Senate And House Leaders Wrangle Over Two Issues

UPPER BRANCH PLANS DRASTIC ACTION AT ONCE

Senate Leaders Threaten to Kill Utility Bill if House Does Not Approve "Death Sentence" Abolishing Holding Companies; Threat Follows Roosevelt Charge of Powerful Lobby

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—Senate leaders warned today they would move to kill the administration utility bill if the house does not approve the "death sentence" abolishing holding companies.

This threat was made after President Roosevelt in a demand for mandatory abolition charged the most powerful lobby ever organized was employing deliberate falsifications in its fight against this provision.

FRIDAY SETS HEAT RECORD

With Temperature of 99 Greenville Recorded Hottest Day of Year Yesterday

The heat wave which has swung over this section of the state with unusual summertime persistency, broke all records for the season in Greenville yesterday when the mercury soared to 99 degrees.

This was the official report which B. T. Clark, local weather observer, filed in his records this morning. It was one degree higher than Tuesday of last week when the temperature was given as 98.

Although it felt as hot on the streets today as yesterday, the official reading at 2 o'clock this afternoon showed a temperature of 95, four points below yesterday.

A cooling breeze which swept the countryside today was held largely responsible for the improvement in the situation.

With crops suffering considerably from lack of moisture, a heavy shower visited Greenville and other sections of the county early last night. The rainfall in Greenville proper was the heaviest in two months. A heavy shower several days ago broke the dry spell but was not sufficient to bring desired succor to crops.

Chilled township, which also has been suffering from lack of rain, reported a refreshing shower. Information reaching the city said the downpour was the heaviest in months.

With showers predicted for tonight and Sunday it is probable the community will be greatly relieved before the week-end is over.

American Threatened
Santiago, Cuba, June 29.—(AP)—Soldiers were assigned to guard Robert Wetmore, American, tonight after he received an anonymous letter threatening him with death unless he paid $25,000.

Organdy Flowers As Cuffs.
London.—(AP)—Organdy flowers replace cuffs. They match a larger one which trims the collar, or three at the throat worn instead of a collar.

Liquor Elections Hold Sway In Two Counties

Raleigh, June 29.—(AP)—Liquor elections today held the attention of citizens in two North Carolina counties, Vance and Beaufort.

In Warren county which also has been scheduled to hold its referendum today a postponement until July 6 was ordered by commissioners who said there had been some delay in getting registration completed. A heavy vote was being cast in Vance and observers said the trend was as high as ten to one for legalization.

Some estimates were as low as six to one for control but all observers concurred in the opinion the county would vote overwhelmingly in favor of liquor stores.

Meanwhile a carload of mixed brands of liquor, the first shipment received by the county since it voted wet last Saturday in the county control referendum authorized by the legislature, arrived at Wilson today. No announcement was made by the liquor control board when sales would begin.

SCORE AUTO OWNERS PAY COURT COST

Prosecuted for Failure to Purchase Auto License Plates as Required By Law

Twenty persons charged with operating motor vehicles without city licenses were given hearing in police court this morning, ordered to pay cost of action and to buy license plates immediately.

In announcing his decision in the cases, Acting Mayor H. H. Duncan warned that all other persons caught operating cars without license tags would be brought before the court and dealt with as those were this morning.

The defendants were: Charlie Smith, P. J. Cade, George Conway, J. N. Jackson, W. S. Moe, R. A. Smith, M. N. Nobles, S. C. Brannan, Miss Fay Barnes, C. L. Bradham, Paul Morris, W. J. Short, Albert Faust, Charles L. Smith, Clyde Baker, Jackson Atkinson, Charles Hines, Will Atkinson, Joe Daniels, D. K. Howard.

Fred Forbes was found guilty of a charge of speeding and taxed with cost of the action.

The alleged license plate violators were rounded up in a police campaign the first of the week after notices had been mailed out by the city clerk's office, warning that action would be taken if licenses were not purchased in a specified time. Notices, it was said, were mailed to two score persons or more but only those appearing before the court this morning had failed to abide by the notices. Warrants were served yesterday.

AGENT SEIZES SUPPLIES USED IN HEALTH BREAD

Burlington, June 29.—Seizure of supplies used in the manufacture of "health bread" distributed here by the Berg Bakery, was made Wednesday by Deputy Marshal Lawrence Huffman.

Orders Soft Coal Strike Sunday Night

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, ordered all his members in the soft coal industry to stop work Sunday at midnight.

In the absence of any White House action after the collapse of wage negotiations with Appalachian producers, Lewis sent out telegrams to 6,000 locals directing them to suspending mining of coal Monday.

He estimated 450,000 miners would be affected by the strike. The union district presidents gathered here for the wage parley immediately left for their headquarters to direct what may prove to be the biggest soft coal strike in the nation's history.

In the mean time the operations looked to the White House for action. President Roosevelt said at his press conference yesterday he hoped present wages and hours would be extended until Congress acted on the Guffy coal stabilization bill to set up a little NRA for the bituminous industry.

By mid afternoon neither Lewis nor the operators had heard directly from the White House and plans for the strike went forward.

"We are wiring our local unions this afternoon to the effect that the joint wage negotiations have not been fruitful and that the joint conference has recessed subject to call by its chairman at some future date," Lewis said.

"The local unions and their members are instructed by the international policy committee to put in effect Monday instructions set forth in a letter sent them June 1, 1935 and suspend mining of coal Monday."

While Lewis was talking to reporters officials filed past him one by one and shook hands. They all exchanged "good luck."

Asked about union strike funds, Lewis said: "We are amply prepared to meet this situation for any amount of time necessary."

