Warfare Breaks Out Along The Jehol-Chahar Frontier

PATROL OF 80 BATTLES WITH 700 CHINESE

Sanguinary Encounter Reported in Progress Between Manchukuoans and Chinese Soldiers; Bloody Conflict Takes Place North of Tushikou; Japan Ready to Send Troops Into Area

Tokyo, June 26.—(AP)—A Manchukuoan frontier patrol of 80 men battled a Chinese force of 700 soldiers along the sanguinary Jehol-Chahar frontier today, advices to the Manchukuoan war office reported.

Rengo (Japanese) News Agency dispatches from Hsinking said the Manchukuoan patrol was that which first encountered 500 Chinese troops Monday, 200 more Chinese having arrived from Tushikou while a large Manchukuoan detachment was under orders to hasten to the battleground.

The advices to the war office also coming from Hsinking, capital of the Japanese, advised the state of Manchukuo, said the bloody conflict was taking place north of Tushikou on the hill defending the north China frontier.

Japanese regulars in garrison at Jehol city were in readiness but the general headquarters which controls the army high command in Manchukuo was depending on Manchukuoans to chastise alleged invaders.

Major General Kenji Dohara, chief of the political negotiators for the Japanese military, was instructed from Hsinking to present fresh demands to the Chinese "for establishment of peace and order" in Chahar to points "south of the great wall."

Which section of the great wall was meant was not specified. One section crosses Chahar just south of Kachan while the other skirts the southern border of the province.

If the latter was meant then the Japanese were demanding the entire province be cleared by the Chinese.

POLICE COURT WITHOUT WORK

Regular Session Today Postponed Until Saturday Because Case Shortage

The regular session of police court scheduled for this morning was postponed until Saturday morning because the lack of cases awaiting consideration. It was made known by Chief of Police George Clark.

Although several cases received consideration Monday morning, following the usual week-end outburst of crime, the docket today contained only one or two minor matters, hence the postponement.

The police head said his men had confined most of their attention to general patrol duty the last three days, giving special attention to infractions of city traffic regulations. While a number of persons were taken into custody for such violations recently, the number of arrests dropped sharply the last two weeks.

Scores of autolets have been ordered to appear before police court for parking wrong, but even those are conspicuous for their paucity at this time. Police merely tag cars for first offenses of this kind but for second violations are asked to appear before court to explain why they did not abide by the initial warning.

CARLOADS OF ROAD FUNDS LIQUOR REACH REGULATIONS WILSON, N. C. ARE LIBERAL

Four Cars Have Been On the Sidetracks Since Monday for Liquor Stores

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, June 26.—Four freight car loads of liquor are already on a siding in Wilson and have been thence since Monday, ready to be unloaded and put on sale in the new county liquor stores authorized by a ten-to-one vote of the people in the county last Saturday, a resident of Wilson said here today. The first of the new liquor stores is expected to be opened tomorrow or Friday, probably tomorrow, since the new county liquor commission is losing no time in getting started.

"The ruling of Judge Frizzelle, in which he held the Pasquotank law unconstitutional, as well as the New Hanover county act, is not worrying the county officials or the people in Wilson county and they are going ahead and open up the liquor stores and sell liquor until the Supreme Court passes on the constitutionality of the law," said L. G. Whitley, who lives in Wilson. "The county officials are taking the position that the voice of the people, in voting more than ten-to-one for the liquor stores, has more authority than the opinion of merely one Judge. And even if the Supreme Court rules with the drys and holds the new law and the election invalid, they are going to have a hard time trying to find anyone to enforce their edicts. The prevailing opinion in Wilson county is that it is going to continue to open and operate liquor stores regardless of court injunctions or even of Supreme Court opinions."

The only question at stake in Wilson or any of the other counties, according to Whitley, is whether the people prefer county-operated liquor stores, conducted in an orderly, businesslike manner or whether they prefer a continuation of back-alley speakeasies operated by bootleggers and plug-uglies, and the peddling of liquor to back lot bootleggers at excessive prices. The people of Wilson county have already voted by a majority of more than ten to one for the county stores.

The first survey of its kind in Germany showed 15,500 public libraries available to 45,000,000 persons.

OTHER CASES OF PARALYSIS OCCUR IN N. C.

Eighteen New Cases Reported To State Health Department; Affect Western Part

Raleigh, June 26.—(AP)—Eighteen new cases of infantile paralysis including reports from Buncombe and Cabarrus counties were listed by the State Board of Health today along with 9 additional typhoid fever sufferers.

The list of those afflicted with polio myelitis was raised to 235 this year and 176 for this month by additions which by counties were Robinson 3, Vance 3, Greenville 2, Johnson 2, and one each in Buncombe, Cabarrus, Craven, Durham, Northampton, Onslow, Person and Scotland.

The incident of paralysis in Asheville, Cabarrus and Scotland counties was in the western half of the state the center center in the east-central sector around Wake.

The typhoid cases by counties: Wake 3, Wayne 2, and one each in Cleveland, Cumberland, Mecklenburg, and Orange. The new cases made 69 in June and 132 this year.

"We should get busy in localities where typhoid is occurring and find the source," said Dr. Carl Reynolds, state health officer. "Vaccination against the malady should be stressed in communities where it is popping up."

Steps to prevent the spread of "polio" continued as a vaccine prevention study was actually launched in Greensboro today by Dr. A. C. Gilliam, of the United States Public Health Service.

A number of doctors in private practice are also inoculating children with the preventive vaccine.

MORE TYPHOID FEVER REPORTED IN WAYNE

Goldsboro, June 26.—Two new cases of typhoid fever were reported to the Wayne health department in Goldsboro yesterday from Pikeville Route 2, the same section in which two other cases had previously been reported. The four are colored and one of the new cases is in the same family as one of the first. These are the only cases reported in the county this summer.

Dr. W. H. Potts, county sanitary inspector, and Miss Marie Farley, public health nurse, went to the section Monday to inspect conditions and make necessary sanitary corrections. Dr. G. F. Reeves, Wayne health officer, is arranging a typhoid vaccination clinic for that section.

SCHOOL FORCES WIN IN WILLIAMSTON

Winston Salem, June 26.—(AP)—After defeats in two previous elections since North Carolina's eight-month school law went into effect two years ago, school forces today won an election for a 25-cent supplementary school tax.

