Italy Pushes Plans For War; Million Men Under Arms

DEPARTURE OF SOLDIERS TO AFRICA PUSHED

Settlement of Ethiopian Dispute by Commission Not Expected; Semi-War Basis In Evidence as Silver Partly Nationalized By Government Decree

Rome, June 17.—(AP)—Italy went on a semi-war basis today with nearly a million of her men called to arms and her silver partly nationalized.

The pace of departures for East-Africa of troops and war materials was speeded up while the Italo-Ethiopian arbitration commissions prepared to meet again.

Italian circles expressed belief the commission on which an American is one of Ethiopia's representatives, would be unable to settle the Italo-Ethiopian dispute by peaceful methods.

It Duce addressing 7,000 war veterans Sunday from the coliseum stated:

These stones are eloquent of the grandeur we achieved through the force of arms and the wisdom of the laws. Nothing prevents us from believing that these destinies of yesterday will not be those of tomorrow.

Men, money and munitions were being forced by Mussolini by even a more powerful machine for way in Africa and Italy was ready for an emergency in Europe.

Silver, backed to a great degree by the property of the government, by a decree issued last Saturday calling all silver in. Previously exports of the metal in any form had been forbidden.

ATTEND MEET IN NEW BERN

Representatives of Crop Production Credit Association Report Progress

Dr. Paul Fitzgerald and J. C. Galley attended a conference of nine eastern Production Credit Associations in New Bern on June 13 and 14.

All of the associations reported good collections for the 1934 loans and an increase of loans this year.

The meeting was attended by Ernest Graham, president of the Production Credit Corporation, and H. L. Gardner, vice president of the corporation, and all presidents and secretaries-treasurers of the associations represented at the meeting. Mr. Gardner and Mr. Graham were very much pleased with the progress that has been made in the short time the associations have been in operation.

The Greenville Production Credit Association loaned $108,000.00 last year and collected in full. To date this year they have loaned $220,000.00.

Loans are available any season of the year and farmers who have no made loans and wish to secure funds to harvest tobacco are invited to call at the office of the Association for further information about these loans.

Legion To Meet Tuesday Evening

The monthly meeting of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion will be held at the Third Street school field house tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock, it was announced today.

The meeting will be featured by the election of officers and selection of delegates to the State convention. The post will also be host to the Junior American Legion baseball club recently organized here to take part in competitive play sponsored by the organization.

ROPER'S OUSTED AID HITS BACK

Ewing Y. Mitchell (left), ousted as assistant secretary of commerce, is shown clearing his desk after promising a political battle with "detailed charges" against Secretary Roper and other administration officials. ## NEGRO THIEF BOUND OVER

Charlie Williams Held Under $200 Bond For County Court After Hearing

Given preliminary hearing in city court this morning, Charlie Williams, colored, charged with stealing a pocketbook from the home of Mrs. S. B. Underwood last Wednesday, was bound over to the next sitting of County court under bond of $200. He was unable to arrange bail and was transferred to the county jail to await trial.

When taken into custody at the ball park, the negro, police said, had around $6 in his possession.

He probably would have gotten away with the theft had he not made the mistake of tossing the pocketbook, which also contained a check with Mrs. Underwood's name, into Tar river shortly after he had entered the home.

The pocketbook floated to the surface and was fished out of the water by workmen who were standing on the banks of the river a short distance from where the negro surreptitiously tossed the stolen property into the stream.

Finding the name of Mrs. Underwood on the check, the workmen at once notified police who shortly afterward placed Williams under arrest.

T. A. Whitehurst Of Stokes Section Buried Yesterday

T. A. Whitehurst, age 62 years, died suddenly from a heart attack at his home near Stokes Saturday afternoon at 5:30. Mr. Whitehurst spent most of his life in the Stokes community and was an influential farmer and a member of the Christian Church at Oak Grove. He manifested much interest in the denomination. He leaves to survive three daughters and three sons. Mrs. Coy Bullock, Misses Louise Whitehurst of Pitt county, and Lulu Hargis Whitehurst of Hobgood. J. B. T. A. and Auburn Whitehurst, all of Stokes community. Also five brothers, Bob and Tom, of Pitt county. Fate, of Hobgood, David, of Speed, and Ed Whitehurst, Pamlico county; two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Cherry of Stokes and Mrs. Lennie Curry, Norfolk, Va.

Funeral services were conducted from the home of his sister, Mrs. J. S. Cherry of Stokes, Sunday afternoon at 3:30, with Rev. Mr. Davis of Plymouth, officiating.

Active pall bearers were: J. L. Mooring, D. R. House, J. B. Conner, W. R. Harrison, J. J. Taylor, L. R. Whitard.

JAPS DEMAND NEW ACTION BY CHINESE

Council Declares General Sung Cheh-Yuan Must Be Removed at Chahar

Tokyo, June 17.—(AP)—The Ren-go-Japanese news agency correspondent at Hsinking, Manchukuo, reported today that the high military council at Hsinking said General Sung Cheh-Yuan, governor of Chahar province, must quit office.

The military council, it was reported, decided that if the Chinese Nationalist government did not remove General Sung the Japanese army would have to.

The report was interpreted as indicating that the Japanese army was determined to add another Chinese province to its list of domination, dictating what Chinese officials shall administer office and what Chinese troops shall garrison Chahar as well as Hoped provinces.

It was from Hoped province that the Japanese ousted General Yu Hsueh-Chung, who was governor there until a week ago, together with his army. Nanking government troops are evacuating Hoped. According to Ren-go reports:

"The council decided the Japanese army was not able to longer tolerate General Sung Cheh-Yuan's anti-Japanese attitude. Sung's attitude despised repeated warnings his force violated the agreement signed February 2 at Taitan. Therefore the Japanese army is unable to consider him the proper head of the Chahar province government and deems it necessary to consider him a mere bandit."

Charles O'Hagan Ends Visit Here

Charles J. O'Hagan, of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been visiting relatives here the last several days, left today for Washington on city where he will spend a short time before returning to his home in California.

Mr. O'Hagan, a native of Greenville and son of the late Dr. Charles O'Hagan, for years one of the most prominent physicians of the state, said he was greatly impressed with the rapid growth made by Greenville since his last visit here 14 years ago.

He said he had the opportunity of shaking hands with many old friends while here and enjoyed talking over old times with them—of the days when the city was a struggling village and not recognized over the country as the greatest tobacco market in the world as it is a this time.

