Japan Announces Plan For Carrying War Into China

WAR MACHINE ORDERED TO BE PREPARED

Troops Will Begin Moving Against China Unless Chinese Submit to Tokyo's Ultimatum; Tuesday Reported As Last Day for China to Act

Tokyo, June 8.—(AP)—Japan's war machine in Manchukuo was reported in fresh dispatches to have been ordered today to prepare for an invasion of China unless the Chinese government submitted to Tokyo's ultimatum.

Tuesday was reported to be the day by which China must act. A Rengo dispatch from Hsinking, Manchukuo, said that orders to put Japan's war machine in Manchuria in readiness to roll southward across the Great Wall if China fails to submit to the ultimatum were issued today from the general headquarters of General Jiro Minami, Japanese military chief in Manchukuo.

The dispatch said a midnight council meeting of Minami's staff was held and that afterward Lieut. General Juro Nishio after consulting with war minister Hayashi now in Hsinking issued "important orders."

The military authorities agreed the dispatch said, that these orders concerned preparations to assume the initiative in the "unfortunate event that the Chinese fail to display sincerity and good faith" as the Japanese phrase goes.

Vernacular newspaper dispatches from China reported today that Japan had fixed Tuesday, June 11, as the day by which the Nanking government must bow before the imperial government of North China demands.

A spokesman from the foreign office declined to comment except to say the demands still are secret and that a final note handed the Chinese authorities at Peiping by Japanese army representatives could not be considered an ultimatum.

C. M. T. C. Quota Still Unfilled In Pitt County

With the enrollment campaign of the 1935 Citizens Military Training Camp now entering its final stage, the Pitt county quota to attend the camp remains unfilled, according to information received yesterday from Fort Bragg.

Due to increased appropriations, the size of the camp is more than doubled, this year, allowing Pitt county a quota of 10 for which places no applications have been submitted.

Young men of this community who are interested in attending the camp must make application prior to July 1st, in order to receive consideration, it was stated. After that date vacancies remaining in the local quota will be filled by surplus applicants from other counties.

The camp is to be held at Fort Bragg from August 5 to September 3. All expenses are borne by the government, and no future obligations of any kind are imposed. The purpose of these camps is to promote good citizenship among young men between 17 and 24 years of age by 30 days military training combined with generous amounts of recreation and sport.

Lester Jones, 1108 W. 4th St., is county chairman of the committee which is assisting young men to qualify for camp and Doctors N. Thomas, Emmett and N. E. Ward of Greenville have volunteered to give the required physical examination.

Persons interested should communicate with the county chairman or write to the C. M. T. C. Officer, Fort Bragg, N. C.

DYNAMITE DAMAGES LOUISBURG DWELLING

Louisburg, June 8.—A blast of dynamite Wednesday afternoon damaged the home of C. A. Ragland on Main street. A block of oak timber was blown across the street from a lot which is being cleared for the new residence of Aaron Tonkel. It went through an upstairs screen window of the Ragland home, knocked two antique lamps off a dressing table, and landed on the far side of the room.

DOG CLINICS DRAW CROWDS

Hundreds of Canines Vaccinated in Various Townships of County Yesterday

Dog clinics began functioning in every township of the county yesterday in an effort to cut down the annual toll of rabies in this section.

Although official reports on the number of dogs vaccinated for hydrophobia had not been received, Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst, who is in charge of the clinics, said today he was informed all of the day were kept busy throughout the day.

Around 70 dogs were vaccinated in Greenville yesterday with the clinic being continued at the courthouse today to take care of those who were unable to take advantage of the clinic yesterday.

The clinics will be moved to various wards of the city from day to day in order that people in all sections of the city may receive full benefit of the movement to cut down annual infection of dogs from hydrophobia.

The clinics will be continued in each township for a month with inspectors in each area notifying the public from day to day where he may be found.

Sheriff Whitehurst said 1,000 injections of the rabies treatment were received the first of the week. He said six hundred were turned over to the inspectors for administration this week with the remainder to be used next week. Additional supplies of the formula will be received here from time to time.

The clinics are the outcome of a measure introduced by Senator A. B. Corey and passed at the last session of the General Assembly. Their purpose is to immunize dogs against rabies and reduce the annual toll of human life taken by this cause.

Persons with dogs were urged to visit the clinics and have the animals vaccinated and prepare themselves against the usual scare from rabies.

RICH HAVANA MAN SET FREE BY KIDNAPERS

Antonio San Miguel Reported Safe at His Home on the Suburbs of Havana

Havana, June 8.—(AP)—Friends of Antonio San Miguel, 78-year-old railroad magnate, announced today he had been released by his kidnapers. He was seized Wednesday and held for $288,000 ransom.

One of his associates declared: "San Miguel has been liberated. I do not know whether the ransom was paid but I do not believe it was."

The financier's secretary said he was certain he was free and did not believe ransom was paid. San Miguel, he asserted, was now at his summer home at Vivora, a Havana suburb.

Pedro Herea Stollongo, the kidnap victim's attorney and others were being questioned at the police station.

SEED LOANS CLOSE JUNE 15

Date For Expiration Of Filing Period For Loans Set by The Government

The filing period for applications for federal seed loans will close June 15, it was announced today from the office of T. O. Edens, director of the local office.

