Great Britain And Germany Agree On Naval Pact Terms

GERMANY TO LIMIT NAVAL OPERATIONS

Under Terms Accepted by Hitler Germany Would be Restricted to 35 Percent Under British Strength; Treaty Contemplates Replacement of Britain's Old Age Vessels.

London, June 14.—(AP)—High British sources today confirmed the fact of an agreement between Great Britain and Germany on the terms of a bi-lateral treaty restricting the German navy to 35 per cent under the British naval strength.

Richfuerer Hitler's assent to the term was formally communicated this morning by Sir Samuel Hoar, British foreign secretary, at a conference with Joaquin Von Ribbentrop, Hitler's armament expert.

Sove naval authorities asserted that under these terms the German navy would be actually only 17 per cent of the size of the British navy at present, in view of the great portions of the British fleet composed of over-aged vessels.

It was understood, however, that the treaty contemplates the replacement of Great Britain's over-aged vessels within the limits prescribed by the Washington and London naval treaties.

Great Britain leaving herself open to charges by France in siding Germany in further wrecking the Versailles treaty, completed arrangements today.

Officials regarded the pact as sounding the death knell to a prospective set armament race by definitely putting an end to secret building.

Although Japan and the United States are understood to have returned favorable response to Hitler's proposals which the British government communicated to them; France and Italy have been silent.

BETHEL SPUDS MOVE RAPIDLY

Improvement In Price Situation Causes Growers To Rush Shipments

With prices stronger, farmers of the Bethel community were pushing their Irish potato crop to market as quickly as possible today, with indications that next week would see the bulk of the crop disposed of.

The price situation, which was off somewhat the first of the season, took a pronounced upward turn the first of the week, and the pilgrimage to the market picked up speed in spite of the fact that last week saw the height of the season reached.

The price yesterday was quoted at $2.10 per barrel as against $1.75 when the season opened; and this means that growers will be able to realize some profit from their labors in spite of the fact that hardly more than cost marked sales the first of the season.

As high as fifty cars daily were shipped from the Bethel market last week, it was reported here today. Shipments this week have been around thirty cars daily with the probability that this total will be exceeded today and tomorrow.

Although Bethel, like other sections of the county confines principal attention to the growing of bright leaf tobacco, considerable attention is also given to truck crops, especially potatoes, and money received from the crop greatly improves the economic situation of the community at a time when other sections of the county are finding the pocketbook growing uncomfortably slim.

The total number of cars shipped from Bethel this season has not been made public but it is a foregone conclusion it will reach into the hundreds. An official report of sales is expected when the market closes down several days hence.

OFFICERS BACK PREPARE FOR SUNDAY GAME

Chief of Police Clark and Two Patrolmen Attend Chapel Hill Gathering

Chief of Police George Clark and Patrolmen Page and Mobley returned last night from Chapel Hill where they spent the last two days attending the officers' school held in connection with the Institute of Government which convened last Monday.

The sessions were supposed to have continued through today but owing to the hot weather work was completed last night and adjournment decided upon.

Mr. Clark said he was greatly impressed with accomplishments of the gathering, declaring that addresses by leading legal figures and officers proved of inestimable value to the several hundred officers assembled from all sections of the state.

The speakers included Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Connor, Senator Carol Weathers, Sherwood Brockwell, Judge Bryson and others.

The object of the gathering was to more thoroughly acquaint officers with their various duties so they will be able to render more efficient service to the communities they serve.

Mr. Clark said only a few officers from this county were present although a number of lawyers and court officials attended the first two days of the meeting.

The Institute of Government holds annual sessions of this kind at the University town and attendance is always large in view of the important part which the sessions play in the law enforcement phase of community life.

Late News Flashes

House Approves NRA Measure. Washington, June 14.—(AP)—Racing against a Sunday deadline the House today speedily agreed to Senate amendments to the resolution extending an abbreviated NRA to next April and sent the measure to President Roosevelt for his signature. Passage came after only 40 minutes of listless debate.

Not even the full hour of allowed debate was utilized. The Republicans apparently conceding their attempt to defeat the huge House Democratic majority would be unsuccessful.

When the special resolution accepting the Senate amendment to the measure was called, Representative "Mitchner, Republican of Michigan, remarked:

"Unless I am misinformed, only one rule like this has ever been brought before the House. This is a rarified type of gas rule." (Continued on Page Six)

NIP ROBBERY IN BUD HERE

Robber Frustrated at C. H. Edwards Hardware Company Last Night

A robbery was frustrated at the C. H. Edwards Hardware Co. last night when Mr. Edwards entered the store about 10 o'clock and frightened away a negro who apparently was preparing to take what he wanted.

Investigating, Mr. Edwards found that the intruder had entered by removing a skylight on the top of the building. He made his getaway through the back door.

Mr. Edwards looked over the stock but did not find anything missing, although it is possible the thief might have taken an article or so without it being missed in the hasty check.

Although it was not known definitely whether the intruder was white or black, investigating officers attributed the entrance to a member of the band of negroes which has been operating in this section for several days.

CHARTERS: Practical New Dealers think they have discovered a substitute for NRA. They are keeping quiet about it until ready to spring it. But several subtle moves show how the wind blows.

They are trying their hands at a "federal incorporation bill" Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming—a close friend of Jim Farley—has already proposed such a measure. But the new ideas go farther than his. Under the New Dealers' plan corporations would organize and function under a federal instead of a state charter. Then they would become amenable to federal control. We would have social planning and regulation in a big and legal way.

