWA to enable construction of the port terminal facilities at Morehead City will be signed within the next few days.

"There are a couple of little matters as to how the expressed things in the contract which must be straightened out before everything is closed," the governor said.

"I expect everything to be fixed in a day or two."

The state is interested in the matter as the railroad in which it owns a majority of the stock, the Atlantic and North Carolina, will pledge its resources as collateral for the PWA plan of close to $400,000 for the port terminal.

Ruth Retirement Hinges On Trip Through West

Boston, May 16.—(AP)—Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Boston Braves, confronted today with published reports that Babe Ruth, former home-run king, would quit major league baseball soon, said he thought "everything hinges on the western trip."

He said he would have to think of Ruth leaving the game when "lost in temperment."

Denying he knew anything of the Babe's reported intention to quit Judge Fuchs termed Ruth "a person of moods," and added that he believed the Bambino would finish the year if he returned to his old form at bat and in the field on the current western swing around the circuit.