Mr. Edens said that all farmers wishing to take advantage of these loans should file their applications between now and the closing date.

Individual farmers may obtain as high as $500 and landlords $1,000. Although it was impossible to say how much money farmers of this county had borrowed through the agency, Mr. Edens said he was of the opinion the amount would be smaller than last year, by reason of the increased number of sources through which the farmers were able to obtain funds this year.

However, he said the agency had proved of inestimable value to growers and that the annual task of preparing the crops of this section had been facilitated by loans obtained through his office.

NEGRO BOUND OVER ON MURDER CHARGE

Oxford, June 7.—Charlie Wilkerson, Negro, was today lodged in jail here to await trial at the July terms of Superior court. He was ordered held for the grand jury following an inquest in the killing of Henry Baskerville, another Negro.

The two men, who had been friends in the past, became enemies over a woman and as Baskerville tried to enter her home last night, he was shot by Wilkerson. Baskerville was the son of Miles Baskerville, a highly respected Negro of this community, and the murder has caused considerable feeling among the Negro people of the town.

The total number of plates issued up to the present was given as 1,259, the largest in the history of the city. It was believed there are numbers of cars and trucks still without licenses and officials will press the drive to bring them within the law immediately upon receipt of the new plates.

Persons who fail to obtain licenses when notified by the city clerk will be ordered to appear before the mayor and explain why they refused to do so.

COUNTY COURT HERE TUESDAY POSTPONED

Next Tuesday's session of County court has been postponed until the following Tuesday, it was made known today, because there are no jail cases awaiting consideration at this time and due to the absence of city and county officials who are planning to attend the sessions of the Institute of Government at Chapel Hill Monday and Tuesday. The sessions are considered vitally important as much of the work of the last general assembly will be discussed. Numbers of lawyers of the county are also planning to attend.

PUSH SEARCH FOR KIDNAPERS OF TACOMA BOY

Authorities Believe Discovery of Hideout Will Give Key to Abduction

Tacoma, June 8.—(AP)—Searchers by air and on the ground for the hideaway haunt used in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnaping widened today as strong indications were given the identities of the abductors were unknown to both the federal agents and the police. A report that 20 Federal Reserve notes from the $200,000 ransom were found yesterday in the bank receipts at Salt Lake City was followed by another that E. P. Connolly, federal agent in charge of officers here, was missing from the office today.

Indications that names of the abductors of the nine-year-old boy who was released a week ago still were unknown to officers when authorities revealed the two gabled hideouts house holds the key to their identities through fingerprints. The house was believed abandoned by the gangsters.

Authoritative sources disclosed the young kidnaping victim had told officers what part of the home he saw his captors touch with ungloved hands. The child said the house was gray with two gables and "near water and a railroad curve."

SCOUT TIN CAN DRIVE SUCCESS

Four Thousand Cans Collected in Whirlwind Campaign This Week

The Boy Scouts' cleanup campaign launched here Wednesday under the direction of City Inspector E. G. Lynch was declared today to have been a pronounced success.

Lynch said the Scouts collected a total of 4,000 cans in various parts of the city. The honor of collecting the greatest number of cans went to the Fox Patrol, headed by Clifton Evans, which had the distinction of collecting 1,500 cans.

Lynch said 23 scouts took part in the drive to rid the city of tin cans which form one of the best places imaginable for mosquitoes to breed, and also give various lots an unsightly appearance.

The drive, Lynch said, was begun at 9:30 and ended at 12:30 when the official count was made. By reason of collecting the most cans members of the Fox Patrol were given passes to a local theatre Friday evening.

The city was divided into four sections and each of the participating patrols were assigned to a specific district in which to work. The scouts were in uniform.

EDGECOMBE SLAYER IS GIVEN TWO YEARS

Tarboro, June 8.—Luther Harris, farmer, who resides in No. 3 Township, was convicted of manslaughter in the killing of Charles "Buddy" Monk, an ex-convict evangelist, about three weeks ago. Judge Sinclair sentenced Harris to serve in the State penitentiary for a period of two years. Harris and Monk had a dispute over religious matters and it resulted in the death of Monk, who was shot by Harris. It was stated on the trial that Monk was advancing on Harris with a brick and 1 PERCENT The character of municipal projects financed by New Deal money has changed since Mayor LaGuardia of New York won better terms for borrowers. Instead of raking leaves, patching shoulders of roads and fixing up playgrounds, cities are now undertaking constructive, long-time projects. They are building bridges, sewage plants, schools, hospitals, etc.

There was a bitter backs age battle over the new terms. Secretary Ickes' representatives thought the old arrangement was sufficient; generous—a 30 per cent advance by the federal government—a 4 per cent interest. But Secretary Morgenthau backed the Mayors' demands for more liberal advances and interest. Frank Walker stepped in to stop the practice whereby municipalities got money for nothing from Harry Hopkins.

Now the cities get a 45 per cent gift from the government and pay only 3 per cent interest on the balance—slightly more than 1 per cent on the total advance. Mr. Roosevelt sides with the cities against his own bureaucrats.

DIM: Professor Tugwell has suffered one setback after another at meetings of the $4,000,000,000 allotment board in the White House each Monday and Thursday. He has a good almost alone against the representatives of business, labor, the cities and the farm interest.