PROTECT BANK DEPOSITS HERE

Local Institutions Insured Under Temporary Federal Deposit Insurance

Announcement was made today by officials of Guaranty Bank and Trust Company and State Banking and Trust Company that deposits of the two institutions had been insured under temporary Federal Deposit Insurance insuring each depositor up to $5,000.

Under the law the temporary insurance will expire July 1, but both local banks, it was stated, have applied for and been approved under the permanent deposit insurance of the FDIC.

NEGRO HELD UNDER BOND IN SHOOTING

Wilbur Dixon Remanded to Jail in Default of $500 Bond After Hearing

Given preliminary hearing before Acting Mayor H. H. Duncan here today on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, Wilbur Dixon, colored, was bound over to the next term of criminal Superior court under bond of $500. He was unable to arrange bail and was remanded to jail.

The negro was charged with shooting James King, also colored, in a drunken brawl last Sunday evening after the two allegedly engaged in an argument at a negro house in the western part of the city where several other persons were reported by police to have been drinking and carousing.

Suffering from a bullet wound in the lower part of the body, King was confined in a hospital in a reportedly serious condition. In case of his death the charge against Dixon would be changed to murder.

Dixon denied that he shot King, declaring the injury was inflicted without his knowledge.

ABANDON PLAN FOR SERVICES ON COURTLAWN

Second of Union Services to Be Held at Memorial Baptist Church Tomorrow

The second of the series of union services held here during the summer will be conducted in Memorial Baptist church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, pastor of the church, and special music will be furnished by the church choir. Dr. G. R. Combs, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church will be in charge of the service.

Along with announcement of the program for tomorrow night, representatives of the Ministerial Association, sponsors of the services, revealed that plans for holding the services on the court house square as has been customary for the last several years, had been abandoned. No reason was given for the action, but it was said announcement of arrangements for conducting the services in some building with sufficient seating capacity would be made before next Sunday. Failing in this services will be continued at the Baptist church.

The first service last Sunday evening was held at Memorial Baptist church with Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Eighth Street Christian church, delivering the sermon.

Members of the association were putting forward every effort today to secure a proper location as soon as possible so they can settle down to annual business of bringing the members of all congregations together each Sunday night to express praise and gratitude for the blessings so bountifully heaped upon the community.

Weekly Weather Forecast
Mostly fair weather but with local showers in the interior for several days coming about Thursday. Moderately warm.

Two Killed in Boiler Explosion
Moxton, June 29.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and four were injured seriously in a boiler explosion at a sawmill near here today.

FIRE FAILS TO HALT RECORD FLIGHT IN MISS.

Meridian, Miss., June 29.—(AP)—A fire aboard the "Ole Miss," record-holding airplane, almost abruptly ended the flight of Red and Al Key as they continued in the air almost two days past the new endurance flight record stage.

The blaze about the battery was extinguished without consequence.

SPEED ACTION ON CONTROL OF POTATO CROP

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—The senate agricultural committee decided to take up the Warren potato control bill today under the urging of President Roosevelt who was advised of a potato strike in Virginia.

The strike was threatening to spread to the eastern part of North Carolina.

The serious situation on the eastern shore of Virginia was brought to the attention of the president last night by Representative Warren, democrat of North Carolina, author of the measure which would place potatoes on the Farm Adjustment program.

After the Warren conference, Mr. Roosevelt was said to have communicated with the chairman of the senate and house agricultural committee.

The house committee discussed the bills but deferred action until Monday.

Painter, Va., June 29.—(AP)—A five man council with absolute power to control the shipment of potatoes ruled troubled Accomac and Northampton counties today in the wake of scattered violence and forceful suasion which has been in force since Wednesday.

Over acts which did not, however, reach the stage of personal injury were done by roving bands of determined pickets who patrolled roads in the counties to halt shipments of potatoes and raise prices. The council agreed to a meeting here.

ALLEGED VIOLATION OF PURE FOOD ACT

Burlington, June 29.—C. M. Horner, secretary-treasurer of the Pearson Remedy Company, old established medicine manufacturing industry of this city, has posted $500 appearance bond in connection with alleged violation of the Federal pure food act.

Deputy Marshall Lawrence Huffman of the middle district of North Carolina, came here with a capias issued against the company and served the paper on Mr. Horner.

United States Commissioner Earl V. Patterson, before whom Horner was brought, held him for U. S. Court, the bond requirement having been written into the paper before it left the office of the clerk of the Federal Court in Greensboro for service.

CITY FATHERS CLEAN SLATE FOR NEW YEAR

Beginning of New Fiscal Year July 1 Will Find Aldermen With Clean House

Discussing proposals for street paving in the eastern and western parts of the city and odds and ends of other business, the Board of Aldermen in special session at the city hall last night, cleared the way for the coming of the new fiscal year July 1.

The meeting was called by Acting Mayor H. H. Duncan yesterday to give the aldermen an opportunity to clean the governmental slate and enter the new year without a lot of details to worry them.

Another special session of the board has been called for Monday noon to induce Mayor R. C. Flanagan and six members of the board who were elected in the municipal election the first of the summer. Only one new face will appear in the new lineup, that of A. C. Tadlock, who will succeed Alderman J. H. Boyd in the Fourth ward.

The regular meeting of the board which is usually held on Thursday has been set for either Wednesday or Friday nights next week in view of the fact that Thursday this year falls on the Fourth of July, a national holiday. The aldermen don't have anything especially important in mind for the Fourth, but like everybody else, they want to celebrate when the occasion arises, and probably will be in the vanguard of celebrants here.

The petitions for paving three or four areas in two sections of the city have been before the board for two months or more. In the meantime the aldermen have been looking into the possibility of obtaining PWA funds for the purpose. Acting Mayor Duncan and City Clerk J. O. Duval have conferred with state officials several times regarding the matter, but it was said last night nothing definite had been done.

