Roosevelt Social Security
Program Affects MillionsFINAL ACTION
ON MEASURE
FACES HOUSE

Needy Persons Over 65 Years of Age Will Receive $15 a Month; Hundred Millions to be Appropriated For Measure Next Year; 25,000,000 Persons Expected to be Involved

Washington, June 21.—(AP)—The Roosevelt social security program, administration leaders said today, eventually will cover more than 25,000,000 persons.

Under provisions of the legislation—now before the house for action on senate amendments—the federal government would begin July 1 paying a maximum of $15 a month to needy persons over 65 years of age or to needy blind, provided the sum is matched by the state.

For the first two years, however, states without pension laws would not have to match this sum, according to the bill as passed by the senate.

The measure would appropriate $100,000,000 for such pensions next year. In addition, this money would be used to aid dependents and crippled children, destitute mothers and for other welfare purposes. Just how many needy aged will be aided at this time is not known. Estimates are that there are about 10,000,000 over 65 years of age in the United States but not all of them require such financial assistance.

Beginning in 1937, employers and employees will be taxed to provide old age pensions for those now working. The workers will get the pension when they become 65. This tax starts at one per cent each on employees and employers in 1937 and ranges up to 3 per cent in 1949. It applies to salaries up to $3,000. These pensions will range from $10 to $85 monthly.

Companies which have private pension systems would not be affected by the tax under an amendment which the senate attached to the legislation. Administration leaders estimated that by 1950 this payroll tax will yield $2,000,000,000 annually and that 25,000,000 will be entitled to pensions when they reach the retirement age.

Those who are now 65 and are destitute will continue to receive up to $15 a month from the federal government plus the state contribution as long as they live. The other plan which provides for the taxes is designed from men and women now employed.

The benefits which those now working will receive will depend on the length of time they have been employed and have paid the tax into the benefit payment fund.

A person earning an average monthly salary of $100 would receive the following benefit based on length of employment:

Years of employment	Benefits
5	$17.50
10	$22.50
15	$27.50
20	$32.50
25	$37.50
30	$42.50
35	$47.50
40	$52.50
45	$57.50

Farm labor, domestic help, government, casual or part workers are not included in the plan.

HOSIERY MILL ROBBED
TO EXTENT OF $1,500

Burlington, June 21.—Officers had been assigned today to work "full time" in an effort to track down a thief or thieves responsible for the robbery of the Tower Hosiery mill early Wednesday morning.

Full fashioned unfinished hosiery valued at approximately $1,500 was missing from a container when the plant opened for the first shift of employees.

Entrance had been made by breaking a glass in a window to permit a hand to reach to the inside to lift the inside latch locking the window.

Farmers Protest Suit Against Processing Tax

Farm agencies of this county today characterized as "premature and unfriendly" action of the Oakdale Cotton Mills, of Jamestown, N. C., in filing suit against the Collector of Internal Revenue for recovery of processing taxes paid in carrying out provisions of the control program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

After notice of the filing of the suit had appeared in state papers, the first of the week, representatives of the Pitt County Mutual Exchange telegraphed the mill management, informing them of the agitation that "might develop into a general boycott" of their goods by farmers of this county, and asked that some explanation be forthcoming.

The mills immediately wired that the suit was filed as a "protective measure" and that the concern had nothing against the AAA.

Two representatives of the mills appeared here yesterday and conferred with the farm leaders and declared they were in no way hostile to the AAA and filed the suit merely to protect themselves in case the Supreme Court rules against the constitutionality of the processing tax.

After the conference representatives of the several farm agencies declared "To the lay mind it may appear that such actions may only be interpreted as premature or unfriendly."

Although no further action had been taken by the farm agencies today, it was evident from expressions contained in the written statement that they do not yet understand why the suit should have been filed if the mills are in sympathy with the work of the AAA.

The telegrams and statement follow:

Several days ago there appeared in the News & Observer an account of a suit filed by the Oakdale Cotton Mills of Jamestown, N. C., to recover a sum paid in processing taxes. This account was noted by a large number of farmers who are patrons of Oakdale products and a group of them decided that the matter should be investigated. It appeared to them that such a suit indicated an unfriendly attitude toward the AAA crop control program and might possibly do for it what had so recently been done in a similar suit against the NRA. Wishing to understand the situation and to be perfectly fair in their decisions, the following telegram was sent to the Oakdale Mills:

Pitt county grows about forty thousand acres of tobacco and has been using mostly Oakdale Tobacco twine. The farmers have received the impression that you are opposed to the AAA program and are working against the farmers' interest in opposing the process tax imposed for the benefit of farmers in helping them get a fair price for their

Death as Float Explodes During
Opening Parade

Rocky Mount, June 21.—(AP)—With the death in a local hospital today of Milton Robbins, 19, driver of a float which exploded and burned during the annual Gallopade yesterday, tragedy had marred the effect of the two-day festival which began here on Thursday morning.

Robbins and a companion, S. E. Sykes, 40, leaped from the flaming float with their clothes afire. Both were badly burned.

The condition of Sykes was said to be serious. The float represented a local floral company.

Dedication of the municipal airport with prominent state and national figures participating were features of the Gallopade program today.

Union Service
To Be Held At
Baptist Church

The first of the Union Sunday Evening Services sponsored by the Greenville Ministerial Association will be held in the Memorial Baptist Church this Sunday, June 23rd, at eight o'clock, and William A. Ryan, minister of the Christian church, will preach the opening sermon. It is planned to hold these services on the Court House lawn when the weather is good; otherwise in Memorial Baptist Church. The congregations participating are: Jarvis Memorial Methodist, St. Paul's Episcopal, First Presbyterian, Memorial and Immanuel Baptist, The Salvation Army, and Eighth Street Christian. The ministers of the participating congregations will deliver the sermons.

NEGRO FOUND DYING.
ASSAILANT ARRESTED

Wilson, June 20.—Sam Horne, negro, was in a dying condition today as the result of pistol wounds received Tuesday night at the exact spot where Federal agents and local sheriff's deputies discovered 1,700 gallons of liquor, 181 gallons of beer, and four stills Monday in Edgecombe County, near the Wilson county line.

Horne was found with bullet wounds in his body and bloodstains were called from Wilson. The dogs picked up a trail and found a small shack, a few miles from the scene of the shoot-out. Lancaster admitted the shoot-out. He said, but would not tell the reason means "old woman with a face like a pig."