He is brother of Miss Martha O'Hagan of Greenville.

BIG PASSENGER PLANE MAKES FORCED LANDING

Asheville, June 17.—(AP)—A trimotored cabin Ford plane carrying 12 passengers and the pilot made a forced landing yesterday in a field on the Biltmore estate.

None of the passengers were injured although the ship, piloted by George M. Kightley of Greenville, S. C., was badly damaged. The ship is owned jointly by Kightley and Joe Musler, also of Greenville.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News.

Washington By RAY TUCKER
1-TO-3: Silver Senators' moment at Secretary Morgan's banquet at the White House should get out their pads and pencils. They may learn a few things when they don't show on the Treasury's public books.

Mr. Morgenthau has bought slightly less than $800,000,000 of silver since passage of the national purchase act in June of 1934. The monetary value of our silver stock before he entered the market was about $900,000,000, making the present holdings just about $1,500,000,000. But the total monetary value of silver holdings must reach $3,000,000,000 to give it the 1-to-3 ratio to our gold stock required by Congress.

That will take more than three years at the present rate of purchase and gold supply. Even if the Treasury corralled all new annual

Board To Hear Delegation On Tar River Issue

Washington, June 17.—(AP)—The board of engineers for Rivers and Harbors will hold a public hearing tomorrow on the proposal for the further improvement of Tar river in North Carolina.

Delegation Off For River Meet At Capital City

Representatives of the Eastern Carolina Association left today for Washington, D. C., where tomorrow they will attend a hearing relative to the opening of Tar river to navigation.

S. T. Dickinson, secretary of the organization, and B. W. Moseley, left Sunday for the capital city to make arrangements of the delegation to follow today.

Among those making the trip today were Acting Mayor H. H. Duncan, G. V. Smith, Former Senator M. K. Blount, J. H. Blount, C. W. Howard, Lyman Ormond, R. L. Powell, B. B. Sugg, Sheriff Whitehurst, N. O. Van Nortwick, Former Senator Askew, Mrs. J. B. Spilman and other members of the party planned to leave tonight.

AMENDMENTS TO FARM ACT FACE AIRING

House Prepares to Consider Arguments On Agricultural Measure

Washington, June 17.—(AP)—As the house prepared today to take up the much disputed agricultural act amendments, it was assured by the agricultural committee that they were constitutional, yet still flexible enough "to establish and maintain the rehabilitation of the country's agriculture."

The amendment had the right of way immediately behind the tax exemption bill on which the house was expected to act today. Some representatives were primed to seek elimination of the licensing provisions called for certain commodities.

That section's most controversial feature provides that the secretary of agriculture may "order" marketing agreements for handlers of milk, tobacco, fresh fruits, except fresh apples, fresh vegetables, soy beans and "upstream" if 50 per cent of the handlers in a given class wish it or in any way if two-thirds of the producers desire it.

LIGHT DOCKET IN CITY COURT

Traffic Law Violation Held Spotlight of Monday Morning's Session

Charged with violation of city traffic laws, W. M. Capeheart was released in city court today after being warned by Acting Mayor H. H. Duncan that further violations would result in a fine.

The arrest came in the midst of a police drive to improve traffic conditions here. Numbers of persons have been arrested during the last two weeks, and in a number of instances they have been fined or released on payment of cost with warnings ringing in their ears.

Acting Mayor Duncan said sometime ago traffic violations had to stop here, and carrying out the injunction ordered police to arrest anybody for failing to stop at stop corners, parking on the wrong side of the streets and for staying over the limit in restricted parking areas. Speeders were also included in the ultimatum.

Capeheart was charged with failure to stop at two stop corners.

Leslie Harris, colored, charged with being drunk, was permitted to go on payment of cost.

Only one other action, that against a negro charged with stealing, occupied attention of the court this morning.

The docket was one of the lightest of the summer, although only a minor number of cases have been given consideration the last two weeks.

MITCHELL TO CARRY FIGHT TO A FINISH

Dismissed Assistant Secretary of Commerce Makes Charges Against Body

Washington, June 17.—(AP)—Ewing Y. Mitchell, who was removed last week by President Roosevelt as assistant secretary of commerce, today opened what he called a "fight to the finish" by making public charges against the department which is headed by Secretary Roper.

He contended that special interests dominate the department. He also criticized a government contract with the United States Lines for the permanent layout of the liner Leviathan, a transaction which he said was consummated by Secretary Roper in March, 1935.

The accusations were made in a letter which Mitchell said he sent to President Roosevelt on May 30 after the president had called for his resignation.

The reason the president gave for his demand was that he wished to reorganize the position of secretary of the government and desired for this enlarged endeavor "a man of larger executive and administrative training."

Mitchell, who was one of the original Roosevelt men in Missouri, contended the Leviathan contract was not in the public interest and those interested in the company, prominent among whom were Paul A. Franklin, J. M. Franklin, Vincent Astor and Kermit Roosevelt "stood to benefit."

Mitchell said he had written President Roosevelt saying it had been stated here in the department that the contract was made at the President's direction.

PARALYSIS ON INCREASE HERE

Health Department Reports Two Additional Cases in Pitt County

The Health Officer, Doctor Ennett, desiring to keep the public in general posted as to the infantile paralysis situation, informed the Reflector this morning that two new cases of infantile paralysis in Pitt county had been reported within the past week. One case is a colored child 6 months of age, of Ayden township, and the other a white child 3 years of age, in the town of Farmville. The report of this last case came to the Health Department today.

Doctor Ennett states that this makes a total of 9 cases in Pitt county, and he regards the situation serious enough for the Health Department to discourage all gatherings of whatever nature which bring small children together.

So far, the Health Department has not seen fit to prohibit such gatherings, feeling that the citizens will willingly cooperate with the Health Department to such an extent as to make such prohibitory measures unnecessary.

In view of the fact that small children are at the most susceptible age for contracting infantile paralysis, it would seem to be the part of prudence for parents to keep such children from gatherings of all kinds and to restrict neighborhood visiting to the minimum.

Doctor Ennett states that, according to reports from the State Health Department, the number of cases of infantile paralysis in the past week has doubled, the total last Saturday being 134 known cases, the highest number ever reported in the state for a single year. And in connection with this statement, it should be said that all previous epidemics have not reached their peak until the month of August or September.