Ironically, the authority on this subject was an Assistant Attorney General under Herbert Hoover. He got nowhere with the suggestion several years ago. Now he has turned it over to FDR.

OLD LAW MAY SAVE WOMAN IN KIDNAPING

Mrs. Harmon Waley May Escape Life Sentence Because of Old English Law

Tacoma, Wash., June 14.—(AP)—A principle of old English law—that a wife is the mere chattel of her husband—was sighted by Tacoma attorneys today as likely to save Mrs. Harmon M. Waley from a life sentence for kidnaping of George Weyerhaeuser.

While the 19-year-old Mrs. Waley and her ex-convict husband remained incommunicado in the county jail at Olympia, federal agents followed up fresh clues in the intensive search for William Mahary, the third suspect in the $200,000 kidnaping.

Near Butte, Mont., they searched a mountain cabin from which a mysterious occupant was believed to have fled when the owner approached it yesterday. Fingerprints were taken off articles in the cabin to determine if the recent resident might have been the scar-faced Mahan.

NEGRO HELD FOR ROBBERY

Charlie Williams, of House Station, Charged With Stealing Pocketbook

Charlie Williams, House Station negro, was held by police here today charged with entering the home of Mrs. S. B. Underwood here Wednesday and making away with a pocketbook containing $16 in cash and a check for an undetermined amount.

The negro was taken into custody at the bank park Wednesday afternoon. He was believed to have entered the home Wednesday morning, as a servant said she saw a colored man in the backyard at that time but thought he left the premises without entering the house.

The negro probably would have gotten away with the theft had he not thrown the pocketbook and check into the river. Workmen standing on the bank of the river saw the negro toss something into the water and soon the object floated up to where the men were standing. They fished it out of the river and discovered it contained a check with Mrs. Underwood's name.

Police were notified, a description of the negro was furnished, and before Williams had an opportunity to spend all the cash, he was in the coils of the law. Police said they found something over $600 on his person.

Officers revealed that Mrs. Underwood had not discovered the theft until the pocketbook was returned to her, and had no idea when the negro entered the home. Williams is scheduled to receive preliminary hearing in city court tomorrow morning.

BAER'S ALIBI IS NOT GIVEN MUCH WEIGHT

Punch-Drunk Boxing World Thinks Braddock Richly Deserved His Victory

New York, June 14.—(AP)—The combatants bruised and sore left today but there was no rest for a punch-drunk boxing world, shot as it never had been before by Jimmy Braddock's well earned victory over Max Baer and his consequent rise to the heavyweight throne.

The second guessers almost to a man agreed that Braddock richly had deserved the unanimous decision that came his way after 15 rounds of inspiring milling in Madison Square Garden bowl last night.

But what they couldn't understand why Baer put up so bad a fight against a man he outweighed by nearly 18 pounds and whom he figured to beat with comparative ease. Baer's excuse that he had suffered injuries to both hands early in the fight hardly seemed adequate under the circumstances.

Paid attendance at the championship match was 29,366.

PLAN MARKERS FOR HIGHWAYS

Historic Spots Soon To Be Marked As Result of Commission Act

Reflector Bureau. Sir Walter Hotel. Raleigh, June 14.—Before many more weeks pass attractive roadside markers will begin to appear along the highways of the state calling attention to places of outstanding historical interest, as the result of action taken by the State Highway and Public Works Commission here Wednesday in setting aside the sum of $5,000 a year from highway maintenance funds for this purpose.

The action was taken following the passage of a special act by the recent general assembly declaring such expenditure should be a valid obligation against the highway maintenance funds. This $5,000 a year for marking historic spots will become available for use on July 1.

The securing of this appropriation is regarded as another victory for the Department of Conservation and Development and the State Historical Commission which for years have advocated a program for the marking of historic spots in the state and as a personal victory for J. L. Horne, Jr., of Rocky Mount who as chairman of the special committee to the State Board of Conservation, on historical markers, led the successful campaign both in the general assembly and before the highway commission for the funds with which to erect these markers. Officers who appeared before the highway commission with Mr. Horne were Director R. Bruce Etheridge of the Department of Conservation and Development, Dr. A. R. Newsome, Secretary of the State Historical Commission, and Colonel J. W. Harrelson, member of the State Board of Conservation.

The directors of the sectional organization took this step at its last meeting in Winston a few days ago with a view of popularizing this section, not only as a summer resort but as a good place to spend the winters. All hotel managers in the section are cordially invited to attend this conference. Mr. Bartlett said. The meeting will convene at the Proctor Hotel, at 11 o'clock.

REPORT IS DEFERRED IN SHIPWRECK PROBE

Morehead City, June 14.—(AP)—The finding of a Coast Guard board in inquiry which yesterday held a hearing into charges of negligence on the part of the Cape Lookout station will not be announced until it has been reviewed by Coast Guard headquarters.

The inquiry was held here aboard the cutter Travis. The complainants, members of a fishing party which became stranded on a shoal near Lookout station when their motorcraft, "Miss Gattis," went aground, did not appear to testify.

Evidence was presented, however, that vision was poor on the day of the accident; proper signals were not used and the coast guardmen failed to see the distressed craft.

A member of the motorcraft crew died when he went overboard in an attempt to float the boat.

BAILEY URGES FAIR PRICES AT TOBACCO MEET

Senator Says Good Price Situation Sound Method of Recovery in U. S.

Asheville, June 14.—(AP)—The National Tobacco Warehouse Association was told here today by Senator Josiah W. Bailey of North Carolina that fair prices for those who work was the soundest method of recovery.