The registration for the election was 6,545. The vote for the supplement was 4,651. A majority of the total registration was necessary to carry the election. The supplement won in each of the eight precincts by a wide margin.

City officials estimated a total of $190,000 from the tax which will be used to lengthen the school term and to increase teachers' salaries.

DECIDE TO POSTPONE SCHOOL TAX ELECTION

New Bern, June 25.—Because it is felt that the tax rate should not be raised for this purpose at this particular time, there will be no special election this year as to the extending of the city school board and their special investigation committee are unanimous in favor of waiting to give local school children all possible advantages but believe that this is the wrong time to ask taxpayers to put up more money for schools. Accordingly the proposed election will be deferred for at least a year.

TARBORO MILL CLOSES 700 ARE OUT OF WORK

BOOTLEGGERS SENTENCED TO COUNTY ROADS

Automobile Driver Charged With Driving Drunk Sentenced to Six Months

James Jones, colored, rounded up in a police drive against bootleggers over the week-end was found guilty of a charge of possession of whiskey for the purpose of sale in yesterday's session of county court and sentenced to the roads for 90 days.

Ellis Branch, also colored, who fell into the law enforcement net during the same drive, was adjudged not guilty and released.

Although most of the whiskey had been destroyed at each place, police said they caught both Jones and Branch in the act of supplying their customers with contraband beverage. The testimony of the witnesses against Jones, however, seemed to be more convincing than in the case of Branch.

Lennie Everett was sentenced to six months on the roads on a charge of driving drunk. It was the longest road sentence imposed by the court in such a violation in some time and indicates Judge James is bearing down more severely than customary in an effort to halt violations in this immediate section.

Ananias Chapman, colored, appearing on a similar charge, was fined $50 and cost and his license ordered revoked for six months.

Serrie Coward, who was nabbed driving drunk in the city limits was fined $25 and cost.

Two or three other charges of driving drunk were scheduled to receive airing yesterday but were postponed until a later date.

Robert Cade was sentenced to 90 days on the roads because he failed to abide by a former court order to leave the city and stay out of trouble. Cade, it was said, left town for a short time but returned recently and resumed his old practices.

After a fine of $200 had been placed upon him for alleged possession of whiskey for sale, Pay Edwards, Fountain township store operator, appealed to Superior court. An eight months road sentence was continued over a period of three years also.

James Hyman, colored, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was sentenced to the county home for 60 days.

Prayer for judgment was continued in the case against Marcellus Simmons, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

SEARCH BEING MADE FOR GOLDSBORO GIRL

Goldsboro, June 26.—(AP)—A wide search was underway last night for Oe avia Mae Grice, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grice, of Goldsboro, who disappeared from her home Monday afternoon.

City and county officers said they had no clue to the whereabouts of the girl after checking the homes of relatives in nearby sections whom she might have visited. None of her playmates reported they had seen her.

AGENCY TO AID YOUTH SET UP BY ROOSEVELT

$50,000,000 Be Spent By Government In Helping Young People of America

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today established a "national youth administration" to meet what he called a "great national need" by offering unemployed youths their chance in school, their term as apprentices and their opportunity for jobs.

The new agency will be under the work relief program. The President set aside $50,000,000 to be used in providing work apprenticeships in private industry, in offering high school and college training for those between 16 and 25 and in giving work relief to youth. The new undertaking was put under the direction of Miss Josephine Roche, assistant secretary of the treasury, and Audrey Williams, assistant to Harry L. Hopkins, work progress administrator.

Mr. Roosevelt in announcing the plan to aid an estimated 500,000 young men and girls said:

"I have determined that we shall do something for the nation's unemployed youth because we can ill afford to lose the skill and energy of these young men and women."

The president stressed the point in enlisting state and city aid that every attention be given to finding jobs in private industry and promised a minimum allowance during the duration of apprenticeship. An average payment of $15 a month for youths on work relief was fixed; $6 a month would be given to those going to high school and $15 a month to youths in college.

LOCAL PATROL IS IN RALEIGH

Ten Men From Divisional Office Here Go to Capital for Training Period

Ten highway patrolmen of this division went to Raleigh today to assist in training a number of new men to go on duty July 1. It was made known from the division highway patrol office here this morning. The local contingent was headed by Lieutenant Lester Jones and Corporal Jackson, in charge of operations in this division. There are 17 patrolmen in this division, but 7 were left on duty to take care of highway patrol until the remainder of the men return.

Scores of youngsters are scheduled to begin training at the Fair Grounds in Raleigh this week in preparation for active service on the highways of the state. The enlarged patrol of 121 men was made possible by the last General Assembly.

In addition to increasing the number of men on patrol duty, the legislature also made provisions for creation of a patrol radio system. Twenty-seven new automobiles for patrol duty were purchased yesterday and they will be installed with radio systems soon.

The increased facilities is the result of a new highway safety program launched by the state in an effort to cut down the annual loss of life which has assumed staggering proportions.

CLOSINGS: Treasury officials aren't advertising it but the nation will escape by inches a banking crisis second only to that which flooded us in March of 1933. Senate delay on the omnibus banking bill caused all the trouble.

The temporary guarantee of bank deposits expires on June 30. Under the permanent guarantee plan which becomes effective on July 1, unless modified, banks are subject to an unlimited assessment for losses. They are fighting this provision and they have failed to buy stock in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, as required by permanent law.

But unless they are stockholders in FDIC before July 1, many must close their doors. Under present law the Controller must name receivers for all national banks which have failed to purchase stock. The

COURT HALTS LIQUOR VOTE IN FRANKLIN

Judge Williams Issues Restraining Order Preventing Balloting On Question

Raleigh, June 26.—(AP)—Two eastern counties—Edgecombe and Wilson—today went ahead with plans to open liquor stores within a few days while a third, Franklin, was under court order to restrain it from holding a liquor election on Saturday.

Judge Clawson Williams issued the restraining order against the Franklin referendum last night in an opinion holding the so-called "Pasquotank liquor act" passed by the 1934 legislature to authorize elections in 17 counties was unconstitutional.

Only a short time before Judge J. Paul Frizzelle at Whiteville ruled the New Hanover act which authorizes an election in New Hanover county unconstitutional, then dissolved a temporary restraining order for a referendum there because he said most of the election expenses there had already been incurred and "the people affected should have a right to express themselves."

Judge Williams' ruling on the Pasquotank act held the act was a tax measure and was not passed on three separate days in the legislature as the constitution requires and that it violated another section of the constitution as it gave the people of a few counties a special privilege not applicable to the rest of the state.