British Seek Clarification of Jap 'Demands'

London, June 17.—(AP)—Reliable sources revealed today that Great Britain has asked both the Japanese and Chinese governments for clarification of reports that Japan insists on controlling the appointment of new officials in North China.

Semi-official circles believe this move by the British government indicated a grave view was being taken of the Chinese situation and it was considered this particular aspect of Japanese activities in China might lead to representation under the nine power treaty.

Rum Hearing Starts Today

Wilmington, June 17.—(AP)—The hearing in the dry's temporary injunction against the July election on the Cooper control act was opened in New Hanover Superior Court here today before Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill.

Opening the arguments in behalf of the right of the people to vote on the act, Thomas W. Davis, Wilmington attorney, said: "This act will become law by a popular vote or it will not be come a law at all."

He expressed astonishment "that the group of local and outside drys who secured the temporary restraining order from Judge E. H. Cramer in Southport, have complained the act prohibits sale of liquor to drunks and minors and is therefore discriminatory."

Before argument was started Judge Frizzelle turned to counsel for the complaining drys and said: "I want to hear from these gentlemen why the proceedings is not premature since the election has not been held."

L. R. Varsar, Lumberton attorney employed by the drys, replied for the plaintiffs "that the cost of the election will damage them."

Court was recessed until 2:30 this afternoon when the hearings will be resumed.

Judge Frizzelle expressed desire to hear all arguments today.

Late News Flashes

New NRA Bill Effective. Washington, June 17.—(AP)—A greatly circumscribed national recovery administration stripped of its power to enforce the business codes began functioning today as Congress spurred ahead to speed through President Roosevelt's legislative program.

Taking over the helm of the new NRA, James L. O'Neill said at his first press conference that it was an "open question" whether new legislation might be sought at this session for a more positive law under which the recovery agency could operate.

With a rapidly rising mercury already giving a foretaste of the intense heat to be expected in the capital—the Senate put on speed. (Continued on Page Four)

Mrs. Alice Street Died Saturday; Funeral Sunday

Mrs. Alice Street, age 55 years, died at her home at the Cotton Mill Saturday night at 7:30 from heart ailment. Mrs. Street moved to Greenville fourteen years ago and made her home at the cotton mill. She was reared in Granville county and was the daughter of the late William and Harriet Huff Grissom of Henderson. She was well known and leaves a host of friends to mourn her passing.

She was a member of the Missionary Baptist church. She leaves to survive four daughters and four sons: Mrs. Percy Bailey, Mrs. C. W. Paul, and Misses Etta and Mabel; Clarence, Albert, Charlie and Curtis, all of the Cotton Mill. Also two brothers and one sister of Henderson, N. C.

Funeral services were conducted from the late home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. Mr. Brinson of Kingston officiating. Burial was in the Greenwood cemetery.

Active pallbearers were J. S. Johnson, J. H. Howell, Charlie Frank W. A. Wingate, William Flynn and Clyde Gurnea.

URGE VOTERS TO REGISTER FOR RUM VOTE

Voters in Greenville And Chicod Especially Urged to Get Registered

Pitt county people were being urged today to register for the Liquor Control Election to be held in this county on July 6.

Both proponents and opponents of the election were calling on their supporters to go to the polls in large numbers and register their sentiment in the controversial issue.

Due to the fact that Greenville and Chicod townships were divided into seven precincts prior to the last election, voters who did not vote in the election and those who have become 21 years old since that time are being urged to register so they will be eligible to cast their vote in the liquor balloting.

There are four precincts in Greenville and three in Chicod. F. C. Harding, chairman of the Board of Elections, made it plain today that persons who voted in the November election will not be required to register for the forthcoming liquor ballot. It is only those who have become 21 and those who did not vote in November who must register.

Registration books are now open on Saturdays at the polling places and voters may register on other days if they will call on the registrar for their precinct. The books will close on Saturday, June 22 and ineligible persons who fail to register before that date will be out of luck.

Greenville and Chicod townships are divided as follows with the name of registrar:

No. 1 Precinct. Embracing the territory south of Green Street and Bethel highway; north of 5th Street and Falkland highway. Registrar: Mrs. Lottie Butler. Polling Place: Third Street School, Greenville.

No. 2 Precinct. Embracing the territory north of 5th Street and Washington highway; east of Green Street and Bethel highway. Registrar: Mr. D. L. Mangum. Polling Place: Court House.

No. 3 Precinct. Embracing the territory south of 5th Street and Falkland highway; west of Green Street, Dickinson Avenue and Ayden highway. Present Registrar: Mr. Key Norris. Polling Place: Not designated.

No. 4 Precinct. Embracing the territory south of 5th Street and Washington highway; east of Green Street, Dickinson Avenue and Ayden highway. Registrar: Mr. J. Key Brown. Polling Place: City Hall.

Chicod Township—Precinct 1. J. L. Outlaw, registrar; Precinct 2. Simpson, Brooks Tucker, registrar; Precinct 3. Venter's Store, L. O. Venter, registrar.

BIG RUM HAUL ON SATURDAY

Fountain Area Store Operator and 36 Gallons of Rum Nabbed by Officers

Fate Edwards, operator of a store in the Fountain community, was held under bond today for his appearance in County court here Tuesday week after officers raided his place Saturday and allegedly discovered 36 gallons of whiskey.

Edwards was permitted to go at liberty under bond of $200. The raid was made by Sheriff's officers who said the liquor was secreted in a trap in a coal bin.

An alleged liquor-seller and a woman were taken into custody earlier Saturday by the same raiding party. In addition to the liquor charge, the man was charged with cohabiting. The latter charge was also filed against the woman.

The liquor haul was one of the largest reported here in the last several days, although numbers of bootleggers with smaller amounts of contraband rum have fallen into the toils of the law in a series of raids from the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Ruby Loyd Dies In Hospital At Philadelphia

Information was received here today of the death in a Philadelphia hospital Sunday of Mrs. Ruby Loyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Young and sister of Foster Young of Greenville.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in Wilson, former home of Mrs. Loyd.

managers saw to that. The New York conspirators—ex-Senate Chairman Kingsland Macy and ex-Treasurer William Ziegler—have already flung together a Progressive Committee in Mr. Roosevelt's state. Now they mean to branch out. And they have the necessary mazzama if they're serious about it.

DIVORCES: The Communications Commission is split into two factions—"liberals" and "conservatives." Its vote requiring a breakup of interlocking wire directorates did not represent its real sentiment. It would have voted the other way except that a pro-industry stand might have jeopardized senatorial confirmation.