The chief complaint against Prof. Tugwell is that he wants hundreds of millions for long-time agricultural work. Only a comparatively small number of people would be put to work now if his program were accepted. Although the President sympathizes with his large ideas for agricultural rehabilitation, (Continued on Page Two)

PUSH TRAFFIC DRIVE HERE

Police Busy Warning People For Parking On Wrong Side of The Street

The campaign to improve traffic conditions in this city gained additional momentum yesterday when police issued around one hundred notices to motorists for parking on the wrong side of the street in the congested business area.

Chief of Police Clark said today the warnings would be followed by notice to appear in mayor's court to answer for failure to abide by the traffic regulations.

Several days ago police started a campaign against speeders and persons who fail to stop at stop corners with the result that a number of arrests have been made by the violators paying cost in city court.

In addition to the drive to those who insist on parking on the left hand side of the street, the police head said attention would also be given to those who park over one hour in the restricted zones.

Acting Mayor H. H. Duncan ordered the police yesterday to place one hour parking signs in congested areas and to see that they are obeyed. He said this action was taken to provide more parking space for the hundreds of people who visit the city from day to day for the purpose of shopping.

He urged business men to either park their cars outside the business area or to leave the machines at home in order to avoid hopeless congestion such as has existed for several months, especially during tobacco season. Such action, he pointed out, eventually will mean money in the pockets of the merchants because many people are prevented from shopping as they would like because of inability to find proper parking space.

The police head said every effort would be made to carry out the acting mayor's injunctions, and that warnings being issued at this time would be followed by court orders on second violation.

DENMARK CITIZENS MUST HAVE PROPER INTEREST

Faxe, Denmark.—(AP)—To be a citizen in Faxe is to have civic pride and to take a proper interest in things.

Because he failed to attend three annual dances arranged by the citizens' union, for example, C. F. Weirauch was denied a position as managing director of the local bank.

Back in 1930 Weirauch was appointed bookkeeper in the bank, with a promise of promotion if he "mixed up sufficiently with the population." Whereupon Weirauch married one of the lady trustees of the bank, and assumed everything was in order.

But Weirauch failed to attend three dances—and another man has now been given the job of bank director.

China Moves Army On Tientsin. Peiping, June 9.—(Sunday)—(AP)—China's 32nd army considered among China's best troops, today began moving toward Tientsin where final Japanese relations apparently are approaching some sort of crisis.

The 32nd army headed by General Shang Chen, newly appointed grass commander of the Tientsin army, will replace the 51st army of General Yu Hsueh-Chung which evacuated Tientsin and moved to Paoting, the new seat of government for Hebei province, 30 miles south of Peiping.

Fear Outbreak In China Soon. London, June 8.—(AP)—An exchange dispatch from Tientsin today said that continued maneuvers of Japanese and the continued capture of Major General Johara from Mukden for Tientsin increased fear that an outbreak of hostilities was imminent.

Alleged anti-Japanese activities in the regions of the Great Wall also contributed to the increasing ominous situation, the dispatch said.

The exchange telegraph reported General Shang-Chen had reopened the garrison previously evacuated here as a result of Japanese pressure.

A military delegation meanwhile left for Peiping, the dispatch said, to serve final warning on the Peiping branch of the Chinese military council.

CLUBMEN TOLD OF TEXAS MEET

Kiwanians Told of What Was Accomplished at San Antonio Convention

Last night's program at the Kiwanis Club was one of unusual interest. The members heard reports from President James and Guy Smith on the International Convention held in San Antonio, Texas, to which Messrs. James and Smith went as delegates from the local club.

Guy Smith's report covered the incidents of the trip from Greenville to San Antonio, also a side trip to Monterey, Mexico. The report was made in an intangible manner and convinced the members of the Club that there had been little of interest that its delegates had not seen either in Texas or Mexico.

Dink James' report covered the more serious aspects of the trip, dealing specifically with the convention proceedings and covering some of the outstanding addresses delivered, with resumes of several of these messages. Both reports were splendidly arranged and delivered.

The musical program consisted of two solos by Mrs. Waldrop, always a welcome guest at the Kiwanis Club. Accompanied by Mrs. Tyson as pianist, Mrs. Waldrop delighted the members with her songs.

Sam Whitehurst brought to the attention of the club the fact that there are to be established several radio centers for the State Highway Patrol and urged that the club take such steps as might be possible to see that the center for this division of the state be placed in Greenville.

The motion was unanimously adopted. The attendance prize given by Frank Harrington was won by Guy Smith.

FEAR MIDGET AGENCY TAKES MORE POWER

Resignation of Donald Richberg Softens Opposition to Some Extent; Stop Gap Measure Speeds Through House by Good Majority

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—Resignation of Donald Richberg, a minute study today of Roosevelt administration's stopgap plans which speeded through the house late yesterday by a vote of 264 to 121.

These senators feared the resolution extending a midday NRA agency for 9-12 months entailed more authority to relax the anti-trust laws than they understood at first.

On the other hand, critics were somewhat softened in their opposition to the recovery administration by the announcement that Chairman Donald Richberg had resigned effective June 16 and that the president had accepted the resignation.

While Richberg has had many supporters on Capitol Hill, critics of the recovery law had centered fire on his policies.