Funeral Services For
Mrs. Martha Roberson Held This Afternoon at 3 o'clock

Mrs. Martha Josephine Roberson, 74, died suddenly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. F. Fleming at Grimesland, yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home conducted by Rev. J. J. Strawbridge, pastor of the Grimesland Methodist Church, and Rev. M. A. Woodard of Winterville. Interment followed in the Stancill burial ground in Belvoir township.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. F. Fleming, Grimesland; Mrs. A. G. McLawhorn, Ayden; two sons, Ira Roberson, Conetoe, and Gus Roberson, Elm City; one sister, Mrs. Emma Little, Belvoir township; a brother, Jim Stancill, Pitt county; seventeen grandchildren, four great grandchildren.

Mrs. Roberson was a member of the Gum Swamp Free Will Baptist church for the last fifty years.

Pallbearers were: W. A. Hudson, J. L. Outlaw, Dr. C. H. Speck, B. F. Buck, W. F. Galloway, S. A. Porter. Honorary: Dan White, R. D. Edwards, J. S. Spain, F. A. Elks, J. Elks, L. E. Elks, J. FIND DECOMPOSED BODY
OF AGED WOMAN RECLUSE

Whiteville, June 20.—The decomposed body of Miss McMay Merritt, 70-year-old recluse of Lake Waccamaw, discovered yesterday morning at her home there, failed to reveal any marks of foul play.

Coroner F. B. Richardson, who conducted an investigation into the death today, declared that in his opinion the aged woman had been dead for about six days.

She was last seen last Thursday and apparently had died from natural causes after locking herself in her bedroom. The door had to be broken down to allow entrance. Miss Merritt had been living alone at Lake Waccamaw for the past eight years.

URGE VOTERS
TO REGISTER
FOR RUM VOTE

Registration Books to Close Here Tomorrow Night; Election Set For July 6

Registration books for the liquor control election to be held in this county July 6 will close tomorrow night and unregistered voters were urged to go to the polls tomorrow and register if they desire to express their sentiment on the question.

Attention particularly has been directed at voters in Greenville and Chocod townships where new voting precincts were set up after the primary last June. A special registration was conducted in the two townships prior to the November election, but it was said that hundreds of voters did not register and consequently will not be able to vote on the liquor control issue unless they register.

F. C. Harding, chairman of the Board of Elections, said the first of the week that persons who failed to register prior to the November election last year will not be able to vote unless they register during the present registration.

Similar warnings have been sent out to voters in the two townships by both the wet and dry elements in an effort to get as many to the polls as possible.

Although restraining orders have been filed in some counties to prevent the holding of the elections, no such action has taken place in this county, the dries apparently being content to let the question be fought out at the polls. Similar action has been taken in Beaufort and Pasquotank counties. Decision on restraining orders is being awaited with eager anticipation by both factions in other counties.

The election is the outgrowth of the action of the last General Assembly granting 17 counties of the state the privilege of holding elections to determine the sentiment of the people on the establishment of liquor stores.

NEW SITTING
OF ASSEMBLY
IS PROBABLE

Washington Legislation May Make Special Session Necessary

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel. Raleigh, June 21.—Governor Ehringhaus faced so well at the late general assembly's hands that he looks positively no favor on anybody's proposal to bring the legislature back to Raleigh this summer or fall, but Washington legislation may make it necessary for all the executive's indisposition to have another session.

As the general assembly adjourned May 11, Gov. Ehringhaus caused to be enacted a bill providing some sort of temporary structure for the social security legislation then pending in Congress. Washington loafed and North Carolina's legislature adjourned. On the last day a batch of liquor bills went through and that complicated state legislation. But Gov. Ehringhaus was not going to allow that mess to worry him. He did his full best to avoid it and got no help from the leading dries. Besides, the dries seemed fairly well satisfied with these bills believed by them to be invalid because unconstitutional.

The social security legislation is another thing. It affects all the states and commonwealths must levy taxes to meet the federal funds. It was impossible to levy such a tax at the late general assembly because there was nothing concrete before that body. The governor will have to study the congressional act before he can determine what the state will have to do. The bill passed June 19 as amended in the U. S. Senate, may make a special session less necessary, but it may make one more imperative.

ITALIAN ISSUE

Britain Not Alarmed Over Italy's Threat To Bolt League of Nations

Rome, June 21.—(AP)—The Italian dispute raised again today the question of the future of the League of Nations with the burden of an answer apparently falling on Britain's Captain Anthony Eden.

Well informed sources said that whether Italy carries out her vital threat to quit the League may depend on Captain Eden's forthcoming visit to Rome and his conversations with Premier Mussolini.

High quarters expressed belief that Italy would follow Japan, Germany and Paraguay out of the League if the council attempts to intervene in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute on the basis of an Ethiopian note presented yesterday to Geneva. Soon afterward it was announced that Eden would come to Rome early next week after his Paris visit.

London, June 21.—(AP)—British government sources said today they refused to consider there was any danger that Italy would bolt the League of Nations despite alarming reports printed in admittedly authoritative mediums of the Italian press.

TWO-YEAR-OLD CHILD
DIES AFTER EATING LYE

Williamston, June 21.—Reports coming here tell of the death of Linwood Gurganus, two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gurganus, of Bear Grass, after he had eaten a small quantity of lye. The mother was using the lye in washing and leaving the small child in the care of an older child, went to the mail box. During her short absence, the child got hold of the deadly lye and ate enough to cause death within a few hours. Its throat was in a terrible condition before death came.

Judge Frizzelle Indicates He Will Rule On New Hanover Issue Tomorrow

Raleigh, June 21.—(AP)—On the eve of the first county liquor control referendum in North Carolina, warring factions came to court today for a hearing on a temporary injunction forestalling the Franklin county election set for June 29.

A temporary restraining order obtained by Franklin county dry forces several days ago was returnable to Judge Clawson Williams in Wake county Superior court at 2:30.

Votes in Wilson and Edgecombe counties scheduled for tomorrow have not been contested.

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle who has under consideration the question of the constitutionality of the act whereby New Hanover county seeks to hold a referendum July 2, indicated he might render a decision tomorrow. On the same day he is scheduled to hear arguments in Greene county at Snow Hill.

The 1935 legislature authorized referendums in 18 counties, most of them in the eastern part of the state.

Next week hearings seeking restraining orders will be held in Warren and Vance counties before Judge W. A. Devin. The hearings are set for June 27, two days before the date of the referendum.