Commissioner Sykes spoke against enforcing the requirement. Chairman Prall was tacitly in opposition. But both sides with the "liberals" when the roll was called. The only argument offered against the plain mandate of the law was the ICC's example. It has severed these ties in only 200 of 5,000 railroad cases.

But the wire corporations can blame nobody except themselves. Had they submitted powerful arguments that interlocking arrangements were in the public interest they might have been spared painful divorces. Instead, they sulked. They merely said they wanted to carry on as they pleased.

BOTTLED: Harry Hopkins and Harry Ickes will come to verbal blows one of these days. Both relief chieftains are hot-tempered as well as thirsty for power.

Mr. Hopkins' regulation that all workers must come from the relief rolls cripples Mr. Ickes' PWA. Contractors warn that they will not entrust costly, delicate machinery to people whose only qualification is their need of a job. The Hopkins requirement that actual expenditure on a construction site shall be only $140 per man per year outlays heavy-construction work. It takes no account of the employment given through manufacture of steel, cement and brick away from the job.

Not a cent of the $4,000,000,000 fund granted two months ago has yet been spent in the field. Red tape, the maze of organization and Mr. Hopkins have bottled it up in the Treasury.

Chapter 43
NEW THREAT
"Be quiet!" Rede put his hand suddenly and roughly across Alison's mouth. "I'll not allow you to say such things!"
Alison tore herself free, pushing him away.
"I don't care what you say!" she cried. "If you want to run into a trap, I'm not going to, that's all! And you can't make me!"
He turned, apologizing. "I don't know what's come over her!"
Daphne stood in her bedroom door, drawing on her gloves.
"It's that man!"
"Lumley?" he looked startled.
"Yes. She's seen him this morning. She probably slept at his house last night!" Daphne stated it calmly.
"Alison!" He swung round on her accusing. "Have you been to that man's house?"
"Yes. I've been there this morning. Alison admitted it proudly. 'I suppose it's no good, my saying that she's lying about last night—you wouldn't believe me. But if you want to know, Guy and I are engaged.'"
Daphne's tone was sober, almost

Rede turned to Alison, full of contempt.

solemn as she said aloud, "I tell you, he's hypnotized her!"
"So that's it!" He turned to Alison, full of contempt and anger. "All right, my child! It just shows that you're not fit to be left here alone!"
"I tell you, my dear, this is why I was afraid," Daphne's tone was meek. But she had moved to the outer door, was barring it with her body.
"Don't worry, Alison's coming with us," Robert's tone was grim.
"I'm not," Alison moved back against the mantelpiece, held on it defensively. "You can tell any lies you like but whatever you say, I'm going to stay here till he comes!"
Robert started forward but Daphne checked him quickly.
"Are you?" she said. "Then you'll wait a long time, that's all!"
"What do you mean?" gasped Alison.

Daphne laughed coolly.
"I mean that he's probably under arrest," she said. "You see, I went round to Scotland Yard early this morning and told them all about your Dr. Lumley and his visit to Warley!"
"YOU told—Scotland Yard?" Alison was white as the palest paper behind her. "Then you were cheating me! You tried to make me promise and you knew all the time!"
"I had to keep you quiet," retorted Daphne.
"You held me because I said I'd go for the police?" Alison was dangerously quiet now. "You've lied to me and you've lied to father—well, you won't put this one over!" She darted to the telephone, snatched it from its rest.

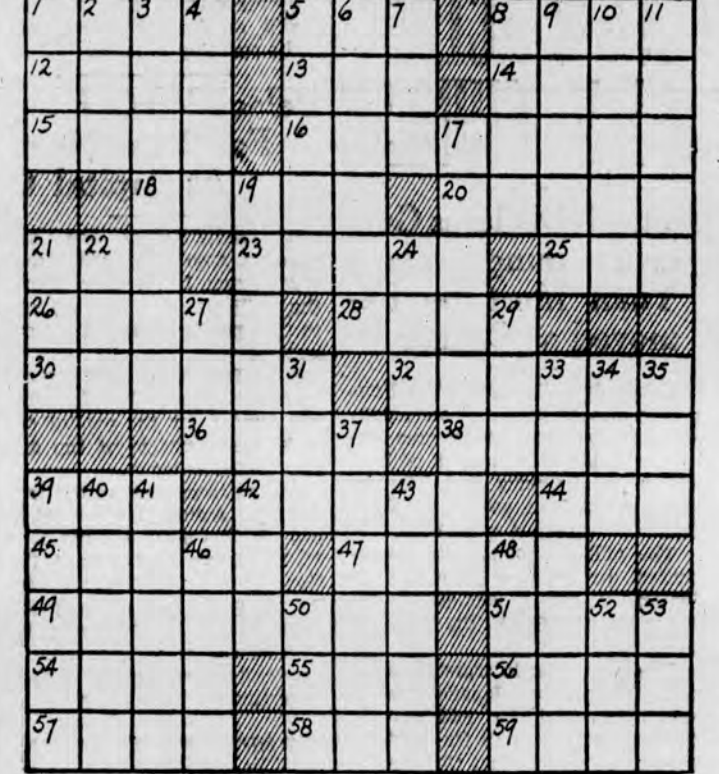

"What're you doing?" Daphne jumped forward, tried to wrest the receiver from her hand but she held on tight.
"I'm going to ring up Scotland Yard!"
"Alison!" Her father joined in now, was on the other side of her. "Put that down at once!"
"I won't!"
She held the telephone with her right hand, with her left flipped over the pages of the book feverishly.
Here it was—New Scotland Yard, Whitehall 1202. As her fingers found the New York influence. It went work that way in practice. The Messrs. Gifford, Behn et al. may have operated in a more roundabout way—but don't kid yourself that they won't be effective. In many cases local directors were named for the smaller dependent corporations in accordance with Washington's home rule policy—but it's a safe bet they won't be the type to go off on tangents of their own.

In view of the obvious intent to smash New York domination, you might think the big timers involved would fight the ruling. It's not likely. There would be little point in picking a quarrel with Washington when there are simpler ways of skinning the cat.

There are two reasons for this complacency. One is that Rayburn has been having lots of trouble with his House Committee. The House is far less hostile to the power interests than the Senate. Softening amendments barely failed in the Senate—therefore they are rated a cinch to win in the House or in conference. But the extraction of the Borah teeth in conference might jam the whole works.