He pointed to the return of good prices to farmers for tobacco as an illustration.

"Good prices paid growers for their tobacco has meant more than any amount of public money and illustrates a sound method of recovery and sets an example for the whole country," Bailey asserted.

"There may be stop-gaps and buffers by way of governmental appropriations, but in the last analysis there must be profit for all who work—farmers, shop keepers, business men, professional men, those engaged in industry, and other groups."

Bailey outlined the agricultural adjustment program which he said has helped to increase the price of tobacco and other commodities.

Adoption of a voluntary code for the industry was a question today before the convention.

In July there will be two attractions, the Coffey-Miller Players will present two plays, matinee and evening, on July 5, and a concert by a popular chorus "The White Hussars," on July 8. Others will be announced for the second term.

For the students only, other things have been arranged, such as Saturday night movies. A series of parties, barbecues, picnics, and other social gatherings will give them the opportunity for meeting each other and the members of the faculty.

Dr. Meadows, in his first talk to the students, presented in most attractive manner, the various good things the college had to offer them for the summer, and in addition to the schedules of work which all have mapped out, he brought out the opportunities offered for recreation also. He asked just one thing in return for the service rendered, and that was that they should take advantage of the fine spirit that pervades the campus life and contribute to it instead of working against it.

Sea Water Made Drinkable For Army

Asmara, Eritrea, East Africa (AP)—A miracle of water is being performed in the Italian East African colonies where tens of thousands of soldiers are massing for a possible expedition into Ethiopia.

When the Italian embattled divisions first began to land in Eritrea and Somaliland they found water bad and difficult to get. In many sections it was rationed out to them at about a quart a day.

Water Brought By Boat

Additional water at first was brought by transport ships and tankers, even from as far away as Naples. Mineral water was carried down for the hospitals.

Eritrea presented a greater problem than Somaliland, the latter colony is traversed by two rivers, the Sebebi and the Guiba, but the water of the former is mostly saltish.

Distilling Plants Built

In Massaua, the main port of Eritrea, there is a huge distilling plant to make sea water drinkable. Engineers have also built a huge refrigerating plant to cool it.

In the interior of Eritrea sterilizing and potabilizing plants have been installed. Two big distilling plants have been erected in Mogadishu, the capital and port of Somaliland. Moreover, the Mogadishu aqueduct can now produce 400 cubic meters of water daily.

Surveillance over the waters of the rivers Sebebi and Guiba has also been instituted. The sources of the streams are in Abyssinia. Military authorities are taking no chances on poisoning.

PLENTY COLOR IN OFFING FOR POLITICAL TILT

McDonald and Lumpkin Battle in North Carolina Expected To Be Live One

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, June 13.—There will be plenty of color and fireworks in the coming campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor and lieutenant governor if Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, Winston-Salem school teacher, and Willie Lee Lumpkin, Louisburg lawyer, get into the contest for the nominations, as many of their friends are confident they will if they can get together the necessary funds with which to conduct a campaign.

For in addition to running on a platform advocating the repeal of the sales tax, the return of the government to the people and the levying of taxes which will make the wealthy and the big corporations pay the cost of maintaining the state government, they are expected to conduct their campaign in the "Huey Long manner" if they run, according to reliable reports heard here.

This means that Candidates McDonald and Lumpkin are planning to use all of the mechanical contraptions which have been used so successfully by Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana in his campaigns both in his home state and in other states where he assisted candidates, such as a radio sound truck with a generator and possibly a moving picture machine, if they finally decide to become candidates.

For while these two twin enemies of the sales tax of what they maintain is a corporation dominated state government, have been endeavoring to keep their plans as secret as possible, it was learned today that they are either going to put on a spectacular, slam-bang, Huey Long campaign that will reach to every cross roads and one-room school house in every county of the state, or none at all.

It is their firm belief, according to those who have talked with one or the other, that if they can get an adequate campaign fund with which to buy or lease a radio sound truck and ballyhoo wagon and to finance a campaign that will reach into every backwoods section of the state, into the mill villages of the big textile centers as well as out into the rural sections, that they can get more than enough votes to defeat Clyde R. Hoey, "Sandy" Graham, John A. McRae, Colonel T. LeRoy Kirkpatrick and any others who may get into the race for governor. They are convinced that there are enough people in the state who are dissatisfied with the sales tax, who want better schools and better paid teachers and who think the corporations should pay a larger part of the state's tax bill than at present to nominate and elect them, if they can only reach and organize these votes back of a single ticket.

The old and "regular" Democrats in political circles here scoff at the idea, however, and say that it would be impossible for McDonald and Lumpkin to succeed in a campaign of this type, even if they should be able to get the campaign fund of $75,000 which it has been estimated they will need to conduct a campaign of the sort they are said to be planning. But some of the younger observers are not so sure that a campaign of this sort would not succeed. They admit that there is widespread dissatisfaction over the state, especially among the laboring classes and even the middle classes and that many of these want to see a "New Deal" in the state government and see it freed from domination by the "old organization" and by the "big corporations." Already having seen what Huey Long has been able to do in Louisiana and what Eugene Talmadge has done in Georgia with their "share the wealth" and "down with the rich" movements, they are not so sure that a similar movement, modified to conform to North Carolina conditions and psychology, might not succeed in this state.

They point to what Dick Fountain almost did to Enringhaus and the "old organization" in 1932 as an indication of what might be done again.