Dry forces in Beaufort county have abandoned efforts to obtain a restraining order in that county where the referendum is set for June 29. Pasquotank dry leaders said they would not seek to intervene with an election set there July 6. Other elections are set for later in the summer.

TWO MEN ARRESTED
IN WINSTON MURDER

Winston Salem, June 21.—Lawrence Dingle and Jeremy Williams, negroes, formerly of Winston Salem, suspected of the murder of John Gant, a negro coal and ice dealer, late in April of this year, have been arrested in Detroit, Mich., and have signed confessions of the murder. Chief of Police W. F. Anderson stated yesterday.

Detective Sergeants R. N. Carroll and T. M. Mackie, in Detroit, in connection with the investigation, have wired that they would bring Dingle and Williams back to Winston Salem, leaving at noon. Gant, huckster of coal and ice was brutally beaten to death in his little cabin, a short distance off Fourteenth street under mysterious circumstances in April. Robbery was thought to be the motive, as it was generally understood among those who knew Gant: best that he kept a considerable amount of money on his person all the time. The coroner's jury found that the man came to his death at the hands of "person or persons unknown to the jury."

Former Gov. McLean Dead

Washington, June 21.—(AP)—Angus W. McLean, former Governor of North Carolina, died today at the Emergency Hospital. He was 65.

Death was attributed to a blood clot in his right lung. He had been ill for several weeks.

He was brought here on May 17 from Atlantic City in a coast guard ambulance plane. He was stricken April 19 while enroute from Washington where he maintained a law office, to Atlantic City.

Mrs. McLean came here from North Carolina to be with her husband.

He was governor of North Carolina from 1925 to 1929. After many years of law practice and banking at Lumberton, N. C., McLean came to Washington during the war as a director of the War Finance Corporation. Later in 1920-21 he was assistant secretary of the treasury.

LABOR PART
OF NEW BILL
DRAWS FIRE

Governor Ehringhaus Joins Other State Officials Seeking a Revision

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, June 21.—Governor Ehringhaus has added his voice to those of Chairman Capus M. Waynick of the state highway and public works commission and State Superintendent Clyde A. Erwin in protesting the Washington ruling as to the labor content in units of the $4,480,000,000 Roosevelt act recently passed by the Congress.

This five billion designed to hasten recovery will send North Carolina's big quota into highway and other construction. In the highway work the unit is $1,400 and that amount must pay the whole year's wages of one worker. In the school construction the unit is $1,100 and that also must carry one worker for the year. Mr. Waynick says the terms will work hardship upon state road construction. Mr. Erwin says it means the state cannot complete a schoolhouse on federal funds.

Governor Ehringhaus sent Harry Hopkins a strong message Wednesday protesting that the percentage of spending on materials is far too low. "Practically all possibility of expenditures for rural electrification, municipal activities, school buildings, and possibly highway building will be greatly affected, if not absolutely prevented. If insisted upon, improvement of a permanent, useful and lasting nature will be impossible and spendings of the great works activities of a character even less lasting than the hurried CWA employments."

The Governor urged Mr. Hopkins to relax his rule so that these expenditures should have as much permanency in their benefits as possible. He asked the Washington head of the program for an opportunity to present the state's cause. "We desire to assist in making this in actuality not only a work relief but also in truth and in fact a Works Progress enterprise."

The rules in Washington have caused a great deal of unhappiness in the state which had counted heavily on that five billion for lasting benefits in the state.

ELECTION ON LEAF CONTROL
ON SATURDAY

Pitt Farmers to be Given Opportunity Of Voting on AAA Control Program

Pitt county, the largest tobacco producing county in the world, will go to the polls tomorrow to express its approval or disapproval of the control program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Machinery for the election has been set up in every section of the county, and E. P. Arnold, director of the Pitt county farm experiment, said today he expected around 8,000 ballots to be cast.

Committee men will act in the capacity of poll holders. The polls will open at sunrise and close at sundown.

The election was called by the AAA sometime ago to determine the sentiment of growers in view of the unfavorable decision on the National Recovery act.

In spite of any action the Supreme court may take on the AAA, J. B. Hutson, chief of the tobacco division, said in an address in Georgia the first of the week the control program would be continued.

Mr. Arnold said today that contract signers, share-croppers and tenants are eligible to vote in the election tomorrow. Every contract signer, he said, is expected to see that his share-croppers and tenants are at the polls.

"I consider this one of the most important elections we have ever had," stated Mr. Arnold, "and it is the responsibility of all growers under contract to go to the polls and express their sentiment."

By reason of the splendid way growers have rallied to the government control movement in recent years, Mr. Arnold said he believed the vote here would be overwhelmingly favorable. Only a very few growers refused to sign the government contract when it was offered them, and the advance in prices resulting from the movement has been received with gratification on all sides.

Balloting will be conducted at the following places:

- Chicod—Spencer's Store at Black Jack.
- Winterville—Mayor's office.
- Ayden—Bradley's Radio Shop.
- Swift Creek—Hugh Stokes's Store.
- Greenville—Court House.
- Farmville—Askew's Garage Building.
- Fountain—Redick's Filling Station.
- Falkland—Post Office.
- Bethel—E. L. Mayo's office.
- Pactolus—J. P. Davenport's Store.
- Belvoir—Bell's Cross Roads.
- Carolina—Woodard's Store.
- Beaver Dam—Mack Smith's Store.

PARALYSIS ON UPTURN IN N. C.

Six Additional Cases Recorded by State Board of Health at Raleigh

Raleigh, June 21.—(AP)—Infantile paralysis continued its spread in Eastern North Carolina today, with the State Board of Health getting reports of six new cases scattered from Wake to Onslow county.

The additional sufferers from the disease swelled to 183 the number of stricken since January 1 and pushed to 124 the cases reported in June.

Wake, Edgecombe, Craven, Franklin, Onslow and Martin counties last listed one of the new cases today. Dr. J. C. Knox, state epidemiologist, said he anticipated a gradual increase in the prevalence of the malady throughout July and August.

Eight deaths have occurred from the dread malady and particularly all of the cases have been reported from the east, with Wake, Johnston and Harnett counties being the center.

North Carolina State College officials announced definite postponement of the annual 4-H club short course set for the campus in July as it was not considered wise to plan to bring 500 or 600 young people together with infantile paralysis showing prevalence as it is.