However, they declined to discuss reasons for exemptions from the anti-trust laws. Although President Roosevelt had said that any voluntary code of business which business men may erect must conform to the anti-trust law, a few hours later insisted on continuing his power to grant exemptions from these laws in connection with voluntary codes.

Chairman Harrison, of the Senate finance committee, planned to call the resolution up in the chamber the first of the coming week, but he faced probably demand to have it sent to committee for investigation.

Some Republicans expressed concern less the skeletonized NRA plans provides machinery for a campaign to seek the federal regulation to the country. In the house yesterday Rep. Fish of New York, said the legislation was "nothing but Democratic propaganda."

Two Cases Heard In Police Court During Morning

Convicted on a charge of trespass in the regular Saturday morning session of police court today, Alton Dunn, Jr., was fined $10 and cost. This was the only case given hearing this morning with exception of that of M. Hudson, of Raleigh, charged with parking in the middle of the street. He told the court he was a stranger here and was excused.

Young Dunn, who was originally charged with breaking and entering as result of allegedly entering Bloch's store here a month ago, had his warrant changed to trespass by Acting Mayor H. H. Duncan after all evidence had been presented.

The young man was said to have entered the store while the influence of whiskey. Nothing was taken.

PENTHOUSES LURE MAYFAIR FAMILIES FROM OLD HOMES

London.—(AP)—Mayfair's wealthiest are forsaking the old family brownstones, with their coal fires and running cold water, and going in for luxurious apartments and penthouses.

The swankiest penthouse yet installed, occupying the top two floors of a new building at Marble Arch, has been leased by Lord and Lady Louis Mountbatten at a reputed rental of $20,000 a year. It contains five reception rooms, 16 bedrooms, seven baths and a children's wing with a school room.

Burglars who might covet the Mountbatten jewelry and plate will find the place a hard one to crack. Reached by private elevator, it is entirely separate from other floors of the building. No one can leave the elevator at the top unless he previously has phoned the lobby from the lobby.

Even the Mountbattens have to ask him to please let them in.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Mr. Roosevelt's chief aim is to put people to work. The Tugwellian program for "remaking the world" is being whittled down to political realities.

Slowness in getting the $4,000,000-000 program under way worries the White House. Mr. Roosevelt's aim was to reach the peak of construction and employment by November.
That has become a faint hope because of delays within the allotment board and objections raised by Controller General McCarl.

FLARE-UP: The $4,000,000,000
Allotment Board has refused to act as a rubber stamp body. Although the President presides, the members behave like volunteer orators at a Town Hall meeting. They have forced administration spokesmen to back down and to table some of their pet projects.

A definitely critical group has gravitated together to oppose projects which do not meet the conditions laid down by the President. It consists of Mayor LaGuardia representing the Conference of Mayors; Ed O'Neil speaking for agricultural bodies; George Berry acting as the spokesman of labor; and Sears-Roebuck Wood serving as the representative of business.

These four insist upon adoption of projects which will provide employment, trim relief rolls and restore purchasing power. The government representatives want to get things done—to make the dirt fly.
It is probable that there will be a flare-up one of these days over those two objectives.

REVIVAL: Washington hears that Al Smith is hearkening to the siren song of the Republicans. Until recently nobody believed that he would change political affiliations any more than he would his religion.
But now Mr. Roosevelt's friends are not so cocky about that.
Al misses the limelight. He is blindly opposed to all New Deal ventures. He carries in his pocket a frayed cartoon from a famous Republican newspaper. I depict him as a stronger candidate for the GOP presidential nomination than his fellow-insurance director—Herbert Hoover. As Al shows it, he says to his friends: "Ain't that the finest cartoon you ever saw?"

Mr. Smith agrees completely with the Supreme Court, according to all reports at the Capital. As a Governor who forced social and economic legislation through a hostile legislature he believes that these problems should be left to the states.

PREFERABLE: All this hullabaloo about the threat of expansion of cotton acreage in foreign countries is a false alarm. President Roosevelt's special investigators report that the cry was raised by exporters for their own selfish interests. It has been spiked by Cabinet members assigned to discover higher our domestic policies and higher prices were depriving us of future world markets.

Brazil, Egypt and India are the chief competitors, but in each instance there are compensating factors. Brazil is expanding because her devalued money makes her cotton cheap to foreign nations. She has engaged in barter. She recently sold cotton to Italy in exchange for a submarine. The same is true of India. She shipped 3,000 bales to Germany in return for a bridge.
Egypt can expand to the extent of 20 per cent but only if she constructs costly irrigation plants.

American cotton at 12 and 13 cents a pound does not rob us of world markets, according to the report sent to the White House. Even if those government-made prices did deprive us of sales abroad the loss is preferable to 5 and 6 cent cotton at home.

ENEMYS KISS

SYNOPSIS: Allison Reda reaches she is beaten. She knows that Daphne Sumers, who is marrying her father tomorrow, is an adversary, and that her lover is the proprietor of the Spanish hotel in which the Redas plan to spend their honeymoon. Daphne has even convinced Mr. Reda that Allison is "a little touched" and she has wondered Allison's mind against the man who would be her only friend
—Guy Lumley.