Karpis More Deadly Than Dillinger

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Washington, (AP)—Member after member of the notorious Barker-Karpis mob—last of the midwest gangs which in recent years terrorized the country—has been marching to prison or to death as federal agents and police steadily push the roundup of killers, kidnapers and robbers.

With the capture by federal agents of Volney Davis, convicted murderer and admitted participant in the Bremer kidnaping, 26-year-old Alvin Karpis, erstwhile boy marauder champion of Topeka, Kan., is the only so-called "big shot" of the Barker-Karpis gang still at large.

Karpis, wanted for the murder of Sheriff C. R. Kelly of West Plains, Mo., as well as the Bremer abduction and several robberies, has been labeled "Public Enemy No. 1." J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men, recognizes no such classification, asserting "all of these outlaws are rats to us," but it is known federal officials consider Karpis to be a shrewder and, for that reason, a more dangerous outlaw than the much-publicized Dillinger was.

Gang One Of Largest

A slender, fair complexioned "oldish" young man with brown hair and blue eyes, Karpis first ran afoul of the law when he was 17 years old. Sentenced to the Kansas State reformatory for 10 years upon a burglary conviction, he escaped four years later and since 1930 has kept police or federal officers busy chasing him for a series of daring depreformations.

Two years ago when the wave of kidnappings reached its crest, the Barker-Karpis gang numbered from 22 to 28 men and women, with Kate (Ma) Barker, her two sons, Arthur R. and Fred Barker, and Karpis the recognized leaders of the outfit. They made their headquarters at various times in Kansas City, Chicago and St. Paul. Their crime trails often crossed those of the Dillinger, Verne Miller and "Machine Gun" Kelly gangs but their operations were not definitely linked with the activities of those mobs.

It is the same scheme which Governor Eccles is seeking to apply to banks. Those which sign up become federal favorites. Those which don't, if the idea works out, will be branded as "deliberate chiselers."
LANDIS: Members of the Securities Commission do their real work away from Washington. Expert subordinates pass upon proposed issues, regulatory suggestions, etc. The big boys busy themselves making friends with bankers and brokers.
Messrs. Kennedy and Landis rarely miss a financial convention. Sometimes they make speeches explaining their aims and the two acts' provisions. But that is the least important part of their job. What they try to do is to serve as "good will ambassadors." They mix with the boys. They play poker and swap gossamer tales all night long. They work hard to remove the impression that commission members have cloven hooves and tails.
Mr. Kennedy's entertainment proclivities are famous. People like him, including the bankers. But the thin and seemingly saturnine Landis is running him a close second. A brilliant conversationalist; and a-I companion, he is making all kinds of reputations for himself. He's the man to bet on when and if Mr. Kennedy quits the chairmanship.
FEES: Except for a few pets—J. Bruce Kremer, ex-Gov. O. M. Gardner and Arthur Mullen—Washington lawyers have fared on the New Deal. They resent suggestions by Secretaries Ickes, Wallace and Morgenthau that every lawyer who enters a government building is a lobbyist. It gives the profession a bad name, they say.
Now they have put Secretary Hull on their black books. His aides have informed several foreign countries that they do not need legal representation in negotiating preliminary to a reciprocal tariff agreement. The work has meant big fees because interested manufacturers affected by proposed reductions fight them bitterly. Foreign nations countered by hiring lawyers to protect their interests and to advise them on domestic problems.
The lawyers are crumbling against the Supreme Court, too. Most of them concur in its anti-New Deal verdicts. But abolition of a few more alphabetical agencies will rob them of a living. The NRA was a legal gold mine.
SLICING: The Roosevelt administration seems to have a private grudge against the Mellons. Its most spectacular gesture has been the suit to recover several million dollars in taxes. But in many deft and unpublicized ways it has moved against the "greatest Secretary of the Treasury since Alexander Hamilton."
It's power program is a direct assault on the aluminum industry. Administration spokesmen won't admit it, but they are trying to sell independent manufacturers the idea of locating near the power projects at Grand Coulee and Passamaquoddy. The proposal to "decentralize" industry strikes many people as an attempt to "decentralize" the Mellons.
Mellon lawyers have been the chief objectors to several reciprocal tariff agreements already signed. Most of the concessions given to foreign nations permit imports of Mellon products. This was especially true of the agreement recently signed with Belgium. The Pittsburgh man's counsel argued against every item in the agreement, but with little success.