Plans are still going forward for the holding of the annual farm and home week at the college in August, but all young people under 15 years of age will be asked not to attend unless conditions have improved.

naming a senatorial committee to investigate their financing. The investigation's sponsor—Burt Wheeler of Montana—is pulling his punches deliberately.

Disclosures of fantastic financing mark only the first move in Wheeler's game. What he seeks is propaganda to bulwark his demand for government ownership. He wants to force the issue into the 1936 elections. But he is too old a hand at investigating—he got Harry Daugherty ten years ago to spill purple headlines when newspaper readers are perusing golf and baseball scores. He will do his stuff next fall.

Coordinator Eastman has already marked three roads for this senatorial slaughter. A good guess would include the "Pristo," the Missouri Pacific and the Denver, Rio Grande & Western. There will be others.

LAPOLLETTE: Some slick maneuvering in Senate cloakrooms revolves around choice of the late Bronson Cutting's successor on the Banking and Currency Committee.
Administration won't say so openly but they want the post to fall to "Young Bob" LaPollette of Wisconsin. He favors the extreme Eccles banking bill and this keystone of Roosevelt's future financial program may rock in the balance when the committee votes. LaPollette also sponsors the inheritance taxes secretly desired by the White House. But nobody dares to father the appointment of a LaPollette to a body so important to eastern conservatives.

"Joe" Robinson told GOP Leader
McNary that Cutting's place really ought to go to a Democrat. "But," said the Democrat graciously, "if you want the place, Mac, you can have it by appointing LaPollette." Snapped the Republican, "If you want him so badly, appoint him yourself!"

OLINCH: Secretary Morgenthau
may have killed two birds with one stone when he furnished dollars to stem the recent monetary crisis at Paris. Despite profuse French thanks, he acted as a financier rather than a philanthropist.
France needs stabilization of currency, and the United States would agree on certain terms—our terms.
But England is not ready just yet.
By keeping France on its financial feet this country preserves an ally and makes a friend for the day when the statesmen stretch their feet under a golden table.

Here enters the second problem.
The Roosevelt administration insists that our dollar has been stabilized in a practical way. Any world conference, in our view, must accept that as a promise. In other words, they must stabilize on our terms. Thus the heroic part which 50c dollars played in the Parisian panic helps to clinch that argument. For once we seem to be able to match financial wits with London and Paris.

BRAKES: Senator Norris' proposed constitutional amendment to require a two-thirds vote of the Supreme Court to set aside a law of Congress may be the pivot upon which public sentiment will be tested. A similar proposal was made by Senator Borah some years ago.
Advocates of the World Court kicked vigorously last winter because the two-thirds rule in the Senate killed the project. Objections are frequently raised against the two-thirds rule relating to treaty ratifications.

First comment among lawyers in Congress is that the Norris proposal may be useful in testing sentiment if it can command the two-thirds vote required in Congress to submit it to the states. Again the two-thirds rule rises to plague hair-trigger reformers!

SYNOPSIS: Laurie Moore, made a widow when her husband was lost trying to fly the Pacific, works for Mark Alberly, the London agent in a manufacturing concern. Alberly is much interested in Laurie. Laurie admires Alberly. to dance and going on the stage!
Yes, she knew she was always worried. She was worried now, in spite of the nice manager and his sensible wife. She always would be worried when Glad was away from her, ever since that awful agony of nearly losing her in Sydney, and the days of vigil by her bed in the hospital that followed. Glad was too lovely, too young, too innocent, too fearless.

Glad was too lovely, too young,
too fearless.

Laurie sighed, as she climbed into a coach of the train. But what could she do? She was a girl of today, she knew that girls must live their own lives, like men. Must work when they had no money. Must learn to look after themselves. If only Glad wasn't so terribly lovely!

Yet, there had been something a little different about Glad this time.
They had not seen each other for three months. The troupe had been touring the Northern cities. Was she keeping something back? Was that the reason why Laurie had felt once or twice that she was with a stranger?

Or was it only that Glad was growing up? It must be that, of course.
Glad would never keep anything from her. What a wonderful little beauty she was! And how she knew what to wear! She was as smart and perfect as any rich young debutante walking down Bond Street, or lunching at the Ritz.

It was frightfully clever of her to manage to look like that on her small salary, with all the little extras that members of touring companies have to pay out.

It was stupid to worry. They had both of them such a lot to be thankful for.

Laurie's luck had been amazing,
and what kindness had been shown to her these last two years!

THERE seemed not to be many people travelling.

Laurie found an empty compartment and put her suitcase on the rack.

Then she stood in the corridor by the window of the door that she had shut, and watched the people on the platform. She was always interested in what was going on anywhere.
She had, under her business like and respectable manner, a great, avid interest in life. A keen observer like Mark Alberly had soon found that out.

Just as the guard blew his whistle,
she saw a boy with tea baskets on a truck. She would like a tea basket.

She had had no lunch.

She called to the boy just as the train moved out.

He hurried along and called out
the price.

She was taking the money out of her purse, the boy running beside the train, when she leaned against the door to hand it to him and take hold of the basket. The door flew open.

Laurie had the sickening feeling of falling into space.

There were shouts from the platform. At the same moment a strong hand clutched the collar of her coat from behind and jerked her back in the nick of time.

She found herself flung on to a seat, and the same strong hand slammed the door.

"What ever made you do a fool thing like that?" asked a man's voice angrily. "You'd probably have been killed if I hadn't been here!"

The train gathered speed. The boy and the tea basket were left behind.
Laurie looked vacantly at her rescuer.

"I THOUGHT the door was shut,"
she said weakly.

"If you think a car door is shut
when it isn't, you oughtn't to travel alone," he retorted.

Her temper rose. How rude he was! Of course, he had probably saved her life, or, at any rate, a serious accident, but he needn't snap at her like that.

"Meaning that I need a keeper?"
she snapped back.

"Looks like it."

His back was to her, as he stood in the opposite corner. He had evidently brought a couple of suitcases into the compartment without her noticing it, while she stood in the corridor. Now he was taking them from the seat and leaving the carriage.

He said nothing as he passed her.
It was very plain that he didn't want to travel with her.

She was a little dazed after her narrow escape, but in a few minutes
she recovered, being a healthy girl with a well-balanced nervous system.

She realized that she hadn't even thanked her rescuer. She would have to look out for him later on.

But he came back with his two suitcases to her compartment, and put them on the rack above the further corner opposite to her. Then he went out and returned with two more, and a great bundle of papers.