Behind the parliamentary obstruction is the virtually unanimous conviction of leading New York lawyers that the bill as it stands could not get by the courts. The boys would naturally have preferred a rousing Congressional victory for their side. But they see nothing worse in defeat than the need to carry the fight a little farther.

STROKE: The New York republican reaction to the "grass roots" conference was a politely concealed yawn.

Backstagers just can't see where the pow-wow accomplished a thing. A man high in GOP councils calls the "platform" evolved at Springfield a "masterpiece of egg-walking." Another remarks that if that's the best the Middle West can do maybe the Eastern party leadership isn't as dumb as he thought.

But observers do credit the grass-roots with one smart stroke: the playing up of Al Smith. Not that they take him seriously as a coalition candidate or anything like that. What they figure is that if enough people whoop it up for Al he might at least be pepped up to campaign actively against FDR—which is really all they want of him.

COSTLY: New York insiders learn that Premier Laval has privately advised the Bank of France not to be so darned hard-boiled. He has pointed out to the financial powers that they would be wise not to haggle about extending all the credit the government needs if they really wish to avoid devaluation. He stressed the point that the government has to have money—and if orthodox channels aren't functioning there are always other methods.

The Bank can hardly afford to ignore the delicate threat. It stands to lose heavily from inflation. It might have taken a chance on the nerve of another premier but it knows that Laval isn't fooling and has no intention of being made the goat for a financial breakdown.

In a way the situation parallels our own. FDR would never have been able to keep the inflationary bay except for the ease with which Treasury credit could be expanded through the banks. Laval will get the advances he needs but they will cost him a lot more money than Uncle Sam has to pay. The high bank rate in France—clapped on to check the flight of capital—precludes cheap borrowing.

VITAL SCHOOL LAWS PRINTED BY SUPT. ERWIN

Work of Last Three Sessions of General Assembly Compiled For Teachers

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, June 17.—The most important school legislation now in effect passed at the last three sessions of the general assembly, has been compiled and printed for the convenience and use of school officials by State Superintendent Clyde A. Erwin, he announced today. This 44-page pamphlet was sent out yesterday by Superintendent Erwin to the 100 county and city superintendents of the state. The publication contains ten new acts passed and three acts amended by the general assembly of 1935, one act passed and two amended by the general assembly of 1933, and two acts passed and two amended by the general assembly of 1931.

"This publication," said Superintendent Erwin, "together with the school code of 1923 which was reprinted in 1929 which was reprinted in 1932 give all the laws enacted after 1923 give all the school legislation necessary and in convenient form for school superintendents and other school officials." The ten new acts passed by the general assembly of 1935 and printed by Superintendent Erwin are: the act appointing county boards of education; the act relating to the election of county superintendents and district school committees; and act authorizing the transfer of district sinking funds to county treasurers; the act providing for the issuance of school district refunding and fund bonds; the act providing for the fund and refunding of principal and interest of loans made from state loan funds; the act providing for the collection of delinquent amounts due state loan funds; the act providing compensation for school children killed or injured while riding on school buses; the act relating to the requirements concerning commercial schools and the textbook rental act. In addition to enacting these laws, the general assembly of 1935 amended the laws pertaining to the Thrift Society, the teaching of thrift and the scientific instruction in alcoholism and narcotism in the public schools.

Certain other laws enacted by the general assemblies of 1931 and 1933 were reprinted because the original publications containing these needed laws are now out of print Superintendent Erwin explained.

Style Offers Knitted Chic For Evening

By ADELAIDE KERR
Paris, (AP)—Knitted chic is playing an increasing role in summer fashions.
Evening gowns, dinner frocks and afternoon dresses have been added to the sports costumes and suits being reeled off the needles. New stitches such as one color Scotch plaid effects and palm leaf, diamond and dot patterns appears, while wool, silk and combination yarns of artificial silk and cotton are all being used.
Knitted evening gowns are being chosen by several smart women, who find them practical for week-end wear, since they emerge relatively uncrushed from luggage. Anny Blatt makes a white one of artificial silk and cotton yarn done in a stitch which resembles a close fishnet, and spaced by gold stripes half an inch wide. A silver belt with a shell clasp completes it.
Worn By Modish Women
Mrs. Beverly Bogert of Newport wears a black knitted evening frock by the same designer fashioned in a two piece design with a low back decollete, while Mrs. Gilbert Miller, wife of the London theatrical producer has a mauve dinner frock knit of artificial silk and cotton yarn, and finished with a flat collar, elbow length sleeves and a belt of brown seal leather.

Madame Louis Bleriot, wife of the aviation pioneer, is among those wearing knitted afternoon frocks. Hers is a silk model knitted in a loose lacy stitch with a black skirt and a white tunic-blouse completed by a big jabot. Other striking afternoon models combine one piece frocks and matching jackets of navy or sky blue.

Sport Frocks
Sports frocks come in both silk and wool with patterned knits taking the preference over ribbed effects. Grass green wool knitted in a zig-zag pattern makes a smart, two piece frock finished with dark green leather clips and belt which Madame Jacques Stern, wife of the French deputy took to America with her on the Normandie while Lady Ribblesdale (the former Mrs. John Jacob Astor) wears a costume of black wool belted and buttoned with brown leather.

Finer-Grained Powder Kills Quicker In "Death-House" Tests

It's a fact—proved by tests on thousands of crawling insect pests, every month, in McCormick's "Death-House." These tests prove Bee Brand Insect Powder does kill insects 32% quicker than ordinary insect powder. And that's because it's ground into many more killing particles, which stick to the insect—and kill them quicker. Bee Brand Insect Powder is harmless to children and pets—will not contaminate foods. It costs no more. Ask for it by name.

Bilbro-Hodges.

Ayden, June 17.—The wedding of Miss Myrtle Gray Hodges of Ayden, and Aaron Tyson Bilbro of Greenville, was solemnized at high noon Saturday at the first Christian Church in Ayden. Rev. W. H. Brunson performed the ceremony.

The chancel was banked with palms, ferns, and with large baskets of Easter lilies and gladioli. Tall candelabra on each side of the altar bore lighted white tapers.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Virginia Bell Cooper, organist, and Miss Hazel Ruth Turnage, pianist, played "Traumerei" by Schuman. Mrs. Sam Pierce sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The bride's chorus from Lohengrin, by Wagner, was used as a processional, and MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" was played during the ceremony. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as a recessional.