ENEMY'S KISS by Evelyn M. Winch
SYNOPSIS: Alison Redo just has been brought up against a dilemma. Either she must allow her (husband) Guy Lumley, to face a charge of murder that he probably cannot beat, or she must permit her father to marry Daphne Sumner. And Alison is convinced that Daphne plans to take her father to Spain and there to elope with him at a little hotel run by a man with whom Daphne is in love.
Chapter 41
DAPHNE'S RUSE
ALISON'S voice seemed to come from miles away as she said, "That's why you wanted me on the honeymoon!"
"What are you talking about?" But there was a gleam of fear now in Daphne's eyes. Her voice was perfect—incredulous, a trifle impatient. But it did not deceive the girl.
To Alison, it was as if a film was unrolling before her, shadowy, a little blurred; that hotel among the mountains—a climbing accident, perhaps—just one survivor. A search party which failed to find two bodies, already safely buried somewhere—buried maybe under the floor of an old Spanish kitchen.
So neat, so very simple! No wonder Daphne had fought hard to make her go with them. But even now, now that she knew and was warned, would her father be safe? Even while she lived, Alison thought, there were other ways; Daphne might induce him to insure his life.
Yet if she told her father, Guy would be charged with murder—Daphne would see to that! Could he prove his innocence? Was there any way to save them both? Must she choose between them?
Guy—or her father?
With a sudden, brusque movement, Alison eluded Daphne and stood up.
"I don't care what you say. I'm going to the police!"
"Oh! About what?" Daphne seemed merely amused.
"I'll tell them everything—that you got Guy to go down there, that you planned to kill me." Alison was a little breathless. "That you killed your husband."
"You've said that twice." There was menace in the slow tone. "I've said nothing. I've made allowances for your state of nerves. But twice is enough. You must have some evidence, Alison, before you make wild statements of that kind."
"He has evidence," swore Alison rashly.
"Who?" Dr. Lumley I think not. Daphne seemed completely self-possessed. "People don't die, in this country Alison, without a death certificate and my husband died of a duodenal ulcer. Fortunately, I can prove that."
She stopped, for Alison was not listening.
"There he is!"
A car had booted outside. Alison darted to the window. But the car which had backed up to the pavement was not Guy's, but her father's, and the man who got out and stopped to speak to the chauffeur was Robert himself.
Daphne had followed the girl; their eyes met.
"Well? Vibrant with triumph." Alison did not answer; she turned away with a sinking heart. Twenty minutes! Where—what Guy? What could have happened?
The bell was ringing. Was she going to face her father with the whole story, tell him everything, knowing that each word she spoke would strike at Guy? Daphne was looking towards the door expectantly.
WHITE, shaking, desperate, Alison spoke almost to herself, "I wonder if father knows that..."
"Knows what?" Daphne snapped out the words tensely.
"That your real name is Mrs. Poynter? He can't marry you under a false name, can he?"
"Oh, hush! Be quiet!"
Such a small thing. Yet there was Daphne staring at her with beads, frightened eyes; her face had turned a greenish-white. There was no vestige of her triumph left, nothing but stark fear.
The handle of the door was turning when Daphne's hand went out and clutched at Alison's arm.
"Listen," Daphne muttered, her lips close to the girl's ear. "I give in! I'll break off the engagement. Only don't tell him—leave it to me."
"Hullo! You here? Where did you find her?" Robert, coming in, looked from Alison to Daphne but neither answered.
"I don't know where you've been all night but you've given us both a most terrible fright! It was very wrong of you, very thoughtless!" Robert turned brusquely from Alison to his fiancée. "Are you ready? I'm afraid I'm late but we got held up by traffic. We ought to get on at once."
But Daphne did not move.
This spring with the Goldsborough amendment to the banking bill and was apparently decisively licked in the House when the administration quietly turned on the heat against the measure which would have ordered the Federal Reserve Board to restore the dollar to its 26 purchasing power and keep it there.
But now the Committee has grabbed at a promising opening offered by the Court and is again trying valiantly to shove the amendment through. The opening is deceptively simple. The Justices disapproved regimentation and deflation via the Frazier-Lemke bill.

rise since 1933. The AAA is conceded credit for the odd cent. If this approach rouses the South sufficiently to get Congress to override White House opposition to the Goldsborough amendment—which is possible but by no means certain—it might have wide political effect. For instance, consider its bearing on the developing campaign to turn the Southern Democracy against FDR—not that the Committee suggests anything like that.
COHESIVE: Another group which gains fresh inspiration from the Court is the New York State Economic Council—aggressive opponent of government meddling with private enterprise. The Council is growing in membership and influence. Its avowed non-partisan character makes it a useful element in organizing bi-partisan resistance to the New Deal. As yet it remains officially a New York State outfit—but contacts have been established which assure rapid expansion nationally when the time is ripe. It is likely to be quite a factor politically by next year—the more so because it has skillfully avoided sticking its neck out too far or too soon.
The Council has declared war to the knife on four pending measures: the social security bill, the Wagner labor bill, the Eccles banking bill (Title II) and the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill. Mass protests to Congress are being quietly stimulated.
Probably they won't carry much practical weight at this stage of the game—but the real object is not so much to defeat these bills now as to train the army for cohesive and effective action when the big battle of '36 begins.
EXPLOSION: The Bank of France was successful in imposing its will on the French politicians—and you should hear Wall Street's sighs of envy—but it has undoubtedly laid up a handsome store of future trouble for itself. The leftist parties won't forget their humiliation in a hurry. Their wishes—as representatives of the people—were flatly overruled by the money power and they crave revenge.
Why don't they hit back now? Because they're in a weak spot at the moment. If they managed to seize power there would be an immediate financial collapse—for which an infuriated nation would blame them entirely. They know this and realize they must bide their time.
But New York sharps agree that their turn will come. Premier Laval has authority to "defend the franc" and check speculation—but none to balance the budget, which is the crux of the crisis. Moreover, even with the Deputies out of session he is obligated to consult parliamentary leaders on all important decisions. He can stall off a showdown for a while—but with those limitations he hasn't a Chinaman's chance of working out a satisfactory permanent solution to France's problems. Sooner or later that means another and more serious explosion—and the word here is that the leftists will be in the best position to take advantage of it. The Fascist Croix de Feu is too torn by internal dissension to function effectively.
PERSUADERS: One thing Laval will probably try to ease the financial pressure is a refunding of government debt at cheaper interest. French credit isn't equal to that on a voluntary basis—but there are

PLENTIFUL NAPOLEON RELICS STILL FETCHING BIG SUMS
Paris—(AP)—Everything the great Napoleon touched turns to gold nowadays. His relics, of which there seems to be an inexhaustible supply, continue to fetch high prices at auction.