It was cheap luggage, Laurie noticed, and very shabby, and covered with labels of steamship companies and hotels.

"Thought there was another empty carriage," he said. "But there are people in all of them."

Again she took up the challenge in his voice. It had a ring in it that she thought would be nice, if he were not so gruff and forbidding.

"And you liked the look of them even less than you do of me?" she asked.

"Anyway, I know you need looking after," he retorted, with a grim little chuckle.

Laurie was abashed. There was nothing personal about the man, nothing offensive; only that he was abrupt and detached to the point of rudeness.

"I didn't thank you," she said in a faint, and delightful voice, which had the throb of an emotional nature in its low, clear tones.

line with Section 7-A of the defunct law. The Trade Commission exacts no such requirement. You can see what this means to devotees of the open shop.

The fertilizer industry—which had been planning to submit a voluntary code for Presidential approval—has now changed its mind and will approach the Commission instead.
Other industries will follow the cue.

New York learns that a possible law to protect wages and hours is being actively discussed in inner Washington circles. It would forbid shipment of manufactured goods into states if the manufacturer does not comply with the labor standards of the state for which the shipment is destined. The Webb-Kenyon Act of prohibition days is a legal precedent. This could mean a lot if enforced—as the great consuming state of New York ranks near the top in progressive labor legislation.

SILENCE: New York was amused
by the outburst of gratitude for Secretary Morgenthau's assistance from Governor Jean Tannery of the Bank of France. Mr. Morgenthau has taken vast pains to shroud the operations of the Treasury Equalization Fund in utmost secrecy—and the French let the cat out of the bag by revealing that the Fund has been selling dollars at a great rate.
Actually the "support" we gave was far short of sensational. We merely swapped dollars for gold in such quantities as to enable the Bank to meet all demands for dollar exchange—and thus provided resources to "save" the gold standard. There was no sacrifice involved one way or the other.

Mr. Tannery's thanks are likely to embarrass the Treasury a bit.
The headlines implied ostentatious entanglements of just the sort to get Congress excited. It had to be France—of all countries—that was helped. It's a cinch bet that some of the solons will ask Mr. Morgenthau to explain. If he has to defend himself it will probably be on the ground that this was the only way to keep the dollar from knitting through the ceiling in terms of the franc. That would register with the inflation crowd all right—but it's doubtful whether Congress in general would be more impressed or annoyed.

Comment runs that Mr. Morgenthau should have told Tannery he would appreciate silence more than the most graceful tribute.

PAINFUL: The French didn't begin to pay the homage to John Bull they did to Uncle Sam. Yet the fact is that the British did more to save the French situation than we ever thought of doing—and at much greater cost to themselves.

The Bank of England's "request" to British financial sources to discontinue loans on gold—pretending similar French action—was scrupulously heeded even though it hurt.
It was a knockout wallop to speculation that was wrecking the franc.
Owing to the high collateral value of gold it used to be possible to buy a million dollars' worth of the metal for $50,000 cash—5 per cent—and plenty of profit seekers did. But now you have to put up the full million.
The gold futures market—rich pickings for London financiers—is dead. The British aren't altruists.
They paid their price because the alternative of forcing France off gold with grating exports of the metal would have been ever more painful.

County Registry.

2nd PARCEL: On the west side of Pitt Street, beginning at a stake in J. F. Davenport's southeast corner on Pitt Street, said stake being on the west side of Pitt Street 250 feet southerly from the southwest intersection of Pitt and Mill Streets thence in a southerly direction with the western boundary of Pitt Street 50 feet to a stake; thence in a westerly direction at right angles from Pitt Street about 190 feet to Mc-Clellan Street; thence in a northerly direction with the eastern boundary of McClellan Street 50 feet; thence in an easterly direction at right angles from McClellan Street about 100 feet to Pitt Street,

the beginning, it being the same property conveyed by A. L. Potter and wife, Nisey Potter, to W. B.
Wilson, Jr. by that deed dated December 10, 1913, duly registered in Book R-10, at page 211 of Pitt

Master Jimmie Lanier is spending some time with Master Philip Moore at Atlantic Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Moore are at home from Atlantic Beach for the day.

Miss Estelle Taylor has returned from Atlantic Beach where she has been the guest of Mrs. W. P. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Boykin will leave tomorrow for Myrtle Beach, S. C. to spend some time.

Miss Margaret Broadhurst of Norfolk, Va., is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. E. W. Broadhurst.

Miss Katherine Tyson left today for New York where she will spend some time with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb will leave tomorrow for Myrtle Beach, S. C.

J. C. Lanier spent today in Raleigh.

Bancroft Moseley has returned from New York and Virginia Beach.

Mrs. J. Knott Proctor and little son, Knott, Jr., have returned from Virginia Beach.

Miss Nina James has returned from a visit in Kinston.

Birthday Dinner.

Leon Meadows, Jr., was host last evening at his home on East Fifth street, at a very delightful dinner, celebrating his fifteenth birthday.

The central and auxiliary tables were attractively appointed, centered with an artistic arrangement of pink gladioli.

Covers were laid for fourteen.

"Ace of Clubs"

Miss Jean Gaskins was hostess at a very enjoyable meeting of the "Ace of Clubs" yesterday afternoon.

The home was attractively decorated with summer flowers.

After playing a number of games, Miss Ada Kelly Smith was awarded a pretty handkerchief for high score.

The hostess, assisted by Miss Hazel Brown, served a tempting ice course. Club guests were Miss Mary Thomas Smith, Miss Jamie Merritt, Miss Alice Burke and Miss Margaret Burke.

Returns From Chapel Hill.

J. H. Rose has returned from Chapel Hill where he has been attending an educational conference.

Kidd-Wall.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wall of Elkin, N. C., R. 1, announce the marriage of their daughter, Rachel Josephine, to Jesse Buxton Kidd, on Tuesday, June 18, 1935, Greensboro, N. C.

At home, after June twenty-fourth, 1108 West Fourth Street, Greenville, N. C.

Mrs. Ryan To Speak Sunday.

Mrs. William A. Ryan will speak at the morning service of the Christian Church Sunday, June 23rd, on "Character-forming Influences In Our Recent Youth Conference." Mrs. Ryan has been for several years a member of the faculty of the North Carolina Youth Conference which is held at Bonclark each year, being one of a number of such training schools conducted by the Disciples of Christ in the United States and several foreign countries. As an institution concerned with the training of church leadership for the future, the work of the Conference is of utmost importance to the church. It is hoped that the members of the local congregation will avail themselves of this opportunity to receive at first hand information concerning the aims, program and work of the Conference. The Sunday morning service is the first of the united services for this summer and members should bear in mind that it begins at 9:45.