However, Acting Mayor Duncan said they planned to continue to plug away at the federal fund plan, and hoped to be among other cities of the state to obtain a liberal slice for street work.

Sections involved in the proposed program are Third street in the vicinity of the new school building erected in that area several years ago; a block on the western end of Fourth street and two blocks in the vicinity of Pitt Community hospital.

The city fathers have assumed property owners they are doing everything in their power to obtain funds to carry out the desired program, and announcement will be made as soon as something definite has been decided upon, it was stated today at the office of the city clerk.

Tornadoes and Cloud-bursts Cause Undetermined Damage in Several Areas

Lisbon, Portugal, June 29.—(AP)—Tornadoes and cloudbursts swept most of Portugal today leaving an undetermined number of dead and injured and causing widespread property damage.

Oporto was plunged into darkness this afternoon when a tornado and torrential rain struck the city, causing panic among the populace. Moncoroba was flooded and several children were reported missing.

MANY DEAD AS STORMS - RAINS HIT PORTUGAL

In some sections it appeared that livestock had been swept away in the floods.

DEATH CAR DRIVER GETS YEAR'S TERM

Whiteville, June 29.—Judge Frieze yesterday sentenced J. C. Adams, Chadbourn white man, who was convicted by a jury of manslaughter in connection with a fatal accident sometime ago, to twelve months on the roads, the sentence to be reduced to six months provided he pays the cost.

Two white men, Carson Mercer and Buster Ivey, lost their lives in the accident which occurred in the town of Chadbourn. Adams was driving a machine which crashed into a truck loaded with two bales of cotton.

TWO KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Blast On Engine At Braswell, Ga., Also Results in Injury of Another

Braswell, Ga., June 29.—(AP)—Two men were killed and a third injured near here early today in the explosion of the boiler of an engine hauling a northbound Southern railway freight train.

The dead are: W. O. Alexander, of Atlanta, the engineer, and Jasper Parks, of Atlanta, negro brakeman. The fireman, Lucious Chapman, negro, was severely burned.

The accident occurred between here and Rockmart, on the Chattahoochee branch of the Southern railway.

The train was running between 30 and 40 miles an hour at the time.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News.

Washington
By RAY TUCKER

INERT: American business men seeking foreign markets are boiling with resentment against Dan Roper.

The politically-minded Secretary of Commerce is charged with neglecting opportunities for development of foreign trade. With no real protest from him personnel and facilities useful to business and industry have been cut in half.

Lighthouses, for instance, account for 29 per cent of his department's annual appropriation. His commercial pioneers are allowed only 9 per cent.

The Secretary's lack of concern coincides with a slowly rising demand for American goods abroad. It also comes at a time when Secretary Hull is staging a drive to regain markets in other countries. That may explain why the State Department, has assumed many duties handled by Mr. Roper's predecessors.

VELVET: Harold Ickes and Jesse Jones are putting on an act which ought to be banished by Hollywood under the title of "The Art of Horse Trading."

Secretary Ickes wants to sell $500,000,000 worth of municipal public works collateral through the RFC. Of course he wants any profit which may accrue. But Roper Jones insists that profits on bonds selling above par are his. He also refuses to dispose of those which have gone temporarily sour. The estimated profit on the batch is about $5,000,000—a sizeable total even to these handlers of billions. They don't talk about it for publication.

President Roosevelt, incidentally, has increased the value of Mr. Ickes' holdings by urging taxation of future municipal issues Mr. Roosevelt (Continued on Page Two)

PROBLEM: Many firms which obtained government contracts before the Supreme Court's anti-NRA decision may make a tidy and unexpected profit. Government lawyers are staying up nights to discover a solution.

These contracts awards were based on code prices and code wages.
They contained a clause requiring the contractors to abide by all NRA provisions. But then came the court's blow. Now, if the contractors chisel, reducing wages and extending hours, they can perform the job for much less than they originally contracted for. The difference will be so much "gravy."

In some departments lawyers
have held that the code provisions
in the contracts are still binding, despite the court's destruction of the legal basis for those clauses. In other departments there is a tendency to abate code claims on negotiated contracts. All new ones will be based on code hours, wages and conditions, however.

AVAILABLE: Although it is rather early to talk of opposition candidates for the three leading contenders
for the G. O. P. presidential nomination a year in advance of the convention are Senator Dickinson of Iowa, Frank Knox of Chicago
and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan. The prediction is based on Republican exchanges at regional meetings at Washington and elsewhere.

The three represent different types of attack. If the Republicans intend to take the New Deal ruthlessly, Dickinson is their man. He has not compromised. If the G. O.
P. picks and chooses between what it considers the virtues and evils of the Roosevelt program, Mr. Vandenberg would fill the bill. If it wants a nominee who has not had to say "Aye" or "No" on great public questions, Publisher Knox answers that description.

Dickinson stands out above the other two today. He is a western conservative, fitting the picture geographically and economically. He looks—and acts—like a President.
He has made fewer enemies than potential rivals. But don't lay any bets yet!

DEFENSES: The demand for fortification of the shore along the mouth of the Columbia River has attracted little national attention.
But it's a live issue among Congressmen from the Northwest, and has elements which may make it a popular one.

Construction of the Bonneville
and Grand Coulee dams may transform this region into a great industrial section—into an American Ruhr. Many products and foods necessary in war time may be produced there. In case of conflict its protection against a foreign foe would be a vital problem of national defense. But the river is open to attack from the coast into the interior.