A shotgun, given by the Little Corporal to one of his friends, found a buyer for the same price and four dinner plates from a set used at his army headquarters brought $1,666.

Chief Williams suffered a broken arm, while Hope Harrill and Robert Green of Forest City, and an unidentified man from Caroleen, were less seriously hurt.
ELEPHANTS IN INDIA GIVE WAY TO CARS
Trivandrum, India.—(AP)—Elephants as a means of locomotion have slumped in India because of the growing use of motorcars. "Running costs" of elephants, too, have become more expensive.
Seventeen cow elephants recently caught in pits were released because of the slump in the market. Aristocratic families in Travancore and Malabar, the "elephant country" of southern India, formerly considered the possession of at least one elephant indispensable for the maintenance of their social position. They now have turned to motorcars.

BRADDOCK IS NEW MASTER OF THE RING

By EDWARD J. NEIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
Madison Square Garden, New York, June 14.—(AP)—Max Baer couldn't lick the man depression couldn't lick, and so lanky, hungry Jimmy Braddock, longest long shot of them all last night came gallantly to the stunning, almost unbelievable conclusion of a desperate quest—heavyweight champion of the world.

He came plodding, sometimes stumbling, but always clear-eyed and courageous, and in the end, as 30,000 stunned but prayerful spectators screamed him on, sensing one of the most dramatic moments in the history of the prize ring, they lifted his hand in victory, conqueror of the great, glamorous Baer by the unanimous decision of Referee Johnny McAvoy and two judges after 15 long, bitter rounds. He had done the undoable, this 29-year-old Irish icicle from New Jersey, a 1 to 10 shot when he calmly touched his gloves to those of the glittering, sun-browned champion as the starting bell echoed through the great sunken bowl, rang out over the heads of the big crowd, come to hope for him, to suffer with him, not daring to believe he could win.

And as he struggled on, gamely fighting the best fight that was in him, taking everything the burly

Baer hurled at him, shaking off punishment, stabbing out incessantly with his left, punching it out bitterly when he had to with the man whose smashes completely demolished Max Schmeling and the former champion, Primo Carnera—you could feel the tension increasing, feel breaths shortening, until the pressure was so great the hair stood up on the back of your neck.

NEW BERN TOYS WITH GREENIES?

New Bern, June 14.—Stuart Flythe, New Bern hurler, toyed with the Greenies yesterday and the locals edged a 5-4 verdict to regain top place in league standings.

Flythe, State College ace, and two other State players combined to send New Bern off on the scoring road. Norwood singled in the second, and Staton and Flythe followed with doubles—two runs resulted.

Varnier's double and Smoky Perbee's single produced a run in the third, and Van Horn hit for the circuit in the fourth. The deciding run came in the sixth, Webb tallying on Pratt's single.

Huiskamp and Parker drew walks for the Greenies in the first inning, and Huiskamp scored on a wild pitch. Flythe pulled out of several tight spots in subsequent innings. A double by Sullivan was the only extra-base hit for Greenville.

EAGLES DEFEAT AYDEN
Ayden, June 14.—Joyce, Carolina hurler, allowed two hits and two runs in the first inning and then pitched two-hit ball over the rest of the route to twirl Kinston to victory over Ayden yesterday. Score was 5-2.

Ayden's only runs came in the opening verse on a walk to Wall, a single by Faust Johnson, a double by Knowles, a walk to Atkins, and a long fly by Tatum.

The Eagles had scored one in the first on a homer by O. Patrick, and it was not until the sixth that Bunn Hearn's boys could do any further scoring against Turbeville's flinging. With two away in the sixth, E. Patrick was hit by a pitched ball, and Vick and Joyce drew walks. Stonebreaker singled to send in two runs and put Kinston in front.

The Eagles sewed up the game by adding two in the eighth. E. Patrick first, matched his brother's first-inning homer. Joyce walked, and Turbeville was succeeded on the mound by Byrd Stonebreaker singled, and O. Patrick duplicated to score Joyce.

Knowles, with a pair of doubles, was Ayden's leader. After the first inning the only Ayden hits were a double by Knowles, with one out in the third, and a single by Herbie Cheek, with one out in the ninth.

Score: R. H. E.
Kinston . . . 100 002 020—5 12 0

TARBORO WINS FIRST
Tarboro, June 14.—Tarboro won yesterday. The local club, beaten in eight previous league tests, held a six-run scoring party in the third inning as the major contribution to a 10-4 victory over Snow Hill.

Great relief pitching by Steve Physioc, making his first appearance of the season, featured the local triumph. Taking over the hurling assignment, with one out in the fourth, Physioc applied the brakes in effective fashion. He fanned six and allowed only one hit in 5 2-3 innings.

The locals' victory was at the expense of Mike Briggs, star southpaw of Elon College. Errors by the visitors helped in Tarboro's six-run inning, but that didn't take away from the fans' enjoyment of victory. Chumbris, midget second-sacker, opened the third by binging a double. Bassin flied out. Pay was safe on an error, and Burnette doubled to bat in two tallies. Chumbris then singled. Short hit to Williams, at third, and Burnette was thrown out at the plate. McArthur walked. McAvoy fanned, but Catcher Parrish threw wild to first—two runs counted, and McAvoy pulled up at third. Holboro's single scored McAvoy. Chumbris then made his second hit of the inning, but Bassin flied out. Snow Hill had started with a three-run spurge in the first. Williams opened the game with a single. Buddy Crump, one-time Virginia League star, followed with a single. Griffin popped out, but Neuman doubled to send in two runs. Parrish then singled Neuman home.