The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Lynn Pipkin of Goldsboro, and Miss Frances Harvey of Greenville, wore identical dresses of pink lace net with brown accessories. They carried bouquets of field flowers.

Miss Mary Alice Bullock of Ayden, was maid of honor and wore blue lace net with pink accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of souvenir roses.

The bride entered the church with her father, J. H. Stancill Hodges, who gave her in marriage. Her wedding dress was of navy blue linen lace with accessories of a lighter shade of blue. She carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, C. O. Bilbro of Greenville, as best man, and ushers were R. B. Bilbro, brother of the bridegroom, Zack Vandye, N. H. Whitehurst, Jr., and George Wilkerson, all of Greenville.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Bilbro departed for a wedding trip through Western North Carolina and the Valley of Virginia.

After the rehearsal Friday night, an informal reception was given at the home of the bride's parents for members of both families and the bridal party. Punch was served by Miss Mary Johnson Eure and Miss Corabob Smith. A three-tiered wedding cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and bridegroom was cut by the bride. After this a delicious ice course and cake were served.

Mrs. Bilbro is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stancill Hodges of Ayden. She was educated at East Carolina Teachers College and while there held several honorary offices in the college. For the past year she has been teaching in the Pitt county school at Arthur.

Mr. Bilbro is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bilbro of Greenville. He was educated in the Greenville schools and is now a member of the firm of Bilbro Wholesale Company in that city.

The couple will make their home in Greenville.

Ambassador Quartet.

The hour and place for the concert at the college tomorrow night by the Ambassador Quartet will be at eight o'clock in the Austin Auditorium.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

SHINE ON CLOTHES MAY BE REMOVED BY SIMPLE MEANS

Get rid of that shine in garments, sponge with water to which a dash of ammonia has been added—about one teaspoonful to a quart of water. Then press on the reverse side.

If you will cover silver that you are putting away with dry flour it will keep it from tarnishing.

Lemon and salt blended will do a good deal toward removing rust from something that has been pressed with too hot an iron. Hold the garment over steam after you have applied the lemon and salt cure.

When curtains, spreads, and such have become so soiled you wonder how you're ever going to wash them, soak in cold water overnight, and add a touch of borax. The dirt will come out easily when you wash the following day.

To Prevent Fading

Here is the way to protect your colored clothes from running when in the washing tub. Put a handful of salt in a good-sized bowl of cold water. Let your garment soak in this for half an hour. After this wash with warm water (not too hot) and soap suds. If you see a little color coming out rinse in cold water and salt.

Lobbyists Paid More Than Solons In N. C.

Reflector Bureau.

Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILLE.

Raleigh, June 17.—The members of the "Third House" of the 1935 general assembly—that is, the lobbyists—received more for their services in fees and expenses than did the members of the general assembly, figures compiled today by this bureau from the reports of expenditures on file in the office of the Secretary of State show. Reports filed by 119 lobbyists out of a total of 121 who registered during the general assembly, show they received $109,222.65 in fees and expenses, while the salaries of the 170 members of the general assembly of $600 each for the session and $700 for the Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House amounted to only $102,800 for the session.

Thus the lobbyists who reported how much they received both in fees and expenses, received $6,442 more than did members of the general assembly in salaries from the state.

But it is known that scores of lobbyists never observed the anti-lobbying law, and hence did not report their fees and expenses. It is also known that under the law those lobbyists who worked on salary as the full time employees of firms, businesses and corporations, are not required to report their salaries. If these salaries should be included in the total of fees and expenses it is conceded that the total would probably amount to almost $200,000 or possibly even more. So those who are in a position to know, estimate that various persons, firms and corporations paid out at least $200,000 to lobbyists during the recent general assembly in an effort to either pass or defeat particular legislation in which they were interested.

Thus it is regarded as likely that lobbyists were paid more in fees, salaries and expenses than the entire cost of the 1935 general assembly, including clerk hire, the cost of all employees and printing, which amounted to $187,010.13 for the 1935 session. The total cost of the 1933 session, including all items, was $193,559.61, according to figures obtained today from the state auditor's office.

The largest fee received by any one person or firm for lobbying was the sum of $4,500 paid to Pou and Pou, Raleigh law firm, by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The reports filed with the Secretary of State show. This same firm of Pou and Pou, composed of James H. Pou, Sr. and James H. Jr., also received a fee of $1,500 from Carolina Power and Light Co.

Jones Fuller, of Fuller, Reade and Fuller, Durham law firm, reported that he received $3,672.23 in fees and expenses from the American Tobacco Company and from Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company, or a total of $7,344.45 from these two companies. No lobbyist was registered as representing any other tobacco company and no expenditures reported by any others.

The largest bill for expenses only was that listed by Harry E. Buchanan, salaried lobbyist for the North Carolina Theater Owners Association, composed of most of the moving picture theatres in the state, amounting to $1,582.58. The moving picture interests are noted for maintaining one of the most effective and liberal lobbies here, and Buchanan is regarded as their able lobbyist. If his salary had also been listed, the total would probably have amounted to a great deal more.

Norman Shepherd, of the Smithfield law firm of Abell, Shepherd and Law, received a total of $4,636.90 in fees and expenses of which $3,193.45 in fees and $943.45 in expenses was received from the Carolina Power and Light Co. and $500 in fees from the North Carolina Photographers Association. George Ross Pou of Raleigh, of this same firm, reported receiving fees and expenses amounting to $5,000 from the North Carolina Highway Protective Association, composed of highway contractors and road material manufacturers.

The Brotherhood of Railway Engineers paid $1,195 to A. R. Harrison in fees and expenses while the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen paid $1,092 to T. D. Parrish, Raleigh lawyer, for representing them in trying to get through bills favorable to railroad employees. The North Carolina Railroad Association paid Murray Allen, another Raleigh lawyer, $1,500 for lobbying for it.

The North Carolina Education paid its lobbyists, former Senator Stover P. Dunnigan of Rutherford county, a total of $2,500 of which $1,179 was fees and $1,421 for expenses. None of the textbook publishing companies had any lobbyists registered and consequently reported no expenditures, although from 10 to 20 representatives of textbook publishing companies were here as at various times during the general assembly, lobbying against the various rental textbook bills introduced and assisting Dunnigan in lobbying for or against bills favored by the North Carolina Education Association.

The smallest amount reported, as expended in connection with lobbying was $1.13 by W. P. Hodges of New York.