The nearest military and naval base to the south is 700 miles distant at San Francisco. A defense fleet from Puget Sound on the north could be bottled up or defeated at sea. But even "big navy" admirals seem unconcerned. When a certain Senator urged development of a submarine and airplane
base at the mouth of the Columbia
he was reminded of the defenses at San Francisco and San Diego. The admiral seemed to think Hollywood
bathing beauties might help.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: In order to save herself and her sister Gladys from starvation on Moore, Laurie Moore has pretended to be his wife. Her husband, Rex Moore, has been Moore's wife. But she is not Rex Moore's wife. She is Laurie Moore.
Laurie Moore is a girl who has been in the city for a long time.
She is a girl who has been in the city for a long time. She is a girl who has been in the city for a long time. She is a girl who has been in the city for a long time. She is a girl who has been in the city for a long time. She is a girl who has been in the city for a long time.

Chapter 10 NEW JOB

THE morning after Rex Moore and his wife dined with him, Mark Albery discovered that young Mrs.
Moore had come back to work, and sent a message to ask her to come to his office.

"I said you were to stay away until you were settled," he told her in the smooth, automatic voice that went with his Oriental type.

"I am quite settled, thank you, Mr.
Albery. It was easily done yesterday.

Everything in the flat is so convenient and so beautiful. You have been so very kind to us."

"Not at all. I wanted your husband near by. He and I have some very important plans to make. And the flat was empty. I took it for my young cousin when he came into the business, but he has gone over to the United States for six months."

"You were determined to come back to work?" he asked. "Your husband was not sure about it."

"Oh, yes, Mr. Albery! I couldn't give up my work." As Laurie spoke, she began at once her animated, interested business self.

"I am glad of it. I think you are wise, too. After all, Moore will be away a good deal. That's inevitable in the job. And I'm happy to find you as busy as ever. Mrs. Moore, I have a proposal to make to you. If you agree, it will work in very well."

"Miss Dixie came back too soon.
I'm afraid. Her illness has left her hearing impaired. I sent her to a specialist, and he has ordered a cure and a complete rest. It will take about three months. So I wondered if you would care to take her place again. It would suit me very well indeed. Your work was most satisfactory. What do you say?"

"Oh, Mr. Albery!" Laurie was taken aback. Of course, it was a rise, a big rise in the office. And she had found it most interesting. But she was of two minds.

A little voice deep inside her said
—"No, don't take it on!" She had not the remotest idea why. Except that, perhaps, she had at times felt slightly uncomfortable when she was with Mr. Albery. But that was ridiculous.
Her business mind pushed the doubt aside and grasped eagerly at

"Rex and I have some important plans to make," said Albery.

You are more than welcome, Mrs.
Moore."

He was thinking that she did not look as happy as she ought to. Last night, at dinner, he had thought how beautiful she was. But very quiet.
Of course, it must have been a great shock to her. And, though joy doesn't kill, it may frighten a sensitive nature.

Rex Moore he had not understood at all. He could make no contact with him. The young man seemed entirely withdrawn; his eyes, his words, his very self. He evidently would not speak of his experience
after his crash.

To his wife he seemed abrupt,
though friendly—so friendly as to be almost artificial. But, alone with Albery, he was full of plans, bursting with energy and ambition. And what a hard bargain he had driven for his exclusive services! The fellow had seemed to think of nothing but the money. Not a bit like Rex Moore of the old days.

Albery was more and more driven to the conclusion that his accident
had caused a slight kink in his mind.

ALBERY felt his new dislike of the airman growing, as he watched him with his wife. The scene came back to him when, on that first night, he had broken the news to him of his wife being in London and employed by the firm.

How incomprehensible he had seemed. How offhand his manner had been, almost inhuman. Thinking it over, he wondered if Moore was disappointed to find she was in England.
It almost looked like it. Perhaps he would rather she had been in Australia. Perhaps he had formed other ties. Two years? a long time for a man to live on his own.

And how cross-eyed anxious he had been to avoid his publicity!
Albery looked now at Laurie's pale, expressive face. Her eyes were shining, but they did not look like the eyes of a happy wife. His own dark ones glistened with sympathy.

are almost sure they have the menace locked—but they'll be nervous until the shooting is over. They have no use for the President's economics but they know I can't safe to count him as beaten politically until the numbers are up.

Some utility big-men are beginning to feel they made a mistake in strategy that may cost them dearly in the end. "If we had had the sense we were born with we'd have let the bill go through in its original form. We should have objected to the whole thing in principle and called it a day. Then it would certainly have been upset in the courts before it had time to take serious effect and we'd have been out of the woods."

"But no, we had to mess around with modification. We used our brains and our legal talent pointing out to Congress where the bill was unconstitutional and giving them

the chance. "I can't say how proud
I am that you should find me suitable," she said in her warm, throbb-ing voice.

"THAT'S settled, then. You'll begin tomorrow, please." He was strictly business-like. No one would imagine that his heart was beating fast and the blood pulsing in his veins. Not even his own secret mind admitted that he was in love with this girl and was determined to take her from Rex Moore, in one way or in another, sooner or later.

"It will be suitable in several ways," he added kindly. "Doing my personal work you will be more in the zone of your husband's job. All his work with me is entirely confidential. So we shall in a way all three be working together."

It was a wonderful piece of luck, and yet Laurie was in the grip of an uncomfortable mental depression,
like a vague premonition of evil, as she went back to her own office for the last time.

That evening, when she left work,
she collected the last of her personal belongings from her little flat, telling the landlady that she would come in now and then to see that everything was all right.

The good woman was naturally excited and bursting with curiosity, which Laurie could not satisfy. It had been enough to say that her husband, the famous airman, had come back from the dead, and that they were moving temporarily into another flat, as hers was not large enough when her sister came home.
But was keeping it on as it was for the remainder of her lease.