Chapter 26 BURNED LETTER

DAPHNE was at the door; Robert Reda opened it for her. Allison standing rigid, paralyzed by shock, watched them go out together and heard Daphne, in the hall, murmur "My dear, that's it! I'll speak to Doctor Mortimer for you and I know a wonderful maid!"

Allison did not move but she found her knees shaking, her hands trembling, as if she had fever.

No matter what happened now, her father would never again believe her! She would be carted off, helpless, to Spain with some grim maid chosen by Daphne to support the hideous pretence that she was victim of hysteria and nerves!

She stared at the fireplace blankly, wondering if she were to run away tonight, escape, whether she would be safe. Would they chase her, catch her, bring her back, even shut her up, perhaps, in some ghastly nursing home?

The whole familiar room seemed to have grown cold and horrible, unfriendly, as she stared down into the fire.

Suddenly she stooped, caught up a scrap of torn paper.
Charred at one corner where it had been lying on the iron bars, it burned but she did not know it.
For she was staring at the words scrawled in a clean, firm, hand, cut short by the diagonal tearing of the sheet.

"—f you know, Allison—" and below—"—et no answer—" with at the bottom the bold signature "Guy Lu—" ending in burned dark brown edges.

A letter to herself from Guy!
She had a swift vision of Daphne standing by the oak chest in the hall. So that was what she had been doing there! That was why she had stood with skirts outspread before
the fire!

A red blaze of anger swallowed Allison's fear. She dropped on her knees on the hearthrug, gathering up all the charred bits she could find—not more than half a dozen little pieces and two of those almost burnt!

She heard the front door shut, as she stood up. Her father was at the door when Allison pushed past him, both hands guarding those small fragments of a letter. She heard him call after her and paid no heed as she fled up the stairs, gained her own room and locked the door.

THEY would not fit.
Here a word, there a tiny bit of a sentence clear, tantalizing her by hinting at the uncompleted meaning.

She had pushed aside her brushes and little pots, had spread the burned paper out on the glass top of her table, trying each bit to each as one tries to fit a jigsaw puzzle, but they would not make sense.

Guy had written to her; had left the letter, probably, since he had not had time to reach her by post; that was all that she knew when she sat back at last, baffled. Twice during that long session, she had heard her father's knock and had listened to him pleading with her to open the door. She had answered carefully, reasonably, sanely, "I don't want to talk just now. I'm going to bed. Please leave me alone."

She had heard him go back at last to his own rooms and now, looking out, she could see that his light was off.

Half past two; too late to steal down and ring up Guy. By morning Daphne might have the doctor waiting, have engaged a maid to spy on her, she might be a prisoner!

She opened her evening bag and counted out her small store of change, nine shillings in cash. But she had jewelry, enough perhaps to keep her until she found work.
Best to go at once, tonight, to an hotel where her luggage would insure her having time to sell what she possessed.

Her own suitcase was upstairs, stored in the attic; she dared not get it, since that would mean tippling past her father's door and up the servants' stairs. She found an old round hatbox which she had used to keep some private, treasured school mementos.

The White concern is really American all right, but it is a long-time since it has done any important engineering work in this country.
It has an intimate affiliate in London known as J. G. White & Co., Ltd. It might be accurate to say that it is British-owned—but well-placed sources remark that it has certainly been useful to the British more than once, perhaps the more so because it is officially American. Certainly this was true in the handling of English concessions in the Philippines after we took the islands over from Spain.

The background of the Tsana one put these on the shelf and filled the hatbox up. She changed quickly into the grey suit, added a grey felt hat and little marten fur, her stoutest pair of gloves and thick, dark shoes. Yet it was already past three when she unlocked the door quietly and stole very softly down the thick maroon carpet of the passage to the stairs.

What a noise each step seemed to make at night! She did not dare to turn a light on but found the front door and felt for the chain. The latch gave under her hand and a rush of cold air nipped her as she got the door open. The square looked dark and unfamiliar at this hour, with nothing moving and the lamps dim in a rising fog.

Victoria—St. Pancras? She had so little money that she chose Victoria although it was near, almost too near for safety. The hatbox weighed heavily on her arm and she was afraid that some policeman, noticing her, might stop her to ask what she was doing at that hour, carrying a bag.

She went into the station; it was empty but there was a waiting room with many people sitting, half asleep, along its shiny benches. She chose to wait in the third, as being less likely to contain anyone she knew. It was half an hour before the bustle of a train arriving released her from an uncomfortable village between a fat old man and a brilliantly painted, all-too-friendly Frenchwoman.

Bag in hand, Allison made her way towards the incoming train, mingling with its passengers, and with them she went into the hotel.

"A single room, please; a cheap one." The clerk behind the booking-desk barely looked up; young women with hand luggage are not uncommon in a railway hotel at night.
"Number 317," he said briskly.

"That'll do."
Ten minutes later, Allison lay curled up in a strange bed, trying to realize that she had run away from home.

DUNDAS: the telephone book gave her the number and street; but when she found it, she got a slight shock. Such a squalid, winding little back street, with ragged, white-faced children playing on the pavements, unlearned of refuse from the day before!

Even her old grey suit seemed too smart for this street, an insult to the dragged women who stood eying her in doorways. She felt almost glad when she reached the end door with the red sign above it and Surgey written in white.