Judge Williams also held that the act was "contrary to the constitution and the 14th amendment of the United States constitution as it denied to the people of the state equal rights in the interpretation of all laws."

Ford Agency Here Given Contract For Patrol Cars

The contract for 28 blue and silver speedy Ford roadsters to be used by the State Highway patrol was awarded yesterday to the John Flanagan Buggy Company of Greenville by the Division of Purchase and Contract, Raleigh.

Several other automobile representatives participated in the bidding. The cars purchased by the State yesterday are equipped with bullet-proof windshields and satchels, and capable of a high rate of speed.

Each roadster, it was said, cost approximately $580, including $62.50 for glass designed to withstand a steel-jacketed bullet traveling as fast as 1,400 feet per second. The roadsters will run over 80 miles an hour.

Commissioners Select Jury List to Serve For the Next Two Years in Pitt

Jurors to serve in Pitt county courts during the next two years were selected by the Board of Commissioners in special session at the court house yesterday afternoon.

The task of selecting jurors for both petit and grand juries consumed more time than the commissioners anticipated and completion of work was left until the next regular sitting of the board.

The commissioners confined their selection to men, although in some sections of the country women have been chosen for jury duty.

Under the law, the commissioners are required to revise the jury list each two years. Although the number of names available for jury duty in this county grows smaller each year, it was indicated the commissioners still had plenty to draw from on the tax list.

Prior to each term of Superior court here the commissioners are charged with the responsibility of selecting jurors to serve during the period and the names are taken from the box which the board began refilling yesterday.

BOTH HOUSES READY TO PUSH NEW MEASURE

Program Encounters Delay in Senate; Little Hope of Getting Passage by Saturday as Proposed; Session of Committee to Talk Levies Called Off

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he wanted the wealth tax program enacted in this session but not necessarily as a part of the emergency nuisance tax bill due to pass by Saturday.

Even as he spoke at a press conference, the House ways and means committee members served notice on Senate leaders today they intended to insist on originating the new tax bill to carry out the program for a wider distribution of wealth.

They said that a resolution adopted at a secret meeting authorized Chairman Doughton to advise Chairman Harrison of the Senate finance committee, that the ways and means committee was "ready" to press action on the new bill.

Meanwhile the program encountered delay in the Senate which caused Democratic leaders to concede little hope of getting it enacted by Saturday night.

A session of the Senate finance committee to act on some of the levies was called off because the treasury and legislative drafting experts had not completed work on the tentative rate schedules.

Mr. Roosevelt expressed surprise that the new levies on high incomes and inheritances could be rushed through by Saturday night. He said he had never considered that speedy a program.

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington (AP)—Senate freshmen—the group of Democrats elected last November—have surprised both the old-time Democratic leaders and Senator Huey P. Long.

For five and one-half months they sat quietly together on the back row and listened to the proceedings of the Senate almost in complete silence. Generally they voted with the administration leaders but they have not hesitated to vote against them on certain issues.

Little attention was paid to them except on close votes. Sitting together and attending every session of the Senate almost as a group, they discussed among themselves developments on administration measures. They seldom participated in debate.

When they took the stand against Senator Long in his long filibuster against midwest NRA continuance, they amazed both Democratic and Republican leaders, and for the first time in the session, received recognition from the Louisiana kingfish.

It was not until the smiling Senator Lewis Baxter Schwellenbach of Washington, a liberal, served notice on Long that the freshmen were tired of his running the Senate, that the Louisiana paid any particular attention to them. He paused in his speech, looked them over, and found smiling but determined faces confronting him. They told him they were going to wear him out, and they did.

To Schwellenbach's left sat former Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey; to his right was Joseph P. Guffey of Pennsylvania, and in the row were Sherman Minton of Indiana, George L. Radcliffe of Maryland, Harry S. Truman of Missouri, Francis R. Burke of Nebraska, and James E. Murray of Montana.

Long, who has looked into the political careers of every old-time Democratic and Republican senator for weaknesses that he might attack in time of travail, tried to shake off the youngsters, but they stood fast. Every effort he made every unanimous consent request he submitted, they arose in determined unison and chorused "nay" or "we object."

It was a new exhibition in the Senate. Democratic leaders showed enthusiasm.

Schwellenbach, a former college mate of Emil Hurja, assistant to Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic National Committee, and his group kept their heads and smiled at Long's antics as well as at the worried expressions of the Democratic leaders.

One thing the leaders and Long are agreed upon is that the freshmen represent a potentially powerful force they have been overlooking. Long cannot ignore the members any longer, cannot expect much support from that quarter in the future. The leaders are hopeful that they can keep the group close in line.

Hoover Plans Broad Course In Crime Ways

By E. B. HARRISON

Washington (AP)—The "G-Men's university"—training school for the nation's most famous investigators—will be opened for the first time this summer to represent active officers of metropolitan and state police forces.

This scientific college of crime detection of the department of justice will offer a full course, by order of Attorney General Cummings, further to coordinate law enforcement agencies to provide opportunity for swapping ideas gained in hard experience between the unsung local "cop" and the government's ace detectives.

For the first time officers other than special agents in the federal bureau of investigation will receive the elaborate training under Director J. Edgar Hoover that has built up the scientific, college-trained federal force.

12 Weeks Of Training

Here in the massive stone justice building, selected officers will learn all that science and experience can offer men who compete with dangerous gangsters and criminals. If the course follows that used for novice agents, the officers will receive 12 weeks of training in the classrooms and laboratories.

They will learn to take fingerprints from beer bottles, letters, window ledges and auto steering wheels, using vari-colored powders to bring these out. The "signatures of criminals" will be photographed with special cameras, or "lifted" with adhesive tape.

be staged "Oscar," the dummy, will be found prostrate on the floor. Nearby may be a gun, no. 6, blood stain, scrap of paper or similar clue. After the students have investigated the "crime" and prepared their solutions, the instructors will hold a post mortem on the evidence.

Getting The Evidence

"We teach our men to get all the evidence that will stand in court," Hoover says. The bureau's record of 84 per cent convictions in difficult cases is tied testifies to the skillful training.

Learning to manipulate all the high powered weapons needed to cope with hoodlums, the students will use a large pistol gallery in the basement of the justice building and the rifle range of the Quantico marine post a few miles away.