She hailed a taxi and was driven to the new flat in Chelsea, not on the Embankment, but in a pleasant side street, with trees on either side, and with a view of the river from a bay window in the big front living room.

hints on how to fix it up. Realimay stand up in court. True, it won't be as bad as the original, but it will be a nuisance. Maybe some

OWN: One big utility group had the highest percentage of proxies in its history turned in for its June 19th stockholders meeting. This is attributed to the company's sturdy campaign against the holding company measure. In the early days of the Roosevelt administration its mail was full of bitter attacks from security holders. Lately it has been getting almost unanimous support instead. Communications in praise of the New Deal are few and far between.

It's understood that this experience is typical. Stockholders are pretty well sold on the idea that their managements are defending them from dire destruction. A shrewd observer comments that if all the five million security owners retain this viewpoint we could come pretty close to having government

by utilities.

Mr. Roosevelt's remarks that in-trustate groups like Niagara Hudson and Public Service of New Jersey and "Investment trusts" like North American would be subject to dissolution under the holding company bill failed to reassure the groups he mentioned. An officer of one of them says it's all very nice—but after all that's just FDR's own interpretation and who's to guarantee that the Securities Exchange Commission would reach such a charmingly vague law in the same light?

TAXES: New York second thoughts on the President's plan to share-the-wealth by higher income and inheritance levies on large fortunes are surprisingly favorable.
Even in Wall Street you find many sources admitting they can see no reasonable objection to cutting down oversized nest eggs—provided the capital levy is used to retire debt,
as suggested by the President, and not for the government's current running expenses. They claim the latter would be as unsound as an individual spending his capital instead of living within his income.
But insiders doubt that. Many rich men have anticipated some such move and have put setting up trusts
in such shape-by setting up trusts
and funds of various sorts—that they would hardly be affected at all.

The graduated tax on corporations is another bowl of soup endlessly. Big companies will put up a real fight on that. You will hear plenty about what such "discrimination" would do to wreck employment and purchasing power.

DEFENSIVE: The spectacular trapping of a former Securities Commission employee by J. Edward Jones—oil royalty dealer—in the act of accepting a bribe was the curtain raiser for a drama in several acts designed to convince the public that the Securities Commission has not been worthy of its trust. Mr. Jones is very much in earnest about his intention to put the Commission out of business.

It's true that the culprit in this case was no longer connected with the Commission. This is likely to be true also of other individuals who will be presented in an unfavorable light.

But the Commission—while it may have a satisfactory explanation for every charge that is brought up—will be placed on the defensive with the public. And that's where
Mr. Jones intends to keep it.

SAFETY: New York learns that government agencies are considering adoption of a new safety device
as standard equipment of trucks and cars bought by the government and to be required on trucks and buses in interstate commerce. The proposed truck-and-bus act requires the Interstate Commerce Commission to see that safety mechanisms are installed.

The new device is said to keep the operator's foot on the brake instead of the accelerator, so that instinctive reaction to danger is instantaneous brake action and stoppage of gas.

The Beach

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
THE house where they lived was back of some hills of sand, and the sea could be seen from the windows.

The beach looked so wide
and long, the ocean stretched out until it met the sky. Rip knew he could not swim across it,
and besides he did not know what was on the other side.

But when he was left alone he would start for home. Home! Or if he could look up and see Christopher Columbus Crow flying
overhead, or resting on his nest.

Well, Top Notch had every right to admire himself. With his fine
figure, his beautiful white feathers,
his handsome red comb, he was indeed a splendid looking rooster.

Or if he could look up and see
Christopher Columbus Crow flying
overhead, or resting on his nest.
If he could see the bears come lumbering up to Willy Nilly's, hoping to have a treat of jelly or honey.

But above all if he could see Willy
Nilly and his little side-whiskers, and his tiny nose that couldn't be seen when he creased up his face in smiles. And if he could hear Willy Nilly's voice and feel his hands on his head.

A tear fell from Rip's right eye,
then from his left one.

Peter and Cora were rushing toward him and lifting his leash from the door to which it was fastened.

"We're going to have a wonderful run on the beach!" they shouted.

"Escape," thought Rip happily.

Mrs. Joyner Entertains.

Mrs. Hubert Joyner was hostess at a very attractive and enjoyable bridge party yesterday morning at her home on Third street.

Four tables for bridge were placed in a setting of summer flowers with a predominating color note of blue and yellow.

Fruit punch was served during the game and at the conclusion Mrs. Ray Tyson and Mrs. D. S. Spain, Jr., assisted the hostess in serving a tempting sweet course.

Mrs. J. J. Stauffer was given bath powder for high score and Mrs. S. E. Gates a pair of novelty vases for low score.

Coffer-Miller Players.

The two plays to be presented by the Coffer-Miller Players at the college on next Friday, matinee and night, are both French comedies that never fail to delight their audiences, "The Rivals" and "A School for Husbands."

This group of actors has appeared at the college during the summer school off and on for a number of years. They have been featured entertainers on a great many of the college and university campuses in the summer and know well how to please summer audiences. They give only high class plays but select those that are entertaining as well, not only to college students but to all who enjoy a good play.

Alabama Polytechnic Institute claims it was the first southern college to establish a chair of electrical engineering.

Honored At Garden Party.

Mrs. Burke Stancill, a recent bride, who before her marriage was Miss Emma Taylor, was the honoree of a delightful garden party given yesterday afternoon, on the lawn of Regdale Hall, by her former colleagues and associates, the ladies of the college faculty, and staff who reside in Regdale Hall.