Once there, she had imagined she would see Guy at once; but the door stood open and the room inside, bare but for wooden benches round the walls, was crowded. There was no sitting space left, and the people who were standing looked as though they had been waiting for some time.

A bare grey room, full of people whose poverty was real and who took it as part of the day's work.
Allison, who had never seen these things, remembered Guy sitting in the little restaurant in Soho and saying, "They don't want any fairy godmother stuff. They want understanding, sympathy. And that means experience."

She had thought him brutally frank then but now she saw that he was right. What had she got to give to these tired or busy people? She felt rather humble as she chose a far corner, well behind the crowd, to stand and wait.

She was so intent on the crowd that she did not hear the door open.
"Come again on Friday. Who's next?"

She looked up and met his eyes.
He was across the room in three strides.

"You! Down here! You got my letter?"

"I want to talk to you about it.
But I can wait." She indicated the roomful who were watching the two of them with interest and sundry half-hidden winks.

"Come in and wait in the back room," he suggested.

"No, thanks, I'd rather stay here."
That was all; he vanished again accompanied by his next patient.

But she was very leg-weary before the last of the patients had gone in and out again, before twelve o'clock struck and her own turn came.

"Have you a car outside?" He was standing by a desk, very businesslike in a white overall and a pair of horn-rimmed glasses.

"No." She laughed a little shakily.

"I haven't even got my fare back to Victoria."

DETOUR: Financial insiders expect rapid development of the principle of regulation by taxation. This system is indicated as the one sure method of forwarding New Deal ideas without getting involved in constitutional arguments.

Justice Brandeis hinted as much in his opinion on the Frazier-Lemke bill. He said that if the government wanted to relieve mortgagors it should do so by exercising its right of eminent domain, thus assuring that the burden of relief offered in the public interest shall be borne by the public through taxation instead of being saddled onto the mortgagors.

Moreover law sharps say that the processing taxes are the one feature of AAA not subject to attack on constitutional grounds. The taxation detour would be a rough and roundabout way to reach the administration's goal but experts believe it would have a good chance of getting there if the steering is carefully done.

REOPENED: One hopeful sign of recovery which hasn't yet attracted much attention is the continuing revival of banking interest in mortgages. $57,000,000 of mortgages have been offered to the Federal Housing Administration for insurance or mortgages and applications are understood to be coming in at close to a million dollars a day. A third of the mortgages are on new construction and two-thirds for refinancing.
Direct requests from mortgagors for insurance also amount to a sizable —though much smaller—total.

Three factors are responsible for the altered attitude of bankers—who wouldn't have touched real estate with a hundred-foot pole a few months ago. One is the gradual realization that insured mortgages are a perfectly sound investment.
Second is the terrific pressure of idle funds and the need to put them to profitable use—coupled with the apprehension that interest rates will go lower if mortgage investments aren't made now. Third—the idea that the government would go much more heavily into the mortgage business if the banks continued their indifferent attitude has at last registered.

There are two major marks for capital—security and real estate.
The former has been in blossom recently under the deft guidance of the Securities. The latter is now being reopened in a big way—though less conspicuously. Exchange Commission has been a decided moral boost.
Reemployment of capital through these two channels should make a clean-cut contribution to recovery.

SHOOTIN': Keen New York
sources predict that the Wagner labor bill will pass soon despite qualms of doubt about its constitutionality. Cancellation of NRA's protection to labor will be a potent argument in putting it through Congress.
White House backing will also be a factor. But the hope is that FDR will want a few changes which will make the bill a little more palatable to business. In particular an amendment is scheduled—based on a feature of the British Trade Disputes Act—which would require labor unions to accept new legal responsibilities as well as new benefits. That's what all the shootin's been about.

ASKS CLEMENCY FOR HIS SON'S ASSAULT. Smithfield, June 8.—"It looks like a little money is going a long way," remarked Judge Aycock in Recorder's Court Thursday as he marvelled at the fact that, for the sake of having a man stay on his land to finish a crop, the father of the boy whom this man attempted to shoot, asked for clemency for the defendant.

After a quarrel between John Allen Creech and Paul Baker while they were at work, Baker left the scene, secured a gun and returning fired at Creech. Creech escaped unhurt.

The judge pronounced Baker a dangerous character and said he was indeed fortunate that the charge against him was simply that of assault with deadly weapon. He cautioned him to hold his temper as he gave him a sentence of twelve months on the road, to be suspended on condition that he not be convicted in any criminal court for the next two years.

There can be no forgiveness for betraying a friend, according to the Graham code.

FOR COOL BREEZES—A KNITTED CAPE

This hooded beach cape will be a welcome garment in the beach wardrobe when cool breezes blow. It is made of heavy knitting and crocheted cotton which will wash well and will not stretch. The hood with the peaked top gives an amusingly smart air to the garment. The cape (size 34-36) may be knitted at home by following these instructions:

MATERIALS: Knitting and crocheted cotton, 12 balls of 300 yards each. Choose a gay color to match your swim suit. One pair of celluloid knitting needles No. 7 and steel crochet hook No. 3.