Crump, with a double and a single, was best for Snow Hill. Chumbris, with a double and two singles, hit .750 to lead Tarboro. Burnette hit a double and a single to bat .500, and Chumbris hit a triple and a single for five tries.

Sivley succeeded Briggs during Tarboro's big third inning. Woods went to the hill for Snow Hill at start of the locals' eighth.

GARDNER BEATS BUGS
Goldsboro, June 14.—Slim Gardner held Goldsboro to four hits yesterday while his Williamston teammates were garnering 13 hits off Skipper and McClenny to count an 8-3 triumph.

Williamston opened with a run in the starting chucker and added another in the second when Leary hit for the circuit. The Goldbugs came back to tie things when Dot Morris hit a homer with one on in the second.

After Goldsboro had gone ahead with a single in the fourth, the Martins batted around in the fifth to score five times. Gaylord singled to start things. He moved to second on a pass ball. Corbett reached first on an error, and Gaylord and Corbett scored when Goodman knocked a round-tripper. Brake walked and House singled, and a bit later both tallied on Marable's one-baser.

Score: R. H. E.
Williamston . . . 110 050 010—3 13 2
Goldsboro . . . 020 100 000—3 4 3

PRINCE OF WALES GETS NEW SPEEDY PLANE

London.—(AP)—The Prince of Wales has bought a new 160-mile-an-hour airplane, the finest he has had, but he still is a back-seat pilot by royal command.

The prince for years has done a good part of his traveling by air and is said to be a competent pilot, often steering his private craft for hours at a time. He never has been permitted to fly solo, being accompanied always by his personal pilot, Lieut. Edward Fielden.

The new machine is a twin-engine biplane, with fuel capacity sufficient for non-stop journeys anywhere within the British Isles. There are six comfortable arm chairs in the cabin with a writing desk and cocktail bar.

Nazis Suspend Principal
Munich.—(AP)—Romana Weber, principal in a convent school, was suspended from her position by nazis because she announced the death of Bavarian Minister Schiem to a class as a "judgment of God."

DOOMED GREEK COLONEL TO TRAIN ABYSSINIANS

Athens.—(AP)—Although he is under sentence of death from the Greek government, Colonel Bakirtzis has just been offered a new appointment. He is able to accept it because it does not involve his return to Greece.

The colonel has been invited by the Belgian military mission, which is organizing Abyssinia's new army, to join the Ethiopian general staff. He is at present in Bulgaria, but is expected to go to Addis Ababa in a short time.

LITTLE HOPE SEEN FOR LEA

Pardon Hearing Not Expected to Bring Results for Former Banker

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, June 13.—The elaborate and long-drawn-out hearing held here on the application for a pardon by Colonel Luke Lea, erstwhile Tennessee politician and newspaper publisher, is not likely to do his cause very much good, according to many opinion here, despite the scores of letters from prominent persons, urging clemency for him. On the other hand, the letter from Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount, who presided at the trial and who sentenced Lea, in which he said "I feel compelled to express a positive and unequivocal opposition to a pardon for this prisoner" is expected to have more weight with Commissioner of Pardon Edwin Gill and with Governor J. C.

B. Ehringhaus than the letters from General John J. Pershing, Senators Josiah W. Bailey and Robert R. Reynolds and the many other notables whose letters were submitted at the hearing here Wednesday.

The prevailing belief in most circles here is that Lea must have been guilty of something or he never would have been convicted and that merely because he was a general in the World War, a prominent Tennessee newspaper publisher and regarded by some as virtual political dictator in Tennessee for years, are not sufficient cause why he should be paroled or pardoned and released from serving any more of his prison term in North Carolina. The belief also prevails that Lea's friends and relatives have repeatedly fumbled in their approaches to the Governor for clemency and that they have made some grave mistakes in attempting to use some of the methods they have employed. A good many observers here are convinced that Lea's case has been prejudiced rather than helped by the blast of high-pressure publicity which was broadcast when Mrs. Lea filed her application for a pardon for Colonel Lea and asked the hearing which was held yesterday.

If Colonel Lea had come along to North Carolina and started serving his sentence, as Wallace Davis did, instead of fighting against it for almost two years and resisting extradition by every means possible and if he or his friends had not tried to use high-pressure methods to secure his release, his chances for clemency would have been much better, most observers agree.

SCIENTISTS PROJECT LIST OF CHEMICALS THAT MAKE A MAN

London.—(AP)—C. E. M. Joad, economist and scientist, and Dr. T. E. Lawson, eminent physician, have agreed that the prescription for "one man" is:

Enough water to fill a 10-gallon barrel.
Enough fat for seven bars of soap.
Carbon for 9,000 lead pencils.
Phosphorous for 2,200 matches.

Iron for one medium sized nail.
Lime enough to whitewash

chicken coop.
Small quantities of magnesium and sulphur.

"Take these ingredients, combine them in the right proportions in the right way and the result, apparently, is a man." Joad in a recent lecture at London University.

BUILDS FIRST PLANE

High Point, June 14.—(AP)—The Crescent Airplane Company of High Point has almost completed building its first plane and will have it ready for government inspection in a month.

The first plane is a low-winged monoplane, weighs a bit more than 500 pounds and will make 135 miles an hour, it was said.