Two other recent brides shared the honors with Mrs. Stancill, Mrs. R. C. Grady, wife of the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Tyson Blibro, who was Miss Myrtle Gray Hodges, a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College, Miss Agnes Wadlington, who was at the head of the line, Mrs. Leon R. Meadows, and the three brides composed the receiving line.

Misses Kate Lewis and Frances Wahl, on the alert for the different entrances, greeted the guests on their arrival. Miss Mable E. Jenkins introduced them to the line.

Misses Cleo Rahnwater and Annie Newell received them at the end of the line and directed them to the punch bowl where Misses Ola Ross and Lucy Upton served punch.

These two couples reversed their places the latter part of the hour. Misses Ellen Bowen, Helen Gray, Hazel Willis, Sallie Joyner, Davis and Alice V. Wilson received at different places on the lawn.

Miss Dora Coates directed guests to the part of the lawn where refreshments were to be served. A group of special friends of the honorees served refreshments, Mrs. Archie Sugg, Mrs. Dink James, Misses Agnes Fulllove, Elizabeth Smith, Elizabeth Norman and Frances Harvey.

Those who assisted in serving punch were the niece of Mrs. Burke Stancill, Miss Myra Stancill Blount, Miss Louise Kilgo, and the daughters of President Meadows, Misses Elizabeth and Mae Meadows.

Considerably over a hundred guests called during the hour and a half.

Beach chairs scattered over a semi-circular space of the lawn gave a colorful touch to the scene and invited guests to linger. The only decorations were the shrubs planted on the lawn and baskets of grasses on the edge of the porch. The line was formed against the background of shrubs near the porch. The punch table placed against the green of the shrubs, was covered with an oriental lace cloth and was daintily decorated with pink flowers woven into green sprays. A spray of sweet peas gave the same dainty touch to each plate served.

While the weather man lived up to his reputation for never failing to furnish rain for a garden party, he fortunately shipped up on the hour and furnished refreshing pre-shower breezes for the party itself and send the long-needed rain after the guests and hostesses were well under cover.

Miss Smith Honored.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Jackie Strickland delightfully entertained at bridge. The party was given at the home of Miss Alice Hicks Smith in honor of her birthday.

Covers were laid for four tables. The house was charmingly decorated with summer flowers. On arrival, each guest was given a dainty shouderette.

Miss Gladys Gaston was awarded a bottle of perfume for high score, and Miss Laurine Skinner received a perfume atomizer for low score.

Miss Lillian Carey, out-of-town guest, was remembered with a lovely combination powder jar. Misses Mary Thomas Smith and Helen Foley were presented compacts.

After several rubbers were completed, a tempting salad course, carrying out the pink and green color scheme, was served to the following: Misses Ella Taylor, Gladys Gaston, Virginia Pierce, Tera Reynolds, Mildred Herring, Imogene Ricks, Isabell Whitehurst, Carolyn Hamrie, Ruth Horne, Laura Fleming, Martha Scoville, Laurine Skinner, Mary Jenkins, Mattie Moya Gaylord, Lillian Carey, Alice Hicks Smith and Jackie Strickland.

'Ace of Clubs.'

Miss Hilda Herring delightfully entertained the 'Ace of Clubs' at bridge Thursday afternoon. At the conclusion of the game, Miss Mary Woodard, scoring high, was awarded a dusting powder.

Misses Maude West and Jean Gaskins were the hostess' assistants in serving delicious refreshments.

Guests of the club for this enjoyable meeting were Misses Geraldine Harris, Ethel Gaston, Helen Flanagan and Mary Thomas Smith.

SUITS BARE ESTRANGEMENT OF DODGE AND WIFE

Revelation that Horace E. Dodge, heir to a Detroit motor fortune, and his wife were estranged was made when she sued him in three separate actions for $250,000. Mrs. Dodge (top) filed the suits about the time her husband (below) sailed for a visit in England. A year ago, says the New York Daily News, there were rumors that he planned to divorce her and marry Martha Devine, a showgirl, who is shown in a fantastical pose at the right. (Associated Press Photos)

Mrs. Frank Taylor Entertains.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Frank Taylor delightfully entertained at her home on the Bethel highway, at six tables of bridge, in honor of Mrs. Ted Weyer of Dade City, Florida.

Profusions of summer flowers in a variety of colors made a very attractive background for the bridge tables.

At the conclusion of a number of games, Mrs. Myrtle Lane was given a silver bowl for high score; Mrs. C. A. Spiggle, an ash tray for low score; and the honor guest was presented a pair of silver hand vases.

A delicious congealed fruit salad sandwich, cookies and tea was served and on each plate was a lovely corsage. Miss Aida Taylor and little Geraldine Taylor assisted in serving.

Those making up the tables were, Mrs. Ted Weyer of Dade City, Fla., Mrs. Louise Weisinger, Augusta, Ga., Mesdames S. A. Porter, C. A. Spiggle and W. A. Hudson of Grimesland, A. M. Wooten, H. O. Pearson, Joe Harper, Myrtle Lane, G. F. Webb, Dick Bynum, Ed Lovelace, Grover Webb, and Misses Katherine Cobb, Marguerite Barnes of Pinetops, Mesdames Knott Proctor, Worth Wicker, A. A. Henderson, Dink James, C. A. White, C. M. Warren, Dick Rogers, and Miss Aida Taylor of Greenville.

Mrs. Georgia James, Mrs. J. B. Spilman and Mrs. Jerry Taylor came in for refreshments.

Speaks to Scouts.

At the weekly meeting of Troop 30 on Friday night at the Rotary building, B. B. Sugg gave a very interesting talk on courtesy to the scouts.

The meeting consisted of announcements, Mr. Sugg's talk, patrol meetings, test passing and drill. The scouts will have their community good turn this coming Wednesday and their monthly hike this coming Friday.