Not all of the training is spectacular. There must be hours of digging study on evidence in embezzlements, frauds, perjury, false claims and other complex fields of law enforcement.

EXPEDITION MAY SEEK NEW GUINEA 'DEVIL PIG'

Melbourne, Australia (AP)—An expedition to trace the "devil pig" in the "mystery land" of central New Guinea, is being planned under the leadership of G. M. Doynt.

The expedition hopes to obtain conclusive evidence of the existence of the pig, a graminivorous animal with cloven feet, greatly feared by natives.

White men thus far have seen only its tracks, and never the animal.

Clemency Frees Worst Offenders Say Federal Men

Washington (AP)—In more than two-score crimes, including 31 kidnaps, that have attracted national attention in the last three years, the criminals sought almost invariably had prison records showing numerous suspended sentences, paroles or jailbreaks, department of justice agents say.

In almost every case, when names of the principals were turned by college trained federal investigators through fingerprints, ransom money or confessions, they were found among the millions of criminal records on file here.

Recently an ordinary appearing young woman in a house dress handed the clerk of a popular price store in Salt Lake City, Utah, a banknote. The serial number on the bill matched one on a list G-men had prepared on the Weyerhaeuser kidnapping ransom.

Waley's 'Sentence' 45 Years

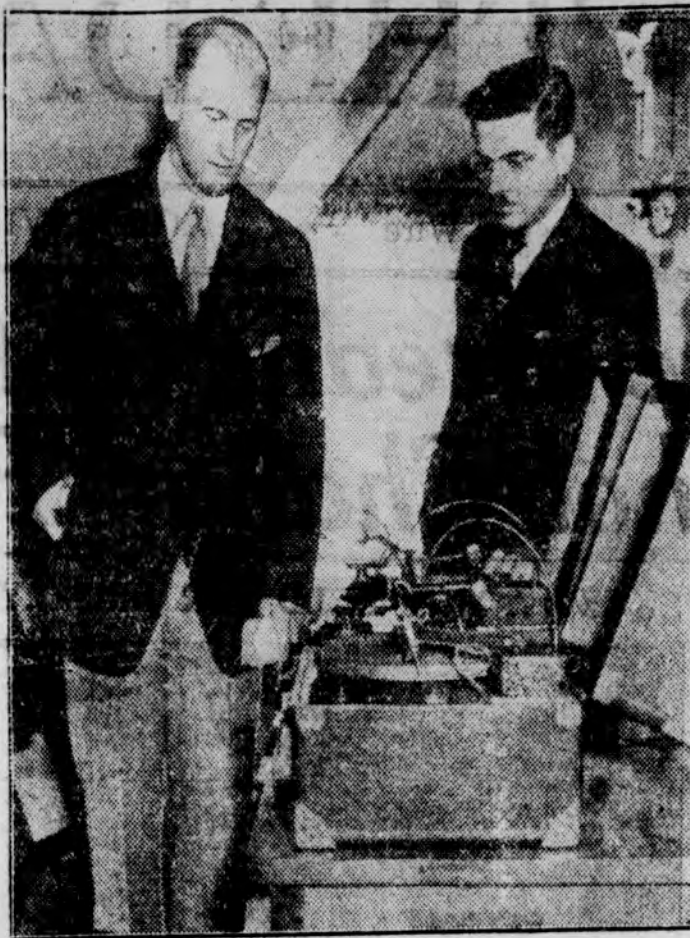

Within a few hours the nation knew the names of the women who allegedly had "sold" a curly haired 9-year-old boy back to the safety of his home for $200,000—and that both men, Harmon Eliza Waley, 24, and William Mahan, 32, were former convicts who had been paroled.

Waley in the six years before the kidnapping had received sentences that could have kept him in jail 45 years, says J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal division of investigation of the department of justice.

Mahan, wanted before the kidnapping for a bank robbery in the same state, Washington, had been sent to prison twice for 24 years and freed both times.

Karpis' Record

Then he points to the criminal records of Thomas H. Robinson, the lone wolf criminal type, and Alvin Karpis, leader of the notorious Barker-Karpis mob. Both have been at the top of the "G-men's" list for months.

Robinson, who collected $50,000 last October for release of Mrs. Berry V. Stoll of Louisville, Ky., had twice escaped serious charges. Posing as a riding prohibition officer, he entered two Nashville, Tenn., homes in 1929 and stole jewelry worth $14,000. Records show his punishment was a 30-day period of observation in an insane institution.

Karpis, wanted as a principal in the $200,000 "snatch" of Banker Edward G. Bremer of St. Paul, Minn., in January last year, was sentenced to 10 years in Kansas for burglary in 1926. Three years later he escaped but was recaptured and then apparently released, for in 1931 he went to the Oklahoma prison for four years only to win a parole.

Several cotton blossoms, the first displayed here this season, were brought to the office of the Daily Reflector yesterday and placed on display.

The blossoms were presented by Clarence Corbett of Greenville Route One, and Elbert Cates, who resides on the R. E. Harris farm on the Staunton road, two miles west of Greenville.

Both growers said they had a good crop in spite of the dry weather which has held sway over the county for several weeks, and were looking forward to excellent yield.

Corbett brought a stalk of cotton to town. It was 21 inches tall and contained several blossoms. Cates only brought one blossom but said he had plenty more.

College Travel Party Covering Much Territory

A telegram from Quebec to President Meadows from the manager of the travel-observation party of college students. Reported everything going fine. Cards and letters from members of the party give enthusiastic reports of the wonders of the trip.

A marked copy of the Maine "Evening Journal" sent to Dr. Meadows gives an account of their visit and impression of points in Maine. The beauty of the scenery and the hospitality of the Maine people were the two things mentioned especially.

The party is due to return the latter part of this week. The second tour will leave Greenville on July 18, the first day of the second term of the summer school, and the third tour on August 16.

THINK DROWNING WAS WITH SUICIDAL INTENT

Snow Hill, June 26.—Nathan Mooring, 29, was drowned Sunday afternoon in Contentee Creek, about 3 miles from Snow Hill. Some 10 or 12 young men and boys were in swimming with Mooring, who was last seen standing on a sand bar near a fallen tree. He was not missed until the party was ready to leave. His clothes were still on the bank of the creek. The party began immediately dragging the creek for his body and it was found early on Monday morning.

It is believed that young Mooring drowned himself. Domestic relations caused him to threaten drowning himself at several times. He was unable to swim. If he made any outcry, none of the party heard him.