It requires only about 15 minutes, after the Speaker has banded his gavel at noon opening the session. During those 15 minutes, unless some one objects, all sorts of extraneous matter is inserted in the Congressional Record in that section known as the appendix. Senator King of Utah, a former member of the house, describes the appendix as "the burial ground for speeches."

As a matter of fact, it's more than that.

Cost To Government Heavy For example, a member of the house from Texas asked and obtained "unanimous consent to proceed for one-half minute," then extended his remarks in the Record that:

"Faithful, dependable loyalty to friends is the cardinal principle of my life."

It required almost three pages to set forth this fact.

Roughly, about 23 per cent of the Record at the present is taken up by this extraneous matter. One of the last available estimates is that it cost the government $13,760.85 for a member to extend his remarks in the appendix one time.

Not since Underhill of Massachusetts was a member of the house has any one "guarded the Record." He battled constantly to hold the appendix down.

From wide studies of the Record for congresses back Underhill found that "members of congress like to tickle the vanity of their constituents by printing articles and speeches which the constituents themselves make; that others clutter up the pages with statistics only of interest to their own districts; that newspaper editorials are inserted."

NEW BOOKS

By JOHN SELBY

If Vance Randolph lived in France he would be known by the natives as an "original." Mr. Randolph is a Kansas, however, and when he felt the need of improving himself for quiet work he went to an Ozark "holer" near Pineville, Mo.

He has written four books about the Ozarks. Before he wrote these, he had peddled tinware, taught school, tramped the whole country, graduated from Clark University, written a number of Haldeman-Julius' little blue books, and learned to understand and appreciate the Ozark mountain people.

Now Mr. Randolph has written a novel called "Hedwig." It is the story of a German immigrant girl's life in the middlewest, told by herself, in dialect. It is a simple story of a simple soul. Trouble, in the person of a husband and numerous other men, besets Hedwig. She almost goes blind, she is ill from other causes, she is sometimes hungry and never with money for long.

But she has the peasant soul. She is close to life and the earth, and not so intelligent that she transforms the same of fate into neuroses. Her philosophy is simply that although things are bad, they might be worse. She sticks to it, and because she really believes it, she is never betrayed by it.

Parts of "Hedwig" are not easy to read. But the book takes hold of one.

Thumbnail Reviews "Bright Destination," by Darwin Tulliet, a charming, mad, and almost invariably amusing story about a young man on the trail of an erring wife determined to marry a French count; the young man mixes up with a French circus, with engaging and cockeyed results.

"The Big Town" by O. O. McIntyre, one of the best known "men about New York" selects 51 of his favorite columns for perpetuation in book form; some delightful lines.

"A London Story" by George Buchanan, English attempt to express young people today through the contrasting characters and experience of two brothers, one a "coliar ad," the other introspective and serious; the denouement is expected, but logical.

Summer Hints

If you live where there is a great deal of dampness, near the seashore or where there are early morning and evening fogs and mists, and you have trouble with your open salt cellars, keep them covered with glass when no in use.

You'll probably be washing your hair more often during the summer, and if there is a slight wave to your hair you will protect it by parting the hair while wet, setting it the way your wave goes and covering your head with a damp heavy bath towel for a little while. Then dry in the sun.

A Tasty Touch Currants and raspberries mixed make a nice top for ice cream, looking pretty and tasting well.

LOCALS WIN SUNDAY GAME FROM S. HILL

With an invisible rainbow on his good right arm, George Barley hurled seven-hit ball against Snow Hill at Third Street school athletic field yesterday afternoon and enabled Greenville to walk away with a 4-2 victory.

The game was the first scheduled Sunday affair played here this season and saw attendance figures climb to the highest peak. Both grandstand and bleachers were packed to overflowing and scores were forced to sit in the football bleachers in the outfield and along the side lines.

Barley is not only one of the best pitchers in the league but he is one of the most lucky. Several times in recent games he has filled the bases after becoming wild and each time he settled down to business and retired the sides without adding additional tallies. A pitcher can do that, especially when facing dynamite-loaded bats of some of the best fence-crackers of the league is bound to be good, and instead of carrying the cognomen of "Fireball" given him because of his successful exploits at Duke University, Barley should be styled "Rainbow." He carries the lucky symbol to the box every game and the fact it sticks in pinches is mighty comforting to the hundreds of fans who jam the park each game to see the locals play errorless ball as they have done with exception of one or two games.

But the glory of yesterday's victory did not go to the "Rainbow" king alone. "Ace" Parker's high explosive bat again came into play in the fifth stanza with the bases loaded, and a sizzling drive to center field enabled the runners to race home with plenty room to spare. Ace sat down on third base to await a drive that did not come.

While Parker's sizzling thing of by far the most exciting thing of the game, Ayden Johnson and Billy Huiskamp also forced into the batting line. Johnson, accounting for a double and a single and Huiskamp two single base drives. Newman and Perry paced Snow with two singles each.

Singles by Huiskamp and Wagner with the aid of an error by Williams of Snow Hill gave Greenville its first run in the third. The three tallies that sewed the game up in a bag came as the result of singles by Ambler and Huiskamp, Wagner landing at first on a fielder's choice, and Parker's sizzling three-base clout.

Snow Hill scored in the third when Check drew a free pass. Perry hit for a single base and Williams tripled, scoring the two runners on the path.

McFadden, who has enjoyed more or less success with Green county club this season, apparently had Greenville proverbially "eating out of his hand" until the third when the locals began shelling the pitcher's box so effectively that he was relieved in the fifth by Briggs, the smoothest pitching left-hander seen here this season, with exception of Greenville's southpaws, who managed to virtually silence Greenville bats for the remainder of the game.

As result of yesterday's battle, Greenville and Snow Hill rested today but will tangle again tomorrow when the locals go to the Greene county field to renew hostilities.

KINSTON AND ELM CITY PLAY TO SCORELESS TIE

Kinston, June 17.—Elm City and Kinston nines battled 13 innings to a scoreless tie yesterday afternoon.

It was one of the most exciting baseball games ever played here.

Dawson, hurling figure of the game, holding Kinston to five hits.

But the local pitchers, Humphreys and Crouch pulled themselves out of seven successive jams, and 18 Elm City men were left on bases. The visitors got 13 hits.

The last play of the game left the crowd gasping. After struggling to hold their own for most of the game, Kinston loaded the bases in the final frame only to see the visiting center fielder, A. Royal took a long fly from Harris, pinch hitter, and doubled with a beautiful throw to home plate.