The standings in the troop tennis matches are:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Fox	1	0	1.000
Hawk	1	0	1.000
Eagle	0	1	.000
Raven	0	1	.000

The standings in the attendance contest are: Fox 71-1062; Hawk 91-922; Eagle 91-910; Raven 69-850.

On the cruise given the scouts by City Inspector Lynch last Wednesday, Billy Combs caught the largest fish and Clifton Evans caught the most fish. All the boys had a good time and their sunburned backs will remind them of the trip for quite a while.

Seeing Through My Windshield

By ETHEL NICE, H. D. A. Farmville Club

There were nineteen women present at the Farmville Home Demonstration meeting held last Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Thur Forbes. The club voted to invite their husbands to a supper in the fall. Roll call was responded to with favorite salad recipes. A paper on "Culture" was read by Mrs. Herman Baker.

Falkland Club

The Falkland meeting at the home of Mrs. H. G. Pittman was attended by eleven women. A new plumbing system including bathroom and septic tank has been recently installed in the Pittman home.

Ballard's Cross Roads Club

Twelve members were present for the meeting at Ballard's Cross Roads Wednesday afternoon. Their next meeting will be held the night of June 26, Mrs. J. B. Spilman will be a guest speaker and their husbands are invited.

Child Meeting Postponed

Because of illness in the community the Child meeting announced for Thursday afternoon was postponed.

Singing Contest

Pierce, St. John's, Farmville, Falkland, and Ballard's clubs have voted to have a song contest on achievement day this fall.

Visiting Homemakers

A meeting was held in the Home Agent's office Friday for Visiting Homemakers. Those present were: Mrs. Mabel Randolph, Miss Emma V. Dale, Miss Julia Williams, Mrs. Virginia Perkins, Mrs. P. C. Rivers, Mrs. Bertha Gardner, and Elita DuPre. These women are doing some splendid work in the county. They have given demonstrations in canning, making discarded sheets and garments into usable articles, making dish mops, making strings for a sick child's crib, showing children how to make scrap books, teaching girls to embroidery and quilt, and the boys to paint furniture, mend screens, and make fly traps. At the meeting Friday demonstrations were given by Mrs. W. G. Stancill and the Home Agent in making Soap Mixture, Sandwich filling, soap, furniture wax, dustless dusters, and spot removers. They will meet again July 26. One Homemaker visited a home where the cats were being sold to buy snuff for girls eight and nine years old. Miss Emma Dale has designed a fly trap that costs ten cents and can be put together in a very few minutes.

Preserved Watermelon Rind

You will like the following recipe for preserved watermelon rind.

Make a saturated solution of lime, using 2 1/2 tablespoonsful (1-2 oz.) lime (calcium oxide) to 1 gallon of water. After 4 or 5 hours pour off water, leaving excess lime. Remove peel and pink part from 2 pound watermelon rind and cut rind in 1-inch squares. Soak overnight in lime water. Drain, soak in clear water 2 hours, and boil for 10 minutes in sugar water (1 ounce of glucose to 4 quarts of water). Make a thin syrup, using 2 pounds of sugar, the juice of 1 lemon and 2 1/4 quarts water. Add gradually the rind to the syrup and cook until tender, and clear. When cold, pack in jars, cover with syrup, and process 15 minutes.

COLLEGE TOUR PARTY BACK

Tourists Return to Institution Here After Successful Tour of the North

The tourists who left the College Travel-Observation tour, most of them college students or teachers who are working for credits in Geography, History, and Literature returned on schedule late yesterday afternoon after a very successful tour. They report that nothing serious happened to mar the trip, and they brought back to North Carolina the same number they started out with, no one having to fall out because of illness or any other cause. This is a remarkable record.

The cavalcade of two buses and twelve cars which kept close enough together to form a unit for sight-seeing and hotel arrangements, from Greenville took in a northeastern direction, going as far as the upper part of Maine, then into Canada, and crossing that country so as to include stops in Quebec, Montreal, and Toronto, coming back into the United States at Niagara Falls, and heading southward by the Finger Lakes, down through the Susquehanna Valley, crossing the Mason and Dixon line at Harper's Ferry and coming through the Caverns and Natural Bridge section of Virginia. They picked up groups along the way the day they left, and dropped them yesterday at points near their homes. A number of cars were waiting them on the campus to take the members of the party from near here to their various homes.

The transportation and routine business of the tour were handled by Hall T. Ricks, of Bath.

The students give most enthusiastic reports of the study features of the trip, and enjoyed greatly studying Geography first-hand under the instruction of J. B. Cummings, having the historical spots interpreted interestingly by E. C. Hollar, and having the places associated with the makers of American literature and their books and poems vitalized by Miss Emma L. Hooper. They realize they could not have received much benefit from the trip unless they had had the background of knowledge in these subjects before they went on the trip. Those working for credits in the

GREENIES TOP GOLDBUGS BY SCORE 10 TO 6

Goldsboro, June 29.—Goldsboro put on a stirring rally in the ninth inning yesterday, but the resulting four runs were merely four drops in the bucket, and Greenville came off with a 10-6 triumph to increase its hold on first place.

The third, in which five runs were counted, was Greenville's big inning.

The league leaders got a pair of tallies in the first when Ambler walked and Wagner homered. The Bugs counted once in their half, on Mewborn's single and Morris' double.

Ambler reached first on an error to start Greenville's big inning. He stole second and scored on Wagner's scratch hit. Parker singled, and both Wagner and Parker tallied on Johnson's double. Dean doubled to score Johnson, and then Wade doubled to score Dean. Abbott, local starting hurler, was jerked in favor of Orrin Brown following Wade's double. Brown held the visitors to five hits and three runs the rest of the way.