The young man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Mooring, and leaves a wife and two children, two brothers and three sisters.

SAYS DRUNKENNESS ARRESTS DECREASING

Baltimore, June 26.—(AP)—A steady decrease since 1928 in arrests here for drunkenness was shown today in police figures announced by Commissioner Charles D. Galt.

The lowest figure of all was reached last year, the first full year after repeal. It was 3,711 against 5,778 in 1928.

Total arrests dropped from 110,219 in 1928 to 96,743 last year, arrests for disturbing the peace from 11,227 to 8,218 and for disorderly conduct from 16,752 to 15,359.

Arrests for disturbing the peace, however, showed a slight increase from 7,798 to 8,213 from 1933 to 1934. Arrests for disorderly conduct dropped off approximately 500 while those for drunkenness decreased approximately 550.

REALTY SLUMP SMASHED HERE

Transfer of Real Estate More Active the Last Week Than in Months

The summer slump which has held sway on the local real estate market during the last several weeks was temporarily smashed this week with the exchange of 21 different pieces of property in various sections of the county, records in the office of the register of deeds indicated today.

The batch of transfers was the largest filed here in several weeks. Previously from six to a dozen transfers had been reported for the same period, with farm land and city property about evenly divided.

The largest of the transactions reported today was that of Prudential Life Insurance Company to A. R. Barrett, 200 acres of land for a consideration of $7,000.

The second largest of the deals was that of Prudential Life Insurance Company to W. A. Darden, 225 acres, for $3,000.

The remainder of the transfers follow:

L. R. Meadows and wife to Mack Wilson 36 1-2A $2,250.

Standard Fertilizer Co. to Jim Dunn, 12A, $500.

Wayland Harrington to M. W. Smith, 9-53A, $100.

H. E. Smith, et als to M. W. Smith 25A, $100.

H. E. Smith, et als to M. W. Smith 60 1-2A, $100.

Trapped in their cottage hideout at Pompton Lakes, N. J., these eight men were held as suspects in the $427,000 robbery of an armored truck in Brooklyn, N. Y., last September. Left to right, seated: Frank Fox, John Hughes, Arthur Gaynor; standing, left to right: George Maibwald, James Bell, Joseph McCarthy, Louis Balner, and Edward Gaffney. ACCURATE BRAKE TESTING DEVICE

A brake testing device which is described by engineers as ideal for its accuracy and simplicity is employed by the Brooklyn Edison Co., of Brooklyn, N. Y. This public utilities corporation employs a large fleet of cars which are kept in top notch condition. The device consists of a fifth wheel upon which is mounted a speedometer that is checked for exactness by the New York Police Department as well as the Stewart Warner Co., makers of the instrument. When the brakes are applied a gun is fired, discharging a slug against the ground, leaving a distinct mark. The speedometer needle is stopped at the speed at which the car was running when the brakes were applied. It is simple, then, to measure from the mark made by the gun to the point directly below the gun, where the car was brought to a stop. Thus the exact speed of the car is known as well as the exact number of feet and inches in which the stop was made. The fifth wheel is counterweighted so that it follows the ground accurately. A recent test on the Hudson car shown above recorded stops in phenomenally short distances, averaging about half the distance considered satisfactory by police departments.

ACCUSED OF BREAKING U. S. NARCOTIC LAWS

New Bern, June 26.—Charged with violation of the Harrison narcotic laws, Peggie Wells, of Kingston, was held in federal court on charges of narcotic law violation. The case against the former was not pressed; the latter was placed under a year's probation, under custody of Clerk of Court George Green.

In 1929 both Peggie Wells and her sister, Irene Wells, of Kingston, were held in federal court on charges of narcotic law violation. The case against the former was not pressed; the latter was placed under a year's probation, under custody of Clerk of Court George Green.

The arrest was made by J. B. Kelly and John D. Dixon, narcotic investigators, who charged the woman with the possession and sale of heroin.

Increase Welfare Allowance
Wilson, June 26.—The county commissioners Monday voted to increase their appropriation for the Wilson Welfare Association in the 1936 budget by $50 a month. The increase will take effect January 1, 1936.

On July 4th or week-end and vacation trips, you'll want to drive far and get there in a hurry. And you don't want that nagging worry of "I wonder if this speed and heat will hurt anything in my motor."

You can't always be sure when you use plain mineral oils, for they have little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing processes have even less. Moreover, as motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength.

Film strength is the load-carrying ability of an oil, the quality that keeps bearings and cylinders from wearing out. Lack of film strength results in costly damage.

You can drive without a worry when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil! It has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil. Heat does not lessen this advantage.

Supervised road tests—over good and bad roads, at low and high speeds, in all kinds of weather—give practical proof that Germ Processed Oil protects motors better. In every test, gravimetric measurement of motor bearings showed that Germ Processed Oil prevented wear far better than plain mineral oils. Tested in a fleet of cars equipped with the new alloy-metal bearings used in many 1935 cars, a high-quality plain mineral oil permitted 45% more wear on connecting rod bearings than did Germ Processed Oil.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the first alloyed oil—alloyed, much as metals are, by adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil. It is the only oil made by the Germ Process. It is the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away!

ed in time. If not, they must look their doors and suffer a tremendous loss of prestige.

A joint resolution extending the time for purchase of stock may solve the problem. So would separate passage of Title I of the banking bill, which relates to bank deposits and reduces the banks' liability. But separate enactment of Title I might weaken the pressure for Title II, which Mr. Roosevelt wants. So far the President has not pleaded the joint resolution on his "must" list. He seems content to let the banks suffer. It may help to pass the bill.

REPORT: President Roosevelt has personally assumed charge of heading up the A. T. & T. investigation.
He has informed friends that he intends upon a "grass roots" inquiry.

The affair threatened to become a political football—or punching
bag. The Communications Commission has been torn between the wishes of "liberals" and "conservatives" on that body. One group wants a thorough-going probe, while another dreads a smashing, Peconia investigation. For a while the nervous lives ruled the roost. Nothing else explains the strange and sudden rise in A. T. & T. stock a few days ago.

There should be action within a few days—perhaps before this is published. The choice of counsel—and the President is picking him—will reveal how hard and high the inquiry will hit. Mr. Roosevelt wants a full report on his desk by July 1, 1935. It may be juicy campaign material. Then again, it may not be. That's why he wants it so early.