Miss Edwards Improving.

Friends of Miss Mildred Edwards will be glad to know that she is improving after undergoing an operation for appendicitis at Pitt Community Hospital.

Second College Entertainment.

On next Monday night the second of the series of summer school entertainments offered by the college will be given, a concert by two singers, a contralto and a tenor, Ethel Wright and Tom Fuson.

These have appeared on the summer program several years in the past. They have been called the "formost exponents of the art of duet singing" in America. They live in New York where they teach the art of singing naturally, and fill singing engagements, both as guest artists and in their own joint recitals. They have made several coast to coast tours and they take pride in the fact that last year their entire tour to the western coast and back was made up entirely of return engagements.

Services At Red Oak.

Rev. Oakie Bass of the Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, will preach at the eleven o'clock service Sunday morning at Red Oak. The public is invited and urged to attend the service.

A patent was issued for fish hooks using mirrors instead of bait—to arouse the fighting instincts of the fishes, while "in the case of a female fish the attractiveness of a mirror is too well known to need discussion."

Social Calendar

FRIDAY

7:00 p. m.—The Kiwanis Club will meet in the Woman's Club building.

Andrews-Madrin.

Pulaski, Va., June 19.—A wedding beautiful in its simplicity, was solemnized yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in the Madison Avenue Baptist Church in New York city, when Miss Selma Snyder Madrin of Pulaski, became the bride of Josiah Harding Andrews, Jr., also of Pulaski.

Before an improvised altar of lilies, ferns, palms and lighted cathedral candles, the marriage vows were taken, the ring ceremony being used by Dr. George Moor, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist Church.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Maude Campbell, soloist, sang "Because" by DeHartelot, and "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond. A program of organ music was rendered by the church organist, Everett Hall, which included "Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven, and Schubert's "Serenade." During the ceremony "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell, and Liebestraum, by Liszt, were heard.

To the strains of the Wedding March, from Lohengrin, the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Wilbur Wilkins Madrin of New York, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was an ensemble of white corduroy cloth, cape effect, trimmed in gold metal. She wore a small white turban of the matching cloth. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Wilbur Wilkins Madrin, was matron of honor. She was attired in an afternoon gown of iris chiffon, trimmed in purple velvet, with beige accessories and a leghorn picture hat. Mrs. Madrin carried a bouquet of roses, sweet peas, and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Andrews had as his best man his brother, Hugh Andrews, of Indianapolis, and the ushers were Dr. Garrett Dalton and Russell Hopkins of New York.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Clifford Edward Madrin, Sr., of Greenville, N. C., was gown in Eleanor blue chiffon with white accessories and her flowers were a shoulder corsage of pink roses, fern and lilies of the valley.

Miss Edith Andrews, aunt of the bridegroom, wore an afternoon gown of beige lace with brown accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses.

A buffet dinner was given for the bride party, the out-of-town relatives, and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Madrin, at 121 Madison avenue.

After a motor trip through Canada to Detroit and cities in Indiana Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will be at home in the Bunts apartments.

Among those attending the wedding were: Mrs. Clifford Edward Madrin, Sr. and son, C. E. Madrin, Jr., of Greenville, N. C.; Miss Edith Andrews, of Kinston, N. C.; Hugh Andrews, of Indianapolis, Ind.; and Mrs. R. W. Morrell, of Passaic, N. J., and friends in New York.

Mrs. Andrews is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Edward Madrin, Sr., of Greenville, N. C. She was educated at the Harrisonburg State Teachers College, receiving a B. S. degree in home economics. For the past six years, she has held the position of home economist for the Appalachian Electric Power Company of the Pulaski district. Mrs. Andrews will continue her association with this company.

Mr. Andrews, the son of J. H. Andrews, Sr., of Indianapolis, and the late Mrs. Josephine Hodapp Andrews, received his education at Purdue University in Lafayette, Indiana, having received a B. S. degree in electrical engineering, class of 1926. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. He has been employed by the Appalachian Electric Power Company for the past 12 years and now holds a position with the operating department of the company.

Figures of the California Motor division disclose the average car owner in the state drives 7,250 miles a year.

Keaton Resigns As Boy Scout Executive Here

Dr. G. R. Combs, chairman of the Greenville District, Boy Scouts, announced this morning that Leon Keaton, Jr., Assistant Scout Executive of the East Carolina Council, Boy Scouts of America, who has been spending the larger portion of his time with Scouting activities in the Greenville district, has resigned. Mr. Keaton goes to Lakeland, Fla., to become Scout Executive of the Flaming Arrow Council. His resignation becomes effective June 30th.

During the interim of the selection of Mr. Keaton's successor John J. Sigwald, Scout Executive of the East Carolina Council will increase his active service and supervision of Scouting here. It was decided at the meeting of the Greenville District Committee Friday. This will assure a continuation of the program as at present. Plans have been set up which call for a rally, tennis tournament and merit badge instruction classes.

Mr. Keaton has served Greenville, under the direction and supervision of Executive Sigwald, since his arrival here last November. During his stay Scouting has had considerable growth throughout the county as well as an enlargement in the program for Scouts and training for Scout Leaders. Training courses have been held, advancement programs set up and put under way, and boy activities put on, until, to-day the Greenville District ranks as one of the leading districts in the East Carolina Council in its strength and organization. It offers a full and challenging program to boys of the adolescent age.

Mr. Keaton is receiving the congratulations of his many friends on his promotion. The community will be sorry to lose Mr. Keaton and feel he has been a distinct asset to Greenville, not only in the Scout Program, but in the larger life of the community as well. We rejoice in his promotion and wish for his every success in his new field of activity, Dr. Combs said.

Wins Singles Tennis Tournament.

At the weekly meeting of the Boy Scouts of Troop 30 it was announced that William Burks won the troop championship in tennis. The scores in the semi-finals were: Burks over Combs 6-3; Evans over Wilkerson 7-5. In the finals Burks won over Evans 6-4; 6-3. Burks played with his usual skill and he is the best player in the troop by far. Beginning this week tennis matches will be played between the four patrols.