Hits by Rand and Royce gave the Bugs a run in the seventh, and the Greensies got two in the eighth when Huiskamp homered after Ambler had walked. Johnson's double and Dean's fly gave the visitors another in the ninth.

The local's ninth inning rally was started when Libby was hit by a pitched ball. Bill Herring, doing a pinch-hit turn, smacked a triple. Lambeth singled. Morris doubled to score Lambeth. Singles by Patton and Webb pushed Morris to the scoring station.

Wagner, with three for five, paced the Greensies' attack. Dolt Morris had a similar record to lead the Bugs.

BEARS MAKE HITS COUNT
New Bern, June 29.—Chick Doak's Bears yesterday found a way to make their customary string of baseknocks count, and New Bern defeated Williamston handily by left the chumping of big Lefty Kinnel. The score was 9 to 2.

Swamp Norwood got a pair of doubles, while Ham Ferebee, Kennel, and Cleary each accounted for a two-bagger. In all, seven Bears climbed on the offerings of Slagle and Slim Gardner, who relieved Slagle with two away in the local's five-run first inning. Three men shared honors for the Marlins. Gaylord, Gaddy, and Goodman getting a pair of singles apiece.

AN EVEN 40 HITS IN THIS
Ayden, June 29.—An even 40 hits rang from rival bats as Snow Hill and Ayden collided yesterday in a slugfest which went two extra innings before a decision was reached. Snow Hill took the victory, 15 to 13. Ayden led in hits, 23 to 17.

Ayden's batting leaders, each with four hits, were Worliss, Knowles, Dallas Morris, Herb Cheek, and Doc Smith. Snow Hill's leaders, each with four, were Neuman and Perry.

TARBORO SPLITS DOUBLE WITH KINSTON

Tarboro, June 29.—Joe Greenberg's homer with two on in the ninth gave Kinston a 6-3 victory in the opener of a twin bill here yesterday, but Tarboro came back to take the finale by 6-0 behind fine pitching of Physioc.

The first game saw Garner of the visitors outpitch Guan, but the game-deciding homer by Greenberg did not come until after the visitors should have been retired in the ninth. With one out, Farmer singled. Garner lifted a fly to center, and Bassin errored. Bassin threw to second to head off Garner, and Male errored. Otto Patrick then fled to left. The younger brother of Hank Greenberg of Detroit's Tigers then came to bat and gave a very excellent imitation of the Detroit slugger.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 29.—(AP)—The stock market ended its second quarter today in a fairly cheerful frame of mind although the usual Saturday profit taking presented a resumption of yesterday's advance.

Legislative influence vied with business hope and some confused traders were waiting pending more definite developments. The close was a bit irregular.

Transfers were 300,000 shares. It was one of the duller sessions since the latter part of March. Brokers said many of their customers had started week-end holidays early.

Realizing came into wheat after its initial spurt on Friday and cotton did little. Bonds were mixed. Foreign exchanges were featureless.

Late News Flashes

The entire structure plunged between 30 and 40 feet into the shallow water of a creek which ran underneath.

Shortly before 3 o'clock it was announced by officers in charge of rescue work that no one was killed outright and none drowned but the outcome of the injured was in doubt.

For more than an hour after the pavilion collapsed a dozen ambulances summoned from Natick, Plymouth, Shickshinny and Wilkes Barre were used in rushing injured to Natick State hospital.

The collapse at a picnic among more than 3,000 men, women and children who were attending the first annual outing of the Nanticoke and Hanover branches of the Luzerne county unemployed league. County detectives and municipal authorities rushed to the scene and required more than an hour to calm hysterical hundreds who ran through the park seeking missing members of their families.

Wets Lead in Beaufort

Washington, N. C., June 29.—(AP)—Balloting up to the noon hour today indicated a heavy vote would be cast in Beaufort county's referendum on county liquor control and unofficial returns said wets were well in the lead. The Washington Daily News estimated the forenoon vote in the city was 8 to 1 for control and in the county was four to one.

Democrats Seek Liquor Control

Washington, June 2.—(AP)—The North Carolina young Democratic club today voted at their annual convention to ask enactment of laws "at the earliest possible time" for a state alcoholic control system but proposals to request a special legislature for liquor legislation were thrown out.

The young Democrats also adopted resolutions praising the Roosevelt administration and Governor Ehringhaus, urging early enactment of laws for carrying out the national social security program and asking for representation of young democrats on the platform of the next state Democratic convention.

A row threatened to develop in the convention when a committee resolution was offered asking Governor Ehringhaus to name immediately a liquor control study commission authorized by the general assembly.

Senator Harris Newman of Wilmington, an advocate of state control during the legislature, offered the compromise and without a record vote it was adopted.

The resolution adopted noted the young Democrats last year had asked for a change in the dry laws and said "the present conditions are still worse than they were at the time of its passage" and the thinking people of the state are demanding a change in all such laws dealing with alcohol beverages "that the convention went on record as very strongly favoring state alcohol control system and urge enactment of such legislation at the earliest possible time."

May Probe Banking Bill Leak

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—Members of the Senate Glass banking sub-committee were disturbed today over an apparent leak to New York bankers of their action on the administration's bank bill, and indicated there might be an investigation.

The leak was evident but publication that the sub-committee had adopted the amendment to practically restrain the right of banks to underwrite security issues. Committee members had entered an agreement not to disclose the action.

Th senators on the committee neither affirmed nor denied the story but described it as "inaccurate."

The description of the report came from Senator Glass, Democrat of Virginia, chairman of the sub-committee, who said:

"It is to be deplored that anybody having access to the proceedings of the sub-committee should have been—if anybody is guilty—of disposing of information thus surreptitiously gained."