CUTS: The Federal Housing Administration has been a conspicuous New Deal flop. It has fostered comparatively little building. Its interest rates, ranging from 6 to 7 per cent and more, hardly inspire home owners to transfer their trusts from banks and insurance corporations.

Acting Administrator MacDonald
will announce a reduction of interest rates to 5 per cent before long.
Now that the work relief fund is to be allocated to glorified boon-doggling the administration will bank on government-financed home building to get us out of the red.

The real meaning of the interest rate cuts is deeper. Mr. Roosevelt has been urging and suggesting that interest rates be slashed all along the line. The Treasury's refinancing is a notable example. But John Q. Citizen hasn't got Mr. Morgan-thau's drag. He is still paying 6 per cent. The FHA move will be the first of several designed to force down the hire price of other people's money.

WEALTH: Mr. Roosevelt's proposals for survival taxes imposed on undiscovered Congressional leaders and the uninitiated layman as a political gesture. Supposedly shrewd observers attribute it to a desire to head off left-leaning share-the-wealth apostles like Huey Long.

These people are fooling themselves. Mr. Roosevelt has never more serious. He has long had a yen to "confiscate" what he regards as excessive wealth and utilize it for social purposes. He once told a friend—the idea of social taxation has been germinating in his mind for years—that no individual should earn more than $10,000 a year, no corporation more than $10,000,000—after distribution of dividends.

Nobody expects the Congress to get excited about the program at this session. Now that FDR has assumed responsibility it may give him higher inheritance taxes. But the tax-till-it-hurts slogan should make a hit with Mr. and Mrs. in November of 1936.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie Moore, supposedly the widow of Rex Moore, the man who was believed killed while trying to fly the Pacific works for Mark Albery. Albery is interested in her. Now Rex Moore returns, calls on Laurie, and declares he is astonished to find he has a widow when he never had a wife. Laurie collapses.

Chapter Seven EXPLANATION

"YOU are Rex Moore?" Laurie whispered. "You are alive?"

She collapsed, and buried her face in her arms on the table. The shame that this particular man of all men should be Rex Moore was too much for her.

He stood in silence, gazing at her bent russet head. In the nape of her neck was a little hollow and round it grew downy ringlets of red gold. His eyes lingered on them.

Laurie raised her head. She was not a coward, whatever she was.
She would show him that.

"I thought you were dead," she said. "I never thought you would come back."

"That's obvious." His retort was accompanied by another of those mocking smiles. "Just as you never thought the railway carriage door was open the other day! You don't seem to be a sound thinker. By the way, what is your name?"

you and sent you to England?"
asked Moore.

"Yes."

"And they made no inquiries about you?"

"No; they took my word. I should never have thought of it but for them."

"But how did you manage it?
How could you play the part of the widow of a man you had never set eyes on?"

"I knew Belle Mason very well.
She was always talking about you.
I remembered everything she had told me. She came from Warrabillo, too. We went to school together. I knew that you were engaged to her and would have married her, if she hadn't suddenly died of typhoid."

"I see. Poor Belle! Poor kid! Yes, we were going to get married."

His voice was remote; then it hardened.

"So you took up the role of my widow to sponge on the charity of Albery's firm? You did it deliberately?"

"I did—after the first."

"It turned out fine for you."

"It did. But I've worked hard. And it saved my sister's life."

AND when you'd made good, you didn't think of telling the truth?"

The shame was too much for Laurie.

"Moore."

"Ah, then you had a good start!"

"Moore without an E," she corrected. She was up in arms.

"Would it be too much to ask you to tell me what the game was?"

"It wasn't a game." She hurried over her words, her cheeks crimson,
her blue eyes dark with defiance.

"And I didn't start it; it started itself. I was down and out in Sydney, where I'd been living with my little sister after my father died. My father left us penniless. We came to Sydney from the country, where he had been trying to farm. But he—couldn't get on."

"I tried all sorts of jobs, but I couldn't keep them. It came to when we hadn't enough to eat, and had to move from our lodgings and got into a house, where the woman accused me of stealing and called in the police, and my sister was very ill, and I was half crazy."

"THE police were kind to me;
they knew the woman had a bad reputation. And at the hospital where my sister was they were kind to me, too. And there happened to be a gentleman there, visiting, who heard that I came from Warrabillo County, and for some reason he got it into his head that I was the widow of Rex Moore."

"They had heard that he had secretly married a girl from that district before he started off on his flight and was killed. They were anxious to find her and do something for her. There had been a mystery about the marriage. And I said I was Rex Moore's widow. I said I was crazy, but it saved me and my sister from all sorts of things."

The man, looking at her intently, did not show that he knew she was not telling all the truth. She was not. There were things she would not tell him.

"This man, I suppose, was Mr.
Albery's friend, who looked after to wreck him while talking cooperation. So now he's setting the stage for a knock-down and drag-out scrap to determine who really is boss—the U. S. government or the money power. From this angle the unlikelyhood of Congressional action at this session is unimportant.

The main target at which the President is aiming is the powerful backstage combine between Tammany Hall and its wealthy banking and utility connections. This combine has functioned smoothly and efficiently behind the scenes for years—to the huge benefit of insiders and the hard luck of New York City (and to some extent national) taxpayers. Nowhere in the country are so many of the super-wealthy at whom FDR is shooting gathered under one tent as in the secret politico-financial alliance in New York. It's bad form to stick up for Tammany publicly in Wall Street—but a number of the boys who count their money in millions know who has to be in power locally if they are to get gravy of the richness they crave. As plainly as if he had said it in so many words, the President has told them: "So you won't play it and you want a fight? O. K., here it is!"

While paying lip fealty to Mr.
Roosevelt as leader of the Democratic party, Tammany men in Congress have bit, gouged, misrepresented and hit in the clinches. They have an extensive repertoire of fouls and they've used them all to smash his program, while their financial associates have rendered strong-though mostly silent—assistance.

Informed sources figure the President has everything to gain and little to lose by forcing a showdown.
If he makes concessions he's licked anyway. Conversely his opponents have plenty to lose if the fortunes of war run against them.

INQUIRY: The New York Sun
has lately intensified its continuous anti-New Deal barrage. That's significant in connection with the picture outlined above.

Sources in a position to know call the Sun the organ of those who wish to keep Tammany in power—because the profits are higher that way. They add that the Sun—while nominally a Republican paper—
—day always be counted upon to pinch-hit for Tammany on any crucial issue. When there's nothing crucial on the carpet it puts on a convincing show of objective neutrality in city affairs. They believe it's a fair assumption that interested financial and political circles reciprocate these subtle services.