Joe Greenberg, brother of Detroit's Home-Run Hank, played third base for Kinston and got one hit. C. Royal at short for Elm City, played a brilliant defensive game.

Fuller of Elm City got four hits out of six times at bat and Pace three out of six. Morgan, with two, was the only Kinston repeater.

GOLDSBORO FALLS BEFORE AYDEN BOYS' BATS

Goldboro, June 17.—After knotting the score in the first and again in the sixth inning, Goldboro sank under a five-run avalanche in the seventh and lost to Ayden 14-9 here yesterday.

Approximately 1,500 fans saw the game.

K. Smith and Upchurch held the locals to eight hits while the visitors pounded four Bug hurlers for 13 bingles.

Ayden scored five in the opening stanza. Morris hit a two-bagger and scored on Johnson's two base hit.

Johnson came home on Knowles' single. Atkins doubled scoring Knowles and coming in himself on a wild pitch. At that point Davis was pulled from the mound for Shoaf. Check got a base on balls and scored on Collins' double.

Libby and Patton drew bases on balls in the Bugs half of the inning and scored on Rand's single to center. Biddle had drawn a pass and both he and Fland and Mewborn scored on the shotstop's error after Mewborn had singled.

The visitors scored two in the second when Wall got a base on balls and Johnson reached first on the first baseman's error. Wall scoring on Knowles' single.

The Bugs counted one in the second when Gold doubled and scored on Morris' three-bagger.

Ayden got another in the third when Tatum drew a pass and scored on the catcher's error.

Goldboro came back in the sixth with two runs on a single a pass and two sacrifices to tie the score again.

The locals met their Waterloo in the seventh when singles by Check, Johnson and Morris, two walks and a passed ball counted for five runs.

Bill Herring relieved Shoaf on the mound after two men were down.

The Bugs scored one more in the eighth but the visitors added another to their card in the ninth on a double by Morris and a single by Knowles.

GRANTSBORO MAN VICTIM OF HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER

New Bern, June 17.—Struck by a hit-and-run driver in Pamlico county yesterday, Archie Boyd, 35 of Grantsboro, died at 5:30 this morning in a local hospital to which he was brought.

The car had run over him breaking various bones and leaving him suffering from shock.

SHOT IN ATTEMPTED GAS STATION HOLD-UP

Greensboro, June 17.—(AP)—The condition of J. R. Snyder, about 40, who was shot five times in what was termed an attempted hold up of the Rest-A-Bit automobile service station on East Market street early yesterday, today was described as fairly good at the hospital.

His condition remains critical but in the absence of complications he should recover.

Warrants for J. R. Snyder and Wade Snyder charging highway robbery were issued at police headquarters yesterday.

New York Cotton

New York, June 17.—(AP)—Cotton future opened fairly steady one to four lower under July liquidation and commission house selling with the demand slow.

October fluctuated between 11.37 and 11.35 with prices one to three net lower at the end of the first half hour.

October contracts were selling 11.35 at midday when the general market showed net losses of one to three points.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 17.—(AP)—The stock market halted to catch its breath today although there were no indications of any serious back slides.

Wide profit taking appeared in various shares that have been finding their way to the market since the climbing of the fastest a firm undertone was displayed by the utilities.

The rails were about steady and scattered specialties developed strength. Dullness accomplished the mild selling flurry.

Grains rallied. Cotton was rather narrow, traders continued to nibble at carrier bonds. Sterling dipped in foreign exchange dealings and the French franc exhibited substantial improvement. Closing stock quotations were mixed.

Transfers were 1,000,000 shares.

Late News Flashes

with the aim of disposing of the administration's social security bill by mid-week.

Leaders reached that decision just before a resolution extending $500,000,000 in existing nuisance taxes for two years was called a day a gag rule providing for vote after only 40 minutes debate.

Next on the program for the week as outlined by Speaker Burnes, was the controversial AAA amendment a necessary deficiency bill and the Wagner labor dispute bill.

Seek to Stall Run Election

Elizabeth City, June 17.—(AP)—The United Dry forces of Pasquotank county today went on record as favoring an injunction against the holding of a liquor referendum July 6.

To determine whether or no legal liquor stores shall be set up in Pasquotank county the injunction will depend on the raising of sufficient funds to finance the necessary action.

Seek to Stall Run Election

Washington, June 17.—(AP)—It was revealed here late Saturday that suit had been filed in Superior court against the Board of Beaufort County commissioners seeking to restrain them from calling an election for the establishment of liquor control stores as provided by an act of the last General Assembly. Seventeen other counties of the eastern part of the state were also given similar permission by the legislature.

Although the complaint had not been acted upon, it was understood a decision was expected late today or tomorrow.

MURDER JURY UNABLE TO AGREE IN 30 HOURS

Charlotte, June 17.—(AP)—The jury in the trial of E. T. Lagerholm charged with murder in the death of his wife, had not reached a verdict last night, 30 hours after it received the case.

Judge W. F. Harding indicated he would declare a mistrial if the jury could not give a verdict by today.

It was the second time Lagerholm, 35-year-old bookkeeper, had been brought to trial. Last October he was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to 18 years, but won a new trial on appeal.

The state contended he beat Mrs. Lagerholm and forced her to drink poison at their home here last July. The defense contention was that her injuries were suffered in a fall and that the poison was self-administered.

NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE AS RESULT OF INJURIES

Morganton, June 17.—His body crushed from the waist down, Warlick Allman, 26, local transfer company worker, is in a critical condition at Grace Hospital from injuries received early yesterday morning when he was pinned between two cars while repairing a tire on a highway near here.

Isaac Fleming, local negro, was arrested as driver of the car which struck Allman as it crashed into the parked auto against which he was pinned.

Bones in Allman's legs were broken in many places and he is given slight chance to recover.

PARIS CHIEF SWEARS IN TWO WOMEN AS COPS

Paris.—(AP)—Mademoiselle may not have the vote in France, but she can enforce the law.

France hopes she can, for the city of Paris has just sworn in the country's first policewomen.

They are: Miles, Simonne Monvert and Berthe Rolland, rougeless husky social service workers chosen by the director of municipal police to take care of women's and children's delinquencies but vested with full police powers.

Their uniform consists of broad brimmed hats, double breasted jackets with the police insignia on the lapel, and long full skirt.

The police chief, admitting the costumes were not the most becoming Paris could have supplied to her first women police, commented only that "they're for policewomen, not for mannequins."