The weekly meeting was held on Friday morning at 9 o'clock. It consisted of announcements, patrol meeting, and the presentation of merit badge sashes to the members of the Eagle Patrol, winners of the advancement contest. The sashes were presented by the troop committee, K. T. Futrell, Dr. M. B. Massey, and S. L. Bridgers.

The following Boy Scouts will represent the troop at the national jamboree in Washington, D. C., on August 21: R. O. Everett, Charles Futrell, Vernon Tyson, Charles Horne, John Collins, Frank Brown, Allen Taylor, Norman Wilkerson, Earl Hellen. Each scout will have to be first class rank by the first of August.

The standing in the attendance contest: Fox 121-991; Hawk 78-831; Eagle 69-819; Raven 95-794. The scouts of the troop will take a cruise down the Pamlico river on Wednesday morning. City Inspector Lynch will take the boys as a reward for their work in the clean-up week. Scout Leaders Skinner, Hearn, and Harrington will accompany the boys.

Clifton Evans, Troop Scribe.

Summer Schedule Is Effective At Christian Church

The following schedule of summer services for the Eighth Street Christian Church becomes effective this Sunday, June 23rd.

Morning Schedule: A Unified Service, combining the Bible School and Morning Worship periods, begins at 9:45 and closes at 11:00. The Worship Period will be from 9:45 to 10:30 and will include the sermon and service of Holy Communion. All Bible School pupils from Junior Department through Adult groups will assemble in the church auditorium for this period, going from there to their respective classes at 10:30.

Evening Schedule: A Union Service with the other congregations of Greenville. This service will be held on the Court House lawn, unless notices are issued to the contrary. In case of inclement weather these services will be held in Memorial Baptist Church. Pending final arrangements, the first service will be held in Memorial Baptist Church on Sunday, June 23rd, at eight o'clock.

Belvoir News

Friends of Mrs. T. E. Parker will regret to learn that she has been quite ill at her home for several days.

Mr. C. D. Smith of Arthur, was at Belvoir over the week-end.

Rev. M. E. Tyson and visiting pastor were guests of Mrs. C. L. Parker this week.

Mr. Harold Willis of Greenville, was a visitor in Belvoir last week.

Mr. Bill Davis, Misses Arlene Parker and Rheba Hyatt attended the Gallopade in Rocky Mount Thursday.

Mr. Elmo Dupree and Mr. Charlie Bell spent Sunday at Public Landing.

Mr. Jim Thigpen and friend of Washington, D. C., were guests of Mr. Thigpen's parents during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Taft of Greenville, were in Belvoir Sunday for a few hours.

Miss Rheta Hyatt who has been a guest at the home of Mrs. C. L. Parker, returned to her home near Asheville Thursday.

NEW BAKERY OPENS ON DICKINSON AVENUE

Announcement was made today of the opening of Mrs. Morton's Bakery, 714 Dickinson avenue, opposite Forbes & Morton's warehouse.

The concern features Mrs. Morton's "best yet" breads and cakes, also pastries. Special party orders are given immediate attention. Mrs. Morton, the operator of the bakery came to Greenville from Raleigh. She has seen many years of experience in this field of service. The public is given a cordial invitation to visit the new enterprise.

LOST FAT Because She Heeded DOCTOR'S ADVICE

And Didn't Listen To Gossiping Neighbors!

Mrs. H. H. Long of Clarinda, Iowa writes: "Kruschen was recommended to me by my doctor. Weight when started was 226. Weight now after 3 jars is 208. Doctor says I'm doing fine."

When Kruschen Salts is prescribed by reputable physicians to safely take off fat and greatly improve health—why listen to gossipers who don't want you to be slender? Envious!

Have a mind of your own—get a jar of Kruschen today (lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle). Take a half teaspoonful in a cup of hot water every morning—tastes fine with juice of half lemon added. If you don't lose 12 lbs. and feel years younger—money back. For sale by Pitt Drug Co., or any drug store. (Adv.)

The balloon vender said, "I make little money, but I make a lot of children happy. It's easier to make kids happy than grown-ups, and making people happy is the finest fun I know."

To the minutest detail we fulfill our obligations irrespective of the expense of the service.

LOCALS DROP SECOND TILT TO MARTINS

Rocky Mount, June 21.—Goodwyn's homer with two on in the 10th gave Williamston a 9-6 victory over Greenville here yesterday in an exhibition game between Coastal Plain League clubs. Williamston also won a scheduled game played in the morning at Williamston by the score of 11 to 7. Goodwyn was being given the "once-over" by Manager Bill Spivey of the Martins.

A large crowd viewed the game, played as a feature of yesterday's program of Rocky Mount's first annual Goldpade.

Goodwyn's homer was the third round-tripper for the Martins. Corbitt doubled and Gaylord homered to send the club away to a two-run start. In the seventh B. Slagle singled, Gaylord doubled and House homered to put Williamston in front at 6-5.

Greenville tied the score in the eighth on an error, an infield out, and Sullivan's single.

Ambler's double cleared crowded bases to put the Greensies in a 3-all tie in the third. They scored in the fourth on Johnson's double and Farley's single, and added another in the fifth when Huiskamp homered.

Gaylord hit a homer, a double, and a single to lead the Martins. Corbitt, with two doubles, and Pitcher B. Slagle, with a double and a single, came next. Ambler hit a double and two singles to lead the Greensies, and Sullivan made a pair of singles.

Gillespie, Williamston catcher, was forced out of the game in the fourth when hit on the neck by a pitched ball.

Score: R. H. E. Greenville 10 003 110 0-6 10 1 Williamston 201 000 300 3-9 11 3

Williams and Farmer; B. Slagle, Gardner and Gillespie, House.

WILL PLAY SUNDAY

Williamston and Greenville teams of the Coastal Plain League will meet at Greenville on Sunday in a play-off of a league game postponed from Wednesday.

Legion Junior Ball Club Will Play Winterville

The American Legion Junior baseball team recently organized here will play a team from Winterville at Third Street School athletic field next Monday afternoon at four o'clock. The local club was said to be in fine shape after several practice games, and is expected to provide the Winterville aggregation with plenty of competition.

BEARS DEFEAT BUGS

New Bern, June 21.—New Bern batted around in a big fifth inning for five runs and defeated Goldsboro 6-3 here yesterday in a game protested by the locals in the fourth inning.

The New Bern protest was based on alleged ineptness of Wilson, Goldsboro pitcher. The locals contended that he had been performing for Richmond's Piedmont League club under the name Hogan. Although the New Bern victory made a hearing on the protest unnecessary, it is expected that his eligibility will be given the official once-over by the league.