An example of the pinch-hitting referred to is the Sun's recent snip-ing at the Grand Jury which has been trying to work up a real investigation of New York City rack-etering. There's no doubt that such an investigation would yield sensational fruit if it were fearlessly and intelligently pressed. But Tammany has succeeded in blocking it out unless Governor Lehman—under Washington inspiration—acts with unexpected vigor. It's suggested in astute quarters that a searching inquiry into the Sun's two-way tunnels between New York's financial and political powers would lead to some very intriguing revelations. An inquiry of that sort may be in the cards later.

when these Democrats are doing all their work for them?

The group of 24—utility inspired and banker supported—has a subtle sabotage technique. They never appear openly as a bloc. They back FDR on unimportant issues to give the impression of party loyalty—but when something vital comes up they hamstring with skill. Sample: Bennett Clark's amendment to the social security bill exempting companies with private pension systems.
It may well be—as alleged—that this addition makes the whole bill unconstitutional. If so, that was the idea. The bloc's origin traces back to the pre-Chicago stop-Roosevelt movement in 1932—headed chiefly by Albert Ritchie and Newton Baker. The objective is unchanged.
These Senators—and their supporters behind the scenes—propose to prevent Roosevelt's re-nomination in 1936. Failing that, they propose to beat him for re-election.

Curiously, Carter Glass is not one of the 24. He wasn't needed—and he wanted to concentrate on the money and banking angle. Naturally the bloc is backing him warmly
in his fight to squelch government domination of the banking system.

CLASSES: Railroad borrowing
from the RFC was down to $10,000-000 in the first five months of the year. This is the lowest figure over a comparable period since the RFC was set up in 1932.

This sounds like grand progress for the rails—until you inspect the reasons closely. One is Jesse Jones' recently adopted policy of extending loans as they come due instead of arranging new ones.

EFFORT TO KILL SNAKE
RESULTS IN CAR WRECK

New Bern, June 26—Losing control of his Chrysler sedan on the central highway at Wildwood between Newport and Morehead City Sunday, in an effort to run over a snake that was crossing the road, Capt. J. J. Day, of Oriental, went down an eight-foot embankment, the car rolling about 85 feet into the woods. The captain and his wife escaped serious injury, receiving only minor bruises, but their 10-year-old daughter, Muriel, sustained a severe hip cut.

The automobile turned over at least five times in its accident and was completely wrecked. Miss Day was given treatment at the Morehead City hospital then was brought to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert G. Tolson here to recuperate.
She is reported to be recovering nicely.

NEW PITCHER HELPS LOCALS WHIP BEARS

Hurling a steady brand of ball in all stages of the game, Guy Williams, new acquisition to the pitching staff of the local club of the Coastal Plain League, enabled Greenville to nose out a 6-4 victory over New Bern at the local ball park yesterday afternoon.

Pitching invincibly in pinches, the Furman University athlete breezed along like a house afire with exception of the first frame when the Bears mixed four hits with a walk and error and counted their only runs of the game.

After that epochal inning, Williams was master of every situation, causing six of his opponents to whiff the ozone in a vain attempt to connect with his fast curves.

With Ayden trimming the Martins in a staggering batting rally, Greenville was still in second place today, pushing hard toward usurping the place now held by the Aydenites.

With the top rung still dancing before their vision the local club went to Tarboro today to help push the Edgemore county metropolis further into the cellar.

New Bern's first-inning runs came on a walk to E. Ferebee, a triple by Norwood, and singles by Eason, Varner, and H. Ferebee, plus the Greenies' only error of the day.

The Greenies tallied twice in the opening inning. Bostic walked and scored on a double by Ambler, who moved up on an infield out and scored on Ty Wagner's fly to deep center.

The locals got one in the second on a pair of walks, a sacrifice by Southworth—he joined the Greenies today and is a son of Billy Southworth, former major league star who manages Asheville's Piedmont club—and a fly by Williams.

Greenville forged ahead in the fourth with a two-run session. The only hits were singles by Johnson and Farley, but a passed ball and a couple of errors helped things along. The last run was tallied on Parker's single, Johnson's sacrifice, and Farley's single.

Eason and Van Horn, each with two hits, led New Bern. Ambler and Farley, also with two hits apiece, paced Greenville.

AYDEN BEATS MARTINS
Williamston, June 26—Ayden out-slugged Williamston here yesterday to win, 15-6, in a game featured by 25 base knocks for a total of 45 bases. Turbeville kept the nine hits he allowed fairly well scattered and earned the decision over Morris and Gardner, both of whom were hit freely.

Neither team made an error. Ayden made a homer and three triples, while locals had three homers and two doubles.

Johnson, visiting third-baseman, led both teams with a homer and three singles; Turbeville and Collins got three apiece, while Morris and Atkins collected two.

For the Martins, Leary connected for a homer and a double, and House hit a homer and a single. Gardner also hit a homer. Turbeville walked nine, hit one, and fanned eight.

SHORTS PASSE? NOT FOR HIKERS!

Stylists have decreed it's no longer the correct thing to do for women to wear shorts in golfing, and the city of Yonkers, N. Y., makes a practice of arresting girls for walking the streets in such abbreviated attire. But with all of that, the hikers cling to them. And so a free skirt checking office has been established at the ferry slip on the edge of Yonkers so girls can leave their skirts behind upon quitting the town for hikes in the country. Joan Christy and May Chadwick are shown leaving theirs with the check man. (Associated Press Photo)

WINS ON FOUR HITS
Snow Hill, June 26—Snow Hill could muster only four hits yesterday against pitching of Guan and Wood of Tarboro, but the locals came off on the big end of a 3-2 decision.

Guan, lightweight southpaw, was making his debut for Tarboro. He pitched well until the seventh when the locals scored two runs to break a 1-all tie which had lasted since the fourth. Pitcher Mike Briggs homered with one away in the seventh and then Guan issued three walks. The Tarboro finger tightened to fan Griffin but he followed by walking Crump to force in the winning run. Wood pitched the eighth for Tarboro.

Tarboro scored in the first—on a double by Chumbris and a single by Knotts—and added another in the eighth on a walk, an infield out and McArthur's double.