The entire garment is worked with 2 strands of cotton and starts at lower back. Cast on 131 sts, and knit in moth st. (k 1, p 1 across, on next row k over p, and p over k) then 18 sts. Work first 13 sts in moth st, k across, cast on 18 sts on other end, and work first 13 sts in moth st. Continue working the first and last 13 sts in moth st until end of sleeve measures 7 inches ending with p row. Work 67 sts, bind off for neck 29 sts, work the remaining 67 sts for left front. Work 5 rows even, then at neck edge increase 1 st in 2nd st from end every for 21-2 inches. Work in stockinette (k 1 row, p 1 row) with a decrease at beginning and end of the first row (knitting together 2nd and 3rd sts from each end), and every 2 inches for 6 times (109 sts on needle). Work even until piece measures 21 inches, ending in p row. Beginning sleeves, cast of 3 sts on next 6 rows on both sides.

Each member is asked to make a plan for what she would like her home to become during the next five years and bring it unassigned to the next meeting. The Friendship quilt has netted $48.96 to date. Several visitors were present.

4-H Encampment. The 4-H encampment was called off due to infantile paralysis. If we are able to have this encampment later letters will be mailed again to all club members.

Council. The summer council meeting will be held Wednesday, June 12 at the Sheppard Memorial Library, from 3 to 4:30. All officers of all clubs are urged to be present.

State Short Course. The 4-H Short Course for boys and girls will be held at the State College July 24-29. No member under 14 is eligible for this meeting. We are hoping that a large number of those over 14 will be able to attend. The expense for this trip is slight, and each girl wears the regulation uniform which makes other dresses unnecessary. It takes two uniforms as laundry service is taken care of at the college. If you can go let me know immediately so we can get our group together to compete in the song contest.

OUTLOOK IN POLITICS IS MORE VARIED

Dunnagan's Announcement For Secretary of State Colors Political Picture

Reflector Bureau. Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, June 8.—The political pot is beginning to boil and bubble more actively as additional candidates get into the various races for the elective state offices. There are now four candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor, two candidates for Lieutenant Governor and two for Secretary of State with half a dozen more prospective candidates balanced on the brink of the political pond waiting to dive in at the slightest encouragement.

The most recent candidate to get into the running is Marion Rush Dunnagan, better known as Mike, for the past eight years a free-lance newspaper correspondent here, who today announced that he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State in the primary next June, opposing the present Secretary of State, Stacey W. Wade, for re-nomination. It is expected that within a few days Thad A. Eure of Raleigh and Winston, who has been principal clerk of the house in the last three sessions of the general assembly, will also announce as a candidate for Secretary of State.

Dunnagan's announcement today came as something of a surprise, although it has been known for a year or more that he has been thinking of becoming a candidate. It is agreed here that he has an unusually large acquaintance over the state both as a result of his long experience in newspaper work having been connected with several of the state's largest daily papers before coming to Raleigh as a correspondent. He served as confidential secretary to former Governor A. W. McLean during the last year of his administration and has served as publicity director for the State Democratic Executive Committee, under Chairman J. W. Wallace Winborne. As a result, Dunnagan's background and connections with the present Democratic leadership in the state are regarded as being of the best.

But Dunnagan will not have a walk-away with either Wade, the present Secretary of State, or with Eure, if he gets into the race. It is pointed out that Wade has already been elected to office three times by the Democrats of the state twice as Commissioner of Insurance and once as Secretary of State and that he has a large following, well versed in the school of politics. A word many here believe that of the three, Eure is more likely to get the nomination than anyone else because of his many contacts with the members of the last three sessions of the general assembly and the fact that in his work as Es-cheats Officer for the University of North Carolina, he has had to go into almost every county in the state during the past two years. Until Dunnagan announced his candidacy, the general opinion in most circles here was that Eure would probably win the nomination over Wade next June. But now the speculation is divided as to whether Dunnagan's entrance into the contest will hurt Eure or Wade the most.

Despite the fact that there are four candidates in the race for nomination for Governor, the only talk heard in political circles here is about two of these—Clyde R. Hoey of Shelby and A. H. Graham, Chairman of Hillsboro, although J. A. McRae and T. LeRoy Kirkpatrick of Charlotte are the other two candidates. While most observers here agree that the contest between Hoey and Graham will be close, reports heard during the past week seem to indicate that Graham is making substantial gains in various sections. Quite a number here feel that if sentiment keeps growing as it has lately that Graham will have an excellent chance to win the nomination. Friends of Hoey maintain, however, that when he gets out into the field and starts his active campaigning and starts delivering his eloquent campaign speeches that the voters will commence to flock to him. They also predict that he is not going to take an iron-clad stand for the retention of the prohibition law but will be willing to let the people decide if they want to keep it or not. Graham has already come out in favor of a state liquor stores and liquor control plan and is regarded as having gained some very strong support among the more liberal element in the party as a result of this stand.

FISH FOR SUNDAY. FRESH BY DECREE.

Madrid—(AP)—To insure consumers fresh fish for their Sunday dinners the government has ordered all fish markets to remain open Sunday mornings.

So that the order will not affect wage scales, employers were notified they may permit employees working Sundays to take an afternoon off during the week, providing it is not Saturday afternoon.

dinner as in the past. I believe I could make up the 3 cents difference by cutting the helpings down a little if necessary, so as not to lose anything.