Successive singles by Varner, Van Horn and H. Ferebee started New Bern's spurge in the fifth. Billy Ferebee sacrificed, and then Kennel and Cleary came through with doubles. Norwood continued the assault by smacking the inning's third double. Sue Eason walked, and Varner grounded out to end the inning.

Wilson went the route on the hill for the Goldbugs, as did Lefty Kennel of the locals.

Score: R. H. E. Goldsboro 000 200 010-3 7 3 New Bern 000 051 006-6 8 1

Wilson and Roy; Kennel and H. Ferebee.

Ayden, June 20.—Ayden defeated Tarboro, 11-8, in a slugfest here yesterday and advanced with New Bern to top place in league standings.

Doc Smith's locals scored in six of their eight batting turns, while Tarboro bunched its scoring in two innings. The visitors counted 6 runs in the sixth to pull within one run at 8-8, but the Aydenites came back with two in the seventh to sew up the affair.

Faust Johnson, with three hits in four efforts, was Ayden's leader. Wall with two for two, ranked next. Cheek and Collins also made two hits apiece for Ayden. McArthur, Averette, and McAbay made two each to lead Tarboro.

Score: R. H. E. Tarboro 000 006 000-8 11 1 Ayden 141 210 208-11 13 2

Holboro and McCormick; Upchurch and Tatum.

EAGLES TOP SNOW HILL

Snow Hill, June 21.—Kinston's Eagles scored two in the ninth—on Keller's home run—to defeat Snow Hill 7-5 here yesterday.

Home runs played a big part in the victory for Bunn Hearn's team. Tommy Irwin clouted a round-tripper with none on in the third, and Otto Patrick hit a homer with one on in the sixth. Kinston scored two in the first on hits by O. Patrick, Greenberg, Irwin and Keller.

Neuman homered for Snow Hill with none on in the second, and hit a double in the eighth to score Perry, who had singled, with a run which tied the count at 5-all.

The locals got a run in the fifth on singles by Crump and Neuman, with a wild pitch in between. Doubles by Williams and Griffin produced a run in the first and Perry's double and Surratt's triple counted a run in the second.

New York Cotton

New York, June 21.—(AP)—Cotton futures were steady unchanged to two higher with commission house liquidation being taken by the trade.

October contracts after selling off to 11.26 advanced to 11.32 with the general list ruling about 2 to 4 net higher at the end of the first half hour. October after selling up to 11.33 or 5 points net higher was holding around 11.26 at midday with the general list about unchanged to three higher. The market eased near the close on increased liquidation, commission house buying and New Orleans selling, futures closing barely steady 5 to 8 lower.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 21.—(AP)—The stock market shook off its distribution of wealth tax nervousness today and once more resumed its pilgrimage to the high price territory.

Commission house commentators stressed the suggestion the belief persists and appears to be growing stronger that recovery forces are in motion. In some quarters, it was thought that signs of industrial progress would tend to obscure congressional activity except those of the utmost importance.

The majority of the commodities improved but grains and cotton were narrow.

Secondary bond followed stocks upward. Leading foreign exchange were mixed. The late stock tone was strong.

Transfers were 1,600,000 shares.

under Carter Glass. He held various other government posts before he entered the governor's office. He was president of the board of trustees of Flora McDonald College and a trustee of the Union Theological Seminary of Richmond, Va., and the University of North Carolina. The latter institution conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Laws in 1926 during his gubernatorial term. McLean held several high offices in the Democratic party. He was chairman of the President's committee both times when Woodrow Wilson was elected. He was a member of the Democratic National Committee from North Carolina from 1916 to 1924.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Married in April, 1904 to Miss Agnes Marguerite French of Lumberton, McLean had three children, Miss Margaret McLean, who has been attending Salem College at Winston-Salem, Angus Wilson, Jr., who only recently completed a business course, and Hector, student at the Lumberton schools.

State Sells Bonds at Good Price

Raleigh, June 21.—(AP)—The State of North Carolina this afternoon sold $3,304,000 worth of bonds at the best price ever received for such securities offered by the state.

Replies to Mitchell's Charges

Washington, June 21.—(AP)—Replying to charges by Ewing Y. Mitchell Secretary Roper today told the senate commerce committee that the proposed assistant secretary of commerce had nursed obstructive tactics which created a "log jam" in the department.

While the commerce department head disputed claims of his former aid, political Washington continued to wonder whether President Roosevelt wants his wealth tax program this session.

No answer came from the chief executive for he was at the Harvard-Yale regatta at New Haven.

Senators advanced considerable argument in spite of debate over whether Rush D. Holt, 30-year-old Democrat should be seated as senator from West Virginia. A decision appeared imminent.

A $224,000,000 deficiency appropriations measure was passed by the house and sent to the senate, the Republican filibuster against it having died out.

The senate agricultural committee began study of AAA amendment to determine their constitutionality in the light of the supreme court's NRA decision.

In his first appearance before a congressional committee this session, Speaker Byrnes asked the House rules committee to rule near the top of the calendar a bill establishing a tobacco grading system.

FARMERS PROTEST SUIT AGAINST PROCESSING TAX

crops. There is a lot of agitation against the farmers using your tobacco twine and it looks like it will develop into a general boycott of your goods. Please let us have your viewpoint on this proposition at once so that we may inform the farmers as to your position.

J. C. Galloway, President, Pitt County Mutual Exchange. They replied immediately by wire as follows:

J. C. Galloway, President, Pitt County Mutual Exchange. Thanks for your telegram this date and confirming our phone conversation as today wish to state our position as follows: Due to much publicity the erroneous impression has gone out that we are testing the validity of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. For your information our suit filed against Internal Revenue Collector was purely a precautionary measure for the mill and all its customers. Oakdale Mills has nothing against the AAA but merely along with other mills is protecting its interests along with the interests of all our customers. Will appreciate your good efforts to acquaint our farmer friends with our position.

Oakdale Cotton Mills.

After the conference here the farm agency representatives said: Yesterday two representatives of these mills called upon representatives of this farmers' group and gave further explanations of their position in the matter. They stated that they are in no way hostile to the AAA and do not regard their suit as in any way a test case. It is their understanding that such a case has already been brought by the Hoosac Mills in Massachusetts and is now before the Circuit Court of Appeals of that state. They regard their suit as being in the nature of a claim in case the Supreme Court should rule against the constitutionality of the processing tax.