DR. TAYLOR SELECTED TO AID TUGWELL

State College Professor Chosen to Aid In New Resettlement Administration

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILLE
Raleigh, June 14.—Dr. Carl C. Taylor, for more than ten years a member of the faculty of State College here, the last few years of his stay as Dean of the Graduate School, has been selected by Special Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Rexford Guy Tugwell to assist him in setting up the new Rural Resettlement Administration, according to reliable reports received here today from Washington. Tugwell has already been designated by President Roosevelt to be chief of this new Rural Resettlement Administration and it is understood that Tugwell has selected Dr. Taylor to be Assistant Administrator. This is interpreted by many to mean that Taylor will be the active head of the administration and Tugwell the advisory and titular head, since he has many other duties as Assistant Secretary of Agriculture.

Dr. Taylor came to State College in 1921 as Professor of Economics. He immediately became one of the outstanding professors there and soon organized the Department of Business Administration, which later became the School of Commerce and Business and remained such until this school was transferred and subordinated to the school of business in the Chapel Hill unit following the consolidation of State College with the University of North Carolina in 1931. Later on, Dr. Taylor organized and became head of the Graduate School at State College, which post he held until this school was abolished in 1931. At the time Taylor was at State College here he was regarded as being slightly too socialistic and a trifle too "pink" for North Carolina. But since then times have changed greatly and what was considered "pink" then is merely the "New Deal" now, with the result that he is now regarded as belonging to the same school of social thought as Tugwell, Hopkins, and other "New Dealers" in Washington.

Taylor is still regarded as being one of the most brilliant thinkers the state ever had and as an able organizer and promoter. It is believed that he will prove a valuable aid to Tugwell in organizing and putting over the new Rural Resettlement Administration. Works Progress Administration may eventually supersede NRA activities. Administration will soon be absorbed by and included in the new Rural Resettlement Administration, of which Rexford Guy Tugwell, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, is national administrator and of which Dr. Carl C. Taylor, former dean of the Graduate School at State College here, is assistant national administrator, according to word received here today. A meeting of board of directors of the North Carolina Rural Rehabilitation Corporation was held here yesterday, though the nature of the meeting and what was discussed, was not learned. Before many more weeks pass it is expected that a state director for the Rural Resettlement Administration will be named to take charge of all this work in North Carolina formerly carried on by the Rural Rehabilitation division of the NCERA.

Some July liquidation developed and prices in the general list eased one to five points. October contracts fluctuated between 11.15 and 11.13. October rallied to 11.20 and the general market at midday showed net gains of one to three points. Futures closed steady 10 to 13 higher, spots steady.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 14.—(AP)—Investment demand as well as a little more speculative enthusiasm continued to push stocks higher in today's market. Some profit taking appeared at the start of trading but it was accompanied by dullness but after the first hour the list began to forge ahead. Income producing "blue chips" issues were still the favorite although other categories were not neglected. Wheat rallied on strength of grain at Liverpool. Other cereals were mixed. Secondary bonds pointed upward. The gold currencies improved in foreign exchange dealings and sterling eased. The late stock tone was firm. Transfers were 1,200,000 shares.

Late News Flashes

Mayor Blair Returns to Wilmington
Wilmington, June 14.—(AP)—Mayor Walter H. Blair indicted yesterday by the New Hanover county grand jury following a three weeks probe of graft charges here, returned to Wilmington this morning and offered to suspend himself until the case has been handled, if other members of the board of city commissioners think he should take such action.

The mayor in a prepared statement shortly after he had appeared before the sheriff for service of the capias for his arrest and made a complete denial of the charges. He indicated he will be in a position to refute the charges when the case is tried. He was enroute to Wilmington from New York where he was attending Atlantic Seaboard Mayors' Conference when the indictments were returned and he hurried back to the city to accept service he said. The board of commissioners will meet this afternoon to consider the case of the mayor and decision is expected by late afternoon. The mayor is accused of appropriating fees by the police to his own use in influencing a city election and in using city gasoline in his auto.

To Make 13-Cent Loan.
Washington, June 14.—(AP)—A prediction of 13-cent a pound cotton loan this year was made in a statement today by Senator Bankhead of Alabama. He said the world crop promised to be sufficiently short to cause a drain on the American pool cotton which he said cannot be moved at less than 12 1/2 cents a pound. Only farmers have the right to sell American cotton below the American credit crop loan of 12 cents a pound, he said, and predicted they can easily be organized under existing circumstances to hold out for 13 cents a pound. He said "It appears certain that the 1935 crop will have practically no competition for our American cotton so long as the market remains below 13 cents. The 12 cent cotton loan would cause cotton to move until that price is reached. American mill stocks are low, he said, and then went ahead to analyze foreign crop prospects to back up his prediction the world supply would not permit a price below 13 cents.

Two N. C. Men Made Lieutenants
Washington, June 14.—(AP)—The navy announced today that 433 lieutenants junior grade, had been chosen by the junior selection board for promotion to the grade of Lieutenant. The list included Seymour Anderson of Goldsboro, N. C., and James William Blanchard, of Faison, N. C.

Asks Delay of Coal Strike
Washington, June 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today asked for postponement of the soft coal strike for next Monday and John L. Lewis, president of the United States Mine Workers of America, predicted at once that the request would be granted.

Mr. Roosevelt asked for the delay until July 1 to permit congress to enact the Guiffey coal stabilization bill to create a little NRA for the soft coal industry. Without that bill's price control provisions the industry could not afford to make new wage and hour commitments, many operators contend.

Lewis has ordered the strike for Monday unless the contracts were signed before then. Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation will be submitted to the Appalachian joint wage conference here tomorrow.