Snow Hill counted in the fourth when an infield out sent in a run after Perry's double, an error and a walk had filled the bases. McArthur of the visitors, hit a double and single to be the only player on either club to get more than one hit.

EAGLES WIN, 6 TO 4
Kinston, June 26—The Eagles defeated Goldsboro, 6-4, today. Hitting honors were won by Bill Herring, Lenoir County boy pitching for the visitors, and John Humphries, Carolina freshman, yielded 11 safeties, each. Four of the Goldbugs' hits were scratches, however.

Kins on scored one run in the first inning, on Greenburg's single, Keller's walk, and Morgan's single. Goldsboro scored three in the third, when Herring singled, Biddle doubled, Lambeth singled to send in two runs, and Webb tripled.

Kinston got one in the same frame when Joe Greenberg homered.

The locals took a one-run lead in the fifth. O. Patrick doubled, Irwin walked, Keller singled, and Morgan singled.

The bugs evened it in the sixth when Herring scored on Biddle's single.

Kinston scored two in the eighth when Morgan singled, Stonebraker sacrificed, Lambeth errored, Hayworth's fly to short center—a hard chance—Hayworth went to third on a wild pitch which resulted in a lost ball, and Humphries doubled. Score: R H E

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 79,200 Feet of Kidney Tubes

Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestines, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes or filters which would measure 79,200 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are working all the time and are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass thru the bladder 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter. If you pass less than this, your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes may be clogged with poisonous waste. This is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Kidneys should be watched closely and need cleaning out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to wash out your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

TRAINING FOR PATROLMEN BEGINS SOON

Applicants for Jobs Ordered to Be in Raleigh Monday Ready for Work

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, June 26.—A total of 154 young men who have been notified they have been selected for the State Highway Patrol Training school, are expected to report here Monday morning, July 1, for the opening of the school, which will be held at the State Fair grounds, Assistant Commissioner of Revenue M. C. S. Noble, Jr., announced here today. There is a possibility that a few of 154 men selected for the four weeks of intensive training may not decide to attend the school, but indications are that most of them will be on hand Monday morning.

"We believe we have selected the finest group of young men to be found in the entire state for this highway patrol training school and are confident that from this school we are going to get new patrolmen who will in every way measure up to the standards set by the present patrol," Noble said. "These new men who have been notified to attend the training school have been carefully and thoroughly investigated from every standpoint. Our only regret is that we could not have increased the number to 200 or even more, since there were many more excellent young men who measured up to the requirements almost as well as the 154 we selected."

The new patrol trainees will be housed in the main State Fair building, which will be used both as a barracks and dining hall. The 154 cots, mattresses, blankets and trunks needed have been borrowed from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill while the kitchen equipment will be borrowed from the State Highway and Public Works Commission.

The only equipment issued to the new trainees the first week will be of shirts and trousers and picks and shovels and ditch-digging and road-building will provide the principal physical exercises to harden the men and get them into condition between class periods, during which they will be instructed in the highway motor vehicle and drivers' license laws. Later on they will be given instruction in riding motorcycles, first aid and other matters. The 64 men who make the best record in the training school will get permanent jobs as patrolmen.

Republicans Favor Western City For National Convention

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief Of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)
Political patchwork of 1935: The national conventions now are just a year away. Republican chances favor some mid-western city. The democrats are talking of Chicago and San Francisco, with some suggesting Philadelphia as an encouragement to the revitalized Pennsylvania democracy.

A few republican leaders want to reverse the usual order, and let the democrats hold their convention first. They long for a look at the democratic platform before writing one for G. O. P.

Democratic strategy for 1936 still is what it was for 1932: the play will be for an electoral college combination of west and south, unless there is a shift in the wind.

The republicans will bid for the east and mid-west, and will hope to break the solid south also as Hoover did in 1928. They would like to see Senator Long make a real campaign, and split the southern democratic vote.

Many See Garner
Some democratic right-wingers are considering whether to openly oppose President Roosevelt for re-nomination. They would not expect to win, for almost any President is insured of control of his party convention through patronage alone. They merely would take that means of registering their protest.

The democratic organization of Gov. Paul McNutt of Indiana is throwing out many hints that he would like to be Mr. Roosevelt's running-mate next year. He has opposition in his own state, however. Most party leaders take Vice President Garner's renomination as a foregone conclusion.

Everyone agrees one of the administration's big political problems a 1936 will be to get congress to adjourn early in the summer. The further its session runs into the campaign, the more effective a pending board the republicans will be for their side of the argument.

Justices Discussed
The NRA decision has stimulated talk of nominating a Supreme court Justice—either Harlan F. Stone or Owen J. Roberts—for President on the Republican ticket. The objection is that both are easterners, and the bulk of Republicans seem to think it imperative to go west.

Many party men doubt whether Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes would consent to step down from the Supreme bench a second time to run for President.

Among the Republican possibilities, Publisher Frank Knox of Chicago still appears to have the backing of the best organized campaign committee.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan is being quoted by friends as saying he wouldn't accept the nomination unless there was a good chance of election. He has no desire to be nominated for a "sacrificial bull."

Foolish Rumors

Washington is hearing many ridiculous political stories these days. Here are two of the most impossible sent in from the country in all seriousness, as friendly tips to one capital political writer:

That Mr. Roosevelt has decided not to run for re-election, but will designate Chairman Jesse Jones of the RFC as his choice for the Democratic nomination.

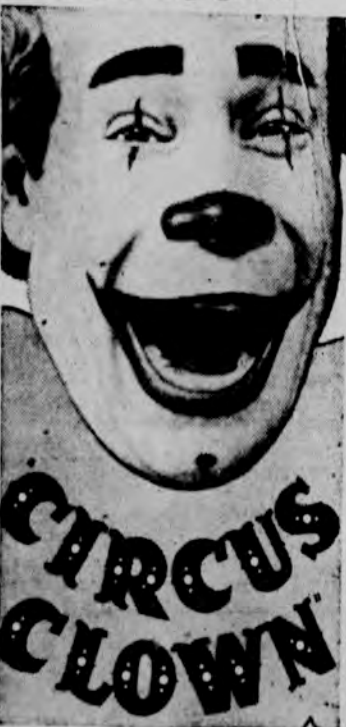

That, as the one person who best knows the President's mind, the nominee for vice-president on the ticket with Mr. Roosevelt next year will be Mrs. Roosevelt.

Needless to say, not much research was required to prove that somebody was being misled.