No orders or instructions have been issued to the field deputies of the Department of Revenue to tell cafe and restaurant operators that they must add the sales tax as a separate item and that they cannot include it in the price charged for meals, Commissioner Maxwell said, despite reports to this effect. In fact, the Department of Revenue has never ruled that the sales tax must be shown as a separate item, only that it might be so shown. It is the belief of most of those in the department that the merchants have insisted on the practice of showing the sales tax as a separate item in order to try to stir up opposition to the tax among the public than anything else, in the hope that the public would demand its repeal.

In order to show that the department has always ruled that the sales tax did not need to be shown separately, Commissioner Maxwell pointed out Regulation 13 governing the administration of the sales tax, which has been in effect for almost two years, as follows:

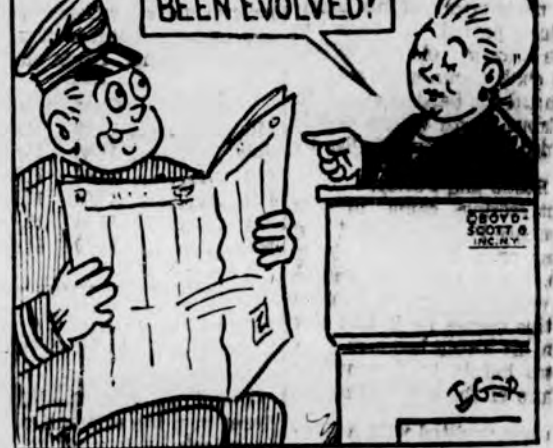

Three per cent of the oil extracted from a whale is obtained from the tongue.

BARLEY HURLS LOCALS TO WIN OVER KINSTON

Behind the baffling speed of "Fireball" Barley, Duke University pitcher, came the season's first shutout of the season against Kinston yesterday by the score of 7 to 0.

Pitching in the first stages of the game, Barley allowed the visitors only eight hits which were so scattered it proved impossible to convert them into runs in spite of one or two serious threats.

The victory was the third straight for the locals out of the four games played this season, and placed them in tie with Williamston for leadership of the circuit.

The game apparently resolved into a pitchers' duel between Barley and University of North Carolina's highly-touted Crouch, but the latter blew up in the fourth frame and the Greens sent six runners romping over the rubber to put the game on ice. The downfall of Crouch was aided by three errors of his teammates which proved a boon to Greenville runners. He was relieved in the sixth frame by Joyce.

Sullivan led the batting attack in the disastrous fourth with a double accompanied by slashing singles by Johnson, Bostic and Farley.

The last scoring came in the fifth when Ace Parker doubled and came home on a single by Billy Hunkamp, whose ability to handle the stick advantageously is as conspicuous this season as it was last year when his Texas League contributions saw him to Greenville's final capture of the circuit flag.

Sullivan was credited with a double and two singles to lead the bat attack by the Greens while Parker came closely behind with a double and single. Barley helped along his own cause by registering a couple of singles.

Vick, Irwin and O'Patrick, with two hits apiece, led the stick attack for the visitors.

Johnson's work at first base was decidedly the most scintillating performance of the game. Regardless of where the balls were thrown, he never failed to make his out. He made several semi-sensational catches of throws that otherwise would have gone for wild pitches and probably told another story from Kinston's side of the picture.

Ace Parker, Greenville leftfielder came to the rescue of Barley on two or three occasions by running far back in the field and pulling down drives apparently labeled for extra bases.

The entire Greenville team clicked perfectly in pinches and but for one single bobbie would have gone through the game without a thing against a perfect record.

The box follows:

AYDEN TO PLAY HERE SUNDAY

Greenville baseball fans will have the opportunity to see their first Sunday game here tomorrow when the local club of the Coastal Plain League takes on Ayden at Third Street School Athletic field. The game has been called for 3:30 o'clock.

In view of the fact that this is the first time that the city has had any Sunday baseball, officials of the club were expecting large attendance. It was expected that virtually every seat in the ball park would be taken.

Similar games, it was understood, will be played in some of the other towns of the league.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 8. (AP)—Metal issues were the principal performers in today's brisk stock market session although numerous small gains were noted in the last.

When the majority of leaders failed to give ground they were not to enthusiastic. The close was rather firm. Transfers approximated 380,000 shares.

The trade volume was smaller than in a number of weeks although brokers accounted for this by the fact that many of their clients were beginning the summer holidays.

Both cotton and wheat came back briskly after a hesitant start. Bonds were a trifle irregular.

Prepare For Morehead Port. Raleigh, June 8. (AP)—Upon the recommendation of Attorney General A. A. F. Seawell that the contract with the federal PWA for funds for Morehead City port developments be signed at once, Gov. Ehringhaus this afternoon laid plans for an early special meeting of the directors of the state owned Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad to consider the matter.

The property and receipts of the railroad will be pledged as collateral for the loan.

The board of directors of the railroad will be called to meet in special session just as soon as a suitable date can be decided on, the governor said.

"There is the contract in official form and Mr. Seawell recommends it be signed," he added as he showed the legal document.

Mr. Seawell added that "so far as I know" every hitch has been already straightened out and signing of the contract would be a mere formality.

New Paralysis Cases Reported. Raleigh, June 8. (AP)—Health officials today renewed their warnings against congregation of children as five more infantile paralysis cases were reported to the state health officers.
